For many sessions of Copgress, local citisens have had an opportunity to voice their opinions on numerous questions confronting the lawmakers of our country. No doubt, the combined voices of people, expressing to their congressman how they feel on this or that issue must have some effect on the decisions made during Congressional sescions.

Congressman A. S. "Syd" Herlong Jr. provides the oportunity for every citizen to speak his or her piece regarding the many measures on which decisions must be made In our editorial columns today, we bring you Congressman Herlong's annual questionnaire.

We suggest that each reader take the time to answer the questions enumerated and mail the questionnaire to your congressman as indicated in the release. If necessary, attach a sheet explaining your views on. other matters you think deserve attention -this would be appreciated by Congressman Herlong, we believe.

Here is the annual questionnaire:

"Some of the questions are the same as in previous years. The reason is these issues are still before the Congress. We want to know if changing world and domestic conditions have altered your thinking, Naturally I will use my best judgement in voting on these issues, but it is helpful to have the expression of the views of the people. I represent. Obviously I can't agree with all of you on any issue because I am sure that your replies will not be unanimous on any one subject. I will appreciate it if you will fill out the questionnaire and mail it to me, Congressman Syd Herlong Jr., 1506 House Office Building, Washington, D. C. Address . 1. Do you favor experimental

In a new move East German Communist Leader Walter Ulbricht proposed in a newspaper interview last week that as a first step toward possible eventual reunification, East and West Germany enter into a sort of federal agreement. In this, the two German regimes would organize a cooperative council in which each would have equal membership.

It is too early to tell whether anything can come out of the Rapacki Plan. In its present form, t is obviously loaded against the Western Allies. But, as suggested, there seems to be a possibility that it could be made the basis for some kind of East-West negotiations.

Navy Base Proves That Action Speaks Louder Than Words

The City of Sanford was recently shown that the old adage. "Action speaks louder than words", is understood and practiced by the U. S. Navy, or at least by the Naval personnel at the U. S. Naval Air Station, Sanford.

The Naval Aviation News, a Navy Magazine, is planning on publishing a feature article in its magazine concerning noise proelems which have arisen as a reault of high performance aircraft sperations. The NavAirNews (as It is ofen called), recently contacted Captain L. A. Arthur, Commandina Officer, NAS, Sanford, and requested that his Public Information Staff provide the magazine with such information.

Lieutenant Commander, E. H. Dohne, Assistant Public Information Officer at the Naval Air Stasion, in compliance with the reuest from NavAlrNews, conducted an interview with several Sanford residents on the problem of air noise created by jet aircraft operating at NAS Sanford. Dohne interviewed Mrs. Earl Higginbotham, housewife; Charles M. James, proprietor of a gasoling station; Miss Dorothy Powell, co-owner of Powell's Office Supply; and Mrs. Jack Hall, whose husband is the ownermanager of Yowell's Department Store in Sanford.

The majority of opinion is that siz noise can sometimes be quite annoying to the reade its of Sanford, but that they are more than willing to put up with this "necessary evil' in exchange for the strong, protective arm of the Sanford-based, Heavy Attack Wing
