Construction Total Of $1,799,964 This Year Sets Sanford Record

Building permits issued in Sanford for the year 1926 exceeded the total for the highest previous year, 1925, by $37,000, the total for the year amounting to $1,799,964. In 1925 the total was $1,762,967. The figures were compiled and given to The Herald late this afternoon by Miss Ellen Hoy, city tax collector.

Local builders considered 1926 construction a record which would not be surpassed during 1926 but the steady building of homes and apartment houses, together with a few small business structures, brought the total to the highest peak ever reached, they declared.

During April, more permits were issued than in any other month of the year, the total amounting to $450,300. In 1925 April was also the highest month with approximately $439,000 in permits being issued. The latter month was the one in which the permit for the Hotel Forrest Lake was granted.

During December permits aggregated $80,000, a decrease of 50 per cent over the same month of 1925. Increases in several other months of the year brought the total to the new high mark, it is said.

FOLLOWERS OF DIAZ LOSING TO SACASA FORCES

American Censorship Established And Later Removed; President Reiterates That Mexico Is Aiding Liberals

Sarcasa Gives Views On The Revolution

Intervention Of U. S. Forces Described As Unnecessary By Former Vice-President

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—(AP)—The civil war in Nicaragua judging from cable advices, apparently has passed to a serious stage for the conservative forces of President Diaz.

Coupled with the news that an American censorship had been established in the neutral zones and later lifted, and a reiteration of Diaz's charges that the Sacasa liberals were receiving aid from Mexico, detailed word has come telling of the severity of the defeat of President Diaz's troops on the east coast and of plans of the liberal army to march on Managua, the country's capital in the interior.

Meanwhile, Sacasa, in a message to the Associated Press declares the landing of American naval forces in Nicaragua was unnecessary since no lives or property needed protection and adds that the "real" purpose of the move was to protect the "DeFaced" government of Adolfo Diaz, who counts on the effective influence of Wall street bankers.

Diaz Explains His Defeat

Diaz's defeat in the last few days' fighting in which 70 have been reported killed on both sides, was ascribed by President Diaz himself, in a Managua dispatch, to poor communication, his orders to withdraw having been delayed.

Diaz's latest charge that Mexico was assisting Sacasa was made in a telegram to the Nicaraguan legation here from Cándida Pasos, minister of Foreign Affairs in the conservative cabinet. The message said that the "diplomatic" ministers of Mexico in Central America, without concealment, are the agents for the revolution, and added that "a new Mexican military expedition" was on its way "to land on the Pacific Coast."

Tells Of Troops Landing Sacasa, Former President Of The Nicaragua, Who Had Been Requested By The Associated Press On Dec. 27 To State His Attitude On The Neutralization Of Puerto Cabezas By Rear Admiral Latimer, In Command Of The American Naval Forces There, Said In His Message, Dated Dec. 29, That The Warships Denver And Cleveland, "Without Any Record Of Any Abuse Of Foreign Interests, Violently Disembarked Troops, Machine Guns And Cannons, And With Bellicose Display, My Small Presidential Guard And My Private Residence Were Surrounded."

He then was notified, he said, of the establishment of the neutral zone, which, he added, had impeded all his movements and "isolated and relegated" him to "indefinite action."

He said he would remain on Nicaraguan soil, calling for the "deposit of the national sovereignty confided in me legitimately by the Nicaraguan people."

FLIERS LEAVE VERA CRUZ

Broadway Plans To Greet New Year With Costliest Celebration In Its History

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Broadway plans to welcome the new year with one of the biggest, noisiest and costliest celebrations in the history of the city.

Reservations at the more popular hotels and night clubs were exhausted several days ago, and indications were that thousands of merry-makers would be unmolested by either police or prohibition agents.

Through special dispensation of Mayor Walker, the recently enacted 3 a. m. curfew law for night clubs and cabarets was rescinded for the night, and Chester P. Mills, prohibition director, announced that no raids were planned.

SAN CARLO OPERA SINGERS PRESENT 'LUCIA' TONIGHT

Final Offering In This City To Be Donizetti's Famous Opera; Company Presents 'Martha' This Afternoon

The final appearance of the San Carlo Grand Opera Company is scheduled for tonight, when Donizetti's "Lucia Di Lammermoor" is to be presented at the Milano Theater with Tina Paggi singing the name role and Franco Taffuro, noted tenor, in the role of Sir Edgar Ravenswood. Plotow's "Martha" was the attraction at the theater this afternoon with special numbers by the opera ballet to be given under the direction of Carlo Peroni.

The company, nearly 100 strong, is stopping at the Hotel Forrest Lake. Throughout the day they have visited the various places of interest in the city. Fortunio Gallo, the general director, predicted a return visit to Florida, which is expected to include Sanford, next winter.

In an interview with a representative of The Herald, Director Gallo praised the manner in which the people of Florida have received his company and he told of the reception accorded it in the cities on the west coast.

"Although the small crowd at the first performance in Sanford was rather discouraging from a financial standpoint, I believe the people of Sanford have learned, through those who heard 'Aida,' that the San Carlo Company is one composed of high class artists," he said.

"Lucia," which is the offering this evening at 8:15 o'clock, is a story of the loves of the old English aristocracy and concerns the hatred between two titled families and the love of the head of one of the families for the sister of his enemy.

The best known numbers from this opera is the "Sextette" and those of the scenes where "Lucia" kills her husband immediately after the wedding, and the return of her lover upon her death.

Dr. Walsh To Speak At Initial Session Of Sanford Forum

Dr. James J. Walsh, Ph. D., a practicing physician of New York City, is to be the first speaker to occupy the platform at the initial session of the Sanford Open Forum, recently organized by the civic clubs and churches of the city, according to an announcement made today.

