MIAMI BEACH (U)—Twenty-one hotels have been struck or picketed thus far in the AFL Hotel Employees Union's drive to secure recognition as the representative for its members.

Latest to be picketed was the Versailles. The union placed men before it yesterday.

The union began its drive two months ago today. None of the 21 Miami Beach and Miami hotels has come to terms with it.

Property Holdings Crackdown Urged By Hoover Group

WASHINGTON (U)—The Hoover Commission today urged Congress and the President to crack down on what it called mismanagement and wasteful use of the government's vast real estate holdings.

In the latest of a series of reports, the commission said the government owns 492 million acres of land—one fourth of the nation's entire area—and controls federal structures with spare 1,250 times that of New York City's Empire State Building.

Yet the government has no up-to-date inventory of its holdings and exhibits little familiarity with "modern real property management" in their use, the commission said.

As a result, agencies frequently buy new property when they could occupy ground or buildings already owned by the government, said the 12-member commission headed by former President Herbert Hoover.

BURNED WRECKAGE PRESENTS MYSTERY
RIPLEY, Tenn. (U)—A farmer found the burned wreckage of a light plane on an isolated creek bank and called officers.

There was no indication of a crash. The wreckage lay in a little under dirt road, screened by trees and underbrush from a nearby highway. Fresh tire tracks were found.

Sheriff Oscar Griggs said he believes "the thing was just dumped in here and burned by somebody, but for the life of me, I cannot imagine why."

Dishwasher Probed In Torture Killing

FORT LAUDERDALE (U)—Police officers have been questioning a 36-year-old dishwasher about the torture killing of an 81-year-old widow, investigators said today.

LI. Robert W. Johnston said the man, who has been here this winter, was not charged with any crime. Johnston said the man was a native of Kentucky but would not identify him further.

The widow, Mrs. Jane M. Barley, was stabbed at least 10 times by an intruder Thursday night. She died Saturday after giving police a description of her attacker, a slender man with dark, gray-sprinkled hair.

The house was ransacked but officers said the intruder apparently was "more interested in torture than in money." They said he was careful not to inflict a wound that would immediately be fatal but one of the thrusts penetrated a lung.

NIXON EXAMINES SHELTER
HOUSTON (U)—Vice President Nixon looked into a family-size II-bomb shelter yesterday and called it "quite comfortable." Then he added, "But I trust we will never have to use such shelters."

Nixon inspected the $4,000 shelter in which Houston civil defense worker John R. Christmas and his family will live 72 hours this week in a civil defense test.

COULD BE WORSE
DENVER (U)—Orville Day figures he could have fared worse. He reported to police yesterday someone had removed two wheels from his motorcar. But the thieves replaced the equipment with an old, battered set.

Earlier troubles with some commercial lots of the vaccine may have developed, he said, "because the phrasing of the minimum (government) requirements allowed for differing interpretations."

Salk expressed these views in a telegram to Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele made public early today in Pittsburgh.

Pentagon Ponders Production Cutback For Medium Tanks

WASHINGTON (U)—The Pentagon is considering a new cutback in the production rate for M48 medium tanks, the Army's latest model.

However, officials familiar with the study said today, the reduction would not be a major cut in the monthly output. There was speculation it might be something less than 20 per cent.

A reduction in deliveries of the M48, now coming primarily from the Chrysler-operated tank arsenal at Newark, Del., is contemplated simply because the supply of tanks is nearly ample for the regular Army, the National Guard and overseas shipment to foreign governments.

Defense officials say tanks adequate for the equipment of all regular Army units have been produced—a point with which some Army officials take private issue. Similarly, the requirements of the National Guard are being met from the production of the new M48 Patton medium and the somewhat older design M47.

ment, from one place to another. When a company is on "location", it can mean almost anywhere in the country.

For the filming of "High Noon", for example, they first went from Hollywood to Springfield, Mass., where they stayed about a week.

Then, just to shoot one scene, the whole train was brought down to a place near Tampa. In less than two days, "Diesel" and the rest of the crew were taking it back to Hollywood.

They passed through Sanford that time and Durkee recalls that it was necessary for them to stop here for about 1 1/2 hours waiting for a northbound passenger train.

He was to have appeared in a few scenes in "High Noon" but he was told after joining the Navy that these scenes had been cut.

Many of the stars, he said, liked to climb up in the engine to look it over when they had a few spare moments. This, of course, gave him a chance to talk to them often.

One time Marlene Dietrich's daughter was on the set and was making a lot of noise. Her shapely mother could do little to keep her quiet. She noticed that Durkee had hardly opened his mouth since the company began work and she commented that she'd "like to have a fellow like him for a son. He's always so quiet."

The popular, 22-year-old sailor began his railroading career with the Central of Vermont Railroad in the summer of 1940. The following summer he was "speeding" trains in a Vermont yard one day when an official of the AAR happened to see him and offered him a "Hollywood run." An engineer is said to be "speeding" when he uses a switch engine to put together a train from cars parked in the yard. Durkee says that it was necessary to switch about one car a minute into place.

He decided to accept the AAR offer and he spent the summers of 1950 and 1951 working with the movie companies. In June of 1952 he graduated from Spaulding High School, Barre, Vt., and three days later he enlisted in the Navy.

He respects three of the Hollywood stars that he met a great deal more than most. They were Randolph Scott, who told him not to "take home any of Hollywood's ways" with him, Gary Cooper and John Wayne.

Since his experiences with movie making, Durkee pays more attention to the details of a movie than he ever did before. Instead of watching the center of action all the time, he is apt to be looking for things like the rocking of a train during an inside-the-car scene, or the actions of an engineer or conductor as a train starts to roll. He says that "Caine Mutiny" and "Magnificent Obsession" were outstanding movies for accuracy of detail.

"Diesel" makes daily entries in his diary and keeps a complete record of movies which he has seen. He even rates each film according to his own judgment, using the Navy point system of 4.0 for a perfect score, 2.0 for 50%, etc. Both of the above mentioned films were given a 4.0.

He's been interested in trains as long as he can remember, he says, and at home he has a large collection of railroad paraphernalia including time tables, pictures, books, and many other items.

His love for the rails almost came to an end in 1950, however. "Diesel" was making a run as a fireman on the Central Vermont from Montreal to Springfield, Mass. It was his 18th birthday and he was in a happy mood.

Suddenly, he and the engineer felt the engine hit something. A car had not quite made it over a crossing before they came along.

Nothing like that had ever happened to him before but nevertheless he was the first to get down from the engine after they stopped. Words could never describe his feelings when he saw what had happened.

The girl to whom he was engaged had been in the car. She died within five minutes.

"I hated railroading for a long time after that," he says. "But now I believe that I'll go back to it after I'm discharged. One thing I'm sure of - I'm through with Hollywood runs. Those movie people are just too doggone phony for me."

Wesson Ferris Wheel Is Popular With Kids

Many Children Flock Into Yard To Take Rides

By CLAUDE ROSE
Herald Feature Writer
It seems as though "the circus is in town" every day of the year for the kids up in Pine Crest development. That's because Mr. and Mrs. Roland Wesson, 2650 S. Myrtle Ave., have a miniature ferris wheel right in their back yard.

Mr. Wesson purchased it about a year ago for his two children, Cindy, 5 and Dale, 2, but says that "the neighborhood gang gets as much fun out of it as my own children."

The "wheel" is approximately 12-15 feet high and has four seats. It is ordinarily motor driven but at present Roland is using the motor for something else and it's necessary to do the job manually.

It is possible to seat 12 small children, or even four grown-ups, in it and a 1/2 h. p. motor does the job very nicely. Incidentally, Roland built the motor (with a little help) which is used on the wheel.

