Premier Asks Powers To Meet Riot Threat

PARIS (UP)—Premier Pierre Pompidu today demanded sweeping powers from Parliament to meet the twin threats of a Gaullist revolution and a communist uprising. He said only the declaration of a three-month state of emergency could save France from a "crisis fit."

A company of paratroopers armed with submachine guns took up positions outside Gen. Charles de Gaulle's country home in Colombey - Les - Deux - Engles in eastern France. In Paris, an interior ministry spokesman said the official mission of the paratroopers was to protect de Gaulle. An authoritative source said the guard also was 'keeping a watch on whoever might visit him. The threat of uprising that could produce civil war was so great the government ordered its ministerial staff to be housed in mobile guard—armored units totaling about 800 men equipped with tanks—late position in the Paris suburbs.

Giants' Camp For Boys Opens Here On June 23

Final details have been set for the opening of the San Francisco Giants' Camp for Boys, said Fred Ganas, director of the new camp that is scheduled to get underway June 23 and continue through August 17.

The camp will be held at the Giants' Minor League Training Base on McElwaine Ave., said Ganas. "We will feature baseball, golf, swimming, tennis and other sports," the director said, "as a counter to the heat, it will be a sports camp."

Ganas pointed out that there will be "a lot of activities" for the boys enrolled in the camp. "We will be going to places including Marineland, Silver Springs and Cypress Gardens," he said. "Already, the camp director said, applications are coming in from places as far away as the Canal Zone. "We are prepared to take care of up to 200 boys in this first year's boys camp activities," he said.

Ganas emphasized that the San Francisco Giants Camp for Boys will have a fine staff of experts in the field of sports, there will be 24-hour medical facilities; and "we will have some of the leading people in the world of sports including Carl Hubbel, Hans Lobert, and Jay Hebert.

"The very finest food obtainable will be served," said Ganas, "and added that food will be prepared under the direction of an expert chef "who knows what a boys appetite can be."

"We plan to have a competitive type program for boys in our camp," Camp Director Ganas pointed out, and then emphasized that every boy will have plenty of time "in his particular field of sports."

In other words, commented the Camp director, "We will have a rounded program with boys competing in their own age group."

Ganas said that boys 8 to 15 years of age will be acceptable at the new camp starting this summer. "Certainly, we're going to have one of the finest camps in Florida with a program of sports and related activities second to none."

County Students Must Take 9 Years Of Math, Science

Beginning with the first grade both mathematics and science are included in the Seminole County curriculum. All Seminole County students are required to take both mathematics and science for nine years. At the high school level, advanced mathematics and advanced science courses are available to all high school students in the county.

This year out of the 1015 high school students enrolled in the county system, 904 or 88% are presently enrolled in advanced mathematics courses. The advanced mathematics courses now available in the county include algebra I and II, advanced mathematics, plane geometry, solid geometry, and trigonometry. The increased interest in mathematics is evidenced by the increased enrollment in advanced mathematics courses over the past five years. During the past five years the high school population has experienced a growth of 40%. A recent survey revealed that during the same period the enrollment in advanced mathematics courses has increased 70%.

Recent scores on the Florida State twelfth grade tests indicate that Seminole County students achieved as well as other students in the state with the same ability. Results of this year's Florida State-wide ninth grade testing program show the Seminole County students average to be higher than the national average in mathematics.

In Seminole County the science and mathematics programs occupy an important yet integral part of the total educational program, along with the English, social studies, and other programs. The standards placed on the total educational program rather than on specific subject areas.

The Armed Forces Day Parade will step off tomorrow morning from the corner of First St. and Sanford Ave. at exactly 10 o'clock said Joel Field, chairman of the Armed Forces Day celebration in Sanford.

There will be more than 80 units marching or moving in the longest parade of its type to be staged here.

Prior to the parade leaving the First St. and Sanford Ave. point, a convoy of convertible automobiles will move along the parade route carrying a bevy of beautiful girls from New Smyrna Beach promoting the Seaside Fiesta event of May 25-31.

Mayor Merle Warner is expected to greet the convoy headed by W. J. "Bill" Cosens, manager of the New Smyrna Beach Chamber of Commerce, at the reviewing stand at Magnolia Ave.

The Armed Forces Day Parade will move west on East First St. to Oak Ave., south on Oak Ave. to Second St., east on Second St. to Pine Ave. where the parade will disband.

In the first section, George Maybury will be Deputy Marshal, and it will include the Chief of Police, the Seminole County Sheriff, the Florida Highway Patrol, City officials, County officials, Armed Forces Day Committee, Civil Defense and Post Office trucks, Chief of the Sanford Fire Department, and the new fire equipment.

Grand Marshall of the Parade, J. Q. "Slim" Galloway, has asked that all units entering the parade join the convoy by entering East First St. from McElwaine Ave. in order that confusion might be eliminated.

Longwood Co/C To Elect Three New Directors

Three directors must be elected to share duties imposed by by-laws of the Longwood Area Chamber of Commerce. Under the local rules, three directors are elected each year to serve a three-year term, and one may not immediately succeed himself.

G. B. Henson, Ralph Hammond and Charlie Morrison are outgoing directors, having served their terms. Henson has served as treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce for the past two years.

Nine names were placed in nomination from which the three receiving the highest number of votes are declared elected. These names will be printed on ballots to be mailed to each member of the Chamber who in turn will mark his choice for the three directors. The ballots will be counted by a balloting committee and the elected announced at the regular meeting of the Chamber in June.

