Florida Governor Refuses To Take Oath Before Committee On Legal Grounds

MIAMI, July 10—(AP)—The Crime Commission of greater Miami today stated "one thing is obvious, Governor Warren will have any part of any proceedings whereby he will testify under oath." The commission, in a statement issued by Operating Director Daniel P. The statement declared that Warren "refused to move his hands to release greater Miami from the grip of nationally-known racketeers and said 'Governor Warren's own investigator was a part of the movement that brought Capone gangsters into Miami.'"

TODAY'S HIGHLIGHTS

Honest leaders do not evade the issue nor do they speak double talk. My lips shall utter knowledge clearly.—Job 33:13.

Former Senator Claude Pepper is reported to be sharpening his tonics in preparation for some active campaigning next year against Senator Holland. It seems that Claude didn't get beat badly enough last year by George Smathers.

Virginia Hill, the rather notorious Virginia Hill, doesn't like newspapermen. She slapped one, cussed out another, when they did her the honor of a personal call. But for that matter not many racketeers like newspapermen, or their wives either, for that matter.

It has about reached the point in the United States where it pays to be a good student. The Ford Motor Company is not alone in granting scholarships to those who are eager to learn, but it did grant 70 of them the other day providing for the complete four year education of 70 young people on the basis of class standing, competitive examinations, extracurricular activities and recommendations of high school principals and teachers. Worth striving for.

The United States may have lost 75,000 men or more as a result of the fighting in Korea, and our allies some additional men, but the Korean and Chinese Reds have a total of 1,191,422 casualties to explain. That is killing them off at a ratio of about ten to one which is pretty good superiority in anybody's war. However, one American is worth a thousand Chinese Reds, and the quicker they can bring an end to this needless slaughter the better it will be for all of us.

There were 33,351 cases of infantile paralysis in 1950 as compared with 42,366 in 1949 and a normal average of about 10 or 12 thousand cases, the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation reports. That, it says, is no longer possible to deal with the "normal average" of 10 or 12 thousand a year, for the "normal average" has increased to more than 30,000. With this annual increase in the number of polio cases has come a considerable increase in essential expenditures. More money has got to be raised if more cases are going to be taken care of.

Frederick Vanderbilt Field, who inherited a fortune from one of the greatest capitalist freebooters of all time, his great grand father, Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt, who is more famous for his "The public be damned" than for the good service he rendered on his Staten Island Ferry, or New York Central Railroad, has been sentenced to 90 days in jail for contempt of court. He refused to tell the judge who put up the bail for some Communist friend of his. Now you wouldn't think that a millionaire would be caught dead in a Communist camp, but this seems to be a hobby with Field and he has money enough to indulge it.

Senators argue over what the President's proposed ten billion dollar tax boost will do. Senator Johnson of Colorado says it is the best way he knows to check inflation. Senator Hovey of North Carolina says it won't do any such thing. And both are Democrats, both members of the Senate Finance Committee and should know what they are talking about. But both are influenced by political considerations of their own. To the extent that tax is the people's annual income now spent on the necessities of life, they will check inflation. But the matter that the people could check inflation themselves simply by doing without. But the best way to halt higher prices is to produce more.

Anonymous Letters

The anonymous letter, on an individual basis, is vicious and cowardly. Employed on a circular-letter scale, it amounts to viciousness and cowardice on a mass-production basis. But it may be much more than that. In the case of the anonymous multiple letters mocking and satirizing civil defense, received in a number of cities in many parts of the country, there is ample ground to suspect a deep, deadly and earnest plot against the security of the nation.

The ferreting out of the plot, if there is one, and the search for the plotters are matters for the authorities. If the persons responsible have used as much care and cunning in covering their tracks as they did in preparing and sending out the letters, they will be hard to catch.

The frustrating of the plot is a matter for individual citizens. An anonymous letter deserves no attention except from the police. If every citizen resolves that any anonymous letter he receives will get no other attention than that of the authorities, the plot will fail. Whatever may be the motives, the clear intent of these letters has been to undermine and destroy the civil defense program. If the letters are taken for what they are worth, and no more, that evil intent will not be carried out.

What is an anonymous letter worth? It is the statement of someone who does not have the courage to say it in his own name. There is no reason why any intelligent person should listen to what such a one has to say.

