At The Capitol

TALLAHASSEE, SUNDAY July 26.—It's all over now. The Legislature that has broken practically all records, as well as its members, has adjourned sine die. Like many representatives, I sang my "swan song" Saturday, with this column, but was a day too early.

Among the remarks that have been made, might be mentioned the "longest time spent in one calendar year" (for adjournment, for that matter) the first time a session was ever held on Sunday; prior to this the "only time a Legislature met on the Sabbath day was when the last session ran over into the small hours of Sunday morning, and officially it was Saturday night since the clock had been stopped); we have succeeded in breaking all the members (financially, a good many of them) and a large part of them (politically); have successfully broken the ten commandments at least one time; broken the morale of our constituents; and several other things that I have not space to enumerate.

The appropriations bill as finally adopted was a long way from what many of us had hoped to get, in that it is some three or four hundred thousand dollars more than our original bill, but in the interest of expediency many accepted it rather than another EXTRA SESSION. The same spirit was responsible for at least one of the measures adopted Friday night, as well as the "levy bill."

Briefly, here is what has been accomplished: we have raised the state tax income tax about 25% and allocated all of that money to schools; thereby relieving a portion of the school millage in each county, 5 mills in Benning. Three points gas tax to the Board of Administration for the use of the Commission in buying road and bridge bonds, which should further reduce the millage in Benning some 5 mills. And by the enactment of the additional one cent gas tax; documentary stamp tax, intangible tax bill, utilities tax, corporation tax, chain store tax, and inheritance tax, there will be approximately $2,000,000 collected from other sources, their real estate which will be applied to a further reduction in millage on real and personal property in the State levy. The reduction is made after acceptable computations, and my statement now is, to the amount of the cut will be subject to verification. We hope for the elimination of practically the entire state levy except one mill school levy. This will give a gross of some 25 mills.

The above figures are for the first year of the biennium. The total for the second year are said to reach some higher figures, and if correct, will see a further substantial reduction.

I have attempted to carry out the wishes of a majority of the people of my County. I have made some mistakes, but they were of the head and not of the heart. I have no regret for any additional time spent in adjournment, excepting only very tedious to reduce and not raise revenue, as well as costly adjournment. I have done my best.

My friends, my constituents, and the people of my County, I have made some mistakes, but they were of the head and not of the heart. I have no regret for any additional time spent in adjournment, excepting only very tedious to reduce and not raise revenue, as well as costly adjournment. I have done my best.

Pennsylvania Strike Becomes Intensified

PITTSBURGH, July 27.—(A.P.)—A miners strike paralyzing the bituminous coal industry in Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and Ohio grew today with the slaying by a union official of a man who had threatened his life and the wounding of a woman at a strike rally. According to a man who said he was sent to kill him, Patrick Fegan, president of District Five, United Mine Workers of America, wrested his pistol from the assailant and shot him to death.

BROADWAY STAR AND HIS GUESTS BURNED IN BLAZE

Explosion On Boat Is Cause Of Fire That Causes Minor Hurts

GREENPORT, N. Y., July 27.—(A.P.)—Harry Richman, Broadway actor and night club owner; his chauffeur, a ship captain, a newspaper columnist and two Bigfoot Follies chorus girls were burned severely yesterday when an explosion sank Richman's yacht at its dock here.

The most seriously injured was Helen Walsh, one of the actresses. As fire tore through the cabin of the craft, she was buried under a flaming mattress. Richman grabbed her and jumped with her into the water. Both were helped to shore. Physicians said her condition was serious but not critical.

Other victims were: Mark Hellinger, newspaper columnist, burned severely on his hands, legs and chest; Virginia Biddle, Bigfoot Follies chorus girl, severe burns on the feet and ankles; Robert Levy, Richman's chauffeur, superficial burns; Samuel White, ship's captain, burns on the face, chest and hand.

Mrs. Mark Hellinger, known on the Wall Street stage as Gladys Glad, was the only member of the party uninjured, but she was taken to a hospital suffering from hysteria. Hellinger and Richman said gas fumes in the cabin in which the group were sitting exploded and that fire sprang up so quickly all were burned before they could flee.

The 36-foot seagoing cruiser, the Chevalier, II, was bought two weeks ago by Richman from Alexander Aaron, Broadway producer. For a reported price of $1800, the boat was insured.