The board selected Millard Williamson, a banker of Haines City, as second vice president to aid in the membership drive. The board agreed unanimously to embark on the fund-raising drive.

Farm Housing Loan Program Is Expanded

More farm construction—with better homes for farm families, better shelter for livestock and improved storage facilities for machinery and grain. That's the prospect in coming years, says Curtiss J. Green County Supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration.

Recently, as an anti-recession measure, his agency expanded its farm housing loan program to the fullest extent possible under existing laws set up by Congress.

And Green reports that he already has received more than 100 inquiries from interested people in the area. To be eligible now, an applicant must own a farm that is in agricultural production and must plan to produce at least $100 worth of commodities for sale and home use, based on 1964 prices. Many part-time farmers who previously were ineligible can qualify for loans under the expanded program.

William P. Chapman, chairman of the Seminole County FHA committee said that 15 applications have already been approved by his committee and are being processed for loans. The construction work can start after the loan is closed. The loan bears a 4 percent interest on the unpaid balance and may be repaid over a period up to 33 years.

Chapman said that one reason for renewed interest in farm construction is that many of the farm homes and service buildings in the community were built about the same period 30 years ago and because of weather and age now need general repair. And in some cases farm owners need to replace them entirely with modern structures designed to meet present day needs.

In addition to financing major construction, the loan funds can help a farm owner repair and update buildings. For example, he may wish to add a bathroom including a waste disposal system, modernize the kitchen, add an extra bedroom, improve the heating, insulation and electric wiring, put a basement under the house, and cement floors in service buildings, or paint the house and service buildings.

Chapman reports that the agency has $400 million available nationally which can be used over the next three years for farm housing loans. He said there is no specified limitation on the amount which can be loaned in any one state or community. Chapman said that William T. Sheddick, state director for Florida estimated that if present farm housing loan activity continues as it has in the past five months, that more than $1, 500,000.00 will be channeled into this state by the end of calendar year 1968. Practically all of the money will be spent locally to purchase supplies at lumber yards and business places, and to hire skilled labor.

Full information and application blanks may be obtained at the FHA office across this area which is located in Room 417, Sanford Atlantic Bank Building, Sanford.

To Be The First-Born May Handicap a Child

By HERMAN M. DUNNISON, M. D.

IT'S OFTEN tough to be the first child in a family. These infants may have more needs than those in their way as they progress toward adulthood than any subsequent arrival in the family.

Parents generally make a good deal more fuss over a first child. And, consciously or unconsciously, they often try to dominate his every move.

Special Meaning
To most parents their first child has a very special meaning. He is a fulfillment of the marriage contract; he is a sparkling new gift which will bind the marriage more closely and bring untold happiness to the family.

Many parents, unfortunately, view this new arrival as an image of perfection, not as an individual with a life all his own, with his own potential.

Parental Interference
There is a great temptation for parents to try to relieve their own lives in perfection in their first child. Often they resort to techniques which will prevent the expression of the child's individual personality. In effect, these parents try to mold the child's life to fit their own desires.

Still other parents want their children to be perfect in their own right. Here again they act to destroy the individuality of the child, usually the first child, through strict discipline and by rejecting him when he fails to accomplish the goals they have set.

They create behavior standards that are unnecessarily high. They may insist upon a table manners, performance, cleanliness or neatness which are beyond the development level of the child.

Then, there is yet another hazard of being a first child. Because he is loved so much, because he is so precious to his young parents, he may be considered too fragile, too important, to be permitted to act on his own.

Thus, these parents tend to protect him from everything—from competition, from anger, from every physical hazard. They place a protective arm about him wherever he goes.

This, of course, serves to kill a youngster's natural curiosity to try new things and it acts to keep him from doing anything for himself. He won't act on his own, he loses his initiative. When a child is unnecessarily overprotected, he generally becomes overdependent.

You see, it really is tough to be a first child.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
Q. My child was stung repeatedly last summer by bees. She had a severe reaction and almost died from these stings. Is there any way she can be immunized against them?
A. Answer: Recent tests have shown that an extract made from dead bees and given in increasing dosage at various intervals will immunize a child against bee stings.

The War Against Crime Must Be Waged More Intensely Today!

The 1957 fiscal year witnessed a continuation of the record wave of lawlessness which has swept across the nation in the postwar period. That is the grim opening sentence of the latest annual report of J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The story he has to tell is a sorry one. Each minute throughout the year nearly five major crimes were committed—and a homicide, rape or attempt to kill occurred about every four minutes. Crimes against property happened with record frequency. As a consequence, the demands upon the FBI and other law enforcement agencies were extremely heavy.

There is, however, a brighter side to the ledger. In fiscal 1957, 96.7 per cent of persons tried in Federal Court as a result of FBI investigations pled or were found guilty, and the number of such convictions reached a 10-year high of 11,518. This figure does not include a great number of other convictions obtained in state courts and based upon evidence gathered by the FBI.

The FBI has a wide range of responsibilities than, probably, is generally recognized, and it is frequently widened still further by Congressional legislation. In the past year, for instance, legislation gave the Bureau new or extended jurisdiction in cases of kidnapping; the interstate transportation of stolen property; thefts from banking-type institutions; and malicious damage to aircraft or motor vehicles moving in interstate or foreign commerce.

Also, the FBI has the extremely important and delicate duty of protecting the civil rights and privileges of the people of this country. This is a field where misinformation and controversy are apt to be rife. For a number of years the FBI held a series of civil rights schools for police organizations, and special agents of the Bureau have made hundreds of lectures on the subject. The magnitude of the job is indicated by the fact that in fiscal 1957 1,389 preliminary investigations of civil rights allegations were investigated.