Exciting Government

Seldom is there found in real life the equal of the high drama which characterizes romantic adventure fiction. But the events of the recent naval uprising in Thailand certainly matched, if they did not surpass, the imagination of the novelist. The premier was kidnaped, held prisoner on a naval ship; he escaped when the ship was attacked by his loyal supporters, swam to shore amid gunfire, and finally regained safety and ended the uprising with his own persuasive voice.

Such high adventure is unknown to American presidents and other leading officials, although some might say that an appearance before a Congressional investigating committee is equally perilous. The American official expects to go through an entire political career and usually does, without being kidnaped or having to fight his way out of an ambush. Our political life seems dull by comparison with that of some other nations.

Our way may have advantages, however. It is easier on the nerves of the officials and of the public as well. It gives the voter a sense of importance, for he feels fair assurance that the officials he elects will be permitted to serve out their terms. And it reduces the difficulties of getting good men for office. In Thailand, apparently, qualification for high office includes, in addition to the background and abilities normally required, the physical prowess and daring of a Douglas Fairbanks.

Society News

Writing society is something like getting to be 40. Mrs. Maurice C. Moore of the Shawnee News-Star, says in the Publishers Auxiliary. There's nothing much you can do about it.

"Trying to explain the society page, for me anyway, is like trying to explain how they get hybrid corn," she says. Mrs. Moore had 18 years of newspapering experience when she retired "forever, again" last month. Her work, all on Oklahoma papers, has included editing, reporting, feature writing, news editing and general "take-care." Her papers have been in Anadarko, Ada, Seminole, Holdenville and Shawnee.

She was city editor of the News-Star in Shawnee for five years until succeeded by her son George. When George had an auto accident, she filled in from July to January. Her last stint was prompted by the marriage of the society editor.

But getting back to the society page, Mrs. Moore declares: "Many long years on a desk or covering news runs had made me forget what funny people we women are."

"The rules of journalism simply won't always fit what we label 'society.' Can you write a crisp, clear-cut account of a meeting of a group that would choose a name like W.P.H. for a study club? Or determine 'news value' of the Shakespeare club, when it doesn't study Shakespeare at all—but the West Indies? You can't—but don't think they care about your journalistic standards. They want to know if the tea table had a cutwork cloth and what the centerpiece was."

The time element is the "most hair-awing problem" of society work, Mrs. Moore observes. "The wedding may be on a Sunday afternoon but you won't get a stitch-by-stitch report until the next Friday. They want it in the paper—just any paper."

She finds golden weddings "even tougher, sometimes." They, too, are reported late, incomplete and at a rush hour.

There's another main difference between news and society. She adds, "On the news side you rack the brain for the new angle. You learn to hold it. On society, hold too much and you'll be forever the awful thing who 'never did get things in the paper like I turned them in.'"

Improvements are possible on society pages, Mrs. Moore believes. They include:—Sprightlier leads.—News heads.—Squeeze out a news angle and lead with it.

White Collar Workers

There can be no good argument against the theory behind the move to increase individual income taxes by 12 1/2 per cent. But there is certainly need for considering the practical effect this increase will have on many Americans.

Additional taxes are needed to meet the tremendous cost of defense, and besides that a greater income levy will tend to curb inflation.

We presume that our congressmen are operating on the supposition that individual incomes have risen generally as the cost of living has gone up and that they therefore have justification for increasing taxes.

But there are many citizens, especially salary earners, whose incomes have remained stationary, or nearly so, for years. Their financial plight has now reached the point that many of them actually are suffering hardship.

It appears that too many of our legislative representatives in federal government have little

THE WORLD TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, July 9.—(AP)—Where are they, those maniac and golden-throated men, the Giants of senate oratory like Webster, Calhoun and Clay who made the heart leap with their eloquence?

Those three, and there were others, have been dead a hundred years. No one in the Senate now can match them for oratory.

From all the Senate speechmaking of the past 20 years who can remember a single phrase that sticks in the mind like this one, "Liberty and Union, now and forever, one and inseparable?"

True, crowds still jam the Senate galleries for debates on great issues. But the seldom memorable speeches are mostly matter-of-face statements, and almost never start a fire. Mainly the debates are arguments, bickering, questions, palavering over points.

And a filibuster, which also draws crowds, is not oratory at all but a physical endurance contest. The filibusterer isn't trying to persuade but to obstruct. He talks to wear out the opposition. And his speech is a hash of unrelated things, since he can skip without a trip from the Bible to a recipe for pot likker.

