City Sees Growth Spurt In Apartments, Condos

Sanford's development pace has doubled in the past 12 months, spurred by apartment and condominium projects. "We are seeing the most apartment development, now at one time, than we have seen in the 14 years I've been with the city," said Sanford building official Gary Winn. In August, the K. Hovnanian Companies took out building permits for a 564-unit condominium project, valued at $13 million, under construction at Old Lake Mary Road and Airport Boulevard.

The development will be called Pine Ridge Club. Pine Ridge together with other developments of five or more family units since Jan. 1, have a total value of $23.3 million, compared with $2.6 million in apartment development during the

Also in the early stages of development are North Lake Villas with 112 two-bedroom apartments being built by the U.S. Homes Corp. on Lake Minnie Drive, across from Sunland Estates, Winn said.

Permits for single family homes, meanwhile, have fallen slightly behind the same period a year ago. In 1983 during the first eight months, building permits for 446 single family homes valued at $14.5 million were issued. In the first eight months of 1984, building permits have been issued for 356 single family homes valued at $12.3 million.

Winn said there are several subdivisions ready to begin building and he predicted the year's record will show more single family homes constructed this year than last.

At the same time, a permit has been issued to Codisco at the Sanford Airport to build a 17,500 square-foot warehouse at the Sanford Airport where its other facilities are located. The firm manufacturers sheet metal. The value of the new building is listed at $203,774.

And Steve Grier, a builder, received a building permit in August to build a commercial building containing three to four stores valued at $82,000 at 210 French Ave.

Another Shop & Go convenience store is ready for construction at 2201 W. 1st St. Its estimated value is $135,000.

In 1984 to date, some $5.2 million in commercial and industrial building permits have been issued compared with $2 million at the same time a year ago.

The numbers of swimming pools built in the city are increasing as well as their cost doubling.

During the first eight months, 26 permits were issued for swimming pools at private homes or developments at a value of $227,260 compared to last year's 17 valued at $110,000 during the first eight months.

More gasoline tanks also are being built in the Forty-three permits for tanks worth $358,564 were issued during the first eight months compared to 9 valued at $70,500 for the same period of 1983. -Donna Estes

Health Insurance Costs Dent Sanford's Budget

Knowles and the commission will meet following a 7 p.m. public hearing at city hall on Sanford's record $10.4 million budget. The budget calls for a tax rate of $3.45 per $1,000 assessed valuation for the 984-85 year.

Baby Dies Of Plague At Air Force Academy

authorities warned hikers and other Air Force Academy visitors to stay clear of rodents because of the plague death of a 14-month-old girl. State health authorities confirmed Sunday the baby died Sept. 3 of septicemic plague, one of three forms the disease takes in humans.

She was the fifth person to die of plague in the country this year. Another 16 cases have been reported but the victims survived.

Health Department veterinarian John Emerson said the girl, the daughter of an Air Force officer, probably contracted plague from infected rock squirrels or fless around her family's home at the academy.

Capt. Doug Draper said the girl's family name would not be released. He said the family had been moved out of the home, which was then fumigated.

State and local health officials met Sunday to discuss what measures, if any, were needed to protect visitors, cadets and Air Force personnel and their families at the academy, Draper said.

'We're advising people to wear insect repellent if they're hiking in the woods or in areas around

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (UPI) - Health the academy, and of course not to touch any dead animals," Draper said.

He said about I million people visit the academy each year and hike along the trails.

Maj. Dennis Gauci said health authorities set traps around the victim's house in hope of testing any rock squirrels or other rodents caught.

He said it was possible the girl was exposed to the disease at her family's cabin in Red River. N.M., during an August visit. However, he said, it was more likely she contracted the disease at the academy because plague symptoms normally appear two to six days after exposure.

Plague was not immediately suspected in the girl's death because she had been suffering from another illness, Emerson said.

Emerson warned anyone camping or hiking on the academy grounds to avoid contact with rodents and keep their pets confined since plague is spread by the bite of infected fleas.

The girl's death marked the first death from plague in Colorado since 1978 and the fifth death among 16 cases of plague in state history, officials

Diana Gathering Strength

By United Press International

Residents along the South Carolina coast braced for the worst today, snapping up candles, batteries and canned goods as hurricane Diana gathered strength and inched northward.

The National Weather Service upgraded the tropical atorm to hurricane status about mid-morning and said she was packing winds of 80 miles an hour.

A hurricane watch and gale warning along the entire coast for the storm, which was 140 miles south southeast of Savannah, Ga., was posted earlier today, and Diana was expected to head northward at 5 to 10 knots.

Weather alert conditions were in effect at the area's military installations, schools were closed in Beaufort and Jasper counties, and officials feared considerable beach erosion will occur.

Families living in mobile homes at the Marine Corps Air Station near Beaufort were ordered to evacuate Sunday night as a precautionary measure. Marine Lt. Col. Charles Hoelle Jr. said 39 families were moved to sturdler base housing, and 108 people were placed in a school shelter.

Sgt. Wayne Palmer of the Beaufort County Sheriff's Department said residents living within 100 yards of the beachfront have been advised to be

Deaver's Friend Top Banana After White House Meeting

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The brother of deputy White House chief of staff Michael Deaver arranged a White House meeting for a friend whose banana imports from Nicaragua have since soared despite hostile relations with the country, the businessman says.

Bill Deaver said last week he probably asked his brother to help set up the meeting last year for Jack Pandol, president of Pandol Brothers Inc. of Delano, Calif. Pandol's company has enjoyed exclusive rights to import Nicaraguan bananas since another firm withdrew in 1981.

in a telephone interview from California. Pandol said he received no special treatment from the administration but declined to discuss specifics of the White House meeting.

He volunteered that his family was "quite active in Republican circles" and that Ronald Reagan dined at his home before his first California gubernatorial campaign. Pandol and two others in his family each contributed $666 to Reagan's 1980 presidential campaigns, although he has made no donations this year.

Ferraro Caught In Abortion Flap

NEW YORK (UPI) - Geraldine Ferraro, stung by criticism from the Roman Catholic archbishop of New York, says she has never misrepresented church teachings on abortion.

Ferraro said she would speak to the archbishop today to clear up any misunderstanding with him. "The only thing I know is that she has given the world to understand that Catholic teaching is divided on the subject of abortion," Archbishop John O'Connor said. The spiritual leader of nearly 2 million Catholics in the New York Archdiocese - the fourth largest in the nation - quoted Pope John Paul II saying. "It's the task of the church to reaffirm that abortion is death." 'We will not accept 'I am personally opposed but ...'" he said, referring to Ferraro's view that she is personally opposed to abortion but believes she has no right to impose her view on others.

'Shut Down Gay Bathhouses'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) - The city health director, under pressure by a group of doctors, may decide this week whether to shut down homosexual bathhouses to fight the spread of AIDS, which killed nearly one person a day in San Francisco last month.

The city Department of Health reported a record 28 deaths from AIDS in August, up from 13 deaths in August 1983. Sixty doctors at the Pacific Medical Center promptly urged the city health director, Dr. Mervyn Silverman, to close the bathhouses as one way to combat spread of the discase.

Earlier this year, Silverman refused to close the houses but now he says he may make a new decision this week.

Some homosexuals have protested the proposed closings on grounds a shutdown would violate their civil rights, while others have agreed the bathhouses are a health

Are More Taxes The Answer? Reagan Says No; Mondale Gets Specific annual deficit of $86 billion for fiscal 1989.

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Democratic presidential candidate Walter Mondale offered his plan today that would reduce the federal deficit by $177 billion in 1989 and increase taxes by $85 billion.