An increasingly important area of FBI responsibility is in the field of domestic intelligence. The purpose is to protect the internal security of the United States and to combat espionage, sabotage, subversive activities and related threats. And here Mr. Hoover's report has some significant things to say about the Communist Party, USA. Despite certain setbacks, he says that "a hard core consisting of thousands of dedicated Marxists in this country has clung to its un-American ideals and emerged into what it interprets as an atmosphere conducive to regrowth and attainment of its goals." The Party's leaders, for the most part, have long-established records of conspiring to teach and advocate the overthrow of the government by force and violence. It is dominated by directives from the Soviet Union. And the members "have become experts at seeking refuge behind the rights and privileges which they would destroy." In addition, the Party has successfully devised various "front" group which are used to dupe loyal citizens into supporting and promoting campaigns which will serve its end in one way or another.

Mr. Hoover's report is brief, but well-documented and comprehensive. It shows that the war against crime, in all its manifold ramifications, must be waged more intensely with each passing year.

It Can Happen Again: Here!

Have you forgotten what a polio epidemic is like?

Let this description of what happened in a single state, from a recent speech by Raymond H. Barrows, executive director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, refresh your memory: "People were cleaning their houses, raking up their lawns, discussing summer vacations on that warm spring day when four hospitals admitted patients suffering from high fevers and paralysis.

Still that wasn't enough to alarm anybody. Four cases don't make an epidemic. But as May passed, the dread word 'polio' began creeping into backyard conversations. By June polio had made its presence known with smashing effect. Hospitals began frantically checking their equipment and facilities.

July became a nightmare as the weekly number of cases passed well over a hundred. By early August the word 'polio' blazed daily newspaper headlines. That week 211 new cases were reported. Public gatherings were banned. Summer camps closed. Vacations were cancelled. Patients were bedded in hospital corridors. New words crept into the daily vocabulary: 'hot pack machines', 'Toronto splints', 'isolation gowns', 'iron lungs'. The National Foundation recruited 718 nurses and 81 physical therapists from other areas and rushed them into the epidemic centers. Polio chapters spent $481,000 and the National Foundation's New York office advanced more than a million and a half.

"Volunteers gave their time and energy until the bitter end—and the end came all too slowly. Not until late September did the weekly case load drop below 100. The last case of the year was reported just before Christmas. Health authorities then totaled up the damage: 2,516 persons stricken, 143 of them dead.

That was the state of North Carolina in 1948.

Last year, in contrast, the U. S. had no polio epidemics. To the Salk vaccine and the 65 million Americans who have been vaccinated goes the credit.

But with three out of seven Americans still unvaccinated, polio epidemics can happen again. For the National Foundation warns that paralytic polio cannot be really wiped out until every person under 40 has had his full series of Salk vaccine shots.

If you are one of those who haven't, don't take a chance. Get your vaccination now.

4 Bombardiers Score Direct Hits On Target

In an outstanding display of bombing skill, four Navy Attack Squadron Eleven (VA-11) bombardiers scored direct hits on a target just inside Cape Hatteras off the North Carolina coast.

Dropping small practice bombs from altitudes over five miles high, Lt. (jg) William Selvy, Lt. (jg) Dale Purdy, Ensign William Faulk, and Gordon Morris, AGC, all got direct hits on an obsolete landing ship-tank (LST). The LST is anchored at a bombing range where Navy aircraft drop live bombs in practice exercises.

These scores were confirmed by Heavy Attack Wing One early this morning.

Wednesday's phenomenal scores were part of the annual (ship-to-ship) bombing competition in which 11 squadrons are currently participating. Eleven's crews are dropping what is called a smoke signal when they called the Mark 76, twenty pound practice bomb. These bombs rebound that enable men stationed in towers around the target to score the drop.

The four bombardiers from VA-11 who scored the "hits" as they are called in Navy lingo, will become members of the "Bullseye Club."

Thus far five clubs of the bombardiers stationed at NAS Sanford who are members of the "Bullseye Club" are also members of VA-11.

In pin point bombing actual bombs are dropped on a small target, this is different from Radar Bomb Scoring (RBS) bombing where no bomb is released but the drop is scored on radar.

Mrs. Mary Detyns To Attend 5-Day Seminar in Miami

Mrs. Mary D. Detyns, a pediatric nurse at Seminoles Memorial Hospital, Sanford, will learn the newest techniques in caring for babies born prematurely in a five day seminar at Jackson Memorial Hospital, Miami, May 19 to 23.

Mrs. Detyns, one of 40 nurses and physicians chosen from a much larger group of applicants throughout Florida, will participate in a demonstration training program under the auspices of the University of Miami School of Medicine, Jackson Memorial Hospital, and the Florida State Board of Health. Chairman of the seminar is Dr. Robert B. Lawson, professor of pediatrics, University of Miami School of Medicine.

"Babies who are born too soon do not have the normal opportunity to live and grow," said Dr. Lawson, "and we must provide a special environment for these tiny infants in order to give them a better chance."

During the week nurses and physicians will be shown the use of the latest hospital equipment for saving the lives of premature babies. They will also have laboratory and field work to provide knowledge of nutrition and proper home environment.

