Photoron 62 At Nalal Auxiliary Air Station Has Established Its Own Private Blood Bank

By L. J. R. FORD
(Public Information Officer for Photoron 62)

Photoron 62, Station 62, is one of the few if not the only squadron in the Navy that has its own private blood bank for its personnel and relatives. The men of the squadron and their families have what they call a "swapping blood bank," that is, every man of the squadron and ready to donate his blood whenever he is called upon to do so.

The squadron, of course, also has its potential "swapping bank" and the men manufacture a more ready source of available blood which can be used when an emergency requires it.

The men of Photoron 62 were a five in the program of voluntary blood donations when the squadron was based the NAAS Jacksonville, and when VI-62 was moved to the NAAS Sanford, it continued to be a good example of an active and "swapping blood bank."

In Feb., 1952, through the efforts of Chief Photographer Mate C. U. Ashley, the squadron's leader and Chief Aviation Photographer, and Chief Aviation Photographer, M. S. Slack, who has since been promoted to a higher grade, a group of participating men in the Central Florida Blood Bank, Inc., of Orlando. With the five associates and contributors of the Central Florida Blood Bank, which is a member of the American Association of Blood Banks, the men of the squadron established an account for a pool of blood given, which they prefer to call Photoron 62 Dependent Blood Bank.

To simplify its operation, it is decided to call the men voluntarily donate blood to the Central Florida Blood Bank at any time, and this agency gives the squadron credit for each pint of blood given. Then at any time a request for blood is received, the man requesting it for his dependent or relative, has only to see the squadron's leading chief, who issues him a withdrawal slip to obtain the amount of blood that is desired by the member of his family. The men of Photographic Squadron 62 have been participating in this program since February of this year and the success of the plan has been due to the men who have been always ready and willing to step forward and donate their blood.

Records seem to indicate that approximately 50 per cent of the amount of blood that has been withdrawn from the bank and donated has been to neighbors and relatives in the community to which the squadron is now stationed. It is with pride the men say that no one who has asked for assistance has failed to find many volunteers and the need they needed.

Even though a considerable amount given has not been for their dependents, the men find a sense of pride in knowing the bank has it on deposit for them if it is ever needed. They also have the satisfaction of being able to give their blood to their life-saving service in other ways.

No complete accurate record is kept as to whom the blood is given, but it is known that, so far in 1954, more than 100 pints of blood have been banked and approximately 80 pints have been donated to worthy causes. Many cases have required only one pint, but there are two cases on record this year that required a total of 10 pints and another of 15. The men's aim is to keep enough voluntary donations in the Central Florida Blood Bank to meet these emergency, whenever the amount on credit to the balance begins to reach a low level a group of men will be formed going to the blood bank to bring the amount on hand up to a more comfortable and, sometimes, impressive figure.

A record is kept of all men who do give their blood and the types of their blood. There have been several emergency requests for specific types of blood and this re-

Tractors Deadly As Well As Useful

Tractors, while useful in many ways, can be deadly if not used properly. A recent accident in a rural area highlighted the dangers of these machines. A tractor was operating in a field when it suddenly lost control, causing a serious injury to the operator. The incident serves as a reminder that safety is paramount when operating heavy machinery. Proper training and adherence to safety protocols are essential to prevent such accidents.

Major Wilson, unit executive officer, was presented the award for meritorious service in the USAF while serving in his present capacity. His citation reads in part, "He exhibited a superior degree of leadership, sound judgment, organizational ability and knowledge. As executive officer, Major Wilson was directly responsible for increased effectiveness in the utilization of personnel and materials. His inherent diplomatic, tact and knowledge contributed to an immeasurable degree in the successful operation of depot activities." The major received his early education in Sanford schools and received his bachelor of arts degree at Florida Southern College, Lakeland, in 1911. Immediately following his graduation, he enlisted in the Army and served for the duration of World War II. He remained in the officers reserve corps following the end of the war and was called back into service at the outbreak of the Korean conflict. He has served three years in Japan. Recently the major, his wife, Stella, and daughter, Marjorie, returned to the United States. They spent a 30-day leave with his mother, Mrs. T. E. Wilson, 1306 W. Third St., and Mrs. Wilson's mother, Mrs. A. D. Douler, Arcadia. They left Saturday for Mitchell Field, N. Y., where he will be stationed. Major Wilson once was a carrier for The Sanford Herald. (U. Gas Pedal Sticks; Old Car Runs Amok
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mrs. Chloé Penn is 12 years old. She drives a four-cylinder coupe, vintage 1932. And normally she drives it with the skill and decorum befitting her age.

