Senators Become Peeved As Vice President Dawes Continues To Dig Up Rules

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12.—(AP)—Whether to amend the Senate rules is the subject of a heated debate in the Senate today. Vice President Dawes, who has been digging up the rules since he became president of the Senate, is the cause of much annoyance to the members. He is particularly insistent in his campaign for "reform" of the Senate rules, which he says are antiquated and inefficient. He has introduced a resolution to amend the rules, and has been successful in getting it passed. The Senate is now engaged in a discussion of the proposed amendments. The Vice President is expected to continue his campaign for reform for some time to come.

WOMAN ACCUSES MATE OF BEATING CHILD TO DEATH

BALTIMORE, March 12.—(AP)—Apparently fighting against collapse on the witness stand, Mrs. Edna May Coursey now accuses her husband of causing the death of her son after flogging him on February 6th.

Testifying between sobs, she accused her husband, Ralph T. Coursey, of flogging the boy, striking him in the stomach, and in the face, she testified, was not the boy's father. He is charged jointly with his wife in connection with the child's death.

In her confession, given police five days after the child died February 6, Mrs. Coursey sought to absolve her husband from responsibility for the alleged fatal beatings, taking all blame upon herself. She testified that she had whipped the child when he was undressed, on the day of his death.

Yesterday she testified that flogging took place both February 5 and 6, and was administered by Coursey, warning when Eldridge failed to return promptly with some nails from the cellar.

Coursey whipped Eldridge "about five minutes with a top broomstick in the cellar and then my husband came upstairs and beat him in the stomach and struck him in the face, but Eldridge did not 'shout' over it," she said. Coursey "started to cry" when she remonstrated with him, she continued, and Eldridge said, "You needn't cry; you don't hurt me."

Another flogging, during which the boy screamed, took place upstairs the next morning, she said. Previous witnesses had testified that Eldridge was dead February 6, when they were called to treat him for convulsions.

Mrs. Coursey testified in her own behalf, the state having rested earlier in the day without calling many of its witnesses.

SENATE OKEYS CITY MAY LET HOUSE CHANGE WIDENING JOB IN SHOALS BILL ABOUT MAY 1

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12.—(AP)—The Senate today accepted the House modifications to the Muscle Shoals resolution without a record vote.

Immediately Vice President Dawes appointed Chairman Norris of the Senate Agricultural Committee; Senator Hoffman, Democrat of Alabama, and Sackett, Republican of Kentucky, to represent the Senate on the joint congressional committee to negotiate a lease for Muscle Shoals and report back to Congress.

Senator Norris promptly declined to serve on the grounds that a Senate committee to negotiate a lease for Muscle Shoals should represent the Senate.

The contract for the widening, paving, and re-paving of downtown streets is expected to be let May 1, following which the work is to get under way and efforts made to have it completed by early autumn.

The streets to benefit from widening operations this summer are listed by the city as follows: Second street from Pump Branch to Oak avenue; Ninth, from Park avenue to the Atlantic Coast Line railway station; Commercial street from Park avenue west to the railroad tracks; Sanford avenue from First to Fifth streets; Palmetto from Commercial to Second street; Magnolia avenue from First to Fifth streets; A. J. Street from Fulton to Ninth street and Oak avenue from First to Fifth streets.

First street is to be improved from Sanford avenue to Oak avenue with new paving.

The bond issue which the city proposes to sell, providing the voters sanction the measure at the polls on April 13, includes the sum of $100,000 to pay the city's portion of the paving on the streets passing municipally owned property. This includes the various parks and other vacant property in the city.

Many Projects Planned.

Mr. Williams has also informed the commissioners that streets on which plans and specifications have been prepared and which may be added to city contract No. 6 are listed as follows: Widening on Melville avenue from Eighth street east one-quarter of a mile; streets in Buena Vista; Union avenue, Pump Branch to San Juan avenue; Lake View avenue, First street to Union avenue; Locust avenue from First to Union; French avenue from First to Hughey; French avenue from Hughey to Geneva street; Oak avenue from Hughey to Orange; Eleventh from French street to Holly avenue and Fourth street from Myrtle avenue to Elm avenue.

Plans and specifications have been ordered prepared on many other streets and it is expected that they will be added to the contract within a short time.

League's Safety Now Rests On Action Of France Or Germany

GENEVA, Mar. 12.—(AP)—Either Germany or France must give way in the controversy over the reconstruction of the council of the League of Nations if the League is to be saved and Europe not again driven to despair. This was the situation today as seen by close observers of the situation in Geneva.

The German representatives have reiterated that they cannot accept an obligation to approve a new non-permanent seat in the council for Poland, for this would violate the fundamental policy which Germany has fashioned to guide her attitude as a member of the League, a policy of co-operation by all the members of the League, and not a selective policy of allying herself with special groups.

Against Further Discussion.

Sir Austen Chamberlain, the British foreign secretary, announced last night that it was useless to continue conversations with the Germans because he was convinced they would be fruitless.

"We are faced with a real tragedy," he said, "and it is impossible to predict what the reaction will be. The tragedy is also that Germany has done this thing."

The Allies, under the leadership of France, argue that Poland's appearance in the council is essential for the best interests of the world's peace.

Don't Think Situation Hopeless.

PARIS, March 12.—(AP)—French opinion refuses to believe the Geneva situation altogether hopeless. It feels that Premier Briand's great diplomatic powers, stimulated by the danger of seeing his master work started at Locarno, destroyed, in the end will find a compromise.

Chamberlain Is Dejected.

LONDON, March 12.—(AP)—Developments at Geneva have given a shock to those here who had built hope on a new era of international peace and security arising from the meeting of the League of Nations to elect Germany to membership. Anti-government and J. A. Austen Chamberlain, secretary of the League, is accused of supporting "French intrigue."

The Daily News says it will be a public scandal if Sir Austen's attitude at Geneva does not end his official career. The New Statesman says of Sir Austen:

"His blunder is a crime—the crime of having introduced into Geneva methods of backstairs bargaining, and this merely to save his own face. If Germany is humiliated the League will be virtually dead—killed by the hero of Locarno."

ROBERT SCRIPPS DIES ON SHIP IN AFRICAN WATERS

NEW YORK, Mar. 12.—(AP)—Robert P. Scripps, retired, founder of the Scripps-Howard news service, is dead on his yacht, the Ohio, in Monrovia Bay, Liberia, according to a cablegram received by the Scripps-Howard news service here today.

Mr. Scripps sailed last September for a cruise in the Caribbean Sea and later to Africa.

He was born in Rushville, Ill., June 15, 1854, and began his newspaper career in Detroit when he was 20 years of age. At one time he held a controlling interest in the Chicago Daily News, in the United States, most of them being members of the Scripps-McRae league.

He also was once the controlling officer of the United Press Association. He retired from active work in 1920 and four years later turned over the control of his business to his son, Robert E. Scripps.

His death occurred last night, after he had given orders that if he died on the tour his body should be buried at sea.

A cablegram from J. P. Young, Mr. Scripps' private secretary in the Ohio, to Harry C. Smith, his private secretary in Cincinnati, said he died on board yacht, anchored in Monrovia Bay, of a heart ailment at 10:16 o'clock, Friday night, Sept. 15, 1923, immediately unless otherwise notified. The climate and lack of facilities demand immediate burial.

HOOSIER VISITOR LAUDS SANFORD WOMAN'S CLUB

Prominent Indiana Worker In Club Federation Praises The Reception Local Members Extend Out Of Town Guests

Mr. Bertha Smalley, of Hammond, Ind., one of the most prominent women's club workers in the Hoosier state who has been in Sanford since January 1 making a study of various features connected with club work in this state, returned yesterday for a visit in Sanford, and before leaving for Jacksonville late this afternoon, stated that this city seemed destined to become one of the largest in the state and that her reception by the members of the Sanford Woman's Club was the most cordial and entertaining she had experienced since her arrival in Florida.

Mrs. Smalley, in commenting on the club work in the state said, "The women of Florida, especially in Sanford, are certainly kept pace with the marvelous work the state has experienced during the past three years, and the showing made by the clubs in most of the cities I have visited is really wonderful, even to those of us who understand the work. In every city I have been accorded the most cordial and helpful reception, and I have seen many phases of Women's Club work in Florida."

"The ladies in charge of the work in Sanford have seemed to me to be especially cordial and to have received me with a reception of visitors and from what I have learned during my short stay here, I believe the Sanford club should, if it does not already rank at the very top among the organizations working for the welfare of the city."

Impressed With Activity.

Mrs. Smalley showed much pleasure and interest regarding the business activities of the club. She said, "You people of Sanford seem to have a real background for your claims to solidity. In no other city of the state have I tried such a great amount of business being transacted without the tourist element leading. Here you have industry, crops, location and transportation."

Mrs. Smalley has for years been active in the Indiana Federation of Women's Clubs and has been connected with many nationally known organizations and movements.

Ohio's 'Perfect Crime' Solved When Nesbitt Is Jailed For Murder

TROY, O., Mar. 12.—(AP)—Ohio's "perfect crime" has been solved today when C. Nesbitt is jailed here awaiting trial for the murder of his pretty and accomplished wife, Frances, a former champion swimmer and tennis star.

Three weeks from the day Nesbitt reported finding the body of his wife in the bath room of their home at Troy, he was taken to the scene of the crime and, after a five hour grilling, confessed he killed her after quarrel over business affairs.

They both sold kitchen appliances and she twitted him because of his ability to sell more than he. "I raped her when she said my folks were all right," he declared. "Then everything went red and I do not remember what happened."

BALTIMORE FIRE BOATS GO TO AID OF BURNING SHIP

British Steamer Taina In Reported Afire Near Sandy Hook; Mystic Sends Wireless Asking Immediate Aid

BALTIMORE, Md., Mar. 12.—(AP)—Fire on the hull of the British steamer Taina was extinguished with the aid of the Baltimore fire boats today. The vessel is anchored off Quaran-tine Point near the mouth of the Severn River, that the Taina's plight was known.

Plans and specifications have been ordered prepared on many other streets and it is expected that they will be added to the contract within a short time.

The local fire boats were sent to her assistance and residents living along the shore in that vicinity Thursday said they were alongside the Taina about 8 o'clock and saw flames pouring from the ship's side.

The fire boats were sent in response to a wireless message to the Baltimore fire department from the Taina, which is about 70 miles from Baltimore. The Taina is owned by C. T. Bowring and Company, of London. She is of 4,500 tons gross register and carried a crew of 30 men.

The marine observer at North Point reported the Taina passing up the lower harbor at 9:30 a. m. She was flying two black balls, indicating that the craft was not under control. A tug was alongside but the observer said he could see no signs of fire aboard.

Army Fliers Search For Missing Airman

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Mar. 12.—(AP)—Colonel Harry Graham, commander of Rockwell Field, announced today that he will dispatch two military experts to aid in the search for Rex Rietler, missing since Mar. 2 in Lower California, when he received authority from Major General Mason Patrick, chief of the army air service.

Professor Rodriguez of Lower California already has granted permission for military planes to operate below the border.

General Butler In Hospital To Have Teeth Extracted

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Mar. 12.—(AP)—Brig. Gen. Smalley D. Butler, commander of the United States marine base here, today is in the hospital for extraction of teeth, and rest.

Last night when told of a letter sent by the San Diego County Federal Trades and Labor Council to Wilbur, of the Navy Department, and the California attorney, citing a recent speech by the general, he said: "I don't want to hear any more," he added that he had enough, and that he was "going to the hospital now and rest."

Gen. Butler, in describing his infected teeth, told reporters his blood pressure was "dangerously low" and that he would be in the hospital for several days.

He also refused to discuss the situation arising from his charges of intoxication against Col. Alexander Williams, commander of the fourth regiment of Marines.

Chicago Bond Man Praises Booklet On Sanford Resources

Financial and bonding houses in many sections of the United States are exhibiting increasing interest in Sanford's possibilities, according to Secretary R. W. Pearman of the Chamber of Commerce, who stated this morning that every mail is bringing in numerous requests for detailed data on Sanford and Seminole county.

