LEW DOCKSTADER COMEDIAN, DIES IN NEW YORK TODAY

Death Results From Bone Tumor in His Left Leg, Suffered in a Fall Two Years Ago; Was Great Comedian

Sketch of Career

A generation or more ago, when many of the sure-fire jokes that are bringing laughs today were young and headless, the dressing room of Lew Dockstader, was one of the main founts from which the choicest humor flowed, and the big, jovial, rollicking comedian himself—laugh purveyor to the millions—was author as well as distributor of a goodly part.

Lew Dockstader, whose real name was Alfred Clapp, was born in Hartford, Conn., August 7, 1856. He learned to play several musical instruments in his boyhood, and for seventeen years was a member of an amateur minstrel band before making his professional debut. In 1873 he teamed with the Earl, Emmett and Wild troupe for a tour of the Eastern states, and later transferred to the Broadway Comic Alliance of Springfield, Mass.

The following year he joined the Whitmore and Clark minstrels, and after a tour lasting several months, made his way to San Francisco, where he appeared in a song and dance act with the Adelphi teachers, under the management of Cobhill and Cooper. The famous old song, "Peter, You're in Luck This Morning," was one of his own choosing, and made Dockstader the headliner.

Joining Sargeants Minstrels, he returned to New York and formed a partnership with Charles Dockstader, under the name of the Charles and Lew Dockstader Minstrels. They prospered for a time, but were disbanded when Charles became ill and was forced to retire. Lew Dockstader immediately formed another company, and for the first time became sole owner of his own attraction. He was 22 years old at the time.

In 1880 the Dockstader Minstrels were established in New York for a long run, and for more than three years were as much of a fixture as City Hall itself. In 1890, however, financial difficulties arose and the comedian was forced to strike out for himself and for several years he was alone in vaudeville in all the "big time" circuits touring the country.

He is said to have been before the public longer than any other blackface comedian, and to have had the honor and distinction, as well as the pleasant sensation, of receiving the largest salary ever paid in the branch of the profession.

Committee Is Probing Campaign Collections

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Additional information regarding the organization and methods of two score and more collection committees at work raising funds in New York for the Republican national committee was sought today by the senate campaign fund investigating committee.

Guy D. Emerson, chief of organization and operation, was one of the main witnesses called in connection with this phase of inquiry. Many other witnesses are on hand and the committee expects to cover considerable ground in the first of the three or four sessions remaining before adjournment until after election Nov. 4.

Lake Monroe Rises Quarter Of An Inch

After having remained at the same level for three successive days last week, approximately 10 inches over the retaining wall of the bulk head, the water in Lake Monroe rose two one-hundredths of a foot or nearly one-quarter of an inch from Saturday morning to this morning.

This information was received today from the office of the city engineer where it was said that the rise was probably due to the rains during the latter part of last week.

enger with his family have occupied their home at 704 Laurel Avenue.

The unfortunate man was a carpenter by trade having applied himself to this line of work for a great many years. He was a member of the Sanford Carpenters' Union and also was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Messenger is survived by his widow, two sons Verne of this city and William of Jacksonville and a daughter, Miss Nell Messenger, also of this city. He is also survived by a sister, Mrs. Carrie Boaz of Tampa and three brothers, Phillip, Gove and John Messenger, all living in Kansas.

Funeral services were held at the home Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with Rev. E. J. Brownlee, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in charge. Burial took place in Lake View cemetery.

Six members of the Sanford Carpenters' Union served as pallbearers.

Little Miss Margaret Padgett Dies Sunday; Formerly Lived Here

News was received here today of the sudden and unexpected death on Sunday of little Miss Margaret Padgett, now six, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Padgett of Palatka. Mr. and Mrs. Padgett resided in Sanford for a considerable period several years ago and their friends here will sympathize with them in their bereavement.

It is said that the little girl came home from school Friday afternoon and complained of being sick. Her condition continually grew worse and she died on Sunday.

