Richard Nixon Revisited

--And What Did You Think...?

1. Did it change your opinion of Richard Nixon?
2. Do you think he's lying?
3. Are you going to watch the rest of the series?

These were the questions posed by Herald staffers in a random telephone sampling of Central Floridians immediately after Wednesday evening's first of three interviews between former President Nixon and David Frost. Some of the sampling was done this morning.

Of a total of 43 contacted, only 17 had watched the program: a less-than-representing 39 per cent.

Those who did watch, however, were ready to react:

tell the truth, but he was lying," she said.

"Bob Walle, DeBary baker: "He avoided everything. I did have the feeling he was lying from to time."

Mrs. Betty Roderick, 34 Winter Park housewife: "I don't know if Nixon lied. You don't know what to believe."

Michael V. Hunter, Summit Apartments, Casselberry, didn't watch. "I had wanted to but I played racket ball and missed it. Isn't that terrible?"

George S. Fender, 36, C.P.A., 658 Devonshire Blvd., Longwood, had "more sympathy" for Nixon "after hearing the human side" of the firing of Haldeman and Ehrlichman. "I still think he screwed up," he said.

L.W. Scott, 40, production manager for Channel 2: "I think he knew what he did was wrong, but he had an awful hard time facing up to it. His legalistic mind prevents him from admitting guilt."

Donna Crosky, Winter Park: Monosyllabic replies. "No. No. Yes."

Roy Kennedy, 992 E. Normandy, Deltona, Sanford auto parts business. "My opinion of Nixon is that he has been put on. I support the man. I especially go along with his comment about the sword. He handed a sword to the Congress — and the media — and they twisted it with relief."

His comments on the cover up impressed me. I don't think he engineered it — he was motivated by political, not corrupt motives."

Reid Morton, P.O. Box 308, Geneva, salesman: "I think we've been ripped off. I think he (Nixon) got ripped off last night. Those questions have been asked over and over and they're getting old."

Tony Russi, 247 S. French Ave., insurance agent: "I always thought he lied to the country. He doesn't seem to be able to say I'm sorry I hold a bold-faced lie. "I don't think anything he can say will change the attitude of the country. "Frost really laid it on him."

Kitty West, 625 E. Cambria, Sanford, legal secretary: "I give it to him. When he was wrong, he admitted it. That's to his credit. But I

Gun Permits: County Seeks Capital Aid

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County officials today disagreed with a recent Florida Supreme Court ruling which said the county commission hasn't the right to deny issuance of permits to carry concealed weapons.

County Commission Chairman Dick Williams has appealed to the state legislature for a bill that would permit the county commission to draw guidelines that would allow persons to carry concealed weapons for "bona fide" reasons only.

Sheriff John Polk blasted the concept of issuing such permits to anyone other than police officers and vowed to fight the April 29 Supreme Court ruling which says any person over the age of 21 who has good moral character cannot be denied a permit.

"I'm a private citizen carrying concealed weapons. If I see anyone carrying a concealed weapon, I want that person to be a police officer. I think the courts are opening a Pandora's Box," the sheriff said.

"What we are saying is we want the legislature to pass a law that requires a person show a real need and proficiency," Williams added.

No permits have been issued in years in Seminole County. Last year a private investigator from South Seminole applied for a permit, but he failed to get it because Polk wouldn't recommend for or against. Without Polk's recommendation, the commission refused to grant the permit.

Office Supervisor Dot Wade said about 11 persons have asked for applications to carry concealed handguns since the Supreme Court ruling.

Commissioner Bob French said he agreed with the letter Williams mailed to the Seminole Legislative Delegation. In essence, the letter asked for a bill requiring a person applying for a concealed weapon permit show a "bona fide" need to carry the weapon. The term "bona fide" would be defined either by the state legislature or by the Seminole County Commission.

Why would a person need a gun, why a concealed weapon?" French asked.

Polk said it's not against the law to own a gun as long as it's kept in the home or in a car. But, he said, he is "philosophically opposed" to allowing anyone but police officers to carry a concealed weapon.

The argument presented by private investigators is that hidden weapons are needed when investigating certain types of cases. Mrs. Wade said no permits will be issued until the issue is cleared up. A person desiring such a permit would be required to appear before the county commission before it is formally issued. Security guards carry weapons in open view on their hips. Permission for that comes from the state, not the county commission.

Polk said security guards cannot legally carry a concealed weapon without a county permit.

The Unwanted Pregnancy: Many Choose Abortion

By JANE CASSELBERRY Herald Staff Writer

Teenage girls who become pregnant are often little more than children themselves, yet they are faced with an important decision that will not only affect their own life, but that of their unborn child.

Should she give birth to her baby and give it up for adoption? She she keep the baby and raise it herself or rush into a hasty marriage to "give the baby a name?"

Or should she have a legal abortion (an option not easily available before the Supreme Court decision four years ago)?

These are the choices open to young women who find themselves in this situation, but if they prolong their decision their options diminish.

A pregnant teenager, though of these 50 per cent were 24 years old or under; and 20 per cent younger than 18. A dramatic jump in numbers comes at about 15 or 16 and several of his patients have been nine and 10-year-olds.

Dr. Barr said about 99 per cent of the girls under 16 are accompanied to the clinic by their parents and sometimes a minister or doctor. "In the few instances where girls come to the clinic without their parents' knowledge or consent, they are not trying to get away with something, but do so because they want to protect their parents and feel it would destroy or disrupt relationships," he said.

DDC By Any Other Name Worth 20Gs

By MARK WEINBERG Herald Staff Writer

Downtown Development Corporation (DDC) has received "unofficial" notification it will be awarded a $20,000 federal grant to continue planning improvements in Sanford's downtown area. DDC consultant Sara Jacobson told a board of directors meeting of the group this morning.

The DDC board also voted to recommend DDC's membership change the name of the organization to Greater Sanford Development Corporation. The name change "will help people understand that what we're doing will help all of Sanford. I think we'll get more support," said DDC Chairman Gib Edmunds.

The federal grant can be used for planning, traffic, engineering and landscape studies, Miss Jacobson said.

The money comes from the U.S. Commerce Department's Economic Development Administration (EDA) and must be matched by DDC funds totaling $666.

DDC had originally applied for a grant of $80,000. Official notification of the grant from the Atlanta EDA regional office is expected "in about a month," Miss Jacobson said.

Federal officials have told Miss Jacobson "it is possible" DDC will receive more EDA money if the federal agency's proposed budget for the fiscal year beginning in October is fully funded by Congress.

The EDA officials said they would "try and come up with an additional $60,000," according to Miss Jacobson.

Atlanta EDA officials at first turned down DDC's grant application, but "with the productive assistance of Jeno Paulucci, we were able to gain immediate recognition in Washington," Miss Jacobson said.

The name change proposal reflects an effort by DDC to increase participation in its activities by a broader segment of the city's population, including the Chamber of Commerce, Sanford Plaza Merchants Association and other public and private groups.