Mondale aides outlined the program in advance of a news conference by the candidate in Philadelphia that they said would make Mondale quite unusual for proposing tax hikes during a political campaign.

The program includes "pay-as-you-go" approach for Mondale's first term in the White House that would mean no new spending would be proposed for which a source of revenue had not been identified.

The program uses as its basis a $263 billion deficit for fiscal 1989 that has been projected by the Congressional Budget Office - a much higher figure than the $162 billion deficit that has been predicted by the administration's Office of Management and Budget. From that high estimate, it sub-tracts a total of $177 billion, leaving an New taxes would total $85 billion. They would include modifying indexing established by the Reagan administration that allow income tax brackets to keep pace with inflation, placing limits on the third year of President Reagan's tax cut already in effect, applying a 10 percent surcharge to married couples with income of more than $100,000 and single people with incomes of more than $70,000, placing a 15 percent corporate minimum tax on economic income, limiting tax shelters, loopholes and accounting abuses, applying measures to that benefit businesses. The tax increases would go into effect in the spring after the election. And the new revenue would go into a trust fund earmarked to pay off the deficit.

improve compliance with tax laws and continuing the postponement of tax cuts

Mondale aides said that families with incomes up to $25,000 would have no tax increase under the program. They estimated that families of four with two dependents earning $25,000 a year to the mid-thirties would pay pay about $95 a year more. And those with incomes of about $35,000 to the low-forties range would pay about $205 a

Families earning more than $100,000 would have an increased tax bite of about $26,000, the aides said. They did not have estimated readily available for the other income ranges.

Reagan says the recession is to blame for much of the deficit and in turn blames the recession on policies set in the Carter administration. The president has steadfastly rejected Mondale's assertion tax hikes are inevitable and argues the federal deficit will shrink as the economy continues to pick up steam.

Reagan, at a rally of Polish Americans in Doylestown, Pa., attended by 40,000 people, said: "Raising taxes is an old answer. Some say it's the only answer. I say it's the wrong answer.

Pope Reaffirms Celibacy; Focuses On Indians' Plight

QUEBEC CITY, Canada (UPI) region three months ago showed - Pope John Paul II, after its Catholics moving away from reaffirming the ancient Roman Catholic tradition of priestly celibacy, turns his attention to the plight of North American Indians and inuits today on the second day of his visit to Canada.

The pope began his 12-day tour of Canada Sunday and lived up to his custom of getting straight to the point on controversial religious issues. He also warned Catholics in Canada to keep their faith despite the temptations of a modern, materialistic society.

The 64-year-old John Paul brought up the church's ban on married priests during an address to representatives of Canada's Catholic religious orders in the chapel of the Seminaire de Quebec.

"The essential element of your particular vocation remains: The gift of self in consecrated celibacy and a life of prayer and active charity.

John Paul's reassertion of cel-traditional church doctrines, with more than 65 percent against the church's ban on birth control and divorce and remarriage.

The pope delivered his major address Sunday to an estimated 250,000 people at an open-air mass at the city's Laval Univer-

He told them that their traditionally religion-centered French Canadian culture was being eroded by modern materialistic society.

"Do not accept a divorce between faith and culture, John Paul said, describing his visit to the region as "a new missionary effort" on behalf of the church.

"In this changing society ... you must learn to articulate your faith and to live in it." the pope said in French.

John Paul's first day in Canada went off without a hitch Sunday. Enthusiastic crowds under the watchful eye of very drawn increasing opposition tight security - cheered and waved small paper flags as the pope moved through the city.

Join Paul has made it a point in his international trips to express his solidarity with native ethnic populations as special representatives of the poor and the oppressed.

Canadian Indians have been struggling for constitutional recognition and political autonomy.

A second theme the pope has atressed in every one of his 22 previous papal trips is his devotion to Mary, mother of Jeaus, and the Canadian trip will be no different.

Quintet Goes On Trial For Marijuana Trafficking

By Deane Jordan Herald Staff Writer

Jury selection was scheduled to began today in the marijuana trafficking trial of a DeBary couple and three Georgia men.

The quintet was arrested in February after five undercover agents from several law enforcement agencies organized to befriend the group that was reportedly interested in dealing in drugs.

Scheduled to be tried before Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr., are Robert P. Adcock, 35, of 63 Estrella Drive, DeBary; Janie W. Kassab, 32, of 154 Angels Road, DeBary; Richard T. Patton, 28, and Tom II. Patton, 54, of Riverdale, Ga.; and James D. Veal, 61, of Decatur, Ga. If convicted, they each face a minimum mandatory sentence of three years and a mandatory fine of $25,000.

Adcock and Ms. Kassab were being held without bond. Veal was being held in lieu of $500,000 bond. Both Pattons have been released on bond.

In a related incident, Sheriff John Polk received approval Sept. 3 from Circuit Judge

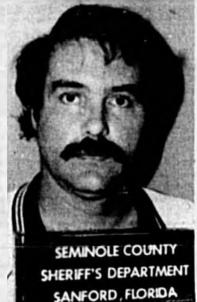

Dominick J. Salti to sell an 18-karat gold watch and to use $55,800 confiscated during the arrest of Richard Patton. The forfeiture order is being drafted. It was approved by Salfi, according to court records, because Patton did not respond to legal notices sent to him in reference to the forfetture.

The investigation that led to the arrest of the quintet was unique because, according to sheriff's spokesman John Spolski, it was the first time five area undercover drug task force officers had ever entered and been accepted in a single drug

All five defendants were taken Into custody Feb. 22.

Remembering The KAL 007

Aug. 31 marked the first anniversary of one of contemporary history's most terrible erimes - the deliberate Soviet attack on a Korean airlines 747 shot out of the sky over Sakhalin Island north of Japan last Aug. 31 (Sept. 1 in Asia) with the loss of all 269 persons aboard.

The memory of this horror is painful enough. Worse yet is the realization that the Soviets have escaped any tangible censure. Indeed, they boast that they would do the same thing if a civilian airliner again violated Soviet airspace, however innocently.

Had a leaser nation adopted such a barbaric policy, the response might well have included a protracted if not permanent boycott by the international air carrier industry. As it was, major airlines and the international airline pilots union denied service to the Soviets for barely two weeks. The carriers and pilots then returned to business as usual, despite their failure to wring even so much as an apology from the Kremlin, not to mention compensation to the victims' families.

On a more ominous note, the Soviets refused even to consider adopting new safety and verification procedures that would make a repeat of the KAL atrocity less likely. To the contrary, no less an authority than Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko publicly reaffirmed that the Soviets reserve the right to attack any foreign aircraft, including a civilian airliner, violating what he called the Soviet Union's "sacred" airspace. And former Marshal Nikolai V. Ogarkov, chief of the Soviet General Staff, all but promised that any future "intruders" would be shot down.

For five days after KAL flight 007 was blasted out of the sky by two air-to-air heat-seeking missiles fired from an Su-15 fighter of the USSR's Air Defense Command. the Soviets denied destroying the airliner. Only when the Reagan administration released an audio tape of intercepted radio transmissions in which the Soviet fighter pilot acknowledged orders from his ground controllers to destroy the Boeing 747 did the Soviets admit that they were responsible. Since then, they have waged a ceaseless campaign of disinformation peddling various fabrications intended to exonerate themselves, or at least diminish their guilt, for the deaths of 269 innocent men, women, and children.

