CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST
God, Soul, is Immutably just and merciful and a correct understanding of Him blesses man with spiritual beauty and harmony. This will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "SOUL," to be read in all Christian Science churches next Sunday.
The Golden Text is from one of the salms of David: "Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul... Show me thy way, O Lord; teach me thy paths." (Ps. 25: 1A).
Citations from the Bible include the following from Romans (12:9) "Let love be without dissimulation, Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good."
This thought is further developed in correlated passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy which include: "The good you do and embody gives you the only power obtainable" (p.192).
"Unselfish ambition, noble motives, and purity—these constituents of thought, mingling, constitute individually and collectively true happiness, strength, and permanence." (p. 58).

vides that the agencies must reduce employment to 90 per cent of July 1 levels. It is up to them whether to cut 10 per cent immediately as proposed by the Senate or reach the 90 per cent by following the House formula of filling only one out of four vacancies. The House had advocated a 25 per cent cut.
The $1,677,556,314 bill coming up in the House next week finances miscellaneous agencies needing more money for the present fiscal year. They include the Civil Defense Administration, the Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Production Agency.

The House Appropriations Committee approved the measure today after chopping out all but $5,355,000 out of the $155,000,000 fund which President Truman asked for the Civil Defense Administration.
In doing so, the committee rapped the agency for not developing a "realistic well coordinated" civil defense plan which would guarantee "the people the maximum of protection for the money expended." When that is done, it said, Congress will supply the money.

The committee acted as House leaders strove to speed passage of other government money bills after cracking a Senate-House deadlock over the measures.
The committee refused to approve any civil defense funds for bomb shelters and other protective facilities and cut $150,000,000 from the $200,000,000 requested for the purchase of medical supplies and equipment.
The civil defense budget was considered along with those of a

Approved $250,000 to employ 32 additional agents for the Bureau of Narcotics, boosting the 1952 staff to 250 compared with 188 during the 1951 fiscal year. In making about a 40 per cent cut in requested funds, the committee emphasized that primary responsibility for enforcing the narcotics law rests with state and local police.
Rep. Canfield (R-NJ) a committee member, condemned the committee action in cutting civil defense funds and requests for the Narcotics Bureau.
"These were two hatchet jobs that are tragic," Canfield told newsmen.

He said he would offer an amendment next week in the House to give the Narcotics Bureau the full $400,000 it requested.

The committee approved $260,000,000 of the $275,000,000 asked by the Atomic Energy Commission to speed up construction of new facilities, to test weapons and to develop new type of reactors.
Another big allotment recommended was $79,210,000 for stockpiling strategic and critical material, for which the President had requested $80,000,000.
The Commerce Department was allotted $90,000,000 to continue work on construction of new fast cargo ships. The committee said contracts already have been let for 25 of the 37 new ships authorized by Congress.

Jerusalem was magnificently rebuilt, but its inhabitants learned no lesson. It is being restored once more. It has a glorious chance. Again and again the famous city missed its chance, and was repeatedly destroyed. There is a lesson. Thou shalt call thy walls Salvation, and thy gates Praise.—Isa. 60:18.

Present Army estimates of total casualties in Korea have reached 1,242,000, at least 80 of whom are Americans. The Chinese have been getting considerably the worst of it, about 700,000, in killed and wounded.

The Matchmakers Union of the American Federation of Labor has dispatched a case of matches to General Nam Il, North Korean negotiator, who has had considerable difficulty lighting his innumerable cigarettes with his ineffective Communist matches. "Products made by free men under a competitive economy" says the Matchmakers Union "will always be of high quality and superior to those of regimented slave labor."

You may think you do not have a stake in the spending of the federal government, but when you read what your share of the federal debt burden is, you should stop and think. The Florida Retailers Association says that Florida's share of the federal debt is $4,607,000,000, and that every person's (every man, woman and child's) share of that is $1,660 each. For a family of five, that means you as head of the family owe $8,300.

Former Mayor O'Dwyer of New York City was so afraid of a "blast" by New York City newspapers when he was running for mayor in 1945 that he asked a well known racketeer who "knew something" and who might help him on the middle, to get out of town, the Senate Crime Committee was told the first day of its investigation of New York City. But it wasn't the newspapers Mayor O'Dwyer was afraid of; it was public opinion and its reaction once they knew about his connection with New York rackets.

Governor Talmadge of Georgia says we need more religion in the day and time, not less of it. "We must go back to the old time religion," he said in Atlanta the other day. "Through hard work and thrift and a rigid adherence to the basic principles of religion we can save our people and our country from the microchips of those who seek to destroy us. Communism is Godless. Our greatest evil comes from the spread and infiltration of Communist doctrines throughout the world. It seeks to destroy all religions and has, to a certain extent, shackled the minds of a great number of people in many countries."

