STAGE STARS OF ALL NATIONS ARE PLAYING IN PARIS

Good German Company Seen IN French Capital This Season For the 1st Time Since World War Out Break

PARIS, FRANCE, Aug. 2.—Paris stage is nothing if not international. At the present moment there are actors from a dozen different nations playing in various French theatres. There are Russian ones, Yiddish, German, English and Spanish.

For the first time since the war, a good German company is visiting the capital, and the fact that they have received a cordial reception seems to point in the gradual disappearance of war differences. At the same time, a French troupe is performing in Berlin.

Louis de Vries Dutch troupe gave a few plays at the Odéon theatre and then Leon Lion's English company came along. The latter has probably drawn the record crowds for all of Paris, especially the younger generation, is learning English these days. The regular English theatre which has now become a permanent institution in Paris, is playing to a good audience every night.

The actors of the Jewish Academic theatre of Moscow played for two weeks in Yiddish and many of those who attended without knowing this language maintained that they enjoyed it exactly as much as if they had. Dialogue was not the essential. It was not what the actors said but what they did that made the performance so engaging.

Lovers of the art of the theatre found much to interest them in the performance of "Princess Turandot" given by the Yachtanov Studio of Moscow. Then there were the Russian ballets and above all the Spanish ones and lovely Argentina dancing to perfection at the Opera Comique. And last, but certainly not the least, in the international mixture of theatre in Paris, is the Jata opera, "Jonny mere la dansa" at the Theatre des Champs Elysees.

Marie Leconte, well-known French actress and member of the Comedie Francaise, is in trouble at the Paris court because she happens to own a dog which is larger than a cat. The rules laid down by the landlord of the apartment house where she lives stipulate that only canines as big as felines may be kept within the walls. The attorney for Mademoiselle Leconte declares that the seven other smaller dogs in the house can do just as much damage and make even more noise than the big dog which is larger than a cat, but the judge will decide the matter.

"Ouch, a hook inside of this worm-shocking!" says the fish and he winks vengeance by giving the fisherman an electric shock.

This is not a fish story, according to Professors Hagenard and Magnan who informed the French Academy of Science about their research into the proclivities of "electric fish."

A GYPSY SANG

In the New York World—A gypsy sang of a thousand nights; She sang at the palace gate.

Your heart is light with a thousand loves; And all of your loves are true.

Too long have I lain in a loveless bed; But I have waked and prayed.

In the healing clasp of the brooding dark; While the King breathes deep and slow.

Love is no quarry to stalk and chase; And Harry and Rose and slight.

Will you never barter your thousand dreams; For my dream that you dream not of?

The young Queen sighed and slept again; And smiled at the sleeping King.

The city attorney of St. Cloud has resigned; What a fine example he sets for some others.

Fred Stone, the actor, fell in an airplane crash yesterday; And despite his name, suffered several broken bones.

Young Stribling has claimed the heavyweight championship; Relinquished by Gene Tunney.

Troops may be used to clean out gambling and other notorious law violations in New Orleans; Sounds like somebody is getting jealous of Chicago.

Headline says "Coolidge Blames Congress For Big Postoffice Loss"; If Congress is interested in playing tag it could come back now and blame Mr. Coolidge.

Tom Heehey has been given a knockout punch by Dan Cupid; But we hope the boys will be kind enough to refrain from saying he has signed up for his biggest fight.

Headline in the Palm Beach Times says "Chicago Police Chief Will Wage War On All Criminals"; A little less talk and a little more action would seem to be a good course for him to follow.

What we don't like about this latest attempt to span the Atlantic is that we haven't yet been able to figure out how to pronounce the name of Idiskowak.

"Rooster Ordinance Will Be Enforced," announces the Bradenton Herald; Does that mean some of the birds are getting wild down there?

Echoes Of Kentucky Politics

The recent death of William H. Taylor recalls his connection with one of the most tragic incidents in the political history of Kentucky.

The shooting of Gobel occurred January 30, 1903 as he was walking to the capitol in Frankfort.

Three persons were indicted in connection with the alleged conspiracy to kill Gobel, Henry Youtsey, Caleb Powers and Taylor.