One of the many communications recently received in connection with the booklet is from John Nutven, Chicago member of the firm of John Nutven and Company, nationally known bond buyers. Mr. Nutven's note reads:

"Gentlemen:—Yesterday afternoon I was in your office and secured a copy of your new illustrated folder, 'Come to Sanford, Florida.' I had a chance to read it over last night and intended to drop in this morning and compliment you on its preparation. I did not, however, have the opportunity before leaving town."

"It is the best circular of its kind I have seen, giving real information and in interesting and very attractive way. I would like to secure about fifty (50) of the folders to send to some of our customers in bonds, and with best regards to you and your family, I am, sir, very truly yours,

John Nutven."

Discovery Of Papers Halts Probe In Death Of Fall's Ex-Secretary

EL PASO, Tex., Mar. 12.—(AP)—Finding of papers that indicate he planned suicide, brought an abrupt halt to the investigation yesterday into the death of Walter Abbott, private secretary to former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall, who was found dead Wednesday.

A coroner's jury found his death due to poison. However, the papers found in his home, and instructions for taking his life, and instructions for disposal of his body.

Abbott was supposed to be a witness in the suit of the government to cancel the Teapot Dome oil lease by Harry F. Sinclair. His testimony was sought in connection with the trading of $125,000 in bonds alleged to have been slipped over to Fall by Sinclair.

Salm Off For Europe, Complaining Of 'Unfair Methods' Used Against Him

NEW YORK, Mar. 12.—(AP)—Count Salm von Hoogstraten left for Europe today on the Mauretia, complaining of unfair methods used in extraditing him from his wife, the former Millicent Rogers, but grateful to the American agents for permitting him to see his son, Pete.

He said he had left authorization in writing for the publication of his story prior to hearing of his suit for separation.

The count said that disapproval of him by H. H. Rogers, Countess Salm's father, had wrecked his business career in the United States. "People were afraid to deal with me for fear of offending the Rogers family," he said, "when my separation suit

NEW YORK, Mar. 12.—(AP)—Lady Cynthia Mosley has gone back to England without having seen the dancing. "But they thought she was a very good dancer and had a good time," she said.

South Florida City Admits Sanford's Origin Of Slogan

The controversy arising over the adoption of Sanford's slogan, "City Substantial" by Opa-Locks has been settled for all time according to a letter received at the Chamber of Commerce offices today from Opa-Locks officials admitting Sanford's priority in the use of the slogan and agreeing to discontinue its use in Opa-Locks advertising matter.

The south Florida town's use of the slogan coined by Secretary R. W. Pearman was first brought to the attention of local commerce body officials a short time ago by an anonymous letter signed "a former employee of your office."

Enclosed in the letter was a newspaper clipping in which Opa-Locks was alluded to as the "City Substantial."

Correspondence between local Chamber of Commerce officials and the Opa-Locks commercial body finally resulted in the latter's acknowledgment of Sanford's right to the slogan.

Father Refuses To Believe Son Is Guilty Of Slaying Georgia Educator

MACON, Ga., Mar. 12.—(AP)—"I will stick by my boy until the last breath leaves us, but we will never believe he is guilty of the crime with which he is charged," declared James Coggeshall, of Clayton, Ill. father of Ted Coggeshall, under sentence of death here.

Young Coggeshall with Floyd McClellan, formerly of Union City, Pa., and in the Bibb county jail here for the murder of Professor W. G. Wright, aged Georgia educator.

Attorneys for the condemned young man filed a writ for certiorari with Governor Clifford Walker after abandoning plans to file an extraordinary motion for a new trial. The motion was to have been filed in the state supreme court. The writ is to be heard as an emergency matter and will likely be granted.

Ellis Island Head Resigns To Become N. Y. Club Advisor

NEW YORK, Mar. 12.—(AP)—Henry H. Curran, Commissioner of Immigration at Ellis Island for the past three years, and recent host of the Countess of Cathcart, though he complains he had no intention to do with her temporary detention for "moral turpitude" than the King of the Fiji Islands, has resigned.

He will become counsel and advisor to the City Club of New York. His resignation has been forwarded to President Coolidge to become effective May 30.

The New York Times today says that Benjamin M. Day, New York lawyer, who until Jan. 1 was legal advisor to the Internal Revenue Department, has been selected as Mr. Curran's successor.

Mr. Curran, more than once a critic of the handling of immigration problems, had his latest differences with the Department while Lehner during the Cathcart case, when he said he thought the commissioner himself should have handled the case. He had previously advised yesterday that he had nothing to do with her resignation.

Here and There RADIO On the Air

Here Lies the Hopes of Would-Be Broadcasters

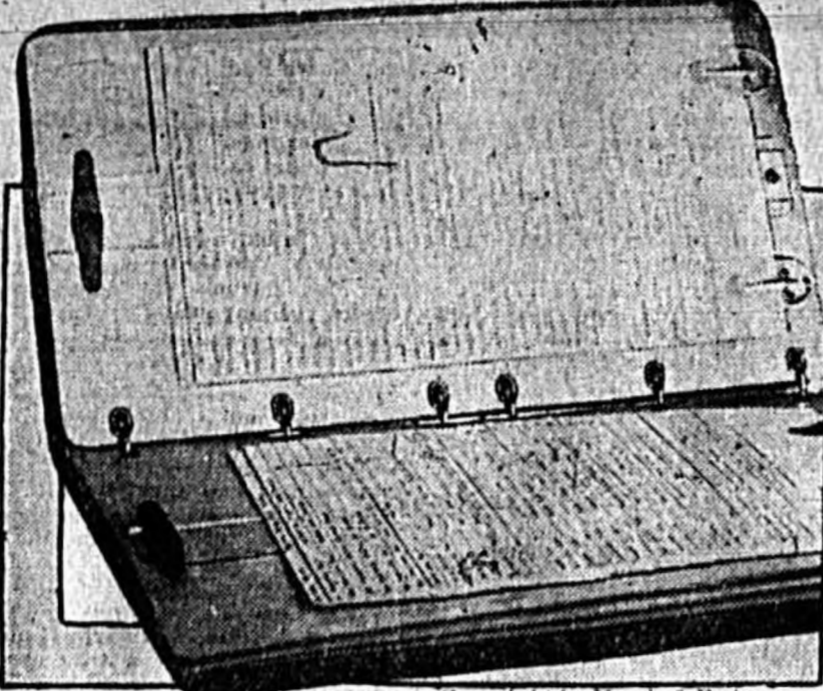

WASHINGTON, March 13.—NEA—in the files of the radio section of the U. S. Department of Commerce lies a book.

In the book rest more than 400 names and addresses, representing as many hopes that seem forlorn and unavailing today. They're the hopes of applicants for new broadcasting stations, for licenses that the Department of Commerce has refused to grant.

Some of these hopes are based on nothing but expressed wishes. Others find their foundations on new stations already erected but unable to broadcast because of no available wavelength. The Department of Commerce refuses to issue more licenses for fear of congesting the others beyond its present crowded condition.

If the 400 applications contained in this book were granted, the number of broadcasting stations would jump to 933—there being 533 in operation at present. Little less than bedlam in an already tense situation would result.

A whole catalog would be required to index the diversity of interests seeking to "go on the air"—ranging from a nursery to a state political committee. Between these two extremes, applications are being received from taxi companies, ballrooms, food markets, dry goods stores, film development companies, health institutes, talking machine shops, theaters, optical companies, automobile parts companies, banks, chambers of commerce, hotels, music stores, clothes shops, high schools, colleges and newspapers.

The application list of more than 400 is growing daily, occasionally as many as six or eight applications being received in one day.

California, Illinois and Florida, in the order named, are the states from which most of these applications are coming. California, with no less than 50 stations, has almost 60 more. Illinois, now the most congested broadcasting area in the United States, asks for another 50. And Florida has put in a request for 20 more broadcasting stations.

Meanwhile the lid on the broadcasting privilege remains tight and nothing less than a wholesale abandonment of existing stations or drastic action by Congress can make room for new comers.

Neither of which is far from likelihood.

Great Britain Will Soon Have Air Net Connecting Empire

LONDON, Mar. 13.—(AP)—Direct communication with all the chief dominions of the British Empire is expected to be completed by the end of this year.

The Marconi company has already completed the stations at Bodmin and Bridgewater, for transmitting and receiving, with Canada and South Africa. The Bodmin station, while both are linked with the London General Postoffice by remote control and by automatic relay.

Each of the Bodmin and Bridgewater stations has 10 masts, five set aside with a separate aerial, definitely located for best transmission and reception for each dominion.

A row of five masts is erected at right angles to the direction at which the signals are received or emitted. The masts are 277 feet high and 650 feet apart. Each has a 90-foot crossarm at the top.

Two parallel steel cables from the aerials, separated by a distance dependent on the wavelength and running on each side of the masts from the first to the last.

High frequency alternators and oil-cooled tubes of high power are used for transmission. The power is so high that the feeders to the aerials have to be made of copper.

Trains Others

A vaudeville night, with all the proper and necessary trimmings, is the newest acquisition to the KGW Portland, Ore., schedule. It is broadcast during the 9 to 10 hour each Thursday night.

Angel A. Braschi, member of DePaul University faculty, will hold a regular Spanish class meeting in the WJIT, Chicago, studio every Friday morning at 11 o'clock. By broadcasting his class in actual session, he believes the listening public will be able to gain more from the lessons.

Addition day at KFI, Los Angeles, has resulted in the discovery of many fine voices and instrumental artists who might otherwise have continued to sing and play unheard.

Petronella Trimbur, organist, has returned to the studio of WLW Cincinnati, O., and will give a series of weekly concerts. They will be heard at noon Wednesdays.

Henry Hulsled's orchestra has joined the studio staff of KPO, San Francisco. The orchestra is heard from 10 to 12 P. M. Sundays and from 11 to 12 P. M. daily except Saturday.

Keeper Of The Dials

Dorothy Mangold has the interesting position in a Dayton, O., hospital of being both telephone and radio operator. She operates a main radio set which is connected to all of the rooms in the hospital. Patients can plug in a pair of headphones and listen to the operator's choice of talent. Mangold is conscious of that responsibility and turns the dial frequently, tuning in classic for a while and then jazz.

Radio News

Short Wave Returns—Constant complaint by radio fans over interference by navy radio stations with tuneful broadcast programs has prompted Captain Bailey McLean, chief of naval communications, to reiterate to all navy radio personnel the necessity of "suppressing all spurious emissions from navy plants."

The admonition is in the form of an editorial appearing in the current issue of the "Radio Bulletin" which reaches all radio personnel in the service, seaboard or afloat.

"Experience has shown," said McLean, "that the public is entitled to avoid interference with its own stations, and that the navy is clearly under bond. It is the policy to cooperate to the fullest extent practicable to eliminate all just causes of complaint."

Explaining the unavoidability of some interference, the bulletin points out that funds have not been available to remove all spurs from shore stations but it adds that in many cases apparent interference is caused by the receiver themselves due either to faulty design or to improper manipulation. Serious interference also has been found sometimes to be due to non-radio emissions such as from power lines.

SHORT WAVE RETURNS—WASHINGTON, Mar. 13.—(AP)—Almost limitless possibilities for expansion of radio communication have been opened up through return to experimental use of short wave transmission, in the opinion of Major General C. McK. Saltzman, chief signal officer of the army.

General Saltzman recently received a personal telegram sent from the Philippines to the Anacostia station here through a small home-made 250-watt set. The army has a ten-kilowatt radio station on the island of Corregidor, 100 miles farther.

In the early days of radio all work was done with short waves, and General Saltzman believes there may be a return to that practice partly because it is possible to crowd a certain band of wavelengths in a greater number of channels when using short waves.

"It's just like this," says General Saltzman, "three rather large men can walk through that doorway abreast; but if you have very thin men you can get five through that door abreast."

LEGAL QUESTION IS PRESENTED IN CONTROL OF AIR

What Authorized Body Shall Be Controlling Factor Is Question That Is Asked; 3 Forms Of Control Given

BY ISHAEI KLEIN, Science Editor, NEA Service

The whole controversy in Washington, over the radio legislation designed to control broadcasting, rests on the determination of one question:

What authorized person or body shall be the controlling factor over radio broadcasting in the United States?

The recent hearings over the White bill in the lower house, and the Dill bill in the Senate, brought out this question in a controversy that apparently has no solution. Who or what body shall say who shall broadcast, on what wavelengths, during what hours and at what places?