Dr. Wilson T. Bowder, state health officer, Florida State Board of Health, through its Bureau of Maternal and Child Health, has set up one-day demonstration clinics at several locations throughout Florida in order to cut down the state's high death rate from prematurity. The five day seminar is the first effort at a longer training program and will be followed by other similar courses. At present, Jackson Memorial Hospital has the only premature demonstration clinic in the state.

Over 20 hospitals in 20 different counties are sending nurses to the seminar.

12 Horses Expected To Be Entered In '58 Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP)—Although Tim Tam is favored to follow up his Kentucky Derby heroics with another victory in the Preakness Stakes Saturday, the Calumet horse isn't chasing many heads back to the barn at Old Preakness.

Another candidate was added to the lineup for the second of the triple crown classics today when Elizabeth Arden Graham announced she would enter Liberty Bells as part of an entry with the highly-regarded Jewel's Reward.

An even dozen horses are expected to be entered officially today, which would make the 1958 Preakness the second-richest in history. The gross purse with 12 starters will be $150,000 compared to the record pot of $100,000 for the 1954 running, won by Hasty Road.

In addition to Tim Tam and the Graham entry, the other probable starters include Lincoln Road, Nouraddin, Billy Sullivan, Stay-sail, Gene Fishin', Pilon, Chance Is Tony, Michore and Talent Show. Tim Tam worked six furlongs in 1:17 flat Wednesday. It was not considered a particularly fast move, but Calumet backers point out that the Preakness girls have been on the dull side during the training hours.

Three other Preakness candidates were on the track Wednesday for drills. Lincoln Road worked seven furlongs in 1:33 flat, Michore went five furlongs in 1:02 and one-fifth, and Pilon finished six furlongs in 1:18 and two-fifths.

Whatever Happened To DICKIE KERR

By UNITED PRESS
The Chicago White Sox of 1919, later known as the "Black Sox," lost the World Series to the Cincinnati Reds five games to three and it would have been far worse but for little Dickie Kerr, a left-handed pitcher who wasn't in on the plot to throw the Series. Kerr won the third game with a shut-out and scored Chicago's second victory in the sixth game for two of the club's three Series victories. That was Kerr's rookie season in which he had a 13-8 record. He was 21-9 the following year, then 23-17 but the strain was too much for him and he went out of the league. He came back with a 0-1 record in 1922 for his major league swan song. Later, he managed for many years in the minors and is credited with inspiring Stan Musial to continue in baseball as an outfielder when an injury wrecked Musial as a pitcher.

Whatever happened to Dickie Kerr? Now 64, Kerr is an accountant for a hardware firm in Houston, Tex.

Today's Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY

United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—This may be a lot of Taurus, the Bull, but Fearless Fraley has to go for a colt named Nouraddin when they scamper around old Pimlico dome Saturday in the Preakness Stakes.

There are many ways to pick winners at the horse park. You can be scientific and mull over past performances, use the Chinese alphabet system, play the names or simply stab with a hatpin.

But old Fearless has finally decided that, in shooting for a star, natural thing to do is use a horsey horoscope.

Ergo, the sodalicious scorp is Nouraddin, an oil-burner born on May 2. That puts him under the sign of Taurus and he's a long-shot steal when you discover that Saturday his horoscope promises that "Mercury joins the sun, rich benefits are in order and fame can be yours."

Face Rough Afternoon Mercury, everybody knows, was the fastest getaway man in mythology. If his influence can help Nouraddin get out of the gate a bit faster than usual, the colt which came from 12th to third in the recent Kentucky Derby ought to have a look in when they take the Preakness picture.

The others, according to the Zodiac, are in for a rough afternoon. Take Tim Tam, now, the winner of the Derby. He's the favorite and he'll probably win—and be disqualified. The horoscope says so.

"Beware of possible misunderstanding and confusion," says the forecast for the colt foaled April 19, which makes him an Aries along with Lincoln Road and Gene Fishin'. "You are in a position to improve your occupational interests and earning power—if you pay careful attention to the fine print."

Tim Tam isn't known to be able to read and his jockey only went to the fourth grade. They are, you can see, facing difficulty. Aries, I find, is the starry sign of the Ram, and if they go ramming around at Pimlico somebody's sure to yell "fool."

Silly Needs Confidence As to Lincoln Road, foaled March 21, and Gene Fishin', whose birthday was March 27, the sodas warns: "You may feel driven or harassed." This, with 100,000 at stake, is a cinch and proves that the horoscope knows what it's talking about.

Silly Sullivan and Jewel's Reward, two of the other betshots, are under the sign of Pisces, the fish. This shakes my faith in the sodas a bit because neither moved as if they liked water in the Churchill Downs' swimming pool last Saturday.

Silly's horoscope says he "needs confidence" which is for sure after his 12th place Derby finish and "must be made to snap out of it." Jewel's Reward's star information is for "possible financial benefits if you pay strict attention to business." So watch out for this kid.

Talent Show, moving up into the Triple Crown free-for-all, is gaining support. But his horoscope warns to "be careful of ambitious plans."

So I've got to go with Nouraddin. But there are just two things worrying me. Horses can't read. And this may be an awful lot of Taurus—the bull.

Women's Golf News

Members of the Sanford Women's Golf Association will hold a husband and wife singles tournament Sunday at the Mayfair Country Club.

The two-ball Pinehurst tournament will be played over sixteen holes, since two have been closed for repairs. Prizes will be given for low gross, low net and closest to the pin on seven for the women and 16 for the men.

In the last business meeting of the year Wednesday at the Country Club, president of the Association, Mrs. Cris Hignbotham, praised the group for their work during the recent state tournament. An article from the Times Union and a telegram from Mrs. Roger Sherman, chairman of the state board, showered more kudos on the local golfers.

