NEW MOTOR OIL

Promises to Reduce Cost of Fuel and Break Gasoline Prices

Washington, June 9.—The new automobile fuel appearing on the market under the name of "motor spirit," will, according to many automobile authorities, both in this country and abroad, save for many years at least, with the fear of a fuel shortage that will raise prices to a figure almost prohibitive for many motorists. The new fuel can be sold at 3 cents a gallon less than the present price of gasoline, and it has an efficiency of 15 per cent more mileage than ordinary grades of gasoline.

It is not, however, because the new fuel can be sold cheaper than gasoline that it is to have such an important bearing on the auto fuel question, but that 100 gallons of crude oil may now be depended upon to yield 40 gallons of automobile fuel instead of only 20 gallons. Formerly 100 gallons of crude oil gave 20 gallons of gasoline, 20 gallons of kerosene and 60 gallons of fuel oil. Under the new process of refinement the crude oil still gives the 20 gallons of gasoline and the 20 gallons of kerosene, while the 60 gallons of fuel oil is so refined as to give 20 gallons of motor spirit, the remaining 40 gallons being a residue which may be sold for other purposes. This residue is said to be almost as valuable as was the fuel oil.

The new fuel thus obtained is very much like gasoline, except for the pungent odor which is more noticeable than that of gasoline. There is a light colored smoke in the exhaust, but this is not so pronounced as the blueish smoke due to too much oil in many cars. It has a specific gravity but little greater than that of the grades of gasoline now furnished to motorists, and its use results in a slight increase of carbonization, but the deposit is soft and responds to an application of kerosene. It starts it starts as easy as gasoline. "Motor Spirit" is now on sale in the large cities and soon will be obtainable everywhere.

Commercial Club to Meet

The Commercial Club will meet in the city hall on Thursday night to take up the very important matters in connection with the Fourth of July celebration and other matters that may come before the club and all members are urged to be present.

SELLING FLORIDA FRUITS

Big Company Formed at Miami for Better Distribution

Miami, June 9.—At a meeting of the promoters of the South Florida Fruit & Packing Co. this morning preliminary plans were drafted for the organization, Nathan A. Cole and T. A. Winfield being appointed as a committee to prepare a draft of a charter and propose a prospectus at a second meeting to be held one week from today. The incorporation is to be capitalized at $50,000, all of which is to be held here. Most of it will probably be held by growers, making the company cooperative, although others who are interested in the project may obtain reasonable amounts of a stock. No officers were elected at the meeting this morning, this being postponed until the charter is prepared.

Seeking to establish correct representation of Florida and Florida fruits, the new company will sell to northern markets only the best grades of fruit, all inferior grades to be used in making preserves, jellies and juices. The company plans to sell directly to the consumer, eliminating entirely the middle man and the middle man's profits. In order to do this, agents will have to be appointed in the large markets and an extensive and costly campaign of publicity carried on in order to establish a trade.

MORE CLUB MEMBERS

Woman's Club of Sanford Expects To Do Great Work

The Woman's Club of Sanford is now in a position to invite and welcome new members. At present its membership is composed of the women belonging to the former component clubs, but it is hoped that the larger movement may appeal to many who have not heretofore been identified with these organizations. The regular club work will begin in earnest in the fall, but there will be called meetings through the summer as circumstances may require.

In Article V of the constitution the manner of proposing candidates is fully explained and the membership committee will be glad to consider names promptly.

Florida Cattle Raisers Coming Into Their Own

Eradicating The Tick And Raising Own Feed

Fat Cattle Will Soon Be Taking Place Of Western Beef And Bringing Good Prices

In the Country Gentleman for June 7th in one of the most interesting and instructive stories on cattle raising and dairying in Florida that has been published for some time. It is entitled "Florida as a Cattle Country," and is from the pen of Harry Snowden Stabler, who spent much of last winter in the state making a study of cattle conditions in Florida.

Among the lines of the lengthy article is the following:

"Nearly all of the smaller hotels in Florida—and there are some which are excellent—are run on the American plan. When you pick up the menu you may see at the bottom: 'Tea, coffee, cocoa, buttermilk.' Ask the waiter for a glass of milk, and he will say, 'Milk's extra, sah.' Ask the proprietor why it is extra and he probably will tell you that it costs from 45 to 50 cents a gallon wholesale, and that it is not extra at that.

"You naturally wonder where the buttermilk comes from, because milk at 45 cents a gallon surely means 45-cent butter. Jacksonville spends close to a million dollars for the latter each year, imported from other states, while down along the East Coast the Palm Beaches drink milk that comes all the way from New York by steamship.

"There's nothing like asking questions, even if you don't always get the right answers. I said something about milk and the difficulty of getting a good, juicy piece of steak, and a man who knows properly informed me that Florida was really a fine cattle country. I had to laugh, because every cow I had seen looked like the self-same bony little runt I used to see jumping over the moon in a certain book of blessed memory.

"There is one man in Central Florida, however, who is making a stab at the real thing. And he is making money, too. He has one hundred and thirty-five acres of land on which he produces two-thirds of his dairy feed corn and sorghum for silage, velvet beans, cow peas and crab grass—the rest, bran and shorts, being imported. At present the herd numbers thirty-seven and is being built up of Jerseys and grade Jerseys—all Florida and Georgia cattle. The average year-in and year-out, for each cow has been two gallons a day. The cost of producing it puts it at 12 cents a gallon. It retails at 60 cents a gallon and he cannot begin to supply the demand.

"This is the milk situation all over Florida, yet the same thing can be done almost anywhere in the state—at Tampa as well as at Gainesville, Ocala, Leesburg or Jacksonville. Take Tampa, for instance: There are sixty-five dairies in and around that city, which is fairly jumping ahead in population. Some of the richest lands in the state are adjacent to it.

"Hillsborough and Manatee counties alone support more than seventy thousand head of native stock—but one-tenth of all these in the state—but I do not believe there is a dairyman in the region who is not using feed brought a distance of twelve hundred or eighteen hundred miles when it ought to be grown at home. All these larger towns have ice and refrigerator plants, which should lessen the dairyman's difficulties. The most formidable of these is the labor. Dairying is a three hundred and sixty-five day proposition each year, and it needs a clam of labor that is mighty scarce all over the south.