The first meeting is to be held Sunday evening, Jan. 2, at the city hall auditorium. The speaking is to start at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Walsh, in addition to his practice, is an instructor in a number of New York educational institutions and is an author of notes, both as an historian and as a writer on the subject of dietetics. Many of his works are used by educational institutions.

His address is to be on "Health of the Human Body" and the forum period following his speech is expected to be an interesting one, according to sponsors of the session.

Following Sunday evening's meeting, week-day nights will be given over to the Open Forum in the future, according to officials, who say that the subjects to be taken up the winter are as follows: Railroadings, philosophy, law, business, home, adolescence, meteorology and the press.

Police Expect Arrests In Hilton Murder Case Late This Afternoon

Additional Light On Murder Mystery Is Shed By Relatives Upon Their Arrival

Robbery Motive Now Questioned

Investigation From New Angles Being Vigorously Pushed

An arrest by which it is hoped to solve the mystery surrounding the murder of P. Hilton, Sanford barber shop owner, is momentarily expected by Chief of Police Roy G. Williams, who stated early this afternoon that after sifting a number of clues, the arrest of a suspect or suspects would probably be made late today.

Every angle of the mystery which centers about the discovery of the body of Mr. Hilton, who was killed in the rear of his barber shop, 113 Magnolia avenue, Wednesday night, is being investigated by police and deputies from the office of Sheriff C. M. Hand, and today authorities were of the opinion that they were on the right track in their efforts to solve it.

For an hour last night, Chief Williams, Sheriff Hand, Lieut. A. H. Beckwith and a representative of The Herald studied the scene of the crime. Various theories of how the murder might have been committed were presented in an effort to throw additional light on the case.

BASEBALL MEET EXPECTED TO BE HELD HERE SOON

Officers Of Sanford Club For Year 1927 To Be Named And Delegates To League's Session In City Nominated

A meeting of the directors of the Sanford Baseball Club is expected to be held during the next 10 days, at which time the election of officers for 1927 and a discussion of plans for the coming season will be held, according to a statement made today by City Commissioner E. F. Housholder.

The Florida State League meeting is to be held in Sanford in January and it is necessary that the local club, pennant winners in both halves of the last season, elect officers and delegates for the league session, officials of the club say.

No changes in the directorate of the club are planned, according to Judge Housholder. The election of officers for the year will probably be the first order of business before the meeting and will be followed by a discussion of lining up various players and the selection of delegates to the league meeting.

What action is to be taken when the state heads get here is unknown and Sanford's part in the session is expected to depend largely upon the action of other central Florida clubs.

At this session, also, will be heard applications from other clubs, particularly those of the east coast, for admission to the league. What titles along the lower west coast will drop their franchise, if any, is not known but officials of the league believe that Bradenton and Fort Myers will not be represented next season.

TWO DIE IN WRECK

GALVESTON, Tex., Dec. 31.—(AP)—Two persons were killed and 15 injured last night when a special interurban car from Houston and a freight train of the Texas City Terminal Railway company crashed at a crossing at Texas City Junction, it was reported here today.

Prominent DeLand Attorneys, Well Known Here, Retire From Practice

Announcement of the retirement from active law practice by two well known DeLand attorneys, Cary D. Landis and Bert Fish, was received by many friends and business acquaintances in Sanford late yesterday afternoon. Their retirement is to take effect Jan. 1, and both announced their intention of devoting their time exclusively to personal business. They were the senior partners of the firm of Landis, Fish, Hull and Whitthair.

Both Mr. Landis and Mr. Fish are well known in Seminole County, especially among members of the legal fraternity of the county. They have practiced in the courts here for many years.

Mr. Landis was for a number of years a contractor in law at Sanford. He was a member of the Florida Bar Association and the Florida State Bar Association.

Mr. Fish was a member of the Florida Bar Association and the Florida State Bar Association. He was a member of the Sanford Rotary Club and the Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

Both men are large property owners in Sanford and Seminole County. Mr. Landis is interested in the Lake Front Development Company owners of extensive tracts on the lake front here.

NEW BASEBALL SCANDAL MAY BE DISCLOSED

Swee Risberg, Former Player On White Sox, Declares He Can Implicate Twenty Prominent Major Leaguers

Judge Landis Would Welcome Testimony

Plenty Of Crooked Work In Baseball Has Existed In Past, Banished Player Says

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—(AP)—A new baseball quiz may come out of declarations of Charles "Swee" Risberg, former Chicago White Sox shortstop, that he can give baseball's bosses information that will implicate 20 big leaguers who never before have been mentioned in connection with crooked-

Risberg, banned from baseball as the result of the 1919 world series scandal, made his statement in the Chicago Tribune at his Minneapolis dairy farm, and immediately drew from Baseball Commissioner Landis a declaration that he would welcome hearing Risberg's story.

The Tribune said: "It was a kindly man who began to read the statement and a burning Nemesis who finished."

Risberg told the newspaper there had been "plenty of crooked work going on in baseball," and continued:

"If Commissioner Landis and the owners and managers haven't seen it, they're blind. Landis and the big bosses of baseball don't want to know the facts. This is a challenge to the commissioner. Let's see what he'll do about it."

Meanwhile the Ty Cobb-Tria Speaker case has been sealed for the present, the lips of the two principals in the latest edition of the "scandal of 1919." From other statements that complicated the plot.

One member of the cast, who spoke his prologue in the office of the commissioner before the curtain ever rose on the "scandal" took the center of the stage yesterday. That was Fred West, park attendant at Navin field, home of the Detroit Tigers, scene of the "fixed" game. West is the man named in the testimony as having placed bets for Dutch Leonard, then a Tiger pitcher, and Joe Wood, Cleveland smoke-ball thrower.

West's public lines differed from the manuscript as constructed from Leonard's charges and the transcript of testimony before the commissioner.

