HEALTH

By H. K. Ring, D. C.

All of us are the rightful heirs of health. It is something natural and not something given to a special few. Health is the normal manifestation of life in the body expressed through the nervous system. You may be deprived of this natural heritage when nature's avenues of expression are in some manner blocked.

Atomic Weapons Plan Boosts Army Prestige Selective Service Law May Expire June 24

WASHINGTON—Army prestige has soared at the Pentagon since Gen. J. Lawton Collins, chief of staff, announced that the ground forces expect to get atomic artillery and guided missiles.

Previously, the Army feared it was being subordinated in the defense picture because of announcements that Atlantic Treaty commitments would compel the United States to place more emphasis on the Air Force and the Navy.

On the military side, there is a serious question whether a nation presumably fighting for its life could afford to use atomic bombs in the field when the same bombs would be so much more destructive if dropped on industrial centers.

When the draft bill is on the "must" list okayed by Majority Leader Scott Lucas, several other measures are ahead of it, and it would not be surprising if the Senate adjourned without acting on Selective Service.

It is any case, it is doubtful that the Senate can act on the extension bill by June 24, when the present law expires. So even if a bill were passed later, the draft technically would be dead for the intervening time.

RED JAPAN?—United States military leaders fear that if American occupation forces are withdrawn from Japan, Nipponese nationalists will play right into the hands of the Kremlin.

American military experts are convinced that without the restraining influence of United States armed forces, a Japanese Communist attempt to seize the government of Nippon would be inevitable.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

JAMES SHERIDAN, of Indianapolis, sends me the story of a bird hunter who paused at an old farmer's house and requested permission to indulge in his favorite sport on the premises.

When the disappointed hunter started to re-enter his car, however, the old fellow retorted, "I'm sorry, feller, he said, "I don't hear for you goin' huntin', but I ain't goin' to have a passel of dogs runnin' over my place, shootin' my stock. You want to go huntin' so I'll tell you what I'll do. You kin have my hired man Zeb. He kin point as good as any bird dog an' beat most of them all holler when it comes to retrievin'." The hunter agreed and off they went through the brush with Zeb on all fours.

It didn't take Zeb long to convince the hunter that he was better than any bird dog that he had ever used, for in no time at all they had bagged the limit. Handing Zeb five dollars he promised he would be back in two weeks and would use him again. On his next visit he inquired for old Zeb, but the farmer shook his head.

"Zeb ain't with us any more. He got to chewin' up birds on his retrieve an' we had to shoot him."

KOREAN CRISIS GROWS HOTTER

Invading North Koreans Demand Surrender From Leaders Of Republic

SEOUL, Korea, Tuesday, June 27—(AP)—"Too little and too late" American military aid for South Korea was blamed by President Syngman Rhee today as Communist invaders from the north slashed to the outskirts of this capital.

SEOUL, Korea, June 26—(AP)—Invading North Korean Communists stabbed a tank column to the outskirts of this southern Republic's capital early today and broadcast a demand for southern surrender. The surrender demand was made over the Pongyong radio by General Chai Ung Jun, commander of the Northern Forces that suddenly invaded South Korea Sunday morning.

Prospects of total defeat through had morale rather than by being beaten in the west in evidence at this zero hour today.

The Northern mobile column did not thrust perilously upon Seoul but by piercing two full Southern divisions that were engaged in a counter-attack.

It reached Seoul's outskirts with little or no resistance for the last dozen miles.

Exact whereabouts of the Northern column was not mentioned in this dispatch, filed at 2:30 A. M., Korean time.

Last official report had the Northern tanks nine miles north of Seoul at 10 P. M. Monday and nothing about the situation there were said to be on the outskirts.

President Syngman Rhee and his cabinet remained in conference all night but there was no immediate response to the North Korean demand for surrender.

In some quarters it was known that suggestions had been made to move the capital more than 300 miles south to the port of Pusan.

The southern government's reluctance to abandon Seoul was tempered by a defensive plan made complete capitulation appear as the only alternative to moving the capital.

The public's morale remained high in the face of the surprise onslaught Sunday and throughout Monday despite adverse reports from the field and a spectacular machine-gunning of Seoul's streets by the North's Russians.

Mrs. Noah Jacobs, Chuluota Pioneer Died At Age Of 78

Mrs. Jacobs was the mother of three sons, Cleveland and Ernest, deceased and Woodrow Jacobs of Chuluota and one daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Chalker also of Chuluota. ## General Says Cooperation Is Necessary

Diplomats And Military Leaders Must Join Forces For Peace, He Claims

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—General Omar Bradley said today the present state of world affairs requires the closest possible cooperation between the nation's military men and its diplomats.

"In peace," Bradley said, "the diplomats would be the principal spokesmen for the American people in foreign affairs. In war, the soldier's advice is sought and heard as we defend our nation."

"But today, in this half peace, half war, neither the soldier nor the diplomat alone can lead the American people in a wise course of international action. Both voices must be heard if American policy is to be realistic and effective."

In a speech which he prepared for delivery at the graduation exercises of the National War College, Bradley said that since new weapons pose a deterrent to aggression "they also place in the hands of any enemy the quick trigger of foreign policy." He added:

"Some nations can commit themselves in a matter of seconds. Bradley's speech, written last week, made no mention of the Communist attack on South Korea. But it hammered at the theme that the democratic world is confronted by "an aggressive ideology which places its political faith and authority in the hands of military force."

"If our ideals of democracy could challenge Communism in words alone," he said, "we in diplomatic negotiation or even in economic and political control, I know that the abundance of our way of life and the Christian beliefs behind it, would win out."

"But the close combination of Communist with military dictatorship demands that we include strong defense measures in our program of containment."

At the same time he made clear his belief that the military must remain under civilian control at all times. Under the American form of government, he said, the military can then "best serve its purpose."

Gambling King Is Rapped With 2 Year Sentence

Erickson Also Draws $30,000 Fine From Three N. Y. Judges

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP)—Frank Erickson, kingpin of a nationwide bookmaking business, today was sentenced to two years in prison and a $30,000 fine.

The chubby, 54-year-old gambler was indicted last week for racketeering in 60 years in prison.

Erickson threw himself on the mercy of the court last Monday by pleading guilty to a 60-count gambling charge.

A three-judge panel gave Erickson a one-year prison term of one count of conspiracy and a second year on the first of 59 counts of bookmaking. The terms are to run consecutively.

The moon-faced, balding gambler might, according to court records, have been fined $12,000 a year, or a total bookmaking empire, also was given a suspended 10-year prison term of three years.