Three suggestions have been made and every one of them has its advantages and disadvantages. Every one of them has been supported and attacked vigorously by the committees of both houses investigating the radio question. These suggestions are:

1. That the ultimate radio authority be a government official, preferably the secretary of commerce.

2. That this authority be placed in the hands of a committee of outstanding citizens.

3. That a permanent commission be appointed to handle the broadcasting problem.

Paul Kluch, executive chairman of the National Association of Broadcasters, who has been watching the government proceedings closely, points out the faults and favors for each point.

"Suggestion No. 1," he says, "has the disadvantage of placing unusual power in the hands of one person, but has the advantage of ability upon citizens who may not be qualified, or whose interest would not be sufficient. If employed in an advisory capacity to the secretary of commerce, it has the advantage of softening any criticism which might arise from decisions by that official or of moderating his decisions."

"Suggestion No. 2 has the disadvantage of establishing another government commission and would find objection in the minds of those legislators who are opposed to commissions in general. It has the advantage of requiring a number of minds to meet before rendering decisions, and if organized upon a permanent basis would undoubtedly attract competent men who would give their whole time and attention to the problems which would be submitted to them."

And, while the controversy over what form the ultimate broadcasting authority should take goes on, more broadcasting stations are being planned more applications for wave lengths are being submitted, and the struggle is getting worse daily.

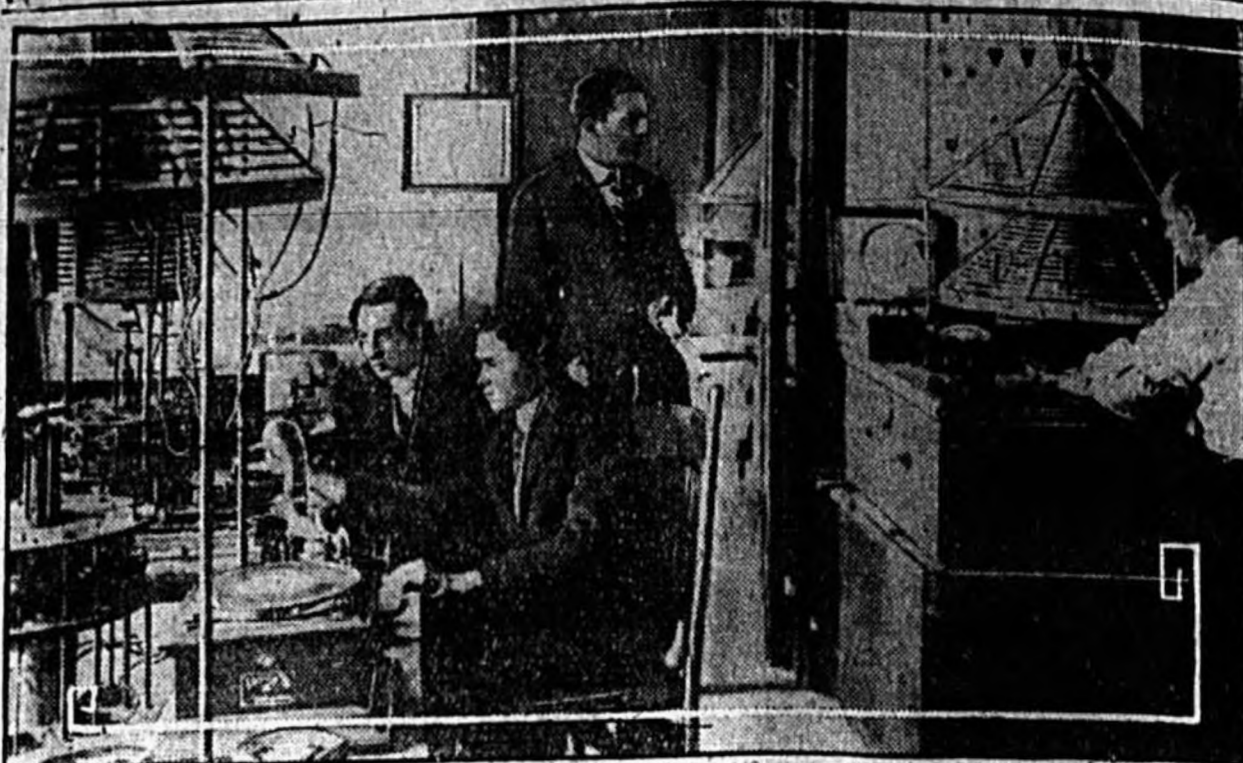

Already there are 250 applicants for licenses. The air is clogged. And there's no hope for any of these applicants unless some of the old broadcasters abandons his station.

Paving the way for the ultimate authority, the Department of Commerce has issued only temporary 30-day broadcasting permits so that the new power may have a free hand in handling the situation.

STATION SUED—Station KJFF, Oklahoma City, has been made defendant in a $20,000 libel suit. The suit concerns statements made by Rev. Lincoln McConnell while the station was leased by him.

SAVES TELEGRAM—Sir Harry Lauder, world's famous Scottish comedian, was able to save the price of a telegram while in London. He was broadcasting from station 2LO and, knowing that his wife who was in Glasgow was listening, he included a short message to her.

Intoxication Was Radio Problem

This picture was taken in 1912 at San Jose, Calif., showing the broadcasting station built by Dr. Charles Herold, who stands in the doorway. Dr. Herold broadcast music from San Jose to San Francisco at this time and claiming to have the first U. S. broadcasting license which was issued in 1912. A telephone transmitter was used as microphone. Arc lights burned in alcohol and a condition of semi-intoxication caused by the fumes was only one of the difficulties Dr. Herold experienced.

Place Of Speaker Important, Asserts New York Dealer

NEW YORK, Mar. 13.—Good tone quality from your receiving set depends on the kind of loud speaker you have, its position and the arrangement of furniture and hangings in the room, says Edward Spiegler, loud speaker manufacturer of this city.

"Horn and cone-type speakers must be handled differently," he explains.

"Horns are best kept at ordinary level. In high positions they throw the voice and music against the ceiling, from where it is deflected down on the listener's head. The effect is rather odd, and the music often loses its natural sound."

"If the floor is not covered with a rug the sound is likely to echo back and forth to the ceiling and will then sound bad."

"Corners are excellent places for horn reproducers, because they spread the music out across a room nicely, without generating troublesome echoes. It is advisable to move the speaker around to various corners and to see how it works in each one."

RADIO TELEVISION—Experiments in England claim to have great success with television apparatus. They have applied for a license from the government to broadcast pictures.

CLOSE PLANT FOR RADIO

Out in Ingomar, Mont., the citizens close down the local power plant when they agree on a good radio program. They agree that it is better to be without the power than to have the plant interfere with radio reception, according to a letter received at station WJIT, Chicago.

RECONSTRUCTS ORGAN

The advent of the "radio organ" has come as a result of the experimenting of Al Garney, organist of station WJIT, Chicago. At each recital he has given for the past two months he has listened in on himself, and, acting on the results of his study, has changed his instrument so that it produces the most effective results when the music is broadcast.

RADIO SET THIEF

A Brooklyn youth has been arrested on a charge of stealing 250 radio sets in five months. The youth would get a job in the radio department of a store, make a note of who purchased sets, then call on the purchaser, representing himself as official repairman. The youth would always find some fault with the set and take it away—never to bring it back again.

TUNING EXPERIENCE

Tuning a radio set requires experience and familiarity with a set. Many purchasers are discouraged when they get their receivers and have difficulty receiving stations and bringing in programs clearly. It is an art to get the utmost efficiency out of a set with the lowest amount of power.

RADIO SAFETY TIPS

Radio fans should be sure to erect substantial uprights for the antenna, warns the National Safety Council, which points out that aerials or anything else should never be attached to electric wires. Don't crowd your set to a gas pipe. Be sure to install an approved lightning arrester and don't operate your radio set during a thunder storm if you use an outdoor aerial.

IT BEATS THE TRAIN

It is not at all surprising that so many salesmen use our system of "we rent it and you drive it." In so many cases it beats the train because after reaching a nearby town and selling his customers the salesman can start at once for the next stopping place. He can cover more ground in less time and cut down traveling expenses.

$2,000,000,000 "Bread Trust" Started In One Room; Is Huge Enterprise

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 13.—Fifty years ago a father and his son were operating a very modest bakery in a one-room plant on a side street in Pittsburgh. It was no different from any other corner bakery; apparently it would remain a quiet neighborhood store to the end of its career.

But every business venture in America has in it the seeds of greatness. Rockefeller once had a dingy one-room office in Cleveland; Ford ran a most dubious machine shop in Detroit. The corner bakery in Pittsburgh was destined to grow.

During the years that passed it expanded and grew unbelievably. Now it has reached its maturity in the proposed two-billion-dollar merger of the Ward Food Products Corporation with the Mackay Bakeries, the "anti-trust" fire of the Department of Justice.

In vital effect of human life and the health of the American people, it perhaps surpasses in importance the gigantic stock oil, rubber and electric power combinations of the last 25 years.

A Story of Hard Work
Hugh Ward, who came from Ireland in 1849, was the first owner of the corner bakery, and his son, Robert B. Ward, was his partner. By arising at 3 a. m. to make their own deliveries and working themselves unmercifully, they managed to turn out 200 a day—quite a feat for a small bakery. The dozens of Ward plants of today turn out from two to five million loaves daily.

Robert B. Ward was married in 1879 to Kitty Brining who helped him in the bakery in the dead of night and tended the stove in his absence. They saved money and became rich children—the family finally numbering 13.

The boys helped. There always had been a bond of affection between the sons, and in 1890 they held a series of conferences and decided to branch out and try to cover most of Pittsburgh with warehouses and to educate the grocers to

MARKETS

NEW YORK, Mar. 13.—(AP)—Stock prices having recovered this week most of the ground lost in last week's dramatic reaction, were subjected to heavy selling for both accounts today on the theory that the market position warranted at least a "technical reaction."

General Electric broke 2 points to 319, about a score of others fell 3 points or more and losses of a point or 2 were scattered throughout the list. In some quarters there was a tendency to distribute some of the selling to the unfavorable political news from Geneva but the foreign exchanges, the most sensitive barometer of European political and economical conditions showed relatively little change.

Rails, which had displayed impressive strength earlier in the week, yielded to industrial selling. "Nickel Plate," Lackawanna, Louisville and Nashville, and Chesapeake and Ohio, all selling 2 to 4 1/2 points below yesterday's final quotations.

Selling of the industrial fractionally effective in such as American Smelting, Allied Chemical, United Drug, Foundation Company, Peabody Coal, American Brick and Shoe and Foundry.

The closing was weak. Total sales approximated 1,000,000 shares.

NEW YORK, Mar. 13.—(AP)—Stock prices moved irregularly lower at the opening of today's market. Heavy week-end profit taking was accompanied by shorts selling, apparently based on the belief that the market was entitled to a technical reaction after the sustained recovery which took place early in the week.

Chesapeake and Ohio, Dupont and United States Steel common, Mack Trucks and several other industrial issues fell fractionally on initial transactions.

Selling pressure increased as trading progressed, but the decline in most issues was an orderly one. Delaware and Hudson, Federal Players, General Electric, Foundation Co., and Remington Typewriter each sold off 2 points before the close, and American Smelting, Hudson Motor, Allied Chemical, International Combustion Engineering, Pere Marquette, Baltimore and Ohio and "Katy" preferred fell a point or more.

Pierce, Fenner and Smith's strength each advancing 2 points, General Petroleum touched a new high record at 44.85 cents.

Foreign Exchange opened relatively steady, despite the Geneva crisis over the addition of Germany to the League of Nations. Demand for the franc was heavy, and French franc opened a point lower at 3.63 cents. The Scandinavian exchange reacted on profit taking.

U. S. Must Confiscate Air Before Radio is Controlled, Declares Chicago Expert

The United States government must confiscate the air, not only to regulate broadcasting but to supervise the wireless transmission of power which will soon be a reality, says Irving Herriott, counsel for the Zenith Radio Corporation of Chicago.

Recently the officials of WJAZ broadcasting station, operated by the Zenith Radio Corporation, began to transmit radio concerts on a wavelength not assigned to them by the government. This station had made many attempts to have their limited wavelength extended, or to be granted a new one. These attempts failed and the officials deliberately "pirated" a wavelength for the purpose of determining where the important power of assigning wavelengths actually lay.