As a part of this effort, the DDC board has added several "liaison members" to its board from other organizations, including Downtown Businessmen's Association, Florida Public Utilities, Southern Bell, Lakefront Development Corporation, the city government, Seminole County government,

NATION IN BRIEF

Wholesale Prices Up 1.1%; Third Big Jump In A Row

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices, an indicator of prices consumers eventually pay, soared 1.1 per cent in April, the third big monthly increase in a row, the government reported today.

The April increase, which matched the March rise in wholesale prices and followed a jump of nine-tenths of a per cent in February, adds to worries of accelerating inflation. The March increase had been the biggest monthly jump in wholesale prices since October 1975.

Government economists had expected the April jump because farm prices have been rising at a rate of better than 1 per cent for the past five months.

Carter In Europe For Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter is bound for Europe and his informal initiation into the exclusive club of world statesmen.

Although Carter has met at the White House with a variety of presidents, prime ministers and princes, his first overseas mission will involve him in multi-nation talks with the political heavyweights of the industrialized world.

In advance of today's midmorning departure for London and an international economic summit, Carter said, "I'd like to have a common approach among the developed industrialized nations toward dealing with inflation and unemployment."

Although this is the central challenge facing Carter and his foreign counterparts, they also will confront other minefields of conflicting national interests.

At Sanford P & Z Meeting Lawyers To Voice Landfill Opposition

By MARK WEINBERG
Herald Staff Writer

An Orlando attorney representing a group of citizens opposed to the City of Sanford's plan to operate a sanitary landfill at SR-46A and Oregon Avenue and the city attorney of Lake Mary will present legal objections to rezoning the land at tonight's meeting of the Sanford Planning and Zoning Commission, scheduled for 8 p.m. at city hall.

The zoning board will conduct a public hearing on the city commission's request to rezone 23 acres of an 85.45-acre site from residential to agricultural, the first step toward allowing a landfill on the site.

W.L. "Bud" Kirk Jr. of the law firm of Pitts, Eubanks, Rosa and Rumberger discussed legal strategy with Lake Mary City Attorney Garry Massey at a Wednesday night meeting of the 46-A Environmental Protection Association which took place in a church near the proposed landfill site.

Kirk has retained by the city the services of the law firm of Pitts, Eubanks, Rosa and Rumberger to take legal action to stop the landfill.

The group of about 35 heard from residential to agricultural, the first step toward allowing a landfill on the site.

Bill Kirchhoff discussed the problems of operating sanitary landfills. The Sanford-proposed landfill is located within Kirchhoff's county commission district.

The commissioner, who opposes the city's landfill plan, was instrumental in developing a proposal by the county commissioners to reduce rates at the county's Osceola landfill if Sanford agreed to abandon its landfill proposal and use the county's facilities.

The City of Sanford has not accepted the county's offer because, according to City Manager W.E. Knowles, it would be less expensive for the city to operate its own landfill.

still think he was wrong. He's given his answers before, and he wasn't going to deviate."

John Morris, Idylwild, Sanford: "I don't believe he thinks he ever lied. I felt sorry for him (during the Frost interview). I think he believes he's a victim of circumstance."

Dorothy Carter, receptionist, Dept. of Health and Rehabilitative Services, Sanford: "I agree pretty much with what was said in the news this morning — that he still didn't admit to any wrongdoing. I think he should have."

Jan David, journalist-author, Altamonte Springs: "He didn't say anything new. He was as evasive as ever, and frankly I just didn't want to hear it. I was one of those who had faith in him till the bitter end, and then got shot down."

Stimulating, was how Sharon Gabelston who works on the metro desk described it: "I found it stimulating and informative. I never thought Nixon would go as far as he did in admitting wrongdoing, even though he didn't admit to legal wrongdoing, but to moral wrongdoing. I personally was bowled over by it. Especially his saying he knows he let the American public down."

The metro desk writer said she wasn't sure she'd watch the remaining Nixon interviews.

Randy Lindsay, Paola: "I wanted to watch it, but I just didn't have the time."

Harry Lindberg, 1347 Mellonville Ave., Sanford: "That subject is so worn out I'm not interested. What's the use? It's the same old thing..."

Seminole landfill.

The county moved its operation to the Osceola site in 1973.

Kanelis said his group would meet tonight and would probably support the 46-A group in opposing Sanford's landfill proposal.

Input On Landfill Sought

The state Department of Environmental Regulation (DER) has begun soliciting public comments on the City of Sanford's plan to operate a sanitary landfill at SR-46A and Oregon Ave.

The city has requested a landfill permit from DER's Orlando regional office.

A legal notice appeared in Wednesday's Evening Herald giving persons interested in commenting on the city's proposal 30 days to reply to the DER.

Bill Allows 20 Grams Pot As Misdemeanor

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — A bill reducing penalties for the possession of limited amounts of marijuana could face trouble in the House following passage on a close vote in the Senate.

The Senate on Wednesday voted 19-17 for a bill by Sen. Kenneth Myers, D-Miami, that would raise from five grams to 28 grams (one ounce) the amount of marijuana considered a misdemeanor offense.

The bill (SB604) now goes to the House, where Myers admits chances of passage are uncertain.

Solar Energy Book 'Hot Item'

WINTER PARK (AP) — The nation's energy problems and rising fuel costs have sent interest in solar energy soaring, according to the head of the Environmental Information Center here.

"We are getting orders for our booklet, 'Build Your Own Solar Water Heater' from all parts of the country," said Bill Partington, director of the center.

The DDC board also heard a recommendation from DDC staff member Shirley Moak that DDC's plans for improving parking in the downtown area include a parking lot south of Second Street off Magnolia Avenue and leasing or acquiring private lots on Commercial Street behind Roumillat's drug store and Ideal Garage for parking.

Miss Moak based her recommendations on a survey of downtown parking she conducted under the guidance of Tipton Associates, an Orlando traffic consultant.

Altamonte Readies Land Plan Protests

The Altamonte Springs city staff is putting together the city's objections to the proposed county comprehensive land use plan today for a review by city commissioners at 10 a.m. Friday.

The commissioners during a paragraph by paragraph review of the proposed plan Wednesday objected to the inclusion of the board of county commissioners in the plan's framework as a possible countywide authority to enforce the plan's provisions in both the

Dr. Barr said there is a book scheduled for release in October entitled "A Woman's Choice," dealing with the subject of abortion.

The need for licensing and inspections of abortion facilities in Florida, has brought about a proposed bill being introduced into the current state legislature which would regulate the clinics.

SCIDA Approves New Procedures

The Seminole County Industrial Development Authority (SCIDA) today approved new policy guidelines and operating procedures.

SCIDA Executive Director Jim Daniel said the new guidelines were necessary because the organization, though it is subject to state law governing certain phases of its operation, had never formally adopted guidelines.

The guidelines also cover policies for industrial revenue bonds issued through SCIDA. The bonds, which are exempt from federal taxation, usually sell for "0.75 of a point to two points less than other industrial bonds on the market," Daniel said.

Restroom Issue May Stall Park

Controversial Apple Valley park may not be developed this year.

