(Continued From Page One) is appointed by the Governor. Persons making applications for welfare benefits would be forced to sue for assistance those relatives legally required to support them. They could be accepted on the welfare rolls only if the suits were unsuccessful.

Legislation now is pending to require certain close relatives to support indigent kinfolks who are likely to become public charges.

Welfare Department employees would come under a merit system under provisions of the bill. The Senate approved construction of a State Hospital for Chronic Alcoholics near Avon Park in Highlands county.

The hospital would be financed through earmarking of five cents of the extra 25 cents per gallon tax on alcoholic beverages adopted by the 1949 Legislature.

Pending construction of the hospital, alcoholics would be sent to private hospitals and nursing homes after posting bonds to insure they will remain there for treatment.

Senator Moore of Sebring, who steered the measure to passage, said alcoholics would be committed for treatment in the same manner that mental patients are sent to the Florida State Hospital at Chattahoochee.

The Senate Appropriations Committee gave its approval to a proposal to finance a study of mental hospital sites in the Tampa Bay area and the lower east coast.

These proposed hospitals would be branches of the Florida State Hospital. Original construction would be designed for 500 beds, but the plans would be designed for later additions.

The House voted a two-year extension of the Patton committee to investigate activities of State institutions. The committee was created by the 1949 Legislature and has devoted the past two years to an inquiry into the State-supported colleges.

A resolution designating Gorrie Square in Apalachicola as the Gorrie State Park was introduced in the House by Rep. Patton of Franklin county and promptly adopted.

The park is named in honor of Dr. John Gorrie, inventor of the process for making ice which has been the foundation of modern refrigeration. He was a resident of Apalachicola where he perfected his ice making technique during his search for a means of reducing the temperatures of yellow fever victims.

The House received a bill to set-up a pre-paid stamp plan for collection of the Florida sales tax. Under the measure, by Rep. Williams of Seminole county, merchants would purchase sales tax stamps from the state comptroller and sell them to the consumer.

Williams' estimated his bill would save the State $750,000 in

An Eighth Army officer said the withdrawals were being made by small Communist contingents. He added: "These small groups usually go to an assembly point where they congregate and move northward again in large numbers."

Reds were reported withdrawing across the Imjin River north-west of Seoul, Pursuing South Koreans marched through Mun-san for the second straight day. Some units reached as far as 25 miles north west of Seoul.

British, American and Korean forces pushed up to the Hongchun and Pukan Rivers southeast of Changgong, 25 miles northeast of Seoul.

American units crossed the Hongchun southeast of Kayong, Red artillery center 32 miles northeast of Seoul. The Red bridgehead across the rivers virtually had disappeared.

An Eighth Army officer said the Reds were withdrawing to escape American artillery fire, a major factor in the destruction of an estimated 60,000 of their comrades in five days on the central front.

South Koreans made a fighting advance of a few hundred yards in the center, south of Chuchon. Redheld Chuchon is 45 miles northeast of Seoul.

U. S. Second Division troops fought sharp skirmishes as they staked out from Hangeo on the east-central front to test the strength of new Chinese masses gathering in front of them.

One Chinese probing assault was smashed before it began. The on rushing Chinese tripped. At least 47 more than last year when James Q. Galloway was commander.

Awards were presented to Mr. Galloway, who had 27 new members to his credit; Chester Miller, 106 members; George O. Mayberry, post third vice-commander-elect, 28 members; James F. Benton, second vice-commander-elect, 25 members. Others receiving awards were John Pierson and William F. Thorne.

Post Adjutant Singletary was singled out by Capt. Loucks for special praise for his "excellent and conscientious" work for Post 53 during the past year. Adjutant Singletary, he pointed out, was the No. 2 "Coke of the Walk" member in the whole state of Florida, has won the Propeller Blades award for members gotten during the period of Mar. 25 to Apr. 30, has received a Century Card for 107 members obtained this year. Although the leading membership getter of the World War II group, he allowed the award a Legion shirt, to go to George N. Mayberry, accepting an unofficial Legion shirt.

Receiving honorable mention were Comdr. Hoasholder, Condelet Denver Corbell, James Field and Rudolph Johnson, Jr. Capt. Loucks was commended by Adjutant Singletary for his untiring work in behalf of the Post, including that of historian and his work on membership that has won him Century Club "Coke of the Walk" and Propeller award.

Cedric Benz predicted that a $500,000 appropriation for Florida Veterans affairs will be passed by the State Legislature.

John Pierson, chairman of the most parade committee for Armed Forces Day, expressed thanks to those who helped make the parade an outstanding success. These included Lieut. David Remley of the Civil Air Patrol, who called Legion attention to the

Bradley Testifies

(Continued From Page One) not accept it. President Truman has said he made up his mind to dismiss MacArthur from the Far Eastern commands because of this move. Bradley made it plain that Korean strategy has been keyed for weeks now to the hope peace negotiations might follow if the Communists' spring offensive was met and broken.

Bradley told senators that as early as February this possibility was discussed by the military Joint Chiefs of Staff. He related: "At that time we were reasonably sure a new attack would come sometime in the spring, and if you can bump that off, as it were, you are in a much better position to negotiate than you would be if you couldn't contain it."

Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, was testifying at hearings by the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees on the dismissal of General Douglas MacArthur as Far Eastern commander.

The expected spring offensive has been launched by the Communists and U. N. troops thus far have succeeded in preventing any major breakthrough, while punishing the attackers severely. Bradley said that in February the military leaders wanted some "political guidance" but understood that "until the situation is a little better known as to whether or not we can contain it, that the United Nations would have some trouble formulating policy."

His statements suggested the possibility that if the present great Communist effort in Korea is "bumped off" definitely, then the United Nations may take some steps for a negotiated peace.

Senator Saltonstall (R-Mass) tied that down further with questions which brought Bradley's assertion that "we still hope" to get in position for negotiations.

penetrated east of the city. One hill changed hands four times in bitter hand to hand fighting.

The Eighth Army said there was heavy fighting all day in the area. "Many Chinese and North Koreans" were reported pressing southward.

Barnard reported other Red columns were streaming down toward the central front.

It was Bradley's fourth day of testimony to the senators. Questioning of the General was delayed by a long exchange among the senators during which Senator Wiley (R-Wis) denounced as a "damned lie" what he said were "inspired newspaper reports" he and other Republicans were out to "get" an Administration witness.

These reports referred to Republican attacks on Secretary of State Acheson, but Wiley did not call Acheson's name. In the exchange, some of the Democrats chided Wiley for using such terms as "white wash" and "wash out" in protesting a committee vote last week against trying to get testimony on President Truman's private talks with advisers on the question of firing MacArthur. Wiley had said the inquiry might become a "white wash or wash out" if the committee did not get all the information he said they needed.

Bradley, in his testimony, also said: 1. He is still unable to remember just how or from whom he first heard in early April that Mr. Truman was considering the firing of MacArthur. 2. Military leaders and President Truman have always been opposed to letting Formosa fall into hostile hands. Formosa is the big island off the China coast where the Chinese Nationalist government took refuge when driven from the mainland by the Communists. 3. Bradley's remarks about the views of the military and the President came when Senator Saltonstall said he believed the hearings had brought a "more definite affirmative policy" toward Formosa. Bradley would concede that. 4. Military leaders have not changed their attitude toward use of the Chinese Nationalist troops in connection with the Korean war. Yesterday, Bradley had testified there was no military objection to the Nationalists to harass Red China, if American troops were not involved in the action and losses were not so great as to endanger the defense of Formosa itself. Some senators had regarded that as a move toward the view of MacArthur that these troops should be allowed to support the Korean effort in some way. 5. The military view on economic sanctions against Communist China have not changed. He said, "we have argued economic sanctions ever since China got into the Korean situation."

