"Society Lawyer" Is A Mixture Of Laughs And Gasps

Motion picture fans who like their murder mysteries, baffling have something to outguess them at the Ritz Theatre when "Society Lawyer" featuring Walter Pidgeon, Virginia Bruce and Leo Carrillo opens Tuesday.

This laugh-provoking and thrilling murder mystery is superbly cast both in its major featured players as well as in its supporting cast. Walter Pidgeon was never seen to better advantage than in his role of lawyer-detective in this film. Virginia Bruce sparkles with engaging vivacity and even discloses one of her hidden talents when she sings as a night-club entertainer. And Leo Carrillo is at his topmost form in a warmly human characterization as a reformed gangster.

The story reveals the efforts of Pidgeon, Miss Bruce and Carrillo to save the life of a client of Pidgeon's from the chair on a framed murder charge. Miss Bruce and Carrillo, her night-club employer, assist Pidgeon in finding the real murderer, setting a trap for him in which they themselves threaten to be caught. Carrillo loses his life in saving the ingenious plan carried through but the murderer is brought to justice.

The supporting cast includes Eduardo Ciannelli, Lee Bowman, Frances Mercer, Ann Morrison and Herbert Mundin.

Night clubs, fashionable penthouses, courtroom and prison life scenes provide much of the exciting New York atmosphere for the production which also promises to set several new fashions for women in the wardrobe worn by Miss Bruce, Frances Mercer, Ann Morrison and others.

The money, however, is not sufficient to pay for his wife's part of the trip and Ayres tries to sell a composition to Frank Morgan, Broadway producer. Miss MacDonald accompanies her husband to Morgan's office. Through a series of accidents she sings, but not the song her husband has written. As a result she is hired while he is forced to stay at home and continue his work in cheap cafes. She rapidly rises to stardom and her name is linked with that of the "angel" of the show. Ayres misunderstands and a divorce ensues.

Upon the eve that Miss MacDonald plans to sail for Europe and marriage with Ian Hunter, the show backer announces (and she has purchased a new musical show and that she must stay to do it. It is a show composed by Ayres. A reconciliation ensues and the story ends with husband and wife reunited, and so to Ayres and his of New York's favorite composer.

Outstanding among the songs heard in the production are "For Every Lonely Heart," "Fry's High," "Rhapsody," "One Last at Last," "Fiddle, Cello, Banjo," "No Time in Arrive," and "Bills on a Balance." Also a highlight are a medley of old-fashioned songs sung by Miss MacDonald and a quartet with Lew Ayres at the piano.

The Upper Crust Takes The Rap In New Society Film

"Cafe Society," the new Model and Carol Fred MacMuray-Bobby Blue Marlowe, is a comedy of life (particularly the more obscure aspects of it) in the more published sections of America's upper crust—that weird conglomeration of socialites, business celebrities, stage folk and general here-workshippers that forms "Cafe Society." Patron of the Ritz Theatre will see the comedy on Wednesday next.

The picture, presented by Paramount and directed by Edward G. Griffith, stars Miss Carroll as an ultra-sophisticated, spoiled and bored debutante; Fred as the two-faced newspaper reporter who marries as a job; Miss Blue, a cigarette-girl and would-be comedian; and Bobby Marlowe as a "snake in the woods of Manhattan Street."

"Cafe Society" spotlights the romance of Miss Carroll and MacMuray from the night she leaves him to marry her in order to get her home in the papers until the time he shows her a kind of life—and love—she has never known before. Since his wife in the picture is the daughter of New York's "gilded class," MacMuray takes his "show" right before the eyes of a surprised "Cafe Society." When all other attempts to cow her fail MacMuray promptly throws her off her yacht and drags her unceremoniously through New York's waterway ropes to an apartment.

