Record Enrollment Predicted

Enrollment in Seminole County Schools this fall is expected to reach a record peak of 12,921, Supt. of Schools R. T. Milwee said today.

A heavy increase is expected in Altamonte Springs, Longwood and Casselberry. During the last school year, enrollment in the schools was 10,812. Milwee said that he expects 9,128 white students in the schools and 3,793 Negro youngsters. School in the fall will open Sept. 6.

Ike Vetoes Federal Pay Raise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower today vetoed as "indefensible" a bill to raise the pay of federal workers by $750 million a year. He offered to approve "a modest increase" tied to a 2.1 percent rise in the cost of living since the last general pay boost in 1958.

Eisenhower said the election-year pay measure, granting increases ranging from 7.5 to 8.6 percent, could not be defended "by any right," including the rise in the cost of living.

The chief executive, in a special message to the House, said the present federal pay system was badly antiquated and the pay bill would make the situation worse.

He assailed what he called "pressure tactics" by some postal workers to get Congress to pass the measure—and to override the expected veto.

The disputed pay bill, if the veto is overridden, would go into effect this Friday. It would provide across the board pay raises of 7.5 percent for 1,464,000 white collar workers in the three branches of government — executive, legislative, and judicial.

Red, Cuban Ties Growing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Cuba's seizure of American oil pipelines has played into the hands of the Soviet trade offensive in Latin America and poses a knotty diplomatic problem for the United States on how to best it.

U. S. officials feared that Wednesday's takeover of the Texas refinery in Cuba and the threatened seizure of American Esso and British-Dutch Shell refineries would thrust Cuba toward greater reliance on iron curtain barrier trade.

The Texas seizure came after the three big oil firms refused an order to reduce Soviet crude oil which Cuba is importing in exchange for sugar.

Track Dedication, Match Race To Set Off Holiday At New Smyrna Beach

Dedication ceremonies featuring Mayor Hanna Bonnett of New Smyrna Beach, a matched race between top Grand National NASCAR drivers here for the Firecracker "250" and ten races for the speedy Class A and B Karts will herald the Friday formal opening of the New Smyrna Kartway Road Track.

The new one-sixth track, designed and built especially for Kart racing is the only one of its kind in northeast Florida. Paved with asphalt and comprised of both right and left hairpin turns and a long sweeping straightaway, the course should provide a maximum of skill and dexterity on the part of Kart drivers and a closeup thrilling performance to the spectators.

Mayor Bonnett will officially open the track in a pre-race dedication ceremony as the latest addition to the rapidly expanding recreational program to the area.

A feature attraction to the opening night's celebration will be the match race between the top Grand National NASCAR drivers Tom Pistone of Chicago; Larry Frank of Greenville, S. C.; Bobby Johns, Miami; Richard Petty Jr., 1959 rookie of the year, Randleman, N. C., and Marvin Panch, who now makes his home in Daytona Beach and is co-promoter of the New Smyrna Kartway track.

Final touches to the new plant, including bleacher seats for spectator convenience are being rushed to completion for Friday night's opening when Kart drivers from all over Florida are expected to compete in the four big nights of racing July 1 through 4, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Here's One Man That Won't Be Outdone By Kin

Elmer Ashley, justice of peace elect, sporting an odd-colored beard will travel to Henderson, Ky. to attend the community's sesquicentennial celebration.

Not to be outdone by his brothers, who are boasting big black beards, in commemoration of their former hometown's anniversary, Ashley had his beard, moustache and hair dyed a platinum blonde color.

Ashley, an honorary Kentucky Colonel, said he and his family will be leaving early next week.

Record Of VAH-11 Pilot Hard To Beat

One day last week, while operating from the deck of the carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt off the coast of Italy, Lcdr. B. B. Brown of Heavy Attack Squadron Eleven became the first pilot to make 200 AAD landings on the same carrier. Three weeks earlier he had set the stage for this fine achievement by becoming the first pilot in VAH-11 to make 200 arrested landings in the AAD.

With today's hard fast carrier operations, becoming a "Centurian" (making 100 carrier landings) is more or less a common event among carrier pilots. But to become a "Centurian" twice aboard the same carrier in the same type aircraft is considered quite an achievement.

Lcdr. Brown entered the Navy in 1943 and attended the U.S. Naval Academy from June of that year until June of 1946. While there he lettered in football and boxing. Shortly after leaving the Academy, he was assigned to the USS Princeton CV-37.

Lcdr. Brown reported to VAH-11 in January of 1959 and was with the squadron for its deployment aboard the Roosevelt last year. He previously served with VAH-3 and is currently on his third tour in the Mediterranean aboard the Roosevelt.

Junior, Senior Life Saving Courses Being Offered At Pool

of the Recreation Department and the American Red Cross, provided there are a sufficient number of registrants to justify the activity.

Registrations are being made at both the pool and the Recreation Department office. Tentative starting date for classes is July 6. In order to take the Junior Life Saving Course, the applicant must be at least 12 years of age and not over 15 and a student from the 7th to 10th grade in school, and in sound physical condition. To qualify for the senior life saving course, registrants must have passed their 16th birthday.

For both Junior and Senior courses, applicants must possess enough swimming ability to pass the required eligibility tests indicated in the courses outlined.

LCDR. B. B. BROWN, left, is congratulated by his commanding officer, Cdr. C. O. Donnau III, after making his 200th AAD landing aboard the carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt.

U.S. Planning Spectacular Tests

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is preparing a series of spectacular rocket tests in the Pacific which will give the Army a chance to prove its claim that missiles can shoot down missiles.

The tests may have a major bearing on whether the Army's Zeus anti-missile goes into large production as a weapon for defending U. S. cities against Soviet intercontinental ballistic missiles in the mid-1960s. A Zeus system deployed throughout the United States could cost up to $15 billion.

