Money Question from Woman's View.

Most men trust their wives with their hearts, but draw the line at their pocketbooks. Some day I am going to write a book on the righteousness of a husband giving his wife a regular allowance and never asking her to account for it. Better still, a common purse and let her help herself. As long as my woman works for her clothes and board and lives on bounty she is a slut—Exchange

Work of Gothic Sculptors.

The Gothic sculptors produced crude and grotesque carvings from a technical standpoint, but they were the first to attempt intimate speech in art addressed to the common people, and both Roscellino and Glotto with their clever followers are heirs of the humbler craftsmen who broke the bonds of convention to immortalize the homeliness and variety of daily experience and common types of human nature.

Nicely Put.

Brahms dined one day with one of his fanatic admirers, and the latter, knowing the master's predilection for fine wine, had a bottle of renowned quality brought to the table toward the end of the repast. "This," he exclaimed, "is the Brahms among my wines!" The guest slipped of it, saying: "Excellent, wonderful! Now bring on your Beethoven!"

By the Evidence.

Donald, aged 4, had been to school with an older friend and had seen the teacher put a star on the cards of each child whose conduct had been good. That evening while walking out with his parents, he remarked after looking at the starry sky, "There've been lots of good boys today."

Attitude and Art.

Fewer people nowadays pretend to be reading when they get their pictures taken. Still, there are those who think art is waning—Atchison Globe.

Unreasonableness Permissible. Human beings were never meant to be entirely reasonable people; sentiment and persuasiveness were intended to play a part in human life.

The heavy rains of late have made a poor excuse of a bridge in the best of weather into perfect horror in bad weather. We are speaking of the bridge at the end of Miller Ave. that leads on to Beardall. It would seem as if there were enough public spirited property owners about here who use the bridge to want it fixed. We are informed an individual built it in the first place, now it would seem as if it was up to those whose business it is to do things to see to it that it is made passable at all times.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Packard and children of Sanford were visitors at the Gilbert home Sunday.

It is a matter of inquiry among our people why the Sanford merchants do not advertise their business in their home paper. A lady who has a boarding house wanted to order from Sanford some eat-ables not kept by our merchants. Not knowing the name of such a house she looked carefully over the Herald and found one advertisement (three lines) of groceries. It pays to advertise.

Problem of Universal Peace.
War sweeps away not only some of the bravest and best of a nation, it also disposes of the offscouring of the countries at war. When, then, war ceases, a pressing problem will be how to prevent the accumulation of the dangerous classes no longer left on the battlefield.—Christian Register.

AMPPELOPSIS FOR THE CITY

Hardy Vine That Clings Closely to Walls and Thrives Under Adverse Conditions.

The Ampelopsis is one of the most useful hardy vines. What great improvement might easily be wrought in appearance and value not only in city houses, but those of suburban towns and country districts as well, with a few of these plants to soften the hard angles and break up the fatness that so often prevails.

The best plant, and the one most generally used for this purpose, is Ampelopsis Vetchill, the well-known Boston or Japanese Ivy.

Among the chief features in favor of this plant, it clings closely to the wall or other support by means of its disk bearing tendrils, requiring considerable force to tear it away, thus no straggling vines are seen hanging down or bare places on the wall once the Ampelopsis has grown over it.

Dust, smoke and other conditions incidental to cities so disastrous to plant life have little effect on the growth of this plant.

It is beautiful at all seasons, the bright green foliage of early spring changing to dark green during the summer and again to the lively fall tints of red and orange. Even the delicate tracery of its leafless stems in winter is attractive.

Ampelopsis Virginia or quinquafolia with large "five-fingered" leaves more suitable for growing on fences, garden walls, posts or masonry entrances to drives, walks, etc., than on buildings, owing to its loose habit of growth. There are many different forms of this native vine, all are beautiful, especially in autumn, when the effect of the brilliant foliage is glorious.

Pot-grown plants are most useful for planting, especially in the small spaces usually found about city houses. Ampelopsis does not require particularly good soil, and will thrive under adverse conditions, such as in the dry soil generally prevailing close to the house wall.

Before planting remove at least a cubic foot of the old soil and replace with good loam. A well grown pot plant when knocked out of the pot will have a network of fibrous roots, covering the outside of the ball of earth. Loosen up these roots at the bottom before planting, as they will grow out into the fresh soil more rapidly than if left matted together.

After planting, water thoroughly and as often as required until the plant becomes established in its new quarters.

The cost and care of these plants is trifling compared with the improvement obtained in the appearance of the home, whether in the city or country.

Leonard's Blood Elixir is the one medicine that has the confidence of, and is used and prescribed by, physicians in scrupulous affections, eruptions of the skin, boils, tumors, ulcers, old sores, syphilis, nervous debility, rheumatism, catarrh and all diseases arising from impure blood. They have seen their patients rapidly recover health and vigor from the use of this wonderful blood medicine. The sooner it is treated, the better chance there is for success, for when the bones begin to rot no power on earth can replace them.

The discoverer of Leonard's Blood Elixir has so much confidence in its power to cure rheumatism, catarrh, scrofula, blood poison, kidney and liver complaint and all diseases arising from impure blood that he has offered a $1000.00 guarantee that the money will be refunded to any purchaser of that bottle if this remedy fails to help. With this guarantee you run no risk whatever in buying the Elixir. Be sure you get Leonard's Blood Elixir for this is the one remedy for blood diseases that is sold under a guarantee of this nature. FORTUNE IN GARRET

Poor Woman Discovers $800,000 In Old Trunk.

Bonds and Securities Had Been Lying There for Thirty-two Years—Steps Taken to Distribute Money to the Heirs.

San Francisco.—Hidden in the bottom of an old trunk which for 32 years has been knocked about in San Francisco and Marin counties, a fortune estimated at $800,000 in Mexican government bonds and securities has been recovered in the home of Mrs. Therese Louise Janson at Mill Valley.

In response to this petition Judge J. V. Coffey has appointed David Ornelius of Mill Valley, son-in-law of the widow, administrator of the estate, and has authorized him to begin collection.

Besides the widow, who is now seventy-one years old, and who lives in a modest cottage in Mill Valley, she has daughters, Mrs. L. Lindsey, 324 Clipper street, San Francisco; Mrs. D. Ornelius, Mill Valley; Mrs. Ebba Hilton, Hollins, and Misses Elizabeth and Elin Janson of Mill Valley, are heirs to the unexpected find.