"I wholly disagree with everything you say, but I will defend the death your right to say it," said a father of the French revolution, once said. That in essence summarizes our attitude toward the letter published in the Herald today. We regret very much the necessity of having to defend it at all, and we apologize to our ministers and our church for having to stir to the committee on the position which the writer has taken. Because we cannot do otherwise, we believe every citizen should be allowed to say what he pleases, and we are sure that the committee will be satisfied with the result.

"When asked about the necessity of having to defend the letter, the writer said: 'I am sure that the committee will be satisfied with the result. Because we cannot do otherwise, we believe every citizen should be allowed to say what he pleases, and we are sure that the committee will be satisfied with the result.'"

Making Mistakes

Making a mistake is no disgrace. Some of the greatest men in history have made their worst failures the turning points from which they went on to achieve mighty deeds. But it is disgraceful to have the idea that one cannot make a mistake, or to refuse to correct a mistake when one is recognized.

The concept of saving face and being unwilling to be found publicly in the wrong is not confined to Eastern peoples. It is present in all of us, and unless we overcome this tendency to save our pride we may continue being wrong and paying for it. From our failures we can map the way for new attempts. If a mistake has been made in a denying with someone around us, an apology and an effort to correct the mistake can work wonders.

A man who will admit a mistake has more pride than a man who will not; he is too proud to continue going foolishly in the wrong direction.

Faith For The Future

There is a point at which a person, and a people, must fall back on simple confidence in the solidity of the future, in the ability of the human race to survive and move forward, without any tangible grounds on which to base this confidence except history.

A person cannot look at the painfully slow and halting peace talks in Korea, at the troubled international situation or at the confusion of plans and motives in Washington, and know what should be done and how it can be done, and how all the problems are going to be solved. One is likely to find in his own personal life, as well, that problems and situations confront him in which he cannot find the answer, cannot know how it is all going to come out.

But history tells us that things do come out. Slowly but inexorably man in each generation lifts his living, his habits and his culture above those of the previous generation. Often he has seemed on the verge of destroying himself, yet he does not. One people has often tried to destroy another, yet never quite succeeds. The peoples which have disappeared have destroyed themselves, through self-satisfaction and decadence, or through greed and excessive ambition.

We can look back into history and find the turning points at which men and nations stopped moving toward apparent destruction and began to work their way out of particular problems and troubles. But we cannot know whether we see the turning points in our lives and affairs as they occur. Times inevitably come when simple faith in the future must be the only basis on which to face the future and keep trying.

How Voters Choose

How should a political campaign be managed? British students of politics have been studying the British elections of 1945 and 1950, and since human nature is generally the same their findings may throw light on American conditions. The British investigators, H. G. Nicholas, R. B. McCallum and Allison Reading, find that house-to-house propaganda is useful only for getting out the vote of assured supporters. It is usually too late to change many opinions, and the British canvassers are now being instructed not to spend time arguing. This finding is probably true in the United States as well.

Our parties to all appearances spend much money on campaign literature, distributed mostly to be thrown away. The same expenditure for advertising through standard media has generally proved far more effective. The British experience in these lines is not stated.

One not altogether commendable situation is revealed in Great Britain, and recalls our own state of affairs. That is the tendency of regions to vote for the same party generation after generation, regardless of changes of policy or candidates. That certainty of support explains in large part why party managers in such regions sometimes think it unnecessary to put up better candidates. The British investigators found that party alignment could be traced back to events of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. The same discovery was made for France by Andre Siegfried, whose "America Comes Of Age," a book of 1927, is still remembered as a searching study of our political and social life.

If political affiliation were determined before birth, why campaign? Fortunately this is less true than it used to be. Those who think independently are the ones whose decisions should and usually do govern free nations.

 The midjet plane, equipped with a Continental engine, carries but the makereast of instruments. "Just enough to fly it and get it back down," Betty explained, "but not too much."
 The fuselage has Betty's lucky pieces and good-luck charms pasted on it. She carries a four-leaf clover, a St. Christopher medal (Patron Saint of all travelers), a lucky penny and a pair of Royal Canadian Army and Navy wings.

Those watching the procedure preparatory to taking the Little Stinker up wondered at the pressure put on the safety belt about Betty's legs securing her into the plane. It took two men of about two hundred pound weight to pull the belt secure enough to satisfy the slender girl.

"She uses a heavy turkish towel between her legs and her straps," the mechanic informed your reporter, "to fill the spaces down with her legs."

"When asked about the necessity of having to defend the letter, the writer said: 'I am sure that the committee will be satisfied with the result. Sanford Forum

Sanford Daily Herald, Editor, Dear Sir,
 The Ministers of Sanford town are riled up until it's almost funny about the changing of hours for the sale of liquor.

