Commissioners And 3
Newly Elected City
Heads Decide To Pay
$264,000 On Jan. 1

July Payment Is Believed Doubtful

Commissioners-Elect
Hear Report On City
Financial Condition

A conference Tuesday afternoon between the City Commissioners and three new Commissioners-elect, Vivian Spicer, R. A. Newman and Nelson Gray, resulted in the decision that the City of Sanford would meet a payment of $264,215, due Jan. 1 as principal and interest on certain bonded indebtedness. The question of making another large payment on July 1 was discussed but no agreement was reached. The matter will probably be the subject of further discussions within the next few days. The conference was called by Mayor E. F. Houholder for the purpose of laying before the newly elected Commissioners the results of a recent trip to New York, where permanent refinancing plans were discussed with bond men and investment bankers. It was also for the purpose of examining the status of City's financial condition.

The conference disclosed a number of salient facts in connection with municipal financing. Among the high lights brought out by Mayor Houholder during a long explanation of the matter were:

1. That on Jan. 1, 1929 a payment of $264,215 is due the bond houses. A total of more than $300,000 was said to be held to meet this payment, a portion of this sum representing a block of refunding bonds sold last year for this particular purpose.

2. That on July 1, 1929 a payment of principal and interest amounting to $357,000 will be due with no possibility of raising enough money by taxation or from any other source in the municipal government to meet the obligation.

3. That on Jan. 1, 1929 a payment of $705,000, of which $335,000 represents principal, will be due.

4. That 65 per cent of the City's taxes were collected this year, with more than a third of the amount being turned in by corporations and large firms.

5. That for the next 10 years the City will probably be unable to raise by taxation more than $300,000 annually, with approximately $125,000 as the estimated revenue from miscellaneous sources. From this total of $425,000 some $200,000 is necessary for current operating expenses.

6. That approximately $2,000,000 of Sanford's tax burden of more than $6,000,000 represents special assessment bonds. Collections on these special assessments against property for public improvements were said to be far less than the amount of money necessary each year to pay principal and interest on the securities.

7. That $1,200,000 in refunding bonds have been issued since the

JURY POINTS OUT BAD CONDITIONS IN CONVICT CAMP

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12—(INS)—A closer bond of amity and understanding among the nations of the world will be forged through the medium of the ever-spreading wings of aviation, President Coolidge predicted today in formally opening the International civil aeronautics conference, assembled here to discuss more intensive development of aerial commerce.

All nations are looking forward to the day of extensive, regular, and reasonably safe intercontinental and interoceanic transportation by airplane and "air-mail" the President declared. "What the future holds out even the imagination may be inadequate to grasp. We may be sure, however, that the period of trial and extension of air transport throughout the world will be of the utmost significance to civilization. While the primary aim of this industry and will be immeasurably advanced by it, indirectly, but no less surely, will the patient be drawn more closely together in bonds of amity and understanding."

Mr. Coolidge reviewed for the conference the consistent leadership the United States has exerted in the field of aviation from the time, just 22 years ago, when Wilbur and Orville Wright accomplished the first flight ever made by man in a power-driven heavier-than-air machine, to the present day, which finds the continent literally criss-crossed with commercial airlines touching into every section. He paid particular tribute to the Wright brothers, the survivor of whom has been in a controversy for some years with the Smithsonian Institute over who actually made the first flight. Giving them full credit and referring to that memorable day at Kitty Hawk, N. C., he said:

"Human flight with wings, which had intrigued the imagination since the beginning of time, became a practical reality on the wings of Wilbur and Orville Wright, two young men who were destined to change the world." The letters were as follows:

Another Youngster Asks Santa Not To Forget To Bring Policeman's Suit; 7 Letters Are Received From Girls

The Herald today received 10 letters addressed to Santa Claus. Three of them were from boys and others from girls. A double-barreled shotgun "with two triggers" was requested by one youngster and another desired policemen with a gift of cake and candies for Santa was presented by one boy.

A cedar, bath robe and comb was requested by one little girl, who urged Santa not to forget her friend and playmate, Jerry Hooleman. An unbreakable doll was asked by another little girl, while another wanted a tea set. "I always did love to see Christmas come if I ever get anything," said one youngster giving Santa Nick a great big hint.

