

Seminole Celery Feds To Engage Winter Park Five

Local Team Seeks Second Victory Of Cage Season

Seminole High School's Celery Feds will be seeking their second victory of the season tonight as they engage Winter Park Five in the high school gymnasium at 8:00 o'clock. A preliminary game between the B squads of both schools will be played beginning at 7:00 o'clock. In case Winter Park fails to bring a B squad, then pickup teams from the Seminole High squad will play. The first outing for the Celery Feds last Thursday saw the local players winning from Tavares 23 to 21.

Coch Leonard L. McLucas said his starting lineup tonight would be Danny Altman and Roy Dunn, the high school gymnasium at 8:00 o'clock. A preliminary game between the B squads of both schools will be played beginning

Gorgi Arrives In Orlando For Workout Before Meeting Paychek

ORLANDO, Jan. 9. — Pietro Gorgi, adversary of Johnny Paychek, heavyweight title contender, tomorrow night, arrived here at noon today to go through a public workout at this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Pioneer Athletic Club.

The tough Los Angeles, Calif., fighter, veteran of eleven years in the ring but only 25 years old, will go through a light training routine at the gym this afternoon, to which the public is invited, as his final bit of work before the fight.

He and his manager, the veteran Bill Gore, arrived here from West Palm Beach sometime about noon. Promoter Turner Scott said last night.

While Gorgi concludes his work this afternoon, Paychek ended his preparatory work yesterday afternoon with a light but brisk session at the gymnasium. He will rest today.

Johnny is in the pink of condition now. He had a good training workout yesterday following the final workout.

Although Paychek naturally rates as the eventual winner of the ten-round struggle with Gorgi tomorrow night, the fight that breaks the dedication ice for the new American Legion arena—the tough West Coast lad is rated as dangerous.

The insistence by Harold Steinman, Paychek's pilot, that an outside referee be named for the fight indicates that even he, who took Paychek at his word that he was clean when and if they meet in this country, is concerned over the fight and taking no chances.

There is reason to be concerned. Although Johnny has probably won five around Gorgi, the Italian rates as a hard puncher with other fighters. He has been known to knock out a few of the best fighters in the world.

Further, Billy Conn said yesterday in New York that he would like to see what Paychek is made of. Spring should be and Paychek both win their fight tomorrow night. Conn, light-heavyweight champion, rates as another outstanding heavyweight title contender.

Gorgi is a veteran of 145 fights. He has won 70 and fought to a draw on 25 occasions. He has five times been the loser by a technical knockout and has been knocked out but twice.

Since Armistice Day, he has fought and won four fights, Bill Gore, his manager, reported. The four round fight that will open tomorrow night's card will be announced today, Scott said last night.

The four-round and a pair of promising eight round fights will comprise the psychological features. The opener gets under way at 8:30 o'clock.

Tickets for the fight will be on sale today and tomorrow at the Angelika club floor, and at the Pioneer Athletic Club at 21 West Pine Street. The new Legion arena will seat approximately 3,000 spectators.

Ocala To Send Tennis Team To Play Here

Ocala will send its tennis team here to play Sanford's team in a match Sunday, Director of Recreation R. C. Hardaker announced this morning.

Sanford sent its team to Ocala several weeks ago and returned victorious. The return match with the Ocala was scheduled for Dec. 31 but wet courts prevented play.

City Violators Are Tried In Municipal Court

Last week's City Court docket was one of the smallest in several weeks with only 11 alleged violators of City ordinances being arraigned.

Jos. Preston Stevens, charged with shooting fireworks inside the fire limit, posted a bond of $5 which was returned.

The following negroes were also hauled into Court: George Foster, charged with assault, was given the alternative of a fine of $10 or 30 days in jail; David Baker was given a straight sentence of 180 days when he was found guilty by the court of two charges of disorderly conduct.

A petit larceny charge against James Owens was dismissed while John Bentley, charged with carrying a concealed weapon, was given the alternative of a fine of $50 or 90 days in jail. Jacob Dargon, charged with being drunk

Big Ick, Jappy, Glenford Red To Be Challenged In Feature

ORLANDO, Jan. 9.—The big trio of feature race winners—Big Ick, Jappy and Glenford Red—will have trouble beating back the challenges of capable dogs who have yet to enter the winner's circle tonight in the ninth and featured race at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club.

Sam Cole's speedy Lady at Arms, Sam Cole, a red brindle owned by Oscar Brown and one of the track's best money winners in earlier races and Fanny Fay offer the most formidable threats to the three feature winners.

Of the three winners and probably the dog who will go to the post as the favorite tonight, Glenford Red has the best winning-time. His time, in coping the second racing night's feature race over the futurity distance, was 23 3-5 seconds.

This time is 3-5 seconds over the Longwood track record for the futurity and the second fastest time turned in for a feature race this season. Lucky Dot, the only greyhound to win two feature races this season, turned in a time of 23 1-5 seconds for the fastest time of the year.

Lady At Arms, kennel mate of Sam Cole's Lucky Dot, and the other four dogs seeking their initial featured victory tonight have negotiated the futurity distance within 4-5 seconds of the and disorderly, was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or serve 30 days in jail.

out of the three box in third place. The Grand greyhound was an odds on choice at 6 to 5 to return $400, $3.00 and $2.50. Lucky Clark and Mind Reader finished in that order after the camera picture gave the place nod to Clark by a nose.

The 1-3 combination of Alice Balaeric and H.L. Rip proved a popular selection in the daily doubles and ticket holders collected $11.50. The quarterly pool on the 11th contest went to holders of the 4-1 combination of Born Black and Sam Jackson and amounted to $39.50.

With the all-around threats to the dogs normally favored, track observers predict a well diverted parade of bettors to the metal windows for this feature race. Grand Man, the youngest greyhound quartered at the kennels, won the feature futurity last night for his third straight win of the current meeting. In addition to the three official victories, the Blackwell Kennels hound scored three straight schooling triumphs and has yet to meet defeat at the Longwood running this season.