The most relentlessly pushed disinformation has been that KAL flight 007 was a "spy plane" on an intelligence mission. No scintilla ol evidence has ever been produced by the Soviets or anyone else to support such a charge. It has been categorically denied by the White House, the State Department, the Pentagon and the heads of the intelligence committees in Congress. And intelligence specialists ridicule the notion that the United States would employ a civilian airliner to violate Soviet airspace and collect intelligence

The U.S. government operates a vast array of reconnaissance satellites and other sophisticated monitoring equipment. The satellites alone are capable of gathering the most detailed photographic and electronic intelligence from hundreds of miles in space. Why would the United States, knowing that the Soviets had already fired on, hit and forced down a Korean atrilner that suffered a navigation system failure in 1978, employ a civilian airliner to obtain information that could be safely and unobtrusively gathered

Virtually all of the other Soviet claims, distortions and outright lies about the destruction of flight 007 have been shown to be demonstrably false or grossly implausible. In the former category was the fiction, effectively demolished in last January's reader's Digest by defected Soviet air defense pilot Victor Belenko, that the Russians thought they were attacking an American RC-135 reconnaissance plane. One must wonder, therefore, why an unidentified State Department official recently gave the Soviets wiggle room on this important point.

The facts will always indict the Soviets for the destruction of KAL flight 007 and the deliberate murder of its passengers and crew. Future such crimes would be less likely had the world done much more than it did to demonstrate that shooting down civilian airliners is simply not acceptable behavior.

If you can do better than "Give me a home where the buffalo roam..." or "...remember the Red River Valley and the cowboy that loved you so true," the Florida Department of State would like to hear from you.

it's part of an effort to locate and locument cowboy and ranch poetry

Secretary of State George Firestone announced that his department is cooperating with the institute of the American West in the task. After all, Florida raises more cattle than any other state east of the Mississippi

Its status as an important cattle area and the depth of its ranching traditions stimulated the institute's interest in developing a lasting and unique document of a "particularly expressive art," Firestone said.

The Florida poems will be featured at a national Cowboy Poetry Gathering and Celebration to be held in Eiko, Nev. Jan. 31-Feb. 3. They will also serve as a lasting document of Florida cowboy literature.

The Cowboy Poetry Gathering is a celebration in verse of ranch life and the lives of men and women who work with cattle and horses," organizers of the event say.

According to the secretary of state's office, interest in the event has been high throughout the west, with poems and the names of poets continuing to pour in from all over the region. The Institute, based in Sun Valley Idaho, believes the Florida poetry may stimulate the expansion of interest and participation beyond the Western states.

Both the Institute and the Cowboy Gathering are non-profit.

Organizers of the Cowboy Poetry Gathering urge all Florida cowmen or women who have poetry related to Florida ranching written by them, their relatives or friends, to send copies to the Bureau of Florida Folklife Programs, Post Office Box 265. White Springs, Florida 32096. The Bureau will then forward the poems to the Institute of the American West to be included in the poetry event and to be added to the Institute's archival holdings.

The Moral Factor

The work ethic and associated values are still a along way from being restored in this country.

A reminder of this appeared in a news story in the Wall Street Journal for Aug. 6. The lead paragraphs in the story said:

"The United Auto Workers union, in contract talks with General Motors Corp., is asking for an 'attendance bonus' of one paid hour off for each week a worker hasn't any unexcused absence.

"In the realm of discipline, the union is demanding that local management 'view petty theft in its proper light' and refrain from automatically discharging a worker if he steals company goods for personal use, as opposed to theft for sale or as part of a theft ring."

It's really very sad that the union would ask for these things. What it is doing is asking that management reward laziness and tolerate thievery and lying as acceptable forms of behavior. Do individual unionists bring up their children in such a way as to provide rewards for doing what parents have a right to expect young people to do as their duty? Do they teach their children that shop-lifting, if it is for their "personal use" and enjoyment, is a morally permissible activity?

If the answer to these questions is yes, then the country is in trouble indeed. A nation cannot long endure if its working people believe they have a right to steal, lie and be rewarded for that which is their duty to do.

If these attitudes are endorsed by one of the nation's most powerful unions, then unionism is doing a terrible disservice to its members and to the country. Presumably, many of the members of the UAW are churchgoers who have been bought up to obey a very different moral code. The members of the UAW should take stock of where they are going and what their union la supporting.

For decades there has been a debate in this country as to the character and effect of unionism. Liberals have hailed unions as necessary elements in a free society. Whatever the appropriateness of unions in the past, the conservative criticism of them has to be considered these days. The conservative view always has been that the union took away from the individual wage-earner some part of his rights and freedom as an individual. The union, conservatives argued, substituted a collective judgment for individual principles.

These strange demands from the UAW constitute a sharp reminder of the correctness of the conservative view. The union is not simply taking away an individual worker's decision-making authority but is imposing on him — and on the workplace.

Reagan Phenomenon

The political scientists have one way of talking about it.

They explain, I think accurately within its limits, that the president of the United States has two roles, which are somewhat contradictory. On the one hand, he has to be a tough political operator, the head of his party, a man who understands who the mayor of Des Moines is and what that means. He need not know the name of that mayor himself, but he understands its importance and he has people under him who know the nuts and bolts.

But the president cannot be perceived as a political nuts and bolts man. As the political scientists explain it, the president is a kind of priest-king of American society. He symbolizes and gives expression to the core beliefs of our culture.

During this century, as I read the academic analysis, the two presidenta who until now, most effectively handled the two roles were Franklin Roosevelt and Dwight Eisenhower. Both were tough politicians, nuts and bolts men far beyond the public perception, and both concealed their political side from the public view. Both men could be cruel and vindictive politically, but they let other people carry out the executions and articulated the great unifying themes. Franklin Roosevelt, obviously dying, won a fourth term, and Dwight Eisenhower certainly would have won a third term if the Constitution had permitted it.

Ronald Reagan is now 30 points ahead in Texas, a key state, and 10 points ahead in New York, a Democratic bastion. The people in the White House feel that the greatest threat to Reagan's re-election is not Mondale or Perraro but complacency.

The academic analysis of the two presidential roles tella us much identity. What you see on television is in important ways what there is. I myself have knwon Reagan since 1968, when I worked on his initial run for the presidency, and truth is that he is a very nice man. He is quick, bright, witty, and this side of him may have been immortalized in the American consciousness at the time of the attempted assassination: 'Honey, I forgot to duck," he said to Nancy, recalling Jack Dempsey after losing a fight to Gene Tunney. Within inches of death and bleeding internally. Reagan convulsed his nurses by saying. "I'd like to do this acene over, beginning with the

That kind of thing sticks in the mind, and it somehow comes through when he speaks on television, but there is more to it than

Reagan has been utterly consistent since he first burst on the national consciousness in 1964 with a memorable speech in behalf of Goldwater, and then when he won the California governorship, from Pat Brown by a million votes.

In those days, his message of pride and patriotism and independence challenged the spirit of the 1960s. But the Reagan message of his earlier political days is the spirit of America in the 1980s. The tide has turned, and Reagan is the articulator, or, as they say, communicator. This national tide even had the Democratic convention in San Francisco talking endiessly about "family" and waving American flags.

But, in addition to working with the patriotic and even felsty spirit of the time, Reagan adds a touch of poetry to our political life.

It is possible that Walter Mondale does not dare to utter a Churcillian phrase. Richard Nixon didn't either, feeling that his image of "competence" did not dare risk the ringing and poetic phrase.

