Crews continue to install Oviedo water mains, including a section north of Mitchell Hammock Road scheduled for next week. Crews will also cross Clonts Street during this work, but some access will be maintained.

Popul generation: If you have doubts about whether Banford's new city manager is afraid to take a stand, consider his soft drink of choice: Dist Pepsi. That might not seem like a bold choice, especially 30 minutes from Daytons International Speedway where the old Firecracker 400 has been replaced by the Pepei 400.

But City Manager Al Geleshaber spent more than a decade in Georgia, the state famous for Billy Beer and Coca-Cola. Billy Carter drank most of the Billy Beer by the time Grieshaber arrived but not the Color. Grieshaber said on one of his first visits to Atlanta he learned that Coke is the Real Thing in Georgia. After searching several floors of the hotel for a

Pepai vending machine, Grieshaber went to the clerk's desk for direction. "Sir, this is Atlanta," Grieshaber recalled the clerk saying, "we don't sell Pepels in Atlanta." To guard against any future Georgia induced shortages,

by Dan P

Grieshaber began carrying a cooler full Diet Pepsis with him. Still does. In fact, city commissioners would be wise to check the city manager's cooler before every meeting. During Monday's work session, Grieshaber warned commissioners that the length of the meeting would directly correlate to the number of Diet Pepsis he had available.

Tick tock watch the clock: Members of the public who attend Sanford City Commission work sessions and meetings usually arrive a few minutes before the designated time from meetings, only to wait while commissioners lollygag into the room sometimes as much as 15 minutes late. Expect that to change.

Whether it's the presence of Grieshaber and his military background or the commissioners' desire to run a lighter ship, Mayor Brady Lessard reminded his colleagues that meetings would start promptly at appointed time.

"We'll see how long that lasts." smirked an audience member under his breath.

'Convention'al Wisdom

Don't be turkeys Seminole County, give Sanford a hand

I'll admit - I have a problem getting Chicken Little and Henny Penny in the proper perspective. Unless I'm com-pletely wrong, the Chicken Little Story had to do with the sky falling, while Henny Penny pertained to planting, harvesting and eventually eating some corn. Well, let's just say that I am aiming this at Henny Penny and the corn. Henny I think, can be compared to the city of Sanford. The can be compared to the city of Sanford. The corn is the convention center. And so the story goes — "Who will held me plant the corn?" (Henny Penny talking here). "Not I" (this was the response from several people including Goosey Loosey, Ducky Lucky, Turkey Lurkey and a few others).

Pfeifauf

Or, in modern terms, "Who will help me design the convention center?" (city of Sanford speaking). "Not I," was the response from Seminole County Wounty and a number of others. Then, if you remember the story better than I, after the original corn had been planted, fertilized, watered, harvested, ground into corn meal, and prepared eating, Henny Penny asked "Who will help me eat the food?" "I will said Goosey Loosey and all the others. "Nope," replied Henny Penny, "you didn't help me grow it and you don't deserve to benefit from it."

In our situation, "Who wants to help me use our new con-vention center asked City Whittey. "I will," said County Wounty and all of the others. "Nope," said City Whittey, "you didn't want to help me design the convention center, you didn't want to help me pay for it, to nurture the project, or a number of other requirements, and I don't believe you deserve the right to use the convention center, now that it's completed".

You can't tell me that our county commissioners and the various boards and committees who are or should be involved in this, don't realize how important a convention center will be to Sanford and all of Seminole County.

Aren't we all getting sick and tired of seeing important gatherings such as high school graduations, conventions, major events and others being moved out of the area because there simply is not enough room in Sanford or Seminole County.

No, that sentence doesn't end in a question mark. It isn't intended as a question, rather than an observation whicheach resident needs to take into consideration.

If the county doesn't want to take part in this creation, then let them keep their noses out of everything connected with it. Do we want that?

No, we don't. C'mon Seminole County, put on your thinking caps and give this your blessing and assistance. Don't be a Goosey Loosey or a Turkey Lurkey. The sky isn't falling, but your popularity could be if you don't do something to help this.

To the editor:

This letter is in response to an uninformed article by Nick Pfeifauf on Sunday, Aug. 10, concerning topping of trees. The Florida Division of Forestry is against all top-ping. In fact, if a tree expert recommends this harmful practice, we do not recommend using them.