Commission Chairman Dick Williams said this morning officials may divert some $78,000 budgeted to develop the park site.

The reason, according to John Percy, director of county development, is there isn't enough money on hand to build restrooms at the Apple Valley site in South Seminole County.

"You just can't build tennis courts without gates, fences and restrooms," Williams said.

The county commission will be asked to decide whether to divert the funds to Red Bug, or someplace else at next Tuesday's meeting.

Percy said parks officials have received numerous requests for additional tennis courts at Red Bug. Last November, the commission bought the Apple Valley site for $22,000.

Williams said the park definitely will be developed. But, he said it probably won't happen until next year. — ED PRICKETT

Sanford Man Jailed In Arson Of Volkswagen

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford police have arrested a 28-year-old man in connection with the burning of an auto in an apartment complex parking lot.

Darryl Keith Thomas, of 129 Bethune Circle, Sanford, was booked at county jail Wednesday afternoon in lieu of $8,000 bond on charges of arson, fleeing and attempting to elude police and reckless driving.

Patrolman Jack Pulewicz reported witnesses saw a man around a 1965 Volkswagen belonging to Joe Nathan Campbell, 30, of Lake Monroe. As the man drove away from the parking lot near apartment 45, Seminole Gardens Apartments, the Volkswagen burst into flames, police said.

Officers reported a flammable liquid was apparently used to set afire the small auto.

TRACTOR THEFT
Sheriff's deputies arrested a 15-year-old Oviedo boy Wednesday afternoon in connection with the theft of a grove tractor on Brantley Drive north of SR-419.

Herbert Dykema, an employee of Parker Grove Service, reported he was working in a citrus grove with the tractor and left it there at lunchtime. An hour later when Dykema returned, deputies said the tractor was gone. Dykema followed the tractor's tracks through a downed pasture fence nearby in a pickup truck but the truck got stuck in sand.

Deputies said Dykema could hear the tractor but couldn't see it. Deputies used an airboat and an airplane to locate the tractor which had been abandoned with its engine running.

Sheriff's detective C.R. Brown arrested the youth a short time later and he was turned over to state Division of Youth Services officials at the Sanford Juvenile Detention Center.

AGGRAVATED BATTERY
In other arrests, Sanford police Capt. C.B. Fagan Jr. arrested Harvey Harding Gore, 56, of Elder Road, Lake Monroe, on a circuit court warrant charging aggravated battery. Bond for Gore was set at $8,000, according to records.

Oviedo police detective Sgt. R.J. Kramer arrested Wilford White, 30, of Taylor Street, Oviedo, on an aggravated assault charge. Bond for White was set at $5,000. County jail records indicate the arrest was in connection with an assault in which a 15-year-old girl's jaw was fractured.

Let's Not Ring The Curtain On Truth

The United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization has until the end of next year to come up with recommendations for improving the flow of news to and from the Third World. The recent interim meeting in Florence, Italy, makes us wonder whether UNESCO will be able to do anything constructive in this area at all.

Journalists and government officials from the developed and developing nations were not speaking the same language at Florence — even through interpreters. Unless they can agree on the meaning of the word news, UNESCO is going down a blind alley.

Third World delegates who raised the news issue in the U.N. are saying that correspondents from international news agencies like Associated Press and United Press International are serving as agents of "imperialism" in their dispatches. Instead, they should be serving the cause of "liberation."

This means, we suppose, that when a Third World government seizes the assets of a foreign firm it should not be reported in such matter of fact terms. Rather, the reporter should write glowingly that the people have liberated some of their national treasures and justice has triumphed. In other words, the news should become an editorial. If a correspondent is jailed or expelled from a country for reporting news that is accurate but embarrassing to a government — which often happens — this, too, should be reported as a victory for truth.

Maybe we shouldn't be surprised that some U.N. members fail to understand principles of a free press that we take for granted. After all, their own governments may be in power only through a contrary principle of revolutionary politics — the state control of newspapers and broadcasting stations as instruments of propaganda.

The danger in the current UNESCO exercise is that the latter principle is now threatening the independent news-gathering agencies that are often the only island of a free press in Third World countries. Those agencies agreed at Florence to help the Third World establish a news network of its own, with the understanding that the freedom of foreign journalists would not be hindered. Maybe that will satisfy UNESCO, but the advent of an agency peddling propaganda as news won't help the people of the developed and developing countries understand each other any better.

Ethics Vs. Politics

Rep. John Flynt, the Georgia Democrat, says it may be late summer or early fall before his House Ethics Committee can open hearings into the relationship between a free-sending South Korean lobbyist and members of Congress. It already has been more than six months since the activities of Tong Sun Park began emerging with a whirl of scandal.

Compare the zeal with which the Senate went after the hint of scandal in the Watergate burglary. It was in February of 1973 that Judge John Sirica suggested that a Senate investigation might be appropriate to ferret out the facts about Watergate. Within three months, Sen. Sam Ervin brought down the gavel to set the hearings under way.

Watergate was supposed to have infused official Washington with a new respect for ethics in government. Some foot-dragging in the Korean case might be expected since the investigation will involve members of Congress, and Democrats, instead of figures from a Republican White House, as was the case with Watergate.

But ethics are ethics at both ends of Pennsylvania Avenue. The Korean scandal is looking more grave with disclosure of letters indicating that five House members and a senator knew that Tong Sun Park was an agent of a foreign government, and not just a South Korean "businessman," when he was showering members of Congress with gifts and campaign contributions.

Mr. Park has left the country. Those who received his gifts have not. In fact, some are under the same roof with the Ethics Committee. It should hardly take until September to call them in and find out what was going on.

BERRY'S WORLD

"I've decided to grow a mustache in honor of Gordon Liddy"

Around

The Clock
By MARVYN SHEDDAN

The recent dry weather in Seminole County has had two major effects: First, the water level at the Port Authority is at one inch above sea level and has not risen above two inches this entire month.

Second: people are using much more water than is normal in Seminole County when the rainfall reaches its more ordinary rate.

It seems a bit like first grade mathematics to say that dry weather minus heavier than normal use of water equals a drastic water shortage. But maybe some of us need a re-run of first grade math.

There are so many little things that can be done — indeed, should be done — by sensible citizens when the rainfall is so far less than normal.

The next time you brush your teeth don't let the water run. If there are four members in your family and each allows two quarts of water to flow down the drain at morning and evening brushes you have wasted one hundred twenty gallons of water in a month.

If you run the tub full each time you bathe instead of bathing in a few inches of water you will again waste a huge amount of water.

Neither one of these things is a particularly drastic action but multiplied by the present population of Seminole County (about one hundred forty five thousand people) the savings from those two actions alone could leave as much as a million and half gallons of water in the ground where it belongs — every day!

While it may seem that the St. Johns River and Lake Monroe are wide, deep and unlimited the supply of water for any group of people at any time is definitely limited.

Philip Wylie once said that America is the only country in the world where sufficient is never enough.

Right at the moment Seminole County citizens still have enough water to spray on their lawns, let their children play under sprinklers and flush, drain and soap away in their kitchens and bathrooms.

