Caught By Surprise, But San Fran's Ready

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A bachelor schoolteacher claims he has proved that it requires only a seven-hour workday to care for a family of four children and do all the washing, ironing, cooking, baking, housecleaning, bathing and disciplining.

Maurice K. Enghausen, 36, a man of great courage, took a dare and found out what it's like to run a home.

It all came about after Enghausen, who teaches at Sau Rapids, Minn., read a Minneapolis Tribune story about the long work week of today's young mother. He wrote a letter to the paper, saying, "Any woman who puts in that many hours is awfully slow, a poor budgeter of time or just plain inefficient."

He offered to prove his point by keeping house for a family. The Tribune arranged for him to take over for three days at the Minneapolis home of the Robert Daltons, subject of the original story.

So, armed with nothing more than his theories and bravery, Enghausen moved into the Dalton house and told the parents to take it easy, that he was there to do all the housework and child tending.

When the sin was over, Enghausen chuckled victoriously. "I still wish teaching 115 students were as easy as handling four children and a house."

Mrs. Dalton, previously more than a little skeptical, praised him. "In cooking, he did better than I do," she conceded. "In cleaning, I am more thorough. But perhaps some of that is unnecessary. He certainly fit beautifully in our family, and the kids were sorry to see him go."

"It's so methodical. The only thing he forgot was to wind his watch."

"And he knew just where to find everything—the soap in the basement and the pliers on the rear of the refrigerator top."

Enghausen figured his work load totaled 30 hours over the three days.

Here is part what he did just the first day:

Bachelor Takes Dare; Learns To Run Home

Washed three loads of clothes and hung them outdoors to dry.

Ironed all the laundry, including underwear and sheets, which Mrs. Dalton does not iron.

Cleaned the first floor.

Baked two cakes, neither from commercial mixes.

Prepared two salads to be eaten the next day.

Fixed a soup and sandwich lunch and a big supper which he served in the back yard.

Bathed Marty, 6, Mary, 3, and Robbie, 2, at the same time.

Timmy, 7, escaped when he heard water running.

Washed the woodwork.

Undressed the children for their naps, and dressed them again when they awakened.

Borrowed soda for the cakes from a next door neighbor "who looked as though she thought she had better humor me."

Disciplined the children mildly. Scrubbed the kitchen floor—at 8 p.m., because he doesn't believe in letting things go until tomorrow.

Made a hit with the children. Timmy gave him 10 pennies for a gift. Mary told him "I really love you," as she climbed onto his lap. And Robert let him do everything for him, from feeding to diaper changing.

Enghausen says his efficiency stems from the fact he has kept house for himself for seven years and did housework to earn money while a college senior.

"My mind works like a clock and is full of pigeon holes like a desk, in which planned thoughts are filed to be used later," he says.

The Daltons considered his stay "wonderful."

State Road Board Study Proposed Bayway Location

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Members of the State Road Board will inspect the site of the proposed Pinellas County bayway Aug. 28.

The board has accepted the invitation of the Pinellas County Commission and chambers of commerce of various municipalities in the area to hold its regular monthly meeting at Clearwater Friday, Aug. 24.

Executive Director Ralph Davis said board members would take advantage of being in the area to look over the route of the proposed bayway, a system of causeways and bridges which would tie the Gulf Key and the lower St. Petersburg beaches with the Sunshine Skyway.

Only district board member Al Rogers and Chairman Wilbur E. Jones have visited the site of the proposed bayway, Davis said.

It is possible the board will be able to announce at the meeting how the $1 million dollars in federal interstate highway funds allocated to Florida for the current fiscal year will be distributed among the five state road districts, Davis said.

The board already has said that the initial federal money will be spent on interstate links in the larger cities to help relieve urban traffic clogs.

The meeting at Clearwater will be the first session the present board has held outside Tallahassee. The law requires that only four meetings a year be held in the capital but in the 19 months it has been in office, the present board has held all of its meetings at Tallahassee.

Riesel Says Killing Means Gang War

NEW YORK (AP)—Labor columnist Victor Riesel says he is slaying of a truck driver Saturday is another link in a chain of underworld murders that have followed his being blinded by acid.

The murders are "indicative of a terrific gang war which is just beginning in New York and will spread across the nation," Riesel said in a brief television appearance last night—the NBC—Steve Allen show.

Riesel, blinded by an acid-throwing hoodlum April 5, referred to the killing Saturday of Fred Mischner, 28. The truck driver was found with four bullets in his body in a hallway of a Lower East Side tenement.

Police said, however, there is "no definite association at this time" between Mischner's death and the slaying of Abraham Telvi, 23, last month.

The FBI has said Telvi was the man who tossed the acid at Riesel for a $1,000 fee.

In his TV appearance last night, Riesel said the murders are a "disciplinary action" on the part of underworld bosses.

"It is the most terrifically organized crime," said the columnist. "Hitting me was only a symbol that he was in crime, who makes organized crime big business, will stop at nothing to get rid of their accusers."

Patients Make Key From Spoon; Flee Mental Hospital

CHATTAHOOCHEE (AP)—Four mental patients fashioned a key out of a spoon handle and fled from the Florida State Hospital yesterday.

Hospital Supt. William Rogers said one of the escapees, William Rodrigus, had been charged with murder in Dade County and another, Edward L. Singleton, had been committed after being convicted in Hillsborough County on breaking and entering charges.

The two others who enjoyed a brief period of liberty were D. J. Monday of Duval County and E. J. Barnes of Putnam County.

Rogers said that while an attendant was taking a group of patients to another section of the hospital, these four used the key to get out one door and broke open another door of their wards.

Monday was apprehended by Deputy Sheriff Robert Martin. The three others were taken by attendants near Hardway east of here.

Police Kill Robber, Capture Two In Gun Duel

NEW YORK (AP)—Police killed one masked robber and captured two others in a blazing gun duel in a plush Park Avenue restaurant last night. A police sergeant was wounded.

A parking lot attendant, who is an ex-patrolman, witnessed the robbery through a kitchen window of the Town and Country Restaurant at 290 Park Ave. He called police who burst in on ten three armed men.

The restaurant had closed 30 minutes before the holdup attempt. Murray Friedlander, 43, cashier of the restaurant, told police three demanded money and a car.

"Gimme the money, you, or I'll kill you!"

Friedlander handed over a cash box containing about $200.

Two of the thugs lined up eight kitchen helpers and a waitress against a wall while the gang leader marched Friedlander upstairs to a safe in the manager's office.

About that time Police Sgt. Howard Brunn and two patrolmen charged into the restaurant. Brunn was shot in the right arm by one of the robbers.

Ike Leaves Tuesday For San Francisco

WASHINGTON (AP)—A change in his plans will put President Eisenhower in San Francisco in time to take a personal hand in the vice presidential running race.

But there was no new indication he plans to do so.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said yesterday Eisenhower will leave tomorrow—24 hours earlier than he had planned—for the Republican National Convention. He said Eisenhower wants more time "to visit with many of his friends who are delegates."

A key administration official who asked not to be named said the change in plans was "in no way related" to the second spot nomination. The nomination is expected to go to Vice President Nixon despite Harold E. Stassen's efforts to keep Nixon off the ticket.

This official said Eisenhower allowed himself an extra day in San Francisco "because he does not want to give any slightest impression of remaining aloof from the convention," and so he can talk with friends.