The fawn-colored youngster was helped August, 1933 out of Park Ex and Granddaddy and the present meeting is his first effort against fast competition. Grand Man was record to establish them as distinct threats tonight. Glided Princess and Smoky Mountain combine with the Big Three—Big Ick, Jappy and Glenford Red—and Lady at Arms, Sam Cole and Fanny Fay to round out the field that will go to the post tonight in the ninth race.

House Group Okeys Defense Funds Asked By Chief Executive

Committee Proposes That Congress Provide $267,197,908 For Army, Navy

Appropriation To Last Until June

Navy Reveals Plans To Spend More Than Million In Florida

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. (AP)—The House appropriations committee today approved, in general, Roosevelt's recommendations for immediate emergency defense and neutrality outlays, and proposed that Congress provide $267,197,908 for the army, navy, coast guard and FBI.

The money would go for work already started or expected to be undertaken during the remainder of the fiscal year ending June 30 in connection with neutrality patrols, increases and training military personnel, and counter espionage.

Reporting the emergency appropriation bill in the House, the committee cut $4,801,616 from the $271,000,000 the President recommended. Subsequent bills later are expected to reflect better part of committee sentiment toward economy.

Appropriations recommended: Army, $116,218,245; Navy $146,082,238; Coast Guard $1,148,325; FBI $1,478,000.

The subcommittee disclosed the navy would spend $1,465,000 on emergency construction in Florida, mostly in Jacksonville and Key West. Ed. G. Brown, chairman of the committee in a request for appropriations, that the FBI had received 78,000 complaints of sabotage and espionage in the last year.

A hot issue in the 1939 Congressional session bobbed up yesterday at a hearing on the navy's $1,200,000,000 expansion program when the chief admiral unexpectedly revealed projected plans to make the far away Pacific island of Guam an "outlying lookout post" for the fleet.

Admiral Harold R. Stark chief of operations, told the House Naval Committee that the navy had included in this year's budget a $4,000,000 item for the Guam project, which in critical times might be an early development, but that bigger, air-battle ships such as the 80,000-toners mentioned recently in Congressional circles were not strictly favored by the experts.

A barrage of critical questions greeted the information about Guam. Stark declared that while the item had been included in the budget for the 14th (Hawaii) naval district because no Congressional authorization was needed, there was no intention of covering it up.

"You gentlemen may laugh," he told the Legislature who were grinning broadly, "but we want you to know exactly why we did that."

He went on to explain that the money, $1,000,000 less than was requested last year, but much less than the $20,000,000 required for the "fully equipped advanced fleet base" recommended for Guam by a special naval board, would pay for dredging underwater runways and construction of trestleways. He told reporters it would make the harbor of Guam available for use by the navy's long-range patrol planes.

Chairman Vinson, who sought to head off another row over establishment of military facilities on Guam, said that the bill would not be passed until the president asked initial funds last week, would be operationally ready for use by the end of the year.

Kiwanis Told World's Fair Was Success

Nina Dean Says Joy, And Inspiration Given 25,840,000

From a monetary standpoint the New York World's Fair may not be considered a success but from every other point of view it was, for it gave joy and inspiration to 25,840,000 persons, Nina Dean, a member of the publicity committee for the Florida Exhibit told members of the Kiwanis Club at its weekly luncheon in the Valdes Hotel today.

The World's Fair showed that business can have imagination and that art can have showmanship, Mrs. Dean said, "and most of all here was a place where the nations of the world can work and play in peace."

"There is no question about Florida's participation being a success," Mrs. Dean, who was introduced by Julius Dingfelder, publicity chairman of the committee, stated. She pointed out that the increased tourist travel to this state this winter is being attributed as much to the Florida Exhibit as to the war in Europe by leading travel agencies. By actual count there were more than 25,840,000 visitors.

Permanent Franco-British Union Is Spectre To Nazi Empire Dreams

By KIRKE L. RIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer
A new spectre in haunt Nazi dreams of world empire has been conjured up by Britain's prime minister, Neville Chamberlain. It is that of a permanent Franco-British union, patterned on the two nations' collaboration in the "military, political, financial and economic" fields. Chamberlain also speaks of its possible "extension" not only to "other nations in Europe," but perhaps to those of the "whole world."

It was this thought, expressed by the prime minister in an accounting of his stewardship during the year and a half months of war, which caught wider attention than his declaration that at the only active battle front, the immense pressure of war power was wearing down Germany's "ability to carry on the war."

The idea of an international union was voiced rather as a personal hope than a definite plan, but its inclusion in what may prove to be the most important public utterance of British war-time leadership has made since the onset of the conflict stirred deep interest.

Hitlerped to its bones, the Chamberlain accounting was definitely reassuring to listeners throughout the far-flung British Commonwealth. It pictured Nazi Germany already driven from the seas by allied naval power, already sharply pinched by that sea power at home. In effect, he said that the war on the ocean has been won by the allies, whatever new horrors or air attacks on England the new year may hold.

There have been many whispers reaching even across the Atlantic, that matters were hovering in London which might see a re-examination of the government's attitude toward Germany. The winter-borne battle lines in France, or elsewhere, and make aggressive action possible. It has been rumored repeatedly that First Lord Viscount Chamberlain of the British Admiralty, who is Britain's naval commander in chief, might become a virtual dictator of British war-making decisions.

Longwood Is 48-31 Against Abolishment

Quiet And Orderly Referendum Is Held; Mayor Urges Co-Operation For Progress

The freeholders of the Town of Longwood voted against the abolition of the municipality by a 48-31 majority in the referendum yesterday.

A total of 82 of the town's 88 freeholders cast ballots in the election but three ballots were nullified. The count disclosed that 48 voted against abolition of the municipality and that 31 voted in favor of the proposal to create a district to liquidate the affairs of the town as provided in a bill passed by the last session of the Legislature.

The voting was unusually "quiet and orderly" according to reports from Seminole County's third-largest municipality, marked only by the challenge of eight of four persons to cast ballots in the election on the grounds that they were not qualified electors of Longwood. The election board, however, granted them the right to vote since they were registered as property owners.

Mayor George H. Bridge commended the orderly manner in which the election was conducted and declared he had no hard feelings toward the progress of the town which has for many years been known as the "Town of Quietude."

