AT THE MILANE.

A splendid cast has been afforded "Masters of Men," the great sea story by Morgan Robertson, which the Milane Theatre will show today, headed by Earle Williams, Alice Calhoun, Cullen Landis, and Wanda Hawley. The story is striking, vivid pictorialization of life at sea with the background of a heart stirring love drama involving the four principal characters.

It is a picture of American youth and it is as fresh and wholesome as a breath of the sea upon which the action occurs. Dick Halpin, an orphan living in a small town, is falsely accused of a theft, committed by the brother of the girl he loves. He accepts the blame in order to spare her humiliation, runs away and joins the United States Navy. While on shore leave Dick and Lieutenant Green, his superior, are abandoned and flung into the forecabin of the "Mary Earl" commanded by one of the most brutal of old time sea masters. The boys fight their way out of their difficulties and manage to escape and rejoin their ship just as the Spanish fleet is coming out of the harbor of Santiago. Dick's heroism helps save the day.

AT THE MILANE.

The history of The Last Warning, which comes to the Milane Theatre Wednesday, is almost as unique as the play itself. The story has been told and retold from coast to coast, but none of its interest in the past. Several years ago Collier's Weekly ran, as a serial, an engrossing mystery story by Wadsworth Camp called "The House of Fear." Shortly thereafter the novel was published in book form to thrill and delight additional thousands of readers. Then, apparently having served its purpose, it gradually dropped into obscurity like other erstwhile famous novels.

While seeking rest and relaxation at a little out of the way summer hotel, Thomas Fallon, an actor and playwright, chanced to find a copy of the story. He soon felt convinced that it offered exceptional opportunities for an unusual play and set himself assiduously to the task of making the dramatization. When the play was completed, however, the enthusiastic author found himself confronted with an even greater task, that of finding a producer. Week after week he pursued his weary, heart-breaking quest without result. Finally the play was accepted by Mindlin and Goldreyer, but Mr. Fallon was not exultant, for these two young men, both are still in their 20's—were comparatively obscure producers; their chief assets were ambition, courage and initiative. They decided to change the title of the play to The Last Warning and it is quite possible that this administrative appellation played no small part in spurring them on to achievement.

National Thrift Com. Declare Thrift Week

Thrift Week will be observed from Jan. 17, the birthday of Benjamin Franklin, to Jan. 23. The program of the week is based on the 10 points of the Success Creed as follows: Work and Earn. BROTHER

(Continued from page 1) The late Mr. E. B. Lake had been in bad health for several years, but although he was able to attend to his business affairs during most of the time. He suffered with his heart and heart trouble is said to have been the cause of his death. Mr. Lake had made his home in Laurens for many years in fact practically all of his life having been there since boyhood. He was a man of considerable means and was regarded as one of the most successful cotton operators in that section of that state. Besides being in the cotton business, he was also identified with many other business interests. Among those that were at his bedside when the end came was his aged mother, Mrs. W. J. Lake, who has reached the ripe old age of 98. At his bedside also was his wife and two sons of this city and other children.

DISCOURAGES PLAYWRITING

HAMBURG, Jan. 15.—Alfred Brust playwriting is not over-enthusiastic about earning a living in Germany by writing for the stage. His "South Seas," recently put on in this city, yielded him in royalties a sum in paper marks equal to five gold pfennigs, or one and a quarter cents. Brust bought a postage stamp and sent it to the theatrical agency which had put on his play, with his thanks for the manner in which the product of his imagination had been handled.

U. S. ENVOY PLEASURES SOUTH AFRICA

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 15.—The appointment of Clinton Doolittle, United States Consul General for South Africa has created a favorable impression here. GETS SMALL PAY

ANGSBURG, Pa., Jan. 15.—St. Ulrich's Church clock marks time no longer, and its historic chimes no more sound the hours for this old city. Messer, the sacristan, has struck. He was paid only 3,000,000 paper marks from April to September for his services. As he had to climb 163 steps daily to keep the clock wound up, he said his wages fell far short of buying the shoe soles he wore out on the rough old stone steps to the belfry. So he quit after 50 years of service to search for more profitable employment.

TWELVE MILES

MacNamara which will prove interesting and will go to show the immensity of the project, which is said to be one of the largest single street paving programs undertaken by a city of this size in this state. The 12 miles of asphalt paved streets aggregates a total of 115,000 square yards and the following amount of materials were used in the work: 1,300 tons of asphalt or 35 cars; 1,800 tons of sand filler or 60 cars; 4,600 tons of sand shipped from Georgia or 125 cars and 3,400 tons of sand procured in Sanford. A total of approximately 2,500 cars of materials have been used all together by the Hutton Engineering Company.

Other figures given out show that West First Street was completed with 15,000 square yards of relaid brick taken from French and Sanford Avenues. Considering the condition of these brick, some of which had been in use over ten years, it was somewhat of a surprise to many that such a good job was done by the company that has the contract. Many of the brick were broken in small pieces and were of all sizes and shapes. However, with the aid of Texas asphalt filler, the contractors were able to make a neat and substantial job of it, with but a nominal cost to the city, it is said.

The operations of the several crews and the work that they have completed was summed up by Mr. MacNamara as follows: "The excavation crew began work about March 1. To date it has moved approximately 75,000 cubic yards of earth preparatory to the paving operations. This crew under the supervision of J. R. Head has also cleaned and graded all parkways. The work of hauling the earth was done by the trucks belonging to the company assigned at times by teams belonging to E. E. Brady.

"The cut and gutter crew followed up the work of the excavation crew. This crew of men is under the supervision of R. Merritt. He has a crew of four sections as well as a miling crew of some 40 laborers. The quality of the work that has been done by this crew of workmen has been the subject of many complimentary remarks made by visiting engineers and contractors. Some idea of what this outfit has done may be gained by the fact that to date it has formed approximately 93,000 cubic feet of cement gutter, 34,000 cubic feet of 4x12 headers, 20,000 square feet of alley approaches, 15,000 square feet of driveways, 15,000 square feet of sidewalks and 1,600 cubic feet of three-foot gutters. This work was begun about April 1.