I asked a man—perhaps the greatest living authority on Congress, although he doesn't want his name used here—why there are no more Websters who can tangle the American spine?

In the first place, he said, he thinks oratory is getting to be a lost art, like lengthy letter writing. Of those now in the Senate he'd put first—for oratory—Matthew Neely, West Virginia Democrat, because he admires Neely's ready fund of poetic and classical allusions.

And he can think of only three outstanding senate speakers in the past 20 years or so: Claude Pepper, Florida Democrat, who was beaten in the 1950 elections; Senator Borah; and Senator LaFollette, the elder.

This distinguished authority believes that many problems today involve complicated economic analysis—like price controls, defense production and taxes—that it's hard to create literary lightning flashes.

But some people think Webster's greatest contribution to political thought was in his discussions of strictly financial matters. And that "peerless leader," William Jennings Bryan, grew famous with his speeches on tariffs, taxes, silver and the "Cross of Gold."

(Although he did some of best speechmaking in the House of Representatives, Bryan never got elected to the Senate. He tried, as he tried so often to win the presidency, but never made the grade.)

At the years past speechmaking in the Senate becomes less important in influencing the other senators. There's a saying in the capitol: "After the first 15

Sanford Forum

Sanford Daily Herald.

Dear Sir, In the Miami Herald of the 2nd, we find that a way has been found to preserve the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence. Now that would be news if the facts of either one were to be preserved.

But the article declares that they will be sealed in glass and bronze cases filled with helium.

It stated that the documents are deteriorating and fading until it is difficult to make out the signature of John Hancock. Well I'm sure that the majority of the people of the Nation will say that no matter how hard it is to read, it has not deteriorated as much as its value has under the past two Presidents.

The general public has little of the freedoms left, as guaranteed by the Constitution. We are not surprised at the use of helium as a preservative, because of the amount of hot air that is emanating constantly from the capitol.

And now that the most momentous hour has arrived for Americanism, that hope of an armistice with a nation that we have had little success in business dealings with, since Russia was permitted to cede China, and concessions made to Russia which gave that minutes to vote is changed. Why?

Woodrow Wilson put his finger on it in a book—"Congressional Government"—which he wrote in 1885; that more and more the real Senate decisions are made in the Senate committees which prepare the bills upon which the full Senate can later debate and vote.

There's something else in Webster's day the best forum for a speech was the Senate itself, because of the limits on travel and communications.

But nowadays a senator can hop a plane or train and talk in dozens of cities to conventions, reunions and other gatherings, make a talk on the radio (where it has to be brief) or get his views across on a TV quiz show. By the time senate debate comes around his ideas are well-known a long speech would be repetition.

Florida National Guard

Florida Times-Union

The Forty-Eighth Infantry Division, made up of Florida and Georgia National Guards, begins its annual two weeks of field training Sunday at Fort McClellan, Ala. Scores of young men in the Jacksonville area will, therefore, be missing from the local scene for a fortnight while they undergo the Summer encampment experience as vital to a militiaman.

Brig. General Joseph C. Hutchison of Sanford, who became division commander upon the recent retirement of Maj. General Henry D. Russell Mason, Jr., will have his first experience this year as top man during the field exercises, although he served as assistant division commander in previous encampments. He adds to the top echelon of the Forty-Eighth the local units. Floridians have had in the Florida part of the big outfit since it was formed. The service in World War II amply proved his ability as a tactician and administrator.

Reports that most Florida employers granted military leaves for Guardsmen on their payrolls again this year indicate a fine spirit of cooperation. Large and small Florida business and industry seems to recognize in the National Guard and other reserve components of the Armed Services, America's oldest military tradition—defense by citizenry, armed and trained only for emergencies.

pre-war levels. Nevertheless, he said, "much remains to be done." Increased productivity—"more output per worker per hour"—offers the safest and quickest way for Europe to build up its total production, he said, adding that more horsepower for each worker is the master key. He estimated that France could step up her steel production 20 per cent with a little capital investment.

"I believe there is little question that unless the United States and the West take effective action to help the countries of southeast Asia along the road to stability and responsible independence, we will see an increase of Communist-stimulated chaos," Foster said.

"Communism stands ready to move into every vacuum. We must not permit such vacuums to exist by any failure of ours to show the imagination and initiative demanded by world leadership.