If there is to be sufficient water in the future, water to drink, to survive with when those generations ahead of us are grown then it is time we learned to treat this fluid as what it is: the most precious chemical substance on the face of the earth, and the chemical compound without which life on this planet could not exist.

DON OAKLEY Challenge And Then Response

Someone has remarked that if Americans had reacted to Pearl Harbor the way they have to the energy problem, we would all be speaking Japanese today.

The analogy is a vivid one, but not really very helpful. The attack on Pearl Harbor was a direct and unmistakable challenge to the nation's security. There was no question about how to respond to it. Things are quite a bit less certain when it comes to the energy crisis.

War was declared on Japan the day after Pearl Harbor and young men flocked to join the armed services. It will take weeks and months for Congress to debate the various aspects of President Carter's energy program. In the meantime, where does the average citizen go to enlist?

We don't even know who the enemy is today. Is it ourselves, and our profligate waste of energy and other resources, or are the Arabs and the oil companies the culprits? Will a little conservation here and there be enough to solve the problem, or must we grid ourselves to accept the fact that our constantly improving standard of living is a thing of the past — that we face a permanent situation of scarce and high cost energy with no "VJ Day" in sight?

On the one hand, a study by the CIA warns that the world's reserves of petroleum are actually far less than previously estimated. Along come another report by geologists and other specialists at a United Nations conference who say that the world probably has enough gas and oil left another hundred years.

Imagine the confusion if, on Dec. 7, 1941, Americans had heard conflicting reports that maybe there was and maybe there wasn't some kind of attack on Hawaii, and had seen the Congress and the President and all the experts disagreeing about the seriousness of the situation and what should be done about it.

Already, nearly every proposal outlined by President Carter has encountered a host of ifs, ands, and buts. Such a seemingly simple matter as insulating houses becomes immensely complicated when we get down to implementing it.

The President has called for insulating or re-insulating 90 per cent of America's 53 million homes by 1985, but the insulation industry says it is presently producing at peak capacity and doubts that the goal can be reached.

The President has also suggested a tax credit for homeowners of 25 per cent of the first $1,800 and 15 per cent of the next $1,400 they spend on insulation, but costs are rising so fast that by the time the program is enacted the tax credit may not be enough.

If the problem of conserving the energy we have is a difficult and controversial one, the problem of generating new sources of energy is a ball game all to itself.

Both the cost and practicality of widespread use of solar energy have been questioned. An increased use of coal will have serious environmental consequences.

JACK ANDERSON AND LES WHITTEN Federal 'Animal' Has Voracious Appetite

WASHINGTON — The federal animal has a voracious appetite for greenbacks; it consumes cash at the rate of $97,298 per minute.

There is no available arithmetic on how much of the federal intake is wasted. Recurring headlines have described the staggering cost overruns the mispent millions, the careless waste of the taxpayers' money.

Perhaps more insidious are the small extravaganzas. By themselves, they are too trivial to attract front-page attention; but taken together, they add up to an appalling sum.

Bureaucrats are constantly on the move, for example, pursuing the taxpayers' business in faraway places. Take the Small Business Administration. It employs only 4,300 people, of whom less than 1,500 can be classed as wanderers. Yet, they managed to spend an incredible $4.7 million on travel during the 1976 fiscal year. The next year, the travel budget soared like an airliner to $5.3 million.

We checked the individual travel records since July 1975. One official, Harold K. Fletcher, ran up a $20,654.95 travel bill. Another, C. Mack Higgins, spent $20,954.85, and Mitchell Kobayashi spent $15,169.54.

JOHN D. LOFTON, JR. Where Did Watergate Get Start?

WASHINGTON — If you're one of those people who think Watergate started with Watergate, then you owe it to yourself to read a new book titled, "It Didn't Start With Watergate," authored by Victor Lasky and just published by The Dial Press.

In his thoroughly documented book, Lasky, who wrote "JFK: The Man and the Myth," which revealed that Mr. Kennedy was at least as much myth as man, argues that every Democratic administration going back to Franklin Roosevelt abused its power in numerous ways, many as serious or more serious than Richard Nixon's abuses of power. To back up his assertion, Lasky cites many examples, among them the following:

— Roosevelt: In May of 1973, at the height of the controversy over Watergate, columnist Bob Costello asked John Roosevelt, FDR's youngest son, what he thought about the scandal. He replied: "I can't understand all the commotion in this case. Hell, my father just about invented buging. Had them spread all over, and thought nothing of it."

Lasky quotes a former high FBI official, William Sullivan, as saying: "Such a very great man as Franklin D. Roosevelt saw nothing wrong in asking the FBI to investigate those opposing his lend-lease policy — a purely political request. He also had us look into the activities of others who opposed our entrance into World War II just as later administrations had the FBI look into those opposing the conflict in Vietnam."

Lasky reports that FDR had the FBI tap the home phones of several of his top aides, including Tommy "The Cork" Corcoran and Harry Hopkins, whose wife he suspected was leaking anti-administration information to the Washington Times-Herald, published by the strongly anti-New Deal Eleanor "Clay" Patterson.

Like Mr. Nixon, FDR also denounced Jews in private. In 1937, when New York Gov. Herbert Lehman opposed Roosevelt's plan to "pack" the Supreme Court, former Chicago Tribune reporter Walter Trohan says that when the president was asked about Lehman's opposition, he replied, off-the-record: "What else could you expect from a Jew?"

Truman. When Truman became president in 1945, his military aide, Brigadier General Harry Vaughan, began receiving FBI transcripts of the wiretaps on FDR's aides. Angered by the trivia the taps were picking up, Truman ordered the FBI to stop the bugging, according to Vaughan.

"But the tap on Corcoran was not cut off," says Lasky. "For Corcoran's activities reportedly chagrined Truman on the grounds that they might interfere with the proper administration of government." The Senate Intelligence Committee reports: "More than 175 reports overheard on this wiretap, which continued until 1948, were delivered to the Truman White House." Observes Lasky: "As the French say: The more things change, the more they remain the same."

JOHN CUNIFF A Capital Problem

MENLO PARK, Calif. AP — American industry could face a serious capital shortage in the next 10 years unless government spending is cut or business profitability improves, a senior economist at Stanford Research Institute says.

"There's good potential for a serious problem," Don Baron said in an interview. "We don't see the big problem as being on the demand side — it's on the savings side."

Baron, 34, bases his views on a study of anticipated demand for capital investment "by all sectors of the economy in order to achieve a satisfactory or desirable level of economic growth," compared with "the likely volume of savings that will be available for capital expenditures."

American businessmen may want to spend $50 billion more for capital goods in 1980 than they will be able to raise, Baron says. Capital expenditures are business outlays for new plants and equipment and also include housing construction. A shortage of capital investment funds could mean that industry will fall behind in modernizing its facilities and will not be able to expand production as rapidly as it would like.

Capital investment funds come from personal and government savings and from earnings retained by corporations. Baron says that while personal savings have been quite high in recent years, the gain has been more than offset by deficit budgets on the part of government and relatively low profits for corporations.