Charles J. Janson died in this city February 2, 1879, leaving what his widow and daughters thought a small estate, all of which he disposed of by will. Mrs. Janson was named executrix and within the proper time distributed what she supposed was the entire estate of her husband.

At that time she discovered among her dead husband's papers the Mexican stocks and bonds, but was told that they were worthless. Believing this to be true, she cast them aside and gave no thought to the documents, merely keeping them as mementoes.

For many years after Janson's death his family lived in this city and the securities rested in a trunk. When Mrs. Janson moved to Mill Valley, a decade ago, in order to be close to one of her married daughters, she took the trunk with her and it has occupied a place in the garret of her home ever since.

Recently she chanced to mention the old papers while talking with a friend. Curiosity caused the friend to ask the privilege of examining the bonds. From their dusty hiding place they were brought forth, and the friend began an investigation, with the result that he discovered they were evidences of just indebtedness owing by the Mexican government to Charles Janson.

After a family conference it was decided that Ornelius should take the matter in hand. He consulted with Attorney Rufus C. Thayer of San Francisco and the opening of the old will case is the result.

Janson had seen much service in the employ of the Mexican government about 45 years ago. But it was not until 1865 that the first of the bonds were executed in his favor. Their dates show that for the next seven years he had distributed to him large blocks of bonds, some of which are war issues and others for different services.

Janson did not conceal his possession of the bonds, but, like the widow at the time of his death, he did not consider them worth much, principally because in those days Mexico was continually torn by revolutions. However, he kept them and passed them on to his heirs at his death for what they were worth.

During all of the years they have been in the possession of the Janson family no interest has been demanded from or paid by Mexico and it is this accumulation that makes up a large share of the fortune.

Just as soon as the necessary legal formalities here are concluded, Ornelius will proceed to Mexico and present the securities for payment. Since there is no flaw in any of the documents, it is expected they will be paid without demur.

There will be some additional delay in Ornelius starting south because of the fact that all of the papers in the Janson estate were destroyed in the earthquake of 1906. Many of these will have to be restored from copies or from memory in order that there will be no hitch in the collection proceedings, which will bring to several families now in modest circumstances unexpected wealth.

Mrs. Perkins—"Josh, now that you have seen the great sights in New York City, what's the first thing that'd naturally strike a visitor from upstate?"

Mr. Perkins—"One o' them speedin' automobiles."—Charles C. Mullin.

DUNCANS RETURN TO EUROPE

Angry Because Greek Costumes Fall to Make Hit in This Country—Attract Much Attention.

New York.—The Raymond Duncans and their shivering little son Menalkas have sailed for Europe. The fondest and most affectionate of good-bys at the pier were interrupted while tearful huggers and kissers took a glance at their costumes.

Mrs. Duncan is a Greek. Both she and her husband try to make themselves believe that they and poor little Menalkas of the blue shins are very ancient Greeks. Mr. Duncan wore a white tunic over a green robe. Mrs. Duncan wore a green tunic over a purple robe. Menalkas did not have any tunic. His robe, which ended above his bare knees, was also green.

The Duncans have been in California among the Kikikat Indians, studying basket weaving and teaching the red men how to weave their own clothes and make a tribal yell like the frog chorus in Aristophanes.

They founded a weaving institute for destitute women and also spent much time in Chinatown in San Francisco learning things about Chinese potteries.

Mr. Duncan said they were going to Paris to keep some lecture dates, and that they would return to this country to settle up their affairs. After that, he said with firmness but sadness, never again for America. Mr. Duncan holds that Americans do not regard art seriously enough. He has been of that opinion ever since the Gerry society arrested him here a year ago for not putting enough warm clothes on Menalkas.

The Duncan family has attracted more or less attention in New York and in some western cities the last year or two, where they have appeared as advocates and demonstrators of a "dress reform," the principal departure from present customs being to wear sandals, no trousers to speak of, robes of gay colors and figures. They are greatly disappointed, it is said, by the indifference shown by society and their consequent failure.

The KITCHEN CABINET

THE SUNDAY DINNER.

The Sunday dinner in most homes is a little more elaborate than an ordinary dinner, as there is no need for hurry, and the family are all at home to enjoy it. For the busy mother with no one to help her, a big Sunday dinner has no especial charm, for she needs the day of rest as much as any member of the family. One may have a roast that has been cooked the day before and reheated for Sunday, or a veal joint may be prepared and served cold. The salad may be all ready to put together on Saturday, and a dessert, like custard, or a frozen dish kept in the fireless cooker for dessert. A fireless cooker is a wonderful help in the servantless home.

A dish of mashed potatoes may be quickly prepared by heating cold boiled potatoes in boiling water for a few minutes, then mash and season.

For the Sunday night lunch, let the man of the house prepare it. Most men think it great fun, and are especially proud when proficiency rewards their efforts.

Begin with simple things at first, like the making of dainty sandwiches, the preparation of tea or cocoa, and gradually lead up to rarebit and omelets. A nice Sunday night sandwich which is very well liked is one made by spreading buttered bread cut in rounds, with butter, then add cheese that has been grated and softened with cream. Put together sandwich fashion and fry in butter until well browned on both sides.

Serve these sandwiches on a plate of lettuce leaves with a cup of cocoa and a dish of fruit and a small cake, and you have a most appetizing lunch, easy to prepare.

Wicks—Why is it that you're so sore on your father-in-law?

Ticks—My wife wanted to get a divorce a couple of years ago, and he persuaded her not to.

"Phwat ahr ye doin' in here?" said the policeman to the old woman peddling apples in the corridors of the state capitol. "Don't ye know peddlers ahr not allowed in here?"

"Plaze, sor, an' I'm only tryin' t' make an honest livin'."

"Well, if that's th' case, go ahead. Sure, an' ye won't have anny competition."—William A. McGarry.

FLANDERS "4" MOTORCYCLE

$175 f. o. b. Factory—Magneto Included of Course

Has Them All on the Run

WHAT AN UPSETTING of prices the arrival of the Flanders "4" Motorcycle has occasioned. Why, the other makers seem to be in a panic.

IT'S FUNNY, TOO, when you recall the unkind things they said about the Flanders "4" when we first advertised it and stated the price.

OF COURSE THEY SAID a first-class four horse-power motorcycle could not be made for $175, even with battery ignition. And a magneto included—utterly impossible.