Look, if it were advertised that a number of ministers got some of their money from liquor dealers, that are members, some pious chaps no doubt would sneer away like those whom Christ addressed thus, "Let him that is without sin cast the first stone."
 Many of our Ministers will roll their eyes about Sunday liquor sales, but, and I imagine its because it's sinful that they rebel. Every body is supposed to keep every day holy, and it's a fact that some persons store their religion with their Sunday clothes.

Percy has done no worse than most of his critics, for he does not profess to be a preacher, just a sheriff. It is far worse for a professor to take tribute from those whom they think make enough in six days, than to change the days of sales of liquor.

The same God sees the damning things on Monday thru Saturday that would see them on Sunday. I'm satisfied they would not want it made a law to close liquor stores seven days a week, and if it's a sin to get drunk, it's equally sinful to take money from the sellers.

If he can procure enough on Saturday night, which those drinkers of the "bottled class" do. Some of the complainers against the commission and the sheriff of our county are tobacco users, prize fight fans, baseball enthusiasts, and even interested in the various race tracks. It's a case of the kettle trying to call the pot black. I do not believe in the sale of liquor at any time or place, but again our good boys shut their eyes to the Sunday theatres, and wink at the public as they place things on sale for the Church on Sunday. They are no better in those things, and if our preachers want to make the Devil jiggle, just fuss about selling liquor one day a week, and bid it God speed the other six.

I have never seen one article by the clergy condemning week day closing of saloons. Evil is no use criticising the sheriff when you do not speak out against the sale of such drinks. Some say the sheriff promised to do different, but when God saved your soul, you made some promises too—CAREFUL NOW. Sincerely, Rev. B. W. Miller (Miller Farms)

Mr. Roland Dean, Editor The Sanford Herald Sanford, Florida. Dear Mr. Dean: Most people in Florida know what disaster means. We have seen hurricanes destroy or damage large sections of the state, and we have friends or neighbors who have had to move from their homes, at least temporarily. We should not have to be reminded of the function of the American Red Cross when disaster strikes. Through the American Red Cross we have seen our neighbors all over America help our next door neighbor. The people of Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Illinois have helped us when we needed help—now they are desperately in need. This is the first time since 1937 that the American Red Cross has had to ask the public for contributions—other than during the regular fund campaigns for disaster purposes. In the five year period from 1946 to 1951 the Red Cross budgeted twenty millions of dollars for relief and expended approximately four million dollars and has expended annually approximately seven million, five hundred thousand dollars. So, for the first time since 1937 we have the opportunity of giving our money for a specific disaster. The Red Cross estimates that the cost of rehabilitation for the 25,000 families who have registered for assistance will be in excess of $10,000,000.00. We have read in the papers that $25,000,000.00 of Federal funds will be used for rehabilitating public buildings, restoring sewage and water systems, etc. The Government does not grant money to individuals for flood relief. The only regular fund set up to help individuals who cannot help themselves is the American Red Cross. The homes that have been destroyed or washed away will not be replaced by the Government and there is no insurance coverage for flood damage. The local chapter of the American Red Cross will accept donations. It is hoped the personal solicitation will not be necessary. Every penny given will be spent for the rehabilitation of the victims of the flood area. Surely we will not let our neighbors down. Sincerely yours, Raymond Lundquist Vice Chairman Seminole County Chapter, American Red Cross

Quirino Victor Gerli, Italian sentenced to six years—"Gerli was a close friend of mine. He was anxious to leave China in the summer of 1950. His wife and two sons were in Rome. His only desire was to get out of China and join his family. You can imagine how effective he'd have been as an assassin."

Henri Vetch, Frenchman, sentenced to 10 years—"Vetch lived most of his life in China and was interested only in three things—his family, his business (a book store), and semantics (the study of changes in word meanings.) He hoped he would be able to continue his business under the Communists. I knew him for many years and he was a good friend. I respected Vetch greatly for many things but I would not rate him highly as a possible participant in an assassination plot."

Harrett said he did not remember Catholic, Bishop Tarcisio Martini, Italian sentenced to life imprisonment, or Ma Hsin-Ching, Chinese give nine years.

 would open a loophole in the salary stabilization plan because the regulation also provides that each company must follow its historic bonus policies.

More than 500 corporations already have applied for approval of planned bonus increases, Allen disclosed. The regulation is tougher in at least one respect than the similar regulation issued recently by the Wage Stabilization Board affecting workers who are covered by union contracts. The wage board's order puts a ceiling on a bonus fund when a company has an established plan, provided the formula is not changed. The salary board's ruling does impose a ceiling on total bonuses "which we felt necessary at this time in the interest of a proper stabilization program," Allen said.

Popular Movie To Be Shown At Ritz

The memorable "ONE FOOT IN HEAVEN", Warner Bros. version of the best-selling biography of his small-town minister father, by Hartzell Peckham, will have a special release at the Ritz Theater, beginning Tuesday. The film had the distinction of being the first full-length entertainment picture made with direct church cooperation.