"Here's a tip to the Florida farmer. Cattle feeders in the west and northwest are making contracts for several years ahead with Texas farmers to take the annual crop of calves seven months old, at prices ranging from $25 to $28 a head, depending upon breeding. This season two hundred thousand head of cattle will be shipped out of Texas from the tick area alone, at approximately these prices.

"Arrangements have been made by the Bureau of Animal Industry, which has two representatives in Florida now, for the shipping of some twelve thousand cattle out of that state. They are to be shipped twice—once at the shipping point and once at the destination. This gives the shipper two markets—the feeder and the slaughterer. He had only the latter before.

"The official who tells me this describes Florida as a 'califeederator.'

There are approximately eight hundred thousand cattle in the state. 'Suppose 200,000 calves are dropped each year,' he says. 'At $15—a little more than half the price of the Texas cattle—there is $3,000,000 being lost every year by the cows.

"In view of this it seems to me that the $5,000 recently appropriated by the state to teach the farmers how to fight the tick is mighty small. Florida is, perhaps, in better financial shape than any other state in the Union. She does not owe a dollar except to herself. The legislature might appropriate a larger sum to fight the tick, and erect a fence, high, bull-strong and impregnable fence.

Local Cattle Men

At last the cattle men of this country have come to the conclusion that too long the cattle ticks have depleted their herds without molestation and they have combined in an endeavor to cut the cattle tick from his living in this section of the state at last.

The cattlemen of this and adjoining counties will build a dipping vat near Chuluota and in a few weeks there will be a big round-up of cattle and they will be dipped and dipped until the festive tick ceases to tick.

It has been found that the cattle that are cared for in this manner become fat and are ready sellers at better prices and their hides are much better and bring higher prices. After a careful study of cattle it is found that many Florida cattle die from the effects of the ticks and there will be a widespread crusade to eradicate the tick from this time on. After a few dips in the vats the cattle are found to be free from this great scourge and in a few months the ticks are cleared from the ranges.

In some states white cattle are penned more than they are in Florida and in some pastures there is found to be beneficial for eradicating the tick, but in Florida where the cattle roam for hundreds of miles without restraint there is only one method of getting rid of the ticks and this is the dipping vat.

The experiment at Chuluota will be watched with great interest and much a hide bound old time cattle raiser will take a lesson in raising Florida cattle from this experiment.

Grand Vicer Killed

Constantinople, June 12.—The Turkish Grand Vicer, Mahmoud Schehket Pasha, was assassinated at noon today by two armed men with revolvers, who attacked him while he was processing in his motor car to the Sghime Post.

Mahmoud Schehket Pasha had held office as Grand Vicer since the 24th of January this year when Kiamur Pasha resigned. On the same day Nazim Pasha, the commander of the Turkish army at the Tchatala lines, was shot dead during a demonstration at Constantinople.

Prominent Senators Here

Senator Malone and Senator Igo were here on Wednesday both of them on their way home from the session of the Legislature. Senator Malone is from Key West and everybody knows Senator Igo from our neighboring city of Eustis. Both gentlemen were accompanied by their wives and their many Sanford friends were glad to see them.

Oviedo Folks Here

Among the prominent visitors to the city on Wednesday from Oviedo were T. C. Brannon and family and T. W. Lawton. They came over for Capt. Brannon's new Ford and enjoyed the trip after the rains. They stated that the roads during the recent dry spell were very heavy and almost precluded travel in any direction.

New Newspaper Law Pronounced Constitutional

Supreme Court Renders Decision In The Matter

Newspapers Must Disclose To The Public Who Owns The Various Sheets

Washington, D. C., June 12.—As interpreted, the supreme court today upheld the constitutionality of the newspaper publicity law enacted as a part of the postal appropriation act of 1912.

The particular section attacked was to bar every newspaper and periodical from the mails unless the names or owners thereof with the postal office a sworn statement containing the names of the owners, stockholders and the average daily circulation and thereafter immediately published the statement.

The Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin sought to have the U. S. district court for southern New York enjoin the postal department from enforcing the law. The court found it unconstitutional. The government defended the law as a regulation of the use of the postal facilities.

The New York court sustained the validity of the law in this case as it did in that brought by the Lewis Publishing Company. It held that the law affects interstate commerce and is within the power of congress to regulate.

Chief Justice White interpreted the regulation as a regulation of the postal facilities, and not as a regulation of interstate commerce.

When the government of this country was organized, it was divided into states and territories. The power of congress to regulate interstate commerce was given to it.

The court declared that the law is a regulation of the postal facilities, and not as a regulation of interstate commerce. It is a regulation of the use of the postal facilities.

To emphasize this the court quoted from the report of the senate committee stating that the intent of the legislation was "to secure to the public in the dissemination of knowledge of current events by means of newspapers, the names not only of the apparent, but of what might prove to be the real and substantial owners of the publications and to enable the public to know whether matter which was published was what it purported to be, or was, in substance, a paid publication."

Speaking particularly of the clause requiring the mailing of paid for articles as advertising, Chief Justice White said from the bench that this requirement was cognate with the policy of the government to make the expenditure of vast sums, to afford low mail rates to newspapers, bring some adequate returns to the public.

A social was held at the Baptist church last Tuesday evening, June 10th for the purpose of all meeting those who with Mrs. Whitman and her sister, Miss Laura Davis before they leave to return to Virginia, and also to greet Rev. John Johnson of Georgia who supplied the pulpit last Sunday. A large crowd was present, and the evening passed quickly and agreeably. Mrs. Carrie Enaminger favored the audience with one of her most entertaining readings, our venerable "Father Baldwin" recited "My Old Brown Coat and Me," which he learned over sixty years ago, and little Evadne Biggers also recited. Mr. Davison gave a most interesting account of the fine work done at the Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, Ky., also at the Young Woman's Training School situated in the same city, closing with the hope that the young people of Sanford would hear and heed the call of the hour and avail them selves of the advantages offered for thorough equipment for the service of God and humanity. At intervals various choruses and songs were rendered by the choir, a song was given by the boys of Miss Minnie Stewart's Sunday school class, a duet by Mrs. Beatty and Miss Martha Fox, and a Scotch song, "My Ain Countrie" by Mrs. Wildman. Mr. Jenkins, in behalf of the ladies of the church presented Mrs. Wildman and Miss Davis with hand-painted sets of pins, as souvenirs of Florida and tokens of their love for them. In appreciation of their work in Sanford, Mr. Roland Whitman, the pastor, presented Mrs. Beatty and Mrs. Wildman with a set of pins, and the evening closed with a prayer.

