Radical Reduction In Arms Proposed By Herbert Hoover

Sudden And Dramatic Announcement On Cutting Armies And Fleets Is Given Out

CHICAGO, June 22.—(A.P.)—Unconditional repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and immediate modification of the Volstead act were called for today by Alfred E. Smith as he arrived for the Democratic convention. He was the second of the Democratic candidates to arrive. Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia, arrived yesterday.

It took 18 minutes for Smith to get on the train to a waiting car as great as the crowd which came to see his arrival. As cameras boomed and felicitations were showered Smith smiled broadly and said "Aw let me go, I want to get a shave."

He issued his statement regarding prohibition to newspapermen, chatting later with them. Asked who he was going to be the nominee, Smith said the convention would decide. Asked further who his preference was he replied "Alfred E. Smith."

He said he hadn't picked a running mate yet. He said talk about Roosevelt being nominated on the first ballot is a "little balmyho". He said he had no second choice for presidential nomination, being for himself alone.

Winter Garden And Sanford Rotarians Stage Joint Meet

Sanford and Winter Garden Rotarians met at the Century Club last night, enjoying a banquet which was furnished by the local club, losers of a May attendance contest, to the Winter Garden club.

An interesting program, prepared by a committee headed by E. J. R. Kenny, went on and the members and guests entertained for nearly an hour, after which the entire group listened to a radio description of the Sharkey-Schmeling championship fight.

Karl Lehmann, substituting as principal speaker for Judge W. L. Tilden, of Orlando, briefly outlined the plans of the service club in America. He declared that the day of the service club is not over and that as a result of the work done by the many groups who meet weekly or monthly to discuss local and national conditions, America has progressed in great degree.

Headlining the musical portion of the program was a song by the Sanford Rotary Club quartet, Rotarians A. W. Epps, B. Puleston, G. W. Spencer, and H. M. Watson. Miss Peity Hodges and Miss Doris Jackson, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Clark at the piano, offered several original songs and dances. A negro quartet received considerable applause after a rendition of several typical negro songs.

Among those present last night were: Mayor T. L. Dumas, as a guest, Winter Garden Rotarians E. J. Lawrence, P. T. Bennett, Bert Miller, Curtis Britt, Harry Smiley, Fred Gregory, Charles Arnold, Harry Britt, H. Hall, Bert Roper, Lester Arnold, George Marchant, Royce Bowden, and Carl Landrum; Sanford Rotarians P. C. MacMahon, H. M. Watson, G. W. Spencer, H. R. Stevens, Karl Lehmann, Ralph E. Stevens, George Harden, J. R. Kenny, Leonard McLendon, W. A. Laffler, G. L. Walker, W. M. Haynes, E. T. Hodges, W. L. Cooper, Frank Chase, Ethel Chase, Paul Stone, E. Y. Cross, A. W. Epps, S. G. Gray, E. Peterson, S. O. Rhineland, W. C. Hutchinson, R. F. Montanari, and E. B. Pope, and Miss Elizabeth Clark, club pianist.

Deadline Is Nearing On Absentee Voting

"Voters should understand that they have until midnight Friday of this week in which to cast absentee ballots," said Mrs. Cassandra Schultz, secretary to County Judge James G. Rhaton this morning as she handed the 48th absentee ballot to Engineer E. Krupp.

"So many persons have told me that they expect to come into our office next Saturday, to cast their ballot," she added, "although I repeated to them that Friday midnight is the deadline for absentee voting."

Judge Rhaton today had official advice from Tallahassee that the polls will open at 8:00 o'clock next Tuesday morning and close at 7:30 o'clock, just nine minutes later than they did on June 7.

Official Polling Time For State Given Out

TALLAHASSEE, June 22.—(A.P.)—Florida's second primary of 1933 will be held between the hours of eight A. M. and 7:30 P. M. the secretary of state office announced today. The closing of polls is determined by official standards for the geographic center of the state and as a result those points on Central Time have an hour less voting than the Eastern Time sections.

SHERIFF GETS PAROLE

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(A.P.)—Former Sheriff W. H. Dowling, of Jacksonville, was granted a parole today by the President from the sentence of a year in Atlanta Penitentiary for violation of liquor laws.

DEMANDS FOR REPEAL PLANK ARE POPULAR

Democratic Leaders Are Assembling For Preliminary Con- vention Maneuvers

CHICAGO, June 22.—(A.P.)—Renewed demands for a prohibition repeal submission plank came from Democratic chieftains today as they assembled on the convention scene for preliminary maneuvers of the battle for the presidential nomination.