An officially appointed representative of the Protestant churches of America went to Hollywood to sit in on every step of the production, from casting to editing.

The subject of Hartzell Peckham's book was his own father, the Rev. William H. Spence, a "practical" Methodist minister who gave long and colorful sermons in his chosen calling.

Jack L. Warner, vice-president in charge of production at the Warner Bros. studios, wrote to Dr. Daniel A. Poling, editor of Christian Herald and president of the International Christian Endeavor Movement, about the company's plans to make a motion picture of the book. Mr. Warner said they wanted to film the life of this admirable minister not only for the dramatic value of his story, but as a representation of a class of men who made notable contributions to the progress, welfare and morale of the nation.

Mr. Warner's suggestion that a qualified advisor be appointed for the picture, Dr. Poling organized a committee of leading representatives of the Protestant Churches of America to confer with him on the matter. Their deliberations led to the selection of Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, minister of the Marble Collegiate Church in New York, as the advisory post. Dr. Peale, an ardent admirer of the novel, immediately went to Hollywood and remained there throughout the making of the picture.

Casting of the picture was undertaken with particular care. At least a dozen prominent stars wanted to play the central role. The star finally agreed upon was Frederic March. He not only was the all-around choice, but also the selection of Rev. Mr. Spence's widow.

After seeing the picture at a private preview, Dr. Poling, in a sermon from the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church of New Beach, California, hailed it as "one of the great pictures" of our times. Said Dr. Poling: "There is nothing soft about it, and it will have universal appeal. There is romance and drama and rich humor. Love of God and love for men, women and little children is its theme. Whatever your age, faith or condition, if you have ever lived in a family, you'll be stirred by this portrayal. It is life with father and mother. And it marches with the trumpets of faith and courage."

HOLLYWOOD

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD was a great success. Here is today's picture of the power of television.

Four years ago, Sid Caesar left behind a movie career that consisted of doing two pictures in three years. Today, thanks to TV, virtually every studio in town is seeking his services.

The sensational young comedian is in town for a while. Last summer with Caesar and his partner, Imogene Coca, he had about every major producer in Hollywood. They are to set up a movie to be filmed next summer with Caesar and his partner, Imogene Coca, he had about every major producer in Hollywood. They are to set up a movie to be filmed next summer with Caesar and his partner, Imogene Coca, he had about every major producer in Hollywood.

"I caught Caesar in a moment of relaxation beside his hotel swimming pool. Talking to him was like stepping into the middle of a hot, steamy, funny monologue. He would say a few sentences and then lapse into some imaginary conversation. It would something like this:

"Ah, California! I remember how it was. That summer I was so relaxed! I'm telling you I relaxed for a year. For an entire year, I did nothing. My biggest decision was whether to fall in the swimming pool or not."

"I'd sit around and talk like this—'Hello, how are you? How are you? That's fine. What's doing? How's it going? How does it go? How about that? You know?' My, my, my."

"Don't get me wrong, it was a great life. And did I make money? I developed lots of expensive habits. Like collecting handkerchiefs. And match books."

"I started out in a picture called 'Tars and Spars.' Nothing serious, but it made a nice little impression. Then I was a year or so. They tell me I'm going to be in a psychological drama. The Gulf of Juan. What an I-comedian, doing a psychological drama."

"Oh, you're going to be the only comedy relief they tell me. But what am I going to do? Just do a couple of your routines, they said. So I shipped up a satire on the movie itself. Thinking they would throw me out of the picture."

But no, they thought it was great. After that Sid Caesar asked out of his Columbia contract and headed west. He admitted that it was tough going for a while. But then he encountered Teitelbaum, whom he had known previously. They did a Broadway show, "Make Mine Manhattan," and then dipped into television. Caesar quickly became TV's brightest young comic.

I mentioned to Caesar that such comics as Jimmy Durante, Martin and Lewis, Danny Thomas, Jack Carson and Ed Wynn would be televising from Hollywood this fall. Would he join the western movement?

"No chance," he replied. "Don't forget those fellows are up for an hour every four weeks. When they work they work hard. But they have plenty of time to spend on the golf course in between shows."

"This show is an hour and a half every week. That means we're working like mad all day, every day of the week. Usually we don't even go out for lunch, but have a sandwich sent in. In New York you can keep that kind of pace, because everyone is working frantically. But in California, there would be too much danger of slowing down."

I could see us trying to put on a show with everybody sitting around and saying: "Hello, how are you? That's fine. What's doing? How's it going? How does it go? How about that? You know?" My, my, my."

Melvin (Sam) Lyle, Georgia Tech's new end coach, was the captain of LSU's Sugar Bowl squad of 1949.

