MORTIMER SAYS COLONEL FORBES RUINED HIS HOME

Mortimer told of many different companies he represented in Washington as agent in getting contracts, finally becoming agent for drug companies in negotiating whiskey withdrawal permits. In this connection, he said Representative John W. Langley, of Kentucky, got the permits and added that he testified about them in Langley's trial at Covington, Ky., this summer, which resulted in Langley's conviction. The record of the house investigation of Representative Zihlman, of Maryland, in whiskey permit deals was read to him and identified as his testimony.

When his testimony in the senate investigation of the Veterans' Bureau was read to him, he added a few details. He said on some of these deals, Sidney Hieber of Washington, held out fees for getting the withdrawal permit. George W. Bean of the Republican national committee from Florida, was partner in some of his Washington enterprises, Mortimer said.

Harry Kent To Act As Interlocutor In Local Minstrel Show

Everything is in readiness for the presentation of the Sanford Minstrel show Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock at the Milane Theatre, according to an announcement made Tuesday.

It will be a show with a thousand laughs, is the boast of those who have the production in charge. Some of the local amateur performers will be seen in the performance Wednesday night. Not only will there be the minstrel part but there will be several special acts offered as a part of the evening's program.

Harry Kent will act as interlocutor. The following eight men will be seen in the roles of black-face comedians: Reginald Holly, E. F. Lane, Frank Donaldson, Harry Wagner, H. S. Pond, Myron Ritter, Pierce Griffin and L. J. Van Houten.

As features of the minstrel act Mr. Holly will sing "Hard Hearted Hannah," S. M. Lloyd will sing "When Lights Are Low" and Mr. Ritter will render "Seven Or Eleven." Other numbers will include "Hawaiian Lullaby" by Mr. Claude "Candy" by Mr. Van Houten, "June Night" by Mr. Riley; "Louisville Lou" by Mr. Wagner; "Just a Girl Men Forget" by L. J. Sid Rive, "Why Do You Do Me Like You Do Do." "There's Yes, Yes in Your Eyes."

One of the between-act specialties will be selections by the Seminole quartet composed of Floyd Palmer, S. M. Lloyd, Sid Hibe and Roby Laing. The last act of the performance, it is announced, will be a lawn party given by the women members of the cast. This part of the program, it is said, will be one of the most enjoyable of the evening. It will include solos and duets by some of the most talented young women of this city.

A parade of those composing the cast will be given Wednesday afternoon. It was further announced. The parade will form at the Milane and march through the business section. Every member will appear in costume.

EFFORT IS PUT FORTH TO CURT SHOALS ISSUE

Continued from page one To meet one of the major objections of Secretary Weeks, Senator Underwood introduced an amendment under which the government would guarantee the interest and principle of bonds issued in the event of default by the lessee.

Another amendment would change the amount of nitrogen to be produced annually. Instead of 10,000 tons being required for the first year, the time extended to the third year, advancing to 20,000 tons in the fourth year, 30,000 in the fifth year, and 40,000 annually thereafter. Senator Underwood explained that construction of a fertilizer plant would require about two years.

The time of the leasing of the plant by the secretary of war also would be extended from next July 1, to next Sept. 1.

With reference to a war department objection that cyanamide process could not be used by the lessee, Senator Underwood said the judge advocate general of the army had settled that question in an opinion on the Ford bid, holding that contract of the government with the American Cyanamide Company provided for use of patents by either the government or the lessee.

Brother Of Sanford Man Murdered By Pittsburgh Robber

Details of the mysterious murder in Pittsburgh last Wednesday night of Gustave A. Smith, have been received by his brother, J. C. Smith, manager of the Sanford branch of the Gulf Refining Company of the Gulf refining Company. Mr. Smith received word of the slaying of his brother by unidentified man on the night of Dec. 3, the following day after the murder occurred. Accounts in Pittsburgh papers, which have been received here, describe the slaying as follows:

An unmasked bandit, late Wednesday shot and killed Gustave Adolph Smith, aged 53, when an attempt was made to rob the J. W. G. Smith Sons grocery store, operated by Smith and a brother, at 5134 Liberty Avenue.

The slayer escaped in a touring car. The bandit entered the front door of the store with a drawn revolver, police say, and warned employees and customers not to move under threat of death. He even went behind the counter and attempted to open the cash register. Due to a key sticking in it, however, he was unable to do so and ordered Harold Smith, a brother of the murdered man and one of the proprietors, to open it.