Dixie Is Shivering
New Orleans, La., June 11.—New Orleans today experienced the coldest weather for June 11 in 24 years. At 6 o'clock this morning the low level of the Mississippi river was reported at 10 feet below normal. This date has the coldest record since the river was first gauged at this place.

The weather bureau was advised that the temperature at the Gulf of Mexico was 68 degrees, and the wind was from the north at 10 miles an hour. The humidity was 65 per cent.

Our Military Company Will Organize Tonight

Officers Want Company Equipped At Once

Boys Can Have Arms And Uniforms For Fourth Of July Celebration And Parade

Sanford is to have a military company and it will be one of the crack military organizations in the state. There will be a big meeting in the city hall tonight to perfect the organization and especially the young men of the city should join the Sanford company.

The officers are all experienced in military affairs and they want a full complement of men at once in order that the company can be mustered in and have the equipment in time for the big parade on the Fourth of July. There is nothing that adds so much to any parade or public affairs as a military company and after the Sanford company is formed the people here will wonder how they ever existed without it.

The state government will give the Sanford company a grant of $10,000 for the purchase of arms and uniforms. The grant will be made in the form of a check on the state treasury.

The Sanford company will be organized on the 15th of June. The officers are all experienced in military affairs and they want a full complement of men at once in order that the company can be mustered in and have the equipment in time for the big parade on the Fourth of July.

discuss this feature of the case. Just look at Havana and the Panama Zone and see what the destruction of the mosquito has done. What was achieved there at great cost we can have for nothing, in money. The only cost will be the fearless discharge of duty by the sanitary committee, the mayor and inspectors. I know it is not a pleasant thing to get into people's back yards and absolutely see that no receptacles for water of any kind is kept there, but public health and public comfort demand it. If this duty is fully and fearlessly discharged it would be safe to offer a reward for every mosquito captured in Sanford. These are the words of truth and soberness. Will the authorities act without hesitation.

Respectfully,
J. N. WHITNER.

Couldn't Get Married

The division of Orange county has complicated matters in the most trying manner and there seems no end to the trouble. Each day develops some new difficulty.

One of the most recent problems was presented yesterday when a resident of Orange possessed a new building for the proprietor of the Sentinel in the following way:

He wanted to get married and Seminole county would not issue him a license. As a result of this he had to leave his home and go to another county to get married.

It is said that there is a difference of opinion between the two counties as to the proper jurisdiction in the matter. The matter is being handled by the state.

Office in Herald Building Telephone No. 148

What is so rare as a cold day in June?

Have you heard anything from Park lately?

The newspapers will be forced to tell who owns them and tell it every six months. The Herald is willing to tell every day.

Sanford growers are still shipping green celery to market and it is bringing good prices. The recent cool weather is making fine shipping weather.

We hope the Tampa papers will take care of the Orlando newspaper men while attending the Press Association. Such a thirst as that excursion fostered the other day is positively dangerous.

Governor Trammell in an interview in Jacksonville stated that the 1913 Legislature was no worse than others. Now, what does he mean and how about the Legislature of which he was a member.

Changing the Weather Bureau officials has played the dickens with the weather. While they were busy getting the office in shape the cogs slipped and the coldest June weather on record is the result.

The Tampa Tribune is worrying about the Press Gang getting seasick—Ed Lambright calls it mal de mer—but any one who climbs the rocky road to Sanford Heights daily need not fear sea sickness.

The failure of the present sewers on First street to properly care for the water after a heavy rain seems to call for action on the part of the city council to remedy this defect. All of the water that comes down Park avenue is forced down First street with one storm sewer opening to carry it away and after a very heavy rain the street and sidewalk on the south side of First street between Magnolia and Park is impassable.

Two sessions of the Florida Press Association will be held afloat on Tampa Bay. Let us hope that mal de mer will not incapacitate any part of the members from taking part.—Tampa Tribune. We would respectfully request Lambright not to carry any of that stuff with him on the trip and the editors will not become incapacitated. Just think of Joe Humphreys losing his hat and Clarence Woods his eyeglasses and Bill Russell his good intentions and Harry Brown his religion. We don't want any de mer, although some of the mermaids might not be a-miss with those old flirts who always leave their wives at home.

The special edition recently issued by C. E. Howard of the Orlando Citizen is one of the best this season. Full of fine half tone cuts of business houses, residences and bits of beautiful scenery it is most pleasing to the eye and should prove to be a great boost for Orlando and we hope a boost for Bro. Howard. For it shows that he expended much hard work on it. The Citizen seems to have the field in special booster editions in Orlando and has issued them several times during the winter and every one of them has been excellent. There is nothing that advertises a city quite as much as the special editions giving views of the city and the many beauty spots.

Frank Huffaker is waging a gallant fight in the Tampa Times against the trust formed by the railroads and steamship lines of Florida to choke all the interior towns and cities in favor of Jacksonville. This discrimination on the part of the transportation companies of Florida should be taken up by every board of trade in Florida. Sanford too can tell a tale about the way the wholesale business has been choked off by Jacksonville and the transportation companies. The idea of the Clyde line making rates cheaper is a joke and has been a joke so long that it is a chestnut. An independent line of steamers in Florida would work wonders in making cheaper freight rates. Keep it up, Frank, and we will at least find out who is fostering the trust.

