LBJ Plans Luxury Tax Cut

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI)—President Johnson plans to ask Congress next year to repeal the 10 per cent federal excise taxes on toilet articles and cosmetics, jewelry, furs, luggage and handbags.

Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon announced the decision after talks with Johnson. The taxes concerned are generally measures enacted during World War II.

Dillon said Johnson also would seek repeal or reduction of a "good number of other excise taxes" in addition to the items he listed.

Dillon said repeal of the retail consumer taxes definitely would be proposed to Congress but the exact composition of other cuts had not yet been determined.

Dillon said the move would cost the government $550 million. He said overall cuts in excise taxes would not go beyond $4 billion—out of a total of $12 billion or $13 billion brought in by all 75 categories of excise taxes.

In talking about the $550 million excise tax cut definitely arrived at, Dillon said: "There are four basic consumer taxes . . . levied on the retail value, rather than the manufacturers. They consist of taxes on toilet articles and cosmetics, on jewelry, on furs, and the fourth is on luggage and handbags — ladies' handbags, which you always hear about. Those are the four that are involved in consumer items."

Paper Strike

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—The first major strike in the west coast pulp and paper industry in 30 years began today after negotiations for a new contract broke down and an appeal for postponement by Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz was rejected. The walk-out affected 21,000 workers in 49 plants in Washington, Oregon and California.

Harvest Labor Shortage Seen

By Julian Stenstrom
Associate Editor

The area served by the Florida State Employment Office in Sanford which concerns all of Seminole and Volusia Counties plus a portion of Lake County and the Zellwood area of Orange County, is likely to feel the pinch of an inadequate labor force during the forthcoming citrus and vegetable harvesting season.

This is the opinion of the Joe Foy, manager of the local employment office who said today that in this area alone he has orders from nearly 20 fruit and vegetable producing firms for a minimum of 1,770 workers.

"I don't know where to find them," said Foy.

This means that Foy, under the provisions of Public Law 814, must request the U. S. Department of Labor to certify the need for off-shore laborers when the domestic labor force is inadequate.

Under changes in present legislation, the U. S. Department of Labor now has to obtain final certification for off-shore laborers from the U. S. Department of Justice. The attorney general, according to Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz, must make determinations on all questions bearing on the importation of foreign workers for temporary employment in the United States.

The Labor Department has announced that a public hearing will be held in Miami Dec. 2, to consider criteria for the employment of foreign agricultural workers in the United States. It will be held at 10 a. m. in the Bay Front City Auditorium.

The hearing is for the purpose of assisting Wirtz in establishing criteria to be applied in making the necessary certification of need for off

WINTER HAVEN (UPI)—Barring further setbacks from nature, this season's U. S. citrus crop should climb back to the 1950-51 production level, and this means lower prices for consumers and a tough sales job for the industry.

Robert W. Rutledge, citing the November U. S. Department of Agriculture estimate of a 1964-65 Florida orange crop of 83.6 million boxes, pointed out to a citrus field day audience that not only was Florida hit by a production-cutting freeze in 1962, but natural disasters also have affected other citrus states.

He said California, Arizona and Texas crops have all been curtailed by freezes in recent years, and that hurricane damage has also held back the Florida crop.

This year, Rutledge said, the nation's citrus production should re-attain the level of 14 years ago.

If the Agriculture Department estimate holds good, Rutledge said, this means an increase of 30 per cent in Florida production this year, including inventory carryover. He said this, in turn, means concentrate sales will have to rise 27 per cent over last year and fresh fruit sales 41 per cent to move the crop and leave a safe carryover of concentrate.

Even then, the Mutual executive vice president said, consumers should find the price of a six-ounce can of concentrate down to an average of 21.5 cents, a 4.7 cent drop.

Same Aim Sought

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States and Britain are heading in opposite directions in their tax policies but the aim is the same—to regulate the race of their economies.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government announced an increase in British income taxes to take money out of the hands of consumers thus reducing demand and removing the threat of inflation.

The Johnson administration's $11.5 billion tax cut, which went into effect last March, was designed to put more money into the hands of consumers, thus giving the U. S. economy a shot in the arm.

The British tax cut in the second major step in a many-faceted program to curtail imports and increase exports. The program is aimed at reducing the deficit in Britain's international payments as a medium of international trade.

The first step, announced last month, was a 15 per cent tax on imports. But the government did not want people simply to transfer their demand for imported goods to goods made at home, thus the tax boost.

The theory behind the U. S. tax cut was that if you give a man more money to spend he'll spend it. This would amount to an injection of new money into economy, which in the eyes of administration economists was not advancing as fast as it might.

Unlike the British measure, the U. S. tax cut also affected corporate income taxes. The administration wanted to provide a direct incentive for U. S. business besides the indirect incentive of more consumer spending.

Sailor Injured In 3-Car Crash

A Sanford Naval Air Station man was slightly injured and a truck operator arrested shortly after 2 p. m. Wednesday in a spectacular three-vehicle collision on Onora Road and South Sanford Avenue.

Treated at the base dispensary was Charles Nichols. He was a passenger in a car operated by Loren Lee Hubbard, of VAM-7, at the base.

Highway Patrol Trooper J. A. Connell arrested the driver of the pickup truck, Mel Thomas Stevens, of Route 2, Sanford, on a charge of violating the right-of-way.

He said cars stopped west on Onora Road by Hubbard and east on the same road by May A. Kauffman of 104 West Jenkins Circle, had stopped for the red light. As it turned green, Hubbard started across Sanford Avenue.

Trooper Connell said Stevens, headed south on Sanford, didn't see the light change and slammed into the right side of the Hubbard car.

Force of the impact spun it around so the rear of his car slammed into the stopped Kauffman vehicle. The truck also spun around and was facing northeast at the intersection.

Jury Verdict Is Directed

A directed verdict of innocent was given by Circuit Judge Vassar B. Carlton yesterday in a breaking and entering trial of Theodore Dellfield, accused of the theft of items from the Tip Top Supermarket on West 13th Street last June.

The verdict was made on the motion of Prosecuting Atty. A. J. Hoseman after the state had concluded presentation of its evidence. Public Defender David Flaxer represented Dellfield.

U. S. Set For New UN Fight

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk warns "there is trouble ahead" between the United States and Red China unless Peking stops trying to subvert Southeast Asia and drops its demand for Formosa.

Rusk made the statement Wednesday night in remarks prepared for a television program in which he reaffirmed U. S. opposition to admitting Communist China to the United Nations.

The secretary, who appeared on a network program, said he did not believe seating the Chinese Reds in the world organization would temper their "militant doctrine."

The United States is set for another battle over admitting the Peking regime when the UN General Assembly opens next month. India and some U. S.-European Allies have suggested that seating the Chinese Reds might make it easier to deal with them.

In warning that there might be trouble ahead with Red China, Rusk said, "we've made it very clear that we are not going to pull away and leave Southeast Asia to be overrun by these people from the North."

Rusk said the United States has detected "very little interest" by Red China in disarmament and saw no merit in Peking's proposal for a global summit meeting on abolition of nuclear weapons.

Any effective world disarmament program "would necessarily have to include mainland China," Rusk said. But he said there was no evidence that Peking was interested in any "immediate steps that would seem to open up prospects for serious talks."

Drought, Storms Hit North

United Press International

A new Pacific storm slammed into the Oregon mountains with heavy snow today and spread rain southward with the threat of more mudslides in California. Searing Indian summer drought from Colorado to New England withered water supplies and turned forests into infernos.

Thunderstorms boiled up ahead of a cold front in the Midwest, where temperatures Wednesday soared to the record 70s.

Warnings to stockmen and motorists were posted for Utah, eastern Nevada and southern Idaho as another wintery storm plowed inland. Heavy rain and snow continued to rage through northern California and Interstate 80 was closed across the Sierras, where snow piled 40 inches deep.

Three inches of snow blanketed sections of northern and central Maine. A thick layer of fog in the New York metropolitan area shut down 66 miles of the New Jersey turnpike, stopped all flights at the Newark Airport and resulted in at least one traffic death.

The bitter drought raised fears of economic ruin for farmers across the Great Plains. Officials in Illinois and New Jersey called the drought the worst in history in their states.

It was easily the worst of the century in wide areas of the East.

Dome-dry forests and fields were destroyed by wildcat fires from the Mississippi River to the Atlantic Coast. Water supplies in many towns dwindled to the danger level.

New Troubles Arise In Asia

SAIGON (UPI)—Violent weather relaxed its grip on storm-ravaged South Vietnam today. The government turned its attention to another crisis — a showdown with disgruntled students and Buddhists.

The political unrest in the capital appeared to pose a more serious problem to the progress of the U. S.-supported anti-Communist war than the crippling blow dealt by weather.

Talks Continue

DETROIT (UPI)—Talks continued today in efforts to end a seven-day strike by nearly 28,000 United Auto Workers union members at the Ford Motor Co.

Special Session Asked In Suit

MIAMI (UPI)—Miami attorney Richard (Max) Swann filed a petition in Federal Court today asking for an immediate order for a special session of the State Legislature to consider reapportionment "on a strict population basis."

Swann asked the court to have an emergency hearing on his petition.

The Miami lawyer, who has fought the state legislative apportionment for the past six years, said in the seven-page petition the special session should be for "passage of an apportionment formula apportioning both houses of the State Legislature in accordance with population and for no other purpose whatsoever."

If the Legislature fails to meet, the petition says, or fails to pass a "fair measure," the court was asked "to order apportionment in the State of Florida by judicial decree."

Swann already has before a three-judge federal panel in Miami a petition asking a date be set for the Legislature to meet and consider apportionment. Today's petition supercedes the previous one, he said.

Swann pointed out Florida voters defeated a constitutional amendment calling for a 43-senator 112-representative plan by a 2-1 majority on Nov. 3. The Legislature is currently set up under that plan.

He attacked the constitutionality of the Legislature and

Meanwhile, the truck driver, identified by county police as Charles Kettering, 44, of Geneva, is in county jail awaiting action on three charges. He is accused of hit and run, driving without an operator's license and driving while intoxicated.

Police said he was found in his truck about a mile from the mishap which occurred shortly after the Kinnard girl had alighted from a school bus and was walking home.

Lake Monroe Jottings

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson
Well, there is a certain kind of widows in the county this weekend. They are "Hunters Widows." The season opens Saturday, so they will be bringing home the meat for a while. Just watch for those snakes, men. . . . We want to wish some happy birthdays at this time. And what a coincidence it is that a brother and sister have the same birthday too. Alfred Greene was 10 years on Nov. 9th and sister Shirley was 8 on the same day. According to my mother Barbara they think it is great. So happy birthday you two. . . . Also another young man near Shirley and Alfred had one. . . . Little Dale Austin just turned 7 years old. So lets wish him a happy birthday. . . . Hope you were among those at the concert given by the High School Glee Club Tuesday evening. One of our boys out this way sang, Bernie Harbour, Number 22 on football team, and Martha Kosky did a duet together and it was so good. Among others out this way were Terry Rabun, Richard Hittell and Suzanne Orseno. I really enjoyed it because it was done in a very jolly mood. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carlson and Doris, Mrs. Claude Hawkins and Sid, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hawkins and Mrs. Annie (Grannie) Hawkins metored in Cocoa last weekend where they attended a retirement dinner for Earl Howard. The turkey dinner with all the trimmings was held at Fred and Frances Thomas' home. Earl has been a long time employee of the Johns Mansville Company. The group gave her and Gladys a pair of "His and Her" rockers. . . . While in Cocoa Rena, Claude and Sid saw the Bill McGees who are former Monroe residents. . . . Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sapp of St. Augustine and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Holdridge of Daytona Beach spent one day with J. C. and Naomi Sapp. They all went fishing except Naomi who has been ill in the local hospital. eW are very glad that she is able to get out again although she is still under the doctors care. . . . Ted and Glenda Jackson and tot have gone to Miami to reside and their home is being occupied by Mrs. G. A. Bennett and family. . . . Glad to hear that Don Jimenez won his bout with a rattlesnake. He still is not back at work with the A. C. Doudney Co. but expects to return very shortly. Real glad to hear that. . . . We have another member for the "Grannie Club." Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson have a GRANDSON. Their son and wife, the J. W. Andersons, are parents of a son born Tuesday morning at the local hospital. So welcome Mrs. Anderson and congratulations to the brand new parents. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Keny Collette (Darlene Roberts) are visiting Keny's folks in Stafford Springs, Conn. Wonder how cold it is up there. . . . H. L. Johnson is in Ft. Pierce on a business trip. He better get home before the hunting season starts or he might miss that first turkey or deer (?) . . . The Lake Monroe Handy Helpers Club will meet Monday afternoon at my home. Mrs. Frances Warren will give them their first lesson on skin care. Be sure and bring your container for your lotion sample, girls. And also the item for the adopted family basket. . . . Be sure and attend the spaghetti supper at the Lake Monroe School next Tuesday evening starting at 5:30. It will benefit the school library. There will be books there for the parents to inspect and purchase and the kiddies will be shown a movie in the auditorium at 7:30. You will be doing a good deed if you go. . . . Zoning Change Protest Lodged Casselberry's proposed comprehensive zoning ordinance, which will be considered at a meeting Dec. 14, was the subject of a protest lodged Monday night by attorneys for Casselberry Gardens.

