NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The body of Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel, the German-born prelate who headed the Roman Catholic New Orleans archdiocese for 27 years, lay in state today at Notre Dame seminary.

Rummel drew nationwide attention in 1962 when he ordered Catholic schools in his archdiocese desegregated. He died Sunday in Hotel Dieu Catholic Hospital at the age of 88.

He was admitted to the hospital Saturday for treatment for double pneumonia. He was put under oxygen and early reports said he was responding well to treatment. However, a few hours later he was listed as critical. He died at 1:30 p.m.

Shortened Campaign Urged By Candidates

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President-elect Hubert H. Humphrey shares his Republican opponents' belief that the election campaign is too long and should be shortened.

Humphrey, who is vacationing in the Virgin Islands, said in a taped television interview Sunday that he thought most voters had made up their minds at least two weeks before last Tuesday's balloting.

He suggested that there is "a little bipartisan soul-searching and bipartisan reasoning and negotiation" to hold the national party conventions in September rather than in July or August.

Both Sen. Barry M. Goldwater and Rep. William E. Miller, the defeated Republican ticket, have said the election campaign was too long. Miller has said it was "too long, too expensive, too arduous and too boring to the public."

Humphrey, who was interviewed last week by the television program, said six weeks of campaigning was enough. The present standard is about 10 weeks.

Pro-Western Sato New Japan Leader

TOKYO (UPI) — The Japanese Parliament today elected pro-Western Isaku Sato as prime minister to succeed the ailing Hayato Ikeda. Sato was handpicked by Ikeda in a dramatic bedside conference that broke a political deadlock.

Sato is expected to maintain Japan's close relationship with the United States, and keep the country firmly in the Western camp. But he is not expected to halt Japan's increasing trade with Communist China, started in the Ikeda regime.

The new prime minister assumed office at a time of unrest among militant Japanese students. More than 20,000 staged a demonstration Sunday in the southern port city of Sasebo against the scheduled visit of American nuclear submarines. Six persons were arrested in clashes with police. A similar clash occurred Saturday in Yokosuka.

City Approves Further Action On Marina

Free Auto Park OK'd

By Dotie Austin
Shoppers may park free for two hours in downtown Sanford now—but they had better synchronize their watches, or keep a sharp eye on the clock on the bank corner.

Over time violations will now draw a fine of $2 instead of the former 25 cents.

City Commissioners voted Monday to remove the heads from all parking meters for 90 days, including those in the parking lots, and install two-hour parking signs some time this week. At the same time, they raised the overtime parking fine to the $2 figure.

Discussion and action was a continuation of problems which arose a week ago when the Sanford Merchant's Association appeared before the commission to request that meters be capped for 90 days beginning during the week of Nov. 9 and a 50-cent fine levied for overtime parking.

Commissioners at that time agreed to go along with the request, but delayed action on the setting of fines until it could be determined if a new ordinance was necessary. City attorney William Hutchinson reported Monday that no new ordinance was necessary.

At the end of the 90-day trial period, Merchant's Association chairman B. L. Perkins Jr. promised to give commissioners a written report of the effort of the meter capping on downtown business. Merchants felt the move necessary in order to compete with shopping centers' free parking lots.

Heavy Demands Deplete Funds

In order to cope with heavy demands on the contingency fund of the city budget, City Commissioners Monday voted to transfer $6,000 which would have air conditioned the Sanford Public Library and $4,325 from the materials account of the West 13th Street reconstruction monies to the contingency fund.

The "leeway" contingency account was set at $12,000 for the fiscal year which began in October but has already been heavily depleted by many demands which were made on it, and others which have been promised.

Included were school crossing guards' salaries, Conservation Week expenses of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, care of new police dogs, architectural fees on the proposed new youth recreation building and two watches.

Funds not yet taken out of contingency, but promised include highway signs for the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, actuarial studies on the firemen's pension system and the balance of Conservation Week expenses.

These demands will decrease the $12,000 contingency fund by $11,833, leaving only a few dollars to offset the parking meter revenue loss, which has been estimated at approximately $4,472 for the three-month trial period.

Still to be considered for financing this year is the activation of a traffic signal at Third Street and French Avenue and an overhead crosswalk at Sanford Junior High School.

Commissioners have expressed hope that the county school board and the state road department would give some assistance on these two projects, but neither one has made any commitment to do so.

Rain Damage Disaster Aid Seen By Bush

Septic tanks will not be allowed in the second section of English Estates since adequate sewer lines are available, the County Commission ruled this morning.

The action follows a recommendation from the zoning director, Robert Brown.

In an otherwise routine meeting this morning, commissioners were advised by William Bush, county engineer, that the county stands a "good chance" of getting financial help to correct damage caused by the recent heavy rains.

Bush said the areas in question—in the Casselberry and Bear Lake areas—were inspected by C. J. Walker, of the Florida State Board of Health, and he said he would support Seminole's bid for disaster aid.

Bush said his office is in the process of filling in the proper forms to get the financial help.

The finances would be used to correct road damage and flooded areas, Bush reported.

In other action, the Commission:

- Directed Commissioner John Fitzpatrick to check into the advisability of "controlled burning" of the Osceola airstrip.
- Delayed action on a plan to make a beach at Crystal Lake in Lake Mary accessible to the public. The plan would have an unused portion of Wilson Drive opened to the lake.
- Opened bids on various road improvement equipment and referred them to Bush for study.
- Asked the road department to submit a progress report covering the past several months.
- Approved the addition of a telephone line to the offices of County Agricultural Agent Cecil A. Tucker.
- Okayed tomorrow, Veterans Day, as a working day for county employees but will give them the Friday after Thanksgiving as a holiday thus making a four day weekend.
- Gave its support to the Florida Development Commission and Gov. Farris Bryant to "Buy Florida First".

Yule Cheer En Route

Nov. 11 may be Veterans Day but it's also a big day for the Sanford Atlantic National Bank and the Florida State Bank and the 1,362 members of the two banks' Christmas Clubs.

On Wednesday, the Florida State Bank will mail checks amounting to more than $65,000 to 819 Christmas Club members. Meanwhile, the Sanford Atlantic will mail checks, totaling more than $51,000 to 713 club members.

On Nov. 15, the Citizens Bank of Oviedo will mail some $15,000 to the 130 members of that institution's Christmas Club and Nov. 17, the South Seminole Bank in Fern Park will mail almost $25,000 to its 272 club members.

All of the banks, according to their officials, will immediately begin promoting Christmas Club memberships for next year.

All told, 1,964 members will receive their shares of about $156,000.

Weekend Thefts Probed By Police

County police are continuing their investigation of a safe-cracking which netted thieves $1,638.72 from the new Windjammer Restaurant on Highway 17-92.

The restaurant was entered sometime over the weekend and the theft was discovered Monday by workmen at the scene.

Police said the burglars opened the safe and took the weekend receipts from it.

Deputy J. Q. (Slim) Gallaway also reported someone entered Freddie's Restaurant across the highway and made off with an undisclosed amount of change from a vending machine. He said he believes the two thefts are unrelated.

City Balks At Tax Imposed By County

Sanford City Commissioners, presented with a tax bill from the County on the Lake Monroe Industrial Park for $674.85, called it "ridiculous" and vowed they would not pay it.

The assessment was made under a state law whereby the county assessor has interpreted the City of Sanford's action as holding the land for investment.

This is held by the City Commission to be "not true" because the cost of filling the land, providing streets, water and sewers far exceeds the value of the land and makes it difficult to classify it as an investment.

Commissioners instructed City Attorney William Hutchinson to appeal the matter to the County Commission immediately.

Hutchinson replied that he may have to take it to court to prevent the county tax assessor from levying the tax, and commissioners instructed to go ahead and "do what is necessary," adding, "we are not going to pay this ridiculous tax."

Girl Suffers Broken Back

July Kinniard, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oley Thomas Kinniard, Geneva, remains under treatment at Seminole Memorial Hospital with injuries suffered Monday afternoon when she was hit by a pickup truck on Lake Harney Road.

July is suffering from a back fracture and multiple cuts and bruises.

Charged in the hit and run accident was Charles Ketterling of Geneva. The 44-year-old man was caught by Constable Bob Carroll about a mile from the accident scene. Carroll said he was asleep in the truck and that the crash victim's sweater was still on the hood.