Attorney Herriott appeared before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee with this claim. Any proposed radio legislation that might be enacted by Congress first confiscated the air, or the ground, for the purpose of radio.

In his hearing Attorney Herriott cited real estate laws which give the property owner a title on his land from the center of the earth to the zenith of heaven. It was his plea that as long as the transmitting station is located on a man's own property he has a right to broadcast unless the air or ground is confiscated by the government for the purpose of radio.

Attorney Herriott threw a bombshell into the hearing when he said, "I predict that most of the machinery of the United States, including the railroads, will be operated by power transmitted by radio, originating at remote sections of the country where power is available. I can say to you in all sincerity and frankness that within a short time power will be transmitted throughout the length and breadth of the United States by radio."

Time Question.
The attorney's point was, of course, to impress upon the committee the necessity of enacting a law which would give the government full power as final arbitrator to solve the problems. His statement was based on experiments now being conducted at his client's laboratories.

While it has been known that experiments on the problem of wireless transmission of power have been under way for a considerable time, this is, perhaps, the first time that anyone in touch with the latest radio developments has made a definite prediction that such a feat will be possible in a few years.

Movie Contest Open To Local Children Will Be Held Here Starting Next Week

"Would you like to go in the movies?" Children of this city from six to 14 years of age will be asked this question within a few days following the arrival of R. B. Hay, an official of the Florida Productions, Inc., of Tampa, Fla., to complete the arrangements for holding a juvenile movie contest in Sanford in which a number of children are to be selected to play before the camera.

There may be a second Jackie Coogan or Baby Peggy among the children of this city, who will, with a little training and experience, may blossom out into an entirely new character and perhaps become a famous star.

"No previous experience is necessary for the child in this contest," said the official. "It is very hard to tell whether a child has the qualifications of a motion picture actor or actress until a test has been made. In many a child, in many a grown man or woman, in all walks of life, the talent to perform for the screen lies dormant and hidden from the public because that person has never been given a test for the motion picture screen."

The children of Sanford and vicinity stand a very good chance of being picked for motion pictures, as many of the present day stars have been picked and developed from the juvenile actors and actresses," Mr. Hay said.

"The moving picture industry is still in its infancy, and some of our greatest stars have not yet been discovered, because those that have entered the profession, and because no film company has ever taken the trouble to look them up. Screen talent is best discovered in children," added the official, "because they are less self-conscious than grown-ups."

As soon as plans are completed, the official said the exact date of the contest will be announced and every mother and parent will be invited to bring children to the contest grounds where each child will be carefully scrutinized by

Grain Report

CHICAGO, Mar. 13.—(AP)—Wheat values this morning were two to five cents higher this morning, with corn and oats showing a similar advance.

Reversal of the downward trend began with a brisk purchase movement based on the more or less assertion that United States farm stocks of wheat calculated on a per capita basis are the lowest on record and that this country may yet have to face virtual prohibition of selling of wheat supplies before harvest.

Then came disturbing reports that the quality of the Argentine crop as a whole is inferior, including 40,000,000 bushels so poor as to weigh less than 55 pounds a bushel.

Scarcities of domestic receipts of wheat, together with further shrinkage of the meagre stock in Chicago, gave additional impetus to the new buying movement which set in. At present, the general outlook for the new crop is decidedly favorable.

Predictions of smaller receipts of corn in the next purchase movement to steady in values and oats as well. It is also pointed out that the movement of corn to market is lighter than a year ago and that prices are generally up for the prices at this time last year.

Not What We Want Here

They're off! With a mighty leap the horses break from the tape and with a roar of thundering hoofs dash before the stands. Thousands rise as one, while a great cheer bursts forth.

It's great sport, this horse racing. There is a certain thrill about the crowds that gather for them. They come from everywhere and they dress for the occasion.

Yes, it is great sport, but is it good for a community? Is it good for the town where it is located and is it good for the county at large? We have always been inclined to say no.

And what of the other people, the good people who go to horse races? Many of them are stenographers, bookkeepers, bank tellers, clerks, soda jerkers, mechanics, carpenters and working men of every class and type.

There may be a small group of persons who can afford to lose on the races. Perhaps lawyers, doctors, bankers and real estate men, who have met their second payments, can afford to play the races and lose.

No longer ago than March 7, the Miami Daily News printed on its front page an editorial urging the shortening of the racing season at Hialeah.

The News is not prompted in its remarks by moral reasons. The News does not care whether racing is legal or illegal, moral or immoral, right or wrong.

We opine that girls in colleges are really learning something these days when tolerance succeeds intolerance, and when individual points of view about individual things are conceded as due and fitting.

Now they tell us that the recently born bread trust of Wall Street "has a soul" and that food monopolies really save the housewife money rather than "bleed her white." Maybe—and then again so's your old man!

On his presence of mind when, upon returning to his home on Monday, he saw a convict approaching the house from the other way. He immediately realized from his actions that it must be a runaway, and questioned the man, who was colored, and who told him that he was not going back to the camp. Lane then ordered him into his car and drove to Sanford where he delivered him man to the Sheriff.

The Parent-Teachers' Association is preparing an interesting program for Thursday evening, March 18th, in the auditorium of the schoolhouse, when Mrs. J. E. Houghton will present her plans and vocal pupils in a musical, assisted by other talent.

The program will consist of piano, violin, and vocal solos and duets, interspersed with other pleasing features. Mrs. Houghton is an accomplished musician, having studied at the New York Conservatory of Music, and this affair is looked forward to with a great deal of interest. The people of Lake Mary are urged to come out and encourage these young people in their efforts to entertain us.

New Gold Rush Begins As Hundreds Wend Their Way To Barren Ontario Country

HUDSON, Ontario, March 13.—The shaggy huskies and their iron-hearted drivers are outward bound once more—outward bound on the long, hard, snow-covered trail that leads to the land of gold.

A new gold rush is on, a gold rush that is expected to grow to the proportions of the famous Alaska rush of the late nineties.

Up in a forsaken, barren corner of Ontario, near the Manitoba border, lies Red Lake, an isolated stretch of ice-bound water surrounded by a howling wilderness. And the hills that surround Red Lake are full of yellow gold.

Government officials who have investigated believe the strike will prove one of the richest ever struck in America—and that includes California, Yukon and the Klondike.

Hudson is the jumping off place. It is an insignificant station on the transcontinental railway, but it is the gateway to the new Yukon, and it is taking on an importance out of all proportion to its size.

Dog teams are being assembled here, loads of supplies come in on each train, grizzled old prospectors are going over their outfits. The gold rush is on.

Brothers Started It

It all began when two brothers, Lorne and Ray Howey, headed up into the Red Lake territory last June to do some prospecting. They were old-time prospectors, used to hardship and toil. They spent the summer, fall and part of the winter there.

"We reached the lake on July 10 and started in at once sectioning off the country with exploration lines across the strike of the formation," says Lorne Howey. "Systematic prospecting was the only way to go at it. We took samples of quartz veins as we ran across them, crushed the quartz and panned it for gold, but found nothing until July 30, when I ran across a little strike, which proved to be 50 feet of the main body."

"Then we struck out in different directions to see just what we had found. We traced the quartz 900 feet to the east. It turned out that we were working along a vein that was eight feet wide in some places and 41 feet wide in others, with a number of nice showings in it. We staked out 22 claims altogether, then went to record them and tell our friends."

John Hammell, formerly of Manitoba, joined the Howeys in forming the Red Lake syndicate, and a working option was sold at what is said to be one of the largest prices ever paid for an Ontario mining prospect. Other prospectors have only now gotten wind of the project, and the rush to Red Lake is beginning in full swing.

Will Use Airplanes

Some of the world's biggest mining interests are rushing representatives in, the government is taking supplies to Red Lake, the northwest mounted police have placed a patrol in the district for the first time and hundreds of claims are being staked.

Just now the only way to reach Red Lake is by dog team, the toilsome, romantic old style of the Alaska gold rush. Teams of six and eight huskies, hitched to ninety-foot toboggans, are following the trail down the arctic wastes, overland for many miles until they strike the Red Lake river, and down the ice-bound course of that stream to the lake itself.

When summer comes three airplanes will be put into service. This new rinkle in gold rush travel is expected to increase the flood of prospectors. The Hudson Bay Company also plans to install motorboats on Lac Seul and Red Lake.

Rich Workings

To get an idea of the value of the Red Lake strike, it must be understood that mining companies can make money out of ore that assays only $4 to the ton; that some of the richest mines average only $8 to the ton—and that the Red Lake quartz assays $20 to the ton on a 1400 foot stretch.

Temperatures in the Red Lake region at this time of year go down as low as 60 below zero. The only buildings that have been erected in the neighborhood are an assay office and a bathhouse. The latter is a bare room containing a huge fireplace. Big boulders are heated in the fire; then the fire is raked out and water is tossed on the boulders. The room is thus filled with steam, and eight men can use it at a time.

"That bath is a Godsend after mashing 150 miles," says Howey. "The prospectors live in tents with log sides. Despite the cold, they are comfortable. And, even when they aren't there's gold up there!"

He Makes A Perfect Lady

Cyril Maude Plans To Quit Stage This Spring After 64 Years Of Active Life

CHICAGO, March 13.—(P)—Cyril Maude, who has long been a personage in the English and American theater, believes that 42 years of the hurried and strenuous life of the stage entitles him to enjoy the "last of life, for which the first was made."

When the curtain falls on his last Philadelphia performance sometime in April, Cyril Maude will step from behind the footlights to join Maude Adams, Dame Ellen Terry and many others who live as delightful memories in the minds of playgoers. He is going to retire.

There is a charming old farmhouse in Devonshire in which are gathered books and prints and all the mementoes of a long and successful career. Higher the 64-year-old man with eyes as blue and a smile as ingenious as it was when he first trod the boards at 22, is going. The home which he bought last year is now Cyril Maude's chief enthusiasm.

"The walls of this room are of whitewashed stone, hung with pictures dealing with the theater past of my wife and myself, and autographed boards and all kinds of curiosities. There is a great portrait of my wife there, to remind me of what a lovely woman she was; and a great actress, too! There is a hooded fireplace, and lots of big chairs in which to bury yourself with your favorite book. Or, if you wish, you can play on the little piano in the corner."

"Don't that," he asks, "let you know why I want so much to leave this stage and get home?"

Gets Reward

Bill Meyer, new skipper of the Louisville Colonels, 1925 American Association champion, is on the job and laying plans for the 1926 chase.

Bill is well pleased over the outlook for the "shellbump tribe and, with a very break, sees no reason why his debut as a manager should not prove a successful one. Meyer's appointment as leader of the Colonels to succeed Joe McCarthy, who takes over the helm of the Chicago Cubs, was a reward for seven years' faithful service as first-string catcher. Bill will continue to take his regular turn behind the plate. Meyer saw big league service with Comie Mack.

Palm Beach Municipal Band Tries To Outdo Nero In Its "Fiddling"

WEST PALM BEACH, March 13.—(P)—Nero had nothing on the West Palm Beach municipal band. Almost every time they "fiddle" something burns. On March 18, 1925, the band was playing "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight" at the athletic field here.

As it played, the Breakers hotel burned to the ground. This week, Everett A. Moses, leader of the band, who has been dubbed "spontaneous combustion," took the band and entered in the state band contest at Orlando.

Tuesday, as the band was playing "Keep the Home Fires Burning," a $25,000 warehouse burned down a block away. The following day the band played at Lake Eola. As it struck up the strains of "Hot Mama" fire burst forth in a private hospital across the lake.

Fire Chief Alfred P. Sadler said the band should be equipped with asbestos uniforms.

Miami Horse Races Are To Close Today

MIAMI, Mar. 13.—(P)—Today's card of the Miami Jockey Club featuring the Miami cup handicap, with $25,000 added purse, and the Banyan handicap, with $2,000 added, marks the close of the 45-day racing season here. Attendance has averaged 8,000 daily and more than $20,000,000 has passed through the pari-mutuels, official figures show.

This sum is far in excess of the aggregate betting last season when a 51 day meet was held.