WE WISH WE COULD print all the things they said in their frantic efforts to discredit the Flanders "4" and justify their own prices—which at that time were $250 and $275 for machines of same power and less quality.

YOU WILL REMEMBER they all said the only way it could be done was to make the machine out of poor materials and throw them together. They not only admitted, they protested, they could not duplicate the Flanders "4" at the price—or anywhere near it.

THAT WAS BEFORE we had begun to ship Flanders "4s" to our dealers and customers. They felt safe in making such statements—for though they knew in their hearts that this concern could not afford to turn out a second grade article—they had no idea what a sensation it was going to create.

SO THEY LAID TRAPS for themselves—and now we are driving them right into them.

THEY MUST EAT their own words—they said they would have to use poor material and poorer work in the making to meet the price of Flanders "4".

WELL, THEY HAVE ALMOST met the price—and they will have to meet it and go lower before they can sell their antiquated machines in competition with this up-to-the-minute motorcycle.

NOW IT DOESN'T REALLY MATTER, but are we to assume that what they said was true and that they are now making punk machines to meet Flanders "4" in competition—or that they told fibs about it.

FRANKLY WE DON'T BELIEVE they are making them any worse—some things are impossible. And we do know that until Flanders "4" arrived on the scene, prices of motorcycles were high above all reason.

WE SAID IN OUR AD that Flanders "4"—magneto included—selling for $175, left a mighty small profit to us on each machine.

BUT WE ARE SATISFIED with a small profit on each machine so long as we can build 50,000 per year. And the price—$175, magneto included—has created a demand sufficient to justify us in building that many.

HERE'S A POINT YOU HADN'T NOTICED perhaps. Other makers did not drop their prices until we had actually begun to make deliveries. Do you know why? There were two reasons.

FIRST, OUR AD CREATED a tremendous demand which we were as yet unable to supply. The other makers saw that and determined to supply some of it at high prices. And they did. Then they began to think it was going to continue.

SECOND, THEY HOPED that when this machine did appear it would not be up to all our claims—and would give them a new lease of life.

NOT ONLY THAT: But in addition to hoping they set about picking it to pieces before they had actually seen it themselves.

IT IS A FACT that, before we had shipped one motorcycle we heard stories told by competitors of how this part was weak and that part wrong.

The wish was father to the thought—that was all. OH! WHAT A BUMP they got when we began to send them over the country. The effect was electrical.

PRICES BEGAN TO JUMBLE. First they dropped off $25.00—made theirs $250 and $225 instead of $275. But it didn't do. Dealers wired them: "You must meet Flanders prices. No use talking the machine—it has Flanders' name on it and the public knows."

OFF CAME ANOTHER $25—and another $25—and there they put on a magneto and tried to meet the old price. No go—Flanders had said the motorcycle is complete without a magneto.

WELL, THEY HAVEN'T YET reached our price. Can't, and stay in business, because most of them are not manufacturers—only assemblers. They buy motors and other parts and pay one or two extra profits on them.

IT COSTS THEM MORE to build the same machine than we can sell it for. Get that?

WE HAVE THE FACILITIES—a $2,250,000 concern. We make every part. We buy right—pay cash and it costs us less to sell—because you know a dollar's worth when they see it, and Flanders "4" is the biggest value ever offered. It sells itself.

EVERY DEALER KNOWS. Didn't they all "step foot it" to Detroit to get the agency? Of course we couldn't give it to them all—we picked the best and of course those who didn't get it were sore. Naturally. And they are getting sore every day.

WHEN A DEALER KNOCKS—the Flanders "4" is of course, he must, to sell other makes—just ask him why he was unable to get the agency when he asked for it. You won't miss one in a hundred.

MEANTIME what you want to know is how soon can you get a Flanders "4". That is the burning question with thousands. And we are doing our best to answer it definitely.

IT DEPENDS ENTIRELY on how soon your order is in our dealer's hands. We can't promise to deliver on the minute—for we have none in stock. Demand is away ahead of supply all the time. But get your order in—pay a deposit so the dealer will know you mean business and you won't have to wait more than a month—perhaps not more than two weeks. The dealer will tell you for he knows when we have promised to ship him. Or you may write direct to us and we will gladly tell you.

THE FLANDERS GUARANTEE goes with every machine. That means that if the machine we ship you isn't right we will make it right. The name Flanders stands for quality—you know that.

DEALERS. This ad is published in several newspapers that circulate widely—in other towns than the one in which they are published. If you live in a town where we have as yet no representative this is your chance to obtain the best seller—because the best value—in the entire automobile field. Better write the factory direct today.

THE SANFORD HERALD

Subscription Price, $2.00 a Year in Advance

Delivered in the City by carrier $2.00 per year in advance or 20c per month. Payments in advance must be made at office.

Entered as second-class mail matter August 22nd 1906, at the Postoffice at Sanford, Florida, under Act of March 3rd, 1879.

Office in Herald Building Telephone No. 148

Sanford on Feb. 14th.

Everybody pull for a good country club.

Sanford is the best trading centre in Florida.

Surprising how a little rain will give everybody the dumps.

Sanford must have a good exhibit at the Orange county fair.

Enterprise knocked out the Arcadia Champion last week in one round.

County division seems to be worrying some of our county contemporaries.

Mayor Spencer is dabbling out justice at mayor's court like a supreme court judge.

The new city council is getting down to business and a general house cleaning will result.

County politics ought to warm up some in a few weeks and announcements are in order. The crop promises to be very large this year.

Dante's Inferno at the Imperial yesterday gave the people a chance to see what hell is really like, although it was rather tame compared to what some of them may expect.

GET TOGETHER

The advice of The Herald to the growers about getting together on the marketing of the early celery crop is being heeded and the majority of the growers are heartily endorsing the plan.

A careful compilation of the celery crop discloses the fact of Sanford's supremacy in the early crop and there is no need to take any old price offered when you hold the key to the situation.

The situation is right for a get-together movement and now is the time for action before the crop starts moving.

GET READY FOR THE FAIR

The Orange County Fair is only a few weeks off and it behooves our people to be up and doing if Sanford is to have an exhibit worthy of the name. Our section has the horses and cattle, chickens and hogs, vegetables and fruits and manufactured products to make one of the grandest displays at the fair but we must prepare for it now. The communities are at work and they will need money and donations of vegetables and fruits. If you can give anything toward the exposition that means so much for Sanford, give it with the idea that our exhibit should be the best on the grounds—an exhibit worthy to represent the greatest vegetable section in the world. Unless Sanford can have a first class display in every respect 'twere better to have none at all.

