65th Year, No. 27 Price 10 Cents

By John A. Spolski
My day is complete . . . the entire world isn't Kookie, a-terral!
I'm thinking of all the different "days" and special "weeks" and the honors bestowed (many of them probably created to fit the occasion, I'm certain), but along comes the Norwegian Nobel committee today and says that they DO NOT have any peace prize this year!
Surely . . . in this great peaceloving universe of ours there ought to be someone or some thing deserving of this commendation, shouldn't there be?

Sorry to hear about that near-fatal dormitory accident which has ended the college football career of University of Miami quarterback John Hornbrook. He severed an artery and ligaments just above the elbow of his passing arm while "horsing around."

Elsewhere on today's front page you may read of "chicken problems" they're having elsewhere in this country . . . much the same as we were discussing in yesterday's Clock.
In asking for constructive thoughts on alleviating the problem we came up with these . . . "make chicken dumplings" . . . to "take 'em to the Zoo" . . . to the one which I like best of all, "give 'em to someone who is raising chickens and let 'em make some little hens mighty happy!"

For our younger friends, you'll probably never really know the impact that Charles Correll who died last night, and his partner Freeman Gosden and on this country with their "Amos and Andy Show." He'll be missed . . .

Tomorrow I'll try to clarify my opinion on why I think this State's Attorney General Robert Shevin is wrong with his "opinion" relating to capital punishment.
I'm for it, and I suppose he is too . . . but, we're approaching it from different attitudes. Mine is devoid of any political intents, while General Shevin's is . . .

Negatives Ruined Water Tested

By FRED VAN PELT
Full-scale probe into possible impurities in Sanford's drinking water was launched today by Seminole County and Florida health departments at the instigation of The Sanford Herald.
The Herald about two weeks ago published photographs revealing "wriggle worms" in water which came from house taps in the Pinecrest area. The same "wriggle worms" appeared in water from taps in the photographic dark room in The Herald plant.
Sidney RICHARDE, city public utilities director, identified the "wriggle worms" as larvae of the blind mosquito. He said the matter was corrected with the flushing of water mains in the

Pending Sewage Treatment Some Building Banned

By BILL SCOTT
Seminole County Commission Tuesday applied moratorium on building permits for county areas served by eight sewage treatment plants until such time as the plants can be brought up to state anti-pollution standards.
County action closely followed State Pollution Control Board edict issued late Tuesday, which jumped the gun on a law, set to go into effect Jan. 1, 1973, and designed to alleviate the pollution of Florida's waters by putting brakes on new construction. (Related Story Page 5A)
The state board moved up the deadline to Oct. 1 on new sewer hookups in cities that do not provide at least 90 per cent treatment of sewage.
The law will place a freeze on proposed construction, and in line with the state action, the county commission's moratorium affects areas served by the following plants: Oviedo High School, Stromberg-Carlson, Stuckey's, Country Club Heights and Liveoak, Matland Utilities station at Tanglewood, Central Florida Utilities' Chuliot station and the Altamonte Springs' Spring Valley station. Sanford City Manager W. E. Knowles advised he had foreseen this action and had obtained a temporary operation permit, which will allow that city to go past the Jan. 1 deadline.
Mayor Lawrence Swofford, of Altamonte Springs, advised his city has no sewage problems and added, "We are going to turn loose every developer who wants to build as soon as we can receive a permit from Tallahassee."
Swofford said his city had a letter from the State Pollution Board placing at 98 per cent effective the sewage treatment facility. "We have 700,000 gallons we can still put through our plant and have just purchased a new Spring Valley Plant," the mayor added.
County Commission chairman Greg Drummond, commenting on Altamonte's sewage treatment facilities, agreed with Swofford that the city had no sewage problems except at the newly acquired Spring Valley plant. "The County Commission's freeze only applies to the Spring Valley treatment plant."

Altamonte Springs Moves Toward Forest City Line

By DONNA ESTES
ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Petition for annexation of 400 acres on which is to be built a multi-million dollar planned unit development, deep into what is Forest City, has been accepted by the City Council. Acting City Attorney Ned Julian Jr. was authorized to prepare an annexation ordinance for adoption on first reading next week.
The large tract that will increase the territorial size of Altamonte by 20 per cent is bounded by the Orange County line to the south, the Seaboard Coast Line Railroad to the west and north and by Lotus Lake to the east.
Planned for construction at the site are single family homes, townhouses patio homes, and commercial units. Developer is R & K Construction Company of Orlando. Of the total acreage, a regional park site to be deeded to the city will take up 84.9 acres while the water plant at the tract (with estimated value of $185,000) and site of 2.5 acres and another 2.5 acres for any civic use such as a fire station) are also to be given outright to the city.
The remainder of the land will be used for common open space, buffer zones, primary roads, rights-of-way, lakefront will take 74 acres; useable developable land 309.2 acres and commercial six acres. Councilman Daniel Dorfman

PLANNING CONCEPT of the 400 acres to be annexed to the City of Altamonte Springs and developed by R & K Construction Company of Orlando. A green buffer zone is to be placed on the perimeter of the land and 90 of the 400 acres in the parcel area to be deeded to the city for use as a regional park, and water plant site.

Cities Want Seats On Regional Panel

By DONNA ESTES
ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Resolution urging municipal representation, selected by elected city officials, on the East Central Florida Regional Planning Council was authorized prepared by the City Council Tuesday evening.
Mayor Lawrence Swofford, repeating remarks concerning the planning council, originally made before the CALNO Council of Local Governments on Sept. 4 and reported The Sanford Herald Sept. 7, recommended the resolution and the Altamonte City Council nodded approval unanimously. Copies of the resolution, to be formally adopted next Tuesday, are to be forwarded to all the municipalities in the six-county area of the planning council and to the CALNO Council.
Earlier this month, Swofford slammed the Planning Council contending it is a county government oriented and insisting the group is controlled by the county governments with decisions at times politically motivated.
Langwood Mayor Kenneth Brown, chairman of CALNO, particularly questioned the fact that the county has as one of its representatives on the planning council, Ben Ward, of Oviedo, "supposedly" representing the cities.
Brown, at the time, said Ward had neither indicated any interest in Langwood, been to a Langwood council meeting there in his memory, nor had he contacted the city concerning its needs. In addition, Brown, at that time, said that Ward was concluding his term of office as an elected official of Oviedo and had not sought re-election there.
Winter Springs Mayor Granville Brown and Swofford said, as well, that neither of their municipalities had been favored with a communication from Ward.

Four Turner Firms Named In Law Suit

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A federal suit has been filed here against four Florida corporations and individuals connected with the firms, charging they operate an illegal pyramid investment promotion.
Defendant corporations include Genn W. Turner Enterprises, Inc. Dare To Be Great, Inc., Master Minds, Inc., and Candiga, Inc.
The suit was filed Tuesday as a class action on behalf of all persons who have purchased motivational or self-improvement courses from Dare To Be Great.
The suit claims Dare To Be Great is a subsidiary of Turner Enterprises.
Those filing the suit were Mrs. Michael Bridges, Mrs. John Gulman, Michael McAdams and Mrs. Maria McAdams, all of Baton Rouge, and Arthur Callaro of New Orleans.
They charged that since September 1969, the defendants have engaged in a pyramid promotion scheme whereby persons are induced to invest in a common enterprise in which each investor will share in profits derived from inducing others to invest.
The suit charged that it is a scheme involving the offering and selling of securities and that the operation is not registered under the U. S. Securities Act of 1933.
Plaintiffs ask that the defendants be required to account for all money received for two motivational courses with interest from the date of purchase, that his money be paid to the court and that the court order a method of distribution.

Zoo's Mini-Vacation Okay

By JANE CASSELLBERRY

How can the hotels afford to do this? Coble explained thusly: Hotels normally figure on having so many vacancies figuring out to their "occupancy ration annual rate" and from this they determine how many rooms they can commit to vacation certificates as an advertising promotion. Part of the cost for serving these "free guests" is paid by various sponsors, such as land development companies and tourist attractions. In the case of Resort Host, Coble said, the hotels themselves participate as well.

The mini-vacation project will continue through December to encourage donations to the fund to save the zoo.

State Plane Policy Aired

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Reubin Askew says heads of executive departments are now being held responsible for submitting to him names of persons they bring aboard state aircraft.

That is not shown on the manifest, I don't think that can be justified under any situation," Askew said. He said he would withhold judgment on the committee's action until he read its report. The state regulations need clarification, he said, on who is to be allowed to fly on state planes.

Bowling 'em Over

By HERKY CUSH
The bowling season is in full swing at the Bowl America Sanford Lanes with the winter season opening in the past two weeks.

Late Toyota

High individual honors goes to Chuck Baker for his 215, 186 - 584 series for the Brake-Mufflers. And Ed Mallon added 195 - 543 as the B-3 split with the Batteries. High for the Batteries was W. Stoner 201 and M. Holley 196.

Early Toyota Mixed

Jack Kaiser fired the Pickups with his two 199 games and 573 series and Al Boldman added a 200 to help win three games from the Land Cruisers. Tops for the Cruisers was a 196 by Vern Messersmith and Tracy Rose Messersmith.

City League

For the "big boys" it was Walt Moore hitting the BIG SIX with his 214, 221 - 606 which led Maryland Fried Chicken to three wins over Ore Creations. Also helping the winners were Ron Allman 197 and John Garza 211. Earl Weaver helped prevent a sweep with his fine 191, 201, 189 - 561 while Ed Mallon had 204.

Florida State Bank Mixed

In the spotlight with a sparkling 606 series was Bill Venter who fired gammas of 189 and a blizzard of 233 to help the Cart Wheels to three from the Stack Holders.

Ball And Chair

Jim Maloney's 404 and Chuck Kelly's 195, 185 - 555 led their team to four wins last week. High for the opposition was Greg Bullard with a 199 and a blizzard of 233 to help the Odds-Ends team win only one. Gus Sexton 185 and J. J. Sexton 175 led the winners.