Many of the state papers are censuring the Legislature for failing to pass several good roads measures. The members who voted against these measures are not necessarily voting against roads. The bills were not framed so, and they were averse to spending the people's money haphazard. Let every one own as Duval, Hillsborough, etc. and several other counties are contemplating doing. State supervision of roads is all right but there is always a chance to spend money on supervisor's wages, when the same amount spent for bricks would pave several miles of roads. Our own Forrest Lake voted against the bill and there is no more progressive citizen in the state and he comes from the greatest good roads section in Florida. If the people who framed the bill wish to know why it was killed Mr. Lake can enlighten them upon the subject and make his position very clear.

FEEDING FLORIDA BEEF

There are approximately 800,000 cattle in Florida, but most of them don't get enough to eat. Consequently thousands of them die during a hard winter, and the young ones that pulled through are so stunted that they never grow up.

A few men have seen the possibilities. One feeder figures that an acre of velvet beans will fatten a thousand pounds live weight, and he regards the beans simply as a by-product of the rotation.

Cowpea hay sells for $25 a ton; crab grass hay for $20 a ton; and it doesn't cost $5 a ton to produce either crop.

Milk tetails in the cities for 60 cents a gallon; one man is producing it at 12 cents a gallon.

Now, with the aid of the federal government, 12,000 cattle are to be shipped out of the state to the food lots, and if raisers will only keep at it, there is a $3,000,000 business in sight.

INGERSOLL'S REPLY

A young man who sought a clerkship in one of the departments at Washington, once asked the late Robert G. Ingersoll for his endorsement and this was Ingersoll's reply:

"Young man, I would rather have forty acres of land, with a log cabin on it and the woman I love in the cabin—with a little grassy, winding path leading down to the spring where the water gurgles from the lips of the earth, whistling day and night to the white pebbles a perpetual poem—with hollyhocks growing at the corner of the house, and morning glories blooming over the low thatched door—with lattice work over the windows so that the sunlight would fall checkered on the dimpled baby in the cradle—and birds, like songs with wings hovering in the summer air—than be clerk of any government on earth."

MAKING BRICK

The Sanford Herald makes an excellent suggestion—that with an era of brick road building beginning in Florida this state should make all the brick needed for this purpose. The Herald points out that there is an abundance of material in Florida for brick making purposes, as good brick can be made here for road building purposes as can be made in any state. The enormous cost of freight on brick brought in from other states would be saved by the home manufacture of our paving material.

There is a whole lot of truth and good sense in this suggestion and the Tribune is pleased to note that the Herald will take steps toward practical results along this line. It is a matter that should be taken up by the commercial organizations of every city. Think of the saving which would result if Hillsborough county could make within its own limits all the brick required for its million dollars worth of good roads. The saving would add many miles to the mileage now contemplated for this brick highway system.—Tampa Tribune.

ORLANDO'S AWFUL THIRST

The Orlando Sentinel calls Tampa a "rum sellers' paradise." It says Tampa's mail order liquor houses are a "disgrace to the splendid city of Tampa and a curse to Florida."

The Sentinel's outburst was occasioned by a negro excursion which was operated from Orlando to Tampa. Nearly everybody on the excursion came home drunk, the Sentinel says, especially the negro women. One of the latter actually spilled two bottles of whiskey on the spotless sidewalks of Orlando before she got fifty feet from the train.

The main trouble in this particular instance seems to be the enormous thirst of the negroes of Orlando. When they come to Tampa, according to this account, they try to drink all the booze in this city and what they can't drink they carry away with them. As long as the Tampa saloons are legalized, no one can blame them for selling the stuff to those who want it, and the best way out of the dilemma for Orlando would seem to be keeping its negroes at home.—Tampa Tribune.

FRANK CLARK IS PLEASED

Representative Frank Clark tells a Washington correspondent that he is thoroughly pleased with the redistricting measure adopted by the recent Legislature and declares positively that he will be a candidate to succeed himself. Now that Mr. Clark has become the chairman of one of the most important committees of the House, he feels that his usefulness to the state will be vastly increased. He calls attention to the fact that this is the second house committee chairmanship ever allotted to Florida, the first being that to Representative Sparkman.

In the course of his interview Mr. Clark says: "I am grateful for this honor and shall try to institute certain reforms which I believe will result in saving millions of dollars annually to the people. I am proud of the honor because I believe I am the second representative from Florida who ever held a chairmanship in that body, Col. Sparkman being the first. When it is considered that we have 291 Democrats in the present house and only fifty-seven committees, it can readily be seen that Florida with only four representatives and two such important chairmanships as those of rivers and harbors and public buildings and grounds, has been signally honored."

All of which is very gratifying to his friends and admirers of both these distinguished Floridians.

POWELL IS GOING

Willis Powell, the livestock wire that ever sparked around the main stem is leaving Tampa, where for several years he has acted as secretary of the Tampa Board of Trade and kept Florida from freezing by California's thermometer. Powell goes to Augusta, Georgia (wherever that is) and of course he gets more salary and that is what we are all looking for and Powell is not in Tampa or any other seaport for his health. The man who acts as secretary for the board of trade or writes miles of dope for the cities and does not get pay for it should go where he can get pay and there are hundreds of good live towns that are looking for these live wires.

Powell will be missed from Tampa and from Florida, for while he was primarily for Tampa he was also for the entire state and helped every section. There is only one Willis Powell and we all wish him well in his new field of labor. He will boost Augusta as she has never been boosted before and we can expect life size pictures of Willis and ex-President Taft playing golf on the front pages of the Augusta papers during the winter.

SAME THING HERE

Quite a number of people are shipping groceries into Orlando from mail order houses; also hardware and furniture is coming in to individuals in the same manner. Those receiving the goods claim that they are saving from ten to twenty-five per cent in thus doing.

But are they? When they come to compare quality are they really saving anything. Granting, however, that they do, how much would there be of Orlando if all people did that sort of business and what inducement would there be for any one building up a home in this locality if such conditions prevailed generally?

Take the matter of printing. There are newspapers in the city who are very liberal in devoting their space to the upbuilding of the community and the advancements of the business interests of this city and county. Yet the county officers, bankers and some mercantile houses send to Jacksonville and other places to get printing done that runs into thousands of dollars each year.

