Application is Made Pardon Mendenhall

SLAYER OF TWO WOMEN IN PINELLAS COUNTY TRYING TO GET OUT OF GANG.

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 11.—Application was yesterday made to the state board of pardons, by interested parties, for the presentation of the case of J. J. Mendenhall, convicted in Pinellas county several years ago of the murder of two women. The board met Wednesday, Dec. 20, as the date for the hearing.

A strong effort will be made for a pardon or a parole for Mendenhall, and it is understood that the opposition will be equally as determined. The case is one of the most famous in the criminal annals of Florida and the action of the board on the application will doubtless be awaited with interest throughout the state.

POSTMASTERS HOLD OVER

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 11.—Appointment of W. L. Straub as postmaster of St. Petersburg for another term of four years came as a severe jolt yesterday to several Republicans who were grooming themselves for the job. It was the general impression here that Mr. Straub's time would not expire until next summer, when the new president assumes office, and several leaders in the newly organized Republican party here were making a place to get the federal job. When they learned from The Tribune this morning that Mr. Straub had been appointed to another term there was consternation. Mr. Straub was appointed July 21, 1918, but did not take office until Sept. 8 of that year. Technically, the office had been vacant since July 21 last, so the appointment which was made yesterday was expected. R. S. Hanna, Republican postmaster here, held office for three years and six months after President Wilson went into office, so that now the Democratic appointee will hold for nearly four years of a Republican administration.

Western Union Stirs Up More Fuss

CONGRESSMEN CANNOT CHARGE TELEGRAMS TO THE GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The Western Union Telegraph Co. has stirred up a hornet's nest in congress with its notice that the practice of permitting senators and representatives to send messages from any office in the country with the government settling the bill monthly, would be abandoned on January 1st.

Chairman Ireland, of the House committee on accounts, announced today that he would leave tonight for New York for a conference with Western Union officials. He also announced that he would have the federal statutes examined to determine whether the Western Union could not be forced to accept messages as heretofore.

Chairman Ireland said he was "suspect" that the company's action was due to the trouble over the landing of the Barbadoes cable at Miami.

Under law the company is compelled to accept government messages at 40 per cent less than the commercial rates because of land grants given years ago and he said he hoped a statute could be found which would prevent the company from carrying out its declaration with reference to messages filed by congressmen.

Can't Settle Out of Court
Efforts of counsel for the Western Union Telegraph Co. and for the government to settle out of court the injunction proceedings brought against Sec. Daniels to prohibit the navy from interfering with cable work by the company at Miami, Fla., have failed, Justice Stafford of the District of Columbia Supreme Court, was informed today. The court thereupon gave the company until next Wednesday to file briefs and allowed the government until December 20th to make replies.

The attorneys sought to reach an agreement by which, on the promise of the company that no attempt would be made to connect the Barbadoes cable at Miami, the government would permit the company to connect the ends of two other cable lines in the outer harbor. It is understood that the Western Union, however, wanted a formal court injunction, while the agreement was in effect and the government would not agree to this.

MISTOOK MRS. HOWE FOR ANOTHER WOMAN

ORLANDO, Dec. 11.—Mistaken for another woman with "wonderful blonde hair" and who had lovely diamonds and a purse full of currency is believed to have been the reason the thief who robbed Mrs. S. Water Howe, early Wednesday morning on a Pullman car near Jacksonville, Fla., chose her as the victim of the crime.

Wrestling And A Boxing Match Here

PRINCESS THEATRE WILL BE SCENE OF SEVERAL GOOD EVENTS

Sanford is having all sorts of amusements now and the World's Famous Shows started the athletic spirit here in regards to wrestling and boxing and kindred sports. Billy Hoffmann, one of the local boys, was so successful against all the professionals of the show here that upon the earnest solicitation of his many friends he has decided to have a few "goes" here with various wrestlers and boxers who are now in the state and the first affair will be given in the Princess Theatre next Wednesday night at 8:30, when Hoffmann and Jim Pierson, the lightweight champion of America, will hit the mat for what promises to be one of the best bouts ever seen in this city. Wrestling and boxing are clean sports when they are carried on without any of the betting and gambling that have made them obnoxious in days gone by and if the boys here want to pull off some good clean affairs there will be no objection and they will be well patronized by the red-blooded men and those who like clean sports of all kinds. The condition of the match Wednesday night is that Pierson is to throw Hoffmann twice in sixty minutes which is going some for our Billy is some child himself on the mat as was proven last week. Aside from the wrestling match there will be six rounds of boxing and the entertainment will be well worth the $1 charged for admission.

BASEBALL NOTES

(By Red Davis in the Jacksonville Times-Union)

Joe Tinker, of the famous Tinker to Evers to Chance machine, will manage the Orlando Caps for the season of 1921. Tinker knows ball players, knows where to get them, knows how to play himself and I bet he knows how to fire them when they "can't" deliver real Joe Tinker baseball. Three cheers for Orlando. And by the way, if Joe Tinker doesn't bring home the bacon, Orlando might as well be satisfied with her ham and eggs. Now if Sanford can only secure Johnny Every these two towns will go right on with their heated rivalry. Orlando and Sanford have been two towns in the United States that have never signed an armistice and never will, and never did expect to be friends when it came to playing baseball.