Mr. Bridge pledged that the municipal taxes would be reduced by the town council as rapidly as revenue would permit. The point of contention, however, at all times must be levied by the municipality for the retirement of its outstanding obligations.

"Since a majority of the residents of Longwood have voted against abolition of the town, let's all cooperate 100 percent for the development of the community," Mr. Bridge declared.

"Longwood stands today for the prospects of development were never brighter," he said pointing out that the town this year has its largest number of winter visitors in history.

Post Office To Get New Rating, Jaycees Told

Local Concerns, City Aid In Junior Chamber Citrus Drive

The Junior Chamber of Commerce can claim a great deal of credit for the new class rating just achieved by the Sanford Post Office, Frank Hauer, declared last night at the regular meeting of the group at the May Day Hotel.

Mr. Hauer and that nearly $100,000 postage in excess of that amount required for a first class rating will go into effect here in July.

Securing of a better rating for the local Post Office was one of the major projects of the Jaycees during the past year.

C Of C Directors Urge Elimination Of Road Hazards

Invitation Extended Citrus Growers For Meeting In March

The Board of Directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce joined the Board of County Commissioners and other interested parties in petitioning the State Road Department to take immediate steps toward elimination of the traffic hazard in "Death Valley" on State Road No. 3, where several automobile fatalities have occurred in recent years.

The dangerous condition of the highway and the hazard caused by the abutments of the bridge across Soldier Creek and also the dangerous condition of the cut just farther south near Rattlesnake Lake and near the junction of the road to the Sanford-Vienna Road Club were brought to the attention of the board of directors by Fred T. Williams, local engineer.

The road department will also be requested to place reflectors on the abutments of the bridge over Soldier Creek on the Sanford-Vienna Highway at the suggestion of T. W. Lawson.

The work beginning Feb. 5 was decided upon for the annual meeting of the board.

Aldrich Favors Return Of Gold To Free Circulation

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Winthrop W. Aldrich, chairman of Chase National bank, recommended yesterday the return of gold to free circulation in the United States.

"We are already," he told the bank's shareholders at their annual meeting, "the possessors of 60 percent of the world's monetary gold. Before peace can be achieved this share may have risen further."

"In a large sense we are and will be the conservators of the world's money system."

"It is for this reason, as well as for simple reasons of our own, that we must take action now to preserve the monetary character of gold. As I see it, our immediate function is to reestablish a free gold market permitting free movement of gold bars and gold currency both inward and outward, so that the price of gold as here established by the market will be firm and certain base line from which the values of the diverse currencies of the world can be confidently figured."

Aldrich asserted that, with more than five billion dollars of excess reserves, the nation's banks were hard pressed to loan out their money.

Such the same opinion was expressed in the annual report of James H. Perkins, chairman of the National City bank.

C. L. Hofmann Dies Suddenly At Son's Home

Clifford J. Hofmann, 65, father of W. H. Hofmann of this city, died suddenly last night at about 10:15 o'clock at the home of his son on Volusia Street.

Mr. Hofmann had received a large gold stock before coming here from his home in East Florida where he had been in the United States through the efforts of the St. Johns River Trail Association.

The body of the deceased was placed in the St. Johns River Valley and the body was being transported to the funeral home of the St. Johns River Trail Association.

The funeral will be held at the home of the deceased on Monday, Jan. 15, at 10 o'clock.

Big Increase Is Shown In Deposits Of Atlantic Bank

A substantial increase in the number of new deposits and increased activity in the loan and deposit departments were reported by S. H. Shindler, president of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank, at the annual meeting of the stockholders held at the bank yesterday afternoon.

A detailed report presented by J. L. Holly, executive vice president, showed 1,000 new loans were made during 1939, representing over $3,000,000 which went into the loan department of Sanford and Seminole County.

Mr. Shindler is further quoted as saying that the amount of deposits handled in the bank during 1939 totaled over $23,000,000, an increase of over $800,000 over the previous year, and that the statements of condition during the year showed a steady increase in individual deposits, pointing toward an encouraging outlook for 1940.

In commenting upon the number of new loans, President Shindler stated, "This indicates a general increase in business in our community and that we are co-operating with the public in advancing funds wherever it is consistent with sound banking." He also stated, "For the bank, the year as a whole was very successful."

Toy Loan Centers

Probation department officers of Milwaukee, Wis., find that free Toy Loan Centers in high-delinquency areas have brought about a remarkable improvement in the attitudes and interests of the younger generation of Milwaukeeans, according to Joanne Dimmick in the Rotarian Magazine.

"Children who have sufficient toys for their free time are not likely to roam the streets looking for amusement, nor will they visit the 10-cent stores in gangs to raid the counters," Miss Dimmick writes. "Balls, skates, scooters, wagons, tricycles from Toy Loan Centers take them instead of Milwaukee's famous parks during their leisure hours." This Wisconsin city has 15 centers which have made 310,000 loans to 25,000 subscribers, and the attendants at these Centers receive the respect and admiration which might be accorded Santa Claus by their youthful clientele.

Pupils seem to study better after a round of fun with Toy Center fun makers, and lessons are learned in keeping track of borrowed toys, treating properly with care and consideration. In addition to providing a realm of happiness for boys and girls using the Centers, sponsors of the idea find they foster friendship, forestall truancy, petty thievery, and the inexplicable feelings of inadequacy which prompt children to misbehave.

Milwaukee's Toy Loan Centers—which cater to boys and girls of families which cannot afford a variety of toys, even at Christmas time—receive dolls, books, sleds, bikes, autos, tiny sewing machines, trucks, bats, and a thousand other fun makers from attics, basements, overstuffed shelves of friendly merchants, interested organizations, and individuals who have seen the plan work. The Centers maintain their own repair departments and work shops where toys are reconditioned for many happy hours at a time when they might have been thrown away in many a home. Children must register at the Centers, draw toys like books at the library, and return them in best possible condition. And it seems they like the entire procedure.