What Mr. Pfelfauf should have recommended was proper pruning. Topping is the indiscriminate cutting back of limbs to stubs. Those stubs then sprout and make a bad situation worse. By properly trimming back your tree to the nearest large branch or trunk, you can help prevent storm damage.

Most of the oaks that Mr. Pfeifauf referred to are laurel and water oaks which are past their life expectancies. These trees rot from the inside and break easily in high winds. Telling people to top their oaks is an uneducated, uninformed, and harmful statement to make.

Finding a reputable tree expert may be difficult. Anyone with a pickup and a chainsaw can claim to be an expert. Try and find a certi-fied arborist that knows the difference between proper maintenance and harmful practices such as topping. The International Society of Arboriculture lists certified arborists on their Web site at www.isa-arbor.com. The National Arbor Day Foundation contains valuable tree information at www.arborday.org.

Contact your local Division of Forestry for Contact information on proper tree care and brochures concerning topping. Mr. Pfeifauf should have researched his topic before putting out such misleading beliefs.

Foreign worker visa policy harms tech industry

Your Views

UN ON. THIS MAKES IT LOOK: WE LET THE SYSTEM GET OUT OF DATE. PUT OUT THE STDAY NAT LIANTNING HIT A POWER PLANT NAMA THE FALLS OR SOME THINKS.

By Matt Moore Special to The Herald

A controversial U.S. pollcy is severely hurting the U.S. economy and put-ting thousands of American technology workers out of a job.

Now, more than 500 technology companies have banded together to try to put a stop to it. Every American has a stake in the outcome gram to make it easier for technology companies to import foreign workers. To preyent abuse. Congress wisely included stop-gaps in the H1-B program: companies importing foreign workers to America were required to pay American wages, and to offer available jobs to qualified Americans before importing temporary workers; the number of workers limit executives to open automobile manufacturing plants that would employ American, workers in Alabama and Tennessee.

Using L-1 to import cheap foreign labor - and using cheap foreign labor as a competitive edge to win American contracts away from American companies - is directly opposed to American Interests.

Government has made a

But if we are providing economic incentives to make that easier to do, by anyone's book, that's bad policy.

The Senate Judiciary Subcommittee 01 Immigration and Border Security is now studying the abuse of L-1 visas by foreign-owned companies doing business in the U.S. That's a start. But every day the problem persists, more

In July, the National Association of Computer Consultant Businesses (NACCB) — the only national trade association exclusively representing IT services firms, with more than 300 member companies and 22 chapters - testified before the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee on Immigration and Border Security. What these businesses are asking for is a level playing field.

In the early 1990s, at the start of the dot-com revolution, the United States faced a shortage of technology workers. While American schools and universities kicked their technology training programs into high gear, Congress established a special H-1B visa pro-workers were required to renew their visas, with one extension limited to a total of six years. Now, foreign-owned companies have found a loophole: the L-1 visa program.

Under L-1, there are no prevailing wage rules. Visas are more easily extended. And foreignowned companies that pay an Oracle developer, for example, $10,000 per year are competing with American companies that pay prevailing wages --$90,000 per year. The vast sucking sound you hear is the flow of paychecks out of this country.

The L-1 visa was created to make it easier for European engineers and severe oversight with the L-I visa program. That oversight is ruining our industry. When we can't compete, that means a lot of American technology workers are out of a job.

Sometimes America's foreign worker policies result in U.S. layoffs so that French and German workers can keep their jobs.

In America, layoffs are regarded as sound economic strategy. In Europe, layoffs are evi-dence of a severe loss of faith and confidence.

A poorly-performing company with operations in Germany and the U.S. would rather cut costs by laying off American workers than workers in Germany. That's fair.

Americans lose their jobs. All we want is a level playing field. We want it to be fair for everybody.

Most of our senators and representatives seem to feel that this problem is a minor one that will eventually sort itself out. But that sort of attitude is destroying a very big part of the American economy.

tion is moving to codify" a legal definition of marriage as restricted to a man and a woman.

Tucker

That prejudice has already been enshrined in law, in former Georgia congressman Bob Barr's odious Defense of Marriage Act. So what is the president talking about? A constitutional amendment?