Miss Ellen Betts gave a report on the state board meeting. Other reports were given from committee chairmen.

The annual W. G. A. banquet will be held Saturday, May 24 at the Mayfair Country Club. Trophies for the club championship will be awarded at this time. Reservations should be made or cancelled by May 31, with Mrs. Helen Andrew or Mrs. David Cunningham. Members, husbands and out-of-town guests are eligible to attend. Sidney Vihlen's orchestra will play for dancing after dinner. The banquet will begin at 7 p. m.

G. Howe Hockey League's Most Valuable Player Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings was named winner of the Hart Trophy as the National Hockey League's "most valuable player" for the 1957-58 season—joining Eddie Shore as the only four-time winner of the league's top award.

Howe, the second highest scorer in league history, won the trophy for the second straight season and also won it in 1952 and 1953.

The brilliant 30-year-old right wing took advantage of a split Montreal vote in balloting for the first half of the season and was beaten by New York's Andy Bathgate in the second-half voting. But he still came out on top with 105 points. Bathgate finished with 70 points.

SEC Track, Field Contests Underway

GAINESVILLE — Coach Percy Beard today named 17 University of Florida members to represent 14 freshmen to take part in the annual Southeastern Conference track and field championships in Birmingham, today and Saturday.

Based on comparative times and distances turned in this season, Louisiana State appears a walk-in to repeat as champions, while Alabama's well-balanced squad figured to finish second, Beard pointed out.

The Gators are expected to battle it out with Auburn and Kentucky for third place in the 12-school league.

Bumper Watson, Ft. Lauderdale, and Ellis Goodloe, Chattanooga, Tenn., provide Florida with a powerful two-way punch in the 100 and 200 yard dashes, and joined by David Jones, Pensacola, and Don Lucey, Daytona Beach, will offer a formidable combination in the 440 yard relay.

Other best bets for high scoring for Florida are Art Foster, Jacksonville, broad jump; Tom Michael, Ocala, high and low hurdles; George Pennington, Haines City, high jump; Larry White, Gainesville, 800; and Winfield Willis, Waynesboro, Va., shot put.

Jones, team co-captain with Pennington, is a potential high individual scorer in the meet. He will run a leg on both the 440 and mile relay, and will run the 440 and low hurdles, as well as throw the javelin.

The Gators have three good bets for high finishes in freshmen events in pole vaulter and high jumper Henry Wadsworth, Coral Gables, sprinter Tommy McEachern, Bradenton, and javelin thrower John Hagg, New Jersey. Wadsworth and Hagg have bettered Florida freshmen records in their events this year.

must decide who will live or who will die. What will he do? That's the desperate decision facing Tyron Power in Columbia Pictures' "Abandon Ship" due to arrive Sunday on the screen of the Movieland Ride-In Theatre. Fresh from his romantic triumph in "The Eddy Duchin Story," Power is presented with an even more dramatic role in "Abandon Ship."

And not far behind him, as far as dramatic hours are concerned, reportedly come co-star Mal Zetterling, as the ship's nurse in love with Power, who must stand by and see him give the grim commands that wrench her very soul. Lloyd Nolan also co-stars, as the gravely injured deck officer whose heroic example contributes to Power's final decision.

The rest shall be saved. Once he has pronounced his desperate rules for survival, Power himself ultimately falls victim to them; wounded in a fight with a mutinous passenger, he brings his frail craft safely through a storm and then himself leaps overboard.

Seldom was an individual handed a more extreme dilemma: Power's decision is said to result in some of the most gripping drama ever put upon the screen. "Abandon Ship" is based on fact. It happened.

Co-starring in "Abandon Ship" are Stephen Boyd as the purser who carries out Power's orders at gunpoint, until his soul rebels; Moira Lister as a faithless wife whose courage put every man to shame; and James Hayter as the ship's cook with 20 years at sea to help him survive this supreme crisis. Marie Lohr plays a retired opera star, one of those whose fate is in Power's hands.

Richard Sale directed from his own script. A Copa Production, "Abandon Ship" was produced by John R. Sloan for executive producer Ted Richmond and Columbia Pictures.

Also showing Sunday is "Count Three and Pray" with Van Heflin & Joanne Woodward, (Best Actress of 1957)

TV Review

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP)—What is happening at "Kraft Theatre" right now is as exciting as what used to happen on the old "Studio One" and "Philco Playhouse."

What is happening is that for the first time in several seasons the medium has come up with a weekly show whose concern is quality TV theater. There is a sense that minds are at work among Kraft's new production team who have some respect for the medium and for the audience.

But beyond mere respect, there is a sense of taste and intelligence and take-chances at work, qualities that all of the weekly drama shows on TV right now—including "Playhouse 90"—fail to display.

"Kraft Theatre" look on Robert Penn Warren's "All the King's Men," Wednesday night in a two-part adaptation by Don Mankiewicz. Part Two will be seen next week. Part One was a masterpiece. The details of Warren's novel must be pretty familiar to everyone by now so I won't force-feed you the plot. But, of course, Warren's chronicle of the rise and decline of Willie Stark to political demagogue was also a study of other things—ends and means, good and evil, the corrupting effects of power, the responsibility and guilt of Stark's creators.

It is to the credit of Kraft that it managed so successfully to mesh the narrative values of "All the King's Men" with a term I hate to use—its symbolic values. It's a terribly difficult trick to carry off on the small screen of TV where the slightest suggestion of overtones often hails the narrative progress of a play and bulks out with elephantine clumsiness.