West, in his statement yesterday, said that the money given him by Leonard and Wood to wager that Detroit would beat Cleveland, was not bet on the ball game at all. The money, he said, was laid "on the nose" of a horse named Panaman, a "hot tip" in the first race at the Aqueduct track on that day.

The horse breezed home in front, and that is how Leonard and Wood each happened to be wealthier by $180 the night of Sept. 25, 1919.

That, at least, is West's latest explanation. Leonard, at Fresno, Calif., said it sounded to him "like a laugh." The West statement also failed to impress Speaker's attorney, William H. Boyd, in Cleveland.

Another voice from the background was that of Bob Quinn, president of the Boston Red Sox, who spoke an "aside" in which he said he would like to see Landis appoint a "clean sports" ambassador to bolster sport ethics among players of both major leagues. The "ambassador" would mingle with the players frequently, keeping constantly before them their responsibility of keeping the game on a high plane.

Working backstage are high school boys who today continued their canvas of Detroit office buildings, seeking 15,000 signers to petitions demanding a public hearing for Cobb and Speaker and Wood.

Less Huddling and No More "Cheating" Shifts Now Indicated for Grid Game

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—(AP)—Less scouting, less huddling and no more "cheat" shifting are indicated for intercollegiate football next year.

Over the vigorous protest of Major Frank Cavanaugh, newly appointed coach at Fordham university, who asserted that the action would "murder" the modern game, 200 members of the American Football Coaches' Association have voted to recommend a two-second "heating" on all shift plays to the rules committee. An amendment added at the suggestion of Coach Bill Roper of Princeton would retain the present practice of allowing one backfield player to be in motion when the play is started.

It was the opinion of the experts that no stop watches will be needed to enforce the hesitation rule, which confirms to sentiment in the western conference. The plan is for officials to toll off the seconds mentally during the period between the shift and the snapping of the ball.

Sponsoring the crusade against huddling, Roper said that the Tiggers next year probably would not scout any of their opponents. He voiced the conviction that a better team could be developed without scouting.

Reports of the coaches also indicated general dissatisfaction with the huddle. Roper contended, however, that the huddle has proved a welcome addition in the east. He criticized attempts of some teams to use too many plays.

Restrictions of practice to two hours daily, fixing of $75 with expenses as a suitable fee for officials, and stabilizing of the coaching profession were other favorably received recommendations.

As the meeting adjourned last night, the National Collegiate Athletic Association prepared to move into the forum today to pass final judgment on the game. Reports before the meeting indicated that intercollegiate sport is in "the best of health."

On Realm Of Sport

(By The Associated Press) Koster Scoreless Last Year Fred Koster, speedy and elusive University of Louisville halfback, high scorer of the 1926 collegiate gridiron season, failed to score a single point in 1925, although he is a regular on the team.

Koster led the country's leading scorers this fall with 124 points, topping Mike Wilton, Lafayette, his nearest competitor, by four points. Koster missed participating in one contest, too, because of injuries.

Last year, however, he played in every game, being more noted then for defensive rather than offensive ability.

Miami Jockey Club Entries

More than 300 thoroughbreds of the turf, representing 30 stables, have been quartered at Miami to await the opening on January 13 of the Miami Jockey Club at Hialeah for its annual winter meeting. Eight stakes will be run.

The number is being augmented almost daily, with expectations that more than 500 horses will be ## at the track before New Year's Day.

One of the leading strings here is that of Walter J. Salmon, H. T. Wilson, president of the Saratoga Racing Association also has sent several horses. Other stables represented are those of L. T. Cooper, G. Frank Croissant, W. A. Reed, Admiral Cary T. Grayson, A. G. Barkle, Mrs. Katherin K. Hitt, Walter Briggs, Robert Odum, W. A. Wollman, J. S. Ward, J. P. Smith, and Henry Waterson.

Thoroughbreds from the stables of Marshall Field, Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., Harry Payne Whitney and Robert L. Gerry, among others are reported enroute to Miami.

Boston Infield Led League The Boston Red Sox, tallenders of the American League, nevertheless made more assists than any other team in the league, and the records of individuals on the infield are impressive.

Phil Todd handled 1755 putouts and 126 assists—an amazing amount of chances for a first baseman. Herrera, who started at second base accepted 280 chances in 48 games, being replaced by Regan who finished the season with 508 chances. Rigney missed only six games and took care of 778 chances at short while Hancy gobbled up 471 chances in 137 games at third, Herrera was the fill-in man at third and short after Regan reported from Columbus.

Todd, Herrera, Rigney, Hancy and Regan played practically all games for the Red Sox infield—a quintet that handled more chances combined than any other set of American League infielders in 1925.

BRITAIN'S RACING WINNERS

Lord Woolavington is the man of the year in the British flat racing world with his winnings $235,000. Of this sum about $195,000 was collected on Coronach's Derby win alone.

The peer had only 15 horses running during the whole season. Not only does Lord Woolavington head the list of winning owners, but the list of breeders as well. He also owns the horse Coronach which as an individual has won something like a record in stakes, and possesses the sire whose progeny have won most money. Coronach's stud services already have been booked for 1928. He is to remain on the turf another season, however.

Lord Derby's winnings for the season totalled $175,000; Lord Astor was third with $120,000 and Lord Rosebery fourth with $75,000.

Lord Woolavington, in the racing world, is considered exceedingly lucky. He had paid but a few hundreds pounds for Harry On as a yearling. This horse was never beaten and he afterward sired two Derby winners—Coronach and Coronach. From Harry On and Captain Cyril in the past it is estimated the peer has come little short of a fortune year.

HOLLYWOOD—Building bids issued here for month of October, totalled $186,000.

The Cleveland ball club is to find someone to replace Speaker in center field. The three outfielders who might be somewhere near close to them have not been disclosed.