Senate Majority Leader Bill Frist, R-Tenn., has endorsed an amendment banning same-sex unions, and a Colorado legislator has reintroduced a marriage amendment bill in the House.

last thing the nation needs is for its religious conservatives to hijack the U.S. Constitution.

Among the fundamental differences between the United States and Iran is the separation of church and state that allows people of different religious views to live together in peace. How is America to denounce the theocracy of the Taliban and Iran's mullahs, who dictate what citizens wear, read and watch, if we allow our own mullahs to dictate our civil code?

No matter how you feel about the subject of gay marriage, you ought to be disturbed by the prospect of amending the Constitution to suit a particular theological point of view. There are some Christians who would be offended and whose religious views would be restricted by a constitutional amendment banning gay marriage.

As a member of the United Church of Christ, I would find my Let's hope this is just political own religious views unfairly maligned by a constitutional prohibition against gay marriage. The UCC, which has struggled with issues of sexuality for decades, has gone further than many denominations in welcoming openly gay and lesbian church members and clergy. While the issue remains contentious inside the UCC, some individual pastors have performed marriage (or commitment) ceremonies for gay members. (The UCC has no governing hierarchy, leaving such matters to individual congregations.)

By contrast, conservative denominations such the Southern Baptist Convention are adamantly opposed to gay marriage. At its annual meeting in June, the convention passed a resolution not only denouncing same-sex marriage but also pledging to campaign against attempts to legalize them.

What business does the Constitution have deciding that one church is right while the other is wrong? Where would that end?

Should the Constitution also ban the ordination of women? Should it decree that all shops should close on the Sabbath and that the Sabbath be observed only on Sundays? Absolutely not.

Nor is the Constitution going to order any church to accept gay marriage if that violates its doctrine. No priest or preacher ever has to marry a couple he objects to. Ministers currently make those distinctions. Priests frequently deny the sacrament of marriage to divorced Catholics, and conservative Protestant ministers sometimes refuse to marry couples who have lived together before marriage or who have already conceived a child.

That's as it should be. The promise and the dilemma presented by the Bible both lie in its openness to myriad interpretations. The nation's founding document should not be used on behalf of any theological or sectarian view. Instead, it should defend the right of each person to interpret the Bible as he or she wishes. Or to ignore the Bible altogether.

Countless agnostics and atheists marry without benefit of religious auth-ority. Wiccans marry, as do Druids, Raelians, Rastafarians and Hare Krishnas. Why shouldn't gays be allowed to marry in civil ceremonies as well? Or in churches that welcome them?

Granted, the nation is probably a generation away from general acceptance of that notion. The culture wars are heating up instead of cooling.

Meanwhile, the nation need not be torn asunder by an inflammatory debate over the U.S. Constitution. Let the pope and the preachers, the bishops, the rabbis and the imams slug it out. Leave the Constitution alone.

The Way We Were: Add another name to the soldiers lost in World War II

Add the name Walter Shoeneman to the roster of those who were killed during World War II. Charles A. Vining of Lake City wrote to tell me that Shoeneman had dropped out of school to enlist in the Navy and died as a torpedo struck his destroyer in the South Pacific. Charles, also named ratio instead of 6 percent ratio. I checked with Billy Robinson on this. Jay and VI Jacobs made some of the sauce for a recent Sunday School Class party at their home, and most of us pronounced it delicious on the grilled chicken. The Pig 'n' Whistle picture will be in the Sanford Historical Society's 2004 calendar.

The following information comes from the January 12, 1961 edition of The Sanford Herald.

Swope re-elected chairman

New members of the Caselberry Board of Aldermen were sworn into office Jan. 9 at a meeting held at the Woman's Club Presiding Mayor was William M. Benson who officiated at the ceremonies which seated Joseph L. Laird, mayor, and Rohn Lady, Mrs. Hope Bennett and Myron Jacobs as aldermen. Mrs. Lillian Beisel, town clerk, Gus Sewyer, marshall, were returned to their posts on the board. Continuing on the board for one year were Lytle Swope and Ben Evans.

The first action of the new board was to elect a chairman. Lady nominated Swope to continue in that office; the motion was approved unanimously.

