WEST PALM BEACH (AP)—Continuing their onslaught against Florida State League pitchers, Sanford belted two West Palm Beach throwers for 13 hits last night in thrashing up a 9-1 victory.

Sanford scored 24 runs against Cocoa Sunday night. Starting pitcher Bill Garcia was nixed for three runs on six hits in the four innings he worked and Stuart Closs relieved.

Sanford completed three double plays and the home team made seven errors.

ORLANDO — Exploding with one of their heaviest hitting attacks of the season, the Orlando CBs got back on the winning track last night by trouncing Daytona Beach, 15-3, to move into sole possession of first place in the Florida State League race for the first time since the season opened.

Cocoa's loss to St. Petersburg dropped the Indians a game behind Orlando.

The league leaders rapped five Islanders pitchers for 13 hits and seven of the blows were for extra bases. It was the 11th victory in 13 starts for the CBs and the seventh straight setback for the Islanders.

A slim crowd of 659 watched Joe Valmas hurl his third success. The bespectacled righthander would have registered his first shutout of the season but for a home run with two on base by Gene Bennett in the eighth. All three runs were unearned.

ST. PETERSBURG (AP)—The St. Petersburg Saints came from behind last night when pinch hitter Hooks Iott doubled home the tying run to best Cocoa, 7-6, in a Florida State League game.

The home team won in the ninth on successive singles by Bobby Muskopf, Fred Bell and James Oliver. It broke a three-game losing streak for the Saints, who had lost three in a row by 7-6.

Leading hitter for Cocoa was catcher Doug Williams with a double and two singles. It was Iott's first win after three losses this season.

Lakeland loses To Gainesville

GAINESVILLE (AP)—Rolando Ortega, veteran righthander, set Lakeland down on three hits last night as the Gainesville G-Men took a 7-1 Florida State League victory.

The game was a pitchers' duel until the seventh inning when the G-Men got to Jerry Castaldo for four singles and four runs. They added three more runs in the eighth off Andy Ashworth, who walked in two men with the bases loaded.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Now that the hysteria over the Brooklyn club's great start has subsided somewhat, the important thing to notice is that the Dodgers are being followed. As the second phase of the National League race began with an invasion by the Western teams today, the Milwaukee Braves were only one game behind the streaking leaders in the lost column.

Without much fanfare, Charlie Grimm's line club had clicked off seven victories against only three losses for a percentage of .700. You may be sure that such a pace, if sustained all season, will be plenty good enough to land the Braves in the next World Series, the National League being the scramble that it is.

Though they were a total of 2 1/2 games behind the Dodgers as they opened a two-game set against the Giants here today, Grimm's sluggers had played three fewer games than the record breakers and as yet had not had a crack at the woody Pittsburgh Pirates, whom the Brooks mangled four times while winning their first 10.

With Bobby Thomson apparently fully recovered from his broken ankle and slugging the ball at a furious clip, the Braves appear to be that much stronger than they were last season. It should not be forgotten either that they were in three batting for the '54 pennant until Sept. 11, the sad day when first baseman Joe Adcock, who was in the midst of a sensational hitting streak, was struck on the wrist by a Don Newcombe fast ball. They faded steadily after that misfortune, but had shown their potential.

Thomson at last is proving that the Braves were not so dumb when they surrendered pitcher Johnny Antonelli to obtain him from the Giants. In his first 10 games he hammered home 17 runs, tying him for the league lead with Duke Snider of Brooklyn, who had played in 13 contests. One of the two runs in which Bobby failed to knock in a run he saved with a brilliant catch of a home run bid by Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs.

Dave Smith Wins Amateur Tourney

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—Dave Smith, the Gastonia, N.C., automobile dealer who calls himself the "big," apparently is ready to make his move in amateur golf.

His five consecutive birdie finish in Monday's qualifying round gave him a back nine 31 and a five-under-par 67 to win the North and South Amateur Tournament medal by four shots over Bill Campbell, U.S. Walker Cup team captain from Huntington, W. Va.

Smith, 28, 6-5, 240-pound husky, came up with new putting touch to go along with his heralded long game to romp off with the medal.

On the eve of the tournament he had said he was ready to make his move in golf. Speaking of Billy Joe Patton, more celebrated Tar Heel who is not defending his title this week due to the pressure of business, Smith said:

"Billy Joe is five years older than I. I hope to get as far as he has by the time I reach his age."

Big Dave equalled the tournament qualifying record by finishing 2-2-4-2-3, one under even three. He dropped putts of 66, 40, 20 and 12 feet.

Willie Hartack Rides 6 Winners At Laurel Track

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—Little Willie Hartack, youthful jockey with a burning ambition to lead the nation's riders, took a giant step toward his goal Monday by riding six winners at Laurel race course.

The 23-year-old native of Johnstown, Pa. came within one of the national single-day saddle record of seven, set by Jimmy Sylvester at Ravenna Park on Oct. 18, 1930. But more important to Hartack, he gained some ground on Willie Shoemaker, the nation's leading winner for the past two years.

Hartack had seven mounts on the eight-race card. He sat out the third race and he finished third in the sixth.

At the end of the day, his second great performance here in a week, Willie had exactly 100 winners for the year. Shoemaker with two winners at Golden Gate Park Monday leads all jockeys with 126.

Ralph Mauriello Is Now Sporting Sharp 3-0 Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rookie Ralph Mauriello, who made a miserable debut in the Mobile home opener, has been unstoppable since that early April evening and now sports a glittering 3-0 record.

The hard-throwing young righthander was wild in his first start and had to be derailed in the first inning. In three starts since, he beat Little Rock 3-1 in 12 innings, checked Memphis 5-3 with a seven-hitter, and last night stopped Little Rock again on five blows as Mobile won 4-3.

It was the only activity in the Southern Association. Cold weather stopped Birmingham at Chattanooga and Atlanta at Nashville, New Orleans and Memphis were not scheduled.

Peak Of Activity Hits Kentucky's Horse Farms

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Springtime is to Kentucky's multi-million dollar horse industry what the pre-Christmas season is to a department store—all hustle and bustle.

The thoroughbred nurseries, with their miles of white plank fences and gently rolling green pastures, are now at their prettiest.

Tourists and race track visitors always step up the sightseeing at the farms this time of year. The teams generally maintain a schedule for visitors.

Two hundred thoroughbred farms are scattered throughout the Blue Grass of Central Kentucky. Many of them are within a few minutes drive of Lexington.

Many of the horses see action at nearby Keeneland race track, at Louisville's Churchill Downs, home of the Kentucky Derby, and at Dada Park near Henderson.

The foaling season begins early each year and continues through early May. Newborn colts and fillies get meticulous care, for any one may be a million dollar turf baby. Citation, a retired turf millionaire, lives at Calumet Farm, just down the highway from Keeneland.

Getting the yearlings ready for summer market sets a fast tempo on the farms. The frisky youngsters require a diet as carefully planned as a baby's, exercise and daily grooming. As the sun gets warmer, their outdoor freedom is restricted because they are susceptible to sunburn. Some owners permit only a daily walk for their yearlings when the hot summer sun beats down.

Many of America's greatest sires are found in the Blue Grass. Nasrullah, the sensational English stallion whose four offspring from his first American-bred crop averaged $50,000 each at market, stands at A. B. Hancock's 2,113-acre Claiborne Farm near Paris.

Another of Claiborne's stallion stars, Blenheim II, is retired. Calumet Farm, owned by Mrs. Gene Markey, is one of Kentucky's top racing stables. It's the home of five Kentucky Derby winners—Whirlaway, Pensive, Ponder, Hill Gail and Citation. Bull Lea and Coaltown also are among its name horses.

Neighbors of the thoroughbred nurseries include such well-known farms: Alibhai and Royal Charger stand at Latta Combs II's Spendthrift Farm; Count Fleet at Stoner Creek Stud; War Admiral at Faraway Farm, which was the home of his papa, Man O' War; Polynesian at Galaher Farm, and Roman at Stallion Station. All are near Lexington.

Other farms include those of Greenree, Dixiana, Elmendorf, and George D. Widner, who operates the old Kentucky farm.

Some of the farms don't race but offer their yearlings for sale privately or in summer auctions. This group includes Spendthrift, Marwether, the estate of Samuel D. Riddle, Henry H. Knight's Almahurst, and Howard Reinecker's Crown Crest among the larger ones.

Not everyone who owns a thoroughbred owns a farm. Some have just one or two horses, which they board on one of the farms, a major activity in the Blue Grass.

Alternate Plan Offered In Annexation Battle

Dog Tracks Receive Unexpected Trend In Capital Action

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Dog tracks which had hoped House and Senate committees would soften the administration's touch for new taxes got some unexpected reverse action yesterday.

Both groups, upped the 1 1/2 million dollar figure which Gov. Collins had recommended, the House committee adding $20,000 and the Senate committee almost $100,000. Spokesmen for the dog tracks had asked that $339,000 be trimmed off the proposed new taxes. They asked raising to $100 the allowance for the tracks before tax deductions were made from the $25 per race figures recommended by the administration.

The House committee by a 17-7 vote accepted a subcommittee recommendation that the state's share of the 17 per cent taken from pari-mutuel betting pools be increased from 5 to 7 1/2 per cent and that the allowance per race for the tracks be fixed at $100.

Collins' bill had proposed that the take be upped from 5 to 7 per cent.

King Loses Battle In Reconsideration Of Voting Problem

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The Senate today refused to reconsider its vote passing a proposed constitutional amendment to give 18-year olds the vote in Florida.

A motion by Sen. King, Winter Haven, to reconsider the action was defeated 14-12. The measure had passed yesterday 19-10.

King said he didn't think it would be good government to subject 18-year-olds to high school and college students "to possible political duress."

He said that because of immature youngsters were liable to be "used by political campaigns."

Sen. Floyd, Apalachicola, said if 18-year-olds were old enough to fight for their country they were old enough to vote.

"This country went to war because of taxation without representation. This is more than that, it is the risk of death, death itself, without representation."

Chou-En-Lai Guest Of Pres. Soekarno

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—The Prime Ministers of India, Burma and Egypt left for home today as Indonesian slowly settled back to normal after the 19-ration Asian-African conference.

Of the main conference attractions, only Red China's Premier Chou-En-Lai stayed on, for another two days as a guest of President Soekarno.

India's Nehru, Burma's U Nu and Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser left about the same time.

Soekarno entertained Chou last night at a dinner, followed by a reception in the gardens of the presidential palace. The spectators watched Japanese dancing girls perform.

Butler Asks Demos For Reconciliation

ATLANTA (AP)—An appeal to Democrats to reconcile their differences over sectional affairs was made last night by National Party Chairman Paul Butler, but he made no reference to a major issue in the South—racial segregation.

Observing that he was addressing a dinner of the Georgia Democratic Executive Committee on Confederate Memorial Day, celebrated annually in memory of Southern warriors who fought in the Civil War, Butler said:

"I believe all the differences that existed between the sections of our country then and now can be worked out...."

No Error Is Seen In Suicide Verdict

BARTON (AP)—A grand jury has reported an investigation disclosed nothing to indicate official error in letting Edmund Dunne, accused figure in a murder for profit plot, as a suicide.

Dunne, a Lake Wales lawyer, was found dead in a ditch near his home in a 4-foot-deep hole, being found on a road on a Sunday morning.

He was found on a road on a Sunday morning. He was found on a road on a Sunday morning.

The City Commission has offered an alternate proposal to Seminole County legislators in the city's fight to annex outlying areas.

While restating its original request for annexation authority without a referendum, the Commission pointed out in a lengthy letter:

"Should you three gentlemen (Sen. Douglas Stinson, Rep. Volie Williams Jr. and Rep. Mack Cleveland Jr.) still be of the opinion that you would not introduce such a bill, then it is proposed that this matter directly affects not only the residents of the adjacent areas, but also the thousands who are residents of Sanford, should be allowed to vote in one combined election.

"With this in mind, the City Commission makes the alternate proposal that you secure legislation, authorizing the annexation, with a referendum whereby the eligible voters of the entire affected area, including the annexation areas plus the City of Sanford, should be allowed to vote in one combined election.

"The results would be determined by a simple majority of the votes cast."

The letter revealed that after three conferences, during which the matter was completely debated, the lawmakers opposed annexation without a referendum.

In the new bid for an enabling act without a referendum, the Commission said that "actually, the people residing in these adjacent areas are residents of Sanford in very way except inclusion within the city limits."

The letter further stated: "It may be safely said that the extension of the city limits is necessary when areas adjacent to the boundaries become built up and when the people of these areas are dependent upon the population, resources, and facilities of the city for their livelihood and well-being."

"The majority of the residents of the areas proposed to be annexed by the city of Sanford are dependent upon the city for their livelihood and well-being."

"The majority of the residents of the areas proposed to be annexed by the city of Sanford are dependent upon the city for their livelihood and well-being."

Festival Of Music To Be In Miami At Orange Bowl

MIAMI.—More than 40 of South Florida's finest high school bands will gather here May 27 for the annual Florida Bandmasters' convention—and Miami's first annual Festival of Music.

The youthful musicians will appear in a two-night musical spectacle at the Orange Bowl (May 28-29), competing against each other for medals and voting as jurors for coveted ratings within the state bandmasters' association.

A special 10-piece Florida Youth Symphony, assembled by the bandmasters, will perform each night under the direction of Paul Whitman, America's King of Jazz.

Adding international flavor to the Festival program will be guest stars from half a dozen Latin American countries.

Performances will be presented by a 10-man marimba band from Guatemala, a quintet of folk singers and musicians from Jamaica, popular and classical singers and musicians from Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Haiti and Mexico.

An added feature of Miami's overall Festival program, May 7, will be a dual track meet between the University of Miami and Florida State University teams at the University of Miami track.