Senator Hull, of Tennessee, prominently mentioned for chairman of the resolutions committee, said the consensus is that the veto and drys in the party favored submission to the states of the question of retention or repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. Hull is a dry and Roosevelt supporter. He said prohibition is subordinate to the economic issue.

Statements in behalf of several presidential candidates sprang up during the day while workers for Governor Roosevelt emphatically reiterated claims of his first ballot nomination. It became increasingly clear the first showdown to be fought by the anti-Roosevelt faction will be on the election of Joseph Shouse as permanent chairman of the convention.

Chairman Rankin of the Democratic national committee, declared upon his arrival that the Roosevelt men had shown bad faith in advancing Senator Walsh, of Montana, for the post after the committee on arrangements had recommended Shouse.

The announcement in Washington by Speaker Garner, who is supported by McAdoo for president, in favor of repeal of the 18th Amendment was accepted here as virtually assailing a repeal plank by the Democratic convention with the only question whether it would be simply a submission plank or one committing the party.

Both James A. Farley, spokesman for Governor Roosevelt, and Shouse, chairman of the Democratic executive committee, praised Garner's statement.

"I think it was a fine and courageous declaration," said Farley. "It was a good clean statement," Shouse said.

Statement Given Out To Halt Rumor As To Employment

"There is absolutely no connection between the Langdon Construction Co., the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, and the Seminole County Welfare Board," said Harry M. Papworth, president of the trade body this morning as he attempted to lay low a rumor that the welfare board working with the trade body had secured employment for persons on the new state road project, only to appropriate 25 cents of the $1 paid for a day's work.

According to Mr. Papworth, Mrs. Helen T. Morse of the Welfare Board has long been seeking employment for negro and white men who have from day to day appealed for such employment. Sometimes employment was not found, and Mrs. Morse provided food from various sources as a means of keeping these men and their families alive.

However, the Board of County Commissioners recently appropriated $1 per day for all persons employed to work on county roads. Mrs. Morse has secured employment of that kind for negro men, and because she has fed them for many weeks she is asking 25 cents daily for the food that has been supplied.

Stories circulated tend to connect all three groups when as a matter of fact, Mr. Papworth says, the Chamber of Commerce has no interest in the matter except that the road be constructed as quickly as possible. Scores of men have applied at trade body headquarters to be told that they should visit the field office of the construction crew, or in a case where the applicant seemed desirable, he was referred to Mrs. Morse's department at once.

Borah Quotes Postmaster As Having Said He Would Rather Have Open Saloons

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Brown was quoted in the Senate yesterday by Senator Borah (R-Iddaho), as having said recently he expected to see the return of the saloon and would rather have that than present conditions.

This was one of a series of re-iterations yesterday to Borah's Senate speech Monday attacking the prohibition plank adopted by the Republican convention at Chicago and announcing he would not support President Hoover on the party platform.

Among others was acknowledgment of the Idahoan, a dry spokesman, that he had worked for months on a plan to modify the Eighteenth Amendment but had come to the conclusion it could not be done without return of the saloon.

Borah made public the text of the prohibition plank, he had vainly urged Republican leaders to accept before the party convention. It declared for law enforcement until the people chose to change the Eighteenth Amendment through the election of members of Congress.

Borah's speech drew the retort from James R. Garfield, chairman of the resolutions committee which drafted the approved plank, that the Idaho senator had "totally misinterpreted" the declaration.

Most of the fireworks resulted from Borah's statement that Brown and Secretary Mills "who had most to do" with drafting the Republican plank were advocates of repealing the Eighteenth Amendment. This drew quick denials from both members of President Hoover's cabinet. Senator Peas (R-Ohio), renewed the controversy in the Senate yesterday by placing the denials in the Congressional Record.

Before reading the Brown statement, Peas said he had known the position of the postmaster general "quite well and that he 'has always argued to me that repeal would mean chaos unless it was followed by some remedial legislation.'"

Borah said later off the floor he felt a party platform was not the proper place to propose a constitutional amendment and that he had drafted and unsuccessfully urged upon Republican leaders a proposed law observance plank which he made public yesterday.

DAVID HUTTON IS CALLED TORRID LOVER IN COURT

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—(A.P.)—David Hutton, husband of Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton, was described from the witness stand yesterday by Myrtle St. Pierre, attractive nurse, as an admirer who "wants me off my feet."

Miss St. Pierre collapsed and fell from the witness stand as she related the end of her story. She was taken from the courtroom and rested.