Former Crown Head Has Not Returned To Palace At Paris

PARIS, Dec. 30.—(AP)—Despite reports to the contrary published by some of the Paris newspapers it was established by the Associated Press today that former Crown Prince Carol of Rumania has not yet returned to his villa in Neuilly, fashionable Parisian suburb.

Persons close to him expressed the opinion that he was enjoying a quiet holiday somewhere on the Riviera and would not come back to the capitol until after New Year's day.

At any rate it seems that he has broken with Madame Magda Lupescu, his former mistress, with whom he left Rumania a year ago, at the time he renounced his right of succession to the Rumanian throne.

Keep the charge of the Lord thy God, to walk in His ways, as it is written in the law of Moses, that thou mayest prosper in all that thou doest.

OLD MASTERS: So here hath been dawning Another blue day!

Well, anyway it hasn't snowed yet. They are going to drop the case against Almee. Well, what do we care?

Nowadays whiskey kills more on Christmas than fireworks on the Fourth of July.

News stand dealers probably cater to public taste in the magazines they carry, but that's no compliment to the public.

In the recent Oxford University rowing races, an American, Kingsbury, is said by English critics to have pulled the best oar in any boat.

So many people are being held up and robbed in various parts of Florida that it begins to look as if all retired real estate dealers had turned bandits.

Some people want us to make a New Year's resolution never to publish anything that anybody would object to. But if we did we would have to suspend publication.

A large group of United States congressmen are touring Florida. Wish some of them would take a trip down the St. John's River. They might see some of the needs of this section of the country.

Newspaper despatch says many yachts are on their way to Florida waters. Probably not many of them will be seen in Lake Monroe simply because there is no canal allowing them exit to the Indian River and lower East Coast.

Twenty-two died of bad liquor in the city of New York during the Christmas holidays. Yet there are those who say it doesn't hurt them. All liquor is bad liquor. And any liquor will ruin any man morally, mentally and physically.

The policy of the United States, it seems, is merely to protect American lives and property in Nicaragua, not to interfere in domestic affairs. It might be better for that turbulent little country if the United States did interfere a bit.

Nearly a million and five hundred thousand dollars will be spent on the funeral of the late Japanese emperor. Japan is not an excessively rich country and thousands of the poor there are on the verge of starvation.

It would seem that under the circumstances a little of the ceremony ought to be dispensed with. The British are trying to keep themselves the secret of the "new" searchlight ray which enables observers to follow movements of airplanes while the enemy believes himself unseen.

The United States had kept the secrets of all its inventions, beginning with the steamboat and continuing down to the airplane itself. It would be regrettable if today

Thieves, Ingrates, Sneaks

As soon as the man in charge of the job was out of sight on his way to another job across town, three workmen left their painting and their carpenter work, rolled some cigarettes, made themselves comfortable on the steps of the house, and proceeded to discuss the topics of the day.

Thieves, they were, all three of them. Thieves and sneaks and ingrates, all three. One of the men had secured the job because he put up a hard tale about his needy family. His gratitude should have been great enough for him to give his employer a maximum of service. But he was an ingrate, along with the other two who would have had no jobs at all if it had not been for this one.

Their wages fixed by a scale that insured them a nice roll of bills at the end of the week, the three men knew that every minute they took from their employer's time was tantamount to taking money from his pocket. They knew they were stealing his money when they loafed on his job.

Talking so fair, promising so much when they acquired their jobs, the men knew that they were scurvy sneaks when they waited until they were out of view of their employer before letting down on their work. In his presence they worked industriously, efficiently. When he could not see them, they loafed. And they knew they were sneaks.

Rightfully such thievery should be reached by law. A man who deliberately steals his employer's time is stealing his employer's money exactly as criminally as though he were taking cash from his employer's money drawer. He is more contemptible than the ordinary thief because he poses as a reliable, honest workman.

Fortunately, too, high-class workmen know all this. More and more of them are seeing the need of eliminating from labor organizations the time-thieves and the sneaks. More and more is sentiment growing for a new plan for membership qualifications in labor guilds. Honest men want to have dishonesty exposed and punished. Honest men want to see efficiency rewarded and inefficiency put on the plane to which it belongs. Fair-minded men want to see honesty and efficiency paid a maximum wage, and lesser qualifications receive only what is justly theirs.

Thieves, sneaks, ingrates are men who steal time from an employer who is paying them their wages. The day will come when honest workmen will refuse to fraternize with fellows of that stripe.

"Tainted Money"—It Buys What It Wants

Some years ago the phrase "tainted money" went the rounds. Ill-gotten-wealth of one kind and another was declared to be "tainted." Now and then a great stir was made by some church or some individual refusing a munificent gift because it was "tainted." Occasionally a church squabble that widely entertained the outside public milled about the question of whether "tainted" money could be accepted for God's work.

The money, as we remember it, was usually accepted. There were always eloquent speakers to show that it was the duty of the church to get hold of all the "tainted" money possible and by turning it to holy uses make it clean and pure. Dull-minded folks who saw in the acceptance of "tainted" money a sort of tacit approval of the way the money was obtained by its donor were usually talked into agreement with the crowd that wanted the cash, or so silenced they could only think their disapproval, and maybe grieve a little over the seeming inconsistency of the church leaders.

Sometimes, too, money was said to be "tainted" when it was quite as much removed from "taint" as money can be. One clever paragrapher even saw an explanation for every charge of that sort in his definition. "Tainted money," he said, "is yours and 'taint mine, so its tainted."

Nowadays, as far as we know, nobody objects to the acceptance of "tainted" money. When "drives" are made for this and that and pledges are taken for money gifts, we do not hear of any prospective donor being refused participation in the good work because he got his money by fraud or in pursuit of unworthy avocations.