Famous Sayings

Ethan Allen is widely quoted as having said, as he stormed the heights of Ticonderoga, "Surrender in the name of Jehovah and the Continental Congress!" But the New York Times thinks that what he probably said as he hammered on the gates, "Open up there, you blank blankety blank blank!"

"We know that Wellington, on that same occasion at Waterloo," continues the Times, "did not say 'Up, Guards, and at 'em!' We know that most of the flaming phrases of history were made up by penny-a-liners writing long after the event; and so were most of the dramatic attitudes and silences. When Napoleon paced the deck of the Belleophon on his way to St. Helena it is altogether likely that his officers did not strike the familiar mournful tableau in a corner of the deck. They were probably drinking in the captain's stateroom, glad it was all over and more concerned with what the future was likely to bring next. The discoverer of the Pacific may not have stood silent in Darien. He may have caught his first glimpse of that extensive body of water and said, 'Well, I'll be hornswoggled!'"

"But we cannot be too sure. It must not be made a rule that nobody who is famous ever said anything that is striking. No one so far has denied that Nathan Hale did say he was sorry he had but one life to give for his country. Patrick Henry did say 'Give me liberty or give me death,' and, what is more, he said it right at the moment and did not insert it later in his speech under leave to extend his remarks. We know that Lord Nelson, dying at Trafalgar, did say to his captain, 'Kiss me, Hardy!'"

MOST OF the beliefs people have about their hair and how to keep it are unconfirmed by laboratory tests and the research of specialists. For instance, the myth that exposure to sunlight will raise a crop of superfluous hair exploded in a series of experiments by Drs. C. H. Danforth and Mildred Trotter at the Washington University School of Medicine. Late one Spring, the hairs on the scalp and legs of 12 college girls were microscopically examined and counted. All summer the girls basked in the sun. In the autumn, the microscope showed that the prolonged basking had had no effect on the growth, in number or texture, of the hair.—Readers Digest.

WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

AMEN—This is an excerpt from the President's Address to Congress to which we all could say "Amen." In the spirit of a greater usefulness, recognizing that the world—including the United States of America—passes through perilous times, I am very hopeful that the closing session of the Seventy-sixth Congress will consider the needs of the Nation and of humanity with calmness, tolerance, and cooperative wisdom. May the year 1940 be pointed to by our children as another period when democracy justified its existence as the best instrument of government yet devised by mankind.

ORIGINAL RUSSELL.—Each year since being a Member of Congress I have received a Christmas card from Russell Kay, one of Florida's mighty midgelets, and on each occasion I have had to give it my prize for the best and most original. With Russell's permission I quote the message on his Christmas card this year: "THE FOURTH WISE MAN.—They tell a story of a Fourth Wise man."

"It seems that, at dawn of day, he had arranged to meet the three other Wise Men and journey with them to lay gifts at the feet of the new King.

"But on the way to the meeting place he turned aside to give aid and comfort to one in need and thus arrived too late to join his friends on their far journey.

"Traveling alone he passed, again and again, to help those he found in urgent need. By the time he reached the camp and Mary had laid with the infant Jesus to ensure the warmth of home. Through the years the Fourth Wise Man sought the Christ to lay his gifts before him, but one by one these gifts melted away as he gave to those whose need seemed more urgent. "At last, when he finally reached the feet of the Master he found himself without a single gift to present. Nothing but the greatest gift of all, a record of unselfish service to his fellow men."

"The Fourth Wise Man, it seems to me was WISER than the other three."

PETE'S TANGERINES.—Congressman J. Hardin Peterson had tangerines placed in the Cloak Room for the Members of the House of Representatives on the opening day. I continued to hear compliments on the quality of these tangerines and after visiting the Cloak Room I had to compliment Mr. Peterson on his discriminating selection. When I reached the Cloak Room I heard many fine comments and found that the tangerines came from M. C. Britt Packing House, Winter Garden, Florida, which is in my District.

SAFETY AWARD.—I received a prize from the Sun Insurance Company of New York as a safety award for this year. It was a rebate on my insurance for having had no accident. Of course, while the check was to be expected, I was also glad that I was able to avoid accidents in the past year.

IF WINTER COMES CAN SPRING BE FAR BEHIND?

DISPELLING THE FOG

By CHARLES MICHELSON, Democratic National Committee

Senator Vandenberg of Michigan agrees thoroughly with the theory so widely voiced by District Attorney Dewey of New York City and Senator Taft of Ohio that the simple remedy for our economic ills is the election of a Republican President this year.

He goes a little farther in his survey of the situation by indicating what sort of Republican the next President should be. The Michiganian's current article in the American Mercury lists the New Deal measures that should be salvaged even though of Democratic origin. In arraigning the administration of the measures he indorses, he mentions the disadvantages of having administrators "who never see a payroll."

A survey of the dozen Republican Presidents who have held office since the birth of the G. O. P. reveals that the one who had the best record for prosperity in America without prosperity for agriculture first. The depth and wisdom of this perfect example of sidestepping is afforded by the Senator's ultimate paragraph, to wit: "I should hope the chief feature of the New Deal which would be abandoned would be its restless and unquenchable propensity to try a new experiment on us guinea pigs every twenty minutes."

Of course, according to the editor-senator-aspirant, anything new a Democratic administration proposes is a dangerous adventure leading to a frightful bureaucracy and amounting to playing politics with human misery, while any Republican act along the same line would be high statesmanship, destined of political taint and sure to be successful.

He thinks Secretary Hall's reciprocal trade agreements may be all right in some respects, but he would have them submitted to Congress. Shades of the Smoot-Hawley tariff bill! Wouldn't that be an advance in foreign trade relations?

Senator Vandenberg could have put his program in fewer and more comprehensible words. What he has said in ten pages of print amounts to this: "Elect me President and the millennium is here!"

1. Retain the gains that have been made in farm relief, including the soil conservation program, crop insurance, crop loans, and the Surplus Commodities Corporation.

2. Continue legal guarantees of collective bargaining, but with changes in the Wagner Act.

3. Continue social security, but with changes in policy and administration.

4. Continue the Federal guarantee of bank deposits, which he calls the greatest single achievement of the last eight years.