The nurse, who sued Hutton for $200,000 after his marriage to the evangelist, revealed the climax of her testimony in the breach of promise case in telling of Hutton's proposal of marriage.

The scene for the prosecution of his love was her apartment and the day a Sunday in January, 1931, she said. The court-narrator, sweltering in the heat, listened to a story of torrid love making.

"We were sitting on the divan in my home drinking chocolate," she testified. "He took me in his arms and asked me when I would marry him."

"I repeated that I wanted to be very sure I loved him, because I had been married twice before and each marriage had been disastrous." (Continued on Page Three)

PLANS MADE TO COLLECT NEW TAXES

New Duties Include Cross-Section Of More Or Less Es- sentials Of Life

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(A.P.)—Preparations for collecting $450,000,000 of manufacturers' excise taxes, which went into effect Monday at midnight, were completed yesterday by the Internal Revenue Bureau.

The list includes a cross section of more or less essential articles in every day life, taxable at varying rates with the burden falling on the manufacturer, producer or importer.

"Producer" was defined to include those who make a taxable article by processing, manipulating or changing the form, or by combining two or more articles.

A manufacturer who sells a taxable article in a knock down condition, but complete in component parts, is liable in the levy.

Generally, the regulations said, the tax attaches when title to the article sold passes from the maker to the purchaser in the case of a sale on credit, it is immaterial whether the purchase price actually is collected.

No tax shall be imposed on articles sold for use in the manufacture or production of a taxable article except in the case of tires, tubes and tires.

In order to gain this exemption the vendor must obtain from the purchaser a certificate that the goods so purchased will be used as material in the manufacture of a taxable article, or for use as a component part of a taxable article to be made.

Jobbers or dealers who are not manufacturers and users who are not manufacturing taxable articles, are not entitled to purchase free from tax.

The sale price is determined by the manufacturer's actual charge at the factory or place of production, including all packing charges, but excluding freight.

NEW YORK, June 22.—(A.P.)—Increased federal tax rates on all stock sales went into effect yesterday and Wall Street's speculative short interest did most of the winning.

The shorts stand to pay more to the government as a result of the new revenue act than the stock market's bulls. At the end of May, the New York Stock Exchange showed that the short interest had dwindled to its smallest size since a public record was kept on short selling.

Escaping Chlorine Fumes Overcome 85 Men And Women

NEW YORK, June 22.—(A.P.)—A fog of chlorine gas escaping from a tank car on a railroad siding near the New York City line yesterday floated over suburban Mount Vernon, overcoming 85 men and women.

Two persons were reported seriously affected in the lungs by the deadly greenish yellow gas.

Most of the victims were workers in industrial plants, on the southern edge of Mount Vernon. Several women in a nearby laundry ran to the street when the mist penetrated the building but were overcome and fell to the pavement.

Hundreds of persons in adjacent homes were said to have been made ill.

The tank car was on a railroad siding. The leaky condition was corrected quickly.

Mount Vernon and New York Emergency police squads rushed to the scene. Gas company crews were summoned and inhalators were used to revive the affected men and women as they lay overcome on the grass.

Police began an investigation.

Al Smith Arrives In Chicago Urging Repeal Platform

SHOWDOWN UPON HITLER ISSUE IS EXPECTED TODAY

Baron Wilhelm von Gajl, minister of interior, will confer with the interior ministers of the states over the question whether Adolf Hitler's brownshirts followers shall be permitted to walk the streets of Germany.

The issue was brought to a head yesterday when the state Hitler and three of his chief lieutenants called on the interior minister and demanded complete freedom for his uniformed national socialist groups.

Local authorities in several states have declared civic peace endangered by the parading National storm troopers.

Today's showdown will provide a test establishing whether Hitler or the state governments is the stronger. Some rightist newspapers have urged that President von Hindenburg issue an emergency decree taking police powers out of the hands of local authorities. Extreme nationalism have gone to the extent of demanding martial law.

It is understood Baron von Gajl considers the state governments to be justified in their contention that they have a right to restrict extreme political groups, if they think peace is endangered.

Kurt von Schleicher, minister of defense, is reported to have urged the cabinet to take extreme measures if necessary to compel the states to permit the Nazis to parade and wear their uniforms.

The political situation will be further agitated today by elections in the Prussian diet. Hans Kerkel, selected temporary president of the diet a month ago, must be approved again before the post is his permanently. The legislature will attempt to name a premier.