When Sanford plays in Orlando the Sentinel runs the base box score upside down, that is, if Sanford wins. When Orlando plays in Sanford the Herald only runs a box score when Sanford wins. The smallest agate type in Bob Holly's type case mentions Orlando's victory.

With Joe Tinker at Orlando, Harry Swachina at Lakeland and Larry at Tampa the Florida State League will have one consolation of having capable managers. Not wishing Orlando hard luck I hope the pennant goes to St. Augustine or Palatka.

If you convince a man against his will you may have to do it over again next day.

Railroad Officials and Shippers Will Work Plan

FOR BETTER SERVICE

AND MORE KNOWLEDGE REGARDING PLACING OF CARS FOR SHIPPERS

The meeting of the Traffic and Transportation Committee of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce was held in the Palm Room of the Valdez Hotel yesterday evening. This meeting was called particularly to settle the various transportation problems confronting Sanford shippers. Mr. D. C. Marlowe, chairman of the committee, presided and the following men representing the northern produce houses were also present: A. N. Bahamm of James Tozzi & Co., New York; T. C. Glnney, Thos. Fornataro with Frank Gargiulo, New York; J. C. Hutchinson, manager Sanford Truck Growers; W. B. Ahern, Ahern Brokerage Company, Chicago; J. G. Michael, secretary and treasurer of Southern Truck Growers; W. E. Lewis, J. L. Culvert, Philadelphia, Pa.; Geo. W. Tull with R. E. Cochran, New York. Mr. Ball and Mr. Deas represented the Board of Governors of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce at the meeting. Mr. T. L. Dumas, superintendent of the A. C. L., attended the meeting and invitation of the committee and was given an opportunity to hear the various expressions of those present relative to the subjects under discussion. The committee took up the matter of delays in transit and detailed instances will be submitted by the committee to the railroad. The question of extending the loading and unloading time was discussed and it was decided to leave the matter as it now stands. The committee has received numerous complaints from shippers regarding their inability to secure satisfactory information relative to the time they can expect the placing of cars and a motion was adopted to the effect that the A. C. L. be requested to allocate some particular man to give this important service. The question of issuing diversion confirmations in bill of lading form promptly upon surrender of original bill of lading on cars destined to diversion points was discussed and Mr. Dumas agreed that this should be done and will take the necessary steps to see that the shippers receive this service. Mr. Dumas assured the committee that the A. C. L. is desirous of extending the fullest possible cooperation to Sanford growers and shippers and that it has always been his policy to work along these lines. Mr. Marlowe, on behalf of the committee, assured Mr. Dumas that the committee desired to co-operate with the transportation company along the same lines, but said that from the numerous complaints which the committee has been receiving, believes that the growers and shippers have not had the service from the railroad that the business from this section warrants.

EDGAR C. THOMPSON IS REINSTATED AS STATE ATTORNEY BY GOVERNOR

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 11.—The governor today filed an executive order with the secretary of state reinstating to office Edgar C. Thompson as state attorney in and for the Fifteenth judicial circuit.

On May 8, last, the governor suspended Mr. Thompson from office under the charge of public drunkenness and neglect of official duties on account of being under the influence of liquor.

THAT MILLION DOLLAR BAND

By Riley M. Fletcher Berry

It certainly deserves its name—signifying in the Chippewa language, "Silver Tongue," and anyone who has heard him play can realize its appropriateness.

Another member of the band who is of special personal interest is Walter Kelly, the boy soprano, a manly youngster of twelve whom Mr. Bachman brought from North Dakota where he happened to hear him sing. Walter can face a crowd and sing as sweetly, as spontaneously and with as utter abandon to the joy of music as one of our own mocking birds; no effections of manner and no straining of voice to reach even the higher notes. It was worth a great deal to simply see the faces of the crowd when Walter sang and it is worth money to any man to be able to feel as the men, especially, among the many who listened, evidently felt when they heard this boy sing.

The particular sunshine of the whole band is Mr. and Mrs. Bachman's three-year-old Clarke Harold, who was born as Mr. Bachman was crossing to France and whom his father, in consequence, did not see until the little fellow was fifteen months old—now a darling, bright-eyed, scarlet-coated little man.

As to the musical ability of the Million Dollar Band it is not only peer but without exception the superior of any band which has been heard in any Florida county of this southern section and there have been a number of national and even international fame who have played in this region. One of the numbers played Wednesday night testified to the esteem in which Mr. Bachman is held as a musician and conductor by foreign musicians, the overture "Guorni" by Gomez, a beautiful and difficult composition—one which has been given to no other American conductor. They do honor to this unique distinction by playing the overture in a way to prove themselves worthy of the compliment done them by the composer.