"We are alert to the dangers that confront us. But we must be no less alert to the opportunities that are ours. The mutual security program provides us the means of demonstrating our faith and confidence in the free peoples of the world. It is a sound investment in peace."

Second, we must demand that our Congress and Senate gain back the authority which has been allotted them, and begin taking a more serious thought of America's future. We are playing in the hands of the Communists while we are playing the great humanitarian, namely bankrupting ourselves to feed and support an ungrateful world.

While our politicians are playing that the ymnast stand to know that some far off nation does not have all of the luxuries of life, we who have to pay in sweat and blood, are becoming enslaved to our bureaucratic leaders.

There is something which everyone who has hope for the future, will have to do, get serious with God, and demand that our Representatives in Washington that they lean toward Democracy instead of a Totalitarian state.

It may become right and proper to impeach those that usurp authority that is not theirs. We are sick of rubber stamp Representatives.

Shaggy Dog Trend In Women's Fashions To Dominate Feminine Styles In Coming Year

By DOROTHY ROE, Associated Press Women's Editor. NEW YORK, July 10.—For the first time in fashion history, women are going to try to look like dogs next fall.

Perhaps they won't go so far as to walk on all fours, but it's not unlikely that they will start barking soon after acquiring that new winter coat.

You see, the smart thing is the "poodle look" for fall. Your new coat or suit should be as shaggy as a poodle's if you really want to be in on the ground floor of the new fashion trend.

That's what New York designers say, previewing their fall collections this week for the benefit of 160 visiting fashion editors, representing newspapers throughout the United States, Canada, England, Australia, Denmark, Sweden, France, Switzerland, Belgium, Holland, Brazil and South Africa.

Initial showings bear out their predictions. So bulky and shaggy are the new winter coats that often it's hard to find the wearer underneath it all.

"Poodle cloth", in a score of different textures and called by many names, is the particular pet of the designers this year. They demand the new clothes, jackets, suits and dresses, usually in neutral canine colors and in such realistic textures that in all logic each coat should be provided with a wagging tail.

The poodle may be either French or domestic and may emulate the close-curlled pet of the former or the shaggy dog look of the latter. Some are stiff, heavy fabrics of the general texture of doormats, and others are light as eiderdown, with a deep-pile, doggy surface.

The delighted garment manufacturers predict that the new poodle coats are going to make mild old-fashioned, and that every smart woman will demand canine cloth instead of fur next fall.

This is about the only bright spot for husbands and fathers to be found on the fashion horizon this year. For clothes in general and woolen ones in particular are stationed for the past three and a half years. They plan to return to Sanford this week for a two weeks' vacation before going to Washington, D. C. where Capt. Hasty will be stationed.

Miss Ruth Hand plans to leave for Flemington, N. J. where she will visit with her sister, Mrs. Frank Weldon, Jr. for two weeks. Judge and Mrs. James B. Watkins and two children, Lynn and Mary Anne, will arrive this week-end from Atlanta, Ga. to visit with Mrs. Watkins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Maxwell.

Johnny Holota, while playing for Cleveland in 1946-47, scored 8 unassisted goals, the American Hockey League record for tallies without help in a single season.

Two new members were welcomed into the group. Refreshments of punch, pop corn, and pretzels were served to the 20 members present by the hostess, Mrs. A. Eugene Kendall.

Red Hats Beat Sanford Giants 2-1; Locals Seek Revenge Here Tonight

Either left-hander Jerry Schultz or Ray Scheidt will take the mound for the Giants tonight in an attempt to knock off the league-leading Deland Red Hats. Tonight will be ladies night, business manager Charlie Morrison announced today.

DELAND, July 10—(AP)—The Deland Red Hats last night eked out a 2-1 victory over the Sanford Giants as Bob Callahan and Walt Janski locked horns in a tight pitching duel.

The winning run crossed for the Hats in the seventh on a costly error making it the second game the luckless Callahan has lost on miscues by his teammates.

The Sanford hurler was almost continuously in hot water as he allowed the Hats 11 singles, but in the clutch he was superb, twice retrieving bases loaded and one out situations without giving up a score.

Don Bailey, Joe Parise and Mickey McBride were the big guns in Sanford's offense.

The Giants met the Deland Red Hats here tonight in a return engagement which will also be ladies night.