Gustave Smith, who had been cutting meat in a rear room entered the store just in time to see the bandit forcing his brother to open the register. Despite the robber's warning not to move, Smith advanced on him with a butcher knife which he held in his hand. Backing against the wall the bandit fired, the bullet striking Smith in the right side. As Smith crumpled to the floor, the bandit ran to the street and boarded the touring car. He drove away rapidly in the direction of Eastend. Smith died almost instantly.

Winter Fur Buyers Urged To Be Alert

OLYMPIA, Wash., Dec. 8.—Fur-bearing animals the world over are steadily decreasing in number, but it will be possible to purchase some 30 varieties on the market, at prices at least as long as there are plenty of rabbits, hares and muskrats obtainable, according to officials of the federal biological survey here. The survey is undertaking a campaign against the poisoning of furs, the movement having been started to protect the public against unscrupulous dealers.

Hares and rabbits, say the officials, are being sold under the names of American seal, Arctic seal, Cape seal, cat, chinchilla, clipped real, coney, ermine, fox, French sable, Geller, seal, La Meuse seal, new seal, Baltic fox, Baltic seal, muskrat, northern seal, Polar seal, Semeuz seal and sable. Muskrat appears on the market, it is claimed, under such alluring titles as Aleutian seal, electric seal, Hudson Bay seal, mole, real seal, Red River seal, river mink, river sable and Russian otter.

No fault is found with names that merely fail to call attention to the fact that a particular fur comes from the back of a cat, rabbit or hare, but objection is made, the officials explain, to fake names meant to deceive the buyer and to induce him to pay an unfairly high price.

SEEKS INFORMATION

MIAMI, Dec. 10.—Mrs. Florence B. Wright, widow of Prof. G. L. Wright, widely known student of glacial phenomena, and author, is here in quest of information as to the origin of the coconut. She believes that the coconut and banana are natural products of the hemisphere, and that Asia and North and South America were either linked or intimately known to each other as early as the fourth century, B. C., presumably by way of the Pacific islands. In this connection it is pointed out that the coconut rots in long exposure of salt water, and therefore it must have floated from one hemisphere to the other.

IF BACK HURTS FLUSH KIDNEYS

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity.

The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active. Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year. —Adv.

The proprietors of The Herald are in receipt of a letter from an old friend in Miami, they would like to pass on to Sanford readers of this paper.

As the letter was not intended for publication, however, only excerpts can be used here. But these excerpts, thoughtful people will see, speak directly to many a Sanford man and woman.

"I have been keeping your editorial, 'Diamond Acreage in Sanford,' on my desk for two weeks," writes our friend, "waiting for an opportunity to send you my congratulations on your good work, and urging you to keep that up regardless of how many stupid fools you have to deal with."

"When I say 'stupid fools'," he continues, "I know where of I speak, because I was one of the dad-blamdest stupid fools that ever sat back and watched other people collect the diamonds that I could have had for the taking."

"Here in Miami ten years ago, I read the same kind of talk in the old Metropolis as you are giving now. Other people, too, read that talk and went out and bought Miami real estate. Today these people are rich, some of them immensely rich. And I am only comfortably fixed, and grumbling a lot about what might have been."

"You are telling the people of Sanford to buy their home town real estate. You know as positively as any of us know anything about the future that Sanford is to take on a big growth. It is one of the towns of the state which is to become a large city. Your editorial of November 21 carries advice that would be worth millions of dollars to the people now living in your city, if they have sense enough to heed it. I am sitting here gloomily thinking of the wealth and the prestige I myself would have today, if I had followed the same sort of advice given by the Metropolis when I first came to Miami a dozen years ago."

The Herald happens to know that the man who wrote that letter has both wealth and prestige. He has the wealth of a great big generous heart and the prestige of the man who is known to be "on the square" come what may. But, as he says, he neglected opportunities to buy land in Miami whose increased value today would have made him a millionaire. Like many a Sanford man he "just couldn't see it."

Christmas Shopping In the Home

This is the time of year when men folks walk hurriedly back and forth in their bedrooms, running their hands through their hair, when women rack their brains and suffer sleepless nights, when even boys and girls wear worried looks upon their countenances, when mothers, fathers, aunts, uncles, grandfathers, grandmothers, brothers, sisters and sweethearts ask themselves over and over again, "What shall I get him, her or it for Christmas?"

