

Former Turkey Boss Sentenced To Death

YASSIADA, Turkey (UPI)—Turkey's high justice court today convicted and sentenced to death former President Celal Bayar, ex Premier Adnan Menderes and eight other members of their ousted regime for making a mockery of Turkey's constitution while in power.

The convictions and sentences climaxed an 11-month trial of 862 men and women who ruled Turkey for 10 years before a coup placed the reins of the government in the hands of the military last year.

Menderes himself was not in court for the judgment. The chief judge said illness prevented his appearance.

The trial ended Thursday after 11 months in which the court heard 1,082 witnesses and examined 19 huge files of evidence.

The prosecution demanded death sentences for 107 of the defendants. A military coup overthrew the Bayar-Menderes regime on May 27, 1960.

The prosecution charged the defendants had illegally used their government power to crush political opposition, incite riots and channel state funds into their own pockets.

The general charge of "violation of the constitution by force" included such accusations as: —Menderes used the state radio for his own purposes.

—Menderes embezzled from the premier's special "secret" funds. —Bayar, Menderes and others attempted assassination of former President Ismet Inonu, leader of the then opposition Republican Peoples party.

—Bayar, Menderes and others used force to suppress newspapers and university student and faculty criticism.

—National Assembly President Refik Koraltan used state funds to pay the salary of a German maid.

Among those scheduled for trial is the Rev. William Coffin, Yale chaplain, and Gaylord Noyce, Dinky School professor at Yale.

Another defendant is the Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker of Atlanta, executive secretary of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC).

The biracial group, charged with breach of the peace and conspiracy to breach the peace, earlier this week lost an appeal to delay the trial. The U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals refused to issue an injunction against state prosecution on criminal charges.

Other defendants are Drs. John Maguire and David Smith, religion professors at Wesleyan College; George Smith, New Haven, Conn.; Bernard Lee and the Rev. Ralph Abernathy, Montgomery; Joseph C. Jones and Clyde Carter, Charlotte, N. C., and the Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth of Birmingham.

NAACP Complains To Kennedy On Firing

NEW YORK (UPI)—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) has complained to President Kennedy that a Savannah, Ga., postal employee was fired because he was an NAACP officer.

In a telegram to the President Thursday the association asked him to rescind the dismissal of the letter carrier, Westley W. Law.

"If the government is to become a partner in economic reprisal against a government employ-who exercises his right as a citizen to seek redress of notorious grievances suffered by his racial group, then we have come, as a nation, to a low estate indeed," the telegram said.

Law is president of the NAACP Georgia organization and the Savannah branch. He was dismissed from his post office job on Sept. 8.

National NAACP officials claim the real reason for Law's dismissal was that he led a 15-month campaign to boycott local merchants in protest of racial grievances.

Reds Launch Series Of Rocket Tests

MOSCOW (UPI)—Russia fired a "new, more powerful multi-stage rocket" more than 7,500 miles over the Pacific Wednesday in the first of a scheduled series of tests, the Soviet agency Tass reported today.

Tass said the launching of the rocket was "successful" and that its operation in flight "fully conformed with the set program."

The rocket landed about 1,000 yards from its target in an ocean area about 1,000 miles southwest of Hawaii, the Soviet agency said, confirming the "high precision of the operation of the rocket's control system."

Authoritative sources in Honolulu said a plot of the rocket's flight by American tracking station showed it missed its mark by at least 50 miles.

The Tass statement did not say whether the rocket's payload was recovered by Soviet ships cruising near the target area.

Russia announced Monday that it would fire rockets "intended for space exploration" into a specified area of the Pacific in a series of tests beginning Wednesday and continuing until Oct. 15.

The precise number of rockets to be tested was not announced.

In another test Thursday, Russia set off a nuclear blast in the Arctic believed to have the force of many millions of tons of TNT. The explosion was the 10th in the current series of Soviet nuclear tests.

Despite Tass's claim that Wednesday's rocket was "new" and "more powerful" its reported performance did not match the ranges of 7,700 to 8,000 claimed for rockets the Russians tested last year.

None of Russia's rockets so far has matched the 9,000-mile range achieved by the U. S. Atlas rocket.

Three School Buses Collide

LATTA, S. C. (UPI)—Three school buses collided Thursday in a chain reaction accident which left 22 children injured. No one was seriously hurt, officers said.

Police said one of the buses skidded into the rear of another which slammed into a third while it was discharging passengers.

There were about 40 school children aboard each bus at the time of the mishap.

Officers said the driver of the bus which struck the rear of the second vehicle was charged with speeding and faces a magistrate's hearing today.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Eleven "freedom riders," including the chaplain of Yale University, go on trial in city court today on charges of trying to break down segregation laws in a bus terminal lunchroom.

U. S. Can't Handle Red China—Eaton

EDMONTON, Alta. (UPI)—Canadian-born Cleveland industrialist Cyrus Eaton — Premier Nikita Khrushchev's "capitalist friend" — said Thursday night the United States is incapable of handling the problem of Red China.

Eaton told the Canadian Business and Professional Mens Association no one in Washington could handle the complex problem.

"We don't have in the United States in politics or business, people with the knowledge or experience to deal with China," he said.

Eaton urged Canada to take a bold stand on international affairs and to cease blindly following the U. S.

Run For Governor, Nixon Urged

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who said he will decide in a week or so whether to run for the governorship of California in 1962, was urged to do so Thursday night by 25 GOP leaders in California.

They met with Nixon in a two-hour closed door session. San Francisco attorney Caspar Weinberger told newsmen after the meeting, "We all strongly urged Mr. Nixon to run."

Weinberger said that the former presidential candidate gave no indication as to what his decision would be, but Weinberger added that he believed Nixon already has made up his mind.

If Nixon seeks the governorship, he must first outpoll former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, State Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell, and former Lt. Governor Harold J. Powers, who have declared their candidacy for the GOP.

Storm Warnings Up For Florida

MIAMI (UPI)—Hurricane Esther, a huge and dangerous storm, dropped slightly in power during the night and took a slight turn toward the north but the Weather Bureau today ordered hurricane warnings hoisted from Miami north to Savannah, Ga.

The Miami Weather Bureau said at 11 a. m. EST that the storm had decreased slightly but warned it still packed sustained winds of 130 miles an hour and gusts up to 190 miles an hour. Earlier gusts had hit about 200 miles an hour.

The circular storm kicked up waves of 20 feet in its movement in the general direction of the Eastern seaboard. The Weather Bureau said the storm "took somewhat of a turn to the north for a while this morning but its average movement is apparently toward the northwest at 12 m.p.h."

"The central pressure this morning was reported as 27.64 inches of mercury," the bureau said in an advisory, "indicating a slight decrease in intensity during the night."

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—The aircraft carrier USS Franklin D. Roosevelt was ordered to sea today as a precaution against the possibility of Hurricane Esther approaching the Florida coast. The Navy at the Mayport 22222 near here said the FDR would steam south and maintain a position well away from the storm area.

Rainfall Here No Kin To Esther

The weekend rainfall in Sanford and through Central Florida has no connection with Hurricane Esther, which Monday morning was reported to be 725 miles east of Miami, the weather man said.

Sanford had 2.31 inches of rain from one p. m. Friday to 9 a. m. Monday, according to figures compiled at the Central Florida Experiment Station.

City and County officials reported no damage as a result of the rain.

The cause of the rain, according to Earl Morgan, meteorologist at the Municipal Airport at Orlando, was a cold front and a jet stream which passed over this area.