The sentence was handed down by Justice Nathan D. Perlman, Frank Oliver and John V. Flood, District Attorney Frank S. Hogan had urged the court to impose a penalty of five years imprisonment, and a $50,000 fine.

Perlman was fined the maximum amount, $500 on each of the 60 counts.

With time off for good behavior, Erickson could get out of jail after serving 20 months. His term will be served in the city penitentiary.

Each of the counts also would have permitted a maximum prison term of one year, or a total of 60.

In addressing the court, Hogan had called Erickson "the master mechanic in what has been described as the nation's biggest racket."

Defense Attorney Sol Galt, appealing for leniency, argued that the gambler was "part and parcel of the weaknesses of our society manifest all too clearly day by day."

He urged that Erickson, who in the last days after World War I had thrown away his husband's apron to enter the bookmaking business, not be made a "sacrificial offering."

Judge Terlan said Erickson (Continued on Page Two)

New Evidence To Be Posted In Oval-Navy Murder Case

CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 26 (AP)—An eight-year-old girl was found tonight in bed today, five months after the mother choked her to death while the family slept.

Pinwell said the mother had been seen at the home of the family on the night of the murder.

The mother, who was arrested last week, is charged with the murder of her daughter. The girl was found in bed today, five months after the mother choked her to death while the family slept.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

We may imagine that our lives are so commonplace that no one takes of us. We interest God...

TO A NEW PENCIL

Just as you with ever-mounting age; You sit inert and mindless. Yet you can become the glorious agency by which Rich Beauty flows in steady streams to man.

You are the treasured tool a poet loves; An artist reaches for you eagerly; You strive in every field of industry. There is no limit to your usefulness.

—Eleanor G. R. Young And who was it who said "you can do business with good old Joe."

We have just learned that the most popular graduation day speech made in the United States was: "School is out."

Just in case you are complaining about the recent heat in these parts, it might console you to know that the thermometer went above 90 degrees yesterday in New York.

Our hats are off to the South Koreans. They are trying to conquer the whole sprawling Russian empire. At least, that's what Moscow is probably saying.

One of our friends says he has gotten so confused about this "America Case," he doesn't know whether it is a case of beer or a case of chicken pox. And in case you don't know, it is mixed up some way with Soviet Russia.

The scope of Harry Truman's activities besides the usual of the casual onlooker, President, politician and pianist—any one of these names might tax the endurance of the ordinary man.

Harry Truman has suffered a setback at the hands of the Democrats who are in the majority in the House of Representatives.

It is interesting to note that the only known survivor of the family is Charles Bailey, a son, who is in a West Union hospital with a fractured leg, cuts and bruises.

Six members of the B. J. Cooper family at Smithburg also were listed as dead in the swirling waters, and three members of another family there were killed when their home was pounded into bits against a railway trestle.

The Hatch Act

Is it a bad thing for government employees to use the influence of their positions for political ends? Apparently the view of the present Congress is that the answer depends on which side might be expected to reap the most benefit. It is quite possible that a similar view was held by the Congress which enacted the Hatch "clean politics" act in 1939.

It is not altogether clear why the section of the Hatch Act providing dismissal for any administrative or supervisory employee who uses his official authority or influence in an effort to affect an election has now become a "hardship", as was claimed by the advocates of modification. On the other hand, it is extreme to declare that the change voted by Congress destroys the original act, since the chief effect is to allow the Civil Service Commission to decide whether an offending employee should be dismissed or merely suspended without pay for thirty days or more.

Those who enter government service should not be expected to give up their individual political rights, and become silent followers of whatever path government may take. It was not the purpose of the Hatch Act to make such a requirement. The purpose was to prevent the creation of a federal political machine, after the fashion of those which have ruled many of the larger cities, and still rule some.

Help For Doctors

The country's crying need for doctors may be filled a little more rapidly as a result of the will of the late Dr. Joseph Collins, who left a million dollars to establish a foundation to aid young men and women who wish to study medicine.

Dr. Collins, remembering his struggle to maintain himself while studying medicine, suggested that the money be laid out as $1,500 a year grants to students "who are ambitious and determined and who are without sufficient means to study medicine."

The long years of study necessary to bring a young doctor to the point where he can set up a practice always present a serious financial problem. More such bequests as that of Dr. Collins would be of distinct service in enabling more students to stay out the course. The alleviation of the shortage of doctors, however, also requires enlargement of medical school facilities. About a third of the professional schools, recent surveys have indicated, have more applicants than they can admit. Many of those turned away doubtless obtain admission at other schools, and here again the student with financial backing has the advantage.

Confusing The Public

Public opinion is confused because of "the readiness of the public to accept irresponsible assertions as though they were proven facts", says Charles Seymour, president of Yale University. Hitler appreciated this weakness of the modern mind, his policy was: Tell big lies; tell them often; and they will be believed.

We trust we shall never have any leaders of the morality of Hitler, but it must be recognized that occasional figures in public life may not be above falsehood, and that some who are honest enough in themselves are beguiled into repeating the untruths of others. We would like to have it otherwise, but since it is not, the proverbial grain of salt sometimes is still needed.

Flash Floods

(Continued from page two) to the ground by the wind. Meanwhile, in West Union, W. Va., at least 21 persons were dead and 33 missing in the wake of flash floods that struck a six-county area of North-Central West Virginia early Sunday morning. The surging torrents rolled out of the darkness without warning.

Authorities fear the toll may go much higher. At least 12 of the 15 members of a family gathered for a birthday party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bailey at Smithburg, five miles west of here, are missing.

Only one member of the Bailey family is known to be alive. The body of Mrs. Bailey, about 60, has been recovered, and another body, believed to be that of a five-month-old grandson, also has been found.

The Bailey home was directly in the path of the flood. Sheriff Paul B. Davis said the house was carried nearly two miles downstream.

The only known survivor of the family is Charles Bailey, a son, who is in a West Union hospital with a fractured leg, cuts and bruises.

Six members of the B. J. Cooper family at Smithburg also were listed as dead in the swirling waters, and three members of another family there were killed when their home was pounded into bits against a railway trestle.

THE CHANGING SOUTH--An Era Of Progress TERRIFIC FERMENT STIRS DIXIE

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the eleventh in a series of 12 articles written by Associated Press Writer Ben Price on the racial problem in the South following a personal tour of investigation. It is being published in newspapers all over the United States. The opinions expressed therein are those of Ben Price and do not necessarily reflect the views of The Sanford Herald.

ATLANTA—There is a determined battle by southern Negroes for equality in education and the handwriting on the wall says they will get it.