Ketterling is charged with hit and run, driving without an operator's license and driving while intoxicated.

The child had just left a school bus and was walking down the road to her home when she was hit.

TV Manager Will Speak To Chamber Meet

Tom Gilchrist, vice president and general manager of Telrad, Inc., the corporation which owns and operates WESH-TV (Channel 2), of Daytona Beach and Orlando, will be the featured speaker Thursday night at the quarterly meeting of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Manager John Krieger said today that the affair will be held at the Civic Center in Sanford, starting at 6:30 p. m.

Also featured will be a report by Byron Kimbal, chairman of the trade body's long range planning committee, on the progress being made relative to the proposed community college.

Chamber President Karlyle Housholder said today, "Gilchrist is one of Central Florida's most civic minded and dynamic personalities, and I am sure our directors will not want to miss his appearance before our group."

Housholder added, "This meeting is open to all members of the Chamber of Commerce and their wives."

Gilchrist, a native of Green Cove Springs, was educated in Georgia and entered the radio field in 1934 with WGST, Atlanta. He later was associated with WMOG in Brunswick and in 1942 became general manager of Ocala's WISG for the John H. Perry newspaper interests.

In 1952 he assumed the management of WJHP in Jacksonville and built and managed WJHP-TV in 1953. In 1957 he built and became vice president and general manager of WESH-TV.

He is one of three senior members of the Florida Association of Broadcasters and has served on its Board of Directors and in various offices numerous times.

Gilchrist is currently a regional director of the Florida Chamber of Commerce, a member of the board of governors of the Daytona Beach Area chamber.

State Canvass

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The State Canvassing Board will meet Wednesday or Thursday to certify officially the results of last week's election in Florida.

He estimated that the cost of the initial unit would be in the neighborhood of $1 million for everything but commercial buildings. Land would be leased and operators would construct their own buildings. The piers, Clark said, would accommodate 306 boats.

"This is something that should have started 20 years ago," Clark concluded.

Carriers 'Going To The Dogs'

By Jane Casselberry
Long at the mercy of ill tempered canines, the mailman is at last fighting back.

Postmaster Edgar Sittler, of the Casselberry post office, has announced that local postal employees are now equipped with aerosol cans containing a new dog repellent which consists of 15 per cent extract of cayenne pepper and 85 per cent mineral oil.

When sprayed into the eyes, mouth or nose of the attacking animal from a distance of up to 12 feet, the spray will cause the dog to make a hasty retreat. It has been identified by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as both safe and effective and the Humane Society has not objected to its use.

Within 10 to 15 minutes, effects wear off and the dog returns to normal except for a yellowish coloration which may be removed by washing. This coloration is a help in identification if a check for rabies is necessary.

A major problem to postal employees, dog bites account for 18 per cent of all injuries each year with more than 7,000 painful bites annually resulting in serious loss of sick leave and in costly medical treatment. Estimated costs of such injuries has been reported at approximately $1 million.

The new repellent offers an advantage to dog owners as it lessens the possibility of their pet biting the carrier with the resulting difficulties that may occur. However, the repellent does not replace the policy of non-delivery of mail where there is a dog known to be a menace and the postmaster may request that a dangerous dog be confined during delivery hours before service is restored.

Engineer Proposes New Plan

By Julia Stetrom
Associate Editor
"You must plan at least 20 years ahead although you only build for the next 10," declared R. Clark, representing Maurice H. Connell and Associates—a Miami firm of consulting engineers, when he asked for a policy decision concerning plans for the proposed marina at a special session of the City Commission Monday afternoon.

The Commission agreed and authorized Connell to continue his work on a marina plan which differs slightly with the original renderings of the project.

Clark suggested that the entrance to the marina be relocated in such a manner as to channel marina patrons to the downtown business area. He pointed out that even though facilities in the marina's own shopping district would take some business from the downtown area it would be business that the downtown district doesn't have now.

Clark's plan next would channel visitors to the Civic Center and finally to the lake-front park recreation area.

The engineer also pointed out that his firm's investigations revealed that the marina's living accommodations must be directed toward the idea of a "boater" instead of a motel and added that it should be a combination facility.

His reasoning was "A motel does not attract traffic—traffic attracts motels." But he emphasized that a marina would attract boaters.

On this premise, Clark displayed drawings which would provide an initial marina unit consisting of some 134 acres. The project could be expanded as necessity dictated by adding sections in units of one or more acres. The Commission agreed with this plan and gave Clark a green light to proceed on this basis although Commissioner J. H. Crapps told the engineer, "We're as far away from this thing as we can be, because we don't have any money at this time to do anything."

Clark told the Commission that he would proceed as fast as possible since the policy had been set.

He estimated that the cost of the initial unit would be in the neighborhood of $1 million for everything but commercial buildings. Land would be leased and operators would construct their own buildings. The piers, Clark said, would accommodate 306 boats.

"This is something that should have started 20 years ago," Clark concluded.

159 Students On Honor Roll At Junior High

Principal Hugh Carlton of Sanford Junior High School has released the names of 159 seventh, eighth and ninth grade students who won a place on the honor roll in the first six weeks grading period.

Carlton said that this period is the most difficult one of the school year.

"For many students this has been a time of bewilderment, confusion and in some instances, of frustration. This is particularly true of the seventh grade students for whom school life was so different - new buildings, new teachers, new friends and in many cases, new techniques of study, all contributing to their many problems.

"Membership on honor rolls is not a matter of chance; rather it is the result of proper organization, proper study habits, proper thinking, sacrifice and determination. It also indicates that good, hard work pays off in being recognized as a superior student.

Floridans Face New Taxes Next Year, Solon Says

FREEPORT, Bahamas (UPI) — A top Florida legislative official warns that Floridans may face new taxes in 1965.

Rep. E. C. Rowell, of Wildwood, who will serve as speaker of the House in the 1965 session, said, "Floridans in all likelihood face new taxes if they continue to demand more service from government."

Rowell spoke to the Florida Association of Insurance Companies, Inc., meeting at the Lucayan Beach Hotel.

The meeting was attended by Florida Gov. - elect Haydon Burns, of Jacksonville, outgoing Gov. Farris Bryant, present House Speaker Mallory Horns and Senate President - elect James E. Connor, of Brooksville.

"The money for these extra services must come from somewhere," Rowell said, "and you gentlemen know, as businessmen, where that 'somewhere' is."

Encouraged by this gesture, the group has voted to extend its current drive in hopes of obtaining enough memberships to engage the Florida Symphony for an appearance here in addition to the already scheduled concert series.

His most outstanding record event was a reception in 1927 for governors of all the states which was attended by 32 governors.

The hotel still has many of its original furnishings, among them a quadruple seated chair which was estimated by an antique collector to date back to Pre-Revolutionary period. The story has been handed down that the chair and several other pieces of furniture were once hotel pieces in England.

It is reported that Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, in his declining years, once spent a night at the hotel, known as The Waltham Hotel at that time. In 1888 it was advertised in northern newspapers as being "finished with all improvements of a first class hotel, having electric bells and bathrooms and being nicely furnished." The advertisement stated that the hotel was situated at the junction of two railroads and was 41 hours from New York by

Herald Staffer Gives 4 Gallons To Blood Bank

Robert B. Thomas Jr., Sanford Herald staff reporter, has donated his 32nd pint of blood to the Seminole County Blood Bank, making a total of four gallons.

Thomas has actually donated much more blood than this over the past 13 years, making individual donations to persons who needed blood when he was a student at Florida A. and M. University, in Pensacola, Jacksonville and in New York. He estimates he has probably given in excess of 40 pints.

Since the Seminole County Blood Bank opened in 1957 Thomas has been a regular donor, coming in every two months to give the maximum of five pints a year.

"Thomas' record is topped only by that of local insurance man E. L. (Bud) Moughton, who has now reached a total of 33 pints.

Mrs. Louise Bauman, Blood Bank secretary, urged others to follow Thomas' example, saying,

"The local hospital needs an average of 100 pints a month, but Seminole County only supplies about 60 or 70 and the rest has to be brought in. With more than 70,000 people in Seminole County it would seem that 100 a month could keep Seminole County's Blood Bank in good shape."