"We bought it from Richard Norton about a year ago, when we lived out in Geneva," Wesson says. "His father used to make them up North before the war and I understand they sold in those days for something like $385. When we moved here nine months ago, it took six men and a block and tackle to move it."

He estimated that its weight would be about 800-850 pounds. It is very safe for the children since it is welded almost throughout. This made it rather difficult to move since it was impossible to take apart. There are safety bars which hook into place in each of the seats, just like the large carnival ferris wheel.

"When I first got it," muses Wesson, "I had to run it for about an hour every night when I came home from work. All the neighborhood children would be there when I arrived and I had my work cut out for me. But, I didn't mind doing it, the kids all enjoy it so much. And that's why I bought it."

He says that there have been as many as 20 children in their yard at one time.

The Wessons have one of the best play areas that we have ever seen for children. Roland said that his back yard is 100' x 55' and in addition to the ferris wheel, there are a set of swings and a large collapsible swimming pool.

The whole area is surrounded by a fence which "is not to keep the other kids out, by any means, but to keep our own in," says Wesson. Any children who want to are free to use the playthings at any time, and he says that some 10 and 12-year olds have even stopped by for a ride on the wheel.

"These kids won't forget you when they grow up," I remarked to Roland as he showed me the yard. And with a look of pride he said, "I sure hope they don't."

He commented on "the very serious passenger train deficit," pointing out that "if that $600,000 deficit could be reduced or eliminated all freight traffic moving by rail could move under stress anywhere from seven percent to ten percent." And in further commenting on this deficit he stated that "according to Interstate Commerce Commission figures the total deficit absorbed 4.4 per cent of the carriers' freight service net railroad operating income of over one billion and a half dollars."

President Chase stated that proposals had been submitted to the railroads and are now under serious consideration by railroad officials for sound and realistic adjustments in rates, and expressed the opinion that, if published, would return to the rail lines substantial traffic that has been lost to motor truck operators.

Governor Signs Bill For College

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The bill setting up a Community College Council to look into Florida's needs for an expanded system of two-year community or junior colleges was signed into law yesterday by Gov. Collins.

An expanded system of community colleges has been proposed as one answer to increasing demands for facilities at Pensacola, Marianna, St. Petersburg and West Palm Beach.

The council will be composed of the state school superintendent, executive secretary of the Board of Control and the seven-member Advisory Council on Education.

The governor also signed the last of a series of bills levying an extra two million dollars a year in taxes from dog tracks. This measure gives the state all the breaks from betting pools at the tracks. The breaks are odd cents left after parafixes have been made to the nearest dime.

Other bills signed: Appropriated $300,000 to provide money on a 50-50 matching basis to help counties build permanent agricultural and livestock display buildings.

Raised hotel and restaurant license fees from $1 to $10 and provided two inspections annually instead of one.

Menon Sees Freedom Possibility

WASHINGTON (AP)—Indian Diplomat V. K. Krishna Menon said today that he would not discuss any specific subject he had talked about with Eisenhower and Dulles during the meeting in the President's office.

He was asked whether, apart from his report to the President, he could state his feeling about the possibility of release of 11 American airmen acknowledged by Red China to be imprisoned there. Four airmen were released about two weeks ago after Krishna Menon had visited Peking.

In reply to the question, the Indian envoy said:

"Well, apart from my meeting with the President, I have said before in India that the release of the four airmen opened the door."

Krishna Menon said he was sure there would be a "lowering of tensions" between the United States and Red China "if we all make an effort."

He said India is doing its best to help in the process.

Asked whether he was hopeful about getting critical problems solved, he replied:

"I'm a hopeful person, otherwise I wouldn't be around. It is not hope we require but faith."

He also said that he personally looked forward to further talks with Eisenhower.

Final Figures Awaited Three Bids Sent To Commission

"What we want to know is how much we owe on contracts we have finished, so we'll know how much we have left to spend."

That was the way Commissioner Earl Higginbotham put it last night as the City Commission delayed action on bids on downtown sewer construction pending receipt of final estimates on completed sewer work.

Three bids have been received on the downtown project the lowest of which was submitted by Hubbard Construction Co. of Orlando. The firm bid $59,630.75.

Under terms of the contract, 120 days would be given to carry out the work.

In other business, the Commission agreed to sell Bralley Odham lot 110, Rose Court, south of 20th St., for $100 and also okayed the sale to Bobby Newman of lot 100, Rose Court, north of 20th St. The lot sold to Odham comprises about 420 square feet.

The Commission, after voting to sell the land to Odham, accepted a receipt of a proposed 14-house subdivision in that area. Homes valued at from $15,500 to $14,000 will be constructed there by Odham.

The commission voted to extend public liability insurance to cover the Elks Flayground, Civic Center building, and new pond. Previously only the swimming pool has been covered.

Commissioners agreed to erect one street light on Elliott Ave. and four on Scott Ave. from 4th St. to 8th St. Two lights already are located on Scott Ave.

A beer and wine license for Seminole Drive in 6th E. First St. was approved following an application by A. Constantine and Sam Kenis.

During a discussion with Odham, the Commission promised it would try to work out a plan whereby the city could share costs with Odham & Tudor on building water and sewer lines in a subdivision just outside the city. One hundred and 23 homes would be located in the subdivision, which is an extension of Odham & Tudor's Pine Crest subdivision.

The Commission decided it might be possible to repay the development company from some of the water and sewer charges paid by home owners over a five-year period. The lines would be connected to city lines.

Odham said he would spend about $30,000 to construct the water and sewer lines and a lift station.

Mrs. K. E. McKay Dies Yesterday In Miami Hospital

Mrs. McKay was Past Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of Florida, Order of Eastern Star, and a life member of Seminole Chapter No. 2 OES. In this work she was known and loved throughout the State of Florida.

After moving to Miami from Sanford, Mrs. McKay again entered into the teaching profession, and for several years taught in North Miami High. Although in very poor health, she finished this year's school work, entering the hospital the next day, after she had turned in her final report.

Stirring Program Presented Rotary By Fr. Zimmerman

A program that had been postponed from its originally scheduled date was very well received by the members of the Rotary club at its weekly meeting yesterday noon at the Yacht Club.

The Rev. H. Littleton Zimmerman, pastor of Holy Cross Church, had planned the program for the Monday nearest the observance of the birthday of Jefferson Davis, last month, but was called to Baltimore due to the death of Mrs. Zimmerman's father.

In response to the Rev. Zimmerman's request for a show of hands as to how many present had ancestors who were on the side of the Confederacy during the war between the States, nearly 50 per cent raised their hands.

Fr. Zimmerman, after explaining something of the background of the recordings he was about to play, offered some stirring and, as he termed it, "tear jerking" numbers of an album that he claimed was priceless to Southerners.

The concluding number on the recording, "Dixie," brought the large group to its feet. Even those of Northern heritage joined in the applause.

President James Holzelaw presided and visiting Rotarians and guests were introduced by M. L. Raborn.

Group Appointed To Set Standards For Citrus Juice

LAKELAND (AP)—A committee representing producers of the popular new chilled citrus juice has been appointed to try to produce a set of standards agreeable to all of them.

The committee was named yesterday after producers met with the chilled juice committee of the Florida Citrus Commission without reaching any agreement.

There are several different production methods and it has proved difficult to allow for all of them in one set of standards.

The commission approved standards in March but Golden Gift Inc. of Deland attacked them as unfair and has obtained a Circuit Court order banning enforcement pending a hearing.

The producers' committee includes David Hamecher, Bradenton; Dr. J. B. Reid, Deland; Dr. Robert W. Kilburn, Lake Wales; and Ben Jacobstein, Miami.