Advertising fakirs from outside will come in and gather up thousands of dollars of advertising that does Orlando no good. Travelling men will come in and sell to public officers and business houses inks and supplies at exactly the same price or more than home dealers will sell exactly the same article. Is this the way to build up a city?

Every man who reads this knows that it is a statement of exact facts and every man guilty of the charges made in this article if he is interested in his home city will change his methods. If he is only interested in what he may be able to rake in for himself or his friends of course he will give no heed.

Introspection will do Orlando much good right now.—Orlando Citizen.

Entre Nous Bridge Club

Mrs. Gertrude C. Keely was hostess of the Entre Nous Bridge Club Wednesday afternoon. Two tables of bridge were played, one of which was a guest table.

Mrs. Geo. A. DeCottes made the highest score at the club table and won the pretty prize, a dainty little china cup and saucer.

The guest prize, also a cup and saucer was won by Mrs. F. J. Gonzales, who made the highest score at the guest table. After the games were concluded delicious ice cream and cake were served by the hostess, whose guests were Mrs. George A. DeCottes, Mrs. J. H. Rounhill, Mrs. A. B. Wallace, Mrs. A. P. Connelly, Mrs. F. J. Gonzales, Mrs. George Fox, Jr., Mrs. R. R. Deas, Mrs. C. C. Howard.

Just A Word About Breaking Dollars

How many remember the time—perhaps it was in your laboratory days in high school—more probably it was when you had applied a match to the thermometer to see the mercury rise and smash the glass—that you touched a drop of the quicksilver and saw it fly to pieces and scatter in every direction!

Don't you often have the same experience with a dollar—break it and the pieces will vanish just as quickly as the quicksilver was scattered!

If you have, you will be interested in an easy and practical plan of holding your dollars together and getting from them the service to which you are entitled.

You, Mr. Salaried Man and you, Mr. Wage Earner need and want a place where your money can be handled by the same method that merchants and manufacturers handle theirs.

What you need and want is the assurance that some bank wants your account and is willing to have you deposit your monthly or weekly income and check against it for your expenses, thereby giving you every opportunity to spend exactly what is necessary and no more. It's an ideal plan.

The Peoples Bank of Sanford is on record as a bank that encourages the banking habit in men and women of all walks of life and we invite YOU to begin right now and deposit your income with us and handle your funds in a systematic manner.

Our Bank is just an ordinary place of business, not a complex and reserved organization that only monied men can approach and feel at home. Our officers and clerks are always willing to serve you and to explain any little details that you may feel a trifle uncertain about.

DON'T WAIT UNTIL YOUR AMOUNT IS LARGE. START TODAY.

Another thing to remember—WE HAVE THE LARGEST RESOURCES AND FINANCIAL BACKING COMBINED OF ANY BANK IN SEMINOLE COUNTY.

THE ICE CHEST

Is the Power Chest in Your Home Now

Upon it the efficiency of your refrigerator depends, and the happiness and harmony of your home turns upon whether the supply of ice in that chest is scant or sufficient for all purposes.

Watch that ice chest as closely and continuously as an engineer keeps an eye on his steam gauge. Never let the ice run too low, and the machinery of your home will always run smooth.

OUR ICE is so cheap you can afford to use it freely. Get one of OUR COUPON BOOKS and get more for the same money, besides saving yourself the time and bother connected with taking ice in the old-fashioned "pay-in-cash" plan. Our drivers have these books for sale.

Organ Concert

The organ concert given at the Congregational church last Tuesday night by Evan G. Pattishall was one of the best demonstrations of the possibilities of the pipe organ that has ever been given in Sanford. On account of several other attractions and the rain the concert was not as well patronized as it should have been, but those who were present were given a rare treat.

Mr. Pattishall, though young in years, is a master of the organ and his large and varied program gave his powers free scope and the various numbers were executed repeatedly.

Mr. Pattishall is a graduate of Morningside Conservatory of Music of New York and he has studied with some of the greatest artists of America. He is spending a few weeks with his parents at Geneva and at the earnest request of several of the music lovers of Sanford he consented to give the recital last Tuesday night and it is hoped that ere he returns to New York he will again give the people here an opportunity to enjoy his wonderful gift in performing on the pipe organ.

Following is the complete program rendered Tuesday night:

- Overture, Poet and Peasant Van Suppe Intermezzo, Cavallera Rusticana P. Mascagni Evensong Edw. F. Johnston Melodie in F Rubenstein Traumeri Schumann Supplication Frysinger Spring Serenade Lacombe Suite for Organ J. H. Rogers Prologue March Intermezzo

Auction Bridge Club

The Auction Bridge Club was entertained by Mrs. O. Chase Tuesday afternoon. The highest score was made by Mrs. Robert Newman, who won the handsome prize, a cut glass loaf sugar tray. After the conclusion of the interesting games of cards delicious sherbet with whipped cream and cake was served by the hostess.

COMMERCIAL CLUB MEETING

Many Important Matters Discussed By Club Last Night

The Commercial Club was called to order last night by Vice President Foster and the matter of Fourth of July celebration was brought up and the committees called upon for reports. Many of the chairmen of the committees were conspicuous by their absence and it seems that few of them have called their committees together. It was decided to have the secretary instruct them to call meetings at once and make a full report at the meeting next Thursday night. B. W. Herndon read a comprehensive report of the cost of the barbecue and other expenses of the celebration held three years ago and it showed that under present conditions the present idea of a big barbecue would better give way to a real old fashioned fish fry, since barbecues are not popular in the hot month of July. It was also decided to correspond with a certain prominent speaker to make an address that day and his name will be given publicly later.

Other speakers for the occasion were also appointed. The communications from the ladies in regard to the children's exercises, opening the day with songs, was adopted and the state song will be printed and given out to the children. The matter of the winter Chautauqua was also taken up and it was decided to appoint a committee to solicit the necessary funds to guarantee the attraction. C. F. Hamilton, secretary of the New Smyrna Board of Trade was present and addressed the club on the subject of deep water at Mosquito Inlet and his facts and figures were a revelation to the members and were given the closest attention. Deep water at Smyrna means much to Sanford and the people here will gladly join the Central Florida Deeper Waterways Association and help along this great work.