Sanford Giants Winning Streak Is Broken At Nine By Azaleas

The Palatka Azaleas broke the Sanford Giants phenomenal winning streak at nine games Saturday night eking out a 4 to 3 victory after trailing until the eighth frame.

The Giants won their ninth straight from the Orlando Senators Friday night 6-1 behind the eight-hit hurling of Al Neville.

Slashing out 14 hits, the Giants resembled not at all the listless club of the early season months in impressively pushing the Senators collective faces in the mud as rain fell intermittently during the game.

Control pitching his way to his ninth win, Al Neville showed his ability in the clutch to perfection as the Senators left a stranded on the base paths.

The Giants got one run in the first frame and led it in the third with three more. The final two markers came in the fifth and seventh frames.

Manager Richie Klaus led the Giants hitting against the senators. In losing to Palatka, the Giants broke one of the longest victory skims seen in the Florida State League all season.

Palatka, Aug. 20.—Center Fielder, Pete Pichan blasted two home runs, a double, and a single here last night to bat the Azaleas to a 7-3 victory over the Gainesville G-Men.

Pichan's first circuit clout came in the first frame with the bags crammed by three walks for the first grand slammer by an Azalea this year.

Daytona Beach, Aug. 20.—Orlando defeated Daytona Beach last night, 6 to 3, behind the nine hit pitching of Ray Zednick.

Sanford Winning Streak Highlights Florida State League In Past Week

SILVER SPRINGS, Aug. 20.—(Special)—With the DeLand Red Hats and rookie Ernie Oravets of Orlando having "sewed up" the Florida State League pennant and batting championship, respectively, play for the week ending midnight Thursday found Richie Klaus' Sanford Giants stealing most of the headlines by winning eight straight to move from seventh to fifth place, only a game and a half behind Leesburg.

It was Sanford's longest winning streak since mid-1948, and their followers saw them in the first division and play-offs for the Florida State League.

Apparently experimenting with their rookie hurler—Cy Tomney, Bob Minnich, and Bill Warshay—the DeLand Red Hats also had their worst week of the season.

National Women's Amateur Tourney Opens Qualifying

By JERRY LISKA ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 20.—(AP)—The 51st National Women's Amateur Golf Tourney, won six of its last eight years by girls now pros, opens today with an 18-hole qualifying test among 75 players jostling for 64 match-play berths.

Although sprinkled with sharp competitors, the field lacks its 1950 champion, Beverly Hanson of Pasadena, Calif., who last spring became the latest National Amateur Champion to succumb to the lure of fairways' lure.

Before Miss Hanson, professional had claimed Betty Berg, the 1938 champion; Betty Jameson (1939-40); Mrs. Babe Zaharias (1946); and Louise Suggs (1947).

The national was not played in the World War II span from 1942 through 1945.

Last year's runner-up, Mae Murray of Rutland, Vt., is back and so are two former champions, Grace Loneyak of Newington, Conn., the 1948 winner, and Mrs. Julius A. Page, Jr., of Greensboro, N. C., the former Estelle Lawson, who capped in 1937.

The field also lists a pair of two-time finalists, Dot Kirby of Atlanta, Ga., (1947-1950) and Helen Sigel of Philadelphia, Pa. (1948-1951).

Miss Murray shared what slight pre-meet favoritism there was with Marjorie Lindsay of DeCatur, Ill., the 1951 Western Amateur champion.

Grand Trapshoot Is Scheduled To Open Fire Today

By FRITZ HOWELL VANDALIA, O., Aug. 20.—(AP)—One of America's most colorful events for letting the fans man—the 52nd Grand American Trapshoot—opened here today.

Before it closes next Saturday, more than 2,000 marksmen from all parts of the country, Canada and the Canal Zone will fire about 1,600,000 shotgun shells and pick up $250,000 in prize money.

The Grand American is unusual in that only the amateurs shoot for money. The professionals shoot for trophies and the admission charge is assessed with a view of holding down the crowds.

Preliminary events were marred yesterday when a new steel and wood bleachers collapsed with about 500 persons. Eighteen were injured, nine of them seriously enough to be taken to hospitals in nearby Dayton in ambulances.

The others were treated in first aid rooms on the scene.

Of those hospitalized, only Mrs.

Money Pours In As Bill Veck Uses Midget Batter Against Detroit

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Showman Bill Veck's unrestrained efforts to set the turn-of-the-spinning at Sportsman's Park are beginning to pay dividend.

Since it became known July 4 that the fuzzy-haired impresario was taking over the St. Louis Browns, attendance has jumped to a total of 138,550 for 20 playing dates here.

The club has won 15 while losing 30 since Veck took over for a $33 average. Before Veck arrived on the scene the Browns had a .300 won-lost percentage.

The Browns dropped both games 5-2 and 6-2, but the contest between the second division clubs drew 18,369 fans, the largest crowd for the Browns here in more than four years.