No other such defense weapon is presently under development in the free world, but the Army has yet to convince Defense Department and White House scientists that the Zeus is the right answer. In the coming tests, Zeus missiles will be fired from Kavalajic Island in an effort to knock down Atlas intercontinental missiles streaking across the Pacific from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., at speeds approaching 18,000 miles an hour.

In announcing the long-awaited decision late Wednesday, the Defense Department refused on security grounds to say when it would pit the Air Force and Army missiles against each other. But 1961 or 1962 was considered a good estimate.

Double Sculls
NEW YORK (UPI)—Only four combinations will compete in the double sculls during the Olympic rowing trials on Lake Onondaga at Syracuse, N. Y., July 9. It was announced today by the U. S. Olympic Committee. The favorites are John B. Kelly Jr. and William J. Knacht of the Philadelphia Vesper Boat Club and Bernard Costello and James Gardner of the Detroit Boat Club.

2 Negroes Assigned To White Schools By Dade Board

By United Press International
The Dade County Miami School Board assigned two Negro sisters Wednesday to white schools for the fall term but turned down applications of 12 other Negro children who wanted to attend white schools.

The board assigned Rosetta Pearson to North Miami Beach Junior High and assigned her sister, Barbara, to Fulford elementary school. Two other schools in the county were desegregated last year.

Farris Bryant, the Democratic nominee for governor of Florida who campaigned on a segregation program, was out of the state when the action came.

At Knoxville, Tenn., leaders of a Negro drive to integrate the lunch counters of drug, dime and department stores, said their protests will continue despite violence Wednesday and an injunction obtained by one drugstore.

Dr. Merril Proudfoot, a white minister who teaches religion and philosophy at Knoxville College for Negroes, was attacked by white youths when he joined a Negro sitdown protest. Proudfoot said his assailants poured a soft drink over him and "another hit me hard across the face with the back of his hand."

Mrs. Dorothy McNabb, 26, and her 12-day-old daughter were hit by a salt shaker thrown by a white youth at a Negro. Police arrested Jimmy Taylor, 22, and charged him with disorderly conduct.

At Rock Hill, S. C., an all-white jury found an invalid Negro minister guilty of trespassing for trying to obtain service at a white lunch counter. City Recorder B. D. Hayes sentenced the Rev. C. A. Ivory to a $100 fine or 30 days in jail, and Ivory filed notice of an appeal.

Court Upholds Western Union Ruling On Tax

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Supreme Court declared Wednesday the state could collect gross receipts tax on Western Union only on the firm's lines within the state.

The suit questioned the state's method of collecting the tax on messages between Florida points. Such messages are relayed through Atlanta.

The high court upheld Circuit Judge Hugh Taylor's ruling in regard to the tax on Western Union linage.

It sent the case back to the lower court, however, with the provision that both the state and company could offer amendments or further evidence.

The court held Western Union failed to prove the state had taxed its lines outside the state.

"From all that appears," said the court, "the rate is based on the airline distance between Florida points, and the Georgia linage contributes nothing in the way of producing the Florida gross receipts."

New Instructor Set For Classes

Eugene White, an Ohio painter, will take over as instructor of the Florida Federation of Art summer classes held in DeBary starting July 11.

A former student of the Ringling School of Art, Ft. Wayne, Ind., White has received painting awards in art shows held in Bradenton, Sarasota, Ft. Lauderdale, Toledo and Columbus, Ohio.

He will remain at the school for three weeks specializing in oils, still life, landscapes and portraits.

Voting Rights Trial In 4th Day

ALBANY, Ga. (UPI)—Justice Department attorneys sought to tie up their case against Terrell County voting registrars today as the trial moved into its fourth day.

The government has attempted to prove a "pattern or practice of racial discrimination" against Negro voter applicants by registrars of the South Georgia county.

Counsel for the defense has virtually conceded the fact that racial discrimination has been practiced in the county, but it has argued that conditions are now improved.

The civil rights division of the Justice Department has argued that Negroes are still, in effect, denied the right to vote, and that a federal referee is needed in the county to permit them to register in accordance with Georgia law.

The trial has brought some startling testimony, including statements by two witnesses with masters' degrees from New York University that they were prohibited from registering because they were "illiterate."

Later white witnesses told Judge William A. Hootle, who is hearing the case without a jury, they were permitted to take the test in a group; the sections of the Georgia or U. S. Constitution which they copied were easier than those given to Negroes, and that in some cases they were allowed to copy the Constitution sections, rather than write from dictation.

Rockefeller Looking Like General Without Army At Governor's Meet

GLACIER PARK, Mont. (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's war with the Eisenhower administration and a victory spirit generated by pro-Kennedy Democrats dropped on the rival parties today as political fallout from the annual governors' conference.

Rockefeller, who has been throwing challenges at President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon for three weeks, stepped up his attack during the conference which adjourned here Wednesday. But he still looked like a general without an army.

He did have the support of five other Republican governors lining up with liberal Democrats Wednesday to rebuff the administration on the politically hot issue of medical care for the aged.

The issue had become blurred by the time the vote came, however, and the 30-13 vote did not indicate direct GOP support for the New York governor.

Rockefeller did more than his share to enable the Republicans to compete with the Democrats in the political sideshows which are normal at governors' conferences.

He repeatedly asserted his right to speak out on national issues, despite any disagreement with the administration, and promised to keep talking in an effort to influence the GOP platform to be adopted at the national convention at Chicago next month. He reaffirmed his Republican loyalty but kept the door open a crack to sit out the 1960 campaign if he finds the platform unacceptable.