Young Flagman Killed

O. R. Rader, a flagman on the Atlantic Coast Line Railway met a tragic death at Kissimmee yesterday morning, being struck by a water tank, falling down between the cars and caught by the trucks and dragged some distance before the train could be stopped. Young Rader, who was twenty-three years of age was a flagman on a through freight, known as the "Extra Package Freight Train," which was northbound, in charge of Conductor Hyde.

The train had stopped at Kissimmee for water and was starting out, with Mr. Rader standing between two cars, and signalling to the engineer while looking toward the rear of the freight. He was leaning some distance out, heedless of the tank in front, which struck him in the back of the head, knocking him from his position. Dazed by the blow, he fell between the cars, hanging on to the trucks, and was dragged several yards before the engineer could stop the train.

It is said that as soon as the engineer received the fatal signal he applied the emergency brakes, which brought the train to such a sudden stop that it was broken in two.

As far as could be learned, young Rader was single and his home is at Newport, Tenn. He lived about one hour after the terrible tragedy. The injuries that brought almost instant death were a hole knocked in the head; another torn into the stomach; and the left leg broken.

The young man was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and the body was turned over to an undertaker at Kissimmee to prepare for burial.

Presbyterian Church

At the night service Sunday, Dr. Brownlee will give an illustrated talk upon Mexico. Several years ago he visited Mexico to investigate the missionary work of the Presbyterian church there, and in that study he was carried out of the path ordinarily pursued by the tourist, and had the privilege of coming into rather close touch with Mexican life as it really is, being entertained in Mexican homes way back in the mountain districts.

You are invited to take this free trip to the nation of our neighbors, who are yet so far removed from us in their life and thought.

Men are especially invited to the Brotherhood meeting at the church at 9:45 Sunday morning.

Potatoes 16 Cents Bushel

Chicago, June 11.—The high cost of living received a jolt yesterday when old white Burbank potatoes were offered in Chicago at 16-12 cents a bushel, the lowest price in the memory of local dealers. A year ago these potatoes were selling at $1 and $1.15 a bushel.

The potatoes offered yesterday were shipped from Minnesota at a time when the market price was between 80 and 90 cents. The consignees put the price down to 40, 30, 20 and finally to 16 1/2 cents, but still there were no takers.

Consumers are paying 18 to 20 cents a peck to retailers for old potatoes and sales to the public by shippers in the railroad yards were planned today.

Notice

The annual stockholders meeting of the Seminole Co-Operative Mercantile Co., of Sanford, Fla., will be held at Masonic hall June 21, 1913, at 7:30.

CHAS. INGOL, Secretary.

Electrical Tree.

Scientists tell us that there has been discovered in the forests of India a strange plant which possesses in a very high degree astonishing electric and magnetic power. The hand that breaks a leaf from it receives instantly a shock equal to that which is produced by the conductor of an inductive coil. At a distance of 31 yards a magnetic needle is affected by it. The energy of this singular force varies, but it is most powerful when the sun is shining brightly. The storms its intensity increases in striking proportion. One never by any chance sees a bird or an insect light on the electric plant. Nature seems to warn them that they would find their death—Christian Herald.

Veritable Plague of Rats.

It is said that rats have nearly taken possession of Haskella Island in Casco Bay, off Harpswell. Their paths can be seen over the banks and fields. A sportsman who set some traps on the island, hoping to catch minks, returned in a few hours to find seven rats, some a foot long, in his traps.

Congregational Church

Next Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service a new series will be started, subject "Jesus' Idea of Being a Christian." In the evening service at 7:30 the text for consideration, will be "Strengthen the things which remain." Sunday school at 10 a. m. All are cordially invited to the services.

F. P. STRONG, Acting Pastor.

FIGHTING THE MOSQUITO

Other Cities in Florida are Taking Up The Matter

Sanford in her fight against the mosquito does not stand alone as all of the cities and towns and villages will find as the summer progresses that the only way to prevent fevers is to prevent the propagation of the mosquito.

During the last year or two the city health authorities have almost banished the mosquito from Jacksonville but he has come back. Reports from various parts of the city show that the mosquito nuisance is worse here than it has been in a long time.

Of course we all know that the mosquito is the disseminator of fevers and if present conditions continue there will be a very great amount of sickness in Jacksonville this summer. But the worst result of this plague is not a case of sickness here and there, though this is what attracts attention.

No man can toss and fight mosquitoes all night and be in good condition for work the next day. No man can do this night after night and retain his vigor. If the mosquito nuisance is permitted to continue the entire population of Jacksonville will suffer, a large number will become ill and some will die.

The city health department should begin a crusade against the mosquito once. There is too much of the progress of this city that runs to show and too little to health and comfort. Health and comfort are the prime necessities of the people—not of a few of the people but of all the people.

It may be that the mosquito plague cannot be entirely stamped out though this has been done in other places to their great improvement in health. Unquestionably the situation can be relieved and somebody will be to blame and very much to blame if material relief is not afforded. The comfort and health of the people demand immediate and energetic work for the destruction of the mosquito.

GREEN CELERY MOVING

Growers Will Finish Moving Green Staff this Week

The celery movement has not stopped in Sanford as yet and every week since February has seen celery moving from this point. Since the advent of green celery the season has been considerably lengthened and last week about eight cars moved from here and about the same number this week.

The green celery is bringing $1.50 per crate here and has brought a good price all the month of May. While not as large stalks or as fine in appearance as the golden self blanching celery the green is much in demand at this time of the year, as it comes to the market when all the other celery from every point has been exhausted and makes up in celery taste for all deficiencies in appearance, and is greatly used for salads, dressings and garnishing purposes.

MAKING ASPHALT STREETS

Braidentown Will Give It a Trial for Paving at $1.69

Braidentown is laying some 42,000 square yards of Trinidad asphalt paving. The contract given to the West Construction Company some time ago is for sheet asphalt paving of 1 1/2 inches, on a four inch base, and the price at which the contract was awarded is considered a low one, the contractors desiring to use this stretch as an object lesson.