Although physicians said later Mrs. Hellinger had not been burned in the slightest, she ran screaming up and down the dock and was carried to an ambulance. She, Richman, Levy, Hellinger, Miss Walsh and Miss Biddle were all taken to the Eastern Long Island hospital. Physicians attending White at his home. Hellinger was released late in the day. All the others remained in the hospital overnight, but Richman, Levy and Mrs. Hellinger were discharged this morning, attendants said.

Miss Walsh's hair was nearly all burned away and physicians said she likely would have permanent scars on her right hand. They did not believe Richman's burns serious enough to interfere with his theatrical work.

DuPont Interests Get Okay For Miami Bank

JACKSONVILLE, July 27.—(A.P.)—Approval of an application for a charter to organize and open a new national bank in Miami has been received by the DuPont banking interests. J. G. Bright, representative of the DuPont organization, announced today.

The new bank will be known as the Florida National Bank and Trust Company and will have a capital stock of $100,000 and a surplus of $100,000. Mr. Bright said officers will be elected at an organization meeting in Miami tomorrow or Wednesday.

ILEANA IS WED MID SCENES OF REGAL DISPLAY

Queen Helen's Pretty Daughter Is Cheered By Exulted Populace; Leave On Air Jaunt

By Victor Kubank
EINAAI, Roumania, July 27.—(A.P.)—In the picturesque palace of Palack, perched on the crest of lofty pine covered hills, Princess Ileana, pretty 21-year-old daughter of the late King Ferdinand and Queen Marie of Roumania, was married yesterday to Archduke Anton, seventh son of Archduke Leopold Salvator of Hapsburg.

This was the merriest day the population of the staid summer resort of Einai ever experienced. The villagers were up at dawn, and delegates from Princem Ileana's own corps of Girl Scouts strewed the streets, approaching the castle, with flowers. The entire population lined the roadway to see the guests, officials, ministers and prelates arrive at the palace.

Many of the peasants rode into town bareback on horses; others drove in old world ox-carts. Just before the big event of the day, Princess Ileana and Archduke Anton submitted to being photographed and giving newspaper interviews, which were answered frankly. The photographing over, the courage of the princess faltered when she was requested to speak over the microphone. She said she had prepared no speech and was so overcome by her emotions, she could not extemporize any greeting to the world.

As the hour for the religious ceremony approached, about 300 guests had assembled in or about the large hall of the palace where an altar was set up. After a short period of waiting during which the smiling princess entered the hall at the same time as the bridegroom, who looked serious and preoccupied.

Immediately after this civil ceremony, through which Princess Ileana, formerly a Roumanian citizen, civil protocols were signed and witnessed, and the young couple presented to the Ministers of Rites.

This done, the procession proceeded to the chapel in the castle. Nobles, diplomats and ministers were witnessed the impressive wedding ceremony, according to the ritual of the Roman Catholic Church.

It was punctuated at 11 A. M. when the princess, leaning on the arm of King Carol, advanced up the aisle and took her place before the altar.

Local Plans Pilot In Minor Accident Sunday

Recent rains which have left the emergency takeoff aviation field in a rough and soggy condition were held directly responsible for a minor accident which occurred there yesterday morning when E. J. Boak, local used car dealer and student of aviation, taxiing down the field preparatory to taking off for a short flight, struck a bank hidden hole causing the plane to dip long enough to splinter the ends of the propeller.

Mr. Boak immediately cut off the gasoline supply and brought the plane to a stop. Examination revealed that no damage was suffered by any part of the ship except the propeller, and Pilot E. J. Courtagar, in case ordered a new one, which will be here within a few days.

Carlton Praises Work Done By Legislators But Thinks Funds Expected Not Enough

TALLAHASSEE, July 27.—(A.P.)—Governor Carlton yesterday expressed praise for the 100-day Legislature but said he had doubts whether sufficient revenue was provided to care for the state's financial requirements for the next two years.

The governor said he feared the 1931 Legislature made the usual legislative mistake of over-estimating revenue to be derived from various forms of taxation.

He said failure of the tax measures to bring expected returns and failure of ad valorem levies to produce as much money as will as heretofore may cause the state to be hard-pressed before the end of biennium. He added that this financial condition might be felt before the end of the present summer.