His campaign failed to budge other Republican governors from their belief that Nixon would be nominated for the White House. Among the more numerous Democratic governors, there were no new declarations in support of any of the presidential contenders. But supporters of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts maintained a spirit of confidence unmatched by backers of his rivals.

Anti-Kennedy Democrats were upset even more Wednesday by the unexplained announcement that former President Truman, most prominent supporter of Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, had withdrawn as a delegate to the Democratic National Convention.

"Opposition to Kennedy has collapsed," commented Gov. Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio, whose reaction was shared by some but not all Democrats.

Trio Formed

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Connie Stevens and Diane McBain, two of Warner Brothers' most promising young contract actresses, have been assigned to reading roles in the picture "Parish."

With Sharon Huguely, Miss Stevens and Miss McBain will comprise a trio competing for the affections of Troy Donahue, who stars in the title role.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: How come there are all kinds of laws to protect such dirty, rotten things as dogs? It looks to me like dogs have more rights than people. Just let me do all the things dogs do and I'd be in jail.

Why is a dog's life worth any more than a skunk's or a wolf's or a fox's? A dog should be treated like any other animal that does damage and goes where it doesn't belong. I think a man should have the right to protect his own property against a dog if he has to take down his gun and start shooting.

DOG HATER

DEAR DOG HATER: Whoever heard of a skunk, a wolf or a fox saving a life? Or leading the blind? Or protecting a child? Or guarding a home? Or bringing comfort, affection and companionship to a master? Better leave your gun where it is, my friend.

DEAR ABBY: I've been married for three months, to a man who can do everything I can do—but he can do it better and in half the time. He's a much better cook than I am. He loves to wash and iron. And his baking could take a prize. He was the eldest of 12 children and his mother was a widowed invalid, which accounts for it.

I hate housework, but I love business. I had six girls and two men in my department before I quit my job to get married. (My husband was one of the men in my department; my salary almost doubled his.)

Abby, would people think we were out of our minds if I went back to work and my husband quit his job to keep house? My boss keeps calling me. My husband says he would like the arrangement if it weren't for what people would say. We'd like your opinion. MARY AND MOREY

DEAR M. and M.: All a marriage needs to succeed is two people whose common objectives is making each other happy. Don't worry about what "people say." Do as you please.

DEAR ABBY: I was employed by a well-known firm for 21 years. I achieved a fine position and excellent pay. Being a single woman I was frequently invited to dinners and theaters by some traveling business associates. Everything was aboveboard, and I never saw the inside of a hotel room.

Imagine my horror when I was called as a witness in a divorce case! I had had about 12 dates with this married man over a period of two years. They could find nothing immoral in our relationship, but the questions put to me were humiliating and insulting. I'll never get over it. My firm "suggested" I resign, which I did gladly, as I couldn't face my co-workers after all that nasty publicity.

Maybe printing this letter will put the brakes on some unattractive girl who dates married business acquaintances. I wish I had had such a warning.

SILLY SALLY

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WAITING TO GET EVEN": Revenge is like biting a dog back because the dog bit you. And it makes about as much sense. Forget it.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"Dear Edyth:
The muscles in my hands show so plainly since I have been ill and lost a great deal of weight. I think this makes me look ancient. Is there any help?—Mrs. Tom G."

This is an unfortunate condition, but gaining some weight will help. Also try massaging your hands while holding them up, as you would when fitting a glove. Try not to put any strain on your hands, and by that I mean do not lift or carry weights which strain the muscles. Wear long gloves and interesting cut bracelets. Keep your nails very well groomed and always use hand lotion.

"I have a very pale blue wool dress, which is quite lovely, but no matching accessories. I simply cannot afford them. My accessories are all black and I have one small hat shaped like a black rose which is nice.—Helea."

Angry Nelson Eddy Says They're Selling Short 'nin' Bread Short

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Nelson Eddy came thrashing out of the musical woods Thursday to defend his old standby—"Short'nin' Bread."

Eddy, who has milked more mileage out of shortening bread than Elvis has from his nervous pelvic, jumped into a fray over the doughy bread after he had received a report that it was worthless.

An eager press agent, hoping to boost interest and sales of shortening bread, assigned a University of Southern California professor of biochemistry and nutrition to investigate the beneficial qualities of the old American commodity.

But the professor, Lucien A. Bavetta, came up with a negative report, saying it was low in thiamine, riboflavin and niacin.

"If we were to place our laboratory rats on an exclusive diet of this, it would doubtless give evidence of malnutrition within two or three weeks," Professor Bavetta said.

It figures, in as much as the only ingredients in authentic shortening bread are flour, hog fat and molasses.

The professor's bleak report reached Eddy, through the efforts of the same energetic press agent, and Nelson hit the ceiling, just barely managing to escape biting his tongue which was artfully tucked in his cheek.

"An outrage," Nelson exclaimed.

"They're selling short'nin' bread short. It's things like this that will make the South rise again. And I don't blame 'em."

"The professor missed the point. Short'nin' bread isn't supposed to be nutritious. It's a psychological thing. It has been an influence in this country for years. Mammy's little babies love short'nin' bread, and happy babies grow up to become happy citizens."

Eddy was restrained from breaking into a rendition of the song.

On his nightclub tour Nelson makes "short'nin' bread" the high point of his appearances.

"I've never resented the jokes about me and the song," he laughed. "Nobody seems to hold it against me."

"I first sang it back in 1926, but it didn't become a national joke until 1936 when I was on the Edgar Bergen show and Charlie McCarthy, on hearing I was going to sing 'Short'nin' Bread,' cried, 'Oh, not that.' His remark started a feud that lasted for years."

Even Apes Need Some Affection

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—A maladjusted ape is not just up to monkey business, he probably didn't get enough affection from his mother.