Mr. Padgett is known in this city as a member of the firm of Stringfellow and Padgett, wholesale grocers, of Palatka. Mrs. Padgett will be remembered by many as Miss Alice Conway of Green Cove Springs.

Margaret is also survived by a younger brother, Joel Padgett.

Proposed County Road Improvement Plans Almost Completed

The paving program of the county district represented by Longwood and Altamonte Springs was adopted as satisfactory by the Good Roads committee of the local Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Friday night with representatives of the district just named, said the secretary of the local trade body today.

This, he said, practically completes the program to be presented to the Board of County Commissioners at its next meeting. The only remaining difficulty, it was stated, is that of having another meeting with representatives of the Geneva and Chuluota district in order to ascertain whether or not the Titusville district of Volusia county is going to build a road to the Seminole county line at the Titusville bridge.

It has been said that this county will build no roads to a dead end and that if it builds a good road to the bridge named, Volusia county must build a road to the bridge on the other side.

City Commission Will Have Regular Session

Only routine business will be handled by the City Commission at its regular meeting this afternoon and the large business has been contracted to be awarded just yet as there are no additional proposals for the project, said Mayor Commissioner Forrest Lake this morning.

At a special meeting last Monday afternoon, bonds for a number of municipal improvements were sold at par and a large premium according to their own position to know. It is thought that the commission will be kept busy this afternoon with a number of small matters, as this is the first regular meeting in several weeks.

Injured Woman Cuts Breasts and Wrists To Feed Niece on Blood

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 27.—Dr. T. H. Kelly, who made a long-remembered record of a woman, "killed" her breasts and wrists to keep alive with her blood her five-year-old niece, died last night as a result of injuries and exposure.

Just one week ago an auto in which Mr. and Mrs. Kelly and their little niece were riding, plunged over a cliff into a gulch 300 feet below.

Hidden from view by shrubbery, they could not be seen by passers-by. Early died after twelve hours of suffering. The child suffered only a broken arm but was injured by starvation and thirst.

STARTS SUE

SE. PETERS LAKE, Oct. 27.—William S. Merrill, Sr., has started all in the courts here to test a city ordinance prohibiting minor from operating motor cars. The suit is the outgrowth of the arrest of William S. Merrill, Jr., on charge of operating a motor vehicle he being under the age of 16. The rider Merrill says he will fight the case to a conclusion, taking it to whatever court that may be necessary to "prove the unconstitutionality and invalidity of the ordinance."

MANY THOUSAND VOTES CAN BE OBTAINED IN 4 WEEKS

The ninth week of The Herald's subscription contest has begun. After next Saturday night will remain only three weeks—18 working days during which contestants may secure subscriptions to this paper, and by so doing, obtain votes.

The young lady who has the greatest number of votes to her credit on the night of November 22, will be declared the winner of the Buick touring car which is to be given away by The Herald at that time.

Subscriptions get votes. Votes will win prizes.

Don't be satisfied with clipping the coupons of the paper each day. They will be a great help to you but will not bring you sufficient votes to make possible for you to win. The securing of subscriptions is the only way to make a big score, and a score will most certainly be needed, judging by what some contestants are working.

DON'T WAIT UNTIL THE LAST WEEK

Subscriptions will be hard to secure during the last week of the contest. By that time the entire county will have been thoroughly covered and it will be no easy matter to get subscriptions.

And the voting power of subscriptions will be so great during the last period of the campaign as now.

Far-sighted contestants are doing all they can to pile up a big lead while it is possible to do so.

The fight will be a hot one at the end. There won't be enough hours in the days during the last period. It will be a contest such as has never been seen in this part of the state. To win the grand prize as a contestant, no matter how confident she may be at this time, will have to redouble her efforts, or she may be defeated by some other worker who just now may appear less formidable.

CHECK IN EVERY DAY

Don't wait until the end of a period to check in. Do it every day. Help the newspaper get the paper started immediately so that subscribers will receive the paper promptly.

There are only two more periods. After Saturday of this week there are but eighteen working days. You cannot afford to let one of them slip by.