Doubtless all of us have something of that "Taint yours and 'taint mine, so it's tainted" spirit in our make-up. The saxophone player next door we may think a damnable nuisance. But he may have the same idea about our barking dog. The philosophy of that "taint yours and 'taint mine" is decidedly all right, but isn't it rather regrettable that nobody seems much concerned with the question of how and where money is gained? When a man can buy his way into an influential place in a city with money that he has acquired by crooked dealing, isn't it a reflection upon the general integrity of the people who give him honors?

The Herald has not seen that term "tainted money" used in many a day, but we are old-fashioned enough to believe that if ill-gotten gains were a recognized badge of dishonor, cities would be better protected against corruption, and society would be rid of many a dirty sore.

"Tainted money"—there is some in Sanford.

EVERY YEAR, Dr. Louis I. Dublin estimates, there are 3,000,000 serious accidents in American homes, of which 17,000 are fatal. The wild mosquito roams the room; he bites; the bite is scratched, and blood poison develops. A cherished plant turns out to be deadly. A picture needs straightening; one mounts a ladder; it slips. A bottle breaks in one's hands, cutting a finger. Father goes out to clean the snow off the walk; he steps on a piece of ice and fractures his skull. Or he stands up in the bathtub to reach for the soap—wham! The domestic dog goes bolshhevik and bites the baby. The rug slips on the hardwood floor and grandma breaks a leg. Father, after going to bed, remembers that piece of pie in the ice box; he sneaks down in the dark to get it, and falls over a chair.—The Detroit News.

Not Forgetting The Bellboy

It occurs to me that in this collection I have rather neglected that indispensable adjunct of our modern civilization, the hotel bellboy. I hasten to make amends for my oversight. In connection with the affable youth in buttons who may forget what we send him for but who never forgets to wait for his financial reward, I think of two small yarns, one of them being, so far as I know, quite new and the other of a creditable antiquity. Here is the veteran: A northern man was stopping at a small hotel in Alabama where the help naturally was colored. One night after he had retired there came a knocking at his door. "Who is it?" he asked, sitting up in bed. "Hit's me, boss," came the somewhat cryptic answer. "Who's me?" "Who's me?" "One of the bellboys." "What do you want at this time of night?" "Got a telegram for you, boss." "Oh, that's it. Well, it's not very important, I guess. I'll read it when I get up in the morning. Just shove it under the door." There was a pause. Then, in a voice made sharp by the far of losing a tip, the darky spoke: "I can't—hit's on a plate!" And here is the newer one: A freshly hired bell-boy was strolling through a hallway in a somewhat pretentious hotel, whistling loudly as he went. Turning a corner he met the manager. "What the devil do you mean by that infernal noise?" demanded the frate manager. "Paging a dog for a guest," replied, with magnificent presence of mind, the lad.

Contemporary Comments: America "blew in" $822,000,000 for tires and tubes last year; and "blew out" about an equal amount.—Sioux City Tribune. Some congressmen take for their slogan, "When in the capital do as the capitalists say"—Baltimore Evening Sun.

Older and Bigger. Too Proud to Bully. Woman's Biggest Union. In Britain They Fly. BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

IT WAS SAID in this column that this country needs immigration from Europe, twenty million ambitious workers, to absorb surplus farm products and used cars, and help build the nation.

PROFESSOR EATON writes "The earth is overpopulated. If every one had an equal share of food all would be hungry all the time." The professor is mistaken. All human beings on earth could stand at the same time on Staten Island in New York harbor, and not be more crowded than proud Americans attending a prize fight.

THE STATE OF Texas, intensively cultivated, would feed all the earth's people, and clothe them. The earth isn't half or one-tenth populated. And the potential food supply is a hundred times greater than any possible demand. We need people that will work.

THE AMERICAN Science association is boiling over with important news. Human life has increased by 30 years, in recent times. The average American boy's height has increased two and one-half inches in the last 50 years—control of infantile diseases, and knowledge of the value of vitamins and sunlight have done that.

DR. CARL FREDERICK Schilling, German scientist, says within 200 years the power of the atom will be liberated, "bringing an end of human labor and suffering." Interesting, but the important thing is not our height, how long we live, or ability to live without work.

Freedom from labor would mean a new, more horrible suffraging.

IF WE DID 30 years more of thinking than we used to do, or if the average boy's brain were two and one-half inches bigger around, and 100 per cent more active than it used to be, that would mean something.

Science advances, human intelligence stands still or moves as slowly as a glacier. In Athens, 3,000 years ago, the average of intelligence, among free citizens, was higher than it is in the British house of commons today.

THE NICARAGUA foolishness has had publicity enough to prevent harm. Will somebody answer this? Why does this powerful nation intrude upon a weaker nation, occupying its ports, giving orders to its government, when under exactly the same conditions, it would not dream of meddling with a powerful nation like Russia, Japan or Britain?

OUR DIVORCE AND alimony system makes many men support more than one wife, but that should not be hastily criticized. This vale of tears was planned to give man an education and he is getting it.

A DEEP FINANCIAL writer tells of "bearish omens" and thinks big men are talking cheerfully to create an atmosphere in which they may unload stocks. That is plain boob. Intelligent citizens will agree with President Coolidge that the coming year will be a continuation of our great prosperity.

OUR trouble may be described as "nervous prosperity." Men who get rich suddenly often get nervous and need several doctors.

FOR INSTANCE Sir Samuel Hoare, British air minister, is flying from London to India, with Lady Hoare, a little round trip of 12,000 miles. And he won't "flop" because he forgot his oil or his gasoline.

WE HAD ONE air officer as good as that British air minister and better, General Mitchell. And we lost no time in getting rid of him. He is breeding horses in Virginia now, and men that ought to be breeding horses are running our flying force.

ONE MAN, DEAD the other day, devoted a long paragraph of his will to his razor, one he had used for half a century. Another, recently left his stock in a race track gambling enterprise, and his stock in an alcoholic distillery to clergymen that detested gambling and drink. The human mind, living or dying, is a strange contrivance.