Lehmann Delivers Speech At Kiwanis Club's Luncheon

Borrowing an every-day expression that he believes typifies the condition of America today, Karl Lehmann, secretary of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce told Sanford Kiwanians that too much "trying out loud" lay at the bottom of most of the evils of the day.

His was the principal talk made at the luncheon at the Montezuma Hotel today. It preceded two readings by Miss Eloise Winn, and both were well received.

During the meeting, presided over by S. D. Highleyman in the absence of club president, W. B. Zachry, Kiwanians voted to hold the annual All-Kiwanis Night program at the Montezuma Hotel next Monday night at 7:30 o'clock. A message from the International President of Kiwanis will be read to the assembled Kiwanians at the same hour that the message will be read before Kiwanians the world over.

Those present today were Miss Eloise Winn, Kiwanians, F. R. Wilson, F. E. Dornier, C. O. Bars, S. F. Doudney, C. R. Mason, T. L. Dumas, W. S. Coleman, B. D. Caswell, E. I. Hoy, Counts Johnson, J. Q. ## Declares He Has No Second Choice For Nomination, Being For Himself Alone

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(A.P.)—President Hoover, in a sudden and dramatic announcement at the White House today, proposed principles for reducing arms of the entire world by nearly one-third.

With Secretary Stimson at his side the President read a statement to a group of newspapermen saying the "Time has come when we should cut through the break" and adopt arms reductions calculated to save between 10 and 15 billions of dollars during the next 10 years.

Abolition of tanks, chemical warfare, large mobile guns; reduction of one-third the land strength of all land armies over and above the "so-called police component"; abolition of bombing planes and "total prohibition of bombardment from air"; reduction in number and tonnage of all battleships by one-third; reduction of the tonnage of aircraft carriers, cruisers, destroyers by one-fourth, and submarines by a third, with no nation having more than 35,000 tons of submarines, were among the things the President approved.

GENEVA, June 22.—(A.P.)—President Hoover's proposal for drastic cuts in the world's armaments brought a definite refusal of acceptance from the French today and only lukewarm approval from the British. The French delegate to the world disarmament conference said the plan for reducing arms by one-third is absolutely unacceptable and amounted much like an ultimatum. The British delegate said the plan would require careful consideration but agreement is not to be achieved by any one-sided statement.

Information Given Out On Vaccination Of Dogs In Florida

The veterinarians of Florida are alive to the critical need for prompt control of the dreaded disease "rabies" that has already taken five lives in Florida this year.

Dr. C. W. Baker, member of the Florida State Veterinary Medical Association, today received word from Dr. J. V. Knapp, secretary of the association, that throughout Florida veterinarians are co-operating with city and county authorities in enforcing existing compulsory vaccination ordinances, and advocating the passage of ordinances of that type.

Under the terms of the ordinance, adopted in Sanford many months ago, all dogs must be vaccinated or immunized every year. Control by immunization is said to be the only method that has ever proved effective and satisfactory.

Dr. Baker was advised that prompt treatment of the wound caused by a rabid animal, especially deep bites, by cauterization with fuming nitric acid is regarded as important by leading authorities. In such cases the acid should be dropped directly into the wound as deeply as possible.

Dr. Baker will be at the City Hall every morning from 10:00 o'clock until noon, ready to administer vaccination in every dog brought to him. Dog owners are given a final warning that all dogs found on Sanford streets after next Monday morning will be killed. This is the last week in which the vaccine will be administered.

FIRESTONE LOSES TO THREE GAME WITH ORLANDO

Seventh Inning Slip-Up Mars Otherwise Pretty Exhibition

By R. E. CULLUM
Seaboard Oil Company of Orlando had the number of Firestone of Sanford last night and won the game by a 3 to 2 score.

Except for the seventh inning, when the entire Sanford infield blew up the game was one of the prettiest exhibitions of diamond ball ever seen on the local lot.

Raymond Shaw was in the box for the Firestone team and for six innings pitched straight ball, allowing the Seaboard team three hits, for three runs during this interval.

Stevens hurled for the Seaboard team and for seven innings pitched unbeatable ball, allowing only one hit, good for two runs while he was in the box.

The Firestone team goes to Orlando Thursday night for a return game, with the belief that the series will be evened up at that time.

Fifty gallons of gasoline were given away by the Firestone team last night. R. O. Ferguson will get 25 gallons; W. H. Hughes 15 gallons and Mrs. Green 10 gallons.