The proper selection of Christmas gifts is a science of utmost skill, and an art which few possess. It is a science in that it calls for sound judgment in the expenditure of funds which shall be consistent with propriety and expediency. It is an art in that the refinement and personality of the giver are reflected in the selected gifts, which must, if they reveal the artistic temperament, satisfy the needs or desires of the recipient. The possession of the science and art of Christmas gift selection is rare indeed, and it is the lack of it which makes the question, "What shall I get him, her, or it for Christmas?" so difficult to answer.

It is not the purpose of this editorial to attempt to answer the question. It would hardly be wise for us to advise Bill to buy brother John a bebec gun for Christmas, or for Aunt Jessica to give the baby a five pound box of Martha Washington. Questions of such ponderosity should be left to wiser heads. It might not be amiss, however, for us to suggest a method which has been known to work in other instances.

If you are loosing sleep over the annual problem of Christmas giving, why not consult the advertising columns of your local paper? Really, if you have not done so, you cannot imagine what sage advice our merchants can give on the subject of Christmas shopping. Somehow they seem to know exactly the right thing for you to give to each member of your family and to each of your near friends. And they are trying to tell you every day of the things they have in their stores which will make someone happy and which will relieve you of your Christmas giving troubles.

You can prepare your list at home tonight and the clerks in the stores will wrap up your packages in the morning.

CIPRIANO CASTRO
 NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE

Twenty years ago Cipriano Castro was better known to the American newspaper public than Simon Bolivar or Porfirio Diaz had ever been. He was a South American dictator, without any real quality as a soldier or a statesman. But the influences which make for public popularity were kind to him, and he had a gnatulous fame thrust on him by counting a controversy over Venezuelan debts due to British, German and Italian subjects, in the course of which Venezuela's ports were subjected to a "specific blockade." This blockade was not quite as pacific in character as it was advertised to be. The Monroe Doctrine was brought into question and the United States intervened to bring about a settlement. Castro was at first offensive in gratitude, but quickly forgot the favors which our government had done him.

An Andean mountaineer, he had physical endurance and courage. But he lacked education and balance and ruled with crude brutality, interspersing his tyranny at Caracas with long periods of relaxation and revelry at La Victoria. In manners and personality he was a contrast with the polished upper-class type of dictator so frequently encountered in Latin-American politics, and it was, perhaps, his closer approach to the native population which made him for a time a popular idol with Venezuelans. But for ill-health he might have held on longer. When he sailed for Germany in 1908 for medical treatment his Vice-President, along with the public generally, concluded that he was taking the final step in the career of most Latin-American dictators, retiring in peace to enjoy a fortune safely transferred abroad. Gomez sent his family after him and warned him never to return.

He was but one of dozens of adventurers of his class who had stumbled into power and stumbled out. He has been remembered a little longer than most of the others because he backed to the full in the international limelight while opportunities to do so were good.

AN EXPRESSION OF APPRECIATION
 LAKELAND STAR-TELEGRAM

We like the suggestion of The Sanford Herald, made to the people of Sanford, that some special mark of appreciation be shown those Sanford merchants who go to considerable trouble and expense in creating attractive display windows in their places of business. The suggestion is that those who understand the value of good looking stores, take the pains to write a little note of thanks to the merchant, telling him or her that you have noted with pleasure the splendid spirit of progress shown; that you appreciate the evidence of good taste and are prepared to show that appreciation in a more tangible and practical way whenever the opportunity offers by patronizing that place of business.

Referring to a moment to Lakeland stores, this city prides itself on the possession of many beautiful displays of ware. Our furniture stores are outstanding in their class; so are the ladies' wear and men's wear stores while the grocery; and meat markets are also to be commended. A well arranged shoe window is also always interesting and this applies almost equally as well to the commonplace hardware store which ordinarily is passed by with a glance but here in Lakeland are often centers of interest. It would never do for the Star-Telegram to attempt to make special mention of certain stores; in fact that is not necessary for every resident of the city knows the energetic, live merchants and can differentiate them from the "dead" ones. The show windows and his newspaper advertising will do that.

Nor must we forget that inviting-looking stores are a valuable asset to a community.

Going to California.
 Florida and California.
 Quiet, Peaceful Rest.
 The Earthly Paradise.