House Bill Balked Asking Resignation Of State Race Pair

Extra Track Day To Finance Football Scholarships For Athletes Is Killed

TALLAHASSEE, May 23.—(AP)—Introduction of a House resolution calling on R. P. Beville and Roy Patience to resign from the State Racing Commission was held up today.

Rep. Moody of Hillsborough, chairman of the Resolutions Committee which agreed yesterday to sponsor the proposal, said two members of the committee—Reps. Smith of Duval and Sheppard of Alachua—had asked for another meeting today on the question.

"They have another idea now," Moody said.

Sheppard was one of the men who drafted the resolution, charging the commissioners with "abuse of office."

He said he would agree not to introduce it if the House would approve a proposed constitutional amendment to make Senate rejection of a Governor's appointments absolute.

He said at present, the Legislature could do nothing if the Governor refused to accept their resignations.

Even if the Senate should refuse to confirm appointments of the Governor, he said, they would wait until the Senate is out of session and reappoint them for the rest of his administration, Sheppard said.

He proposed a new clause in the Constitution which would prohibit future governors from pulling back in office men whose appointments had been rejected by the Senate.

Such an amendment could not affect this administration because it could not become effective until ratified in a general election two months before Warren goes out of office, but Sheppard said he thought it would be beneficial for the future.

Sheppard and Rep. Haley of Sarasota drew the Beville-Patience resignation resolution as a substitute for one by the Pine Hills Republicans that would call five members of the racing board to the Senate.

The Senate committee on local bills, which introduced its morning session working on local bills.

The move to have the Tampa Tribune company investigated for boosting the rent on office space used by the Florida Industrial Commission was revived in the Senate.

Senator Tucker of Crawfordville introduced a resolution asking the state to cancel a five-year lease and substituting a new one calling for a 10 percent increase of $120 a month. Officers of the paper said the rent was raised because the State agency took more space.

A similar resolution offered in the House died in committee.

The Senate's Committee on Public Roads and Highways, which reported a bill for advertising the State Road Department's 1951 budget in newspapers, the Attorney General ruled were not eligible under the law to print the budget.

Warren Gets Bill Aimed At Shutting Off Bookie Dope

Printing Of Aids To Illegal Bettors Forbidden By Law

TALLAHASSEE, May 23.—(AP)—The bill to prohibit publication of any horse race information which might be of help in illegal gambling cleared the Florida Legislature today and went to Governor Warren.

The House concurred in Senate amendments to the measure to complete its legislative passage. The bill forbids printing of newspapers, wall charts, tip sheets, scratch sheets and bookmaking tickets "in furtherance of illegal gambling."

The Senate amendment made a legislative declaration that the printed information to be banned "programming horse racing entries at various tracks, bookies, probable odds, withdrawals, selections of one or more of these items usually with special identifying numbers, are closely interrelated with and are designed primarily to serve the interests of illegal off-track gambling through bookmakers whose operations are prohibited by law."

Sanford Fruit Co. Plans Expansion, Coultter Announces

The Sanford Fruit Co., which is headed by Harry E. Touke and located at the Sanford State Farm Market, is planning new facilities designed to handle more tonnage of fruit next year, O. L. Coultter, sales manager, stated this morning.

One of the factors which is expected to substantially increase this business is the handling of the Fozgate Pineapple Concentrate Company, of which Mr. Touke recently became a member, he declared.

Claude C. Meishon, vice-president and general manager of the company, recently announced expansion plans calling for expenditure of more than $500,000 on the new concentrate and single strength juice plants at Forest City, he said.

Mr. Touke, enthusiastic over the outlook, has predicted an increased demand for fruit of his firm.

The Sanford Fruit Co., as the result of the anticipated increase in business, is planning to add new machinery to the plant and modern types of bins to hold oranges to be sent to the Fozgate plant for juice extraction. The bins will be built on the east side of the building, he declared.

By June 15, when the packing house has closed down for the season, total shipments will be more than 300,000 boxes for the period, he declared.

He predicted that the company will, as the result of joining the cooperative, buy more fruit next season, and this will benefit local growers. Some of the fruit will be carried direct from the grove to the concentrate plant at Forest City, he said.

The Sanford Fruit Co. has been located at the Market for more than 14 years, and has steadily expanded its facilities. From 75 to 100 persons are normally employed during a season. In addition to Mr. Touke and Mr. Coultter, executive personnel includes W. G. Ross, book-keeper and E. C. Hartman, buyer and manager of field operations.

Prince Denies Miami Detective Wrongdoing When Shot By Wife Who Working For RFC

Office Manager Says He Resigned At Request Of Symington

By WILBUR JENNINGS, WASHINGTON, May 23.—(AP)—Frank Prince, assistant manager in the Office of Loans of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. (RFC), said today he had resigned at the request of W. Stuart Symington, newly-named administrator.

Prince told a reporter in a telephone interview from his Baltimore home that he left his post May 20.

He admitted having a part in a 750,000 RFC loan to the Mobile Paper Co. of Mobile, Ala., which is now under investigation by a Senate subcommittee investigating the agency. But he said he had done nothing wrong and his role was purely in line with his position.

The investigation was made at the request of Rep. Boykin (R-Ala.) who has been involved in the transaction. Boykin asked for a "very, very thorough" investigation. The congressman added that the loan involved no wrong on the part of himself or his family.

Prince said that he might be related to Boykin but that he could not trace it. "If I am related," he explained, "it goes so far back that it doesn't amount to anything."

Theodore Herz, staff director of the subcommittee, said Prince would be called to testify at a future date to tell what part he may have played in the granting of the loan, and his reasons.

Prince said Symington told him that the agency was being reorganized and that he, Prince, was not included in the new set-up. Symington made it plain, he added, that he "had done nothing wrong" and promised him a recommendation when he sought a new position.

Explaining the Mobile Paper Company loan, Prince said the RFC board agreed to a $600,000 loan providing the paper company injected $300,000 in new private capital into the company. During the negotiations, in raising the money, Prince said he was told that a number of Mobile business men were approached including Bob Boykin, a son of the congressman.

Reuben E. Hartman of Mobile, founder and former president of the paper company, charged several months ago that Rep. Boykin and some RFC officials, including Prince, had "arrested" control of the company from him after the loan transaction. Prince denied that charge. He said that in July, 1948 he called Hartman from Rep. Boykin's Capitol Hill office, but he denied Hartman's statement that he had arrested control of the company from him after the loan transaction.

Reds Routed By Fierce Allied Counterattack

Communists Retreat Before Probing UN Patrols Slashing Quickly Northward

By OWEN CLEMENTS, TOKYO, May 23.—(AP)—Communist troops retreated along an 80-mile front in Korea today before northward thrusting Allied tanks and infantry.

The entire U. S. 10th Corps opened a counterattack across the east-central front and gained up to three and one-half miles. In the attacking force were the Second Infantry and First Marine Divisions and other unidentified units. They recaptured Hangey, key road center.

All along the front from Munsan in the far west to Pungnam in the east-central sector, the Reds were pulling back toward North Korea.

On the western front, Allied forces slashing through rugged mountains cut off the spearhead of the Red offensive force of their second spring drive. The Allies seized a key pass on the Communist supply route to Chinese troops fighting 25 miles south of the Red Korean border for control of the main transportation highway in that area. Some Red troops were pulling back to the west.

On the east-central front, an Allied spokesman said Red forces were making "hasty but orderly" withdrawals.

In the far west, South Korean troops pushed within four miles of the Red Korean border.

The valiant U. S. Second Infantry led Wednesday's big U. S. counterattack across 20 miles of the east-central front.

Tanks led American infantrymen back into Hangey, key highway junction, 13 miles south of the border.