COTTON FIGURES GIVEN

WASHINGTON, Mar. 13.—(P)—Cotton consumption during February totaled 567,341 bales of lint and 523,758 of linters, compared with 523,092 of lint and 50,465 of linters in January this year and 523,000 of lint and 50,000 of linters in February last year, the census bureau today announced.

Who's home had just burned, was found trying to scale the remains of a chimney by the aid of a step ladder. It developed that he had hoarded 150 in bills and placed the money between some bricks of the chimney. Finally he succeeded in getting to the money, but he found only the charred portions of the bills. Then a stiff wind came along and blew that into small bits.

BRADENTON, March 12.—Bradenton was all primed and cocked to fight a devastating outbreak of fire. The trucks dashed for the scene of the alarm, the faces of the firemen set with the determination peculiar to the profession. Ladders were hoisted at a house where smoke was pouring forth and water plugs put into operation. Then Chief Harris yelled "I've got it!" and emerged from the structure with a pan of smoking pork chops.

DAYTONA BEACH, March 13.—H. H. Somerville, local manager of a theatre, is ready to take issue with the next one who asserts that "it pays to advertise." After the theft of a lamp from his theatre, Mr. Somerville advertised that there would be no prosecution if the article was returned. Then someone who had seemingly read the ad entered the place and made off with a table cover.

FORT LAUDERDALE, March 13.—A lady who was injured in an automobile accident found his speech for the first time, eighteen days after the accident. He is Frank G. Rabb, Jr., who was struck while delivering newspapers. He lay in the hospital here unconscious from February 15 until a few days ago. The hospital authorities are hopeful of his recovery now.

GAINESVILLE, March 13.—What is believed to have been the fossil remains of a white woman, 2000 years old, were found by workmen excavating on the river bank in Royal Palm Park. The discovery of numerous strata of sea; couch and other shells led to the conviction that the sea once covered the spot where the skeleton was found. Officials of the Smithsonian Institute, at Washington, were invited to conduct an investigation.

DELAND, Mar. 13.—Records at Gainesville will be to host to the first annual convention of the Florida Department, Reserve Officers' Association of the United States, April 2 and 3. The purpose of the meeting is to create closer harmony and establish better relations among the officers of the government's land forces.

DELAND, Mar. 12.—Records at the county courthouse here revealed the fact that a mother and daughter, Mrs. Amy Capilla and Theodosia, the latter aged 17, were married at a double ceremony. Mrs. Capilla was wed to Elias I. Varnes, and as Mrs. Varnes signed permission for her 17-year-old daughter to marry Earl W. Tucker, Miss H. C. Swanson, chief clerk in the county judge's office, officiated.

ORLANDO.—Orlando will be host on April 8 and 9 to Exchange Clubs from all over Florida, the state meeting of that organization having been set for that time. Invitations to all Exchange Clubs have gone forward, and indications are that a good attendance will be in evidence.

ST. AUGUSTINE.—Joseph J. Du Cotey, local business man, qualified for the "Hole-In-One" Club when he put the ball in the Number 1 hole of the local greens. After the tee-off, the ball was seen to go towards the green, but was lost in the dusk of the evening. It was later found in the hole.

FORT LAUDERDALE.—Suit has been entered in the Broward circuit court here for $43,252 by the Florida Real Estate company against the Triangle Realty Company, for the alleged non-payment of real estate commissions.

MIAMI.—A desk and chair, which William J. Bryan used as secretary of state in the cabinet of President Woodrow Wilson, is still functioning here. It is now the property of A. B. Minagar, general secretary of the Miami Young Men's Christian Association. It was Mr. Bryan's wish that the desk and chair should be used in that way.

MELBOURNE.—What is believed to have been the first car of Irish potatoe to be shipped from Melbourne, and possibly Brevard county, has gone forward to northern markets. The production was that of C. Leonard Davidson, who has 20 acres planted to the crop.

NEW YORK

NEW YORK, March 13.—Over a long period of time the myth for "parties" and not for wedlock. They are gay girlish "of the girls men marry," and all that sort of "hokey." Interesting, if true! But the fact is, it isn't true. Since the first day I pitched tent gathered date on this subject. And I stand ready to wager my last year's world series pass that girl for girl, choruses receive and reject more proposals of marriage than sub debs and co-eds combined.

True, some of these proposals are made after the eighteenth birthday, but they are nonetheless binding. True, too, that many chorus girls have "party" marriages. Even these marry eventually. What is more they don't marry rich "men's sons!" The majority marry into the "profession." Almost an equal number marry young bond salesmen, newspapermen, real estate men or business men.

Recently a Broadwayite took the trouble to check up the fate, within a year, of a number of chorines photographed at their last Central Park frolic. In one group of four, three had married. The fourth had been reported engaged to no less a person than Prince Troubetskoy, though more recent information indicates that she will be a member of a very wealthy New York family ere long.

The second young lady in the photograph has become the daughter-in-law of the Chatham-Phenix bank head. The third is wed to Sam Warner, of the Warner Brothers motion picture concern; the fourth married into the "profession"—and so it goes.

CERTAIN it is that chorus girls come and go so fast that no recorder could hope to keep any reliable record of them. The cry of Broadway is for "fresh recruits." Youth, youth, youth—at $25 a week, and with some little hope that some day they may get as much as $75.

And there's scarce one of them that couldn't land a husband any day she wished. If she chooses to use the slide to obscurity and downfall it's generally her own fault. Too much flattery, too many men, too many drinks, too little use of the head, too much expending of energy in night life—all these factors sum up to kill talent and opportunities, as they say on Broadway. A few wild outbreaks and doors of night clubs are closed to them, to say nothing of the doors of offices where engagements are sought.

But the majority can gather to themselves husbands whenever and wherever they choose—and they do.

At The Training Camps

Foreign Wins For Cubs
CHICAGO, Mar. 12.—(AP)—Howard Frigan, veteran third sacker of the Chicago Cubs, hit a double in the last inning of the Cubs game with the Hollywood Stars at Los Angeles yesterday and gave his team an 8 to 6 victory. The Cubs played a satisfactory offensive game except in the third inning. Grover Alexander, veteran Cub pitcher, has thrown away his stability, the doctors having discovered his right ankle was sprained and not broken.

Teams Divided Into Squads
DETROIT, Mar. 12.—(AP)—Players of the Detroit Tigers' training camp at Augusta, Ga., were divided into two squads yesterday, one falling in the forenoon and the other in the afternoon. It was one of the best practices thus far and was the first real workout given the infielders.

Ernie Nerves To Pitch
ST. LOUIS, Mar. 12.—(AP)—Ernie Nerves, of football fame, will pitch his first major league opposition in baseball today when he goes onto the mound for the Browns in an exhibition game with Brooklyn at Clearwater, Fla. The Browns' rookie, whom Manager Sleser says will keep all season, is slated to pitch three innings.

The Cardinals split yesterday into two teams for exhibition games at St. Louis. Arthur and Houston came through with a pair of wins, one taken by Houston 6 to 1 and the other winning from San Antonio, 4 to 3. Chick Hatley, outfielder, got his second home run on the exhibition season at Houston.

Wally Popp Shines At Bat
CINCINNATI, O., Mar. 12.—(AP)—Wally Popp, playing his first game at a National League club, furnished the outstanding features of the game between Cleveland and Cincinnati at Orlando, Fla., yesterday by knocking out a triple and two singles in three times at bat. The Reds evened the count with the Indians by winning, 2 to 1.

Three Cincinnati pitchers are on the hitting list. Hargrave is recovering from an attack of influenza; Morgan was out yesterday for the first time following an attack of influenza; and Sakeforth, another "flu" victim, still is confined to his room.

Pitchers Have Fine Control
CLEVELAND, O., Mar. 12.—(AP)—Remarkable control for this time of the year featured yesterday's game between the Cincinnati Reds and Cleveland Indians at Orlando, Ohio. Cincinnati won, 2 to 1.

The pitchers, Levern, Miller and Benne held the Reds to eight hits while Donohue and Mays allowed only seven, three of which were obtained by the Cleveland pitchers. Two bases on balls and a hit batsman were the only features of the game.

Pirates Have Another Distinction
PITTSBURGH, Mar. 12.—(AP)—The Pirates' hit men have no distinction among major league clubs, that of world's champions, but for the time being they also have another, probably equally as exclusive.

There are two pairs of brothers at the Posa Robles, Cal., training camp and each set of brothers consists of one regular, with the other trying to fit himself for a place, the same as the one occupied by his brother.

Third baseman Harold Tryon's brother applies to a place as general manager of the "hot corner" and pitcher Johnny Morrison's brother Phil is one of the recruit hurlers being made a test. Harold, Johnny and Phil were formerly with the Birmingham Barons.

To Hat From Pitcher's Side
WASHINGTON, Mar. 12.—(AP)—Earl McNally, Senators outfielder, known as the "550,000 leaver" for his walkup that won the World Series two years ago from the Giants, but now facing competition for his berth, plans to strengthen his team by hitting from both sides of plate.

He spent the winter learning to club from the left side but his first try at it at the Senators' training camp wasn't so good. He took three swings and missed. The Washington regulars faced the Boston Braves again today while the Rockies tackled the University of Florida nine.

Player Regular Team
BOSTON, Mar. 12.—(AP)—New Orleans, Manager L. J. Fall is wrestling with the problem of picking a regular team. With few exceptions, most of the berths are taken.

Dr. At Wins For Regulars
PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 12.—(AP)—Ed Busch, recruit Philly twirler, transferred from the second team to the regular nine, instead now down his trustworthy team mates at Bradenton, Fla., yesterday, the seniors winning a seven inning battle, 7 to 0. In four innings, Busch pitched to 12 men.

Al Simmons, the Babe Ruth of the Athletics, made a home run and three singles—a hit each time at bat, at Fort Myers, Fla. The Athletics defeated Baltimore, 13 to 5.

Kelly In Hero Role
NEW YORK, Mar. 12.—(AP)—Greeted by a long stretch of disagreeable weather, baseball players in the Florida training camps of three Metropolitan team clubs today took a dark fourth day from conditions to enter the league's summer campaign.

George Kelly, lanky first sacker of the Giants, is the star, apparently unaffected. He bowled out four hits yesterday, one a triple which cleared the bases and started the McGraw outfit on the way to a 9 to 2 victory over the Buffalo Internationals at Palm Beach.

Yankee regulars, however, failed to recover from their miseries at the hands of the Braves and were trounced at St. Petersburg, 3 to 0 by the second team. Ruth and Mousal being helpless before the pitching of George Fingers, former Nashville volunteer.

FIGHT PROMOTER IN MIAMI FACES ACTION IN COURT

Jeese Baugh, Who Attempted To Stage Tunney-Stribling Fight, Is Sued By Electric Company For Sum of $3,500

MIAMI, Mar. 12.—(AP)—Jeese Baugh, promoter of the Tunney-Stribling fight that was scheduled here for last night and which never took place, faces court action today. The Abbott Electrical Company of Miami has entered a suit against him for $3,500 to recover electrical fixtures installed in the new Hialeah stadium. The suit was filed late yesterday by the court of records here.

Baugh came to Miami to set on a $100,000 show. He guaranteed Gene Tunney $50,000 and Young Stribling $35,000. He had $1,000 in cash. Advance ticket sales gave him enough to build the stadium and pay each fighter $6,000.

When "Bill" Gibson, Tunney's business manager, demanded the remainder of his fighter's $50,000 guarantee as soon as he found that Baugh had nothing, he called the fight off. It never took place, despite desperate efforts on the part of Baugh to get in capital from Miami business men.

Fight Became Uncertain
Beginning Wednesday the betting of Donohue's two first best threats became uncertain. It was then that Gibson learned that Baugh had no money.