Donors hours are 3:30 to 8 p. m. on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday and 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. on Wednesday and Friday.

Lake Mary Fair Reports Given

Report on Lake Mary's entry at American Legion Fair was given by Mrs. Donald Jackson, wife of the Booth Committee chairman, at last week's meeting of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce.

The entry received four points toward the Presidential Trophy for its arrangement of cut flowers done by Mrs. Mary Donaldson. The garden scene received many favorable comments and with this encouragement the committee stated that efforts toward winning the award should be continued next year.

Mrs. Jackson expressed her husband's thanks to all helpers, naming Adam Sayk, Kay Sassman, Frank Cook, W. C. Hopkins, Bobby Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Donaldson, "Cracker" Donaldson, Florence Scudder, who did the artwork, Crystal Lake Nursery and Lee Mansfield who donated the sod and Ella Lloyd for donating sand.

The Chamber body, in turn, voted an expression of thanks to Jackson for all his work in connection with the project.

A sample "Welcome to Lake Mary" sign was displayed by Jackson for members to view and suggest any changes before a permanent sign is made and erected.

Charlotte Abdicates Thursday

LUXEMBOURG CITY (UPI) — Grand Duchess Charlotte of Luxembourg will abdicate in favor of her eldest son Thursday.

And as one Luxembourg put it: "Unlike the Russians we will not take her pictures down. We will just add those of Prince Jean."

The "grand old lady," 74 and ailing, has ruled this tiny but sovereign nation for more than 45 years.

The long-expected abdication to the 42-year-old prince will consist simply of a signature on a document at an intimate ceremony in the grand ducal palace.

Prince Jean still looks like what he once was — an officer in the British Grenadier Guards. The tall, slim, straight-backed prince spent World War II in Britain and rode a tank into his liberated capital in 1944.

He brought a British army sergeant-major along with him and the non-com stayed on to make the Luxembourg army one of the smartest on parade if not the biggest in Europe.

In 1953 he married Princess Josephine-Charlotte, sister of Belgium's King Baudouin. They have five children, including 9-year-old Prince Henri, who next Thursday becomes hereditary grand duke of the 929-square-mile duchy.

TOP TEEN-AGER — Jeanie Zavrel will remember 1964 as the year she was Miss Teen-age America. Her reign is near its end and her final duty will be to place the crown on the head of Miss Teen-age America for 1965 this Friday.

The SANFORD-ATLANTIC NATIONAL BANK

"It's a Pleasure to Bank at the Atlantic"

MEMBER F. D. I. C.

What's Impossible?

Is anything impossible? Only a foolhardy person would say so. Who would have had the audacity to predict a half a century ago, that the day would come when more ships would sail the skies than sail the seas?

Even such visionaries as Orville Wright were certain that it would never be possible for a plane to fly across the ocean. Today, every ten minutes, a plane is leaving from somewhere to cross the Atlantic. One company alone has made 86,000 crossings in the last five years. Designers now are working on supersonic planes that will enable a man to pick up his briefcase after breakfast, fly to any place in the world to transact his business, and be back home in time for supper. And who now dares to say that interplanetary travel is impossible?

The great bottleneck in modern aviation is the small space surface transportation to and from airfields. But engineers will take care of that. Underground shuttles may be an answer. Or, areas of streets and buildings may be roofed over with glass to provide convenient downtown airports. Or, planes may be equipped with jet brakes that will enable them to land as easily as birds do. Surely a flying machine invented by man ought to be able to do anything a bird can do — except, perhaps, hatch little planes! That, of course, is impossible. Or, is it? — "Whatever Things," Statson University.

Japan Yields To A Power.

The decision by the Japanese government to allow American nuclear submarines to visit Japanese ports marks another step in the coming of age of the atom.

The Japanese, the only people to have suffered direct attack by atomic bombs, are understandably hypersensitive about anything to do with nuclear energy.

Only after ascertaining the absolute safety of the subs, which have dropped anchor at the ports of 14 other countries, and—perhaps even more pertinent—assessing the current domestic political climate, did the Ikeda cabinet O.K. the as yet unscheduled visits.

They will allow nuclear-powered vessels, that is, but not any equipped with nuclear weapons. (Actually, permission for the former is not required under the 1960 security agreement with the United States.)

The Japanese are wise in realizing that the atom, whatever horrendous implications it may hold for them, cannot be kept away, any more than could the outside world that Commodore Perry represented.

The great promise of the atom has been slow in coming, but ultimately all nations, including Japan, will benefit from the unlimited energy it places in the hands of mankind.

Thought For Today

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Milo is typical of introverts but you are never fixed or unchanging. So alter your present personality if it is hampering your social and business success. Analyze the 3 methods for doing so and by all means send for that booklet that can set you on the road to success within 30 days!

George W. Crane, Ph. D., M.D. CASE U-426: Milo J., aged 22, is a college graduate.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I must be an extreme introvert for I am very timid.

"I shun people. And I almost die when I am called upon to speak in public.

"Many times in school I was considered dumb just because I was too shy to speak up. For I often knew the right answers but just couldn't force myself to talk.

"But now I find that my reticence and introverted personality are handicapping my success at a good job.

"So how can I stave off my personality the fastest?"

Door-to-door selling is the quickest and most rigorous way to change from a timid introvert into a more assured, extroverted personality.

But if you already have a good job in an introverted field, such as accounting, chemistry, engineering, farming, etc., then it is not smart to quit such a good position.

For you can also extrovert yourself in other ways, though not so quickly.

For example, take a Dale Carnegie course in public speaking.

Therein you will go through a severe initiation of heckling from the floor until you finally learn how to speak loudly, positively and in spite of the deliberate attempts of your audience to embarrass you.

And by all means enrol in my "Compliment Club."

There are no dues so everybody can join.

But if you wish the official signed diploma, then you must pay three sincere compliments every day for 30 consecutive days, without a break.

Each daily compliment must be given to a different person. Thus, by the end of the 30 days you will have learned the valuable habit of observing your companions for virtues or merits.

After having picked out such a laudable point, then you must phrase your praise aloud to the other person.

You need not limit your compliments to close relatives or friends, either, for it is quite proper to deliver a word of praise to anybody you meet, as on the bus or train or in church.

Since the extreme introvert usually lives within his own thoughts, he is not as likely to be attentive to hats or frocks or artistic fingers of his companions, or their pretty teeth, melodious voice, etc.

So this adventure in extroversion which the "Compliment Club" involves, will radically change his outlook.

For he soon becomes a social detective, forgetting out good points about people around him, and that is very commendable in itself.

But the phrasing of his compliments is actually brief public speaking drill, too, and thus helps remove his former tongue-tied timidity.

It is entirely possible for an extreme introvert like famous Elias Marnor or Servage to alter his personality until he can become a great success in such an extroverted field as salesmanship.

So send for the "Compliment Club" booklet, enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c, and get on the road to success within 30 days!

Helen Fuller Says Make Haste Slowly

WASHINGTON — Prediction that Sen. Barry Goldwater's Nov. 3 victory in five states of the Old Confederacy will bring about a two-party system in the South are premature.

Editor, Herald:

I read with interest a letter in your paper from the relatively new (to Sanford) Dr. Robert Smith about a longtime Sanford doctor.

Had he any knowledge of the way doctors of this community practiced 15 or 20 years ago and had those practices continued here and elsewhere, he would know that there would be no need now for the AMA to be spending millions of dollars to fight a medical care program.

The doctor he wrote of has always practiced as having only of his patient as many other doctors and not of the almighty dollar.

I don't believe it is medical care for the aged that the great AMA union (whose great powers must make even Hoffa envious) is worrying about. What they are worrying about is total Medicare, and if doctors continue to charge 40 to 60 per cent of a man's weekly wages for a physical this is what all America will be demanding. Many people make less than $50 a week and $25 to $35 for an examination keeps medical help from these people.

I also disagree with Doctor Smith when he says the AMA has established the prestige of the doctor. I believe it is the doctor he wrote about and thousands like him who established this prestige and the AMA has capitalized on them whether they were members or not.

You may give my name to any doctor if they would like to discuss this further but please withhold my name.

Thank you
(Name to any doctor on request—Editor.)

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Differences in the evolution of Mars and earth plant life could lead to experiments that could produce valuable new plant hybrids.