Culpepper Addresses Teachers, Principals

DR. BROWARD CULPEPPER, Executive Secretary, State Board of Control, (left) chats with Seminole County Superintendent of Public Instruction R. T. Milwee just prior to Dr. Culpepper's address before a meeting of Seminole County teachers this morning. (Staff Photo)

Up to 300 Seminole County school teachers and 19 principals met this morning at Pine Crest School to hear Dr. Broward Culpepper, Executive Secretary of the State Board of Control, and to meet new teachers assigned to schools here.

Dr. Culpepper spoke on "Essentials to Successful Living."

Following the address, a business meeting of the Seminole County Education Association was held to lay plans for the coming year and to complete plans for attending the Area VII meeting of the Florida Education Association which is to be held tomorrow in the Peabody Auditorium, Daytona Beach.

Officers of the Seminole County Education Association are: Mrs. William B. Way, president; Herold Heckenbach, first vice president; Mrs. Lucy Smith, second vice president; Mrs. Mary Joyce Bateman, recording secretary; Fred Murray, treasurer; and Mrs. Helen Stephenson, corresponding secretary.

Committees announced at this morning's meeting by the president are: program, Mrs. Boyd Coleman; ethics, Mrs. Elizabeth Sharon; Mrs. Sybil Routh, publicity; Miss Edna Chittendon, legislative; Mrs. Mary Rogers, news letters; Herold Heckenbach, parliamentarian; Miss Rebecca Stevens and Miss Barbara Ruppert, telephone committee; Mrs. Hamilton Babco, courtesy; Miss Ruth Carlson, social; advisors, R. T. Milwee, Stewart Gatchel, and Mrs. Margaret Golt.

Dr. Culpepper, this morning, told the Seminole County Teachers that "We are living in a great moment of history, the time for greatness of teachers responsible for our coming through."

"There's too much time for cigarettes and all sorts of relaxation without our doing anything. Too many things are presented as counter economics and it is hard for us to select what to do," he said.

"However good, we are not indispensable. Keep in balance and take time to be with other professional people and have an exchange of ideas. Reaching out and teaching the lives of the children is the greatest thing we can do," Dr. Culpepper said.

The Rev. A. G. Melonis, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Sanford in an opening devotional period at the meeting this morning told the assembled teachers that "man's life never was meant to consist of material things alone."

"We thank God for that group of people dedicating their lives to the building of character," he said.

"America, with her barns full needs to examine its sense of values. Efforts spent for children is more important than capital investment," the Rev. Melonis said.

Following the morning session, George Touhy, president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce; the Rev. David Carney, president of the Seminole County Ministerial Association; Mrs. Marion St. John, president of the Seminole County Council of Parents and Teachers; Dr. Terry Bird, Director of the Seminole County Health Unit; Mrs. Mabel Brown and Mrs. Hulda Kibbe, nurses of the Seminole County Health Unit were guests at a luncheon served at Pine Crest School for the teachers and principals. Hugh Carlson, chairman of the Seminole County Principals, presided at the luncheon.

New teachers of the county schools were welcomed by Mrs. Velma Mitchell, principal of Southside Primary School. She presented each new teacher with a bag containing a green apple, candy, chewing gum, pencils, a ball point pen, an address book and mint.

A general session and group meetings were held this afternoon.

Big 3 Seeks Proposal Support

LONDON — The Western Big Three made a concentrated drive for Asian and Middle Eastern support of their proposal for international operation of the Suez Canal today, but India's V. K. Krishna Menon warned that Egypt would reject the plan.

Menon, who visited President Nasser in Cairo before coming to the conference, told a press conference the Western plan was "entirely impracticable."

The Indian envoy yesterday put a compromise proposal before the 22-nation conference called to deal with the Suez dispute. The Indian plan would give Egypt full control of the 103-mile waterway, with an international body to act only in a consultative and advisory capacity.

Menon said the plan presented by Secretary of State Dulles for an international board to operate the canal with Egyptian participation—in effect would internationalize the present canal company. Nasser announced July 20 Egypt had nationalized the canal company.

An authoritative Egyptian source in London declined comment on the U. S. and Indian plans. But he said Egypt is satisfied "the British and French are having second thoughts about the use of force."

In Cairo, however, the authoritative newspaper Al Akhbar said India's proposals were generally acceptable to Egypt. The paper gave a chilly reception to the U. S. plan.

The paper said Egypt does not object to Menon's proposed guarantees of the interests of canal users.

Dulles Is Praised For Great Service In Suez Crisis

LONDON — The liberal Manchester Guardian, frequently critical of Secretary of State Dulles, praised him today for "great service" to the world in the Suez crisis.

The newspaper said the Dulles plan for solving the dispute with Egypt was "admirably conceived."

"In putting it before the conference, Mr. Dulles made a speech of tact and moderation which was firm but courteous to Egypt," the Guardian said. "He has done great service to the Western powers—and to the world—in the past three weeks."

GOP Platform-Makers Pledge New Tax Cuts For Nation

Citizen Requests Study Of Airport Feasibility

Possibilities of a local airport became brighter today as Dr. Henry McLaulin appeared before the Board of Seminole County Commissioners to request their investigation into the feasibility of providing available land for the landing strips.

Dr. McLaulin cited a fund of 251-million dollars of federal money available for participation in state, county or municipal airports.

"I would like to ask that you investigate the feasibility of investing, not spending, in 50 acres of land to be used for this project," the local aviation enthusiast told the County Commissioners.

Calling attention to the amount of air traffic through nearby cities comparable to Sanford, Dr. McLaulin said that two 3,000 foot runways would be the minimum required.

However, discussion broke into the possibility of securing aid in promoting the moving of the Orlando Airport to a location more centrally located and on property available for expansion.

Commissioner Fred Dyson said "I think it is advisable for us to investigate the possibility of building a civil airport in Seminole County and also to determine if the government would approve the selection of a site for the proposed new facility."

County Engineer L. P. Hagan was asked to investigate the possibility of securing desirable land for use as an airport and to contact other persons possibly interested in cooperating with the location of an air field in Seminole County. Hagan is to make his report at the next meeting of the Board of Seminole County Commissioners today. However, he appeared alone at the meeting this morning to make the request.

It is expected that interest will run high in the possibilities of the location of an airport in the immediate vicinity of Sanford.

Dr. McLaulin pointed out that an air field must be at least six miles from the Sanford Naval Air Station because of existing air patterns now being used by Navy craft.

Customs Officers Smash Dope Ring

ROME — Lebanese customs officers working with U. S. narcotics agents have smashed a big ring which smuggled dope into the United States and fostered heroin addiction in Lebanon, it was disclosed here today.

Charles Biragusa, U. S. Bureau of Narcotics district commissioner for Europe and the Middle East, said the ring was smashed with the seizure of a heroin laboratory in Beirut. He said the raid was directed by Capt. Edmund Aizil of the Beirut customs last Saturday.

The raiders seized 26 pounds of pure heroin. Biragusa declined to value the seizure. In New York, police normally rate heroin as worth about $5,000 a pound on the illegal wholesale market. Adulterated and sold to addicts at retail prices, the Beirut seizure would have been worth about 3 1/2 million dollars.

Approval Of Plank Expected

SAN FRANCISCO — Republican platform-makers today pledged the nation new tax cuts "with particular consideration for low and middle income families."