Keglers

Larry's Mart was thrust into the spotlight last week in this circuit thanks to the splendid effort of Bill Varner who totaled 44 pins over the 600 mark. Varner had games of 217, 211 and 216 for his 644 which helped Larry's win three from Mike Up. Other high for Larry's were the 186 of Vern Messersmith and the 217 of Bill Clark. For the Make Up team it was David Hite 197 and Jim Link 194.

Sanford Plaza Merchants

Music Unlimited, U.S. Bank and Public all came up with four wins last week. Greg Bullock 188 and Mim Burgess 195 - 533 led Music Unlimited over the Plaza with a 190 by R. Williams the high for the losers.

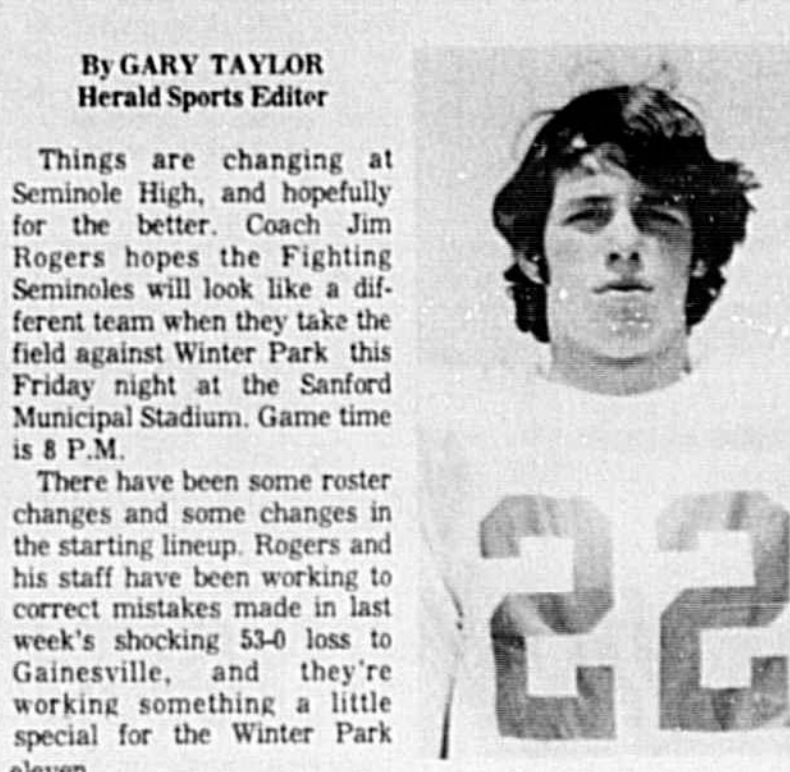

Local Pinpurri

Sparklers in the LYNTONICS MIXED league were Cecil Stambaugh 177, Mert Holley 211, Ed Mallon 187, Howard Campbell 186, Charles Elbery 220 - 581, Mack Savis 182, Jessie Dixon 181, George Dixon 174 and Don Whitton 186.

Sanford JV's Home Tonight

Sanford Junior Varsity will be trying for its first win of the season tonight when they play host to the Bucs of Daytona Mainland at Sanford Municipal Stadium. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

For Winter Park Rogers Planning Several Big Changes

MARK CARLI

Things are changing at Seminole High, and hopefully for the better. Coach Jim Rogers hopes the Fighting Seminoles will look like a different team when they take the field against Winter Park this Friday night at the Sanford Municipal Stadium. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

There have been some roster changes and some changes in the starting lineup. Rogers and his staff have been working to correct mistakes made in last week's shocking 53-0 loss to Gainesville, and they're working something a little special for the Winter Park eleven.

One Seminole has been lost for the season due to injuries and at least two others are on the injured list. Mark Carli suffered a knee injury early in the Gainesville tilt and is out for the season.

The season, Willie Acott suffered a bruised shoulder in the same game, but will hopefully be ready to go by Friday night. Donald Brown has a stiff neck, he could also be ready to go by this week's tilt.

Levi Raines has been moved up from the junior varsity. He'll play tailback and handle the punting for the Tribe, replacing Billy Jiminez, who is no longer on the squad.

Dickie Deas, who has been one of the key linemen for the Seminoles, playing both offense and defense, will see some action at fullback. The move was made to "soup up the blocking in the backfield," according to Rogers.

Two players drew special praise from Rogers for their play against Gainesville, despite the top-sided loss. Rogers pointed out Herb Sutton as the top defensive player of the game for Sanford.

Quarterback Brent Carli only completed one of 14 passes, but he had to contend with the strong Gainesville rush and wasn't provided much protection by teammates.

Sanford had possession of the ball on the Gainesville side of the field only once, and that came after a fumble on a kickoff. It was the kickoff that opened the second half, the only time Sanford kicked off.

And while the offense was having a rough time, it certainly was no picnic for the Sanford defensive unit. Gainesville scored on running passes, punts, punt returns, interception returns and safeties.

According to Rogers, Winter Park has a bigger team than Gainesville, but they're not as quick. The top player for the Wildcats is Clarence Latimer. "He's the ball club," commented Rogers, adding, "We'll have to concentrate on stopping him. The 170-pound senior is one of the top running backs in the Metro Conference."

Oviedo 11 Has Chance Against Cocoa Beach

Tom Sievert was the big surprise for Oviedo last week as he picked up 53 yards on the ground against Rockledge. Sievert will probably get one of the starting spots in the backfield but as yet the other starters in the backfield have not been named.

Two weeks ago, Oviedo lost to Sanford in a game which the Lions all but gave away. Mistakes were many and a Lion defense which had looked strong in preseason play allowed the Seminoles three easy touchdowns. Last Friday the Lions met Rockledge, a big strong team which overpowered Oviedo, but again mistakes helped lead to Oviedo's downfall.

This week Oviedo meets Cocoa Beach, a team that was wrecked by powerful Merritt Island, 38-0. Merritt Island is ranked number two in the state in the AAAA division which is one reason why Cocoa Beach had such a hard time. This will be the first time this year that the Lions will meet a team of comparable size and strength.

The Lions would like to win at home this week before going on the road for several weeks starting with an Orange Belt game against Apopka next week. But the team still has a long way to go and it will be interesting to see if they can get on the track in time for Cocoa Beach.

Oviedo lost its first player to injuries this week as David Bishop was retired for the season with two cracked vertebrae in his neck. Bishop is the first Lion to receive a serious injury this year. He received his injury in the Rockledge game while playing defensive end.

Other than Bishop, the Lions remain injury free and this continues to be an asset in their favor. It could also be one of the things which will give the Lions a shot at their first win in 26 starts.

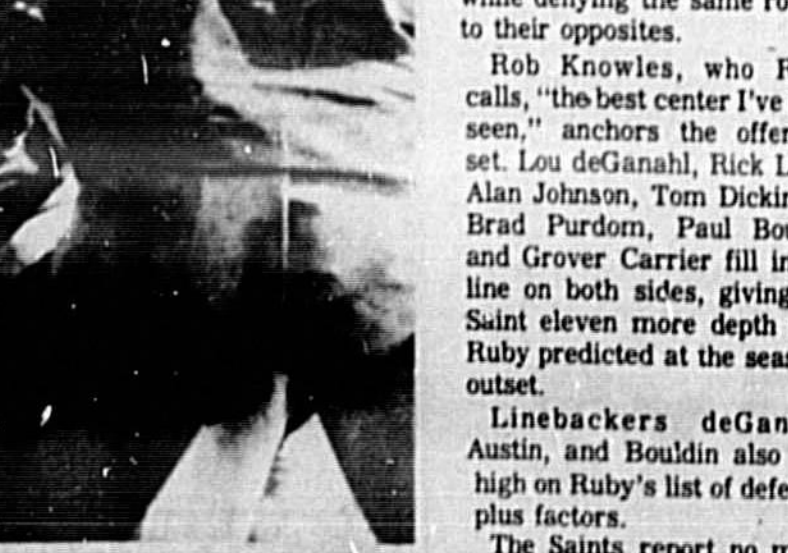

OVIEDO'S Lions are shown working on their kicking game in preparation for their Friday night encounter with Cocoa Beach at John Courrier Field in Oviedo. The Lions have been able to put only two scores on the board this season and in both instances the try for the extra point failed.

Saint Coach Looking For Large Burst

Still looking for that "potentially explosive" offense to ring up a rash of Trinity Prep markers, coach Tom Ruby brings his Saint Seminole charges up to Sanford Saturday evening, in search of win number three.

The undefeated Saints also have another matter in mind when they play the Middles. After three previous meetings, Sanford Naval owns a one game victory margin.

Last week the Saints squeaked past a powerful Taylor Pierson eleven 7-0 in an impressive defensive battle, but while they amassed more than 200 yards rushing, the pass rush began to be effective in the second half and the secondary which had so much trouble against Sanford began to tighten up. Some new numbers may also be seen on defense this Friday as Stumpf continues to look for that winning combination.

Backlog by the junior horsemen will be Greg Chandler, David Teviller and Larry Hernandez, all of whom have sparkled in the Saints' defensive backfield and show offensive potential.

George Scott Helps Stun Former Mates

By KEN RAPPOPORT

George Scott helped the Boston Red Sox win a pennant in 1967 and could help them lose one in 1972.

The former Boston slugger, Steve Bueky pitched a five-inning home run and dropped the White Sox four games behind the A's. The defeat lowered Oakland's pennant-winning magic number to four in the West.

Bobbie Billy Parker hit a home run and Andy Messersmith fired a three-hitter to lead Cleveland over Texas. Parker's homer came off Mike Paul in the second inning. The Angels added the eventual winning run in the sixth when Les Stanton scored on third baseman Jim Mason's throwing error.

Only Three Seniors SNA Squad Has Youthful Look

Any reference to this year's Sanford Naval Academy football team being a crop of youngsters is not purely accidental. New coach Peter Valentino has but three seniors and a like number of juniors on his team which opens its 1972 campaign this Saturday against the tough Saints of Trinity Prep.

And the fact that many of the starting teens are freshmen and sophomores has not dampened the enthusiasm at the Academy according to coach Valentino. "The boys have a good attitude and I'm optimistic about our chances," said Valentino.