Morgan said that the cold front moved over the area from north to south and then backed up. This maneuver, along with the jet stream, which is, Morgan explained, a river of air, caused the heavy precipitation in many sections of the state.

Castro Exiles 135 Priests

Forty-six of the churchmen were Cuban, but most of the rest were Spanish. They were shipped out Sunday on the Spanish liner Covadonga when it sailed for Spain.

Hammarskjold Dies In Crash

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (UPI)—The Federal Broadcasting Corporation of Rhodesia reported that United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold was killed in a plane crash in Northern Rhodesia today.

A broadcast from Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia, said six bodies were found in the wreckage, including that of Hammarskjold. It said there was one survivor, "unidentified but badly hurt."

The broadcast said it appeared that the aircraft "struck the ground at good speed and with considerable force."

Hammarskjold left Leopoldville, the Congo, Sunday night en route to Ndola for a conference with Katanga President Moise Tshombe. The DC6B circled the Ndola airport, but did not land. It then disappeared.

UN officials in Leopoldville officially announced this morning that the plane was missing.

It was after this that Ndola police announced that Rhodesian Air Force planes had sighted what they believed to be the wreckage of a plane—presumed to be that of Hammarskjold's DC6B.

The office of the high commissioner for Rhodesia in London said it had been informed that Hammarskjold was killed in a plane crash in Northern Rhodesia.

"This is the word we get from our government," a spokesman said. He added there was "one survivor of the crash." The name of the survivor was not given.

Earlier, United Nations officials in New York noted that the plane was missing, but said a major search effort was underway and they had no confirmation that the aircraft actually had crashed.

In New York, Secretary of State Dean Rusk said that all U. S. aircraft in the area were joining in the search for Hammarskjold's plane.

A spokesman for U. S. Air Force headquarters in Europe said in Wiesbaden, Germany, that six American planes entered the search early in the day.

UN sources in New York said that those aboard the plane were Hammarskjold; a Swedish pilot, Capt. Hallonquist; Heinrich Weischoff, an American, special assistant to the secretary general; William Ramallo, a Mexican, Hammarskjold's personal aide; and Vladimir Fabru, a Czech, a legal advisor.

The plane in which Hammarskjold left Leopoldville was reported to have had an engine damaged in an attack by a Katanga Air Force Fouga jet on Friday at Elisabethville.

United Nations officials at first hoped the lack of word of the plane was due merely to poor communications, but as the hours passed their fears grew.

The Southern Rhodesian broadcast said the wreckage was sighted 10 miles south of Mufulira, in the heart of Northern Rhodesia's scrub copper belt country.

The region is about 80 miles southwest of the Katanga capital of Elisabethville.

Mystery Surrounds Oviedo Man Killed In Mishap

An Oviedo man was killed and a girl was injured in a head-on collision at 12:30 p. m. Sunday on State Road 426, two miles south of Oviedo, according to State Trooper J. S. Foster, who, with Seminole Deputy Vernon Brewster, investigated the accident.

A 1952 sedan, driven by David P. Herman, skidded into a 1945 car, driven by Esther C. McGee of Oviedo. Foster reported that Herman lost control of his car on the rain slick highway and hit the McGee car head-on.

A Negro passenger in the McGee car, Lloyd Logan, about 45 years old, of Oviedo, was taken to Winger Park Memorial Hospital where he died about two hours later of chest injuries.

A passenger in the Herman car, Miss Laureen Horner, was also taken to the Winger Park hospital where she was treated for concussion of the brain and a sprained wrist.

The drivers of both cars were uninjured.

In another traffic accident two persons were injured in a collision at 6:20 a. m. today at the intersection of Highway 17-92 and Onora Rd., Trooper Foster reported.

Canal Badly Needed, Says Boat Captain Here For Cargo

227 Foot Motor Vessel Corinto Loads At Sanford Pier
Insert - Capt. Charles Thompson

The skipper of the biggest cargo ship ever to dock at the city pier said today that a Sanford-Canal canal would make of Sanford a tremendous import distribution center.

And he's no stranger to the Florida shipping scene.

Capt. Charles C. Thompson of Tampa, who has been sailing out of Florida ports since 1929, said the canal not only would be a time and money saver for shippers of goods and defense materials, but could bring a whole new product distribution network to Sanford.

He emphasized as one example the possibility of importation of mahogany and pine lumber from Central America and said Sanford would be a natural shipping center to large building markets in the rest of the state.

Water transportation would be cheaper, he said. And the canal would cut at least 17 hours off the time it took his vessel to get from Tampa here on its present mission.

"And time is money," he pointed out.

Capt. Thompson brought his 227-foot motor vessel, Corinto, from Tampa to Jacksonville around the southern end of the state up to Jacksonville and down the St. Johns River to Sanford.

It was 653 nautical miles from Tampa to Sanford and 119 along the river to Sanford. Total sailing time was 68 hours to Mayport and 19 hours to Sanford.

The Corinto is built to load 115 tons of building materials for delivery to St. Croix in the Virgin Islands. The cargo includes concrete block, lumber and some vehicles and machinery.

The boat was chartered by the Burns and Simon Co., according to local manager Victor Hutchins. The boat is expected to arrive in St. Croix in seven days.

If there had been a canal from some point around the Titusville area of the east coast, he already would have been on the way with his cargo, he estimated. Now he will not steam out until Tuesday.

Several persons and groups quizzed Captain Thompson about the usefulness of the proposed canal from here to the Atlantic after his vessel was moored at the handball.

He told them all that it undoubtedly would attract heavy shipping and would result in economical transportation for many products.

His main enthusiasm though was for the imports from Latin American countries.

Capt. Thompson outlined one instance of economy:

If the materials he is loading on the Corinto here had to be trucked to one of the Florida ports it would take a large number of trucks to haul the 115 tons under the legal load limits. The shipper would have to pay the cost of haulage to the port and the loading charges. By loading in port at Sanford, the shipper has to pay only the loading costs in addition to the charter price of the ship.

Water transportation via a canal and the St. Johns would bring on more competitive shipping rates, he pointed out.

Thompson did put a restriction on the type and size canal he thinks would be successful for commercial shipping.

"They would have to make it large enough and deep enough to handle the big ships. We draw about eight and a half feet and seven feet forward and this type vessel is ideal for cross state waterways, but it would have to be able to handle the big ones, too," he explained.

The Corinto ran around four times making the trip on the St. Johns, but the difficulties were on some of the sharp turns in the river and didn't delay the ship too much.

The veteran captain is sailing the Corinto for Delta Lines of Tampa. He is the cousin of Dr. Dan Mathers of Sanford, but this was his first trip on the St. Johns in a vessel as large as the cargo ship.

Chief engineer W. D. Koebuck is the only other American aboard the Corinto. The mate, Frank Hutchins, is from British Guiana, as are some of the crew. The others are from Honduras, Nicaragua and Spain.

Tired Congress In Home Stretch

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A tired and irritable Congress today started its stretch drive toward adjournment with foreign policy issues the main roadblocks in its path.

The first session of the 87th Congress appeared almost certain to end next Saturday. It was unlikely the Senate and House would enact any more of President Kennedy's major domestic proposals. The lawmakers, who convened Jan. 3, have been in session longer than Kennedy has been in the White House and longer than any Congress since 1951. Now they want to go home.

The legislative setbacks suffered by the administration since mid-summer have made it increasingly evident that Congress has gone about as far as it is going this year in enacting Kennedy's domestic program.