The tentative tax plank is being presented late today to the Republican National Convention for expected certain approval. It calls for tax cuts insofar as they are "consistent with a balanced budget."

The tax plank calls for further reduction in government spending "without weakening the support of a superior defense program or depreciating the quality of essential services of government to our people."

The party's proposed stand on taxes, as drafted by the convention Platform Committee, was one of several planks made public early today.

Others were released earlier by Sen. Prescott Bush of Connecticut committee chairman. He withheld however, the preamble to the platform until he delivers it himself before the convention.

The platform's section on defense expressed party determination to maintain adequate military strength "so long as our security and peace of the world require it."

It declared the United States has "the strongest striking force in the world — in the air — on the sea — and a magnificent supporting land force in our Army and Marine Corps."

Besides the promise to cut personal income taxes the GOP plank pledged to initiate "a sound policy of tax reductions" for small independent business to encourage it to modernize and achieve progress.

"Continued balancing of the budget" also was pledged to assure financial strength of the country and "maintain the purchasing power of a sound dollar."

The GOP plank cleared clear, however, of making the specific tax cut pledges contained in the Democratic platform — to raise personal income tax exemptions from $600 to $800 a year.

The platform claimed that one of the "brightest areas of achievement" under the Republican administration has been the conservation of natural resources. Democrats had claimed at Chicago that the administration allowed "selfish interests" to "pillage" those resources.

"We commend," the platform said, "the Eisenhower administration for its administration of our public lands and for the elimination of bureaucratic abuses."

The platform gave approval to the Eisenhower policy of developing water power resources under a partnership arrangement with government and private interests. Democrats claimed that this policy "has cost the nation billions."

Col. Bender Tells Rotarians Of SAC Activities, Duties

Col. Frank P. Bender, Deputy Commander of the Pinecastle Air Force Base, gave the Sanford Rotarians at their weekly meeting yesterday at the Yacht Club a comprehensive insight of the work of the Strategic Air Command and held his listener's attention with his rapid fire, detailed account of the duties and activities of the various units comprising SAC.

Col. Bender, a native of Brooklyn, N. Y., has seen 17 years' service in the military forces of the nation and is the holder of many awards and citations. He is a graduate of the Naval War College at Newport, R. I., and was recently transferred to the Pinecastle AFB from McDill Field at Tampa.

In speaking of combat activities, he mentioned three phases of the conflict: The build-up, the decisive action and the exploitation and he explained in detail, each phase. He told of the many factors involved in alerting a crew, the hours of training, the varied procedures in keeping flyers "on the ready" at all times and of the many stations participating in SAC plans. It was interesting to learn of the re-fueling methods and where they took place, one member said.

The speaker was introduced by 1st Lieut. Albert J. McGill of Omaha, Neb., Base Information Services Officer, who, in turn was presented by Harry Lee Jr., program chairman for the day. Lt. McGill extended an invitation to the club members to visit Pinecastle AFB and announced the procedure to gain admittance.

Safe Driving Talks Show Good Results

The Safe Driving Lecture program currently being carried out at the Sanford Naval Air Station seems to be causing a marked decrease in the number of accidents and traffic violations involving personnel on the base.

According to a report made by State Trooper T. Mark Mack of the NAS Safe Driving Council, traffic violations have dropped some 50 per cent and the number of accidents has decreased 65 per cent since the first lecture eight weeks ago.

The program presents movies and lectures by notable law enforcement figures of the Seminole area Troopers Mack and Carl Williams gave talks during the month of July while County Prosecutor Kerlyle Housholder is handling the addresses this month. Volle A. Williams, Florida State Attorney, is scheduled to lecture in September.

Continuation of the program, every Tuesday morning, will last as long as the Safe Driving Council considers them necessary.

Youths Seek County Road For Drag Racing

A group of teenaged boys appeared at this morning's session of the Board of Seminole County Commissioners to request permission to use a county road for drag racing on Sunday afternoons.

Headed by Bobby Joe Young, who acted as spokesman for the group of 15 or more boys, the group asked for the use of Lake Howell Road immediately behind Lyman School.

Bobby Joe Young explained that the group is interested in forming a "Hot Rod Club" which would be affiliated with the National Association through which insurance would be issued on each boy participating in the races.

Commissioner Otis Fouracre explained that "it would be easy to block off the road so as not to affect traffic."

Sheriff J. L. Hobby, speaking for the group of teenagers, explained that he would supervise the races. "There are at least 50 boys in Sanford alone, interested in this organization," he said.

The Sheriff said "It would certainly help me because it would take the boys off the roads of the county and put them in one place under supervision."

Commissioner Fouracre said "I think it would be a good thing."

Ten spokesmen for the boys said that boys under 21 could not participate in the club without their parents' permission and boys from 14 to 18 would be required to pass their drivers' examination before participating.

However, County Attorney Mack N. Cleveland Jr., requested that the Board of County Commissioners allow him time to check into and determine the county's responsibility should they sanction such a club.

B. Wiederhold Will Compete In Public Speaking Contest

Bobby Wiederhold, 16-year-old Junior at Seminole High School, will appear before the State Soil Conservation Convention Thursday morning to take part in a public speaking contest in competition with five other representatives from Florida Soil Conservation districts.

Bobby is a member of the Seminole County Chapter of the Future Farmers of America. His instructor is Bill West, Vocational Agriculture teacher at Seminole High School.

This Bobby Wiederhold's first competition on the state level, having won the district public speaking contest for the area in May. Last year he won second place in district competition.

He represents the local FFA Chapter as well as the local soil conservation district when he appears Thursday at the San Juan Hotel in Orlando during the convention.

His subject in the six-district competition will be "Conserving Our Natural Resources."

Fishermen Request Patrol Boats Stay In Campeche Area

TAMPA (AP)—Shrimp fishermen in the Tampa Bay area have joined commercial fishing interests all along the Gulf of Mexico in asking that Coast Guard patrol boats be kept in the Campeche area.

Several industry leaders here expressed concern over plans to withdraw the patrol boats but refused to be quoted by name.

Mary Schulman, assistant state attorney general, who met here with members of the Southeastern Fisheries Assn., said: "These interests are writing letters and bringing some pressure to get Secretary of Treasury Humphrey to direct the patrol to stay on the job."

"All of us feel that the Coast Guard not only can protect the American interests but can see that our boys stay in line. I feel somewhat optimistic that the matter can be worked out so that the patrol boats will stay on the job."

The Campeche banks are among the richest shrimp grounds known. Hundreds of boats from Florida fish there as do many from other Gulf states.

In recent years Mexico has caused loud protests from U. S. shrimp captains by seizing and fining boats which Mexico contended fished illegally in Mexican waters. Mexico contends its jurisdiction extends nine miles from shore. The U. S. maintains Mexico has jurisdiction only three miles out.

Miss Schulman said the Coast Guard originally planned to withdraw its patrols Sept. 1. There have been requests from congressional sources and the State Department for the patrol boats to remain.

Coast Guard headquarters at Washington declined comment.

Tampa shrimp men said withdrawal of the patrols would result in the U. S. shrimp fleet's giving up that profitable fishing ground.

Airline Strike Is Delaying Delegates Arrival To Confab

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Florida delegates to the Republican National Convention are having a difficult time reaching here due to an airline strike in Florida.