Everyone familiar with New York's "Cafe Society" through newspaper, magazine or book will recognize the people he sees in the film. Miss Blue plays a supercilious gossip columnist who uses his own social position to land in her every one he meets—except what Cupid Almsworth is the feminine "gambler" who throws traffic parties for the amusement of a bored society crowd. Don Alvarez is the handsome foreign prince bent on marrying American millions—guilty again! Jesse Ralph, Claude Gillingwater and Mary "Pinkie" Parker play many others.

United States farmers produce nearly $700,000,000 worth of turkey each year.
 Paramount only date apples may be produced by planting them on a single tree.

DRAWING A COPY OF "Cafe Society" is a showpiece, said an Ritz Theatre official, and is the same from "Silver on the Race" least of Paramount's "Cafe Society" romance, William Boyd, of whom the picture takes the scene from when the picture opens Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre.

"CAFÉ SOCIETY" Paramount's own production was of "making the film" stars Bobby Blue Marlowe as the ringleader of New York's smart set and the pace-setter for the most bizarre comedies. Miss Carroll's best comedy in the comedy opening tonight Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre, are Fred MacMuray and Bobby Blue.

Germany, Poland Near Showdown On Demands By Nazis

Germany Proclaimed World's Most Heavily Armed Nation By Adolf Hitler

Soviets Warn Dictatorships

Daijler Mann Plans To Strengthen Air Forces Of France

Germany and Poland were Europe's May Day devotees today as the issue between the Free City of Danzig and the Polish corridor apparently drew closer to a showdown.

In Berlin, Reichsfuehrer Hitler proclaimed Germany one of the "most heavily armed nations of the world" and Nazi diplomats pressed efforts to isolate Poland and make her ripe for yielding to German demands.

Soviet Russia staged her annual May Day show in Moscow with emphasis on her military preparedness. Agitators and tanks thundered by and bayonets of tens of thousands of soldiers glistened in the biggest military display Red Square ever has seen.

"Whoever dares to step on the threshold of our home will be destroyed," declared the Soviet defense commissar, Kliment E. Voroshiloff.

In Paris, an authoritative source said Premier Daijler and Air Minister Guy L. Chaigne had mapped plans to strengthen France's air force.

In London, bills calling for military conscription of men aged 20 years for six months of training and combat service were introduced in the House of Commons.

LONDON, May 1.—(AP)—Great Britain was understood to have ordered the fortification of Alderney, northernmost of the channel islands, as a "second Gibraltar" designed to trap the German fleet in the North sea in the event of war.

Simultaneously, diplomats heard that Britain and Turkey had perfected a secret plan to resist any Italian aggression at the eastern end of the Mediterranean and the latter, Europe's armed "peace front."

The developments indicated Britain's immediate fears are centered on the Mediterranean—already crowded with the warships of Germany, Italy, Great Britain and France—although a great view is taken in Whitehall of Hitler's demand for Danzig and a motor road across the Polish corridor.

Britain's adherence to the alignment against Nazi-Fascist aggression was said to be dependent upon an emphasis on Russia's active co-operation in the "peace front," negotiations on which have reached a deadlock between London and Moscow.

The Soviet vice-commissar of foreign affairs, Vladimir P. Potemkin, conferred in Ankara with the Turkish president and foreign minister and appeared to be extending proposals through the Turkish government to compel Britain to accept Russia's anti-aggression proposals.

The Anglo-Soviet-Turkish situation will be examined today at a meeting of the British cabinet, summoned by Prime Minister Chamberlain to study the European situation in the light of Hitler's announcement of the Polish-German treaty of non-aggression and friendship.

British Foreign Secretary Halifax and Soviet Ambassador Malinoff in conference Saturday, agreed to omit the far eastern clause from their "peace front" negotiations. It was revealed of Potemkin was expected to inform the cabinet that England, although anxious for a peaceful settlement of the Danzig and Polish dispute, is determined to stand by her pledge of armed aid to the Poles to prevent their freedom from being in jeopardy.