But yesterday, just at the rush hour, things got out of hand. She started slowly out of a service station into a busy suburban intersection when suddenly the jumpy came alive.

With a jolt and a bump the car dashed rear-end first into the dual highway described a 340-foot arc and finally came to rest against the smashed windows of a rival service station across the street.

Score: A grazed sign standard, a side-swiped parked auto, a score of badly frightened shoppers, and for Mrs. Penn a fractured nose and minor chest injuries.

Comment from the lady: "Gas pedal must have stuck."

Candy Sale Set By R. W. A. Circle For This Saturday

The R.W.A. Circle met at the home of Mrs. Leta Taylor Tuesday evening. The meeting was sponsored with prayer by Mrs. V. H. Grantham, and Mrs. Allison N. Black gave the devotional using "Solomon's Choice of Blessings."

Mrs. Chandler Vail gave a short talk summarizing the Sunday School lessons of this last quarter using the theme of Love. Mrs. Thorpe, chairman, presided over the business meeting and it was decided to hold a candy sale Saturday with the specific purpose of purchasing a lace table cloth for the church dining room.

Refreshments were served to the hostess, Mrs. Thorpe. Those present were Mrs. O. D. Laney, Mrs. W. S. Wener, Mrs. Phillip Wertz, Mrs. Carl Pearson, Mrs. Nolaak Mrs. Grantham, Mrs. King, Mrs. J. W. Knott, Mrs. E. L. Horton, Mrs. J. T. Evans and Miss Susan Williams.

Finance and its ramifications, Miss Robertson has found, help to give students self-confidence. These know where to seek assistance and in the end help themselves. Various groups and individuals have been encouraging the instruction of practical money matters in the schools. One of the most active is the Committee on Family Financial Security Education whose members are educators and businessmen. In the past five years the committee has sponsored summer workshops at a number of universities, so that teachers may learn more of the facts of family finances, including budgeting, consumer credit, banking, life insurance and other insurance, social security, taxes and so on. The Committee's activities are supported by the Institute of Life Insurance.

This summer alone 300 teachers attended workshops at eight universities, making for a total of nearly 1000 workshop graduates. And all indications are that their students are or will be better prepared to solve the family financial problems that inevitably arise.

SHS Meets Apopka Tomorrow

Sports Selections

Neither Fred Ganas, line coach, nor Bill Fleming, backfield mentor, expressed much happiness yesterday concerning the condition of the Seminoles for tomorrow night's season-opener with Apopka.

"We've been draggin' and haven't had the fire needed," Coach Ganas remarked, while Fleming said, "We haven't looked too sharp this week." Both said it isn't unusual for the Seminole gridder to look poor before their first encounter of the season.

"Usually we never do look too sharp before the ball game," Fleming explained. "We hope it's just pre-game jitter."

"We're slow starters anyway and always have been. I don't know why. We look that way particularly this year because we've had so many inexperienced boys."

In line with these remarks, Coach Ganas said, "We're notoriously slow starters anyway. We usually reach our peak about the latter part of October."

However, both were not too optimistic about the locals' chances against Apopka.

Ganas remarked he thought the chances to win are good "if the kids just wake up now and get going," while Fleming said, "It ought to be a pretty good ball game. There ought to be two pretty evenly matched teams."

Seminole High has nine lettermen back this year, while on the other hand, according to Ganas, the Apopka Blue Darters have 13 returning lettermen, enough to fill all the positions and then some.

The Darters have big guards and tackles and a big back, Apopka's Coach Glen Barrington said him, a coach said, that his gridder are beginning to look good. Barrington is a line graduate, is in his third year at Apopka.

Fleming, in commenting about the Darters, said the opponents are strong and that a large number of their regulars are back as they didn't lose but a few during graduation.