Business actions of the board included the following: to withhold salary payment of Frank Hooper, former assistant marshall, until he recently returned two traffic tickets in his possession and to advise the clerk to seek information on installation of a traffic light at the intersection of Highway 17-92 and State Road 436.

Announcements included: a request for residents using the town hall to check lights to reduce utility bill and a notice that the night policeman, barring duties elsewhere, was at the town station each hour for a 10riod. At other times a call to the Seminole County Sheriff's Office could relay a message to the Casselberry officer in three minutes.

EATONVILLE - About 30 kids and their families boarded the "PCAT Bus" for a trip to see the UniverSoul Circus, the world's only black owned and operated circus.

The event was sponsored by the Goldsboro Front Porch Family Literacy program and was designed to be a "time for family bonding." "We wanted to have a family event that was fun and reinforced the idea that you can be whatever you want to be as long as you work hard," said Vernon McQueen, one of the mentors in the literacy program. "This circus provides a positive mes-sage for kids."

While enjoying the show was the primary goal, organizers emphasized time and again the importance of improving reading and writing skills that are key to passing the Florida Comprehensive Assessment Test (PCAT).

"The family literacy program wants to make that (PCAT) the forefront of everything we do," said Senford City Commissioner Veima Williams, who came up with the "PCAT Bus" nickname. "To be successful on the FCAT, children need the help and support of their par-ents. We want to stress the impor-tance of parents bonding with their children, whether it's to have fun or to study."

Select A St

Williams said Wednesday night's circus performance was the third trip the literacy program has spon-sored. Two earlier trips were made to St. Augustine and Busch Gardens.

To be eligible for any of the trips, students must be enrolled in the Family Literacy Reading Club, and parents must accompany their children on each trip.

As for the show, kids and parents alike were dazzled by the two-hour performance.

The UniverSoul Circus is the first and only African American owned and operated circus in more than 100 years. It has been nicknamed "Hip Hop Under the Big Top" and "Circue du Soul," by the Los Angeles Times and the Atlanta Constitution. The New Orleans Times Picayune called it, "The most soulful show on earth."

Founded in 1994 by Cedric Walker, the Atlanta-based circus has performed in front of 2 million people. In 2002, the circus traveled 20,000 miles to perform 800 shows in 46 cities.

Walker's vision was to create a circus that takes traditional circus acts and surround them with '70s Rhythm & Blues, '90s Hip-Hop and Urban music, Salaa, Gospel and Jazz.

UniverSoul Circus is made up of international performers of African descent, recruited by Walker from some of the world's best-known circuses. Furthermore, Walker is committed to placing his circus in African-American communities.

Crooms is only local high school to meet federal standards

By Nathan DeVault Special to The Herald

from the FCAT Results (Florida's Comprehensive Assessment Test) reveal that Crooms Academy of Information Technology in Sanford is the only high school in Orange, Seminole and Volusia counties to meet the federal requirements of the "No Child Left Behind Act" (NCLBA).

The NCLBA went into effect during the 2002-2003 school year and implemented changes aimed at substantially improving academic programs, raising student achievement levels and repriori-tizing education investments. "We were so pleased when our school earned an 'A' grade through Florida's School

Recognition Program," said Dr. Connie Collins, principal of Crooms. "But, for Crooms to earn 'Adequate Yearly Progress' status through No Child Left Behind — that validates the extraordinary commitment of our teachers to academic success for every student.'

The FCATs were the most recent validation of the concept of Crooms, an information technology magnet school. Crooms stu-dents have also received top hon-ors in several regional and statewide competitions, including the Business Professionals of America competition and the SECME (Southeastern Consortium for Minorities in Engineering) competition. More than 70 percent of Crooms sophomores have earned at least 15 hours of college credits from Seminole Community College through their Crooms course-work, as well.

Crooms Academy Information Technology is a two-year-old magnet school in the Seminole County Public Schools system. Crooms AOIT offers a nontraditional curriculum that enables students to take part in integrated projects. Designed to develop essential workplace skills — with an emphasis on information technology — the school's IT courses include networking, keyboarding, computer programming and business systems and technology. Students can earn college credit and industry certifications as well. An overview of Crooms Academy as it was being built two years ago.

Management District requirements for a more aggressive rate structure that promotes water conservation.