Veck previously had announced plans for letting the fans manage the Browns during a game with the Philadelphia Athletics next Friday. Under the plan, a number of fans will be seated in a special section and vote on what strategy should be followed as various situations come up.

This brought a cry of protest from General Manager Arthur Ebersole of the A's. Such a scheme would be making a joke out of the game, Ebersole declared.

The new owner has been shuffling players on a wholesale scale since he arrived. Only eight of the players who started spring training with the Browns still are in the roster. More changes are said to be in prospect.

Montgomery Grays Virtually Certain Of Sally Loop Flag

By VERNON BUTLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Montgomery's powerful Grays, holding a seven game South Atlantic League lead with 14 playing dates left, looked down on the rest of the loop today confident of making their first year a championship one.

Left-hander, stopped Charleston on even hit, which the losers bunched for three runs.

Augusta's Robo Holman will pitch the winning run across as the Grays bowled, 3-2, to the Savannah Indians. It was the first time since Aug. 1 the Tigers have scored and lost. They were shut out four times in that period and won all the others.

State Department Official Admits Knowing Red Spy

Visit To Communist Magazine Is Noted In Diary For 1932

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20—(AP)—Oliver Edmund Clubb, suspend of State Department official, today told the House Un-American Activities Committee his personal diary shows he met Whittaker Chambers at the New Masses office in 1932.

He turned over to the committee several volumes of his personal diary, made during his 23 years as a foreign service officer.

Chambers, confessed former courier for a Communist spy ring, testified to the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee last week that Clubb had called at the New Masses office only in 1932.

Chambers was one of the editors of the magazine at that time.

Clubb, after his testimony of last March, obtained his old diary from Peiping. He said that on finding it he found a reference to the Chambers meeting.

The Clubb diary entry, made in July 1932, read:

"The most interesting meeting this year was that with the New Masses. This so-called revolutionary organ is a horrible rag."

"But Agnes had given me a letter of introduction to 'Wait' Carson so I went to see him."

Chambers' story was that Clubb came to the magazine office, looking for Carson, and had a letter from Agnes Himmelfarb, Miss Himmelfarb, a Communist spy by witnesses before the Senate subcommittee.

Carson had been on the staff of New Masses but Chambers said Carson was not there when Clubb came.

Clubb, 60, has been head of the State Department's China section but was suspended from duty last year pending a hearing on charges lodged with the Department's loyalty and security board.

The Department announced his suspension July 12 in response to inquiries from news reporters but did not say what were the specific charges.

Clubb received a hearing before the loyalty board on July 31, but it has not yet announced any decision in his case.

The diary Clubb gave the House committee described the building housing new masses as "a shabby, dilapidated and reached by 'rotty stairs.'"

The entry noted that he was received by a secretary who introduced him to Michael Gold, Communist Clubb. He spoke of revolutions but in the presence of it for the United States at present, bemoaning the lack of organization when the field is prepared and the crop so ripe for harvest."

The diary entry that Gold asked him about conditions in China and then continued:

"And then there was a succession to Carson, one Whittaker Chambers, a shifty-eyed unkempt creature who showed considerable brains in asking about conditions in China."

"We didn't talk smoothly," the entry went on, "was, after all, out of my bellwether, masquerading under false pretenses."

Taverner read the entry. After finished, Clubb suggested that Taverner had neglected to indicate that quotation marks had been placed around the words "revolutionary," "comrade Clubb" and "hopes."

Taverner agreed.

Clubb identified "Agnes" as Agnes Himmelfarb. She was described as a Soviet spy by Maj. General Charles A. Willoughby, former East Army Intelligence Officer, in testimony to the Senate Internal Security Committee.

Clubb testified he first met Himmelfarb in 1931 at either Shanghai or Shanghai and subsequently obtained from her letters of introduction to some interesting people in New York.

Chambers appeared before the House committee without a lawyer. When asked by Taverner if he was satisfied to proceed, he responded "I am satisfied."

Clubb accompanied him to the hearing and sat among a small group of spectators.

Grand Jury

The liquor dealers made a statement through their attorney that they were not asking for the reopening of the case. That is recorded in the minutes of the Grand Jury.

Clubb said the whole case was a farce and that the Grand Jury was an organization of men who were not qualified to judge the case.

Clubb said he was a member of the Grand Jury and that he was not qualified to judge the case.

Cease-Fire Talks Hover On Brink Of Complete Failure

Communists Step Up Propaganda Fight As Red Delegates Continue Adamant

By SAM HUMMERLIN
MUNSAN, Korea, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Communist protests and anti-American propaganda were stepped up today as a joint Allied-Communist subcommittee held its fifth session trying to break the deadlock in Korean truce talks. Red China's Peiping radio said tonight that the killing of a Chinese soldier in the Kaesong neutral zone "will focus still greater hatred of American imperialism among Korean and Chinese peoples."