Eyeing Soviet Lie-Work

By Robert W. Savage

Soviet disinformation and propaganda continue to spread like wildfire in the American news media. The latest examples of the Soviet lie-work are impressive — a 30-minute tape of Andrei Sakharov, showing him eating and in good health along with his wife, was mysteriously released by an anonymous West German source. Experts examined the film and agree that it was produced in July. The film's purpose is clearly an attempt by the Soviets to answer the complaints in the West about the mistreatment of Sakharov. The scenes on the tape could have been taken years ago, no one can be sure. And the American media has obliged the Soviets by giving the tape prime time coverage, though qualifled by questioning its reliability.

The American media has also headlined the trumped-up reports in a London magazine that charged the United States with spying on the Soviets via the III fated KAL 007 airplane, causing the Soviets to massacre 263 people last Sept. 20. The Soviet lie is ridiculous. But the media treats the claim seriously by giving respectful coverage to Soviet spokesmen and pro-Soviet "experts" who continue the disinformation campaign.

The communist bloc has succoeded in sealing itself off from the Western press, the free world only sees what the Politburo wants ip show. As a consequence, the American press continues to be duped into spreading Soviet disinformation. The Soviet leaders have successfully managed to set the agenda for news coverage in the world.

The Soviets manipulate our ne coverage regularly, not only with spies and allies, but also with timing the release of their news and by encouraging sympathetic groups to follow their schedule.

The "peace offensive" in Europe just before the deployment of the U.S. Pershing and cruise missiles was a carefully orchestrated Soviet propaganda campaign. By drawing the attention of the world to certain spots, the Soviets can move into other regions seemingly unnoticed. until it is too late.

When the Sandiniatas were taking over Nicaragua and the Cubans were occupying Angola, the focus of the American media was in Iran and the Middle East. Today, while our prese covers Central America, wars are escalating in Laos and In-

By concentrating American attention to one problem while ignoring another, the news media sets a kind of crisis agenda, which forces our government and leaders to respond so as to calm the public.

Teachers Can Lead Way To Space

WASHINGTON - Today's youth face the most awesome challenge of the ages. They stand on the threshold of space. Their frontier is the universe itself.

It is a vast frontier, yet to be explored, and they are the Columbuses and the Magellans of tomorrow. They have whole new worlds to discover.

The way into space is through high technology. Those who would explore new worlds must begin with the world of electronics.

They must master the computer, the extension of the human brain. The nation with the best computer technology will gain an enormous head start in the exploration of

As surely as there are planets and stars as far as the eye can see, there are also riches beyond imagination and discoveries beyond comprehension waiting for future astronauts to find. The prospects are breathtaking.

This is the thinking behind the Young Astronauts program, which President Reagan has ordered his subordinates to develop. He knows how fascinated young people are with space. They swarm to movie theaters to watch interplanetary adventure: they play space games on video sets.

The president hopes to lift their gaze from video games and movie screens to the heavens themselves. He wants to stir their imaginations. atimulate their spirit of adventure and prepare them for the greatest of all adventures — the conquest of

This is also the reason why Reagan decided to choose a teacher as the public's first representative to ride the space shuttle. The president recognized that teachers must point the way into space if today's children are to master the necessary technology and become tomorrow's space explorers.

·How do I know the president had such lofty motives? Who am I to say he didn't select a teacher as the first passenger just to get the teachers' vote in November, as some have

As it happened, I proposed the Young Astronauts program to the White House, and I have been in on the planning from the beginning.

A full year ago, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration formed a task force to consider ways to stimulate young Americans to prepare for the space challenge. Its first meeting was held on Aug. 23, 1983, and one recommendation was to invite a teacher to fly on the space shuttle.

About the same time, I began meeting with NASA officials, in ciuding Administrator James Beggs, about the Young Astronauts idea. I presented it to Reagan on Oct. 14, 1983.

Meanwhile, an executive committee was assigned to recommend who should represent the public on future space flights. Its final report. dated April 4, 1984, listed a teacher first.

On June 19, 1984, Reagan authorized the Young Astronauta program. On Aug. 27, he agreed with the recommendation that a teacher should be the first civilian in space, perhaps followed eventually by a young astronaut. Never in the backstage discussions was politica given any precedence.

As a founder of the forthcoming Young Astronaut movement, I was invited to the launching of the Discovery space shuttle. I can tell young space fans that no movie, no videotape can match the real experience.

The sight of the spaceship, clinging like a huge papoose to the monstrous rocket, was inspiring in the morning light. In the full sun. the rays reflected off Discovery's gray tiles, projecting a look of pure whiteness.

Then the monster came to life with a sudden shudder, blew a volcanic cloud out of its tail and, as if in a terrible rage, rose agonizingly off the ground. For several seconds. the tail looked like an inverted volcano blowing out flame. Then it lunged into the sky and disappeared like a retreating blowtorch into the stratosphere.

For the teacher who rides this monster, it should be a trip to remember.

Footnote: I hope to be ready in October to tell you how to form Young Astronauts crews in your school.

Frosh Aces Carry Tribe To 3rd Spot

Herald Sports Writer

After years of obscurity, the Seminole High girls cross country team has arrived. While Seminole will always be known for its sprinters, freshmen aces Shownda Martin and Dorchelle Webster are helping put the Lady Seminoles on the map in cross country.

Martin ran a superb race in her first big varsity outing (Seminole has competed in a preseason jamboree and a dual meet) as she placed second individually with a time of 12:40 and Webster turned in a fine 10th place performance, 13:13.1, to lead the Tribe to a third place finish in the Lyman Greyhound Opener Saturday at Seminole Community College.

"I thought I would finish around fifth," Martin said after the two-mile race. "But I felt strong at the end. When I passed the girl in third place I was feeling great. Then I passed the girl in second and, if I had 30 more yards, I would have caught the girl in first (Lake Howell's Lisa Samocki)."

Webster attributed her success in Saturday's race to plenty of hard work. "I ran a lot better than in the jamboree," Webster said. "I worked very hard for it and coach (Ted) Tombros helped me out a lot. I was trying to keep up with Shownda (Martin) but she was just too fast."

While it was a pair of talented freshmen that lifted Seminole, Lake Howell's "Pack Attack" devastated the rest of the field and took first place by a wide margin. The Lady Hawks' top five runners all finished in the top 11 for a team score of 30. Daytona Beach Father Lopez and Seminole tied for second at 102 each, but Father Lopez claimed second place because its sixth runner finished ahead of Seminole's.

Samocki, a sophomore, turned in an excellent time of 12:30 on the soggy SCC course for first place individually. "She's running with a lot of confidence," Lake Howell coach Tom Hammontree said of Samocki.

The Lady Hawks' remaining four packed closely together, absorbing four of the next 10 places. Junior Amy Ertel came in fourth at 12:47.1. senior Nancy Nystrom was sixth at 12:57.7. sophomore Martha Fonseca was eighth at 13:06.4 and sophomore Belinda Laseur was 11th at 13:17.

Also for Lake Howell, sophomore Mary Fonseca finished 16th at 13:33 and senrio Michelle Spearman came in 31st at 14:17.

3 Returnees Lead Lady Seminoles

Herald Sports Writer

With the loss of such talented seniors as Katy Barbour (a starter at Stetson University this year), Genene Stallworth and Dee Goebelbecker, some people might say that the Seminole High volleyball team is looking at a rebuilding year in

But that is not so, according to coach Beth Corso. The Lady Seminoles have three starters returning and a number of experienced players coming up from last year's junior varsity team and Corso's team should be very competitive.

"I wouldn't call it a rebuilding year," Corso said. "We have some good leadership and a lot of experienced players. We also have the most heighth that I've ever had. It's just a matter of how long it takes us to get together and play as a

Returning starters Beth Nelson, Janet Hauck and Jill Witherow, all seniors, form the nucleus of the 1984 Lady Seminoles.