G. Kilbee, of Geneva.

Mr. O'Reilly told of the damage by fire, and the destruction of the balance maintained by nature by the construction of canals, as well as the wanton killing of birds for the satisfaction of the demands of fashion which have completely destroyed some species, such as the Carolina Parakeet, and seriously threatened the existence of several other forms of wild life including grebes, burrowing owls and Florida cranes.

House Okeys Criminal Code Revision Bill

Debated Measure To Speed Up Trials Passes By Wide Majority Of 66 To 6

Groups Overruled On Two Proposals

Farmers' Retirement, And Electrification Placed On Calendar

TALLAHASSEE, May 1.—(AP)—The Florida House passed today the much-debated Criminal Code Revision bill 68 to 6 after one opponent insisted upon a full reading of the 173-page measure and many legislators walked out on the motion picture proceedings.

Representative Scofield of Ocala, a frequent objector to the bill, protested several times that the clerk was not reading the bill in full. House rules provided for a bill to be read in full on its third reading.

Opponents of the bill said the criminal code would speed up trial, appeals and final disposition of criminal cases.

The House overruled law of the committee and gave calendar priority to bill to act on a farmers' retirement fund and a rural electrification program. Committee action reported the bills unfavorably.

A vote to put the farmers' retirement bill on the calendar was 19 to 25 and that on rural electrification was 54 to 28. A bill to amend the law of the Florida Welfare Act was introduced in the House.

Declaring State road building "of public interest" by a 20-10 vote, the House directed the State Road Commission to continue the 1938-39 highway program through the fiscal year 1940.

When a bill for continued work on the road was introduced, State Road Commission Chairman J. M. Hooten said that the commission would continue to work on the road program through the fiscal year 1940.

Chief Deputy J. E. Johnson said that the commission had sent word to the county judges in all 30 counties that the commission would continue to work on the road program through the fiscal year 1940.

The deputy and two officers went to the Blackweider home last night but were unable to locate them.

State official J. Tallahassee indicated today apprehension of the parties responsible for the slaying would be left to Volusia county officials.

"I always leave these matters to the attorney general and the prosecuting attorney," Governor Clegg said.

Attorney General Clegg said there is no reason for the state to intervene. It is matter for local authorities to handle.

Leonardy returned to his home here for the weekend, said that the legislative session will be filled with bills for consideration and that he will be making appropriations for various purposes.

Mr. Leonardy acquiesced the passage of the teachers' retirement law as an aid to those who have chosen teaching as a career. But, he added, enactment of the measure is being followed by a host of other proposing pensions for those in all walks of life.

Mr. Leonardy returned to the capital yesterday afternoon to be ready for the sessions today.

Hitler believes in free speech for himself.

If you want to act under the Murphy Act, you better get going.

If the Free City of Danzig has any sense, it should want to go to war about it first.

Now that Hitler has had his say, we hope he can relax for a few weeks at least.

This is May Day, a great occasion for head-cracking throughout large parts of the world.

Anyway, Hitler is a public speaker who is always sure of his applause—Times Tribune. They applaud, or else.

They say Hitler is sorry he ever wrote "Mein Kampf." Perhaps his next book will be "How to Make Friends and Influence People."

If someone doesn't stop taking our shears and pastepot, we're going to organize a little anti-aggression front right here in our own office.

If they keep on investigating Florida race tracks, they are liable to discover that the people are taking an awful gamble on them.

The new British ambassador to the United States is a wealthy bachelor. That should give little-brother American mothers something to think about.

The whole world was sorry to learn that Hitler had a slight cold on the day he delivered his address to the Reichstag. They had hoped for a better break.

It took Hitler two hours and a minute to say "No" to President Roosevelt. And ever since then the world has been trying to figure out what he meant.

Apparently we favor the repeal of the Neutrality Act, not because we don't believe in this country's neutrality, but because we believe the Neutrality Act is stupid.

He Killed A Boy

In Daytona Beach Saturday a negro driving a taxi cab ran over a 12-year old boy and killed him. As usual in such cases there was some dispute over whether the negro had been drinking. Some of those connected with the investigation said he had, while others declared he hadn't. Drunken driving, under almost any circumstances, is difficult to prove.