With the school aid bill killed and action on other major domestic proposals stalled or deferred until next year, Democratic liberals were just as anxious as Republicans to call it quits.

Many administration supporters felt Congress should have adjourned weeks ago. If it had, they reasoned, the victories Kennedy scored last spring on minimum wage, housing and other issues would loom more impressive now. "This session started out with a bang, but it's ending with a whimper," one northern Democrat complained privately.

Steady Customer Flow Sparks Shopping Spree

A steady flow of customers all Friday evening kept Downtown Sanford merchants busy until past closing time, as good weather held up to bring in a heavier-than-usual surge of Friday night shoppers.

Proving their well-known attraction and fight in keeping with the homey, friendly atmosphere and neighborly spirit since the beginning of the current shopping hour, the Starlight Promenaders provided lively entertainment for the "waiters" and for those who finished their shopping early.

Sung out by a lively caller the energetic square dance group went through a professional-looking set of squares, clad in colorful western type attire. Later they chose members of the audience to move in with them and step off a square or two.

Soon after 9 p. m. as merchants and their helpers brought in their tickets to the big basket, little Nicky Anderson was chosen from the children standing around the sound truck to pick out the tickets. The drawing was emceed by WJFR's John Martin and Dick Ravenhill.

First winner, for $10 worth of gift certificates was Mrs. Sally Gerrity of 152 West French Ave. in Orange City, who happened to be one of the square dancers.

Second winner, for a $20 prize was little Miss Brenda Ray, 12 years old of Enterprise. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel B. Ray.

Mrs. Miriam Battern, license clerk in Judge Vernon Mize's office, was the $30 winner. She lives at 2108 Palmetto Ave.

The top award of $40 went to a Navy wife, Mrs. Irene Hezeau of 1605 Wynwood Drive.

Negotiations Start Again In Crippling Auto Strike

DETROIT (UPI) — Top bargainers for the United Auto Workers and General Motors, after a week of concentrating on plant-level disputes which triggered a paralyzing strike, resumed national negotiation today in hopes of getting full agreement by Wednesday.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther and GM Vice President Louis G. Stoen spent most of the last seven days working by telephone to speed settlement of local problems which at one time closed nearly 100 GM plants and idled 250,000 workers.

Today Reuther and Stoen turned their attention to still unresolved national contract matters, including union demands for an end to compulsory overtime and foremen working union jobs.

The national economic agreement was reached two weeks ago. Despite this, a crippling strike hit GM a week ago today. But the walkout is expected to be ended Wednesday, when the union's GM council meets to ratify the three-part package.

As of today, agreements have been reached at 75 of 130 plants represented by the UAW. Not all of the plants reopened, however, and there were still 238,000 workers idled at nearly 90 factories.

Stoen said "we're over the hill" in settling plant disputes.

Spanish-Speaking Senorita Studies English In Spanish Classes At SHS

By DOTTIE HIGGINBOTHAM
Senorita Nelly Cortes can speak only a few dozen words of English but she is attending Seminole High School this year and now that she has succeeded in getting settled in this country, she intends to become an American citizen.

A member of a large family in Bogota, Colombia, one of 12 children, evenly divided with six boys and six girls, Nelly is the sixth member to come to America.

She is living in Sanford with her sister, Blanca Goings and her brother-in-law at their home on Orange Avenue. Nelly's husband pulled up stakes and headed for the U.S. nine years ago and have been here ever since, though not until recently in Sanford.

How can a girl who speaks almost no English go to school here? Well...

"It isn't easy," says Mrs. Esther Williams, Spanish teacher at Seminole High School.

Nelly is taking two classes under Mrs. Williams, which are really Spanish classes, but in them Nelly is learning English.

Two of the students of the classes, Jeannie Sheets and Louise Higginbotham are helping Nelly, tutoring her during part of their Spanish class and the whole system is proving to be of great mutual benefit to Jeannie, Louise and Nelly.

As the two Sanford girls talk in hailing Spanish to Nelly, they are vastly improving their own grasp of the language and Nelly is slowly learning a bit of English.

This American education system is a radical departure from what 18-year-old Nelly has been used to previously. She has been educated in a private, church-run school and boys and girls do not go to the same schools at all, from the first grade right on through high school.

Consequently, Nelly has never before been closely associated with boy students, but she finds it.

"Hokay" . . . muy Bien!" A shy, dark-haired girl, Nelly likes to read, to swim and to play volleyball.

Along with the two Spanish-English classes she is enrolled in at Seminole High, Nelly takes typing, Home Ec. and a specialized course of English grammar under Mrs. Schmidt.

Village To Open First Aid Class

By MONA GRINSTEAD
A first aid course is scheduled to get underway in North Orlando at 7:30 p. m. today in the Village Hall, Arthur H. Rhodes, civil defense area director, reminded this morning.

E. R. deFallot, qualified Red Cross instructor from the county headquarters, will direct the course and all residents will need will be cost of their textbook, a rectangular bandage and a roll of two-inch bandage to participate in the instruction.

Rhodes also announced that the Personal Survival Class this week will meet at the Hall at 7 p. m. on Thursday. Next week, the Wednesday night schedule will be resumed, he said.

"It is wonderful, says Mrs. Williams, "how the boys and girls in the school here go out of their way to help Nelly. Sometimes they even make themselves late for their classes as they stop to explain things to her."

"They are so patient and friendly. All of them should have a medal as ambassadors of good will."

Then Mrs. Williams, who is a native of Puerto Rico added, "I have always found it so in this country. Everyone is trying so hard to help you. It makes you feel very happy, the interest they take in you."

"And to Nelly from the people of Sanford."

"Nos alegra que aqui. Estramos que siempre seamos, amiga."

HEADS TOGETHER, Mrs. Esther Williams, Spanish teacher at SHS, Jeannie Sheets, Spanish student and Nelly Cortes, Colombian student concentrate on teaching the pretty little seniorita to speak English. Progress is slow but steady for the girl from Bogota.

Mrs. Vernon H. Catron, president, presided over a brief business meeting and introduced officers and committee chairmen including Robert Means, first vice president; Mrs. Robert Moore, second vice president; Mrs. William R. Cass, recording secretary; Mrs. Jack Fowler, corresponding secretary; Mrs. C. J. Lockyer Jr., treasurer; and Thomas C. Stiedley Jr., parliamentarian.

Grounds committee chairmen, Robert Moore and William Means; library chairmen, Mrs. William Dunn and Mrs. C. J. Lockyer Jr.; room mother chairmen, Mrs. Ben Quarles, grades one through three; Mrs. Nathan Gross, grades four through six; membership, Mrs. Robert Moore; clinic mothers chairmen, Mrs. Chester Miller and Mrs. Ray Norman and publicity chairman, Mrs. William Dunn.

Parents were given the opportunity to join the CTP and were asked to fill in blanks expressing their preference as to the committees on which they would like to serve.

One of the council's most important projects is the school clinic. Thirty mothers have volunteered to take their turn at staffing the clinic on school days from 8 a. m. until 1 p. m. under the direction of Mrs. Grace Fisher, Seminole County nurse. There will be a coffee held in the teacher's lounge for all the clinic mothers at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday.

The school library will be another important project this year. There is a nucleus of 500 books and mothers were asked to volunteer their services to do cataloging and other library work.