CHOOSING OUR PRESIDENT

Public opinion is growing stronger upon the idea of the people choosing the Presidential candidate. The Miami Metropolis plainly states the case in the following:

"A week from today, Tuesday, January 16th the Democratic State Committee will meet in Jacksonville and transact business of immense importance for the people of Florida. If they honor the wishes of the rank and file of the state's democracy, they will arrange for the holding of a presidential primary, giving the people the right to take part in the national issues which are daily coming nearer to the happiness of the everyday man.

In five or six states, laws have been enacted making the presidential primary a fixed institution in their government and through out the country, the people are awakening to the fact that they cannot really be self-governing unless they are given the privilege of participating in the naming of the candidates upon whom they are to vote. It is only just that the individual citizen should be given the opportunity to express his choice between candidates in his own party quite as much as between the candidates of the republican and democratic parties."

FOR THE VISITORS

Sanford wants more tourists. This fact is becoming apparent to the man who expects to build a larger city, more houses and a better business. One of the first needs then of Sanford is to attract the van guard to the city and to attract you must of a certainty offer pleasures and diversions.

A country club could be organized here this season with a yacht club as an adjunct for at no place upon the map is there a city that can offer the sportsman so much in the way of hunting and fishing and boating as Sanford and yet how many know of it?

The country club would at once attract and form a nucleus around which the larger body of visitors would collect and soon they would come almost without the asking.

Every day the Herald office entertains a dozen or more visitors who have no place to even sit down and rest and read the papers. If a suitable place were provided at once many a visitor would become imbued with the good fellowship and hospitality of our city, tell about it and new residents would be the result.

Not a reading room, not a place to rest, not a soul to engage in conversation and yet you expect the stranger to like your city. Our vital need now is the open door policy of making more friends and making more residents and a small amount of money and a small amount of push and energy will get us a library building first and a country club next and then for thousands of tourists every year.

Boy Scouts at Orlando

Messrs. Summers and Waldron recently took a trip to Orlando and completed preliminary arrangements for taking the Sanford boy scouts to the County fair. Secretary O'Neal promised that the fair authorities will supply needed tents, wood, and water, also free admission to the grounds. The boys will be required to furnish their own personal equipment consisting of blanket, knife, fork, spoon, plate, also food while away and railroad fare.

The boys will leave Sanford by the afternoon train on Thursday Feb. 1st. Getting off at Winter Park, they will be met by the boy scouts of that place and all will then hike the rest of the way to Orlando. The scouts remain in camp until Saturday night, thus giving two full days of rest upon the grounds.

Part of the time will be taken up in playing baseball. One game has already been arranged with the Winter Park boys, and it is hoped that the Orlando boys will be sufficiently well organized to put up a game.

Last week Thursday both troops of the Sanford boys met together and elected Charlie Pier as the Sanford captain. A game was played last Saturday between the two troops, resulting in a score of nine to seven for troop one. Neither club was fully manned with its best players. There will be another practice game next Saturday afternoon in Holden Park at 2:30.

In Memoriam

After a lingering illness of several months, Mr. C. A. Hawkins passed peacefully to rest Sunday night at the suburban home of his brother, Mr. T. I. Hawkins. He leaves a devoted father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hawkins; one sister, Miss Annie Hawkins, and one brother, Mr. T. I. Hawkins, all of whom were with him at the time of his death. He was always a dutiful, devoted son and an affectionate brother, and in their loss the family have the most sincere sympathy of their many friends.

Mr. Hawkins was born in Oglethorpe county, Ga., April 30, 1875. He spent most of his life in Commerce, where for several years he was engaged in the newspaper business and where he leaves numerous friends, by whom he will be sadly missed.

Since coming to Sanford, where he has spent several winters he has made many friends, and by his many noble traits of character has endeared himself to the hearts of all who knew him.

During his illness he bore his suffering with christian fortitude, never complaining even to those most dear to him. He died at peace with God and the world. "Like one who wraps the draperies of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams."

The father and brother accompanied the remains to Commerce, Ga., where the funeral took place from the Apple Valley Baptist church.

Mission Study Circle. Notwithstanding the inclement weather, quite a fair representation of the study circle were present Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Albert Seigh; who entertained the circle this month.

Mrs. H. V. Perry, third vice president, of the Missionary Society presided.

After short devotional exercises, Mrs. Perry requested Mrs. W. H. Williams to read for the information of the ladies, the first chapter, of the "In Coming Millions," by Howard B. Gorse, the study of which, will be taken up by the circle, dealing as it does, with the Home Mission problem. Mrs. H. H. Chappell, president of the Missionary society, suggested that the meetings of the society, be changed to the second and fourth Tuesdays, and that of the study circle, the third Tuesday. The change was made, as the suggestion met with the approval of the ladies of the society who were present.

After a short informal discussion on the chapter of the book read the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Seigh, and her committee; who served delicious cake and coffee. The ladies were pleased to have with them, three visitors. As it was growing late, the circle adjourned until the third Tuesday, in February.

Something New In Stoves

For years the inventive genius has been busy with a gasoline or kerosene stove that would take the place of gas and be more economical. The happy medium has been found in the Detroit stove that burns either gasoline or oil, has no wicks, is a perfect combustion, absolutely safe, has no smoke, no odor, and is simple and durable. In fact the Detroit seems to have combined all the best features of the gas stove with the economical features of the oil stove. The wickless burner is a long step in the right direction and eliminates the troubles formerly experienced with lamp wicks. The Detroit is a great fuel saver, and is most handsome in design. See them demonstrated in the store of Williams & Milteer.

The legislation necessary to fix tolls and to affirm the free use of the waterway by American shipping will be introduced by Col. Goethals.

Bridge Party Mrs. C. M. Vorce was the gracious hostess of a delightful bridge party in the tea room Wednesday afternoon. Three tables of bridge were played. Mrs. W. D. Holden won the first prize, a handsome bridge record. The booby prize, "Atae," a Chinese love story was received by Mrs. R. S. Keeler. After the cards, delicious chicken salad, sandwiches, olives and coffee were served.