But however that may be, two older brothers of the dead boy, later in the day took the negro away from the constable who had arrested him and shot him to death. It was a deliberate and cold blooded murder. Wounded as he tried to run away, the negro was then filled with shot-gun slugs as he lay on the ground.

Such deplorable outrages against law and order have their root in the failure of society to anticipate just such occurrences and to provide adequate safeguards against them. It is not sufficient merely to call out the National Guard to prevent lynching. Proper laws and proper enforcement of those laws could easily have avoided the cause for such violence.

As long as anybody and everybody who wants to drive a car can do so, such tragedies as this are bound to occur. An automobile is a dangerous instrument. Its use should be restricted to those competent to use it without danger to the rest of the community. No one should have the right to get behind the steering wheel of a car and take the lives of all the other people using the highways into his hands.

But there are today people driving cars who are habitually under the influence of liquor. They have been driving while drunk so long without serious consequences that they will argue they can drive better when they are drunk than when they are sober. There are others who have been hauled into court again and again for drunken driving where they pay their fines and return to their steering wheels almost before they have sobered up.

Perhaps even worse than drunken drivers is that increasing number of persons who for the first time in their lives have found their opportunity to drive a car. This is particularly true in the case of negroes. There is a higher percentage of negroes driving cars today than ever before and the number is constantly increasing.

In some respects this is undoubtedly a good thing as it demonstrates the increasing financial responsibility of the negro. But however good it may be, no one, black or white, should be allowed to drive a car on the public highways until he can prove his knowledge of traffic laws and highway rules.

You cannot take a grown man whose mental processes have never had to move more rapidly than is necessary to operate a plow behind an antiquated mule, and put him behind a steering wheel in an automobile going 60, 70, or 80 miles an hour, and expect him to operate it with any reasonable degree of safety either to himself or to the public at large. And yet that is exactly what is being attempted today.

The State Legislature should enact a law at its present session requiring every person who drives a car to have a drivers license and the holding of that license should be dependent upon his ability to drive soberly, competently, and safely. In the absence of such a law and with the continuance of reckless and drunken driving, such unfortunate outbreaks of violence as occurred in Daytona Saturday may be expected.

College Education

A not very cheerful picture of the advantages of college education is drawn by the U. S. Office of Education which has been studying the questionnaires of some 40,000 alumni who graduated from 31 colleges between the years of 1929 and 1935. Here are some of the conclusions which this study revealed:

1. Of the men, 58 percent, and of the women, 61 percent have never been unemployed since graduation. Ninety-eight percent of the men and 90 percent of the women have never been on relief. Ninety-six percent of the women reporting are today either temporarily or permanently employed, though many took a year or two to connect with the job.

2. The average typical college man one year out of school is making about $1314 a year, and after eight years he has climbed to $2383. For women the average salaries were, first year $1002; eighth year $1600.

3. Nearly two-thirds of the graduates go into the professions, and after eight years about 10 percent are owners or part owners of their businesses. More than half gravitate into cities of 100,000 population or over.