In bold script, the federal courts have written that the south henceforth must live up to its doctrine of separate but equal facilities or junk its segregation pattern.

In the past this doctrine has been interpreted in the college level, but in practice but the federal court message has been accepted in good faith by many southern communities.

Nearly every major southern city, for example, has made an effort to equalize teacher salaries and school plants.

In city after city it is possible to see sparkling new and modern school buildings for Negroes.

North Carolina in 1914 became the first southern state to equalize teacher salaries by law on all levels and over now the state is in the process of rebuilding its Negro school system.

Kentucky, long a leader in the field of Negro education, took another step just recently by which, if pressed, it could evade its segregation policy that their doors would be opened to Negroes.

Mississippi, long a laggard in Negro education, set aside in its last legislative session, an extra $3,000,000 for use in improving Negro schools.

These steps are, of course, but straw in the wind but they do indicate that the south is ceasing to be a land of closed doors that is only understood dimly by other regions.

Back in 1941 the Southern States Work Conference on school administration estimated that it would require some $255,000,000 at a minimum just to equalize the White-Negro school plants.

This estimate, which staggered the poor southern states, was in terms of the 1941 dollar. The cost today probably would be nearly $305,000,000.

Enough to bankrupt various sources estimate that to equalize all school facilities, college and otherwise, would cost the south nearly three-quarters of a billion—enough to bankrupt the region.

Fortunately for the solvency of the south the bill has not been presented for lump sum payment. Sometimes there have been quiet agreements between school officials and Negro leaders just to do the best the resources permit.

Where the White officials have shown a reluctance to improve conditions, the Negroes have gone into federal court and almost invariably have won.

The court process is a long, slow one, though, for separate actions have to be brought in each county or in each city.

Right now the problem is focused in large measure on the graduate and college level with Negroes demanding the right to study in the same professional and graduate fields that are open to White students.

Class Curbs Reversed The Negroes are, in brief, in revolt against the well established southern practice of educating them in vocational schools for menial jobs.

For the south the problem is that relatively few such facilities are available, particularly on the graduate level even for Whites.

To meet the problem the Southern Governors' Conference met in 1945 and proposed as a possible solution the creation of regional schools to provide higher education for the professional and college level.

The pact plan was put into operation in September 1948 with a budget of $1,736,000 for the next two years.

Actually, the board of control for Southern Regional Council for Education acts as a sort of clearing house and policy maker.

Funds are paid by the various states to the board which in turn parcels it out to the participating institutions.

How System Works For example, one state agrees that there are 10 students who want to attend the veterinary college of another state, "State A" therefore will pay to "State B" $1,000 per student for charging that student the same tuition rate as its home students and for maintaining facilities for his training. No money goes to the student.

The board steadily has maintained that the regional plan is a device to get around segregation laws. It has refused to take the case of Esther McCready, a Negro, who sought to enter nursing school in Maryland but was denied admission because of race.

Maryland offered to send Miss McCready to the school of nursing at Meharry Medical College, a Negro institution at Nashville, Tenn., under the pact plan. She won in Court of Appeals. Miss McCready declined and insisted that the Supreme Court decide in the Gaines case made it imperative that she either be granted admission to the White nursing school or that a separate and equal school be set up for her.

The state maintained that it was providing Miss McCready with an education through Meharry as part of the regional pact plan.

The board of control entered the suit as a friend of the court to take the same stand as Miss McCready. It maintained that it was not set up to avoid the Gaines decision, but to function only where facilities are not available for either Whites or Negroes in their home state.

The United States court of Appeals on April 17 upheld Miss McCready's contention that since nursing schools were available to Whites within the state they must be provided to Negroes.

John E. Ivey, Jr., director of the board of control, commented: "This case rips off the 'segregation' label given by some critics implying that the primary purpose of the program is to effect segregation. We have no official right to acclaim or bewail the decision on the segregation issue as it affects Maryland; we do claim the court's action as it upholds our contention that the compact was not designed for such use."

Some New Ratings (The Supreme Court ruled on June 5 that Texas must admit Herman Marion Sweatt, a Negro, to the all-White University of Texas Law School instead of forcing him to attend a new Negro law school. The high court held that the new school far lacked the same educational opportunities.

All nine Justices joined in the ruling and also were unanimous in holding that Oklahoma could not compel E. W. McLaurin, a Negro graduate student, to sit apart from Whites at the University of Oklahoma.)

The Gaines decision has figured mightily in the field of southern education.

Lloyd Gaines, a young negro, sought admission to the University of Georgia in 1938 to study law. He claimed equal facilities were not available in Negro schools.

Gaines was denied admission, but the state offered to pay his way to another institution outside the state. Gaines refused and carried his fight to the Supreme Court.

Gaines won out. On Dec. 12, 1937, the high court held that the state was bound to furnish Gaines equal educational facilities within the state. That "within the state" phrase has dogged the south ever since. Some critics of the regional plan hold that it limits opportunity and discourages the development of schools within the various states; that eventually the participating institutions would reach a saturation point and thereby some students would not be able to gain admittance for lack of facilities.

Where, for example, a state now has no veterinary school for either Whites or Negroes, it would be discouraged from building one for Whites for then Negroes could demand either admittance or a duplicate.

The states therefore, these critics argue, would duck the issue by sending students to regional schools and regional schools are of necessity limited to the number of students who can be accepted.

The View of Educators Just a few days prior to the McCready decision a meeting of White and Negro educators at Atlanta University resolved: "Non-segregated, as well as local and national planning, we endorse. But the Government's plan of segregated education will continue to condemn as long as it extends or perpetuates segregation in higher education. Regional schools as well as others should be open to students without regard to color or creed or national origin."

The meeting at the Negro school was sponsored by the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc., headed by Adolph Williams of Montgomery, Ala. Rosalind T. Preston Vallen of Clark University in Nashville and many of the interested Negroes' viewpoint when he said: "Even if all things were equal, it still wouldn't be right from the philosophical view, particularly on the higher educational levels. How can there be inter-change of ideas and understanding of various minds if there is segregation?" (Continued—The New South)

There were 90 children enrolled in the school and 20 workers, and three superintendents for the various departments.

Plans are now being formulated for the Intermediate Department Young People's Youth Week to be held the last week in August. These young people will meet each night for fellowship, recreation, study courses, and worship.

Nuptial Rites Held For Crumley-Young

Miss Dorothy Henrice Crumley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Crumley, became the bride of Evert Alfred Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elma Oscar Young of Winter Park, in a double ring ceremony at the First Methodist Church on Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The Rev. J. E. McKinley officiated.