The tanks and doughboys drove into shattered Chinese remnants after planes and massed artillery burst the way without opposition. The Communist Red forces withdrew. Small Communist forces fought delaying actions to cover the retreat.

General Edward M. Almond, 10th Corps commander who ordered the counterattack, said it "has made excellent progress." He said the Chinese took "such a heavy loss in men and materiel" that they were withdrawing.

The Red retreat was more rapid on the adjoining west-central sector. Advancing American tanks and infantrymen reported little opposition.

Attacking Leutenecks rescued six wounded Americans who had been through six nightmarish hours in a deadly valley. The Chinese had turned into a scene of death.

American dead lay there, two the body of one doughboy lay face down on one frosty stone. A large shell hole. Beside his body was a small table, marked by Tuesday night's rain. Beside his head were photographs of his family, a small baby and a young woman with long dark hair and smiling eyes.

By HOWLAND EVANS, JR., WASHINGTON, May 23.—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur defended his rollback of cattle prices before a congressional committee today, saying it would benefit large segments of the industry.

The annual rollback of 10 percent was held by the House Agriculture Committee, which will help packers, processors, handlers and some retailers. Packers will be able to establish a margin of profit which they lost in the freeze order last January, he said.

Disalle stated the rollback was based on past facts and aimed to help establish economic stability through across the country. He agreed to furnish the committee with the figures on which it was based.

High School Glee Club Entertains Kiwanis Meeting

Kiwanians, hosts to members of the Leeburg Kiwanis Club, enjoyed the singing of the Seminoles High School Glee Club. Miss Olive Reese, White House director, responded to a standing ovation by the Kiwanians following the last number, "Roadways," by the male quartet.

P. P. Campbell, president of the club, was introduced by the club in celebration of his 75th birthday, and was congratulated by Past President Edward E. Lane for his "faithful" service as treasurer of the club, a post he still occupies. In behalf of the club, Mr. Lane gave him a bright sport shirt.

President Joel Field and Howard Montileth welcomed the Leeburg Kiwanians who in turn were introduced by John Clark, Charles A. Adams of the Naval Air Station, and Ed McKinley, Jr. of the Glee Club.

The Glee club members were introduced by Herman E. Morris, Kiwanian and school principal, and Clarence Clause, president of both the student council and the glee club. Accompanists were Shirley Middleton and John Fitzpatrick, and soloists were "Indian Love Call" and "Little Man You've Had a Busy Day" by the girls. "Triple Trio," "Kentucky Halo" by the boys, "Quintette" and "Battle of Jericho" and "Roadways" by the entire boys' glee club. The opening numbers were sung with accompaniment by a double quartet of boys and girls.

Kelly, whose brother, Danny, is missing in action in Korea, changed his party registration formally yesterday.

Prince Denies Miami Detective Wrongdoing When Shot By Wife Who Working For RFC

Office Manager Says He Resigned At Request Of Symington

By WILBUR JENNINGS, WASHINGTON, May 23.—(AP)—Frank Prince, assistant manager in the Office of Loans of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. (RFC), said today he had resigned at the request of W. Stuart Symington, newly-named administrator.

Prince told a reporter in a telephone interview from his Baltimore home that he left his post May 20.

He admitted having a part in a 750,000 RFC loan to the Mobile Paper Co. of Mobile, Ala., which is now under investigation by a Senate subcommittee investigating the agency. But he said he had done nothing wrong and his role was purely in line with his position.

The investigation was made at the request of Rep. Boykin (R-Ala.) who has been involved in the transaction. Boykin asked for a "very, very thorough" investigation. The congressman added that the loan involved no wrong on the part of himself or his family.

Prince said that he might be related to Boykin but that he could not trace it. "If I am related," he explained, "it goes so far back that it doesn't amount to anything."

Theodore Herz, staff director of the subcommittee, said Prince would be called to testify at a future date to tell what part he may have played in the granting of the loan, and his reasons.

Prince said Symington told him that the agency was being reorganized and that he, Prince, was not included in the new set-up. Symington made it plain, he added, that he "had done nothing wrong" and promised him a recommendation when he sought a new position.

Explaining the Mobile Paper Company loan, Prince said the RFC board agreed to a $600,000 loan providing the paper company injected $300,000 in new private capital into the company. During the negotiations, in raising the money, Prince said he was told that a number of Mobile business men were approached including Bob Boykin, a son of the congressman.

Reuben E. Hartman of Mobile, founder and former president of the paper company, charged several months ago that Rep. Boykin and some RFC officials, including Prince, had "arrested" control of the company from him after the loan transaction. Prince denied that charge. He said that in July, 1948 he called Hartman from Rep. Boykin's Capitol Hill office, but he denied Hartman's statement that he had arrested control of the company from him after the loan transaction.

Communists Retreat Before Probing UN Patrols Slashing Quickly Northward

By OWEN CLEMENTS, TOKYO, May 23.—(AP)—Communist troops retreated along an 80-mile front in Korea today before northward thrusting Allied tanks and infantry.

The entire U. S. 10th Corps opened a counterattack across the east-central front and gained up to three and one-half miles. In the attacking force were the Second Infantry and First Marine Divisions and other unidentified units. They recaptured Hangey, key road center.

All along the front from Munsan in the far west to Pungnam in the east-central sector, the Reds were pulling back toward North Korea.

On the western front, Allied forces slashing through rugged mountains cut off the spearhead of the Red offensive force of their second spring drive. The Allies seized a key pass on the Communist supply route to Chinese troops fighting 25 miles south of the Red Korean border for control of the main transportation highway in that area. Some Red troops were pulling back to the west.

On the east-central front, an Allied spokesman said Red forces were making "hasty but orderly" withdrawals.

In the far west, South Korean troops pushed within four miles of the Red Korean border.

General Asserts Iran Is Explosive Area; MacArthur Program Is Rapped Again

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(AP)—General Omar N. Bradley said today that in his opinion none of President Truman's key advisers was "pushing" for dismissal of General Douglas MacArthur.

Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, made the statement in a sharp exchange with Senator Wiley (R-Wisc) over what was said at President Truman's conference with his advisers on firing MacArthur.

As he did last week, with later support by an 18-to-8 Senate vote, Bradley refused to testify about the attitude of different individuals. Specifically, he declined to say whether any of those who took part in conferences were "intimately discussed" by the decision to fire MacArthur.

Continuing his prolonged testimony at the Senate hearings on MacArthur's dismissal, Bradley also:

1. Acknowledged that the fighting in Korea restricts U. S. ability to counter possible Russian aggression elsewhere in the world, and named oil-rich Iran as now in "danger."

2. Insisted once again that MacArthur's proposed Korean strategy would not end the war and free the United States from the long-term military burden which "might help a little bit."

3. Testified he believes MacArthur first proposed the use of U. S. ground troops in fighting the North Korean aggressors. President Truman had ordered the U. S. intervention by instructing that Air and Naval power be used to aid the South Koreans.

4. Agreed with Senator Clegg that the U. S. should not be drawn into a general war.

Local Merchants Aid Poppy Day By Window Displays

Sanford merchants are cooperating with the American Legion Auxiliary in promoting observance of Poppy Day on Saturday by means of interesting window displays.

One of the most interesting of these has been set up in the window of the Floral Shop owned by W. F. Thorne of Lake Mary, a "purple heart" veteran of World War I.

This portrayal, a graveyard in England, with miniature white crosses and poppies. To the background is a large purple heart made of stucco and bearing the inscription, "What price glory?" Various medals are also displayed.

Comdr. Kaylie Hunsbarger of the Sanford Post 83, the American Legion, today urged all members and veterans and their relatives to wear a poppy in memory of our departed comrades.

In heathen societies and in some godless nations today labor is always hungry. The laborer is worthy of his hire and gets it in Christian lands. He has earned meat as well as sleep.