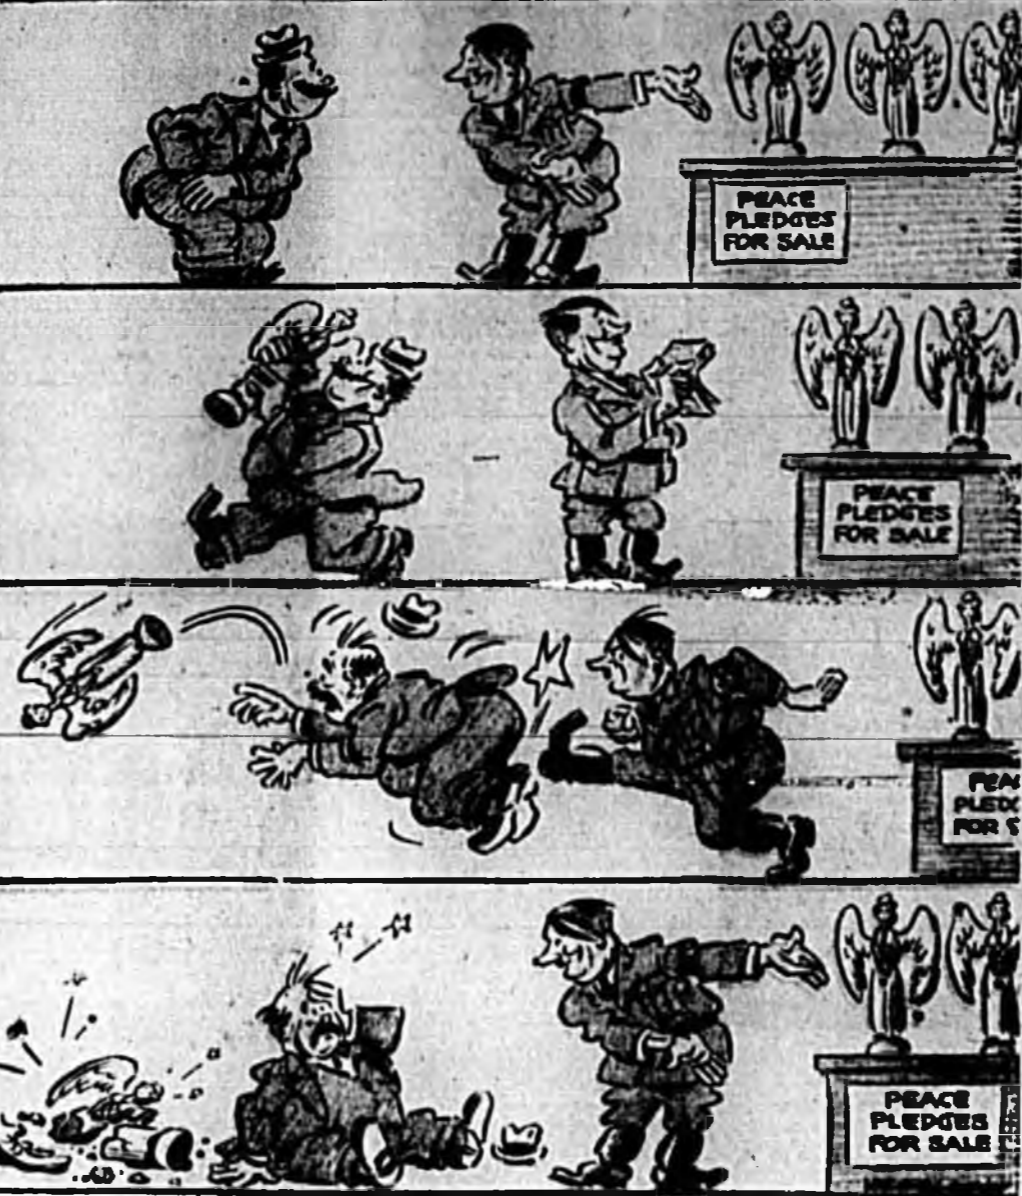

4. Of married alumni in the group surveyed, 57 percent of the men, and 61 percent of the women report no children. To 12,223 men graduates were born 7727 children; to 6359 women graduates were born 3463. The divorce rate among college graduates is lower than among people in general.

"There's your picture", says Willis Thornton, in commenting upon these figures. "A young fellow goes to college. He graduates at about 22. He gets a job fairly quickly at about $25 a week. Not much, maybe, but better than the income of the average wage-earner. After eight years he's married, getting about $48, with less than a 50-50 chance of having children to support. There is one chance in five that by that time he'll be his own boss.

"That's pretty good proof that the pre-depression picture of the value of college has vanished. In those days it was graduate, become a bond salesman, and make a million within five years. Today the picture is less flamboyant and very much more realistic. The college degree today is no touchstone, no guarantee of monetary success. It never was.