CITY COMMISSION ORDERS SURETIES TO BE RELEASED

Payment On Bond Of Houholder, Chase And Lake To Cease

A release of surety bonds, carried by the City on Mayor E. F. Houholder, Commissioner E. D. Chase and former Mayor Forrest Lake, who were serving as members of the board of long-trusted, was authorized by the City Commission at its meeting Thursday afternoon.

By this resolution, the Commissioners specified any further payments on the bonds but it was pointed out that the action did not release the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company of liability up to Aug. 1, 1928. The total of Mayor Houholder's bonds was $40,000 and that of Commissioner Chase $25,000 and that of Mr. Lake $37,000.

The Commission adopted two ordinances, one requiring that all persons who deposit wet garbage for removal by the City shall place the garbage in water-tight metal containers with air-tight covers, the other requiring that a fee of 25¢ be charged for mailing to any of the main or several lines of the City service.

A fine of $50 was imposed for failure to observe the garbage regulation.

Completed, it extends the fire limits from Third Street to Fourth Street in an area extending from Second Avenue to Oak Avenue was rejected. The Commission granted a permit to the National Oil Company to construct a filling station at Third Street and Oak Avenue on the lot now occupied by the residence of former City Commissioner W. B. Williams.

A radio set costing $125 was authorized to be purchased for members of the fire department.

Baseball Magnates Talk Trade Deals As Rumors Of Exchanges Go The Rounds

Yankees Head West For American League's Meeting In Chicago Tomorrow On Lookout For Players

By David J. Walsh
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Major League baseball's yearly hiz-baz was buzzing its hundreds refrain today as National League magnates retired behind closed doors in order to decide that the St. Louis Cardinals had won the 1928 pennant and other matters of a startling nature. They left a lobby filled with rumors of unfinished business in the bowling alleys of the meantime, where rumors are set up and knocked down with great abandon. Prominent among the bowlers were Jack Hendricks, of Cleveland, and Barney Dreyfuss of Pittsburgh, both getting "square" on their declarations that they won't have to tangle with the Giants, Dodgers and Braves as has been variously reported.

However, the notion that the Giants and Reds had reached some understanding over Adolfo Luque exploded in spite of Hendricks' statement that Larry Benton and Fred Fitzsimmons were the only blinks he wanted. So the pinstripes were very hastily picking up debris down at the end of the alley. If Luque comes to the Giants, it is possible that rending money, the greatest battery bashed ever knew, may go to Cincinnati in return.

Meanwhile, the Yankees were heading into the west for the American League meeting in Chicago tomorrow, "heads" out to Washington, Boston, Cleveland and Detroit on possible play deals. There saw the Yanks will carry the Boston catcher and Illinois and Jasenber of Washington, just what the Yanks plan to do with the rest of the team.

Maybe they will give their bennies. There may not be a team down the thir' base line as Washington, but that's all right, we're either Dugan and Roberson.

The Detroit angel is abandoned by his investors, as we saw at the mill station, but everybody and his auntie knows that any conference the Yanks may have with the Indians will have to do with George Upton.

The Cincinnati club was something when it acted, whatever on Kelly and Pini, their two first basemen, but apparently has lost interest in the play and is not inclined to go out. The Braves wanted Kelly from Cincinnati, the Reds wanted Rishaba from Boston. The old boys still seem trying to set this one up again at a late hour last night or maybe between the five afternoons. One becomes confused about these details.

President saw his Uncle George Wright in all ways for his whole show how badly a man can be fooled by the little intricacies of life. Before closing the door they real' shout have told Barny something about it.

There hasn't been many details of the Cardinals' maneuvering at home to those of Blum and Donisthorpe, but to keep the record hot, it might be mentioned that there hasn't been any affirmation.

Jack Sharkey Wins From Art DeKuh In Heavyweight Scram

DETROIT, Dec. 11.—(INS)—Sharkey, leading heavyweight contenders, had suffered a set of twists today despite claims to knock out Arthur and Brooklyn's Hurst. It turned out at the vascular fight. The Boston rob fighter, with everything except water bottle and De Kuh, was given a knockout punch caused by a "long count," just before the second round.

Sharkey is on the way to the hospital of the Mayo Clinic, which is to be

THE SHINING ROAD TO FLORIDA'S DREAMS OPENS BEFORE US IN THE DAWN OF A NEW DAY

Aided with progress and experience Florida approaches a new horizon with greater Faith

A NEW DAY has dawned in Florida. Opportunity greets that day with outstretched arms. The future, realization of this new-dawned day, is a common challenge.