Special events will feature the Sauter of Kansas, America's champion miler, in an attempt to run a 4:00 mile; Mexico's Jose Melar, Pan American Olympic pentathlon champion, in the two-mile run and a special broad jumping event; and Argentina's Adhemar de Silva, attempting to better his own world record in a hop, step and jump exhibition.

IN PEOPLE SPEAK IN TWO MINUTES
BIDDEFORD, Maine (AP)—It took only two minutes for 96 persons to speak their piece at a testimonial dinner last night for a reformed jewel thief Dupre. Each spoke one word in a chain, leading to Dupre, an ardent fisherman, who was presented a gift ball full of live worms.

FIRST CLIENT HANGED; ATTORNEY FEELS BETTER
DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Dallas lawyer Gerald Brewer had just passed his bar examination, sworn in yesterday as an attorney by Criminal Dist. Judge William McCraw.

McCraw immediately appointed Brewer to represent ex-convict Clarence Williams, 31.

Williams, on a plea of guilty, was given 10 years in prison for stealing a concrete mixer. Judge McCraw canceled young Brewer by saying, "My first client was hanged."

SEX REDUCTION ORDERED

Van Sang Defies Order

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Binh Xuyen Gen. Lai Van Sang today defied Premier Ngo Dinh Diem's order naming him as head of the Surete, the national security police.

Sang said Diem had no authority to remove him since he had been appointed to the job by Viet Nam Chief of State Bao Dai, who has been living on the French Riviera for the past year.

Sang, whose office controls the provincial and secret police, appealed to Bao Dai for new instructions.

The general also told all employees and guards to remain at their posts in the national Surete headquarters in the heart of Saigon.

The American-supported premier ordered Sang to give up the post yesterday and named an army colonel, Col. Nguyen Ngoc Le, as the new police chief.

The move came after weeks of feuding between the government and the Binh Xuyen, which is allied with the dissident Cao Dai and Hoa Hao religious sects.

The government said it would order the 5,000 security police in the provinces to take their orders from Le rather than Sang.

Special Grand Jury Called To Consider Evidence In Death

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A special grand jury has been called for Monday to consider evidence in the death of Mrs. Mary Moonen, 21, whose body was found in a Lake District alley here Saturday.

The coroner, Dr. W. G. Guthrie, said the woman died of "asphyxia by manual strangulation." He said the vital organs also were being studied for possible presence of poisons.

Dr. A. Arnold Askrud, 51, Minneapolis dentist, has been held without charge since he admitted to police he had taken Mrs. Moonen for a ride Friday night.

Dr. Askrud, in a statement to Charles Wetherill, detective inspector, said he "blacked out" when Mrs. Moonen accused him of being the father of her unborn child, the officer reported.

Wetherill quoted the dentist as saying he came to, Mrs. Moonen no longer was in his car.

Program Is Given For Band Concert

The program of the last concert of the year for the Seminole High School Band is announced today by E. H. Cowley, band director.

This will be a drive-in "twilight" concert behind the Seminole High School building, and will begin at 7:15 p. m. tomorrow.

The program is as follows: 1—Star Spangled Banner; 2—Au Pays Lovain; 3—Salutation; 4—Dusk; 5—Bei Melody; 6—Mt. Healthy; 7—Haupt; 8—Jolanthe-Reely; 9—Imprial; 10—Robinson; 11—King Cotton; 12—Wilkinson; 13—Sir Lancelot; 14—America The Beautiful; 15—Egberton; 16—11-54; 17—Sincerely; 18—Tweedle Dee; 19—Heads of Stone; 20—Strawsting; 21—Hollywood Serenade; and 22—His Honor.

U. S. Said Willing To Confer With Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the United States is willing to confer along with Red China regarding a Formosa area cease-fire—but not on matters affecting Nationalist China.

Backing up the position of Secretary of State Dulles, the President told a news conference it may have been a bit of an overstatement for the United States to say last Saturday that it would "insist on free China's participation as an equal in any discussion concerning the Formosa area."

The State Department put out such a statement Saturday, after consultation with the President, when Red China offered to negotiate with the U.S. to relax the tension in the Formosa area.

Dulles told a news conference yesterday, however, that the United States is willing to negotiate with Communist China regarding a possible cease-fire in the Formosa Strait.

He emphasized, however, that this government would not deal alone with Red China on any matters concerning the Chiang Kai-shek Nationalist regime.

Before the President stated his own views, Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ), a strong backer of the Chinese Nationalists, endorsed a move for face-to-face talks with the Reds on a possible end to the shooting.

Foreign Trade Bill Still Has To Face Tough Floor Battle

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was credited with a foreign trade bill without major changes, but it still faces a tough floor battle.

The committee approved the bill late yesterday 13-2. Senators Kerr (D-Okla.) and Malone (R-Nev.) were the only dissenters.

Chairman Byrd (D-Va.) halted this virtual unanimity as a sign that the bill could be put through the Senate without any damaging amendments.

Nevertheless, sponsors of administration-opposed amendments rejected in the committee laid plans to carry the bill to the floor. Debate may begin Monday.

This was particularly true of Senators who seek relief from import competition for specific commodities. One powerful lineup favors a sharp cutback on all shipments into this country.

Tung Nut Growers Seek Federal Help

WASHINGTON (AP)—A delegation of Gulf Coast tung nut producers seeking emergency loans arranged a conference with Agriculture Department officials today.

The recent frosts virtually wiped out this year's crop. As a result, the department has declared the coast counties in some states disaster areas. This action makes farmers in the designated areas eligible for production loans at favorable rates and terms.

However, Rep. Colmer (D-Miss.) said many tung growers are not actually farmers and therefore are not eligible for the loans. He said possibly only 20 to 45 per cent of the growers hit by the freeze are eligible.

Ballerina Knocks Dancer Out Cold

NEW YORK (AP)—Svelte, diminutive ballerina Nora Kaye knocked out her male partner last night while dancing a scene of "A Streetcar Named Desire," an adaptation of Tennessee Williams' play.

While she was making a quick pivot, her elbow caught Igor Younkavitch in the left eye. He fell unconscious to the stage.

However, the scene ended at that moment and the lights went out, and the audience at the Metropolitan Opera House did not notice the incident. A doctor said the dancer will be able to perform tonight.

Friendship Policy Attacked

Minister Needs
Liberal Support

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama was accused in the Diet today of two-faced diplomacy in his policy of maintaining close friendship with the United States while negotiating trade and diplomatic ties with Red China and Russia.

The attack came in both houses of Parliament from members of former Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's Liberal conservative party, which has opposed ties with the Communists.

Hatoyama must have Liberal party support if he is to push any program through the Diet. His equally conservative Democrats hold only 185 seats in the all-powerful lower house—49 less than a majority. The Liberals hold 114.

Liberal Yoshiaki Sato told the upper house that Hatoyama's "two-faced diplomacy puts Japan in a position where she may be resented by the free world and fooled and tricked by the Communist world."

In the lower house, Seiko Ota said the "two-faced, makeshift foreign policy of the Hatoyama Cabinet is hurting Japan's reputation both within and without the country."

"This two-faced diplomacy is impossible in view of Japan's international position. Its results will be dangerous."

Hatoyama called the attacks deliberate attempts to misunderstand.

Ancient Landmark Burns To Ground

A two-story frame dwelling, an old landmark at Enterprise, burned to the ground yesterday in one of the Volusia County community's biggest fires in recent years. The loss was estimated at $10,000.

Ennis F. Lowe, who purchased the house in 1914, said the loss was partly covered by insurance. All furnishings were also destroyed.

A fire truck from the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station sped to the scene and succeeded in saving adjoining property. The fire lasted for about an hour and a half, Fire Chief C. M. Whitten said.

The burning house was directly across from the Methodist Children's Home.

Lowe is employed by the Progressive Printing Co., 403 W. 13th St.

Easter Seal Drive Results Announced

Mrs. Harold Appleby, chairman of the Easter Seal Drive, announced today that $946.25 was collected in return envelopes that were sent out to residents.

The Pilot Club collected $91.34 in the Lily Drive while the Kiwanis Club donated $75 to sponsor a child at camp. The County Commissioners contributed $400 toward the campaign.

Littlefield Asks For Case Details

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—Alexander D. Littlefield, former state Democratic chairman and ex-sheriff of Volusia County, has asked Federal Court to order the government to furnish details of its income tax fraud case against him.

He asks whether the government intends to claim he falsely reported his income in 1947 and 1948 as sheriff, as operator of the Aztec Motor Court, or from political donations as a candidate for sheriff and Democratic chairman.

He claims he earned $18,000; the government says it was $50,000.

Attorneys For Dr. Sam Sheppard Make Attempt For Another Trial

CLEVELAND (AP)—Attorneys for Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard go to court today in an attempt to win another trial on a claim they have uncovered new evidence indicating he was wrongly convicted of killing his pregnant wife Marilyn last July 4.

The state will insist Sheppard's chief defense counsel William J. Corrigan bring in "new facts, rather than new theories based on old facts," Saul S. Danaceau, assistant Cuyahoga County prosecutor, declared.

Corrigan said he would produce affidavits from five persons, including Dr. Paul L. Kirk, professor of criminology at the University of California.

"Dr. Kirk is the main one," Corrigan said, referring to the nationally known crime expert who flew here Monday from Berkeley, Calif.

Kirk was hired to make an independent investigation. Yesterday he said Sheppard was innocent.

He has theorized that Marilyn Sheppard was killed by a left-handed man, that the bone-deep and numerous gashes in her skull were made by a heavy flashlight, that she bit the hand of her assailant, and that the murderer intended sexual attack. Sheppard is right-handed.

Sheppard was convicted on a second-degree murder charge last Dec. 21. Under the life prison sentence required by such a verdict, Sheppard, 31, would be eligible for parole in 18 years.

Publishers' Head Hopes Wilson Sees Censorship Error

NEW YORK (AP)—The head of the American publishers expressed hope today that Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson will "see the error in his recent resort to censorship" in the Pentagon.

Richard W. Slocum, president of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn., also hit at former President Harry S. Truman's recent assertion that the press threw a protective cloak around the Eisenhower administration.

Slocum called too for an end to strikes that cripple newspapers. He said the recent "death" of the struck Brooklyn Eagle was "shocking."

Criticizing "the ever-present urge to censorship and a limiting of news sources," Slocum, executive vice president of the Philadelphia Bulletin, said in a prepared address at the NPA convention:

"Our problem sometimes lies more with the high-principled, loyal and conscientious public servant who just does not realize that full operation of the people's right to know is more important than any single decision."

Bricker Says Plan Could Block Design

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) said today his proposal to curb the power of the executive branch should be written into the Constitution to block the designs of "advocates of world government who seek to repeal the American Declaration of Independence."

Bricker said such persons seek to achieve world government in various ways, including amendment of the United Nations Charter, and he declared:

"The end result is the same—the United States would cease to be a sovereign, independent nation. When independence is destroyed, our liberties are lost. That is one of the most important reasons why we need a constitutional amendment safeguarding the power to make treaties and executive agreements."

Wade To Succeed Stemper As Head Of Sanford Lions

Ben Wade has been elected to succeed Jack Stemper as president of the Lions Club. He will be installed at the club's first meeting in July.

The election featured yesterday's weekly luncheon meeting of the organization.

Other officers elected were: Dallas Loop, first vice president; Carl Williams, second vice president; Joe Harnes, third vice president; Hugh Duncan, secretary; Thomas Stringer, treasurer; Volie Williams Jr., Lion Tamers; and Arthur Kitchin, tall twister.

Directors for two years are C. F. Witt and Eddie Keith. One year directors are W. O. Livingston and John Cameron.

Doctors Discussing Transfer Of Hess

BEHLIN (AP)—Allied doctors are reported discussing U.S. proposal to transfer Rudolf Hess to a mental home. Informed sources revealed yesterday Adolf Hitler's former deputy, now serving a life sentence as a war criminal, recently attempted suicide in Spandau prison.

These sources said Hess has deteriorated mentally in recent weeks and a special guard has been placed on him. He reportedly is convinced that he has cancer, although medical examinations disclosed no evidence of the disease.

Collector Swaps Pennies For New Refrigerator

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—Fred Schwenderer went into the appliance business in 1919. He celebrated his 36th anniversary yesterday.

To publicize the event, he announced that anyone who brought in a 1919 penny would receive 36 cents in trade.

Coin collector Arthur Ruppel rummaged through 40,000 pennies and found 878 such pennies. He wrapped them for a refrigerator.

Schwenderer said:

"I'm glad I didn't see 36¢."

Chief K. P. Hunt, Orlando Native, Reenlists In Navy For Six Years

Chief Aviation Ordnanceman Kirby P. Hunt of Photographic Squadron 62, a veteran of 15 years Naval service and a native of Orlando, reenlisted for an additional six year tour of duty at N. A. A. S., Sanford, last week. In a brief ceremony conducted by CDR F. J. Plumer, Acting Commanding Officer of VJ-62, at which Chief Hunt's wife, the former Miss Frances E. Morgan of Orlando and their youngest daughter, Debbie Ann were spectators as Chief Hunt signed the shipping articles for his last "hitch" in the Navy. This six year period will give the Chief twenty-one years of active duty at which time he will be eligible for retirement from the service.

The Hunts are presently residing at 1501 Cole St. in Orlando with their two daughters, Debbie Ann, 2, and Donna Lee, 8. Prior to Hunt's entry into the Navy in 1940 he attended Orlando High School and was employed by L. L. Jacobs. He also attended school in Apopka. During World War II, Chief Hunt saw action in both eastern and western hemispheres. He holds the African Theatre ribbon with two stars and also the Pacific Theatre ribbon with two stars. He also holds the Good Conduct Medal with three stars which signifies that the Chief has maintained a perfect conduct record during his Naval career. While serving in the Pacific with his brother, G. I. Hunt, Chief Hunt was on board the ill fated USS Wasp when it was sunk by a Japanese submarine's torpedo in the Coral Sea. Chief reported to PhotoRon 62 in November of 1952. Since then he has been assigned to the Gunnery Department with the exception of a six month period last year when he was deployed overseas to the Mediterranean area with VJ-62's Detachment "Item" on a photographic mission. Chief Hunt's parents are also residents of the Orlando area. His father, W. C. Hunt, resides in Lockhart and his mother, Mrs. R. G. Hoover in Orlando.