Former Governor Dave Sholtz, declaring that Florida's population will reach 5,000,000 by 1960, warns the Legislators that their problems will double in the next few years.

Former President Paul Wagner who has been complaining that the New York meeting of trustees who fired him did not meet in Florida, files a $500,000 damage suit against them.

It would be unfortunate if the third World War broke out in Iran where the chief item of interest is oil, owned largely by British and American interests.

That the RFC, huge government lending agency, has not been as honorable as it is supposed to be, and that all the charges directed against it have not been partisan, is indicated by the firing of the manager of the Minneapolis office by Stuart Symington.

More than 60,000 casualties have been suffered by the Chinese in six days of fighting in their spring offensive. But as Admiral Schley said at Santiago when the Spanish fleet was being sunk, "Don't cheer boys, brave men are dying."

The United States imports about two-thirds of all the coffee exported by all the world's coffee-producing nations.

Kites And Boys

The boy who flies a kite in the country, on a day when the wind is right, experiences a pleasure that is almost as old as civilization. Although the exact origin of the practice of flying kites is not known it is generally believed that it began with Chinese and Japanese religious ceremonies.

Even in our own civilization kites are more than mere toys. They are used to carry meteorological instruments into the sky to obtain scientific data and they are also employed as military signals.

But the boy who flies his kite is aware only vaguely of the history and significance of what he is doing, indeed he may know nothing at all about it.

Perhaps the first man who flew kites may have had a feeling of envy of the graceful things that could be sent up above the earth. It may be that the dream of flying was first born in the heart of some boy on the side of a hill with a kite, on a day when the wind was right.

First Rail Link

There are sometimes strange delays in the commemoration of important events. Only the other day a shaft was erected near the site of the historic joining of the Central Pacific Railroad, now the Southern Pacific, and the Union Pacific.

A simple standard was erected at the site near Promontory, Utah, but now it is never seen by regular travelers, since the present through road goes over another route.

The completion of the first continuous railroad connection from the Atlantic to the Pacific was then the greatest forward step in the unification and development of the nation since the discovery of gold in California.

Realistic Approach

The Department of Defense has announced that secret military headquarters outside Washington are being set up for use in the event of an enemy attack which would seriously damage the Pentagon or other defense offices.

The grim thought of bombs falling on Washington or others of our cities or towns should steel us in our resolve to make ourselves strong to discourage or resist such an attack. It should also strengthen our desire to work for a just peace that would avoid the destruction war could bring.

Husband Conducts Investigation To Discover Wife's Lunch Menu

NEW YORK. (AP)—When a man is just married, he comes home from his day's work and says: "Well, honey, what did you have for lunch?"

"Oh, just a smidgeon of tuna fish on a lettuce leaf," replies the little lady. "That all?" says the husband, feeling guilty because he himself had pig knuckles, sauerkraut, potatoes, bread and butter, apple pie and beer.

At this husbandly solicitude the little lady gives a fluttery imitation of a dying swan, and answers: "Oh, don't you worry your head about me while you're at the office. I eat enough. But it's no fun cooking for one, and I'd just rather snack in the middle of the day—and wait until you get home so we can enjoy a real meal together."

A wife can get away with this air of marital sacrifice for as long as five years if she is an able actress. And I have yet to see a wife that isn't able, in moments of stress, to make Ethel Barrymore look like a gawky schoolgirl playing a walk-on role.

Now, for a man, that is pretty sound and crafty reasoning. The disillusioned husband goes on to draw this mental conclusion: "Tuna fish and lettuce—heck! She must be eating a whale and half the front lawn every day while I'm at work."

Every probably prompts him to this thought. For by now the poor fellow has gotten ulcers trying to earn her a living, and all he himself has for lunch is two vitamin pills, three liver and oil iron capsules and a glass of skim milk.

THE NATION TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, May 22—(AP)—Your pocketbook—the price you pay for things you buy—may benefit from a Supreme Court decision yesterday.

It means a lot of shopkeepers can now charge you less than they've been charging. They'll be free to cut prices.

This court decision involves the fair trade laws of the 45 states which have them. Three states—Vermont, Missouri, Texas—and the District of Columbia don't have them.

This is what those fair trade laws meant, among other things: 1. The manufacturer of a brand-name product could go into a state and make an agreement with one or more retailers, handling his product, not to sell it below a certain minimum price.

2. Once the manufacturer made such an agreement—if only with one retailer in that state—no other retailer there could sell below the price agreed upon by the manufacturer and that one dealer.

The court said that in states which have fair trade laws a manufacturer and a retailer can still make agreements not to sell below a certain price. But, the court said, this applies in the future only to those making the agreement and, in the future, any retailer not a party to the agreement can cut the price as low as he wishes.

Here's a homely example of how that worked and can work now: 1. The manufacturer of a fishing reel wanted it to sell for $15.

2. But any manufacturer made such an agreement—if only with one retailer in that state—no other retailer there could sell below the price agreed upon by the manufacturer and that one dealer.

3. Even though the manufacturer made that agreement with only one retailer in that state, any other retailer in that state who was not a party to the agreement could cut the price as low as he wished.

4. The manufacturer of a fishing reel wanted it to sell for $15. 5. But any manufacturer made such an agreement—if only with one retailer in that state—no other retailer there could sell below the price agreed upon by the manufacturer and that one dealer.

6. The manufacturer of a fishing reel wanted it to sell for $15. 7. But any manufacturer made such an agreement—if only with one retailer in that state—no other retailer there could sell below the price agreed upon by the manufacturer and that one dealer.

8. The manufacturer of a fishing reel wanted it to sell for $15. 9. But any manufacturer made such an agreement—if only with one retailer in that state—no other retailer there could sell below the price agreed upon by the manufacturer and that one dealer.

10. The manufacturer of a fishing reel wanted it to sell for $15. 11. But any manufacturer made such an agreement—if only with one retailer in that state—no other retailer there could sell below the price agreed upon by the manufacturer and that one dealer.

12. The manufacturer of a fishing reel wanted it to sell for $15. 13. But any manufacturer made such an agreement—if only with one retailer in that state—no other retailer there could sell below the price agreed upon by the manufacturer and that one dealer.

Too Late To Classify

By RUSSELL KAY

If this column gives the impression that I'm running around in circles and gasping for breath, you can blame it on Leesburg, The Watermelon Festival and George East.

When Leesburg lets its hair down and starts to kick up its heels, boy, I'm tellin' you it's a sure enough party. They crowd more thrills, excitement and entertainment into one day than most towns do in a week of festivities.

The 1951 Florida Watermelon Festival topped 'em all; starting off with a bang-up parade there wasn't a dull moment for the rest of the day and night. It would take a two-headed guy with six eyes to even see half the show.

It may have been Armed Forces Day in other places, but in Leesburg, last Wednesday was Marine Corps Day for they brought the crack Second Marine Air Wing Band from Cherry Point, N. C., to head the parade.

When that outfit comes steppin' along, high wide and handsome, it just naturally does something to you. When it comes to makin' sure enough music they got both Harry and Margaret lookin' like a totty lot.

Events of the day included a watermelon eating contest in which youngsters vied with each other to see who could eat the most melon in two minutes; a fashion show in which Doc Webb's models; a bathing beauty contest; a water ski show; motor boat races; a baseball game and the Florida State University Circus.

Flanked with a Marine Corps Guard, the First Cancer barrel, which during the next 12 months will be publicly presented at Fairs, Festivals, Parades and events, made its initial appearance. Bright-eyed youngsters were gathered cash from the thousands that thronged the streets losing the money in the barrel and these funds will eventually find their way to the Damon Runyon Fund for Cancer Research.

Outstanding event was the "Queen of Queens Contest" to select the girl who will carry the coveted title of "Miss Watermelon Festival for 1951." Entrants this year were limited to girls who had previously won a queen title.