SHINING ROAD

The shining road of our dreams is open ahead. The past with all its progress and its passing moments of depression is the foundation upon which we stand . . . the threshold to a greater Florida!

Florida had a boom—an incident in a hundred years in building—and perhaps national enthusiasm will be concentrated in another such expression . . . it will still be an incident—Florida is eternally marching toward finer and higher horizons. No incident can retard destiny!

The boom has long since passed . . . likewise, now, the effects of that economic conflagration are in the discard; facts of the moment have replaced fiction conceived in the estimate of tomorrow. The low mark of reaction is behind us—Florida is headed upward! And values walk hand in hand with this movement.

Florida's golden citrus crop means gold. Vegetables springing from our rich soil are going forth to feed a nation and enrich us. The rolling tide of tourists is coming. On every hand, in every section of this commonwealth, the elements of prosperity are atari.

Florida is a commodity which the whole nation wants . . . its sunshine is the dream of millions today . . . its mild climate is the hope of multitudes who love life and are dominated by the urge to preserve it.

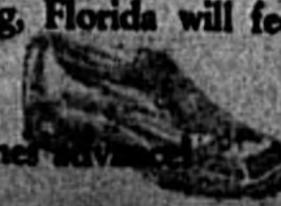

Our problem is to merchandise these things which the public already wants and to embellish them with friendliness and fair dealing so that the human factor will facilitate the endowment of nature rather than constituting a liability.

Faith and courage have been ever-present factors in the development of this commonwealth—faith over the whole period which has seen the state rise from wilderness and woods to the present hour; courage especially in the rare spells of temporary setback. The hour has come when this courage expressed defensively against discouragement can join with the undimmed faith of all time, and launch the offensive aimed at fuller realization of our hopes.

Making more secure the glorious future which faces Florida, the whole southern section of the United States is entering an unprecedented era of development; and aside from all the things which make this state appealing, Florida will feel the strong stimulation of this movement.

The new day dawns, Florida! The open road is ahead. In the immortal words, let us the lines follow:

"The Future of Florida" is being published by the State Chamber of Commerce of Florida in co-operation with Publishers in Jacksonville, Fla.

(Continued From Page One) passed as highly satisfactory. The report that His Majesty's temperature was lower and his general condition improved, moved the throne which had waited in the cold, and for outside the palace gates for hours almost to cheerfulness. Those inside the palace were similarly cheered.

Medical opinion is still divided over the probable outcome of the King's illness. Some hold that it would be impossible for a man of the King's age (83) to ultimately combat an infection of such long standing successfully. Others declared that if the King's constitution can withstand the intrusions made by the infection for a few days more, he has a good chance of recovery.

It was announced this morning that Queen Mary would attend the unveiling of the mercantile marine memorial on Tower Hill today. This announcement coming on the heels of the official bulletin was interpreted as further evidence of the King's improvement.

It gave rise to renewed hope that the arrival of the Prince of Wales at his father's bedside after his epic 6,425 mile journey from Africa had indeed had the effect of bolstering the King's resistance against the ravages of the infection he is fighting. However, the fact that the King was in the throes of the most critical stage of his illness was admitted in of circles and even by the royal physicians.

Sir Stanley Hewitt, who left the King's bedside at about one o'clock this morning was quoted as saying: "Of course, grave anxiety still prevails for His Majesty is now in the most serious stage of his illness."

The Prince of Wales went to the sickroom of his father immediately after his arrival here at 10:20 o'clock last night. He remained with the King for about 10 minutes. He was in uniform and was immediately recognized. Father and son exchanged warm greetings. The Prince did not stay longer than 10 minutes because his physician feared his arrival might disturb the pulse action of the King.

After seeing his father, the Prince held a lengthy conversation with Sir Stanley and Lord D'Aspre, of Penn. He left the place in the company of his mother, the Duke of York, at 11:30 P. M. last night. The Prince appeared to be agitated when he left the place. He was half-asleep, somewhat drawn and pale.

Gangster Guns Roar As Victim Is Riddled

CHICAGO, Dec. 12—(INS)—Bodily gangster guns roared a death message of vengeance here today to Frank "Fat" Basile, formerly one of the leaders. His body, riddled with bullets, was found in a morgue.