In the ten concerts given by "The Million Dollar Band" at Jacksonville not one of their programs was repeated and this of itself says more than many lines of praise or kindly criticism.

It is to be hoped that the people of Seminole county will realize the wonderful opportunity of hearing these well-trained musicians Christmas week by subscribing the amount necessary to secure their presence with us. We could afford to give up many conventional Christmas treats and sweets in order to have with us for one glorious week the "Million Dollar Band."

He proved his thorough understanding of his own first studied instrument by his selection of his present leading cornetist, Mr. Robert Bruce. Mr. Bruce, in spite of his Scotch name, is a part-blood Chippewa Indian whose ancient Americanism gives the final touch of pride to that which the members feel for their organization. Mr. Bruce's name, however, is one adopted, by personal choice, the name given him originally,

"MAY YOUR NOSE GROW FAT"

Persian Salutation That Has Odd Sound—Graceful Hospitality Extended to Foreigners.

The Persian hospitality to the European is successful. When you enter the house they tell you that your presence has brought happiness to your slave; or if they are sufficiently Europeanized not to use the oriental hyperbole, still they make you feel that your arrival has brought happiness. If you comment on the sweetness of a child they reply, "She kisses your hand." If you do any service for the poorer people they are likely to say, "May your hand never pain you." And—suggestive, this, of the famine menace: "May your shadow never grow less. May your nose grow fat."

The rich and well-to-do give you many cups of tea, generally followed by coffee, and the more sugar they put in the more polite they are trying to be. The more you eat the happier they are. Even the poor wish you to drink tea. When at a roadside cafe you buy your tea the cafe keeper serves it to you with the air of a host. The Persians have that trust essence of hospitality, that which makes you feel it has given them pleasure for you to stop beneath their roof-tree. They are said to be greedy for money and hard at a bargain, but these traits they never show their guests.

YOUTH HAD NOTHING ON DAD

Old Gentleman's Memory Also Went Back to the Time He Spent in Hot Brazil.

Among the members of a firm having South American connections are the Joneses, father and son. Recently Jones Junior, who had just returned from Brazil, was relating some rather tall stories of life down there, when he asked:

"Now, during that awful heat, what do you suppose it was, aside from the temperature, that made it impossible for us to take our after-dinner siesta?"

"Why, what?" asked a gullible sister.

"The peculiar noises," continued Jones Junior. "You see, the coffee was popping on the trees. The sun was so hot the grains just roasted before they were picked."

Whereupon dad yawned.

"Rather warm down there," he admitted. "But when I was in Brazil you couldn't sleep nights. Every once in a while there would sound the most extraordinary noise that ever fell upon human ear."

"What were the sounds, dad?" asked Jones Junior, with a grin.

"The rubber trees were stretching themselves," answered dad.

Uses of Mica.

The stuff we call mica has been used since very ancient times in India for many odd purposes. Washermen employed it to give a sparkle to cloth. It is the material out of which "unbreakable" lamp chimneys are manufactured and is used for windows and glazing material for pottery, and for the backs of mirrors. Artists in India utilize it largely for paintings.

Mica, ground to a fine powder, has a high reputation in India as a medicine. It is prescribed as a tonic. Native physicians are said to have a secret process for dissolving mica—which, supposing it to exist, would be an enormously valuable discovery, inasmuch as it would mean that mica could be used for making unbreakable tumblers, decanters and other dishes.

By far the most important deposits of mica in the world occur in a belt which lies in the northern part of the Hazaribagh district in India. There it is commonly found in plates large enough to have marketable value.

Dignified Rebuke.

The captain of a battleship recently in New York harbor is celebrated throughout the fleet for his dignity and his conscientious efforts to set in his own behavior a good example to his men. Among other rules he made for himself while in port was one which, when he went ashore, brought him back to his ship every night before midnight. On one occasion a combination of circumstances delayed him and he did not get aboard until near 1 a. m. The lieutenant on duty saluted the skipper with professional smartness and cheerfully said:

"Good morning, captain."

The captain returned the salute punctiliously and replied thus to the greeting:

"Good evening, Mr. Blank; you have a great deal to learn of your profession, sir."

Shakespeare's House.

Washington Irving, who paid a visit to Stratford-on-Avon and whose soul was stirred to its depths, in speaking of the various stories which were told about the authenticity of the claimed location of Shakespeare's house, said:

"What is it to us whether these stories be true or false, so long as we can persuade ourselves into the belief of them, and enjoy all the charm of their reality." By public subscription the house which was claimed to be the birthplace of William Shakespeare was purchased on Oct. 22, 1861, as one of the means of perpetuating national interest in the great dramatist.

LEADERS NOT GREAT TALKERS

Jefferson's Testimony is That Neither Washington Nor Franklin Wasted Words in Debate.

More than a century ago Thomas Jefferson said: "I served with Gen. Washington in the legislature of Virginia, before the revolution and during it, with Dr. Franklin in congress. I never heard either of them speak ten minutes at a time, nor to any but the main point, which was to decide the question."