Principal H. R. Heckenbach announced an enrollment of 681 children at the present time. He reviewed the school policy as expressed in "The Children's Handbook" for the benefit of the parents present.

Following the meeting, parents were invited to their child's room to meet the teacher and refreshments were served in the cafeteria.

Profits Of Progress

In a recent editorial the Price of Progress was discussed. Mentioned as items making up that price were: The substitution of solely individual ideas and work for a solid, united effort and the sacrifice of a part of the profit on single items for an increase in the total gross income. Also, the point was made that by withholding vital support of a joint project for the welfare of the community, the self-centered person hurt not only himself and the values of his own and others' property, but also retarded the growth of his home town in which his very future is at stake. It was suggested that he properly earned the enmity of those who would like to have been his co-workers.

But if there is a Price of Progress, just as surely there are Profits of Progress.

There are those who reckon profit only in dollars that come to them, personally, and that come in the immediate future. This type of profit, while frequently available, seldom promotes LASTING progress—if any at all. So, the REAL Profit of Progress must be earned over a longer period of time. It is safe to say, though, that through Progress more money is truly one of the tangible profits.

However, proper dedication and work for long-range advancement of the community's best interests will bring an even greater inflow of dollars. It may take a few years longer, but it will justify the wait.

Some may say "Why should I knock myself out on this deal and then see the leeches who've done little or nothing gain the same profit potential that I do?" Well, it's safe to say that the same aggressive attitude that leads to working for progress will be the force that will win over competitors in getting a fair share of the profits!

Another profit could well be the "schooling" that comes from working with fellow townsmen. There develops a respect for and understanding of the other fellow's business and its complications. We come to appreciate the thought, effort and time that this civic-minded citizen is devoting to community affairs. That, in turn, serves to stimulate us to do our best—and we then inspire others. Soon there is a powerful tidal wave of enthusiastic effort that sweeps over the problems that stood in the way of progress—and success is assured.

All of us like to be a part of success. There is personal pride in participating in something which is acclaimed by others and to which all aspire. Instead of being apologetic when we mention our home town because it doesn't measure up to all we hope for in it, we could hold our heads high and swell out our chests like a pouter pigeon strutting for his mate. That would be a "grand and glorious feeling," wouldn't it?

Yes, there are many Profits of Progress. The bigger, long-range income rather than the quick, less satisfying "dollar of today," the fuller appreciation of your fellow townsmen's abilities and dedication, our own education, satisfaction and pride in working with him as partners in progress.

And then there's the suppressed but nevertheless real pride that comes from knowing that our home town is among the fore-runners and not one of the stragglers as a fine place in which to live; a hometown the mention of which makes us happy, maybe even boastful when we say "I'm from SANFORD—Industrial hub of Central Florida!" instead of "I'm from a small town just north of Orlando."

Let's claim these Profits of Progress, let's demand the teamwork mentioned earlier as part of the Price of Progress.

Are you on the team? If not, how's about getting on it . . . NOW!

Letters

To The Editor

An Open Letter to the Residents of Sanford:

Dear Folks:

As the president of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 83, I have chosen as my theme this year, "A Flag In Every Home."

The feeling of our entire auxiliary is expressed in this phrase.

We beseech you to show your pride in what our country stands for by displaying your flags, especially on holidays and at any other time that your heart may tell you. Let us get those colors in the breeze and when our neighbors see them, they won't be outdone and will fly their flag, too and thus it will be a proof to others that we care.

What more glorious sight can there be than to see that banner of freedom whipping in the breeze!

We have contacted our Honorable Mayor and asked him to set an example for all and see that the colors were flying from the City Hall staff.

Most sincerely,
Madeline Covensy, President
American Legion Auxiliary,
Unit 83

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Lena's problem is the same one that confronted Biblical Jacob. Fifty years ago, her marriage would probably have been vetoed, but modern science is not so much interested in blood kinship as in freedom of the germ plasma from hidden blemishes. Strangers may produce defective children if they are both carriers of recessive traits.

CASE K-401: Lena J., aged 22, is in a quandary.

"Dr. Crane," she said, "I have fallen in love with a marvelous boy, and he has proposed."

"But we are second cousins. So my mother thinks it improper for us to marry."

"She says we might have a defective child as a result. What are the facts about intermarriage?"

Biblical Jacob married his first cousin, Rachel and Leah. Abraham was married to his half sister, Sarah.

Moses was the son of a marriage between an aunt and a nephew.

So intermarriage used to be common, especially in the royal circles. And there is no significant hazard to it, if the ancestry on both sides is free of defects.

In fact, it is far better to inbreed healthy strains than to let two strangers marry who both may be carrying hidden or recessive traits of tendencies to epilepsy, diabetes, feeble-mindedness, etc.

The main reason why there has been a veto of marriage to those who are closely kin, is simply the fact that any bad traits in their ancestry may be reinforced and thus be more likely to appear in their children.

But by the same token, the good traits may also be reinforced and appear in those children, too.

Marrying strangers has been regarded in general as offering less chance of defective offspring.

In England a few years ago two children, adopted by different families, later met and fell in love. They married and had several children.

Then somebody announced the fact they were brother and sister, so the marriage was dissolved. That was stupid.

They already had a family of normal children and that is the only scientific factor that is important regarding the veto of marriage among kinsfolk.

A lot of men and women who are not of blood kinship will produce feeble-minded youngsters or those with other apparently inherited defects.

So marriage to a stranger is no sure proof that you and he may not both be carrying hidden traits that may unite in one of your children and produce a handicapped youngster.

Many of our states still veto marriages of first cousins and some forbid marriage of second cousins, basing their idea on the slavery to custom of the past.

Some years ago one of our leading American psychologists, Dr. Knight Dunlap then at Johns Hopkins, recommended intensive inbreeding of human beings.

"That will quickly bring those latent or recessive traits to the surface," he argued.

"Then just forbid such defective persons to marry. Soon we shall rid the human race of all such recessive traits, for mankind will then have eliminated the blemishes in our germ plasma."

Dr. Dunlap's idea was perhaps radical but is scientifically smart.

In Lena's case, with good stock for four generations back, I'd suggest that they go ahead and marry.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Establishment of national legal standards for the right to register and vote, designation of six years of formal education as minimum qualification to determine a voter's literacy, denial of the right to vote to convicted felons and equalization of election districts within each state highlight the new recommendations of the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights under Chairman John A. Hannah of Michigan.

This late in the session, neither President Kennedy nor the Congress will have time to read or do anything about the three fat volumes of hearings, findings and recommendations which the Civil Rights Commission has just dumped in their laps.

There are four more volumes to come, covering civil rights in education, employment, housing, administration of justice. Material may be here for recommendations which the President may make to Congress next year on new civil rights legislation. But this may be the commission's last gasp.

For unless bills now before Congress to make it a permanent organization and strengthen its authority are passed before adjournment, the commission will die on Nov. 2.

A two-year extension of its authority is a possible compromise. But even this may be bypassed if Congress gets an idea that the commission's latest findings present an extremist program.

Its volume one, "Voting," contains some bitter reading in the latter half under the heading, "Civil Rights in the Black Belt Counties."

But the remedial measures proposed do not constitute a shotgun approach aimed at the head and heart of the South. It is aimed more at all 50 states for the purpose of equalizing and standardizing "The Right to Vote," correcting conditions in the North, too.

The poll tax is barely mentioned and no change is urged.

Recommendation 1 on qualifications of voters gets away from the old concept of a constitutional amendment to bar states from denying the vote except on the basis of reasonable age or residence requirements, legal confinement or conviction of a felony.