I've seen a lot of beauty contests but don't believe I've ever seen so many beautiful and charming girls assembled for one event. Fortunately, it did not fall to me to be among the judges this year and I was mighty glad, had a tough job and I didn't envy them a bit.

One of the officials took me behind the scenes to meet contestants before the show. Talk about being jinxed—in publicity! Being jinxed is up to my ears in it. Why is it that things like that never happen to a guy until he's so old it doesn't matter any more?

One thing I always enjoy about events of this kind is meeting so many old friends, and it seemed like just about everybody was there. Bob Eastman and Bill Carter of Cypress Gardens, Percy Schaal of Silver Springs, Doris Daniel of St. Petersburg, Ruth Zimmer of Rainbow Springs, Karl Lehmann of Tavares, Congressman Syd Herlong, Henry Hatch of Howey-in-the-Hills, Martin Andersen of the Orlando Sentinel, Bill Wells and Caroline Russ of the Sarasota County Chamber of Commerce and a host of others.

It is easy to see why Leesburg is an up-and-coming, enterprising community when you note how just a bout everybody joins in and helps to put over the job. It would not have been possible to have staged such a splendid show had it not been for the untiring work of the able chairman, George East of the First National Bank, backed up by cooperative and enthusiastic citizens. They didn't just sit back and "let George do it"—they participated with just about every group or organization in town taking part in including civic clubs, women's organizations, local and state merchants and others.

Another fact that impressed me was that this event was successfully staged without any outside carnival or concessionaires. Leesburg's guests were royally entertained and the only thing sold on the grounds was food and soft drinks, and the necker you spent for a bottle of Coca-Cola went to a local charitable organization. Too many communities turn such events over to a carnival outfit that shake down the public for all they can get and then leave town with the bulk of the dough.

Corn and animal fats are used in the new super-jet engine which constitutes an important new market for these products.

Congressman Herlong Reports

By SID HERLONG

I have just returned from a flying trip to Florida. I was delighted to have the opportunity to spend Mother's Day with my mother in Leesburg. That evening I went to Tallahassee, and visited the Legislature on Monday. Monday evening I spoke at a state-wide meeting of Kiwanis, honoring the members of the Florida House and Senate, as well as members of the Governor's Cabinet and the Supreme Court, who are Kiwanians.

It was a good meeting and I enjoyed so much seeing so many of my friends. I went back to Leesburg Tuesday night to be present for at least a part of the Watermelon Festival Wednesday, though I had to leave in the middle of the afternoon in order to get back to Washington on Thursday for two important matters coming up in the House. One of these was the Agriculture Department's appropriations bill, which of course passed, after it had been cut down some 12%, or a modest saving to the taxpayer of approximately $100 million dollars over the Budget Bureau's recommendation. The other was a bill which would require the Army, Navy, Air Force and Civilian Defense Administration to obtain approval from the House and Senate Armed Services Committees before acquiring or selling any real estate or signing any leases where the annual rent is more than $10,000. You have no doubt read of many glaring instances where the Armed Forces have sold things apparently of no value, only to have to buy them back at a much higher price. This legislation is designed to put an end to such practices. This bill had previously passed the House and Senate but was vetoed by the President. Yesterday we overrode the veto by a vote of 312 to 68. It now goes to the Senate.

While I was in Tallahassee the Florida Legislature concluded action on the bill redistricting Florida and creating two new Congressional Districts. I was frequently asked to comment on the proposed redistricting bills. My only comment has been that I liked the Fifth District just exactly like it was, and would hate mighty had to lose any of it. The result of the legislation was that our District will remain exactly as it was except that Putnam County will be in the new 8th District. I certainly do hate to lose Putnam County, but I realize that some sacrifices had to be made in order to create the new district. I do want the people in Putnam County to know that even though I will not be running in their county in the next primary, I shall continue to do everything possible to assist them and hope they will continue to feel free to call on me. I have some wonderful friends in that area, and I refuse to let the fact that they are redistricted out of my District break up our friendship.

HOLLYWOOD BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 23.—(AP)—A girl-less, brazeless lot of girls for American women was predicted today by Varga, veteran creator of pin-up girls.

The peruvian artist has been watching the evolution of U. S. women since he arrived in this country in 1916 and started drawing the female form.

"I have also made a long study of the development of the female from prehistoric times to the present," he added. "I believe the American women are reaching the point achieved by the classic Greeks. The Greek worshipped the human body. They believed that as long as you had a healthy body you were rich."

They regard for the body was shown in their athletics and their sculpture. You'll notice they did not make statues of red-haired men or women. Their ideals were expressed in the classic forms, such as Venus de Milo.

The Greek women wore only light gowns that showed their forms to the best advantage. They had no girdles or brassieres. The only thing under their outer garments was a perfect body."

Why not? he inquired. "In the past 20 or 30 years, American women have come closer to the early Greeks than any other race."

Recently recovered from his recent accident to be brought home last week from the Fernald Lighthouse Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hodges and daughter Nancy, at West Palm Beach were the guests over the weekend of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Anderson.

Mrs. D. C. Matthews of Jasper is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Tille.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Godwin and nephew J. T. Black were called to Selma, N. C. last week, due to the serious illness of her father. Mrs. Godwin is remaining there and Mr. Godwin and J. T. Black have returned.

Lake Mary members and friends attending the Florida District Assembly of the Church of the Nazarene in Orlando last week were Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Brannon, Misses Fernk Griffin, W. C. Bucky, Herbert Lampert, and the Messes Dorothy Burke, Doris and Joan Spaldon.

Mrs. Gertrude Welfer and nephew Jay Watson left Friday for Tampa after spending some time with Mrs. Ida Keogh.

Spending Sunday at Daytona Beach were Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cole Sr. and her brother, Edward Bond and Miss Lora Herland and her brother, S. Herland.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Lally returned Monday from Louisville where they attended the Derby. Joe B. Wells is home again after spending some weeks in Louisville, Ky.

Twin-Bill With Daytona Beach Scheduled For Tonight

Packers Edge Giants In Pitching Duel; Joe Parise Slams 6th Circuit Clout

Two lefthanders, Jerry Schultz and Terry Porter, have been tentatively slated to hurl tonight's double-header against the hard-hitting Daytona Beach Islanders. Tonight's game will be the first in a series of week day twin-bills eliminating Sunday games.

LEESBURG, May 23—(AP)—The Leesburg Packers avenged an earlier loss to Sanford Giants here last night in winning a tight 2-1 pitching duel between Bill Ward and Gene Brickley. Joe Parise, with his 6th home run and a single, led the Giants' attack and accounted for their only score as Packer Manager Burnett also hit for the circuit with what proved to be the game-winning run.

Mickey McBride shared offensive honors with Parise, hitting safely twice in four trips as only Don Bailey of the other Giants managed to touch Brickley for a hit.

Bill Ward, rangy right-hander sent down by the Knoxville Smokies, allowed but six hits and four walks to the Packers, but the cagey Leesburg crew milked them for just enough to win as Sanford's batters were effectively handcuffed for the first time in three weeks.

The Giants will meet the Daytona Beach Islanders in a twin bill tonight beginning at 6:30 P. M.

GAINEVILLE 10; Cocoa 2
DAYTONA BEACH, May 23—(AP)—Palatka's ninth-inning homer won the game for the Daytona Beach Islanders over the Cocoa Islanders 10-2.

Urbahart, who has suffered three losses all by one run margins, lost his thirteenth when two unearned runs tallied in the sixth. Lee Scruggs got the first Cocoa hit, a blooper into right field in the second inning. Moose Salter notched an infield hit in the eighth for the other.