Also representing the firm was DeWitt McGee, a Jacksonville planning consultant, who suggested that parts of the comprehensive plan adopted by the town's zoning board were not commensurate with present zoning and planning procedures.

Attorneys for Casselberry Gardens indicated that unless a satisfactory compromise could be effected, the firm, headed by Hibbard Casselberry, would be forced to take the matter to court. Casselberry Gardens is protesting the ordinance in its present form which will call for several large parcels of land owned by the firm to be zoned from agriculture to residential.

The Council heard a petition signed by a number of Casselberry residents calling for action to be taken against horses and cattle being quartered within the town limits.

Town Attorney Ken McIntosh suggested Council investigate complaints and order the attorney to prepare an ordinance for Council consideration. The board adopted the attorney's suggestion.

Upon nomination by Mayor Owen Anstey, Maj. Joe Laird was confirmed as chairman of the Town Election Board for the forthcoming municipal election. He will be assisted by Graham Wilson, Mrs. Elinor Stores and Miller Evans. The group was authorized to obtain at least two voting machines for the December election.

In other action, Council voted to provide that contractors post building permits; consider an ordinance which would make the building, electrical and plumbing code commensurate with those of the county; transfer $1,000 to the Road and Bridge Fund from the contingency fund; reject all bids for the paving of the Casselberry "Y", and to meet next Monday night to discuss right of way problems on Winter Park Drive. Council also voted to annex V.F.W. property and eight other parcels, negotiate a contract for garbage service during 1965 and named Herman Joyce as the town's right-of-way agent.

Opportunities For Jobs Told

In a percentage breakdown of Martin employes he stated that 10 per cent are executives or supervisors, 35 per cent engineers or professionals, 15 per cent technicians, 15 per cent office or clerical workers, 10 per cent skilled workers, 10 per cent semi-skilled and under one per cent unskilled.

He also advised those present how to improve their chances at job interviews.

Defense Strategy Pact Reached

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The chiefs of the West German and American armed forces have reached what was described as "large areas of agreement" on NATO defense strategy. A Pentagon communique said the discussions between the military leaders centered on "the contributions of new weapons, including the Pershing missile system."

The Pershing is a two-stage, nuclear-tipped missile, capable of striking targets at distances as great as 400 miles. It is replacing the older Redstone missile in West Germany.

Seminoles Tangle With Pioneers Of Orlando Here Friday

About Sports

Thinking Out Loud

BY JULIAN STENTON

Seminole High's 36 to 6 win over Lyman High last Friday night was Coach Jim Pigott's 500th in his coaching career. He started coaching football at Fort Myers Junior High, coached at High Springs High and Newberry High before coming to Sanford.

In addition to the 500 win, on the other side of the ledger Pigott's teams have been beaten 51 times and 12 other wins have ended in ties. Not bad, though — 160 victories out of 160 games.

That kind of a percentage in any field of endeavor isn't at all bad.

Who do you suppose was peddling soft drinks at the concession stands at Lyman Field last Friday night?

Seminole County's superintendent of Public Instruction, that's who! Rayburn Milnes.

Cleaning up the desk:

Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay says that Monday night during his return bout with Sonny Liston he'll float like a butterfly and sting like a bee. . . The University of Miami's homecoming week will be featured by the "Hurricane Howl" to be held at Tahiti Beach. . . Not often we get "thanks" from anybody, but this week SHS Bandmaster Ernie Cowley came in to express personally his appreciation for our remarks on the performance of the Seminole and Lyman bands during last week's Tribe-Grayhound contest.

Notre Dame's Ara Paraskevas declares that the Irish wouldn't be where they are today if it weren't for chance this year to utilize specialists. . . Alabama's spectacular victory over LSU last Saturday brought the Tide within 13 votes of top ranked Notre Dame in the UPI ratings. Alabama replaced Ohio State who lost to Penn State. . . When his team lost its first three games they were saying that Penn State's Rip Engle was in for his first losing season since he became football coach in 1966. The Lions are now four and four, including that upset win over Ohio State.

One of the hottest rivalries in college football comes to an end Saturday when unbeaten, second-ranked Alabama and one-beaten, ninth-ranked Georgia Tech tangle for the last time in the foreseeable future. . . The series, dating back 45 games to 1902, was terminated by Tech, effective this year after numerous controversies between the two schools. . . On the other hand, Coach Bobby Dodd says controversies have nothing to do with it. He claims that Alabama is too tough to meet late in the season and that the Jackets want to expand their intercollegiate schedule since they're now out of the SEC and operating as an independent.

Bowl Game Set For Indoors

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Villanova, Boston College, Syracuse and Penn State are among this year's top choices from the East for the annual Liberty Bowl game. Bud Dudley, president of the Bowl charities, announced Wednesday.

The contest, which will be held in Convention Hall at Atlantic City, N. J., will be the first bowl game ever played indoors.

Casey now has 34 catches for 485 yards this season, breaking Florida's one-season record of 25 set by Broughton Williams in 1960. He is only three yards shy of the one-year yardage record of 484 also set by Williams. . . Casey's next chance to set more marks will come out week on Saturday in Tallahassee against Florida State's Seminoles.

Bob Pettit, an off-season banker, will bring his basketball deposits to over $2,000 before this week is over to become the first player in the National Basketball Association history to reach that bracket. . . Back to boxing for a minute—Ring Magazine says it will continue to recognize the winner of the Clay-Liston fight in Boston Monday as the heavyweight champion of the world. . . Some 2,000 erstwhile football fans are expected to follow Boston College into the Orange Bowl Friday night for BC's clash with the Miami Hurricanes. . . The Gators' sophomore quarterback, Steve Spurrier, picking up 141 yards in that losing cause against Georgia last Saturday, continued to lead the Gators in many departments. He's top passer with 48 completions out of 79 tosses for 630 yards and five TD's. He's punted 36 times for 1,433 yards, an average of 40.0. He also leads in total offense with 777 yards.

Recently two members of the Sanford Women's Golf Association were guests of Silver Lake Country Club in Leesburg and participated in a member-guest tournament.

Winners in the weekly Ladies Day tournament were: Class A, Grace Saylor; Class B, Susy Dickey; Class C, Thelma Voss.

Jet Bowlerettes Tied For First

Tina Parker had the high series with a 481 and not too many pins behind Tina was Bernice Smith's 478, Jo Brown's 476, Gert Bridges' 473 plus Meda Wiltshire's and Elaine Kostival's 473.

CASSIUS CLAY "Heavens above! Did I do that to the man?"

Cocky Cassius Sure Liston Will Quit

By Harry Grayson

BOSTON (NEA) — Cassius Clay is the logical choice to beat Sonny Liston again. There are a number of reasons why Clay figures to bust up and stop Liston within 16 rounds in Boston and on closed circuit television Nov. 16. The most important ones are age, speed and increased confidence.

Liston's only chance would seem to be to slow up Clay with body belts and hang him on the end of a left hook within the first few rounds. The ex-champion doesn't figure to become more formidable as the fight progresses. Clay's position figures to improve with every round.

There is no telling how great Clay would be had he been brought along against the best available opponents as a superior prospect before television. Sure he had a lot of amateur bouts, but the fighter learns in the money ranks and this fellow

400 Archers Bag Deer, Wild Hogs

TALLAHASSEE — Archers on the Eglin Military Reservation in Northwest Florida have chalked-up a very successful season and put their bows away at the close of the special archery hunt last Sunday.

According to A. D. Aldrich, director, Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, 400 bow-and-arrow hunters bagged a total of 36 deer and 30 wild hogs during the special 16 day archery hunt on the Eglin area. Last year's harvest during the special season was 24 deer.

Archers on the Citrus Wildlife Management Area in Citrus County have taken 18 deer since the opening of the special Citrus Archery hunt Oct. 17. The Citrus area will remain open for archery hunting on weekends through Dec. 6 and on Nov. 26-27.

State-wide archery hunting will be allowed with the opening of the regular hunting season for native game birds and animals.

Baseball's Hutchinson Loses Fight

BRADENTON (UPI) — Fred Hutchinson, former manager of the Cincinnati Reds, died early today at Munson Memorial Hospital. He was 66.

Hutchinson's physician, Dr. J. E. Beam, said the former manager's wife, Patricia and his two elder sons were at the bedside at the time of death. Hutchinson died at 3:55 a.m. after suffering from chest cancer since the first of the year, Beam said. The former manager was unconscious at the time of death, the doctor said. "It was very hard on his family. They had been expecting it, but it was still very hard," Beam said. Hutchinson had been in a semi-coma for the past week, according to the doctor.

Nutchinson had the kind of baseball career every player dreams of. He broke into pro ball at 19 and promptly became the prime target of every scout in the country by winning 25 games and losing only seven for Seattle of the Pacific Coast League his first year out.

He pitched for 12 years and Detroit landed him in 1939 by turning over $50,000 plus five players to the Seattle club. As a pitcher the curly-haired Hutch never rivaled either Bob Feller or teammate Hal Newhouser, but he won his share of the so-called big ones and wound up with a total of 95 victories against 71 losses.

He spent his entire playing career with the Tigers and showed such tremendous competitive spirit that no one was really surprised when they named him manager to succeed Red Rolfe on July 5, 1952. He took over the club in eighth place and that's where the Tigers finished that year. Hutchinson boasted two no-hit games in 1956.