Instead, the commission recommends that Congress legislate under sections 2 and 3 of the 15th amendment that these restrictions shall not be applied in federal or state elections to deny the vote on the grounds of race or color. This goes beyond the commission's 1959 recommendations only in the felony provision.

Recommendation 2 is brand new in that it would provide a national standard of literacy as a qualification for voting. Any citizen has completed at least six years of actual education would be deemed competent to vote, without a test.

No state has such a qualification now, although a similar recommendation was contained in the 1959 GOP platform.

Recommendation 3 calls for congressional amendment of existing law so as to prohibit any arbitrary action—or arbitrary inaction where there is a duty to act—which deprives any citizen of his right to register, vote and have his vote counted. This is similar to a 1959 recommendation on which there has been no action.

Recommendation 4 is that Congress consider legislation to require that all voting districts within each of the 50 states shall be substantially equal in population. It would also seek to restrict "gerrymandering," in which political district lines are changed so as to give disproportionate strengths to various groups of voters within the district.

This is not a brand-new idea. Senator Joseph Clark, D-Pa., now has a proposed constitutional amendment before Congress which would require substantially equal legislative districts, but it could not be made effective till after the 1970 census.

The commission recommends faster action by legislation which would give Federal courts jurisdiction over suits to enforce equal districting within a state, without depriving state courts from taking jurisdiction in such cases.

Recommendation 5 calls on Congress to direct that Bureau of the Census make nationwide compilations of voting statistics. This is to provide accurate facts on which to base election reforms.

This is changed wording for a 1959 commission recommendation on which the Congress has taken no action.

Seminoles Trounce Titusville

The Sanford Seminoles turned up rougher than a stereo bathtub for the season's football opener Friday night and trounced Titusville thoroughly by a 40-0 score.

After Gary Davidson scored the season's first touchdown just nine plays after the Seminoles got the ball in the first quarter, there were nothing but heroes on the Sanford squad.

Coach Jim Pigott played every man at least two quarters and each member appeared to be in mid-season form as the Seminoles slam banged around.

Titusville coach Spec Everhart said after the game that the one-sided score was no indication that his team was easy to beat. He told Pigott that the bruising play by the Seminoles line "just knocked the wind out of our boys in the first quarter."

The Sanford offense proved effective, too, with all the backs going strong. Bubba Davis, operating with a six speed forward hot rod gear shift, ran for 127 yards from scrimmage and scored two touchdowns. He had gains of 21, 23, 27 and 30 yards and several good punt returns.

Butch Riser proved another effective ground gainer, racking up 74 yards, scoring one touchdown and passing to Bill Phagan for another.

Phagan, who brought gasps from the crowd when he hurt his knee in making a tackle on the first play of the game, stayed in action to record 72 yards from scrimmage and score once.

Pigott also was overjoyed with the performance of his two quarterbacks, Jim Terwilliger, the starter, and Tommy Hinson.

"They called all but two plays," the coach said. "We sent in two and one of them didn't work. I was very pleased with their play. Just say that every man can be praised for this game," Pigott said, "and don't fail to give plenty of credit to that line."

Line coach Jim McCoy, working with the first line which he developed himself here, has had the linemen going full blast on second effort blocking in practice and it paid off in several key downfield blocks in the opening contest.

The line simply overpowered Titusville and held the offense to only 58 yards rushing and five first downs while the Davis and Co.

were gaining 283 yards on the ground and 27 passing.

Key offensive efforts in the 40-point scoring were these:

Sanford held the Terriers after the opening kickoff and Davis returned the Titusville punt to the Seminoles 33. Phagan and Davis ran for a first down and Davis dashed 21 yards into Terrier territory. Riser ran it to the 26. Davis took it to the nine and Riser ran over in two plays. Davidson kicked the first of four extra points and it was 7-0 at the end of the quarter.

Sanford got another drive underway soon after the second quarter began and Phagan and Riser bulled from the 40 to the 10 yard line. Davis sped the rest of the way for the score and Davidson added another point.

Later, Ray Middleton lashed a resounding tackle on a Terrier runner, causing a fumble and Vic

Welsh recovered on the Titusville 21. Terwilliger dashed 18 yards to the three and Riser flipped a pass to Phagan for the touchdown. A running attempt for the extra point failed and it was 20-0. Rigott sent in a whole new eleven at this point.

The Terriers still could get nothing but trouble from the Seminoles line and tried passing, but Terwilliger intercepted a toss and hoofed it into Titusville territory. For once, the Sanford attack couldn't go and the visitors got the ball. Stalled again deep in their own grounds, the Terriers punted—and boom—Don Harvey and Gary Davidson pounded on the kicker, with Harvey blocking the kick. Eugene Williams kept scooping at the loose football until he got it into the end zone and fell on it for a touchdown with just 25 seconds left in the first half. Davidson kicked another point for a 27-0 Sanford lead at halftime.

Titusville got into Sanford's end of the field for the first time in the third period, mainly on the running efforts of fullback Jim Majors. Then Davis intercepted a pass at midfield and completed the mission with a 27 yard big-pity-hop jaunt to score. Davidson kicked the point for 34-0.

An exchange of kicks gave the Seminoles the football again midway in the final quarter and two pass plays and a run by Phagan pushed it to the Titusville 13. Riser ended a long evening for the Titusville line by making the 13 yards for the 40th point.

The Terriers finally got as far as the Sanford 27 yard line late in the game, but an interception of a pass by Charles Hayes ended their hopes for a score.

Next week: Seminoles vs. Edgewater in Orlando.

College Grid Set For Full Slate

United Press International College football fans, their appetite whetted by a small serving of games last Saturday, will be treated to a tempting dish of major intercollegiate battles next weekend.

Mississippi, which finished third in last year's final United Press International ratings and went on to down Rice in the Sugar Bowl will open its 1961 campaign against Arkansas at Jackson, Miss. The Rebels lost quarterback Jake Gibbs through graduation but have developed a promising replacement in Perry Lee Dunn, a 200-pound sophomore.

The three other winners of the major bowl games last season also are ready to swing into action Saturday. Washington's defending Rose Bowl champions entertain Purdue, Missouri's Orange Bowl kings host Washington State, and Duke's Cotton Bowl champions open at South Carolina.

Roman Gabriel, a virtually unanimously pre-season choice for All-America honors, will lead North Carolina State into the Western Badiands for a meeting with Wyoming while Syracuse, with All-America Ernie Davis back for another season, will visit Oregon State.

Other major intercollegiate will find Kansas at Texas Christian, Maryland at Southern Methodist, LSU at Rice, Wake Forest at Baylor, Utah at Wisconsin, Richmond at Army, Texas at California, Tulane at Stanford, and Cincinnati at Boston College.

Elsewhere, Navy will launch its new campaign without departed Joe Bellino at Penn State, Alabama at Georgia, Miami at Kentucky, West Virginia at Vanderbilt, Houston at Texas A & M, UCLA at Air Force, VMI at Villanova, Clemson at Florida, Davidson at Furman, Indiana at Kansas State, and Colorado State U. at Arizona.

Minnesota, the No. 1 team in the final UPI ratings last year and Ohio State and Iowa, who are expected to battle it out for this year's national honors, do not open their campaigns until Sept. 30.

In last Saturday's major opener, Pittsburgh punched out a 10-7 victory over Miami in the Orange Bowl before a crowd of 33,292 and a national television audience.