As long as I'm passing out points, I'd like to hand out a bunch to the cast. Neville Brand, who played Willie Stark, was tremendous—brutish, ambitious, reeking with pliggish confidence and charisma.

Brand's performance swallowed up so much of the screen that the fine performance of Maureen Stapleton as his girl was almost blotted out. Admirable contributions also were clipped in by Fred Scollay and Perry Wilson.

And, of course, there was Sidney Lumet's direction which negotiated a difficult tightrope between realism in the small scenes. Lumet and his cast left me panting for Part Two. I can't think of a high school teacher by nature, I am not much of a painter.

Look back! Florence Henderson wasn't on Wednesday night's CBS-TV "Big Record" because of a death in her family. ABC-TV's "Disneyland" investigation past

Comedy Teacher's Pet On Ritz Screen Sunday

The uproarious world of the big city newspaper, backgrounding the tale of a book-hating newspaperman and a cave-man hating journalist teacher, moves into the Ritz Theatre Sunday with the Feathering-Seaton production of "Teacher's Pet." Clark Gable and Doris Day star in the Paramount Vista Vision release, which co-stars Gig Young and Mamie Van Doren, with Nick Adams, Peter Baldwin, and Vivian Nathan head-and present was pretty routine fodder, but I thought his cartoon glimpses into the future of our roadways a amusing. CBS-TV's "Armstrong Circle Theatre" starts Wednesday night. "Accused of Murder" was chilling enough as a subject, but one hour's worth of the "Innocent young man in the web of the police" proved rather tedious.

The Channel Swim: "The Verdict is Yours," CBS-TV's daily daytime half-hour trial show, will be expanded to an hour and given an additional nighttime airing beginning July 3. Its summer spot will vacate after June 26.

NBC-TV will unpackage a back-to-back block of four new daily afternoon shows beginning June 30—two quizzes, "Lucky Partners" and "Haggis Bagging," and two songs, "Today Is Ours" and "From These Roots." They'll go into the periods currently held by "Kitty Foyle" and "Madame Theater."

"Variety," the trade weekly, says Sid Caesar may do half a dozen specials for NBC-TV next fall. American Research Bureau's latest ratings have CBS-TV's "Gunsmoke" and NBC-TV's "Perry Como Show" running one-two in the nation. Ed Sullivan aligned CBS-Nash for 18 appearances.

CBS-TV will televise this Saturday's Prokaska race twice—once, after the second time, a few minutes after the race via video tape so viewers can observe its finer points. "Voice of Firestone" had its fall lease renewed at ABC-TV.

Brooklyn Gal Runs Dude Ranch

NEW YORK — Most of us are hicks at heart. That's why all the Westerns on television and the boom in the dude ranch business, says Miss Gladys Jaques.

Miss Jaques pronounced Jaques, a one-time stenographer from Brooklyn, is the boss of a 1,000-acre ranch near New Boston, Mass., in the Berkshire Mountains. She believes she may be the only woman in the country in sole charge of a dude ranch operation.

"Most of the ranches are run by husband and wife teams," she said. Miss Jaques is married to a New York sales executive, but said she is the sole boss back at the ranch.

Cowboys Genuine

"I cater to city slickers from the New York and Boston area," she said in an interview at the couple's Manhattan apartment. "But our cowboys are genuine; we bring them in from the West. They summer with us and winter in Arizona."

"There's something about ranching which appeals to almost everybody," she said. "Look at all those Westerns on television. Parents come and bring their kids and we get a lot of elderly people. About the only exercise they want is to sit on the front porch and rock."

She is affiliated with the Eastern Dude Ranchers Assn., which has members in New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

"As a kid I milked cows and rode horseback to school," she said. "The ranching isn't exactly new to me." When she was 14, her father died and the family moved back to Brooklyn. The store had been sold so she became the breadwinner, going to work as a stenographer for what is now the Chase Manhattan Bank.

As she pounded a typewriter, she planned how she could return to the country she loved. A dude ranch sounded like the solution.

After World War II, she found the spot she wanted — an old homestead once the property of Gilbert Clark, a famous New England watchmaker. In 1949, she quit the bank and formally opened "Lost Wilderness" to herself and, she hoped, some guests. A dozen showed up the first summer.

Today, the ranch accommodates as many as 100, is valued at $250,000, and includes stable, corral, swimming pool, cottages in addition to the main house, 20 horses, four full-time cowboys, a Western music band and other assorted help.

The boss is at the ranch most of the year, but when the winter weather is too rough or in summer when she wants a break, she comes to town.

"The change is nice," she said. "I don't mind roughing it in the city once in a while."

TV Property Used in Classroom Can Be Effective Aid

WASHINGTON — The Educational Policies Commission declares that television, properly used in the classroom, can be "an effective aid in the teaching process."

But it sharply disputed claims by "over-enthusiastic supporters" that "television can solve the teacher shortage, or bring about large savings in educational expenditure."

The commission is a body of leading educators, sponsored jointly by the National Education Assn. and the American Assn. of School Administrators. Its chairman is Dr. Herman B. Wells, president of Indiana University.

Enthusiasts have hailed television teaching as a major step forward in education. They say it can enable hundreds of students to sit in on a lecture or laboratory demonstration conducted by a single "master teacher" in a central studio.