"They laid their shoulders to the great points, knowing that the little ones would follow of themselves. If the present congress errs in too much talking, how can it be otherwise? In a body to which the people send 500 lawyers, whose trade is to question everything, yield nothing, and talk by the hour? That 500 lawyers should do business together ought not to be expected."

Multiply the above by four, add several hundred new subjects for debate, divide into two parties and you have the national legislature in the year of grace 1920, remarks the Home Sector. Probably it could be calculated by an efficient expert that the amount of energy, time, money and lung power wasted in one session by congress would be enough to drain every swamp in this country, irrigate every barren acre and rescue and educate every child laborer, with enough left over then to support and train every wounded doughboy.

As it is, small wonder that gentle knocks at the door of congress are dreamed out by the oratorical uproar inside.

Remarkable "Madstone."

The madstone is a stone which when applied to a wound caused by the bite of a mad dog is said to prevent hydrophobia. The most famous stone of this sort in the United States is owned in Virginia, and was brought from Scotland in 1776. It is said to be the one spoken of by Sir Walter Scott in "The Tallisau."

It is about two inches long, one inch wide, and half as thick, of chocolate color. When applied to the wound it is said to adhere until all the poison has been absorbed, when it drops off. It is then soaked in warm milk or water, and when removed the liquid is said to be permeated with a greenish yellow scum.

Many a man fails to arrive because he began with cold feet.

Deceived by Reflection.

The rumor that there was such a place as El Dorado was so insistent centuries ago that Humboldt, the explorer, made a special investigation, and located the origin of the fable in a territory between the Essequibo and Branco rivers in Guiana. Great deposits of mica-slate and talc so flecked the rocks surrounding a small lake that the sun did indeed turn the area into a vast golden mirror, but as far as the value of the deposits were concerned there was nothing to wish for. The temples, houses and public buildings of beaten gold were merely the imagination of those who had glimpsed the lake, but had been prevented by natives from reaching it.

Good Judgment.

Mrs. Bacon—And have your husband's table manners improved?
Mrs. Egbert—Oh, I think so.

Mrs. Bacon—And can he manage spaghetti all right now?
Mrs. Egbert—Oh, well, you see, when he began to try to improve his table manners we thought it just as well to give up having spaghetti.—Yonkers Statesman.

COMMUNAL SPIRIT IN JAPAN

Writer Notes the Fact That Natives Share Their Seats With Strangers on Street Cars.

Japanese do things in public for which we would ostracize a man or send him to the lockup. From their communal spirit, which tolerates bathing in public together they go to the other extreme of coming out on their balconies and clearing their throats at five o'clock in the morning and expectorating into the open gutters below.

They will hold their fans before their mouths when talking or yawning, as do we, but will cough and sneeze in your face on street cars. And yet, among the refined, observance of custom is pathetically beautiful. They come to celebrate the arrival of the cherry blossoms by bringing with them their getsha and their children; they move in perfect order; they go to the station in masses to see off some friend or relative and crowd the platforms, howling and howling and bowing again as though there weren't a thousand strangers passing before them; they dress, undress, eat, sleep and drink whisky by the tumblerful on the trains—yet their inner lives are as secret to one another as they seem to be to the foreigner.

It is as though from behind the scenes—in which many people are more interested than in the play itself—the actors had come, forgetting, in a moment of absent-mindedness, to put on their make-up, or had come upon the street, forgetting to take it off.—Sydney Greenbie, in "Japan, Real and Imaginary."

Moral Forces.

Above all it is ever to be kept in mind that not by material but by moral force are men and their actions governed. How noiseless is thought! No rolling of drums, no tramp of squadrons, or immeasurable tumult of baggage wagons, attends the movement. In what obscure and sequestered places may the head be meditating which is one day to be crowned with more than imperial authority; for kings and emperors will be among its ministering servants; it will rule not over but in their heads, and with these its solitary combinations of ideas, as with magic formulas, bend the world to its will. The time may come when Napoleon himself will be better known for his laws than for his battles; and the victory of Waterloo prove less momentous than the opening of the first mechanic's institute.—Thomas Carlyle.

Mrs. Lamanda Godwin died at Jacksonville on Monday, November 29th, and was buried at the old home of deceased in Americus, Georgia, on December 2nd. Mrs. Godwin had lived to the ripe old age of 82 years when death claimed her and was well known and beloved by a large circle of friends in Georgia and Florida.

Mrs. Godwin lived here in Sanford many years ago, leaving here with her son, C. W. Godwin, about fifteen years ago to make her home in Jacksonville where he was connected with the Clyde St. John river line and making Jacksonville his headquarters.

The many friends here of the deceased extend their sympathy to the relatives in the loss of mother and friend.

Mrs. C. W. Godwin of this city attended the funeral and returned here this week.

Independence.