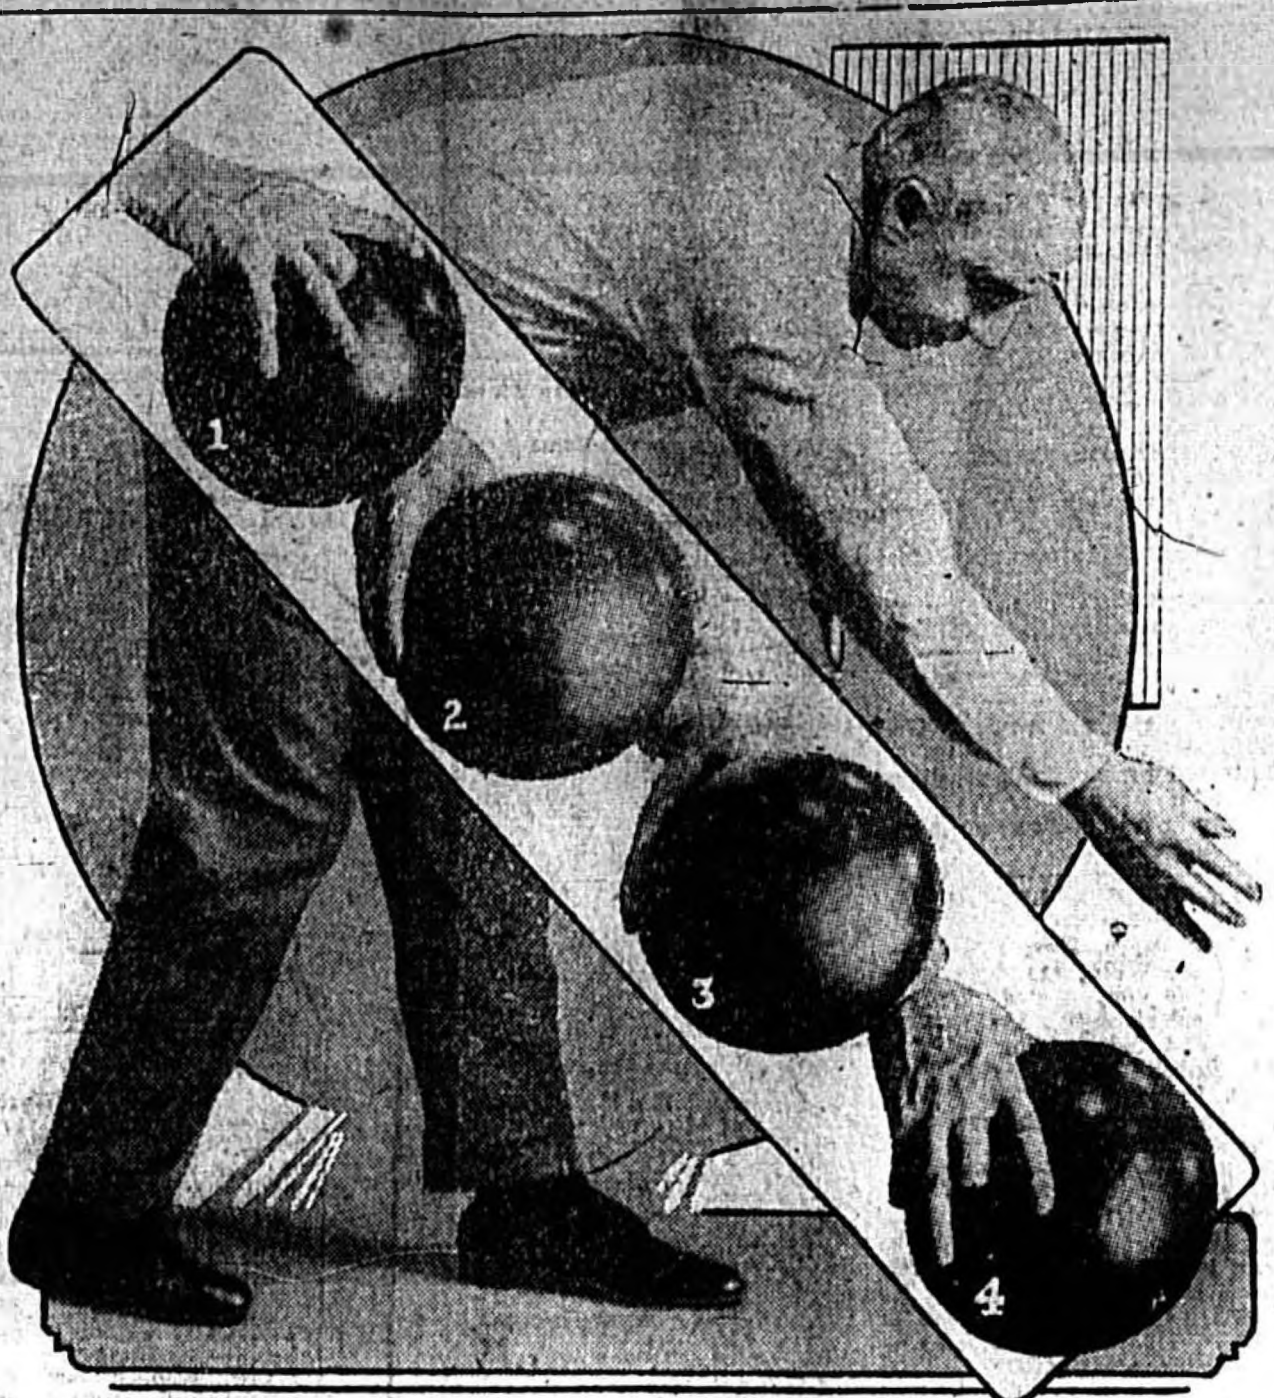

On Wednesday night Gibson, coming from a conference with a number of Miami business men, found an arrangement had been made with this group of men that was satisfactory, and the fight would go Friday night as scheduled.

Thursday at noon Gibson changed his mind, announced that the fight was called off and that he was concerned and went to the police.

Warrant For Arrest
Assistant Chief of Police Quigg, of Miami, announced that he had a warrant against Gibson charging him with passing a bad check value in Palm Beach a year or more ago. The chief declared that he would find Gibson and with the threat of prosecution force him to enter Tunney in the fight.

Gibson returned from the races late Thursday afternoon, went into a series of conferences with prominent business men of Miami,

Bowling Pictorial—World Champ Shows Just Why He Spills 'Em

How does he do it? That's a question you often hear asked when Jimmy Smith, world's most famous bowler, starts shouldering the magic runways. Frankly, it's simple—if you know how! Perfect Bridge Hand Held By New Yorker

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Mar. 12.—(AP)—Winning he held 13 spades while playing bridge with friends here, Ernest L. Brown acted, strictly "according to Hoyle" and hid seven spades to make 378 points.

Brown's first bid was seven spades. No other player was willing to risk seven no-trump, the only play of higher value.

The score for Brown's hand was 125 for game, 100 for grand slam, 90 for five honors in one hand and 63 points.

including Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., and Dudley Field Malone. Mr. Vanderbilt and Mr. Malone, after conferring with Gibson, came to fight headquarters for a conference with Promoter Baugh.

Immediately after coming from the room where the two had talked with the promoter, Mr. Malone announced that so far as they were concerned the fight would not be held. They denied the report that they had put up the money to pay Gibson and Stribling.

Three conferences were held Friday and negotiations ended late in the day when Sheriff Chase of Duval county announced that the Governor had ordered him to stop any possible fighting in Duval county and that he intended to carry out the orders of the Governor to the letter.

Both fighters have agreed to turn back the money they received in advance, and ticket agents here state that every ticket sold for the fight will be taken back in at face value.

The Chief of Police today says he has never received the warrant for Gibson's arrest that he said he had received Thursday afternoon. He states he had been called over the telephone and asked to hold Gibson, which he cannot do unless the warrant is received.

COLLEGE CHATTER

BY ART CARLSON
THE BIG THREE

MY mall the other day brought this question: "What are the three best college basketball teams in the country this season?" That's a tough one to answer. Offhand, however, I'd say Syracuse, Columbia and Notre Dame. Syracuse has been sweeping all opposition since the representatives of Columbia has one of the best in its history. It looks like a certain winner in the eastern intercollegiate league.

IN this connection I'd like to see a Syracuse-Columbia tussle, the winner to meet Notre Dame. It won't come to pass though. That is, unless as far as the naked eye can discern.

REMEMBER—
Charley Dvorak, Michigan pole-vaulter, of 25 years ago? Dvorak was one of the best vaulters of his day. Could do around 14 feet, six. Prep school lads are flipping that mark now. What a difference in a quarter century of competition!

MICHIGAN won't have Hubbard and Wittman, its two sprint stars, this season. But in the youthful Hester it has an able replacement. Hester, a Detroit boy, is exceptionally fast over 100 yards.

He ran for Canada in the last Olympics. After winning his first heat he drew Abraham of Great Britain. Abraham, the ultimate victor in the event, barely nuzzed Hester out. Watch this ball!

Tri-State Baseball League Organization To Be Finished Today

ALBANY, Ga., Mar. 12.—(AP)—Representatives from Jacksonville, St. Augustine, Montgomery, Savannah, Albany and Columbus met here today to complete organization of the Southeastern Baseball League.

It is proposed to form a class B league from the six cities represented to play a 120 game season.

The initial meeting was held in Savannah Sunday, at which time the six cities were interested because the representatives of Columbus were not able to give a definite answer regarding the league, the entry time was extended until Thursday night.

Jimmy Ring, another seasoned campaigner, will be a Giant in 1926. The McGraw clan obtained the vet hurler from the Phillies in the recent trade that brought two Giants, Jack Bentley and Wayland Dean, to the Quaker town outfit.

Ring had his best season in 1923, winning 18 and losing 10 games to a team that stayed close to the cellar all year. Bentley has been in the main trust since 1923. He has done some impressive work, being a hard hitter and fair pitcher. He will no doubt hold down the first base job for the Phils, where his sticking ability should come to handy. Dean is a "hot" having made his major league debut last year.

In the Cubs' lineup will appear a new face in the person of Jimmy Wambagans, who has seen service with Cleveland and Boston, will be on the Macklin payroll. Wambag, best remembered as the triple-play hero of the 1920 world series, is expected to do utility work for the Athletics. He has been in the majors since 1914.

Authorities Of Amateur Athletic Union Tell History Of Sport Records

NEW YORK, March 12. (AP)—What becomes of the track and field records that occupy so prominent a place in the headlines set tall to find a place in the official book?

On the word of authorities of the Amateur Athletic Union, who have to do with such matters, the main reasons for non-acceptance of so many performances published as records are: (1) Lack of proper conditions, such as track measurements, timing, etc. as prescribed for standard performances; (2) Lack of proper certification by authorized officials; (3) Performance not at officially recognized distance or in unactioned event; (4) Failure to make record application.

World's records, the A. A. U. feels, are not lightly to be considered and should pass all tests before it goes down as a mark for athletes to shoot at. This and for the reasons noted, more than seventy-five percent of the "records" given newspaper prominence never get placed in the official lists.

A quartering wind behind a runner's back, for instance, may be construed as an aid to his performance and sufficient cause for it to be disregarded if any record claim is made.

There was a ripple in athletic circles last November over reports that Jackson Scholz had been credited with a new 100-yard mark of 9.6 seconds. Later he developed the A. A. U. had turned the mark down. It was made in an obscure meet in which Scholz participated in last summer in Greensboro, N. C., and conditions

MANY VETERAN DIAMOND STARS CHANGE TEAMS

'Rabbit' Maranville Is Among Those Who Are To Wear A Different Uniform Than The One Used Last Year

NEW YORK, March 12.—When the 1926 baseball season rolls around, many major league pastimers will be seen in uniforms of clubs other than those they sported last year.

While most of the players changing allegiances are veterans, a few comparative youngsters are nevertheless included in the list.

In the National League the veteran "Rabbit" Maranville will wear the Brooklyn livery. Maranville was with the Cubs last season, acting as manager for a brief period. Previous to that he played with the Pirates and Braves.

He was a member of the famous Boston "miracle" team that won the pennant and world series title in 1914. The Dodgers will also have two other former Braves, Jess Barnes, pitcher, and Gus Felix, outfielder.

Jimmy Ring, another seasoned campaigner, will be a Giant in 1926. The McGraw clan obtained the vet hurler from the Phillies in the recent trade that brought two Giants, Jack Bentley and Wayland Dean, to the Quaker town outfit.

Ring had his best season in 1923, winning 18 and losing 10 games to a team that stayed close to the cellar all year. Bentley has been in the main trust since 1923. The NUT CRACKER

IT always pays to get the jump on the other fellow. Particularly if you are going in for the broad jump.