The commission said a continuing experiment at Hagerstown, Md., has demonstrated that giving basic daily lessons by closed-circuit television can result in the "partial release of classroom teachers from the routine construction and delivery of expository material." This is good, it said, because it means the classroom teacher has "more time to help students with their individual learning problems."

But one great handicap of television or any other "mechanical device" like movies is that it provides only "one-way communication," the commission said. The teacher can talk to the students but it is difficult to work out suitable arrangements for the students to ask questions.

Petrillo Reveals Retirement Plans

NEW YORK — James C. Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians for 18 years, has announced that he will retire next month on his doctor's orders to "take it easy."

In a letter to the membership, the 66-year-old union head said he would "decline to accept the nomination as president" at the union's annual convention in Philadelphia next month.

"I cannot say that I am a sick man," Petrillo wrote, "but I am a tired man and I do not seem to have the recuperative powers I used to have. My doctor advises me that if I continue as president, I would have to take things easy. I just can't take it easy in this position without hurting the organization I love."

Americans Buy 7 Pct. More Savings Bonds During April

WASHINGTON — The Treasury has reported that Americans bought 7 per cent more U. S. savings bonds during April than during the same month of 1957.

Despite the rise in sales, the amount of bonds cashed in—4 1/2 million dollars worth—was slightly higher than the amount sold—200 million.

For the first four months of 1958, bond sales have been 11 per cent higher than in the comparable period of 1957. Economists have cited the trend as evidence that Americans are concerned about the recession and are putting a larger portion of their income into savings.

Speaker Relates South's Financial Improvement

Car Being Chased By Constable Hits Curve, Crashes

An automobile, being chased from Volusia County, went out of control as it hit the curve from Seminole Blvd. into French Ave. early Sunday morning.

However, the car, after skidding sideways for 50 to 60 feet and then skidding around, was not damaged.

Two Negroes, the driver and a woman passenger, were thrown from the car onto the pavement; another stayed in the car.

Constable O. D. Papineau chased the automobile from DeBarry when the driver left the scene after the owner of the car was arrested by a Florida Highway Patrol Trooper.

Papineau said "I have no idea how fast we were traveling."

Seminole County Deputy Sheriff Marion Driggers was awaiting at the French Ave. intersection for the speeding car. "It happened so fast I don't know how that automobile skidded into the position where it had stopped."

The Negro man, Richard Rogers, 34, of Daytona Beach, jumped from the pavement and ran into the woods west of French Ave.

The unidentified Negro woman was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital for treatment of a face and shoulder injury.

About 1:45 a. m. Sunday morning, Florida Highway Patrolman J. L. Sikes spotted the driver of the automobile. He was chased to Lake Monroe.

Sikes, Constable Papineau said, after the Negro climbed back on the road from Lake Monroe, was turned over to the Volusia County Constable.

Charges against Rogers, said Papineau this morning, are: No driver's license, reckless driving, willful and wanton, driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor, and unauthorized use of an automobile.

Family Argument Ends In Apparent Suicide Last Night

A 31-year-old auctioneer, Frederick Butler, who lived in the Westwood section of Seminole County, apparently took his own life shortly after 7 o'clock last night, climaxed a family argument.

Jaycee Scrapbook Wins First Place Honors In Contest

The Sanford-Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce came back from Tampa and the state convention of Florida Jaycees with honors in the scrapbook contest.

The local Jaycee organization won first place with its scrapbook on "Youth Welfare Activities," "Christmas Activities," and "Extension."

This year, for the first time, the Sanford-Seminole County Jaycee entries were judged in a population category of 15,000 to 50,000.

M. L. Raborn Jr., president of the local Jaycee organization, this morning said "I want to thank Dave Kligenamith who was in charge of preparing the scrapbooks and all who assisted him."

But, Raborn said, the South's financial improvement "is precisely because population in the South has not grown as rapidly as it has in the nation."

"Had the South retained most of its natural increase in population, its currently produced personal income would have to be divided out among more people and the per capita share would, therefore, be smaller."

Capital investment "The very optimistic income figure that gave for 1965 depends upon the persistence of two existing trends or rates of change . . . a rate of capital investment no smaller than at present, a rate of population growth that remains below that for the nation."

The meeting, sponsored by the Southern Research Institute here, sought to determine the prospects over the next quarter century for a state region stretching from Virginia to Louisiana.

The conference was built around the theme "50 million consumers" and Raborn laid the groundwork for following addresses by estimating population and income up to 1985.

Raborn said that the South's per capita income has risen 62 per cent between 1946 and 1966 as compared to 58 per cent for the nation.

Moreover, if existing trends continue to hold until 1985, per capita personal income in the South will then amount to $5,818 or 77.8 per cent of the national figure which would be $5,978," he said.

Open Letter To People Of Sanford

By Commander Lewis D. Tamny, Acting Commanding Officer

On Saturday, May 17, 1968, the people of the United States were joined with their brothers and sisters in uniform in observing the ninth annual Armed Forces Day.

The 1967 Armed Forces Day program had a direct impact upon more than 21 million people in the United States and abroad who participated in the observance of Armed Forces Day. In addition to the millions of others who learned more about our "Power for Peace" through newspapers, radio, television, and other media, the Armed Forces Day was established in 1959 by the Secretary of Defense, with approval of the President, to give official recognition to a single presentation by the Armed Forces of the United States in lieu of different dates previously observed by individual services.