The marriage vows were taken before an altar covered in white and flanked with white gladioluses, daisies and carnations against a background of palms and ferns. Light from burning candles in tall branched candelabras cast a soft glow over the ceremony.

Prior to the ceremony, the bride, Miss J. E. McKinley, attended a program of nuptial music, and Robert Crumley, brother of the bride, sang "Through the Years" and "Travis of Love." "The Prayer Song" was sung by Mr. Crumley as the bride and groom knelt at the altar in prayer.

The wedding party entered to the music of the bridal chorus from Wagner's Lohengrin and left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of imported Swiss organdy with Queen Anne neckline and short sleeves. Two layers of organza over skirts of taffeta and ermine lined below a basque waist. The neckline, sleeves, mitts and hemline of the wedding dress were finished with very fine embroidery. The bride's blonde beauty was enhanced by a close-fitting cap of illusion with dainty rows of white flowers and satin ribbon across the back. From which fell a finger-length veil of French illusion. She carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid.

The maid of honor, Miss Joanne Williams, chose a pale green organdy over white taffeta fashioned in a bouffant style of Lafayette length. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and roses.

Miss Ann Pearson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miller, daughter of George, the flower girl, was dressed in pale green organdy also and swung in her hand a basket of scattered rose petals. Jerry Cullen, young son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Cullen, served as ringbearer.

Acting as best man was Jim James of New Smyrna Beach. The groom's attendants were Mrs. Raymond of Daytona Beach, Eddie Eckblad, Bill Eckblad and John Hultin of Winter Park; Ted Brown and Marshall Cerker of West Palm Beach, Fla.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home and in the garden of the bride's parents on Silver Lake. Colla illness and fern decorated the living room, and the bride's table in the dining room held a charming arrangement of white roses, carnations, and callas. The bride cut the first slice from a four-tiered wedding cake beautifully embossed with white roses. Punch was served from a crystal bowl flanked by crystal candelabra holding burning candles.

Guests were greeted by those in the receiving line consisting of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Crumley, the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Elma Oscar Young and Miss Joanne Williams.

Mrs. Rudy Sloan kept the bride's book and those assisting in serving were Mrs. Howard Montelth, Mrs. F. T. Morawether, Mrs. E. G. Kilpatrick, Jr., Mrs. Milton Dearson, Miss Dolphine Connelly, Miss Betty Jo Brock, Miss Ann Lovell and Miss Ann Louise Fletcher of Leesburg.

For her going-away outfit, Mrs. Young chose a white weathervane suit with green and white accessories with which she wore a white orchid corsage.

After a two-day wedding trip to New York, Mr. and Mrs. Young will make their home in Jacksonville.

Surrender Demand

The morale among men in uniform was not so good, however, in unimpeachable source reported. Except for the critical conditions, the push down the Ujongluh Valley directly at Seoul, the southern defense appeared to be doing well. The main story, however, was the Ujongluh Valley front, and it was grim.

Southern resistance collapsed at Ujongluh, 12 miles north of Seoul. A further defense was being put up three miles south, but there were no details.

The American embassy burned its important secret papers in a huge bonfire. Air raid sirens sounded. The city was buzzing with reports of northern planes strafing downtown streets.

The living column rushed to Seoul here from the Ujongluh valley. A southern counter-offensive, however, failed miserably during the day. Heavy artillery softened up the Ujongluh defenders and the tanks pushed them out of town after savage street fighting.

Another segment of the southern army was in trouble at Kangnung, 15 miles due south of the 38th parallel on the East Coast. This division was being attacked from both the north and south by the Communist northmen. An urgent call for reinforcements was received in Seoul tonight. As American military officials said, they were uncertain whether the reinforcements would be forthcoming.

In Seoul itself morale was high. Several hundred streets in downtown Seoul were lined with American fighters. South Korean forces in large bonfire pits all around the city.

Dr. and Mrs. Whitaker of Glen Lake, Mrs. White announced at lunch one day that she would buy another lot if she would let him stay another 3 days. We told him if he would let her stay another 3 days, she would let him stay another 3 days. We told him if he would let her stay another 3 days, she would let him stay another 3 days.

Mr. and Mrs. William Boyer and their grand daughter, Calli Miller have arrived to take over their new home on Highway 17. Mrs. Boyer expects to see the Beauty Parlor started early in July. The stores are extremely attractive and we are very proud of them. Mr. and Mrs. Boyer say they are much more than anything they had expected that they are so lighted. The male population wants Mrs. Boyer to get a car for in a couple of times a week to help them keep beautiful. She has promised to see what she can do. Mr. Boyer has to return to Pennsylvania for a short time to dispose of the jewelry business he has up there but will be back soon.

Mrs. F. E. Bell of Jacksonville has been the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tucker for the past week. Mrs. Bell has been a resident of various parts of Florida for the last forty years. She was delighted with the natural beauty and cool breezes of our development.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett White have been staying at the Motel for the past few days. They are looking over their property on Delary Drive and visiting their friends.

Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, June 26 — (AP) — Take it from Amanda Blake, it's no fun being known as a "Young Greer Garson."
"I see red only twice—when I look in the mirror and when I read that I'm a second Greer Garson," the young actress remarked.

The 21-year-old redhead from Buffalo, N. Y., recently severed a contract with MGM, home lot of Miss Garson. Amanda did only two pictures in two years there. She felt that her inactivity might have been caused by the resemblance to the more famous star.

"I felt many times," she sighed, "Once I reported for a dramatic lesson the coach looked at me and said, 'Amanda, can't you part your hair either way?' It makes you look too much like someone else on the lot."

"I rushed home and parted my hair in the middle and have ever since. I even wore it tied up in a big bun in back."
"I don't want to be a reasonable facsimile of anyone. I feel that I have my own personality and I don't want to be typed as anyone else."

In fact, she added, she doesn't even feel she and Miss Garson look alike. "Her only feature in common is our red hair," she said, "and hers is much lighter than mine or at least it was."
Amanda said her own tresses are her natural shade. "When the studio said I would have to lighten my hair so it would photograph, I told them I'd quit first."

But everyone else, including me, seems to note the resemblance. And including MGM producers, she was constantly overlooked for parts, while other actresses were hired.

"They were brought in from the outside while I, who was on salary, was left out. I had a second lead in 'Stars in My Crown' and a bit in 'Duchess of Idaho.' In the latter I had an argument scene with John Lund, threw a champagne bottle at him and scolded out, dragging my neck behind me. That was all I had to do. Amanda took her outside to the studio publicity department. I pleaded with them to stop looking at me with Miss Garson. They just nodded and kept on doing it. Finally she and the studio parted. 'I was bored and I guess they were, too,' she explained.