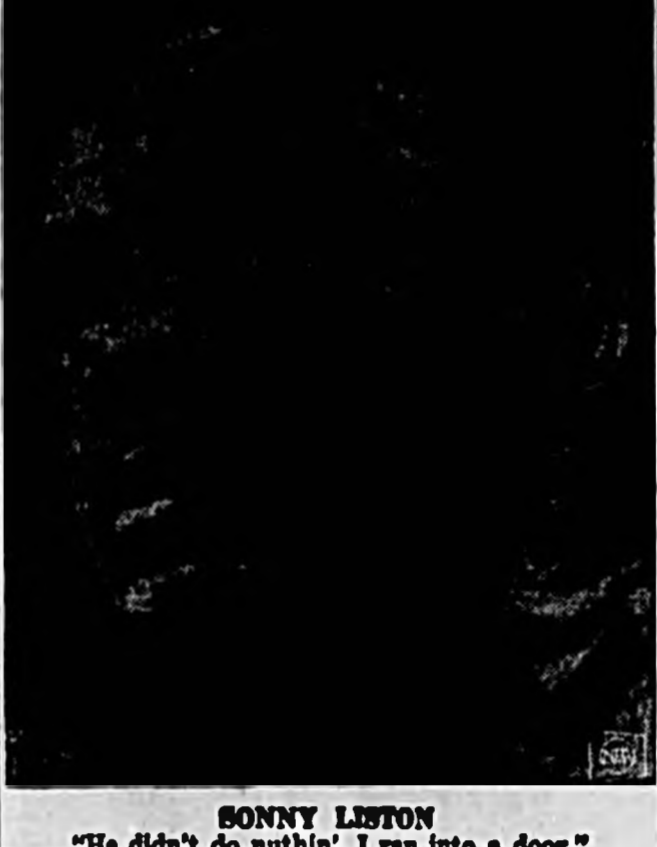

A man of strong convictions, Hutchinson resigned as Detroit manager on Sept. 30, 1954, because club directors rejected his demand for a two-year contract. Hutchinson had no trouble whatsoever gaining another job. Seattle snapped him up as a manager in 1955 and he promptly led the club to a pennant.

That showing earned him another major league managerial chance with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1956. He went back to Seattle in 1958 as combination field manager and general manager, but he didn't remain in the minors long.

Halfway through the 1959 season, he was summoned to Cincinnati to replace Mayo Smith as manager and two years later he led the Reds to their first National League pennant in 21 years. Probably the best appraisal of Hutchinson as a manager came from one Cincinnati veteran who served under him. "If you can't play for Hutch," he said, "you can't play for anyone. He's tough, but he's fair."

SONNY LISTON "He didn't do nuthin'. I ran into a door."

Liston Is Favored But Who Cares?

By Murray Olderman

BOSTON (NEA) — My only regret when Charles Liston fights Muhammad Ali on Nov. 16 for the heavyweight championship of oblivion is that they can't both lose. Find me someone who really cares what happens in the Boston Garden and I'll show you a loser.

You have to be a surreptitious reader of police blotters or slunk army exams to get emotionally involved in either case. I see where they've got All built up to be the greatest fighter since. . . well, since Cassius Clay. Maybe so, but the Clay I saw "annihilate" Sonny Liston in Miami last February disturbed more air with his mouth than the velocity of his punches.

He couldn't hit then, and training by bowling from the tops of pyramids has only hardened his lymphoids. The most amazing thing about the denouncement in Florida was that when Liston quit in a sit he still hadn't really been hurt by the Mouth.

To bring out whatever fight is left in Liston, somebody ought to pin a badge on Clay. Sonny hasn't missed many cops, from Philadelphia to Denver. Liston is not as fast as Clay, nor as sociable, but a 20-foot ring is bound to bring them together some time during the night. Like Joe Louis once said, "The man can run, but he can't hide." And even if Clay runs, runs, runs, that doesn't mean he wins the fight.

The point is that Sonny is a strong hitter (you don't lose that kind of an old as Archie Moore when the Venerable One decked Rocky Marciano). I'm not so sure about Clay's courage, either. That wild look in his eyes at the noon weigh-in last February in Miami was no act. This was a hysterical kid who made the doctor wonder if he should be allowed to get in the ring.

He has been living at a frenetic pace since he became the heavyweight champion, concerning himself with sociological evangelism he isn't equipped to handle. I got to be convinced he can count cubes in an army exam before I buy his concept of the world.

I'm not much of a Liston guy either. I find him arrogant, sullen and suspicious. So they tell me he's good to little kids. It's not worth it to wear black velvet shorts again. The early 11-5 odds favoring Liston are probably out of line, like Sonny's announced age of 31. But I still make him the favorite.

Since picking a winner is as traditional as a $2 bet, and with about the same degree of risk, my guess is that Liston will get to Clay and stop him in the ninth round because he has the instinct of the jungle to sustain him.

The only way Sonny can survive as a fighter of any repute is to beat Clay.

Locals' Last League Tilt

The principal cause of any worry the SHS coaches may have, however, is the fact that the Pioneers haven't been beaten badly by anyone. And in doing so they have scored no less than 119 points.

The Pioneers have completed 29 of 90 passes for a .322 percentage and this has accounted for 401 yards through the air lanes.

But Pigott looks at it another way, too. "For example," he says, "the Pioneers had the Boone Braves 13 to 0 at the halftime in their contest earlier this season. The Braves did bounce back, however, to win 19 to 13."

While the Pioneers do pack an offensive punch, they haven't been able to display any consistency in their defense. Statistically speaking, Oak Ridge has yielded 96 first downs, 1,334 rushing yards, 723 yards through the air and have intercepted only seven passes.

Apparently, their offensive game has been more than offset by their inability to defend the opposition. Therefore, Friday night's affair could be a wide open ball game with more than a patron's money's worth of scoring.

"Our boys will be ready," said Pigott. "Frank Wigham will be back in uniform although we're not exactly sure how much the young quarterback will be able to play. Other than that, said Pigott, "We're up physically and mentally, too."

Jim said that he and his aides, Dick Williams and Jim McCoy have been working on their SHS defense this week. "Lyman found a weakness in one section of our defense last week," said Pigott, "and although we were able to correct most of the trouble at half time, we've been working to prevent it happening again."

Regular Bear Season To Open

TALLAHASSEE — The special bear hunts in the Apalachicola and Ocoola National Forests closed last Saturday and reports on the two areas indicate a total of 13 bears were harvested during the 28 special three-day hunts. Five of these were on the Apalachicola area in Liberty County with the largest weighing over 400 pounds. Eight bears were taken on the Ocoola hunt in Baker and Columbia Counties.

According to Walter Larkins, area supervisor for the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission and in charge of hunting activity on the Apalachicola area, there were more than enough bear in the area, and the low hunter success may be due to the shortage of quality bear dogs and basic information on bear hunting.

Larkins reported that all of the bear taken on the Apalachicola hunt were by experienced bear hunters and that successful bear hunting demands a good knowledge of bear and a good pack of bear hounds.

The same situation apparently holds true for Ocoola National Forest as Manager Brantly Goodson of the Commission's Northeast Region was quoted as saying, "We have been running out of our ears."

Hunting for bear in the Ocoola Wildlife Management Area in Ocoola National Forest will begin again with the opening of the regular hunting season Saturday. Bear hunting in the Liberty Wildlife Management Area in the Apalachicola National Forest will begin Nov. 21.

Snappers like those at the Miami Seaquarium are just that. They are well equipped for it, too, with teeth in their jaws and in their tongues.

Sanford Seminoles Win Invitation To Elks Bowl At Leesburg

Indians Undecided

By Julian Stromstrom
Herald Sports Editor

An invitation to play in this year's Elks Bowl classic has been extended to the SHS Seminoles, according to Head Coach Jim Pigott.

The Tribe would meet the Leesburg Yellow Jackets of the Orange Belt Conference—the only club to knock off the Seminoles during the 1963 campaign when the locals ran up a record of 10 victories against the one setback.

This season the Seminoles have a record of five victories, one loss and two ties while playing their first year as a member of the Metro Conference. The Tribe is almost assured of a third place finish, probably in a tie for second place, which—according to Pigott—is not at all bad for the first year, or any year, in the Metro circuit.

Pigott was asked, "When will there be a decision on the Elks Bowl invitation?"

Pigott said, "We will let the boys themselves decide if they want to play. But there will be no decision," he pointed out, "until Nov. 15."

The Jackets have virtually the same club they had when they beat the Sanford eleven last season. The Seminoles experienced an "off night" and everything they did seemed to be wrong.

Prior to the Leesburg encounter, Seminole has won five straight contests. They lost to Leesburg but bounced right back to win five straight, including the Frontier Bowl title against Kissimmee's Kowboys and the Orange Belt Conference championship.

Leesburg, on the other hand, has sported just about an all senior club this year and have racked up seven victories against one loss. One of the wins was over Lyman High's Greyhounds, 33 to 0, and their one loss came at the hands of the Wildwood Wildcats who have whipped everybody they've played so far this season.

By the same yardstick, Sanford has lost only 117 yards rushing while they have set back their opponents 214 yards.

The record of Tribe defense is due partially to the offense's control of the ball and the crashing line backers and line on defense.

The squad's aerial game has moved up with 460 yards gained passing while their opponents have 381 aerial yards with two touch downs made by passing. The Tribe has five TDs by passing.

All told, the Seminoles ofense shows 2046 yards gained while opponents have registered 1173, a 873-yard lead for the locals.

Kelso Rule As Champion Continues

LAUREL, Md. (UPI)—Kelso ruled the turf today as American champion for the fifth consecutive year and one of the great Thoroughbreds of all time after his brilliant victory Wednesday in the $150,000 Washington (D. C.) International.

Year-end ballots have not been collected and tabulated as yet and Kelso's unprecedented status as "horse of the year" five times in a row is "unofficial."

But so was his victory in the International after he charged across the finish line 4 1/2 lengths ahead of arch rival Gun Bow.

Jockey Walter Blum, who rode Gun Bow, claimed a foul against Kelso and for about 10 anxious minutes there was a chance Kelso might be disqualified.

That would have put him second as he was in 1961, 1962 and 1963. But the stewards declared the race was truly run and Kelso got his justly earned victory.

The enemy forces did not object to Eddie Nelyo, who trains Gun Bow, said, "John Gaines, Harry Alberts (towns) and myself saw the moves of the race and while Kelso did come over we feel that the stewards were justified in leaving the result as it was."

BOWLING QUEEN candidates are being voted upon now as they vie for the honor, with the winner to be announced at a Harvest Ball Nov. 19 at Melodee Skating Rink. The event is sponsored by the Sanford Women's Bowling Association. Among the entries are Linda Post (left), sponsored by Hemphill Motorettes, and Eleanor Anderson, sponsored by the Thursday Nite Mixed League. (Herald Photos)

Notre Dame Picked Over Mich. State

NEW YORK (UPI)—Notre Dame, with three games to go to complete its first unbeaten college football season since 1949, is a seven-point favorite to beat Michigan State Saturday.

The top-ranked Irish lost a 12-7 decision to the Spartans last year in a dismal 2-7 season, but now is 7-0, including a 17-15 squeaker over Pittsburgh last Saturday. Michigan State has won three in a row and sports a 4-3 record for the nationally televised game. (NOC at 1:15 p.m. EST.)

Second-ranked Alabama, having clinched the Southeastern Conference title, is a seven-point choice over No. 9 Georgia Tech. The Crimson Tide has won eight straight, while Tech was hurled from the perfect ranks by Tennessee, 22-14 last week.

Arkansas, ranked third and still jubilant over its early season win over 1963 national champion Texas also seeks its ninth straight win and is figured a 16-point choice to do it against Southern Methodist.

SONNY HAYES, local car dealer, will be running his 1964 Plymouth against Bob Tucker, of Orlando, in his '63 all aluminum Chevrolet in a three-out-of-five match race Saturday night at the Seminole Timing Association Ocala drag strip for the "Mr. Florida Stock Eliminator" title that Hayes now holds. Sugar Bowl Annual Agony Under Way

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Sugar Bowl officials Thursday were going through their annual agony of studying, waiting and guessing about who should be invited to the New Year's Day football classic.

The upsets of Georgia Tech and Florida last week confused an already confused picture here and one Sugar Bowl official said another Saturday of upsets "could ruin us."

Top-ranked Notre Dame, fourth-ranked Notre Dame, and tenth-ranked Louisiana State appeared to have the inside tracks for the Sugar invitation. But Sam Cozens Jr., a member of the selection committee, said "as of this moment we do not have any formal or informal invitations to any team."