MR. O'GOFFY had just read in the papers about Jack Dempsey having a protegee. "Gracious, I hope it's nothing serious," he commented.

GREB's astonishing defeat has finally been explained. It develops he trained three whole days for the fight.

THIS should be a lesson to the deposed champion. You can't teach an old parrot new notes and respectability. Coming with a sudden rush invariably proves fatal.

JOHN COOLIDGE is breaking into the swell fight news of the day.

THE president's son exposed his Republican snout to the hardened furies of a Democratic left-hook in a college boat and was beheaded around like a Japanese acrobat.

YOUNG COOLIDGE lost the decision and promptly challenged by the Prince of Wales to a tawdry race in the international kiddie-race sweepstakes.

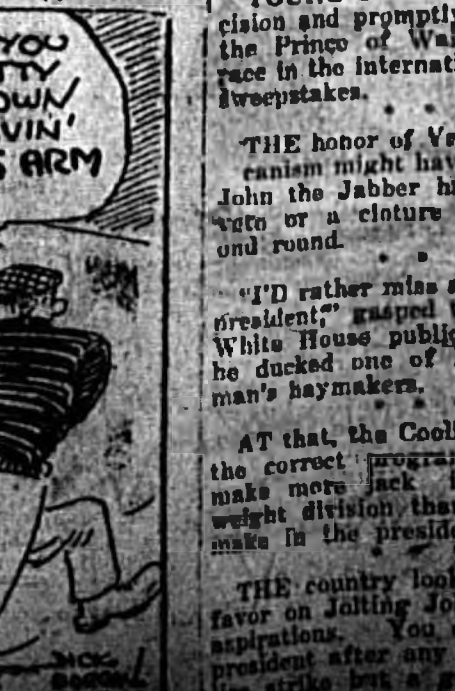

THE honor of Vermont Republicanism might have been saved if John the Jabber had demanded a veto or a closure after the second round.

AT that, the Coolidge youth has the correct program. He can make more just in the welterweight division than he can ever make in the president's chair.

LETTERS ENDEARING TERMS TO WIFE

Letters to Litter Found To Contain Many Words Said To Express Noted Author's Fondness For Actress Wife

LONDON, Mar. 13.—(AP)—With the craze for all things Russian, from ballet dancing to Cossack riding, the name of Anton Tchekov, dramatist and story writer, has become a household word in England.

And English translation has appeared of his letters to his wife, Olga Leonarlovna Knipper, a German actress, whom he married in 1901. In them, the introspective Russian soul reveals itself in many quaint ways.

"Greetings, my little sweet," runs an amorous letter. "I embrace you, waitress, a hundred times. I kiss you warmly. Write, write, my joy or when we are married, I'll beat you. Your husband, Anton."

Tchekov liked to poke sly fun sometimes at his wife's nationality. "Yes, he once signed himself, 'Our husband, in all-wool pants, the German one, and again, 'Voie stern, German husband.'"

"My darling German Pony" is one of Tchekov's terms of endearment to his wife, whom he addressed variously as "My crocodile," "My sweet little crocodile," "My sweet ginger pup without a tail," "My dear little whale," and "My dear goldfish."

"Little frog," and "Little beetle" are also favorite nicknames. One letter he began "Greetings, you rascal!" and signed "Your husband, who wears ruffled pants but doesn't drink."

Tchekov had to live in the Crimea for his health, while his wife followed her profession in Moscow. He died in 1904, only three years of married life.

His "Cherry Orchards," "The Sea Gull" and "Uncle Mitya" have recently been shown in London.

History Told As You Would Read It In This Newspaper

It is doubtful whether through affection for his mistress or through fear of being put to death. Many years before, Agrippina had believed that this would be her end and she had braved it. Her when she was consulting the Chaldeans about Nero, they told her that Nero would be emperor and would kill his mother; she replied, "Let him be my murderer, only not his wife."

BERLIN LETTER

BERLIN, Mar. 13.—(AP)—An American newspaper editor who was responsible for the presence of an unexpected royal guest at a recent ball given by the American embassy in Berlin, is being investigated by the police.

Dr. Mueller found that in 90 out of 100 cases of the loss of an eye the muscles and nerves controlling the movement of the eye were unimpaired. He said he fastens connective muscle tissue of animals to a glass eye and grafts these tissues on to the remnants of the human eye muscles. The extremely delicate operation requires about an hour, and he has been successful in from 80 to 90 per cent of his cases. Success depends to a large extent, he asserted, upon the condition of the eye socket after the loss of the eye.

Berlin police are searching for a clever boy swindler who has been mulcting shop-lifters for several weeks. This lad, about 12 years old, well dressed and apparently well bred, walked into a shoe shop and said his mother wanted to buy a pair of shoes but was too ill to leave the house. He obtained four left shoes for her to try on, promising to return. A few hours later another shoe dealer reported to the police that the same lad had obtained four right shoes and failed to come back. Investigation revealed that the boy must have about fifty matched pairs of shoes, most of them expensive ballroom slippers, stored away somewhere, probably awaiting an opportunity to sell them.

While German farmers are organizing to cut down the potato acreage this year because of low prices prevailing as a result of the bumper crop last season, the introduction of the potato from America, Frederick William, the great elector of Brandenburg was the first to eat potatoes in Germany in 1661. He saved a few and asked his physician and botanist, Johann Siegmund Elsholtz, to plant them in what is now the famous "Justgarten" or park in front of the Cathedral. Now the poorer classes in Germany live on potatoes and cabbage.

European express and railway companies are clamoring for an increase in rates to make up the deficit caused by the lights of the luggage of female travelers. Men used to be called the "suit case" but women have gone them one better. They are now the "hat box case."

Saratoga trunks, which used to be a gold mine for express companies and European railway lines, are no more. Mildly's wardrobe is no more. Mildly's wardrobe is no more.

Most European lines have a sixty pound limit on baggage, which may be checked free. Consequently, transportation lines are almost as hard hit as cloth manufacturers and dye makers by the brevity of skirts and lack of lingerie.

Gilbert Frankau, the novelist, has drawn a delicate distinction for British literati in the United States. "On my trip to America this spring, I shall speak no literature," he said.

"What is the difference?" he was asked.

"You lecture for money and you speak when you're asked," replied Mr. Frankau who will go to Hollywood to see how films are produced.

There are only 256,000 automobiles and trucks in Germany, one for every 244 inhabitants, as against one for every six persons in the United States. In the country as a whole horses outnumber automobiles almost three to one.

Movable glass eyes which are hard to distinguish from normal eyes because they are subject to the control of optic muscles, have been successfully fitted by Dr. Carl Mueller of Jena, noted artificial eye specialist.

Dr. Mueller found that in 90 out of 100 cases of the loss of an eye the muscles and nerves controlling the movement of the eye were unimpaired. He said he fastens connective muscle tissue of animals to a glass eye and grafts these tissues on to the remnants of the human eye muscles. The extremely delicate operation requires about an hour, and he has been successful in from 80 to 90 per cent of his cases. Success depends to a large extent, he asserted, upon the condition of the eye socket after the loss of the eye.

Berlin police are searching for a clever boy swindler who has been mulcting shop-lifters for several weeks. This lad, about 12 years old, well dressed and apparently well bred, walked into a shoe shop and said his mother wanted to buy a pair of shoes but was too ill to leave the house. He obtained four left shoes for her to try on, promising to return. A few hours later another shoe dealer reported to the police that the same lad had obtained four right shoes and failed to come back. Investigation revealed that the boy must have about fifty matched pairs of shoes, most of them expensive ballroom slippers, stored away somewhere, probably awaiting an opportunity to sell them.

While German farmers are organizing to cut down the potato acreage this year because of low prices prevailing as a result of the bumper crop last season, the introduction of the potato from America, Frederick William, the great elector of Brandenburg was the first to eat potatoes in Germany in 1661. He saved a few and asked his physician and botanist, Johann Siegmund Elsholtz, to plant them in what is now the famous "Justgarten" or park in front of the Cathedral. Now the poorer classes in Germany live on potatoes and cabbage.

READ THESE TRUTHS ABOUT A "REAL FLORIDA" CITY

A day-by-day story of a Florida community that we believe will show more comparative progress in the next five years than any other city in the state.

- THIS IS NO. 6
- Sanford Is Not a 'Jazz' City
- In theory and practice, Sanford's citizens have always and will continue to observe "old fashioned" ideals in community-building.
- By that is not meant that Sanford is provincial in any way. Sanford is progressive, but careful of its values, reputation and financial integrity.
- Its people work hard and work together to create tangible assets in order to earn legitimate income on their investments.
- And when they play, their pleasures are of the wholesome sort. This winter, the municipal 18-hole golf course was the scene of one of the most successful tournaments ever held in Florida.
- The half-million-dollar Hotel Farrest Lake, new this year and as fine as any hotel in the State, is their own social center and their appeal to tourist comfort. And Lake Monroe, Sanford's most important commercial asset, saw its first regatta a few days ago, attracting visitors from all parts of the State. In addition are hunting, fishing, theaters, band concerts, etc.
- At Sanford are inexpensive homes and homesites, farms, acreage, business and industrial locations. Municipally owned utilities. Forty-seven miles of paved streets. Three banks. Modern schools, and churches of all denominations.

- Sanford's Claim of Potential Value
- Set forth in a series of fourteen advertisements in this newspaper, in which the story of the City Substantial, is being told, and it will be shown that Sanford NOW has everything for a great city.
- 1—Sanford is the World's Greatest Fishing Center.
 - 2—Sanford's Recreational and Pleasure Resorts.
 - 3—The Hotel Farrest Lake, Sanford's Headquarters.
 - 4—The St. Johns River and Lake Monroe.
 - 5—The St. Johns River-Indian River Canal.
 - 6—Sanford as a Better Place to Live.
 - 7—Sanford as a Transportation Center.
 - 8—How Sanford is Growing.
 - 9—The Spirit of Sanford's Citizenship.
 - 10—Sanford as a Place to Retire Your Old Age.
 - 11—Real Estate Possibilities in Sanford.
 - 12—Sanford's Moderate Cost of Living.
 - 13—Business Necessities in Sanford.
 - 14—Recapitulation of Facts and Statistics.

Come and See for Yourself!

Why Sanford values are undiminished and why its homes are strictly income earning and not speculative. You'll see, for instance, an $8,000,000 resort hotel being harvested.

You'll see a city growing on a magnificent lake of migration on the St. Johns River, situated on transportation by all water routes to principal cities and Tampa. Fullman bus service to all Florida.

You'll see, too, the new half-million-dollar Farrest Lake Hotel.

You'll see property values like those you are used to in North and you will be convinced, as you have become, that today, Sanford offers the best opportunity in St. Petersburg, Miami, Orlando, and Tampa offered ten years ago.

Information, booklet and reprints of any or all of the advertisements in this series will be mailed upon request.

selves to face the onslaughts of their noble kin.

Other principals in the controversy include the Baroness Ravensdale, Lady Alexander Curzon and Lady Cynthia Mosely, whose husband, Oswald Mosely, was a former member of Parliament.

These last three are daughters of another of Levi's daughters now dead, too—the former Mary Letzer, who later became the wife of Lord Nathaniel Curzon, England's one-time minister of foreign affairs and viceroy of India.

At present the estate is being administered in trust and will continue to be administered until the death of Joe Letzer and his sisters. After that the property will be divided equally among the children.

And because there are more relatives living across the sea, most of the millions made in this country will eventually go to build English country houses, mansions and what not.

The present lawsuit in its progress through the courts has grown to be an enormous collection of legal papers which will require the services of two draymen to move when the time comes.

Starting first as a mild misunderstanding, it grew in vehemence through the years and blazed at times to the point of personal wrath under the unceasing and vitriolic bombardment which Lord Curzon kept up to the point of his death.

The British faction want more money than their present annuities of $250,000 call for from the estate. But they want the increase made in such a manner that American inheritance laws will not compel them to leave a big portion of the increase behind.

Joe Letzer and his sister, on the other hand, intend to fight any effort for a greater withdrawal from the estate.

Beauty Shops Are Protected After A Price Cutting War

CHICAGO, March 13.—(AP)—Women of the fashionable South Park quarter enter beauty shops under police protection today. Detectives were detailed to guard a number of shops as a precaution against further outbreaks in what was claimed a rate cutting war.