"The base crew to date has shoveled up 130,000 square yards. The amount of rock in cubic yards used up until this time, is approximately 45,000 or about 1,200 cars of material. A 12-ton roller is used to get the necessary compression.

The process which the streets are subjected to in the paving is interesting and for the benefit of those who are interested in this work, a short statement on it is herewith given by Mr. MacNamara. "After the base has been finished its work, the base is left for 15 days during which time traffic is allowed to travel on the road to make it more compact. When the 15-day period has elapsed, a two-inch layer of sheet asphalt is spread one and rolled.

The asphalt comes from Brunswick, Ga., and the sand from Inter-luck and Brower in this state. Another grade of sand mixed with that which comes from other places, is secured from a pit about six miles from Sanford. The filler used is also from Brower.

This material is assembled at the asphalt mixing plant at Fourth Street and Elm Avenue and as run through the plant is heated to an intensity of 350 degrees Fahrenheit. The sand, by means of elevators is transferred from the hot over to the bins above and is weighed as it goes into the box when it mixes with the asphalt and filler. It is then dumped into the waiting trucks after mixing with the asphalt.

The asphalt is handled in storage tanks and pumped every night into a big kettle to be used the following day. When the hot asphalt arrives to be put down on the street, it is spread, raked and graded by experienced workers. After it has cooled somewhat, a ten-ton tandem roller then smooths it down rolling over it many times to get it to a uniform level.

Four or five hours later the street is ready for traffic to be turned on it. The asphalt plant is under the direction of Paul Jones and the roller is operated by Gaston Wrenn.

DOINGS OF THE DUFFS

Antique Craze a Big Help to the Brazil Dealers

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 14.—The buying and selling of antiques which came into existence as a regular business in this city during the recent Centennial Exposition, has become one of the most important branches of retail trade in the country.

Blackened and dented silver, massive and ugly jewelry, decrepit furniture, musty pictures and quantities of articles of modest price are being bought and sold at wondrous prices merely because they bear the crest, monogram, or signature of some of the nobility of the erstwhile Brazilian empire.

The trade was originally designed for tourists, particularly Americans, but it has proved of unexpected interest to the Brazilians themselves. The "new rich" are seizing the opportunity to lend an appearance of dignity to their recently acquired social importance, and some of the remnants of the former nobility are finding means to tide themselves over financial difficulties in the trade of antiques.

At first the antique stores occupied inexpensive locations on the outskirts of the business center, but now several of them have moved into luxurious quarters in the most expensive part of the downtown district. All of them send buyers to the interior seeking relics of imperial life on the old "fazendas," or plantations whose magnificence disappeared with the abolition of slavery.

It is rumored also that a considerable number of shops where antiques are "touched up and restored" have come into existence here, but not as conspicuously as the stores, and as yet no one has ventured to call them "factories."

The Florida method of boll weevil control increased cotton yield in this state last year by nearly three times over the yield of untreated, check plots.

France Explains Credits Made to Little Entente

PARIS, Jan. 14.—With unfunded debts to the American and British governments amounting to nearly $5,000,000,000, some criticism has been directed at France for having advanced 800,000,000 francs to countries of the Little Entente during 1923. Of the amount 400,000,000 francs were credited to Poland; 300,000,000 to Yugoslavia and 100,000,000 to Rumania. However, documents published recently by the French government show that not one centime has left the Bank of France consigned to those countries.

The figures merely represent credits opened by the French ministry of finance to the various countries, against which they have drawn for the payment of supplies mostly war materials, purchased in France. Nor has the French government disbursed any money to the manufacturers of the materials. The amounts due the manufacturers have been deducted from war and other taxes due the French government, and in cases where the amounts due the manufacturers were larger than the indebtedness to the government bonds.

On the other hand, it is pointed out that France has been the largest exporter of material to the countries of the Little Entente, the French government thus having found a way to dispose of its war material in course of production during the last months of the war and which the signing of the armistice made unnecessary for the French armies.

Previous to granting this credit to Poland the latter's debt to France was 1,056,000,000 francs, mostly for war material.

Money Problems Cause Tourists to Leave Germany

BERLIN, Jan. 14.—Tourist traffic in Berlin continues to decline because of the high prices and the unsettled money condition. Stranded tourists who have experienced the annoyance and red tape of present conditions are believed to have warned other travelers again at entering the money trap.

The condition in Germany today is much the same that travelers faced in Central Europe at the outbreak of the war. Gold was the only medium which was accepted then. Gold is not wanted now, but American paper money and English pounds, in small denominations, are in great demand, bringing better rates and relieving the tourist of endless red tape and annoyance.

Tourists have had an extremely difficult time with their letters of credit and travelers' checks in Germany during the financial crisis. Shortage of paper marks and the inability of banks to issue foreign money on checks and letters of credit, even when government permission for such transactions was obtained, have been very discouraging to strangers who do not speak German.

Although various agencies which issue travelers' checks accept dollars, pounds and other stable money and issue the checks so that many travelers understand they are to have the same sort of money paid to them that they gave to the agencies, practically all the checks contain a statement that the value of the check will be figured in the currency of the country in which payment is made. Payments were made in Germany at official rates, which were in some cases only half the "black market" rate in which proves were fixed. Consequently travelers' dollars and pounds divided almost to nothing when they passed through regular channels.

POLK COUNTY TO STAGE MAMMOTH ORANGE FESTIVAL

By The Associated Press. WINTER HAVEN, Fla., Jan. 14.—Polk county will stage an Orange Festival as a regular winter season event. The idea conceived by business men of the county for the purpose of showing those who invade Florida during the tourist season what Polk has in the way of attractions and what can be accomplished within the confines of its 1,007 square miles in the way of Orange Culture and agricultural possibilities will be held in Winter Haven, Jan. 22, 23 and 24, catching up with a Coronation Ball following the crowning of the King and Queen.