Currently the county has five blocks for residential consumption charges: 0-10,000 gallons is $.65 per 1,000 gallons; 10,001-15,000 is $.95; 15,001-20,000 is $1.25; 20,001-30,000 is $1.50; and 30,000 and above is $1.75.

The consultant proposed the addition of one block and rate increases of more than double for customers using more than 30,000 gallons of water a month. Residential consumers of more than 30,000 gallons can expect rates to jump from $1.75 per 1,000 gal-lons to about $3.50, and for those using more than 50,000 gallons a new block is expected to be established at a rate of $4.75. customers using more than 30,000 gallons of water a month will jump from $1.75 to $3.

Commissioners accepted the high end changes, but balked at a decrease in the average residential consumer block.

The consultant group proposed to change the ini-tial rate block from 0-10,000 to 0-8,000 gallons.

"We consider an efficient user at 10,500 gallons (or 350 gallons a day for 30 days)," said Commissioner Randy Morris.

Board Chairman Daryl McLain concurred stating that "we should not penalize people that are that level."

According to Robert Board Ori, president of the Commit Maitland-based consultant group, the change in the initial block would only reflect a slight difference in consumer bills. would then be enacted.

Customers using just above the 8,000 gallons a month mark, or 270 gallons per day, would see less than $1 increase on their monthly bill.

Lowering the accepted monthly average of water consumption is a direction other Florida water providers are taking, he said.

"What the districts are trying to do is to get that standard down from 350 (gallons a day)," Ori said. "For example in Hillsbarruch Guerant Hillsborough County, the standard is 300 gallons per day and in Sarasota it is 250 - they got that much conservation going on."

The Seminole County County of Commissioners is expected to vote on the new rate structures during the Aug. 26 meeting, and according to Adolphe, the new rates munity." According to Tooley, the assignment of Seminole High School's second officer will not cost the taxpayers additional funds. The department has reallocated personnel and funding to provide the officer.

Additionally, the Natural Lands Advisory Committee is diverse coalition of locals who meet to "discuss and provide direction to County staff and the Board of County Commissioners on acquisition issues related to the Seminole County Natural Lands Program," according to the Natural Lands Web site. The committee meets on the first Monday of each month, and the public is always invited home is found for the overcrowded public service. According to Robert Sanchez, Florida Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles spokesperson, officials are in "the early stages" of searching for a new location for the Sanford driver's license office.

We will want to get this done as expeditiously as possible," he said. In the meantime, the office is expanding its hours to alleviate overcrowding. Beginning in September, the Sanford driver's license office will change its hours from Tuesday through Friday from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. to Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Finding a new location, however, will not be an easy task. Officials must find a spot that has adequate park-ing, good access and that is in the same general geo-graphical location as the current Sanford office. Finding a secure location is also important because an office should not be vulnerable to burglary or "other acts of God," Sanchez said. In all probability, a new driver's license office will be located within the Sanford and Lake Mary area. But it is too early in the search to exactly pinpoint where a new office may eventually be located, he said.

Parking is of the utmost importance as during peak hours many driver's license office customers park along side Airport Boulevard, according to Dale.

"As it was described to me, there is sometimes more cars than parking spaces," Sanchez said.

"It is important to have a location that serves our cus-tomers well," he added.

Better serving the drivers of Seminole County has always been the focus of Seminole County Tax Collector Ray Valder Collector Ray Valdes. Along with State Sen. Lee Constantine (R-Altamonte Springs), Valdes has pushed for legislation that would allow him to offer the driver's license service through his county offices. For eight straight years, Constantine has introduced bills that would give Valdes the opportunity, but they've all falled. County tax collectors are allowed to provide the driver's license service such as in Orange County, which boasts six driver's license offices. Seminole County has just the one office in Senford.

"The current statue says that I could agree to offer services if I charge anyone coming into my offices $5.25 above what they're charging at the driver's license office, and then I have to pay $1 back to the department," Valdes said.

About 20 counties are currently providing addi-tional driver's license services beyond the state department.

They've all found, since they've been doing it, that they're losing money," Valdes said. "They're having to subsidize the driver's license funding because they're not getting enough from it. "I just hate to get into a situation where the user doesn't pay for its own services.

Longwood officials approve new franchise agreement with Progress

LONGWOOD — The city commission of Longwood has formally approved a new 30-year electric utility franchise with Progress Energy Florida.