This was the report of Dr. Harry F. Harlow of the University of Wisconsin to the Florida Psychological Association here.

Harlow said young apes demonstrate a definite need for caresses. He said in the absence of their mother they will develop affection for inanimate objects such as a doll, or even a stick.

The monkey deprived of a mother or a substitute later finds great difficulty in adjusting to the society of fellow apes. Physical contact with the mother may be more important than any other factor in the ape's adjustment to society, Harlow said.

New Comedy TV Pilot Film Has Many Imaginative Moments

By FRED DANEG
NEW YORK (UPI)—While I'm still trying to figure out what "Ben Blue's Brother" was all about, I know it had many funny bits and made for a diverting, imaginative, "way-out-half-hour."

Tuesday night's filmed show launched CBS-TV's "Comedy Spot," which replaces Red Skelton this summer. Each week, a different comedy pilot film will be shown.

The ice-breaker starred Ben Blue as three people—all brothers. There was Bennett, a button-pushing executive who was wife-dominated; Burton, a down-and-out vaudevillean who has electric banjo, will travel, and Bernard, a quiet type who does pantomime exclusively.

Somehow, the plot, or what there was of it, managed to get Blue into his white tie and tails and the opera box, where he could do his many opera-stopping act. The show moved quickly through a steady patter-patter of wild dialogue and off-beat sight gags. Aiding Blue were Barbara Heller and Ruth McDevitt, both ideal for his material.

A series of new "Richard Diamond" episodes moved into NBC-TV's summer schedule Tuesday night.

The private eye-opener, a story about a band of bootleggers, was unique only because I lacked gunplay. It had a lot of punching, of course, and left one corpse—dead because the boots was bad.

As Diamond, David Janssen seems to be hung up on a speech pattern that blends the whining of "Gunsmoke's" Chester with the mumbling of Lenny Bruce.

The Next Voice . . .

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—What kind of a sound did a tyrannosaurus make? For Jack H. Harris' "Dinosaur" film release, they're giving the monster a voice by combining the scratch of sandpaper, the roar of a jet aircraft and a crying baby.

Newspaper Man Finds It Can Be Difficult Playing 'Pundit'

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Back in the long ago, when the world and I were young, Maggie, I used to amuse me to tell people who inquired about my occupation that I was an "apprentice pundit."

At the time, I regarded this as a decidedly clever rejoinder; just the sort of thing that would be quoted in all the best drawing rooms and get me invited to Perle Mesta's for tea and repartee.

As it turned out, I didn't even get invited to Pearl's. What if, worse, I began to be haunted by my own humor.

All newspapermen, I suppose, secretly think of themselves as potential pundits. We fancy that if we could get free of the fetters of facts, we could write penetrating analyses that would soon set the world straight again.

In the old days, I could joke about being an "apprentice pundit," but as the years wore on I found it less and less amusing. I finally abandoned it with one last hollow laugh.

I mean, it gradually became clear that I was in danger of remaining in the apprentice class forever. Political a m p a l g n a came and went without anyone asking me for a penetrating analysis. It was beginning to look like the inscription of my tombstone might read: "No pundit, he."

But now, by a stroke of luck, I have fallen into possession of some documents that may save the day and enable me to win my letter as a journeyman pundit.

Hollywood Into Film

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Gobi Wambo, picturesque Kikuyu policeman, fiddled his way into a minor role in "Tarzan the Magnificent." Wambo arrived at the location in late Africa wearing a long-furred ape skin over khaki trousers and jacket. His headgear included feathers two feet high. He carried a one-string fiddle made from a gourd and started to entertain the cast with native songs. Producer By Weinstaub promptly put Wambo into the picture as "native color."

Annual Project Adopted By Circle

In an impressive candlelight initiation ceremony, Tuesday night, Mrs. Gerald Behrens was received into the membership of the Anna Miller Circle. The group met at the Elks Club for the monthly business and social session. During the business meeting, presided over by the new president, Mrs. Wade Snyder, members voted unanimously to adopt the March of Dimes drive as their annual project. By accepting this responsibility it will be the duty of the circle to be in charge of: 1—Sanford and the immediate area for the Mother's March 2—All road blocks work with those in charge of the teenage program to raise money for the local chapter of the National Foundation; 4—Distribute March of Dimes canteens throughout Sanford and the immediate area and 5—to sponsor fund raising activities to help support the local chapter of the national foundation. The women of the Anna Miller Circle felt that this community project is in keeping with their dedication to crippled children. Mrs. Snyder will appoint a chairman at a later date. Circle members received an invitation to attend a chapter leadership conference at the Cherry Plaza in Orlando. The purpose of the meeting is to help familiarize workers with the patient aid program of the national foundation. Those planning to attend are Mrs. Snyder, Mrs. Charles Gross, Wedding Bliss?

Weddings are turning into three-ring affairs, a jeweler reports. Henry L. Lambert said that one of every five couples now orders a gold band for him, one for her, and the third, an elaborate band to be used by her on dress occasions, usually studded with precious stones.

Personal

In India years ago, the bride's right wrist was tied to the bridegroom's left wrist during the marriage ceremony. This was the origin of the saying — "tying the knot."

Christy Beaulieu Celebrates Fourth Birthday

Little Miss Christy Beaulieu was honored recently with a party celebrating her fourth birthday. The festivities were held at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Beaulieu, 1221 West Second Street. The young ladies arrived in party dresses and young men in their Sunday best, all ready for lots of fun.

The cutting of the attractive cake and opening the gifts was an exciting time for the youngsters. Punch and candy was served with the cake.

Mrs. Betty Andes assisted Mrs. Beaulieu supervise the games and serve the refreshments.