But there is a happy ending to the story. She was signed on immediately by Columbia pictures and put into a starring role in a mystery. Furthermore, the studio publicity department is glad that what it calls the "Greer Garson look" is being worn by another actress.

"It's fun being me again," said Amanda.

Talk of the Town — The July Garland affair. The fur business being done by Father of the Bride. The little business being done by a lot of other big pictures. The Shermans, who have brightened the town with their fizzes and their foolishness. Jerry Wald's selection from Warner, latest of a long one of famous exits. The thumping down of the Seizack estate. Rhonda Fleming and Shirley Temple. The latest in leaves. The weather, which is getting better, thank you.

Little leftover potatoes and a small amount of lettuce, chicken or ham for a main dish, be the potatoes and put in a baking dish, cream the chicken and ham and pour over the potatoes. Heat in a moderate oven until hot through and top layer is bubbly.

Sanford Giants Bop Daytona Beach, 8-3

Jim Singleton Gives Invaders 6 Hits; Palatka Team To Play Here Tonight

The Sanford Giants dropped the boom on the league leading Daytona Beach Islanders yesterday 8-3 behind the six-hit pitching performance of Jim Singleton.

Manager Ed Levy put homer No. 22 in the sack while Joe Tomek was busy collecting his sixth round tripper of the campaign.

Sanford exploded for four runs in the first frame which proved to be enough to cinch the contest. The locals added another tally in the fifth and three more in the seventh to ice over the situation.

After allowing the Islanders three runs in the first two innings, Singleton succeeded in dropping the horseshoe around the invaders necks for the remainder of the game.

PACKERS WIN

PALATKA, June 2. (AP)—The Leaning Packers led three Palatka hurlers for 21 hits and a 4-3 win to take both ends of the current series.

The Packers scored almost at will with 11 men going to bat in the sixth and to score six runs on eight hits. Again in the ninth frame the Packers sent an even dozen men to bat, scoring seven runs on five hits.

GI BOB HATS

DELAND, June 2. (AP)—Galleville over whelmed the sagging DeLand Red Hats, 11 to 1 here yesterday with G-Man Mgr. Charlie Brewster pining a 16-hit assault.

Brewster socked out four for five, including two doubles. Catcher, Buck Pardee rapped out three safeties and Perrin battled in four runs on his two hits.

Mrs. Bill Perrin and First Baseman Don Allen, of DeLand were ejected following two of several arguments with the umpire.

WOLVES LOSE

ST. AUGUSTINE, June 2. (AP)—The St. Augustine Saints, under the direction of their new manager, Nick Starata, took the Orlando Senators into an extra inning this afternoon to score a tie-breaking run and emerge with a 3 to 2 win.

Perrin's hard-hit double in the ninth inning set up the tying run as Cotton Chaffin scored on Buck Davis' long fly-out to center field.

In the tenth inning, Lyle Judy, scored a perfect day on the plate, scored the winning run on Red Pettigrew's single to left.

Dean Currier, third Orlando pitcher, was the loser.

24-Hour Auto Race Won By Frenchman

MANE, France, June 2. (AP)—The American Challenge race, one of the top money races in the world, was won by the Frenchman, Jean Beaulieu, yesterday in a French battle.

Beaulieu's strategy was to conserve his tires and to conserve his car. He was in the lead for most of the race and he won by a wide margin.

Clubhouse In The Swim

NEW YORK—There should be little doubt about a number of positions for the coming All-Star game at Comiskey Park in Chicago on July 11.

While the fans again are doing the voting, two men in the National League stand head and shoulders over the field. They are Stan Musial of the Cardinals and Jackie Robinson of the Dodgers.

The fans can't possibly go wrong on Musial and Robinson. They figure to open the annual classic at first and second base, respectively, unless Musial's manager, Eddie Dyer, requests Brooklyn's All-Star manager, Durt Shotton, to play Stan the Man in the outfield where play is less hazardous.

The rest of the National League selections figure to be up in the air.

The American League has a standout infield of Walt Dropo of the Red Sox at first, Cass Michaels of the Senators on second, Phil Rizzuto of the Yankees at short and league batting champion George Kell on third. Dropo is the surprise hitter of the season in the American League.

Add to this quartet the names of Ted Williams and Dom DiMaggio of the Red Sox and Larry Doby of the Indians and you have a solid team, which is one reason the American League holds a top-sided 12-4 advantage in the classic. Then there's Birdie Tebbets of the Red Sox and Fogi Berra of the Yankees to do the catching.

Joe DiMaggio, the slumping Yankee slugger, probably will get many votes as will Vic Wertz and Hank Evers of the Tigers. The National League cannot boast of such an array.

True, the senior league will have Ralph Kiner, who hit 64 homers last year, plus a few other pros like Knute Slaughter and Calhoun Walker Cooper and Roy Campanella, but right now the solid team comes from Will Harvick's circuit.

Two young Phillies might wind up in the infield. Puddin' Head Jones looks like the best NL bat around the hot corner while Granville Hamner seems to be a steeper bet than the injured Pee Wee Reese this season.

The Dodger outfielder with the long legs following across to be Duke Anderson, Dick Blinn of the Phillies and Johnny Mopp of the Pirates will draw much support too.

Can you imagine how strong the Cardinals would be if they still had Rip and Tiger, two superstars?

The Neutral Corner

After a two month delay it appears that the New York Giants have finally leveled their sights on the elusive target: consistent-winning baseball. The Jints hammered out five straight wins last week before dropping a game to the St. Louis nine; however, they came ripping right back at the Redbirds the following day to blank them in both ends of a twin bill. Since then they have pummeled the Reds 5-3 for their third in a row. Several months ago The N.C. picked the Giants to finish the season in third place and at the rate they are going the Sanford parent club seems determined to do just that. Regardless of their present reversal of form, our reasons for choosing the New York club remain the same. 1. Their infield, with the addition to Stanky and Dark, comes close to being one of the tightest in the National loop. 2. Lockman, Thompson, and Thomson, once they find the range as apparently they have, yield too much power at the plate for the theoretical second division team. 3. Manager Leo the Lip possesses a baseball brain that ranks right up there with the diamond greats. What the club lacks in various departments, the Lip, we believe, is capable of supplying via head-work. It's a case of give him an inch and he'll take the ballpark.