All but eight have arrived and these are expected momentarily. Arriving late last night was the state's only GOP representative in Congress, Rep. William Cramer of S. Petersburg.

Altogether, Florida is to have 28 delegates at the convention opening today. The delegation is headed by G. Harold Alexander of Fort Myers who also is chairman of the State Republican Executive Committee.

Alexander said the delegation came to San Francisco solidly behind a ticket of President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon. Florida went Republican in 1952 by more than 100,000 votes.

Use Of Lethal Weapons In Police Work Raises Serious Questions

A police officer in an American city shot a 15-year-old boy the other day. The lad was fleeing from a grocery store with a shopping bag containing the results of a morning's shop-lifting—a shirt, a belt, and some fruit. The policeman later said that he aimed at the boy's legs, but the bullet struck him in the head.

It could have happened in almost any American city. The circumstances call for some re-thinking about the use of lethal weapons in police work.

In the case mentioned above, the young policeman received the full backing of his superiors. They said that he "did nothing wrong." They pointed out that he had no way of knowing what the running boy had committed but thought it might have been a holdup.

Nevertheless, at least two serious questions are raised by this incident. The lesser of the two is this: Should a rookie with hardly any experience—and little skill at marksmanship—be entrusted with a weapon that can take human life?

The other question is the broad one as to what conditions justify firing at a man—as in the case above, a boy who runs and refuses to halt on order, should the policeman shoot? Or should the policeman be expected to withhold his fire unless he is reasonably certain that the fleeing man has committed a grave crime?

This in turn leads to the even broader question whether firearms are a necessary piece of equipment for police on routine duty. In some other countries the police do their job without pistols. That may not be possible in the United States.

But the whole matter needs to be thought through again.

'You Gotta' Be Different

It is somewhat less than original to observe that radio and television gobble talent at a phenomenal rate. But the observation is a true one. Material for entertainers—their jokes and music and routines—vanishes down this insatiable maw in such volume that composers and writers are hard pressed to keep up with the demand. This has two easily perceptible results.

One is that, with new popular music being dashed off in such quantity, a large proportion of it is necessarily rather poor stuff. The other is that singers, in order to catch the public eye (and ear), resort to gimmicks and gyrations ranging from just plain silly to downright uncouth.

Support for this view came the other day from the horse's mouth, as it were. Elvis Presley, a noisy, wriggly and phenomenally popular young troubadour, had this to say: "If you want to get ahead, you gotta be different."

That is the thing—to be different. Not good, necessarily; it requires talent to be good, to sing a melody with feeling and beauty. Being different is easier. Often a peculiar catch in the throat, or an odd way of breaking words in two, can substitute for talent. Whether it can substitute for music is something else again.

Industrial diamonds are not much good for jewelry, but both the Nazis and the Allies wanted them badly in World War II. A vast supply of them was located at Amsterdam, the center of the diamond industry. They would have been a wonderful help to the German war machine, and were indispensable to the Allies.

A transaction only now revealed saved them for the Allies. David E. Walker's new book, "Adventures in Diamonds," tells how the Amsterdam dealers were to deliver their stocks for storage in Great Britain. Consequently, when the Nazis tried to round up the gems, the cupboard was bare.

This little known deal played an important part in Hitler's defeat.

We should be content with what we have——not what we are.

Some people grow when given responsibility; others merely swell.

Floppy Hats Fashion

The fashion writers are giving fair warning: Big, floppy, absurd hats are going to be THE THING this fall. Practical and conservative hats will be available also, it is said, but women who want to be really in the swim will deck themselves out in giddy creations intended to be dramatic and elegant.

The fact that many of these creations, as seen at designers' previews, also succeed in looking a bit ridiculous probably will not deter the ladies who go in for such display. The history of feminine dress and adornment amply proves that being ridiculous never was much of a deterrent, so long as a thing was the fashion.

So it's every man for himself. If the wife comes home with a hat resembling a feathered cartwheel, friend husband might as well tell her it's charming—and pay the bill.

There's nothing else to be done. It's the fashion.

How Party Platforms Differ

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Democratic and Republican platforms—those promises of what they'll do if the voters elect them—are a combination of good intentions and plain political bunk.

The prime example of their plans on foreign policy. The recent thing in a political platform is a new idea. You won't find a single one in the two parties' foreign policy planks if you search them from end to end.

With perhaps one main exception—arms for Israel—you will find no real differences between the parties' foreign policies.

From 1952 to 1954, while they ran the show, the Democrats put together a number of basic foreign policy programs. The Republicans took them over lock, stock and barrel when they were elected four years ago.

So the differences between Democrats and Republicans are on how the policies and programs, now the property of both parties, are being handled. The Democrats say they could do it better, the Republicans say they're doing best.

For example: Both Democratic and Republican foreign policy planks pledge the two parties to continue foreign aid, to help underdeveloped countries, to rely on collective security against Communist aggression, to support the U. N., to back Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese on Formosa, to oppose a seat for Red China in U. N., to continue to seek the freedom of Americans held prisoner by the Red Chinese, to work for the unity of Western Europe, to preserve peace in the Middle East, to intensify cooperation with Latin America.

The Republicans refrain—in saying they will try to keep peace in the Middle East—from saying they will give arms to Israel. The Democrats pledge themselves to help arm the Israelis.

The bunk in the two foreign policy planks is dished out in big chunks.

The Democrats, blasting the Republicans' handling of foreign af-airs, find nothing good to say about President Eisenhower's performance. And they omit any mention of this fact: That fear of war between the United States and Russia has receded greatly under Eisenhower and since his meeting with the Russians.

But the Republicans, apparently hoping that voters are not too familiar with the details of foreign affairs, shovel out bunk of their own.

They claim "international communism" has shown "hostilities both at home and abroad." That's bunk. The Russians have become economically aggressive since they began talking more peacefully.

They have the administration concerned by their offers of aid to backward countries, by their growing influence in the Middle East. The administration has found no new way to cope with them. It's relying on the tried remedies: Foreign aid and big loans.

The Republicans talk, as if with pride, about the liberation of Austria from occupation rule and the fact she is independent. The Eisenhower administration didn't bring that about.

Austria became free and independent only because the Russians—
—for whatever their reasons—decided to withdraw their troops. The Democrats had been trying to get the Russians to do that. The Eisenhower administration simply adopted the same policy and finally the Russians withdrew.

Again the Republicans speak as if with pride about the condition of Viet Nam in Indochina which, the Republican plank says, is "now free and independent."

But what the plank carefully omits saying is this: Since the Eisenhower administration took over, the Indochinese Communists forced the French—while the United States looked on helplessly—to split Viet Nam in half. They hold the northern part.

And you'd never guess—because the Republican plank makes no mention of it—that there is a crisis in Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal, a result of fumbling by both Egyptian President Nasser and Secretary of State Dulles.

Radio Station Will Make Underwater Broadcast Aug. 30

The first commercial underwater broadcast in the history of radio will be made on Thursday, Aug. 30, when Station WMOP, Ocala, takes its microphones beneath the surface for a day-long session of activities in the crystal clear water of Florida's Silver Springs.

Jim Kirk, manager of WMOP, in announcing the unusual event, said that he and his associate, Vernon Arnette, commercial manager of the station, would remain underwater during the entire 13 hours and 15 minutes of the day's broadcast.