DR. ALDO CASTELLANI says Mussolini, leader of men, is in excellent health, but "eats too fast. He devoted exactly three minutes to his dinner."

That means eating a few minutes every day now, and losing years of life later. Napoleon declined to waste time at the table and despised those who did it.

Later he spent three fighting ul-

A Bad Fit?

SOME THINK OF others, of education and leave their money to spread knowledge. Others just fade out, thinking not at all.

BEGINNING NEXT month the United States will get in installment 17 flying machines, each capable of carrying 10 passengers or soldiers. That's good news for a start. When shall we get the other 2,983 planes? The British are making airships to carry 100 soldiers each.

GOVERNOR JACKSON announces plans for a monument and shrine to be erected at Lincoln City, Indiana, in memory of Nancy Hanks, Lincoln's mother. It was about time for somebody to realize that a woman creating a great son is as worthy of honor as the man that paints a great picture or builds a great railroad system, and that everything a woman's son does is really done by her.

There are some farmers who through some magic maintain a relative success and security regardless of bad seasons and price depressions, and that magic is found in simple planning for results, study of costs, regard for past experiences and knowledge of conditions. The lack of success by the host of farmers is stated in two reasons—the farmer is a poor reader, not interested in meetings and demonstrations offered by the government and other agencies for his benefit, and secondly, he is an individualist.—Wilkes County Messenger.

MRS. JULIUS STRYKER IS GUEST OF HONOR AT LOVELY BRIDGE PARTY

Julius B. Stryker of Lansdale, Pa., who is visiting here, Mrs. Mary Higgins, was charming guest of honor at a lovely afternoon party given by Mrs. Wight and Mrs. Edward Wight at the Woman's Club.

Artistic were the decorations for this affair, the color scheme of salmon pink and green effectively carried out in detail. Tall wicker baskets of white gladioli and sprigs of ferns, while many palms and ferns were used as background for vases and of roses and other cut flowers were placed here and there in the spacious auditorium where the guests assembled for the party.

Oviedo Girl Becomes O. R. Mathieux's Bride On Monday Afternoon

A quiet wedding taking place this week was that of Miss Kathleen Sara Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Campbell of Oviedo, and Orris Rawson Mathieux, which was solemnized Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Orlando. The ceremony was witnessed by Mrs. Eather Watts and J. C. Kessell of Oviedo.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathieux are spending a short time at Daytona Beach and St. Augustine and upon their return will make their home at Geneva.

Mr. and Mrs. Chase Give Opera Party In Honor Of Frank Chase

Preceding the presentation of the opera "Aida" Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Chase entertained at an informal buffet supper at their home on Oak Avenue, honoring their son Frank Chase who is home for the holidays. The guests included about 20 members of the college set.

Red and green, the holiday colors, were carried out in the decorations and other details. Quantities of poinsettias, ferns and other symbols of the season were effectively used.

Supper was served at small tables placed in the dining room and library, after which the guests attended the opera.

Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Chase Jr., of Windemere, assisted the host and hostess in entertaining the guests.

Miss Garner Hostess At Oriental Tea In Honor Of Miss Fitts

A most unique yet very enjoyable affair was the Oriental Tea given Thursday afternoon by Miss Marguerite Garner at her home on Mellenville Avenue, honoring Miss Martha Fitts.

The rooms were decorated in true Oriental style, with low tables surrounded by numerous pillows and urns filled with burning incense.

Fortunes were told by use of ancient fortune telling cards, and fortunes were read in a large crystal ball. Other games of the Orient were indulged in during the afternoon, and at a late hour Miss Eugenia Keene, dressed as an Egyptian dancer, served refreshments consisting of date sandwiches and tea.

After refreshments, the guests danced and enjoyed a number of musical selections.

Those enjoying this affair were Miss Martha Fitts, Miss Antoinette Shinhol, Miss Virginia McDaniel, Miss Dorothy Smith, Miss Ellen Telford, Miss Eugenia Keene and Miss Garner.

"AIDA" IS PRESENTED LAST NIGHT AT MILANE BY GALLO'S COMPANY

Sanford heard its first opera last night, and Sanford liked it. That is, the part of Sanford that listened to the performance of "Aida" sung by Fortuna Gallo's San Carlo Company at the Milane. The audience was small, but it was appreciative of the efforts of the members of the cast to please it, and before the evening was over grand opera had won itself a place in the hearts of the music lovers of this city.

While only approximately 400 persons were present, the gathering was a cosmopolitan one and the message which nearly every one of the 400 will carry to their friends today will probably go far toward filling the Milane for the afternoon performance of "Aida" and the final appearance of the company in "Lucia" this evening.

Particularly pleasing last night was the tenor of Tommasini, the dramatic soprano of Blanca Saroya and the mezzo soprano of Coe Glade shared the honors with Saroya in this act.

Lorenzo Conati, as Amonaro, Tommasini, won rounds of applause with their excellent portrayal of their parts combined with voice that has earned for them the plaudits of critics in metropolitan centers.

Andrea Mongelli, as the high priest, Ramfis, never a popular part, showed the timbre of his voice that Gallo has overcome the difficulties of filling the role.

Cervi, as the King of Egypt, Curci as a Messenger and Phineas Palea, as Priestess, each added color to the presentation.

The incidental numbers by the ballet, under the direction of Carl Schmal, G. W. Spencer Jr., George Cowan, Robert Hagan and Dr. I. D. Brown.

MASTER DOUGLAS GARNER HOST TO YOUNG FRIENDS ON BIRTHDAY

One of the most enjoyable children's parties of this season was that of Wednesday afternoon when Master Douglas Garner, the bright young son of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Garner, entertained a number of his small friends at a Christmas party at his home on Park Avenue.