The major recent trends are a very substantial increase in the level of personal savings and a large decline in the level of government savings," he said. "In the business sector, there's been an equally substantial decline in business savings that have been completely a result of a decline in retained earnings."

Baron says personal savings increased in the 1970s because of "greater uncertainty not only on inflation but also on unemployment which has caused people to sock away more money than they would normally."

Personal savings during the 1960s were equal to about 4.5 per cent of the Gross National Product, the total value of all goods and services produced by the American economy, Baron says, and grew to about 8 per cent in 1975. However, the economist thinks the rate is beginning to go back down.

"There's a very little reason on a historical basis to believe that people will continue to save at the current high levels," he said. "The 6 per cent is really much higher than normal, so we can't expect that level to maintain itself."

Baron says that while personal savings have been quite high in recent years, the gain has been more than offset by deficit budgets on the part of government and relatively low profits for corporations.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Ex-Chancellor Erhard Dies In Bonn At Age 80

BONN, West Germany (AP) — Former Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, who fashioned West Germany's postwar "economic miracle" but was forced from office by a recession, died early today at the age of 80. Although Erhard served three years as chancellor, his most notable achievements came during his 15 years as West Germany's chief economist — first as adviser to the British and American occupation forces and then as economy minister under Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Irish Utility Workers Strike

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — The British government says it will keep Northern Ireland's power stations running despite a vote by jet technicians at the biggest plant to join the Protestant general strike now in its third day. Roy Mason, Britain's Secretary of State for Northern Ireland, said army specialists are on hand to prevent "great suffering to the community."

San Sebastian Parents Win School Battle

By STEVE DAVIS Herald Staff Writer
San Sebastian Heights parents have won a hard fought battle with the San Sebastian City School Board to retain their children at Forest City Elementary School for the next school year.

In a 3-2 vote Wednesday night, school board members amended a previously adopted plan, recommended by School Supt. William P. (Bud) Lauer, transferring approximately 201 students from Sabal Point to Spring Lake and from Forest City to Bear Lake.

Lauer opposed Feather's recommendation, however, saying, "No school should be overcrowded if adequate space is available elsewhere."

Last month, San Sebastian parents presented their plan for "more permanent boundaries" to the board and requested that in preparation for the new school to be constructed at Wekiva Hunt Club, a Wekiva school be established at Sabal Point or Bear Lake.

One San Sebastian parent pointed out the transferring of Bear Lake students would greatly effect activities and programs which have originated at the school, including summer enrichment programs, music and extra-curricular activities. Additionally, she noted Highway 438 would provide "a barrier" in getting students to and from Bear Lake Elementary.

In other action, the board approved a recommendation by Lauer to appoint Roberto Guedes to renovate the Orvidio High School lunchroom facility at an estimated cost of $15,000.

Landfill Move Studied

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer
The answer to the question of whether the county should move its main sanitary landfill from the Ocala Airfield near Geneva to a more central location near Five Points will be answered on May 30.

County Commissioner Bob French told fellow delegates at meeting of the Council of Local Governments in Seminole County in Longwood Wednesday night that a feasibility study on the matter is being conducted by the county's planning department.

He said County Planner Bill Kercher has estimated costs of acquiring the land and "getting a new landfill off the ground" at $800,000. The study includes closing the main landfill at Geneva and shutting down the current transfer stations.

The council's solid waste subcommittee in April requested the county to undertake the study, saying a major part of the costs of citizens, cities and private companies using the county's landfill is for transportation.

Winter Springs Deputy Mayor John Daniels announced that the next meeting of the organization's solid-waste subcommittee will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Winter Springs.

City representatives at a subcommittee meeting last week said Seminole's seven cities should consider acquiring their own landfill if the county does not act promptly to provide a more centrally-located landfill.

In other business at Wednesday night's meeting, Altamonte Springs Mayor Norman Floyd urged city officials to contact legislators to oppose adoption of House Bill 380 which would require non-member members to pay union fees. "This is bad news," Floyd said.

He also urged that the delegates oppose adoption of House Bill 1386 as amended which would place municipally-owned utilities under the control of the Florida Public Service Commission. Both bills, Floyd said, have passed in committee.

Delegates present at the meeting in addition to Daniels, French and Floyd were: Lake Mary Mayor Walter Soriano; Casselberry Mayor Gerald Christensen; Longwood Mayor Gerard Conell and Orvidio Mayor Leon Olliff.

Top Softball Teams Win Dekle's, Seaboard Roll

Dekle's Gulf and Seaboard Coastline continued their invincible collision course for the Metro League slow-pitch softball championship Wednesday night, clobbering their opponents unmercifully. First-place Dekle's Gulf got home run punch from Donnie Anderson and Joe Benton in a 20-2 crusher over Auto-Train. Second-place Seaboard looked to Bill Foley and Glen Robinson for the home run power and tripped Seminole Community College Friday, 18-10.

Each. Willie Wall had two hits for Auto-Train. Miller and Robinson hit two home runs and a single for Seaboard with three hits apiece for the winners. Pacing SCC was Don Harvey with a homer and two singles. Alan Buky, Jeff Brake and Tom Wheaton had two hits each.

Seminole, Lyman In District Showdown?

Seminole and Lyman make a strong bid for a Seminole County finale in the district baseball tournament today at Sanford Memorial Stadium. Lyman meets Gainesville at 4:30 today and Seminole takes on archival DeLand tonight at 7 in the semifinals round games. Today's winners meet Friday at 7 for the right to advance to the following weekend's regional tournament at a site to be named.

Seminole will pitch Kenny Brown against DeLand tonight, and be looking to the steady hitting of Tim Raines and David Wiggins. Lyman advanced to the semis by outdueling Lake Brantley, 1-0, as David Schmidt beat Jim Kremer.

Secretariat Flop As A Stud?

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Secretariat, the last of the Triple Crown winners, may be one of the greatest race horses of all time. But he could be a flop as a stud. A $6.4-million syndicated stud, he is not, "putting his stamp on his get," as they say around the tracks.

"I haven't been ducking that so-and-so," the crew chief trainer said Wednesday in his country twang. "I run 'em as they come," as they say around the tracks.

Unbeaten Seattle Slew and Run Dusty Run will be running against each other for the first time on Saturday in the 103rd Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs. Entries were taken today.

"I've been waiting for this day since the 2-year-old Eclipse Award was made," said Adams, a Kentucky native from the small town of Versailles, near Keeneland race track, has passed up running his horses at New York and West Coast tracks. Perhaps because of that, Run Dusty Run was a Golden Chance Farm, he is running Bob's Dusty, owned by Bob Lehmann, whose mother runs Golden Chance Farm.

Bob's Dusty has lesser credentials with one victory (at Louisiana) in four starts this year, including a fifth-place finish in the Blue Grass stakes.

Adams will be saddling another entry in the 14-mile Derby. In addition to Run Dusty Run, who is owned by the Golden Chance Farm, he is running Bob's Dusty, owned by Bob Lehmann, whose mother runs Golden Chance Farm.