5. Retain the Securities and Exchange Commission. "Because the days of racketeering piracy in the financial market place are gone forever."

6. Continue Federal responsibility for the relief of all employable who are in distress. (The last Republican President opposed Federal acceptance of this responsibility.)

7. On relief, Senator Vandenberg is quite specific. "The state," he wrote, "should receive an annual lump-sum grant from Washington representing the Federal Government's contribution to the state's relief program as a whole." He continues: "This relief will go back to the neighborhood jurisdiction of those states where it always has been, and more expeditiously handled."

8. He must suppose that such a grant would be secured by national government bonds in proportion to the state's population. It happened in

Plans for a statewide Finnish Relief Program are being submitted to the membership of the Florida Publicity Directors, according to Wilson Martin, president of the organization and publicity director of Silver Springs.

YOUR DOCTOR SAYS

By DR. DANIEL H. KRESS, M. D.

It is well known that raw fruits disagree with those who have no teeth; they also disagree with those who have teeth, but do not make use of them. They disagree with them because they are not properly masticated. I recall the time when, as a mere lad, I stood by the side of my mother and begged for a little of her scraped apple. As she had very few teeth, she found that she could eat them freely if she scraped them. Few there are, it seems, who have made this happy discovery.

The chief reason why apples, bananas, and other fruits disagree is that they are swallowed without being properly prepared for the stomach. Fruits and, in fact, all other foods, should be purged before entering the stomach; and they should be purged in the mouth instead of in the kitchen. In fact, mouth-purged foods are superior to kitchen-purged foods, since the alkaline saliva supplies a much-needed ferment, and aids in preparing them in a natural way for entrance into the stomach.

Man seems to regard the mouth merely as an opening to the stomach, through which food has to pass. It seems not to have occurred to him that the mouth itself is an important organ of digestion. In saliva, containing ptyalin a ferment that is needed to digest starch, is produced.

Unripened fruits are difficult to digest; but even these, if given this special mouth treatment, may be made more digestible. Unripe fruit contains starch instead of sugar, and starch needs the action of ptyalin. In the process of ripening, the starch in fruit undergoes a change similar to that which takes place in the alimentary canal. If food is properly masticated, the starch is, in part, converted into fruit sugar. In the well-ripened fruits we are therefore served with a sugar that places no tax upon the organs of digestion. This is quite important during warm weather, especially since there is a general relaxation, and the organs of digestion are not at their best. Peristalsis is sluggish, and the glandular secretions are lessened.

Scalded is food selected intelligently. This is illustrated by the young woman who, soon after marriage, went to the market to buy some supplies. Being of an artistic turn of mind, she selected the foods with reference to the color of her dishes. They may appear rather ridiculous, yet to a greater or a lesser extent an artistic turn of mind, she selected the foods with reference to the color of her dishes. 7-H Club Sponsors Week-End Party

Members of the 7-H Club, which is composed of seven junior high school girls, enjoyed a three day progressive house party on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday of last week.

The party began Friday night with a spend-the-night party at the home of Sylvia Matich, where a surprise midnight thrill was experienced.

Saturday morning the girls bowled and played games of tennis before having lunch at Camille Batten's and going to the picture show after which more tennis was played.

Saturday night they were the guests of Mary Ann Whelchel for a buffet supper and the following morning a pancake breakfast.

As a group they attended the Methodist Sunday School. Martha Page was hostess for the chicken dinner and skating party Sunday afternoon.

Refreshments of cookies, sandwiches, and punch were served late in the afternoon, followed by games of ping-pong.

Members of the club included: Martha Page, Camille Batten, Audrey Bach, Minnie Ruth Odham, Mary Ann Whelchel, Mildred Robson and Sylvia Matich.

CELERY SALT

"The Spice of S. H. S."
By Dick Myers

I just happened to think a few minutes ago that this is the year that all the boys take the attitude "Here we are girls, whatcha gonna do about it?" At least they should, and probably would if they weren't afraid of getting the answer "Nothing" . . . which leaves us just where we started . . .

Since the closing of Angel's, S. H. S. night life has had to seek new fields. . . DeLand's "Hob Nob" opened its portals to the following last Friday night: BO ADAMS, BETTY WATHEN, GILES JESSIE . . . DUBH JANE LLOYD . . . MARY MARTHA BRUCE . . . JOE DOUGLAS, MARGUERITE DUNCAN . . . FLEETY WILLIAMS, LOUISE PERKINS, GEORGE S. PATTERSON, BETTY BROWN, LOUISE PERKINS . . . JIMMY and JOYCE . . . in passing might say they had it all to themselves.

A new boy, BOB HULLARD from Penn., started in school today . . . If BILLY GLENN wants to know what happened to MINNIE the other night MARGUERITE DUNCAN might be in a position to get him right . . . B. H. WILLIAMS and GEORGE SPEER were busy wandering up and down First Street Sunday afternoon "Looking for a date," so they said. You might call that a leopon complex huh? . . . BO ADAMS and BETTY WATHEN are having their bit of difficulty in getting a date to speak to. He won't speak to Betty, just a terrible mess . . . You've heard the one about the fellow who's so fast he turns out the light and gets in bed before the room gets dark. . . well, BILL BRANAN is a shining example of one of those streaks of lightning . . . He's broken all existing records for getting out of the room when the lights ring and the stairs to a certain doorway where he wants like a puppy knowing MARTHA WIGHT will soon come blithely tapping out . . . Baseball may be the great American sport to some people but they don't share the view of a group of Sophomore boys who say there's nothing like a good night of "Looking for a date" which is a slang expression for a certain course of procedure I couldn't possibly go into here . . . ROSEBUD has a unique form of expression in this particular case . . . she says when a certain person comes in sight her heart beats 2,500 R. P. M. . . HELEN TAMM added to my material day before yesterday by having someone tell me to inquire as to why she is now singing "What's New" . . . maybe she likes it, who knows? . . . An expression of sympathy goes to MARYANN TRUCK who's been sick in bed for the past two weeks . . . Meaning to cast no aspersions on the character of GEORGE HUGHES, I can't help but see the comicality in George walking down the street peering an orange while grocery clerks run outside to count the ones they have on display . . . BOB HUGHES' TRUCK who's age seems to be much in demand. He had some pictures made the other day and was said to be giving them out like hand bills . . . GLENN ODHAM has a style all his own when it comes to the ladies . . . he also professes to be quite a connoisseur of lipstick . . . two and two makes four . . . The Sports Club is giving a party during the last one being Saturday before New Year's, at the Woman's Club this Saturday night. Don motto "I at First You Don't Succeed, try, Try Again." BILLY HILLERER's getting some benefit out of leap-year . . . at least there was a three way argument as to who was going to ask him for a date on such an auspicious night . . . Someone told me BRUCE BOLT and HUGH LESHER were down on the lakefront industriously writing JOE McCASLIN's name on the pavement with chalk while Joe was bringing up the rear just as industriously trying to rub it out again . . . there wouldn't have been any comment about one name, but the DeMolay's are planning a trip on Captain Rice's boat . . . the weather permitting . . .