Tribe's Record Looks Good In Comparison

By David Higginbotham
Herald Sports Writer

The Sanford Seminoles made a good showing against Lyman in the tilt last Friday and they looked much better than when they faced Bishop Moore a week earlier in a game which Sanford won 7-to-6. The Lyman tilt ended in a 26-to-6 victory for the Seminoles.

SHS has now racked up 101 first downs and limited their opponents to 64. They have posted 1566 yards on 298 rushing plays while their opponents being held to 792 on 285 carries.

By the same yardstick, Sanford has lost only 117 yards rushing while they have set back their opponents 214 yards.

The record of Tribe defense is due partially to the offense's control of the ball and the crashing line backers and line on defense.

The squad's aerial game has moved up with 460 yards gained passing while their opponents have 381 aerial yards with two touch downs made by passing. The Tribe has five TDs by passing.

All told, the Seminoles ofense shows 2046 yards gained while opponents have registered 1173, a 873-yard lead for the locals.

Vaughan Devine Receives Honor

By Fred Down
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Vaughan (Bing) Devine, whose trades made the St. Louis Cardinals into world champions even if they didn't satisfy beer baron August C. Busch Jr., has been named the major league executive of the year by the United Press International.

The honor came about three months too late to save Devine's job with the Cardinals but it did underline the remarkable series of deals which the 47-year-old unassuming executive used to build the Cardinals into the 1965 world champions.

Devine received 10 of the 20 votes cast by the UPI's 1964 board of baseball experts.

Solons Enter Braves Fight

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—The Wisconsin Legislature joined the controversy over the shift of the Milwaukee Braves to Atlanta, Ga., by passing a joint resolution Wednesday asking Congress to apply anti-trust laws to major league baseball.

Circuit Judge Ronald A. Drechsler set a Nov. 24 trial date on merits of a suit by Milwaukee County which seeks a permanent injunction to keep the Braves from playing anywhere but in Milwaukee in 1965.

Hole-In-One

Harold Sherwood, playing the Mayfair Country Club's course Wednesday afternoon, scored a hole-in-one on the fifth hole. The ace came on a 135-yard drive. Sherwood was playing with Saul Abramson.

Homemakers

By Mrs. E. L. Johnson

We have a request from Mrs. John Duran for Ice Box rolls. We found her several, all of which sound very good and easy.

ICE BOX ROLLS

- 1 cake dry yeast or compressed yeast
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 2 tps. salt
- 6 1/2 cups flour
- 6 tps. sugar
- 2 cups lukewarm water
- 3 tps. melted shortening

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. If dry yeast is used, combine the sugar, yeast and water and allow to stand in a warm place 1 1/2 hours. If compressed yeast is used, allow to stand in lukewarm water 5 minutes. Add salt, egg and sugar, if sugar has not already been added, and shortening. Add flour a little at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition until dough is stiff enough to knead. Knead on lightly floured board until the dough is smooth as elastic. Cover dough with warm damp cloth. Set in a moderately warm place and allow to stand 2 hours. Work dough, cover closely with waxed paper, and place in refrigerator overnight. If baking rolls for luncheon or dinner, remove desired portion of dough from the refrigerator and allow to stand 2 hours to warm to room temperature and become light. Form into rolls. Cover and let rise until double in bulk. Place on well oiled baking sheet. Bake in hot oven, 450 degrees, about 15 minutes. This dough will keep for a week or 10 days in a refrigerator if it is worked down each day to prevent its becoming too light. The dough should be kept closely covered with waxed paper to prevent a crust from forming over the surface. Makes 32 rolls.

REFRIGERATOR ROLLS

- 1/2 cup hot water
 - 1/4 cup sugar
 - 1 tsp. salt
 - 3 tps. margarine
 - 1 cup lukewarm water
 - 2 pkgs. or cakes active, dry or compressed yeast
 - 1 egg, beaten
 - 5 1/2 cups unsifted flour (about)
- Mix together hot water, sugar, salt and margarine. Cool to lukewarm. Measure warm water into large warm bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast and stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm water mixture, egg and half the flour and beat until smooth. Stir in enough remaining flour to make a soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic, about 10 minutes. Place dough in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover tightly with waxed paper or foil. Store in refrigerator until doubled in bulk, or until needed. To use punch down and cut off amount needed. Bake in 400 degree oven for 12 minutes.

It is getting very close to that important day in November, Thanksgiving. Here are several dressings for the "Big Bird."

TURKEY DRESSING

- 12 slices day old bread
- 1 pan baked or fried cornbread
- 1 can mushroom soup
- 3 cups chopped celery
- 3 cups chopped onion
- 1/4 tsp. sage
- 1/2 tsp. salt and pepper
- 2 cups liquid from baked turkey
- 1 doz. eggs
- 1 cup milk

Toast bread lightly. Add cornbread, celery and onions cooked together in one cup turkey fat or butter, until transparent. Cook covered. Usually takes 20 minutes. Break toasted bread into very small pieces. Mix thoroughly with cornbread. Stir into mixture sage, salt and pepper. Add cooked celery and onions, soup and liquid from turkey. Add giblets. Mix this thoroughly. Add hard cooked eggs, cut into small pieces and mix in thoroughly. When making gravy, add milk and liquid from turkey with several spoonfuls of dressing. Bake the dressing until thoroughly heated, about 30 minutes at 350 degrees.

CHICKEN OR TURKEY DRESSING

- 4 cups bread crumbs
 - 1 cup cornbread crumbs
 - 2 eggs
 - 1 cup chopped celery
 - 1/4 cup chopped onion
 - 2 tps. sugar
 - 1 tsp. salt
 - 1/2 tsp. pepper
 - 3-4 tps. chicken or turkey fat
 - 1-2 cups milk (enough to mix)
- Combine all ingredients. Keep thick enough to shape when spooning onto well greased baking sheet or if put with chicken or turkey. Bake at 400 degrees for 15 minutes. Serve with giblet gravy.

From that left-over turkey or chicken, let's make croquettes.

CROQUETTES

- 1/2 cup milk
 - 1/4 cup stock
 - 5 tps. flour
 - 3 tps. fat
 - 1/2 tsp. salt
 - 1 or 2 cups finely chopped turkey or chicken
 - 1 cup dry bread crumbs
 - 1 egg, slightly beaten
 - 1/2 tsp. pepper
 - 1/2 tsp. parsley
- Make very thick sauce of milk, flour, fat, salt, pepper and stock. Fold in turkey or chicken and parsley flakes. Cool. Put crumbs in shallow bowl, beat eggs in shallow bowl. Divide cooled mixture into 6 or 8 parts. Shape each into a ball. Coat with egg, then with crumbs. Fry in deep, hot fat.

For those who do not plan to have chicken or turkey, try this ham recipe.

CINNAMON-BAKED FRUITED HAM

- 3 to 5 lb. canned ham
 - 6 firm bananas
 - 2 tps. margarine, melted
 - 2 tps. lemon juice
 - 1/2 cup packed brown sugar
 - 1 to 1 1/2 tps. cinnamon
- Place ham in baking dish

Corner

and heat as directed on can. Cut each banana in half. Trim off ends of bananas. Twenty minutes before ham is fully heated, place bananas around ham. Brush bananas with butter. Combine lemon juice, brown sugar and cinnamon. Brush over ham and bananas. Bake in slow oven, 325 degrees, 15 to 20 minutes or until bananas are tender and ham is hot.

Or maybe you would like this one of ham with maple syrup as the main ingredient.

MAPLE-GLAZED HAM AND SWEETS

- 3 to 5 lb. canned ham
 - 1 lb., 2 oz. can sweet potatoes vacuum packed
 - 2 large red apples, cored and cut into eighths
 - 1/2 cup maple syrup
 - 1/4 cup orange juice
 - 1 1/2 cups brown sugar
- Heat canned ham in baking dish as directed on label. Thirty minutes before ham is fully heated, remove from oven and arrange sweet potatoes and apples around ham. Combine remaining ingredients in a saucepan. Heat and stir until sugar is dissolved. Pour hot syrup over ham, sweet potatoes and apples. Return pan to oven and heat uncovered in a slow oven, 325 degrees, for 20 to 25 minutes or until apples are tender. Baste occasionally.

We have a request for a Baked Fish recipe. We have watched our grandmother plenty of times preparing fish for baking. This recipe that we have is like the way she fixed hers only she added a slice or two of lemon with the bacon strips.

BAKED FISH

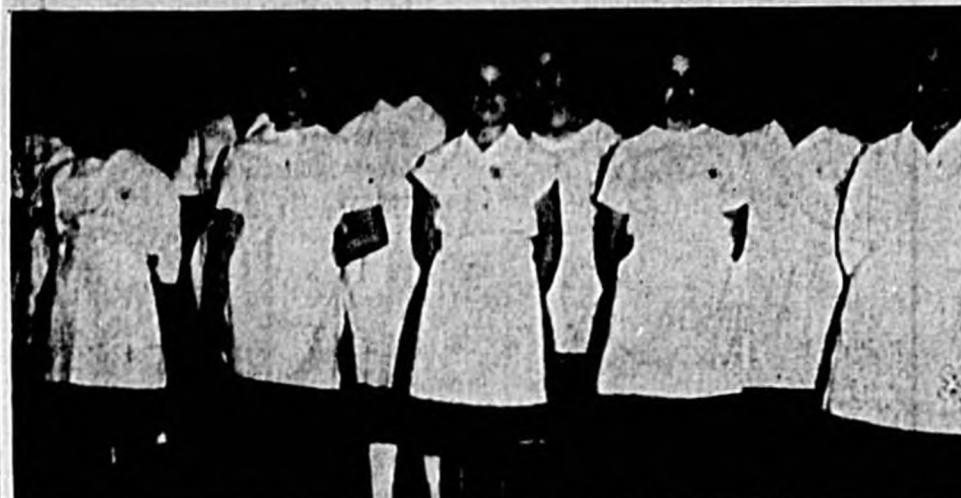

- 3 to 5 lbs. fish
 - 2 tps. salt
 - 1 tsp. pepper
 - 3 or 4 slices bacon
 - 1 large onion (if desired)
 - 1 No. 2 can tomatoes enough water to fill can (tomato)
- Rub cleaned fish outside and inside with salt and pepper. Place in baking pan. Lay strips of bacon and onion around and on top of fish. Pour tomatoes and water over fish. Bake covered for 1 hour at 375 degrees.

DILLED POTATOES

For a barbecue treat with meat, try dilled potatoes cooked in foil. For each serving, cut a medium-sized pared potato crosswise into 1-inch slices. Place on square of heavy duty aluminum foil and season with salt and paprika. Brush generously with melted butter and sprinkle with snipped dill weed. Put slices together to resemble the whole potato. Wrap in foil, sealing tightly. Grill 3 to 4 inches from coals for 30 to 45 minutes, turning occasionally.

MARTI COOPER, (seated) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Cooper of Lotus Lane Casselberry, entertained three of her friends Saturday night at her home for dinner and a slumber party in celebration of her 16th birthday. They were left to right, Sally Lunn, Melinda Casselberry and Judy Grimwood. Sally was also celebrating her 15th birthday. After the steak dinner and birthday cake, the girls enjoyed playing records and having Cokes and popcorn.

THE OSTEEN GIRLS 4H Club under the leadership of Mrs. Lowell Pettis is a very active group. At the recent carnival at the Osteen school the girls sang a group of songs. They were accompanied by Mrs. Norman Miller at the piano. In the group are first row, Karen Osteen, Beth Pettis, Deborah Carpenter, Bobby Joe Snyder and Brenda Pettis. Second row, Diane Pell, Lisa German, Gayle Uhand and Linda Whidden.

AT THE RECENT Halloween carnival held at the Osteen School one of the outstanding and unusual costumes was that of a bird in a cage. The bird was Larry Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Parker Wilson.