There is evidence of a sort of life on Mars in which the temperature varies from that of a cool room down to minus 200 degrees Fahrenheit every day. Discovery of the secret of this ability to withstand tremendous temperature changes would be priceless for agriculture.

Scientists here say that almost every time we have found groups of exotically different life—animal or plant or whatever—we have learned new things about ourselves.

In the past several decades, the sea has been "somewhat like Mars." That is, much of the life in the sea is greatly different from that on land.

Many important discoveries about man have been made by taking advantage of these differences.

One exotic or very different type of life in the ocean is the squid. The squid, fortunately, has a nerve fiber 10,000 times as large as those in human beings. By experiments with this creature, scientists have made great chemical advances in the treatment of nervous and mental disorders.

From this same squid, scientists have learned a great deal about what generates the electrical nerve impulse in humans and a great deal about the enzymatic process in nerves that enables nerves to transmit one impulse and recover quickly so as to be able to send another.

From the squid, likewise, we have learned a great deal about those things that determine whether or not a nerve will react to a certain stimulus—and what raises or lowers the ability of nerves to react.

The squid has made possible new developments in chemical warfare and in defenses against chemical warfare. It has led to better insecticides.

Unusual plants or other life on Mars could lead to equally important discoveries. They will, of course, be years in coming.

Though there are Mars shots this month, the major close-up biological studies are several years away. A Mars orbit is planned for 1969. The landing of a package that will study Martian life (if any) and send back messages is planned for 1971 and again in 1973.

Bazaar To Spark Garden Club Fund Campaign

By Dottie Austin
Members of the Sanford Garden Club are some of the busiest people in town these days as they prepare to kick off their first big fund-raising venture, the annual bazaar on Nov. 20 at the Civic Center.

Proceeds of the bazaar will go toward the building fund for the new $52,000 Garden Center which will be constructed at Sunland Estates. Many other fund-raising events are planned for the future.

The club has announced that it needs about $25,000 more to pay for the center, but has let the contract and is going ahead with construction using the money on hand and assuming a mortgage.

Doors will open at the bazaar at 10 a. m. and Mrs. L. E. Leeper, chairman of the event, has announced there will be a large variety of items for sale, including holiday decorations, flower arrangements and accessories, decorative wall plaques, dish gardens, needlework, home-made baked goods, sandwiches and soft drinks.

Anyone wishing to donate articles for the bazaar are asked to contact Mrs. Leeper for further information.

The Garden Club has received numerous donations from local citizens and organizations and is hopeful that others will lend their support.

Primary supporter of the Garden Center building project has been Sunland Estate developer, J. Bralley Odham, who donated the property and the building plans and has pledged $5,000 toward construction costs.

Over $900 in donations have been received from the following persons and organizations:

19 Acres Burn Over Weekend

By Jane Casselberry
The Florida Forest Service was kept busy Sunday afternoon extinguishing blazes in three different sections of the county.

Fires escaped to the woods from a dump off SR 419 near Chulucota and the cause was not determined in forest fires off the Markham Road near Paolo and Douglas Road in the Sanlando Springs area.

A combined total of some 19 acres burned. County Ranger Albert Harris warns that the woods are now "tinder" dry and urges everyone to be particularly cautious about burning.

No Change Seen By Troy Ray

There will be no personnel changes in the Seminole County tax collector's office, according to an announcement today by Tax Collector-elect Troy Ray.

Ray said that the present staff will remain intact with Mrs. Marjorie Shepard, whom Ray defeated for the office in the second Democratic primary in May, remaining as chief deputy.

Ray said he will take office Jan. 4, succeeding present Tax Collector John L. Galloway, who did not seek re-election.

Driver Law Changes Topic Of Meeting

By Franca Wester
Changes in the Florida driver laws were discussed in an informal talk given by guest speaker Sgt. Jim McKinnon, Safety Officer from the DeLand Barracks, Florida Highway Patrol, at the monthly meeting of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce last Thursday night at the Fire House.

"There were six traffic deaths in Seminole County last month. If these deaths were caused by police you would think about it. Several accidents in the county with 3 injured and six killed in one month, plus all the property damage, is proof that something more needs to be done," declared McKinnon.

With an increase of 20 thousand taking drivers tests in 20 years, a change in the traffic laws was necessary to cope with the increasing traffic problems. McKinnon explained why the changes were made in the 1963 legislature that went into effect Jan. 4, 1964. Florida adopted the National Uniform Traffic Code of Rules and Regulations and sometime in the near future all the states will do the same.

Briefly the changes made are as follows: Not only the driver of a car is guilty if in an accident, but the owner as well; the penalty for leaving the scene of an accident is now a felony; keep in right lane of traffic; turn signals may be used only for making a turn or lane change; towing trailers must have safety chains; illegal for anyone to travel inside a house trailer; only one tail light is required but it must be on left side, and vehicle must come to complete cessation of motion at all stop signs.

The national statistics are that one accident happens for every 331 traffic violations. McKinnon also explained the following new proposals that will be brought up in the next legislature; mandatory seat belts in 1965, re-examination of drivers involved in an accident, vehicle inspection, implied consent law, and adult education for all drivers.

Students Study Chase Methods

Chase and Company was host to a group of 31 students from the Rollins College graduate school of business administration.

The students, from the course "Data Processing for Management," were given a demonstrative lecture on the various IBM data processing machines at Chase and Company by the course instructor, R. D. Elrich, computer specialist. This was followed by a practical job demonstration utilizing all of these machines, presented by T. R. Scheibenberger, assistant controller for Chase and Company. Scheibenberger and Wendell L. Springfield, assistant credit manager at Chase, are both enrolled in the course working towards their master's degrees and an invitation was extended to the class to make a field trip to the company data processing division to receive first hand information in the operation and use of the IBM key-punch, verifier, sorter, collator, reproducing punch, calculator and tabulator.

Randall Chase, who attended the program, was pleased by the interest shown by the group and told them that he and Chase and Company were happy to have had a progressive part in their education.

WARM and COOL your home YEAR-ROUND with Reverse-cycle Electric Air-conditioning

One compact heating and cooling system does both! Just dial for cool comfort in summer and cozy warmth in winter. No need to take up precious space in your home to install heating equipment, because reverse-cycle central and window models now cost little more than straight cooling units. So, the heating comfort is practically a free bonus! And the recent $10 million electric rate reduction (our 4th major price cut in 10 years) makes year-round electric air conditioning the biggest bargain ever.

SAFEST by far, because year-round electric air conditioning is flameless and fumeless. Needs no flues or vents, and it's free from constantly burning pilot flames.

CLEANEST, too! Flameless electricity creates no grimy by-products of combustion. It means far less dusting and cleaning... plus substantial savings in re-decorating costs.

Electric Air Conditioners have been drastically reduced in price, over the last several years. Now everyone can afford this comfort. So, join the hundreds of thousands of Floridians already enjoying this truly modern double blessing. See your appliance dealer or air conditioning contractor today.

Seminole Meet Oak Ridge Here

By Julian Stenstrom
Herald Sports Editor

Three games appear on the menu for the county's four high school football elevens this weekend.

The BHS Seminoles make their last trek into Metro Conference play when they meet the Oak Ridge Pioneers in Sanford's Memorial Stadium Friday night. The Lyman High Greyhounds face the Occochee High Kowboys at Kissimmee in the first of three straight Orange Belt Conference clashes to close out the 1964 season, and the independent Oviedo Lions play their final home game of the current campaign — entertaining Frostproof. Crooms Panthers will be idle.

The Seminoles, fresh from their 26 to 6 win over the Greyhounds, will meet the Pioneers in the last of seven Metro contests. So far this season, Head Coach Jim Piggott's machine has racked up league victories over Colonial (current league leaders), Evans, Winter Park and Bishop Moore. In the other two tilts they lost to Edgewater but tied Boons.

In all games, Seminole has a record of five wins, one loss and two ties. Following the Oak

Grenadiers Dominate Metro Loop

By Julian Stenstrom
Herald Sports Editor

The Colonial Grenadiers continued not only their winning ways last week by downing the Edgewater Eagles 7-0 but they also continued their domination of Metro Conference statistics.

Colonial not only leads the loop with the best win and loss record inside the league but outside as well. The reason, however, is plainly visible at a glance when the figures are surveyed.