Wildly Applauding Throng Hears Jax Speech Of Sholtz

JACKSONVILLE, June 21.—Dave Sholtz, speaking here last night to a wildly applauding throng estimated at 10,000, promised the people of Florida that his election as governor would free them from an army of state officeholders, built up in the last 15 years.

He did not mention Martin, his opponent. He did not mention any candidate in the first primary. Time and again he was hailed by cheering. He was not heckled. All at once he shifted his speech to Leon county, which includes Tallahassee, and declared that the returns from that county in the first primary showed the officeholders realized he meant business in his pledge to clean the political house.

The People Versus The Politicians

Ever since the collapse of the late lamented Florida boom, the people of this state have been crying for tax reduction. High taxes have compelled industries to reduce payrolls. They have forced rents to go higher and higher until businesses have gone broke and moved out leaving stores vacant. Rents then came down, rapidly and ruinously, until real estate receipts in many cases did not equal the amount of the taxes.

Throughout all this period, newspapers and civic leaders have been demanding a reduction in governmental costs. Taxpayers' leagues have been formed. Landowners' associations have been organized. Taxpayers' strikes have resulted. The repeated appeal of practically everyone has been to abolish superfluous bureaus and departments, eliminate unnecessary circuits and commissions, cut out waste and extravagance.

In the present gubernatorial campaign a candidate has arisen who proposes to do this very thing. He not only proposes to abolish certain commissions; he also has the courage and the political inexperience to name specifically some of the commissions which he would do away with. A professional politician might have said in a general way that he would reduce taxation. He would not lay himself open to attack by those who would be thrown out of jobs by telling the people exactly which jobs he intends to eliminate.

So Dave Sholtz has brought down upon his head a veritable avalanche of criticism. He says he is going to abolish the State Hotel Commission, the State Game and Shell Fish Commission, the Railroad Commission, and the State Auto License Tag Bureau. Naturally the horde of public office holders who occupy these lucrative positions are worried. Just how worried they really are is shown by the vote in Leon county (Tallahassee) where most of them reside, and where John Martin got 2,322 votes on June 7; Dave Sholtz, 24.

The old cry of tax reduction, which was echoed even among the politicians, is now giving way among the politicians to an appeal for greater governmental employment. One or two of the Martin newspapers are substituting for the familiar cry of tax reduction a new appeal, "Instead of taking men's jobs away from them, MAKE MORE JOBS!" "Unemployment, Not Taxation, is our Biggest Problem!" "Stop! Danger Ahead! Don't Throw any more men out of work Through False Economies in Government!"

That's just what the state of Florida can expect if John Martin is elected governor. Bigger and better jobs for those who gather under the Martin banner! Maching politics! Everglades drainage bonds! And a highway to the Senate! The gubernatorial campaign has settled down to one deadly issue. The people versus the politicians! And if the politicians win, Heaven help Florida after four more years of Martin extravagance!

The Artillery Deserts

The recent announcement of Senator Borah that he will not support President Hoover in the coming presidential campaign is a blow to the Republican party from which it is not apt to recover for some time. Senator Borah is recognized not only as the leading political leader of the prohibitionists but also as the chief exponent of a restless and sometimes radical element of the Middle West which in these times of depression is particularly persistent in demands for an extreme departure from the invariably conservative Republican position.

Borah was the one man which the Republican platform makers were striving to please when they drafted the prohibition plank which has since been rather generally branded as a "straddle". Both Secretary Mills and Postmaster General Brown, Hoover's lieutenants at the convention, were wet, and so were a vast majority of the delegates themselves. Expediency demanded, however, that straight repeal be avoided lest the platform incur the wrath of Borah and his followers.

Unfortunately for the Republicans, even the prohibition "straddle" has proved too wet for Borah, and he has refused to lend his powerful voice to fight for Hoover in the coming campaign. Just what a calamity for the Republicans this development really is can be readily seen when one recalls that the seige gunga of the Republican campaign in 1928 was Senator Borah and Charles Evans Hughes and that the latter is now barred from campaigning as a result of his elevation to the Supreme Court.

With Borah and Hughes out of it, and with Hoover remaining at his desk in Washington where the overwhelming perplexities of a distracted world and a stubborn economic situation have engulfed him, there is bound to be a serious lack of stump speakers in the Republican campaign. Gen. Dawes, who has a peculiarly popular and forceful way of saying things, is anxious to return to his business affairs and seems pretty definitely determined to abandon politics at least for the time being. It is not likely that stump speaking will appeal to him next fall.