The program as at present formulated is diversified enough to please the most exacting and besides the many attractions, which are free, there will be prizes amounting to $2,000 awarded. Dr. J. H. Ross, president of the Citrus Exchange, has conspired to act as master of ceremonies and the opening address will be made by L. M. Rhodes, U. S. Commissioner Bureau of Marketing.

The entertainment features embody a parade of various floats with cash prizes amounting to $350.00; clown contests for the kiddies; Jackie Coogan contest; greased pig contest, yes—anyone catching the animal (five of them) becomes its lawful owner, and those responsible for the success of the undertaking are at present combing the country for suitable acts, thrillers, as a part of the entertainment features.

In addition a suitable prize will be awarded to the automobile traveling the greatest distance to attend the Festival. Polk County is solidly behind the event and judging from the number of committees at work it will be one of the biggest affairs ever staged in the county.

Some politicians are sticking posters containing their pictures on trees all over the state. The politician who uses this method of securing publicity and making votes loses about as many as he makes for people don't like to see signs on every tree.

With the climate this state has it seems as if Florida should have an abundance of flowers. Perhaps Florida is too busy developing the state to plant flowers and shrubbery. Even though Sanford residents are all busy, this city could be made more attractive by plenty of flowers.

J. W. Martin, for several years a political ally of Sidney J. Catts, rushed over Florida when he discovered himself from Catts and said, "Save Florida from Catts by voting for me."

While we view with poignant grief the separation of these former political twins, duty compels that we give assurance that there is no Catts' menace. When Fletcher placed Catts into private life he was there to stay.

Good Roads Mean Prosperity

While Florida as a state has a wonderful road system and all the progressive counties are constructing new and better highways there still exist some poorly constructed highways that are doing more to injure the state than any other one thing.

One of these bad roads is between Sanford and New Smyrna. At the present time some repairs are being made about half way between the two cities and motorists are forced to make a detour through the woods and marshes. No signs of warning of the bad condition of the detour appear. A party driving through on Monday night became bogged and after trying to get out had to start walking for assistance.

Fortunately after walking for about 2 1/2 miles a Hollywood bus on its way to New Smyrna came along and with the assistance of about a dozen passengers the bogged car was lifted and dug out of the mud. The Hollywood bus had to back about a mile before a place could be found where the big machine could be turned around. They then had to come all the way back to Sanford and go by way of DeLand.

There are no houses in the vicinity of the detour and the motorist who gets stuck has mighty little chance of securing assistance for several hours. Especially is this true at night. If it is necessary to close the road for repairs, the repair crew should see to it that a detour at least passable should be provided. Negligence in not doing so is inexcusable.

Sanford and Seminole county are suffering because of the bad condition of this road. If Volusia county doesn't wish to construct and maintain the right kind of a highway through that district Seminole county ought to provide the traveling public with a better road to New Smyrna.

About the only way people from this section of the state can reach the east coast is to go by way of DeLand. At Mims motorists are warned not to take the cross country road to Geneva and are told that it is impassable due to the wet weather. Many persons like this short cut and The Herald wishes to urge that no time be lost in putting it into first class condition.

It is understood that the road from Kissimmee to Melbourne is still in the bad condition it has been for several months and tourists state that under no consideration would they go over it again.

On the east coast the Dixie Highway from New Smyrna to Titusville is in such bad shape that a motorist desirous of keeping his car in good condition can not afford to take it. In addition to the rough washboard there are big holes and ditches throughout the entire distance and cars are soon racked to pieces.

Seminole county can be rightly proud of its system of good roads. They are fine now and should be kept so. But Seminole county and Sanford are suffering from the condition of the roads in neighboring counties.

How Can We Be Thrifty?

Tomorrow marks the beginning of Thrift Week. During this week which is set apart for thoughts of individual thrift many ways will be presented in which thrift may be accomplished.

There are innumerable thoughts that can be brought out in connection with thrift week. The Herald just wants to suggest a few for the people of Sanford to be thinking about.

It is fine to think of thrift in connection with financial earnings and to encourage systematic saving to build up big accounts in good financial institutions. It is also fine to make real estate investments and to purchase stocks and bonds as a matter of thrift. But there are other methods of being thrifty that can be practised daily.

What of the thrift of the garbage can? Many dollars in foodstuffs are thrown away every day. The American garbage can is overflowing. It might be a good idea for housewives to think about this kind of thrift.

What of the thrift of physical health? Too many people are so bent on becoming financially and socially successful that they forget to be thrifty in keeping their bodies in good physical condition. Here, too, is a thought for thrift week.

What of the thrift of spending? It isn't extravagance to spend money for some article that is really needed. There are many who think themselves thrifty who go without many articles of necessity thinking that they are saving. There are many ways to spend money. Think of the thrift of spending during this week and then spend wisely.

What of the thrift of energy? A great failing of the people of our country today is the failure to conserve energy. Everything is done in a rush and hurry and the thought of saving energy doesn't occur to us. During this coming week suppose a little time is spent thinking on the importance of being thrifty in the conservation of energy.

And so on. Many sermons could be written on thrift but all The Herald desires to do is to start a train of thought that will make thrift in all its meaning be a subject of conversation for the next seven days.

THE PERSON who undertakes to develop his muscles by entering into athletic games gets pleasure as well as benefit from his exercise. And the pleasure adds directly to the benefit, for pleasure in itself has positive disease-dispelling power. Not only will his muscles be trained, but his eye and brain. He will learn the value of steady, persistent effort as he can hardly learn it elsewhere. He will be taught self-reliance, even while his egotism is kept healthfully in check. In short, his training in athletics will bring about a coincidental mental development that will stand him in hand in the classroom or study, and in the practical affairs of life.—Dr. Henry S. Williams.