Independence is a good thing when you know just how to use it. No one wants to be dependent upon some one else. Men who have made the world move are the fellows who are known to be governed by a spirit of independence that has made them different from other fellows. And yet in spite of it all we are more dependent today than we have ever been. Our grandfathers used to raise the cows, kill and skin them, tan the leather and then make the shoes that went on the little feet of the children. Grandmothers carded the wool, spun the yarn, wove the cloth and made the clothes that kept the family warm. They were an independent lot. They could get along with less help from others than can modern civilization. Yet they were far from exercising a spirit of independence. They were the very essence of hospitality and good will. They worked hard, but their lot was better than they knew.

SATISFIED WITH SUN DIALS

Men of a Few Generations Ago Did Not Demand Exactitude in the Matter of Time.

John C. Tomlinson of New York has made a specialty of sun dials, and a writer in the New York Post says in an interview with him:

"People used to be less particular about time, of course, than we have grown to be, with our famous exactitude. The old English stage coach left 'at four,' but that meant 'at about four.' Only noon could be depended upon—and that when the sun chose to shine. Clocks did not come into use in Europe until the Thirteenth century. Portable clocks were not invented until toward the end of the Fifteenth, but sun dials were very commonly worn—not set up in gardens merely, as we are accustomed to seeing them now. They were used quite generally in this country until the early part of the Nineteenth century, and even today, where conditions are primitive, they are the reliance of guides and huntsmen. Occasionally they become the timepieces of the British army in uninhabited regions.

"Washington was in the habit of carrying a sun dial, although he possessed many watches. The escutcheon of the United States is copied from an escutcheon upon a sun dial in England belonging to one of Washington's ancestors. Thomas Jefferson was a proficient dialist, and Mr. Tomlinson has two dials made by him; one in 1807, when he was President.

"Clocks were not only long unpopular, but were denounced by the clergy because they are not mentioned in Scripture."

ONE CAN'T BE TOO CAREFUL

His Friends' Deafness Came Very Near Getting Innocent Man Into Quite Serious Trouble.

Capt. Sutton Rutherford, the new polo star, said at Chevy Chase last month:

"I wonder what the maximum price of whisky will be under prohibition? It soars and soars and, really, to be offered a drink today is a high compliment."

Captain Rutherford smiled, continued, "has a humorous side, too."

"A friend of mine whispered anxiously to me the other day at a club:

"There goes Rogers! I try to avoid him nowadays, for he is becoming deafener than ever, and it is dangerous to accept him. Recently I halted him' with:

"Fine day, Rogers," and he smiled and answered:

"Will I hecker? Sure, Mike! Lead me to it!"

"And blast if a passing prohibition-enforcement officer didn't arrest us both on suspicion."

Let Doctor Name the Baby.

Perhaps more often than one realizes the family doctor has a deciding influence in the naming of the baby. Many instances might be related by observant nurses, but this one may suffice:

The doctor breezed into the room on the morning after, and on the spur of the moment asked cheerily: "Well, how is Elizabeth Ann finding herself?" "Elizabeth Ann is quite well and apparently contented," answered the nurse. And Elizabeth Ann, as an off-hand appellation, so pleased the father and mother that Elizabeth Ann she will remain to the end of her days. There is a Thomas James on Long Island and an Alfred Henry in Mount Vernon who received their names in that way.—New York Sun.

How People Die in India.

A return of the number of inquests held by the coroner of Bombay during 1919 gives us some very interesting particulars. Among the "suicide" we find that six cut their throats, 28 drowned themselves, four hanged themselves, 15 jumped out of windows, 20 took opium, arsenic or some other poison, four shot themselves and eight burned themselves. Drowning, therefore, took pride of place last year, whereas self-poisoning was the favorite method of quitting life in 1918, there being 21 cases reported. Other suicidal practices mentioned in the report are stabbing and the act of knocking one's head against a wall. No one has favored either of these methods during the past two years, however.

Machine Softens Leather.

Working leather by the various processes known as graining, boarding and staking, ordinarily a laborious manual operation, is now accomplished by mechanical means with a machine designed by a Massachusetts inventor. Two broad belts, running on rollers, are so mounted that faces traveling in opposite directions are arranged one above the other, a short distance apart. The hide to be softened is laid on a metal plate and inserted between the belt faces, the upper belt then being pressed down by a lever.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

New Glove-Cleaning Device.

A Massachusetts inventor has devised a glove-cleaning machine which is somewhat like an ice cream freezer. The soiled gloves are dropped into gasoline or other cleaning fluid and whirled around by a perforated blade through which the liquid is forced. After the handle has been turned about three minutes the gloves may be taken out spotless.

Club Calendar

Tuesday, Dec. 14.—Social department. Bridge and shower for Children's Home Society.
Mrs. David Caldwell, hostess.
Wednesday, Dec. 15.—Welfare Department. Better Films. Mrs. R. A. Terheun, Mrs. B. W. Herndon, chairman.