The broadcast will originate in an air lock approximately 15 feet below the surface of the Springs. All regularly scheduled programs of the station, including musical segments, will be broadcast from this location, Kirk said.

Both Kirk and Arnette will be outfitted with every convenience for their underwater comfort. They will wear rubber exposure suits to protect them from the cool 72 degree temperature of the water, and will have air lungs nearby in case of emergency.

U.S. Housewives Lead In Shoplifting

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The American housewife, who has many virtues, also leads the nation in one form of crime—shoplifting.

Light-fingered customers cost department and specialty stores at least 30 million dollars a year, and probably more.

"The greatest loss comes from the housewife," said Mrs. Mary Congemi, one of the nation's top store detectives. "She is a good customer in many ways. She pays her bills, keeps up her charge accounts—but she steals, too."

"And if she keeps at it she soon learns all the tricks of the professionals."

Mrs. Congemi, special agent for William F. Alexander, a former infantry officer who acts as a security consultant for 34 department stores throughout the United States, has caught nearly 5,000 shoplifters in the last 10 years. "Most shoplifters are amateurs," she said, "but the amateurs account for 75 per cent of the losses."

"They range in age from 8 to 80. A lot are teenagers, but most are housewives between 20 and 40."

Women shoplifters outnumber men at least five to one. But in either sex the person who actually steals from hunger is unusual.

Many people believe that most shoplifters suffer from kleptomania, or an irresistible compulsion to take something that doesn't belong to them, whether they have any real need for it or not. Mrs. Congemi grimly says this is purely a legend.

"Kleptomania, if there really is such a thing, is very rare," she said. "I've never encountered a kleptomaniac. Shoplifters simply want something for nothing."

"They often have the muddled idea that taking something from a big department store really is not stealing. They don't understand the real moral issue until they are caught."

"But I'll say this about the average housewife who turns amateur shoplifter. Once she has been caught, even though she may have stolen many times before, she usually swears off forever."

Shoplifters are common in all walks of society, from the slum kid to the wealthy dowager.

Recently, in one men's store, here the following were picked up for shoplifting within a 30-day period: an insurance company executive, a lawyer, a doctor's wife, a factory owner, the manager of another store, and a federal employe.

Mrs. Congemi, dark-haired and attractive, is married to a lock smith and has two children. Recently Max Hess, owner of an Allentown, Pa., department store, gave "a little" bonus in shoplifting techniques to 1,000 employes.

Then, to put them to the test, Mrs. Congemi, who was unknown to them, went through the store to see what she could shoplift.

"In an hour and a half I filled three shopping bags with more than $400 worth of merchandise," she recalled. "I had lifted everything from ash trays to expensive dresses."

Wearing a mask over her head to hide her identity, Mrs. Congemi then confronted the sales personnel at a specially called meeting and showed them the results of her safari through the store.

"Salespeople themselves don't appreciate the extent of shoplifting until you actually show them what can be done," she said, and cited the case of one 80-year-old girl who stole sportswear valued at $20,000 from one store in a single season.

One other odd fact about shoplifting:

"It reaches its peak around the two greatest religious holidays—Christmas and Easter," said Mrs. Congemi.

The break occurred yesterday noon during a road gang stop for a snack on State Road 401 about 75 miles north of Tampa.

One of the escapees, slugged Guard C. J. Smith with a pop bottle and the other snatched Smith's shotgun and pistol. They then disarmed walking boss J. W. Giddens and truck driver C. E. Booth, exchanged clothes with the latter two, and tied up all three guards and forced them into the truck's cage with three other convicts.

Bears and Griffin drove about 50 miles around Citrus County with their truckload of prisoners, then stopped Mr. and Mrs. Harry Caltha of Chicago and took their car and $200 at gunpoint. The Calthas also were herded into the cage. Later one of the group jimmied the door and summoned help.

Well, we all hate to see Sandra leave, but we certainly wish her all the best in her new life. I hope you will all be as helpful to me as you have been to Sandra and will bear with any mistakes I may make.

Mrs. George E. Quinn reports that her two charming houseguests, Miss Dorothy Ann and Miss Linda Quinn, of Washington, D. C., liked it here so much when they were here earlier in the summer with their mother, that they just "had" to come back. I can certainly understand that, can't you?

It seems that Mrs. Quinn has had a "host" of company this summer, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Hooley, who returned last week to their home in Washington, D. C., after spending their time here looking around for a place to settle. I sincerely hope they choose Sanford as their new home.

I certainly envy the G. A. Speers who are planning a relaxing ten days in New Smyrna Beach. They will stay over Labor Day, but will return in time for their children to return to school for the fall session. Tommy goes back to the University of Florida and Mary Agnes will be going to Agnes Scott.

On the New Arrivals List . . . Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Leonard who are buying a home at 202 Laurel Drive, came down recently from Rocky Mount, N. C. with their son, who is four and half. Mr.

Leonard is an Aviation Mechanic, 2nd Class in the navy. The Leonards are members of the Baptist Church . . . Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Bass are recent arrivals from Nashville, Tenn., and are now making their home at 813 Magnolia Ave., Apt. Five. Mr. Bass is also in the navy . . . Mr. and Mrs. William Leane of Caroleen, N. C., together with their three girls, ages thirteen, eleven and two, are tenants at 610 Oak Ave. Mr. Leane is in the trucking business.

BIRTHS

Mrs. Maraisio is the former Miss Agnes Mae Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Renae Wilson announce the arrival of a 6 pound 7 ounce girl, Shirley Ann, August 20 at 6:55 p. m. at New Smyrna Beach. The former Nancy Hiles graduated from the Seminole High School. The proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Griggs of Sanford.

Infantry Members Are Getting Trim For Assignment

FT CARSON, Colo. (AP)—Officers and men of the 8th Infantry Division are getting trim waistlines before shipping out for their next duty assignment which will take them to Germany this fall. Maj. Gen. Thomas M. Watlington, fort and division commander, said today punitive action — including court-martial — is being taken against a "handful" of men who have failed to peel off excess fat as ordered. The program to reduce overweight soldiers was announced by the general a month ago.

Gen. Watlington said about 1,200 men in his command of 25,000 were found overweight when he started his drive under an order from the chief of staff. Of that number, the general said, 800 have lost weight and about 400 are still in the reducing-by-diet program.

He estimated that "less than 20 men" have been brought before court-martial boards or punished by unit commanders for failure to comply. He said 10 or less had been given reduction in rank or fines by unit commanders under the 18th Article of War. He added that so far as he could recall, no man of his command had been discharged for failure to bring his weight down.

The Denver Rocky Mountain News in a copyrighted story yesterday said Pvt. Donald O'Brien, who draws approximately $80 a month was sentenced to forfeit $35 a month for the next two months by an eight-man court. He was charged with failing to obey a lawful order by his commanding officer in the diet program.

LOVE BLOSSOMS AGAIN MIAMI (AP)—Love has blossomed for a young couple in the most unlikely of fields—the divorce proceedings and alimony payments branch of Circuit Court. Louie C. As clerks, they handle Miami's mountains of correspondence regarding divorces and accept alimony payments for transfer between divorced couples.

WEDDING SIGNS OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A just-wed couple, off on the honeymoon, didn't mind the "just married" signs on the car but the newlyweds felt their friends went just a little too far. Also painted on the car was Oklahoma City's slogan: "900,000 in '60. Watch Oklahoma City grow."