Lyman Opens Grid Year With 19-0 Victory

The Lyman Greyhounds got their football season off to a rousing start Friday night as they romped over Crystal River, 19-0.

Halfback Jimmy Williams scored the first Lyman TD on a six yard end run. The second Lyman score came on an eight yard plunge by Paul Blackford and the final score came on an exciting 56 yard play by Jerry Watkins.

The next game for the Greyhounds will be against Ocoee at Lyman Friday night.

Countdown Nears For Maris, Yanks

United Press International The magic number is two for both the Yankees and Roger Maris — two wins to put the Yankees in another World Series and two homers to put Roger Maris on a pedestal with Babe Ruth.

The countdown for both the team and the man neared zero Sunday when Maris hit his 38th homer of the season to give the Yankees a 6-4 12-inning victory over the Detroit Tigers. Time is the key factor — time that is overwhelmingly on the side of the Yankees but which is running out rapidly on Maris.

After 131 games and 38 homers the battle is joined between Maris and Ruth alone. Maris' 38 homers are exceeded in major league history by only one man—Ruth, with 59 in 1921 and 60 in 1927. The so-called pace that Roger has been concerned with for two months is now meaningless. All that matters is that Maris has three games before the 134-game deadline imposed by commissioner Ford Frick. Two swings to tie and three to bring the great old record tumbling down.

The climax of the great baseball drama occurs in Baltimore Tuesday and Wednesday nights when the Yankees play the Orioles a two-night doubleheader and then a single night game. Maris hasn't hit a single homer in Baltimore this season but he's always been a streak hitter and he looks like he's on a hot streak that might just put him over the top.

Maris, who had hit No. 37 on Saturday, connected for No. 38 against Terry Fox Sunday to put the Yankees 10½ games ahead with 11 to play. One victory will clinch a tie for their 11th pennant in 13 years and their first under Ralph Houk, and two makes it official.

It still appears that the Yankees will be squaring off in the World Series against the Cincinnati Reds but the Los Angeles Dodgers are giving it the old college try. They scored an 11-inning 4-3 victory over the Milwaukee Braves Sunday and moved within 3½ games of the Reds, who dropped a 4-0 decision to the Philadelphia Phillies.

In "so what" American League games, Chicago beat Los Angeles, 2-1 and 4-3, Boston shaded Baltimore, 1-0, Minnesota downed Cleveland, 3-0 and 2-3, and Kansas City defeated Washington, 3-2.

St. Louis beat Pittsburgh, 2-0, and San Francisco whipped Chicago, 18-2, in the other NL action.

Duke Snider, whose pinch homer won for the Dodgers Friday night, tied the score with a ninth-inning single Sunday and then won it with another single in the 11th as the Dodgers scored their fourth straight victory.

Art Mahaffey and Frank Sullivan combined in a three-batter that gave the Phillies their decision over the reluctant Reds. The Phillies scored three runs in the third inning, featured by a triple by Tony Gonzalez, to tag 16-game winner Bob Purkey with his 11th defeat. Mahaffey suffered a head injury when hit by a thrown ball in the eighth inning and X-rays revealed he had suffered a concussion.

Upsets Mark NFL Opener

United Press International The National Football League's opening Sunday was loaded with upsets, but for sheer surprise what could top that maiden victory of the grab-bag Minnesota Vikings?

Norm van Brocklin, the famed "Dutchman" who was the NFL's player-of-the-year last season when he led the Philadelphia Eagles to the championship, came up with some coaching magic in his first try when he guided the Vikings to a 27-13 romp over the Chicago Bears.

This was just one of the four upsets produced on the earliest opening date in the league's 42-year history.

The Dallas Cowboys, who could not win a game in their first season in the league last year, edged the Pittsburgh Steelers, 27-24, on a last-second field goal; the injury-riddled St. Louis Cardinals bounced the New York Giants, 21-10; and the Detroit Lions knocked off the Green Bay Packers, 1960 Western Division champs, 17-13.

The Eagles jumped off to a good start in quest of a second straight championship when they defeated the Cleveland Browns, 27-20, in a game that was rated even; the Baltimore Colts rallied to beat the Los Angeles Rams, 27-24, and the San Francisco 49ers crushed the Washington Redskins, 33-3.

Following Dallas' winless season in the NFL last year, there were plenty who scoffed when Van Brocklin promised a few weeks ago, "We won't lose 'em all." Sunday he proved it with the help of Fran Tarkenton, the rookie quarterback he tutored.

In a remarkable pro debut, Tarkenton threw four touchdown passes and carried over for another to stun the Bears before a crowd of 32,326 at Minneapolis-St. Paul. In all, the former Georgia star completed 17 of 23 passes for 250 yards.

Another southern rookie, Allen Green of Mississippi, and veteran quarterback Eddie LeBaron were the heroes of the Cowboys' victory over the Steelers before 23,500 fans at Dallas.

Green kicked a game-winning 27-yard field goal just as time ran out. Just before that, LeBaron came off the bench and threw a pair of touchdown passes, the second of which tied the score at 24-24. A pass interception by Dallas linebacker Jetty Tubb with 10 seconds left to play gave the Cowboys the field goal opportunity.

Detroit put on a superb defensive performance after Nick Pietrosanti's two first-half touchdowns had built up a 14-0 lead over Green Bay.

A crowd of 44,307, largest ever to attend a pro game in Wisconsin, watched the Lions squeak two serious Packer drives in the second half. On the first, the Lions held on their own one-yard line; on the second Dick (Night Train) Lane intercepted a pass inside Detroit's 10-yard line.

The Cardinals red-dogged Charlie Conerly into submission and capitalized on three Giants mistakes to score touchdowns before a crowd of 38,639 in New York. Mal Hammack's 28-yard touchdown run pulled St. Louis from behind in the final quarter and Sam Etcheverry passed five yards to Frank Mestnik for the clincher.

At Philadelphia, the crowd of 59,671 had hardly settled in Franklin Field when rookie Timmy Brown ran back the opening kickoff 103 yards to send the Eagles off winging.

Rev. Luther Price, pastor, officiated at the candlelight double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz length dress of white satin and lace, with fitted bodice, scooped neckline and long pointed sleeves.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was studded with a line of crystals and seed pearls and she carried a white Bible, topped with a white orchid and satin ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Vincent P. Cara, of Memphis, Tenn., served her sister as matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Alix Talley of Orlando and Mrs. Arthur Haskins of Sanford.

Steve Steck, brother of the groom, was best man and serving as ushers were Paul Nepper, Marshall Dendy, Hartwell Conklin and Frank Conroy.

The attendants wore waltz length dresses of ice pink satin brocade, with three quarter length sleeves, full skirts and matching pill box hats with short illusion veils. They each carried a bouquet of pink and cherry sweetheart roses with a lighted candle in the center.

Flower girls were Sharyn Stenstrom and Susan Orwig. The little girls were exquisitely dressed in pale pink polished satin with tucked bodice edged in white lace and pink rosebud wreaths on their heads. They carried delicate small baskets filled with pink rose pedals, which were scattered in front of the bride.

Bobby and Jimmy Cara, nephews of the bride, served as ring bearers, and each carried a beautiful white satin pillow holding the rings for the ceremony.

Mrs. Ratliff wore a sheath style dress of turquoise Peardesol, matching accessories including a small off-the-face hat and veil and a purple orchid corsage.