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE
 (Copyright 1936)

ON THE SANTA FE "CALIFORNIA LIMITED," WESTBOUND, Dec. 5.—

MIDDLE-AGED women on this train have beautifully quiet, peaceful faces. They are going to California. The modern pressers with their iron, but and perhaps, sometimes make you feel doubtful about heavenly breezes paved with gold just above our heads.

But there is no doubt about California, with sunshine, flowers, rest and peace. All that is real. This train, just leaving Topeka, Kan., will arrive there day after tomorrow.

CONSIDER THE couple sitting across the aisle in the dining car. They come from a farm, their hands and complexion show it.

The light and fire are dim in his pale gray eyes. Many weary miles his feet have walked behind the plow and the harrow; many miles he has driven over bad roads in a slow, rocking buggy to and from the town.

His shoulders are bent by heavy weights, and worry has left deep wrinkles. But that is over, the life of hard work has brought its reward. The children are settled, and they are going to California.

SHE SITS NEXT to the window, looking out at the kind of county she has known for fifty years. Big brown fields, stretching away to the horizon. Stacks of straw that would be worth $20 a ton in the city here. He doesn't pay to ship them, houses in the hollow where the cold settles, trees planted to break the force of the wind from the north.

SOON ALL THAT will change when this train climbs up over the mountains, to the blue sky and the bright earth colors of New Mexico, strange enchanted land and then, beautiful California, and the wide Pacific Ocean.

HER FACE IS peaceful, happy as she rests with her hands in her lap. For the first time in her life there is nothing that she ought to be doing. She is going to California.

Earnest, patient, calm and beautiful is her face, as she looks out at the changing scene. And still more beautiful her expression, as she takes the things that the waiter brings and arranges her husband's breakfast. California or no California, she will not, while she lives, lose the habit of taking care of him.

HERE IS NOT the face that launched a thousand ships or burned any towers, anyway. It's better than that.

It's the face that weaned a thousand calves, cooked thirty thousand meals for family and farm hands, sewed and mended and washed for a family of children, caring for them in sickness and health, helping with the chores and economized on herself.

"THE LITTLE GIRL with the curls and the plaid dress, she is our youngest granddaughter. Our daughter will be lonely without her. But they are letting us take her for a little while so she can see California while she is young. We had to wait a long while."

But the time has come at last, and they are going to California.

EVERY DOLLAR they take with them to provide for a well earned old-age of peace, and rest, in a dollar won by hard work. Crops raised by their hands have fed thousands. For every dollar they have had, the public has had ten dollars in value.

Happy is this nation in possessing such States as California and Florida, in which those that have worked hard may spend their latter years, prolonging their lives and enjoying the results of hard and useful work.

THOSE NOW living who see in California and in Florida cities greater than any now on earth. They will not be cities of crowded, windy streets, but cities that will cover hundreds of square miles, spreading over hills and valleys, with beautiful roads and great landing fields for flying machines, that will carry swiftly through the air passengers that the trains now carry slowly.

THE EAST AND Northeast will send their millions to Florida. The Middle West and Northwest will send them to California. California and Florida will send back to the North energetic young people to work in the colder climate.

The development of this nation has only begun. California or Florida could easily feed, under intensive cultivation, the entire population of the United States, and Texas could feed the population of the world.

With the flying machine fully developed, all the people of the earth could find beautiful dwelling places on hills and mountains now uninhabited.

Nothing to worry about, overcrowding least of all, if the people combine imagination and common sense.

THE PRESIDENT saw a good deal of Chicago, wonderful city, on his way to the stockyards from the North Side, where money lives all along Michigan Ave., out through the regions where hard work lives. All the streets were lined with people cheering him. Sometimes, for blocks at a time, the sidewalks were covered with colored men and women, they cheered and President Coolidge's smile was the same for all the different crowds.

THE RICH MAN'S DARLING
 TAMPA TRIBUNE

A reader sends the Tribune the following editorial from a Duluth newspaper which is one of the best of the thousands that have been printed regarding the Florida tax amendment:

Florida is making a shameful bid for the "rotten rich" to move to that state and make their home there.

Instead of adopting a policy of "soaking the rich" Florida is coddling them.

At the recent election a constitutional amendment was adopted by an overwhelming vote, which amendment provides that the state shall not levy any tax on inheritances or income.

In other words, Florida says to the idle rich of America: "Come to Florida if you are burdened by taxes in other states, and you can loaf under the palm trees here and not be worried by income or inheritance taxes so far as the state government is concerned."