Mrs. Herndon Entertains Thursday afternoon was made very delightful for her guests by Mrs. B. W. Herndon, who was the charming hostess of a beautiful gift bridge party. The rooms were tastefully decorated with green vines with yellow flowers. The color scheme was white and yellow and was carried out in all the accessories of the games.

Six tables of bridge were played. The majority of the players received gifts. As each progressing couple left their table they went to a beautifully decorated booth, presided over by Mrs. D. L. Thrasher, where a wheel of fortune was placed on a table over which was a beautiful point lace cover, with yellow flowers artistically scattered over it, bringing out the color design. On the wheel, the gifts neatly wrapped in white paper and tied with yellow ribbon were awaiting the winners, who turned the wheel and when it stopped at a number the gift with the corresponding number was their fortune. Those who did have the good luck to win any game are unanimous in desiring another gift bridge party real soon.

After the bridge party, Mrs. Geo. Speer and Mrs. E. L. Miller in serving the delicious chicken, sandwiches, coffee and puddings where again the color scheme was observed as the refreshments were served in white and gold china. Bridge tea was enjoyed by several who came in after the party.

KANSAS TOWN HAS VANISHED

Slabtown Was Once Popular Village in Vicinity of Leavenworth, but Has Long Been Extinct.

Leavenworth, Kan.—Within a circle of ten miles of Leavenworth are the sites of half a dozen towns that were started with high hopes of their becoming future cities, flourished for awhile and then died. Were the history of these towns to be written, it would be a story of great interest, and would make a very large book.

Recently E. W. Snyder has purchased the site of one of these towns, originally East Leavenworth, but which in later years degenerated into Slabtown. This land Mr. Snyder purchased from W. H. Burt of Rogers, Tex. Mr. Snyder already owned a large tract of land adjoining Slabtown and wanted this tract to square up the land he already owned.

The site of the town is nearly opposite the Ryan ice plant, and it is here that the old ferry landed passengers before the terminal bridge was built. In looking over the adjacent Mr. Snyder found that the town was platted in 1853, and that it was laid out by Herry L. Bickford, formerly a prominent citizen here and now dead.

Slabtown was an ambitious town in those days and had 14 numbered streets in one direction and its Chestnut street, its Broadway and others. The lots were but 35 feet wide, showing that the land was valuable over there.

Here was located the station of the Missouri River railroad, afterward the Kansas City and St. Louis railroad. There were two stores, five or six saloons, a post office and about 150 people in the town at one time. In plowing the land for wheat a short time ago Mr. Snyder's tenant uncovered a large brick cistern in a good state of preservation, the foundations of two store buildings and any number of broken bottles, showing where the saloons were located. All of these were covered from sight until they were passed over them. Had they remained undisturbed for a few centuries some antiquaries would have dug up, would have the site of the town—erred the remains of an ancient civilization—and he would have gazed at them with a wondering eye. The abstract also shows that around the townsite were located several subdivisions and small tracts, showing that there was probably a large town. A big real estate man here says: "What hopes, what aspirations, what disappointments centered in this town during its existence?" But Slabtown passed away long ago. The station has been moved twice, each time being taken over nearer the bluffs, and the houses of the old town tumbled down or were moved, the last one disappearing some time ago.

BOY CHAMPION CORN GROWER

Eber Kimbrough of Tallapoosa County Raises 225 Bushels an Acre at Cost of 19 Cents.

Birmingham, Ala.—A lad of 16 years, Eber A. Kimbrough, residing on his father's farm in Tallapoosa county, Alabama, has just won the distinction of being the champion corn grower of the world, and captured two coveted prizes.

The Central of Georgia Railroad company offered prizes of a $250 note and a trip to Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Niagara Falls, Chicago and St. Louis to the boy in whose lines who would grow the most bushels of the acre. Young Kimbrough, two weeks ago, determined to capture the prize, and also joined the Boy's Corn Club of Tallapoosa county at the suggestion of Prof. L. N. Duncan of the Agricultural Department of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, and went to work to make a record on lowest cost.

There is only one entry in the world's record that exceeds Kimbrough's in quantity. That is the record of a South Carolina boy, who is credited this year at over 300 bushels. Moore grew 225 bushels on the acre, but it cost him 25 cents, whereas Kimbrough used out 225 bushels on an acre at 19 cents a bushel.

"Mr. Pulitzer and myself were two of the younger members of that notable convention. He was planned for a big speech on some particular matter, but when his time came it happened that Mr. Pulitzer was not in the room. The subject on which he had fortified himself was taken up, passed on and the convention proceeded to other business. Presently Mr. Pulitzer came in somewhat out of breath and began firing off the speech he had stored up. Then he was interrupted by the chairman.

BETTER THAN HEROISM

PRESENCE OF MIND GETS MEN OUT OF TIGHT PINCHES.

Division Superintendent's Story of Electric Line Train Dispatcher Who Averted Terrible Collision by Using His Wife Quickly.

"You may talk about your heroes, your brave men and trainmen who are not afraid of anything," remarked the division superintendent, "but I'll take 'em with common sense and presence of mind."

"It's a ticklish proposition sometimes to determine just what is bravery and what is only recklessness. It wouldn't make a bit of difference on this division if a man was a hero if he had shown he was reckless. We don't care to have the Dare-Devil Dicks around. They're too dangerous."

"But give me the man with presence of mind and I'll show you a trainman who will get himself out of any tight pinch."

"I know what presence of mind means. Over on an Indiana electric line a couple of years ago one dispatcher happened to possess a brain—a rare attribute, you can be sure. One day, after a night at 'double trick'—he had been working without sleep 20 hours or more—he made a mistake."

"He sent an east-bound limited out with orders to meet a west-bound local at a certain siding. Then he gave the local orders to meet the other car at a siding half a mile west of the point where the crew of the limited expected to pass the west-bound car."

"Two minutes later he realized his mistake. He knew the local, speeding west, would collide with the faster car before it could reach the siding which its crew supposed was the meeting place."

"As it happened, the dispatcher had indicated different sidings, each at the end of straight track stretches which approached a long curve. He knew the collision would occur on the curve, at a point where the crew of neither car could see the other until the two trains were so near together that an accident could not be prevented."

"At once the dispatcher grasped a telephone, called for the engineer of the nearest power plant and had him shut off the current. Both cars stopped. Their crews stood idly by for a few minutes, expecting the current would be turned on at once. When they saw the delay was becoming serious, one man from each of the crews ran back to the nearest telephone."