Replying to a question, he said failure of the state to receive sufficient revenue returns from all forms of taxes might necessitate another special legislative session in the future but "that's a question which remains to be determined."

The governor said Comptroller

GRAF ZEPPELIN IS IN POLAR REGION ON 6-DAY FLIGHT

Airship Has Scientific Party On Board To Study In Far North

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, July 27.—(A.P.)—The Graf Zeppelin was received a wireless report from the Graf Zeppelin at a late hour giving her position as 68 degrees north latitude, longitude 42 east.

This located the ship a considerable distance north of Archangel, near the Arctic Circle.

LENINGRAD, Russia, July 27.—(A.P.)—Carrying Russian, German and American scientists, the Graf Zeppelin set out yesterday for a six-day voyage of exploration and scientific study in the far north.

The dirigible took off from Leningrad at 11:10 A. M. (4:10 A. M. E.S.T.)

In unfavorable atmospheric conditions, the big dirigible lifted her nose from the special mooring mast a little more than 14 hours after her arrival here from Berlin; to take on hydrogen from a special tank erected for her.

Just before the start, Dr. Hugo Eckener, her commander, said he was leaving for the North fully confident of success and hoped to reach Franz Joseph land within 24 hours, unless hindered by the weather, which according to the latest reports, was not favorable.

When in the neighborhood of Franz Joseph land, Dr. Eckener added, the Graf Zeppelin will try to establish immediate contact with the Soviet ice-breaker Maliga.

The Maliga already is in the vicinity of Franz Joseph land.

STIMSON AND CURTIUS TALK AT LUNCHEON

Sackett and Bruening Also Attend But No Word Is Given As To Subject Discussed

BERLIN, July 27.—(A.P.)—On the terrace of a picturesque restaurant overlooking the Wannsee, popular lake playground of Berlin, Secretary of State Stimson and Ambassador Sackett of the United States were luncheon guests yesterday of Dr. Curtius, German foreign minister.

Chancellor Bruening also was a guest, and the four talked about questions vitally affecting the future of Germany and Europe.

Exactly what they discussed, and how they discussed it, was not revealed in the communique issued by the foreign office. Nevertheless great importance was attached in diplomatic circles to this informal and intimate conversation between the German and American statesmen, an importance which also attached to the hours they spent elsewhere during the day.

Secretary Stimson was quite specific Saturday in insisting that his visit was of an entirely informal kind. Nothing he or his German hosts have said publicly since his arrival justifies the assumption that any concrete result might be forthcoming from his Berlin week-end, but the people as a whole seemed more optimistic and the hope that the fear of fear and international mistrust may be dispelled seemed to have grown.

Today the secretary was scheduled to be received by President von Hindenburg at 11 A. M., but inasmuch as Foreign Minister Henderson of Great Britain was expected to arrive from London early this morning, an opportunity still remained for a brief conference between the American and British foreign office heads before Secretary Stimson goes to the presidential palace.

Stimson will leave for London at 3 P. M.

LONDON, July 27.—(A.P.)—Prime Minister Macdonald left by train last night for Berlin to return his visit of Chancellor Bruening and Foreign Minister Curtius to Chequers several weeks ago.

Foreign Secretary Hoopeson left yesterday and will meet the prime minister in Berlin.

Before the train left he said, "I hope this visit will have a good effect and will serve to advance the good results achieved during the German ministers' visit to Chequers. The whole financial situation will be discussed by people who are going to face it, in a common sense way and with a sense of reality."

Construction of the steel and concrete structure which will support the large electric clock to be erected at the center of First Street and Park Avenue, will begin within a few days, George Weinstein, president of the Independent Merchants Association said today.

The clock, a donation of A. H. Moses, is the same clock which at one time was affixed to the old First National Bank building, now occupied by the Western Union Telegraph Co.

The steel pole which supports the clock, will be imbedded in a right foot slab of concrete weighing more than 14,000 pounds. A circular mold of concrete will be poured into a large steel ring at the base of the pole, while at a height of six feet will be placed stop and go signals similar to those now hung at that corner.

CHILE DICTATOR QUILTS HIS JOB IN FACE OF TROUBLE

President's Resignation Has Been Demanded For Week

SANTIAGO, July 27.—(A.P.)—Carlos Ibanez, president of Chile since 1927 who resigned after public uprisings had been raging three days, fled the presidential palace today to get away from bitter opponents who are calling for his head.