Guests present were Patty Deeter, Douglas Bristey, Linda Henderson, Carol Ann Deeter, Mrs. Jenny Bowling and sons, Ricky and Rocky.

What's Madras Is The Question Of The Season

Home Demonstration Agent Confusion mounts as madras, madras-look, madras-style, India-type-madras and India a-madras-coloring describe "hot" fashion fabrics. The terms refer to currently popular indistinct checks and plaids. The colors are usually tones of blue, olive, bronze, red and brown blending together into a soft muted look.

Madras is a hand loomed cotton cloth from Madras, India. The descriptive terms, such as madras style and India-type-madras, identify American-made fabrics designed to look like the imported madras.

Madras has been used for years in higher priced sportswear. This year it has moved to popular-priced garments. Because Indian weavers can't meet the demand with the original hand-loomed fabrics, American manufacturers are making fabrics that resemble madras.

Authentic, imported madras is unique. The bleeding, or fading, of the colors is deliberately accomplished by keeping the spools and spindles wet while the fabric is woven. Later the fabric itself is washed to make the intense vegetable dyes bleed and blend together. Madras will fade more each time it's wet by either perspiration or water.

Importers say it is the "wash water that lends madras its swampy smell." It does have an odor. It also shrinks. Some manufacturers tailor garments a bit larger to allow for shrinkage. Others recommend hand laundering to limit shrinkage. True madras has bumpy imperfections that identify it as a hand loomed product.

Garden Gate

By MRS. C. M. FLOWERS
We will begin our gardening with the soil because plants grow only as well as the quality of the soil permits. Soil needs attention prior to planting, in some areas it is very sandy, in others it runs to dark heavy sand, which retains more moisture and is more fertile.

Sand is very porous soil, the particles are large. There is lots of air space. Water and fertilizer quickly run through sand. You can improve sand by the addition of humus. This material helps to retain moisture in sand.

In nature, humus is added to soil by falling leaves, which gradually disintegrate. This is the earth in a forest is excellent. In gardens it must be added. It is available in several forms. Animal manure is one of the oldest forms of humus. But it should be well aged and mellow and almost without odor, if too fresh it burns roots. Leaf mold is perfect around acid-loving plants, such as Azaleas.

You can pile the fallen leaves from your own trees under these plants and they will gradually disintegrate, helping the soil as they do. Peat and peat moss commercially available, are fine. On sand these materials are not recommended for much as they become dry and caked. It's best to work them into the soil before planting.

A compost pile is a good humus but it takes almost a year for all materials to disintegrate, so a good idea if space permits, is to have two piles letting one age while using from the other.

Most forms of humus do not replace fertilizer. Humus improves the soil so that water and fertilizer will be more available to the plants, and as it decomposes it gives off some food elements over a long period of time. But in this climate most plants grow quickly and so fertilizer is needed as well. But don't overdo it, better to feed lightly and more frequently.

Watering after planting is very important. If the soil is of good substance it will retain moisture for a while, but not standing water that prevents air from entering the soil. This is why so many plants can't survive on low wet ground, no air in the soil.

If yours is a new home, you will have a clean-up job to do before you can do your planting. Many of the plants grown in this area prefer an acid soil. Therefore they will not thrive if any bits of cement or mortar are left around the foundation. So before planting anything, remove all the debris. Then, and only then, are you ready to dig and enrich the planting area and set out your plants.

Greyhounds Open Second Half Of FSL Season Here Tonight

Leesburg Moves In

By PETER SCHAAL
Sporting a former major league pitching ace as a new manager and a $35,000 bonus outfielder who looked like a million dollars when he broke into the line-up last Monday night, the Sanford Greyhounds take the field at Memorial Stadium tonight at 7:45 against the Leesburg Orioles in the opening game of the second half of the 1960 Florida State League season.

The objective is the second half pennant and a crack at the Lakeland Indians who won the first half by an 11 game margin and wound up with baseball's best percentage mark of the year, a sparkling .731 figure.

The Greyhounds' new manager, Lloyd Brown, arrived Wednesday, took a look at his players as they relaxed at a barbecue supper party at the home of club president Harold Kastner, and agreed with acting manager Jack Sanford that "this squad is now in contention and will remain so."

No immediate changes are planned. This will give Brown a chance to take a look at another highly regarded rookie hurler, young Dick Was of Buffalo's strong semi-pro circuit. Was arrived Sunday night and has been itching to see action. It may come at Leesburg Friday.

Brown is no stranger to the Florida State League in that as a scout for the Philadelphia Phillies he has been in and out of the loop's parks for months. A former George-Florida league manager, he looks forward to his new assignment here and stated so firmly Wednesday.

While all eyes will be upon the former left-hander who saw major league service with the Dodgers, Senators, Browns, Red Sox, Indians, and Phillies and was always considered a tough competitor, it is expected that the first bona fide appearance of Frank Cipriani, fleet left-fielder from Buffalo, will also what fan interest.

Cipriani more than lived up to his advance notices as he led the Greyhounds to an 8 to 5 win over Lakeland Monday night to break the club's eight game losing streak. It would appear that he will be supplying the "clutch" hitting that has made life rough for Greyhound hurlers lately.

That Brown's selection as Sanford manager was a good one on the part of Kansas City was confirmed at the 17th annual All-Star game in Lakeland Tuesday night where sportswriters, rival managers, scouts, and club owners had gathered.

Scouts were agreed that Sanford "couldn't have done better." Yankees scout Hugh Wise said "Lloyd is a great one with young pitchers" while the brilliant Spud Chandler, now scouting for Cleveland said "You've got a guy who'll be making the rest of the league's managers dig for their victories."

Tampa business manager Marshall Fox lauded Brown highly as a member of the Philly organization which supplies Miami with players. (Brown was pitching coach for Miami in 1958).