Basile turned government Informer, it was learned at the federal building and for that trencher to vengefully his former alias "Fat" Jim Cela." The "murder of Basile's an outrage," said high official of the prohibition department, when informed of the slaying.

Convict Camp

A visit was made to the convict camp and everything inspected had the following condition exists:

1. Building does not leak and is in good condition.
2. Grounds are in good condition.
3. Convicts told us that the food and treatment was good.
4. Sanitary conditions are very good and especially in the kitchen.
5. The following places are noticeably unsanitary: (a) around the toilet, (b) garbage near the house, (c) dirty water thrown too near the house, (d) kitchen floor and all tables being scrubbed.

The grand jury recommends the following:

1. Immediate steps by Commissioners to be taken to get a new and larger stove for kitchen. Also new and more tables for the kitchen and for convicts to eat on.

2. The kitchen to be made larger.

3. That all floors be scrubbed at least three times a week and that more disinfectant be used around the tolls.

Court House

The grand jury inspected the county court house and observed that in case of fire all passageways from the upper floors would be cut off by the flames. We recommend of the grand jury feels that this is very dangerous and that the subject should be brought up at the very first meeting of the County Commissioners. Also fire-proof vault space is needed in Prof. Lawton and Judge Sharpen's offices. Both offices have very important records that have no protection in case of fire.

An inspection disclosed that there are practically three heating systems in use in the court house. We believe it would be a good idea to check up on the exp use and see if a modern heating system would not be more ad quate as well as more economical.

We wish to express to the court and its officials our appreciation for the courtesy and co-operation extended to us in the transaction of our duties.

And now having finished with all matters coming before us and having made due inspection and reports as noted above, we respectfully ask the court to discharge us.

2. None of them are being abused.

3. They get plenty of good, substantial food but at times it is not well cooked, especially of ten morning.

The grand jury recommends new and fresh paint for the interior of the jail.

We recommend of the grand jury feels that this is very dangerous and that the subject should be brought up at the very first meeting of the County Commissioners. Also fire-proof vault space is needed in Prof. Lawton and Judge Sharpen's offices. Both offices have very important records that have no protection in case of fire.

An inspection disclosed that there are practically three heating systems in use in the court house. We believe it would be a good idea to check up on the exp use and see if a modern heating system would not be more ad quate as well as more economical.

We wish to express to the court and its officials our appreciation for the courtesy and co-operation extended to us in the transaction of our duties.

And now having finished with all matters coming before us and having made due inspection and reports as noted above, we respectfully ask the court to discharge us.

2. None of them are being abused.

3. They get plenty of good, substantial food but at times it is not well cooked, especially of ten morning.

The grand jury recommends new and fresh paint for the interior of the jail.

County Home

A visit was made to the county home and the place thoroughly inspected and the following condition exists:

1. The grounds and buildings are in good condition.

2. Sanitary condition was good.

3. According to all the people at the home they are well taken care of and are very comfortable.

4. They get plenty of food.

5. All the people living at the home like Mr. H. Browning as he is good to them.

The grand jury recommends that the County Commissioners make out to the home who knows his business and inspect the five places. Mr. Browning says the chimney is not high enough to create draft, and so it angles the hot air of the house. Also all the wood on exterior of the house needs paint.

If funds permit, the grand jury feels that a radio would be a great investment for the old people.

Convict Camp

A visit was made to the convict camp and everything inspected had the following condition exists:

1. Building does not leak and is in good condition.
2. Grounds are in good condition.
3. Convicts told us that the food and treatment was good.
4. Sanitary conditions are very good and especially in the kitchen.
5. The following places are noticeably unsanitary: (a) around the toilet, (b) garbage near the house, (c) dirty water thrown too near the house, (d) kitchen floor and all tables being scrubbed.

The grand jury recommends the following:

1. Immediate steps by Commissioners to be taken to get a new and larger stove for kitchen. Also new and more tables for the kitchen and for convicts to eat on.

2. The kitchen to be made larger.

3. That all floors be scrubbed at least three times a week and that more disinfectant be used around the tolls.

Court House

The grand jury inspected the county court house and observed that in case of fire all passageways from the upper floors would be cut off by the flames. We recommend of the grand jury feels that this is very dangerous and that the subject should be brought up at the very first meeting of the County Commissioners. Also fire-proof vault space is needed in Prof. Lawton and Judge Sharpen's offices. Both offices have very important records that have no protection in case of fire.