Speaking of this week's opening with Trinity Prep Valentino said he did not know what to expect. "They've got a two game lead over their belts and this will be our opener," said Valentino who did not indicate he was conceding anything to the Saints.

While the Valentino's Middles will be young and giving up a great deal in the way of experience they won't be giving much in the size department. This is especially so with the freshmen who are as physically big as could be expected and then some.

The offensive lineup, with a few positions not yet settled, will look something like this: At the left end will be Jeff Wittenburg one of the two large freshmen in the starting line. Wittenburg stands 6-0 and weighs in at 199 pounds. At the other end will be Ken Evans, a 5-9, 160 pound sophomore. Also bidding for a starting position at the end spot is Danny Lovine, a 5-9, 160 pound sophomore.

The probable starting tackle will be Steve Schooner, a 6-1, 210 pound freshman and Scott Auld, a 5-10, 195 pound sophomore. Auld is one of the few lettermen returning from last year's team. Another of the tackle prospects is Steve Carter, 5-10, 185 pound sophomore.

Senior Steve Lane should get the starting nod at center. He is a strong 5-10, 200 pounder. John Tuma should get the call at quarterback. The 6-0, 175 pound sophomore appears to be the more durable athlete in the school. He also doubles as a defensive end.

Decisive Game In Hockey Set Comes Tonight

MOSCOW (AP) — "This might well be the most exciting game of hockey ever played." That was Harry Sindon's forecast for Thursday's game between Team Canada and Russia, the eighth and final meeting in their international hockey series.

The series, in which the first four games were played in Canada and the last four in Russia, met three victories apiece and one tie, making Thursday's game decisive.

Team Canada, comprised of National Hockey League players and coaches, had a 2-0 lead in the second period, but was held to a 1-1 tie in the first period by a long scoring bout which found Ned Raines hauling in a 42 yard scoring pass from Joe Baker. The try for the extra point via a run failed.

Whether the teams will ever meet again after Thursday remains questionable. Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said after Tuesday's game: "The Canadians are a strong hockey team. But the question arises whether it is worthwhile to have a meet with them in the future. The Canadian pros play too rough a game."

George Scott Helps Stun Former Mates

George Scott helped the Boston Red Sox win a pennant in 1967 and could help them lose one in 1972.

The former Boston slugger, Steve Bueky pitched a five-inning home run and dropped the White Sox four games behind the A's. The defeat lowered Oakland's pennant-winning magic number to four in the West.

Bobbie Billy Parker hit a home run and Andy Messersmith fired a three-hitter to lead Cleveland over Texas. Parker's homer came off Mike Paul in the second inning. The Angels added the eventual winning run in the sixth when Les Stanton scored on third baseman Jim Mason's throwing error.

Altamonte Council Actions

City Engineer William Palm was authorized by the City Council to prepare plans and put out to bid a massive sewer force main to serve all the territories which have expressed concrete interest in annexing to the city.

The areas mentioned were those bounded or near SR 436 from Sand Lake Road to SR 431 to Lotus Lake and SR 436 to the railroad, west of the current city limits.

Included within the territory will be Deep South's plant and facilities which alone will need processed some 60,000 to 80,000 gallons of effluent daily.

Bids were opened and awards delayed until recommendations can be received from the city comptroller and police chief on various police department equipment and two patrol cars.

The controversial street numbering—grid system for the city which will change almost all home addresses within the community has been approved by the City Council over the objections of Councilman Dan Dorfman.

Professional Building Discussion on the possibility of granting either a change in zoning or a conditional use of some sort to permit the use of two lots on the north side of SR 436, east of Mainland Avenue for a parking lot under a lease arrangement has been continued until next week.

Jerry Rendell told the Council his company plans to construct a 27,425 square foot professional building on a 149 feet by 264 feet lot but believes the city requires of three parking spaces per 1,000 feet of office space will not be sufficient.

Dorfman pointed out the R1AA zoning on the two lots will not permit a conditional use for a parking lot and Councilmen Helen Keyser and Keith Nixon expressed concern that cars would unload onto Holly Street, an unimproved residential street.

Swofford, noting he would vote for either a conditional use or a zoning change, said the conditional use would protect adjacent property owners more than the land could only be used for the specific purpose—the parking lot.

Nixon, McG Politicking Campaigns In Contrast

By R. GREGORY NOKES Associated Press Writer

President Nixon says he's after "a victory for America" on Nov. 7, while Sen. George McGovern says he hopes Americans will be examining the "serious moral questions" of war by election day.

The campaigns of Republican Nixon and Democrat McGovern, one of whom will be elected president Nov. 7, were in stark contrast Tuesday.

"We've changed the world," Nixon said, and his reelection in November will help insure that "the world will be safer in the years ahead."

But McGovern said the Nixon track is the wrong one. He called the bombing of North Vietnam "the most incredible and murderous bombardment in all the history of mankind."

"I'm going to do everything within my power between now and Nov. 7 to force the American people to examine the serious moral questions that are confronting us because of this barbaric behavior that has been going on in Indochina," McGovern said.

The President addressed a $1,000-a-plate fund-raising dinner in New York City and McGovern spoke at a $250-a-plate dinner in Los Angeles.

If he doesn't seem too excited, it's because he isn't. He's tired of seeing and hearing so many boasts by so many firms — and who can blame him? We think we'll be forgiven, therefore, if we break custom and state one simple fact:

We sincerely try to help you because we sincerely care about you.

Does she have a beef — or is Hubby right?

By Abigail Van Buren (DEAR ABBY: For 18 years I've tried to get this point across to my husband, but he doesn't listen.)

We seldom go out socially, and when I mention a night out, he says, "Okay, Honey, let's go! You order theater tickets to whatever you want to see, and YOU make reservations for dinner wherever YOU want to eat..."

DEAR ABBY: I know this is the wrong time of the year to discuss football widows, whose husbands are rooted in front of the television, but if you print this, maybe they'll remember my letter this fall and be a little more thankful.

DEAR DULLE: Are you feeling well, dear? Maybe you need a checkup. As I see it, ordering tickets to a play of your choice, and making dinner reservations at a restaurant, and pressing a shirt and picking up a suit and filling a gas tank aren't all that much work.

DEAR POLLY:—I know this is the wrong time of the year to discuss football widows, whose husbands are rooted in front of the television, but if you print this, maybe they'll remember my letter this fall and be a little more thankful.

DEAR POLLY:—Every summer I cut off my boys' long pants above the knees to make short ones. My problem is what to do with the material that has been left off. I have been saving these pieces (mostly denim) but cannot decide what to do with them.

DEAR POLLY:—When I need and cannot find a four-inch zipper, I take a nylon coil zipper, remove the metal zipper stop, place it up to four inches and fasten with the pliers.

DEAR POLLY:—I have been saving these pieces (mostly denim) but cannot decide what to do with them. I hope someone will have some suggestions.—P. L.

DEAR POLLY:—My Pet Peeve is with manufacturers of baby clothes. They use so many buttons, not only for closing garments, but as decorations.

Calling All Garden Clubbers! Registrations Needed For Workshop

By DORIS WILLIAMS SOCIETY EDITOR... Calling all gardeners! You never had it so good!

Many of the things you always wanted to know about gardening but were afraid to ask will be revealed before your very eyes on Oct. 1, at Sanford Garden Club, located on Highway 17-92 at Sunland Estates.

On this day, an informative workshop will be conducted to include all garden clubs in District VII.

Editor's Note: National Fire Prevention Week is Oct. 8-14. BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP)—Every home should have at least one fire extinguisher on each floor...

Everyone in the family should learn the proper use of the extinguishers and every home should have a fire drill once a week to instruct the children what to do in case of fire.

Murder By Mail, PWs' Release Top The News

Copley News Service

U.S. victories in Vietnam and the release of American prisoners of war, Arab-Israeli terrorism and a killer typhoon in Japan captured headlines this week.

An Israeli diplomat in London was killed by a bomb on the way to a meeting with the British Foreign Secretary, the latest incidence of violence following the slaying of 11 Israeli athletes at the Olympics Sept. 5.

Blamed for the bomb-death of Dr. Am Shuchter, and for the mailing of other packages, the Israeli diplomat was arrested in London. He was held responsible for the killing of the Olympic athletes.

The slaying of Shuchter, a 36-year-old "purge" of a terrorist guerrilla, was the first in a series of attacks against Israeli targets in the West Bank.

Paper Ballot Gives Voter Style

By DON DEDERA
Copley News Service

Click. Swish. Clunk. The machine swallows my vote with a metallic burp, wipes the board clean and draws open the curtain.

Next? Someday when I am snow-haired, a great-grandchild may tug at my knee and wonder what was free America's greatest political treasure, and without hesitation I will answer, "The paper ballot."

Makers, sellers and admirers of voting machines can save their postage, I have read all their testimonials to the reliability and efficiency of the machines. The contraptions, with their cast-iron casings and decide-the-winners fast. Sound, logical arguments.

My dissatisfaction is made of stronger stuff: prejudice, intuition, hunch.

I've collected a small collection of biases toward voting machines. For starters, the machines seem vaguely immoral. Wheels ought to whirl and display lemons, plums and oranges through little windows. Or every 37th voter should win ten free games which he might exchange for cash with the election board.

I'm never certain I've voted. The diagrams are clear. Red lever to the right. Black lever to the left. Red lever to the left. I have memorized that childishly simple procedure a jillion times, and not once have I emerged blinking and dazed from a machine booth, with a serene would go off in City Hall.

From the handling, marking, folding and depositing of the paper ballot, a voter took a memory of accomplishment. The part I liked best was folding the ballot so that the pencil would not even show through on the reverse side. The part I liked least was the fact that the ballot box could never detect a trend from my vote. When my vote went in the slot, I used both hands.

Everything from the Vietnam war to Women's Lib has been blamed for the rise in cigarette sales. But no matter what the explanation, there is no denying that cigarette companies are comfortably in the black.

Pat Stalaker, a spokesman for the federally financed Smoking Research organization, blames the increase in cigarette use on three things: the hard sell tobacco companies are using, the fact that women "fall in love with cigarettes" and the fact that antismoking propaganda is no longer aired on television or radio.