Farmers Will Save By Feeding Their Cattle

GAINESVILLE, Jan. 9.—Florida cattlemen will do well to feed their weaker cows during the next 90 to 100 days and thus save both cow and calf, says W. J. Sheely, animal husbandman with the State Agricultural Extension Service.

He has just made a trip in which he observed a number of weak cows which will likely die before grass comes in, and the cattlemen will lose both cow and unborn calf.

Sheely says that 2 pounds of cottonseed cake per cow per day will carry them through until the grass becomes lush. Then both the cow and the calf, which will have been dropped by that time, will gain weight on the grass. But a little feed now is essential, he thinks.

He figures the cattlemen who feeds and thus saves his cows will be considerably ahead of the game. The cake costs about $30 a ton, or 1 1/2 cents a pound. It costs a day for 2 pounds. In 100 days the cost of feed—not counting its distribution where army and air corps as well as navy.

 There have even been hints that he might replace Chamberlain as a coalition prime minister to press the war on Germany vigorously and on all possible fronts this year. Removal of Hore-Belisha as war minister set the world agog with speculation as to its true import. It could be, for instance, a symptom of cabinet tension resulting from a rising demand in some British circles for final elimination of the Chamberlain "appeasement" idea from allied war policy. If Hore-Belisha was a spokesman for the "no appeasement" men, that may be the reason he was forced out.

For there is in the Chamberlain address, at least an echo of the prime minister's one-time conception of a peace of appeasement. This address holds out not only to all Europe's little neutrals jeopardized by the war, but to German public opinion a hope of post-war readjustments and recognition of national and economic needs. Chamberlain again disclaimed any allied purpose of the foe.

That the prime minister also responded to the plea for retreat in England over the undisclosed share the allies are taking in extending aid to Finland is also patent. That aid would be "no more territorial" and seeking not to allow the reluctance of his government to widen the main war theatre in Europe to strife in new demarcation of Russia for "unscrupulous violence" in Finland.

Whatever else can be read into the Chamberlain speech, however, the essential fact about it is that it draws a hopeful picture of the possibilities, if not the probabilities, of allied victory. Chamberlain seemed to indicate that it might come within the "fateful" year of 1940, although he did not say so definitely.

That is an important element of the speech, all the more so because of Chamberlain's long record of caution in foreign affairs. It is a circumstance certain to be used by British diplomatic agents everywhere in Europe, dealing with little neutrals and seeking to make increasingly effective the allied economic siege of Germany. The neutrals both in the Balkan and Baltic areas, are already doubtful that Germany can win.

President Confers With Churchmen On Peace Moves

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—President Roosevelt's plans for a foundation on which to build lasting European peace are crystallizing slowly, he said yesterday after discussing with Protestant churchmen some of the ideals and objectives which should be embodied in such a program.

At a press conference following his meeting with the churchmen, Roosevelt stressed that while he has certain ideals in mind, he has not as yet evolved a point-by-point program including all the prerequisites of any just and lasting peace.

He said he had revealed some of the basic points to the churchmen after binding them to secrecy. Earlier, a spokesman for the group said that Roosevelt had indicated he hoped his peace efforts would find definite encouragement this Spring.

His meeting with the church leaders resulted from the criticism with which they met his recent designation of Myron C. Taylor as a special emissary to the Vatican in order to coordinate, whenever possible, the peace objectives of the United States and Pope Pius XII.

Roosevelt said that Taylor, who is convalescing from an illness, will confer with him later this week to discuss the objectives he has in mind. Taylor subsequently will go to Florida for a rest before leaving for Italy to present his credentials to the pope.

The men meeting with Roosevelt represented the Lutheran church convention, the United Lutheran church in America, the Southern Baptist convention, the Northern Baptist convention, and the general conference of the Seventh Day Adventist church.

Various spokesmen for these groups protested Taylor's appointment as a step which might jeopardize traditional separation of church and state in the United States. In their conference with him, Roosevelt said, they again relayed their criticism.

Their presence here at his request is in exactly the same category as Taylor's future presence at Italy where he will confer with the Catholic pontiff, he said. He recalled that he has made overtures and advances to Jewish leaders as well.

The idea of it, he explained, is to mobilize a world influence of all churches for peace.

He said he had asked the group to remain silent about their objectives because he feels that at this time they should not be reduced to any series of proposals that might be described in such terms as "24 points" designation given President Wilson's ill-fated plan for a permanent peace in Europe after the World War.

As a matter of fact, the President continued, his objectives are not points at all but merely ideals. Dr. Rufus W. Weaver, chairman of the committee on public relations of the Southern Baptist convention and who also acted as spokesman for the visitors, said he did not know "whether there was any change of mind or viewpoint in the group."

"The President left us the impression that he would not have taken his action unless he cherished some hopes and he felt that the hopes might find some practical encouragement by Spring," he said.

"Mr. Roosevelt said he wanted to assure us that under no circumstances would any church receive better treatment or greater recognition than any other church."