Music—Literature Department. Presided over by Mrs. A. M. Phillips. The meeting of the Music-Literature Department at the Woman's Club on Wednesday afternoon was most enjoyable. Two delightfully interesting papers were presented respectively by Mrs. Morton Thigpen and Mrs. C. C. Woodruff. Fascinating Indian legends were given by Mrs. L. R. Phillips and the two music numbers were lovely. Mrs. Saunders of Lake City was heard in the charming vocal selection, "The Last Long Rest" (Carrie Jacob Bond) Her accompaniment was played by Mrs. C. J. Ryan, who is herself a talented musician.

The violin number of Mrs. C. J. Marshall was delightfully rendered. The beauty and charm of the Indian selection, "By the Waters of Winnetonka" (Thurlow Lieurance) enhanced by the pretty legend read by Mrs. Margaret Davis Harris and her vivid interpretive piano accompaniment. The legends of the "Wooling of Ocklawaha" and "The Moss," as given by Mrs. Phillips, was a most pleasing feature of the program and enthusiastically received.

Mrs. Thigpen's paper on "The Tallahassee Girl" was a quaint and interesting paper read by Mrs. C. C. Woodruff, on the history and wars of the Florida Indians. The Seminoles having migrated from the Georgia Creek Indians, their name indicating their character, meaning "Wild Wanderer or Runaway." Mrs. Woodruff touched on bits of early history of Seminole county, in the vicinity of Sanford and Lake Monroe of especial interest to Sanford folks.

While the attendance was good, considering the counter attractions in town, it does seem deplorable that so few of the department members avail themselves of the pleasure offered by the Literature-Music departments.

TOP OF SNOWDON IS SOLD

Ground on Britain's loftiest Mountain Has Recently Been Purchased by Farmer.

Freak purchases are heard of from time to time, but it is not often that the sale of a mountain is announced. For this reason alone the transfer of the summit of Snowdon, including several hundreds of acres of the slope which is grazing ground, and the ground on which is built the Summit hotel, by Lieut.-Col. Worsley-Taylor, to a farmer, is of more than ordinary interest, remarks the Christian Science Monitor.

The view from summit of Snowdon on a fine day makes the climb worth while, for spread below is Anglesey, the Menai straits, and a great curve of ocean from the far-off extremity of Cardigan bay to Rhyll. In the foreground are to be seen the well defined peaks of the sister mountains. Altogether the climb is a most exhilarating form of exercise, and although the boast of having gained the top does not carry much weight, there is a certain satisfaction in having reached one's objective. Gladstone, twenty-eight years ago, after having performed the climb, addressed a political meeting of 3,000 people on the summit of Snowdon.

UNIQUE IN ANIMAL WORLD

Elephant Has Survived Because He Has Been Able to Adapt Himself to Conditions.

These is nothing else like the elephant. He has come down to us through the ages, surviving the conditions which killed off his earlier contemporaries, and he now adapts himself perfectly to more different conditions than any other animal in Africa. Carl Akeley of the American Museum of Natural History writes in the World's Work.

He can eat anything that is green or even has been green, just so long as there is enough of it. He can get his water from the aloe plants on the arid plains or dig a well in the sand of a dry river with his trunk and fore feet, and drink there, or he is equally at home living half in the swamps of better watered regions. He is at home on the low, hot plains of the senecost at the equator or on the cool slopes of Kenya and Elgon. So far as I know he suffers from no contagious diseases and has no enemies except man. There are elephants on Kenya that have never lain down for a hundred years. Some of the plains elephants do rest lying down, but no one ever saw a Kenya elephant lying down or any evidence that they do lie down at rest. The elephant is a good traveler. On good ground a good horse can outrun him, but in bad ground the horse would have no chance and there are few animals that can cover more ground in a day than an elephant. And in spite of his appearance he can turn with surprising agility and move through the forest as quietly as a rabbit.

When two women fall in love with the same man they cut each other by looking daggers.

Sought El Dorado in Vain.

When Sir Walter Raleigh started out to find his El Dorado he was seeking a fabled city whose houses were covered with sheets of pure gold, and which was surrounded by hundreds of square miles of rock so filled with surface gold that when the sun shone it was as if a great yellow mirror was blazing as far as the dazzled eyes could reach. Raleigh, of course, found nothing that you came near to such a wonder, and many a brave gentleman of England lost his life or his fortune in seeking the same fabled El Dorado.

How many days until Christmas did you say?

And again we ask you to do your Christmas shopping early.

And do it now and do it in Sanford for Sanford merchants have the largest stocks and the choicest prices.

We expect to make holiday week a big week in Sanford and will have plenty of music and something doing all the time. And then in January we will have Johnny Jones and after that something else and then a Chautauqua.

Some people object to the noise and confusion and the shows and the music but it is the noise of a real city and if there are any who cannot stand it they can always move to the country. Sanford is off that graveyard stuff for life.