However, Apopka did lose its main spark plug, he pointed out—Bobby Pittmann, who was quarterback, but he is being replaced by his brother.

"They will be as big as we are in the line," Fleming said, "which is unusual as our line is particularly heavy." According to their coach, Ganas pointed out the local squad has had a particularly bad time at the first of this season because of several unforeseeable circumstances. Robert Harvey, who would have been regular guard, was knocked out of the line-up unfortunately with polio.

Larry Bates, tackle, broke his hand in a scrimmage about a week ago, but will play with the hand in a cast, wrapped deep in sponge rubber.

Dallas Turner, back, has run into trouble about his age and has been declared ineligible. His birth certificate places his age at 19, too old to play high school football, while Turner had said his age is 18. Fleming said the matter seems to be a technicality and that he hoped it could be cleared up.

"Just those things seem to have done something to our life and spirit," Ganas said. "Maybe something will happen."

Some of the gridder are hitting "awful hard" and are "counting alone," Ganas remarked. He said he didn't want to point out any outstanding players right now.

Also, the line has been opening up holes. "I don't know what we are going to do against a good defensive line," Ganas continued, saying that time would tell the story.

Both coaches agreed that one of the principal weaknesses of the Seminoles is lack of reserve strength. The backs will see a lot of double duty, according to Ganas, who remarked, "It's rugged."

Fleming said the team's running game is his best and pointed out John Jones, tailback and punter, and Jim Hawkins, quarterback and punter, as looking well.

In commenting on possible rain, Fleming said, "We won't be in bad shape if it does rain because they'll have a good passing attack."

"That's one thing we're going to have to stop in their passing attack," Sanford is rather weak in this department as there is a lack of capable pass receivers.

With many inexperienced gridder on the squad this year, the coaches have been putting in a lot of time on fundamentals and teamwork.

As a result, according to Fleming, "We haven't had time to work on individuals. Individual assignments and techniques are going to be sort of rough."

"We've been working on a team basis to fit these guys and get them ready."

"After the first game, we can start on that (individual drilling) pretty well, picking up some of the tough spots."

"Timing will be off. It's hard to get your timing down before that first ball game because we haven't had time to work," he said in his concluding remarks.

In his concluding remarks, Ganas said the team is "not where we ought to be," that it is "not near ready."

However, it was 8:30, the team has to get started in competition sometime. Tomorrow night will be it.

Durocher Faces Pitcher Shortage

NEW YORK (AP)—Manager Leo Durocher of the New York Giants, faced with an acute pitching shortage for the final stretch, drove dug down into his bullpen today for a fourth starting pitcher.

Dissatisfied with the recent hurling of right-hander Jim Hearn and Southpaw Don Liddle and John (Windy) McCall, Durocher named Marv Grissom, the veteran relief star, to pitch the second game of today's important doubleheader against the Milwaukee Braves.

While pitching the Giants' lead was cut to three games by Brooklyn's 10-4 victory over Cincinnati.

Grissom, 26, has appeared in 52 games this year, 50 of them in relief. He has not started a game since May 1 when the Chicago Cubs knocked him out of the box.

"Griss is my man," said Durocher. "He hasn't pitched for a full week and he should be well rested. I'll let him go as far as he can. If he can't handle the sixth or seventh, that's all I want. I'll have (Hoyt) Wilhelm finish up."

Ruben Gomez, who was to have pitched yesterday, washed out before he could start.

Grissom prefers bullpen duty to starting assignments. Besides posting a 10-7 won and lost record, the square-jawed Californian has saved some 15 games with superb fireman roles.

Pictured on today's sports page are members of the varsity squad who will dress for tomorrow night's season-opener with the Apopka Blue Darters at Apopka. Others who will dress are Howard Alford, tackle; John Clark, end, and Meredith Scott, tackle.

Big Game Hunting Available Aplenty To U. S. Sportsmen

By DION HENDERSON

Big game hunting may mean Africa to some but the American sportsman can find enough to keep him busy this year within a few days' drive of his front yard, wherever he lives.

And whether he measures success by pounds of meat or by hunting thrills, there is opportunity to shoot more than he can carry of some himself whiteheaded, as he chooses.