McCloy Reports Failure Of Red Propaganda Drive

FRANKFURT, Germany, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Communist propaganda drive has flopped in West Germany, U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy said today. The Reds opened their full-scale assault last spring, McCloy said in his quarterly report to the State Department. They tried to scare West Germans away from joining western defense and into a sell-out compromise with the East.

Instead, McCloy reported, German support for western defense has increased, and the Communist chief propaganda agencies have been thoroughly discredited, "refuted and even outlawed by an aroused West German people." "It has become increasingly difficult to peddle recognizable Communist wares in Western Germany," McCloy concluded. "West German determination to uncover and resist Communist subversion has matured appreciably. Even the basic play on fear of Soviet attack has worn thin with the excessive use and growing Allied strength."

They scheduled another session for 11 A. M. Wednesday. They made no report on progress. But the U. N. spokesman, Air Force Brig. General William P. Nichols, gave some indication little progress was being made. Nichols said the Communists at the discussions were "impatient to make any progress."

Dawson Selected To Line Up Hams For Disaster Job

Charles R. Dawson, operator of Amateur Radio Station W4RGO, has been selected by the American Radio Relay League to line up other local radio hams for emergency communication in time of disaster.

This was announced today by F. E. Handy, communications manager of the League, a national association of radio amateurs.

The job carries the title, emergency co-ordinator, and Mr. Dawson's assignment will be to band together local radio amateurs to perfect arrangements for emergency radio communication in the event of hurricanes or other emergencies.

Mr. Dawson has already been co-operating with the Miami Hurricane Warning Service, Miami, by radiating to it local weather reports.

The need of self-powered radio transmitting and receiving equipment for use during storms, was pointed out by Mr. Handy.

As ARRL Emergency Co-ordinator, Mr. Dawson will call local meetings of amateurs, establish common operating procedures, and arrange regular drill periods when the hams' personal stations may be substituted under simulated emergency conditions.

His duties will also include liaison planning with the local chapters of the American Red Cross and other relief agencies.

In addition, liaison will be established with local police departments and civil defense communication.

Stokes Withdraws Offer To Settle Iran Oil Crisis

By ROBERT R. HEWETT
TEHRAN, Iran, Aug. 21.—(AP)—British representative Richard H. Stokes has withdrawn a proposal to settle the grave British-Iranian oil dispute and gave the Iranian ambassador notice to take it or leave it. The new British withdrawal by British delegate Richard H. Stokes of the previous British proposal involving about a 50-50 split of Iranian oil profits. (In London, the Foreign Office, confirming the new offer, announced that Prime Minister Acheson has summoned his cabinet to discuss the oil negotiations.)

By ROBERT R. HEWETT
TEHRAN, Iran, Aug. 21.—(AP)—British representative exploded a surprise in the British-Iranian oil talks today by withdrawing Stokes' proposal for settlement of the grave dispute. A brief statement from the British Embassy gave no hint as to whether the talks had actually broken down.

One source said it appeared chief British negotiator Richard H. Stokes was trying to force Premier Mohammad Mossadegh to advance "a specific counter-proposal to the British offer."

It is announced that Stokes had withdrawn his previous offer which provided for setting up a new purchasing agency and what amounted to a 50-50 split in oil profits. The Embassy said: "Following a discussion with (Premier) Mossadegh, Stokes has, with deep regret, come to the conclusion that the Persian government is not prepared to agree to any arrangements under which British businessmen, whose continued service to Persia was so urgently asked for by Mossadegh, would be prepared to remain to supervise the nationalized oil industry."

Earlier, Premier Mossadegh talked for an hour with Stokes and American officials who were in Tehran. Stokes was charged with convincing Stokes about the deal.

President To Open Drive For Tougher Price Freeze Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—(AP)—President Truman indicated today he is about to open a new fight to get Congress to raise the price and other control powers he says are needed to combat inflation.

At a White House meeting, the President asked his National Advisory Board on mobilization policy for advice on a message to Congress asking stronger control authority. When Mr. Truman signed the present law on July 31, he announced it as inadequate and served notice he would ask Congress later for changes. He said in a statement at that time: "We will not be able to hold down rising prices under this act, and I am going to ask the Congress to amend it to give us adequate controls."