A SAD HOUR

Palm Beach Post

It is a sad hour in the political history of America when officials announce from the platform that they favor law enforcement, or when candidates give voice to the same expression. The theme has been expressed on so much that it has begun to revolve around the central government. The public, however, is not much interested in law enforcement talk. It is interested, vitally interested, in enforcement as a reality, instead of as a mere promise.

In the first, had it not been that officials holding positions of public trust betrayed the power reposed in them, there would have been no reason to keep the matter before the people. Nothing so disturbs the mind of the average citizen as to see an official not respecting the law; and the unofficial act of an official leads numbers of citizens into the law violation habit.

Thus it is that at this time there are pending two resolutions in Congress designed to stay public officials from drinking liquor. There is no direct violation of law in taking a drink of intoxicants, but it is quite probable that some law had to be violated before the intoxicants came to mouth. It never should have come to the life of this republic that political candidates and political parades were forced to declare they were opposed to law enforcement. That much should be an implied truth in the existence of any political party. There should be no more reason to assert it than there is for a child to declare it loves its parents.

Certain Foolish Rich Men. Nothing Like Success. Superstition and Guns. Rockefeller to Johns Hopkins. Copyright, 1923

ALTON B. PARKER, who once ran for President, and ran very gently, says Theodore Roosevelt's rich friends "poured out gigantic sums to defeat him." Parker, Roosevelt is dead, physically; Parker is dead, politically, and that's all old stuff, if it's so. Those rich men, pouring out their gold to beat Mr. Parker were in need of guardians. There was no more possibility of electing Mr. Parker at that time than there is of electing Mr. Cox, who once also ran, this time. And you can't say more than that.

DISSATISFIED GERMAN Communists have disgraced all attainable Hohenzollern statues with red paint. Among them all only Frederick the Great was spared. Frederick won his fights and nothing succeeds like success. Had William Hohenzollern won his fight, and he was near winning at one time, no red paint would have disgraced his bronze majesty.

THIS COUNTRY is sending machine guns to "suppress religious fanatics" in remote parts of the Philippines. It appears that in one religious outbreak on an island off Mindanao, about 100 were killed, because American soldiers broke a holy tank containing miraculous, sacred water. Soldiers say the natives, with all sorts of diseases, bathed in the tank, and spread disease, so they broke it and let the foul water out.

THERE IS nothing more dangerous or vicious than religious superstition. All history proves it and only education can combat it. The British learned that when they compelled India's native soldiers to bite cartridges smeared with tallow and pig fat. The Hindu considered the cow sacred; the pig is abhorrent to the Mohammedan religion. They rose in the great mutiny and killed many Britishers. The latter in return had the mutineers fired from the mouths of cannon, knowing that another superstition told the natives they could never know immortal bliss if their bodies were shot to pieces.

NOW THE British act more wisely. We might study their methods for use in the Philippine Islands. Except in extreme cases, the machine gun is a poor cure for superstition. The clever French, combating superstition in their African possessions, sent over their cleverest magician, Robert Houdin. He did tricks that made the sacred holy men of Algiers look like children. Especially when the holy men took hold of the magician's electric battery and could not let go. To fight superstition, here or in the Philippine Islands, make it ridiculous.

THE RECORD shows that John D. Rockefeller gave away $16,000,000 for useful work in one year. Sixteen millions went to the School of Hygiene and Public Health at Johns Hopkins University. In that admirable institution, the ablest scientists give their time and knowledge for barely enough to live on and intelligent rich men give their money. A good combination.

THAT OPENS up possibilities of the wholesale treatment of disease, important and encouraging. Those who deny the existence of sickness or evil won't object. If there is no evil, the iodine can't be evil and can't do any harm. Medicating a water supply, to cure wholesome, is an improvement on the ancient poisoning of wells which nations solemnly gave up, by international treaty.

IN ROCHESTER, iodine is put in the public water supply to combat goitre. Iodine tablets are given to school children in Syracuse and there is no doubt as to the good results. Twice a year, for three weeks each time, the iodine is put in the water supply. In three weeks, the thyroid gland takes up the iodine it needs to fight goitre for six months.

JUST AS British labor comes to power, strikes threaten to tie up the whole country and make Ramsay MacDonald's job doubly difficult. And labor will not stretch a point, to help its labor friends in. It expects friends not to ask special favors. Ask the men that ran the labor paper in New York until it died, or Berger who runs a paper for labor in Milwaukee. They will tell you they always had a little more trouble with the unions than the "capitalist" papers. Labor unions are consistent.

THE VIEW FROM A CONGRESSMAN'S WINDOW

OUR NATIONAL PROSPERITY

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

There is a pleasing unanimity in the annual reviews of American progress and prosperity for the year that is gone. The United States earned more money in 1923 than in the preceding year; it spent more, and it saved more. On every hand there are evidences of good times. Wages are high, employment is good, relatively few workers are idle, few mouths are hungry, few homes are cold.

America's factories produced more goods last year than in the year before. Its commerce was greater. And even its farms, despite the sad stories from some—produced almost $1,000,000,000 worth more than in the preceding twelve months.

The record is all the more pleasing because it comes in the trial of a long list of dire prophecies. The pessimists were wrong. The prosperity of the United States was not to be thus easily destroyed by a lot of gloomy predictions not in Georgia or elsewhere.

And now it is 1924—a presidential year. Before it comes to a close, the American people will have elected a new President, a new Congress and new state and county governments. As a rule, a year so filled with political labors is a year of dread for commerce, industry and finance. The uncertainty of the political future, with its intimations bearing upon business, makes men timid. The wheels of commerce and industry slow up accordingly.

It may be so in 1924. Yet it should not be. There is no reason the American people should not earn as much, produce as much, spend as much and save as much in the new year as they did in the old. The political activity of the year should not even hamper the steady grind of our industrial and commercial machinery. Yet the future of the nation is closely interwoven with that political destiny. Nor is it without reason that business confidence waits upon political certainty. And therein lies the duty of the American people in the coming year. In their hands lies the control of that political certainty. In their hands lies the determination of their country's destiny.