"Every tobacco company outside the United States admits cigarette smoking is bad," said Stalaker. "In Sweden, tobacco companies have ads telling people not to smoke too much, and not to smoke among people who don't like it. But not in the United States."

Stalaker is also asked because it is difficult to get women to give up smoking.

"We've tried to get educational materials into various women's groups, but they are very resistant," Stalaker said. "We had to give it up."

The fact is that women have a more emotional relationship with their cigarettes, Stalaker said. "It's like a love affair."

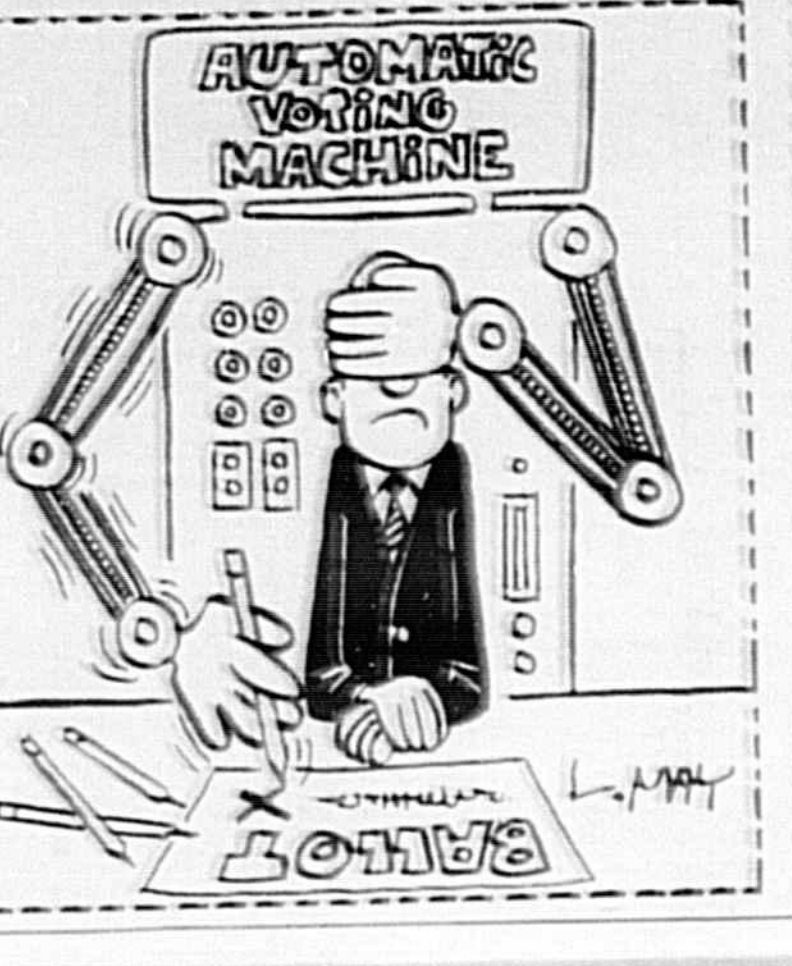

Whatever the explanation, statistics show that it's harder for women to give up smoking than men, and that more and more women are starting to smoke. In some communities there are now more teen-age girls smoking than boys. Nationwide, 18.5 per cent of all 18-year-old girls smoke, compared to 16 per cent of all 18-year-old boys.

Antismoking crusaders also believe that the 1971 ban on TV cigarette advertising has backfired.

Antismoking commercials which showed ruffled-looking men begging, with reddened eyes and smokers' coughs, for cigarettes shamed a lot of people into giving up the habit.

But with the ban on TV cigarette advertising, stations are no longer required to show the hard-hitting antismoking propaganda. And many have given up. Ralph Nader has called for a ban on smoking in all airplanes. California has passed laws requiring that all airlines and other vehicles carrying the public have no-smoking sections.

The Seventh-day Adventists are continuing with their antismoking clinics.

Tobacco Road Cigarette Sales Up

By JACK WEBER
Copley News Service

Antismoking crusaders are getting bogged. It has been eight years since the U. S. surgeon general first declared that cigarettes were hazardous to our health.

It's been nearly two years since cigarette commercials were knocked off the airwaves.

However, after a sudden decline in the late 1960s, cigarette sales are on the rise again. More and more women and youngsters, especially, are getting hooked on the habit.

Pat Stalaker, a spokesman for the federally financed Smoking Research organization, blames the increase in cigarette use on three things: the hard sell tobacco companies are using, the fact that women "fall in love with cigarettes" and the fact that antismoking propaganda is no longer aired on television or radio.

"Every tobacco company outside the United States admits cigarette smoking is bad," said Stalaker. "In Sweden, tobacco companies have ads telling people not to smoke too much, and not to smoke among people who don't like it. But not in the United States."

Let's Reminisce About Chestnuts

By HELEN M. PAGEL
Copley News Service

There was a time, long ago, when October was important to both children and squirrels, and for the same reason. That was the month when nuts were ripe. And the best of them all were the chestnuts.

Chestnut trees, of course, have been gone for many years, all of them killed by the blight which swept the country in the early part of the century. But at one time they were common and groves of them grew everywhere.

They were big spreading trees whose foliage turned a golden yellow in the fall, and their timber was valued for many purposes. But who cared about timber when, the morning after the first heavy frost, every boy in the neighborhood came rushing with the blight which Jack Frost missed. For chestnuts, like a great many other good things in life, were sometimes pretty hard to get at, but were well worth the effort once you reached them.

Then, too, you needed a long pole to knock the nuts from the branches, and baskets for carrying them home. For you gathered chestnuts in the bushful in those days and no one dreamed that they would soon disappear forever.

What fun it was to go scrambling, straggling, dry leaves which covered the ground so thickly, and search out the delicious nuts, while the squirrels raced up and down the trees and chattered angrily at this intrusion of what they obviously considered their own private territory. But there were plenty of nuts for everyone so that humans and squirrels alike managed to get their share.

Very often mating parties spent the night in the trees and took along a picnic lunch. An old moss-covered log made an ideal place to sit and eat sandwiches and hard-boiled eggs and cake. And it was so peaceful there in the woods, with the sun shining through the trees and now and then a yellow leaf drifting down, while sunny bluejays occasionally spoke his mind about something. But finally the air began to grow cool and it was time to go home.

It was fun gathering the nuts, but it was more fun eating them. Sometimes they were eaten raw just as they came from the shell, or they might be boiled or roasted in the oven. Quite often the Thanksgiving turkey was stuffed with chestnut dressing and decorated with roasted nuts.

But if your house happened to have a fireplace, then you could enjoy chestnuts at their best. For nothing else gave them quite the delicate flavor that they acquired when they were roasted in the ashes of an open fire.

The whole family gathered around the fireplace and ate only the flickering flames to light the room, enjoyed such a feast as no one will ever know again.

Scientist Cramping Love Life

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The love life of the love bug is under a scientist's microscope. But don't look for significant relief from the semiannually swarming pest any time soon.

They have increased in numbers each of the past six years. If you drive the highways of the north and center Florida, you know the love bug is on the best you can do is invest in a screen to protect the radiator of your car, some baby oil to protect the paint on the hood and a couple bottles of the soda pop to clean the windshield every few miles.

Even temporary relief isn't likely when the love bugs come back next April or May.

Dr. Louis Kutter of the University of Florida entomology department is working on both long range and short range relief, but he says research funds aren't sufficient for a crash program.

For the immediate future, Kutter plans to mix insecticide with honey water and spray it in a roadside test area.

"I expect the honey water to attract the love bugs by the vegetation beside the road," he said. "They should feed on that solution, mixed with insecticide, and die there. This should keep them from flying over the highways."

For a long range solution, Kutter is studying the love life of the bugs who constantly fly in connected pairs. He believes it may be possible to sterilize them or kill their mating instinct.

But that is something that will take long study and it's only at the beginning stage.

Kutter said there also be some connection between the state's improved pastureslands over the past decade and the steady increase in love bugs.

Bar-B-Q Corned Beef

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor. Have a deli meal! Cook corned beef on top of the range, then make up a barbecue sauce. Slice the beef with part of the sauce and bake, serve hot for a first meal. Refrigerate the remainder of the meat for good sandwich eating. The barbecue sauce that is leftover should also be refrigerated; if it lasts longer than the corned beef, serve it with cold cuts.

BARBECUED CORNED BEEF
4 to 6 pounds flat-cut corned beef brisket
6 whole cloves
3 whole allspice
2 bay leaves
Water
1/4 cup butter
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon dark brown sugar
1/2 cup undrained sweet pickle relish
1 cup catsup

Place corned beef in a large saucepot, add spices and enough water to cover. Bring to a boil; cover and simmer until tender when pierced with a fork — 3 to 4 hours. Cool beef in broth; drain beef and remove excess exterior fat. Place beef in shallow roasting pan. In a small saucepan melt butter; stir in mustard, sugar and pickle relish. Add remaining ingredients, simmer sauce, stirring constantly, for 1 minute.

Spread about 2/3 cup of the sauce over corned beef; bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for 30 minutes. Serve corned beef warm with remaining sauce, or chill meat, slice thin and serve cold on rye bread, spreading with remaining sauce warmed to room temperature.

FAMILY DINNER
Meat Loaf Potatoes
Broccoli Salad Bowl
Apple Bread Pudding
Apple Bread Pudding
Vanilla helps give delicate flavor.

2 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract
2 1/2 cups milk, scalded
3 cups dry bread cubes
2 cups peeled, cored and thinly sliced apples
1 cup raisins

In a medium mixing bowl beat eggs slightly, add sugar and vanilla and beat to combine; gradually pour in scalded milk, stirring well as you do so. In a 1 1/2-quart buttered casserole arrange alternate layers of bread cubes, apples and raisins; add the egg mixture, pouring it over the entire top. Let stand 30 minutes. Spoon some of the egg mixture (from bottom of casserole) over the top layers to moisten. Place casserole in a shallow baking pan; add hot water to come half way up side of casserole. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until clean — 1 1/2 hours. Let stand 10 minutes before serving. Makes 6 servings.