Attacks on two shops last night were attributed to the disputes. Plate glass windows were shattered by a rain of bullets and the woman proprietor of one shop and her small son escaped possible injury by dropping to the floor.

One owner said she and many other shop owners on the South Side had been threatened with business extinction unless they raised prices to the level charged by another group in the same area. She pointed out that the rates of threatened shops were about half the scale of the others.

SCIENCE IN HIGH SCHOOLS ASKED IN NEW BULLETIN

State Educator Calls Need of Schools A Pressing One in Scientific Field in Foreword of State's Third Bulletin

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Mar. 13. (AP)—The Department of Public Instruction has just issued its third high school bulletin of the past two years. The one of the press now is entitled "The Teaching of High School Science," copies of which are to be mailed to all county superintendents.

In a foreword, Superintendent W. S. Cawthon calls attention to the need of science in the high schools, and bestows particular credit for issuance of the bulletin upon R. M. Seely, state supervisor of high schools. R. J. Longstreet, supervising principal of the Seaside-Daytona Beach high school; T. H. Robinson of the George Washington Junior high school, Tampa; Mrs. Paul Duckworth, Leon high school, Tallahassee; R. M. Evans, state supervisor of elementary schools, and Prof. H. A. Webb of George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tenn., are also mentioned by Mr. Cawthon as contributory factors in the compilation.

The bulletin is devoted to a discussion of the general aims and purposes of science education; the teaching of general science; the botany, teaching chemistry, and biological sciences; general biology; teaching physics, with a supplemental section on the starting of small laboratories.

The three other bulletins issued by the department were those of September, 1924, on the teaching of high school English, and that of September, 1925, on books for the high school library.

PARIS LETTER

PARIS, Mar. 13. (AP)—Regardless of whether the Briand family has a prime minister or not, it does have the distinction of having provided three "queens for the mid-winter celebration at Pornichet, in South Brittany, and that is the spot where Briand was born.

These majesties of a single day—Yvonne Briand, 17, who was elected the "Mimosas Queen" and her 13-year-old twin sisters, Renee and Suzanne, chosen "Violet" and "Camellia" queens—are daughters of a locksmith, a cousin of Aristide Briand.

Radiation is the source of life and the means whereby life is maintained, is the theory of Georges Lohovsky, laid before the Academy of Sciences by Professor D'Arsonval. Life, according to this thesis, ends when the vibration of rays is interrupted. One of the facts that M. Lohovsky cites in support of this theory is the sense of direction in migratory birds. He says that insects, larvae and plants on which the birds live, sent out rays into space just as all living matter does. Migratory birds, he says, are supplied with organs which allow them to receive these rays just as the antennae of a wireless post intercepts waves or as the human eye takes in waves of light. The birds steer toward their food, guided by the rays that it emits, with the same certainty that human beings move

The Marshals of France, over 70 years are in danger of losing their active jobs. The war ministry is considering a measure for the rejuvenation of the whole staff and in order to make way for youngest officers, it is necessary to retire some of the older men. The measure under consideration would retire Marshals Joffre, Foch, Lyautey and Fayolle.

These marshals, as well as Petain and Franchet d'Esperey, are supposedly in active service. Each of them has some task of inspection to perform and each has his own personal staff. Petain and Franchet d'Esperey, however, are the only ones who have important posts. The former is designated commander in chief of the army in case of war and the second is designated to command a group of armies.

If the retirement of Joffre, Foch, Fayolle and Lyautey is decided upon the whole war council will be revised, as they are ex-officio members so long as they are in active service. Younger officers will be named to succeed them, though it is reported on excellent authority that General Sarraill, who himself reaches the fatal age of 70 in April, will be one of the chosen, even though he can serve only a brief moment. This satisfaction is demanded by political friends as compensation for his recall from the post of high commissioner in Syria.

"Amharic" is now, by decree published in the Official Journal, one of the living languages that may be offered by students for examinations for the degree of bachelor of arts in France. There are no indications up to the present as to how many universities are likely to take advantage of this permission, and these may even be some who do not know that "Amharic" is the language spoken by the subjects of the ruler of Abyssinia. The decree prudently warns students who wish to be examined in Amharic that it is only authorized in universities where it is possible to provide a competent examiner.

The decree adds a list of already living languages that may be offered, modern Greek, Portuguese, Rumanian, Danish, Norwegian, Swedish, Polish, Czech, Serbian, Armenian, Persian, Chinese, Japanese, Bulgarian and Malgache, the language of Madagascar.

The wireless is being used for the first time in France in religious propaganda. The Lenin sermons of Father Sannon, the eloquent preacher of Notre Dame cathedral, are being broadcast, while loud speakers carry his words out to the piers of Notre Dame for the benefit of those unable to get inside.

One of the most versatile renegades in the concealment of identity that ever fell into the hands of the Paris police is being investigated in connection with a swindling case. He has a complete set of documents giving him 18 different identities, and the police have not been able to get the right one.

Among his effects were wigs and materials for makeups to go with each one of his aliases. The only conclusion the police have been able to thus far is that the man was arrested under the name of "Chop Suey Chili," though they produce no proof. He has worked at almost all trades and occupations, it seems, and his versatility runs into the arts as well as the trades. He plays the violin like a Virtuoso, paints well and amuses himself during his hearings by drawing cartoons of his judge. He declares that he has a diploma in law, and proves a knowledge of jurisprudence by his replies to the judge's questions.

During the middle ages they had professional rock fights and it was in Italy instead of in Ireland.

European Women

LONDON.—(AP)—Modern woman has a pinched face appearance compared with the women of the Tudor period, said Sir Harry Baldwin, surgeon dentist to King George, before the Institute of Hygiene.

Examination of portraits and drawings of personages of Tudor days, done by Holbein, as shown at Windsor Castle, would reveal that not one shows evidence of the contracted jaw, pinched nostrils, and blankly gazing eyes of the anemoid subject.

"For a typical example of a woman of the anemoid diathesis, look in the exhibition of works by Sargent at the Royal Academy."

"The eyes are wide open and expressionless; the whole nose, especially the region of the nostrils, is pinched and obviously inadequate to supply requirements of normal respiration; the mouth is somewhat open; the jaws contracted and the teeth prominent. This woman is a well marked example of what is characteristic of a great part of our nation at the present time."

Servants' Ball Enjoyed

LONDON.—(AP)—Lady Ian Malcolm's servants' fancy dress ball was a tremendous success this year. Lady Malcolm, as in other years, led off the first dance with her butler.

The demand for tickets for the ball being in aid of West End hospital for Nervous Diseases, was so great the function was held in the Kensington town hall, to accommodate the dancers.

The ball, an annual affair, is for the "upper" servants of Mayfair, including several valets of King George and maids of Queen Mary from Buckingham Palace.

Sewing School Popular

LONDON.—(AP)—Society women, young and old are trekking these days to the Royal School of Needlework at South Kensington where the loveliest "undies" in all England are being made.

The Duchess of York is president of this school, which employs some of the finest needle-women in England. Queen Mary and other members of the Royal Family often visit the school, and the Begum of Bhopal has bought many "necessaries" for the trousseau of her eldest grandchild, Princess Abdol.

British society women buy most of their lingerie at the school.

TAKES FINAL ACTION

WASHINGTON, Mar. 13.—(AP)—The Senate has taken final action on a measure authorizing the War Department to issue certificates of discharge for soldiers dismissed from the army for misrepresentation of age. The measure has passed the House and differences have been adjusted in conference.

YOUNG PEOPLE REBUKED

NEW YORK, Mar. 13.—(AP)—With the returns of a church party from a cruise to the Holy Land on which dancing, smoking and drinking were forbidden, develops that some boisterous dancing among the young folks aboard caused rebukes by chaperones.

RAID BURLESQUE SHOW

NEW YORK, March 13.—(AP)—It is probably not a case of follow the leader, but just after a Berlin police official came to town with a description of complete audits on the stage at home, the New York police raided a burlesque show and arrested 29 girls or "wild women" who wore little else besides rours.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

"Come on out, Grubby," he called.

WHO'S next in your big book?" asked Mister Rubadub.

The March Hare looked at his book through his big spectacles and said, "Grubby Groundhog's next. He really should be almost the first person to go to the Land-Where-Spring-Is-Coming. And here he is, still fast asleep in his house between the fence and the potato-patch."

"I know a story about him," said Nick. "If he comes out of his hole and sees his shadow on the second of February, he goes back in again and stays for six weeks longer."

"Stuff and nonsense and air-sauce!" said the March Hare. "He's too thin now to have any shadow. Or at least he'd have to stand up twice to make one. Why he hasn't had a bite to eat since twelve o'clock on the last day of October. And he's as hungry as three hunters."

At this last dreadful word, the March Hare shivered, and he went on to say quickly that he was going to get old Grubby out of his hole at once, if not sooner.

"You see, he has four doors to his house, and if he knows we're going to get him to be spring-cleaned, he's likely to sneak out another way—his wife too," he explained. "And he would be a disgrace to any community if he went the way he is. The Fairy Queen would discharge me at once—Rubadub too, if she saw him."

Off went the Twins and the March Hare to Grubby Groundhog's house between the fence and the potato patch. "This is—his doorway—his front doorway was there.

Before he left, the March Hare had put a big shiny red apple into his pocket.

"Come on out, Grubby," he called. "Oh, Grubby! Grubby Groundhog, come on out. Come out and see who's here. I've got a surprise for you."

But all the answer he got was a long loud snore and a grunt.

"Dear me! I just have my trouble for my pains," said the March Hare. "Come, children, we'll have to break in like burglars and get this fellow. You have your magic shoes, so come right along. Help me to roll this big stone away from the door. Nick."

Nick helped the March Hare to roll the stone away and they all tiptoed inside, down a long crooked hall, to another hall, then along that to a tiny room.

And there in a bed of moss and leaves and bits of feathers and even strips of dried corn hinks, lay Mister Groundhog—or as some of his special friends called him, Mister Woodchuck.

"Give me your knife, Nick," whispered the March Hare.

"So Nick reached in his pocket and gave the hare his nice little sharp knife with two blades.

But the hare only needed one blade, for what he wanted was to cut the nice big red apple in two. Then he had done this he carefully laid the two pieces of apple under Grubby's nose.

And when the groundhog took his next deep breath to get ready for his next loud snore, he smelt apples!

And everyone knows that apples to a groundhog are like, well—like ice cream soda to a little boy. In about one-third of a minute his nose started to wiggle.

BOB IS UNCHRISTIAN

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Mar. 13.—(AP)—Bobbing woman's hair is unchristian and is an "abomination in the sight of God," says J. H. Diggs, barber shop owner here who put up a sign saying: "Positively no women's or girls' hair bobbed here."

Landis in Bradenton To Watch The Phillies

BRADENTON, Fla., Mar. 13.—(AP)—Judge Kenneth Mountain Landis, czar of baseball, on his annual tour of the spring training camps of the major league clubs, arrived here Friday night and registered at a local hotel where the Philadelphia Nationals are stopping during their practices.

Judge Landis came here from St. Petersburg where he will see Walter Huggins and his Yankees. He will go from Bradenton to Sarasota to call upon John McGraw and the Giants.

SNOWFALL AT ATLANTA

ATLANTA, Ga., Mar. 13.—Snow fell here today, following a light drizzle of rain. The flakes melted at first rapidly as they touched the ground.

DREADFUL PAINS

Georgia Lady, Who Had Lost Too Much Weight, Was Advised to Take Cardui and Is Now Well.

Columbus, Ga.—Mrs. George S. Hunter, of this city, writes:

"After I married, thirteen months ago, I suffered with dreadful pains in my sides during... My side hurt so bad it nearly killed me. I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks at a time. I could not work and I just dragged around the house.

"I got very thin—I went from 125 pounds down to less than 100. My mother had long been a user of Cardui and she knew what a good medicine it was for this trouble, so she told me to get some and take it. I sent to the store after it and before I had taken the first bottle I began to improve.

"My side hurt less and I began to improve in health... The Cardui acted as if the tonic and I do not feel like the same person. I am so much better. I am well now. I have gained ten pounds and am again gaining. My sides do not trouble me at all.

"I wish every suffering woman knew about Cardui." NO-169