Advises from Braidentown state that the price is $1.69 per yard, and that the figure includes the grading, excavating and removal of all surplus dirt from the street, and also a four inch concrete base. The price is for paving with an asphalt surface of 1 1/2 inches.

The contractors further agreed with the city of Braidentown to keep the street in repair for five years, leaving them in as good condition as when first completed.

Compared with the figures for brick paving, at Braidentown, the asphalt is about 15 cents costlier per yard. The figure of $1.25 is given for brick laid flat.

Braidentown has some streets finished with coal tar, but it is declared that coal tar is not in it with the asphalt. When the present contract is completed, will have some seven or eight miles of cement sidewalk, with more to come.

NEEDED A WOMAN

When She Came Business Picked Up and He Decided She Should Remain.

BY MILDRED CAROLINE GOOD RICH.

"Business is bad, very bad," said John Moore to a passing townsman, and struck a still more dejected attitude in the doorway of his little store. He posed there, staring gloomily out into the fast darkening street, thinking how very bad was business, indeed, and wondering why he had ever brought his little stock of dry goods, clothing, boots and shoes and notions to Ilverton.

"I would go to a real live, wide awake town," he ruminated, "and here I am—trade dull, stock dead, and I don't seem to make many friends. What ho! I suppose being a crusty old bachelor keeps away the ladies' heads. As to others, maybe I'm too slow and old-fashioned. Guess I'll close up." Hello!

Starting to pull up the awning, the storekeeper's foot touched a moving business object crouched back in the hallway side entrance to the building. "Here, wake up!" called out John, with a frown. "What you doing there, anyway?"

"I'm not asleep," responded the faint, quavering voice, "and I'm here because I'm too sick and weak to go any further."

The speaker got to his feet with a painful effort. As he came more fully into view John regarded him closely. "Oh, I see," he said, rather distastefully; "you are the man who was here a month ago, and got in trouble, with a riotous crowd down at the tavern."

"That was me," assented the tramp, for such he seemed. "I was arrested. I hoped it was forgotten, for I came back here this morning to find work."

"If you don't make it," said John, "come back, and I'll give you board and lodging for helping around the store until you get something better to do."

Price reported that afternoon. He had found a chance to work as a teamster, he said, but, he added, he had decided first to submit a proposition to the storekeeper.

"All right, what is it?" asked John in his usual crisp, businesslike way.

"Well," replied Price, "I don't want you to be offended, but I've been trying to study out why you don't do more business than you do. You have got the stock, other stores are just rushing Saturday's, especially, the trade is big. You haven't got your share."

"I have realized that for some time," said John, bitterly.

"Now, I've been thinking up matters for your good, because you have been so kind to me," continued Price, humbly but sincerely. "I amounted to something once. Had a business, and but for drink would have succeeded. If you will let me do a little advertising for you, I'll guarantee results."

Blowing John Moore was doubtful but finally he agreed to try the experiment. The next day Price cleaned up the show windows. The next he repainted the front of the store in attractive colors. After that he brought a big brass bell and secured it on a standard over the store doorway with a chain running to the table of the store.

Early Friday morning a sign appeared above the bell reading: "Every twentieth purchase free—announced by this bell."

Just at noon the bell rang. The excited customer, a farmer, was informed that his purchase would be handed to him free of charge. As he left the store John came rushing back to Price.

"Say," he exclaimed, "you'll run me? Why, that was a twelve-dollar overcoat!"

"Never mind," replied Price, con-

denly. "The average will come out right."

This proved to be true. Curious people came in, making only small purchases. The news got around town. The crowd kept up till midnight. Tired out, but elated, John reckoned up the gains of the day. Counting in the presents given, he was over fifty dollars to the good.

The next week Price had a new scheme. He advertised for $1.00 per cap to children, advertising the store. The rush kept up.

"Mr. Moore," said Price one evening, "the night business is better than the day. That is because you don't get the trade of the ladies. I've a new suggestion to make. You need a woman behind that dry goods counter. Let me send for my daughter, Martha. We can use the two empty rooms upstairs, and you needn't pay either of us a cent of salary unless we earn it."

So this came about. The result was magical. Martha Price, bright, modest, obliging, brought in the female customers in groups. The pleased old bachelor began to humanize himself with pleasant words instead of frowns. Fortune smiled upon him. In turn he smiled upon Martha.

"It's no use denying it, Price," he said to her father one day, "you two have managed to transform a crusty, self-opinionated, behind-the-time, crusty old bachelor into a real human being. As to you, I'm proud of you."

"Some good in the world after all, am I?" responded Price. "I'm so glad, and Martha is happy as the day is long."

John Moore did some deep thinking the rest of that day. In the early evening, when Price was eating his supper, he went over to the counter where his daughter stood.

"Martha," he said, "I'm going to tell you something that I never told any other woman. Having had no experience, I must be rather plain and blunt."

"Yes?" murmured Martha. Her color heightened.

"I love you, and I want you to be my wife. Of course, a crusty old bachelor—"

"Don't call my father's best friend hard names," interrupted Martha sweetly. "I am only a poor girl, but if true love and devotion will satisfy you—"

Then it was his turn to interrupt—with a kiss.

Tired out, but elated, John reckoned up the gains of the day. Counting in the presents given, he was over fifty dollars to the good. The next week Price had a new scheme. He advertised for $1.00 per cap to children, advertising the store. The rush kept up. "Mr. Moore," said Price one evening, "the night business is better than the day. That is because you don't get the trade of the ladies. I've a new suggestion to make. You need a woman behind that dry goods counter. Let me send for my daughter, Martha. We can use the two empty rooms upstairs, and you needn't pay either of us a cent of salary unless we earn it." So this came about. The result was magical. Martha Price, bright, modest, obliging, brought in the female customers in groups. The pleased old bachelor began to humanize himself with pleasant words instead of frowns. Fortune smiled upon him. In turn he smiled upon Martha. "It's no use denying it, Price," he said to her father one day, "you two have managed to transform a crusty, self-opinionated, behind-the-time, crusty old bachelor into a real human being. As to you, I'm proud of you." "Some good in the world after all, am I?" responded Price. "I'm so glad, and Martha is happy as the day is long." John Moore did some deep thinking the rest of that day. In the early evening, when Price was eating his supper, he went over to the counter where his daughter stood. "Martha," he said, "I'm going to tell you something that I never told any other woman. Having had no experience, I must be rather plain and blunt." "Yes?" murmured Martha. Her color heightened. "I love you, and I want you to be my wife. Of course, a crusty old bachelor—" denly. "The average will come out right." This proved to be true. Curious people came in, making only small purchases. The news got around town. The crowd kept up till midnight. Tired out, but elated, John reckoned up the gains of the day. Counting in the presents given, he was over fifty dollars to the good. The next week Price had a new scheme. He advertised for $1.00 per cap to children, advertising the store. The rush kept up. "Mr. Moore," said Price one evening, "the night business is better than the day. Commission Firm Made To Pay Price