OLD SUBSCRIPTIONS COUNT AS WELL AS NEW ONES

Contestants are reminded of the fact that renewals of old subscriptions count for just as many votes as new subscriptions. By seeing all the people who are now subscribers to The Herald, and by securing advance payment of their subscriptions, contestants can easily pile up a big number of votes.

There are a good many subscribers to this paper who will be glad to help you, if you but ask them.

And there are a good many people living in Seminole county who have not yet been asked to subscribe. A subscription to the weekly issue will help if any person doesn't want to pay $7 for the daily.

Make these last four weeks busy weeks and win that valuable Buick. You can do it, if you really want to.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

GREAT POWER FROM GOD

Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions and over all the power of an enemy; and nothing shall hurt you. Luke 10: 19.

TO THOSE WHO FAIL

"All honor to him who shall win the prize." The world has cried for a thousand years: But to him who tries, and who fails and dies. I give great honor and glory and tears. Give glory and honor and pitiful tears. To all who fall in their deeds and to their friends who are many, in the van of years. They were born with Time, in advance of Time.

Oh, great is the hero who wins a name.

But greater many and many a time. Some pale-faced fellow who dies in shame. And lets God finish the thoughts sublime.

And great is the man with a sword withdrawn.

And good is the man who refrains from wine; But the man who fails and yet still fights on, Let he is the twin born brother of mine.

—Joaquin Miller.

FOR DAVIS AND BRYAN

In order to vote for JOHN W. DAVIS for President and CHARLES W. BRYAN for Vice-President, you must vote for the six Democratic Presidential Electors. These will not be distinguished on the ballot from the Electors of other parties. Following are the names of the Democratic Electors. Memorize them so that you may vote correctly: J. Lee Anderson, D. W. Berry, John Q. Hinchshaw, Marvin C. McIntosh, W. Blount Myers, J. Hinton Pledger.

Weather like this should tend to make business pick up.

Some folks pay their bills promptly; others have their bills taken away from them.

May be it would be interesting to publish the income tax lists in Florida.

Pedestrians who don't look both ways apparently fail to realize that their lives hang in balance.

Railroad crossing is the greatest game of chance today, with the brakes all favoring the on-coming locomotive.

There are really not many squawks in the world. Practically everyone is in favor of the anti inheritance tax amendment.

All that a certain boy, home from college for the week end, could talk about was football and fraternities. Is he getting the most out of college?

Wonder if the Ocean Star noticed that, according to a paper prepared by Dr. Ballou and read before the American Society of Ichthyologists and Herpetologists, the original inventor of all present day snakes make a lizard when roamed through Texas 25,000,000 years ago.

One week from today is Election Day. That should cause just two important reactions in the mind of the good citizen. There are only a few days left in which he can make his contribution to the Democratic Campaign Fund. Then one week from today he must go to the polls and vote.

Viscount Kaneko, for many years foremost in the promotion of friendly relations between this country and Japan resigned the other day as president of the American-Japan Society in Tokio. On account of the passage of the Immigration Bill, the Viscount said, "America is sending us to Hell."

We envy The Tampa Tribune for its editorial, the Times-Union for its editorial news service, the Palm Beach Post for its metropolitan make-up, the Ocala Star for its paragraphs, the St. Petersburg Independent for its consistent and successful boosting of its own home town and the Miami Herald for its advertising patronage.

John Davis got them told in New York the other day when they wanted to know how he stood on the Klan issue. He said, "If any organization, called the Ku Klux Klan or anything else, attempts to interfere with the guarantee of clause three of the Constitution, I will raise my voice in protest. I hope my voice will fall on deaf ears and my tongue will cleave to the roof of my mouth."

The Proposed Tax Amendment

On November 4 Florida voters will be called upon to register their opinions upon as important a matter as has been brought before them in many years. Each election time proposed amendments to the constitution are presented to them; this year there are five, but one is of far out-standing importance.

The amendment which means so much to the future of this state follows:

"No tax upon inheritance or upon income of residents or citizens of this state shall be levied by the state of Florida, or under its authority, and there shall be exempt from taxation to the head of a family residing in this state, household goods and personal effects to the value of five hundred ($500.00) dollars.