That leaves Calvin Coolidge as about the only campaigner the Republicans have left. Those who recall the unpleasant nasal twang of his high pitched voice and the monotonous unemotional tones of his practical New England type of oratory have little fear that he alone can quickly put to rout the veritable army of stentorian speakers of Democracy's hosts. The time seems ripe for a tremendous victory at the polls in November . . . if the Democrats do not muff their opportunity at Chicago.

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

Col. Williams Jennings Bryan, of Nebraska, three times candidate of the Democratic party for president who is attending the Republican convention in Chicago as a working newspaperman, says he is enjoying the gathering more than any other Republican gathering he ever attended. He says this is so, because he has been beset by both of the leading candidates for the presidency and is in position to go to the loser and advise him that defeat is not fatal, that he, having had it for his portion three times, still alive and enjoying himself, is therefore, an authority on the subject.

The Florida Inn at Daytona Beach, known for the past several years as the "Hotel Florida" is undergoing the opening dinner. After the dinner a big reception and dance was enjoyed.

Lakeland is soon to have an up-to-date hospital, citizens having subscribed stock sufficient to show that the venture will prove a certainty. The hospital will cost in the neighborhood of $18,000 and will be erected in the Drane addition.

For some time there has been considerable talk of another election to determine whether Miami should issue another series of bonds for improvements which are very necessary. The city council has ordered an election to take place on August 27th to determine whether the bonds should be issued.

With the price of ice cut in half, practically speaking, consumers can now have this essential commodity at 90 cents per hundred pounds and in households ice will be utilized at the same rate in small quantities as has been in the wholesale business.

THE GOVERNOR'S RACE
 TAMPA TIMES

Governmental economy and reform were the principal notes sounded in the speeches of the various candidates for nomination as the democratic candidate for governor voted on in the last week's primary. The candidates all seemed to realize, along with the people, that there must be changes for the better along these lines unless disaster is to be courted. Because of his record when governor, before, The Times favored the nomination of Cary A. Hardee. He has been eliminated it now seems "Dave" Sholtz as the man most to be desired.

Under the administration of John W. Martin as governor expenditures by all the departments of the state government increased from $18,657,243.01 for the year from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1924, to $25,896,733.37 for the year from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1925, the first year of the Martin administration, and to $44,313,180.75 for the first fiscal year from July 1, 1926, to June 30, 1927. This is an increase of practically 150 per cent. For the fiscal year from July 1, 1930, to June 30, 1931, these expenditures totaled $44,851,933.

It is evident to all that there must be curtailment here. The question, will there be curtailment if John W. Martin is returned to the governorship? arises. Judging future by past, there is no reason for thinking so. It is well known that during the former Martin administration state salaries and other expenses were boosted all up and down the line; that the governor's salary, for one, was increased from $6,000 to $10,000 a year. So the outlook for economy is gloomy indeed, if Martin is to be governor.

In addition, it is common knowledge that during the time when Martin was governor the number of circuit judges and state attorneys was increased and that numerous new offices, boards, commissions and agencies—all costing the people money—were created. So, upon his past record, there is nothing to be expected of

THE ISSUE IS PLAIN
 TAMPA TIMES

The paramount issue in the gubernatorial campaign is plain. It can be best stated in the form of a question: Does Florida want more of the sort of state financing that characterized the administration of John W. Martin as governor?

Upon his inauguration in January, 1925, Martin found several millions dollars in the state treasury and the state without debt, except possibly a few current bills of negligible amount. There followed increases in practically all state salaries and the creation of new state officials of one sort and another which marked the Martin regime.

Revenues produced by state millage levied for the year 1927 and 1928 proved insufficient to meet appropriations for those years; therefore it became necessary to transfer money from various funds to the general fund, as well as to resort to borrowing from banks in order to keep things going.

The following transfers to the general fund were made:

Nov. 8, 1927, from pension fund	50,000
Nov. 28, 1929, general inspection fund	50,000
Dec. 29, 1927, general inspection fund	150,000
Jan. 13, 1928, general inspection fund	100,000
Jan. 24, 1928, state textbook fund	150,000
Jan. 25, 1928, state fire insurance fund	50,000
July 26, 1928, general inspection fund	100,000
Aug. 8, 1928, M. V. L. maintenance	150,000
Aug. 23, 1928, permanent building fund	100,000
Sept. 15, 1928, permanent building fund	200,000
Oct. 25, 1928, permanent building fund	200,000
Oct. 25, 1928, I. I. Board	600,000
Oct. 25, 1928, principal state school fund	100,000

Making a total of . . . $2,080,000

It will be seen that in making these transfers the pension fund and what is known as the "sacred" state school fund were made to contribute.