"What's the matter with the 'juice?' they asked the dispatcher, the two calls coming in from the different telephones at almost the same instant. 'Jones, the limited is just around the curve,' he told the motor-man of the local. Then he imparted the same intelligence to the motor-man of the faster car."

"Both realized their close call. The accident was, of course, prevented, but the delay must be accounted for to the superintendent."

"The dispatcher was the first to report it, and to explain his mistake in ordering the cars to meet at different sidings. But they didn't 'fire' him. He had shown presence of mind. There wasn't one man in a hundred who would have thought of shutting off the current. Most of them would have ordered the wreck train, notified physicians and have permitted the cars to go to smash."

VAIN RACE AGAINST DEATH

Vanderlip's Special to Chicago Made New Record but the Grim Reaper Beat It.

Few railroad runs have proved more thrilling than that participated in by Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City bank of New York, who during the early part of 1900 started from New York in a vain effort to beat the grim reaper to Chicago, where his aged mother lay dying, says the Railroad Magazine.

When at the point of retiring for the night Mr. Vanderlip received a telegram from his brother-in-law in Chicago saying that his mother had been prostrated by a sudden and serious attack of pneumonia. Seizing the telephone, Mr. Vanderlip notified the New York Central authorities that he wanted a special made up for him at once.

The Vanderlip race against death should live in the history of railroading. It established the fastest time between New York and Chicago, the train reaching the La Salle street station at seven minutes after 8 o'clock the next afternoon, sixteen hours and seven minutes from New York, almost an hour better than the previous record or seventeen hours, and two hours faster than the schedules of the Twentieth Century Limited and the Pennsylvania Special. The entire run of 965 miles was made in exactly 907 minutes, making an average of 1.08 miles a minute.

Throughout the race Mr. Vanderlip kept begging the engineer for more speed. He received no messages as to his mother's condition enroute and lived in constant fear that death would beat him to the bedside.

When the train reached Englewood station he jumped into a waiting automobile and started at top speed for his mother's home.

"Mother?" he asked as the door opened.

"She died at ten minutes to three," was the reply—which was the very time the special had pulled into the Englewood station.

DEATHS ON BRITISH ROADS

Total Number of Persons Killed in 1909 Was 1,062. Compared With 971 in 1908.

An official return of the accidents and casualties on the various railroads in the United Kingdom during 1910 has been issued as a parliamentary paper. The total number of persons killed and injured was 1,062 and 8,342, respectively, as compared with 971 killed and 7,592 injured in 1909.

The passengers killed and injured by accidents to trains numbered 23 and 1,111, and by accidents from other causes 94 and 2,210, while the number of employes of companies or contractors killed or injured by accidents to trains or rolling stock, etc., was 9 and 118, and by accidents from other causes 874 and 4,605.

As usual, the greater number of people killed in accidents on railways were neither passengers nor employes. Trespassers (including suicides) accounted for 442 deaths and 136 injuries, while 75 persons were killed and 35 injured passing over railways at level crossings, and 41 persons on business at stations also lost their lives. In addition to the foregoing, the railway companies have reported to the board of trade the following accidents, which occurred during the year ended December 31, 1910, upon their premises, but in which the movement of vehicles used exclusively upon railways was not concerned, namely:

Two passengers, 22 employes of companies or contractors, and 20 other persons killed, and 759 passengers, 20,419 employes and 690 other persons injured, making a total in this class of accident of 59 persons killed and 21,768 injured, as against 11 passengers, 88 employes and sixteen other persons killed and 832 passengers, 19,867 employes and 693 other persons injured in 1909, a total of 65 persons killed and 20,792 injured.

POINTS FOR TARIFF MAKERS

Smuggling Scandals Prove That Human Nature Has Not Changed to Any Remarkable Degree. Makers of tariffs, whether for public revenue only or for private spoils only, learned long ago that it was folly to lay high duties on things easily smuggled. Experience taught them that low duties would get more buyers of jewelry and other small but costly things, and they acted accordingly.

But of late our American tariff craftsmen, ignoring experience, or thinking the "idle rich" had grown honest, or that the dear masses had become easier marks, restored the obsolete high duties on such things. And now they find that there is plenty of smuggling, as of yore, where there is plenty of motive.

The latest news in this line comes from New York. According to the dispatch conveying it a banker of great wealth, not named, is the expert under whose direction many articles of small bulk, but immense value, have been smuggled through that port. Citizens of high standing in the world of industry and commerce are said to be involved.

Such disclosures should convince our new-light tariff makers that their predecessors knew something, and that American human nature is not less prone to iniquity than it was in the days when, as they assume, tariff-building was a less scientific art.

This noble art has not become more progressive or scientific than its kindred art of gambling.

CYCLONE GIVES WOMAN RIDE

Interrupted Washing in South Dakota Shack and Demolished the Building.

Rapid City, S. D.—While washing dishes in her home-stead shack near Onkton, a village near here, Mrs. George Summer was picked up with the building by a sudden funnel-shaped cloud and carried 500 feet in the structure.

The cyclone, which came out of an almost clear sky, completely wrecked the building when it deposited it upon the ground, but the woman, aside from a few minor injuries, was not harmed.

At the end of the air journey Mrs. Summer fainted. Neighbors who saw the incident from distant points say the building was shattered against a tree and the woman was thrown. In that locality there was no indication of a storm except in the precise spot hit. The shack is said to have been carried 50 feet in the air.

Don't Suffer!

"I had been troubled, a little, for nearly 7 years," writes Mrs. L. Fincher, in a letter from Peavy, Ala., "but I was not taken down, until March, when I went to bed and had to have a doctor. He did all he could for me, but I got no better. I hurt all over, and I could not rest. At last, I tried Cardui, and soon I began to improve. Now I am in very good health, and able to do all my housework."

TAKE THE CARDUI Woman's Tonic

You may wonder why Cardui is so successful, after other remedies have failed. The answer is that Cardui is successful, because it is composed of scientific ingredients, that act curatively on the womanly system. It is a medicine for women, and for women only. It builds, strengthens, and restores weak and ailing women, to health and happiness.

If you suffer like Mrs. Fincher did, take Cardui. It will surely do for you, what it did for her. At all druggists.