Also in the delegation were the Rev. Frederick H. Knobel, New York, president of the American Lutheran church; Dr. Ralph Long, New York, secretary of the Lutheran World convention; J. L. McElhany and E. D. Dick, Washington, president and secretary, respectively, of the Seventh Day Adventists; and Dr. William R. Abernathy of the Northern Baptist group.

Sea-Air Warfare Breaks Out With Renewed Savagery

LONDON, Jan. 10.—A bitter outbreak of sea-air warfare was disclosed early today to have sent at least six British and neutral ships to the bottom of the sea, including the 10,000-ton British liner Dunbar Castle, destroyed by a mine while she was carrying 133 persons, some of them women and children, toward the Cape of Good Hope.

Dead and missing totaled at least 33.

Nazi bombers invaded British coastal waters and sank one British steamer and two Danish vessels, the admiralty announced. Numerous others, including a fleet of five fishing smacks and a lightship tender, were raked with machine-gun fire. Of 40 men aboard the tender, one was killed and 22 wounded.

The Dunbar Castle, owned by the Union Castle Mail Steamship Company line, struck a mine off England's dangerous southeast coast. An undetermined number of her passengers and crew were injured, and two persons, at least, were missing.

The ships which the admiralty said German aircraft sank were: S. S. Gowrie, British, 688 tons; Jaycees, which was invited. Clyde Ramsey, Richard Deas and Henry Witte were appointed as the committee in charge.

A committee composed of M. L. Raboin, C. K. Carter, Troy Ray and Charles Betts was appointed to arrange for the selection of a representative from Sanford to compete for queen of the Azalea Festival to be held in Palatka, Feb. 17-18.

Kiwanis Told World's Fair Was Success

 4,000,000 visitors to the Florida Exhibit, she said.

She paid tribute to Myron Stevens, local artist who prepared the Florida diorama and to Whittaker Williams, local negotiator who was in the Florida building. She also commended Ralph Bagwell and the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce for sending Willie the sweeter with the stalk of celery on which she said resulted in a large amount of publicity for Sanford and the State.

She also commended Earl Brown, manager of the Florida Exhibit, whom she said was such a good showman that he had been asked to serve as a member of the World's Fair Board.

President Karl Nordgren who presided over the meeting reminded the members of the club that the mid-winter Kiwanis conference will be held in Sanford Sunday and Monday and urged a 100-percent attendance at the sessions to be held in the Mayfair Hotel.

He also appointed a committee which will devise a means of raising funds for the club's activities during the ensuing year. Edward F. Lane was made chairman and the other members are Harry Woodruff, J. G. Sharon, G. Bennett, and O. P. Herndon.

Visitors at today's session were E. F. Householder, Volle Williams, Preston Sherrill of Lake City, John R. Watt of Orlando, Ralph Bagwell, R. I. Dean and J. R. Williams of Atlanta.

 President Harold Powers said that 3,000 envelope inserts advertising Florida citrus were being mailed here through cooperation of the Florida Power & Light Co., Chase & Co., and the City of Sanford. He added that most of the local grocers and drug stores were cooperating by displaying their establishments, using quantities of display material distributed by the Sanford Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Tourist Committee Chairman Eddie Kirchhoff reported that the N. Y. A. labor project to construct the proposed information booth on North Park Avenue was at least approved, and that construction would begin soon. It was also reported by Mr. Bauer that 100 Sanford arrow signs had been completed and were ready to be placed on the highways.

The Charter Meeting of the Junior Chamber will be held the night of Jan. 23. President Powers announced at this meeting, he said, that the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be presented with its National Charter by State President Campbell Thornhill. He added that wives and sweethearts of the club members will be invited to attend the meeting.

Lucky Clark Favored Over Just Roll On in Feature Race Tonight

ORLANDO, Jan. 10.—Although N. A. Moore's Just Roll On is the only dog among the eight who has a feature race victory chalked up, Lucky Clark will probably go to the post as the favorite in the ninth and featured race tonight at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club.

The 70-pound Lucky Clark, a young brindle pup owned by Lester Cole, who placed second to Grand Sam in Monday night's feature, is regarded by track observers as one of the more promising of the young dogs.

Just Roll On, a three-year-old brindle, will also be among the favored dogs in the betting on this race, which highlights the night's racing.

Among the better dogs listed for this ninth race, in addition to Lucky Clark and Just Roll On, are Bobby Chris, Oscar Brown's three-year-old black dog, and J. E. Brummett's Mind Reader, who also consistently tours the feature distance in par-feature race time of 29.4 seconds.

Ripsey Carter, Rock Cruser and Lucky Kay round out the entries for the ninth race.

One of the most significant trends of this season, even though it is yet in the early stages, is the probability of War Leader's record feature time of 29 seconds known; or maybe it's a thirst for a real fight following a bleak drought of several years.

Whatever it is, it is sweeping Orlando and surrounding environs with a marked contagion.

Paychek, ranked by The Ring Magazine as the fifth heavyweight in line for the title held by the Great Joe Louis, moves in to this fight tonight as first stretch-drive manipulation that is calculated to land him in Madison Square Garden no later than this Spring. He is undefeated in 30 fights.

CHALKING 'EM UP

White Hope
Tonight is the night. If you're a fifth man, you know what that means. Johnny Paychek is fighting Pietro Gorgi in Orlando at the new American Legion Arena and more than 3,000 persons are expected to crowd in to see the heavyweights fight it out. This bout carries more than casual interest inasmuch as Paychek has been given a chance to show what he can do to Billy Conn, the revamped light-heavy, whose main claim to fame is the desire to tackle Joe Louis and win the heavyweight championship of the world—and that makes him about as famous as about some hundred thousand of the pugilistic racket in this country. Paychek is ranked about fifth and if he can prove tonight that he has a "glass" jaw, then we may expect Paychek to show up well when and if he meets Conn. The bout starts at 8:30 and if you want a seat, you'd better be on time.