Howell, Oviedo Nines Ousted

Apoka's 6-5 win over Lake Howell advanced it into the semi-finals round of the Class AAA district 8 baseball tournament, on Thursday.

Leading hitter for Lake Howell was Bert Barclay, 2-for-3. Apoka will now face Bishop Moore and West Orange will take on Leesburg, who defeated Oviedo 10-8.

FTU Nine Loses

In college baseball, Eckard defeated Florida Technological University Wednesday, 6-4.

Whitted, Perry Key Favata Girls Win

Back-to-back home runs by Gail Whitted and Julie Perry assured Favata Belle Cecilia's 19-11 shutting out Kader Jewels in Wednesday's Sanford Junior League girls softball.

The home runs came in the third inning, which also included a triple by Michelle Nooney and singles by Suzi Cannon and Nooney, for a total of nine runs.

For Kader's, it was Claudia Mason and Lisa Harper with triples. Harper was high hitter for the game, 4-for-4, and on the mound, struck out three batters.

Debbie Brown also knocked out a round tripper that brought in runner, Vivian Lively. On top for Friday, Kiwanis Open Kader's at 5, followed by Bowl America and Favata's

TV Tip Pays Off, John Wins Second In Row, 2-1

By The Associated Press Tommy John can thank television and his friend for watching it. During a baseball game earlier this season, a pal of the Los Angeles Dodger pitcher taped one of his performances and discovered a flaw in his delivery.

"I saw that I was leaning back too far," said John. "That was causing me to get my fast ball up."

John has since corrected that slight error and the results can be seen in his last two starts. The veteran left-hander has allowed but one run in 15 2/3 innings and Wednesday night looked as good as ever with a four-hit, 2-1 victory over the New York Mets.

Elsewhere in the National League, the San Diego Padres turned back the Philadelphia Phillies 4-1; the Pittsburgh Pirates routed the Atlanta Braves 8-0; the St. Louis Cardinals beat Cincinnati 6-1; the San Francisco Giants whipped the Montreal Expos 5-1 and the Houston Astros downed the Chicago Cubs 5-1.

Bill Russell and Reggie Smith singled in runs in the first for the Dodgers while Dusty Baker slugged his fourth home run of the year in the second inning off loser John Matlack, 1-3. Padre's 4, Phillies 1.

Rookie Gene Richards drove in three runs with a single and his first major league homer, and first-working Randy Jones hurled a four-hitter as San Diego defeated Philadelphia. Richards' homer followed a leadoff double by Jones in the seventh inning and provided last year's Cy Young award winner with a three-run lead going into the last two innings.

Prates 8, Braves 0. Dave Parker drove in four runs with a pair of two-run doubles as Pittsburgh beat Atlanta and handed the Braves their 11th straight defeat.

Cardinals 8, Reds 1. Lou Brock smashed three hits and passed Lou Gehrig on the all-time major league hit parade as Pittsburgh beat Atlanta and handed the Braves their 11th straight defeat.

Palmer Complains, So Do Milwaukee, Texas, Detroit

By The Associated Press Jim Palmer doesn't like the way he's pitching. Neither does Milwaukee, Texas, Detroit and Oakland, for that matter.

Oakland got its dose of non-vintage Palmer Wednesday night, falling victim to the ace right-hander's seven-hitter as the Baltimore Orioles crushed the A's 9-2.

"I haven't thrown the ball well the last couple of starts," said Palmer, who hasn't given up more than two runs in any of his six starts this season. "I haven't had my good rhythm."

After losing to Texas 2-1 in 10 innings opening day, Palmer beat Milwaukee 1-0 on a two-hitter, beat Texas 5-0 on a three-hitter and beat Detroit 3-1 on a four-hitter. He also was involved in a no-decision game when he pitched 10 innings against California and left with the score tied, 2-2.

The American League Cy Young Award winner three of the last four seasons, Palmer's eighth career grand slam came after the Orioles had loaded the bases on Al Bumbry's double and a pair of walks off Dock Ellis, who's been bombarded in both his starts since being traded from the Yankees to Oakland. His ERA for the two games is 20.26.

Red Sox 5, Mariners 2. Red Sox pitcher Dwight Gooden pitched a complete game against Cleveland's Indians in the expansion Mariners. Rice slugged a homer and a triple in support of Cleveland, 2-0, who gave up eight hits in eight innings. Reliever Bill Campbell took care of the Mariners in the 11th.

Blue Jays 10, Brewers 3. Dave McKay, a switch hitter with a .191 average, decided last week to bat right-handed exclusively. That switch paid off against the Brewers as McKay knocked in three runs, two with a homer in the seventh.

Bill Singer gained his first victory in five decisions, yielding five hits and two runs in six innings. Indiana 6, Twins 5. Buddy Bell's seventh-inning single off the glove of shortstop Fred Roy Smalley scored Fred Kendall with the winning run. Minnesota reliever Tom Johnson walked Kendall with one out in the seventh. Duane Kuiper moved Kendall to third with a single before Bell cracked his hit to the middle. White Sox 6, Royals 3. Chet Lemon belted a 475-foot homer in the eighth inning and Oscar Gamble slammed a two-run shot in the ninth, powering the White Sox over the Royals. Lemon's blast, his fourth of the season, was believed to be the first ball hit into the left-center field water fountain since Royals' Stadium opened in 1973.

Memories Of 18 Books Published

Norton Pens Science Fiction, Fantasy

ANDRE NORTON AT HOME: "... things that boggle the mind."

By MARVYN SHEDDAN
Herald Correspondent

Andre Norton's house in South Seminole is modest. So is Miss Norton. But within each of them are things that boggle the mind.

In the house, which doubles as Miss Norton's office, are a mutant cat, a collection of miniature statues of creatures and people, and a library large enough to make most schools proud.

In Miss Norton are memories of 81 books published, the latest in March of this year, and many ideas for books yet to be written.

As a leading writer in the science fiction and fantasy field, Miss Norton does not hesitate to state the difference in the two kinds of fiction.

"In fantasy you achieve your end through magic and related means. Science fiction is based on some premise of the world of fact which may or may not be true... but it has to be logical."

Throughout Miss Norton's books run a pattern of concepts that were once relegated by scientists to the world of fantasy, but which are now under serious investigation. They include psychometry (the ability to "read" an object by touching it, telepathy (thought transfer), and other "extra-sensory" forms of perception.

"In addition to being a part of the fantasy worlds which Miss Norton creates for her millions of readers, such things are an integral part of her own reality."

"I've seen psychometry work, and I have seen some unusual and pertinent photographs," she says.

"When we lost the ability to work with our hands we lost something quite valuable," says Miss Norton.

"That's why people turn to hobbies now, to working with their hands, because they didn't realize we must have that."

"You cannot get a sense of creation out of running machines. You can only get that out of working with your hands."

Exploration of the potential of the human mind is important to

'Her books are top sellers. She writes almost like a Tolkien, and she's practically the only science fiction writer whose works can be shared equally by adults and children.'

George Losey, owner, Little Professor Book Center, Winter Park.