The Sanford Herald is installing one of the finest Linotype machines that is made in the factory. There is no finer to be purchased and the Herald office is in the big city class and ready for anything that can be brought to us in the newspaper or job printing line. Remember that when it comes to printing offices there is nothing any better in the state than the Herald. There are larger ones but none better. In other words we practice what we preach and that is improving and making your business better and making your city better and greater. Few people in Sanford know what a plant and equipment the Sanford Herald is carrying or how much money we spend in this city every week for wages.

Sanford merchants, in putting on their special sales, are drawing purchasers from a radius of fifty miles. Seminole's capital has a bunch of live wires who know how to do things.—Times-Union.

Special sales by merchants, when properly advertised, will attract more people to a town or city than any inducement we know. We recall when the merchants of a thriving city in Kentucky would advertise their special sales on the same dates, each offering special inducements in the way of prices, and during the days these sales continued immense throngs of people flocked to that city from miles around and thousands of dollars were spent for merchandise that would have never found that market had it not been for these sales. Eustis has a large territory to draw from and similar action on the part of our merchants would bring about corresponding results.—Eustis Lake Region.

EXPERIENCE A SAFE TEACHER BUT A HARD ONE

Do the people of the United States really desire lower prices on all commodities? The wheat raisers certainly do not. They are clamoring at the door of congress for loans to hold their produce off the market until hunger forces an advance to the war time basis. The cotton growers are in the same boat and are making similar demands. Organized labor, which had its every demand conceded during the war, stands firmly for the retention of all it gained when it had the

J. P. says:

MANY THOUSAND MEN AND WOMEN WHO WERE BLIND, DEAF, CRIPPLED OR SUFFERING FROM SOME OTHER FEARFUL HANDICAP, SUCCEEDED IN DOING THE SEEMINGLY "IMPOSSIBLE" AND RISING TO GREAT HEIGHTS OF POWER AND USEFULNESS. IN THEIR EXTREMITY THEY FOUND WITHIN THEMSELVES WHAT THEY SOUGHT WITHOUT HELP, FORCE AND DETERMINATION TO CONQUER AND SUCCESS. country by the throat. The farmers and the laboring men constitute a mighty force in this country, and they are unanimous in their opposition to any reduction in price of the commodities they have to sell.

But there can be no reduction that will accomplish any permanent good unless it is universal. It must be made all along the line. It will be a painful process, but a necessary one if we wish to return to normal conditions. We must all take our share of the pain and the loss or let things remain as they are and trust to time and a return to common sense for a remedy.

It is a curious psychology that governs the American people. One short year ago there was a craze for buying at almost any old price. Indeed, many retailers found that only the highest priced goods were salable. It was more often a question of price than of quality. Buyers seemed anxious to spend their money and never asked the price, provided only it was high enough.

Today the conditions are exactly reversed. A "buyers' strike" has set in and people are buying only enough to fill their most pressing needs. And they are asking the price with a care and punctiliousness unknown last year, and instances are not rare of their turning away and not buying, if they deem the price too high. What is the cause of this extraordinary change of sentiment? Possibly it denotes a subsidence of the hysteria of war times, a return to common sense principles. Whatever the cause, its beginning was coincident with the beginning of the decline in prices. It is just as natural for people to refrain from buying on a declining market, as it is for them to overbuy on an advancing one.

Remember the sugar "panic" of recent date. Some fool official at Washington or elsewhere, started a rumor that a famine in sugar was imminent. The rumor was spread broadcast over the land by press and telegraph. Hundreds of thousands of grocers saw it and decided they must stock up at once. They all began buying sugar and naturally the price began advancing. Consumers quickly caught on and bought sugar far in advance of their immediate needs, fearful that they could not get it at all later on. Speculators aggravated the situation by withdrawing large quantities from the market and producing an artificial scarcity. Thus the very thing that the public was fearing, a famine in sugar was brought about. The high prices which we had brought on by our insane panic, brought in a flood of foreign sugar, and the speculators were swamped. There was never any prospect of a famine in sugar, it was purely an artificial scarcity, brought on by speculators to satisfy their own selfish greed, and when they were caught in the trap they had set for others they had the audacity to ask the government for relief which it very properly refused and they were compelled to bear their losses.

Something of the same nature is proposed by the farmers. They ask the government for loans to enable them to hold their crops off the market, until the price advances to meet their views. As they control more votes than the sugar speculators, congress may listen to their demands. If it grants them it will be at the expense of the future. No law of congress can override a natural law. The only safe way for the farmers is to feed out their big crop as the country needs it, pocket the inevitable loss, and profit by the experience. If the next crop is confined to a reasonable limit the market will advance, and they may recoup their losses.—Tampa Times.

BLADE QUICKER THAN PISTOL

Expert Gunmen Meet More Than Their Match in the Knife Throwers of the Argentine.

The danger zone encircling a gaucho (cowboy of the Argentine) with his knife in his hand is by no means limited to the circle he sweeps with his extended arm. I am not sure just how far it does go, nor have I the least desire to find out. I heard, however, a crack revolver shot, a man who could blot out the spots on a ten of spades at a dozen paces, say that he would be extremely reluctant to take his chance at a draw-and-let-go with a gaucho at any distance under 20 yards.