Pentagon Offered One More Chance

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pentagon officials have been given one more chance to try to convince the Senate Armed Services Committee that a plan to strengthen military reserves should be mailed to draft extension legislation.

For that reason, the armed services court yesterday gave only tentative approval to a bill to continue the regular draft for four years and the doctor draft for two. Both are due to die in 16 days.

The House has voted to continue selective service but has yet to act on a doctor draft bill.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.), who indicated he'll take a lot of convincing, said the committee with-held final approval of the draft extension legislation so administration officials could have another chance to argue their case for the reserve plan, now hung up in the house over the segregation issue.

Formers' Auction Directors Elected

Stockholders of the auction recently held their annual meeting at the Sanford Farmers' Market, Inc. at which time a new board of directors was elected.

Those elected were W. W. Linz, president; James Vonnata, vice-president; Bill Harvey, secretary; and board members: Larry Jones, Graham Hunter, Charles Lewson, Dan Desmond, B. R. Riser, and Vick Arnold.

It was assured at the meeting that the market will continue to serve Seminole and the surrounding counties with better service.

Possible Locations Being Looked Over In Case Of Attack

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts said today the government is looking over places where Congress might move if Washington is hit by enemy attack.

Martin spoke in an interview as President Eisenhower and 15,000 key executive branch officials prepared to leave the capital tomorrow on Operation Alert, a three-day civil defense exercise in which they will practice running the government from selected points in nearby states.

Congress is slated to go on with its business as usual during this test.

It was learned, however, that congressional leaders have accepted an offer by the Office of Defense Mobilization to undertake a survey of sites where the lawmakers could carry on their business should Washington come under attack.

Belgian Leaders Vote To Approve Controversial Bill

BRUSSELS (AP)—The Belgian House of Representatives last night voted 131-1 to approve the controversial government bill to cut state aid to Roman Catholic schools by about 24 per cent.

The chamber's 98 Catholics (Social Christians) party members boycotted the bill and walked out in protest.

The bill now goes to the Senate, where the Socialist-Liberal government coalition also has a majority.

Between 60,000 and 100,000 Catholics marched on Brussels last March to protest the legislation. The government banned the demonstration and in the ensuing clashes between the police and demonstrators, about 40 persons were injured and 64 were jailed.

Big Three Warned By Semi-Officials

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A semi-official group today warned the Big Three World Powers that Nationalist China was not recognizing any decision damaging to her interests reached at the "summit" meeting with Soviet Russia.

The National Assemblymen's Assembly sent the notice to President Eisenhower, Britain Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden and French Premier Edgar Faure through the Nationalist Foreign Office.

The Nationalists include among possible decisions they won't recognize any cease-fire agreement which would involve giving up the offshore islands they held near the Red China coast.

So you think you know your favorite fishing lake pretty well.

Chances are you know only one side of it—the top side. And with a lake, as with a lady, you can always tell from the way things look on the surface just what is going on underneath.

Any productive lake is quite bit like an aquatic farm, built levels like an apartment building. The crops that interest fishermen grow largely on the upper stories.

If these levels, and their fishery, remained constant, everything would be simple. But practically nothing is simple for the fisherman. A lake changes from season to season and sometimes from day to day, with temperature and other factors working Loosely speaking, there are three distinct levels in a typical fishing lake. The upper is sunny, rich in plankton and forage and usually with a warm, even temperature because it gets stirred around by the wind. This is where the fish generally hang out. It's called the epilimnion.

Just below is a layer of cold water that hangs in the lake, between the bright and active upper level and the dead depths.

For that's what the bottom largely is. It is cold and far enough from the surface that the sun-loving aquatic plants can't practice their oxygen-making trade. The trash of old vegetation and decayed lake residents drift to the levels and decay in the process that used up what little oxygen is available.

This thermal stratification, how ever, changes. The fish that lurk a foot or two from the top when spring first warmed those waters may be 20 feet down in mid-summer.

In areas where there is a substantial seasonal swing of the outside temperature, autumn brings something the veterans call "the lake turning over." Surface water cooled by nippy nights sink and the lower waters rise.

For a time there is big business for the fisherman, as his quarries range happily through freshly circulated waters with generally distributed oxygen.

Individual lakes may have additional complications in the makeup. A lake which drains a other lakes may have a denser current of comparatively lifeless water. A shallow, fertile lake may be livable—and fishable—all the way down.

The families of the late Mr. B. C. Steele wish to take this means, to thank their many friends for their kindnesses shown them during the death of the beloved Wife, Mother, Daughter & Sister. We appreciate the many expressions of sympathy, and the beautiful flowers & cards.

Students of New England report that movement of textile industries to the South has eliminated 110,000 jobs in the area in the past four years but growth of such industries as electronics and metalworking has more than made up the loss.

About 3,400 Americans became blind last year because of glaucoma.

There have been only four total eclipses of the sun lasting more than seven minutes during the 20th century.

Walter Hampden's Long Acting Career Has Come To Close

ended the lengthy career of actor Walter Hampden, 75, who performed on stage, screen and television and was particularly noted for his Shakespearean roles. He died Saturday after suffering a stroke while on his way to a motion picture studio to start work on a new film Wednesday. In accordance with his final wishes, the body will be cremated and the ashes returned to New York. Hampden maintained his home at Ridgefield, Conn.

Third baseman Chuck Harmon of the Redlegs played on the Toledo University basketball team that went to the finals of the NIT tournament at Madison Square Garden in 1943. He began Shakespearean roles in 1901 with a company touring Great Britain. He is survived by his widow, English actress Mabel Moore; a son, Paul; and a daughter, Mary, all of Ridgefield. The actor was born Walter Hampden Dougherty in Brooklyn, N.Y., and would have been 76 June 1.

A Question Of Morals

A Senate subcommittee is investigating charges of influence peddling involving government workers in the past such investigations have revealed some rather lurid scandals.

Government workers who engage in influence peddling should be discovered and summarily dealt with. Such people betray their trust, bring shame to the majority of honest hard working men and women who are employed by the government and weaken public confidence in all government.

But the influence peddlers are not the only culprits. There are also the influence purchasers—those who pay a bribe as bad as those who accept it. It is difficult to weigh which crime is worse.

People, some of them very nice people who would be shocked if they were described as less than strictly honest, are sometimes ready to purchase influence whenever they feel the need. They may never seek to gain a business contract through bribery but they see nothing wrong with checking with a local politician to "fix" a traffic ticket. Such people are buying influence and they are expected to pay for it with good will toward the politician who provides it.

Honesty among those who hold government jobs is intolerable. Yet dishonesty among citizens is much more dangerous. The former robs the Republic of its treasure; the latter saps the moral strength of its citizens and is an offense against the belief that people are good enough and intelligent enough to govern themselves.

Air Wave Duty

President Eisenhower, in his speech before the convention of the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters, emphasized the tremendous impact of radio and television on the public and he counseled the broadcasters to know and act on the responsibility that goes with it.

The President's point is a good one; it is applicable to many phases of national life in addition to broadcasting. Americans are justifiably proud of being able to speak of our rights. We do not always accept so readily the responsibility that those rights entail.

As a newspaper has the right to freedom of publication, it carries the responsibility to check its facts and print only the truth. As a merchant has the right to sell his wares freely, so does he have the responsibility to deal honestly with those who buy. As a citizen has the right to vote, so does he have the responsibility to do so intelligently.

Our rights are precious yet if they are to have meaning and survive we must embrace the responsibilities that go with them with equal earnestness.

Writer's Benefactor

Who said, "The pen is mightier than the sword?" John Bartlett knew, and put it down, with many other famous sayings, in the book that has immortalized him, Bartlett's "Familiar Quotations." Its 100th anniversary occurs this year. It has run into many editions and has had a number of rivals. "Bartlett," however, has become a synonym for books of quotations, so that it may eventually get into the dictionary as a name for this type of work.