Couple United Saturday Eve In Impressive Twilight Rites

Miss Linda Koonitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lowell Koonitz, and Charles J. Townsend, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Townsend, were united in holy matrimony on Saturday, Aug. 18, at 5 p. m. in All Souls Catholic Church, with Father Joseph officiating at the double-ring ceremony. The altar and church were beautifully decorated with white and pink gladioli, while Mrs. Millam, organist, softly played appropriate wedding music throughout the lovely ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother James Robert Koonitz, was radiant in a ball-length gown of bouffant white net, which featured a lace jacket and a row of lace around the bottom. She carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds with white ribbon streamers. Her Maid-of-Honor and only attendant was Miss Nelda Taylor, who chose a formal gown of blue net and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Best Man was Richard Marahan.

Mrs. Koonitz selected for her daughter's wedding, a blue voile dress, accented with a corsage of white flowers. Immediately after the wedding, a reception was held in the Koonitz home, 1201 Oak Ave. Mrs. W. W. Tyre and Mrs. Curtis Lavendar assisted with the refreshments, which were served from a lacquered table which featured a traditional wedding cake flanked by white tapers in crystal candelabra and arrangements of hibiscus and fern.

"We Invite Charge Accounts"

The GOLDEN WITCH

By BOB ROSS

CHAPTER TWENTY-FIVE
DAVID SPOKE up while Don and Michael deliberated. "There's been enough of making and accusations. I want to see them go to court."

Don Farmer shrugged. "You know, the prosecution will be guided by your own wishes."

"Council for the defense concern," Michael said quickly. Let the old husband pick his own road. Judge Vanhorn pursed his lips. "The court rules that the matter be held in abeyance. Court stands adjourned."

Don Farmer caught Michael's sleeve when he would have followed Mag, Flo and David. Tim was surrounded by a circle of admiring inquirers.

"By Jupiter," Don said with fervor, "let me borrow your hat some day, Michael! I could use a rabbit and then myself! Though there were moments in that situation of yours when I considered stuffing His Honor's gavel down your throat if Tim hadn't been there to rescue me! He saved a lot of grief." He eyed Michael skeptically. "How'd you have come enough to haul that fat female here? I would've string-balled you with only Tim and those pictures."

Michael grinned. "I'll bet old Vanhorn hasn't had a look at pictures like these since he was part-time with Green in that clubhouse!"

Don quizzed. "It was a good one? You figure the Farmers doped this up when they knew the old man was due to kick the bucket and sure to leave David his money?"

Michael nodded. "The Farmers are gamblers. They put everything on a long shot that pretty near came in."

Mag, Flo, Tim and David were waiting for him.

"We have gone to Frisco on tomorrow's boat," Tim said. "Got her here, Michael? I promised it to her."

Michael strove twice the fare into Flo's living fingers. "You did a fine thing in coming, Miss Gayner."

Her smile changed into the chaos of her cheeks into the chaos of her cheeks. "Did me good. Always did hate her guts." She patted Tim's arm. "And Tim never got a way with her. She stuffed her money into a shapeless purse. 'Come on, Tim, I'll stand you a drink. My whiskey's dry as burned-out magnolia.'"

They went away, and Michael, Mag and David headed home. The dog was thinned now; the air, still and sun-dried, whipped their faces. About them was the hustling energy of the town. Probably, Michael thought, this trial couldn't have happened anywhere else. A solemn singer turned into a pipe organ to collect the jackpot.

Michael turned to Anna. She would certainly have hysterics and he would be forced to deal with her. But she showed no sign of breaking. She simply looked deeply astonished. Nothing, Michael surmised, in her relationship with David had led her to believe he would be anything but meekly grateful to have her return to him.

There was a sudden rustle of movement in the Larkins shrubs. Jambel the cat leaped into the alley, her black body minutely triumphant. The mouse in her jaws squeaked with terror. Her green eyes glowing in the dusk, Jambel executed a flying pounce, landed on her feet before Anna, released the mouse at her feet, reclaimed it lastly as it made its bid for freedom.

"Jambel!" Gretchen screamed and flapped her white apron. "You cat, you cat!"

Jambel, with the skill of practice, dodged, let the mouse escape once more, again retrieved it and shot victoriously under the Cox porch.

At last Anna moved. She wheeled on Mag, her body half-crouching as if she too would spring. Her lips drew back in a snarl. "You—you Jambel!"

Mag stepped back from her. Matilda beamed a sigh and took over. "Now there'll be no going to places, Anna." She grasped Anna's shoulders, forced her about with a firm shove. "Come along with me. You're unstrung. You need a good cup of tea and I don't say I won't face it with medicinal brandy. Being a testotester's fine but a body has to use judgment too." Half-supporting, half-propelling, she forced Anna in the direction of the Cox house. Gretchen hurried after them.

"I did meddle," said Mag. "Perhaps only God has that right." Michael's long-held dislike for people's tendency to fathom personally the workings and desires of deity came to his aid. With the departure of his sense of futility, he felt the delayed intoxication of unsuspected victory.

"Come on, Mag. We'll collect Jenny at the hat shop. I shall then buy you the best dinner Seattle can furnish." His tone softened. "You mustn't blame yourself, Mag. You saved David."

She fell into step with him but her eyes were unhappy.

"And a rescue often involves stepping on lesser things and people's feet. Only no one is ever 'lessen' to himself. Anna blames me because David's going away."

"She'd better blame herself!" Yet he knew it took a big person to blame himself. Anna, he admitted, might cause trouble. A woman filled with hate and loathing might cause anything.

Cubs Like 'Bonus Babies'

CHICAGO (AP) — It took the Chicago Cubs a long time to lay the money on the line for "bonus babies" but they've wasted none in collecting dividends.

"We're just tickled to death over them," said Manager Stan Hack when asked what he thought about pitchers Don Kaiser, Moe Drabowsky and infielder Jerry Kindall—a trio of 21-year-olds who have shown great promise.

They cost an estimated $180,000. It wasn't until last year that the Cubs finally broke down and went into the bonus market with the signing of Don Kaiser, a 23 right-hander from Ada, Okla. Don didn't see much action until he started against Brooklyn this year when he turned back the world champions with a two-hitter.

Since then he has been a regular.

Next came Kindall, who was signed off the University of Minnesota campus in June. Less than a month ago Drabowsky was coaxed to sign, leaving Trinity College and Hartford, Conn., to don a Cub uniform.

Kindall was pressed into action when shortstop Ernie Banks suffered a hand infection a couple of weeks ago and has done an excellent job. But Drabowsky is the newest phenom.

Moe hurried seven innings in an exhibition against the White Sox and gave up only two hits. He so impressed Hack that the Cub pilot decided to start him against the St. Louis Cardinals Saturday night.

"I didn't tell him he was going to pitch until shortly before the game started," Hack said. "I didn't want him to lose any sleep."

Moe wasn't bothered in the least as he limited the Cardinals to five hits in seven innings and left the game with a comfortable lead.

New Pension Plan Okayed By Teams

CINCINNATI (AP)—A new pension plan providing greater payments and fringe benefits was unanimously approved yesterday by representatives of the 16 major league baseball teams.

The new schedule will provide for a life insurance policy, and medical, hospitalization and disability benefits.