The spacious rooms were opened en suite and were beautifully decorated with baskets of poinsettias, holly wreaths and Christmas bells. A large Christmas tree, bright with many ornaments, and myriads of electric lights, occupied a most prominent place.

Games of all kinds were played throughout the afternoon, and much merriment was caused by the "Mother Goose Shadow" picture. The children were asked to guess the Mother Goose character when cast upon a screen. For guessing the most among the girls, Meta Crook was given a box of Mother Goose handkerchiefs. The boys' prize, a box of Mother Goose stationery, went to Sam Crook.

After the games and contests the children were asked into the dining room for refreshments. The refreshment table was most attractive, being arranged to represent a snow scene. The miniature house on which old Santa Claus stood atop the chimney, and the surrounding lawns, trees and shrubbery were sprinkled with snow. From the house the children drew large snow balls, in which were concealed "Felix" whistles as favors.

Refreshments of fees moulded in the forms of Santa Claus, and cakes made in shapes of tiny Christmas trees were served by Mrs. Garner assisted by Mrs. Robert T. Thrasher, Mrs. I. D. Brownlee and Miss Louise Thrasher.

The children enjoying this affair were Jane Lloyd, Meta Crook, Frances Owens, Adelaide Key, Alice Wight, Katherine Wight, Louise Welle, Sam Crook, Lester Guthrie, Jack Woodruff, Frank Woodruff, Arthur Vidler, Donald Lamson, Daniel Benefit, James Wallace, Lincoln Brown, Harry Brownlee and Douglas Garner.

Capt William Williams and small daughter of Atlanta, Ga., are spending the holidays here as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stokes at their home on Ninth street.

Mrs. Harry N. Dickson spent Thursday in Sanford, coming from Orlando to attend the bridge party given by Mrs. Ralph Wight and Mrs. Edward Higgins at the Woman's Club honoring Mrs. Julius Stryker of Lansdale, Pa.

Mrs. T. A. Neal of Orlando was among the out-of-town guests attending the bridge party given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Edward Higgins and Mrs. Ralph Wight at the Woman's Club, honoring Mrs. Julius Stryker of Lansdale, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Wright leave Friday morning for Bradenton, where they will spend the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney O. Chase of Windemere were the guests Thursday of the formers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Chase.

The many friends of Mrs. K. B. McCracken will be glad to hear that she is resting comfortably after an operation for appendicitis Thursday morning at the Fernald-Laughton Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Sneed will have as their guests on Saturday Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Atkins and Mr. and Mrs. D. Ewell Atkins of Savannah, Ga., who are spending the winter at St. Petersburg.

"Cat Robber" Eludes 300 Policemen With Orders To Kill Him

CHICAGO, Dec. 31. (AP)—Chicago's "cat robber" a mysterious figure of the night, who has terrorized unsecured women for several months, has eluded 300 policemen who were rushed into his operating territory with orders to shoot to kill.

Blue Coats last night combed the Logan Square area, where the person had accosted and robbed eight women, following similar acts in their north side districts, but failed to find trace of the elusive cat.

In addition, automobiles filled with armed and determined citizens, co-operating with the police, toured the district where the marauder might be expected to pounce upon his next woman victim. Fifteen young women hired especially by the police to parade the streets as bait for the robber, walked in vain.

ANOTHER FIGURE NOW APPEARS IN SCANDAL OF 1919

"I Could Tell A Lot If I Would Do Any Good," Says Unnamed Player Banned From Baseball 7 Years Ago

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—(P)—The Chicago Tribune today brought another ghost to sit at the banquet board with the skeletons of the 1919 baseball season, and pick over the bones of scandal.

The new specter at the table was anonymous in the Tribune account, but from his quoted remarks he apparently was one of the players banned from organized baseball after the uproar over the throwing of games in the 1919 world series between Chicago and Cincinnati.

"I could tell a lot if I thought it would do any good," this player was quoted as saying. "In fact, I've told Landis in the past of at least 10 cases where baseball players were involved much worse than Cobb or Speaker have been. This case is a joke."

He was asked if he could tell anything about crooked world series games.

"Could I?" The Tribune reported him as replying. "If those fellows are digging up old scores, why don't these baseball investigators ask about that 1917 series?"

"What do you know about that?" The Tribune reporter asked.

"Enough," he was quoted as answering. "And I will tell Landis about it if it's open hearing and I'm convinced that baseball chiefs are sincere in this business. They won't when I got into trouble before. They admitted they had nothing on me but they wouldn't stand the gaff."

Commissioner Landis was "out" to reporters last night. Landis was as equally uncommunicative earlier in the day concerning a closed door conference he had with Frank Navin, president of the Detroit Tigers.

The commissioner, however, has accepted the challenge of Charlie (Swede) Risberg, one of the White Sox outcasts as a result of the 1919 world's series furore, who informed Landis, through the newspapers, that he could tell him something about crooked baseball.

Risberg said he would take advantage of Landis' offer to hear his story. He plans to come here in "two or three days," he said.

At Detroit, Cobb, Speaker and Joe Wood, the three men most vitally affected by the latest charges of baseball dishonesty, planned to meet in a general, secret conference with their attorneys.

Rival Promoters Bid For Services Of Tunney In 1927

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—(P)—Rival promoters beckoned to Gene Tunney with talk of another million dollar heavyweight championship battle next year.

On one hand was Tex Rickard to remind the titleholder of a promise last September to make the first defense of his crown under Rickard's promotion. Building on that verbal agreement, the Madison Square Garden promoter has proceeded with an elimination tournament to choose Tunney's outstanding challenger.

At the other side was Humbert J. Fugazy with figures to show he will be able to seat 95,000 persons at the Polo Grounds if Gene will consent to fight Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, Conn. the light heavyweight champion.