NO THORNS ON BLACKBERRY

Luther Burbank Exhibits at Santa Rosa Result of Experiments Extending Over Ten Years.

San Francisco—The thornless blackberry bush has arrived.

Luther Burbank, after ten years of experimenting, has been able to produce a blackberry bush that is destitute of thorns. Yesterday afternoon, while Burbank was showing a party of Australian boys about his gardens at Santa Rosa, he said:

"Now I will show you something about which nothing has been said as yet. It is the thornless blackberry. It has not been distributed yet, and possibly will not be for some time. You see, I have to be careful about stating anything until it is a reality."

Burbank broke off some of the branches from the bush, and they were carefully examined by the visitors. There were no thorns visible, the surface of the branches being smooth as silk. The fruit is said to be of exquisite taste and quality.

Patriotic Chickens.

Mountain View, Cal.—Patriotism to the ultimate degree is exemplified in a new breed of hens now flaunting the national colors at the poultry farm of Dr. I. G. Royte here. Bright red of head; pure white of body and indigo blue of tail, the bowls came into the world a short time ago. There are several of the variegated birds and Dr. Royte asserts that the extraordinary plumage is the result of long experimental observation. He has named the new breed the "patriot."

Surah Silks Again.

Surah will silk in solid color is a material which is gaining much favor, being used by the best model houses in Paris for making tailored suits and three piece costumes. This new surah has a rich luster surface and is used in exactly the same manner as satins have been so freely employed recently.

Surah is especially well adapted for summer use in America. It is durable, sufficiently dressy for a handsome suit, is light weight, and, therefore, comfortable for summer use in many parts of the United States. More than this, domestic silk mills are equipped to produce surah silks.

Judge F. M. Robles of Tampa has rendered a decision in the City Library injunction case, granting to R. M. Price et al the writ enjoining the city of Tampa from purchasing a site for the library. It is held by the court that it would be legal for the city to raise by taxation money for the maintenance of the city library, but the lot would not be a municipal holding, inasmuch as the terms of the donation by Andrew Carnegie are such that the city is unable to control the ground or make any changes in the manner of its use.

The Pensacola Commercial Association has started upon the new year with a view of making it a big year for Pensacola and West Florida. Realizing that what was good for Pensacola was good for the whole of that part of the State, the committee decided to suggest the organization of a commercial association for West Florida. The idea is to get all towns and counties of West Florida into an organization, so that concerted work in the interest of progress may be carried on.

The city council of Live Oak did a wise thing when they passed an ordinance prohibiting the sale of cigarettes, tobacco and paper to make them to boys under eighteen years old.

REPORT FROM THE ASSOCIATION

Rumors Regarding Prices on Certain Crops Without Foundation
Jan. 15, 1912.

Mr. E. J. Holly, Editor Sanford Herald, Sanford, Florida.

There is a story in circulation on the streets and in public places generally, which is a very great injustice to the management of the Association, and we wish you to give us a little space in your paper to correct the same, believing that you are interested in fair play and the truth at all times. The story as it comes to our office is as follows:

The Association had a car of very poor lettuce loaded by their members, which they had no means of disposing of and sold it to Mr. Moses, a buyer in Sanford at 50c per package. Mr. Moses rolled this car to New York and sold it for $5.50 per basket, realizing a net profit to himself of over $1,000, which money naturally would have gone to the growers, had the car not been sold to Mr. Moses.

All of the above story so far as the Association is concerned is without one syllable or letter of truth. We have not sold Mr. Moses or anybody else in Sanford this year a package of anything. We have not had a package of lettuce, to say nothing of a car, that we have not been able to dispose of to a good advantage on the markets.

How such a story as that mentioned above could be circulated regarding us is beyond our understanding, but we presume some of our dear friends' having nothing else to do concocted the story from their imaginative and fertile brains.

The only connection of any sort in a business way, which we have had with Mr. Moses was, that we put in two cars which he was loading for New York, a few hampers of lettuce and these hampers were sold by our salaried representative on the dock in New York.

Mr. Moses has had some lettuce in one car which we were loading out and his own people sold this lettuce on arrival in New York. We have not sold to him or bought from him, or handled in any way any of his lettuce, and we know Mr. Moses, if called upon can verify this statement. We do not believe, however, it will be necessary to ask him.

We are glad to be able to say to the Association, under the present selling arrangement does not need to call on anyone for assistance to sell their shipments, and as we are doing good work and everybody who has used our system are perfectly satisfied, we know of no reason why we shall be obliged to call for help along this line.

We regret to learn that quite a few of the growers in the community take occasion to sneer at the efforts of the Association. We see no reason why they should, because it won't be anybody's funeral but their own, should the Association have to retire from the field, which is not at all likely, if we are not working for the glory or benefit of any one person or set of people in particular. Our efforts are being directed for the benefit of our members and the growers generally in the Sanford district.

The organization who are marketing our shipments are doing so on a remarkably low basis, and we are confident they are not making a penny out of us, at this time. Every economy is being practiced, so far as the Association in Sanford is concerned to keep the expenses at the lowest possible point. And right here it might be well to state that the General Manager and the Treasurer, who are reported to be drawing large salaries from the organization are not drawing one penny, but are giving up their time gratuitously for the building up of the Association and the good of the business generally.

Both of them own pretty good size farms and realize that unless the market conditions are much improved in the future over what they have been in the past, there is little hope for them to make any money out of their investment.

We know of no reason why any grower in the Sanford district should sneer at or make light of the work the Association is trying to do, which is all for the betterment of their condition and the proposition generally, and if they would only stop long enough to analyze the situation, they could see that it would be to their benefit to encourage rather than discourage the movement.

The management has been told that some of the merchants in Sanford talk discouragingly regarding the work of the Association. We can scarcely believe this is possible, but it might be true. We do not know any ground for criticism of

SANFORD FIELD DAY

Two Whole Days Devoted To Sports and Horse Show.

COMMITTEE HARD AT WORK

Sanford Expects To Have a Record Breaking Crowd For Two Days.

Sanford expects to give the people of the state of Florida and the tourists one of the best celebrations of the winter season.

There will be two days of fetes and exhibitions, February 13th and 14th, and aside from the field sports there will be a flower parade, an automobile parade and the grand horse show.