The enhanced benefits are made possible by a new 16th million dollar, five-year television and radio contract for the All-Star and World Series games. The contract goes into effect next April 1 at the same time the new pension plan will begin.

A ball player may elect to retire at any age between 50 and 65. The older he is at retirement, the more money he'll get.

Monthly benefits range from $43 for a man who retires at 50 after having played five years, to $550 for a 20-year man who retires at 65.

The team representatives agreed to have eligibility for the plan reach back to 1947 when the first pension schedule was proposed. It would include all players active, inactive and retired since 1947.

The new schedule requires participating players to pay $34 yearly. The new television-radio contract will bring matching funds of $1,900,000 for the five years of the agreement.

The plan now in effect provides for pension payments of $50 monthly for a five-year man and $100 a month for a 10-year man, with $100 the maximum.

A sliding-scale insurance plan will start coverage for players with 60 days of major league service. A $6,000 policy is provided those with under four years' service, ranging up to $10,000 for a 10-year man.

A monthly payment of $450 is provided for all players, active or inactive, who become totally disabled.

If a member dies, his widow will get a monthly income for life or until she remarries, when the schedule provides for a dowry of $24 monthly payments.

Men's Invitational Golf Tournament Stated Sept. 2-3

The first Annual Men's Invitational Golf Tournament at Ellino Village, Sept. 2 and 3, is expected to draw amateur players from a 100-mile radius of the resort club.

The newly inaugurated Lab Day event will make a conservative start. However, within a few years' time, Ellino Village expects the Men's Invitational to be on a level with any of the top tournaments in the South.

The 36-hole medal play class will be a two-day affair. The opening round on Sunday, Sept. 2 will be both the qualifying round and the first round of the tournament. For Monday's final 18, the field will be divided into flights of eight with the championship and ties divided into A and B divisions.

Entry fee for the Labor Day Tournament is five dollars. Prizes will be awarded to winners and runners-up in every flight.

The field will include golfers from Sanford, Orlando, Gainesville, Palatka, New Smyrna, Ocala, Lakeland, DeLand, Jacksonville, Lake Wales, Leesburg, Melbourne, St. Augustine, Winter Haven, and Daytona Beach.

Diseases of the cardiovascular system took 810,000 lives in 1965 accounting for 33 per cent of all deaths last year.

Cocoa Has 3-Game Lead In Pennant Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Six consecutive seventh inning walks gave Cocoa a 5-4 baseball victory over Gainesville last night and the Indians took a three-game lead in the race for the Florida State League pennant.

There were two out and more on base when the walks started. Jim Donahue issued three passes and Don Latham came on and walked the fourth man, forcing in the tying run.

Rolando Basilio took over but couldn't stop it. He walked in the winning run and another one for good measure. Gene Cockrell fled out to end the inning.

The runner-up G-Men have had bad luck playing Cocoa all season, winning only 8 of 19 games. The teams play one more game, at Cocoa Monday.

Leesburg beat Orlando 3-1, West Palm Beach conquered St. Petersburg 5-4 in 10 innings and Daytona Beach whipped Palatka 4-2.

Don Carter took advantage of four straight errors to score Leesburg's first run in the first inning. He also doubled in Red Desmuelles for a score in the fifth after Desmuelles had batted in one on a single.

Bill Close's triple followed by Dick Dickey's single brought West Palm Beach victory. The hits were among six yielded by John Rovello. Keith Brown pitched three-hit ball for the winners after taking over in the fifth.

Daytona Beach's Gene Bennett had a perfect night at the plate—a single, two doubles and a bases empty home run in four trips. He scored three runs in person. The pitching victory was No. 16 for Ronnie Taylor who has lost six.

UNHAPPY C. OF C. SANTA FE, N. M.

FOKs who know the city weren't very surprised, but the Chamber of Commerce was a little unhappy with a recent New Mexico State Traffic Safety Commission report.

The survey showed that chances of being hit by a motor vehicle are much greater in Santa Fe than any other city in the state.

Daily Owns Three Straight Shutouts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bill Dalley, baby of Mobile's suddenly invincible "big four," owned three consecutive shutouts today after pitching the Bears to within half a game of the South-eastern Assn. first division.

The 21-year-old right-hander ran his scoreless streak to 20 innings last night, limiting the Memphis Chickies to three singles in 11 innings of Mobile's 3-0 victory.

Dalley, 23-year-old Gene Larry, 24-year-old Carl Thomas and 25-year-old Don Minick have won their last 12 starts as the Bears' drive to emulate the 1955 Dixie Series champion Mobile entry grows hotter.

Delegates Prepare To Renominate Ike

President, Hall Talk Politics

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—President Eisenhower talked politics today with GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall as the Republican National Convention made ready to renominate the President for a second term. Hall came away with these pronouncements:

1. Eisenhower "hopes it will be an open convention."
2. Vice President Richard M. Nixon is still "perfectly acceptable" as a running mate.
3. Eisenhower "will not discuss any other nominees for the vice presidency."

Pilot Banks Plane Away From Homes; Three Men Killed

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The commander of a stricken Air Force transport plane banked away from a group of houses to an open spot where the aircraft crashed and burned last night, killing three men and injuring three others critically.

Navy Shipmates Meet Again After 10 Years

Ten years is a long time to remember a face, a name, or an association.

But somehow, conversation has the ability to thwart the forgetfulness of most people. . . during a chat event, associations, and names come back as clearly as if they had been only the day before.

Such was the occasion last night when Jaycees were working side by side putting fishing equipment in order for youngsters to have "their day" come Wednesday, Aug. 23.

A. Lee Better Than Liberace Say Local Lions Listeners

Although seven members of the Sanford Lions Club had heard the young lady before, they joined the rest of the members of the club at their regular weekly meeting in an ovation to Little Miss Allyson Lee, 11-year-old concert pianist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Lee of this city.

Pirate's Cruise Slated

Boating enthusiasts in the Sanford and Seminole County area will probably be spending the Labor Day weekend in their boats while taking part in the Pirate's Cruise planned by the Central Florida Cruise Association.

Bob Baker, Assistant Cruise Master for the event, said today that boats taking part in the cruise will be launched at Daytona Beach at the City Docks Ramp back of the Chamber of Commerce Building, with departure time set for 8 a. m. Saturday morning, Sept. 1.

Prior to the Pirate Cruise departure time, coffee and doughnuts will be served "on the house". However, a gigantic Fish Fry has been set for Friday night, Aug. 31 from 6 p. m. to 10 p. m. Admission price to this event is $1.25.

Monday's departure time is 8 a. m. with intermediate stops at Silver Glen Springs and Jungle Den. Boats will be taken out at the ramp located immediately east of the Lake Monroe Bridge where help will be available for the landing of boats.

Baker said today that those interested in registering may do so in Sanford at William P. Smith's, Seminole Sporting Goods, and Robson Sporting Goods.

Along with the registration, each participant in the cruise will receive a Pirate Flag, all cruise maps for the trip, and information relative to motor courts and restaurants and stopover points.

Pleasant Weather Prevails In Nation

Light showers fell in a few areas but fair and mostly pleasant weather prevailed in most of the nation today.

It was a little on the cool side in the eastern third of the country from the Ohio Valley eastward to the Atlantic Coast and southward to the Gulf. Temperatures were about 7 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier, generally in the 60s, with a few 60s in the North. Readings ranged up to the lower 70s along the Gulf Coast.