This is the most constructive legislation ever proposed by the state of Florida, probably by any state in the Union, and when approved will bring billions of dollars into Florida.

W. A. McKee, formerly commissioner of agriculture of Florida, has written an excellent article regarding the proposed tax amendment. The Herald heartily endorses all that Mr. McKee has written on the subject and reproduces it here in full:

"Again Florida is leading all the states in the favorable comment she is getting on the constitutional amendment to be voted on in November, which amendment proposes to prohibit the levying and collecting of income or inheritance taxes.

"Florida is probably the largest state east of the Mississippi River. (Geographies give Georgia as the largest and Florida as second.)

"Florida is forty-five times as large as the state of Rhode Island, and has a land area of approximately thirty-five million acres, capable under intensive cultivation of supporting a population of fifteen million people. Out of this immense acreage only two and one-half million acres are actually in a state of cultivation and our population is (approximately) one million two hundred fifty thousand.

"Florida is five times as large as Holland. Florida has better soils and better climate than Holland, yet Holland supports a population of three million five hundred thousand.

"With soils unsurpassed, with climate unsurpassed, what Florida needs now is people and money with which to develop our soils and build our cities and towns.

"There are only two ways of looking at this proposition of taxation:

- 1. Shall we tax the life out of the people we now have, and the improved property we now have, all of which is small?
2. Or shall we lessen the tax burden of our limited number of citizens and limited assessable property, and invite men and women of capital to come and be citizens with us and put their money in development, subject only to the usual tax burdens?

"In the first proposition we are killing the goose that is laying the golden eggs.

"In the second we not only protect the goose that we now have, but we are adding more geese to our flock to lay more golden eggs.

"To pass the amendment that will prohibit the levying and collecting of inheritance and income taxes, would mean that Florida will be one step in advance of all the states.

"With this amendment passed, in ten years our population would be doubled and our assessed valuation for taxes would be more than quadrupled.

This isn't a political issue. It is a sensible business proposition. The Democrats favor it. The Republicans favor it. The Chamber of Commerce of the state favors it. Labor favors it.

All progressive organizations in the state favor it. The merchants and business men of the state favor it.

"Most farmers of the state favor it and all would favor it if they thoroughly understood it.

"It is good business for the small taxpayer and for the large taxpayer alike.

"The largest majority ever given to any measure should be given to this proposition in the election in November.

"I am for it because I know it is the biggest proposition we have before us at this time looking toward the development of our state."

A NEWSPAPER is quite a bit different from any other line of business. When once established in a good live town it goes on forever while other lines of business change management occasionally, but the same old paper is issued and read week after week and year after year. There is no use getting peeved at the editor. If he starves out there is always someone to take his place. You may kill all the editors you please, but when you try to kill off a well established newspaper you might as well give it up for some day it is going to publish your obituary.—Exchange.

LET THE PEOPLE DECIDE

TAMPA TIMES

The campaign is fast drawing to a close. In ten days more those of us who take an interest in the government of our country will be going to the polls and selecting our rulers for the coming four years. There ought to be an immense army of us, some 50,000,000 or so, if all vote who are entitled to. But, if we are to judge by precedent, that will not happen.

Statistics show that for the last 50 years the ratio of voters to population has been steadily declining. In the last presidential election scarcely one-half of the voters went to the polls at all. That is a mighty poor showing for a nation that makes the proud boast to the world that it is self-governing. As a matter of fact the boast is not true. The people do not govern. A majority do not even try to. They leave it to the minority, consist usually of professional politicians and their henchmen, who have a direct interest in spending the taxes wrung from the people.

As a direct result of this carelessness and indifference we have the most expensive government in the world. The nations of the Old World stand amazed at the size of our budgets and wonder how we do it. Not until recent years have we had a budget at all. The many departments of government have some merrily on their way spending mopes without restriction and calling on Congress at the end

As Brisbane Sees It

Modern China. Educate the Educators. Worry About the Body. Even Kings Learn. BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1924)

THE CHINESE are getting a touch of modern war, and don't like it. Some time ago the energetic Chang, who wants to boss China, was dropping explosives from flying machines. Now he has blown several thousand Peking troops into the air, exploding mines under them.