For example, Colonial has rolled to 26 first downs to lead the circuit in that department, they lead in the least number of first downs by opponents, they top the league with 1,896 yards rushing and have yielded the least number of yards to opponents, 708.

The Grenadiers offensive mark of 855 yards in the air by no less than four other clubs and passing against Colonial has yielded their opponents 453 yards, the seventh best figure in the circuit.

Colonial's passing percentage is .345 on 19 completions out of 55 tries. Three clubs have intercepted more than the eight interceptions Colonial has registered. Also, Colonial and Boons lead the loop in the highest number of lost fumbles, 13 each.

Seminole ranks third in first downs, is tied with Boons at 65 first downs each for opponents, has the fourth highest number of rushing yards — 1,268, and is second only to Colonial in rushing yards yielded to opponents.

The Sanford eleven still has the best passing percentage in the league, a .453 mark on 34 completions out of 75 tosses. Seminole, with 10 interceptions, is tied with Evans for second place behind Boons' first place total of 12.

Alabama After Perfect Season

By David M. Moffitt
UPI Sports Writer

ATLANTA (UPI) — The Southeastern Conference crown eluded Alabama's Crimson Tide now goes after its second perfect season and perhaps its second national championship in four years.

Alabama wrapped up the conference title Saturday by beating ninth-ranked Louisiana State 17-0. With second-ranked Ohio State a 27-0 victim of Penn State, the third-ranked Tide figures move up a notch in this week's national rankings and battle front-running Notre Dame for the mythical honor it last won in 1951.

The Crimson Tide meets sixth-ranked Georgia Tech, 22-14 upset victim of Tennessee, this coming Saturday in Atlanta; then meets Auburn in Birmingham on Thanksgiving Day. Notre Dame still has Michigan State, Iowa and Southern California ahead.

Alabama's victory over Louisiana State was its eighth straight of the season and its 38th in its past 41 games. It was also victory No. 149 for Coach Bear Bryant, tying him with Georgia Tech's Bob-

Alabama After Perfect Season

By David M. Moffitt
UPI Sports Writer

ATLANTA (UPI) — The Southeastern Conference crown eluded Alabama's Crimson Tide now goes after its second perfect season and perhaps its second national championship in four years.

Alabama wrapped up the conference title Saturday by beating ninth-ranked Louisiana State 17-0. With second-ranked Ohio State a 27-0 victim of Penn State, the third-ranked Tide figures move up a notch in this week's national rankings and battle front-running Notre Dame for the mythical honor it last won in 1951.

The Crimson Tide meets sixth-ranked Georgia Tech, 22-14 upset victim of Tennessee, this coming Saturday in Atlanta; then meets Auburn in Birmingham on Thanksgiving Day. Notre Dame still has Michigan State, Iowa and Southern California ahead.

3 Irish Injured

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — Halfback Bill Wilk and linebackers Jim Carroll and Jim Lynch are on the injury list for Notre Dame and may not play against Michigan State on Saturday.

Ex-Batboy McMillan Hits Perfect Score

The impossible has been proved to be possible! Al McMillan, who most Florida State League baseball fans remember as one of the circuit's outstanding batboys back in the late 30's, is supposed to know quite a bit about baseball.

But Al proved that he must know something about football, too.

Last week Al turned in his Herald Pick-the-Winner Football Contest ballot and when Contest Judge Roy Green and his associates tabulated the results their eyes popped when they discovered that Al had turned in 10 perfect selections.

And his ballot included the tie between Houston and Florida State.

But that's not all. Al also selected the highest number of points in any one game—10—right on the button.

"I guess it just shows it can be done," said Green.

Second place prizes were shared by Ken Kern of 2429 Laurel and Dot Wiles of 2405 Orange, both of Sanford.

They had perfect ballots, including "points" but missed the Houston-FSU tie.

"From there on," said Green, "it was strictly no contest. Except for the three prize winners, almost everybody missed Penn State's upset win over Ohio State and Georgia's victory over Florida."

NY Fans Favor Pro Football

NEW YORK (UPI) — New York proved Sunday it can support two pro football teams. The Jets drew a record American Football League crowd of 60,300 at Shea Stadium and 63,031 fans watched the Giants play the Dallas Cowboys at Yankee Stadium.

Jets' owner Sonny Werblin refused to gloat over the attendance prestige his AFL club attained in the first head-on meeting with its National Football League rivals. "I wish both of us luck." "I have never regarded ourselves as being in competition with the Giants . . . the more people interested in pro football the better it is for both of us."

The National League drew a total of 352,281 in its seven Sunday games. The day's top attendance figure was the 76,385 recorded for the Washington Redskins — Browns game at Cleveland.

The American League's three games were witnessed by 100,993 fans.

Major Hoople Pegs 3 Colossal Upsets

By Maj. Hoople
Grid Wizard
Gridiron fans the country over have learned to watch my glittering forecasts for the big surprises each Saturday.

This week, dear readers, you will not be disappointed. The Hoople System has pegged three colossal upsets for you: Minnesota to conquer Purdue, Stanford to defeat Oregon State, and Southern Methodist to turn back Arkansas.

Lakeland Loses To Cocoa Beach

TAMPA (UPI) — Cocoa Beach will replace Lakeland in the 1965 season as a result of action taken here at the league's annual business session.

A request that the Lakeland club be moved to Hollywood for the 1965 season was denied after the National Association of Minor League Baseball Clubs ruled that Hollywood fell within the territory of Miami.

Club owner Joe Ryan had announced he was withdrawing his club from Lakeland at the end of the past season because of a lack of support.

The league also re-elected George MacDonaid, of Lakeland, to a second term as president and voted to hold the league All-Star game next year at St. Petersburg. In the past, the game has been played in the home park of the first half winner.

Selecting the winners in two other contests, Notre Dame-Michigan State, and Georgia Tech-Alabama, was a particularly knotty problem. But by applying the Hoople hypothesis of alphabetical averages, I determined Notre Dame and Georgia Tech would emerge victorious—har-rump!

Methodist WSCS Members Combine Buffet Luncheon, Business Meeting

The combined Women's Society of Christian Services groups of First, Grace and Christ Methodist Churches met Thursday, Nov. 5, at Grace Methodist Church for a combined buffet luncheon. Mrs. C. E. Williams, president of the host WSCS group opened the meeting with a welcome.

The devotional message was presented by Mrs. Edward Christiansen, president of Christ Methodist WSCS, with Mrs. Charles B. Hogg leading the prayer. Mrs. Robert A. Bennett sang, "I Heard A Forest Praying," accompanied by Mrs. Fred Tillis.

She traced the origin of our W.S.C.S. from its beginning in the Ladies Aid Societies and Home and Mission Societies to the present organization which was set up in 1940. The newly revised purpose was explained and the group divided into buzz sessions to study the various facets of the purpose. More than 60 members of the three societies were in attendance.

MRS. C. E. WILLIAMS, left, president of Grace Methodist WSCS; Mrs. Don Coward, guest speaker and president of the DeLand District WSCS; Mrs. W. W. Tyre, president of First Methodist WSCS and Mrs. Edward Christiansen, president of Christ Methodist WSCS, are shown at a recent combined luncheon meeting at the Grace Methodist Church.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Small squares of latex foam rubber glued to the back of picture frames will stop them from tilting at the slightest bump, according to interior decorators.

A Weird Halloween Party Delights Training Union

Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church was the scene of a Halloween party held on Oct. 31 by the Young People's Training Union.

Upon arrival each ghost and goblin was escorted through the darkened hallway by a gruesome looking witch, and proceeded from behind with the pitch fork of the old devil himself. They entered a dimly lit room, which was a complete replica of an unkempt graveyard, with hanging moss, bats, pumpkins and various spooks completing the scene. To further terrorize each guest during the evening of fun and fellowship, they were blindfolded and escorted to "The Haunted House," where more terrors awaited them.

New Arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis F. Chapman, 118 West 10th Street, announce the arrival of a son, Dennis F. Chapman Jr., at the Orlando Air Force Base Hospital on Sept. 29, weighing in at a healthy 10 pounds, one quarter ounce.

Women control the spending of up to 90 cents of every household dollar, according to economists.