Nelson is one of the top players in Seminole County and she was named the Most Valuable Player out of 179 players at the Florida State University volleyball camp over the summer. Nelson will be the team's setter this year. The setter is perhaps the most important part of the offense, because it takes a good set to give the hitters a chance to do their job.

Hauck was the team's defensive MVP last year and she is also one of the best hitters on the team. Witherow was the top player off the bench the first half of last season, but she came on to start

Some big hitters coming up to varsity from last year's JV are senior Becky Baker and juniors Cindy Hogan and Debra Hillery.

Baker, 5-10, started on the JV team and has worked right into the varsity lineup this year according to Corso.

Hogan, the tallest player on the team at 6-2, will be one of the top attackers for the Seminoles in '84. "She's a real aggressive player." Corso-said of Hogan. "She could have played varsity last year, but leaving her on JV gave her a lot of time on the floor."

Hillery, 5-11, is the younger sister of former Seminole High basketball great Dieldre Hillery. 'She's a good all-around player,'' Corso said.
'Defense may be her strongest point.''

Also moving up from the junior varsity are junior Melissa Moak and sophomore Lisa Mc-Grotha. "She was impressive enough in spring practice to be moved up to varsity," Corso said of McGrotha. "She's a very strong defensive player."

Newcomers to the Lady Seminoles this year include senior Julie Meyers, junior Judy Leilva and sophomore Mary Ann Calibuso. Meyers and Calibuso are both in their first year playing volleyball while Leilva, who came to the United States three years ago from Polynesia, is an experienced player.

Seminole opens the season Thursday at home against Lake Brantley.

While last year's junior varsity supplied a number of players to this year's varsity team, the Seminole JV team has been literally swamped with players. Coach Nancy Van Wormer has 24 players on the junior varsity squad and it will probably rotate teams in different matches.

The junior varsity will host a tri-match with Lake Mary and Lake Howell next Monday (Sept.

Lake Mary - The Lady Rams lost 6-2 twins Laura and Peggy Glass along with starters Michelle Loudermilk and Michelle Swartz. Returning starters Lisa Simkins, one of the best setters in the county, and Robin Christensen will be the leaders for Lake Mary. The Rams also have some outstaning players coming up from last year's junior varsity including Betay Perry, Kathy Hodak and Shannon Kavanaugh. Lake Mary opens the season Tuesday in a tri-match with DeLand and Lyman at Lake Mary High.

Gajan's Jaunts Top Buccaneers

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) - Unheralded fullback Hokie Gajan was humble about his late-game heroics, including a 51-yard pass reception, that gave New Orleans a 17-13 come-from-behind NFL win over Tampa Bay.

Gajan took a swing pass from Richard Todd that was designed to pick up seven or eight yards, then ran a tightrope down the sideline to the Buccaneers 13, evading tacklers and picking up a key block from Tyrone Young.

Two plays later he scampered 8 yards up the middle with only two minutes left to even the Saints record at 1-1.

'I went from slow to slower," Gajan said of his performance on Sunday's pass reception. "I have to thank Richard for having confidence in me after dropping (an earlier) pass

The Saints offense was mostly lethargic for the first 58 minutes of the game. Tyrone Anthony skipped 2 yards for a second-quarter touchdown that brought New Orleans to 7-7, and added only a 23-yard Morten Andersen field goal in the third

"It's not how you play, it's whether you win or not," said Saints Coach Bum Phillips. "I kinds feel sorry for Tampa Bay because they did play

The Bucs, 0-2, grabbed a 7-0 first-quarter lead on a 2-yard Jack Thompson pass to Adger Armstrong. The run capped a 19-play, 80-yard drive that consumed more than 10 minutes.

Obed Ariri booted a 48-yard field goal with 10 second left in the half to put the Bucs up 10-7, then hit again moments into the second half from 40 yards.

Tampa Bay Coach John McKay made no secret of his displeasure with his team's performance. Thompson hit 15 of 22 passes for 175 yards but was sacked seven times for 41 yards.

"We're supposed to move the ball with that big offensive line I've got. We're supposed to do it but we didn't," said McKay.

"We get down to the 30-yard line and some idiot's holding. We got some guys on the offensive line who are supposed to be All-Pro, but you couldn't tell it by me.

"We got all these veterans out here making all this money and then you get a back (Gajan) trying to crawl out of bounds and we just kiss him.

Dolphins 28, Patriots 7

MIAMI (UPI) - There's nothing new about losing to the Dolphins in Miami, but New England quarterback Steve Grogan says the Patriots seem to be a little better at it than anyone else.

"You hate to come in here and lose, but we are in good company," said Grogan after the Pata' 28-7 loss to Miami Sunday. "A lot of other people come down here and do the same thing, but we're more consistent at it than anyone."

The Dolphina are 82-17-1 at home since Coach Don Shula took over in 1970, but the Patriota' loss was the 17th straight to Miami in the Orange Bowl. They haven't beaten the Dolphins in Miami since 1988.

'It's a difficult thing, the history of the series down here," said Coach Ron Meyer. "But you have to give credit to the Miami Dolphin football

The Patriots played the 2-0 Dolphins even at 7-7 in the first half as Miami scored on a 35-yard touchdown pass from receiver Jim Jensen and New England countered with a 9-yarder from Steve Grogan to Lin Dawson.

But the Dolphins scored twice on passes from Dan Marino to Mark Clayton in the first four minutes of the second half and were never challenged after that.

Howard will be back for Lake Mary this Thursday for the Edgewater Invitational and Lake Mary will be a hard team to beat with its top five intact. Rohr's time of 16:41 was a personal best and Palumbo turned in a time of 16:54. Completing Lake Mary's top five Saturday were Harold Pitts (18th at 17:41), Tom Wait (21st at 17:43) and Jim Shepherd (24th at 18:03). Wait and Shepherd also ran personal bests Saturday. Chris Dapore was the Rams' sixth runner as he finished 45th with a time of

"Three of our top five had personal best times," Lake Mary coach Mark McGee said. "The guys are really hard workers and are all running competitively. Hopefully we'll do better as the whole team gets to run together."

Penick's time of 15:50 was seven seconds better than his school record 15:57 set last year. His time is almost certain to go down even more this week as the runners had to contend with a rain soaked SCC course Saturday and Thursday's course, at Trinity Prep, is one of the fastest around.

"He (Penick) ran an excellent Seminole coach Ted Tombros said. "If he can get his time in the last mile closer to the first two, he'll be very hard to beat."

Tombros would have liked to finish higher than sixth, but without Larry Cosby and Jerry Hauck, he wasn't disappointed with the Seminoles' showing. "Without two of our top five we can't be disappointed, but we still have a lot of work to do."

Kelly Faint also turned in an outstanding performance for Seminole Saturday as he finished ninth with a time of 16:59. "Kelly ran a super race," Tombros said. Faint was followed by Kelvin Abney (22nd at 17:48) and John Herberger (84th at 19:41).

Lyman coach David Huggins said prior to Saturday's race that he figured the Greyhounds would be somewhere in the middle of the pack. So he was a little surprised when the 'Hounds took third place.

Twins, Royals Open BIG Series At Metrodome

United Press International

The American League West contenders plan to raise the roof in the Metrodome this week.

The domed facility will see the biggest baseball series in its brief history beginning tonight when the first place Kansas City Royals come to town for a three-game series with the Minnesota Twins.

"It's up to us, we have to stay close," Twins manager Billy Gardner said.