In addition to these transfers of funds the following loans were secured from banks:

October, 1928, Atlantic National Bank	100,000
October, 1928, Florida National Bank	100,000
October, 1928, Barnett National Bank	100,000
December, 1928, First National Bank, Tampa	75,000

COMPARISONS
 TAMPA TRIBUNE

Profits from a large number of tax title transactions are going into big newspaper advertisements for John Martin, in which the parallel column plan is used to present comparisons between his career and that of Dave Sholtz.

When the comparable circumstances distinctly have been to the credit of Sholtz, naturally they were omitted from the advertisements. One of the deficiencies due to that practice herewith is supplied:

December, 1928, Citizens Bank and Trust Company	75,000
December, 1928, First Trust & Savings Company	75,000
December, 1928, American National Bank, notes	8,000

Making a total of . . . $ 608,000

Grand total acquired from banks and other funds . . . $2,688,000

Some of the funds transferred and some of the indebtedness to banks set out in the foregoing is still being carried by the state—with interest being paid the banks, of course.

No matter what else may be lugged into it as an issue, or to distract attention, the figures above presented reveal the paramount issue in the present gubernatorial campaign, which is: Does Florida want more of the sort of state financing that characterized the administration of John W. Martin as governor?

Dave Sholtz Gives Election Talk In West Palm Beach

WEST PALM BEACH, June 22.—(A.P.)—Escorted into West Palm Beach by a cavalcade of automobiles, Dave Sholtz, Daytona Beach candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, was greeted by one of the largest local crowds of the current campaign here last night, as he outlined the platform upon which he is basing his candidacy.

Across the principal streets of the city hung banners inscribed "Dave Sholtz, Florida's Next Governor," and automobiles crowded along the highway were decorated with banners bearing his name. Thousands of Palm Beach county voters had already assembled to greet him when he mounted the stand at City Park and an enthusiastic welcome was accorded the candidate who had been honored locally with the greatest vote in the first primary.

"I know what they are saying about me," declared Mr. Sholtz. "They are going to prove that I am a Slammer twin next. Yet that is their method. I tell you there is really a plan in the camp of the professional politicians, otherwise such tactics would have no place in this race."

Cheers interrupted the East Coast candidate as he discussed labor after labor. A workman's compensation set, a woman's advisory board, better laws and plans for the securing of the Tropical Everglades National Park, were outlined.

"If I were to die tomorrow, and oh, how these professional politicians wish that would happen, all I would have to leave my family would be a little life insurance money and a home," stated Mr. Sholtz. "Within a few months these tax certificate checks would have that away from them, and they would be objects of charity. Because this is brought home to me because I as a human being can well understand how easily this can occur I pledge myself when elected governor to initiate legislation providing a homestead exemption law that will protect home owners."

RISE OF SHOLTZ TO PROMINENCE HAS BEEN RAPID

His Life And Achievements In Florida's Affairs Described

By LELAND G. SWARTS DAYTONA BEACH, June 22.—Dave Sholtz overnight became the most interesting character in Florida public life when he rolled up a vote that placed him in the second primary race for governor.

Here in Daytona Beach they know Dave well. His friends, who include just about every man, woman and child in Daytona Beach, call him Dave and they say they will call him that when he is in the governor's chair. Throughout the state where his personality and his aggressive campaign won thousands to his standards, they have also learned to call him Dave.

Dave Sholtz's life and achievements in Florida affairs are of especial interest at this time when all signs point to him as the next governor. The high points in his career may be briefly sketched as follows: He was graduated with honors from Yale University in 1915 from John B. Stetson University at Deland. He became identified with business and legal interests which gave him intensive training to fit him for the positions in public life which he was later to fill.

In 1916 he was elected to the Florida legislature by an overwhelming vote. He served in the 1917 legislature where he took a progressive stand on all issues and showed constructive ability. His service in the legislature, however, was destined to be brief for he resigned to enlist in the military service when his country called for men. He entered the navy, did his bit, and returned from the war with the rank of ensign. His service connections have always been dear to him and today he holds the rank of lieutenant-commander in the United States Naval Reserve and enjoys his associations in the American Legion.

When Dave settled back into private life it wasn't long until he was elected state attorney for the seventh judicial circuit of Florida. In this capacity he was known as a fearless prosecutor, playing no favorites. In 1921 he was chosen as municipal judge of Daytona Beach. His associates in Daytona Beach tell of how he administered his judicial duties with justice that was always tempered with mercy when he saw a chance to set some erring fellow man upon the right path.