From the first, the Armed Forces

ense system. Capable of providing immediate retaliatory action either with conventional or nuclear weapons, these units are a mighty powerful deterrent to any act of aggression. The Naval personnel here at Sanford are proud to play such a vital role in the defense of our country and doubly proud to be in an area where community/military relationships are on such a high plane. Armed Forces/Community relations can not be overstressed; we are both a part of the same team . . . the United States of America.

NAS Sanford is expanding and growing just as the civilian community of Sanford is expanding and growing. Conclusive proof of this is the construction now in progress at the Station. Over three million dollars has been appropriated for this and other programmed construction.

We are also growing in number of aircraft and personnel assigned. VAH-3 has already completed their transfer here and when VAH-1 reports aboard, NAS Sanford will then truly be the home of Heavy Attack Wing One. All Heavy Attack Units of the Atlantic Fleet will then be stationed aboard.

The support provided by NAS Sanford and its allied fleet units will then be a more grave responsibility than it is now. The wonderful community spirit and support which the people of Sanford and surrounding communities have shown us in the past will, of course, increase in like proportion.

We both, therefore, have an obligation to the Heavy Attack Squadrons and personnel. Our primary job is to provide material support to these units; yours—to provide warm welcome and hospitality and to accept these personnel into your community life. The City of Sanford is truly a Navy town. We have worked and played together for the past seven years, and please believe us when we say "May the next seven years be equally enjoyable."

I hope we may celebrate together many more Armed Forces Days . . . in PEACE.

Bartender Thought Hold-Up By Armed Bandit Was Joke

"I thought it was a joke," bartender Charles McLane, 44-year-old operator of the Deck Bar on 11-92, told investigating officers Saturday night, as he described the armed robbery of his bar.

McLane was shot in the right shoulder when a lone bandit walked into the bar shortly after 9 o'clock Saturday night and announced "This is a stick-up." The bartender told the lone gunman to "Go ahead, Buddy—there it is," as he pointed to the cash register.

The bandit took more than $100 from the cash register then shot McLane in the right shoulder with what is believed to be a .410 gauge shotgun pistol. After blasting McLane down he ripped open the bartender's pants pocket and took his purse.

McLane told officers that he believed the bandit got away in a coupe but didn't know in which direction the gunman fled.

Road blocks were set up at the Orange County line by deputies.

The injured bartender was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital by Florida Highway Patrolman J. L. Sikes. He was later transferred to an Orange County hospital.

Other investigating officers included Deputy Sheriff Carl Smith and Marion Driggers.

Sanford Grown Gladioli To Be Displayed At Meet

Mervin Crandall left Sanford Saturday night with a load of flowers grown in the Sanford section to be used to publicize the local area.

Crandall will attend the National Association of Bank Auditors and Compilers convention as a delegate for the East Central Florida conference of bank auditors and controllers to be held in Rochester, N. Y.

A special bouquet of gladioli was sent to the Mayor of Rochester, Peter Barry, by Mayor Merle Warner.

There will be 30 dozen gladioli, all furnished by grower W. E. Kirchoff, on display in the lobby of the Powers Hotel where the convention headquarters is located.

Crandall, the manager of Florida State Bank's Naval Air Station bank, said "There won't be a delegate to the convention that won't know that Florida, and especially Sanford, raises beautiful flowers."

He said "I hope that we'll have enough gladioli to give one to every delegate attending the national affair."

The convention extends through Wednesday. On his return, Crandall expects to bring back some of the beautiful lilies grown in the Rochester section.

Gladioli for the convention left by plane and were slated to arrive in time to set up the Sunday display in the Powers Hotel lobby.

County Nurse Club's Speaker

Members of the Sanford Lions Club will hear a County Nurse tell about the activities of her department.

Mrs. Hulda Kibbe will be the principal speaker at the Tuesday noon luncheon meeting of the club. Ben Wade will preside at tomorrow's meeting in the absence of the club president W. Hugh Duncan.

Resolution Urges Lions To Oppose Tax

Members of the Sanford Lions Club left for Sarasota Saturday morning to attend the annual Florida Convention of the Lions International.

W. Hugh Duncan, president of the local club, said he will present a resolution before the convention "urging the Lions Clubs of Florida to go on record opposing the application of the state sales tax to the sale and purchase of merchandise from which profits go to charity."

The resolution pointed out the Office of the Comptroller of the State of Florida has decided to make application of the "use or sales tax" applicable to the purchases made by the Lions Clubs for merchandise to be used in money raising activities. Duncan also emphasized that profit from the sale of merchandise is used to purchase eye glasses and other articles given to blind persons and in sight restoration.

It was revealed in the resolution that the Office of the Comptroller had taken records and books of the Winter Park Lions Club, Colonialtown Lions Club, and the Holden Heights Lions Club.

Duncan said in the resolution, which is also signed by Jim Cassidy, president of the Colonialtown Lions Club and Tom Kirchoff, State Secretary of Lions, that clubs have been billed for taxes and in some instances "tax warrants would be issued for force payment."

The convention is scheduled to end tomorrow at noon.

Other officers of the local club accompanying Duncan to the convention are D. H. Whitmore, director, and H. W. "Buddy" Rawls, president-elect.

Building Permits Drop Last Week

Building permits issued by the Seminole County Zoning Commission took a sudden drop last week.

According to a report from the office of Robert S. Brown, director of the Seminole County Zoning Board, only 14 building permits were issued with revenue of $181 and an estimated valuation of $110,702.

In addition, said Brown, there were 17 electrical permits with revenue to the county of $127.50 and 14 plumbing permits with revenue of $113.

However, last week's permits will still put the county's home building above the $1 million mark for the last three weeks.