Kansas City took the division lead Sunday when Darryl Motley and Don Slaught lifted back-to-back sacrifice flies in the ninth inning to rally the Royals to a 6-5 victory over the Seattle

The Twins fell a game back when Donnie Scott smashed a three-run homer and Charlie Hough continued his career mastery of Minnesota, leading the visiting Texas Rangers to a 9-3 rout.

The California Angels fell into third place. 1 1/2 games out, when Tom Seaver pitched a four-hitter for his 287th career victory and Greg Walker slammed his 23rd homer of the year to pace the host Chicago White Sox to an

"It was played up last week when we went in there but they ended up winning two out of three games and it still only gave them one game on us," Twins infielder Tim Teufel said. "We've got to have a sweep to make it a very important series."

With Seattle leading 5-4, pinch hitter Jorge Orta opened the ninth with a single off Ed Nunez. 2-2, and pinch runner Onix Concepcion took third on Willie Wilson's double. Pat Sheridan was walked intentionally to load the bases and Motley followed with a sacrifice fly to right to score Concepcion with the tying run and move Wilson to third.

Ed Vande Berg relieved and pinch hitter Slaught drove his first pitch to left and Wilson easily beat the throw from Phil Bradley to give host Kansas City its fifth straight victory.

"We've got some people who can win games late if we stay close," said Kansas City manager Dick Howser, "These guys are veteran players who have done it their entire careers. I don't feel at all uncomfortable going to them. They know how to win.'

"In order to win this division," Seattle manager Chuck Cottler said, 'you've got to have 25 players. Everybody he (Howser) called off his bench in that ninth inning did what they were supposed to do. Orta started it off and then boom, boom, boom."

The last time Kansas City was in sole possession of first place was May 3. 1983. The last time the Royals led so late in the season was September 18.

Mark Huismann, whose error in the ninth allowed Scattle to go ahead, gave up one hit over three innings to Improve to 3-3.

Hough, 15-12, scattered nine hits and was helped by two double plays. He struck out eight to run his career record against Minnesota to 8-0. The veteran knuckle-baller notched his league-leading 15th complete game. Ken Schrom, 4-9, took the loss.

Red Sox 10, Yankees 1

At Boston, Jim Rice hit a two-run homer and Wade Boggs had four hits and drove in two runs for the Bosox. Al Nipper, 9-5, scattered five hits to pitch his fifth complete game. The rookie struck out three and walked three and did not allow an earned run. Marty Bystrom feil to 2-2.

Keep out those pencils, don't unplug that calculator. The New York Mets aren't out of the race for the National League East pennant — yet.

Led by pitcher Ron Darling, shortstop Hubie Brooks and first baseman Keith Hernandez, New York beat Chicago 5-1 Sunday to close within six games of the division-leading Cubs. By winning two of the three games in the crucial weekend series at Shea Stadium, the Mets are alive.

It also keeps vibrant the computations and permutations that make a September pennant race so interesting. With only 19 games remaining for both clubs, including a three-game series at Wrigley Field next weekend, the Mets still have "Until we're mathematically eliminated, we still have a chance," said Meta manager Davey Johnson, a mathematics major in college. "As I said all along, there's a lot of character on this ballclub. We're still in it. I've seen lots of strange things happen in this game."

With the series even at one game spiece and the Mets trailing Chicago by seven games, the importance of Sunday's contest was not lost on first baseman Hernandez.

"If we had lost today the only way the Cube could blow this thing would be to fold tip their tent, the way the 1964 Philadelphia Phillies did," said Hernandez. Those Phillies led by 6 1/4 games with 12 left, then lost 10 straight and watched St. Louis sneak by for the pennant.

Darling, 12-6, was the sweetheart of Sunday's victory, stopping the hard-hitting Cubs on six hits before tiring in the ninth. He was replaced by Jesse Orosco after giving up a leadoff homer to Gary Matthews in the ninth. Orosco got the last three outs.

The Mets scored all their runs in the sixth off relievers George Frazier and Warren Brusstar. Starter Scott Sanderson left after five innings with back problems.

Sanderson had blanked the Mets on four hits over the first five innings, but Mookie Wilson opened the sixth with a triple off Frazier, 5-3, and scored when Keith Hernandez doubled to right center. Darryl Strawberry struck out but reached first when the third strike bounced past catcher Jody Davis for a wild pitch.

George Poster followed with a run-scoring single and Brooks greeted Brusstar with his 15th homer of the season, a three-run shot.

The Cubs managed four doubles off Darling over the first eight innings, but twice failed to move the runner to third and on another occasion had a runner thrown out at third trying to stretch it into a triple. Keith Moreland doubled in the second but was cut down at third on a strong relay throw from shortstop Brooks.

Phillies 6, Expos 5 At Montreal, Rick Schu scored the tying run on a ninth-inning balk and scored on John Russell's I Ith-inning sacrifice fly to help the Phillies snap a six-game losing streak. The winner was Larry Aen. 3-3, and Kevin Gross gained his first save. Mike Schmidt hit his 30th homer for the Phils. Tim Raines singled and tripled for Montreal. Neither Raines nor Juan Samuel had a stolen base. Samuel leads, 67-64.

Cardinals 2, Pirates 1

At Pittsburgh, Andy Van Slyke hit his sixth homer and Danny Cox and Bruce Sutter combined on an-hitter to lead the Cardinals. Cox, 8-10, benefited from four double plays. Sutter picked up his 40th save, extending his NL record. The major-league record is 45, set last season by the Royals' Dan Quisenberry. Padres 8, Astros 4

At San Diego. Steve Garvey and Carmelo Martinez drove in two runs apiece to help the Padres move nine games ahead of second-place Houston in the NL West. The magic number for clinching the first title in their 16-year history is 11. Mark Thurmond, 13-7, was the winner. Mike LaCoss, 7-4, took the loss.

Reds 5, Dodgers 1 At Los Angeles, Tom Browning scattered 10 hits over 8 1-3 innings in his major-league debut to lead the Reds. Browning narrowly missecoming the 25th pitcher in NL history to hurl a shutout in his debut. Orel Hershiser, 8-8, suffered his fourth straight loss.

At San Francisco, Rob Deer ripped his first major-league homer and rookie Chris Brown chipped in a two-run double to lead the Giants. Reliever Mark Davis, 5-16, was the winner and Greg Minton earned his 18th save.

Archer's Hot Iron Melts Field At Boston Classic

SUTTON, Mass. (UPI) -George Archer says it took the best iron shot of his career to come from one shot down and gapture a $350,000 PGA tournament by a tournamentrecord six shots over Frank Conner and Joey Sindelar.

The tournament is known as the Bank of Boston Classic.

"I'd never sunk a shot in the heat of battle," said Archer of his cagle off a 137-yard, 8-iron shot on a dogleg uphill, par-4 hole. "Usually I do it in tournaments where I miss the cut. That meant more than any fron shot of my career.'

Archer finished the afternoon with a 65 for a four-day total 270.

Sindelar, who held a one-shot lead going into the final round. maintained that margin until the third hole when the 44-year-old Archer pulled even with a 10foot birdle putt. Archer then pulled a shot ahead on No. 6 when Sindelar failed to match the 20-year Tour veteran's par.

Archer then gave the shot right back with his only bogey of the day on the seventh hole, but took the lead for good when he rolled in a 25-foot birdle putt on No. 9.

Meanwhile, Sindelar shot himself out of the tournament when he hit two bunkers and three-putted for double-bogey on the ninth to fall three shots back. Both players birdled the 11th. Archer sank his eagle on the 394-yard 13th. That shot also proved to Sindelar that the best he could expect was second place.