The prosperity of the United States last year was not a part of a world-wide prosperity. Hundreds of millions of peoples, endowed ever as richly as we with natural resources were hungry and idle, their industries paralyzed, their commerce stagnant, their finances in chaos. American prospered because the wisdom of its people had kept the nation out of alien entanglements.

In the present year the American people will have to decide, in primaries, in conventions and in elections, whether the nation is to remain free from the embroilments which threaten its life and its prosperity. On every side the propagandists are busy. On every hand they offer candidacies, talk about our duty to Europe, about our call to lend our arms to relieve foreign bankruptcies and to send our soldiers to restore foreign order. Even men in our highest offices are striving now, despite the popular will, to embroil us in such wild adventures.

TOM SIMS SAYS

You can't uplift a man by sitting down on him. Gossiping is an indoor sport that develops the jaw. Houses to let at a high rent and houses to let alone. Bet a swimming pool feels lonely during the winter. Truth is stranger than fiction. It doesn't come around as often. Coal and the coal situation usually about the same color. Any man can prove he has good sense by saying that you have. The world is returning from its ten-year naval holiday already. Most people who have nothing to do make the mistake of doing it. Truth crushed to earth rises again, but pedestrians are not truth. Senator Johnson, the presidential candidate, talks like a Fourth of July celebration. Two Baltimore men went to jail for bringing home the bacon. They stole a truck load. In these new talking movies they photograph and photograph actors at the same time. Hunters and fishermen had a banquet in Milwaukee, but lightning didn't strike the place. Borah is against a soldier bonus. Legion members shouldn't let him make them too optimistic. Rockefeller has books showing every penny he ever earned. But there are still other reasons for the paper shortage.

RUSSIAN PIANIST WILL APPEAR IN DAYTONA JAN. 28

We are told that shadows portend great events, but in the case of Josef Lhevinne who plays at Daytona Beach on Jan. 23, the reverse is true. The great moment in the life of our famous pianist was, when a youth, his first meeting with Rubenstein—the then supreme figure in the pianistic world.

WELL, GIRLS, HERE WE ARE AGAIN

With a Bunch of Bargains on the Matrimonial Tree Just Waiting to Be Picked

By R. J. HOLLY
Since our last issue The Herald has been besieged by the eligible and otherwise bachelors of Sanford who are anxious and willing to be sacrificed upon the altar of Hymen (whatever that means) and would like to have someone to pick the thing or even desire to ask them to step up and have a marriage license on them. The only reason The Herald has interested itself in this matrimonial game was because there were so many girls that wanted to be married and so many men who thought they could not afford it. Now since the business absolutely depends upon this marrying game to keep the business going we are anxious to entice a few more of the old boys into the matrimonial sea that they may sink or swim or at any rate get in the game and see how they like it. All those that have been missed in our last issue and in this one are requested to hand in your name as those we mention today either honorable mention or a Carnegie medal for "life saving" as it were.

Among those who have been languishing on the limb of single blessedness or cussiness for some time are the following:

Dr. Ralph Stevens is a big, good looking physician who knows everyone and who admits that he should be married but he does not know just how to go about it. He has been living easy and might object to the many angles of married life but could be approached by the right person.

Fred Dall, Dr. Brown, Dr. Foley, Edgerton Patterson and several others are all enjoying single blessedness at the Gabies. If they were not treated so well at this well known hotel and were not made one of the family they could be approached and would fall for it but girls, they are hard nuts. You will have to promise them meals just as good and all the comforts of a real home if you want them away from the Gabies, but they should be married, yes.

Owen Higgins, Alva Hunt and Bill Sinton are another trio that should be making some young girl happy. They are single and seem to be proud of it but they can be caught with the right kind of chaff mixed with the right kind of conversation. They all fall for it, girls, so get busy.

Bud Johnson, Brice and Moulie are another bunch of nice young buds who should be bridled and led to the matrimonial trough by drink branch water and otherwise turn over a new leaf.

Then there is Raymond Bearden and L. J. Michael who are just prancing around and preening themselves over the fact that no person of the female species in the world could catch them. We would like to see them strike the right one and fall hard.

Then there are the two Chappmans—Bert and Clyde—one of them is a professional pitcher and the other a catcher in the big leagues and they are both dandy boys. They have been away from home too long and should be led to which meeting however gave no advance indication of what was to follow. After entering the Moscow Conservatory and becoming the pupil of its director Safonoff, it was announced one day that the great master would visit the conservatory to observe the progress made since his departure therefrom and that Josef would be expected to play for him.

The announcement produced no effect upon the youth who failed to realize the importance of adequately preparing himself for the event, regarding it with his then usual indifference, so that when he rehearsed his numbers for Safonoff the evening before the visit, the director scolded him heartily for his bad playing and negligence, announcing also that his name would be stricken from the program. This so piqued his pride that Josef went home and, late as it was, practiced diligently and again in the morning, just to prove to himself that he could do it well if he wanted to. As he had been commanded to attend the concert, he obeyed only to observe that his name had not been erased but had been placed at the end of the program the place of honor. He had a stiff job before him, consisting of a Bach fugue, the Beethoven "Eroica" variations (requiring 25 minutes to play), three Chopin études, the Liszt "Summer étude" and Tchaikoff's "Rhapsody." When the boy beheld the great Rubenstein, he got his first real thrill which inspired him to do his best. Safonoff asked Rubenstein which of the boy's numbers he would like to hear and to the surprise of everyone replied, "Oh, let him play all."

At the conclusion, Rubenstein enthusiastically complimented Josef and gave him some good advice: "endurance, patience, persistence are three of the factors that make the artist—not talent alone," and with tears in his eyes added: "You have to work and work to obtain mastery, genius without striving will never bring it"—words that the lad never forgot and which shaped his future.

STETSON SECURES OAKLAND COACH FOR NEXT SEASON

LAKELAND, Jan. 16—Coach McQuillan for the past two years, Director of Athletics at Lakeland High School, will tender his resignation to the local school board effective at the close of the term to accept an offer as director of athletics at the John B. Stetson University at DeLand, the latter institution offering such an attractive proposition that the coach felt it was his duty to accept the offer.