John Bartlett was a Massachusetts editor and publisher who died in 1905. Without formal education he produced also a well-known concordance to Shakespeare. Not many persons have been able to compile two books that have evoked so much gratitude among their users.

Book Closed Without Conviction In Gruesome Bavarian Puzzler

MUNICH, Germany. (AP)—The state prosecutor has closed the records without a conviction on one of the most gruesome crimes in Bavarian history—the pick-axe slaying of six persons 33 years ago.

One of two suspected slayers is dead. The other cannot be brought to trial under the German statute of limitations.

In March 1922, farmer Andreas Gruber, four members of his family and their maid were hacked to death in a lonely cottage in the Ingolstadt district. The slayer was not found.

In 1941, police say, a woman confessed on her deathbed to a priest that her two brothers committed the crime. Eleven years later, a Bavarian newspaper published a story about the deathbed confession without giving the names given to him by detectives. One of the brothers had been killed near a French prisoner-of-war camp in 1944. The other was found living as

SAM DAWSON

Father Finally Getting His Day

NEW YORK.—Father has been having an exciting and busy year. And now they're giving him a day Sunday.

Newspapers are full of store ads urging a material expression of admiration and affection for the nation's dads. And this year the variety of items is wide and wilder than ever.

But maybe some merchants are missing a bet. Dad has changed in more ways than just in the color of his plumage.

Some time back women discovered that the way to solve the problem of the disappearing servant class was to initiate husbands into the mysteries of housekeeping. So it's as likely to be the man of the house who dreams of an electric dishwasher as it is to be the wife.

Washing machine salesmen might do well to watch a trend that could develop fast. This summer various textile firms are bombarding the market with fabrics for wash-n-wear clothing. They assure Dad he can dunk one of these suits with ease and after it's dry wear it with aplomb.

The next short step is for the husband who never before has given thought to the family wash to be led firmly into the utility room of his ranch house for instructions in how to wash his own suit. And then, of course, he might as well do the family wash while he's about it.

When he isn't in the kitchen, today's father is likely to be in the garage or the basement trying to turn out the book shelves or patio furniture desired by the little woman—almost invariably a great believer in the do-it-yourself movement for husbands.

The market for tools, paints, lumber and maybe Geiger counters should offer a gold mine for Father's Day promoters. If it's the standard items of apparel you want to give Father Sunday, the stores are full of them this year, both in variety and depth. But you may find that father's appearance is changing these days.

Executives of a leading suit and accessories chain report that in the last year or so the shift in men's notions of how they should look has shaved two inches off the shoulders of business suits, trimmed lapels down to 3½ inches from the former 4½ inches, and tightened trousers at the knee by one half inch.

Even greater changes have come in the weekend appearance of the American male—walking shorts, fancier sport shirts and, this year, flamboyantly colored slacks.

George Washington laid the cornerstone of the present U. S. Capitol in 1793.

Cemeteries Said To Be Pleasant

FORT STANTON, N. M., (AP)—

What's new in cemeteries?

Well, if you are really a cemetery connoisseur, there are a couple of interesting ones here in this century-old former Army post where "Blackjack" Pershing, later a famous general, earned his nickname playing cards.

Some people like hospitals. Some like night clubs. Some like cemeteries.

I'm a cemetery man myself, and I suppose most people are. Night clubs cost too much. Hospitals make you nervous. But nothing gives you a better perspective on the importance of life than a visit to a cemetery. No other place is as restful. Only in a cemetery do the dead generally have to pay an admission fee while the living can enter and leave free.

The older cemeteries of the eastern section of the United States are usually well-cared for. But they are also often grimy, trimmed and patterned and have a caught-as-it-is-forever look, as a flower imprisoned in glass does.

The two cemeteries here are somewhat rambling and unkempt. They wear their grass long in stead of trim and tidy. They have a frontier down-to-earth expression. If you can think of cemeteries as having individual expressions, and of course they—just as trees and people and pigeons do.

Both cemeteries seem to have had a "welcome stranger" at the entrance, giving shelter to anyone overcome by the storms of the world.

The bigger cemetery is the newer one. More than half a century ago the Army post was turned into a national hospital for tubercular members of the American Merchant Marine.

It seems, apart from the benefit of climate, an odd place to cure sailors homesick for seas far away. But the vista of bending grass on rolling hills reaching to distant mountains gives one the feeling of being abroad—of straining toward a high shore.

Many of the 851 mariners buried here must have thought of this before they died an inland death. Most of the graves have lost the identity of a name and carry only the tag of a numbered stone. Nobody cared to index them but the government. A few graves have rude, weathered wooden crosses adorned with a faded hand-carved anchor. Many of those with names bear Scandinavian names.

In a separate corner, lined up forever, rest four sailors from the imprisoned crew of the German raider Graf Spee, scuttled off South America early in the second World War.

Does any fraudster still wonder what happened to Herman Neuhoff, born Aug. 8, 1910; or Otto Zeitsch, born April 1, 1910? Well, here they lie, eternal classmates, under the Iron Cross and burgeoning cactus plants.

The older cemetery is the smaller one. It must have been started shortly after the fort was established in 1853.

Here are buried a number of cavalrymen who rode to death to make the frontier safe. But time has destroyed most of their headstones. Who knows what man lies below, and how he died, and why? Their true monument: The great wide West itself.

Hospitably interred with them are a few civilian pioneers. There is also a small, boy's size grave, lovingly outlined with pebbles, and bearing a headstone that says simply: "Charles." The grave is sunken, but flowers still bloom upon it. Somebody remembers Charles.

As I walked toward the gate a dove whirled up with a soft feathered flutter. I saw two small eggs in the nest she had made in the dry parched grass, and knew that as soon as I was gone she would return to that nest, and that out of this old home of death new life would hatch and fly.

A cemetery is a pleasant place—if you aren't in a hurry.

Nephritis May Follow Some Other Infection

By HERMAN M. BUNDESEN, M.D.

YOUR kidneys are your body's filtering system. When something goes wrong with them, you're going to have trouble.

A fairly common source of trouble is nephritis or Bright's disease. In fact, nephritis is the ninth leading cause of death in my home state of Illinois. And only 15 years ago it ranked third with 51.4 deaths per 100,000 population.

Waste Products

Each kidney contains about 1,000,000 tiny filters, which strain waste products from the blood. The waste products, in turn, are eliminated from the body in urine.

The kidneys are the only organs which can remove these waste products. If an infection gets the filtering units of the kidneys out of commission, the waste products pile up in the blood. And if the filtering system fails completely, death soon follows.

More Damage

Nephritis causes the delicate membranes of the filtering units, and some nephritis does even more damage.

Water is retained in the blood, the pressure in the blood rises, the membranes of the filtering units are damaged, and a chain reaction is set off. The kidneys are unable to filter the blood, and the waste products pile up in the blood. And if the filtering system fails completely, death soon follows.

Acute nephritis virtually always follows another infection in the body. In about 80 per cent of the cases, it comes on the heels of a streptococcal infection of the throat or other part of the upper respiratory tract.

Symptoms and Signs

For many years, doctors have used the primary signs, but because this disease has been so well covered in recent years, it now demands for only a small portion of the time of acute nephritis. Symptoms, however, are not infrequently of the occasional course of acute nephritis. Symptoms and signs, especially if you are not by rule, are believed to help nephritis get a start.

Common Symptoms
I, M. D. For the past three years, I have had a running case of acute nephritis. I have had a lot of trouble with the kidneys. I have had a lot of trouble with the kidneys. I have had a lot of trouble with the kidneys.