WHILE THE Chinese fight each other it doesn't mean much to what we are pleased to call "Western civilization."

But what will happen one of these days, after the hundreds of millions of Asians have thoroughly mastered our Western war methods and decide to use them in extending their territory.

AN "EDUCATOR" of Minnesota is accused of punishing boys in a high school by causing them to sit in an "electric chair," causing severe burns.

In New York State, another "educator" of the same gorilla type confessed that he had beaten a little negro girl with a rubber hose.

IT MIGHT cure the man with the rubber hose to let him spend half an hour in a closed room with Wills, the negro fighter, the latter also equipped with a piece of rubber hose.

The Minnesota educator could be enlightened by a brief stay in a real electric chair, but that would be too drastic, even for that kind of brutality.

MOSES H. CONE, worth many millions, feared that criminals would steal his body after death. So when he died his body sealed up in a great grave of reinforced concrete.

In spite of all precautions ghoulia have opened the grave. They thought it must contain something very valuable.

HAVE YOU noticed how little men seem to think about their souls while they are alive, and how much they think about what will happen to their bodies after they are dead? A corpse left behind is no more important than a pair of worn-out shoes thrown aside. Yet men of power from the Pharaoh that built the first pyramid to millionaire come with his concrete grave, have worried about their bodies.

The question interesting to one thinking of death should be "Where do I go from here?" not "Who is going to steal my body?"

KINGS IN Europe seem to realize that men and conditions change. For instance, here's King Alexander, who according to a dispatch from Belgrade, says it isn't treason for his subjects to demand a republic or to express the opinion that they ought to get rid of him. "I do not ask any man to relinquish his principles," says he. "We live in modern times."

THAT FOREIGN king will surprise some of our American kings. They call it not only treason, but blasphemy, and bleed red radicals' soul if anybody suggests that it might be possible to improve that respectable document, the United States Constitution.

HUNGARIAN students, demanding the expulsion of Jews from classes in anatomy, have caused the closing of an important college. The students, if you please, complain because in the anatomy class, where bodies are furnished for dissection, no Jewish bodies were furnished. The reason is that the Jewish community guarantees decent burial to all unidentified Jewish dead. Therefore none drift to the dissecting room. Plenty of Christian bodies arrive to be cut up, because nobody cares to bury them.

Nevertheless, the anti-Semitic students demand that Jewish as well as Christian bodies shall be dissected. The Minister of the Interior says while the students act unlawfully, I sympathize with them. I cannot punish Hungarian youth for a few Jews."

THAT'S TOO bad, but as you remember, the whole of Europe was punished, twenty million lives were sacrificed, Hungary and Austria were reduced to beggary and by mutilation, all because a Serbian happened to shoot one rather worth less grand duke. What about that?

WHILE DOCTOR Bones, of Czechoslovakia, talks peace in the League of Nation sand discusses Japan's right to regulate immigration laws and other domestic affairs of the United States, the Czechoslovak newspaper Tribuna brags with good reason about the power of the "Little Entente," Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia and Rumania have 100,000 soldiers among them. They could mobilize 3,000,000 on short notice.

Those little nations, very hard up, but very brave and not willing to stand any nonsense, are earnest seekers of loans from the United States. Perhaps the best way for the United States to encourage peace in Europe would be to stop lending money to Europe.

Distribution of German bonds in this country will cause many Americans owing the bonds to interest themselves in European affairs. European securities face mercurial. At any minute a war cloud as big as the Kaiser's hand might pass, the value of such bonds to crumble. If your money is invested in European securities, watch European NEWS.

WELL, WELL, STILL THEY COME

THE PERFECT GENTLEMAN

ASHEVILLE CITIZEN

Much has been spoken and written of "the perfect gentleman" and "the beau ideal of Southern gentility." He has been lauded in prose and pictured in poetry. He has been described as tall and dashing, thickset and dignified, blond and brunet. But all that loses interest, now that we have discovered him in real life.