CHICAGO, July 10—(AP)—The Philadelphia's A's Ferris Fair beat the last ball of the American League batting race on top of the pack among the league's hitters.

Greates "Minnie" Minoza, the Chicago White Sox star rookie, dropped to third place from his usual ding-dong battle with Paul for the top spot.

Larry Doby of Cleveland pounded out 13 hits in 27 trips to the plate during the week to shoot up to fourth place with an average of .350.

Mystery Surrounds 2 Oldtimers Hurl Brilliant Games In Sally League

DETROIT, July 10—(AP)—Baseball's big mystery continues to be: Who will succeed A. R. Chandler as commissioner?

There was much informal discussion of the job as baseball men met here for the All-Star game, but a big league owner who declined use of his name said neither the American nor the National League meeting took up the problem.

Chandler steps out July 15 following which the executive council will run the game. This is composed of Fuld, Frick, National League president, Will Harridge, American League president, Tom Yawkey, president of the Boston Red Sox, and Warren G. Ford, president of the Cincinnati Reds.

The public figures who have been at one time or another the object of speculation in connection with the $65,000 job include James Farley, former postmaster general and now chairman of the board of Coca Cola; General Douglas MacArthur; J. Edgar Hoover, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation; Eric Cook, Jr., head of the American Legion; and Frank Lausche, Governor of Ohio.

MUSIAL LEADS. NEW YORK, July 10—(AP)—The National League pennant race last night was a hotly contested affair as St. Louis Cardinals and New York Yankees battled in the ninth and tenth innings.

Umberto Flammini May Be Difference For Nashville Vols

By ASSOCIATED PRESS. If Nashville has pitcher Umberto Flammini convinced he's still got the stuff which enabled him to win 16 games last season, the Vols may continue their climb toward the top spot in the Southern Association.

Flammini, a 23-year-old left-hander from Boston, started this season with Springfield in the International League after racking up a 16-11 record with the Vols in 1950. He failed to win in the Triple-A loop, dropping six straight. He also lost his first start after returning to Nashville.

But last night it was a different story. Backed by a 15-hit attack, best didn't walk a map and kept nine safeties scattered to win, 10-4, over the league-leading Little Rock Travelers. That victory, coupled with Memphis' 7-1, 17-hit lambasting of Atlanta sent Nashville into the first division. The tiding Crackers dropped back to fifth, just one-and-a-half games ahead of Memphis.

Husband Bemoans Wife's Penchant For Having Dinner By Candlelight

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK. (AP)—It has been years since many an American husband has seen his evening meal. This is because of a growing desire by wives to dine by candlelight. After a struggle of nearly 14 years against this odd feminine preference, I'd advise any young man...

Iranian Oil

spokesman here declared withdrawal of the staff—which would cause the refinery to close down for lack of technicians—was "inevitable."

Today the same spokesman said, however, that operations may run on longer. But he insisted that British workers are unhappy with the thought of striking it out under the threat of nationalization, which would make them virtually employees of the Iranian government.

The policy switch, apparently was dictated from London, where the Labor government has been under fire from the Conservatives for talking of giving in to the Iranians.

It is no secret that there is some disagreement on the "stick it out" policy between London and British diplomats on the spot, who say the British technicians in the steaming Persian Gulf area are in no mood to be front-line soldiers in the war of nerves.

If the British do decide to remain to keep the refinery going, it will at least avert an immediate crisis. One of the principal fears—particularly in the American government—is that closing the refinery and the resultant shutting down of the wells would touch off explosive economic unrest in Iran.

Some 60,000 Iranian workers would be out of work subject to registering into the Communist (Tudeh) Party, which is especially strong in the southern oil province of Khuzistan.

The troubled Abadan area was ordered under a midnight to dawn curfew starting tomorrow, by General Asadollah Khamal, military governor in the area who issued the order, gave no reason for the curfew.

He ordered shipping traffic on the broad estuary of the Shatt El Arab River stopped during the curfew hours.

Warren Agrees

inhabits, the capital of Florida and the constitutional seat of its state government, on any date convenient to you."

However, Warren said, "the meeting must be on the basis of representatives of the federal government conferring with the Governor of a sovereign state."

"The system of dual sovereignty between the states of the Federal Union and the Federal Government must be respected at every stage of the meeting," Warren wrote.

At such a meeting I shall be glad to have your committee ask any questions about any matter, and I, in turn, should like to ask the members of the committee some questions.