For instance, Alberta already has opened seasons that will offer grizzly bears, caribou, elk, mountain sheep and goats before it closes Dec. 31. And although moose are getting a little harder to find, non-resident aliens can try for them in Ontario, Quebec and Britain Columbia.

And if Canada is too far for nimrod, there is bear and boar hunting along with deer in North Carolina and Tennessee; bear and deer in a dozen states; and even buffalo in Arizona and Montana.

A quick review of offerings in two dozen of the top big game states and provinces shows that anything the folks were serving around the campfire when the Pilgrims arrived still can be brought to the table.

Some big game probably is in better shape now than it was then, because of extensive management by modern conservation agencies. Deer, for instance, can be hunted liberally around the country from New England to California, from Florida to Oregon, and many states in between.

Last year, Iowa had its first deer season of modern times, and even Illinois is beginning to think of one as a protected herd, multiply in agricultural areas. One of the few big game animals that are still hunted in the United States.

The biggest game, like moose and buffalo, are no longer present in numbers that greeted the pioneers, of course. Saskatchewan has preserved its moose for residents, and other provincial licenses for U. S. hunters come high up to $101 for alien roose permits in Quebec, for instance. But buffalo are on the way back as a limited huntable species in the West, and even if controls are rigid as Montana's three-day permits must be maintained, it keeps the frontier flavor in the game.

One of the notable trends in giving more hunters more sport with the same, or even fewer, numbers of game seems to be growing use of the bow and arrow. Modern bow hunting, in the popular sense, is barely 20 years old, but more than a dozen states have offered continually more liberal seasons to the archers, and this year North Carolina, Florida, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and Colorado have added something to the list.

Shooting started last week in the North and will run on through Arizona's Javelina huntings in late February. But the peak activity comes in October and November. License fees range from about $25 to Quebec's moose tag. Correspondence should precede any safari to hunt antelope, elk, goats and such in the Western states, though, since most of their permits are distributed by lot.

THE 300TH ANNIVERSARY of Jewish settlement in America is officially observed with a solemn reconstruction service in New York at Congregation Shearith Israel, oldest Jewish congregation in the U. S. It was founded by the first 22 Jewish settlers who landed in New Amsterdam in September, 1654. The anniversary was celebrated with similar services in 250 other cities throughout the nation. TALLAHASSEE.—Mass inoculation of some 15,000 Leon County children to lessen their chance of coming down with polio will begin tomorrow.

Three-fourths of the state board of health's total supply of gamma globulin is being sent here in response to a plea from Acting Gov. Johns, who expressed concern over an increasing number of polio cases here.

Dr. Joe Bostwick, county health officer, said allocation of the GG to the county did not reflect a critical polio situation.

"We have by definition an epidemic but we are no worse off than we were two weeks ago with our 20 cases this year comparatively mild and half of them adults," he said.

The governor's office received word from Dr. Wilson T. Sander, state health officer, that sufficient GG serum was being sent here to inoculate 2,000 children.

Sander asked the U. S. Office of Defense Mobilization for an additional supply sufficient for all children under 15. He also said doctors, nurses and other help is being sent here.

WASHINGTON.—The Public Health Service today listed 2,121 new cases of polio over the nation for last week, an increase of 18 over the preceding week.

However, an official told a reporter the slight increase did not alter the belief that the peak for this year has been reached.

The weekly summary noted that last week's total was "below the 2,200 cases reported for each of the last two weeks in August."

Through last Saturday 21,312 cases of infantile paralysis had been reported, compared with 22,426 in the similar 1953 period and 31,261 in the 1952 span.

Increase in new cases were listed last week in Illinois, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Nebraska, said an official who added that California and Texas showed considerable declines.

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union announced today it has exploded "one of a type of atomic weapons" with "valuable results." The brief announcement by the official news agency Tass said the test "will enable Soviet scientists and engineers to solve successfully problems of defense from atomic attack."

Tass gave no details on where the explosion took place or what type of weapons was involved. The announcement said: "In accordance with the plan for scientific research work, trials of one of a type of atomic weapons were carried out in the Soviet Union during recent days."

"The aim of the trial was the study of an atomic explosion."