Senators 6; Red Hats 5
DAYTONA BEACH, May 23—(AP)—The Orlando Senators clubbed two DeLand Red Hat pitchers here last night for a total of 18 base hits as they won a 10-inning struggle from the home team 6 to 5. Manager Ed Levy of the Senators had a home run with the bases empty in the fourth frame. The Hats tallied 11 base knocks.

CHICAGO, May 23—(AP)—A soccer play on the Rose Bowl football game probably will begin tomorrow between the Big Ten and the Pacific Coast Conference.

The Big Ten faculty representatives and athletic directors in a showdown vote on the bowl question, are expected to approve continued play in the Pasadena classic.

The Big Ten will vote on three bowl points: 1. Whether to extend the series; 2. Whether to send the same team once every two years; or 3. Whether to send the same team once every three years.

George (Spec) Toporer, new manager of the Buffalo Bisons in the International League, was the first major league infielder to wear glasses.

Straight from the Horse's Mouth

By ED HARPER

Early this month, with the Sanford Giants at their lowest ebb in the midst of a seemingly endless losing streak, Manager Richie Klaus suddenly found himself without a third baseman. Bob Scholten had been sold to Lawton, Okla., and no infielders were available to take his place.

In desperation Richie dug down into his slender reserves calling on second-string catcher Gene Kistler to hold down the hot corner.

Gene, 19 years old and with only the sketchiest experience at the position, almost turned back flips at the opportunity. The tow-headed backstop had gotten into only one game so far in the season and wanted to play so badly he could taste it.

At first eagerness and accumulated rust from warming the bench didn't help the blocky backstop much at the plate, but in his third game—against the league-leading Orlando Senators no less—Gene broke loose slugging two singles and a towering home run to help Sanford annex a 1 to 8 win—a victory they badly needed not only to improve their league standing but to assuage a bruised and bleeding confidence.

The crowd cheered him for the homer and it helped, but Gene's greatest value lay in unceasing hustle and chatter. He was never quiet and never still. On the base paths and in the field his confidence filled the park and was picked up by the rest of the team. And they began to win.

Nobody can say why a ball club suddenly shakes off its gloom and begins to meet the ball, make hard plays look easy and win games. Nor is this writer saying Gene Kistler did it for the Giants—but he helped. His play at third base wasn't the greatest thing in the world. But he stopped the ball—with his body if no other way. And his catcher's arm made up for some uncertainty and finesse.

When Mickey McBride a regular third baseman and heavy hitter as well, came to Sanford from Idaho Falls, Gene retired to his former status as utility man and catcher.

He took over for Joe Parise in right field when the catfished Joe was hit by a ball and laid up for a couple of days. And he played the outfield spot—almost as unfamiliar to him as third base—creditably.

Right now Gene is riding the bench. He's got a tough break in a double-header against Cocoa Friday night getting clobbered by a fast fall off Indian hurler Bill Ballles. But he'll be back in before long since he's become the Giants' oncoming bench. Sanford's Billy Goodman in a manner of speaking.

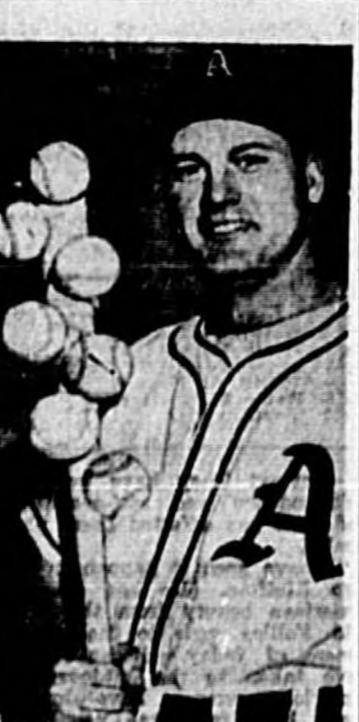

Gene was born, and lived most of his life, in Hammond, Ind., where he started playing baseball in the local Rotary League program. He says he played every position before landing behind the plate—a job for which he is admirably suited in build and natural abilities.

This is his first year in pro ball having gotten his chance when Bob Martin of the Giants farm system signed him at Carl Boling baseball school in Salem, Mo. Gene, who is 1-A with the Army as well as with the Sanford fans, says his greatest experience in baseball was the four-bagger against the Senators.

sign and Minor Scott was caught off third base. Then he popped out to end the threat.

In the tenth, the roof fell on Nothe's mound successors. The Travelers exploded for 11 runs off Howard Anderson and Elmer Toth to overwhelm the Cracker, 13-2. For the first nine innings, veteran left-hander Nothe had stopped the Rocks with two runs and three hits.

Elsewhere in the Southern Association, Birmingham blanked the Memphis Chickasaws, 2-0; New Orleans edged Chattanooga 5-4, and Mobile downed the Nashville Vols 6-2.

OUTFIELDER for the Philadelphia Athletics, Gus Zernial holds the bat that had the pitchers seeing "homers" as Gus hit seven of them in four consecutive games. Zernial led the American League record set by Tony Lazzeri of the Yankees in 1936. (International Exclusive)

Seventy Athletes Receive Varsity Letters At F. S. U.

TALLAHASSEE, May 23—(Special)—Florida State University's annual Spring Sports Banquet was held here tonight with seventy varsity letters being awarded to athletes in baseball, golf, gymnastics, tennis, track and field and volleyball.

The annual banquet concludes Florida State's most successful sports year. The Seminoles started off the year by winning the Dixie Conference title for the third straight time with a football team that completed its season undefeated and untied against all opponents. The basketball team won 18 out of 9 games, took the District 25 N. A. I. B. championship and went to the quarter-finals of the National N. A. I. B. before being eliminated.

The Florida State swimming team established itself as the best in the deep south by winning all seven of its dual meets, tying for first in the Southeastern A. A. U. and copping the Florida A. A. U. title. The volleyball squad won the Florida A. A. U. championship for the third straight year, became the first college team to win the Memphis-Mid-South Invitational tournament and finished fourth in the international collegiate tournament at Springfield, Mass.

The Florida State gymnastics team brought the school its first national championship, winning national titles in both the N. C. A. A. and A. A. U. competition. The Seminoles gymnasts also took the Florida A. A. U. and the Southern Intercollegiate Gymnastic League championships.

The Spring sports teams all came up with outstanding records. The track squad won four out of five dual meets, then successfully defended its Dixie Conference championship. The tennis squad won the Dixie Conference title for the third straight year. The golf team was unable to make the trip to defend its Dixie championship, but had a creditable season record of 8 win 3 defeats and 1 tie. And the baseball team won 13 out of 6 against all opponents and had a 6-1 mark

Citation Seeks To Pass Million Mark With Gold Cup Win

By BOB MYERS
INGLEWOOD, Calif., May 23—(AP)—Citation, Coalton and Moonrush, three of the best known names in horse racing today, head a roll of 40 candidates nominated for the $100,000 Hollywood Gold Cup Handicap July 14.

The Hollywood Turf Club announced the list today for the mile and one-quarter fixture, the only horse race which guarantees $100,000 net to the winner.

Nationally famed stables are taking at least a preliminary step toward winning the pot, notably Calumet Farm, Brookmeade, the King-Luelwitz Stable, Clifford Mooers, William Goetz and others.

Calumet nominated Citation, Coalton, All Blue and Bewitch; Brookmeade, the nation's leading money winner last year, came in with Greek Ship, Chains and Why Not Now; Moonrush is the prize winning hero of the Grace King-Gus Luelwitz string, and Goetz nominated Bernbrook and Caruso II.

Mooers named Mocoop, Old Rockport, Sudan and Sir Huteh; Mrs. Nat Goldstone has hopes for Gold Capitol; the Yola Stable will try with Great Circle, winner of the Santa Anita Maturity last winter, and T. P. Morgan nominated Lotowhite.