Under the guiding hand of Coach McQuillan, Lakeland High School has formed a reputation to top rank in the high school athletic world. Coming to Lakeland from Rochester, Minn., unheard of except by recommendations, the coaching of McQuillan created a sensation in his first year here, which was in 1922. During this year his team lost one game, that one to Gainesville High, state champions, by the score of 6 to 0.

Some followers of the gridiron game throughout Florida had an idea that Coach McQuillan's 1922 record was only a flash but this was quickly disproven, for his return to the fold in 1923 with a state championship eleven proved beyond any doubt that his coaching was the main factor in Lakeland High winning their first football championship in history. 1923 eleven still have doubts as to whether McQuillan had a greater eleven in 1922 than he had in 1923. His 1922 eleven was a greater scoring machine, much greater than the 1923, but where his 1923 eleven showed up the best was in the standard line which permitted only one eleven in Florida to pass during this year.

Observers of Coach McQuillan's work here during the past two years maintain that his coaching on the fundamentals of the game is what caused his teams to stand out so conspicuously in the football world of Florida. A close friend of the famous Cornell coach Gillmore Doble, and like Doble, McQuillan was termed a "slave driver"—no boy made his team unless he was willing to stand the three-hour workouts every afternoon that he billed for the day's work.

GATOR FIVE WINS OVER SOUTHERN COLLEGE TEAM

GAINESVILLE, Jan. 16—While University of Florida gridiron fans were watching the miserable performance of the Southern college cagers here Monday night, the Gator sharpshooters with the unstoppable "Red" Newton and brilliant Edgar Jones running at top speed, swayed through the Lakeland basketballers in the season's opening clash for the Orange and Blue titles. The display of grand promise in their sensational 27 to 16 victory before a packed gallery in the Gator gym.

Florida's defense was wonderful with little Otis Marshall ruling king in this department. So impressive was the Gator defense that the visitors were made to grope for the Southern being limited to a trio of field goals. Dick Brown fought a furious defensive game and with Marshall was holding the downstaters at their mercy until he was forced out on four personal fouls. Goldstein went in and the good work continued.

The teamwork of the Gator five was something to marvel at. Their passing was of the highest order, their shooting showed practice and their spirit was uncomparable. Gator Forwards Are Fast. Kenneth Halt was covering the floor well at center tonight and while somewhat off in his basket tossing played the game for Fla. The combination of Newton and Jones at forward is bound to score against any team, and Marshall and Brown can be figured to add the best of them at bay. The Gator hoopers carried the play into the heart of their territory from the start. Newton caging a beautiful shot from near midcourt after several minutes of brisk fighting.

Many minor illegalities in the first half gave the ball to both sides numerous times for out of bounds plays. Florida, in returning to the court, here displaying great efficiency. Marshall and Brown were waging such a tremendous defensive battle as the half ended that Southern, when given the ball could not advance into the guarded Florida confines. The Florida five was truly in great form. The half ended with a 15 to 7 count.

PAVING WORK PUSHED. FORT PIERCE, Jan. 16—County forces will resume within a week or ten days the laying of rock on St. Lucie county's portion of the Fort Pierce-Okechobee road eastern terminus of State Road No. 8, it is expected here. Non-availability of rock has held up the work for several weeks, but it is expected that material will again be available shortly. Grading work, resumed several weeks ago, is progressing nicely.

STREETS TO BE PAVED. WEST PALM BEACH, Jan. 16—The city commissioners have been petitioned to pave and otherwise improve thirty-three streets in district No. 4, at a cost of $261,253.61. Grow a cover crop; keep the soil on the land.

FOUR FLORIDA COLLEGES UNITE TO GOVERN THEIR ATHLETIC RELATIONS

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, GAINESVILLE, Jan. 16—Representatives from Rollins, Stetson, Southern colleges, and the University of Florida gathered here Monday morning and laid the foundation for the forming a state university and college athletic association for the purpose of governing athletics within the state. The session was held in the White House hotel.

By-laws and a constitution were drafted by the committee, this data to be sent immediately to the four state institutions for final approval. If passed favorably, the association will convene in first regular session on February 21. Lakeland having been designated the honor of entertaining the premier gathering.

To further athletics in Florida to establish some standard upon which to work is one function of the new organization. Some outstanding man in the state is to be selected as president, he to decide on rules of eligibility and build the association to a high position in Florida athletics.

Subtle represented Rollins, Tribble Stetson, Alderman Southern, while Athletic Director White occupied the seat for the University of Florida. This special finish on the Oakland Motor Car has been subjected to the terrific heat of the southern states the dank sea air in our coast towns and even to the chemical action of a powerful fire extinguisher without harming the finish in the least. Details of the application of the special satin permanent finish and its features were explained by Russell Rogers, manager of the paint department of the Oakland factory, at a recent meeting of the Detroit chapter, Society of Automobile Engineers.

BOBBY VEACH TO QUIT GAME IF HE ISN'T PAID $3,000

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 16—Bobby Veach, for the last 11 years a member of the Detroit Tigers, today declared he was standing by his ultimatum announced yesterday that unless he received $3,000 above his salary from the Boston American league to defray moving expenses, he was through with baseball.

Veach, whose sale to Boston club was announced yesterday by Frank J. Navin, president of the Tigers, asserted he was waiting work from Boston. The veteran outfielder's announcement came following a conference with Mr. Navin yesterday at which he expressed his dissatisfaction with the transfer of his contract to the Red Sox.

Will Sell Autos. What induced the Boston club had offered Veach for his services could not be learned from either Veach or the Tiger officials. Veach declared that unless the Boston club "came through" with the sum he had demanded he would remain in Detroit and devote his time to his automobile business.