An illuminative case in point came to my attention in Buenos Aires. As a class the American agricultural machinery experts sent to Argentina are as handy with sixshooters as any I have ever met. They are mostly westerners, have used revolvers from their childhood, and their arms, from which they never separate themselves for a moment while in campo, are always of the best and latest pattern.

Not once or twice, but on dozens of occasions, have I seen one or another of these men with his Colt's or Mauser "automatic," after a preliminary shot or two to get the range blow over a rabbit running at full speed across the pampa. This is good shooting, as will be appreciated by anyone who has had experience with the revolver. Yet the case I have in mind is that of a thrashing machine expert from Texas—a crack shot—who had trouble with his Argentine magnificence, had an even break on a draw at 25 or 30 feet, and was retired from action with a knife through his shoulder before his revolver was clear of its holster.—Lewis R. Freeman in the Cornhill Magazine.

USE OF ETHER IN SURGERY

Youthful Dentist Said to Have Begun Responsible for Its Introduction to General Practice.

While various experiments had been made with so-called "laughing gas" or nitrous oxide gas in America prior to 1840, it was some 74 years ago that the first practical operation under ether was performed in the Massachusetts General hospital in Boston, and the peculiar part of it was that the sulphuric ether was given, not by one of the house physicians, but by a young dentist who had been experimenting on himself and had gone to sleep for eight minutes. He rushed over to the hospital and asked a chance to demonstrate his discovery. A man about to have a tumor removed from his neck gave permission to have the "new-fangled dope" applied. Dentist Morton went to work and the tumor was removed. The patient opening his eyes after the operation cried, "Gentlemen, this is no humbug," and with that remark ether was given to the medical world.

Oliver Wendell Holmes came forward with names for the process and the liquid, and the dictionary gained "anesthesia" and "anesthetic." In three months the drug was being used throughout the civilized world.

Fallen Fruits Never Good.

The difference between humans and fruits lies in the fact that the human is largely the master of his own destiny. A man does not need to fall if he does not want to. He may have the talents that impart hereditary leaves, but even they are not bound to cause him to fall, if he can be surrounded with the right environment much of what is in the blood can be turned to good account. But if the fellow himself wants to fall the world is only too ready to make the way easy for him. And there are many that seem to want to try everything that any one else has ever done. It may lead them to the lowest pit, but they are always sure they can worm out somehow. Only after it's too late do men and women realize that fallen fruits have no real rating among good products.—Exchange.

Archeologists Interested.

That the remote ancestors of the American Indians may have lived in Spain in prehistoric days is indicated by some very remarkable discoveries of rock paintings that archeologists have made at El Bosque, in the hilly country north of Apleron, a Spanish town about half way between Albacete, situated in the plains of La Mancha, and Alicante, on the Mediterranean. Anthropologists also say that these discoveries throw a fresh light upon the life of prehistoric man in southwestern Europe during the Magdalenian period of the great ice age. These Paleolithic tribes, when not compelled by the rigor of the climate to find their dwellings in caverns where they obtained protection against both the intense cold and the attacks of ferocious animals, lived under rock shelters on the sides of valleys.

Relation of Doctor and Patient.

The relations between a doctor and his patient are absolutely confidential and are safeguarded by law, which forbids a physician from testifying to what he has learned in treating the patient, unless the latter expressly waives his right to secrecy. If, however, a patient has employed several doctors, and has at a trial called some of these to testify to his condition as the result of an injury, the other side has a right to call the other doctors, as the calling of some of the physicians by the plaintiff is a waiver of his rights.

Oldest of Industries.

Perhaps the oldest of all industries is sheep raising, for it was practiced even before agriculture. Wool is the product of cultivation or domestication, for there are no wild animals which closely resemble the wool-bearing sheep. Floyd W. Parsons in the Saturday Evening Post says that with the discovery that cloth could be made from wool came an effort to improve the fleece by selection and breeding. The early Romans were most successful in this pursuit, and their endeavors along this line resulted in developing a fleece of great fineness. After the conquest of the Iberian peninsula, Roman sheep were introduced into Spain, where they so greatly improved the native flocks that even during the Roman supremacy Spanish wool led the world's markets, a prestige held for many centuries.

Japs Hold Fuji Sacred.

Fuji is the name of Japan's most famous mountain, and, writes the Japanese correspondent of the London Morning Post, no Japanese thinks anything of himself until he has made some effort to ascend its sacred heights. To climb Fuji is a religious duty to most Japanese, while only a pleasure to some and a boast to others. Its graceful cone, like an inverted fan, is so familiar to all admirers of Japanese art that it needs no description here. But in Japan every mountain has a spirit; and the spirit of a beautiful or awe-inspiring mountain is to be strictly respected.

The man who never looks up is a rank failure when it comes to lifting up.