Newcomers Welcomed To N. Orlando

By Margaret Conby Drannon and Barbara Vines are now residing at 31 North Devon Avenue, North Orlando.

They recently arrived from Whidbey Island, in the state of Washington, with their three youngsters, Davene, seven; Danny, six, and Dale, two.

Drannon is a First Class Aviation Machinist's Mate, Hydraulic Systems, and was with VAH-13 on the USS Kittyhawk when it made its cruise down to Viet Nam. He doesn't say anything about this particular part of his job—security, naturally, prevents him from discussing the Vietnamese situation. Drannon brought his family East when the squadron was transferred to Sanford Naval Air Station.

Prior to their stay at Whidbey, the Vines were stationed at the Naval Air Station in Kingsville, Texas, just west of Corpus Christi. This wasn't too hard-take as Drannon is a San Antonio boy with folks and sisters there, and they all had an opportunity to get together fairly frequently. Little two-year-old Dale was born in Kingsville.

Before Texas, the Vines were stationed in Hawaii. It was a romantic setting for the newly-wedded Barbara and Drannon, and it was almost like a three-year honeymoon (almost), living in the lovely tropical Waianae Valley. Davene and Danny were born in Hawaii's Tripler Army Hospital in the Territory of Hawaii.

They were there, however, when Hawaii became our 49th state, and they are preserving the newspaper's recording of this historic, gala and most memorable occasion.

Barbara is an "I'm-from-Missouri gal" hailing from the little town of Goodman, located just south of Joplin, where she still has her mother and a married sister living. She also has a sister in Tampa.

From the delicious-smelling aromas always coming from Barbara's kitchen, you are led to believe that cooking is her favorite indoor sport, but she says that she loves "to sew, and take care of the children, and go to church." Barbara wonders what other people do who don't have a church affiliation.

"When you belong to a church, wherever you go, it always makes you feel at home," reveals Barbara.

Drannon is currently attending school at Sanford Naval Air Station. He loves to fish and enjoys playing volleyball on the base's team.

North Orlando is delighted to welcome the cordial Vines family, and the Vines hope for a long stay here—another 10 years, and they could retire in North Orlando!

NEWCOMERS to North Orlando are Mr. and Mrs. Drannon Vines and their three children, Danny, 6, left; Davene, 7, right, and Dale, 2.

EVERYBODY'S TALKING about the Harvest Ball being sponsored by the NOWC on November 13th at the Ballroom.

Chairman Jo Maloney says things are under control and plans have been completed for a delicious buffet of heavy hors d'oeuvres and wonderful dancing and listening music by the popular Bill Slayton Combo.

Wives of RVAH-1 will be doing the decorating for the dance which will be centered around a colorful autumn theme of course, and you may be sure that such a theme lends itself easily to some imaginative decorations.

Things will get underway about 7 p. m. and dress is semi-formal. This is the only night-time function for husbands and wives being planned this year by the NOWC, so you won't want to miss it.

Tickets are available from your NOWC representative so be sure to see her soon and get yours.

CPO WIVES are very busy with all kinds of plans for fun doing all sorts of interesting things.

You don't want to be left out of all the excitement so mark your calendar for the following events!

Friday there will be a Scavenger Hunt. It starts at the CPO Club at 7 p. m. and girls who are in charge of the plans for this include Carol Kerr, Betty Smith, Mary Wiggins and Pat Bernal.

Saturday night is the "Over 20 Party" to which any military man with over 20 years of service is invited. Isn't that a novel idea? Guy Neville, Ira Jarell and John Neal are on the committee to see that all "over 20" fellows get their invitations for an evening of fun and fellowship.

Thursday, November 19th is reserved for something different. This will be the Court Whist party. Bring your lunch and come about 9:30 a. m. prepared to spend the day. The club will furnish coffee we are told by Betty Smith and Mary Wiggins who are in charge of this event.

The regular meeting of the CPO Wives will be held on November 18th and the Station Chief's Wives are invited to this one. Shirley Siglan is the NAS rep. who is in charge of invitations.

ALL YOU WIVES of RVAH-1 enlisted men are invited to a get-acquainted coffee sponsored by your squadron club, the Tigerettes, November 17 at 9:30 a. m. in the Ballroom. A special program has been planned which should be of interest to everyone. Mona Bridges of Mona's Flower and Gift Shop will demonstrate floral designs which can be made with permanent flowers or with fresh ones.

The base nursery will be open to care for small children and anyone who might have trouble with transportation will be picked up by one of the Tigerettes if they will call Mrs. Marvin Kooter and arrange for assistance.

SUE MAUER has invited the wives of RVAH-13 to her home Thursday at 1 p. m. for the squadron's monthly coffee. Co-hostesses for this event will be Marge Harvey, Jackie Fox and Sandy Harrington.

At that time, a committee will be appointed to nominate a slate of officers for the election in December. Installation ceremonies for the new officers will be held in January.

IF YOU ARE interested in RVAH-13 Wives were hostesses recently for a get-acquainted coffee for the Thirteen Enlisted Wives. At right is Mary Lois Webster, wife of RVAH-13's executive officer serving punch to Jean Musgrove, wife of North American Aviation's senior representative and Sara Paul, wife of Jerry M. Paul. AO-2. The coffee was held at the NAS ballroom.

helping organize an Acety Ducey Wives Club, you are asked to contact Mrs. Conda Sampson at 322-6008. The first meeting of this tentative group has been set for 8 p. m. November 17th at the Acety Ducey Club.

CARYL MARSHALL and Marian Tise were co-hostesses for the RVAH-9 Officers Wives club coffee held recently.

First item on the agenda was to welcome new member Donna McDaniel.

Nine chairman Dossie deGanahl announced that a farewell party for departing husbands will be held at the Cappel on November 14th, just prior to their Med deployment near the end of the month.

Ginnie Sullivan announced that the Nine wives will be in charge of the Thrift Shop drive in December.

Carolyn Krause was presented with a lovely gift for her new little daughter, Kimberly. Janet Smith has decided to go home while her husband is gone on the cruise and she was presented with a farewell gift.

Caryl and Marian served sausages, rolls, banana nut bread, tiny egg salad sandwiches, rosettes, lime punch and coffee to the 12 wives present.

TERRY SHATTUCK was hostess to the NOWC executive board at their November business meeting held recently and of course, most of the conversation and business centered around the finalizing of plans for the Harvest Ball on November 21st.

Holly Bell, corresponding secretary read a letter to the group from the Navy Relief Society thanking the club for the recent donation of $100 to the Educational Fund of the NRS. The NOWC has the distinction of being the first organization to contribute to this fund.

Besides this generous donation, gifts of money were also made to the Station Library of $50 to buy children's books; to the Sarapeta Nursing Home, $50 to pay for repairs to a record player and buy allspices for the residents and to the Mutual Concert Series, $100 to buy tickets for deserving children of both civilian and military families.

Largest contribution to what the Wives felt was the biggest need was made to the Little Red School House. To this compassionate organization the NOWC gave a check for $200, plus $50 more for November and $50 for December.

Highlights

TV Time's Show of the Night: 10-11 p.m. NBC. Bell Telephone Hour (Color) A lovely hour devoted to the lyrics of the late Oscar Hammerstein II and covering a vast range of his material yet barely scratching the surface, Henry Fonda hosts and recites some lyrics, while the actual singing is entrusted to Florence Henderson, Susan Watson, John Reardon, Barbara McNair, John Raitt, Johnny Harmon, Gretchen Wyler and the chorus. The colorful, happy, poignant and philosophical songs come from such treasured sources as "Show Boat," "Carousel," "South Pacific," "Oklahoma," and many other wonderful shows. A delightful experience for lovers of the best in show music.

7:30-8:30 p.m. NBC. Mr. Novak "Let's Dig a Little Grammer." One of TV's periodic attempts to penetrate the mysterious world of jazz and musicians, this time through the soft underbelly, the student level. There's a lot of intensity, some jazz jargon, offhand references to "Chet," "Miles" and "Dizzy" with a slight nod in the direction of "Louis," as Mr. Novak interferences with the plans of a student who'd rather be a musician than a scientist. Tommy Sands is worth catching as the student drift between two irreconcilable worlds; Johnny Crawford plays another "cat," Allan Sherman does a bit as a leader with a "gig," and of course James Franciscus is on hand on the side of nobility.