"The trials produced valuable results, which will enable Soviet scientists and engineers to solve successfully problems of defense from atomic attack."

In Tokyo, the Kyodo News Service reported that the meteorological laboratory of Kyoto University had recorded unusual instrument readings Aug. 26 similar to those observed when the United States made atomic tests at the Bikini Atoll.

Kyodo said a student at the laboratory manometer or pressure gauge, gave the readings on that date at 4 p. m. Japan time and again at 1 p. m.

There was no immediate reaction to the Russian announcement from American officials.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, with President Eisenhower at his Faser, Colo., vacation spot, said the President had been notified. Hagerty added that any comment would have to come from the Atomic Energy Commission.

Lewis L. Strauss, the commission's chairman, said in New York City he had no statement to make. The State Department likewise refused comment.

Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-N.Y.), chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said at Hammondport, N.Y.:

"I feel that at the present I should confine my remarks to raising the question 'Do we need any further evidence of the real intent of the Soviets toward world peace?'"

Today's communique from Moscow was the first official word in a year on atomic tests inside Russia.

In August, 1953, the Russians claimed that in series of tests they had touched off a hydrogen bomb explosion of great strength. The AEC confirmed that the blasts involved both fusion atomic and thermonuclear reactions—the latter a term used by scientists to describe a hydrogen explosion.

Strauss, commenting last August on the 1953 Soviet experiment, said the Russians "tested a weapon or device of a yield well beyond the range of regular fission weapons and which derived a part of its force from the fusion of light elements."

School Board Talks Water, Sewer Plans

Meeting today in County school superintendent R. T. Milwee's office, the County school board accepted a bid for 16 oil heaters for three schools, appointed one new teacher, transferred one to another school and then visited the City manager to discuss water and sewer plans for the new school at 27th St. and French Ave.

A low bid of $2,349 was accepted from the Roy Wall plumbing concern for the purchase and installation of 16 oil space heaters in the Lake Mary, Westside, and Monroe schools. Two other bids were offered—one from H. R. Pope & Co. for $2,597, and one from Lee Bros. for $2,926.

The board then approved the appointment of Miss Ann Stibbell of Orlando to teach in the Lyman school. With the statement that the Lyman school has two teachers while Crosson Academy needed one, Superintendent Milwee gained the board's approval for the transfer of Miss Evelyn Clark to the academy. He said both principals approved the switch.

Then the board moved on a message to the office of City Manager Warren Knowles to discuss the acquisition of water and sewer facilities for the elementary school which is under construction.

After much preliminary discussion, it was decided by school board vote to allow Knowles, a graduate engineer, to either conduct or have conducted a survey to learn what would be necessary to construct the systems. Meanwhile Milwee will contact the government-conducted surplus sale to schools at Camp Hanford, Ga., and attempt to purchase sufficient two-inch galvanized pipe to lay a temporary water line to the existing surface well to construct the building's roof.

Knowles estimated a survey, including laying of preliminary plans and specifications would take from four to six weeks, after which there would be a 60-day delay in obtaining the materials. The temporary piping line was deemed necessary when it was learned that additional water would be needed for construction within 30 days.

Knowles gave the board a rough estimate of $4,000 for the purchase and installation of a water line, but due to complexities in bidding covering sewer work, was unable to make any estimate on the sewer line without a sure survey.

He estimated 1,600,000 feet of sewer pipe would be needed. The school will be located outside the corporate limits of the city.

City Commr. John Krieger, who was present, advised a joint meeting of the City commission and the school board to come to an agreement on the costs, when the plans and specifications had been made. This suggestion was accepted.

School board members are Chairman John L. Brunley, Sanford; W. A. Patrick, Sanford; F. Harrison, Geneva; L. E. Jordan, Ovid, and J. A. Billline, Longwood.

The new secretary was named to the post immediately upon confirmation by the Seminole County health office in Jacksonville, Karnes said.

"We are proud to have a person of Mrs. Graham's caliber, who has been serving temporarily as secretary. Mr. Karnes said today that her work is to be commended."

Mrs. Graham is a native of the city located in the Brumley-Palston building, immediately.