Each of us is under oath of office which is sufficient for the conference."

Warren told O'Connor it was not correct that he declined "three urgent invitations" to meet before his committee. He said his reading of "most of the testimony" taken by the committee in Florida had failed to reveal to him any testimony which shows open and widespread gambling in the state.

The Governor said the three interim reports filed by the Senate committee so far "did not disclose the fact that most of the gambling in Florida also which your committee received testimony concerning during state administrations preceding mine."

Warren said the committee reports did not show that the S. & G. Gambling Syndicate of Miami Beach was "organized and began operating" in 1942.

"I was not Governor of Florida in 1942. Since I became Governor in 1945, I have been in the office for 6 years. The Governor said he has been unable to find in the official records of the Crime Committee hearings any testimony showing 'organized and interstate crime in Florida' during his Administration."

Warren told O'Connor he "should like for your committee to become familiar with my record of suppressing gambling which had openly operated in Florida for more than 50 years."

made last summer by M. C. Hagan, in cooperation with City Manager Clifford McKibbin.

Oiler-Weller Homes Inc., were granted the right to purchase 50 additional lots in the Bel-Air and San Lanta subdivisions. The City sold them 50 lots in January with the option to purchase 50 more in six months provided that by that time they had started construction of 15 houses. The firm has completed seven houses and eight more are now under construction.

An ordinance was passed permitting the sale of milk from approved mechanical dispensers such as are used at soda fountains.

Dr. John Morvan, physician, was granted a parking space in front of his new office in the Arcade Building at 318 East First Street.

Appropriations Cut

when this nation is being unduly subjected to ever-increasing pressures from the Kremlin," the committee said, "would be a service to ourselves, our Allies, and freedom-loving peoples everywhere."

Even so, the committee made cuts in all but one of the various items making up the State Department budget. Unouched was a request for $3,000,000 to liquidate authority to enter into contracts previously approved for the Philippine Rehabilitation program.

The budget of the International Information and Educational Program, which finances the "Voice of America" and other activities, was cut $20,000,000, leaving it $85,000,000 for the year. This is an increase of $14,520,150 in operating expenses over the appropriation for the past fiscal year.

The amount recommended, the committee said, is "the very minimum" necessary for the expanded program of combatting Communist propaganda throughout the world.

The committee said there is a need for "a strong and effective" program "to combat the vicious lies by which the forces of Communism are attempting to poison the minds of freedom-loving people throughout the world."

It approved the addition of six new languages to the foreign broadcast program but rejected a request for $2,000,000 to purchase radio sets for free distribution to potential foreign audiences.

would make plans to secure a petition to call an election on the wet and dry issue.

Mr. Segal declared that during the 60-day trial period the members of the Tavern Owners Association had conducted their place of business in an exemplary manner, and pointed out the loss of business caused by the earlier closing hours.

Mrs. Fred Foulhaver, councilwoman of Altamonte Springs, pointed out the possible dangers of racial clashes in her community in which beer and wine sales are allowed on Sunday, due to members of the armed forces patronizing taverns there.

Sheriff P. A. Mero stated that he is getting good co-operation from the Navy shore patrol, and from Army military policemen in enforcing the law where servicemen are concerned. He added that the former K-9 Club had been closed and that the owner is in jail under $1,000 bond.

Rupert Strickland declared that the citizens of Seminole County are in a big measure behind the midnight ban, and suggested that Leonard Button stated that under existing closing hours many tavern owners stand to lose everything they have got, and that if they go out of business the county will lose some tax money.

A number of tavern owners spoke in favor of extending the closing hours from midnight to 2:00 A.M., pointing out that they are losing considerable business on account of the restrictions.

Teachers' Raise

The Commission, however, declined to act upon a suggestion by Mr. Lawton that following this year the Commission should share the race track funds 50-50 with the schools.

"I am willing to go along with the appropriation this year, but I do not think that this Board should bind a future board on the proposition," said Commissioner H. B. Pope.

Mr. Lawton pointed out the need of the teachers for additional wages to offset the inflated cost of living. He told of the efforts of the teachers throughout the State to secure an appropriation from the State to give them a $300 annual increase, and pointed out that the Legislature had failed to agree them on a source of revenue for this.