Turkey Practically One-Man Show

ISTANBUL — Prime Minister Adnan Menderes is an expert politician who runs Turkey as virtually a one-man show. He is extremely sensitive to criticism. He explains it's all right for his enemies to say his government is dragging Turkey to the brink of ruin.

"But the law will be invoked against those who say, 'These infamous and treacherous people are dragging the country to ruin,'" he says.

He means that such name calling will invoke stringent press laws, which he holds necessary to protect the dignity and honor of the nation. A number of editors have gone to jail for various reasons over the last year or two. Menderes' country has received about two billion postwar dollars from the United States, mostly as military aid. Just now he is engaged in a vast building program; one of the local papers calls him Adnan the Builder.

Since his party swept to power five years ago, Menderes has pushed an unprecedented program of industrialization.

The development program now takes nearly 25 per cent of the government's budget. Turkey is constructing seven big dams and power stations, costing from 35 to 50 million dollars each, and improving seven ports at a cost of 10 to 20 millions each.

Roads and grain silos are going in all over the country. The government is building sugar, cement and textile factories. Processing plants for meat, fish, wheat, macaroni and canned goods are going up in more than 20 areas. There will be new assembly plants for tractors and trucks.

Menderes' backers say his hold program to lift Turkey from a stagnant, subsistence economy will rank him in history with great Turkish heroes. His critics think otherwise. Some assert the Menderes program is catch-as-catch-can, without a master plan, and thus far a fiasco. They say foreign investors are afraid to put money into Turkey. They complain some of the new factories had to shut down because Turkey's shortage of foreign exchange prohibits imports of needed raw materials. They charge that the accelerated expansion has ceased in-

Military Jet Plane Carries Rare Blood To California City

EDMONTON, Ala. — A military jet plane carried two bottles of blood that is believed to be the rarest type blood in the world, was scheduled to leave Edmonton today on a 1,200-mile nonstop flight to California.

The blood is needed at Redwood (Calif.) Hospital, where Mrs. Wynne Robertson is about to give birth to a baby which will be delivered by Caesarian operation. There is little hope of the baby living without the blood.

The blood, known in medical circles as sub-sub RH delatium phenomenon, was donated by two sisters, Mrs. Clara Hironaka and Jean Callahan of the Callahan Indian reserve near Edson, 120 miles west of Edmonton.

Third Revision Is Being Pushed

TALLAHASSEE — The administration has started pushing a third constitutional revision proposal in the House but Gov. Collins said he hadn't given up yet on his two bills in the Senate.

The House Constitutional Revision Committee gave a quick 10-3 endorsement to the new proposal which the governor said was offered as a "last resort" in the event it was the best plan the Senate would accept.

The new bill changes the method of selecting the 40-member Constitutional Advisory Commission and calls for a report to the 1957 Legislature.

The other administration proposals rejected by the Senate Constitutional Revision Committee would call for approval in a special election of an emergency amendment to the Constitution or the approval of a new Constitution by the Legislature before being referred to the people for ratification.

Brazilian Jaguar Freedom Is Ended

SARASOTA — Jungle Queen, a jaguar from Brazil, had a brief fling of freedom yesterday.

The 18-month-old, 120-pound jaguar pushed out of an insecurely closed cage at Texas Jim's Reptile Farm and Zoo about dawn.

A posse, carrying arms ranging from pistols to riot guns, hunted the big cat for more than eight hours before running her to ground under a house.

Her owner, Jim Mitchell, who raised her from a kitten, told the hunters she was tame and unlikely to hurt anyone. She lived up to that reputation—running right past a 9-year-old boy in the yard of the house while being trailed by dogs and made no effort to claw or bite her captors.

Wife Fatally Shot Because Of Illness

BELLEFRONTE, Pa. — A retired contractor who said he couldn't bear to see his 72-year-old wife suffer shot her to death in her hospital room yesterday and then attempted suicide.

W. S. Madore, 71, is recovering in the Centre County Hospital from a chest wound.

His wife, Mrs. Nelle Madore, had been a patient at the hospital since she suffered a brain hemorrhage. Madore visited his wife daily. Nurses described them as "very devoted."

"I felt that she was not going to get better," Madore was quoted as saying by Dist. Atty. John R. Miller. "I couldn't see her suffer. I knew I couldn't live without her."

Two Envoys Leave To Report Mission

TAIPEI, Formosa — Two top-level U.S. envoys left today on the long trip from Scholars' Forest to the White House to report on their military and diplomatic emergency mission to Formosa.

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Walter S. Robertson, assistant secretary of state, maintained the same light-tipped silence they had kept during their three days at President Chiang Kai-shek's suburban retreat.

Nationalist Chinese fears that their mission sought abandonment of the offshore islands of Quemoy and the Matsu seemed to have subsided.

GIRL FRIEND SMOKED OUT OF RIVAL'S HOUSE

DALLAS, Tex. — Arvie Halliburton, 31, admitted smoking his girl friend out of the home of a rival suitor here yesterday.

Halliburton entered a plea of guilty to charges that he bought a nickel's worth of kerosene, saturated a corner of the rival's house and set it afire.

The fire brought the girl out of the house, Halliburton testified, but she still wouldn't leave with him. He received a two-year probated sentence.

Reduction Sought In Hilton Empire

WASHINGTON — Atty. Gen. Brownell today filed suit to whittle down the size of the Conrad Hilton hotel empire.

The action under the antitrust laws was brought against the world's largest hotel owner in Federal District Court here.

It specifically charged the Hilton Hotels Corp. with violating the antitrust section of the Clayton antitrust law when it acquired the Statler hotel chain late last year.

The suit also named as a defendant the Statler Hotels Delaware Corp., newly organized to hold some of the acquired Statler properties.

Angry Man Holds Mother Hostage

TRACKVILLE, Pa. — A man two relatives and then held his angered by a pending divorce shot mother hostage for four hours until a neighbor surprised and disarmed him early today.

Charles Klevis, 28, was wounded by a fusillade of bullets as he attempted to flee after his disarmament by Joseph Andruskin.

Klevis reacted defiantly at police who demanded his surrender and when captured told them "I'm not sorry for what I did."

He went to the home of his sister-in-law Mrs. Cecilia Klebash, 41, late last night and kicked in the front door. Mrs. Klebash told police as she was rushed to a hospital for treatment of critical wounds of the head.

In the house with her were a daughter, Charlotte, 15, and a sister, Mrs. Betty Klebash, who had initiated the divorce action.

Klevis drew a gun. Mrs. Klebash said, and she asked, "Why can't we be reasonable and talk?"

He replied, "There's nothing to talk about."

His wife tried to push a table against him but he pinned her to a wall and then shot at Mrs. Klebash, who was running to telephone police, and at Charlotte Klebash, who was fleeing the house.

The girl was wounded in the arm, back and hip. Her condition was reported as fair. In the meantime, Mrs. Klevis fled.

Klevis then ran three quarters of a mile to the home of his mother Mrs. Anna Klevis, 60. He held her and a visiting neighbor, Mrs. Tony Haneher, at gunpoint as local police demanded his surrender.

State police arrived and Trooper Mitro Karlitskie persuaded Klevis to come to the door.

Navy Investigation Probes Explosion

NEWPORT, R. I. — A three-man naval board of investigation opened an inquiry today into an explosion which killed five civilian workers yesterday at the Navy's underwater ordnance station here.

Five other civilian employees were hospitalized, but none was in critical condition. Several others required first aid for minor injuries.

The blast shattered a cement building 150 feet long and 50 feet wide which housed a 600-horsepower room used for testing torpedoes parts, particularly propulsion parts. The Navy said the explosion apparently was caused by compressed air and fluid used in the testing apparatus.

aside and Mrs. Haneher fled to safety.

The Show Goes On

It was once predicted that motion pictures would spell the end of legitimate theater. This did not prove to be true. Similarly when television became popular it was predicted that the movie industry in its present form would soon be on its last legs. On the contrary, television has learned and borrowed from the movies and the movies are now starting to learn and borrow from TV.

A case in point is the film "Marty". First produced for television, it is an intimate study of the life of a very ordinary man—a butcher. It follows his routine existence, details his hopes, his weaknesses and his dreams. It has now been made into a full length motion picture and has received favorable attention from critics and audiences.

The television and radio industries, and the legitimate theater for that matter, are engaged in efforts that are in many ways allied. There is no reason why one medium must best the others, why that which is sound and good in one field cannot be put to use in another. Hollywood has experienced and talented people; television has many young, vigorous and imaginative people. Working together they can improve the standards of both.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

Let justice roll down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream.—Amos 5:24.—Amos lived in a most corrupt age, justice was sold openly for a pair of shoes! Things did not get better but it cost the lives of many prophets and infinitely the greatest gave his life on a cross. It must be our business to correct injustices. Things don't get better just by chance.

Program Has Trouble In Senate

Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON—Despite President Eisenhower's plea to Congress not to tamper with his foreign trade program—it barely squeaked through the House untouched—it is in trouble in the Senate.

That program, which Eisenhower calls a cornerstone in dealing with friendly countries, is running into what OPA encountered, during and after the war, while it was still controlling prices. Businessmen paraded before congressional committees to say what they thought of continuing OPA another year.

One after another their story went like this: "I think OPA is necessary and should be continued. But in my special case there ought to be an exception."

It is later than yesterday Eisenhower said that to weaken the "administration program" is to weaken the American people's confidence in the free world to build up their economic and military defenses. It could mean a retreat from economic nationalism and isolationism.

School Tensions

Elimination of the tensions existing at the top levels of school administrations could help improve public education in all communities, according to a recently-completed study. School superintendents and members of boards of education often feel dissatisfied with one another, leading to some mistrust on the part of each. As a consequence, the management of the school administration is split, and this division is felt throughout the system.

These findings were made in the course of a 12-month study of school boards and superintendents in Massachusetts by Dr. Neal Gross, lecturer on education and sociology at Harvard. The study also disclosed that many school board members are dissatisfied with the way the school board functions, and that many superintendents feel they are subject to special pressures by school board members.

As a result of these frictions, time is lost that should be devoted to the study of actual school problems. A school board that doesn't trust its superintendent isn't likely to accept his findings or his recommendations. Likewise, a superintendent suspicious of his school board isn't likely to pay attention to problems that may be quite legitimate brought up by a member he doesn't like.

Usually this friction results from a lack of understanding. School board members can't appreciate the professional educator's point of view. Superintendents also have difficulties understanding the lay opinions of school board members.

It may be too much to hope that such misunderstanding can ever cease. This study has the merit at least of bringing the situation out into the open. Frank discussion on the part of all concerned may help ease the problem.

Hoover And Oregon

Oregon, too, is to have its presidential shrine. The old frame house at Newberg in which Herbert Hoover lived as a boy will be opened as a memorial and museum on August 10, Hoover 81st birthday. Extensive restoration was necessary before the house could bear much resemblance to its condition in the ex-president's boyhood; the changes have all been approved by him. Though he lived in a number of places following his birth in Iowa, this, he says, is the first house which he definitely recalls.

A community's historical associations should be preserved whenever possible. They make for greater public spirit and have educational value.

Though Hoover, when elected, was living in California, and since has moved to New York, Oregon is entitled to a share in his glory.

Prosperity Chorus Rises Higher

NEW YORK—The prosperity chorus rises higher today. Booming business is shown in the profit statements of corporations in many fields. Predictions of continuing good times are sounded at stockholders' annual meetings.

Here is just one day's quota. Top men talking optimism head firms in these varied lines: Oil, steel, auto, rubber, glass, chemicals, copper, aluminum, utilities, entertainment, farm machinery, and electronics.

General Electric's president, Ralph J. Cordiner, tells stockholders chances are good that business will continue its upsurge throughout the year.

L. L. Collier, Chrysler's president, tells stockholders their auto company has a sizable backlog of orders from dealers, making the future look rosy. Similar statements have come from officials of Ford and General Motors.

Record first quarter earnings for U. S. Rubber are reported. Its president, H. E. Humphreys Jr., says "sales and profit for the year could come up to the best we've ever had."

John L. Collier, chairman of B. F. Goodrich, reports his rubber company's sales are running 17 per cent ahead of last year and "the look ahead is promising."

Union Carbide & Carbon, having chalked up a record first quarter, its president, Morse G. Dial, assures stockholders he expects sales for the entire year to top the record year of 1953.

American Cyanamid also reports record sales so far this year and profits well above a year ago. In the once ailing farm equipment industry, Caterpillar Tractor reports good gains in sales.

Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co.'s chairman, John D. Bigger, tells stockholders sales and profits are at a record high. Prospects for the year look good, paced by the "unprecedented residential and school construction."

Profits for the year should be well above last year, Chairman Louis B. Gates tells stockholders of Phelps Dodge. Profit gains are

Duke Wants Phone For Sports Car

LONDON—The Duke of Edinburgh has ordered a long-range telephone for his speedy sports car. When he gets it installed, he can ring up Buckingham Palace from any part of Britain and even from some not too distant spots on the continent.

It's the Duke's latest move in attuning the royal family, and some of the palaces it occupies, to modern life.

At his insistence, Buckingham and Windsor Palaces have electric dishwashing machines in his and Queen Elizabeth's private suites, electric grills and a telephonic recording device. Helicopter take-offs and landings from the royal lawns have become commonplace events.

He has wanted a long-range radio telephone for his sports car for a long time and now an electric engineering firm is seeing that he gets it.

His car already has a telephone, but its range is only 25 miles from Buckingham Palace. For the Duke, who travels all over the country, this isn't good enough. He likes to call his wife when he's out on official duties, and also Prince Charles and Princess Anne. He said a spokesman of the manufacturer, "but he hasn't actually flown it yet." It took more than a year to build. That's longer than usual, but there were so many gadgets.