Parents Blamed For Fundamental Breakdown In Youthful Morals

(EDITORIAL) This is the first of a series of five articles for afternoon papers. The series will analyze major aspects of young Americans which have made news recently. It will report the reaction of educators, law-enforcement officers and others who are dealing with the problem.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Three times within the past few months a startled nation suddenly has been confronted with some painful facts of life. The facts were doubly painful because they all involved young people. First, a series of reports showed that teen-agers and young adults in increasing numbers are regular users of dope. Many of them are now confirmed addicts, possibly beyond cure. To get the money for it, they resort to shop-lifting, burglary, robbery and prostitution. Narcotics officers say the medicine exists in such towns as well as big cities, and that it is spreading. At about the same time detectives began surveilling a state of crowded operations on college campuses. Students were charged with carrying letters to campus with marijuana and a high school

Two Electrical Circuits Knocked Out By Lightning

Municipal Ball Park Switch Is Damaged In Heavy Rainstorm
Two of the four electrical circuits in the Sanford area were knocked out by lightning during the sudden rainstorm that swept the city shortly after 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Service was interrupted in the downtown, east and south sides, and in portions of the west side of the Municipal Ball Park. This equipment is mounted on a pole near the grand stand. All electric service was interrupted on the east side, downtown section, and a small portion of the west side, and was not restored until the circuit at the Ball Park had been cut out. Current to the entire south side of the city was cut off when another bolt of lightning hit a transformer in an alley between Elliott Avenue and Mellony Avenue near Seventh Street.

This lightning, said Mr. Coleman, smashed a lightning arrester and the building where the wire was cut into the transformer was completely destroyed. The wires were called into service by means of the 250 volt station on West First Street near the Atlantic Coast Line railroad. The storm, accompanied by a strong north wind, went into the city from the town of Lake Monticello and was confined to a relatively small area. Regions immediately (Continued on Page Two)

Halfway Point Is Reached In Flood Relief Donations

Seminole County's contribution for the relief of stricken families in the flood devastated areas of the mid-west have reached the halfway mark to the goal of $1,000, Raymond Lundquist, vice chairman of the Seminole County Chapter of the American Red Cross, announced this morning. The fact, he said, Seminole County citizens have generously and without being solicited, donated $502, and with many outlying communities yet to be heard from, it is hoped to reach the goal soon. He praised the public spirit and interest of Geneva, which has raised $61, and Casselberry which has raised $50. Through the courtesy of the Sanford (Fla.) and Florida League President John K. Kuder, $121 was raised at two ball games. Donation boxes have been placed by the Red Cross throughout the county, and contributions are being received. All funds donated, said Mr. Lundquist, go directly to the aid of stricken families in the flooded areas.

Amazing Advance In Weapons Made, Joint Chiefs Say

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—(AP)—The Joint Chiefs of Staff have testified that an "amazing advance in the science of weapons" has been made within the last year. Senator O'Mahoney (D., Wyo.) said today. On the other side of the Capitol Hill, Price (D., Ill.) said Russia has more, bigger and better atom bombs than previously believed.

Twenty-one other soldiers were injured or injured as the T-33 Air Force trainer plane crashed moments after taking off from nearby McGuire Air Base. Measure To Provide For Expansion In Areas Crowded By Defense Workers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—(AP)—The House today passed and sent to President Truman a $1,635,000,000 defense housing bill promoting lower down payments on low and moderately priced dwellings.

The general purpose of the bill is to encourage private builders to erect housing for the thousands who have swarmed into defense centers and areas around military installations.

The bill was originally sought by the Administration, but the amount for various housing programs was trimmed. Also, it carries a provision which would require that the present tough credit restrictions on low and medium priced houses be relaxed. This is separate from a provision permitting the President to relax the anti-inflation measure.

The bill would authorize a $1,635,000,000 expansion of the government's authority to insure home mortgages. This and other features are designed to encourage private industry to build what housing is necessary.

However, the bill also provides $200,000,000 for public housing to be built by the government if necessary, and $200,000,000 for such community services as waterworks and sewers in communities unable to finance them locally.

Hurricane Aims For Mexican Oil Fields On Coast

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 21.—(AP)—A tropical hurricane with winds up to 100 miles an hour, formed over the southern Gulf of Mexico today and aims for the coast of Yucatan and some of the richest oil fields.

Overnight it had strengthened to the force with which it struck Yucatan last Friday and took 155 lives. The U. S. Weather Bureau on its 11:30 A. M. advisory, said present indications are the hurricane will sweep inland tomorrow afternoon.

Early today the Weather Bureau had reported the hurricane heading toward the Yucatan Peninsula of the central Mexican Gulf shore between Tampico and Veracruz. But at 11:30 A. M. the Bureau said the location appeared to be far south and revised its advisory.

The Bureau said strongest winds are about 130 miles an hour within 100 miles of the center, hurricane winds extend out about 250 miles in the northern semi-circle and gale 350 miles in the north.

At 11:30 A. M. the hurricane was about 240 miles east of Tampico and moving about 15 miles per hour in a direction between west and northwest.

It swept across Yucatan Friday, then hit the Yucatan peninsula of Mexico yesterday. It lost force over the sparsely settled land, but the Mexican Weather Bureau said it picked up new force last night.