Both these greyhounds have acquired enviable records here this season. Jack Riboud, owned by E. F. Snipes, has landed in the money six times in seven starts, twice with wins. Mrs. M. A. Haugh's Denied started the summer racing meet with a bang by finishing second to Real Huntsman in the Volusia County inaugural. Since then he has scored frequently in the tough competition of the celebrity pack, and his owner, Secretary Merrill "Duke" Watts has selected an octet of all-stars to go to the post in tonight's feature ninth race, namely Monon, Mom's Flash, Carrie's Bit, Gray Topper, Trim Trick, Eager Baby, Teton and Kensman. Monon may not be the fastest dog in the pack, but she will have the backing of thousands of dog racing enthusiasts for her driving finishes made her extremely popular here in both '48 and '49. Friday night she took the sixth race with four lengths to spare, forging fast in the front in the few closing yards of the contest. Mom's Flash will bear watching. He recently won an eighth race in 31.4 seconds.

Aside from the fact that pop bottle throwing and pounding by the fans is a rather dismal display of sportsmanship, it must be remembered that an empty Coke bottle can prove to be a pretty dangerous weapon when in the hands of some hot-head who insists upon hurling it down upon the unprotected players.

We view hooting, hollering, cat-calling, jeers, moans, whistles, and groans as legitimate rights of any fan who plunks down his iron man to see his favorites in action. Pounding bottles and throwing them about haphazardly transcends those rights. Not wishing to be an alarmist, we take the view that any step that succeeds in averting an accident is a step worth taking.

It would be a simple matter to champion several other courses of action that could be taken by the directors such as calling the game the minute the first pop bottle hits the field, or banishing for the season the fan or fans that insist upon hurling them on to the playing diamond.

Alken's suggestion, however, seems like the easy way, and the most practical way, to handle the issue. The law of economics might arise as to the cost of a carton of paper cups, but the price argument can easily be offset by comparing it to the cost of a fractured skull and perhaps a legal suit to boot.

The Sanford Giants dropped to second place in the Florida State League fielding averages last week. The locals trailed first rung Orlando by .001 of a percentage point. Daytona Beach held third place with a .9452 record. While committing less errors than any other team in the league, the Giants managed to complete only 44 twin killings which automatically placed them in seventh slot in that particular department.

On the offensive side of the ledger, the Sanford club drew a sixth place ranking falling to gain a first division berth by only .0064 of a point. Sanford has banged out 608 hits, smacked 41 home runs (to lead the league), driven in 247 tallies, and scored 428 runs during the season. The DeLand Hats top the loop in club batting.

This year's play has so far produced three new records in the FSL. Honors go to Manager Ed Levy and his 22 four-masters, Bruce Barnes' 51 consecutive hits, and Red Krupp's 140 RBIs marker. He has been the league's leading RBI man since he started in 1941.

Another NC third place prediction came true last week when figures released by FSL Secretary Gene Fisher showed that Marcel Poelker had annexed the third place Sanford Giant batting crown with a .373 average. The flashy second baseman out Fred Chadleron's .372. The leading Giant pitcher is, of course, Manager Ed Levy with a potent 2.30 ERA after his name. Harvick with 123 at bat draws second slot with a .301.

Among the Giant moundmen Charlie Tolusso continues to set the pace. The small right-hander sports an 11-4 record. Buddy Labe, Clyde Stevens, and Carl Tamm shape up with 2-4 6-2, and 3-5 win-loss records. Stevens, incidentally, ranks second only to Korman of Orlando in the strike out department.

The old baseball "game". Oh, yeah? Don't let anyone kid you about that phrase. Baseball is no more of a "game" than is the game of the capital city of California. Take a quick glance at last week's game. Babe Joe McCarty had his head bowed off by the St. Louis pitcher after getting a 3-0 lead. The nine innings after getting a 3-0 lead.

Sanford play the "winner" game. It's a case of give him an inch and he'll take the ballpark.

Denied And Riboud Will Race Tonight At Volusia Track

DAYTONA BEACH, June 2. (Special)—After a photo finish in Friday's feature, which Denied won by the length of his nose, popular demand brings Denied and Jack Riboud together tonight in a special two-dog match race.

The match race will be run over the 5-16ths mile route as an added attraction to the ten-race program at the Volusia County dog track. These two speedsters staged a thriller diller in Friday's ninth race, in which Jack Riboud just failed to nip his opponent at the line.

Both these greyhounds have acquired enviable records here this season. Jack Riboud, owned by E. F. Snipes, has landed in the money six times in seven starts, twice with wins.

Top Tennis Stars Begin Battles At Wimbledon Today

WIMBLEDON, June 2. (AP)—The cream of all the world's amateur tennis players step onto the gleaming green lawns of Wimbledon today in a two-week scramble for the time-honored British championships.

The fortnight's grind, coupled with the psychological pressure of play on Wimbledon's famed center court, will be a severe test for the two pre-tournament favorites for the men's singles crown. Top-seeded Frank Sedgman of Australia enters the fray with a crippled wing. He pulled some ligaments in his right wrist during tune-up competition. He faces British Davis Cup player Howard Wallin in the opening round. Billy Gilbert, 34-year-old New Yorker who is seeded No. 2, is making his first appearance in the all-England championship. If he can conserve his strength, Gilbert may be the title favorite. The non-appearance of America's Ted Schroeder, last year's winner, is a surprise. Talbert, a diabetic, lacks the fire of some of the Wimbledon all-time "greats," but his steady, accurate stroking could take him to the top. His first round-foe is unranked Norman Kitavits, an English player. Other American matches in the 64 opening day skirmishes on 15 courts are:

Budge Patty, Los Angeles, vs. Raymond Dwyer, Philippines; Art Larsen, San Francisco, vs. Vladimir Cernik, Egypt; Gardner Mulloy, Miami, vs. Josip Palada, Yugoslavia; Vic Seixas, Philadelphia, vs. Sven Davidson, Sweden; Fred Kovacs, Hamtramck, Mich., vs. R. G. Reeve, Britain; Irv Dorfman, New York, vs. Jaime Bartoli, Spain, and Tony Trabert, Cincinnati, vs. B. W. Root, South Africa.

Ladies day, combining tennis and fashion competition, is tomorrow. The titleholders are, respectively, Nancy Lough and Gertrude (Gorgeous Gussie) Moran. The girls do not play today.

W. H. Cane's Good Time, 4-year-old trotter who lost only one race in 1949, ran third first time out at Roosevelt Raceway, Westbury, N. Y., this spring. Greenlee Stable's Capot and One Hitter have been nominated for the $25,000 Monmouth Handicap to be held at the Monmouth Park, N. J., track on July 22.

A broken ankle in 1946 failed to hamper Lou Boudreau's batting in subsequent seasons. The Indian manager followed with marks between .284 and .365, hitting his high spot in 1948.