CHINESE SUPPER

ALMOND CHICKEN
After the ingredients are prepared, the cooking is quick. Seasoning Sauce, see below.
1 egg white
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 chicken breasts, boned, halved and skinned, cut in 2 1/2-inch wide crosswise strips
1/4 cup peanut oil
1 can (3 ounces) whole broiled mushrooms
1 can (6 ounces) water chestnuts, drained and sliced
1 package (10 ounces) thin green peas, partially thawed
Salt to taste
1/2 cup toasted slivered almonds

Prepare Seasoning Sauce and set aside. In a medium mixing bowl stir together the egg white and cornstarch until smooth; stir in chicken. In a large skillet heat the oil until very hot; add chicken and cook, turning over as needed, until it is white. With a slotted spoon remove chicken from skillet. To oil in skillet add the mushrooms, water chestnuts and peas; mix well, cover and simmer until peas are tender — several minutes. Return chicken to pan, add Seasoning Sauce, cook and stir over high heat until thickened. Add salt. Sprinkle with almonds.

SEASONING SAUCE: Gradually add 2/3 cup water to 1 tablespoon sugar, 2 tablespoons soy sauce and 2 tablespoons dry sherry.

DINNER FOR FOUR

WAX BEANS LYONNAISE
Wax beans are one of the best of the frozen vegetables.
2 tablespoons butter
1 medium onion, cut in thin strips
1 package (9 ounces) cut wax beans
1/2 cup water
1/2 teaspoon salt
In an 8-inch skillet melt butter; add onion and cook gently, stirring often, until golden brown. Cook wax beans according to package directions using the 1/2 cup water and 1/2 teaspoon salt; drain; add onion and mix well over low heat.

Potato, Onion Recipe

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor. I've looked for a recipe for Potatoes Lyonnaise, a little easier, but there is one that gives every detail. It is authentic, too, because it is made according to one of the two methods outlined in Larousse Gastronomique, the famous encyclopedia of French culinary arts. POTATOES LYONNAISE: 2 pounds 4 medium potatoes. Boiling water. 1/2 cup butter. 1 1/2 cups thin strips sweet Spanish onion. 1 teaspoon salt. 1/8 to 1/4 teaspoon pepper. 2 tablespoons minced parsley. Scrub potatoes with cold water, place in a saucepan, cover with boiling water. Boil, covered until just tender when pierced with a fork — 20 to 30 minutes. Cool, peel and slice about 1/4-inch thick. In a 10- to 12-inch skillet melt 1/4 cup of the butter; add the potatoes, cover, moderate heat, cook, turning with a wide spatula as necessary, until golden brown. Remove potatoes and keep hot in a warm oven. Melt remaining 1/4 cup butter in skillet, add onion and cook over moderate heat, stirring often, until golden. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and mix well. Let stand over hot heat if necessary to hold or heat through until very hot. Turn into serving dish and sprinkle with parsley. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

When you are barbecuing a whole turkey, be sure to rack the bird. This will prevent the wings and drumsticks from falling out during cooking, and will make the turkey a well-balanced, compact roast.

Did you know that having a high cholesterol or triglyceride level can be inherited? Research has shown that some people inherit this tendency as a disease which often being diagnosed by a physician can be controlled by diet or diet and drug. Other people have elevated cholesterol because of the environment they have created. They simply eat too much cholesterol and fat which they cannot tolerate. Being overweight can adversely affect any of these conditions. Vegetables can be enjoyed for their own natural flavors or they may be flavored with a variety of enhancers. Sauté sliced almonds, mushrooms or pimento in a small amount of vegetable oil and pour over the hot vegetables. Cook vegetables in bouillon. Add touches of spices or herbs such as caraway, basil, or chives to accent flavor.

VEGETABLE MEDLEY About 20 minutes before serving. In a large skillet over medium heat, in two tablespoons hot oil, cook one-half pound mushrooms, sliced, until tender, stirring often. Increase heat to high, quickly add one teaspoon salt, 10 ounces of spinach, and one medium tomato, cubed. Cook just until spinach is wilted; stirring constantly. Makes four servings.

New Orleans Cookery Blends Influences For Taste

By TOM BOGE
AP Newsletters Writer

I got my first look recently at New Orleans, that lovely old city noted for moon-covered houses and iron grilles balconies lining its French Quarter and the stately Greek Revival mansions of its Garden district.

Most intriguing to me, however, was the food, based mainly on the Creole cuisine—a fascinating mixture of French, Spanish, Anglo-Saxon and Indian influences, all blended together by generations of New Orleans cooks using the crabs, oysters, crawfish, tabasco sauce and other delicacies that abound in the region.

New Orleans is known especially for its gumbo, a combination soup and stew made from an assortment of shellfish, turkey and other fowl. Or you can substitute rabbit, squirrel or wild duck, if you prefer game.

Another local favorite is the famed jambalaya, a savory dish derived from the Spanish paella. This tangy mélange of highly flavored rice, ham, shrimp and tomatoes has become a favorite in restaurants far from the Deep South.

Sunday breakfast is a memorable event in New Orleans, comparable to the New York brunch, but more elaborate. Usually it is led off by Sazerac, a local cocktail consisting of rye whiskey, a touch of Pernod, a dash of lemon, some sugar and a twist of lemon.

This regal repast is characterized by such dishes as rich oyster soup, roast quail bathed in a wine sauce and embedded in wild rice and artichoke hearts. And if this is not enough, Louisiana hosts will ply you with a crepe filled with cream cheese and sour cream and blanketed with strawberries flamed in kirsch. Then finally you are served café brûlé, a spectacular concoction of strong black coffee flavored with cloves, cinnamon and orange and lemon peel, and set ablaze with curacao and cognac. There are other Creole specialties, like crawfish bisque, a thick soup studded with the bright red crawfish heads, stuffed with meat, garlic and bread crumbs.

For those who like informality, there is the New Orleans crab boil. This actually consists of boiled crabs plus crawfish and shrimp. The guest sits down in his shirtsleeves at a plain wooden table covered with newspapers. Peeling off the shells of the spiced shellfish, he washes them down with bottles of beer nestled in a trough of ice within handy reach.

New Yorkers who recall the delights of New Orleans cookery can refresh their memories with a visit to the Grenadier, an attractive old world type restaurant on New York's East side. The Grenadier has a woman chef named Velma James who comes from New Orleans and is well grounded in the specialties of that region. Among her favorite dishes is Shrimp Creole and here is her recipe:

SHRIMP CREOLE

2 pounds shrimp, shelled and deveined

1 large onion

1 No. 2 can tomatoes

1 medium can tomato sauce

1 bay leaf

1 teaspoon parsley

1/2 teaspoon thyme leaves

1/2 teaspoon black pepper

1 teaspoon salt

4 large green peppers

Chop onion and saute in olive oil till golden brown. Add shrimp and saute 10 minutes. Add tomatoes, tomato sauce, bay leaf, parsley, thyme, pepper, salt and cook another 20 minutes. Cut up green peppers in small pieces and add, cooking a final 10 minutes. Serves four persons and is good with rice. Should be accompanied by a chilled white wine like Villa Armando pinot blanc of California.

Dear Pat and Marilyn: I have a problem which no one else has seemed to be able to help me with. I am overweight. Recently, I met Bob and I know he would ask me out if I weren't so fat. I've gone on a diet but am afraid Bob may be gone before I can lose weight. What should I do? — Fat Lover

Dear Lover: The only person who can solve your problem is you. Start by eating three meals a day which supply the energy, protein, and vitamins you need. Do not ask for seconds and do not eat between meals. Skip desserts, rolls, pastries, potato chips, etc. Whenever you have an uncontrollable urge to eat something, substitute raw vegetables instead of the usual high calorie snacks. Get more exercise.

Dear Pat and Marilyn: I am seriously considering marriage, but one thing bothers me a great deal. My boyfriend is tight with his money and is forever looking for a cheap form of entertainment. In fact, he sits in front of my TV set most of the time. He has even had the nerve to suggest that I pay part of the expenses when we go out.

He is a college graduate and has a good job. What do you think of him as a husband material? I think I really love the guy in spite of his penny pinching. — Anna

Dear Anna: Don't expect him to turn into Diamond Jim Brady after you say, "I do." In fact, this trait might get worse. Why not iron out this difficulty before the ceremony?

Dear Pat and Marilyn: My mother is trying to ruin my social life and I can't understand why. I met a boy this summer and think he is the greatest. He was the life guard at the swimming pool.

Bill is 18, has his own car, and will be a freshman in college. I am 13 and that is the problem. My mother refuses to let me go out with Bill. She says I am too young to date a boy 18 but can date boys my own age. I'm very mature and look 16. In fact, I told Bill that I was 16 and he never doubted me a minute. How can I convince my mother that I should be able to date Bill? — Marty

Enjoy An Italian-Flavored Diet With Pizza, Spaghetti

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Successes and failures in dieting are rapidly overtaking crabgrass as a favored suburban topic. It seems almost everyone is on a diet, has been on a diet or is joining a diet. Many want to lose five or 10 pounds. Often this is as much a struggle as the truly obese person who, for his own health, must lose 50 to 100 or more pounds and keep the excess fat off permanently. One group, called the Diet Workshop, works on the principle of diet conditioning. This is changing one's eating habits so that the stringent dieter gets a well-balanced, nutritionally sound daily menu that helps take weight off and keep it off. Like most sound diet groups, Diet Workshop stresses the need for a full medical checkup, fat diets and crash diets are forbidden. It is known that people who enjoy their diet food, For this reason, Italian recipes modified for the weight losser turn up in workshop suggestions. Those who diet for an Italian snack may want to try a Diet Pizza or Diet Spaghetti.

Beat egg whites until foamy. Add skim milk powder, vanilla and lemon juice and beat until stiff. Spread mixture evenly in a 12-inch pizza pan. Add dash of garlic and onion powder on top. Bake at 275 degrees for 25-30 minutes.