Of course the state of Florida may "get" the idle rich in some other way, but that community is going to offer a very powerful appeal. The harassed millionaire who wants a sanctuary where he may play golf and escape income taxes is going to seek Florida as the desert wanderer seeks an oasis. Florida has elected to become the "rich man's darling" among the states.

The experiment will be watched with interest. Undoubtedly it will attract idle wealth to the state. But whether it will attract capital for industry remains to be seen. At least it should give tax-leaving bodies in other states cause for sober thought. "Soak me and I'll move to Florida" is going to be heard in many states from now on. Florida's act may even cause a revision of the modern American system of taxation which is "all the traffic will bear."

Loading under the palm trees with no worries about excessive taxation surely will prove an inducement to thousands of the wealthy and indolent—but the Florida bid is not altogether to that class. It will attract men of activity and industry who are looking, not for a place to "loaf" but for a place to work in comfort and convenience and where there are innumerable opportunities for enterprise and thrift, at the same time being spared the burden of paying confiscatory taxes on what they earn while they live and what they leave behind when they are dead.

Florida may become the "rich man's darling" among the states, but it will also be the accepted sweetheart of thousands of men in moderate circumstances, who will find her smile the irresistible invitation to the favors she bestows upon those who honestly and intelligently seek them.

LOVE
 ST. AUGUSTINE RECORD

Love is the most intangible, indescribable thing in the whole universe. It is probably more of heaven than of earth. No person who has not been a parent can even approach a conception of the affection that the mother or father has for the child. One's own flesh and blood in a new life can be even dearer than life itself.

Dr. Lincoln Hulley, President of John B. Stetson University at DeLand, Florida, says in one of his prepared lectures, that a mother will forgive her son of things for which she would divorce her husband. But there exists sometimes a love between man and wife or betrothed lovers that which there is no stronger tie, no sweeter, finer attachment. Occasionally men love each other like Damon and Pythias; and often women are as devoted in friendship. There are however different sorts of love—the love of relatives and the love of sweethearts are unlike. But after all, love is love and all love baffles definition.

William Hazlitt wrote of love: Perfect love has this advantage in it, that it leaves the possessor of it nothing farther to desire. There is one object (at least) in which the soul finds absolute content, for which it seeks to live, or dare to die. The heart has, as it were, filled up the moulds of the imagination. The truth of passion keeps pace with the outries the extravagance of mere language. There are no words so fine, no flattery so soft, that there is not a sentiment beyond them, that it is impossible to express, at the bottom of the heart where true love it. What idle sounds the common phrases, "adorable creature, angel, divinity and!" What a proud reflection it is to have a feeling answering to all these, rooted in the breast, unalterable, unutterable, to which all other feelings are light and vain! Perfect love reposes on the object of its choice, like the halcyon on the wave; and the air of heaven is around it.

MUSCLE SHOALS
 ASHEVILLE CITIZEN

This week will probably witness the end of the long debate over the Muscle Shoals. President Coolidge is expected to endorse the Underwood bill for the disposition of this property, in which so much Government money is tied up, and after a final discussion in the Senate the Underwood proposals seem likely to pass that body.

This bill provides for perpetual Government ownership of Muscle Shoals, yet it favors Government operation only if it should be found impossible to lease it on advantageous terms for private development. The Underwood measure would require the production annually of fixed amount of nitrogen, to be converted into fertilizer in time of peace and into explosives in wartime.

Muscle Shoals should be devoted to the manufacture of fertilizer and to the supplementing of the South's hydro-electric power, under such terms as would render the plant a Government enterprise in time of war. If Congress takes into proper consideration the economic necessities of the South, where the plant is located, there should be a good prospect of seeing the Shoals leased to Southern power companies. In the last session of Congress these companies became formidable competitors with Henry Ford in bidding for the lease, and with Mr. Ford out of the race the Southern power corporations may find themselves recognized as the logical lessees of the plant. At any rate, the country will breathe a sigh of relief if this week Congress can find a reasonable settlement for this question.

Brotherhood Class of Presbyterian Church Holds Social Gathering Tuesday Night

On Tuesday evening the Brotherhood Class of the Presbyterian Church held a very delightful and instructive business social gathering in the parlors of the church. Sixty men gathered in the dining room and in absence of President Kent Rossiter, Vice President J. C. Hutchinson presided over the business session.