Six pitchers have hit three batters in one inning.

to back its case first order.

Roose declined to add anything whatsoever to the brief prepared statement.

He would not discuss the possibility of the use of American troops.

Roose did say that Mr. Truman would see Secretary of Defense Johnson later in the day.

The President was keeping his schedule clear of routine in order to concentrate on the Korean situation.

He talked by telephone with Secretary of State Acheson and later held one of his daily conferences with James S. Lay, executive secretary of the National Security Council and Rear Admiral Sidney Souers, a consultant to the council.

Meanwhile, the United States rushed preparations today for supplying Communist-invaaded South Korea with much needed war materials—including 10 F-51 Mustang fighter planes.

General MacArthur's headquarters announced that transfer of the planes had been approved in Washington, but added that the date had not been fixed.

The announcement said the planes would be turned over to Korean pilots in Japan. South Korea has 60 trained pilots ready to fly the sorely needed aircraft, reports from Seoul said.

Meanwhile, serious young American jet fighter pilots, ready to shoot if attacked, spread an aerial umbrella from Japan to South Korea.

Authoritative sources said continuous air cover would be maintained to protect evacuation of some 700 American women and children from Korea and assure safe passage of convoys carrying munitions and war material to the South Koreans.

General MacArthur's headquarters is rushing preparations for shipment of the munitions and material. Until the plane announcement, the U. S. had supplied South Korea only with defensive weapons—Garand rifles, machineguns and 105 millimeter howitzers.

Both the evacuation and Korean shipments will have "a naval escort and air coverage, a headquarters spokesman added.

At almost the moment of the announcement, American fighter planes flew over Seoul, the South Korean capital, on the way to cover the first evacuees. They were boarding two ships at Inchon, Korean West Coast port. At sea, American destroyers will pick up the two ships and convey them to Japan.

American pilots were under orders to protect their patrol zone, reliable informants said, and this means shooting if necessary to defend themselves or the ships under escort.

These sources said the 600-plus an hour F-50 jets—the Air Force's "Shooting Stars"—will predominate in the air cover, which will also include F-52 twin Mustangs, all weather fighters designed for night duty.

Chokes Daughter

And in Chicago, two men, shot in what police said was a neighborhood feud, died of their wounds today.

The dead were Peter Cortez, 35, and Juan Munez, 36, both laborers. A third victim of the same shooting, Sam Mitla, 27, also a laborer, is in critical condition at a Hurdwell Hospital.

Police Lieut. James McNamara of the South Chicago police district said a fourth man, Manuel B. Bravo, 35, escaped when the four were attacked by a group of eight neighborhood men yesterday.

Gambling King

had been wise in pleading guilty, to move the gambler apparently in hopes of winning a lighter punishment.

Gelt said he did not know if he would appeal the sentence.

Erickson, dressed in gray, heard the sentencing stolidly. He rolled his thumbs together as sentence was pronounced.

By his plea of guilty a week ago, Erickson saved from public exposure the names of some of his wealthy betting clientele.

A number of these heavy-letting customers, including New York businessmen who wagered up to $15,000 a day, had appeared before the closed sessions of the grand jury that accused the dapper little gambler.

Several were scheduled as witnesses at the trial, when Erickson did the quick turn-about that saved them the trouble. Up to that point—the day the trial was to start—he had stuck to plea of innocent.

Erickson, who pled his illegal, but lucrative trade for 30 years, had built up a two-fold gambling enterprise on both the "retail" and "wholesale" level.

He handled bets for the ordinary player, and he also was what is known in the business as a "bookie's bookie." That is, he took so-called lay-off bets from other bookies—a system of balancing bets against each other to insure against excessive losses.

Senate-House Passes Draft Bill For Year

Truman Given Power To Order National Guard, Reserve Units Into Action

WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—Senate-House conferees today voted a one year extension of the President's existing power to draft young men.

The agreement, which must be ratified by both chambers, also would empower President to order the National Guard and all reserves to immediate active duty.

The Senate-House group obviously agreed because of the tense Korean situation.

They junked previous restrictions voted by the Senate and House upon presidential authority to induct manpower and voted out a one year extension of existing draft powers.

Senator Byrd (D-Va.), one of the conferees, told a reporter that the previously deadlocked lawmakers had quickly agreed today that this is no time to have a dispute here over such a matter.

Previously the House had voted a two year extension of the peacetime Draft Act requiring registration of young men 18 through 26 years. It retained to the hands of Congress the authority for industrial or agricultural draftings.

The Senate voted a three-year extension also retaining "trigger control" over actual drafting when Congress was in session.

It would have allowed the President to start inductions, when Congress was away, if he found it necessary to build up the armed services to strengths allowed by congressional appropriations.

Temporary Funds Lent To Schools By State Cabinet

TALLAHASSEE, June 27—(AP)—The Cabinet lent $3,374,900 to county schools today in a letter to the Cabinet, the money will enable them to be in position to arrange for adequate financing during the coming fiscal year.

He reported that otherwise the boards would be "in an embarrassing financial situation at the beginning of the next fiscal year."

Five US House Seats To Be At Stake In Primary Contests

ATLANTA, June 27—(AP)—Five contests for U. S. House seats are at stake in Georgia's Democratic primary tomorrow, and at least three of them have turned into tight races.

The chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, Rep. John Wood of Canton, is locked in a bitter struggle with Dr. Winston L. Bardine of Blue Ridge, former state American Legion commander.

Boy Scouts Getting Prepared For Visits From Truman And Ike

VALLEY FORGE, Pa., June 27—(AP)—There is far more going on than meets the eye at the bustling site of the second National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America.

The behind-the-scenes activity has a two-fold objective. The jamboree will get under way officially on Friday when President Truman arrives to make the opening address.

Secret Service Men, state police and scout leaders are leaving no stone unturned to make certain the President's visit is without incident.

In addition, a scout official said today, extraordinary precautions are being taken to prevent the jamboree—largest youth gathering ever held in the Western hemisphere—from being disrupted or "sabotaged" by Communists or their sympathizers.

The scout leader, who asked that his name be withheld, pointed out that the Communist Party is the Communist Party would be quick to capitalize on any stir or rumor which might be used to the detriment of the jamboree.

Armed Forces Chief Charts New Courses

Johnson Claims U. S. Can Avert War By Policy Of Building Up Military Arm

WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—Secretary of Defense Johnson charted new courses today for military men called to testify before Congressional committees.

"You have a responsibility to give not only the official view of the agency you represent but your own honest convictions," Johnson said.