Annual Progressive Dinner Delights Xi Beta Eta Group

Xi Beta Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its annual Progressive Dinner Monday night. This dinner is held each year in honor of new members in the Exemplar Chapter. This year the chapter honored a new transfer member, Jessie (Mrs. Albert) Shaw.

The group met first at the home of Jeanette (Mrs. John) Alexander for hors d'oeuvres of pink punch, onion puffs, chipped beef balls, pretzels, olives and potato sticks.

The main course was held at the home of Sue (Mrs. E. C.) Harper Jr. and consisted of chef's salad and green goddess dressing and tomato-mushroom rarebit.

The last stop of the evening was at the home of Vermelle (Ed) Peterson for dessert of coconut snowballs, hot fudge sauce and coffee.

The group enjoyed their meal to the utmost and agreed it was worthwhile to try new recipes! The hostess for each course had been given the recipe for their dish at the last meeting and most of the girls had never fixed their particular dish before.

The president, Jeanette (Mrs. John) Alexander, read a letter from Phi Gamma Eta Chapter inviting the group to their decor party on Nov. 11. A letter was also read from Theta Epsilon Chapter. A letter was read from the Daytona Beach Beta Sigma Phi Chapter announcing the George

Casselberry Club Enjoys Review By Mrs. Dunwoody

By Jane Casselberry
Mrs. J. E. Dunwoody presented a review of Roger Tory Peterson's book, "A Bird-watcher's Anthology" and showed slides at a meeting of the Women's Club of Casselberry held Tuesday afternoon. Refreshments of cake, cookies and tea or coffee were served prior to the program by the hostesses, Mrs. C. K. Fisher, Mrs. Ben Evans, Mrs. Stanley Rapaport and Mrs. J. C. Weir.

As a lovely harvest time centerpiece, a cornucopia of fruits and nuts graced the serving table flanked by two orange candles.

A new clock-and-watch for desk or den is fixed to the end of a metallic colored hour glass. Sand in the hour glass shifts from one end to the other when the watch is turned upside down—giving the homemaker an accurate three-minute timer. For added convenience, the face of the watch features a calendar, showing automatically the day's date.

Church Rites Unite Miss Mikler And Mr. Olliff

By Mrs. E. L. Johnson

St. Luke's Lutheran Church of Slavia was the setting for the three o'clock wedding Sunday afternoon, Nov. 8, of Patricia Ann Mikler and Robert Olliff. The Rev. Stephen Tuhy officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Mikler of Oviedo and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. M. L. Holsonback of Seeds Ferry, N. C., and grandson of Mrs. E. M. Olliff of Oviedo.

The church was decorated with potted palms and baskets of white chrysanthemums, tuberoses and burgandy daisy mums. Candelebra flanked each side of the altar.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father. Her formal gown of candlelight satin featured a fitted bodice with a scooped neckline and long sleeves ending in points over the wrists. Alleneon lace appliques adorned the bodice and skirt of the gown. The modified controlled bell skirt had soft gathers at the waistline and was attached in the front with a bow. Her veil, which was worn by the bride's mother in her wedding, was of chantilly lace attached to a pill box of white satin. She carried a cascade of white roses and tuberoses in a crest shape.

Attending the bride as her maid of honor was her sister, Elizabeth Mikler. Her gown was blue satin and featured a scooped neckline and elbow length sleeves. The bell shaped skirt had soft pleats at the waistline and she wore a black velvet bow in her hair. Another sister of the bride, Sandra Mikler, was groomed in a gold satin gown identical to the maid of honor. She wore a burgandy velvet bow in her hair. Martha Olliff, of Fayetteville, N. C., was also a bridesmaid and her gown was of blue satin. Junior bridesmaid was Linda Olliff, cousin of the groom, also. Her gown was identical to Sandra's. They all carried cascade arrangements of burgandy daisy mums.

Leon Olliff, uncle of the groom, served as best man, and ushers were Andy Mikler, brother of the bride, Walter Teague, Timothy Colbert and Billy Mikler. Junior groomsmen were Joseph Mikler, brother of the bride.

The mother of the bride looked attractive in a two-piece blue wool suit. Her accessories were in bone and her corsage was pink roses.

Mrs. Holsonback chose a blue dress with contrasting accessories and her corsage was of pink roses.

Following the wedding, the reception was held in St. Luke's Lutheran School. The area was decorated with sprays of zinnias, chrysanthemums and tuberoses. The bride's table, overlaid with a white linen tablecloth, held a large four-tiered cake. Four columns were placed between the second and third layers and featured a miniature bride and groom. The other table, also overlaid with a white linen cloth, held a silver punch bowl, nuts and mints.

Mrs. Sue Colbert cut the cake, assisted by Miss Shirley Mikler and Miss Katherine Olliff. In charge of the punch bowl were Mrs. Betty Duda, Mrs. Anna Duda and Mrs. Pat Steppa. Floating hostesses were Miss Martha Mikler and Miss Susan Duda. Mrs. Herschel Sterling kept the bride's book.

For her going away outfit, the bride chose a turquoise wool suit with brown accessories. She wore a white rose corsage.

On their return from a short wedding trip the couple will make their home at 800 Pine Street, Fern Park.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Meritan Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Meritan and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Meritan of Rockville, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Holsonback of Seeds Ferry, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Porter of Daytona Beach and Miss Martha Olliff of Fayetteville, N. C.

Halloween Party Entertains Sorority

Members of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority and their husbands trudged through bamboo and shrubbery resembling the dense jungles of dark Africa on Halloween night at an authentic party staged by Janice and Ernest Cowley at their home. They emerged later into a gay and festive area decorated with colorful jack-o-lanterns, orange and black streamers, black cats, weird witches and monstrous bats.

Some of the clever costumes and characters depicted were "Beauty and the Beast," "Moonmaid" from Dick Tracy, "John Dillinger," "L.B.J." and a box of cigarettes with the slogan, "I'd rather fight than switch."

Costume winners were selected by applause from the group with Edgar Bruce winning the best made costume for "The Beast." Ernest Cowley won a close second in his portrayal of "L.B.J." Claire Fite took top honors among the females in her clever role as "Phyllis Diller" with Beverly White a close runner-up as "Minnie Pearl."

The guests enjoyed a series of unusual party games, bobbing for apples, and a midnight breakfast at the end of the evening.

Attending the delightful evening were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schirard, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Bukur, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Fite, Mr. and Mrs. Jim McKee, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tooke and guests, Mr. and Mrs. Bob White, Mrs. June Brodie and guest, Pat Miller, Miss Margaret Quarles and guest, Cliff Wood, Miss Betty Mann and Mr. and Mrs. Cowley.

Muriel Humphrey To Assist Lady Bird In White House

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey can be expected to play a big part in social life at the White House during the next four years.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson is delighted to have the wife of the new vice president help share hostess duties.

So are the cabinet wives, who have been working overtime substituting as hostesses for the much-traveled Mrs. Johnson.

Muriel Humphrey, 56, is a friendly, politically astute grandmother who has helped her husband during his 20 years in politics just as Lady Bird Johnson has helped the President.

The two women share a mutual "we've been down this road together" respect for each other.

In the recent campaign, Mrs. Humphrey took to the political trail as she has done for every election since her husband ran for mayor of Minneapolis, Minn., in 1945.

She was President Johnson's chief lieutenant on forays into Hawaii and Alaska, where she made political speeches, attended numerous receptions and performed the handshaking routine.

Mrs. Humphrey speaks in a simple, warm style and is at her best when she talks off-the-cuff about her husband and what he believes in.

She admits her greatest weakness as a campaigner is difficulty in remembering names.

Mrs. Humphrey is thin, of average height and prefers to wear her silver hair in bangs reminiscent of Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The Humphreys have lived for the past 16 years in a pleasant, modest home in suburban Chevy Chase, Md. The family's summer residence is a four bedroom rambler on Lake Waverly, 40 miles west of Minneapolis.

The children include daughter, Nancy, 25, and her husband, C. Bruce Solomonson, who live in suburban Minneapolis; Hubert (Skip) Jr., 22, a senior in political science at American University in Washington. He is working for a law degree and is married to the former Nancy Lee Jeffrey of Leesburg, Va.

The two other Humphrey sons also are in school. Robert, 20, is a sophomore at Mankato College in Minnesota; and Douglas, 18, is a junior at Shattuck school in Faribault, Minn.

Mrs. Humphrey probably can be expected to lend her name to projects helping the needs of children, particularly in the mental retardation field.

Household Hints

Cook frozen meat as soon as thawed, especially when the meat is thawed at room temperature.

Split and grill frankfurters for supper. Serve topped with heated canned applesauce.

Use flannel, cheese-cloth, or wool clothes for dusting. Coarse open-mesh material, synthetic fabrics or a new cloth may be lousy.

Weight for weight the nutritive value and the cooking performance of small eggs are equal to those of large eggs of the same quality, the Department of Agriculture says.

Remove excess brine from fish by adding a glass of vinegar to the water in which fish is soaking.

Don't shun bread and cereals in the diet because you think they contain only calories. Cereals provide more than a third of the thiamine, a fourth of the niacin, iron and calories and a fifth of the protein in average U. S. diets, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

14.6 Million Americans Suffer

One out of every four adult Americans either has heart disease or is suspected of being so afflicted.

Statistics from the U. S. National Health Survey show that 14.6 million adults (17 years of age to age 79) have heart disease, and another 13.0 million are thought to have the disease. The figures show that out of every 1,000 adults, 132 definitely have heart disease and 117 are "suspected."

The N.H.S. compiled its data by drawing samples of the population of the U. S. (adult population: 111.1 million), by medical examination, and by various tests and measurements. The study covered 1960-62.

According to the N.H.S. heart disease is more prevalent in women than in men. Women numbered 7,970,000 with definite heart disease, and men 6,632,000—a difference of 1,338,000.

The N.H.S. data also revealed that heart disease rose sharply with age. For instance, in the 18-24 age group, less than two per cent has definite heart disease, while in the 75-79 age group, 39 per cent of the men and 46 per cent of the women had definite heart disease.

Moreover, in the 75-79 bracket, the majority had heart disease of some form, with more persons in the "definite" category than in the "suspect" group.

Heart disease was also found to be more common in men than in women until the age of 35, and more common in women at older ages. In other words, heart disease rose more rapidly with age in women than with men.

The N.H.S. study showed that among the various types of heart disease, hypertensive heart disease was in the majority with 10.5 million adults in the "definite" category. Coronary heart disease was next with 3.1 million definite. Other forms of heart disease such as rheumatic and congenital heart disease, accounted for substantially fewer cases.

Under the "suspect" group, 1.4 million were thought to have hypertensive heart, 2.4 million coronary heart disease.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My only brother died in California a few years ago and was cremated. When I visited his widow this summer, I asked to be taken to the place where my brother's ashes were kept. She opened the door of a closet which was crowded with junk, old luggage and boxes jammed in every which way. Finally she unearthed a shoe box and said, "Here it is." I was speechless. I didn't even open the box, but handed it back to her. I was shocked that my beloved brother's ashes were kept in such a place. I cut my visit short, but it's been on my mind ever since and I don't know what to do about it. My sister-in-law goes to church regularly and says grace before meals. Please put my mind at ease with some advice. Am I overly sentimental?

DEAR ABBY: My second wife and I have been married for 15 years. My first wife died. I had eight children by my first wife and none by my second. When my children introduce me to any of their friends, they say, "This is my father... and this is Mary." Mary has gone all out to be a good mother to my children and she has been a wonderful wife to me. All the children are married and have children of their own, so they could call me "Grandpa and Grandma." Or they could refer to Mary as their step-mother, or even "Mrs. So and So." What procedure should I use to get my children to refer to my wife in a more respectful manner?