It is reported the retiring president boarded a vessel at San Antonio and left for an undisclosed foreign destination.

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 27.—(A.P.)—Carlos Ibanez del Campo, Chilean dictator and self-styled "man of destiny," fell from power yesterday by his own hands.

In the face of an incipient Chilean revolution, the man who once said he would enjoy "divine guidance in ruling as long as necessary," and who took for his own the principal principle of Premier Mussolini of Italy and former Dictator Primo de Rivera of Spain, urged in his resignation today.

The resignation was verbal in form. It was made as a request to the Chilean congress for safe passage.

Francis A. Johnson, 73, a resident of Markham for more than 20 years, died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hughes, East Fifth Street last night at about 9:30 o'clock.

Funeral arrangements had not been announced today, but it is understood that burial will be made in Evergreen Cemetery beside the body of his wife, who died last year.

Mr. Johnson, who has been living at the Hughes home for the past few weeks because his own home at Markham had been destroyed by fire, died suddenly. He appeared in good health when he was last seen, and had attended services at a local church yesterday morning.

As a resident of Markham for many years, Mr. Johnson's circle of friends was large. Many Sanford residents were among his acquaintances, while he was well known by many persons throughout central Florida.

STATE CAPITAL ALL QUIET AS SESSION ENDS

Governor Carlton Is Of Opinion That 3rd Extraordinary Session May Be Needed

TALLAHASSEE, July 27.—(A.P.)—Florida's legislative halls were deserted and silent today in contrast to the record breaking hundred-day session which adjourned sine die late yesterday. The Sunday meeting was the first in the state's history.

The Legislature's final act was the passage of the biennial appropriations bill setting aside $14,126,000 for two years' operation of the state government. However, as legislators returned to their homes they carried a statement by Governor Carlton that a third extraordinary session may be necessary.

The Governor said he believed revenue from some of the measures passed are estimated too high and as a result the treasury might be pinched before the end of the biennium. If this condition occurs he said another session may be called.

Revenue was provided as the two Houses agreed on a compromise measure which set a seventh cent gasoline tax estimated to raise $2,550,000 annually.

Two other major revenue measures enacted in the closing hours established a tax levy on intangibles estimated to produce $500,000 and a stamp tax on documents estimated to raise $1,000,000 annually, all income to go to the state treasury. The Governor praised the Legislature for its work and said he is "glad the ordeal is over."

The Legislature adjourned yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock after passing measures to reduce from 18 mills to 4 7/8 mills the state ad valorem tax on real estate, assessed at $75,000,000.

Its 100-day sessions were unprecedented in Florida's history, and the final meeting of the two Houses yesterday was the first Sunday session on record.

Milane Is Thanked For Its Assistance In Welfare Cases

Members of the Seminole County Welfare Board at their regular monthly meeting last Friday afternoon declared a vote of thanks should be extended to the management and employees of the Milane Theater, as well as E. J. Sparks, head of the theater chain of which the Milane is a part, for their co-operation in the disposition of welfare cases in this county.

According to Mrs. Helen T. Morse, executive secretary of the board, not many persons in this county are aware that the management and employees of the Milane have been giving one percent of their monthly salaries to the local welfare board, and that Mr. Sparks is matching their total contribution with an equal amount from his personal funds.

The funds thus derived, from an entirely unasked source, Mrs. Morse said, have proven a wonderful aid during the summer months, and as a result, several needy families have been assisted.

The group also discussed the possibility that other local organizations or firms might join with the Milane employees in contributing to the cause of the local needy.

Asked whether conditions here were improved over those of last year, as had been reported some days ago, Mrs. Morse said there was considerable truth in the report although she had been in touch with more persons this year than last. "The cases have not been, as a general rule, as plentiful as we have experienced in other years," she said, "and I believe we can say that conditions in this county are generally better than many other sections of the state."

Taxation Will Be

In summing up the work of the Legislature, it was to bear in mind that the primary purpose for which this body convened was one of tax reduction. Practically every member of the House and Senate who were elected in 1928 or 1930 based his campaign on tax reduction. The Governor himself, in his "State of the State" message, and the Legislature, in its opening session, have both indicated that the primary purpose of the Legislature was to reduce the tax burden on the people of this state.