"But," he added, "once a decision has been made, discipline demands that you act upon the decision, energetically and wholeheartedly as if it were the result of your own personal recommendation."

The Defense Secretary who, himself, frequently goes before Congress in behalf of legislation affecting the nation's military and security programs, touched on this subject in a speech prepared for graduation exercises at the Industrial College of the Armed Forces.

Johnson said that eight members of the graduating class will go to work tomorrow in his office. The college instructs officers in the armed forces in problems relating to industrial production and supply in peacetime and war.

"I hope and pray that there will be no war that will necessitate the use of our military forces," Johnson said.

"During the past few years our philosophies and policies have changed," he told the group. He pointed out that FHA is now working with a smaller number of farm families than formerly, due to money limitations.

"We must have more successful graduates and fewer failures," he said. Production loan operations were discussed yesterday afternoon by L. M. Hollingsworth and Miss Helen Nimmo of the state office and Henry Smith of the Washington office.

TOKYO, Wednesday, June 28—(AP)—A broadcast from Seoul said U. S. bombers and fighters are attacking North Korean tanks. The broadcast from the south Korean republican capital in the name of President Syngman Rhee gave no details but was in line with Tokyo reports that the U. S. Air Force was going into immediate action.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS. The Army said today that President Truman's order for an aid and support of South Korean troops was passed last night to General Douglas MacArthur, who has supreme command of all the U. S. forces in the Far Pacific.

A spokesman said the order became effective during long telephone conference which began at 9:17 P. M. last night between Pentagon officials and MacArthur.

Asked how the air and sea support will be given, the spokesman said: "There are many phases of support and I feel sure that General MacArthur will use all types that he can to help the South Koreans."

While he was speaking, U. S. manned fighters were shooting down four North Korean planes attempting to disrupt the evacuation of Americans from South Korea.

Reports gathered by correspondents at Seoul, Atlanta, and some in Japan, testified of the air force on the ground.

Text Of President's Statement

WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—The text of President Truman's statement today on Korea:

In Korea the government forces, which were armed to prevent border raids and to preserve internal security, were attacked by invading forces from North Korea. The Security Council of the United Nations called upon the invading troops to cease hostilities and to withdraw to the 38th parallel. They have not done so, but on the contrary have pressed the attack.

The Security Council called upon all members of the United Nations to render every assistance to the United Nations in the execution of this resolution.

In these circumstances I have ordered the United States Air and Sea Forces to give the Korean government troops cover and support.

The attack upon Korea makes it plain beyond all doubt that the use of intervention to secure independence and self-determination is now a matter of life and death for the United States.

It has defied the orders of the Security Council to prevent international peace and security. In these circumstances the occupation of Formosa by Communist forces would be a direct threat to the security of the Pacific area and to United States forces performing their lawful and necessary functions in that area.

Accordingly, I have ordered the 7th Fleet to prevent any attack on Formosa. As a corollary of this action I am calling upon the Chinese government on Formosa to cease all air and sea operations against the mainland. The 7th Fleet will see to it.

Booster Tells Sanford Rotary Of Grid Squad

E. Von Says Florida Gators Need Full Support Of Fans

Coach Bob Woodruff of the University of Florida will make a success of his football team if he gets the proper support, Col. Everett Von says in a speech before the Sanford Rotary.

Von, president of the Gator Boosters, told Rotarians yesterday at the Yacht Club.

Col. Von was introduced by a former University of Florida student whom he once recommended during the calling of the role for not having his legions properly adjusted, G. W. Spencer, who pointed out the valuable work at the University of Col. Von as director of athletics from 1926 to 1929, and in assisting Coach Van Fleet from 1923 to 1929. Col. Von served in the Army two years in the present hot spot of the Pacific area, Korea.

He recently returned from retirement in Ontario to again and the University in its athletic program.

American Military Aid Program Lends Four Cannon To Orchestra

WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—The United States military assistance program today broadened its scope. The Army loaned four cannon to the National Symphony Orchestra.

Howard Mitchell, who directs the symphony, asked for the artillery. There was no indication that he plans to wage war on music critics.

Instead, the youthful maestro said he intends to use the field artillery set up on a barge behind the orchestra—which will perform on a floating stage at the Potomac River. But the army said no to this. Concession from the cannon might sink not only the barge but the entire orchestra as well, artillery experts said.

And the conductor—remembering Tachikowsky's sad experience—confessed to a wild case of jitter whether the cannon would be used.

President Lays Down "Stand Firm" Policy Against Reds In Pacific Area

LONDON, June 27—(AP)—Prime Minister Aneurin Bevan pledged Britain's support to the United Nations to American moves to repel the Communist attack on South Korea.

WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, and today's conferees are endeavoring to get other nations to join the United States in armed support of South Korean forces.

WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—Congressional leaders swung quickly behind President Truman's action today in drawing a line against Communist advances in the Far Pacific and ordering air and sea support for South Korea.

WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—President Truman today ordered United States planes and warships to the aid of South Korean forces. He laid down a policy of standing firm against Communist aggression in the Far Pacific.

As a part of the broader policy, Mr. Truman directed that the U. S. seventh fleet be prepared to intervene to prevent any Communist attack on Formosa, the island refuge of the Chinese Nationalist government.

At the same time, he asked that Chiang Kai Shek, head of the Chinese Nationalist, cease attacks on the mainland as a contribution toward the pacification of the whole area.

He also announced he is stepping up aid to the Philippines and Indo-China.

Mr. Truman announced his action in a statement which declared: "The attack upon Korea makes it plain beyond all doubt that the use of intervention to secure independence and self-determination is now a matter of life and death for the United States."

Emergency Funds Voted In Crisis By State Cabinet

TALLAHASSEE, June 27—(AP)—A $500,000 emergency appropriation to dispose of thousands of dead fish on the shore of Lake Apopka was voted today by the State Cabinet.

The money was raised under the State Bond of Health to undertake the cleanup after State Sen. J. E. Rodgers of Winter Garden told the cabinet the fish have created a health menace and the stench has driven lake shore residents from their homes.

He said the fish died when a Saturday storm struck at the mud flats of the lake when it abnormally low water level and filled their gills with silt.

At his request, the cabinet also voted to advise Florida's congressional delegation informally that it favors a move to get federal funds to build a lock in a canal between Lake Apopka and Lake Dora.

Major Labor, representing the Apopka Sportsman's Association, told the cabinet Lake Apopka's water level is three feet below normal because the canal to Lake Dora has been widened in recent years.

Lake Dora is five feet below Lake Apopka and a lock is needed to hold water in Apopka in dry periods and to keep Lake Dora from flooding in rainy weather, he said.