Filling

4 ounce (1/2) tomato sauce

1 ounce Mozzarella cheese

2 wiensers—all beef—pre-broiled for 5 minutes

1/2 tin sliced mushrooms

Green peppers, sliced, amount to taste

Oregano, basil and other Italian spices

Spread sauce evenly over hot crust. Dot with grated cheese. Slice wiensers and scatter on top. Add mushrooms, sliced green pepper and seasonings to taste. Bake at 300 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes or until cheese is melted. Just before removing from oven, turn heat to broil for one minute to crisp the wiensers. After removing the pizza from the oven, just separate the portions with a knife. Leave them in the pan for a couple of minutes to allow the pizza to set and then remove. Six servings.

DIET SPAGHETTI

1 1-pound can bean sprouts drained

1/2 medium onion, chopped

4 ounces tomato sauce

Garlic powder and oregano to taste

Cook bean sprouts in water until soft and noodle-like. Sauté onion in a little water and add tomato sauce. Mix with a little powder and oregano to taste.

Serving wine can solve the entertaining problem of the single man and woman just as readily as it becomes the answer to what to drink at the family get-together.

For the boy announcing a girl or the girl with her eye on a fellow, wine becomes a third party who doesn't make "three a crowd" a nasty phrase.

Consider the working woman, without a mate, who usually entertains outside her apartment. Once in awhile, though, when some especially attractive male ventures into her social consciousness, it's time to put out an invite to dine at her place.

Before the meal, offer a choice of a dry Vermouth on the rocks or a medium dry Sherry. Two aperitifs later and then a fifth-size bottle of a really good about $1 white wine that will take you through both the salad and casserole. After the repast, while chatting, sip a brandy from an oversized snifter or be different and serve a cream sherry or a Sozou port, both of these having just the proper touch of sweetness.

One warning note: take it easy on the amount poured. Even though the woman has every right to show off her gracious mode of hospitality, she should also want him to be able to remember what she tells her.

For the bachelor who wants to impress his lady fair, there is no finer way than to serve champagne. Pour through the entire time, whether a cocktail hour or two, lunch or dinner. It's appreciated and enjoyed and a great image builder. For a long evening, have two bottles; finished or not, who wants to be embarrassed with an empty bottle and the lady wishes more?

Unless knowledgeable of the woman's taste preference, avoid an extremely dry champagne such as Blanc de Blancs or Natural as well as a sweet type like a Sec, Extra Dry (which is not), Pink or Sparkling Burgundy. Try a Brut (pronounced either brute or brut as in but).

After a dozen years of hosting champagne parties, I still have found only one champagne that practically everyone likes. The name is Almaden Brut; and I firmly believe Al Huntsinger, their winemaker, interjects some secret ingredient because each bottle is completely consistent in quality and delightful taste.

Please, men, when the bottle is emptied, produce a felt pen and write her name and yours, plus the date on the label. Then present it to her (all ages love this gesture); it beats a prom dance book.

Special For The Men

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Baking is becoming a satisfying way of self-expression as well as a relaxing pastime for more people. Men, especially, like to experiment with bread recipes and present the final results proudly. A recipe for the man, Soft Pretzels.

SOFT PRETZELS

- 1 1/4 cups warm water (105-115 degrees)
- 1 package active dry yeast, or 1 (1/2 oz.) cake compressed yeast
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 2 tablespoons salad oil
- 4 1/2 to 5 cups unbleached flour
- 1 egg
- 1/4 cup coarse (kosher) salt

Measure warm water into a large warm bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Add sugar, salt, oil and 3 cups of the flour. Beat until a soft ball. Add enough additional flour to make a stiff dough. Turn dough out on floured pastry cloth and knead 8 to 10 minutes or until dough is springy.

Place in a large greased bowl, turning to grease top of dough. Cover with a towel and place in a warm place free from drafts. During rising, occasionally lift rope from cloth and stretch.

Set one-half aside and cover with a towel to prevent drying. Cut remaining half into even pieces. Work with one piece at a time, keeping remaining pieces covered.

On pastry cloth, roll piece of dough with palms of hands into a 20-inch rope. During rolling, occasionally lift rope from cloth and stretch.

TO SHAPE PRETZEL: With 20-inch rope, form a loop with ends about 3 inches long. Take ends, one in each hand and twist to reverse positions. Spread the ends apart. Bring the loop over the ends and pinch the tips of the ends to the loop. Place pretzels on a large lightly greased baking sheet about 1/2 inch apart. Continue for 8 of the pretzels.

Beat egg slightly with a fork. Brush pretzels with egg; sprinkle with coarse salt. Set aside to rise in a warm place, free from draft, 15 to 20 minutes or until they look puffy. Cut remaining 20 of dough into 8 equal pieces and continue as before.

While first pan of pretzels is baking, second is rising. Bake pretzels in a 400-degree oven 15 to 18 minutes or until golden brown. Cool on wire cooling racks. Serve warm or cold same day baked. Makes 16 soft ones.

Pastry cloths are available in two forms: One is merely a cloth, the best being made of a heavy duck canvas in an 18- x 25-inch size. The other type, also canvas, comes with steel rods and wooden slats that keep the cloth taut and prevent it from slipping while working on it. Called a pastry frame, it is for pie pastry and for kneading doughs. The pastry frame is best for kneading yeast dough because it does stay taut and doesn't slip. To prepare a pastry cloth for use, rub it well with flour.

SATURDAY BRUNCH

- Bacon Cornmeal Pancakes with Butter and Maple Syrup
- Pecan Coffeecake Beverage
- BACON CORNMEAL PANCAKES

You can use yellow or white cornmeal.

- 1 1/4 cups enriched cornmeal
- 1/4 cup unsifted flour
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 6 slices, bacon, cooked and drained and crumbled
- 1 cup milk
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- 1 tablespoon bacon drippings

In a medium mixing bowl thoroughly stir together the cornmeal, flour, sugar, salt and baking powder. Add bacon, milk, egg and drippings, stirring just until blended. Pour batter onto hot lightly greased griddle or skillet. Bake until golden brown, turning only once. Yield will depend on the size of pancakes you make. Serve with butter and maple syrup.

Cheap, Tasty Recipes

Copley News Service

Meat is expensive, so why not use the elegant mushroom to enhance more ordinary protein items to party status? These recipes are delicious, inexpensive, and good for the low saturated fat dieter.

STUFFED RAW MUSHROOM CAPS
8 anchovies, drained and mashed
1/2 cup partially creamed cottage cheese
1 cup finely diced prosciutto ham
2 tablespoons minced parsley
30 1-inch fresh mushroom caps

Mix anchovies, cottage cheese and mix in a blender until smooth. Add chopped prosciutto and parsley. Wash mushroom caps very briefly under cold water, pat them dry immediately. Stuff caps with cheese mixture, garnish with capers. Serve as a canape.

CHICKEN MARENGO
2 tablespoons polysaturated oil
1 frying chicken (3 pounds) cut up
1 can (4 ounces) sliced mushrooms
1 can (1 pound) tomatoes
2 chicken bouillon cubes, crumbled
1/2 cup rice
1/2 teaspoon onion salt
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt

Heat oil in heavy skillet. Add chicken pieces; brown well. Drain and reserve liquid from mushrooms and tomatoes. Add boiling water to make 2 1/2 cups liquid. Stir in bouillon cubes. Add to skillet with mushrooms, tomatoes, rice and seasonings. Stir, making certain rice is covered with liquid. Cover pan. Cook on low heat 45 minutes. Remove cover. Cook until chicken is tender and liquid absorbed. Make 6 servings.

EGGPLANT TOMATOES & MUSHROOMS
2 medium-size eggplant
Salt
1 cup flour
Polysaturated oil 1/2 pound
fresh mushrooms 2 cloves of garlic, minced
1 pound of lean ground beef
2 cans (1 pound, 12 ounces ea.) tomatoes, coarsely chopped
1/2 teaspoon celery salt
1 bay leaf
1 teaspoon dried basil, crumbled
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1/2 cup bread crumbs

Pare eggplant; cut in 1-inch cubes. Sprinkle with salt; let stand 30 minutes at room temperature. Drain. Dry with paper towels. Sprinkle with flour. Toss to coat eggplant lightly. Heat 1/2 cup oil in large skillet over medium heat. Add half the eggplant; saute three to four minutes, stirring or tossing occasionally. Remove to platter. Sauté remaining eggplant adding oil as needed. Sauté garlic and ground beef; drain off remaining fat. Sauté mushrooms that have been sliced in the oil as needed. Add the rest of the ingredients except crumbs. Layer eggplant, ground beef and sauce in casserole. Top with crumbs. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Serves 3.

FILBERT CHERRY-ICE CREAM SANDWICHES
1/2 of 10-ounce package pie crust mix
1/4 cup finely packed light brown sugar
1/4 cup finely chopped toasted filberts
1 square (1 ounce) unsweetened chocolate, grated
5 teaspoons water
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 jar (8 ounces) red maraschino cherries
1 quart vanilla ice cream, softened

Ice cream is high on the list of favorite desserts. For a semi-homemade concoction, try Filbert Cherry Ice-Cream Sandwiches. You'll want to make a batch of the "sandwich" crust so youngsters can make their own for after-school snacks.

It Isn't Just The Pesky Kids

By LUCRETIA STEIGER
Copley News Service

The life of a lady school bus driver isn't all pesky kids, five-speed gearshifts, flat tires and 91-passenger buses. On the other hand, it isn't all synchronism, either. "The first time you get a busload of kids, it's terrible, you're a nervous wreck, grinding gears and all that, but you get used to it fast," says Christine Harmon of Fallbrook, Calif., at 23 a veteran truck and bus driver. For many of the women involved in the task of piloting the nation's kindergarten-through-grade-12 students and from school by bus, school days begin extra early, as they do for Christine. "You have to be there, ready to go out, by six or seven o'clock," Christine says, "and you have to know everything you can about that bus you're going to drive. There's eight feet width and all that length. The tail end always cuts corners—it doesn't stop learning about driving a bus." Christine, who began driving cattle trucks at 16, "on the ranch" where she worked for room and board, followed this with a stint as a grocery clerk, but "I didn't like it inside." Then she became a driver with a diaper service delivery truck—"It's fun delivering the dry ones, but those wet diapers are murder"—before marriage to J. Grayson Harmon, a small country home in Fallbrook, and a job as substitute school bus driver. This year, Christine can expect to be called to drive everything from a carryall, or small station wagon, to a "Jimmie" or "Crown," the drivers' name for GMC truck or Crown buses. "The first time I got in one of the big 'Crows,'" Christine says, "I looked in the mirror, way down the aisle, and realized that the thing was so big it had a vanishing point. "Each bus is different," Christine says, "and a 'sub' never really gets to know them as well as the regular driver." The bus driver says her job is "great for a woman. The pay is good, more than $3 an hour, although they're messed up on the law. If there are flashing red lights you must stop, something people don't seem to realize." "And then there are the motorcycleists who try to pass the bus on the right-hand side, and the motorists in the four-lane roads who see the red lights but think, 'That's not for me.'" Christine adds.