Geraldine Brooks

Named After Singer America, Russia

Joining Of Forces

Expounded In Book

NEW YORK—It may not have been inevitable that Geraldine Brooks should become an actress but the signs were auspicious from the start.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Broock, she was named Geraldine for famed soprano Geraldine Farrar.

Her father was and still is head of a company that has costumed countless stage and TV plays. Her mother is a top theatrical designer.

When she was very young Geraldine liked to dress up in adult clothes as do all little girls.

"But I didn't have to wear Mama's clothes," she recalls. "My playmates and I used to spend hours dressing up in costumes that had been worn by famous actresses. As long as we didn't bother the customers, Father would let us wear whatever we wanted to. We really were set each Halloween."

"I also went to see a lot of plays because father had provided the costumes, or mother had designed them," she continues.

And being with show business people so much, it never occurred to Geraldine that she would do other than have a career in entertainment.

Geraldine's most recent TV appearance was with MacDonald Carey in CBS' Appointment With Adventure Sunday night. She's just back from Europe where she acted in a pilot film for a proposed TV series entitled My American Wife. If it clicks with a sponsor, she'll probably return to make additional films in Paris.

Underwater Surgery

Prevents 'Charlie' From Being Blind

PALOS VERDES ESTATES, Calif.—It took an underwater eye operation to save "Charlie" from being blind as a bat ray.

Charlie, a bat ray by nature and an actor by profession, was bumping into the sides of the big aquarium where he and a host of other finny denizens live. A doctor diagnosed his troubles as damaged corneas.

Since Charlie was a favorite with divers and spectators at the Marineland of the Pacific, a delicate corneal transplant was decided on to restore the 3-year-old, 50-pound bat ray's sight.

Dr. H. George Blasdel, attending eye surgeon at the Los Angeles General Hospital osteopathic unit, performed the operation Wednesday in 22 feet of water. Dr. Blasdel thought Charlie would survive it better under normal pressure in his natural habitat.

Both the doctor and a diver who acted as his assistant wore diving masks during the 25-minute operation, in which a cornea from a "donor" bat ray was transplanted to Charlie's eye. The donor didn't volunteer. He was caught at sea, just as Charlie was originally.

After the operation the donor fish was destroyed to prevent it from suffering. Charlie, under only a local anesthetic, was released from his operating pallet and was soon swimming friskily about.

Another operation may be performed later to fix his other eye, which is failing.

"That is absolutely correct!" enthused the quizmaster.

Providing Spare Parts For the Human Machine

By NORMAN H. SWANSON, M.D.
LITTLE by little medical science is developing spare parts for your body.

Most of you probably have read of the successful transplanting of a cornea from an eye of a dead person to the eye of a blinded man or woman. Such operations frequently have restored sight to someone facing blindness.

Fabric Tubes
In much the same way, arteries removed from a body may be transferred to a live person in need of such a pipeline. And, during the last two years fabric tubes have been used for artery replacement. These tubes were all hand-made.

Now, however, it looks as though artificial arteries may be produced in the not too distant future. An Alabama doctor reports a "no kink" nylon artery has been used successfully for the first time in a human being.

Ferrocene Response
Dr. W. Sterling Edwards and the middle-aged patient reported favorably to the medical faculty at the Medical College of Alabama at Birmingham.

By WILLIAM RITT

THAT Christmas-to-New Year vacation from school comes in mighty handy for Junior—gives him extra time in which to repair those toys of his that Dad has already broken.

Once again that bothersome question rises. Are these New Year bowl games the end of the '55 season or the beginning of '56?

Trying to keep a half-dozen string of Christmas tree lights going makes us appreciate the job of the helper of a lightbulb.

Russell Wallace Wed In Germany

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wallace of 23 Meltonville Ave. that on April 23 their oldest son, Master Sergeant Russell Stringfellow Wallace of the U.S. Air Force Occupation in Berlin, Germany, was married to Miss Edith Nachtigal. She has been acting as interpreter for the past several years in the offices of the 7350 Air Base Squadron of which the groom is a member.

They expect to return to the United States next October.

Actress Screams Way To Stardom; Is Still Active

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It's time for a visit with Fay Wray, the actress with the wonderfully rhyming name.

For the benefit of those who feared for Miss Wray in the clutches of King Kong and other monsters of another film era, it can be reported that she came through those experiences unscathed. In fact, she is more beautiful than ever now in her 40s. She can hold her own with the more recent glamor girls and probably out-acclaim them all.

Although she has had a varied movie career, she is perhaps best noted for her screams. Only the other day a sound man at Columbia Studios was seeking a shriek to use in a new picture.

"I've got a Fay Wray scream stored away," said a co-worker. "It's still the best."

Fay became so noted because she starred in the original "King Kong." Audiences were chilled by the way she recoiled in terror when grasped by the king-size ape. When Kong held her in his palm atop the Empire State Building, she let loose a scream that could have been heard on Staten Island.

After that, she became the sweetheart of the monsters. She shrieked her way through films with vampires, seven mummies, etc. She did many other kinds of roles, too.

After a 10-year-old absence from the screen, Miss Wray reactivated her career two years ago and has been doing very well. She performed a few film roles, then spent almost a year as Paul Hartman's wife in the TV series, "Pride of the Family."

Miss Wray's film career goes back to the '30s. A native of Alberta, Canada, she went to school in Los Angeles and met a lot of movie people. She got the old line. If you ever want to do something in pictures, look me up."

She accepted one of the invitations and landed a contract with Hal Roach, where she got her training in comedies. She went from there to Universal and then did an Erich Von Stroheim epic, "The Wedding March." It established her as a star. She is married to Robert Riskin, a film writer.

Pier Angeli's Twin Sister Tells Problems

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What's it like to have a famous twin?

"It was hard at first," says Marisa Pavan, who wanted to be an actress. "At first there was a lot of resistance from producers, who thought I looked like my sister. But when they found out that we are entirely different, I had more luck."

Lovely, brown-haired Marisa is the nonidentical twin of Pier Angeli, who is also lovely and brown-haired. But there the resemblance ends. They are entirely different types. It has been Marisa's chore to convince producers of that.

She has pretty well succeeded. After a slow start—she was signed, then dropped by 20th-Fox—her career is getting off the ground. She did some TV films, then landed a good role as an Italian maid in "Drunken Beat." That was followed by a prize part in "The Rose Tattoo" with Anna Magnani and Burt Lancaster.

She did a studio one drama with Ralph Meeker, "Dominoe," which was well received. Now she's at her sister's home lot, MGM, for "Dianne" with Lana Turner.

Does she get mistaken for her sister on the MGM lot?

"No, I don't think that would happen. Pier has a short haircut, is walking with a limp and is pregnant. I don't think people would mistake me for her."

Hollywood has had a number of feuding sisters, notably Olivia De Havilland and Joan Fontaine. Though lately at peace, the two have battled in the past. This has been attributed to their vastly different natures—Olivia being the quiet, introspective type and Joan vivacious and extroverted.

Marisa was asked if she ever fights with Pier.

"Oh, no," she replied. "We have different opinions on matters and we can get quite loud about it. But we never have any real fights."

Grammar Students To Present Play April 28, 29

The students of Room Eight at Sanford Grammar School will present "A Midsummer Night's Dream" in the auditorium April 28 and 29.

The plays are given every spring for the benefit of the war orphan class sponsored a school in France, then for several years a Finnish boy. This is the third year to sponsor Vera Druesse, a little German girl. She has had three years of English and answers all letters from the class.

Miss Campbell, teacher and director, said that the correspondence has motivated language lessons, and resulted in better penmanship, and a keener interest in geography and foreign languages.

Since the class has chosen two of the world's best plays "Peer Gynt" and "A Midsummer Night's Dream" the time spent on memorizing and practice is not wasted. She said that every child in Room 8 has a part and most of them have memorized the whole play. "Nor are the benefits limited to the one class," she said. "All the children who have spent two years in Grammar School have a chance to see both of these plays for we have alternated them for eleven years."

This year Titania, the fairy queen who falls in love with the clown in the donkey's head, is Carol Ann Conlon. Bottom, the clown, is Mike Roberts; Oberon, the king of the fairies, is Billy Colbert; and Puck, the naughty elf who pours love juice in the wrong eyes and causes so many mix-ups, is tiny Pat Smith.

Cindy May plays the part of the Greek lady who is about to be put to death because she will not marry Demetrius, Andy Irvin, the man her father has chosen for her; and Mary Ann Watson plays the part of the meek Helena who loves Demetrius.

"There are many fairies, clowns and elves, and all have a wonderful time," she went on.

Readings, Lesson Are Brought Out At League Meeting

The Sanford Story Book League met at the Yacht Club at 8 p. m. with Mrs. W. L. Roche, president, presiding. Mrs. John L. Lee gave the lesson for the month. Mrs. May Maxwell opened the meeting with a prayer by Henry Van Dyke.

Mrs. S. H. Harriman, Miss Kate Blanchard, Mrs. Kirshner, Mrs. R. E. Herndon, Miss Irene Harshbarger, Allison Lee, and John L. Lee were welcomed as visitors.

Routine business was taken care of and Mrs. Guy Bishop invited the members of the league to her home on Wednesday evening to make plans for a choral group.

Mrs. Lee gave the lesson which was on "Trial and Error." She introduced Mrs. Harriman who gave the reading for the evening, "The Railway Station" and a "Bit of Blank Verse" and a request, "The Disciple's Mother." Mrs. Lee and Allison gave a musical reading, "Peter and the Wolf." Mrs. Harriman closed with a little prayer which is found

Seminole Hi

By MARGARET MOORE

We are happy to hear that Fred Ganz, coach at Seminole High, who has been very sick recently, has recovered and upon regaining his strength will be with us soon. All the students have missed him and will be very glad to have him back.

Nine girls representing the Pep Club went to the County Health Unit last Thursday. They filled out cards for the children in the first and second grades who were to have polo shots. They were Patsy Teslo, Betty Martin, Dwanna Colvin, Faye Holloway, Maria Menendez, Betty Ann Munson, Harriet Reiding, Elizabeth Woodruff, and Dawn Ann Pearson. They were received with much courtesy and were served soft drinks.

The Freshmen Class is a little slow in paying its class dues. Come on, Freshmen, get those dues in or you won't be able to go to the Class Picnic.

The Spanish class put on a Pan American skit Thursday, April 14. Also it featured several dances and piano players. A fine job was done and it was enjoyed by everyone.

The Jaycees had to abandon the Teen-Age Driving Roadster this year because of the apparent lack of interest on the part of the teenagers. It is a wonderful plan to promote driving safety among them and will be put on again next year with hope that more interest will be shown.

The Sophomores held a dance Friday night in the Gym. The decorations were kept with tables placed around the dance floor and on the tables were bottles with melted candles for effect. A "Bar" was set up for business with Al Stanley and some of his buddies acting as "bartenders." They sold soft drinks and if you haven't guessed what kind of dance this was I'll tell you. "Western" and everyone had a good time. Congratulations Sophomores!

For some reason the faculty doesn't like the treatment the text books get. Maybe it is because the students don't take care of them the way they should. Let's keep them out of the halls, off the floors and trees and from under the hedges. It doesn't pay. . . You! yes you, will pay in the end because if the book wasn't new when you got it, that's too bad, you pay for a new book. Let's watch it, kids. Keep the books in the lockers. . .

The baseball team is working real hard this year winning just as many games as were lost. Keep up the good work boys.

Guess I'll better be seeing ya! 'Til next time. . .

Quarterly Report Of Club Projects Given At Meeting

The April meeting of the Dorcas Circle of the Seventh-day Adventist Church was held at the home of Mrs. Irene Watt, president. Mrs. Watt offered the opening prayer. Mrs. Henry Brown read the minutes of last month's meeting and the quarterly report of Dorcas activities was given by Mrs. W. J. Ostman.

It included the following items for the first three months of 1955: 50 articles of clothing given away, also bedding; several food baskets amounting to $30 and ten sick people had been taken care of. A total of $150.00 was donated by the circle to the church school building fund.

Plans were made for a bake sale for May 6 with Mrs. R. G. Brisson and Mrs. Roy Schmidt in charge. It was voted to replenish the food shelves for needy families in the County. Mrs. Ostman closed the meeting with prayer. A social hour was then enjoyed by the members at which time delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Watt.

Wedding Gifts Stolen

HAPPY honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lettingwell, wherever you are. But there's gloomy news at home. Wilfred Genovese told police his car had been broken into last Saturday while he attended the Lettingwells' reception. More than half the couple's wedding gifts were stolen.

Layer sliced strawberries, dried fresh pineapple and spoon of vanilla ice cream in parfait glasses for a delicious dessert.

on the walls of Canterbury Cathedral.

Refreshments were served to 20 members. Gloriosa lilies were used to decorate. Hostesses were Mrs. Robb, Mrs. Maxwell, and Mrs. Bishop.

Mrs. J. E. Nichols Reports At Meet On State Confab

The Maenidia Circle of the Sanford Garden Club met with Mrs. Charles Atkinson Thursday evening with Mrs. Ray Harron as co-hostess.

The session was opened with a devotional and prayer by Mrs. J. E. Nichols, chairman. Reports on next year's program were given by Mrs. Charles Meeks and Mrs. J. W. Messler. Mrs. Nichols reported on the State convention in which over 800 delegates attended. She stated that she especially enjoyed the horticultural forum and will give a full report on horticulture at the October meeting. She also spoke of the wonderful exhibits of the garden club serapbook. Junior garden clubbers were well represented, with their exhibits done in the school.

Mrs. Fred Ganz gave an interesting talk and demonstration on flower arrangements. Club notebooks were judged and Mrs. J. W. Messler won the prize for having the most complete notebook.