Hal Waner, chief of the National Association's umpire supervisors, agreed that "Sanford will be even tougher to beat now that Lloyd Brown has come in with them. He's a fine competitor."

Mixing Fun

TORONTO (UPI)—Erie Schepener of Germany, like former heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson, likes to mix fun with fighting. The European light heavyweight king, who is in training here for a title fight with world champion Archie Moore, passed up his workout Monday to attend a reception at the German consulate, appear on a television show and watch a baseball game.

Caries, the medical name for tooth cavities, is called a disease of childhood.

Kastner discuss the best way to barbecue chicken with club director John Dickey, Kansas City scout Jack Sanford and the new pilot, Lloyd Brown. (Herald Photos)

Bring On Robinson Next, Victorious Fullmer Says

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Gene Fullmer, two-time kayo conqueror of Carmen Basilio, will defend his NBA version of the midweight crown against Sugar Ray Robinson in an October "rubber match" if Robinson will accept reasonable terms.

That's what Fullmer said today while accepting congratulations for his impressive second technical knockout victory over ex-champion Basilio in their return title bout Wednesday night before an estimated 10,500 spectators at Derks Field.

The gate was estimated at $98,000.

"I've got something I want to settle with Robinson, said the battle-scarred champion from nearby

West Jordan, Utah. "He's the only man who ever knocked me out. I want to return the favor."

Bull-shouldered Gene won the undisputed 160-pound title from Robinson on a decision at New York, Jan. 2, 1957; but Sugar Ray recaptured it from Gene on a fifth round knockout at Chicago four months later. A third meeting next October would be the decisive rubber match.

Manager Marv Jensen said "Yes, the Robinson fight is the one we want in October if Sugar Ray will remember that he was beaten in his last two fights by Paul Pender and accept reasonable terms."

Jensen and Fullmer agreed the fight with Robinson should be staged in the West—perhaps at Salt Lake City, Logan, Utah, or Missoula, Mont.

Harry Markson, managing director of the Madison Square Garden Boxing Club, proposed to manager and fighter today that Gene meet Sugar Ray in a nationally televised fight in New York in October. They did not reject Markson's offer, but they reminded him Fullmer is not recognized as world champion by the New York State Athletic Commission.

The New York Commission, not a member of the National Boxing Association, recognizes Paul Pender of Brookline, Mass., as titleholder.

"Because Pender won't fight any place outside of Boston," replied pilot Marv, "and we certainly wouldn't go into his home ballpark for a fight. If Pender wants to challenge Gene in Salt Lake City or in some neutral city in NBA territory, the match might be made."

Fullmer not only out-punched Basilio Wednesday night but he actually out-boxed him, and gave perhaps the most impressive performance in his career of 57 fights as he registered his 52nd victory and his 23rd knockout.

Fullmer, 28, weighed 169½ pounds to 156½ for 23-year-old Basilio as he improved by two rounds on his technical knockout time over the bruised and bloodied Carmen.

Referee Pete Giacomia stopped the bout at 2:54 of the 12th round because the former welterweight and middleweight champion had

Skelton Takes Pure Oil Race

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI)—Betty Skelton of Detroit, driving a three-cylinder Corvair at less than 19 miles an hour, milked $9,558 miles out of one gallon of gasoline to win the Pure Oil modified economy trials Wednesday.

Second was Gene Stokes, Sumter, S. C., last year's winner, who drove a modified Rambler 78.628 miles on one gallon, averaging slightly less than 17 miles an hour.

Third was Dave Evans, Daytona Beach, in a modified Corvair, who averaged 23,006 miles an hour in getting 67,536 miles from his one gallon.

Miss Skelton took a $1,000 purse for winning the two-day test, decided on a basis of gas economy rather than speed.

In practice runs for the "Firecracker 250" race Monday, Tom Pistone of Chicago turned in one of the best laps of the day—1:46.436 miles per hour in a 1960 Chevrolet.

LSU Star Gets Signing Okay

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Louisiana State University halfback Johnny Robinson today was free to play with the Dallas Texans of the new American Football League after a federal judge ruled his contract with the Detroit Lions had not been "unconditionally accepted."

Judge S. Skelly Wright ruled Wednesday that Robinson merely had executed an offer "which had not yet been unconditionally accepted by the Detroit Football Club, when he withdrew it."

"Detroit failed to land this fish," the judge said. "His struggle to wriggle off the hook has proved successful."

A three-hour cram course in hospital careers has been set up by Montefiore Hospital in New York City.

Barbecue Set To Boost Area Ball Teams

A chicken barbecue will follow a baseball game when the Lake Mary Reds take on the Lake Mary Glants in a wide open Little League battle.

The dinner to be held at 5 p. m. Saturday at the Lake Mary chamber of commerce building, is sponsored by the Little League and Babe Ruth baseball organizations in Lake Mary.

The festivities are being held because of an urgent need for funds to help the youngsters pay for the financing of the league.

The Babe Ruth and Little League teams cost about $800 to operate and the group is $250 short of the funds needed to defray expenses.

Two home runs by Roger Maris helped the Yankees to a 10-0 victory over the Kansas City Athletics and Ted Williams unloaded a 450-foot, two-run homer to give the Boston Red Sox a 4-3 triumph over the Detroit Tigers in other AL action. Rain washed out the Chicago at Washington night game.