Progress Energy has signed new franchise agree-ments with more than 29 cities and towns since 2001, including new agreements with the cities of Oviedo,

Lake Mary Casselberry in the past year. "Our new franchise agreement with Progress Energy is what's best for this community," said Longwood Deputy Mayor Steve Miller.

Private industry has historically done things bet-ter than government. In order to have an electric utility we'd have to create a new bureaucracy. It is time to move forward and focus our efforts on pressing issues like reducing property taxes, paving our streets, redeveloping major arteries, and eliminating our stormwater problems."

Longwood ' City' Commissioner Butch Bundy added, "Were pleased to have a new agreement with Progress Energy. For two years we have worked to negotiate a franchise that benefits the residents of Longwood, and we're confident that we have achieved that objective.

said Billy Raley, vice presi-dent of Progress Energy Florida's North Central Region that includes Longwood. "We respect the commission's efforts to negotiate the best possible terms and are pleased to continue our partnership with Longwood for another 30 years." In February 2002, Progress Energy Florida launched a three-year plan to reduce rates, increase customer satisfaction, improve reliability and increase generating capacity. The company has since instituted a $500 million rate reduction to cut customer bills 9 percent.

The company is also halfthrough way its Commitment to Excellence program designed to improve customer service and system reliability, and has a new generation unit under construction with another one planned in Polk County.

We have a large box we keep ice and drinks in. My Cokes are numbered with "CCC" on them. Just like collecting evidence, I put time, date and initials on each of my Cokes. I verbally threatened anyone who watched me put those Cokes in the box with the hatchet we use to break up the ice blocks. These Cokes are amazing. I miss the Cokes in the U.S. I had my first one today, 13 June. Even though it is Friday the 13th, my Coke I had was great. I will know who steals my Cokes because they will be at the

I donated the thing of cheese crackers and peanut butter crackers to the charity box we are taking to the kids and orphanage run by a Catholic priest and a bunch of nuns.

I won't donate my Cokes. I will give my boots first and go barefooted, but not my Cokes or ammo. One guy offered me ten bucks for just one of my Cokes, but I wouldn't take it.

Iraqis love their kids as we do ours, but their kids never act disrespectful to their elders. Something a lot of American kids need to learn. I have not seen any signs of child abuse in this society. Tackle and rigs for inshore fishing

From Staff Reports

In the past few weeks you have seen several pictures of huge inshore fish. How does an angler rig for these fish?

Think of all the options that are available. All you have to do is visit your local tackle store, such as Bitter's Bait and Tackle in Longwood, or the mega store Bass Pro Shops on I-Drive. I usually choose for Bitter's because it is close and the prices are very competitive. Another reason I select Bitter's is the knowledge owner John Bitter has about fishing.

First, you must choose the correct rod and reel. It sounds simple, but there is much more to it than just buying a rod and reel.

It is important that the two are properly balanced. Are you going to use the rod for trout, redfish, tarpon or snook? All of these factors should be considered. I usually look for a rod with a quick tip, medium-heavy action and a strong back bone. Most of the redfish rods I use are made to hold 8to-15 pound test line. With trout rods I will drop to a light-medium rod that is rated for 6-to-12 pound test. As for tarpon and snook I will go to a heavier rod. Usually on a typical trip I will rig several rods for different applications and different types of fish. The reels I choose are usually Shimano or Fin-Nor. I have had great success with both brands. I use a 2000 series for trout and 4000 series for redfish due to the extra line capacity. The key to choosing a proper rod and reel is knowledge of the product, quality, performance and price. You do get what you pay for, so he selective. No, you don't have to buy the most expensive product, but research the quality. Second, what type of line should you use? I choose Ande Backcountry for my reels. I like this line because it has low memory, very little line twist and it casts great. There are many choices of lines. Some people swear by Power Pro and other braids. I use braids for top water plugs, but I like the Ande monofilament for jigs and live baits. Stay away form the cheap lines because you will have nothing but problems.