DEAR ABBY: That Tampa funeral director who said the one who cries the loudest at a funeral is usually the one who did the least for the deceased during his lifetime doesn't know what he's talking about. My husband was killed in an automobile accident in July, and I don't know who cried louder, his mother or me, but everybody at the funeral will tell you it was close. He was the pride and joy of his mother's heart, and there was nothing in this world I wouldn't have done for him. I don't remember what I wore to the funeral, but my sister-in-law told me later that I had worn my heavy winter coat (in July)! And I couldn't tell you who rode where in the funeral procession. All I can remember seeing was that horrid shade of no. 66, that Tampa man's letter burned me up.

DEAR ABBY: Why not call your children to refer and ask that they refer to your wife in a manner more pleasing to you? I vote for "Grandma" for the children and see nothing wrong with "Mary" the rest of the time.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

In theory, Bobby Jordan and Arthur Robinson who starred for the United States in the World Bridge Olympiad use sound opening bids. Therefore, Arthur really thought that Bobby would have a slightly better hand than he did for his spade opener.
 Hence, he tried for seven and finally settled for six trump. When he saw the dummy, he wished that he had stopped at game, but went on to make the best of a tough job. He won the first trick with the king of diamonds and led a low club. East won and returned a diamond. Arthur won in dummy, came to his hand with the ace of spades, and cashed the ace and king of clubs. The discards from dummy were two small hearts. When clubs failed to break,

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

In the never ending struggle to understand and get along with their teen-age children, parents would do well to remember that:
 No teen-ager is really interested in anything his mother or father has to say that begins with the words, "When I was your age..."
 Family outings won't lose their appeal for teen-agers if they can have a say-so in making the plans—and perhaps invite a friend their own age to go along.
 When teen-agers bring friends home they like to find food and soft drinks in the refrigerator and their parents too occupied with their own affairs to sit down and try to help entertain their friends.
 When parents start criticizing their teen-ager's friends they are building the wall between the two generations just a little bit higher.
 It's wise for parents to save "no" for important matters and to let the teen-agers have their way when there is nothing important at stake. This saves a lot of wear and tear on the parents and also makes the "no" seem more reasonable.
 Instead of striving for a teen-ager's approval parents should try to merit his respect. Approval can be bought by constant giving in but respect has to be earned by wisdom, fairness and patience.
 Privacy is important to teen-agers and parents should refrain from asking, "Who was that you were talking to on the telephone?" "Why don't you want to go to the party?" etc. The fewer prying questions parents ask the more likely they are to be told the important things.
 Mom and dad might also face the fact that they are as much an enigma to the kids as the youngsters are to them.

New things come at the right time for gift giving and at the Singer Company retail centers you will find the "new sounds at Singer"—home entertainment products. The company is old and very American but they have gone ahead to do new things. Now, besides the hum of your sewing machine, you can have the sounds of a remarkable small TV set, a battery-operated transistor phonograph (I loved this) or a portable stereophonic phonograph, all with the stamp of a well-loved and well-known American company.

Here's a salute to the gray-haired ladies—Color Foam. You can see it as your cosmetic counters and choose such shades as Charcoal Silver, Smoky Sable, Satin Silver, and Silver Mauve. The names sound delightful and you can so easily use the push-button aerosol container. It's a wonderful age in which we live! At last, at last, women ARE wearing long gloves with their coats and dresses. They add so much to a costume and give you that touch of good grooming and sophistication. The kid ones lined in sheer silk are very much wanted and are here to be worn—now!

A pale shade of violet is seen on many attractively dressed women lately, and a woman writer wore a suit in this color at a recent publicity luncheon. Her accessories and soft felt hat were in a subtle shade of pink, her pumps were dyed to match the suit and her lipstick matched them! Consider this idea for a new fall outfit.

Large pins are being worn but do not wear a necklace when you have this fashionable signature in jeweled effects, these pins are really exciting.

Knitted capes, stoles and suits are all the rage and are so flattering.

Highlights TV Time Previews

10-11 p. m. ABC, Sophia Loren in Rome. A glorified travesty, but one of the better ones. This is the ideal way to see Rome, with Sophia Loren as your guide. You'll take in many of the fabled historic and contemporary highlights with the glamorous Miss Loren casing your way. Forget all that talk about the show providing the feel of the city. To feel it, you'll have to visit it. But this hour may help hasten your decision. The script is often quite liberate but it occasionally trends toward cuteness, as in the segment with Marcello Mastroianni. One particularly amusing scene shows how the Romans react to an accident, in this case one deliberately planned for just this sort of reaction. A good commercial for the city's tourist bureau and a pleasant hour.
7:30-8 p. m. ABC, The Flintstones. "The Greenhouse." There probably isn't a better show on which to do take off on the current TV monster craze, but in all honesty the intent here far surpasses the execution. Just for the record, Fred and Wilma's new neighbors turn out to be a family straight out of the munnsters-Addams family school. But if you think they're horrible, it's nothing compared to Fred and Barney's vaudeville act.
8-9 p. m. CBS, Perry Mason. "The Case of a Place Called Midnight" last week we didn't have Perry at all, so as if to balance things out, this week

8-9 p. m. ABC, My Three Sons. "Goodbye Again." Tim Conidine wrote tonight's script (along with his brother John) for himself, so it's little wonder that he carries most of it. After an absence of four years, Mike's old girl friend (Cynthia Pepper) returns and Mike's reluctant to tell her he's now engaged to Sally (Meredith McCree). But he doesn't reckon with the deductive powers of Ernie and Chip, who are going through their agent 607 and Agent 008 phase. Cuts show.
10-11 p. m. CBS, The Defenders. "A Taste of Ashes." As grisly a horror story as TV has ever attempted and it takes a series of this stature to get away with it (and at that, it had to be postponed from last season), though we feel the subject matter transcends all bounds of taste. Based on an actual incident in British Naval history, this is the story of four men adrift in a lifeboat, three of whom draw straws to see which will be killed and eaten so that the others may survive. The trial is for murder not for cannibalism and the defenders admit their guilt. But, does their mo-

8-9:30 p. m. ABC, "Which of Wives." The plotting here is on the slim side, almost like a game of musical chairs as it doubles back and forth between New York and Paris. When Darrin takes over a pile of his boss's work, Samantha lets her mother talk her into a quick trip to Paris where they immediately run into Darrin's boss. There are a lot of clever touches, but the funniest spot occurs at the end as Samantha and Endora spot-check planes in flight to see which one Darrin (who's going to Paris to find his wife) is on. Elizabeth Montgomery is as delicious as ever, with Agnes Moorehead another delight, and in context she gives the show a funny tag.

Horoscope Forecast

FRIDAY, NOV. 12, 1964

GENERAL TENDENCIES:

This is certainly a day when many changes can operate for you, but don't get restless or irritable or you lose out on the good will you could otherwise have from those who respect you and who feel you are able intelligently to handle any and all situations. Keep above reproach.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) If you analyze carefully all conditions about you, you find it is not necessary to make any radical changes at this time. You are somewhat frustrated. Take it easy, be kind.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You can easily alienate some valuable friend today simply because you will not concede some small point. Be big. Steer clear of social affairs, since they can be quite dull.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Any forcefulness on your part with outsiders can be very troublesome, so stick to big-wigs and do what is expected of you. Don't give in to temper tantrums. Safeguard your good name.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Although new postures may seem greener, this is no day to make any changes, despite the fact that it is Friday, the thirteenth. Keep promises. Work with a vim and you make progress.

LEO (July 22 to August 21) Gambling in any way does you no good, so be sure you are more than ever meticulous in current endeavors. Are you paying your bills as you should? Prove to mate you are loyal in P.M. Be devoted.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 21) Although a conference is necessary, you need not lose your temper and jeopardize a fine association. Listen to what partners say. Do something that will please them no end.

LIBRA (September 22 to October 21) If you keep rooted to your daily tasks, you will not get into trouble with newcomers. Be sensible where health problems are concerned. Take only the treatments you need.

SCORPIO (October 22 to November 21) You are in the mood for recreation, but look about you for something more satisfying, cultural. Try not to be so extravagant as in the past. Seek the dignified, the inspiring.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) By remaining silent and observing, you avoid that fracas at home that could be unpleasant. Don't fall into any schemes. Give polite regret immediately.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) It is far wiser to get busy with obligations you have to meet sometime instead of wasting time socially. Letters may knock you for a loop. Take them in your stride quickly.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) You may have many bills to pay, but if you budget wisely and consult with some good banker, all is well. Be sure to go to one who knows you well. Lay your cards on the table.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) Be sure not to invest more than is necessary, even though you feel you know figures and potentials well. Get affairs in best order possible. See that your health is improved via gentle exercise.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she may evolve into one of those persons who soon goes about with a chip on the shoulder and a doleful look if you do not point out that life is, after all, but a challenging game to test one's mettle. Give a fine education since the ability to whittle impossible tasks to operative size is definitely in this provocative chart.

"The Stars Impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Named After Indians
The Caribbean Sea was named after the Carib Indians who, at the time of the Spanish conquest, were cannibalistic. The English word "cannibal" comes from one of the terms used by the Arawak to refer to the Carib Indians, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK activities at Seminole High School this week have been promoted by the school's chapter of the Future Teachers Association. Taking an active part in the program are (from left) Elaine Echols, Sue Jollett, advisor Miss Grace Marie Stinecpher, Lu Jollett and Crill Harden.

Future Teachers At SHS Promote Education Week

The Girls Chapter of Future Teachers at Seminole High is promoting American Education Week at SHS. Honoring teachers by placing homemade cookies in the teachers' lounge each day this week, they made it today "an apple for the teacher."

Posters through the campus call attention to American Education Week. Announcements over the speaker system each morning emphasize to students the importance of education.

Co-Chairman of this project are Sue and Lu Jollett. Members of the committee are Cindy Michaels, Sally Green, Jeanette Hermann, Marcia Lippincott, Cheryl Jones and Sarah Wight.

Officers of the chapter include President Elaine Echols, Vice President Crill Harden, Secretary Elizabeth Evans, Treasurer Susan McCaskill, Chaplain Marillette Welch and Donna Collins, publicity chairman.

Members of the organization are preparing for the state convention of the Future Teachers Association which will be held next week in Clearwater. Crill Harden is a candidate for the office of state secretary. Miss Grace Marie Stinecpher, an SHS teacher, is the group's sponsor.

VILLAGE of North Orlando has recognized as a "thoughtful service worthy of commendation" work of volunteer police on special occasions. For example, here Bob Stephenson, wearing bright yellow slicker, escorts Halloween trick or treaters across busy Longwood-Oviedo Road to be sure the group gets across safely. (Herald Photo)

'Sally' On Sale At High School

The Seminole High School yearbook, the Salmagundi is now on sale. Miss Linda Mitchell, assistant editor has announced.

Miss Mitchell emphasized that no books will be for sale in June when the copies arrive, but must be ordered now. A $2 deposit is required upon order.

Seminole High School's 1963-64 "Sally" received the "All American" award from the National Scholastic Press Association and it is expected that this year's book will be better than ever.

Mrs. Shomate will be in Longwood next Wednesday evening from 7 until 9 p.m. to register voters at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Estes, 765 Lormann Circle S.

Girls Attend Camporee

Girl Scouts from Troop 338 attended the Fall Camporee at Camp Ticochee near Harberville last weekend with their leader Mrs. Nancy Russell and co-leader Miss Pamela Cannon.

The girls camped out in tents in the "Tall Timbers" campsite arriving Friday afternoon and returning home Sunday afternoon. They enjoyed participating in a wide game and campfire fun on Saturday night.

Members of the troop who took part were Eata Leonard, Karen Cass, Barbie Andrews, Cheryl Watters, Susie and Debbie Weber, Karen Donaldson, Pamela Lyon and Joan Higgins.