In the National League, the Milwaukee Braves downed the Chicago Cubs, 3-1, after dropping the opener of their doubleheader, 8-2; the Los Angeles Dodgers swept

NAS Commander Thanks Navy Club For Aid In Drives

Captain Robert W. Slye, Commanding Officer at the Sanford Naval Air Station, was guest of honor at a covered dish luncheon held recently in the Enlisted Men's Club under the sponsorship of the Navy Wives Club 211. Approximately 50 persons attended with invitations extended to the wives of each commanding officer of units based at the local air station. Club President Nell Kutzer presided over the gathering which is a regularly scheduled monthly social event of the organization. Pat Foster and Marge Woods headed the luncheon committee, while Doris Ellis did an outstanding job as decorations chairman.

In his address to the group, Captain Slye congratulated the ladies for their outstanding contribution to the Naval Air Station and the community, in lending their support to local charity drives and Navy sponsored programs. He pointed out that plans for the future include the formation of a "steering committee" which would include representatives from each of the wives clubs now functioning. The committee would serve to combine the total memberships to assist in emergencies such as the current Chilean earthquake disaster relief drive. The base commander's suggestion received favorable comment from a great many of the ladies present and will be taken under discussion at subsequent meetings.

Naval Air Station Protestant Chaplain William Hearn was also present and thanked the club members for their efforts in behalf of the recent Navy Relief Fund Drive. Chaplain Hearn also expressed his appreciation to the ladies for providing the hospitality kits and layettes furnished by the group for use by newcomers whose household effects shipments have been delayed.

Navy Wives Club 211 was organized last September, the number signifying this as the 31th charter issued by the organization. Each new member is required to sign a pledge, which reads in part, "I promise to conduct myself at all times in a manner which will bring credit to the organization and to be ever mindful of the dignity of the position which I hold as the partner of a man serving the flag of our country."

Grand Opera House Is Destroyed By Fire

NEW YORK (UPI) — The streets were lit by gas lamps. Henson cabs and shiny broughams belted amid a clatter of hoof beats before the white marble facade of the ornate Italian Renaissance style theater to discharge their passengers.

The ladies were swathed in fur, ostrich plumed hats and the low cut, wrap-waisted flairs of nearly a century ago. The gentlemen were topers, waistcoats, spats and heavy gold watch chains. The basis of the town were Jessie Mansfield-Mansfield, of railroad tycoon Jim Fisk — Lillian Russell and Madjeska. The place was the Grand Opera House—near 3rd St. and 8th Ave. on the fringe of Hell's Kitchen—then considered the heart of the uptown area.

But that was long ago. Wednesday the dusty, deserted shell of the opera house was swept by a five-alarm fire and destroyed. Before its demise in flames that reached 80 feet into the air and caused an adjoining, once-fashionable hotel, the Grand Opera House had deteriorated into a potpourri of small commercial enterprises.

There was little left of its past glory. The box office had become a bar. The auditorium a second-rate movie house. The lobby a

Support Grows For New Banking Establishment In Casselberry

Hundreds of letters have been circulated in the Casselberry area urging support of the proposed southwest Seminole County Savings and Loan Association, organized by residents and business men of the county.

The proponents of the bank included, Hibbard Casselberry, Herman R. Joyce, C. H. Mullson, Don Wilson, Lytle Swope, of Casselberry; C. H. Johnson of Longwood and James Matthews of Altamonte Springs.

The circular states the purpose of the establishment of the bank and requests the readers to indicate their support by signing the petition at the bottom of the letter and returning it to one of the organizers.

Swope said business and professional men are asked to send letters directly to the Federal Savings and Loan Board in Washington, D. C., giving their endorsement of the plan. "Every depositor will be a stockholder in the company, and no one group will control the major interests in the association," Swope added.

The circulars will also be mailed to the Longwood and Altamonte Springs communities.

"Almost every circular mailed in Casselberry has been returned with residents expressing their endorsement of the erection of a Savings and Loan Association in this area, Swope added.

New Airlines Strike Threatens

ATLANTA (UPI) — The board of directors of the Air Line Pilots Association is voting on a move to shut down just about all air line transportation in the Southeast by setting up picket lines of pilots at 11 major airports.

Capt. Harry Susemihl, Southern Airways Council chairman, said the balloting by the 300-member board will be completed by Friday.

Susemihl said a decision to picket the airports would bar all ALPA members from reporting to work at the air terminals affected. More than 100 Southern Airways pilots have been on strike since June 6.

Susemihl said the airports affected would be Atlanta, Charlotte, Nashville, Jackson, New Orleans, Memphis, Birmingham, Jacksonville, Mobile, Huntsville, and Monroe, La.

The theater became Miss Mansfield's home after Fisk built an apartment in the building for her. He also installed a banquet hall.

Three years later, however, Miss Mansfield became interested in another man, Edward J. Stokes. In a dispute with Fisk over the attentions of Miss Mansfield, Stokes shot and killed the railroad tycoon.

Stokes went to jail and Miss Mansfield disappeared. She died in poverty in South Dakota.

The Grand Opera House's finale was a show-stopper that played to its last standing room only audience. But there was no applause when the smoke cleared—the show was over and the end of an era lay etched in smoldering ruins.

Remodeling is big business. There are approximately 35 million houses in the U.S. over 20 years old. "These figures," says American Builder Magazine in its July Remodeling Issue, "represent a lot of houses that have a lot of living left in them—if they are updated."