READY TO ROLL—Christine Harmon, 23, gets set for another day of transporting youngsters to and from school. She says the hardest thing to get used to is the extreme length of the school bus.

Involvement Is The Theme

Total community involvement has been the theme of the North Division (Seminole County) of the Central Florida Chapter of the American Red Cross. ARC volunteers serve in many areas of endeavor such as the Health Department, nursing homes, service to military families and veterans, disaster action teams, disaster relief, water safety and first aid training and most recently, a new program called Project Find. This is a program designed to assist social security recipients. New and significant projects are being developed at this time for Red Cross Youth, helping the handicapped, and in a program of transportation needs of the senior citizens and other disadvantaged persons. In an attempt to keep pace with the growing needs of Seminole County industries, school and law enforcement to enable full compliance with the requirements of the Occupational Safety and Health Law, American Red Cross volunteers have conducted 34 first aid classes this year with a total of 526 persons receiving certificates in first aid training. Classes in beginner swimmer through Water Safety Instructor have been held with 255 receiving certification. This year has also seen a marked increase in service to military families and veterans, 638 services given to a total of 447 families. These services included emergency leave requests, health and welfare reports, social histories for military authorities, assistance to veterans filing claims for various veterans' benefits and financial assistance in emergency situations for the serviceman and his family. A total of 5,950 volunteer hours have been recorded to date this year by dedicated volunteers to American Red Cross in Seminole County.

Miss Johnson, Mr. Washington Wed In Double-Ring Ceremony

By MARVA Y. HAWKINS 322-3415

Miss Barbara Ann Johnson and Harold Everett Washington were united in holy matrimony at St. James AME Church, Sanford, Aug. 26, at 8 p.m. Rev. Morris Brown was the officiating clergyman at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Willie Johnson, 106 Lewis Street, DeLand. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Roberts, 1122 Bay Avenue. Mrs. Evelyn Clark, organist, presented nuptial music with Eugene Shaw, soloist.

Accented the altar were brass candelabra with two baskets of white and pink standing carnations.

Given in marriage by Michael Roberts, the bride chose a formal length white satin gown with white net train veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, with white streamers.

Mrs. Sandra Faye Young attended the bride as matron of honor. She wore a formal length white hot-pink gown with puff sleeves, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Miss Joyce Lowe, Miss Annie McGill, Miss Geneva Bradshaw and Miss Shirley Roberts were bridesmaids. Their gowns were identical to the matron of honor but were light pink. They carried bouquets of pink carnations with pink streamers.

Michael Roberts served the groom as best man. Ushers were Willie Johnson, Larry Wesley, Isaac Jones and Oscar Roberts Jr.

Flower girl was Patricia Johnson, sister of the bride, and ringbearer was Edward L. Lawrence Jr.

The bride and bridegroom's mothers were attired in royal blue with white accessories and white carnation corsages. Immediately following the ceremony the bride and groom on the reception table were overlaid with a white lace table cloth. The four-tiered wedding cake, was decorated with white swans and bride and groom on the top. The guests were served punch and pouring was Shirley Roberts.

The newlyweds will reside at 1061 S.W. 10th Street, Gainesville. The bride is a nurse's aide at Sanford Nursing Home and the groom is employed at Winn Dixie. Out-of-town guests were from Gainesville, Ocala and Tallahassee.

"Citizen of the Week" is Horace L. Orr, president of SEEDCO.

Orr received his educational background beginning with Rosenwald Elementary School, Altamonte Springs, and Hingerford High School, Eatonville. He furthered his education by attending Tennessee State University, Nashville, where he received a BS degree in aviation education and administration, and attended California State College, Los Angeles. Graduate studies were in education, sociology, psychology, and courses in tort law and public school law.

He has studied at Florida A&M University, Tallahassee, modern math and desegregation workshop and education of migrant children.

Better Womanhood Month was celebrated at St. John Missionary Baptist Church throughout the month of September. The theme was "The Challenge to Christian Women in a Struggling Society to Faith, Love, Giving and Action."

Mrs. Fannie Mae Bagley spoke on "Faith." Solist was Miss Sonja Cherry.

Mrs. Mattie Cherry spoke on "Love." Solist was Mrs. Cynthia Golden.

Mrs. Bertha S. Valentine spoke on "Giving." Solist was Mrs. Mary Gibson.

The highlight service was the NAACP, Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity, Seminole County Amvets, Seminole Neighborhood United Council.

He has contributed to the improvement of this community by engaging himself in the day-to-day activities of helping to improve the conditions of the low-income and dis-advantaged persons. He is an outstanding public speaker and is often asked by various groups of the community to enlighten them on the conditions of this community and how they can improve.

Orr has outstanding experience in community services. He has worked and conducted studies of the causes of the Watts riot at Los Angeles, worked as Head Start teacher, and the program "The War Against Poverty."

The organization for which he now works is a non-profit corporation designed to enhance the economic and educational development of minorities in Seminole County.

Mt. Sinai Missionary Baptist Church choir baby contest terminated Sunday with little Bobbi Ann Harrington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Harrington, being the winner.

Little Derrick J. Wiggins was second place winner. Sponsor for these babies were Mrs. Maybell Jones and Mrs. Mae Thomas.

The choir and members wish to thank all who helped in this successful drive. Total raised was $338. Rev. Leo Myers is pastor.

St. James Baptist Church, Osteen, will have a ham benefit at the church on Oct. 15. The public is invited to attend. Mrs. Carrie Hampton is sponsor.

The United Fund Drive was organized in the black area with Rev. Ezekiah Ross, 1003 Mulberry Avenue, 322-4397, as chairman and Mrs. Thelma Nathan, co-chairman.

Persons working in the following areas will make contact with the community: Field workers, Mrs. Mary Smith; Just Us Club, Mrs. Annie L. Turner, Mrs. Arlana Johnson, Mrs. Mattie Holt, Mrs. Betty Doaderson, Mrs. Sally Bentley, Mrs. Neda Boykins, Mrs. Rosemary Richardson, Mrs. Linda Bradley, Mrs. Dorothy Gibson, Mrs. Levoise Hartley, Mrs. Ruth Whack, Midway section, Mrs. Joeaves Stephens, Mrs. Eva Stephens; Lake Monroe, Mrs. Wilhelmina Mosley, Mrs. Dorothy Gaines, Mrs. Martha Mathis, Washington Oaks, Mrs. Martha Johnson, Mrs. Mable Matthews, Mrs. Henrietta Williams. Others may volunteer call Rev. Ross.

Oh, oh, watch it: hubby bought a boat

By DOROTHY NORMAN COVKE Copley News Service

It is one of those days. You are soaking up the sun in the backyard; the house is quiet and the faint call of birds in the background lulls you into a semiconscious state.

You breathe deeply trying to keep your eyes from seeing the screen door bang. You raise your head to see who has the nerve to disturb you. It's your husband and with two cool drinks walking toward you grinning like a fool.

"What have you been up to?" you ask suspiciously, not being accustomed to such a "Nothing much, I just bought a boat."

"You are awake now. 'A boat. ... Where is it?'"

"It's too big to trailer." "Too big?" You get a mental image of the Queen Elizabeth. "Well," he hesitates, "it's a 26-footer and it's moored at the marina."

"Oh, no," you moan, remembering all the stories about the metamorphosis of the male animal when he becomes a captain. And besides you can't swim and there are times when you do get seasick.

"Come on," he coaxes, "I want you to see her." Ten minutes later you are peering on an old dock in high heels. You forget to change to sneakers but there before you tied up to the dock is a magnificent cruiser and your husband stands there sighing. You realize the siren lure of the sea has him in her hot little hands.

"You quit," introduce me." "Don't be funny," he growls. "Take off your shoes and get on board."

"How come you forgot your sneakers? You're going to have to shape up!"

"You win. He isn't even on board yet and already he's a captain."

"Isn't she a beauty?" "What are we going to do with her? You don't know anything about the water or a boat or ..."

"There's a gleam in his eye. You forget I took the Power Squadron Course last winter." "I remember," you smile brightly. "You only failed chart folding."

"Brilliant," he snarls. "You have a remarkable memory."

Now hear this... There are a few things you should know. You arch your eyebrow. "We require 19 inches of water beneath us or we go aground."

"How do we know if we have 19 inches of water underneath?"

"You dive over and check," the captain spits. "You're just about to shove him overboard when he says, 'See this gadget? It's a depth finder. You turn it on so and so and behold! We have ten feet of water beneath us!'"

"You clap your hands enthusiastically. 'Goodie, captain, now we'll never go aground.'"

"How about a ride?" "You are terrified. And he adds, 'Go forward and I'll throw you a line.'"

"You mean up there along that skinny rail? I can't do it... and besides you'll have to leave me alone on the boat. I might drift out to sea!"

"Get forward," he barks. "Never," you refuse, backing into the rail, almost falling overboard.

A dockhand calls, "Can I toss you the line, captain?"

He nods tersely and the engine throbs beneath you, and you sit in the companion seat and the calm relaxation of the water gets to you. You smile and the captain looks at you saying, "Like it, eh?"

"I sure do... but look out for that boat ahead... and the sandbar at the end of the inlet... and ..."

WOMEN CHASERS BEWARE BEIRUT (AP)—In Egypt, a low wolf whistle can quickly bring the power of law on sidewalk playboys and women chasers.

The Iraqi News Agency quoted a census published in Cairo that women chasers are arrested at the rate of 100 a day.