"When he dipped that one in I knew it was over unless some-thing freaky happened." he said. "However, I think that missing short birdie putts on the fourth and fifth holes and the doublebogey cost me the tournament. If I hadn't missed those and made the double-bogey the pressure would have been on him and things might have been different." Both players managed birdies on the 16th. Conner, who started the day at 2-under, had a bogey-free round with birdies on the second, third, fourth and sixth holes as well as the 16th and 18th for a 6-under-par 65.

Conner's second-place tie finish ensures he will make the top 125 and be exempt from qualifying achool next year. He also shot a 65 Sunday.

For his victory. Archer picked up $63,000 and Conner and Sindelar earned $30,800 each.

Fourth place went to 1976 U.S. Open champ Jerry Pate, his highest finish in the last two years since suffering a neck injury.

Alcott said her mother called her Saturday night to say "she found two lucky pennies on her walk at Carmel (Calif.)."

The $22.500 prize Sunday raised her season earnings to $183,738 and her career mark to $1,242,453.

Kathy Baker, the first-round leader, shot an even-par 72 to finish 1-under for the 54-hole tournament, winning $13,500.

it was the best Tour showing for Baker, 23, the 1982 NCAA champion and just coming off her rookie year. She had been the first-round leader before slipping in the second round, and playing among the leaders gave her a different perspective

MONROE, La. - Darin Slack tossed two touchdown passes Saturday, but it wasn't nearly enough as Northeast Louisiana blitzed the University of Central Florida Knights, 49-21, in Division I-AA college football.

UCF, 0-2, returns to Orlando Stadium Saturday when it hosts Georgia Southern. It will be the third meeting between the two Slack, who was making his first start because of an injury to Dana Thyhsen, hit just 11 of 32 passes for 79 yards. The former Lake Howell High rifle was under pressure most of the game, but also didn't get too much help from his recievers as six passes were dropped.

Northeast's quarterback. Rodney Horn, meanwhile, was having a field day picking apart the UCF secondary. Horn tossed four TDs in the first half as NEL built a 35.7 lead.

After spotting Northeast a 14-0 lead, Slack marched UCF 80 yards in seven plays for a touchdown. Aaron Sam had the key play on the drive, a 47-yard scamper to the NEL 17. After two runs moved the ball to the four. Slack found Robert Ector floating out of the backfield with a four-yard TD toss.

That was as close as the Knight would get, though, as Northeast scored three more times to take its insurmountable halftime lead. NEL added another touchdown in the third quarter before Ector, who finished with 62 yards on six carries, broke loose for a 38-yard scoring jaunt with 52 seconds

Slack completed the UCF he tossed a five-yard pass to information. Ector to make the final, 49-21.

McEnroe Makes It Look Easy, Takes Lendl In 3 Straight

NEW YORK (UPI) - Were it not for a fit of temper. John McEnroe might be staring at a Grand Slam.

Since he has been beaten only twice in 68 matches this year, it isn't difficult for McEnroe to recall those two dark days with brilliant clarity. One, in particular, will rankle for a long time to

In the final of the French Open, McEnroe won the first two sets from Ivan Lendi with the loss of only five games, but Lendl turned it around magnificently to capture the next three sets. McEnroe feels he hurt his own cause that day by arguing too much and expending too much energy racing around the court. Their first meeting since then came Sunday in the final of the U.S. Open, and once again McEnroe took the first two sets. This time, though, there was no letup in the final set, and McEnroe emerged with a 6-4, 6-3, 6-1 victory. dooming Lendl to his third successive setback in the Open final. 'Certain things like the wasting of energy and the controversy, maybe it hit me there (in Paris) that I have to stay away from it," McEnroe said after winning the Open for the fourth time

"That's the lesson I learned there. Hopefully you learn a lesson every time you lose.

Inasmuch as he won Wimbledon, had he conquered the French as well, McEnroe would be sitting today with three legs of the Grand Slam. Don Budge (1938) and Rod Laver twice (1962 and 1969) are the only men to have won Wimbledon, the U.S., French and Australian in the same year. "I suppose I could say it got away if I win the Australian." McEnroe said, "I could certainly say that. But I don't think you can look back. You have to look ahead.

"If I do win the Australian, I guess that gives me a shot at the Grand Slam. In my mind, you have to win it in the same year, but if you can do it four in a row, that's pretty impressive. I'd be more than happy to take that."

The way he has been playing this year, it is difficult to imagine McEnroe not achieving his goal. On Sunday he came back following his 3 hour and 45 minute marathon of the previous night with Jimmy Connors, and although feeling very weary he required only an hour and 40 minutes to dispose of the world's No. 2 player.

Not only did McEnroe zealously protect his serve the entire match, only in one game was Lendl able to reach break point. That came in the second game of the second set when a pair of double faults by McEnroe set up double break point.

"The only realistic change is to return his serve better," Lendi responded when asked what he must do to beat McEnroe, to whom he's now lost in nine of their last 11 meetings.

'It is difficult and without breaking the guy you are never going to win the match. So, all you can do is have a left-hander serve to you and return. return and return. No matter what left-hander you find in the world, none of them is going to serve and volley as well as McEnroe does.

McEnroe used a break in the sixth game of the opening set and one in the seventh game of the second set to capture both sets, and he turned the match into a rout with three breaks in the third

Lendl, far more comfortable on the baseline, changed his strategy by following his serve to the net 25 times, winning 13 of those points. In contrast. McEnroe went to the net 54 times and

McEnroe said he had felt very tired all day leading up to the match, and the winner's check of $160,000 didn't do anything to help that

Webster, all ran fine times Saturday. Junior Debbie Coleman was Seminole's third finisher as she came in 20th at 13:42. Katrina Walker, a senior, ran a personal best time of 14:16 which was good for 32nd place, Jennifer Roberts, a sophomore, continued to make progress as she placed 38th with a time of 14:44. Glenda Bass, a senior, was Seminole's sixth runner and she finished 42nd at 14:44. Also running for the Lady Seminoles was Lisa Grant, a senior, who came in

"I was a little bit surprised," Tombros said of the third place finish. "Our fourth and fifth girls are starting to run competitively and Shownda and Dorchelle are really quality kids."

Behind Seminole in fourth place was West Orange followed by Bishop Moore in fifth, Colonial in sixth, Lake Brantley in seventh. Lake Mary in eighth, Edgewater in ninth and Oak Ridge in 10th.

Lake Mary managed a eighth place finish but was without number one runner Sue Kingsbury who was under the weather and couldn't run. Leading the way for the Lady Rams Saturday was senior Fran Gordon who finished 22nd at 13:50 and freshman Heather Heikkila ran an outstanding race in her high school debut as she came in 24th with a time of 13:52.

Behind Heikkila for Lake Mary was senior Sonja Walker (40th at 14:38) followed by Junior Niki Have (50th at 15:10) and junior Jodie McCurdy (56th at 15:36) completed the top five. The sixth runner for the Lady Rams was sophomore Lisa Shelby who came in 61st at 16:02.

Lake Brantley packed its top five pretty close together, and coach Jim Marshall is hoping it can move up as the season progresses. Joanne Hayward was the Lady Patriots' top finisher Saturday as the senior standout came in 28th at 14:04. Hayward was followed in the Brantley top five by juniors Kim Lubenow (36th at 14:20), Kim Pacetelli (37th at 14:24), Melissa Meghdadi (43rd at 14:48) and Kim Waln (47th at 14:58). Lake Brantley's sixth runner, Karin Sniffen, finished 54th at 15:27.