Savings Bond Sales Set 8-Year Record

Savings Bond sales in Florida continued at a high level in August, Chairman Patrick reported today.

"2 and 1/2 Series sales were $5,657,225, an increase of 14 1/2 per cent over last August's figures," he said. "Seminole County accounted for $5,925 of the total and brings the year-to-date standing up to $121,910, which is 20 1/2 per cent below Seminole's purchases for the same period in 1953."

The first eight months have produced in sales at a whole $15,184,962 in sales of these two bonds. This is an increase of 15 1/2 per cent over last year and a gain of 7 1/2 per cent over the corresponding months of 1952. It exceeds by more than $10 million the volume of these bonds, which may be bought only by individuals, purchased in any corresponding period since 1946 excepting only last year's $39,827,737.

Florida now stands at 83 1/2 per cent of its assigned quota of $11,600,000, still about 4 1/2 per cent behind anticipation as normally 70 per cent of the state's total sales are accounted for by September.

"Mr. Patrick said, know the seriousness with which the Treasury Department regards its objective of $1 billion more in 50" as a part of its sound money program and I sincerely hope that purchases in Florida will pick up enough more so we may be one of the states to achieve its full objective," Patrick concluded.

Specialist Says Alcoholics Suffer Chemical Condition

LONDON (AP)—A leading British specialist on alcoholism says the man who boozes is suffering from a "chemical" condition of his blood that can be treated chemically and only chemically.

Writing in the current issue of Medical World, a journal for general practitioners, Dr. J. V. Dent described alcoholism as a blood disease "rather similar to diabetes."

He said a chemical substance called spomorphine is safe and highly effective if properly administered.

Dent is editor of the Journal of Addiction.

Family doctors, the expert advised, should explain to the alcoholic that his addiction "is not a moral lapse nor due to lack of will power."

"In many ways, it is similar to diabetes. But no one tells the diabetic to 'pull his socks up' and stop passing sugar in his urine, or

SEOUL (AP)—A Pacific typhoon which hit Korea Tuesday left 32 persons dead and 207 missing, South Korean officials said today.

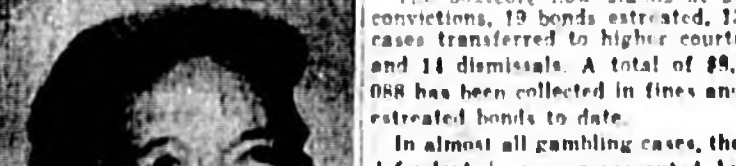

Most casualties and damage were along the mountainous east coast where torrential rains flooded large areas.

Farmers May Apply For Crop Loans

Farmers may now make application for emergency crop loans, according to Curt Green, supervisor in charge of the local Farmers' Home Administration.

Dr. Ludd Spivey States Beliefs Upon Entering 30th Year At FSC

LAKELAND (Special)—Dr. Ludd M. Spivey begins his 30th year as president of Florida Southern College with the beginning of the 1954-1955 instructional year on Monday, and after more than a third of a century in higher education he believes:

"(1) It is unfortunate that too many men think only of using the tools of education merely to make money. He's afraid to make men."

"(2) Modern man is afraid of himself. He's afraid that he will bring in so many tools through science that he will blow himself into eternity."

Despite these negative factors, the dean of Florida college presidents and one of the oldest in the world credits the American system of education with making this nation "great and powerful."

"The education of yesterday," he stated, "was concerned with self-polishing—turning out gentlemen who unconsciously exploited the uneducated masses."

"The education of today doesn't neglect the polish, but within limitations is chiefly interested in preparing men to exploit the world's physical resources so that all may live richly and abundantly."

Dr. Spivey, who came to Florida Southern in 1925 after serving as Dean of Birmingham-Southern College at Birmingham, Ala., said that he believes that with all the strides made by American education in the past several decades, it still needs to give men the idealistic goals needed for a better world in the future.

"We must remember that Russia now is providing not only the means for educating her people," he said, "but also providing the way. We must remember—we are we don't like it—that Russia is beginning to have many of the same sharp educational tools which we already possess."

"The way or purpose which Russia is emphasizing—turning out gentlemen who unconsciously exploited the uneducated masses."