We found him in a brief paragraph in a news story in The New York World, and, more interesting still, he was one of the big men of the day. "Reverend" Mr. Bernard B. Barmuch, New York originally of South Carolina, beloved by Woodrow Wilson, and the beau ideal of Southern gentility.

Now for the story. It is the custom of millionaires, captains of industry and Society leaders to fund, fret and storm when told that one of their sons is engaged to marry an actress. Their technique of rage at such intelligence has been standardized by ancient usage and many newspaper intimations or deliberate outcries. The famous and talented woman thus linked by rumor with one of their callow offspring is a degraded inferior person, a dastardly and unprincipled schemer, a Cree who chame the golden youth to turn his pockets inside out for her enrichment, a potted bent on blighting the career and destroying the happiness of the boy in question. They have "never heard of the person," or they understand she is decidedly declassée, or they "never heard of such brazen impudence," and they will spend the last dollar of their princely fortune before their son and heir weds the adventuress.

EASY TO QUIT SMOKING?

DAYTONA NEWS

A medical specialist, who serves a lot of mental science along with his pills, tells us that it isn't a tenth as hard to desert Lady Nicotine as the average smoker believes.

He cites the case. One of his patients was informed that he was in the early stages of tuberculosis of the lungs. The bad news came unexpectedly, like a bolt out of the blue. The doctor told him that he hadn't a Chinaman's chance unless he quit his cigarettes.

This man was a regular friend for fags—smoked two and three packs a day. And yet he stopped instantly and without difficulty. It was simply a case that he desired to live more than to smoke. Chronic alcoholism usually is much the same. It's relatively easy to quit if the drinker really wants to. He usually doesn't want to.

The average smoker periodically gets the notion that he is smoking too much. He begins to "taper down." Presently his body responds and his indignation or insomnia or whatever his trouble happened to be, responds. He feels so fine that he unconsciously smokes more, and soon is hitting it up as hard as ever.

The only way to quit any habit is to quit it entirely.

In trying to break off the tobacco habit a man rarely has a sufficiently strong motive to make him win the fight. If he has the motive, as in the case of the tuberculous victim fighting for his life, he wins against nicotine with ease.

That helps him. Given enough fear, man recognizes no obstacles. No drunkard, for instance, can quit liquor until he develops a genuine fear of its power over him.

Nearly everyone believes that to quit smoking means certain agony. That's the popular notion. It is inherited. Jokes help keep it alive. So do the boasts of self-important mortals relating their agonies when they abandoned cigarette or cigarette, always with exaggeration.

Admittedly, to quit tobacco is no easy job in the case of a confirmed smoker, particularly an old timer whose system has become accustomed to it. For a man of 60 to quit is apt, in some cases, to be fatal. But the point is that it's not as hard to quit as most men believe.

As to whether there's any sense in quitting at all, that's another matter. Doctors disagree.

"MARSE ROBERT" IS HONORED

LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL

Sandhurst, the British West Point, where about 600 gentlemen cadets are turned out yearly for the various branches of the military service, has done great honor to an American soldier in unveiling in its halls a bust of Robert E. Lee. England has honored Washington, whose ancestral home, Sulgrave Manor, now is preserved by an international association. Likewise she has done Lincoln honor by erecting in one of her cities a Barnard statue, the twin of that in the Louisville Free Public Library lawn. No American, however, has ever before been recognized by Sandhurst.

PERCY HAUGHTON NOTED FOOTBALL COACH, IS DEAD

Columbia Mentor and Former Head Coach at Harvard is Stricken With Acute Indigestion on Football Field

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Percy D. Haughton, head football coach at Columbia University, founder of the famous "Haughton system," at Harvard and generally regarded as one of the foremost exponents of the gridiron sport, died Monday afternoon at St. Luke's hospital, one hour after he was stricken with acute indigestion at Baker Field while directing the work of his squad.