Following the disposal of some routine business, the election of officers was held with the following results: J. C. Hutchinson, president; H. C. DuBose, first vice president; A. W. MacNeill, second vice president; L. C. Bebout, third vice president; H. J. Lehman, fourth vice president; L. I. Frazier, secretary-treasurer.

As the first number on the social part of the evening's program, R. J. Holly gave a talk on "Good Citizenship," which was greatly enjoyed. A plea for more civic pride on the part of all citizens of Sanford, was made by the speaker in the course of a 15-minute talk.

Mr. Lehman then introduced the accomplished entertainers of the evening. Mrs. Robert Herndon, a cornetist rendered a number of selections that pleased everyone. Mrs. Herndon was ably accompanied at the piano by Miss Margaret Harris.

Robert Herndon in the character of "Tony Macaroni" with his monkey and organ, was greatly enjoyed. Mr. Herndon's Italian impersonation was much enjoyed and one of his main themes was that "Peter's Wife's mother lay sick of a fever."

Mr. Hutchinson then gave a reading taken from the address of President Weir of Rollins College delivered some time ago before the Kiwanis Club. This reading bearing on the all important theme of education was not only instructive but entertaining as well.

After a standing vote of thanks was extended to the speakers and entertainers, refreshments were served.

Mrs. Newman Hostess Evening Bridge Club

Mrs. R. A. Newman most pleasantly entertained the members of the Evening Bridge Club, Tuesday evening at her home on West Fourth Street.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with bows of narcissus. A hand embroidered towel was won by Mrs. Puleston for high score among the ladies and Dr. Puleston won the gentlemen's prize, a tie and matching socks.

At the conclusion of the game chicken salad, stuffed celery, nut bread, olives and hot chocolate were served.

The members of the club present were Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Newman, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Puleston, Judge and Mrs. E. F. Householder, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hill, Mrs. George A. DeCottes and Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Thrasher.

Mrs. H. B. Lewis entertained the Duplicate Bridge Club at her home on Magnolia Avenue Tuesday afternoon.

Duplicate Bridge Club Is Entertained Tuesday

Radiance roses were most effectively used for decorations. The high scores were won by Mrs. Ralph Wight, Mrs. Chittenden, Mrs. Drummond and Mrs. Benson. Sumptuous refreshments, consisting of a salad and an ice course were served at the conclusion of the game.

Mrs. D. P. Drummond and Mrs. Roy Chittenden, Mrs. Ra'ah Wight sent members. The members present were Mrs. Sam Yontz, Mrs. J. C. Benson, Mrs. C. E. Henry, Mrs. Ray Chittenden, Mrs. Ralph Wight and Mrs. Hal Wight.

Daughters of Confederacy Making Plans For Robert E. Lee Costume Ball

At a special meeting of the N. de V. Howard Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, called for the purpose of discussing and formulating plans for a proposed dance, it was decided that the chapter would give a Robert E. Lee Ball on Jan. 19. This is in keeping with the precedent set by the older and larger chapters, in thus annually honoring the birthday of the great Confederate leader.

The interest shown and the novelty of plans suggested indicate that the affair will be one of the most enjoyable events of Sanford's social season.

Mrs. A. P. Connally, the newly elected president, has called the entire membership of the chapter to the support of this event, appointing the following committees: PLACE: Mrs. E. A. Douglas, Mrs. J. D. Parker. TICKETS: Mrs. B. D. Caswell, chairman, Mrs. W. C. Hill, Mrs. J. D. Woodruff, Miss Mabel Bowler, Miss Martha Fox.

Mrs. Samuel Puleston Entertains With Bridge Party Given on Tuesday Afternoon

Mrs. Samuel Puleston was the charming hostess of the bridge and shower, given by the Social Department of the Sanford Woman's Club, Tuesday afternoon.

It has been the custom of the Social Department for the past several years to give, just before Christmas, a shower for the orphans of the Children's Home Society of Jacksonville. This year the great box decorated with pictures of Santa Claus which was placed in the entrance of the club room was much and pleasing gift that the many useful and pleasing gifts which were brought. Quite a substantial sum of money was also given for the same purpose.

Great baskets of poinsettias added to the attractive setting which the club affords. Bridge was played at 10 tables. Mrs. Raymond Phillips won the high score and Mrs. J. C. Bennett won the second high score; both were presented beautiful hand made towels as prizes. After the game a delightful salad course was served.