Those attending were Mrs. Charles Atkinson, Mrs. Leslie Clark, Mrs. R. W. Harron, Mrs. P. D. Liske, Mrs. Charles Meeks, Mrs. J. W. Messler, Mrs. J. E. Nichols, Mrs. Fred Perkins, Mrs. C. L. Powell, and one guest, Mrs. Vern Gillespie. Also speaker Mrs. Fred Ganz.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served.

West Palm Edges Sanford In 12-Inning Fray

Daytona Wallops Orlando, 10-1; Cocoa Team Wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Orlando, which had been bidding to make the Florida State League race a walk-away, got a come-uppance last night at the hands of down-trodden Daytona Beach.

The Islanders snapped a seven-game losing streak and won 10-1 to give Orlando its third defeat of the campaign. Bobby Arendt, veteran Islander righthander, pitched no-hit ball until the eighth when Ed Knezevich led off with a single. Arendt was nicked for 3 hits; his teammates got to three pitchers for 14.

Cocoa moved back into the top for first place with Orlando on a 7-5 triumph over St. Petersburg in 13 innings. West Palm Beach also had to do overtime to take a 9-8 decision over Sanford in 12 innings.

Gainesville whipped Lakeland 3-2, its fourth victory in a row. Roland Bloodworth, 18-year-old rookie, took the decision on an eight-inning pitching job. His opponent, Fred Pinnis, yielded only four but seven errors wrecked him.

Bill Garcia ended the Sanford-West Palm Beach fray with a 12th-inning home run. West Palm reliever Bill Boyette doubled in three runs in the ninth to send the game into extra frames. His record now is 4-1.

Two scratch hits in the top of the 13th gave Cocoa its victory over St. Petersburg. Lefty Hooks, who came in in the ninth as the victim, Errors by Jim Oliver permitted Cocoa to score five unearned runs in the eighth and ninth to tie the game up. Oliver, however, had a good night at bat, getting a triple, double and two singles for five trips.

Two Universities Warned By NCAA

CHICAGO (AP)—The NCAA cracked down on the Universities of Oklahoma and Cincinnati yesterday with a warning that the two clean up their athletic policies or face possible expulsion.

Oklahoma was placed on two years probation by the policy-making council of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. Cincinnati was given one year probation and was ruled ineligible to participate in NCAA championship events.

Richmond Gives Vern Bickford Comeback Chance

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Vern Bickford, former Boston Braves pitching ace who did a quick major league fadeout when he developed a sore arm, won't accept the doctor's verdict that he'll never pitch another game.

Bickford underwent an operation June 1954, for removal of a bone spur from his right elbow. Though he still can't straighten out the arm to its full length, the Richmond Virginians of the International League have given him a comeback chance.

"The doctor told me I'd never be able to pitch again, but I can already throw curves and a slider without my arm hurting," says Bickford, a native of New Canton, Va. "I haven't got any speed, though—just pushing the ball up to the plate."

The University of Dayton (Ohio), Bethune-Cookman College of Daytona Beach, Fla., and Virginia Union University were reprimanded.

Dayton was reprimanded for holding a basketball tryout and the others two for engaging in the Tropical Bowl football game at Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 12, 1953. The game was not certified by the NCAA.

The council reported it was found that Oklahoma staff members offered prospective student-athletes cost-free education beyond the athletes' normal period of eligibility.

The school also was accused of paying medical expenses for immediate families of student athletes, specifically the wives and children of such athletes.

The council said university patrons provided student-athletes "fringe benefits" in the form of clothes, miscellaneous gifts of cash and other gifts of relative nominal value.

Charles, Holman To Meet Tonight In 10-Round Bout

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Ezzard Charles, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, and John Holman, a "hungry" fighter, square off tonight in a 10-round bout at the City auditorium.

CBS will telecast at 9 p.m., EST. Charles, 33-year-old veteran of 100 fights, hopes to work his way back to a title shot at Rocky Marciano. He was beaten twice last year in attempting to dethrone the champion.

Holman, 27-year-old Chicago Negro, will be making his first start against a "big name" opponent. It will be his 33th fight in a 10-year ring career.

Charles, who fights out of Cincinnati, is a fancy boxer and knocked out 55 of his opponents in winning 87 fights. He has lost 11 and 2 ended as draws. He is expected to weigh in at 190 pounds and will be giving away 10 pounds.

Holman's chief claim to fame is that he knocked out Cesar Brion three earlier this year, the first time Brion was flattened. Brion had gone the limit with both Charles and Joe Louis.

In his 37 fights, Holman scored 15 knockouts and lost 10.

Bill Reinhart, coach of George Washington University's basketball team, was the quarterback on Oregon's 1921 Rose Bowl team.

Ransom Jackson of the Chicago Cubs was a teammate of Bobby Layne on the Texas Christian football team and played in the 1946 Cotton Bowl game.

Charlie (Choo Choo) Justice of the Washington Redskins has four brothers, all of whom are star athletes.

Johnny Antonelli Hurls Giants To 3-2 Victory Over Milwaukee

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
Charlie Grimm watched the rain bounce off the side walks of New York from his hotel room yesterday afternoon and figured both his Milwaukee Braves and his ulcers were in good shape.

New Orleans Wins Over Little Rock

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
New Orleans, borrowing a leaf from the Cleveland Indians' notebook of success, apparently aims at grabbing the Southern Assn. pennant by whaling the daylight out of the undernourished Little Rock Travelers.

The Pels, clinging to a narrow lead over Memphis and Atlanta, beat the cellar-dwelling Rocks last night 4-1, marking their fourth consecutive triumph over the thinly manned Arkansas line.

New Orleans has won two of three from fifth-place Mobile and split eight decisions with Memphis. A hoary baseball maxim hangs the winning of pennants on ability to cuff the lower echelon. This was aptly demonstrated by Cleveland's 1954 achievement in the American League.

Atlanta and Memphis, deadlocked in second place, a half-game off the pace, also read the script. The Crackers backed Murray Wall's slinging pitching with a 6-1 victory over seventh-place Nashville while Memphis cuffed Mobile 6-2. Chattanooga blanked Birmingham 6-0 on Al Sima's six-hitter.

what with Bobby Thomson hitting and all.

Jolly Cholly agreed with preseason talk that had his guys winning the National League pennant. And he was sure the Johnny Antonelli-for-Thomson deal with the Giants was about to swing in Milwaukee's favor at last. A year ago, of course, Thomson was useless with a broken ankle while Antonelli was the pride of New York's pitching staff as the Giants swept to the world title.

"Thomson already has won two games for us in the field," said Charlie, "and three with his bat." That accounted for five of the seven won by second-place Milwaukee so far.

It might have been six games chalked up for Thomson last night—except for a guy named Antonelli. The young lefty, beaten in his two previous starts, put down the Braves with three hits in a 3-2 New York victory. And he made Thomson, tied for the league lead in runs batted in (17), look like just another batter.

Oviedo Wallops St. Cloud, 23-5

OVIDO—Johnny Jones and Fred Wheaton sparked a 21-hit assault as Oviedo crushed St. Cloud, 23-5, in a Central Florida Conference game here yesterday.

Jones blasted a home run, two triples and a single and Wheaton collected a double and three singles, each in four trips for a perfect day at the plate.

St. Cloud, 0-10, 0-5, 0-6 Oviedo, 4-1, 2-0, 2-2, 2-1, 4-0

Nicholson and D. Pacting; Mathers, Wrye (6) and Jones

Twice he fanned Thomson, who went hitless in four trips. In the eighth, a rally fizzled as Thomson dribbled the ball in front of the plate for the final out with the tying run on third.

That was the only National League game played, with rain and cold putting the rest on the shelf. But the American got off all four games, topped by Bob Turley's one-hit pitching in a 3-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox that moved the New York Yankees into first place, one game up on the Sox.

Boston had a chance to tie the Yankees, but dropped one to Kansas City 8-7 in 11 innings. That tied the Red Sox for third with Cleveland's Indians, who beat Washington 3-2 as Bob Lemon won his fourth with a home run.

Al Kaline's ninth-inning blast beat Baltimore for Detroit 3-2. Yesterday's was the fourth straight Polo Grounds defeat for the Braves, who won every road series but the one in New York last year.

New York had its three runs on a walk and four singles before Bob Buhl had retired a man. That did it. After the second, the Giants didn't make a hit off Buhl and two relievers, Dave Jolly and ace Warren Spahn. Hank Aaron tripled home the first Braves run in the third and they got another in the eighth on Aaron's single and a pair of infield outs with the help of an error and a passed ball.

Turley ran his strikeout total, tops in the majors, to 27, whiffing 10. It was his third decision without a second was the only hit he allowed, although he walked nine.

The Sox's right-hander, tactics against the Yanks failed. Mike Fornieles was tagged for three runs in the first. The Sox lost shortstop Chico Carrasquel, who was spiked on the ankle by Hank Bauer in a double-play breakup.

Boston's relief pitching, by Russ Kemmerer and Tom Hurd, no-hit the A's from the fourth to the 11th. Then Joe Astroth tripled and Jim Finigan smacked a single to win it after Hurd loaded the bases intentionally. Finigan also homered for three runs in the first. Tom Gorman was the winner, coming in relief as Boston tied it in the eighth at 7-all against Art Ditmar, who replaced starter Arnie Portocarrero.

'Certified Mail' Service To Start

WASHINGTON (AP)—A "certified mail" service described as having "most of the advantages of registered mail but at a lower cost and less trouble" will become a regular postal operation about June 1.

Postmaster General Summerfield said yesterday the exact date will depend on distribution of millions of new forms needed for the service.

Certified mail, tried out in various sections since the beginning of the year, will cost 15 cents in addition to regular postage. It is intended for mail which has no intrinsic value but on which the sender wants proof of delivery.

earnings and employment, for their needs in food, clothing, and transportation. It is in the city that they attend religious worship, that they seek medical care, legal advice, and banking facilities.

"It is a fact that, if the city of Sanford was not physically located where it is, most of these citizens would not be living where they are."

The Commission said that in the past it has recognized that these fringe areas would some day be a part of the city and, for that reason, has extended the water, sewer, police and fire protection facilities.

"True," the Commission said, "these citizens are paying for some of these services. It is also true, however, that these citizens could not provide themselves with the services at anywhere near the cost at which they are now receiving them."

"Some of the proposed annexation area has been developed by citizens who have constructed fine and expensive homes. There is a need and a market for more of these homes. To be valuable and to remain valuable, however, such homes need the protection afforded by the zoning ordinance of the city. There are owners in the city and in the adjacent areas who would build immediately if they were assured of the protection of the zoning ordinance."

The Commission said there are owners who have built within the city limits in this area who are within their rights in asking the city to protect their homes and property from the "depreciation and devaluation which unrestricted building in the area, but outside the city limits, might bring upon them."

The letter continued: "One area contains a fine new school. This school's primary function will be to educate the children of Sanford's citizens. Recognizing its obligation to its citizens and despite the school's location being outside the city limits, the City has revised and expanded its water and sewer lines within the City protection and welfare of the children."

The citizens of Sanford will rightfully expect that the protection of the City's Police and Fire Department will be provided for their children while at school and to protect the property that their tax dollars are helping to build.

The citizens of Sanford will expect that the business which will spring up around this school will not be dangerous to the health and morals of their children. They will expect that the residential areas surrounding the school will be such as to increase and not depreciate the value of the school.

"Unless you three gentlemen set to annex these proposed areas without a referendum, the City of Sanford cannot guarantee its citizens the protection of their entitled rights; the City cannot guarantee the upholding of property values; the City cannot guarantee the safeguarding of the health, welfare, and education of its citizen's children."

MARRIAGE CAN LAST IF WIFE REDUCES

CHICAGO (AP)—Michael Korsan, 42, says his divorce suit will be withdrawn if his 100-pound wife, Lilian, 41, will reduce. His lawyer said Judge Cornelius Harrington: "If Mrs. Korsan will diet down to 125 pounds, this marriage can be saved. Korsan says if that's too tough he'll even settle for 140 pounds." The hearing was continued until Mrs. Korsan decides whether she'll reduce.

Judge's Home Site Of Dynamite Blast

DETROIT (AP)—Police sought to determine today whether a dynamite explosion back of the home of Recorder's Judge W. McKay Skillman last night was an attempt on the jurist's life.

The 61-year-old judge, dean of the Recorder's (criminal) Court bench, has twice headed grand jury investigations of racketeering in Detroit.

Police said a garbage can containing explosives was tossed at the rear of the judge's home from a car that sped away.

The blast dug a two-foot hole in the ground between the curb and the sidewalk.

Judge Skillman said it was a "tremendous blast." He was reading in the front room of his home in a fashionable Northwest Side district.

President Reveals Private Conference With Red Minister

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower disclosed today he has been in private correspondence with Soviet Defense Minister Zhdanov within the past three weeks. He said the correspondence holds out some slim hope of betterment in United States-Soviet relations.

Eisenhower told of the correspondence at a news conference, and said he has a feeling world peace prospects are on the upswing.

As to Red China, the President said the United States is willing to confer alone with the Communists regarding a Formosa area cease-fire but not on matters affecting Nationalist China.

In saying he feels peace prospects are improving, Eisenhower said it is also possible, however, to balance every encouraging development—such as Russia's willingness to agree on an Austrian peace treaty—with an adverse development, such as the Red Chinese air buildup in the vicinity of Formosa.

World Scientists Albuquerque Meet First Of Its Kind

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Of every hundred drops of rain which fall on the dry mountain areas of the western United States, only two are ever put to use by man, scientists from 18 nations were told today.

John H. Dorroh Jr., with the Albuquerque office of the Soil Conservation Service, was one of eight experts presenting prepared papers today to the International Arid Lands Symposium here.

The symposium, sponsored by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization and the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science, represents the first meeting of world scientists on the international problem of growing deserts and declining food supplies.