What to Do
If you have any of the above symptoms, you should see a doctor at once. The doctor will examine you and may order some tests. If the tests show that you have nephritis, the doctor will prescribe treatment. The treatment may include bed rest, a low protein diet, and medicine. The doctor will also tell you how to take care of your kidneys.

The doctor will also tell you how to take care of your kidneys. The doctor will also tell you how to take care of your kidneys. The doctor will also tell you how to take care of your kidneys.

The Rose Rosette is awarded by National Council of Garden Clubs each year for the highest standard of excellence in achievement for a flower show.

Some of the comments of the judges were: "A beautifully planned show," "The focal point was original and appealing, a rustic out door scene of a camp on the famous St. John's River bank," "Junior division excellent, giving evidence of year around instructions," "The artistic arrangements were outstanding, reflecting flower show school training," "The culture exhibits expressed quality rather than quantity."

Black Dress So Dear To Women To Be Replaced By Brown In Fall

The little black dress so dear to the hearts of American women is going to give way to the little brown dress this fall.

Brown is the new darling of the fashion designers. It appears from current previews of fall ready-to-wear. Every shade of brown, from blond to black coffee, is seen in major collections. In New York, crowded garment center, now a milling mass of buyers and fashion reporters.

Christian Dior likes brown. So do Adele Simpson, Ben Reiz, Vera Maxwell, Claire McCardell, Oleg Cassini and other top designers who help decide months in advance what American women are going to wear next season.

The new clothes are going to make a lot of women happy, and even please many husbands, because they are flattering, functional, not drastically different in line from current styles—and they will cost no more than they did last year. In some cases prices are even slightly less.

The costume stands out as the No. 1 favorite for fall. This may be a full-length coat and a matching or coordinated dress, a dress-and-jacket combination or an ensemble consisting of short topper, matching skirt and blouse.

Costumes are highlights of practically every collection, shown in handsome woollens often combined with satin. New looking and high-waisted is the straight, full-length coat with matching skirt and coordinated blouse, being

Miss Frances Cobb Entertains Leaders At Swimming Party

Miss Frances Cobb entertained the Girl Scout Leaders and their families with a swimming party at Rock Springs Thursday. After everyone had enjoyed a delightful swim, a picnic supper was served to the following:

Mrs. Evarae Robb and daughters Nancy, Judy and Sally, Chief and Mrs. Louis B. Clark and daughter Patricia Ann and Carol; Chief and Mrs. L. A. Olson and children Valerie and Andy; Mrs. O. E. Clausen, and children Dan and LuAlice; Mrs. Margie Wilson, Miss Jean Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Butler Jr. and children Kathy, Nora and Linda; Mrs. Pat Bassett and daughter Patty; Mrs. Vera Spaulding and daughter Marie and Paulette; Frances Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Cobb and grandsons Tommy and Mike.

Mrs. Deva Clark, Mrs. Jean Olson, and Mrs. Margie Wilson were each presented with a small gift in appreciation of their fine work with the Girl Scouts. Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Olson, whose husbands are with the Navy, are being transferred to another station. Mrs. Margie Wilson is leaving soon for Gainesville with her husband to enter summer school. All of these leaders will be missed by the Girl Scouts and Leaders of Sanford, and all their friends wish them success in their new homes. It was stated.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

TUESDAY
The Unity Truth Class will have its regular session in the Valley Hotel at 7:45 p.m. Regular study course will be continued and the teacher will be Rev. Carolyn Parsons. The public is invited.

The Pilot Club will hold a covered dish supper at the home of Mrs. Harvey Swanson in Lake Mary.

The R.W.A. circle of the First Christian Church, in cooperation with the Women's fellowship, will meet at the parsonage, 1801 Sanford Ave., to have a work-shop, under the direction of Mrs. Harry Falk and Mrs. Ida McMillan. Co-hostesses for the event are Mrs. Earl Evans and Mrs. L. Tharp. The time is 7:30 p.m.

The First Baptist Church has tail and dinner fashions, and the same fabric often accents wool daytime outfits.

Many slim, dark, wool dresses achieve a sort of schoolgirl look by the addition of white satin collars and bow ties—a style that will appeal to the tailored career-girl type.

Skirt lengths are slightly shorter, if anything—but only slightly. And the threat of a flat-chested feminine citizenry seems to be past. Busts are not accented as much as formerly, but in practically all collections—even Dior's—the bust definitely is there, slightly raised and rounded, but present and accounted for.

Cards Meet G-Men; Beaten By Lakeland

Bright Future Seems Available For Young Men

Players signed by the St. Louis Cardinals during the tryout camp to be held at Municipal Stadium in Sanford on Friday and Saturday, June 12 and 13, may have a great future in front of them.

This was pointed out by Cardinal Manager Harry Walker, who, in taking over as pilot of the Red Birds, noted the great number of young players on the roster.

"The Cardinal policy is to sign up young players, and to give them every opportunity to advance," Walker said. "And the 1955 Cardinals surely are a great example of that."

Walker pointed out that only two of the pitchers on the squad he took over were members of the club a year previous. It showed, he said, that the Cardinals are progressive and alert to the advancement of the players in their minor league organization.

Just on the pitching staff, for example, rookies who came up this year were George Schulz, Bobby Tiefenauer, Larry Jackson, Luis Arroyo and Herb Alford. Other rookies on the club include Bill Virdon, Ken Boyer and Harry Elliott.

"Without checking," Walker said, "I'd bet that no other major league club comes close to having that many rookies on their roster."

Merrett Harris will be the scout who will conduct the tryout camp. Young players between 17 and 23 are invited to attend. There is no charge, and players who signed to contracts will be refunded any expenses incurred as a result of participating in the trial sessions.

Players should bring their own glove, shoes and uniform, if possible. Other equipment will be furnished by the Cardinals.

Sanford's Cardinals play at Gainesville tonight after losing to Lakeland, 8-7, last night in a game played before 676 fans.

Randy Randle singled to score Wilburn Tomberlin in the 11th inning to give Lakeland the victory.

Tomberlin had singled, moved to second on a wild pitch and to third on Jack Lidey's sacrifice.

Don Pray hit a bases-loaded homer for Sanford in the eighth to tie the score. Terry Terrell also homered for Sanford while Norm Niehaus hit for the circuit for Lakeland.

Meanwhile, President John Krider called a special meeting of the Florida State League directors for Wednesday in Orlando to discuss "two questions of importance."

He said one question would be whether the league should adopt a split season but he would not express himself on the other subject.

Persistent rumors have it that the Lakeland franchise will be moved to Miami if the season is split on June 22. It is known that Bob Reedy, wealthy Miami baseball enthusiast, has been in constant touch with Krider and attempted to get an FSL franchise at the beginning of the season.

Last-place St. Petersburg and second-place division clubs are seeking the split schedule which will give them a chance to start again from scratch. Under such an arrangement, the league would have first-half and second-half champions who would play-off for the pennant.

In other games last night, Cocoa defeated Orlando 15-10; St. Petersburg conquered Daytona Beach 12-4; Gainesville whipped West Palm Beach 2-1 in the first game of a doubleheader and West Palm took the afterpiece 7-3.

Claude Raymond won his eighth game in the finals for West Palm but he needed help from Bill Boyette. Yvan Dubois doubled home the winning run in the sixth. Ortega spaced six hits to win the opener for his 11th victory against four defeats.

The split, before 490 West Palm Beach fans, enabled the Indians to move into a tie for second place with Daytona Beach.

At St. Petersburg, Bob Kuykendall delighted 408 hometowners with a three-run inside the park homer in the first and the Saints breezed through the rest of the way. Gasper del Monte scattered 11 hits to hold the Islanders in check.