The latter is one of the very newest wrinkles in this part of the country and will be under the direction of a competent official. Some of the finest stock in the state will take part in this horse show and the beautiful steeds and fine equipments and beautiful ladies will make a fine array. The program committee is busy arranging the attractions and a full account of the Field Day and Horse Show will be given later.

Remember the date, February 13th and 14th.

New Poultry Farm

The Lakemont Poultry Farm of C. Fred Ward, the well known chicken raiser and writer on poultry subjects at Winter Park, has combined with the Southern Poultry Yards and the Oak Ola Poultry Farm, and application has been made for letters patent under the name of the Lakemont Poultry Farm (Incorporated). The incorporators are C. Fred Ward, H. E. Cole, C. H. Ward and L. C. Smith. All of these gentlemen had years of experience in the poultry raising business before coming into this state, and have been engaged in breeding chickens in Florida for some years, always with success. The company is incorporated for $20,000. Its president is C. Fred Ward, and its secretary-treasurer, H. E. Cole.

Every movement to establish a poultry farm on a sufficiently large scale to promise a large output is to be hailed with pleasure as foreshadowing the day when Florida, instead of depending on Tennessee and other states for her supply of poultry and eggs, will be able to furnish them for export. These incorporators are convinced that there is a great future for Florida in the poultry line and plan to put in the largest and most up-to-date plant south of Atlanta, they announce.

Imperial's Fine Attraction

Manager DeCottes deserves great credit for bringing high class attractions to Sanford and it is to be hoped they will receive the patronage good plays deserve. Tomorrow night one of the finest productions of the season will be staged at the Imperial and the people that really enjoy a good play should see "The Thief." Press notices from every city in Florida write in praising the play of "The Thief." On January 24th the popular favorites in Sanford, The Lyman Twins will present their new production "The Spectators," a big musical comedy, one of the best of this fine company of artists. The Imperial will be the center of attraction every week as Manager DeCottes has some fine plays contemplated.

Death of J. C. Ensminger

Mr. J. C. Ensminger, one of the old citizens and business men of the city, passed quietly away at two o'clock this morning. He has been a sufferer for many years. The funeral takes place at the Congregational church on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock.

part of any of the merchants, or for that matter any man, woman or child in the entire section.

If the Association succeeds it means the general success of the entire proposition. If we do not succeed, it simply means there is no good in the business. If the Association is not able to live, managed as economically as it is, backed by the magnificent selling organization handling their products, then no other organization can, whether it be on a commission basis or any other system.

We thank you for giving us this space to make the correction, which we feel is due the Association.

Yours very truly,
FLORIDA VEGETABLE GROWERS' ASS'N.

THE CALIFORNIA FREEZE.

Estimated at 10,000 to 20,000 Cars Total Loss of Fruit.

The Los Angeles Times, not prone to speak of any disaster in Southern California, has this story of the estimate of the damage done to the citrus crop by the freeze during the holiday week:

"The best informed experts, who have visited the district, differ widely in their views as to the amount of damage done. Members of the citrus union have come to the conclusion from their own observations and from partial reports from forces in the field, that when the final account is made at the end of the crop season, the damage to the whole crop may not amount to more than 20 per cent. Basing this calculation on the output of the last crop year, this would mean a loss of eight to ten thousand car loads, including both oranges and lemons and would leave a crop for the season of something like 35,000 carloads, or the equal of the season before last. It is generally conceded that the lemons being in more sheltered places where the frost did not touch, suffered comparatively little.

"Independent investigators outside of the citrus union, in some cases at least take a different view. Their views are pessimistic compared with the judgment of the others. Some of these who have gone carefully over all districts are of the positive opinion that at least half the orange crop will be lost. Persons with this view express the earnest hope that they are wrong, and to this aspiration all Californians will say "Amen." If they are right then the crop of the season cannot reach much above 20,000 carloads.

Moving Pictures at the Fair

A great triumph for the management of the Orange County Fair will be the presence here of a motion picture artist from the Pathe Co. of New York to reproduce the automobile parade.

It is the assurance from the Pathe people that a representative will be here. This will be of inestimable benefit to Orlando as an advertising feature. It will mean that millions of people over the entire country will view this scene.

The reputation of Pathe as the greatest photographic institution in the world will insure a splendid view and this may be announced to be one of the most pleasing features, looking to future good, that has yet been announced by the fair management.

There will be seen a greater quantity and variety of agricultural and horticultural exhibits than ever offered to view before in this section. There will be agricultural implements on view that have never been seen before in Florida.

On the spectacular side of the exhibition, in addition to the daily aeroplane flight and the balloon ascension, there will be one of the most spectacular high divers, in the person of a woman, ever seen at any performance. She will dive from a height of 120 feet into a shallow tank of water.—Reporter Star.

"Polly of the Circus"

Mrs. William Calvin Chilton, the fourth number of the High School Lyceum course will give "Polly of the Circus," the greatest success of the season, which has been arranged by Mrs. Chilton into a monodramatic recital from the play by Margaret Mayo. Mrs. Chilton is enthusiastically endorsed by the press all over the country. Excerpts from only two of the flattering eulogisms accorded this brilliant woman will be more than convincing. "Memphis (Tenn.) Appeal: Mrs. Chilton is one of the best known entertainers in the south and naturally a very brilliant woman." "Mississippi has produced a talented woman in the person of Mrs. Chilton, of whom the state is justly proud. On the occasion of the first Shakesperian Symposium, Stratford-on-Avon, England, she rendered a selection from 'King John' which was much praised. She is a woman of prepossessing appearance, is highly cultivated and deservedly popular."—Woman's Magazine, New York. This delightful entertainment will be given in the High School auditorium Monday evening, Jan. 22 at 8:30. Reserved seats, 50c. Reserved seats for pupils, 25c. Seats reserved at Thrasher's store Monday, from 3:30 to 6 p. m. Remember date, Monday evening, Jan. 22nd.

The breach between the forces of Speaker Champ Clark and former Governor Jos. W. The Folk adherents fought for a date in March.

Government attorneys prosecuting Chicago meat packers on charges of violating the Sherman anti-trust law brought out today the first direct evidence by which they expect to show that the packers concealed profits and set up a false cost price upon which to base the price at which retailers got their supplies. The government's accusation is that the packers, in making up this arbitrary "test cost" price, overstated the actual cost and subtracted from it only substantially half the actual profit from by-products thereby compelling the retailer and consumer to pay prices based on a cost much greater than the actual cost.