MRS. RICHARD CARROLL STECK (House of Rahija Photo)

Just before the ceremony, the groom's mother placed a pin on the bride's shoulder. It was in the form of a key and has been worn by every bride in the Steck family for more than 250 years.

A reception was held in the social hall of the church, following the wedding. Mrs. Karen Ratliff and Miss Evie Dosey cut the cake and Miss Sandra Kader and Miss Pat Smith presided at the punch bowl.

Miss Charmion Miller kept the bride's book and floating hostesses were Mrs. T. C. Townsend Jr. and Mrs. Ruth Cooper.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I think I am the woman whose neighbors wrote you to criticize her for whistling for her five children instead of calling them by name. Thank heaven my neighbors don't have anything worse than that on me. Imagine the fun they could have if I were caught secretly nipping at the bottle, or jollying around with the meter man!

I want to explain: Several years ago I had an operation on my vocal chords, and I was warned never to strain my voice. So that's why I whistle for my children. Thanks for letting me defend myself.

MRS. T. M. D.

DEAR ABBY: What's wrong with whistling for the kids? When I whistle for mine, all six of them plus two collies answer me. I have taught my youngsters to whistle because it is a great help if we should get separated from one another at fairs, on crowded beaches, in department store or at football games. Thanks to our family whistle we have never lost a child.

WHISTLING PARENT

DEAR ABBY: Your item about the "funny" whistle brought back memories. We had a special family whistle to call each other. If it hadn't been for that my two sons never would have found each other behind the lines in Okinawa during World War II.

PROUD MOM

DEAR ABBY: I have an 83-year-old grandmother on my mail route who can produce the shrillest whistle by sticking two fingers in her mouth and blowing. She has caught me many times when I was already a quarter of a mile down the road. I think being able to whistle like that is a big help.

MAIL CARRIER

DEAR ABBY: My pop took the curse off whistling for us kids this way: He whistled the first four notes of "SWEET ADELIN." And to let him know we heard him, we responded by whistling the next four. Thank you.

THE WHISTLING KID

DEAR ABBY: I'm writing about the "neighbors" who objected to calling children by whistling. We have whistled for ours ever since they were old enough to holler "WHAT?" from several houses away. When we whistled for them they knew they had better head for home and find out "WHAT!"

GENEVA STREET

DEAR ABBY: I am 47, and our "family whistle" is now in use for the third generation. Three notes. One long and two shorts, started when my beloved parents, in their best years, summoned us children home from play.

Years later, lonely, blue, discouraged and almost desolate, I trod the busy streets of a strange eastern city. Like a miracle, above the traffic noises I heard three notes. True and clear! One long and two shorts. Stopped in my tracks, I waited breathlessly. Then—again! Much nearer. Suddenly I located the source. In the cross-walk, striding as fast as his long legs would carry him, was my big country cousin from our home town. Our tears mingled as he folded me lightly in his sheltering arms. Good food, talk of home and loved ones, rekindled energies to successfully complete my mission.

That's just one of dozens of cherished memories of our "family whistle."

Highlights

TV Key Previews

7-7:30 p. m. ABC. Expedition—"Africa's Animal Kingdom." Premiere. Some interesting shots of wild life in Central Africa make this worth watching. Filmed record of the desperate struggle for survival. Opening the series' second season, Col. John D. Craig serves as host.

8-8:30 p. m. NBC. National Velvet—"The Pony." Premiere. Opening segment is a heart tugging, geared for family appeal. An old man is towing a pony in his trailer, and has an accident near the Brown farm. His life is saved by first aid, but the pony dies giving birth to a colt. In gratitude to his rescuer, the old man gives the colt to Donald Brown (Joey Scott) as a reward.

8:30-9:30 p. m. ABC. Surfside 6—"Count Seven." Premiere. Usually a lucky number, "Seven" doesn't hit the jackpot, but has sufficient intrigue to sustain interest. Plot deals with the slaying of two women, seemingly without motive. A child's toy is the key to the murder. Troy Donahue, Van Williams and Lee Patterson again star in the series.

10-10:30 p. m. CBS. "The Alan King Show." Special comedy program. Storyline is something to hang the laughs on. There are enough in the kingly vein. Alan, once again, a suburban husband and father, takes a week-end trip, sprung on him as a surprise by his wife, played by Denise Lor. The vacation goes from headache to nightmare.

We The Women: By Ruth Millet

When California Attorney General Stanley Mosk tried to tie the membership of the John Birch Society into a neat, laughable little package, he said it seemed to consist of "wealthy businessmen, retired military officers and little old ladies in tennis shoes."

He got his laugh with that incongruous assortment—but I'm just wondering if the laugh isn't going to backfire.

I've got a hunch an awful lot of older women, both in and out of the John Birch Society, are going to think Mosk's statement, while slyly clever, also was downright insulting.

Also, they may just wonder where he got his vision of "little old ladies in tennis shoes." The "little old lady" is no more a part of this jet age world than the horse and buggy. Women today are living to a ripe old age—but age doesn't turn them into little old ladies.

As a group today's old women are an alert, informed, and active segment of the population. They run their own homes, drive their own cars, lead their own lives, make up their own minds, in fact, they are a hardy, self-reliant, independent breed.

And you wouldn't catch any of them dead in tennis shoes. They dress in fashions up-to-the-minute, spend enough time in beauty shops to be well-groomed, and if there is anybody stopping around in tennis shoes—it's their daughters or granddaughters—not the "little old ladies" themselves.

A politician may get by with sneering at wealthy businessmen (they're a definite minority, since it takes a lot of brains and hard work to be successful at any line of work) or even at retired army officers because we never honor our military men unless we are in a fighting war.

But there are an awful lot of older women in the country who are going to resent that sneering "little old ladies in tennis shoes." And there are an awful lot of younger women who deeply admire the spirit and independence of today's older women who are going to resent it, too.

After all, we all hope to be around a long time—and none of us wants to think that anyone will ever refer to us as "little old ladies in tennis shoes."

Fight Referees Needed In AFL

United Press International
Next time Al Dorow and the New York Titans take on the Buffalo Bills, maybe American Football League Commissioner Joe Foss should call on the National Boxing Association to provide the referee.

At least, a boxing referee could have earned a day's pay Sunday by separating the fist-wingers in the Bills' 41-31 victory over the Titans at Buffalo before a crowd of 15,584.

Sunday's other AFL game was comparatively tame, the San Diego Chargers walloping the browbeaten Oakland Raiders, 44-0, with a barrage of nothing but touchdowns. A crowd of 20,216 attended.

In direct team competition at duplicate, each board is played twice. Team A's North-South pair plays it against team B's East-West pair and then team A's East-West pair plays it against team B's North-South pair.

The net difference on each board or hand is then translated into IMP's, or International Match Points. A study of team results is most interesting in pinpointing how the experts can go wrong.

North and South can't make four hearts because everything breaks badly for them, but the contract figures to make and certainly should be bid. The bidding in the box shows how each pair got to the heart game.

One South was allowed to play the contract and went down one trick. At the other table West decided to be a master mind. He had waited patiently with his seven card diamond suit and bad hand and then took a deep breath and came out with a five diamond call.

North doubled, opened the spade king, and shifted to the heart king. Eventually, West made eight tricks, and the 500

UN Assembly Meets Today To Face New Problems

United Press International Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld's death plunged the opening day of the 16th General Assembly into shock, sorrow and confusion today.

Ambassador Frederick H. Boland of Ireland, outgoing assembly president, planned to greet the delegates of 99 countries to order on schedule at 3 p. m., EDT.