Cocoa pounded 16 hits off four Orlando pitchers. Four runs came off Morris Trep in the first inning. Carlos Rodriguez, on three singles and a double, and Leo Rodriguez, on two singles, drove in five runs each. The game at Orlando drew 629.

Cards' President Denies All Reports Club Is For Sale

NEW YORK (U-P) — The St. Louis Cardinals were reported up for sale today because they weren't making money.

Club President August A. Busch Jr. vigorously denied the report, which was published in a copyrighted story by Sports Editor Bob Cooke in the New York Herald-Tribune.

Cooke said the Cardinals were on the block "because the club, and certain deals which the club has made, are believed not to have been an asset to the sale of Budweiser beer."

Busch termed the report "perfectly ridiculous" and added: "There's no more truth to it than there is a man in the moon."

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (U-P) — Eastern observers didn't quite know whether to believe everything they had heard about the Chicago Cubs until they saw big Hank Sauer, the human logjam, warming up pitchers in the team's bullpen while a set of former infielders, two of them raw rookies, made one brilliant play after another in Manager Stan Hack's improbable new outfield.

After seeing all that with their own eyes on the Cubs' just-completed swing through the East, local cynics were forced to concede that the whole thing really is happening. Having gone that far, they will not be greatly surprised now if baseball's who-dat club remains second to Brooklyn all the way, the Giants and Milwaukee looking as wobbly as they do.

Sauer, who is not good enough to win back his outfield post from Bob Speake, a rookie first baseman from Des Moines in Class A, hit 41 home runs for last year's seventh-place Cubs. He's been promised a pinch hitting spot now and then if he does a good job on the practice range. Under Hack's revolutionary new scheme, he expects his gardeners to catch flies.

The amazing new Cubs showed these eyes sufficient on their recent call to bring a genuine conviction that they are here to stay and are not just a figment of the imagination.

Sanford youngsters interested in tennis are fortunate that the Navy brought them a fellow like Francis Deame. A personnelman first class at FASRON-51, Deame has begun holding lessons almost daily for both beginners and advanced pupils at the Mayfair Bath and Tennis club courts.

Anyone interested in joining either class should contact Deame at the courts after 3:30 nearly any afternoon. A schedule of lesson days is posted on the bulletin board at the courts.

A veteran of 16 years naval service, Deame has been playing tennis for as long as he can remember. In 1953 he organized and captained a tennis team aboard the USS Salem, a heavy cruiser, and went undefeated in his individual matches. The Salem team played in France, Spain, Italy and Greece.

After leaving the Salem, he went to San Diego and was a member of the base team there. Coach of that team was Herbie Flam, 10th ranking amateur in the U. S. Deame was doubles champion of the Boston Navy Yard and runner-up for First Naval District (all of New England) doubles honors in 1951.

"I'm hoping that the young people of Sanford will show a great interest in tennis," says Deame. "If any of my pupils show promise, I'm going to do my best to enter them in any tournaments which may be held in the area this summer."

The closest batting race in the major leagues occurred in 1931. Chick Hefey won the National League title with .348, while Bill Terry had .346 and Jim Bottomley hit .342.

"Detroit is wonderfully suited and outfitted to hold the Olympics and the United States certainly deserves the games more than it gets them."

But there's an unwritten rule of thumb in the IOC that the summer games should be held in Europe at least two thirds of the time. The 1936 games are to be held in Australia and that, said several influential members of the IOC, should take care of staging them outside Europe for another 13 or 14 years.

The one big hope the Detroiters have is that Rome and Lausanne will get locked in a power fight and counteract each other's vote. With this in mind, Matthaei and his group are wooing all the delegates they can buttahole.

Durocher Is Sore At Giants' Antics

CHICAGO (U-P) — Complacency has put the New York Giants in third place, says Manager Leo Durocher. "We got guys who think you got to win in '55 because you won in '54. Well, it just don't work that way."

"Maybe this looks like the same club that won last year, but you can't tell me these guys are champions. The spirit's gone. It's shot. It isn't there."

Durocher blew his lip yesterday before his last-luster world champions showed off for a three-game set against the second-place Chicago Cubs. The Giants left their Polo Grounds 16 games behind the National League-leading Brooklyn Dodgers and 3½ lengths behind the Cubs.

"I'm real sore at Sal Maglie," said Leo, "because he blew an easy play. Real sore."

Bob Nuxhall, who won his first two decisions pitching for the New York Yankees in the Class B Piedmont League, is a brother of Cincinnati pitching ace Joe Nuxhall.

Five Teams Fight For Top Position In Southern Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Five teams are battling for the post position in the Southern Association today and you've got to credit Phil Page's Birmingham Barons for making this one of the tightest pennant races in the league's history.

The Barons bounced the front running Chattanooga Lookouts 7-1 last night, allowing the Memphis Chicks and Atlanta Crackers to move within one game of first. Birmingham is now only 1½ games off the pace and New Orleans is two games away.

The victory assured Birmingham of a victory over the Lookouts in the three-game series. Chattanooga dropped a 7-4 decision to the Barons in Sunday's series opener.

Other high flying teams have had similar trouble at Birmingham's Rickwood Park. The Barons knocked off Memphis 2-1, New Orleans 2-1 and Atlanta 3-2 in crucial series at Rickwood.

Atlanta defeated Nashville 5-4, New Orleans downed Little Rock 5-3 and Memphis sacked Mobile 7-2 in other Monday action.

The University of North Carolina track team went through its dual meet season without a loss, defeating seven foes. Five triumphs were by more than 30 points.

Frolicking Dodgers Fattened Up Again

The Associated Press

Those frolicking Brooklyn Dodgers, fattened up again on home cooking, started a second swing through the West today, determined to look more like the National League leader this trip.

It was only their fantastic getaway at the start of the season that kept Brooklyn comfortable on the last tour of the West. The Dodgers dropped five of nine against the four Western clubs, yet never were in danger of losing their lead.

After leaving the Salem, he went to San Diego and was a member of the base team there.

Last Battle Will Be Celebrated

MIAMI, Fla. — Next week is the 80th anniversary of one of the most significant events in Florida's history—the last battle between United States soldiers and the Seminole Indians.

The battle will pass without observance, for few Floridians ever heard of the incident.

The Seminoles' wars officially ended May 18, 1832, by order of Maj. Gen. Alexander Macomb, who told the Indians to retire "into a district of country in Florida, below Peace Creek." All other persons were forbidden to enter the territory embracing the lower end of the peninsula.

A string of forts such as Pierce, Basinger, Meade, Green, Chokoma, Hartwell, Ogden and Myers was established in a puny effort to carry out terms of the treaty.

Settlers were told to stay in close proximity of the forts, for protection. However, they were pioneers, determined and independent, and they could not resist the fertile soil, the game and fish that abounded in the valley and beyond.

Such a person was Willoughby Tillis, who settled on a creek some two miles south of Fort Meade. His family included his wife and two young children.

Early on the morning of June 14, 1832, Mrs. Tillis was milking the family cow when she looked up to see an Indian brave peering through the rail fence at her. Mrs.

Tillis dashed for the house, and made it, while Indians surrounded the barn and cow pen.

The Tillis family kept two muskets going and held off the Indians, who set fire to the barn but tried without success to reach and fire the house.

News of the incident soon reached Fort Meade. Lt. Alderman Carlton and six volunteers from two companies at the fort galloped to the rescue of the stubborn Tillis and his family. Carlton's party included Robert Prime, George Howell, John Henry Hollingsworth, Daniel Carlton, Lott Whidden and Robert Parker.

The soldiers chased the Indians into the swamp where battle was joined. Howell, Whidden and Parker were killed and Daniel Carlton was wounded.