"The greatest value of the college diploma today, as always, must be sought in other places than the pocketbook, in other values than those which may be set down in a checkbook."

MR. HITLER IS WILLING TO DEAL WITH ANY COUNTRY

Importance Of Proper Diet For Children Is Emphasized By Nurse

Growing children need more food in proportion to their size than grown-ups, says Mrs. Inez M. Nelson, R. N. of Orlando, district supervisor of public health nursing of the Florida State Board of Health and chairman for local May Day-Child Health Day celebrations. "Children need the most food for their size when they are growing the fastest and when they are most active, which is when they are babies and again when they are in their teens," is Mrs. Nelson's opinion. "That is why it is so important for them to eat the proper kind of food at this time, and why so many communities this year are emphasizing in their May Day-Child Health Day celebrations the importance of good nutrition."

No single kind of food will build a strong body nor keep a body healthy, according to Mrs. Nelson. She says that the U. S. Children's Bureau suggests the following nutrition list for growing children:

MILK—One and one-half pints to one quart a day for each child.

BUTTER—(or oleomargarine that contains added vitamin A)—At every meal.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES—At least four servings a day for each child. In choosing them, consult this list:

A fruit or vegetable rich in vitamin C: Oranges, grapefruit, tomatoes, green leafy vegetables, cabbage, turnips.

WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

By JOE HENRICKS

KEEP THE RECORD STRAIGHT—FLORIDA CANAL... Congressman J. Harold Patterson, in his News Column of last week had this to say about the favorable report on the Florida Canal...

MY SECRETARIES—No one can realize the importance of secretaries more than a member of Congress. As far as the public is concerned, they are usually in the background. The Congressman fully realizes that his secretaries are on the firing line all the while, and his success depends on their action. I have been fortunate in securing two very efficient, loyal and intelligent secretaries in Mr. Jack Haysworth and Miss Kathleen Whittle. I regret to say that I am losing Miss Whittle, who is getting a better position, well, I can train them and then promote them.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS—Announcements of the following examinations have been received. Alphanumeric card-punch librarian, Department of Justice, $2,600; Senior air safety investigator, Civil Aeronautics authority, $4,600 a year.

VETERANS HOSPITAL—By the time this column reaches the press I will have introduced a bill to provide for an additional veterans hospital in the State of Florida. This bill, if enacted into law, would provide for the construction of a hospital with 500 beds and other facilities commensurate with the needs of veterans in the State of Florida. There are a good many cities in my District which would like to have a facility of this sort. Naturally they will be after me to help. In the bill I did not provide any particular site, merely leaving that to the discretion of the Veterans Administration. If the bill should pass, which will take a good deal of time and hard work, then those interested in having this facility will be permitted to make their bid in the board and I shall be glad to assist them in any way possible. I find that the veterans of my District are 100% behind this bill.

TOUGH AND TENDER—A quotation from the President's Reorganization measure: "Confident in our republic's 140 years of successful resistance to all subversive attempts upon it, whether from without or within, nevertheless, we must be con-

Lookouts Blank Visiting Saints By Score Of 4-0

Sanford Nine Loses First Game To Palatka Azaleas

Old Hudson Adds Home Run To Excellent Mound Performance While Assisting Locals In Their 11th Triumph

Old Hudson pitched his second shut out of the season yesterday afternoon, setting the Saints down 4-0 to give the Lookouts their 11th win after dropping their first game Saturday night at Palatka, when the Azaleas put on a half ninth inning rally to win 6-5.

Hudson allowed the Saints six hits over the route yesterday, shipping in with a home run over the left field wall in the last of the eighth as his contribution to the proceedings.

Ambercrombie, on the mound for the Saints, was pounded for a total of nine hits by the Lookouts. Souter led the parade with three blows out of four trips up, one of them a two bagger in the last of the seventh driving in Eason.

The Lookouts showed across one run in the last of the first when two fielding flops by the Saints outfield brought in Sken after Ambercrombie had checked out a pass to him.