Miss Norton, who wrote her first book while still in high school, has recently begun to write "gotic" or romance novels. The first one, called "Velvet Shadows," came out last month, but it was the second she'd had published. "I had to re-write that first gotic three times," she says, recalling that she had also re-written that very first book in high school. It, too, was published, before she was 21.

"For 20 years I was a children's librarian, so I only turned out about one book every two years. Then my health failed and I turned to writing for a living."

Miss Norton's success has made a fable out of the old line that "to make it as a writer you have to know somebody." With 81 books to her credit she nonetheless submits to her publishers what she calls an "action outline" before beginning a book.

"I discovered that was the thing to do, because there is no use wasting time on something the publisher is not interested in."

The gentle lady, who came to Seminole County with her mother in 1926, did not graduate from college. "The trouble was, a little thing called the Depression hit and I had to go out and get a job," she says softly.

'We Don't Hire Women' So Now She Hires Men

"When I was seven years old I decided to dedicate my life to selling vacuum cleaners because my father had made a big success as head of sales for a company that manufactured them," says Dr. Sandra Brown, one of six women millionaires featured in the May issue of Redbook magazine. "When I told my father about my great decision he said, 'We don't hire women.'"

Dr. Brown is now founder and president of Publishers' Investors Inc., a firm which refinances businesses that have gone bankrupt, and which earns several million dollars in annual revenue.

MERLE SILLOWAY INDICATED LOCATION OF PRISON CAMP

In Enemy Camp

War Prisoner Keeps On Teachin'

By ELDA NICHOLS
Herald Correspondent

A dedicated teacher, Merle Silloway didn't let being a Japanese war prisoner stop her. "I just went ahead and taught the whole three years I was interned in the Philippines," she said.

As a missionary teacher for the Seventh-day Adventists, Merle has been on every continent except South America.

"We were shipped to the Philippines for safety during the war," she explained. "I had been in charge of the International Language School in Shanghai, China. We became prisoners after the Philippines fell, and I taught anyone who wanted to learn."

The most popular classes were in geography, but it was a forbidden subject. Undaunted, Merle drew maps of the Philippines. "I used a map I found in an old National Geographic Magazine, and enlarged it eight times. We made India ink out of soot and water, and luckily I had a few children's crayons with me. Not being a smoker, I traded my tobacco ration for some unbleached cotton from some friendly natives," she said.

With a full and exciting life behind her, Merle is not about to sit back and reminisce. As a resident at Florida Living, Forest City, she teaches the legally blind, using cassettes and records. "The Orlando Public Library loans us talking books, and also books in Braille," she said.

One of her students, Laura Mae Olsen, a retired Bible worker, is eagerly studying in the Braille books, and has high praise for the program.

Bibles and cassettes and tapes are sent all over the world, according to Merle.

"People are taught to read English by our missionaries, but have nothing to read. Hundreds eagerly await our shipments to their countries," she said.

Merle taught on the faculty of Florida Hospital South School of Nursing, Southern Missionary College, after coming to Florida. She was also librarian. She is enthused about the camp at High Springs for blind children, where once a year they may enjoy camp life.

FLORIDA LIVING RESIDENTS WITH 'TEACHER' SILLOWAY

At The Theatre

'Romeo,' 'Adam' Slated

The Annie Russell Theatre at Rollins College will add an extra performance of "Romeo and Juliet," Sunday at 7:30 p.m. The extra performance was added due to the heavy demand for tickets for the play.

"Romeo and Juliet" is Williams Shakespeare's timeless tale of love and violence in Verona and has survived nearly 400 years as the world's greatest love story. Serping street fights and duels, the bitter quarrels of the Montagues and the Capulets, and the "too rash, too sudden, too ill-advised" love of the world's most famous lovers makes "Romeo and Juliet" not a dull verse classic, but an enchanting and compelling love story that is one of the most popular audience plays of all time.

Senior Clubs

Set Activities

Senior Citizens Clubs have a variety of activities scheduled for May.

The BXYZ Club will hold its regular meeting at noon on May 10, at the First Baptist Church in Longwood. Activities Building.

The Over 50 Club will meet May 10 at 10:30 a.m. at Redding Gardens' Social Room.

The Central Seminole Senior Citizen Club will meet at the Church of Nativity in Lake Mary, at noon for a potluck luncheon.

The Young at Heart Club will meet for a potluck luncheon at St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, 9913 Bear Lake Rd., Forest City.

Good seats are available for the additional performance. Special group rates are available. For tickets or further information, call the Annie Russell Theatre box office at 646-2145.

Selections from an original musical comedy "Adam's Apple" will be presented at the Winter Park Mall on May 12, at 7 p.m. There is no charge.

"Adam's Apple" conceived and created by Ralph Pettilo and William Griffith, of Orlando, will world premiere at the Tupperware Auditorium on May 21 with the proceeds to benefit the Central Florida Zoo.

Marking City Centennial

Press To Roll With Sanford Book

By JEAN PATTESON
Herald Staff Writer

Not since "The Tale of Mosquito County" was written by Mrs. Mel Whitner back in 1910 has a book dealing with the history of Sanford and the surrounding areas hit the presses.

But that is about to change, according to Mrs. Katherine Bishop, who has spent the past year compiling "Sanford Now and Then."

The book is an overview of the history of Sanford since it was incorporated as a town 100 years ago. It has been compiled to commemorate the city's centennial this year.

Sponsor of the project is the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Bishop explained that Seminole County was originally called Mosquito County. Mrs. Whitner's "Tales of Mosquito County" was a small booklet written mainly for a women's club in Sanford just after the century.

"It's amazing that no one has done anything like it until now," commented Mrs. Bishop. She describes her book as a "pictorial history... from the Indians, to the Spanish settlers, to Sanford's pioneering forefathers, through today."

Assisting Mrs. Bishop in collecting photographs to illustrate high points in the city's development, and offering consultation and encouragement, was a committee of 11 members were Mrs. Randall Chase, Mr. and Mrs. O. Chase, Douglas Stenstrom, B. L. Perkins Jr., T.A. Speer Jr., A.B. Peterson Jr., Albert Files and Ralph Ray.

Also helping were Bob Orwig, photographer, and Jack Horner, executive manager of the Chamber. The book, which features more than 300 pictures and will sell for about $10, should be available within a month, said Mrs. Bishop. "It's not a money making project," she added. "If we do make a few dollars, they'll be used for local civic projects."

She describes the compilation of the book as "a definite labor of love."

The photographs capture the exciting and rugged pioneer days, the romance of the river boat era, the evolution of women's rights as the ladies of the town go to the polls for the first time, and the growth of Sanford as a prosperous agricultural community.

Area Engagements

PAMELA JO DAVIS

Davis, Cepuran
Mr. and Mrs. S. Joseph Davis Jr., 126 W. Woodland Dr., Sanford, announce the engagement of their daughter, Pamela Jo Davis, to Douglas Joseph F. Cepuran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Cepuran, Sanford.