His sudden death came two days after the Columbia eleven had administered a crushing defeat to Williams College, which was taken as proof by critics that Haughton had installed a football system at Columbia destined to rival his former success at Harvard where his teams from 1908 to 1916 ranked with the best in gridiron history.

The fatal attack interrupted the first practice which was to prepare his squad for its real test next Saturday at Ithaca against Cornell. Army and Dartmouth were also on the most ambitious schedule with Columbia and attempted since football had been revived at Columbia in 1915.

Went to Columbia in 1923. Haughton came to Columbia in April, 1923, taking charge of the spring training of that season. His contract was said to have been for $15,000 a year, thought to be a record price for a football coach. Prior to his advent at Columbia the football teams had been of mediocre caliber.

The new coach worked slowly to install the fundamentals. His success last year was fair and his 1924 squad was only promising. The early games of this year, particularly the 10 to 7 defeat at Pennsylvania two weeks ago, showed some improvement, but in the Williams game the Columbia eleven displayed a powerful attack which proved to be the big surprise of the present season and heavy with possibilities.

Haughton's reputation as a football coach was established at Harvard University, where he took charge of another ailing football situation in 1908 and built up the most remarkable system known to the game up to that period. From the time that his teaching took hold until 1916, when he left, the Harvard eleven were among the most formidable in the east. His 1914 and 1915 teams administered to Yale the most crushing defeats ever received at the hands of her Cambridge rival.