I usually rig with 10 pound test line and 20 pound fluorocarbon leader. I think that Triple Fish and Seaguar make the best fluorocarbon. The fluorocarbon is usually more expensive, but it is invisible in the water. The best way to tie the two lines together is to use a Bimini Twist to a Double Surgeon Knot. Those are knots of choice, because there are many different and effective knots. When tying the leader to the hook a polymer knot is best for cut bait, live bait or frozen mullet. A loop knot is best for jigs, jerk baits and plugs.

The third item is the hook selection. For live bait or cut bait the circle hook See Outdoors, Page 13

Harvey, a native of Miami, must comply with the fiveday acclimation period that the NCAA has mandated. Among the highlights in practice included the impressive running of reserve tailback Gabby Torres in the seven-on-seven running game period.

The hit of the day came when the first team offense and defense ran several third down sequences vs. each other, Outside linebacker. Gerren Bray drilled fullback Dee Brown on a shovel pass early in the passing period.

On the injury front, projected starting tight end Darcy Johnson was carted from the field with an apparent injury to his left knee. He was to be re-evaluated later Thursday and is listed as Lofton then reaches on a fielder's choice to load the bases and Jenkins scores the final run of the game on a Natalie Ruff sacrifice fly.

Winning pitcher Andrea Wain was outstanding, retiring 16 straight Fern Creek batters after a two-out single in the top of the first through the top of the sixth inning. Fern Creek gets a couple of hits in the top of the sixth and posting four shutouts.

The first round of Bracket Play on Wednesday was also a nail-biter for the locals as Valentino again led off the first inning by getting to sec-ond on an infield hit and throwing error, advancing to third on a sacrifice and scoring what proved to be the only run of the game on a Tabor RBI as Altamonte edged Tri-County, Texas, 1-0.

ILLEGAL NIGHT HUNTING CAPTURE LEADS TO LARGE QUANTITY OF MARIJUANA Two Volusia County residents face numerous charges relating to night hunting and narcotics possession.

Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) Law Enforcement Officer Danton Jones heard two gunshots while patrolling Highway 40 in the Ocala National Forest last Saturday (August 9) at 2:30 a.m. near intersection of Hwy. 19 and 40 in Marion County.

Officer Jones immediately located the sus-pects when he observed a white, 4-door Ford sedan on the side of the roadway.

When Officer Jones approached the vehicle he discovered a 12-gauge shotgun in the front seat between Israel Andres Cervantes and Andrea Dawn Coleman. In addition, Cervantes produced six additional shotgun shells from his pocket.

"I thought we had a good practice today," said UCF head coach Mike Kruczek. "We made some improvement and that is what we have to do in preparation for the season."

Early in the workout, the defense spent time on work-ing to shed blockers and tackle the ball carrier while the offense worked on the run game. For the second consecutive day, reserve tailback Gabby Torres ran the questionable for the Virginia Tech game.

For the second consecutive day, representatives from several NFL teams were in attendance. Scouts from the Miami Dolphins, Baltimore Ravens and Carolina Panthers were spectators for Thursday's morning practice.

A brief interview led to an admission from Cervantes that he had discharged the gun from the vehicle while his wife was driving down the highway. Cervantes said he was only shooting the gun to see if it worked.

Lt. Gregg Eason arrived and assisted Officer Jones with the investigation. The officers discovered a spent 12-gauge shotgun shell near the roadway. Lt. Eason found one small drop of blood on a discarded white, Styrofoam cup located on a nearby deer trail. With no additional evidence at the time, Officer Jones issued them citations for Discharging a Firearm from a Highway, Driving While License Suspended and Open Container. They were released to return to their residence in Deleon Springs.

At daylight Officer Washburn Wear arrived on scene to continue the investigation and found the dead buck deer approximately 20 yards inside the wood line. After that discovery, Officer Jones traveled to Volusia County to arrest the two suspects for additional charges, and met with local officers Lt. Jeff Gier and Officer Clint High.

The officers arrived at the apartment complex and awakened the tired illegal hunters. t. Gier asked if they had any other deer meat in the apartment, and they said, "no, go ahead and look". A consensual search of the freezer revealed approximately 500 grams of marijuana.

The two suspects were booked into the Volusia County Jail and face charges of Possession of Marijuana greater than 20 grams, a 3rd Degree Felony, and taking deer at night with gun and light, a 1st Degree Misdemeanor.

Cervantes also faces the additional charge of driving while license suspended, a 2nd Degree Misdemeanor.