STATE EXAMS FOR SCHOOL TEACHERS TO BE HELD SOON

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 15—W. S. Cawthon, superintendent of public instruction, announces that there will be a regular state examination for school teachers held in Tallahassee on Feb. 23 and 24. This examination will give new-comers to the state an opportunity to obtain certificates as teachers by examination, and any other persons who were unable to take the examination previously. It also will give the school authorities an opportunity to provide for large numbers of ourists who come to the state and place their children in school. There are many vacancies occurring about this time each year. It is stated, by reason of teachers marrying around the Christmas holiday season, and new teachers must be employed to take their places.

County superintendents are expected to report on or before Jan. 20 the number of applicants and the kinds of certificates for which applications are made. All persons teaching on temporary certificates are expected to take the examination and to make an effort to obtain regular certificates. Those in this class who fail in the examinations will be replaced, as far as possible, by holders of regular certificates. In announcing the dates for the examinations, Superintendent Cawthon let it be known that there has been a change of policy relative to the issuance of temporary certificates. At present the policy is not to exclude from the privilege of holding these certificates persons who have failed in the examinations. "If they were thus excluded they would not be allowed to compete on equal footing with persons seeking pretexts to absent themselves from the examination, in the opinion of the state superintendent," he says, "to give the whole field to prospective teachers who might have found it possible to attend the examination and might not have passed if they had attended, and to eliminate the teacher who has attempted the examination and failed."

SATIN FINISH ON OAKLAND WILL BE NEWEST FEATURE

The Oakland Motor Car Company is now in full swing on the new special permanent satin finish, perfected at the Oakland factories. Greater durability, fewer washings and low cost service or refinishing are some of the advantages claimed over the regulation varnish job.

Fewer washings of the cars are necessary due to the fact that the ordinary dirt, mud, gumbo or alkali wash can be wiped off with a dry cloth. If the car is dented or marred by accident, the damaged spot can be quickly "bumped out" and refinished with a spray gun at the Oakland service stations, thereby eliminating the necessity of doing a whole section over—something that is required on the varnish job. It is also claimed that the older the car becomes, the glossier the finish, which is brought out by rubbing with a cloth or other soft material.

This special finish on the Oakland car has been subjected to the terrific heat of the southern states the dank sea air in our coast towns and even to the chemical action of a powerful fire extinguisher without harming the finish in the least. Details of the application of the special satin permanent finish and its features were explained by Russell Rogers, manager of the paint department of the Oakland factory, at a recent meeting of the Detroit chapter, Society of Automobile Engineers.

DEBT OF NAT. GOVERNMENT IS GIVEN BY D. OF C.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15—The department of commerce makes the following announcement of the total debt of the National Government, of the 48 states and the District of Columbia, and of all cities, towns, villages, school districts, townships, drainage districts, park districts, and all other civil divisions having the power to incur debt.

For the national government the fiscal year ended June 30, 1923, and for the states and other civil divisions the year ended in the calendar year, 1922. This preliminary summary is a part of the decennial census on wealth, debt, and taxation, and is comparable with a similar report for the year which ended July 1, 1912, and June 30, 1913.

The total gross debt of the national government and of the states, counties, cities, and all other civil divisions amounted to $6,814,955,000 in 1912 and $22,786,715,000 in 1922, an increase of 331 per cent. The per capita gross debt was $70.20 in 1912 and $301.56 in 1922. For the state governments the debt increased from $422,796,000 to $1,162,618,000, an increase of 175 per cent; for the counties, from $371,528,000 to $1,366,639,000, an increase of 268 per cent, and for all other civil divisions, from $3,104,420,000 to $7,731,658,000, an increase of 149 per cent.

The gross debt of the national government increased from $2,916,205,000 in 1913 to $22,525,775,000 in 1922, or 672 per cent. The indebtedness of other countries to the United States November 15, 1923, was $11,800,010,245; and of this total $4,600,000,000 represents the debt against Great Britain.

MORE FORDS WILL BE SOLD IN 1924 SAYS EDSSEL FORD

Even though 1923 exceeded all our expectations, there is every reason to believe that in 1924 business will attain to far greater proportions. More people will buy automobiles during the coming year than ever before. Evidence of our belief in this is the extensive expansion program we are now carrying out and which is aimed to effect new manufacturing economies and materially increase production. So, in the New Year, we will produce more cars and trucks and confidently expect to sell more of them both in the domestic and foreign fields.

There was a time when figures couched up by statisticians to show sales possibilities, replacement requirements and such were guide posts in the industry, and when much time was devoted to discussing sales resistance. These to a great extent have all served their purpose. They were a part of the educational campaign necessary not only to salesmen but to the public. They are passing out just as the phantom of Saturation has disappeared from the automobile horizon.

Today America is completely "Sold" on the automobile. Women are a greater influence in the automobile buying field than ever before and the coming year will see this influence considerably extended. It will be expressed particularly in the closed car sales, for it is natural for women to turn to this more comfortable means of motoring.

Women, you know, through their guardianship of the family purse have become remarkably good judges of values and their knowledge in this respect now extends as much to automobiles as to anything else. Three big life insurance firms have quit in Europe. Getting to be a risky business over there.

Many a crooked landlord owns a square block. Some men would like to be rich enough to have three or four homes to stay away from.

Not so many years ago the motor car was a luxury and was handled with care. The owner with regard to his property seldom failed to remove carefully any stains caused by rain or any other blemish which might permanently mar the finish as he "stabled" his car at the close of an afternoon or evening's ride.

Now the automobile is a necessity which must stand all of the battering that is given an old hat, but which it is still desirable to keep looking as prosperous as the home in which the owner lives or the clothes which he and his family wear. At the same time, the 1923 vintage of automobile owner has little time and less inclination for the painstaking attention required to keep a high gloss finish on his car.

"Here again is a place," says Mr. Dooley of the Dixie Motor Company in discussing this phase of motor car ownership, "where the Reo engineers and designers have shown remarkable foresight. Three years ago they noted the trend towards greater neglect of external appearances on the part of the average owner, and immediately set themselves to the task of finding a solution to the problem this neglect presented. As a matter of fact, they were not altogether unselfish in this undertaking for it is to the interest of the Reo Motor Car Company that all of its cars be kept looking their best for as many years as possible.