At Washington, President Kennedy was described as determined to prevent Russia from using Hammarskjöld's death to make United Nations operational control subject to Communist veto.

The African air crash death of the UN secretary general was the deciding factor that led Kennedy to plan a personal appearance before the UN General Assembly within a few days.

In Ndola, Northern Rhodesia, the body of Hammarskjöld rested in a lead-lined casket in a small Ndola hospital today while investigators sought the cause of the plane crash that killed him on his last peace mission.

The only survivor of the crash, Sgt. Harold Julian, a UN security guard from the United States, said he heard "explosions" just before the big four-engine DC6B crashed.

However, there was no suggestion by any of the investigating officials of sabotage.

The Congo crisis worsened meanwhile, as a result of Hammarskjöld's death. Katanga forces and United Nations troops battled sporadically for control of Elisabethville.

Boland said he would go ahead with the election of the assembly's new president, Mongi Slim, senior diplomat from Tunisia. He would take over Hammarskjöld's duties. Slim was assured of election when Dr. Ali Sartono of Indonesia announced Monday he was withdrawing as a candidate.

Hammarskjöld's death overshadowed the main business of the assembly — including the question of Red Chinese representation, the resumption of nuclear test explosions, disarmament and probably a Berlin debate.

The Soviet Union Monday renewed its demand that the UN General Assembly discuss the seating of Communist China and expulsion of the Nationalist Chinese representatives, Tass said today in Moscow.

The official news agency said the demand was made by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in a letter accompanied by an "explanatory note" to the UN secretariat Monday.

By LARRY VERSEK
Seminole County Schools are entitled to $250,000 in matching funds from the federal government but according to R. T. Milwee, the local schools will only match $41,000 of that sum . . . Just not enough money on the local level for matching purposes.

Monday we mentioned the shortage of school books at Seminole High School and as soon as the paper came out . . . the phone started ringing. It seems there is a critical shortage throughout the entire county. One woman called to tell us that there weren't enough algebra books at Lyman.

From the looks of the turnout at the first football game of the season, there are a lot of sports-minded people in Sanford. If even a tenth of those at the game are interested in backing the Seminole High School athletic program with some concrete support, the auditorium at the school will be packed tonight as Jim Riser makes an effort to get the defunct Booster Club into active operation again. Parents of players, and school alumni, let's get a p. m. at the SHS auditorium!

Hold your hats! This is unbelievable. Not a single resident in Longwood appeared to protest his city taxes when the council met as a board of equalization late last month. What's even more astounding is that a number of the taxpayers have been heard to say they'd be for higher taxes if they could get increased and improved services.

North Orlando, first to report a scheduled transportation system for its school children in case of a countywide alert also is planning a community project to provide some means of fallout shelter space for all its residents.

MIAMI (UPI) — Keys residents hard-hit by Hurricane Donna last September sent more than 400 boxes of clothing, shoes and other items Monday to the victims of Hurricane Carla in Texas.

The cartons were flown to Houston from here. Each was marked: "From Donna victims to Carla victims." They were from residents of Marathon, Islamorada and Key Largo.

MIAMI (UPI) — The first meeting of the Lyman High Parent-Teacher Assn. for this school term will be held at 8 p. m. today. Principal Ralph Diggs said this morning that following the brief business session and introduction of faculty members, parents will be invited to visit each classroom for personal consultation with their child's teachers.

VANDALISM BY TWO SMALL BOYS, both under 10 years of age, wrecked the interiors and furnishings of three Howell Park Model Homes Sunday afternoon resulting in at least $7,000 in damages, Al Lormann, realtor for the housing development, reported. Investigation by law enforcement officers revealed that the boys used a pocket knife to spring the locked doors and, in about two hours' time, in addition to ruining the expensive furnishings and appliances, they plugged all drains and turned on all faucets, flooding the homes and ruining costly wall-to-wall carpeting. The youngsters' parents, when questioned, said they had given the boys permission to go to the area playground earlier in the afternoon. (Herald Photo)

Castro Plans To Nationalize Youth

MIAMI (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro's government is preparing to nationalize the children of Cuba, refugees here said today.

Members of the DRE organization, an anti-Castro student group, gave United Press International what they said was a copy of a decree soon to be published in Havana authorizing the government to take children from their parents at the age of 3.

The draft decree, said to have been smuggled out of Cuba, says children of that age are to be put into state institutions for "physical and mental education and training for citizenship."

The decree also forbids underage Cubans to leave their homeland, either on their own or with their parents.

Esther Bears Down On Carolina Coast

WILMINGTON, N. C. (UPI)—Hurricane Esther bore down on the jutting North Carolina coast today with 130 mile an hour winds and residents of the low-lying Outer Banks islands were warned to flee while there still was time.

The Miami Weather Bureau said in its 11 a. m. advisory that the storm would continue moving toward the northwest or north-northeast during the next 12 hours "with only a very slight turning toward a more northerly component."

Hurricane warnings were displayed from Cherry Point, N. C., to Norfolk, Va., and the Virginia Capes.

The Weather Bureau ordered a hurricane watch and gale warnings hoisted north of the Virginia Capes to Cape May, N. J., including all of the Chesapeake and Delaware bays, and from south of Cherry Point to Myrtle Beach, S. C.

The Miami Weather Bureau located Esther's center at latitude west, or about 300 statute miles and a little south of due east of Savannah, Ga.

This was some 315 miles south-southeast of Cape Hatteras.

Authority Asks Canal Cost Study

The Florida Canal Authority Voted Monday to request consulting engineers to take a feasibility study on the financing of the proposed Sanford-Canaveral Canal.

Meeting at Jacksonville to discuss the project the Authority decided to restrict use of waterway project funds to the district where the funds originate.

This action followed a resolution by the Cross-Florida Navigation district asking the Authority to restrict the group's assets for exclusive use on the cross-Florida waterway.

All canal projects in the state were placed under the Canal Authority by action of the 1961 Legislature. Previous laws had restricted the Authority to the cross-state canal.

The Authority's request for the engineering study of the Sanford-Canaveral Canal came as a result of action by its chairman, W. A. McCree, placing the project before the meeting for approval.

The Authority was told by Randolph Hodges, director of the State Conservation Board, that if the Board authorized the Sanford-Canaveral Canal project the Board could then set up a district for the purpose of financing the canal and that Gov. Farris Bryant could appoint a board to govern it.

Hodges said that the district board could levy a tax of one fifth of a mill to cover administrative expenses. However, he said that authority to sell bonds for the purchase of rights of way and construction would have to be approved by a referendum.

Traffic Safety Group To Meet

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Legislative Council's committee on traffic safety and insurance will meet at Gainesville Sept. 22 to organize its study program for the coming biennium.

The address of the residence where eight men were arrested for gambling Friday is 601 Palmetto Ave. instead of 410 Palmetto as was incorrectly listed in Monday's Herald.

"Deadly Weapon" Alive, Crawling

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI)—Daniel C. Milligan, 19, faced arraignment today on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon—a 4-foot-long poisonous snake.

Officers said Milligan was arrested Monday for allegedly putting a Russell viper in the air conditioning system at the apartment of his former wife, Mrs. Bonnie Johnstone, 18, on Sept. 4.

Milligan admitted dropping the snake in an outside vent, police said, and it was found the next day by a friend. A snake dealer identified it as deadly poisonous with no known antidote for its venom, police said.