After his conferences with the promoting rivals, Gene will resume his vaudeville tour with a fight at Chicago under the direction of Jim Mullen. Soldiers' field is the proposed scene of conflict.

Grid Game Remains Same After Attacks
NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—(P)—Intercollegiate football emerged almost intact today, with a critical examination of four days by officials, coaches and professors from all parts of the country.

A slight change to check the shifting and handling of some teams have been favored, but the general tone of the meetings has been one of satisfaction with the game as reaching the highest level in gridiron history.

The NUT CRACKER by Joe Williams

How much is Babe Ruth worth? If you had him on your lollypop nibbling squad what would you pay him in money, marbles, chalk or used razor blades?

The Babe has indicated a diplomatic weakness for $150,000 and no questions asked.

COLONEL JACOB RUPPERT has taken the matter under advisement. He says he is open to reason but can see no reason in this.

It is a difficult matter to reason with a club owner when the subject concerns salary checks for the hired hands. He'd rather pay them off in cheers.

The Babe presents a curious proposition. He the most valuable turnstile asset the eight clubs have. He makes a lotta jack for all of them. Yet only one of them pays him.

This is all wrong, like rain at picnics, poison in coffee cups and cowcatchers on airplanes.

It's one reason why Colonel Jacob has to put perfume on his hot mince pies these days.

And when he looks through rosecolored glasses all he sees are packed stands in the seven other cities distilling alien box office gravity.

The Colonel has more than one bunion festooming his off-season dilemma. The Babe autographed more than 2000 Yankee balls last season and gave them away with a free and democratic hand.

It costs me more to keep that guy in fresh autographs," laments the Colonel, "than most of the magnums pay for a whole outfield."

The Babe's present draw-down is $1000 every week. What he wants now is $2000 a week with taxi-fare and porter tips tossed airily in.

The Colonel thinks this is fair enough. Instead of paying the Babe $1000 every week he's willing to pay him $2000 some weeks—

Making exceptions of Dried Prune Week, Laughter Week, Shave-Your-Own-Neck Week, Be-Kind-to-Cumariis Week, etc., etc.

Football Attire Will Be Lighter In Next Year, Makers Believe

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—(P)—Football coaches will have an opportunity next season to deck their players out in attire worthy of the stage chorus. Representatives of manufacturers of sports goods were at the annual meeting of the American Football Coaches association today to display silk football pants, weighing three to four ounces, in a score of colors.

The silk pants, resembling fine lingerie, must be worn over harness furnishing protection from the falls to be expected in the course of an afternoon's play. The harness, however, is lighter than an old style pair of football pants.

Shoulder pads and headgear also have been lightened. Time was when a football player carried 15 pounds of equipment. Reduction to a minimum will send 1927 model into action with not more than eight pounds excess baggage.

Rene LaCoste To Welcome Tilden's Invasion of France

PARIS, Dec. 31.—Rene LaCoste, singles champion of the United States and joint first ranking player of France with Jean Borotra and Henri Cochet, under yesterday's ruling of the Tennis Federation is looking forward eagerly to Big Bill Tilden's European invasion.

Tilden is coming to France around the end of next month. "We will try to make it interesting for Big Bill," said LaCoste. "I feel certain he will be a tougher nut to crack in 1927 than he was in 1924."

Jacques Brugnon somewhat sarcastically remarked: "It's about time Tilden showed us something on the courts again, instead of in the newspapers with his pen or typewriter."

Tunney Receives An Attractive Bid From Fugazy For Big Match

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—(P)—Gene Tunney hastened to answer the call of the stage again today with a "very liberal offer" from Promoter Humbert J. Fugazy to defend his heavyweight championship here next fall, under consideration.

Leaving for St. Louis to resume his vaudeville tour after a conference with Fugazy, Tunney said he would make no decision until he heard from other matchmakers.

"There are only two leading promoters in the east," he said, evidently referring to Tex Rickard and Fugazy. "and I'm after the best offer."

Although Tunney said he didn't care "who would be selected to meet him," Fugazy was said to have Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, Conn., in mind for the match. Tex Rickard, who has most of the other leading contenders tied to contracts, had no conference with the champion.

FIGHT RESULTS

SYRACUSE—Eddie (KO) Burnbrook, Baltimore, knocked out Bucky Lawless, Auburn, 3.

BUENOS AIRES—Julio Mocerre, Argentina, defeated Antonio Ruiz, Spain European featherweight champion, 12.

FORT PIERCE—1926-1927 citrus crop in St. Lucie County will exceed 300,000 boxes.

A PIMPLY SKIN NEEDS SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist.

Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur.

Woman "Crosses The Delaware," But Does It In Bathing Suit

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 31.—(P)—What George Washington did 150 years ago in a boat, Mrs. Lotie Moore Schoemmel has done in a bathing suit. She crossed the Delaware.

There was ice in the river when she swam yesterday just as there was ice when Washington crossed to win the battle of Trenton.

In contrast to her swim was a pageant re-enacting Washington's historic crossing in which men clad in continental army uniforms pushed a small boat across the stream through floating cakes of ice.

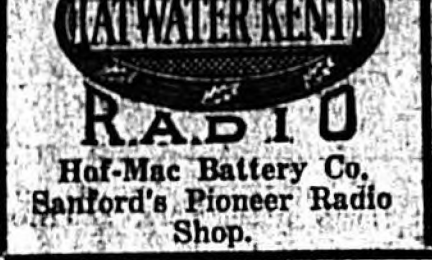

Mrs. Schoemmel completed her swim of 1,200 feet in 10 1-2 minutes, and said she felt no ill effects from the cold. The temperature of the water was 34.

She was attired in a bathing suit, having consented to wear the logs rather than create unnecessary censure during the visit of the Governor and other personages for the Sesqui-Centennial celebration. Ordinarily in swims she is coated simply in heavy gressee.