In the last of the seventh a single by Sken, followed by Souter's double and an intentional pass to Alexander totaled two runs.

Saturday night in Palatka the Azaleas snapped the winning streak of the Lookouts in a free hitting contest. Vincent, southpaw getting nicked for 16 hits against 18 safeties the Sanford club connected for against Letts, one of which was a homer by Alexander in the last of the third with one aboard.

The Lookouts lead 5-4 going into the last half of the ninth when a walk to Whittaker, followed by Kinard's single, and then double by Emerson evened things up, until Renaldi came through with a single scoring Kinard to end the game.

SID HUDSON, veteran Sanford hurler, turned in an excellent performance on the mound against the St. Augustine Saints yesterday and then went to the plate and blasted out a home run in the eighth to lead the way in the 4 to 0 victory of his teammates.

Sanford's lineup for the game was: Zimmerman, cf; Souter, 1b; Kinard, 2b; Sken, 3b; Hudson, p; Letts, c; Eason, lf; Whittaker, rf; Emerson, ss.

Palatka's lineup was: Letts, c; Souter, 1b; Kinard, 2b; Sken, 3b; Hudson, p; Eason, lf; Whittaker, rf; Emerson, ss.

Nosing out the Palatka Azaleas 2 to 0, the Daytona Beach Islanders slipped into second place yesterday while the Leesburg Anglers, former holders of this position, lost to the Gainesville G-Men 7 to 5 while the DeLand Red Hats continued to improve their hoop standing by a 10 to 2 victory over the lowly Orlando Senators.

In the game at Palatka, the Islanders scored two runs in the first inning as their only tallies as the younger Tampa pitcher tightened down to allow the visitors only 2 hits. Shroba, Daytona Beach tosser, gave up five hits but kept them scattered. At Leesburg, the visiting Gainesville nine strung a four run scoring splurge in the fourth frame to take a comfortable 6 to 0 lead over the Anglers. Although the Anglers pounded out a total of 10 hits they were unable to combine them with men on base for counters.

In the other State League game at Orlando, the DeLand team got to three Senator hurlers for a total of 13 hits which they bunched in the sixth and again in the seventh to score nine of their runs. Orlando scored one run in the second inning to lead in the early part of the game.

Local Nine Journeys To St. Augustine Tonight

Tonight "Jazzy" Dean, tall right-hander, will hold down the pitching assignment when the Lookouts hop to St. Augustine for an attempt at their fourth win over the celestial gentlemen who yesterday took their third trouncing from the locals.

The Saints are now in fifth place with six wins and eight losses since the season's opening two weeks ago; three of the losses having the personal autograph of the Alexandermen who claimed down on the Saints 16-8 at St. Augustine in their second game of the season, handled the situation with a deft 8-5 touch when the Saints returned here, and then continued the habit yesterday when Sid Hudson came through with his second shutout of the season.

Jeter and Pinder will be held in reserve for relief duty tonight in case the big right-hander falters.

Tuesday night Jeter is slated to take the mound when the Daytona Beach Islanders make their second call at 8:05 o'clock at the Municipal Athletic Field.

The annual damage done by insects to crops in the United States is estimated at $3,000,000.

Opposition Is Routed By House Majority For Quick Action On Road Repayments

Counties Would Get Large Sum Tax Revenues Would Be Used To Repay Road Bond Interest

TALLAHASSEE, May 2.—(AP)—Bills to have Florida counties about $300,000,000 out of the gasoline taxes for public roads, they have built speed quickly through the House of Representatives today.

A well-organized House majority beat down every effort at amendment. The bills provide for gasoline tax revenue to be used for repaying counties what they have spent on road building bonds, leases, and repaying them for interest they have spent in building any public roads later designated state roads.

Speaker Wood said payments could be made "as far back as the records go." Chairman Harrell of the Finance and Taxation committee said the two bills would not interfere with the 1931 law repaying counties for the building of roads which were made a part of the State highway system prior to 1931.