Following his service on the bench, the civic activities of his career entered an intensive phase. He was drafted as president of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce and unanimously re-elected, serving in 1922 and 1923. The enterprise and energy which he gave to this work was reflected in many projects which helped in state development. He also served for three years as president of the Daytona Beach Chamber of Commerce and three years as president of the Association of Chambers of Commerce of the East Coast. During this time the East Coast Association was responsible for securing the East Coast canal, and under construction. He has given liberally also of his time to fraternal orders of which he is a member. He is a York and Scottish Rite Mason and national officer in the Elks. He was organizer and past president of the Daytona Beach Rotary club. He is now president of the Volusia County Bar Association and an esteemed member of the Congregational Church.

Probably that part of his early

Senator W. D. Bell Is Out For Mayor Also

ARCADIA, June 22.—"I shall cast my vote for you in the second primary," Senator W. D. Bell, popular local attorney who ran third place in the race for the Democratic nomination as Florida's congressman at large, has written Mayor John T. Altop, Jr., of Jacksonville, who is seeking the new congressional post. "I do not agree with either you or Mr. Sears upon the Eighteenth Amendment," Senator Bell stated in the letter. "Each of you favors its repeal and I am, as you well know, in favor of its retention. The fact that you have been elected Mayor of Jacksonville four times in succession is evidence of the approval of your record by the people who should know you best; and the results of the first primary show that you have a substantial majority in your home city, which is also the home of your competitor."

Jacksonville Man To Talk Here For Martin

Ernest Anders, veteran Jacksonville City Commissioner and director of its public utilities, will deliver an address in the interest of the candidacy of John W. Martin for governor, at the corner of Park Avenue and First Street tonight at 8:00 o'clock. It will be broadcast through a loud-speaking apparatus stationed near the Martin-for-Governor headquarters.

Band Of Ghouls Is Driven Off By Shots

CHICAGO, June 22.—(A.P.)—Bands of ghouls, apparently intent on robbing the grave of George Barker, labor racketeer and public enemy recently slain by machine gunners, engaged in a pistol fight with the caretaker of Mount Carmel Cemetery today. The ghouls escaped but until they shot holes in the caretaker's automobile stopping the pursuit. The police advancing the theory that the intruders sought valuable papers or jewelry buried with the gangster and that the truck in which the men escaped could have been used to carry away Barker's basket.

home life on a farm, his obedience to the teachings of his parents, who were conservative, thrifty people of German extraction, gave him the rugged foundation for his later activities. For his career of rapid attainment, for his devotion to public welfare and his understanding of the problems of every day folk.

In his own career and all his public activities he has been ably assisted by Mrs. Sholtz and cheered by the happy family life which revolves around his wife, three devoted children and a modest, yet tasteful and comfortable home which he owns in Daytona Beach.

David Hutton Is Called Torrid Lover In Court

(Continued from Page One) astrous. Then David said to me: 'You know I love you and I couldn't live without you. I would n't want to live without you.' "Then what happened" her attorney inquired. "Then he grabbed me in his arms and he kissed my hair, my eyes, my mouth and—he swept me off my feet with his love-making." "Yes, yes," said the attorney, "then what happened?" "Then David said: 'You will marry me, won't you?' and I said: 'Yes, darling, I will marry you, I love you.'" The nurse said Hutton pursued her daily after they met at a home party and on their first date they rode in his automobile for three hours down the picturesque Arroyo Seco in Pasadena.

She said the first time he kissed her she "pushed him away but he took me in his arms again and said: 'Why I've loved you since I first saw you. I tell you, dear it was love at first sight.'" She said he called her a variety of tender names such as "sweetheart, honey, dear, darling," and sang love songs (he is a radio singer) for her on automobile rides. Sometimes, she said, that they remained at her home and she cooked for him.

"He kept following me from the pantry to the stove and from the stove to the sink, putting his arms around me, kissing me tenderly and repeating over and over again that he loved me," she related, staring fixedly at Hutton and he stared back from his place at the counsel table with an occasional gulp.

SATISFACTION

Everybody is interested in furniture correctly styled and substantially built at the lowest possible price, but during these times when CHEAP MERCHANDISE at cheap prices are featured, one must be on their guard against future disappointments. One never gets more than they pay for, so you are strongly urged to select standard quality home furnishings for long satisfactory service, and oftentimes the cost is no more.

Remember you never pay more at Libby's but you get more.