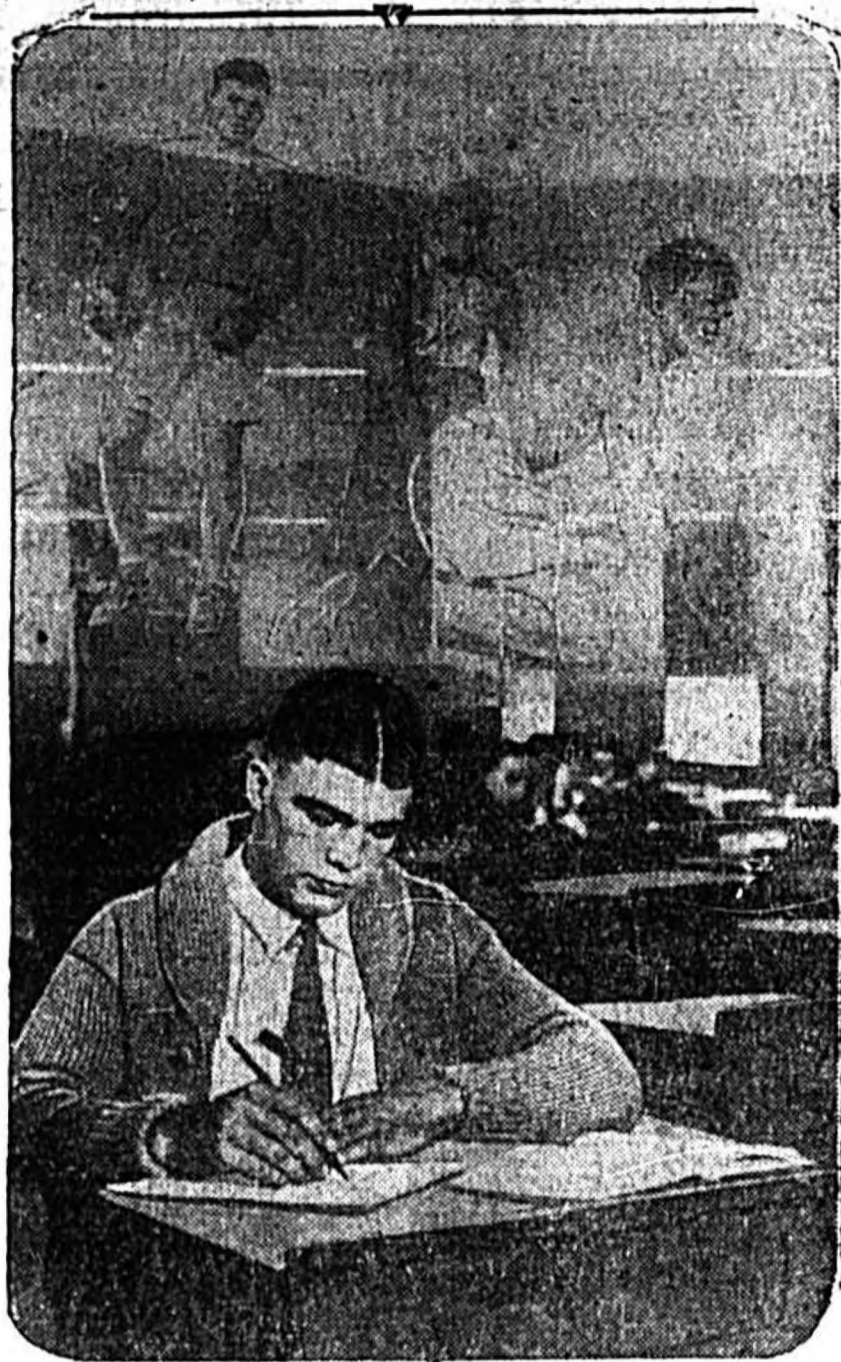

Haughton coached teams were famous for their mastery of the intricate details of the game. The modern scouting system which has become an accepted phase of the sport, was first introduced on a broad scale by Haughton. On the field his methods reached the efficiency of business. He maintained a general supervision of the work and acted upon reports brought from a staff of assistants who were entrusted with the detailed instruction.

When he left Harvard in 1916 to become president of the Boston National League baseball club he was generally regarded as the most successful football coach of the decade. He resigned the presidency of the Braves in 1918 to enter the service as a major in the army chemical corps. After the war he became associated with banking interests in Boston, where his home is. These were maintained at the time of his death, as Haughton spent only the spring and fall with the Columbia team.

Haughton was a football end and captain of the 1899 baseball nine at Harvard. He also was head coach at Cornell University for two years.

Let's see now. In Detroit, somebody shot a Chinese laundryman instead of cutting his throat with a collar.

Young Stribling in School

Yes, the wonder fighter of Georgia has returned to the classroom in Atlanta, Ga., but his mind is still on the ring, and as he thumbs the dull pages of learning, visions of a triumphant moment lift before his eyes—a moment which will show him standing over the beaten, crushed form of a fallen champion. Young Stribling is taking an academic course and intends to enter college. They say he's a fine student.

STETSON TO PLAY LOUISIANA TEAM NEXT SATURDAY

Orange Blossoms Will Have Formidable Opponent in Team Which Played L. S. U. To Scoreless Tie Contest

DELAND, Oct. 28.—(Special)—What is being termed, "The Battle Of The Age" will be fought out on Stetson's football gridiron next Saturday afternoon between Louisiana College and Coach McQuillan's Stetson eleven. To date neither team has been scored upon, which means that blood will be in the eyes of some 22 players when the whistle blows at 3 o'clock. Stetson's 1924 team is one of youngsters, eight of the first string players being Freshmen, with indications pointing that McQuillan's eleven will not lose more than one game, despite the hard schedule arranged for the Orange Blossoms.

Louisiana College has defeated every eleven played this season, with the exception of L. S. U. the famous College being coached by Mike Donohue. In this game both elevens battled four quarters to a scoreless tie of 0 to 0. Stetson went out for big game this season, eliminating a 11 thought of arranging any light schedule. Besides the Louisiana game, Newberry College and two games with the University of Havana has been lined up and signed for. The Newberry game will be played in DeLand, while the Havana game is scheduled to be played in Tampa on December 6.

Secret practice will be in order all this week, as the Stetson member believes in keeping his home town people away from the workouts for the reason that he believes the fans become more "football anxious" by attending home games. The idea has worked wonderfully in the first game played last Saturday, as one of the largest crowds in a long while turned out for the opening contest. Out of two visitors will find Stetson University furnishing a real football practice next Saturday, this game being without a doubt one worth attending.