8:30 p.m. CBS. World War I "Verdun the Internoo." Other series go up and down in quality, but this one is proving to be one of the most dependable additions to the schedule. Starting out as a strong documentary series it varied little during its first weeks. This recounting in word and in exciting authentic pictures of the horror that was the battle of Verdun maintains the high level and it is almost impossible to remain detached when one views the scenes of devastation.

8:30-9:30 p.m. CBS. The Red Skelton Show. To keep up with the times, this show should be called "Red Skelton's London." Shot in London, Red takes the audience on a round of the familiar landmarks and later has a few native Englishmen help out with the entertainment. Sebastian Cabot joins Red in a skit about a tourist employe getting involved with Red's four TV char-

9:30 p.m. ABC. The Tycoon "Mr. Fixit." Walter's obsession this week is working with his hands and when Wilson and Pat frustrate his activities at the plant, he accidentally discovers he can operate a thriving business as a neighborhood repairman. His life becomes a parade of bikes, fans, cuckoo clocks and in no time at all he has more work than he can handle. When his true identity is about to be discovered, our tycoon comes up with the perfect solution. Amusing episode again largely dependent on Walter Brennan with some help from Jerome Cowan.

10-11 p.m. CBS. The Doctors and the Nurses. "The Outpost." Fictionalized sociology about deteriorating neighborhoods with the character of Tazinski's father (a neighborhood druggist) added to personalize the episode. Since the subject matter is highly pertinent and the acting is superior.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We have been married for 21 years and we have no problems except that my wife likes to read the newspaper in bed before going to sleep. I like to read in bed, too, but my wife is still reading the newspaper long after I have dozed off. She has a certain way of turning the pages with a quick SWISH, which invariably wakes me up. (Now that I have put it in writing it looks like such a silly little thing but, Abby, you have no idea how irritating this can be!)

She promised a few times that she would not read the newspaper in bed any more, but she always starts up again. I just moved into another bedroom. No fights. Just a decision. Was I wrong?

ETHEL'S PARTNER DEAR PARTNER: No. It's too bad that more people don't realize that the biggest chasm in the world started with the tinliest gap.

DEAR ABBY: Last August a niece of mine was married. Two of my daughters were bridesmaids and my little boy was the ring-bearer. There were three showers for the bride, which my daughters and I attended. (This meant NINE separate gifts.) In addition to that, we gave her a very expensive wedding present. The bridesmaids' dresses were store-bought and came to $40.50 each. I am not counting the shoes, gloves and incidentals. The boy's ring-bearer suit was made by a dressmaker, and that wasn't cheap, either. You can imagine how much all this added up to, but I'm not complaining. I loved every minute of it.

DEAR ONLY: Close relatives and members of the bridal party are usually GIVEN a picture of themselves and one of the bridal couple. Your sister is either uninformed or tapped out. (And possibly both!)

DEAR ABBY: I am 19 and am engaged to be married soon. I wear braces on my teeth and have for two years. My dentist tells me that I must wear these braces for another year. He has offered to remove them for my wedding if I will let him put them back on afterwards. My fiancé feels that I should get married with the braces and complete the treatment. I just can't see myself getting married with braces on my teeth. And then wearing them after I am married. What would you do?

DEAR PROBLEM: I would let my dentist remove my braces for the wedding, replace them afterwards, and complete the treatment.

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

Here is a World Bridge Olympiad hand in which it paid the British team to bid a close game. However, the game did not turn out to be close in the actual play.

Maurice Harrison-Gray who played the hand won the opening trump lead, led a club to dummy's king and a second club back to his ace. When the queen of clubs dropped, he led another trump and wound up making every trick but the ace of trumps.

The bidding started out the same way at the other table, but after North jumped to three hearts, South looked at his 11 high-card points, noted his partner had passed originally. After all this thought, he decided to settle for a part score. Of course, he made the same 12 tricks, but did not get the game bonus.

I heartily approve of Harrison-Gray's four-heart bid. True, his partner had passed originally. True, he was void of diamonds. True, he only held 11 high-card points. Offsetting all those pessimistic indications were these factors: The game bonus, he held two valuable tens and two potentially valuable nines and his partner surely held four trumps with him.

Incidentally when you bid three and are spread for six, the chances are that both partners have underbid. The North hand might well be worth a jump to four hearts instead of only to three.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millett

Don't you just love her—the woman who:

After you've almost talked your husband into letting you order new draperies for the living room says: "Why don't you make them yourself and save all that money? I've made all the draperies in our house, and it's really not at all difficult."

After you've convinced your husband that you have a real green thumb, clucks when she she inspects your gardenias and says: "Those leaves look sickly; how long since you've given your gardenias a good dose of spoom salts?"

After you've rearranged the living room, agrees with your husband that it looked better the way it was.

After you've expounded on the idea that a family camping trip is no vacation for a wife and mother, says: "It sounds like wonderful fun to me."

After you've received several compliments on the cake you've served, ask point blank: "Did you make this from a mix?"

After you've about persuaded your husband to let you change the color of your hair, says: "I think you're making a mistake to start anything that takes so much time and costs so much."

After you've dragged your husband to a PTA meeting, says: "Jim simply refused to come; he thinks it's a waste of time."

After you've picked out your dream house, says: "Why don't you just make more space here by turning your garage into a play area?"

Don't you just love the woman who always opens her mouth at the wrong time?

Seminole Leaders Join In Tribute To Bryant

By Julian Menstrom

ORLANDO — A delegation of 10 Sanford and Seminole County business and civic leaders was among the more than 400 guests who gathered here Tuesday night to honor Gov. Farris Bryant for his leadership during his administration in the further development of Florida's water resources.

The affair was sponsored by Florida Waterways Association and highlighted by the presentation of a plaque to Bryant who was honored as the state's first governor to successfully consolidate various statewide programs to improve and develop water resources.

Those representing Sanford and Seminole County were State Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr., State Rep. Joe Davis Jr., County Commission Chairman James P. Avery Jr., Executive Manager John Krider of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the St. Johns-Indian River Canal District, Director John Brumley of the St. Johns-Indian River Canal District, Mayor A. L. Wilson of Sanford, Scott Burns of the Florida Power and Light Company, DeWitt Matthews of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank, Gene Tucker of the Florida State Bank of Sanford and Walter Gleiw, editor and publisher of The Sanford Herald.

Herbert C. Gee, president of the association, made the presentation of the plaque to Gov. Bryant. Made of aluminum, the plaque depicted an outline of the state of Florida and indicated the numerous water improvement projects started during Bryant's administration.

Among the authorized projects listed were the Cross Florida Barge Canal and numerous channel projects on the Intracoastal Waterway from Jacksonville to Miami, the Intracoastal Waterway from Calcasieu River to Anclote, Canaveral Harbor, the Suwannee River, the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway from Carrabelle to St. Marks River, the Intracoastal Waterway from Miami to Key West, the Apalachicola River, the Okechobee Waterway and the Kissimmee Waterway.

Proposed projects are the Sanford-Canaveral Canal, a channel on the Intracoastal Waterway from St. Marks to Tampa Bay.

Congressman Billy Matthews of Gainesville asserted that during Bryant's first year in office federal expenditures for waterways and flood control exceeded $17 million. In 1962 it was more than $21 million and the same figure again in 1963.

Bryant declined to accept all the credit for these accomplishments by declaring, "So much of this award belongs to so many others." He was generous in his appreciation to members of the association as well as state and federal officials who contributed so greatly to the success of the water program in Florida.

The association was founded in 1957 by Krider and he served as its president during its first two years of existence. He is now a director of the organization.

"Its objective," said Krider, "was to unite the respective groups promoting various water projects and support those which had merit. The organization," he added, "gave rise to a united voice and brought about the formation of the state's integrated inland waterways system."

John Krider was first president of the Florida Waterways Association 1957-59 and is now a director, is chairman of the St. Johns-Indian River Canal District, director of the Mississippi Valley Association and vice chairman of the State Chamber of Commerce water resources committee.

25th St. Work Starts

J. C. Lavender, head of the County Road Department, said today that his crews are about 90 per cent finished with the fill operations on the 25th Street extension project.

The project will extend the paving of 25th Street from the old Lake Mary Road to a point where it will intersect on a 90-degree angle with Country Club Road near the Lundquist "Y."