James Doster Receives Oak Leaves

Lieutenant James B. Doster, Personnel Officer of Photographic Squadron 62 based at Sanford received his letter of appointment to the rank of Lieutenant Commander from Washington, D. C. this week. Commanding Officer, CDR John A. Goodwin replaced Lt. Doster's silver collar bars of lieutenant with the gold oak leaves of lieutenant commander signifying his promotion.

LCDR Doster has been attached to VJ-62 since September of 1944 serving as a Naval aviator piloting the squadron's North American made AJ-3P aircraft in addition to his duties in the VJ-62 Administration Department. At present he is Assistant Officer-in-Charge of Photographic Squadron 62's Detachment "Love" which will depart in the future on an overseas photographic mission to the Mediterranean area.

LCDR Doster saw more action during the Korean conflict while with Patrol Squadron Six where the squadron received a Presidential Unit Citation.

From VP-6 Lcdr Doster returned to Pensacola to serve in the capacity of primary flight instructor prior to reporting to Photolon 62. Lcdr Doster, a native of Florida, Ala., now calls New Smyrna Beach his home. He attended NSB High School prior to his entry into the Navy. He is married to the former Miss Lollee Melvin of South Riverside, New Smyrna Beach, and is the brother of Mrs. Henry C. Swopes of 516 Magnolia St., New Smyrna Beach.

Since being assigned to VJ-62 Lcdr Doster, his wife and four children, Diane, 8, Debra, 5, James, Jr., 3 and David, 1 1/2, have resided at 1807 Paloma Ave. in Sanford.

Among his decorations and medals, Lcdr Doster can boast the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with five gold stars.

General Discusses Red Chinese Forces

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining advised Congress in February that Red China's air force could be doubled or tripled "overnight" from Russia.

In testimony given Feb. 9 and made public Monday, the Air Force chief of staff said Red China's "rapidly expanding system of bases . . . gives the Communists the ability to move in aircraft rapidly from the Soviet Union."

"We cannot ignore their capability to double or triple their air strength in the Far East overnight," he told a House Appropriations subcommittee.

He did not publicly locate the new Chinese airfields nor discuss their relationship to the Formosa Strait.

Chinese Are Said To Be Sick Of War

TOKYO (AP)—Shozo Murata, former Japanese ambassador to Manila, Monday quoted Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai as telling him "the Chinese people are simply sick and tired of war" but "Formosa will be liberated."

Murata said Chou made the statements to him in January, when he visited Peiping for unofficial trade talks.

"Chou told me he personally feels friendship for the American people," Murata said in an interview, "but he resents the administration's attitude of dangling weapons before the Chinese."

A REPORT TO THE PUBLIC ON THE TELEPHONE STRIKE

Southern Bell deeply appreciates the efforts made by the Government to settle the telephone strike.

We regret that we were not able to convince those who represented the Union that the Company's proposal for increased wages, expanded arbitration, and other contract improvements is fair and liberal. It protects the interests of the public, the employees, and the company.

We will continue our efforts to convince the Union Leaders of its benefits and advantages. We hope we will be successful.

In the meantime, telephone service continues good. Over 30,000 telephone men and women are on the job. More are returning every day.

We are handling our normal volume of long distance calls. Local service is 85 percent dial-operated, and in the other cities and towns where operators handle the calls, the service is generally normal. Over the South, the messages are going through.

This would not be possible without the great encouragement and cooperation given us by telephone users everywhere, and by the skill and spirit of telephone folks on the job. To both groups go our warmest thanks.

Gadgets Galore - For All People

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gadgets galore, designed to assuage the suffering and grief of goldsmith's boys and girls, are flooding the market.

The well-dressed and fully-equipped dufer of '33, if he takes advantage of the innovations, will look like he's set for an Africa safari instead of a securely 18-hole hunt.

For instance, the bag-carrying golf cart or pushmobile which began supplanting the club-toting caddies not too long ago, has blossomed out with more accessories than a chrome-covered convertible.

The new one-manpower cart has ball-bearing wheels, inflated tires, a meter in mark off the yard from the tee to your driver (a ball frump every 50 yards), a fairway bag which swings out from the handle, a built-in bag with a separate compartment for each club, and a detachable tray which comes as an accessory at a slight extra fee.

One tray, in a pipe-like attachment, holds extra balls so one is available at all times, a package of cigarettes, a pencil and scorecard, tea, and a covered ashtray in which to deposit your cigarette while firing a shot.

One of the most intriguing of the new fairway fashions is a golfing cap with blinders, like Old Dobbin used to wear, on the sides. The blinders may be flipped up while walking about, and down into position when you get into the hole. When down, the blinders are supposed to shut out everything except the small area around the ball. The idea is to help you observe golfing's No. 1 rule: "Keep your eye on the ball."

The same cap has a built-in wind gauge to show the velocity and direction of the breeze, undoubtedly a boon to the dufer who generally has no idea where he's going to hit the ball.

Then there's a pedometer, to be strapped around the ankle, for golfers who want to know how far they walk in an 18-hole round; a putter with a target implanted in the center of the blade guaranteed to make putts from any place on the green if you hit the ball correctly; goldplated tees at $1.35 per half-dozen; and a golfing glove with a rigid strip running down the back of the wrist to prevent blisters—a feature which guarantees you'll break 'em.

To mark your ball on the putting surface, in place of a dime which few dufers have after the third hole in a "skin" game, the gadgets offer a pencil-like invention which deposits a drop of white powder on the green when a little plunger is plunged.

For the figure-fibers are wrist-watch scorers which chalk up the hole-by-hole and total counts, and one resembling a baseball umpire's indicator. Most intricate of the scorers, however, is a plastic card with movable indicators, showing all 18 holes. The indicator is moved across the face of the card, like the old poolroom markers on a wire, to show the score for each hole. The total is kept by an indicator running around the edge.

The latter score card is limited in its use, however, since the score runs up in only 10 for each hole, and to 140 for the round.

Robert Cummings May Have Show To Match Talents

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Cummings is one of television's ablest comedians and one day may have a show to match his talents.

His present Sunday night show on NBC is a vast improvement over his first TV venture in which he played the role of Mr. Bennington, a scatter-brained real estate salesman. But that still is a faint praise.

The current Cummings show has moments when it's hilarious and delightful, but the pace is uneven and at times it sags badly. Such was the most recent episode in which Cummings, as Bob Collins, commercial photographer and lady killer extraordinaire, sets out to help nephew Chuck win his girl back from a college rival.

The script didn't even wait to telegraph its punches—it sent them ahead air mail, special delivery with diagrams attached. You know what the surprise ending would be before the premise had been completed.

Chuck's muscle man rival, for instance, love a telephone directory in half. Uncle Bob consolingly told Chuck it wasn't really a matter of muscle but of leverage. But Bob couldn't do it himself. He kept trying it later at his studio as Schultz, his secretary, watched impatiently. You know long before it happened that Schultz finally would lose her patience, take the directory from Cummings and rip it in half herself.

It was the same when Cummings persuaded one of his sleek chick girl friends to pretend to make a play for Chuck's rival to take him away from Chuck's girl friend. It was inevitable she really would fall for the fellow herself and Bob would end up losing his own girl friend trying to help Chuck keep his.

Isn't that the Bob Cummings who is so bad, it's just that it would be one of the best if the writers would match Bob's mastery of the double take, his timing and genuine acting ability.

Heart Attack Ends Life Of Stage Star Constance Collier

NEW YORK (AP)—Constance Collier, former actress who had played many roles in the theater world, both on and off stage, died Monday after a heart attack at the age of 77.

The British-born Miss Collier had given up acting but continued a dramatic coach in recent years. She made her debut in England at the age of 13 as a lady in "A Midsummer Night's Dream." Through the years she was distinguished as an actress, producer, director and writer.

She came to the United States in 1880 at the height of her fame in England. But because a visa case here also and continued with such actors as John Barrymore and William Gillette.

She leaves no immediate relatives.

'Suitcase Farmer' Pictured Menace On Two-Day Tour

DERBY (AP)—The "suitcase farmer" was pictured in the central Great Plains Tuesday as a menace to the nation equal to the duststorm that now plagues the area.

At least that was the view picked up by Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace as he started a two-day motor tour through the plains to ascertain extent of damage caused by drought-provoked wind erosion.

"If you don't keep the soil firm on the land, he'll have to soil out to the suitcase farmer and move to some-else's land," Wallace said in the presence of a number of farmers.

The term "suitcase farmer" is usually applied to city residents who buy up land from distressed owners and hold it for speculative farming operations.

Lipstick Markings Enough For Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Testimony that her husband came home from "business meetings" bearing lipstick markings helped win a divorce for Mrs. Eleanor Perkins, wife of the publisher of the "Los Angeles Times," Mrs. Perkins said Monday in court.

She accused her husband of adultery and said she found lipstick markings on his neck and arms.

Reserve Training Said Important

Linked with the new military pay raise is the increased advantage of Reserve training being going into the regular military establishment.

According to Major W. F. Lane, officer in charge of Marine Corps recruiting in Florida, the new look in military pay directly benefits the career man or the Marine with more than two years' service. The pay of a recruit remains unchanged. However, 17-year-olds who join a unit of the Organized Marine Corps Reserve and serve as Citizen Marines for two years or more, will come under the benefits of the new pay bill when they go on active duty with the regular Marine Corps.

For purposes of pay, the time served in the Reserve will count and he credited to a man's record. Thus, a Reserve Marine holding the rank of Pfc can go on active duty as a Pfc, and with two years Reserve service will receive $101.40 a month instead of a recruit's pay of $78.

Under the present set-up a man serving in the Organized Marine Corps Reserve may go on active duty in the Regulars at the same rank he holds in the Reserve, which is significant in view of the new pay scale that awards liberal increases to men with rank and time in service.

For further information on the Organized Marine Corps Reserve, write or visit your local Marine recruiter.

Senator Advises On Negotiations In Red China Issue

MIAMI (AP)—Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) has advised waiting for "indications of good faith" from Red China leaders before accepting their offer to negotiate with the United States on tensions in the Far East.

Speaking at the St. Theresa Aviation Guild, an organization of Catholic employees of Miami Airlines, the senator said Sunday that "indications of good faith" should be the release of American flyers and other imprisoned Americans or the removal of Chinese troops from North Korea.

He said that a Formosa conference, such as that proposed Saturday by Red China Premier Chou En-lai, would amount to further recognition of the communist regime.

AN ARMY OFFICER from Fort Meade, Md., leads fragments of a runway Nike guided missile into his car after the super-sonic weapon was launched by accident during a training exercise. The missile streaked into the sky, burned a sergeant as it blasted off, and blew apart with a tremendous explosion over an area that fortunately was sparsely settled. A United States park policeman is helping the officer collect fragments along the Baltimore-Washington highway.

Carrier Bennington Anxious To Go

BAYONNE, N.J. (AP)—"That's a good lead for you," said the four-eyed, red-haired man with four gold stripes on his sleeve.

"You can say that our deck is canted and our hats cocked. We're ready to go."

And indeed, nearly 11 months after suffering one of the greatest peacetime disasters in Naval history, the aircraft carrier Bennington is more than ready to go. She's anxious.

A visitor to the Bennington, sleek now in a new coat of battleship gray, senses an eagerness for deep water on the part of her skipper, Capt. William F. Raborn, and her 2,800-man crew.

For almost a year the carrier has been bound to the docks and canal waters of the New York-New England area. Nine months were spent in the New York Naval shipyard, where the 40,000-ton craft was launched in 1944.

Now sea trials and final checks have been completed. Next Monday she will sail into her home port of Quonset Point, R. I., fully equipped and ready for duty.

The Bennington goes back not simply as a discharged patient, healed of wounds ripped last May 28 by explosions that killed 103 men and wounded more than a hundred others.

Those wounds have long since been closed. In addition, the Bennington has undergone an $11.5 million dollar overhaul that makes her perhaps the most up in date carrier in the fleet.

Her catapults, where the explosions began, have been repaired and improved for the handling of heavier aircraft.

Her 556-foot flight deck has been strengthened and "canted." The effect of canting is as if a giant plank had been laid atop, yet flush with the flight deck, beginning at the stern and extending more than half the length of the ship; and then the front of the plank had been pushed slightly out to port.

Incoming planes land on this angled section. The forward section of the flight deck is given over exclusively to parking or launching aircraft. And there is no danger now that the pilot who overshoots his landing will crash into parked aircraft or those being launched.

There is a clear field for getting back into the air.

Carrier Bennington Anxious To Go

The Bennington now is the only U.S. carrier in which the bow has been built up and molded with the flight deck itself. On other carriers the flight deck juts shelf-like above the bow. Under extreme weather conditions, there is a danger that the old style deck might be warped or pushed upward by the sea while ploughing through lowering waves.

These alterations bring to the Bennington the very latest trends in carrier design, both from the standpoint of seaworthiness and efficient handling of bigger, faster and heavier planes.

Both the Bennington and the U.S.S. Leyte have hydraulic type catapults—devices which use fluid and air pressure of around 4,000 pounds per square inch to launch planes at flying speeds of more than 100 m.p.h.

On Oct. 18, 1953, an explosion in the Leyte's catapult killed 37 men while the mechanism was being tested in the Boston naval shipyard.

The Leyte and Bennington accidents were similar in one respect: Both involved explosions of vaporized hydraulic fluid.

The board of inquiry which investigated the Bennington casualty has never made public its report. It has been made clear, however, that the tragedy was due to an "unnatural and abnormal phenomenon" in which no human error was involved.

Although the Bennington retained her hydraulic catapults, Capt. Raborn said they were modified so as to make "extremely remote" any possibility that the accident might be repeated.

The Navy has announced that these same modifications—the nature of which was not disclosed—will be made on all other hydraulic catapults.

VC-9 Rated High On Inspection

Capt. E. O. Wagner, Commander of Heavy Attack Wing One, Norfolk, Va., conducted a surprise inspection along with his staff on Composite Squadron VC-9 Thursday.