"Cuban Gray offered as an optional finish was the outcome of this campaign for a means of giving cars the maximum in appearance for a long period of time. It was just about three years ago that the first car finished in Cuban Gray was sent into owner service, and that car is running every day with its original finish and looking better than many cars two years its junior which were turned out with a high polish.

"It seems like a surprisingly large number," said Mr. Reel, local Dodge Brothers dealer in commenting on the fact that over 90 per cent of 1,000,000 Dodge Brothers cars are still in service. "But when you consider the number of faithful 'old-timers' to be seen everywhere you go, on the country roads, in cities and villages you begin to wonder if these Dodge Brothers cars ever wear out. As a matter of fact, I don't believe they do—or, at least, I haven't heard of any."

"Just as a matter of curiosity, when this latest Dodge Brothers advertisement came out, telling about 90 per cent of 1,000,000 cars still in service, I interviewed all the junk dealers I could find. "They confirmed my opinions absolutely. Of all the old cars they take in, the Dodge is the least numerous. Some of them have never received one. Others say that most of the few that do come in have figured in accidents so disastrous as to make them worthless. "So it is more than simply a

THE PLAN IN BRIEF

Proposed

- That the United States shall immediately enter the Permanent Court of International Justice, under the conditions stated by Secretary Hughes and President Harding in February, 1923.
- That without becoming a member of the League of Nations as at present constituted, the United States shall offer to extend its present cooperation with the League League as a body of mutual counsel under conditions which
- Substitute moral force and public opinion for the military and economic force originally implied in Articles X and XVI.
- Safeguard the Monroe doctrine.
- Accept the fact that the United States will assume no obligations under the Treaty of Versailles except by Act of Congress.
- Propose that membership in the League should be opened to all nations.
- Provide for the continuing development of international law.

Farm management surveys of eighty-three farms in Alachua county have recently been completed for the Department of Agronomy State Agricultural College to be used by the classes in their studies of farm management during the second semester. In the survey the greatest attention was directed to the finding of the value of the food that the farm supplied for the use of the farmhouse, and the problems concerned with the management of farms in general.

German Government Would Not Grieve If Bergdoll Moved Out

By The Associated Press
MOSBACH, Baden, Jan. 15—To several of their acquaintances, some of the German government officials as well as representatives of the state of Baden have intimated that Berlin would breathe at last a slight sigh of relief if Grover Cleveland Bergdoll would find it convenient to pack his trunk and move somewhere beyond the boundary lines of Germany. Bergdoll, under sentence by a United States army court martial to five years imprisonment for draft evasion during the war, lives at his uncle's hotel in Eberbach, Baden, about 20 miles from here, where he moved to residence nearly three years ago when he escaped from America.

Bergdoll, who appeared recently as principal witness for the state in the trial of Corlies H. Griffith, of Hamilton, Ohio, who was accused of having violated German laws in an attempt to secure Bergdoll out of the country, at one time considered applying for German citizenship, but no formal application was ever made.

Bergdoll's relatives in America, it is said, advised against any such procedure on the ground that it would complicate the situation, and might give United States government officials an additional lever to hold onto Bergdoll's Philadelphia property which was seized after his escape.

The status of Bergdoll in Germany according to Berlin foreign office representatives at the trial, is that of any other foreign political offender and regular in every respect, and on this account he is entitled to certain protection under the German laws. Germany has no treaty with any of the powers which would provide for the exchange of political offenders. It was pointed out by the foreign office representatives that soon after the outbreak of war in 1914, many Germans desiring to escape military service fled to Switzerland, Sweden, and other nearby countries, and that Germany has never made any endeavor to have them returned.

Bill Introduced by Trammell Would Aid Settlement of Claims

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15—Senator Park Trammell introduced in the Senate Thursday a Bill, the purpose of which is to expedite the settlement of claims against public carriers.

Senator Trammell's Bill provides that all claims against the carriers for loss, damage or overcharge on interstate shipments shall be settled within 90 days from the date such claim is filed and that a failure to make such settlement within the time prescribed gives the claimant right of legal action and the courts jurisdiction to try and determine such action. It also provides that where delay in settlement is experienced and legal action is resorted to that interest at the rate of 25 per centum per annum shall be added to the principal sum together with a reasonable attorney's fee.

Section two of Senator Trammell's Bill provides that claimant may bring suit against the initial carrier, the delivering carrier or any other carrier participating in the movement of the freight or express.

This measure is along the same lines as the Trammell Claims Law of Florida which Senator Trammell succeeded in having passed in his home state while a member of the State Senate.

Dr. Chapman Says Florida Weather Can't Be Matched

By The Associated Press
UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, Jan. 14—"You can't beat this Florida weather no matter where you go," declares Dr. J. M. Chapman, returned to Gainesville to conduct his 14 winter course in expression and public speaking at the University of Florida. Dr. Chapman came to Florida from Center Harbor N. H., where he spent the late summer and fall months.

Declaring himself frankly amazed at the almost phenomenal growth of the state university, Dr. Chapman stated upon his arrival that "the University of Florida has the largest percent of increase in enrollment of any university in the United States." Since his first visit to Gainesville in 1909 when there were 201 students enrolled, the public speaking instructor has seen the number grow to almost 1500 young men this year.

"I am always glad to come to Florida and see all of my friends again," he declared. "I love to teach, so much in fact, that were I suddenly to become a millionaire I would still teach as long as I was physically able."

F. B. Mills, of New York and Florida, announces that he is planting 2,000,000 gladiolus bulbs at his Orange county garden farm near Orlando. These bulbs will be in soon after January first and by March and early April his place will be a riot of color and beauty as it was last year. There is no more beautiful sight in Florida than these great fields of brightly colored gladiolus stretching out almost as far as the eye can see.