"At this point," said Lavender, "we will remove the present intersection of Vihlen Road and Country Club Road and rework it as a three-way intersection with 25th Street as the throughway and with stop signs on Country Club Road."

Lavender said he anticipated the fill operation to be completed within 30 days. "After it's graded and stabilized," Lavender said, "we'll open it to traffic for some 90 days to compact the fill. After that," he added, "we'll start paving operations."

Lavender said he expected that contracts will be let possibly in December but probably in January on the widening and repaving of SR 16 (25th St.) from French Avenue east to Mellonville.

A contract, he pointed out, has already been let to remove houses and other structures on the right-of-way.

Concerning the paving of the north mile of Winter Park Drive in Casselberry, a joint project of the Town of Casselberry and the county, Lavender said the acquisition of an 80-foot right-of-way has not been completed and that work could not be started until this was done.

Road Equipment Bought By County

Purchase of $43,109 worth of road department equipment was approved by the County Commission yesterday afternoon after the bids were tabulated by County Engineer William Bush and Road Superintendent J. C. Lavender.

Contracts were awarded to: The State Tractor & Equipment Company, Orlando, for a 60-horsepower motor grader at $7,257.50.

The Richardson Tractor Company, Tampa, for a self-propelled 10-ton traffic roller at $5,705.

Strickland - Morrison, Inc., Sanford, for two dump trucks at $19,611.54.

Greely Tractor Company, Tampa, for two self-propelled mowers at $1,918.

Square Deal Machine & Supply Company, Orlando, for an asphalt pavement spreader at $7,500.

Strickland-Morrison for a 1965 Ford Falcon at $1,927.

Commissioners also decided to open Wilson Drive as an accessway to Crystal Lake in Lake Mary and directed the road department to place adequate boundary markings and post a sign noting the area is open for general public use.

They also set a public hearing for Dec. 8 on a request that property owned by Donald Harris of Altamonte Springs be officially declared vacated. It was pointed out that Harris has been paying taxes on it for about 10 years yet has not been given official ownership of the land due to a technicality overlooked by a previous commission.

Jury Selected In B&E Trial

A six-man jury this morning was hearing a breaking and entering charge lodged last June against Theodore Bellfield, of Sanford.

Bellfield is alleged to have entered a Tip Top supermarket at 1100 West 13th Street and taken cigarettes, a quantity of wine and other items.

The defendant is represented by Public Defender David Flaxer and the prosecuting attorney is A. J. Hoseman.

Earlier today, Arthur Will Jones pleaded guilty to a manslaughter charge and was remanded for pre-sentence investigation by Circuit Court Judge Vassar B. Carlton. Jones had previously been charged with second degree murder.

With the selection of the Bellfield case jury, Judge Carlton dismissed other veniremen since all cases to be heard by a jury had been completed.

Wetz Named N. Orlando Councilman

By Judy Wells

North Orlando Village Council Tuesday night unanimously approved appointment of J. A. Wetz to fill the council vacancy by resignation last month of Mrs. Mona Grinstead. Wetz' term of office will run until the next election in March.

A second resolution offered at the meeting appointing Henry Ward as civil defense director is to be held in abeyance pending Ward's consultation with A. J. Peterson Sr., council director, as to exact duties of the post and amount of time needed to satisfactorily do the job.

A letter commending Council for its community improvement project, citing especially the cutting of weeds and widening of drainage ditches, was read by Art Rhodes, road and bridge chairman, who advised that "resulting progress from many months of paper work is now becoming evident." A specific area to be covered in the project is to prevent the dumping of trash along the roadways and plans were announced to send each resident a letter asking for cooperation and also stating rules and regulations concerning the North Orlando Company-owned area where residents of the village, and residents only, are permitted to dispose of trash . . . no garbage.

Additional plans discussed for improvement of the village for convenience, recreation and safety of residents included those for a local census on the number of children, and their ages, to show those available for participation in the recreation program; number of dogs and whether or not they have received inoculation against rabies; and the number of bicycles in the village limits. Additional traffic signs are to be erected and others replaced and "no hunting" signs will be posted in the ranches area.

Veterans Day

The day is, of course, a solemn one. It is observed in memory of events that are past and men who have departed. But it is not a day for brooding melancholy. It is, instead, a day for commemoration. And the only commemoration that is worthy of the events and the men is rededication to the ideals and the principles which have made our nation strong.

This day and this hour were originally set aside in memory of a moment of peace—a moment when the guns were suddenly stilled and a hush settled over the battlefields of one of the greatest (great in the sense of horrible) wars of history. Up to that point, we had engaged in no conflict of such vast dimensions beyond our shores. In our innocence, far we were still very young, we thought there could never again be such a conflict. And we called this Armistice Day—the day that ended the World War.

We can do nothing about our past mistakes other than regret them and learn from them. But it is certain that if we do not learn from them, we are destined to repeat them. And then the sacrifices of the men we honor today would have been in vain.

The greatest tribute we are paying today to those men is that we have learned. We understand that as long as necessary for free men to be firm—and because of that understanding, there is hope in the world today.

We know that armed strength alone does not assure peace and freedom. But we also know that as long as aggression exists in the world, weakness invites war and domination. And we do not intend to be dominated.

The real tribute is our resolve—resolve translated into deeds—to preserve what they have won. And if we can match their determination and their resolution, the day will come, as surely as the sun will rise, when peace and freedom (and we do not separate those objectives) will prevail.

State Tops California Production

LAKELAND (UPI) — Florida will produce the overwhelming bulk of the nation's orange and grapefruit crop this season, according to the November estimates of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

State citrus officials, however, decided on a "wait and see" attitude as the USDA's estimate was released in Washington.

The Agriculture Department left unchanged its Florida crop estimate of October which set production at 82.8 million boxes of oranges all varieties, 33.5 million boxes of grapefruit, 4.4 million boxes of tangerines and 850,000 boxes of tangelos.

The Florida crop estimate compares to a prediction of 14.5 million boxes of oranges for California not including valencias and 2.2 million boxes of grapefruit.

"Too High"

The Florida forecast was met last month with claims by Florida Citrus Mutual that it was too high.

But Tuesday, Citrus Mutual Executive Vice President Robert W. Rutledge said "it is now anticipated that individual fruit sizing for the early and mid-season crop will not take place because of the long dry spell."

The number of boxes depends a great deal on the size of the fruit.

"What effect this may have on the size of the crop can not yet be determined, but we hope to be able to make a more definite appraisal by Dec. 10," he said.

The next USDA crop estimate will be released on Dec. 10.

Strong Position

Rutledge said the Florida citrus industry is in a strong sales position and that since the crop estimate of October, consumer purchases of frozen orange concentrates have climbed up a good deal and are now 30 per cent ahead of the same period last year.

"With California out of the fresh fruit market and no heavy volume expected from that state until about the first of December," Rutledge said, sales outlook for fresh oranges from Florida is very good.

CASPER, Wyo. (UPI) — When a masked man entered the Western National Bank and demanded money, Mrs. Thelma Anderson, the bank's newest cashier, had a ready answer.

"Don't bother me," she replied. "I'm just a beginner."

The man went to the next window and robbed the bank of $455.

Husband Held In Shooting

A man identified as Frank A. Thomas, 38, is in Seminole Memorial Hospital today with gunshot wounds suffered early this morning after he was peppered with shotgun pellets in Midway.

Being held in the county jail is Harry Andrews, 23, of Route 2, Box 301, Sanford. He was originally charged with assault with intent to commit murder but Sheriff J. L. Hobby said the charge may be replaced with that of shooting into an occupied car.

Deputies gave this account of the events leading to the shooting:

Thomas said he picked up Andrews' wife in an area bar and had driven her home. On arrival there, Andrews is alleged to have approached the car with the shotgun.

Seeing the weapon, Thomas gunned his car and tried to speed away. Andrews fired the single-shot gun through the left rear window, peppering the driver on the left side of his back, his left arm, neck and shoulder.

Thomas then went to the local hospital and told officials there he had shot himself. Deputies were called and the corrected version of the shooting was made.

Andrews was picked up at Sipes Avenue and King's Road and taken to the county jail for arraignment later. The victim is not believed to be seriously injured.