Miss Willa Deason Is Married To G. C. Heald

A wedding of interest to a number of friends in Sanford was that of Miss Willa H. Deason of Jacksonville to G. C. Heald of Sanford which took place Sunday in Jacksonville at the home of Mrs. L. F. Johnson, 222 Ocean Street. Dr. L. E. McNair of the First Presbyterian Church performed the ceremony.

Only a few close friends were invited to attend the wedding after which the couple left for their future home in Sanford where Mr. Heald is employed with the Atlantic Coast Line.

Informal Dance Given At Country Club

Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Jones entertained most delightfully at the Country Club with an informal dance honoring Mrs. George Sweet of Ft. Wayne, Ind. The club was attractively decorated with poinsettias and evergreens. The color scheme of red and green was further carried out in the unusual dance favors. At a late hour the dancing was interrupted by the serving of a delicious supper in the club dining room.

Ladies of the Methodist Church will hold their annual Xmas Bazaar December 19 and 20. Place announced later.

GIBBONS EASY WINNER OVER 'KID' NORFOLK

Negro Heavyweight no Match For Clever St. Paul Boxer Who Floors His Opponent Twice in Final Round; Victor Logical Contender For Crown of Jack Dempsey

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—"Keed" Norfolk lost that bet. He didn't knock Tom Gibbons out at Madison Square Garden Tuesday night as he told all the world and Leopold "Parnell" Flynn he would, but, instead, was himself knocked out by the St. Paul wonder in 55 seconds of the sixth round. Poor Norfolk fought gallantly as he tried to cop the wager of $25,000 at various odds that he would stop Gibbons. Only once did he seem to loom up as the winner. That was in the early part of the fourth. Tom had a bar-tossing in that round, but even up by putting all he had into the punches.

Finish Was Dramatic
The finish of the fight would have sent Dave Griffith roaring to "location." Egad, it was brimful of dramatic thrills that gripped you till your Adams apple almost choked you. Tom had battered the grinning black, whose "golden smile" made Jack Johnson's look like a mere smirk. Always the poor "Keed" grinned and his gold teeth glinted in ghastly fashion as he tried to keep up a bold front. Blood was pouring from cuts over his eye and his mouth was cut and bleeding, almost hiding the gold teeth.

The end is a short sketch. Tom rushed his man, belting the negro's body as a lunatic would a bass drum. Every blow was counting and gradually Norfolk began to wilt. Lefts, lefts, lefts, some short. Some rapier-like in their cruel effectiveness, mowed down Norfolk's defense. That defense simply had to come down to protect his body. Fatal move. The instant Gibbons saw the gloved hands go down to protect that body he shot a short right hook to Norfolk's jaw.

Gibbons' Aim Off
Tom's aim was just a bit off, but the blow did land behind the grinning negro's ear and it turned him half around and away from Gibbons. Norfolk tottered forward, half-bent over like an old man going down hill. The blow behind the ear had done its work. He pitched forward, flat on his face, his arms

Sets Record

Iowa's star runner, Harold Phelps, goes down in the books as the first athlete to win the Big Ten cross-country race two times in succession. Phelps won in 1923 and repeated in the recent event. He is eligible for the run again next year and is considered a sure winner if he starts.

outspread for all the world like a great black crow that had been riddled with buck shot. Norfolk scrambled to his hands and knees, then up. He still grinned. A bloody golden grin that wasn't nice to look at.

Then the "Keed" veered around to face the gentleman from St. Paul. Gibbons was a gentleman as he always is. He had stepped far back to allow Norfolk to arise and get his bearings. Tom took his time, walked out into the center of the ring as Norfolk lunged forward, blindly, hopelessly. Few realized that the "Keed" was as badly off as he actually was. Gibbons started for him and as Norfolk tried to take a stance and put up his guard, he tottered back along the ropes and went down on his haunches without being hit. That was the end. Even before he fell, the referee, Tommy Sheridan, was starting forward to call a halt.

CLUB OWNERS STAND BEHIND JUDGE LANDIS

Full Endorsement Is Given to Baseball Commissioner Who Is Attacked by Ban Johnson; Heydler Re-Elected League Head for Four Year Period by Club Magnates Meets Thursday

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—The opening skirmish of the baseball conflict in which Commissioner Landis and President Johnson of the American League were central figures, was won Tuesday by the commissioner when National League club owners at the opening session of their annual meeting, unanimously adopted resolutions giving a sweeping endorsement to the four year administration of the veteran jurist.