The usual police chores occupy time, checking up on violators of traffic laws, checking vacant residences and keeping an eye on vacation-emptied homes, answering complaints, supervising school crossings and patrolling over 500 miles monthly in the six-square mile village (plus the ranchlands).

The department was conscientious and considerate enough on Halloween night to don yellow raincoats (which are highly visible on even the darkest and eeriest All Hallow's Eve) and direct traffic on Longwood-Oviedo Road so that unthinking youngsters, pursued by witches and goblins, and trick-or-treating from one side of the Village to the other, would not be endangered by traffic passing through the city.

Gordon Kellett, owner of the Liggett-Rexall Drug Company in Sanford's Pinecrest Shopping Center, is sponsoring two trophies for the Dusty Boots horse show Sunday afternoon.

What Can Be Done?

Less than three years ago, radioactive fallout was pictured as one of the greatest potential threats to this nation.

Today, it's no longer fall-out, but drop-out; and the threat is shifted from radioactivity to no activity at all.

And where communities were undertaking crash programs to build fallout shelters, the drop out shelter—the public school—is already here.

The problem is how to get the drop out into it.

The central Florida Development Committee, in their current stay-in-school campaign, has just completed a study of how other communities throughout the nation have met the problem of the high school drop out, and came up with some recommendations for Central Florida.

The committee found that business, industry, chambers of commerce, service clubs and civic organizations in a number of communities have cooperated with school officials in successful stay-in-school campaigns, and in providing guidance counseling and improved local vocational training programs.

And that where such joint programs have been undertaken, a greater number of students completed high school and vocational training, and juvenile delinquency decreased.

For example: The Columbia, S.C., Chamber of Commerce distributed to each local junior high school student a copy of a stay-in-school brochure. One hundred volunteers from the chamber membership are serving as counselors to potential and actual drop outs and work in cooperation with the guidance counselors in each school.

Atlanta's American Legion Post 1 has approved spending $3,000 of its budget to provide scholarships for the stay-in-school campaign.

In Melbourne, members of a high school student council counsel classmates who are potential drop outs, with surprising success.

The Education Committee of the Winter Park Chamber of Commerce had 100 per cent success in a one month effort last May in convincing actual and potential drop outs to remain in school.

Elkhart, Ind., ninth grade junior high school students have a first hand look at the occupation they are considering in visiting plants, factories, stores and workshops, and talking to those engaged in the occupation they would like to follow.

In several communities mens' and womens' organizations have assisted school officials in contacting "no-show" students, with about 20% returning to classes following the call. Many students tell the members of the organization calling on them that they didn't think anyone cared whether they returned to school or not.

In several communities retired scientists, engineers, professors and teachers provide encouragement, counseling and tutoring for drop outs in counselling rooms offered by churches, libraries and civic organizations.

Under the Bedford Plan, inaugurated by the Rotary Club of Bedford, O., industry advises school officials of anticipated needs for trained personnel, and contributes what it can spare of machinery and equipment to be used as training aids, and provides skilled instructors for certain classes. The student is given credit as a part of his high school program for vocational courses taken at the high school. Business and industry annually hold an awards dinner at which special awards are presented to superior students in each area of specialization.

Thought For Today

I press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus.—Philippians 3:14.

Man's ability is derived from God and does not have to be acquired, as is commonly thought, but becomes apparent as consciousness is illumined by the divine light of Christ.—James Harry McReynolds.

The Lighter Side

United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — The other day I overheard a group of children discussing their parents.

"The trouble with adults nowadays is they don't know how to entertain themselves any more," a 10-year-old girl was saying.

"That's right," agreed one of her playmates. "My parents are miserable unless they have something or somebody to entertain them. They claim they can't think of anything to do by themselves."

A 9-year-old boy said he had noticed that adults seldom make things to play with, the way grown-ups once did.

"They have to buy everything and then they soon get bored with it," he said.

"I think television has ruined them," said the 10-year-old. "It leaves them keyed up and restless. If there's nothing to watch on television, they are at loose ends."

The kiddies may have a point there, but in my case it's a bum rap. I am one adult who still invents most of his own amusements.

Like when I first moved to Washington, somebody gave me a briefcase for Christmas. I didn't need a briefcase, but I started carrying it around with me anyway.

It gave me a great deal of pleasure and satisfaction to move about the national capital with an empty briefcase. I even took it to dinner parties and other social functions. I would call the hostess aside and ask her to put it in a safe place.

Eventually, the VIP set here switched to attach cases. That spoiled the fun of carrying an empty briefcase, so I began carrying a yard stick instead. This is not an ordinary two-sided yard stick. It has four sides. One side can be used for measuring things, and the other three sides advertise the First National Bank of Baird, Texas.

There is something infinitely enjoyable about going out in the evening, jauntily swinging a yard stick that advertises the First National Bank of Baird, Texas. I particularly enjoy checking it at a hat check stand.

Even more amusing is a picture that I have tacked up behind my desk in the House press gallery. It is a copy of the Mona Lisa, to which has been added a beard and mustache.

I put it up for the benefit of tourists, who frequently wander into the gallery by mistake. It always stops them cold. They stare at the picture a few seconds, then nudge each other and began talking in whispers.

I like to think that when they get back home and are asked what impressed them most about the U.S. Capitol, they will say that it was a picture of the Mona Lisa with a beard and mustache.

These are simple pleasures, yes. But they show that adults can still entertain themselves if they really put their minds to it.

ACT ONE, TOGETHERNESS. ACT TWO?

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Joel is like millions of modern young people who are worshipping "Vocational Guidance." Vocational analysis is often helpful but the leaders of American business, industry and the professions never took any vocational guidance tests. Instead, they followed the advice of the Jewish merchant shown below.

CASE U-423: Joel T., aged 21, recently graduated from college.

"But he is a problem," his worried father began.

"For Joel has refused to take two positions that I would consider wonderful.

"He claims his personality must be in harmony with the job he accepts and he felt there was no future in those two positions.

"So he has loafed around the house for the past six months, smoking cigars and watching TV.

"Now he thinks he needs an expensive vocational guidance analysis. Dr. Crane, is it true that there is a 'one and only' job best suited to each person?"

Actually, there is no future in ANY job!

For the future is always in the worker who holds that job. Jobs are just rungs on the ladder to success.

But rungs don't move upward; they are stationary.

It's the man or woman who steps on those rungs who does the climbing toward the top.

Whether you now wash dishes in a restaurant or shine shoes or peddle newspapers and magazines, you can get to the top if you realize your future lies in yourself!

In fact, analyze WHO'S WHO and you will find that the presidents of big corporations started out from all sorts of lowly rungs on the ladder to success.

A Jewish merchant in Baltimore once gave me some splendid advice for my psychology students at George Washington University.

I was teaching the various psychology courses in Business Psychology, Vocational Guidance, etc.

"Dr. Crane," this wealthy merchant began, "tell your students to take the best job available at the moment.

"Urge them to perform it to the best of their ability. "But warn them to keep on the lookout for better openings up ahead!"

That is still superb advice. It means that you should not remain idle or loaf around like Joel.

For every job offers helpful experience with people or business and mechanical gadgets, which in the long run you can capitalize on.

So don't become so idolatrous that you worship Vocational Guidance.

A battery of vocational guidance tests and a $500 fee may help assure you that as of this moment you are best equipped for dentistry or sales work, teaching or farming.

But human beings are not fixed and unchanging.

For example, today you might rate zero as a typist but inside of a few months, if you have the grim determination to take a typing course, you may blossom out as the best speed typist in your area.

Even a shy chemist or timid bookkeeper, can change in a few months and become a success at such a rigorous, extracurricular job as selling.

All of our modern vocational tests offer helpful sign posts, but you yourself must still furnish the motive power and the lubrication.

Moreover, the best lubrication for success even today is still good old-fashioned "elbow grease," meaning diligent work.

"Genius," said Thomas Edison, "is one per cent inspiration and ninety-nine percent perspiration!"

So Joel should quit moaning cigars and get to work at once!

Bruce Bissat -- Ray Cromley

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Even as he surveys the devastation visited upon his party election day, Sen. Barry Goldwater is arguing that the Republican future lies with his "choles not echo" brand of conservatism.

Yet some politicians and observers are wondering whether this approach to the electorate may not contain the seeds of its own destruction.

The theory, of course, is that, given an unmistakably conservative presidential candidate instead of a "me-too" prospect, previously disaffected Republicans will march to the polls from their stay-at-home hideouts and swamp the Democrats.

The disappointing size of the 1964 GOP vote turnout casts some doubt on the effectiveness of this approach, as applied by Goldwater. It is still too early, however, for any full analysis of 1964 voting behavior.

But the destructive seed that may rest within this theory is this:

Virtually all those who have propounded it, from the late Robert A. Taft to Goldwater, appear to have assumed that Republican voters drawn from hiding by a "clear choice" candidate would represent a total net addition to GOP voting strength.

Some Republican leaders assert, though, that this is never likely to be the outlook. In their view, a clear choice conservative, be he Goldwater or some other, will inevitably drive away large numbers of moderate and liberal Republicans who want a less starchy conservatism or none at all.

If these leaders are right, then the bonded conservative cannot hope to produce a full net gain from his haul of GOP stay-at-homes. Should moderate-liberal defections be great enough there may in fact even be a net loss to the party.

In the 1964 election, such defections obviously were massive. Fertile Republican ground like Westchester and Nassau counties around New York, and the whole suburban ring around Philadelphia, helped swell President Johnson's heavy suburban margins across the nation.

During the campaign, voter interviews suggested that many of these defections, plus a surprising number among solid conservatives, were a direct response to Goldwater's controversial attitudes on security — social and nuclear.

Possibly more probing voter researches, such as those usually conducted by the University of Michigan Survey Research Center, will be able to determine how many of these defectors would have voted against Goldwater even without the nuclear and Social Security controversies.

This residue of defectors, whatever it may be, is the "factor" which some GOP politicians say must inescapably be subtracted from Republican vote totals when a clear choice conservative is presented.

The 1964 party convention and campaign offer ample evidence that such conservatives do not consider it either wise or proper to back GOP middle-roads with accommodating appeals. The conservatives rank as heresy any departure from their rigid articles of faith.

Though Goldwater and some of like mind say themselves that the GOP is today a minority party, they do not propose, either, that any accommodating lures be tossed out for independents and wavering Democrats.

Given this conservative insistence on hewing to a strict orthodoxy, with its inevitable repelling effect on nonbelievers, some puzzled Republican leaders think the key question is this:

"Where is the clear choice candidate supposed to find the makings of victory?"

Letters To The Editor

Editor, The Herald: Are you present?

First you are for LBJ. Then on Nov. 9 you have a cartoon depicting what is to happen.

For you must know what is under that LBJ hat. It is Liberty that is covered up under the LBJ hat.

S. B. (Jim) Crowe PS: Let's hope he doesn't cover it as good as he has Billie Sol and Bobby Baker. (Ed Note: Jim, does that mean we will lose the "liberty" of fishing for your shad?)

Editor, The Herald: On behalf of the Seminole County Committee for Goldwater, I would like to thank the citizens for their support during the recent campaign.

Through the county-wide efforts, our organization was able to raise $2,184.91 for our local expenses. As this amount was attained entirely by local contributions, we are indeed indebted to the citizens of this county. Our efforts were not in vain as we did carry this county for Senator Goldwater in spite of overwhelming obstacles.

In closing I would like to leave this thought, "But however poorly fought the battle, there can be honor in it for those who strive, and in the war of ideas oftentimes the substitute for victory comes hereafter."

George C. Harden Jr.

Editor, Herald: I want to thank you for the nice cooperation your paper has given us. We here at the Humane Society need all the help we can get, both in membership and by donations.