Miss Davis, born in Detroit, Mich., is the granddaughter of Mrs. Al Cline, Sanford, and the late E.C. Woodcock, and Mr. and Mrs. S.J. Davis Sr., Sanford. A 1973 graduate of Seminole High School, she is employed as a dental assistant.

Her fiancé, born in Orlando, is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Herman B. Sharp, Rochester, N.Y. and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Dour, Sanford. A 1974 graduate of Seminole High School, he is employed by Indian Door and Trim.

The wedding will be July 23 at 4 p.m. at Maitland Gardens, Maitland.

Families Sought For Foreign Exchange Students
Families in Sanford are invited to add an international dimension to their lives by providing a home for a Youth for Understanding exchange student from an overseas country.

The organization will soon bring more than 2500 exchange students to the United States. Families who wish more information on how they can participate can contact their local community representative, Mrs. Robert Chappell, 781 Windermere-Turkey, Lake Rd., Orlando, Fla. 32811, telephone 284-4367, or write to Youth for Understanding, Ann Arbor, Mich. 48104.

Hospital To Host Open House
Anyone—employee, patient or member of the public—who has comments for the betterment of the Seminole Memorial Hospital is invited to attend an open house Monday, from 11 a.m.-2 p.m. at the Pavilion, 300 Bay Ave., Sanford, to express their views.

Dear Abby
DEAR ABBY: I just came from a meeting in which the guest speaker was against the Equal Rights Amendment, and I must say now I'm more confused than ever.

She said if the ERA is passed, men will no longer be forced by law to support their families.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 10-year-old boy and my problem is girls. I have loved a lot of girls, but they never loved me. I gave them gifts, but they threw them away.

Network Official Cites 'Gripes' Comedies Edging Out Violence

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In the fall of 1976, ABC scheduled nine violence-prone shows and only six comedies. Next fall, it'll have 12 comedies but only four "action" series. Quite a change. ABC program guru Fred Silverman admits the much publicized gripes by viewers and the PTA about television violence was a factor in ABC's reduction of gunsmoke and fistfights next fall. But he also says there were two other big reasons for it: —Declining audiences for crime-stopping "action" shows: "...we feel this category of program isn't attracting the kind of audience it used to... There are too many of these shows on the air." —ABC decided "long before there was any criticism (of violence) that we wanted to move into another direction, so we geared our entire development over the past 18 months in that direction."

Their Job Is Helping The Unwed Mother

Home Society, says there are 10 times more couples who want to adopt children than there are babies available, despite the rising number of unmarried girls getting pregnant. One of the principal reasons for this is that it is becoming more common for girls to keep their baby and raise it, usually with help from parents or other family members. In recent years, statistics show that for every girl who has an illegitimate child, there are 10 couples who want to adopt children. Miss Pearson said adoption was 'the alternative to keeping the baby. Abortions and the diversion of adoptable children into placement by attorneys, doctors and profiters in the baby market also are reasons for the increase in adoption. Miss Pearson said that the number of adoptable infants, particularly healthy, normal Caucasian babies, most in demand by prospective adoptive parents, she said.

Truck Vs. Bull Injures Sanford Man

Sanford trucker Cecil Legette was hospitalized Thursday night after his rig was involved in an accident involving a bull and two autos, the Highway Patrol spokesman said. The accident occurred in Leesburg Saturday, and occurred in Lake County on SR-46 about one mile west of Wekiva River. Legette was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital, where his condition today was listed as 'good.' Highway patrol spokesman said another person was injured in the accident, but details were not immediately available.

Jobless Rate Drops To 7%; Lowest Level In 29 Months

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate dropped from 7.3 to 7 percent in April, its lowest level in 29 months, as a half-million Americans found jobs, the government reported today. Labor Department analysts said the improvement "very definitely shows a strong expansion" in the economy following the severe winter weather that disrupted production and pushed unemployment up earlier this year. At 7 percent, the nation's jobless rate was at its lowest level since November 1974 when it stood at 6.7 percent during the last recession. The rate has dropped by one full percentage point in the last five months and is down two points from its May 1975 recession peak of 9 percent. April's decline in unemployment followed a two-tenths of a percent drop in March from 7.3 to 7.3 percent. It was also the second month in a row that employment improved sharply. Total employment increased by 548,000 in April, "reaching a milestone of 90 million persons," the government said. Employment had also increased by about a half a million in March and has risen nearly 2.3 million since last October, for an average of 380,000 a month. The number of persons unemployed dropped by 330,000 in April to 6.7 million, with most of the decline among persons who had lost their last job, as opposed to those entering the labor market last month. The nation's improving job picture contrasts with reports of accelerating inflation. The Labor Department reported Thursday that wholesale prices last month rose another 1.1 percent, an annual rate of more than 13 percent. While administration officials are concerned over inflation, they are more confident about reducing unemployment. Treasury Secretary W. Michael Blumenthal predicted earlier this week that the administration's goal of reducing joblessness below 7 percent by year end "is going to be achieved ahead of schedule."

Effluent Disposal Is Key At Oviedo

Interest is revving up among Seminole County Commissioners to rehear the city of Oviedo's request to construct a $40-million regional sewer plant near Oviedo. Last April 26, the county commission voted 3-2 not to allow construction of the Iron Bridge Plant which would have served 500,000 residents of east Orlando, Orange County and southwest Seminole. The swing vote, Commissioner Bob French, said today he will reconsider locating the plant here if state Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) officials will allow effluent from the plant to be funneled into Lake Jessup instead of dumped into the Little Econlockhatchee River. French said water from the giant plant, the largest ever constructed in Central Florida, could be run onto sod farms in Oviedo in addition to providing a flushing action for stagnant Lake Jessup. Commission Chairman Dick Williams agreed it's conceivable the commission might rehear the issue. "I was for it under the right circumstances. It's up to whoever the group might want to do," the chairman said. Seminole's major objections were river pollution and management. The facility would be managed by city officials. And Seminole commissioners felt area residents would have no one to complain to in the event the plant malfunctions. Commissioner John Kimbrough and Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff along with French voted against locating the plant here. Williams and Commissioner Harry Kwiatkowski See SEWER, Page 2A

Cheshire Issues Bingo Warning

Cheshire says, however, that a pending bus bill offers little relief to bingo operators. There are indications the bill may not even make it through the pack of non-profit organizations conducting bingo games in Seminole that they must comply with state laws or be prosecuted. Cheshire's action came after his office received a written complaint that some organizations are openly disregarding the law. Cheshire said he has received numerous support in his stand from Sheriff John Palk and all other game prizes shall not exceed $25. No more than a total of $1,000, including all jackpots and prizes, shall be awarded in any one day of play. "All of us in law enforcement recognize the enjoyment which many of our residents receive from the bingo games — particularly the elderly. However, ours is a responsibility of enforcing the law and as such, we are soliciting the cooperation of all organizations in Seminole County to comply and avoid the consequences," said Cheshire. For those convicted of violating the law, penalties could be as severe as "suspension of license, with the licensee posting a bond of not less than $100.00, which shall remain in effect until disposition of the investigation by the state attorney."