Lt. Carlton, grandfather of Doyle E. Carlton, governor of Florida from 1929 to 1933, attempted to lift the body of a comrade to his horse when the Indians drew a bead on him.

"It's too late," he gasped. "They've got me."

The soldiers who were left went back to camp to bury their dead and get reinforcements. The Indians slipped away into the swamps, carrying their dead with them.

Two days later, on June 16, the soldiers came upon the remains of the Indian band a dozen miles to the south, where a high bluff overlooked Peace Creek. Some of the Indians had crossed the stream and others were still in the water.

The soldiers made targets of the bobbing heads, but half a dozen Indians had hidden beneath the ledge of the river bank and returned the fire. Turning their rifles downward, the soldiers quickly wiped out the redskins at their feet. In this skirmish, Robert Prime was killed.

Years later John Henry Hollingsworth met an Indian at a trading post near Fort Ogden and they reminisced about the battle. The Indian said about 40 Seminoles had taken part, and 15 were killed.

After that the Indians stayed on the south side of Peace Creek (now known as Peace River) and the white settlers poured in, taking whatever land they wanted on both sides of the stream.

Momentum Gained By Miami Rumors Of Entry In FSL

Rumors that Miami may get into the Florida State League gained new persistence today because the president of the league wouldn't talk.

John Krider, head of the Class D circuit, called a special meeting of directors for tomorrow in Orlando.

"Two questions of importance" will come up, he said. One subject will be whether the league should adopt a split season as it had in 1933 and 1934.

The matter could be anything, of course; but reports have been current that Bob Reedy, a wealthy Miami baseball enthusiast, has had his eye on the Lakeland franchise.

And it was learned that Reedy who attempted to get an FSL franchise at the beginning of the season has been in constant touch with Krider recently.

Miami has been without professional baseball since the Florida International League folded last year.

A split season arrangement would be a boon to the league because one team, Orlando, is running away with the pennant race. Under such an arrangement, the teams would start again from scratch on June 22. St. Petersburg, 21 games behind, is a principal advocate of the split. The championship would be determined by a playoff between the first-half and second-half leaders.

Campanella, Berra Are Out In Front As Polling Opens

CHICAGO (U-P) — Brooklyn's Roy Campanella and Yogi Berra of the New York Yankees, rival catchers in the last six All-Star Games, burst out in front of their respective leagues yesterday as polling opened for the game to be played at Milwaukee, July 12.

Campanella headed the individual list with 2,406 votes while Berra polled 1,974.

The early votes came principally from Chicago, Milwaukee and scattered cities and towns in the Midwest.

A hot battle expected for the first base post in the National League between Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski and St. Louis' Stan Musial took shape quickly.

Big Klu jumped out ahead with 1,724 votes but "The man was right behind him with 1,531.

BURGERS RETURN: MEET WITH SUCCESS
DENVER — Safe burglars who missed the boat a week ago returned to the Santa Fe Finance Co. and met with success.

Clayton Sites, firm manager, said burglars entered the establishment June 5 and riddled a safe while attempting to break into it. Sites replaced the safe with a new 500-pound model Saturday.

When Sites arrived at the office yesterday he found the safe carted away. It contained only petty cash and checks.

Shakespeare Hobby Profitable For Man

NEW YORK (AP) — New York City policeman Redmond L. O'Hanlon is finding his spare-time interest in Shakespeare profitable. He has piled up winnings of $18,000 on the CBS television giveaway show $64,000 Question.

Last night he doubled his $8,000 prize of the week before by telling who printed the first collected edition of Shakespeare's plays and when. The answer: Isaac Jaggard and Ed Blunt in 1623.

Next week O'Hanlon, the father of five, can choose whether to take the $18,000 or try to double it by answering another Shakespeare question correctly. If successful, he then will have a chance to try for the top prize of $64,000.

Should he miss a question, however, he loses the cash winnings accumulated so far but will get a 1955 Cadillac as a consolation prize.

Classes are planned for boys and girls, ages three-16. Pre-registration is now in progress. Registration will also be made on the opening Monday morning, June 20.

A staff of competent teachers and workers has been at work for several months preparing an interesting and helpful program. Each day there will be Bible stories and lessons, memory work, and handicrafts. The theme of the course is "Marching On." Light refreshments will be served each day.

Adenauer Heading For Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington officials say goodbye today to West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, apparently reassured that Soviet blandishments have had no measurable effect on him.

One official who would not be quoted by name summed up this way the impression Adenauer is leaving as he flies to Boston:

"He's going to Moscow. He's not going until after the Big Four meeting in Geneva. He's not giving an inch to the Soviet push for neutralizing Germany."

Adenauer was asked at a press-radio-television reception yesterday whether he will accept a Soviet invitation to go to Moscow for talks about improving diplomatic and trade relations.

He said he "probably" will go and quickly added, "Such a trip, if it is to serve any purpose, must be prepared for and that takes time."

The July 18 opening of the Big Four meeting at the summit obviously will not give Adenauer the amount of time necessary for preparation before that date.

Eisenhower Heads Seem Well Pleased With Indian Acts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration appeared favorably disposed today toward India's efforts to promote negotiation between the United States and Red China over Formosa and other issues.

There was no evidence that President Eisenhower or Secretary of State Dulles had actually endorsed the diplomatic mission undertaken by India's V. K. Krishna Menon. But it was reported they had given their account of his talks with Red Chinese leaders close and polite attention. He was treated with more regard than officials had expected in the light of the prevailing view that he is unduly friendly to Red China.

After the Indian diplomat had spent 45 minutes with Eisenhower and Dulles yesterday, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty made a surprise announcement that he would see the President again in two or three weeks—and meanwhile would confer in greater detail with Dulles.

It was learned by the manager that the helicopter school at Camp Rucker, Ala., in regard to establishing it for Seminole County. He stated that the school is an inactive Army or Navy establishment containing several buildings that could be used immediately. It was said that the Osceola field was not an acceptable location due to the fact that there were no existing buildings at the site.

Andrew Carraway suggested that it might be best in the interest of Sanford to get behind Deland and support them in obtaining their action with the helicopter school since we "don't have an acceptable site in this area."

Immediately following the meeting the new Board of Directors convened and a report was received from the nominating committee headed by chairman Rayburn T. Milwee. The report was accepted as follows: president, George Touhy; vice-president, Clifford McKibbin; treasurer, Willie Pascoe; additional members of the executive committee, R. T. Milwee, Roy Britt, and B. B. Crumley.

These new officers will take over October 1.

ETHEL BARRYMORE COLT MAKES SINGING DEBUT LONDON (AP) — Ethel Barrymore Colt, soprano daughter of actress Ethel Barrymore, made her London debut as a singer at Wigmore Hall last night. She sang music dating from the 13th century to the present. One critic said she charmed her audience but another suggested she would be wise to confine her singing to a "family circle of very dear friends."

THE DEGREE AGAINST THEM, signed by President Juan Peron and members of his Cabinet, accused the bishops of instigating the disorders which swept the city over the weekend.

Refrigerator Car Holds Man Prisoner

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Manuel Ramirez, 28, rested in a warm hospital bed today, recuperating from the effects of six days he spent locked inside a pitch-black refrigerated railroad car.

Ramirez jumped into the car in Chicago last Wednesday, hoping to return to his family in Laredo, Tex. A workman sealed the car. The temperature inside was about 50 degrees.

Yesterday the car, carrying sheep hides, arrived at a Philadelphia leather processing plant. Employees found Ramirez, almost too weak to move.

Dial Phone System Plans Underway

Appeal Is Sent Out To Cardinals' Fans

Only $4,421.29 has been realized from the first 30 home games played by the Sanford Cardinals, business manager Jay Walter announced today. He said this is an average of $147.37 a game, "less than half the amount needed to pay expenses."