I want to compliment Mr. Vincent Jr. on the nice pictures he has taken of animals. Especially "Julie" of the American Feline Society.

And don't forget our next meeting Nov. 16 from 7 to 9 p. m. to see our police dogs in action. Chief Williams of the Police Department has been very cooperative.

Outsider 'Lays It On Line' For Sanford, Seminole Economy

By Dottie Austin
A stranger took a long look at Seminole County and Sanford Thursday night, felt its fluttering pulse and made a sharp diagnosis.
"You people don't know what you've got here," Tom Gilchrist, vice president and general manager of WESH-TV, told members of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce at a dinner-meeting at the Civic Center.
"You see it every day and you don't realize that Seminole County, and particularly the Sanford lakefront, is the most beautiful natural area in Central Florida.

"But you're not doing anything with it—you're letting people pass you by—you're letting your shoppers go to Orlando and your tourists go to South, when you have so much to offer," he emphasized.
"The two most important people in the community are the paint-salesman and the landscaper. Florida, land of flowers—where are they?" he asked.

"The most beautiful yard in Seminole County is out there by the Osteen bridge. You ought to make that lady (Mrs. Arthur Andres) chairman of the Seminole County beautification committee," he noted.
"Parking meters are not your problem—not your problem at all," said Gilchrist.
"You must turn downtown Sanford into a shopping center. Get rid of those storerooms. Get your merchandise out where people can see it.
"Don't worry about vacant buildings. Tear them down and build more parking lots.

"Cover every inch of sidewalk with canopies so people won't have to get out in the rain or the sun.
"Give the customer the same service he gets in the shopping center and he will come to you.
"Make entrances in both ends of the store—how much room do you need for a garbage can?
"Hollow out a core area—put in parking—metered—meters are not your problem.
"Something else you can do is beautify your beautiful lakefront," Gilchrist went on.

"At those Interstate 4 exits, put up lights, plant palms, plant flowers—I don't care if it's 50 million phlox—lead those tourist right off of Interstate 4 onto that lovely lakefront drive.
"People come here to play, to vacation. You've got everything they want, you haven't correlated it.
"You've got all kinds of entertainment—horses, hunting, fishing, boats for rent, tennis, concerts, golfing, swimming, jai-alai, dog races, shuffleboard, picnicking—you've got it all in Seminole County and in Sanford—why don't you tell people about it?"

"The Chamber of Commerce is the bulwark of the community. You get more out of it than you put into it. It's what you want it to be," Gilchrist emphasized.
On getting industry he advised Seminole County to follow the example of Rochester, N. Y.
"You've got industry here, and industrial plants need supplies. Find out what supplies they have to import from out of state or up north. Contact those suppliers and get them to move here, close to their markets. Ask them, 'what can we do for you?', then do it. Match demand and supply."

"Business breeds business—related businesses need each other. Bring in businesses that complement each other.
"The possibilities of Seminole County and the city of Sanford are unlimited. You are at the gateway to the St. Johns River and a chain of lakes that covers 75 per cent of the fresh water fishing in Florida," the speaker noted.

"You think business is bad now? It's gonna get worse. They're gonna go on by you when I-4 opens all the way.
"But you can stop them. You've got plenty to sell. This is the choicest part of Florida. We used to keep this part just for Floridians, but now we've got to let them in, if we're going to stay alive," he concluded.

Three upright, reliable citizens of Sanford and Seminole County vouch for the following and The Herald prints it sans comment and as it was related by the newspaper's photographer, Bill Vincent Jr.

He was fishing late yesterday afternoon in the St. Johns River.

The hook was baited.
Fact.
It was baited for bass.
Fact.
"These bass did everything but jump in the boat. They hit the side of it. They churned the water. They took the bait. They spit it out when I got ready to haul them aboard."

Vincent says the same experience was recorded by Municipal Judge Kenneth W. McIntosh and Dr. Robert M. Rosemond, fishing in the area in their boats.

Vincent says he's going back there again this afternoon—with a new rig—and "get some of those buggers."

Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr. will speak briefly on work of the Seminole County Juvenile Council during morning worship services at Grace Methodist Church this Sunday. This evening service at 7:30 will feature a program on work of the Eye Bank and a film.
DeWitt T. Mathews, a director of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, will attend the three-day meeting in Jacksonville of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce starting Sunday. Mathews is also comptroller of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank. He'll return here after the final session of the 48th annual convention Tuesday in the George Washington Hotel.

Another reminder of your chance to give the Seminole Humane Society a big boost by attending the Monday night meeting at the society's headquarters on E. First St. You'll get a chance to see Sanford's newest police dogs perform and R. T. Johnson, society chairman, guarantees a swift-moving program and an early dismissal.

The Clock has it on good authority that one person, particularly, is watching the Humane Society's program with keen interest. The person is said to be ready to assist in a big financial way if the society shows a positive approach to becoming an active organization.

We heard of a fellow who as typewriter didn't have an 'x' key and he wondered how he could let the repair company know which key he was missing if he sent them a letter of complaint.

Proposal Won But Really Lost

For the lack of a nail, the shoe was lost. For the lack of a shoe, the horse was lost. For the . . .
And for the lack of 47 votes, the proposed Lake Monroe Fire District was lost in the Nov. 3 election.
Earlier reports that it had passed were in error. The vote was favorable by 241 to 69. But not enough people—registered freeholders in the district involved—bothered to cast their ballot one way or the other.
Had the 47 freeholders voted the verdict would be official.
Mrs. Camilla Bruce, Seminole voting registrar, put it this way:
There were 713 registered freeholders in the proposed fire district boundaries. Of these, 50 per cent plus one were needed to make a decision official. That would be 357 votes. And of these, 50 per cent plus one were needed in favor of the proposal to get the development wheels in motion.
There were 310 freeholders who bothered with the question. Forty-seven more would have made it binding.
Even had the 47 voted against it, the measure would have passed by a margin of 241 to 116.
But they didn't vote and now the northwest section of the county remains without a formal firefighting unit.
Mrs. Bruce and her staff checked the figures today and they revealed the lack of interest killed the proposal. The tabulations made election night were right, she said, but for the lack of a vote . . .

Sales of more than $25 million in two years is the report of officials at Deltona, the Sanford area's newest community.
And Deltona residents will be on hand next Tuesday afternoon at 3 to celebrate the birthday anniversary when a huge six-foot cake will be cut at the Community Center.
Attending the party will be Don McNeill of the long-time radio "Breakfast Club," and his wife. The McNeill program originated from Deltona last year on the first anniversary of the community.
The three Mackle Brothers, founders of the community, will be there for the party.
The corporation reported today there are now 650 homes either completed or under construction and the population has grown to 1,000 with 405 families residing in Deltona.
The area has 16 miles of asphalt paved roads completed or under construction and more than 45 miles of water, sewer and gas lines. There are also more than 18 miles of electric power feeder lines.
Water consumption is reported at 21,000 gallons daily and the community uses more than 4,000 cubic feet of gas each day.
On the cultural side, 200 Deltona residents are enrolled in the adult courses at the Little Red Schoolhouse. They have also organized a Lions Club, Civic Association, Homeowners Association and an Ohio Club.

Crop Jobs Open

By Julian Stenstrom
Associate Editor
Bill Anderson of the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association office in Orlando this morning told The Herald that he did not know how fruit and vegetable growers in this area of Florida would cope with the prospective shortage of domestic labor to harvest crops this fall.
"It's obvious that our supply of domestic labor in the southeastern states is slower in coming to Florida this year and that the number is in shorter supply," Anderson declared.
"If there is not a speed up," he pointed out, "the situation could become critical, particularly when fruit reaches maturity."
Anderson said that all growers throughout the nation would come under Public Law 414 effective Jan. 1, 1965 when Public Law 78 expires Dec. 31.
"This means," he asserted, "that some 30 western states which have been utilizing imported labor, principally from Mexico, will have to operate under Public Law 414 and not 78, and that the Attorney General will have final authority on certifying a labor shortage."
Anderson explained that the United States has always had final authority concerning off shore labor. The Secretary of Labor has always insisted on growers meeting certain requirements such as working conditions and minimum wage standards and would certify a shortage of labor if growers complied with certain conditions stipulated by his office.
He said that these requirements in the past for the most part have been reasonable. However, he stressed, "If some are implemented by the Justice Department they could become not only unreasonable but also impracticable."

Absentee Ballots Ready Monday

By Donna Estes
Mrs. Onnie R. Shomate, Longwood city clerk, advised The Herald today that absentee ballots for Dec. 1 municipal elections will be available at her office in City Hall beginning Monday.
To be eligible to vote absentee, a voter must be out of the city the day of election, be physically disabled and unable to come to the polls or be prohibited from coming to polls by tenets of religion.
Absentee ballots may be returned as late as the day of elections, Mrs. Shomate said.

Talks Ended
MOSCOW (UPI)—Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai has concluded his secret talk with the Kremlin's new leaders and may leave for home tonight.
Appointment of special committees this year to start working on the problem and ready an acceptable bill for action would save a lot of time, according to persons who have suggested this possibility, Bryant said.

Heavy Snow
By United Press
Gusty winds which fanned forest and grass fires into infernos of flames in the drought-parched Midwest and Ohio Valley continued today and a storm which splashed two-inch rains along the Pacific Coast blanketed Western mountains with the season's first heavy snow.
State Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr. said he would be in favor of it "as a practical matter" so that the House and Senate could formally organize and get committees to study the tacky question.
However, he added, he would prefer to wait till after the regular session is completed so that the regular business of running the state could be accomplished.

Boy, 5, Injured By Automobile

Stanley Alvin Benton, five, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert S. Benton, was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital early last night after being struck by a car on State Road 427 in Midway Park.
The child darted across the roadway, according to Florida Highway Patrol Trooper Tommy Tomlinson, and was struck by a car driven by Charles U. Burch, of Route 1, Longwood. Burch was also treated at the hospital for shock, the trooper said.
Hospital officials reported this morning the child's condition is "good."

He Shoulda Stood In Bed

By Harry I. Johnson
You get up, half asleep, when the alarm goes off. Stumble to the kitchen, put the coffee pot on the stove and head for the bathroom and the morning shower. You go back to the kitchen and find the pot is on the unlit burner.
You go into the darkened bedroom to dress, now that the coffee drinking has been delayed. When you get to the office you find you've put on a blue jacket and brown pants.
You duck out of the office for a quick coffee break. Keep your eye on the traffic light, fearing it might turn red, and nearly break your foot neck when you find the curb is closer than you thought.
You run into the guy you've been trying to avoid, successfully, since you owe him money and he knows Fridays are payday.
You match with your coffee colleagues to see who pays the tab. And lose.
You're back in the office and the phone rings. The Bitter Half announces "Mother is coming for a couple of weeks, dear."
You exist through the morning, somehow, wondering how you'll fare in the afternoon, knowing full well this isn't one of the good days.
The Bull of the Woods calls you in, closes the door. And you know you've had it. You exit, shaken, but still surviving the rugged rat race of making a living. The chewing out wasn't as bad as you expected—or deserved.
Things begin to look up. Then you remember your car parked outside and sure enough you've got a ticket. It costs you the price of a top shelf drink.
The clock reaches 4:30 and the office help makes like a fire drill, with you in the lead. You've gotten this far through the day.
Your favorite innkeeper is off today. Sick, they say. His sub gives you ginger when you ask for soda but you drink the stuff anyway.
You get home. There's Mother unloading three suitcases although she insists she's only going to stay a couple of weeks. Three suitcases?
You try to watch television. The news's on. But Mother keeps yacking. You head for bed and step on the dog's foot.
You climb in bed and relax. Happy. You've lived through another Friday the 13th.