Ed Lane, chairman of the Ladies Night event, said today that Carl Williams will prepare the barbecue. Served along with the barbecued chickens will be barbecued pork, cold slaw, potato salad, and all of the trimmings that go along with one of the finest meals prepared especially for the ladies.

On hand to furnish entertainment for the huge crowd expected to attend the annual event will be Dawn Shannon and his orchestra. Known for his versatile group and fine singing, Dave Shannon is expected to have a program on tap that will keep the crowd singing, laughing and humming.

Guest of honor for the occasion will be District Governor "Skinny" Sarguine.

Ed Lane said this morning that the event will be held "rain or shine" and that Kiwanians will turn out to honor their ladies nearly 100 per cent.

The regular noon luncheon meeting today at noon at the Sanford Yacht Club was suspended due to the Ladies Night celebration.

Membership Growing In Chiefs Club

Membership of the Seminole Chiefs Club is growing, according to Thomas Stringer, vice president and chairman of the Membership Campaign of the local organization created to stimulate interest in Seminole High School athletic events.

Meeting last night at the Sanford City Hall, the group was told that the membership had increased by the addition of 13 to 14 new enthusiasts.

A "very enthusiastic and optimistic" expression was voiced by those at the meeting toward the securing their full quota of members to make the Seminole Chiefs Club a forceful organization.

The purpose of the club was established at last night's meeting when it was outlined that "the club wants to help the Seminole High School by stimulating interest in the various athletic events of the school and by helping to overcome the financial deficit in the promoting of increased attendance."

Any money the club gets, it was agreed, will parallel projects of the high school in the stimulating of attendance and interest.

In the playing stage now, said Stringer, is the taking of pictures of the football games in order to aid the coaches toward achieving a "winning football team". However, it was explained, full details of this project have not been completed.

In cooperation with the program of the Seminole Chiefs Club, High School Principal Andy Bracken and Athletic Director Fred Ganna will attempt to provide seats for club members at each home game. It was pointed out, however, that the seats reserved for the club members would be reserved only up until game time.

No report was made on the selection of an emblem, cap, hat, sweater.

Kiwanians To Fete Ladies Tomorrow Night At Barbecue

The Sanford Kiwanis Club will honor their ladies tomorrow night with one of their two annual Ladies Night celebrations.

A gigantic chicken barbecue will be served at the Sanford Farmers Auction Market just off 17-92 south of Sanford beginning at 7:30.

Ed Lane, chairman of the Ladies Night event, said today that Carl Williams will prepare the barbecue. Served along with the barbecued chickens will be barbecued pork, cold slaw, potato salad, and all of the trimmings that go along with one of the finest meals prepared especially for the ladies.

On hand to furnish entertainment for the huge crowd expected to attend the annual event will be Dawn Shannon and his orchestra. Known for his versatile group and fine singing, Dave Shannon is expected to have a program on tap that will keep the crowd singing, laughing and humming.

Bisbee, Metts Seen As Probable Starters For Seminoles

HAM BISBEE

TALLAHASSEE—Sanford will be well represented when Florida State University kicks off its football campaign this fall.

According to FSU head coach Tom Nugent, it's very probable halfback Buck Metts and end Tam Bisbee, both of Sanford, will be starting for the Seminoles.

The 160-pound Metts was the Seminoles' No. one scorer with 24 points last season despite being hampered by injuries throughout the season. Bisbee was a regular at right end.

Both are former Seminole high school stars.

"Nugent thinks Metts can 'become one of the finest halfbacks we've ever had at FSU if he doesn't get injured this fall.'"

Just a mile of a guy, the 5-foot-9 scabbard has good speed and all-around ability. As a runner, he averaged better than five yards every time he carried the ball last season.

He ranked 21st in the nation as a punter with an average of 38.4 yards on 25 kicks.

Bisbee is ranked by Nugent as a "better than average" defensive player and a good blocker. Offensively, he caught five passes and averaged better than 23 yards a run on each one.

"On the basis of his showing last season and during the spring practice sessions, we think Ham will probably be our starting right end this fall," said Nugent.

The Seminoles open here Sept. 22 against Ohio University and then meet Georgia, Virginia Tech, North Carolina State, Wake Forest, Villanova, Miami, Furman, Mississippi Southern and Auburn.

Capt. Blackburn Holds Inspection Today After Delay

Hurricane Betsy was kind enough not to cause any damage in the Sanford area, but she did manage to delay the annual inspection of VAH-9 by Capt. J. T. Blackburn, Commander, Heavy Attack Wing One, for a whole week. Originally scheduled for Aug. 15, the inspection was postponed until today by the impending arrival of Betsy. Although she didn't arrive as threatened, most of the squadron's pilots were absent from Sanford last week on hurricane evacuation flights.

The inspection finally took place today; after inspecting the squadron personnel at quarters, Capt. Blackburn and his staff inspected the equipment, aircraft and spaces of VAH-9.

The administrative portion of the inspection consists of each wing staff member getting together with his "opposite number" in the squadron and reviewing his records, files and procedures. In addition to revealing possible discrepancies in the administrative procedures, this inspection is also a source for new ideas and methods which, if found desirable, are passed along to other squadrons in Heavy Attack Wing One for adoption.

Captain Blackwell was accompanied by the personnel inspection by Cdr. W. E. Lemos, Chief Staff Officer of Heavy Attack Wing One and former commanding officer of VAH-9.

West Palm Beach Plane

Those badly hurt were identified as Maj. Eugene E. Walker, Capt. Howard Leland Pruden and T. Sgt. William Q. Brookley, all of whom had West Palm Beach addresses.

They were taken to Brooks Army Medical Center at San Antonio, Tex., early today accompanied by an Army medical team specializing in burns.

Names of the dead were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Cause of the crash was not immediately determined but at least one engine was not functioning. An aircraft accident investigation team was appointed and search continued for all missing parts of the plane.

Flames enveloped the wreckage after the crash, sending up a towering column of smoke that attracted thousands of persons.

An explosion followed.

Mrs. Jane Miller, whose home was a few hundred yards away, said the pilot "knew he was going to crash but maneuvered his ship so he could avoid any homes.

"We'd all better get down on our knees and say thanks to God. That man saved our lives and homes."

The pilot radioed the base that his plane was in distress and that he was banking to the right to avoid the houses. It fell into an open field about a mile from the base.

National Airlines To Put 4 Flights Back In Operation

MIAMI (AP)—National Airlines planned to place back into operation today four flights between Miami and Key West. The company suspended most of its operation last weekend in a labor dispute with its pilots.

The Key West flights bring the service there back to half of normal. Eight flights ordinarily operate daily between the two cities.

National said that tomorrow it would add flights to West Palm Beach, Jacksonville, Panama City, Pensacola, Mobile, New Bern and Wilmington, N. C., Charleston, S. C., Savannah, Ga., and Philadelphia from the South.

These additions will place some 10 per cent of the company's flights back in operation, a spokesman said. Half its personnel will again be employed and some degree of service will be available in 65 per cent of the cities National serves.

A federal mediation board representative, James Holgren, said he has asked both the company and the pilots' union to prepare a list of their differences.

The company suspended most of its operations Friday under what it said was an "on again off again" strike threat by the pilots. The strike failed to come off. Instead, the pilots agreed to mediation.