Following a full dress personnel inspection the staff scrutinized the records, equipment, and procedure in the several departments. Grades of outstanding and excellent were awarded individual departments with an overall grade of excellent for the squadron.

The traditional Naval ceremony of "piping aboard" was reenacted as a courtesy to Capt. Wagner as he was given full honors as a Commodore rather than as a Captain in recognition of his position as Commander of Heavy Attack Wing One.

Maine's Governor Amazed With Job

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP)—After eight months after his election as governor of Maine, Ed Muskie is still a little surprised at the importance of human relations in the job.

He is also startled to find he has by no means been forgotten outside the state.

The 41-year-old Waterville lawyer upset Maine tradition to win election last September as the first Democratic governor in 20 years. As expected, he was much in demand for the next two months until the November elections, stumping the Eastern half of the country for the Democratic party.

He had expected out-of-state speaking invitations to slack off after November. They haven't, although their character has changed.

At first he was asked to speak primarily at political rallies. Now he is receiving more bids from trade associations and schools, and Polish American organizations since he is of Polish ancestry.

He hasn't been able to accept many. Any governor has his hands full when his state's legislature is in session. But when the legislature is Republican-dominated and the governor is a Democrat, the problems are magnified.

Muskie has been striving for closer cooperation, and with individual Republicans feels he has achieved it, at least temporarily. But when Republican leaders meet with him in their official capacity, party lines become hard barriers to crack.

Dealing with legislators and their problems is a big part of the governor's job, but his capacity for human relations has been put to other tests.

Through his intercession and that of members of his executive council, private financing was found for the little northern Maine border town of St. Agatha where schools had been closed for temporary lack of funds. The loan extension enabled the town to reopen the schools and tax payments finally put the town back on firm financial ground.

In a more complicated matter Muskie got together the warring factions in the Bates Mfg. Co.—the out-of-state majority stockholder and the management of the big cotton textile firm. The management had had legislation introduced to restrict sale or loans to or merger with, an out-of-state corporation. They claimed they feared Bates and its 6,000 jobs would be moved away unless prevented by law.

That dispute still hasn't been settled, although the majority owners, Lester Martin and his Consolidated Textile Co., Inc. of New York, have reported offering a five-year contract extension to the Bates president, Herman D. Ruhn, Jr.

Many less important problems cross the governor's desk in his daily mail. Although about 80 per cent of the mail can be screened out by the office staff, Muskie still must answer 40 to 50 letters a day. Few of these concern job requests, he said, and he has "surprisingly little mail on pending legislation."

The governor's time with his wife, Jane, and their children, Stevie, 6, and Ellen, 3, is limited. Except for walks and rides, there is little chance for recreation away from home without being on official duty. But beyond that, "it's a pretty normal life," Muskie said.

Air Force Relates Two Appointments

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force announced late Monday that Gen. Earle E. Partridge will head the Continental Air Defense Command and that Lt. Gen. Laurence S. Kuter will succeed him as air commander in the Far East.

Kuter is head of the air university at Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala. Partridge, who has been Far East Air Force commander since last year, will replace the retiring Gen. Benjamin W. Chidlaw.

The Continental Air Defense Command, with headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo., has direct control of air, sea and ground forces assigned to the defense of the United States against air attack.

Postman Is Sorry For Delivery Delay

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—A mailman wasn't joking Monday when he apologized for a delay in delivering a postcard to the George H. Ogden residence.

It was postmarked, "Richfield, Utah, April 24, 1956."

Ogden wrote the card 47 years ago to a Miss Stella Nelson. When she couldn't be located, it was traced back to him.

David R. Trevithick, postmaster in Salt Lake City, said the card "probably found its way into some crevice in the mail train car" which formerly ran between Richfield, 125 miles to the south, and Salt Lake City.

Echo Heard In Halls Of Congress

WASHINGTON, Apr. 27.—One summer day in 1833 a nature lover named Howard Zahner was standing, perplexed, by the broad waters of the Green River in North-west Colorado.

On a sudden impulse—"something moved me," he says—Zahner yelled a question across at majestic Steamboat Rock: "Should we build a dam here?"

And back from the flat face of the huge wilderness landmark boomed a haunting echo: "Dam here!"

The reverberations of that echo have traveled, ever louder and angrier, from the mineral-streaked walls of the Green River canyon to the halls of Congress. And the thunder of controversy approaches a peak as the Senate prepares to vote on the question.

Should the government build a big power and water storage dam on the Green River at Echo Park in Dinosaur National Monument, the early beautiful federal preserve where lie the 100-million-year-old bones of prehistoric monsters?

Lined in battle over this issue, which has stirred nationwide interest, are:

1. On the pro-dam side, the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation and the states of Colorado, Utah, New Mexico, Wyoming and Arizona. They favor an Echo Park dam as a vital element in the upper Colorado development program—nine-dam, 1½ billion dollar project that ultimately would dwarf the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA).

2. Against the dam, the National Park Service and an array of outraged conservation groups. They look on such a dam as a desecration of a scenic wonderland—if not of America's spiritual heritage. And they fear Echo Park would be the forerunner of massive "improvement" of the national parks.

The Echo Park fight stalled the whole upper Colorado program in Congress last year. Now the first installment of the program, including Echo Park, is up for a Senate vote which may come in a week or so. The House Interior Committee expects to complete hearings late this month.

Just what is Echo Park? It's a flat green expanse, encircled by yellow cliffs, just below the junction of two Colorado River tributaries—the Green and the Yampa rivers. Only a stone's throw from the Colorado-Utah border, it lies in the "national monument" area set aside by President Wilson in 1913 and enlarged to 200,000 acres by President Roosevelt in 1928.

Nobody disputes that the region is an unspoiled wonderland. Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) waxed poetic in describing it during recent hearings: "Indescribable beauty... mountains that rear their heads into the sky, down whose sides tumble pure cold streams of water teeming with trout."

And yet, say the reclamationists, that water goes to waste while the surrounding region parches for lack of it. As Colorado's governor, former Democratic Sen. Edwin C. Johnson, puts it: "Water is life in Colorado. So in reality we are fighting for our very lives."

To impound the waters and harness them to turbines, the Reclamation Bureau would build at Echo Park a 100-foot high concrete dam at an estimated cost of 125 million dollars—plus another 21 millions for developing beaches and other recreation facilities.

This dam would make a 100-mile long lake of the Green and Yampa rivers—in effect, turning the now spectacular gorges into gentler floods. And here is where the Reclamation Bureau and the conservationists part company. Reclamation Commissioner Wilbur A. Drexler takes the position that a lake is as good as a river any day—just as pretty and a lot more enjoyable to the people when 21 million dollars is spent on play facilities.

But a leader of the opposition, Maj. Gen. Ulysses S. Grant III, declares you might as well say "cutting off the tail of your swallowtail dress coat will change it but not destroy it."

Grant, grandson of the president and Civil War general, took this position when he appeared as a witness on behalf of the American Planning and Civic Assn.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), one of the staunchest dam-busters, was moved to comment: "If you don't see many swallowtail coats these days, 'I still feel,' retorted the general

"that your dress coat with the tails cut off would be unsuitable for the purpose for which it was purchased."

Strangely, for a row in Congress, there seems to be no political partisanship in this dispute. The war-ravaged Reclamation Bureau and the National Park Service both are part of the Interior Department. The department has declared itself after much soul-searching, for the dam. And President Eisenhower implicitly has endorsed it.

Soviet Union Moves To Cancel Treaty

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union took another step Monday toward cancellation of its 1942 treaty of friendship and alliance with Britain, symbol of the two nations' World War II cooperation.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman told a news conference the Foreign Affairs Committee of both houses of the Soviet Parliament had recommended that the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) cancel the pact. The spokesman did not say when the Presidium would take the action.

The move, requested by Premier Nikolai Bulganin's Council of Ministers (Cabinet), is in retaliation for British ratification of the Paris agreements to rearm West Germany.

Wrong Plan Used To Cure Naggling

MIDDLEBOROUGH, England (AP)—Keith Elkin was accused Monday of picking the wrong way to cure his wife of nagging. "I haven't a thing to wear,"

Police witnesses said Elkin flung himself out of his house in a temper and shortly returned with a bundle containing 26 pairs of panties, 14 pairs of nylons, 12 brasieres, 8 slips, 4 camisoles, 4 night-gowns and 3 garter belts.

Police said Elkin, 24, got the lingerie by smashing a show window and removing the entire display. The magistrate ordered him held without bail on a theft charge.

What Kind Of Town Is Baseball's Newest Addition, Kansas City?

KANSAS CITY (AP)—What kind of town is Kansas City, the most recent addition to major league baseball? Will it be able to support the erstwhile Philadelphia Athletics in the plush manner Milwaukee has supported the onetime Boston Braves?

Is it just a cowtown with baseball fever?

"Everybody asks me those questions," City Manager L. P. Cookingham said recently. "And when I start giving answers, people are surprised. This baseball club has a spotlight on us and suddenly a lot of people are finding out things are popping here, right at the crossroads of the country."

"Kansas City," a longtime resident said recently, "was once a brawling, free-wheeling, wide-open, raw-boned, shapless town. We had a redlight district practically two miles long; naked waitresses in some of the bars and dice rattling on the sidewalks."

"But that's all gone now," remarked another. "Kansas Cityans used to brag about sin. But in 1940 the town went puritan. Now everybody talks about growing up."

With a metropolitan population of 801,900 it ranks 18th in the United States, just behind Milwaukee. At first glance it looks like a cowtown, with its grain storage facilities, slaughterhouses, livestock pens and some ten-gallon hats.

But it's a diversified city. From the day of its founding, as the "Town of Kansas" in 1850 at the junction of the Kaw and Missouri rivers, its economy has been related to its strategic location—only 300 miles from the geographic center of the United States.

Here's what Kansas Cityans like to brag about:

1. It's a meat town. Almost two million head of cattle and more than two million hogs are handled in normal annual business. The city is third in the country as a cattle market, behind Chicago and Omaha.

2. It's a grain town. Located on the eastern boundary of Kansas, the nation's largest wheat producing state, Kansas City ranks first in the country for cash trading on wheat and second after Chicago in wheat futures. Behind Buffalo, N.Y., it runs neck-and-neck with Minneapolis in flour milling.

3. It's a transportation hub. The city's railroad facilities are the third largest in the country. Twelve major trunk lines, 14 bus lines, 147 truck lines and 6 airlines serve the city.

4. It's an oil town. Its location on the threshold of the mid-continental oil fields makes it a major market and distribution center.

5. It's a factory town. Garment manufacturing, metal fabricating, and automobile and truck assemblies are the city's industrial backbone. In July, the employment force was 401,000 with 111,100 in manufacturing.

6. It's an implement town; first nationally as a distribution center of farm equipment.

7. It's a convention town. Accessibility attracted 162 regional and national conventions in the year beginning November 1953.

"Much of the city's development has been due to its geographic advantage," City Manager Cookingham says. "The town started as just a trading post. Then came the fur trappers, river boats, prairie schooners and finally the agricultural and industrial pioneers. The city's wealth has come from the soil—wheat, corn, livestock, oil and lumber, but in recent years we've been expanding its air transportation facilities and pushing into manufacturing fields."

A city expressway system costing about 150 million dollars will be finished by 1970.

The trend is in the suburbs as in many other cities. But Missouri laws permit annexation of unincorporated areas by a city; the annexed areas have no choice.

Thus, in the past year, Kansas City has annexed 48 square miles, making a total of 130.

This expansion led wages across the state line in Kansas in comment that if the Athletics hadn't moved here, Kansas City would have gotten the team anyway—by annexation.

STORY
Jim Andrus looked out the night before he was to have his last day in the big city. He was a young man, a graduate of the University of Michigan, and he was a member of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity. He was a handsome young man, and he was a very successful student. He was a member of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity, and he was a very successful student. He was a member of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity, and he was a very successful student.

CHAPTER TEN
SUBAN DWIGHT was aware of what she was doing, and frightened at it. She kept her foot down hard on the accelerator. The car, a dark blue Cadillac, leaped ahead. She was flying north as almost empty for four or five blocks but there were more lights and more cars up at the junction at Harvard. If she could reach the stream of traffic there, she would be safe. She sat in front of a truck, scooped past a string of cars with inches to spare. She couldn't keep this up for long.

Behind them the street continued to rise and fall. Twisted around on the coast beside her Andrus looked through the rear window. He couldn't see the police car but it was at their heels and coming fast. She said, "You'd better let me out, and get away yourself."

She didn't answer. Her attention was on her driving. She had no time for anything else. She had lived in Yankers until she was 15. Her father was a doctor. She had a plan. The police were close, perhaps a block and a half behind. She was moving over to the next intersection. She saw the wind, all but took the bumper from another car, shot right, then left, then right again. The dark narrow streets of the main stem were overcrowded. She could see three blocks building on the trail when turned west.

Now to cross the stream. She had a plan. She was moving over to the next intersection. She saw the wind, all but took the bumper from another car, shot right, then left, then right again. The dark narrow streets of the main stem were overcrowded. She could see three blocks building on the trail when turned west.

Andrus looked out on the empty street and walked over to her. She was passing through the street window. It was very dark in the garage. She had only a few minutes to get ready. She had only a few minutes to get ready.

Premier Diem Gives Long-Deferred Order To Attack Society

Nationalist Army Told To Charge After Two-Hour Binh Xuyen Shelling

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem gave his national army the long-deferred order to attack the rebellious Binh Xuyen Society today after the society's troops had shelled the Nationalist leader's place twice within two hours.

After the Premier's order, the army laid down artillery barrages immediately on Binh Xuyen headquarters near Cho Lon, Saigon's Chinese sector of two million people several miles from the French section of the city.

Within two hours more than 50 wounded civilians and soldiers had been admitted to the Polytechnic Hospital.

There was no immediate estimate of the dead. (A French Press Agency report to Paris said 100 persons had been "killed and wounded" in the battle.)