Basketball
Sanford's Celery Feds lost their second game of the season last night to the Winter Park basketball team. The loss was hard to take for most of the game the Feds had outplayed the Tads from Winter Park, but in the third and fourth quarters Cook, plump forward for the visitors, couldn't miss no matter from what angle he tossed the ball. That was the breaks of the game. It didn't mean that the Feds aren't a pretty good team. They've got plenty of possibilities but they need a bit more experience. The greatest faults they seem to have in permitting the other team to get set before starting their march down the floor. If they want to play the slow floor game, they've got to have more speedy footwork on the breaks. Also they seem to have trouble around the basket. Last night both the Sanford and Winter Park squads seemed to take it easy when the ball came down. Only Jim Riser yet that didn't literally fight for that ball under the basket. With these faults ironed out, the Feds should do pretty well this season.

C of C Directors Urge Elimination Of Road Hazards
The Florida Citrus Growers Inc. to hold its March meeting in Sanford. The invitation of the Chamber of Commerce was extended to the group by F. I. Foreman at the organization's meeting in January. This meeting, it was pointed out, will bring approximately 200 citrus growers from all over Florida for the one-day meeting.

The matter of enclosing the porch of the Chamber building was discussed and referred to the Executive Committee for its action without further consideration by the directors.

Also referred to the Executive Committee for action was Resolution No. 73 of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in the report of the National Chamber's special Committee on "Regulation of Competition". The audit report of Penland, Gray and Moore was received covering financial records of the Chamber of Commerce for the fiscal period ended Sept. 30, 1939, and was ordered filed.

A collection of 70 paintings from 70 different countries was entered in the Art Exhibit at the coming Florida State Fair by Thomas J. Watson, president of International Business Machines. This famed collection comes to Tampa directly from the San Francisco World's Fair, where it was an outstanding feature last summer.

Camellias Tested in New Variety Garden

GAINESVILLE, Jan. 10.—The Florida Experiment Station has started a camellia variety garden in which it hopes to assemble one or more specimens of each known variety and species of this excellent ornamental plant. The garden now contains 250 plants of some 100 different varieties.

E. J. Wilmet, assistant horticulturist, is supervising the planting and the studies. He says it is planned to get specimens of a number of named varieties from different nurseries and grow them out to see if the varieties have been correctly named in such cases, in addition to taking notes on growth and behavior of the camellias in the Gainesville plantings.

Wilmet says the plants now in the garden have been contributed by Gering's, Annie's Gardens of Yonkers, Glen St. Mary Nurseries, and Miller Nurseries of Monticello. Other nurseries have promised specimens from their collections.

Paychek Tackles Gorgi in 10-Round Bout in Orlando

ORLANDO, Jan. 10.—Baldie young Johnny Paychek, slamb of feet and possessed of a pair of fists braced with granite, squirmed off with the tough, ring-worn Pete Gorgi, Los Angeles heavyweight, in a 10-round fight that dedicates the new American Legion arena here tonight.

Paychek, pretty well suppressed because of a lack of exposure in immediately past years, was fanned to a high temperature yesterday over the fight that brings the boxing game back to Central Florida and dedicates the spacious new $115,000 Legion arena.

Close to 3,000 fans, a capacity house, are expected to click past the newly installed turnstiles at the North Orange Avenue fight grounds by 8:30, when the 35-year-old card gets under way.

Veteran fight observers said yesterday that never before had a fight started up so much interest and enthusiasm here in Orlando.

And sports writers from all over the State are coming here for the fight.

Maybe it is the possibility of seeing a future heavyweight champion in action; maybe it is the possibility of seeing a little contender's hopes blasted by an un-

Warplanes Appear Over England But Are Driven Away

Aerial Activity Is Intensified While Land Forces Stay Quiet On Front

Finns Hear About Red Army Shakeup

Congress Told We Must Consider Possible Allied Loss

Most Courteous Clerk Contest Is Commended

Rev. Bram Declares Most Courteous To Be Hard To Select

Visits by German raiders to Britain's east coast today intensified the aerial activity in one of Europe's two wars while in the other, the Finnish-Russian conflict, reports mounted that Russian military failures had brought a sharp army shakeup.

German planes, apparently replying to British forays over the northwestern German coast yesterday, were driven off when a number of estuaries and the Firth of Forth. No bombs were dropped.

Salesmanship is the largest factor in any sales campaign and is essential to the success of the current "trade-at-home" campaign, the Rev. Martin J. Bram said today in commending the current contest for the selection of the "most courteous" clerk in Sanford as a "logical" step toward inducing residents to patronize local merchants.

The task of selecting a "most courteous" clerk will be a difficult one, adding that he has been accorded only the most courteous treatment since he has resided in Sanford.

"After the Trade At Home Campaign" really began to gather interest and momentum, the next logical step was to see one way or another, he said, namely, the contest to discover the most courteous sales person. Salesmanship is certainly the largest factor in any sales campaign. The salesman the link between those who need something and whatever is available to meet that need.

Norwegian and Finnish quarters heard that more than 100 Soviet officers had been called back from the Finnish front to face trial because the Red army's failure to make greater progress after six weeks' campaign, Finland reported Russian attacks had been repulsed on the eastern and extreme northern fronts. Otherwise, the Finns said, there were no developments.

"But," he said, "it has been pointed out, begins by selling oneself. This is true even in the daily contact with friends. A person 'sells' his personality to everyone he comes in contact with during his lifetime. A person 'sells' himself to a possible employer in the same way."

In Washington, Admiral Harold Stark, chief of naval operations, told the House Naval Affairs Committee that in considering the proposed $1,300,000,000 fleet expansion program "we must face the possibility of an Allied defeat."

"But," he said, "it has been pointed out, begins by selling oneself. This is true even in the daily contact with friends. A person 'sells' his personality to everyone he comes in contact with during his lifetime. A person 'sells' himself to a possible employer in the same way."

Negro Confesses To Station Robberies

Mose Daniels, youthful local negro, confessed to the breaking and entering of three filling stations Tuesday night on his arrest yesterday. Chief of Police Roy G. Williams said today.

Daniels entered the filling station on Thirteenth Street and Park Avenue, Thirteenth Street and Sanford Avenue, and Fifteenth Street and Sanford Avenue. He obtained several hundred pennies in the robberies and these, he said, he used to buy a new suit and shoes.
