Is This The Moses?

Someone asked us this morning why we published Fred Cone's picture in the paper last night if we were supporting Judge Petteway for governor. When we explained that Cone's picture was the best argument we could think of against him, our friend naturally insisted that anyone as ugly as Fred Cone ought to make a mighty good governor.

All of which may be perfectly true. Otherwise we might select the winners of our bathing beauty contests to administer the affairs of state. However, we find in Frei Cone's bid for office some of the same ambiguities which have characterized the platforms of other aspiring candidates, a fault which Judge Petteway seems to be reasonably free from since he is not making any promises.

Mr. Cone says that he is in favor of lowering present taxes, including a reduction in the gasoline tax and a cut in the auto license tars to five dollars; and he is against a locketers have amointed Cone in bearing with one of the artetchin the auto license tags to five dollars; and he is against a sales tax, and presumably any other new kind of taxation (at least he does not indicate in any way that he favors any new kind of tax). In other words, he is going to reduce the amount of revenue which the State now derives from its taxpayers.

Their having done that, he promises "adequate old age pensions," which may cost the State five or ten million dollars a year depending upon the definition of the word "adequate." Furthermore, he favors a nine months' term for all school teachers "with real and sufficient money for the education of your children," which will certainly cost the State something more than it is at present. And he of the old machine that faces its tonites realise the Wauchula also advocates "a State fund to advertise nationally our citrus fruits and other industries as well as the beauty and charm of Florida."

Before the first primary, Mr. Cone was "100 per cent in favor of the Townsend Plan." He even went so far as to promise that if he were elected, he wouldn't appoint funniest foke we've heard anyone to office in Florida who didn't have the endorseret is that one about Fred Cone ment of the Townsend Clubs, and that he would head a being a Jew, having changed his delegation to go to Washington to demand the enactment of this piece of legislation. More recently we haven't heard so much about the Townsend Plan from Mr. Cone.

> But assuming that Mr. Cone still stands where he stood when he was asking for Townsend Club support before the first primary, assuming that he still favors the per cent, how can he say that he is unqualifiedly against a micr tax, and then promise $200 a month to the old folks to be financed by a "transaction

TALLAHASSEE, June 12.-(P)

TALLAHASSEE, June 12.—(P)—Raleigh Pettaway, Tampa candidate for governor, speaking on a state-wide radio bookup Thursday night, said he was not the candidate of any individual, group or faction, and if elected, he would be responsible only to the people. The added, however, that he would not be myleiding to the wishes of the people, and recognizing Florida as a tourist state, he would encourage recreation and enjoyment in every legitimate way.

Pettaway, who went through the first primary exampaign without mentioning any of his opponents, "forred to Fred P. Cone, his opponents in the second primary campaign several times, but not by name. He replied to several statements made by Cone in a radio speech Toseday night.

"The note of despair that I note in the candidates's speech," said Potteway, "is a not of reaction when he calls on the people to turn back to old time polities. Ours is a progressive state and requires before any for effort was made in the first primary campaign, and I have hasrd it in the second primary campaign, to make it spear that there is some connection between me and the present administration. Black - Draught Relief Is Prompt . And Refreshing

It's a good idea that so many people have -to keep Black-Draught handy so they can take a dose for prompt relief at the first sign of constination.

"I have used Plack-Draught ing time about as long as ein remember, and have a packsee on my she'l now,' writes Mr Sherman Eneed, of Evensville, Tenn, "I take Black-Draught for constipation which causes headsche, a bad, tired feeling and for biliousness, bad taste in the mouth and sluggish feeling. Back-Draught, taken about two nights, clears up this trouble and I get all right."

Black-Draught is made of med-leinal herbs, dried and finely ground, but no other change in their natural condition. It is a laxative that men and women like so well because of the refreshing relief it brings in constipation