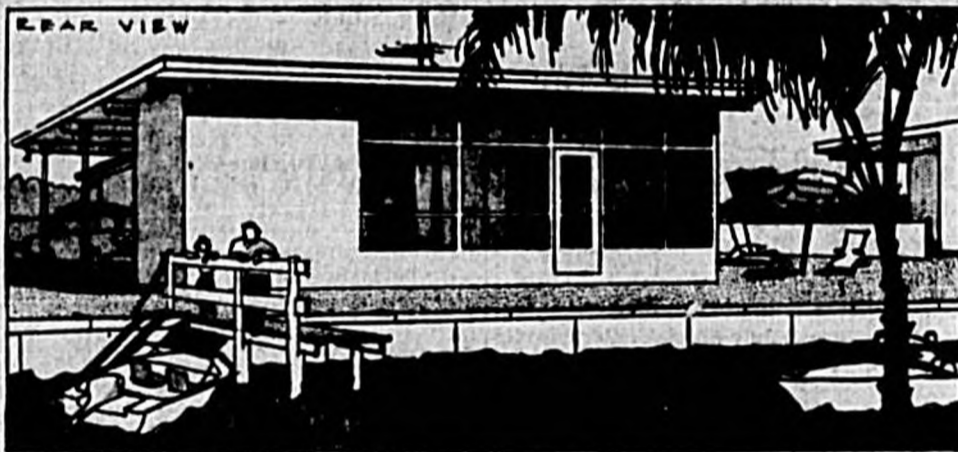

The remodeling potential for 1960, and estimated 7,200,000 bathrooms, 6,000,000 kitchens and 3,000,000 home laundries. "More space" is the next most important remodeling cry and it's not necessarily confined to 20-year-and-older houses. Many of the 1950 vintage homes are already too small to hold their fast-growing families. "Addition" may be the answer," continues the article, "but often the space is already there—unused or misused. There are millions of would-be bargain basements and acres of attics ready to yield extra living space."

To its builder-readers, the leading light construction magazine adds, "It means extra business for you."

Extra storage space is cited as another important remodeling objective. "When a woman goes through a model home, she's a critical buyer. And well-planned storage will influence her every time." The appeal of extra storage holds good in older homes, too. The remodeling article presents ideas for adding storage for halls, kitchens, closets, and bathrooms. Among them . . .

Storage between studs: "studs can be easily cut into a wall to provide storage space for canned foods, books, a small built-in desk, etc. By utilizing the space between wall studs you can gain extra storage without sacrificing floor area."

COMPACT . . . ON THE WATER

By JAN REINER

When a Northern citizen (thinking of retiring) reads in his newspaper about wonderful waterfront lots in Florida, more likely than not he imagines a green patch of land shaded by live oaks (hung with Spanish moss) and overlooking the ocean or a romantic bayou.

After personal inspection and pricing of available waterfront home-sites, the prospective Florida resident may readjust his daydream to a small piece of filled land facing a canal and may realize that his home will have to be somewhat less pretentious than originally hoped—perhaps below $10,000.

Home No. 930-97 has been designed for such a need. Though modest in size, this 930 sq. ft. design is by no means a minimum house. The L-shaped living-dining area is generously sized and so are the two bedrooms with a 5-foot closet in each. A wide screened porch looks onto the water. But to keep the building costs to the minimum the plan of the house is a simple rectangle (24' x 38'8") topped by a shed roof, which is the cheapest roof construction but one which allows graduation of ceiling heights between the small front rooms and the large rear rooms.

One enters the living room from a rain-protected stoop which is handy to the carport. A 5-foot-wide coat closet (C) is just left of this door, and a 3-foot-wide jalousie window (for cross ventilation) just to the right. The second outside door, located on the opposite wall, doubles as a service door, due to its proximity to the kitchen. Among the desirable features of the large room are the two 6-foot-wide sliding glass doors which separate it from the 8' x 24' screened porch. At this line the gently rising ceiling is almost 9 1/2 feet high and this height is dramatized at night by a 20-foot-long band of indirect light mounted in one uninterupted line above the two sliding doors.

In the "L" just outside the kitchen is the 8' x 9' dining area. A 30-inch-wide china closet is located at the entrance to the kitchen. The 8' x 8' kitchen has a U-shaped counter with ample room for the built-in range (R) (with fan over it), the refrigerator (RF), the double sink under the window, and generous work space. Wall plan. The kitchen is convenient to the porch for summer dining or snacks.

Plans for home No. 930-97 are available from Jan Reiner, Box 96, New Port Richey, Fla. Each set of plans consists of 1/4-inch-scale floor plan, four exterior elevations, large-scale cross-section, kitchen and bathroom interiors and structural and framing details; basic specifications (exceeding FHA) are written right on the plans. The first set costs $20, each additional set $5. FLORIDA HOMES magazine by Reiner is available on newsstands or by mailing 50 cents to same address.

For greatest economy of plumbing installation, the sink and the bathroom fixtures are placed "back-to-back". The toilet is the wall-hung type and the wash-basin is built into a small vanity with storage space below. The 48-inch-wide linen closet (L) is handy to the bathroom and bedrooms and has floor-to-ceiling bifold doors for greatest access.

Each bedroom is a corner room with 3 awning-type aluminum windows on two walls and five feet of closets with floor-to-ceiling bifold doors. The doors could be louvered for constant air circulation (if the house is air-conditioned) or solid (if mildew preventive measures are contemplated).

Back of the carport and adjacent to the porch is a 5 1/2' x 6' utility room with outlets for hot water heater and 1 a 2 1/2' x 4' y appliances (LN). Next to it another 3' x 3' storage closet opens from the porch.

This house is of slab-on-grade construction with wood-framed interior partitions. All interiors are finished in plaster and exteriors in stucco. The shed roof is topped with white marble chips (for greatest heat insulation) and additional heat insulation is specified between the heavy wooden rafters. The 4-inch-thick floor slab is reinforced with welded wire mesh and poured over solidly compacted fill and a solid vapor barrier. The floors are terrazzo and resilient tile. Heating is electric with radiant coils built into the plaster ceilings and thermostatically controlled.

Plans are drawn by Jan Reiner, architect, the author of FLORIDA HOMES magazine which is available on newsstands or by mailing 50 cents to Box 96, New Port Richey, Fla.