When Taylor left Kentucky he was not only shorn of political power but was penniless.

Most bitter among these remarks is that of the Republican New York Herald-Tribune, which, deserting its party for the moment, says:

Kellogg's Plan To Outlaw War

While Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg, once known to the more sophisticated politically as "Nervous Nelly," is warned by the knowledge that he has the promises of fourteen nations to sign his beautiful treaty.

"The treaty will probably be signed but we hope that the Senate will refuse to ratify it."

"We greatly admire the record of the Coolidge administration and we strongly approve its many sound and beneficent accomplishments, but the Kellogg treaty... is certainly not one of them."

"The conception of renouncing war by governmental fiat is inherently absurd."

"The treaty negotiations, thanks to Secretary Kellogg's inaction, were used as a pretext by the pacifist lobby in Washington, last winter, to prevent action on the Cruiser bill."

THE CLEARER VISION CLEARWATER SUN

It isn't hard to feel a little bit envious of Marcella Calkins, the Wisconsin girl who is enjoying the gift of sight now for the first time in her 20 years of life.

The girl had been blind since birth. The other day Milwaukee doctors performed a delicate operation on her eyes; now she can see, and in a short time her sight will be wholly normal.

There must be a great thrill in seeing things for the first time. After living in darkness for 20 years, one must find the newly-visible world a marvellous, gaily-colored place indeed.

The commonest objects—houses, trees, clouds, lawns—must have a touch of divinity about them.

For we who always have had good eyes do not customarily see very much after all.

Yet, for all that, every object that meets our eyes is something of a marvel. The house in which

TAKE AWAY THOSE SIGNS DAYTONA BEACH NEWS-JOURNAL

Action of the Realty Board last week again draws our attention to the fact that the "For Sale" signs characteristic of investment property, and even tacked onto the homes of permanent residents, are bad psychology for Daytona Beach.

How truly bad it is came frankly to our notice recently when a stranger came to Daytona Beach intending to invest.

Now Daytona Beach does not want to sell out everything it has. Those signs are lying signs in the aggregate.

Sunshine soil and water

Florida possesses all three in an abundance and with a diversity and a combination of natural advantages that is unmatched on any other spot on earth

FLORIDA'S extraordinary natural advantages to a considerable extent are generally known. Yet their real tangible value to the economic welfare of the State is too seldom realized and are only just beginning to be utilized.

Florida's unfailing, life giving sunshine, aside from its health advantages, provides a year-round growing season. The State's fertile soil grows an unequalled variety of plant life and covers a wealth of rare minerals. Its plentiful waters add life to its soil and abound with an endless variety of fish and sea food.

Florida deposits of phosphate, one of the most essential minerals for plant and animal life, are the most extensive in the world. Florida is second among the States in the production of naval stores and is one of the nation's greatest lumber producers.

No other state equals Florida in the production of grapefruit and celery. Sixty-one per cent of the country's peppers, 57% of its egg-plant, 24% of its tomatoes, 21% of its water-melons, and a large percentage of many other fruits and vegetables come from Florida. During its 10-month shipping season each year Florida sends out nearly one hundred thousand carloads of fruits and vegetables, or an average of eight solid train loads per day. The Sunshine State ships one-tenth of all the fresh fruits and vegetables marketed in the United States.

Yet, the land now under cultivation in Florida amounts to only one-half of one per cent of the crop land of the entire country. The growth of the State's agricultural importance is evidenced by the fact that since 1922 the average value of Florida farm land has increased from $64.00 to $100.00. No other state shows an increase that is even half as great.

Today the progress in farm development in Florida is greater than ever before. A rapidly growing highway system is opening up new territory and making it more accessible to markets. More land is coming under cultivation and more and more people are realizing the unequalled advantages Florida offers from an agricultural standpoint. More intensive and more efficient marketing methods are increasing the value of Florida crops.

Year in and year out--when the Northern demand is greatest--when prices are highest--each new harvest from its sunshine and soil and water brings increasing wealth and prosperity to the Sunshine State--wealth and prosperity that will grow with increasing momentum as the years go by.