Fighting appeared to be becoming general in the non-French quarters of the city. The sound of mortars mixed with the screaming sirens of ambulances rushing to pick up the dead and wounded.

(A French Press Agency dispatch received in Paris said a cease-fire agreement had been reached between the two sides but that fighting was still continuing 15 minutes after the agreement. The report said the cease-fire was to take effect at 5 p.m. Saigon time.)

A refugee commissary near the scene of the major fighting was set after and hundreds of civilians fled in panic.

Strolling In Sanford

Orlando will play the Sanford Cardinals again tonight at Memorial Stadium. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Den Eight of Cub Scout Pack 10 was taken on a tour of the Fire Station this week. Mike McCassey, Tommy Baggerly, George Madden, Roddy Duffron, Johnny Anderson, and Charlie Land were wide-eyed as they climbed on the fire trucks, stated Mrs. J. T. Baggerly, Den Mother. She said the thing they seemed to enjoy the most was watching the firemen slide down the pole. Next week the boys will be taken to the Sanford Navy Base.

Italians Gather To Elect Second Republic Leader

ROME (AP)—The divided Italian Parliament gathered today to elect the second President of Italy's young republic. A close, possibly tie, vote was expected.

Two avowed candidates were in the ring for the largely ceremonial job.

Voting began without formal nominations from the floor. The senators and deputies filed one by one up to the ballot box to drop in their secret choices. There was little excitement as the first round would be decisive.

Premier Mario DeBella's party, the Christian Democratic party, pushed Cesare Mangano last night as its choice to succeed 81-year-old Luigi Einaudi May 11 in the job paying $20,000 May 11. Mangano, 55, is the popular president of the Senate. A former banker, he is a political independent.

Economic Heart Dies With Strike

HARLAN, Ky. (AP)—This community's economic heart died March 24.

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad was struck that day and one of the first casualties was Harlan County's 4,000 coal miners.

All are out of work. They're worried; the operators are worried; the community is preparing for a slump.

Since he is losing $4.75 a day in wages, the miner must fall back on unemployment compensation—$20 a week. Before the strike the county's average claim load was about 2,000 cases a month. Now it is four times greater.

Driving Resolution Adopted By P-TA's

The Seminole County Council of P-TA's has adopted a resolution in an effort to bring about the enforcement of the state law which prohibits 16 and 17-year-old drivers using restricted licenses from driving without a valid driver's license accompanying them and to keep them from driving after dark.

In the resolution signed by Mrs. W. E. Gill, president of the County Council, it is brought out that it is in the interests of the community to promote the welfare of children and youth in the community and to secure adequate laws for their protection.

14-YEAR-OLD BOY AVOIDS CHARGES

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Earl C. Tolson, acting director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said she is seeking for an 11-year-old boy who was seen near the scene of a murder in New York City. The boy was seen near the scene of the murder in New York City. The boy was seen near the scene of the murder in New York City.

Suit Filed Against Striking CWA Heads

Southern Bell filed suit today against officials and members of the striking Communications Workers of America (CWA) seeking $60,000 damages suffered because of an alleged long-distance-calling campaign designed by the Union to tie up operators and lines.

Judge Claude D. Shaw of Fulton County Superior Court in Atlanta issued a temporary restraining order to hold the alleged scheme, known as "Operation Zilch," or the "Tennessee Plan."

Among other suits, the suit names Joseph Berne, CWA International President, two international vice presidents of the Union, the presidents of 21 CWA locals in Georgia, and 40 union members in the state.

The suit alleges that the defendants "conspired together to conceive, plan and put into operation" the scheme.

The Telephone Company asks $100,000 for injury to its business and $50,000 punitive damages.

The petition stated that "Operation Zilch" works this way—A telephone call is made to an individual listed by the Union. It is referred by him to another number in the same locality, which likewise appears on such lists, and this process is repeated over and over again, with no intention of completing the call.

The purpose of the plan, according to the suit, is to tie up "Facilities and the services of operators for a maximum period of time, and thus accomplishing a maximum of interference with the operation of petitioner's business and its service" to the public.

Southern Bell's suit claimed that G. E. Gill of Atlanta, Strike Director for the Union and Assistant District Director, prepared and distributed on April 11, 1955 a letter, enclosing instructions on "Operation Zilch" and a list of names of people who would "operate." A copy of the letter, instructions and lists, which carried names and telephone number in many localities through the Southeast, was attached to the petition as evidence. The petition alleges the instructions were distributed through the South and Nation.

"The instructions of Gill said that 'Calls to persons in the largest city in each of the nine states will be most effective' and listed 14 large cities.

The trophy was accepted for the chapter by Commander Geylord Muffley, Chief of staff is Louis F. Rotunda.

Left-Winger Bevan Is Welcomed Back

LONDON (AP)—Left-winger Aneurin Bevan, whose feud with Clement Attlee cost him his Laborite label in Parliament is being welcomed back—just a month before the general election.

The party leadership, headed by Attlee, voted last night to recommend that Bevan be restored to full membership in the parliamentary Labor party, made up of Socialist members of the House of Commons. Such recommendations are accepted automatically.

BOUNTY OF JUNK BEING CLEARED AWAY

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A 74-year-old man was held for hospital observation today while authorities took steps to clean up a mountain of junk and filth in his three-story home.

Jaycee Delegates Planning To Attend Miami Convention

Seven delegates from the Seminole County Jaycees are making plans to attend the annual convention of the Florida Junior Chamber of Commerce in Miami this weekend. Representing Sanford at the meeting will be John Alexander, Ewing Dean, Melvin Dekis, A. B. Peterson Jr., M. L. Raborn Jr., George Andrew Speer, and Tommy Stringer.

They will be among nearly a thousand civic-minded young men from some 90 Jaycee clubs throughout Florida expected to attend the three-day meeting, at which new officers for the coming year will be elected.

Retiring president Charles W. Johnson Jr., of Jacksonville, will preside over the business sessions, at which the remainder of the Jaycee's legislative program will be adopted. The group has already endorsed the report of the Roads Committee of the Legislative Council, which calls for reorganization of the road department, and is advocating driver training in all the high schools and adoption of a motor vehicle inspection law.

One of the features of the meeting will be a luncheon in honor of former Jaycee members who have passed active age limits, to be held at noon Saturday. Former governor Fuller Warren and former house speaker Farris Bryant, themselves former active Jaycees, will speak at this affair. Still another once-active Jaycee, Governor "Big Boy" McCall, will address the group at the banquet on Saturday night.

Another important phase of the meeting will be the judging of entries in the competition to select the organization with the best project in each of some 25 fields of civic activity. The Dan McCarty Memorial Award, won last year by the Orlando Jaycees, will again be awarded to the group with the best overall program in community service.

Husband Convicted Of Faking Kidnap

FAIRFAX, Va. (AP)—James C. Stanley, 23, was given a one-month jail term yesterday after being convicted in Fairfax County Trial Court of trying to obtain $5,000 by faking a kidnaping.

Stanley's wife received a series of threatening telephone calls from a stranger who demanded the money if she wanted to see her husband alive again. During the calls, she talked to Stanley, who said he was "held up" and suggested she try to get the ransom from his parents.

Police later exposed the attempt and Stanley admitted paying a man $5 to call his wife. He told police he wanted the money as a down payment on a house and figured his folks owed him the money.

BOMB KILLS POLICEMAN

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—A terrorist's bomb exploded and killed a policeman yesterday while it was being examined by disposal authorities. It was found in the headquarters of a student organization which supports President Juan D. Peron.

Modest Utah Widow Will Accept American Mother Of Year Title

PLEASANT GROVE, Utah (AP)—A modest Utah widow, mother of eight grown children, left for New York City today to accept the title of American Mother of the Year.

She is Mrs. Lavina Christensen Fugal, 75, who knew hunger as a child and since has shrugged off adversity to raise a family and become a teacher, homemaker, churchwoman, farm leader and giver of prize flowers.

Mrs. Fugal modestly accepted congratulations from her neighbors for the honor and said "a wonderful husband and eight unusual children" were responsible.

A daughter of Danish immigrants, Mrs. Fugal obtained a teachers certificate at 18 and began teaching in Pleasant Valley schools. In 1908 she married John Peter Fugal, who died in 1912.

Contest Winners Leave For Miami

The two winners of the Seminole County Spelling Bee that was held recently left today for Miami where they will enter the annual State Spelling Bee. Wally Phillips, 13, eighth grade, and Carolyn Michaels, 13, eighth grade, were the two winners.

Wally M. Phillips drove the two contestants, B. C. Steel, County spelling bee director, Mrs. W. M. Phillips and Miss Easty Michaels to the Titusville depot where they left by train for Miami.

The group will return Saturday from the Patricia Hotel where they are staying. Winners of the state contest will receive a free trip to Washington, D. C. where they will be entered in the National Spelling Bee.

Army Experiments Linked With Floods

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—The man who fathered the science of making rain said today he believes armed forces experiments may have caused the disastrous Missouri Valley floods of June 1953.

Dr. Irving Langmuir, a Nobel Prize winner and consultant for General Electric Co. experiments with rainmaking, also declared:

No Salk Vaccine Produced By Cutter Brought Into County

Dr. Terry Bird, County Health Officer, said today no Seminole County school children were inoculated with Salk polio vaccine manufactured by the Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif. He assured parents "there is no cause for alarm."

Dr. Bird's statement came after eight children treated with the Cutter vaccine in other parts of the nation were reported to have been stricken by polio—one fatally—within a week of receiving their first shots. Four other suspected cases were reported.

As a "precautionary measure," the U. S. Public Health Service ordered all further use of the company's vaccine halted pending tests, and the inoculation program was stopped in most of the West Coast areas where it was supplied for free use in the schools.

Two public health experts rushed to Berkeley to join company officials in a study aimed at determining whether the vaccine was faulty. Authorities said there was no evidence that it was.

It was pointed out that the stricken children may have been among those for whom Salk vaccine is not effective.

Infantile paralysis normally has an incubation period of 10 to 14 days before it takes hold. Most of the stricken children showed symptoms of the disease within a week after inoculation.

George Suggests Neutral Nation Represent Nats

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga.) suggested today the possibility that some neutral nation might represent the Chinese Nationalists at any international talks aimed at settling the future of Formosa.

George said that "unavoidably we would have to bring in the Chinese Republic or some representative of the Chinese Republic" to such a conference. But he added in an interview that Chiang Kai-shek's interest could be represented by "any agreed representative," such as a neutral nation.

Any such proposal was certain to be opposed by Chiang and by Nationalist supporters in this country. Formosa, Chiang's seat of government, is claimed both by him and the Communists.

George, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, has expressed high hopes for a meeting between the United States and Communist China.

Woman Is Found In St. Johns River

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—A woman dropped 150 feet from the Mathews Bridge into the St. Johns River late last night.

She was picked up about 1/4 mile away by a man in an outboard motorboat and taken to St. Luke's Hospital where she was reported in critical condition early today.

Police identified her as Wilhelmina von Hosten, 33, and said she was the first to drop from the bridge since it was completed two years ago.

Pedestrians are not allowed on the toll bridge but apparently she went on the bridge by car since police reported finding a car parked at the highest point above the water.

Mystery Of Bomb Solved By Police

DETROIT (AP)—The mystery of the homemade bomb set off near the home of Recorder's Judge W. McKay Skillman Tuesday night has been solved, police said today.

Detectives quoted a 15-year-old boy who lives in the judge's neighborhood as saying he did it "just for the fun of it."

The boy told police he made the bomb from a six-inch lead pipe stuffed with chemicals taken from a high school laboratory. It did no serious damage. He was ordered to report with his parents to the youth bureau.

Courageous Youths Bring Back Snakes

WINSTON SALEM, N. C. (AP)—Three small boys, with the courage of big-game hunters, have found a veritable jungle in the heart of Winston-Salem.

From a vacant lot in just two days, the trio has brought back more than 50 wriggling reptiles alive.

Both hunters and snakes are small sized.

Clay Victor, 8, Curtis Mottman and Eddie Fennell, both 6, say they hope to sell their snakes, but not a chance.

Jelke Is Sentenced To Two To Three Years In Vice Conviction

NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Jelke today was given a prison sentence of two to three years on his conviction in the cafe society vice case.

The sentence was imposed on the young heir to an oleomargarine fortune after a 13-minute plea by defense attorneys for leniency.

Jelke, who was tried twice, was convicted of inducing Pat Ward to live a life of prostitution and of attempting to induce Marguerite Cordova to do the same.

His first conviction was thrown out because the trial judge excluded press and public during presentation of prosecution testimony.

The sentence given in the second trial was less than that imposed after the first—three to six years. He could have received a maximum term of 40 years. Jelke is 25 years old.

Father, Children Killed In Blaze

CHICAGO (AP)—A father and his three small children were killed in a fast-spreading, extra-alarm fire in a four-story apartment building early today. The mother and another child escaped from their fourth-floor apartment.

About 50 other residents of the building at 838 N. May St. on the city's near Northwest Side, also fled to safety.

In another extra-alarm fire in a hotel in the same neighborhood, an unidentified woman was killed and 16 persons injured, none seriously. Two firemen were among the injured.

Firemen found the victims in the May Street fire in their fourth-floor apartment and said they apparently died of suffocation.

Five Scared Youths Emerge From Adit After Train Passes

EVANSTON, Wash. (AP)—Five boys, aged 14 and 15, dangling along on their way home from school were seen entering a railroad tunnel here yesterday.

A horrified witness called police, shouting a warning that a fast-moving streamliner train was due in a few minutes.

Police and firemen from all over town started moving toward the entrance to the 2,100-foot tunnel. Railroad officials waited helplessly—the streamliner had left the yards and couldn't be stopped.

Police reached the tunnel just as the train roared into it, and too late to stop it.

As soon as the train was through, they entered from both ends. Inside were five scared and grimey boys. They had thrown themselves into a muddy ditch just in the nick of time.