The powerful House Finance and Taxation Committee stamped its approval yesterday upon a bill which would allow tax delinquents to pay their taxes one year after they become delinquent. Harrell explained the bill would provide for county tax collections to offer at public sale all property on which taxes become delinquent April 1. (Continued on Page Two)

Racing Fund Suit Is Ended By High Court

Non-Racing Bloc In Legislature Withdraws Threats Of Reprisals On Dade

TALLAHASSEE, May 2.—(AP)—The Supreme Court today formally dismissed the Wiggins race track fund suit and the non-racing county bloc in the Legislature withdrew its threats of reprisals against bills introduced by the Dade County (Miami) delegation.

Charles E. Wiggins of Miami, who impounded $700,000 in race track taxes by attacking the validity of equal distribution of the fund among the state's counties, asked the court to dismiss the suit.

Comptroller J. M. Lee made plans to credit the impounded money to counties today. "Dismissal of the suit will clear the atmosphere," said Representative J. Slater Smith of Clay County, leader of a non-racing county bloc which he said had 62 House votes. He had served notice in the House that the group would withdraw from the calendar all Dade County bills "unless we get this racing controversy settled."

Smith said dismissal of the Wiggins suit was one of the demands the non-racing bloc made. Representative Overstreet of Miami said the Dade delegation did not cause the Wiggins suit to be filed, but the delegation did not oppose its dismissal. He said some Miami merchants had supported it.

With the Supreme Court dismissal, Comptroller J. M. Lee now has authority to distribute the money to the counties immediately—about $27,000 to each county.

Miami merchants and others have advocated reducing the racing season and limiting operations to five days a week. Representative Smith said the non-racing county bloc had determined "we're not going to let anybody interfere with the money being distributed to the counties."

After the Wiggins suit was filed and distribution was prevented, bills appeared in the Legislature to repeal the entire racing law and to require bond of the Wiggins suit to maintain his suit in the courts. These have not passed.

Both Houses adopted a resolution for investigating the "causes" of the suit and several Miamians, including Wiggins, have been summoned before a committee here tonight.

Tax Relief, Spending Curb Are Advocated At C. Of C. Meeting

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(AP)—Talk of political action to alter present government policies to have dominated the annual meeting yesterday of the chamber of commerce of the United States.

Businessmen outside of the organization's meeting session, heard speakers at a speaker dinner they must take the lead in a nation-wide effort to see that Congress modifies the Wagner Labor Relations Act, grants tax relief, curbs government spending and restores federal control generally to a minimum.

Reports of business conditions and prospects better than last year's were laid before the chamber by delegates from many different sections, but in several instances there were tempered by warning that the great and lasting improvement could be expected until administration policies were revised.

Perhaps the most outspoken critic of the Roosevelt administration was Harry C. Fugate, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who declared: "We need a better psychology about the Supreme Court. Businessmen feel that it is stacked against them. They feel that all New Deal legislation will be destroyed."

State Department May Ask League Action On Proposal For Greater Protection

Europe's Nations Are Marking Time

Britain Gives Germany List Of Undesirable Nazis

The 12-mile limit, which was fixed to combat rum running during prohibition, may be re-enforced as a defense measure by the United States if a European war begins.

The State Department is investigating the value of a 12-mile zone of territorial waters to replace the three-mile zone which dates back to the time when a cannon could shoot only three miles.

Because of international questions involved, the State Department was said to prefer that the limit be fixed by the League of Nations.

Europe itself had the appearance today of marking time. The British home office disclosed it had given to the German embassy a list of Nazis in England whose residence was not desired. This prompted a German press attack on what was termed "shabby treatment" of Germans in Britain.

After a visit of high Hungarian officials to Berlin there was talk in informed quarters that Hungary might be awarded another slice of Slovakia.

The British House of Commons after a week of discussion, concluded an agreement with Soviet Russia. It was said to discuss what is the best form.