Neither these resolutions or a statement read to the meeting by John A. Heydler, president of the National League, mentioned Johnson by name, but by implication they struck back at the fire of criticism which the American League executive has leveled at the commissioner and his forces since the world's series and the Dolan-O'Connell bribery scandal.

Resolutions of Congratulation.
The resolutions adopted by the club owners after a three-hour conference, specifically congratulated Landis on his decision to "carry through the world series" in spite of the scandal, praised his entire course in banishing O'Connell and DeLan from the game for all time, and also singled out for praise the prompt action taken by President Heydler and the "integrity and courage of Henry Sand," Philadelphia shortstop who revealed that he had been approached by O'Connell in a game between the Giants and Phillies near the close of the 1924 season.

The endorsement given Landis in connection with the world series and bribery scandal was interpreted as the National League's reply to the stand taken by Johnson, who had urged that the championship be called off after making sweeping charges against the Giants, that refused to attend the games and also criticized the commissioner's procedure in handling the Dolan-O'Connell case.

Referring to the scandal, the resolutions declared that the "National League is positive the investigations of the charges has not ended and never will end, and that if any one else was really connected with those dismissed, the fact eventually will come to light."
President Heydler, who was re-elected by his clubowners for a term of office increased from three to four years and voted an increase in salary as a mark of appreciation, denounced "unjust innuendoes and

Florida Freshmen Begin Basketball Practice Tuesday

GAINESVILLE, Dec. 10.—Freshmen of the University of Florida centered their attention on basketball at the university gymnasium Tuesday night, and turned out 55 strong to scrap for places on the Baby Gators cage machine.

Coach Warren Cowell, a former basketball sensation in the Bristol Valley, was delighted to see a healthy response from first year men, and before the week is over, more than a dozen additional luminaries are expected to be out in the abbreviated costume.

Lon Walker noted Hillsborough High celebrity, captain of the all star team last spring, Teddie Reed, the brilliant ex-Duval cager and twice all state, Irving Seay, long distance scoring artist from Parco, Otto Weltstein, former Orlando star, Brown and Adams, the mainstays of the crack Leesburg five last year, Decker, veteran from Y. M. C. A. circles in Jacksonville, Kreher, and Hensley, a pair of Tampa satellites, and others were among the huge throng working out in the gymnasium Monday.

Chestnut, Burnett and Deek, members of the Freshmen football squad, were with Walker, Reed and Rerher sharing the basketball glory. More of the Rat grid stars are expected to report for the indoor sport.

Steps are being taken to formulate a good schedule, the office of Ath-Director White having been swamped with invitations from teams desiring to meet the Florida Freshmen.

attacks," directed against the National League in his annual report, delivered prior to adoption of the resolutions. His statement, pointing out that the older league had "scrupulously avoided interfering in the affairs of other kindred organizations" was taken as another ally at Johnson.

"The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Osceola Cypress Company, will be held at the office of the Company, Osceola, Seminole County, Florida, on Thursday, January 16th, 1925 at ten A. M.

(Signed)
J. A. Redpath, Secretary."

The Unwanted Child

"The Unwanted Child," the latest play from the pen of Florence Edna May, which comes to the Milane theatre for Matinee and night, Monday, Dec. 15, said to be one of the most brilliant dramas produced in two seasons.

It is a play rich in humor, spiced with sentiment and bubbling with amiable philosophy and fragrant with charm. It is delightfully written and just as delightfully acted. And it creates a more convincing illusion than may be found in a dozen average good plays. Through the perfect teamwork of the authoress and the players there are innumerable moments when even the most hardened enemy of matrimonial bonds feels that the woman might be forgiven. For "The Unwanted Child" is a radiant success.

It is easily more brilliant than its predecessors as its story is more sufficiently novel and the development of the plot is a sheer delight. The settings are attractive and effective, while the play is perfectly directed and the cast is almost ideal. Special lecture for ladies will be delivered at the matinee.

Civic Body Seeks Flood Protection
The local Chamber of Commerce it is announced is investigating the possibility of having Senator Duncan U. Fletcher introduce a bill in Congress asking provisions for flood protection on the St. Johns River.

Information has been secured on the "Swing Bill," which was introduced in the House of Representatives in December, 1923, providing for the protection and development of the Colorado River basin.
This was known as the Boulder
Canyon project and combines flood control and irrigation for the adjoining land.

It is anticipated that the Senator will take the matter up and make an effort to eliminate any chance of a recurrence of floods and high water in this section of the country.
