The two things which gold carriers fear most are automobile accidents and "mysterious disappearances". A tenton truck crashing into an armored car at great speed can at one and the same time spread the gold all over the street and render the guards unable to protect it. The "mysterious disappearance" is even more difficult to prevent and sometimes proves a great deal more costly.

An illustration of "mysterious disappearances" given by Durant Rose, vice president of the Armored Service Company of New York. He said that gold to be transferred between banks is counted and then placed in heavy particular bill the Democrats have plates the same kind of favor for canvas bags which are tied and sealed at the bank. ## Mrs. Maille fert Asks Pardon For Trial Witnesses

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 8 .- (A) Pardons or paroles for the con-victs who testified for the state in the Arthur Maillefert sweatbox murder trial at Jacksonville were asked yesterday by Mrs. Julia Maillefert, mother of the New Jersey youth for whose death by strangulation a prison camp captain was sentenced to 20 years at hard labor.

The "mother in me," she said caused her to appear before Gov. Doyle E. Carlton and other members of the Pardon Board to ask clemency for the fellow convicts of her son who testified for the state at the trial of Solomon Higgipbotham, a guard, and George W. Courson, the Sunbeam prison camp captain.

Higginbotham was acquitted at the trial, but Courson was conricted of manslaughter.
The Pardon Board members said they would consider her clemency requests.
Governor Carlton invited her to Both urged has become familiar. Once in so the tax be kept low so that the industry might recover from years of idleness under prohibition.

Meanwhile, it was plainly indicated the Hoover administration would have nothing to do with the Democrats' beer proposal. The invitation extended Secretary Mills by Chairman Collier to make a recommendation on the bill was declined. It has been reported that if a beer bill is passed, President Hoover would refuse to sign it. At the outset of the hearing,

Collier explained that the 2.75 percent alcoholic content and $5 a barrel tax provided in the Democratic bill was a working basis. adding "the committee will decide what is to be the tax and alcoholic content." It would be considered separate from any other tax bill that might be proposed, he announced, in limiting testimony to four days for beer advocates and two for prohibition organizations. Stating that laws should not be scuttled by refusal to appropriate money for their enforcement, Attorney General Mitchell added:

"It is evident that the present state of the public mind will make the task of the officers of the law doubly difficult and increase break-down and disrespect for the law unless changes which are to be made are made speedity. Furthermore, one of the principal arguments against our prohibition system has been that it has created disrespect for the law, and nothing can be imagined which would tend more to create that disrespect than to have crimina' statutes in force but relax the effart to enforce them."
