MIAMI SHORES

Look at New York

Time was when Eighth Street was the business center of New York-then Fourteenth Street - Then Twentythird—then Thirty-fourth—then Forty-second-then Fifty-first-then Seventy-second-and now still farther up town the new, high-class business section is being created, with 181st Street now one of the busiest streets in that great metropolis.

Consider New York from a geographical standpoint, and you will see that its growth northward is the national result of its geographical situation.

And Miami Shores, directly on the line of travel, overlooking beautiful upper Biscayne Bay, with all the main highways from the North traversing Miami Shores en route to Miami, is creating for investors of today profits just as the investors have realized profits as a result of the northward trend of New York City.

Furthermore, Miami Shores is preparing the way for this northward expansion, already so strongly evident. With streets ranging from 70 to 100 feet wide (whereas Miami's streets range from 50 to 70 feet), with business areas designated along all main thoroughfares, and with its firmly defined hotel-apartment house and residential sections, Miami Shores is making easy this northward expansion of Greater Miami.

Your investment now in Miami shores will mean that you have placed yourself in a position to capitalize to the maximum degree Miami's northward growth. See this property now!

The Sanford Herald Do It Then In The Name of "Good Business"

"More playgrounds will mean fewer accidents"-some one pleading for the boys and girls of a large city makes that arresting assertion. He has investigated reports of accidents and finds that in thirty-three per cent of the fatalities on American streets and highways, the victims are children.

Often the motor car runs down children playing in the gutters and in the streets when those children really have good places to play in their own yards. But for the most part the children whose lives are endangered by traffic are boys and girls from homes where no play space is provided. And it is not always in the congested section of large cities that this lack of play space is found.

Somehow as a town becomes more prosperous and its people become more engrossed in money-making and "expan-REMBER THE ASSOCIATED PRESS sion", whatever that is, the interests of the children are ute After I Died?" given scant attention. Some towns provide nothing in the way of a public playground. And in some towns where such playgrounds have been established, it is like fighting for "luxuries", to work for appropriations adequate for the maintenance of the playground apparatus. Instead of providing a goodly sum for the children's playground as It is, he says, "a great spiritual generously as sums are provided for streets and sewers, some philosophy, which has done more Town Fathers regard the playground money as something for human beings than any other totally unnecessary!

Even Sanford is without adequate playgrounds! Sanford should have a first class swimming pool, a first class wading pond for the litle folks, and a half dozen neighborhood play grounds equipped with enough apparatus to provide happy hours (or every child in this town.

And Take It For a Hippopotamus!

On the cover page of a recent copy of The Youth's Companion, printed in large type—printed, indeed, so artistically t would make a beautiful "piece" to frame—was Nancy Byrd Turner's famous memory gem:

Sometimes we let a little thing no larger than a midge's wing destroy a whole day's happiness. We give it leeway, more or less, and let it buzz and nip and sting, till one gets cross nad two get mad and three or four hurt and sad. And then next day, on looking back, we spy the microscopic beast. Alas! Alack! Was that what started all the fuss—that mite? We should have thought at least it was a hippopotamus!

AN AUTOMOBILE, like any other highly specialized machine, runs more smoothly lasts longer-gives greater satisfaction - when its thousands of elements are carefully co-ordinated into one harmonious unit.

Obviously, a better car can be produced when all vital parts are designed, engineered and manufactured by one organization.

The Studebaker car is built on this "one-profit" principle. Not only all the engines, but also all the bodies, and all the axles, gear sets, differentials, springs, clutches, steering gears, gray iron castings and drop lorgings are manufactured in Studebaker plants. This is not true of any other automobile in the fine car field.

The Studebaker, therefore, being built as a unitfunctions as a unit-with all of the advantages of unit over assembled construction.

"Coach" in name—Coupe in quality

The Studebaker Special Six Coach is an outstanding trainple of the finer quality made possible by this "one-profit" principle of motor car manufacture.

This automobile is really a fine 5-passenger coupe. but is called a "coach" because it carries the lowest price at which an enclosed car has ever been sold on the famous Studebaker Special Six chassis.

In this Coach fine grades of upholstery are used. You'll find the same quality of workmanship and materials in all hidden places that you see out in ## ton Rice, explorer, sent from the upper waters of the Amazon Riv-Killed In Auto Wreck

By Williams AVON PARK, July 30.—Albert R. Phillips, son of State Representative State Represe liston, Levy County, was instantly killed early today when he was pinned underneath an automobile, which turned over seven miles north of here. He was blinded by the bright lights of an approaching automobile.

Mr. Phillips, according to C. W. Thomason, who was accompanying him, turned too far to the left of the highway, the automobile turning over when it struck the sand but his wife, also in the automobile, was painfully but not serious-