Arrests on charges of woman chasing, by whistling or by uttering indecent phrases, have risen sixfold since 1970, said the agency.

This year, the agency reported, 12,000 sidewalk woman chasers were condemned to prison sentences ranging from one week to two years and fined from $46 to $230, depending on the gravity of the offense.

Sanford Special Sewer Permit Is Invalidated

By BILL SCOTT

"I'm sitting here with a permit in my hand." This was the reaction this morning from Sanford City Manager W. E. Knowles to news from the State Water and Air Pollution Board in Tallahassee that Sanford is one of the cities included in the Oct. 1 moratorium on new sewer hookups.

Knowles said the city had foreseen the moratorium which was originally set for Jan. 1, 1973, and had obtained a permit which will allow Sanford to go past the Jan. 1 — or the Nov. 1 deadline. The city is constructing a secondary sewage treatment facility which will bring the present 65-89 per cent effectiveness of present plant to between 90-95 per cent or well above the latest guidelines.

Because the federal government, which is funding part of the new Sanford facility, did not have money available when the city was ready to begin work on the secondary stage, the city manager said Sanford had received a temporary permit allowing exemption from the new guidelines while work continues on the sewer addition.

Longwood Mayor Ken Brown, commenting to The Herald, stated he could not see how his city was included in the list of cities being prohibited from additional sewer hookups "since we don't have a sewer plant."

He explained Longwood has septic tanks, except Sanlando Springs, which is operated by a private developer, Lester Mandell, as Sanlando Utilities, a subsidiary of Greater Construction Company serving 500 customers.

Mandell told The Herald, "There must be some mistake as we are 99.99 per cent effective and are complying with all guidelines."

SEVERAL PEOPLE were injured in an accident at Ninth Street and French Avenue yesterday, involving a McCall's Ambulance. Sanford Police and Herndon Ambulance attendants are shown administering first aid (above) at the scene of the accident only minutes after it happened. Two McCall's attendants assist one of the riders in the wrecked ambulance (below) as they take her to another ambulance. (Related photo page 1B)

Armed School Guards Question Unresolved

Whether new Seminole High School security guards, hired by the school board to prevent student disorders, will be permitted to wear guns while patrolling the 10-12 grade Sanford facility, is still subject to conjecture, even after board last night acting on Supt. John Angel's recommendations, voted to employ two men and "purchase necessary protective equipment."

Angel told the board protective equipment includes sticks and mace, a chemical spray designed to render harmless a potential trouble maker.

The superintendent gave no comment to his feelings on the carrying of guns by guards when he stated, "I do not feel that these people should carry firearms."

A. F. Keeth, chairman said he favored "taking a step at this time and do the least we can to get by... leave it like it is with minimum protection."

A. P. Bue Jr. advised The Herald he would bring back before the board the matter of guards carrying firearms at the next session. "I'm not satisfied with the motion as passed because it's too ambiguous," Bue added.

Mayor Requests Charter Delay

By DONNA ESTES

LONGWOOD — Mayor Kenneth Brown will recommend to the city council at its 7 p.m. meeting today that any action on the proposed new charter be delayed until after the first of the new year. Brown in a statement to The Herald said with the delay sufficient time will be available to fully inform the voters of the city by way of public hearing and information session of the content of the document proposed to take the place of the 1920 vintage charter now in effect.

The mayor said it is quite possible that City Attorney S. J. Davis Jr. will ask the legislative delegation to pass the charter prior to its being ratified by the people in a special election early next year.

Senior member of the council E. E. Williamson has posed various questions about the legality of passing an entirely new charter under the home rule provision of Florida's 1968 constitution. Williamson's position has been that home rule permits adoption of only amendments to a charter and not an entirely new charter. Davis at last week's council meeting said since this section of the constitution had not been tested in the courts, Williamson's position may be correct.

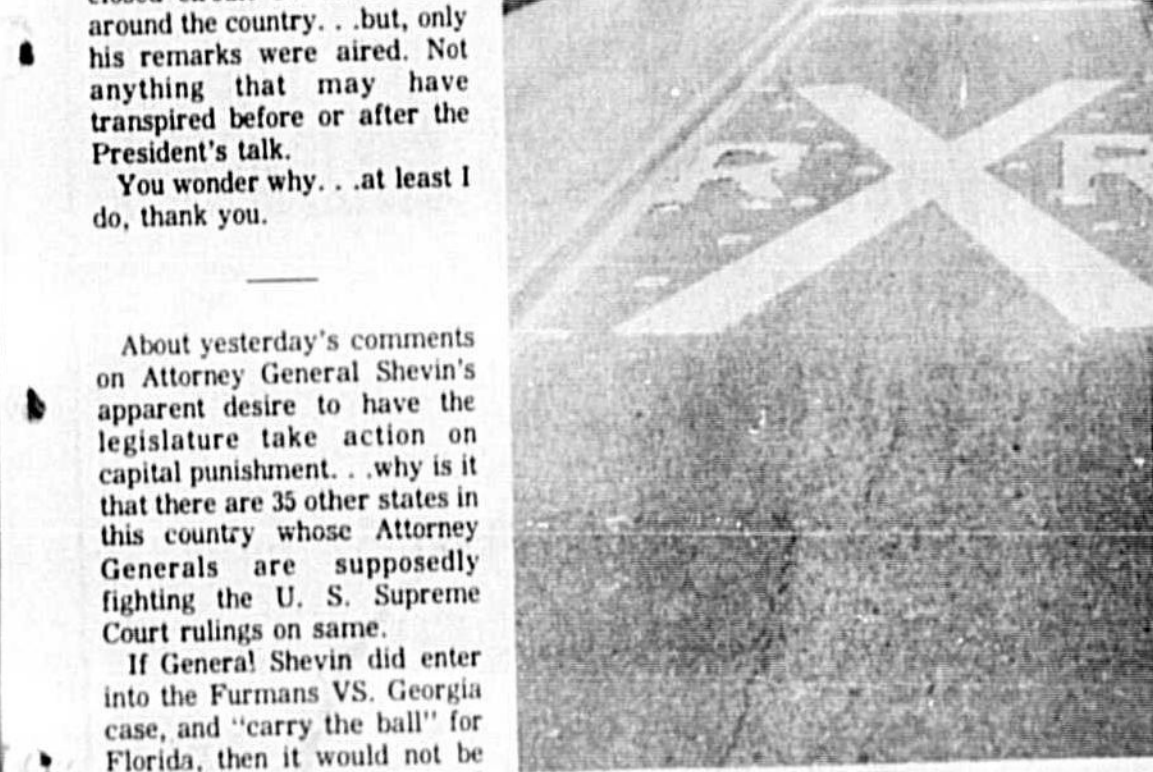

Bulletin

LONGWOOD — Council Chairman Eugene Jacques today firmly stated to members of council and the mayor that he will make every effort at today's official 7 p.m. meeting to defeat the proposed ordinance which would raise water rates for individual users up to 60 percent.

Ray Slaton was quick to comment, "I doubt you will be able to hire anyone unless they can carry arms."

Jean Bryant took issue with Angel on the arming statement and reminded professional law enforcement people we asked, all recommended the men be armed."

She explained further that Sheriff John Polk and Police Chief Ben Butler felt firearms

RAILROAD CROSSING PRECAUTIONS

The railroad crossing on SR 431, between Paola and Banana Lake, now is properly marked with warning signals, thanks to the County Commission. The unmarked crossing was cited by The Sanford Herald after a little girl died in an auto-train collision. Top photo shows a "Stop" sign installed at the crossing. Lower photo shows a warning sign painted on the paving and outlined with reflectors for night driving (see insert).

The other day there was a letter to the editor from Dr. Luis Perez, generously heaping praise on some local politicians. We chided him about the free plug, and wondered if we could also get "free" medical advice for a nagging back in our "Editor's Note."

Today we are in receipt of the following: "To whom it may concern — this entitles the editorial staff of The Sanford Herald who may be suffering with back pain, to one free consultation with Dr. Luis M. Perez."

Wondering Out Loud... why the Sanford City Commission meetings start with a prayer, even though there is an American flag on the premises. ...do NOT say the pledge prior to the start of their meetings! While visiting Longwood last week, they responded with both prayer and pledge!

The first thing to discount is the "discount" price as you see it.

Ambulance Involved 4 Hurt In 3-Car Crash

By GARY TAYLOR

An ambulance making an emergency run to Seminole Memorial Hospital was involved in a grinding three-car collision at Ninth Street and French Avenue in Sanford at 5:17 p.m. yesterday.

A McCall's Ambulance was carrying a patient to the hospital when a car driven by Jean S. Adams, 61, of 609 East 14th Street, Sanford, allegedly turned into the path of the emergency vehicle, according to Policeman Mike Tindel.

The ambulance had picked up a patient, Lily Belle Johnson, 63, of 1215 West 13th Street, at that residence. Two persons, Clarissa Moore, 61 of 1215 West 13th Street and Mrs. J. S. Adams, 61 of 1215 West 13th Street, were riding in the ambulance with the patient. They all suffered minor injuries.

According to Herndon Ambulance, they had received two calls for an ambulance at the 1215 West 13th Street, one of them from the Sanford police department. Herndon dispatched an ambulance at 4:34 p.m. and, according to the ambulance driver, was heading north on U.S. 17-92 with red lights flashing when it was passed by the McCall's Ambulance.

A dispatcher for McCall's Ambulance told The Herald that they received the call from Dr. G. H. Starke's secretary and were told that "the woman was gagging for breath."

After making the pickup, the ambulance, driven by Jesse McCall, Kennedy Road, Eatonville, was going north on

Correction

In the Wednesday edition The Herald, page 1, "Four Turner Firms Named In Law Suit," date-lined by the AP from New Orleans it was reported that a federal suit has been filed against four Florida corporations and individuals connected with the firms, charging they operate an illegal pyramid investment promotion.

Included in the listing of the four firms was Master Minds, Inc., and Candada, Inc., as well as Glenn W. Turner Enterprises, Inc., and Dare To Be Great, Inc.

The Herald has been notified that Candada, Inc., which is a holding company for Master Minds, Inc. are not affiliated nor associated in any way with Dare To Be Great.