Whether the big name horses get up to the post remains to be seen. If they do, the 1951 Gold Cup could match in color last year's race. That one found the great Irish horse, Noor, defeating Hill Prince, Palestinian, Assault, Next Move, and others in track record breaking time. Jimmy Jones, trainer of the Calumet stars, is not prone to show optimism about his two C's. He will know much more after another race or so, probably in the $25,000 Argonaut Handicap May 30.

Moonrush doubtless will draw high weight when imports are announced June 6.

Jacksonville Tars Club Columbus To Hang On To Second

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Stretching their current winning streak to six games, the Montgomery Grays today were just one game off the pace in the Sally League's closely packed first division.

The Grays torpedooed the front-running Savannah Indians last night, 14-6, and took undisputed title to fourth place as the Macon Peaches bowed, 5-1, to last-place Columbia in 11 innings.

Second-place Jacksonville shelled Columbus, 14-2, and the Charleston Rebels blanked Augusta, 5-0, in other games.

Montgomery blasted a trio of Savannah pitchers for 18 hits and sent their entire batting order to the plate in two innings. Bill Johnson clouted his ninth homer of the year and Len Morrison also hit for the tie over a rocky course.

Many Britons still think All American golfers are millionaires and it comes as a surprise to them that the top ranking U. S. Amateur once toted bags for pocket money. So Sam, whose golf manners rate favorably with those of any English public school graduate, has won himself a substantial following among the paying public.

Ex-Caddie Sam Urzetta Is Popular Choice To Win British Open Crown

By CHARLES WHITING
PORTHCAWL, Wales, May 23—(AP)—American dominance of the British Amateur Golf Championship may rankle in the hearts of all British golf enthusiasts, but they try hard not to show it.

That was demonstrated yesterday when more than 100 galleries walked around the 6,658-yard Porthcawl course in a raging gale to watch Sam Urzetta, 25-year-old ex-caddie from Rochester, N. Y., chop down a local favorite, Steve Tredinick, 3 and 2.

True Sam is the U. S. Amateur Champion, a title that would be a drawing card anywhere. But he also has the appeal of a fighting link competitor and one who has battled his way to the top over a rocky course.

Urzetta hasn't yet shown here the flashing game that flattened the current British titleholder, Frank Stranahan in the 32-hole final of the U. S. Amateur in the states last year.

"The rain and the wind don't bother me," Urzetta said after a 5-5-5 performance yesterday. "Most of my trouble is with my short irons. They're not crisp enough. But I may get that touch back Wednesday. If I do I hope to be staying around for a while."

Urzetta admits candidly that he is trying to pattern his life as much as possible after his idol, Willie Turnesa, 36-year-old former British and U. S. Amateur king.

"Willie helps me every way he can, both on the course and off," Sam said. "He's been like a god-father to me."

Turnesa and Urzetta are in different halves of the draw and the possibility exists that mentor and pupil will meet in the final. If Urzetta should win the title it would be the first time since Lawson Little won both the U. S. and British crowns in 1935 that an American has completed that double.

Stranahan runs smack into a Walker Cup teammate today when he tangles with Bob Knowles of Boston, in a third round match. The other 11 Americans still in the running are paired against domestic or overseas hopes from outside the United States.

FIRST in Load Space!

Handle more payload with a Dodge 1/2-ton pick-up. Take your choice of a low-cube body with 81.41 cu. ft. capacity or an optional high-cube body with 44.16 cu. ft. capacity—more load space than in any other popular pick-up of comparable wheelbase. Lower loading heights save work, time.

CHAMP in Easy Handling!

It's a cinch to maneuver, park, and drive these pick-ups in traffic! They turn sharper than comparable trucks—because Dodge gives you close-clearing, wide front tread, and short wheelbase. They steer easier, thanks to worm-and-roller steering gears and new steering wheel angle.

Red Atomic Plans Said To Have Been Aided Unwittingly

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN
CHICAGO, May 23.—(AP)—An atomic scientist contended today that American political and military leaders unknowingly may have given Russia's atomic strength a bigger boost than did the spies who gave out A-bomb secrets.

Dr. Eugene Rabinowitch, editor of the Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, said today that he had advanced the Soviet atomic weapons program by at least 18 months. That was the estimate given by a Congressional Joint Committee on Atomic Energy.

But the biggest factor in the A-bomb race, he said, might well be whether uranium supplies available to Russia are equal to those available to the United States and Canada. He added: "From this point of view, the most fateful step which has permitted the Soviet Union to achieve its present atomic strength was not the betrayal of our secrets but the decision of American political and military leaders in 1945 to give to the Soviet Union control over the parts of Czechoslovakia and Germany in which important uranium ore deposits were known to exist."

"These regions had been reached by American troops first and abandoned to the Soviet Union in accordance with the demarcation agreement.

"Perhaps if the atomic bomb development in the United States had not been surrounded by such extreme secrecy, those responsible for the drawing of the demarcation line would have known better what they were giving away—or at least would have been exposed to the advice of those who knew."

He said that looking backward, "it seems doubtful whether America has gained anything at all from the immense effort and expense it had invested in keeping the entire wartime atomic bomb development secret."

If instead, he added, strict secrecy had been limited to the mechanism for exploding the bomb, possibly no spies would have slipped through security precautions. He said the exploding mechanism was "the supposedly most important secret."

A things are now, he said, the FBI is "overburdened with investigation of innumerable people, most of whom will never have access to any classified information not to mention information which is really worth keeping secret—and has asked to be relieved of it in order to be able to concentrate on guarding the really important areas."

Rabinowitch said the bottleneck America faced in turning out A-bombs were not in solving technical problems or establishing basic facts but in actual construction of large production plants.

"There is no reason to assume

someone poked a rifle in my face quick.

"Come on in," the fellow said. "We are surrounded and we are glad to have you with us."

"I found out right away that the Chinese were getting ready to attack and anybody could tell it by just listening. They were blowing bugles and I remember one bugle was playing taps. It was about 3 A. M."

"Some Korean carriers that worked for the American Army came down a hill trying to get to the command post and hollering out that they were carriers."

"The Chinese started moving them down with machineguns and the groans of the wounded were pretty terrible to hear."

"We were holding our fire, getting ready for the attack, when a captain said: "Fellows I think we had better give the Chinks a banana charge before they give us one."

"We waited for a minute watching the black figures of those devils swarming around out there in the dark. Then we charged."

"We charged toward a road that led to the rear. All of us were hollering and whooping and shooting. Some of the Chinks got scared and threw down their weapons and ran."

"But the rest of them turned a hell of a lot of fire on us and a lot of our boys got it. Our boys who went down, those that weren't killed, were screaming for help."

"And some of the soldiers were hollering, 'Let's go back. We can't get out.' "I knew we could and I yelled, 'Come on! The hell with it! We can get through 'em!'"

"I found the road and went down it."

About dawn Anderson met five American tanks, accompanied by Dutch soldiers. He guided them back to the command post.

"We started picking up the wounded and the bodies and a lot of unaccounted GIs came out of the brush where they had been hiding," Anderson said. "We didn't see any Chinese."

"But while we were still loading the bodies on the tanks the Chinese opened up on us. They were on the hills all around us. "I crawled under a wrecked jeep and began shooting and I'll tell you it was a hell of a fight. We really knocked off the Chinks. The fight lasted an hour and then the Chinks quit. There were Chinese bodies all over the place."

"The tanks turned around then and headed back south to our lines."

nally (D-7es) that the United States would have to demand some safeguards if it armed and equipped the Chinese Nationalist forces for operations against the Chinese Communists. Connally had suggested that Chiang Kai Shek, if given arms and a free hand, might use his forces in a way that could lead to war between the United States and Russia.