Walter again appealed to the public to support the team and emphasized that "your response will help the officers of this club to decide if the people of Sanford want baseball to continue."

Attendance records show that only 10,550 persons purchased tickets for the home games, an average of 350 a game, he disclosed. Walter said the total included 5,410 white adults, 1,512 white children, 481 service men, 2,777 colored adults and 356 colored children.

"After paying the state sales tax and the city stadium tax," Walter said, "the club has 48 cents left out of each adult ticket, 19 cents from each child ticket and 20 cents from each service man's ticket."

Walter pointed out that the Cardinals are "playing very good ball" since the club succeeded in getting a new manager, Mario (Red) Mauliello, and a number of new players.

Thirteen home games, including three doubleheaders, have been scheduled up to July 1, he said. In addition to the games, he added, "a number of special attractions have been planned."

"Sanford Merchants have donated 'some very valuable' awards for the game Friday night, Walter pointed out. "If you are interested in having baseball continue in Sanford and hearing the out-of-town games on the radio," the business manager said in a statement to the fans, "give your support to the team."

Walter said books of ten tickets for $1 may be obtained by mailing a check to the Sanford Baseball Club, Box 1566, Sanford. "If you enjoy the games on the radio, send your check as a donation to the same address," he said.

Grandma Walker's Tour Is Finished

BROKANE, Wash. (AP) — Grandma Walker (Tom Court) was home today after an experimental, 150-mile walk down the highway from Kennewick, Wash. The idea was to test the stamina of a package, Uranium.

Grandma Walker plans to hitch Uranium to a covered wagon for some pleasure trips to "interesting places." She walked the animal a stretch, tied it up, returned for her car, and repeated the process for some 90% days.

Grandma Walker, who admits to being "over 50," came through in fine shape. So did the package.

Old Battle Lines Drawn Drum-Tight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic and Republican battle lines were drawn drum-tight today, as the House headed into another tussle over the controversial Dixon-Yates power project.

At issue is a section of an appropriations bill which would reject an Eisenhower administration request for $14 million dollars to pay for a transmission line to link the Tennessee Valley Authority system with a private power plant at West Memphis, Ark., on the other side of the Mississippi River.

Briefcase Brigade Ready To Flee

WASHINGTON (AP) — A briefcase brigade of 15,000 officials was poised today to flee, at the siren signal of mock atomic attack, to secret hideaways from which they will run a supposedly shattered nation.

President Eisenhower, his Cabinet and the military joined in the test, named Operation Alert 1955 and designed to send key workers from 31 agencies pouring out of buildings tumbling into cars and streaming to relocation posts 30 to 50 miles away.

Planes called for Washington to be "hit" at 3:25 p.m. and reduced to radioactive ash and debris. Within the following 20 minutes another 48 target cities across the country, each a vital production center, were to be theoretically wiped out.

Arriving and regrouping at the emergency sites this afternoon and tonight, a dispersed government would deal on paper with the awesome task of reorganizing a stricken nation while waging a retaliatory atomic war.

Scores of proclamations and orders will be "issued," Eisenhower will talk to his subordinates and commanders by closed-circuit television.

Electronic brains will assess "casualties" and "damage." Munitions orders will flow to plants outside target cities. "Refugees" will be alerted to safe havens and the National Guard will be mustered to restore order.

Operation Alert already has turned a spotlight on a great gap in the government's defense readiness. Congress has neither plan

Building Erection Scheduled

$1 Million Cost For Project Told

GORDON ROTHERMEL

Gordon J. Rothermel, Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company Group Manager, said today that work would begin this summer on a new building to be erected to house Southern Bell's new dial central office in Sanford. Work will begin on the building in the very near future.

The new building, a two story structure, will be of reinforced concrete and steel and will cost an estimated $250,000. It will house equipment as well as telephone personnel located in Sanford. Rothermel also announced a similar building is to be built in Deland.

Southern Bell has had the lot between Ninth and 10th Streets on Laurel Ave. for some time and the building will be located on this property.

Following completion of this building the company proposes to install modern dial equipment to replace the present manual equipment in Sanford, together with new switchboard positions to handle long distance calls. The entire project will represent, when completed, an expenditure of approximately one million dollars.

Rothermel stated that at the present time there is a workshop at the site of the proposed building's location. The new structure will adjoin the present edifice.

Shopping Center To Be Considered

An application by Howard L. Hughes for commercial zoning of property on the southwest corner of French and Geneva Aves., where he plans a shopping center, will be taken up by the Zoning and Planning Commission tomorrow night.

The Commission will meet at 8 o'clock at City Hall.

Hughes has asked the rezoning of the east one-half of lot 11 and of lot 34 and all of lots 10 and 33 in block 2, Dreamwood subdivision. The property is presently zoned as residential.

The Commission will also discuss an off-street parking ordinance.

Man Is Uneasy With Feeling Eyes Are Spying On Him

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — Douglas Houser had an uncomfortable feeling that he was being spied upon as he watched a TV show in the supposed privacy of his own living room.

He turned around to be greeted by two big, soulful brown eyes. A calf just happened to be passing in the neighborhood and stopped for a look at the strange goings-on in the lighted box.

Houser rushed to his garage, got a length of clothline for what he thought would be a short calf-roping stunt. It turned out to be a half-mile chase in which he was joined by two policemen. They helped corner the frisky calf in the patio of George Melchior's home, and it was carried off to the animal shelter to wait for the owner to claim it.

Pilot Club Okays Plans Presented At Business Meet

The plans of work of the various committee chairman of the Pilot Club were read and approved at a meeting of the group held at the home of Mrs. Harvey Swanson in Lake Mary last night.

The business session, presided over by Mrs. Swanson, followed a "snack talk" supper served on the porch of Mrs. Swanson's home.

Pilot International theme for the year is "Women of Service—Yours is the Earth" and programs for the year have been outlined in keeping with the theme.

Mrs. Walter L. Carter, Milk Bank chairman, reported that a total of 31 quarts of fresh milk had been given to indigent families during the past month through the club's main project fund.

Mrs. M. L. Raborn St. reported on the recent meeting of the Seminole Memorial Hospital Women's Auxiliary of which four pilots are charter members. Mrs. V. L. Messenger has been appointed as publicity chairman for the auxiliary.

Mrs. Al Hunt invited the club to meet at her home for a picnic supper on July 12.

Following the business meeting members were invited by Mrs. Swanson and Mrs. Sue Stevenson, co-hostess, into the garden where ice cold watermelon was served.

Those present at the supper meeting were Mrs. O. K. Goff, Mrs. Joel Field, Mrs. Ruth Scott, Mrs. George A. Stone, Mrs. Messinger, Mrs. Raborn, Mrs. Stevenson, Mrs. Swanson, Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. Nancy Brooks, Mrs. Leon Bryan, Mrs. D. K. McNab, Mrs. J. P. Hall, Mrs. Carter, Mrs. B. E. Elephant Populace Is Dwindling Fast; Extinction Looms

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — The island's elephant population has dwindled to about 800 and faces possible extinction.

The head of the Ceylon government said life bureau, C. W. Nicholas, says these elephants are not more than 25 "buckers" in the jungle. These are mature elephants, with fine tusks, highly valued as sources of ivory.

Thousands of elephants once tramped their way around Ceylon. "But now," Nicholas says, "the meager total may be near the biological minimum below which breeding ceases and extinction follows."

Ceylonese elephants are easier to domesticate than African elephants. This trait started them on the way out. They proved valuable for plowing, road construction jobs, transportation and jungle clearing. They also made ideal participants for parades and religious ceremonies.