"I was hoping to finish in the top five, but I'm pleased with seventh." Marshall said. "Everybody improved and that's what we're looking for. It should be a dogfight in the district. there are five good teams after Lake Howell."

If Lyman can develop three more competitive runners, the Lady Greyhounds will also be in the district dogfight. Freshman Tracy Fisher and sophomore Julie Greenberg both finished in the top 15 for Lyman Saturday but he Lady Greyhounds didn't have a team score.

Although Fisher is just a freshman, she is already a cross country veteran according to coach Joe Laughlin. "She's been training on her own for the past two years," he said. "I expected her to do well in the opener." Fisher came through with a fifth place finish and a time of 12:55.6. Greenberg, Lyman's number one runner last year, came in 15th at 13:31.1.

Lake Howell also dominated the junior varsity race with six of the top ten runners and a team score of 18. Father Lopez was also second in JV with a team score of 60 and Lake Brantley was third at 91.

The JV Lady Hawks had the top three finishers, led by sophomore Kim Hammontree who came in first with a time of 14:40.6. Gwen Lane finished second at 14:47.3 and Diane DiMauro was third at 14:55.7. Rochelle Spearman was the fourth runner for Lake Howell as she came in fifth at 15:01.5, Angie Rector was seventh at 15:09.6 and Terry Grainger was 10th at 15:28.9.

"I was a little surprised with the junior varsity results." Hammontree said. "Especially with Kim (Hammontree's daughter) she ran a fine race."

Other times for the Lake Howell JV included Lisa Colbert (17th at 16:01), Julie Forrest (21st at 16:34), Megan Lane (24th at 16:50) and Kathleen Fowler (32nd at 18:08).

The next meet on the cross country agenda is the Edgewather invitational Thursday at Trinity Prep. The meet begins at 4 p.m.

Lyman - Lyman surprised everybody in the district tournament this year by beating third seeded Lake Brantley. The Lady Greyhounds have all but one starter returning and are looking forward to a fine season in 1984.

"With almost everybody returning and a few transfers, we're looking pretty good." Lyman coach Annelle Griffin said. "Quite a few of the players went to camp over the summer and we have a good group of hustlers and sound volleyball players."

Returning players for the Lady Greyhounds include seniors Regan Stump and Kim Vocks and juniors Kim Forsyth, Shella Mandy, Dawn Boyesen, Donna Ball, Tamniy Foss and Lori Helms. Another promising player up from last year's junior varsity is Michelle Binkewicz. Forsyth, Mandy and Stump are the top hitters on the team while Boyesen and Binkewicz are the top setters.

Lyman has three newcomers who will strengthen the team including junior Kristie Kaiser who Griffin said will be a strong player once she gets game experience. Also playing for Lyman this year are transfers Trucey Carroll, a junior, and Renee Flickinger, a senior.

Lake Hewell - Coach Jo Luciano is on a leave of absence and the new coach for the Lady Hawks is Teresa Tinsley. The Lady Hawks lost starters Christy Scott (now at Valencia Community College). Kathy Barma, Cathy Saunders and Caryn Krumwelde to graduation.

Lake Howell's top returnees from last year's district runnerup are seniors Eileen Thiebauth and Beth Saunders. Thiebauth is one of the top power players in the county while Saunders is an excellent setter. Also returning from last year's team are seniors Kim Montegny, who was the top player off the bench in 1983, Sandy Gillies, a three-sport standout, and Melissa Schneider.

Lake Howell opens the season Tuesday against Daytona Beach Mainland at Lake Howell High.

Lake Brantley - The Lady Patriots lost seniors Dana Gebhart (now at Rollina College) and Kim Longhouser, but return four starters from last year's team including Pam Anderson, Danielle McKinney, Jennifer McGaugh and Tammy Jones, Lake Brantley opens the season Tuesday at Oviedo.

Oviedo - The best player in Oviedo High history. Payetta Robinson, graduated ending an era of devastating power volleyball. But the Lady Lions have a number of players returning from last year's team including some of the top players in the county in seniors Fran Foster and Mary Lokers and junior Stephanic Nelson.

(legal) battle," Baldwin said. I therefore congratulate all those who have tried so hard to murder me.'

The statement was released by a spiritual adviser who was with Baldwin minutes before alternating 2,000- and 500volt charges of electricity passed through his body. It expressed more anger than Baldwin's final words to wit-

"Society only heard a onesided story," said Baldwin, a church-going Catholic who tests showed had an IQ of 147. "You've got to say I'm innocent."

The former Cub Scout leader and father of seven, who would have turned 47 on Thursday, was executed for beating an 85-year-old blind woman to death with a frying pan, a telephone and a stool in April 1978. Mary James Peters of West Monroe was a neighbor and the godmother of Baldwin's youngest son.

Witnesses said Baldwin winced as electrodes were applied to his head, but did not appear frightened.

"He looked almost chagrined at having to go through the whole thing," one witness said.

Baldwin, whose final appeal to the Supreme Court was rejected late Sunday, talked with relatives on the telephone and requested bacon and tomato sandwiches for his last meal.

He escaped seven execution dates before becoming the fourth man to die in Louisiana's electric chair dubbed Gruesome Gertle by death row inmates.

Early Education Protects Kids From Sexual Abuse

DEAR READERS: In recent months, a national disgrace of epidemic proportions has come out of the closet - the sexual abuse of children. It began when the owners and operators of a prestigious day care center were charged with having sexually abused more than 40 children who ranged in age from 2 to 5.

The suspects were charged with, among other things, having posed and photographed the children in sex acts with other children and adults, then selling the pictures and movies to a large porno ring.

It seems incredible that these children had been repeatedly sexually abused over a period of so many years, yet no child told anyone. It was later learned that the children had been threatened that if they told anyone, their parents would be tortured and killed!

As is usually the case, when one can of worms is opened, others follow, and now we discover that children in day care centers in other areas of the country may have also been victimized by sexual abuse.

As a result of the publicity, my office has been deluged with books dealing with the sexual abuse of children. Most were in my estimation the one book that topped them all was "No More Secrets for Me" by Oralee Wachter. The plain-speaking little gem is written for children of all ages. Children who are just learning to read will understand It. Children who are too young to read, but are read to by their parents, grandparents, teachers and sitters will understand it.

It handles a very delicate subject with great sensitivity and taste. But more important, it tells children how to protect themselves against being sexually abused.

I telephoned the publishers at Little, Brown and Co. and told them that I thought "No More Secrets for Me" was the best book I had seen on the subject, but $12.95 was too much for the millions of people who should

I urged them to bring it out in noficover for under $5. It is now available in paperback, and I do good, many were very good, but not overstate my enthusiasm (617) 890-0250.

child between the ages of 2 and 14 should be without it.

The introduction to the book begins: "It's not fair, but it happens. Someone you know, or someone you like, or someone in your family touches you, and you don't like it. It doesn't feel good the way hugging and holding hands does. It isn't fun like wrestling. It doesn't feel close and comfortable the way it does when someone you love puts an arm around you.

"If someone touches your body in a way you don't like, you may feel mixed up. You may feel as if you were tricked or forced into it. Or maybe the person makes you promise not to tell anyone and to keep the touching a secret. This book is about taking care of yourself, just in case this ever happens to you or a friend."

"No More Secrets for Me" is now available at your local bookseller for $4.95. If it's not in stock, order it directly from Little, Brown and Co., Distribution Center, 200 West St., Waltham, Mass. 02154. Add 50 cents for postage and handling.