Several senators were still awaiting a chance for more questioning of Bradley when the inquiry was recessed for lunch. So Chairman Russell (D-Ga) ordered an afternoon session, told reporters he did not know whether Bradley could conclude his testimony at it.

Wiley started his questioning of Bradley today by alluding to his committee argument last week. He said he wanted to explore further the matter of who was present at the several conferences which led to dismissal of MacArthur, and the conclusions reached.

Bradley detailed the dates of the various conferences and told Wiley who attended each. Wiley asked whether "any of the Allies" were considered at any of the conferences.

"Not that I know of," Bradley replied. When Wiley wanted to know if any one was "distinctly displeased" by the decision to fire MacArthur, Bradley told him, "I don't know that I care to answer that."

Wiley: "Do you claim that as a personal privilege?"
Bradley: "To answer your question specifically, I would have to tell you what they said."

After several more exchanges like that, Bradley said, yes, he was claiming a personal privilege the right to refuse to answer.

Bradley denied the present situation in Korea is a "stalemate" during the earlier questioning over Korean strategy and the relation of the fighting there to the U. S. position as to possible aggression elsewhere.

MacArthur has declared the Administration policy promises only a "bloody stalemate."

Senator Flanders (R-Vt) raised the question of whether the United Nations forces are "being stabilized and stalemated right now."

Bradley said: "Well, as long as we have certain powers of maneuver which we have at the present time, I would say it is not entirely a stalemate."

When denying MacArthur's program would bring the war to a quick end, Bradley told the Senate: "We are not prolonging this war just for the fun of it. The only difference is General MacArthur thinks that to do certain additional operations would be decisive and we do not think they would be decisive."

Joint Chiefs of Staff, and by "we" he meant himself and the other members of that top military command.

He testified at hearings by the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees on MacArthur's dismissal from his Far Eastern command.

In response to questions from Senator Brewster (R-Maine), Bradley ticked off Iran, Yugoslavia and Indochina as all points of possible Soviet aggression.

Parent-Teachers Congress Told Of Leadership Need

MIAMI BEACH, May 23.—(AP)—The National Congress of Parents and Teachers was urged today to take the lead in carrying out the pledges to American children and youths made at the mid-century White House conference.

Dr. George D. Stoddard, president of the University of Illinois and vice-chairman of the White House conference, told the PTA at its national convention that it is the organization "to stand at the front in carrying out the pledges."

It will not stand alone or work alone," he said, "but if it fails to pick up the work of this conference with all the enthusiasm for which it is famous, the disappointment will be lasting and deep-seated."

Stoddard rebuked the 17 pledges made to American youth people at the conference last December, briefly, he said, the eventual goal is "a society in which every child will have a fair chance for a healthy personality."

More specifically, he said the purpose was to provide at least partial answers to these two questions: "How can children be helped to develop the mental, emotional and spiritual qualities essential for individual happiness and responsible citizenship?"

"What physical, economic and social conditions are necessary for this development?"

Earlier Frank Smothers, Chicago journalist and former Chicago Daily News foreign correspondent, said Asia is undergoing a continental revolution and will decide its own future without accepting either Russian or American domination.

He told the educators that a "dangerous temptation" in America is to think about Asia in terms of our own immediate perils.

Communist party functionaries at the time.

Elsewhere in a stormy, shouting session, the House Ways and Means Committee voted today for a flat 12 1/2 per cent increase for individual income taxpayers and for a boost in the excess profits tax on corporations.

Both revisions were agreed upon by straight party line votes, and Republican members of the committee declared angrily that the changes were "railroaded through."

I resent legislating by party caucus," Rep. Simpson (R-Pa) told reporters.

Rep. Reed of New York, ranking Republican member of the committee, told the newsmen there had been "a major row" in today's session.

Living Cost Index May Give Workers Big Pay Increase

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(AP)—A million auto workers were assured today of a three-cent hourly pay increase on the basis of rises in the government's cost of living index since January.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(AP)—The government's cost of living index was due today, and a pay boost of at least two cents an hour was indicated for a million auto workers whose contracts are tied to the price measure.

The Wage Stabilization Board also will take another look at its wage formula, which now limits increases to 10 per cent above Jan. 15, 1950 levels. When that ceiling was adopted, the board said it would review the wage situation on the basis of the Apr. 15 index, which is the figure to be announced today.

While not much change was expected in the index between Mar. 15 and Apr. 15 the auto workers' pay is adjusted only every three months there was enough rise from Jan. 15 to allow them two cents more, or possibly three.

The Mar. 15 index was 1845 per cent of the 1935-39 average. Best indications were that little change occurred in the following month, largely because of the drop in food prices between Mar. 15 and Apr. 15.

General Motors workers were expected to get a three cent increase because that firm has accepted the rent "bias" allowance by the Labor Department to make up for a rent fall in the family budget calculations.

That allowance adds another 0.8 to the index and that would be enough to give the GM employees three cents. Other auto industry employees probably will get the same as the GM workers, but the manufacturers first must accept the rent allowance.

The auto workers also are due to get an additional four-cent hourly pay increase May 29 under their contract clause providing for the annual bonus for improving productivity.

The cost of living increase is automatically okay as far as the wage board is concerned, but the four-cent productivity increase must be acted on after a special hearing here tomorrow.

Accordianist Dick Contino, 21, who earned up to $4,000 a week, surrenders to federal authorities in San Francisco on a charge of draft evasion. He was released on $3,000 bail and faces arraignment on May 23. Contino told reporters: "I have a complex. I've had you since I was six years old." At right is J. E. Prins-Zeas, one of Contino's attorneys. (International Soundphoto) crashed on another farm. It sounded to me like the motor was stalling."

Stelyn, one of the injured, told a newsmen he was aboard as a civilian and was riding in the tail end.

"It sounded to me like an engine was running away," Stelyn said.

A newsmen at the scene said the plane left "a road of burning" debris for more than a quarter of a mile before it stopped skidding.

He said the pilot apparently was trying to make a forced landing, but the plane lost altitude too fast to make a clearing only a few hundred yards ahead.

The plane was a C-124. Troopers said they understood the plane was on an experimental flight.

The crash was heard in New Castle by William Turner, an announcer for radio station WCTW. New Castle is five miles northwest of New Lisbon.

Plane Crash

crashed on another farm. It sounded to me like the motor was stalling."

Stelyn, one of the injured, told a newsmen he was aboard as a civilian and was riding in the tail end.

"It sounded to me like an engine was running away," Stelyn said.

A newsmen at the scene said the plane left "a road of burning" debris for more than a quarter of a mile before it stopped skidding.

He said the pilot apparently was trying to make a forced landing, but the plane lost altitude too fast to make a clearing only a few hundred yards ahead.

The plane was a C-124. Troopers said they understood the plane was on an experimental flight.

The crash was heard in New Castle by William Turner, an announcer for radio station WCTW. New Castle is five miles northwest of New Lisbon.

tions are synchronized or geared to "wire services," radio, telephone and other mass communications carrying racing information.

Rep. Pappy of Monroe county opposed concurrence in the Senate amendment. He said according to his interpretation of the provision, it exempted newsmen from the law against publication of information of help to gamblers. He didn't explain his interpretation.

"The only way the people in my county gamble is through newspapers," he declared.

Wasting a copy of the Miami Herald, he told the House "here's the gambling sheet my people receive. Here is the greatest race sheet ever put out in this state. This is a gambling sheet. If you want to get rid of the bookies, get rid of this race sheet."

Rep. Faccell of Dade county rose to declare the amendment "simply clarifies what newspapers can print."

The Senate amendment was adopted 40 to 28.

Rep. Williams of Seminole County, who steered the measure to passage, said scratch sheets could froy in business if they wanted under the bill but since they would be so limited in the information they could carry "it would be most unprofitable."

About 3,000 cronies are laid into a mile of standard railroad track.