L. E. Jordan, chairman of the County School Board, also requested the Commission to grant the $30,000 to the schools.

As the month of July rolls around, it means the beginning of a new Fiscal Year for us and the end of term of office for some of our District Supervisors. Three Supervisors whose terms expire are: C. A. Wales, Ed Cameron Sr. and Homer Osborne.

These men have been petitioned to run again. Bob Williams, well known farmer of Sanford and Oviedo, has also been nominated as a candidate. The election will take place on Tuesday, July 10, 1951. Polling places will be at Chamber of Commerce, Sanford, the Lyman School, Longwood, the Town Hall, Oviedo, and will be open between 9:00 A. M. and 5:00 P. M.

Mr. Cammack of Orlando, who is developing a dairy east of Geneva on State Road No. 46, has just completed a mile of ditching on his pasture. S. C. S. Engineers made a complete survey of this area to determine the size and location of ditches. Most of the pasture land along the St. Johns Valley has a high salt content, making it difficult to plant improved pasture grasses. It is believed that ditching will relieve this condition by leaching out a great deal of salt during the rainy season.

Mr. Cammack is planning to establish a trial plot of different grasses and clovers to find out what their salt tolerances are.

The briefing officer said the American jeeps carried the U. N.'s two admirals and three generals to U. N. House. They traveled under armed Communist escort.

As the briefing officer was making his report the North Korean Communist radio at Pyongyang said that withdrawal of all foreign troops was one of the conditions of peaceful settlement of the Korean war.

The Red radio said eventual solution of the Korean problem should be left to the Korean people themselves.

However, the Kaesong talks, as the U. N. viewpoint was outlined by Admiral Joy, will be restricted entirely to military matters.

of the Civil Rights Congress. Of the remaining 13 defendants, one was held in $10,000 bail and the others in $5,000 each. The government asked that all 13 be required to furnish $50,000 each.

Mystery writer Dashiell Hammett sought to obtain bail for himself after landing in jail for refusing to tell who furnished bond for four fugitive convicted Communist leaders.

The author of the "Thin Man" series and "The Maltese Falcon" drew a six months contempt-of-court sentence last night.

Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan denied 100 bail and sent him to jail.

W. Alpheus Hutton, a fellow trustee with Hammett for the Civil Rights Congress bail fund, got a similar sentence for not answering the court's questions about the Red fugitives.

Attorneys for the two men said they would appeal for bail today before a U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals judge. They said they would ask that Hammett and Hutton, a Negro, be released in bond pending appeal of the contempt sentences.

Meanwhile, U. S. attorney Irving H. Saypol was drawing up legal papers to block the Civil Rights Congress in future bail matters. He said the papers should be ready today.

Progress Is Reported In Peace Talks

Communist Generals Relax More In 2nd Day Of Discussion Of Armistice Terms

By JIM BECKER
MUNSAN, Korea, July 11—(AP)—Cease-fire talks are progressing in "cold military formality" with every reason to be optimistic, a United Nations briefing officer said tonight.

"The talks now are on the tracks," said the spokesman, Col. George Rublen of Los Angeles, N. M. "An armistice is much nearer tonight than it was 24 hours ago."

An official communiqué was issued tonight, and it was said that a better understanding between negotiating parties developed Wednesday. It credited a change of attitude by the Communist generals.

By STAN CARTER
SEOUL, Korea, July 11—(AP)—Associated Press photographer Jim Pringle, fresh from his trip to the scene of armistice talks at Kaesong today, said Communist soldiers waved him away, but snapped them anyway.

"Oh, they were very nice to us, but everything we tried to take their pictures, both the North Koreans and the Chinese turned their faces away," he said.

Iran May Welcome Mediation Visit By Truman Aide

Iranians Recommend That Harriman Be Invited To Come

By ROBERT H. HEWETT
TEHRAN, Iran, July 11—(AP)—An Iranian government spokesman said today Iran's Oil Nationalization Commission has recommended that Premier Mohammed Mossadegh accept President Truman's offer to send W. Averell Harriman here to discuss the bitter British Iranian oil dispute.

The premier appeared to have been stalling, in an answer to President Truman's offer to send his personal representative, the Commission, however, said it approved the idea "on the ground that Harriman's visit could not conflict with the oil nationalization law," the spokesman said.

Informed circles here say, however, that Harriman's mission will have little effect unless the Iranians show a disposition to modify—at least slightly—their determination to seize full control of the British-occupied oil in Iran.