Sanford Grower Gets Justice In New York Courts

Contract To Buy Celery At A Stipulated Price Means That Broker Must Pay Up

If a commission firm makes a price with a grower to take his crop straight through at a certain price f. o. b. Sanford and the market should go down the commission firm is bound to pay the contract price whether the agreement is in writing or is an oral one, provided there are witnesses to the agreement.

The decision has been made by the court in New York in the case of L. A. Brumley vs. the G. B. Fish Co. of New York City and will be of great interest to every grower in the Celery Delta and in other parts of Florida.

Early last season the representative of Fish & Co. wanted celery and wanted it badly and at that time there was little to be had except that of Mr. Brumley, and having prime stuff Mr. Brumley wanted a good price for the same and the representative made a contract for the entire crop at a good figure.

The parties made the contract verbally but in the presence of witnesses and the inspector of the pack decided upon was agreeable to both parties. The first shipments were all right and then the high market dropped and naturally the commission firm tried to cover by refusing any more shipments.

then and there. The matter was kept secret until the happy couple came home to Sanford, when of course the secret leaked out and bride and groom are receiving congratulations. The bride is a well known resident of Woodbury, Ga., where she has resided for many years and the groom needs no introduction to Sanford, having resided here for the past five years and being engaged in the manufacture of carriages and wagons, is chief of the fire department and member of the city council.

Mr. and Mrs. Underwood will make Sanford their future home and will be at home in the apartments of the Underwood building on Oak avenue after July first.

West-Siders Attention Cleaning up day on the West Side has had a far more reaching effect than was ever dreamed of in the most optimistic dreams of the association and the excellent results obtained from the instigation of a cleaning up campaign has been of inestimable value in the cleanliness and beauty of this section. In some neighborhoods the neighbors have tacitly agreed to have regular "clean up" once a month and the good work goes on. Attention is called to the coming festivities and influx of visitors that will celebrate two great events in history—the Declaration of Independence and the establishment of Seminole county, so it behooves us to get extra busy and have another general cleaning up day, that the West Side may be justified in claiming that it is the cleanest and prettiest section in Sanford. Everybody get busy and clean up for visitors.

Lecture on Mexico Dr. Brownlee gave a most interesting lecture at the Presbyterian church last Sunday night on Mexico. Dr. Brownlee spent several months in Mexico, studying the natives and their customs and the work of the missionaries and in his lecture told many interesting tales of the Mexican people and showed various articles of the culinary departments—clothing, etc. The lecture was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience and they could have listened to Dr. Brownlee several hours longer, for Mexico is very much in the public eye at present on account of the civil war that is devastating the country. Very few people were aware of the fact that the Mexican people are anxious to hear the word of God and that they are denied the privilege in so many parts of the republic. The lecture of Dr. Brownlee was a revelation in many respects and an appeal to help the missionary work in that country will meet with a ready response in the future.

A Mosquito Crusade Hon. J. N. Whittier appeared before the city council last night in the interest of the crusade against the mosquito that will be inaugurated in Sanford and received the assurance of all the members that they would use their best efforts to assist in eradicating the festive mosquito and the fly also. There is no excuse for the appearance of the mosquito or the fly in Sanford. The city is so well drained that no breeding place for the mosquito could be found and the only way to propagate the mosquito here is to leave receptacles of water standing in the yards. The sanitary officer will be instructed to arrest any person who allows such trash to remain in their yards after this warning and the fly and the mosquito will be forced to evacuate and Sanford will know them no more.

Keep Cattle In South Washington, June 16.—Farmers of Florida, as well as those in Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi, have been specially warned by the bureau of animal industry of the department of agriculture against the wholesale exportation of their cattle.

This warning has also been given to all of the farmers of the south on the grounds that unless the shipments out are stopped there will be a shortage of cattle on the southern market. The bureau says that in the last year, middle west buyers have taken thousands of cattle which should be retained for breeding purposes, and have used them for beef.

Will Rejuvenate Autos J. Couch has built a shop on First street, east of the Fairview and will paint and repair the woodwork of automobiles. Mr. Couch is an expert in this line and expects to fit up his establishment later on to take care of the making of automobile tops and vulcanizing casings for tires, etc. Such a factory is needed in this section where the automobile industry is growing.

Deep Water At New Smyrna Creates Interest In Sanford

Will Mean Much To Sanford And All Interior Florida

Sanford Expects To Have All Water Route To East Coast According To Plans

A meeting of the Sanford Commercial club was held in the city hall building Thursday evening to further investigate the matter of making a deep water harbor at New Smyrna. Mr. H. I. Hamilton, secretary of the New Smyrna board of trade came over to make an address on the subject. He was greeted by a large and enthusiastic audience and his remarks were well received.

The movement for the creation of a seaport at New Smyrna began last fall. The New Smyrna board of trade opened up the matter, has actively prosecuted it to the present time with the result that the outlook for the success of the movement is becoming brighter and stronger each day. A healthy local interest was worked up and a temporary organization, having for its purpose the deepening of Mosquito Inlet. This organization held meetings in the towns and cities adjacent to New Smyrna and much moral support was assured in this manner.

A mass meeting was held in New Smyrna last February at which the Central Florida Deep Waterway Association was organized, its purpose being to carry on an active propaganda in the interest of the movement. Meetings were held in various cities in the central portion of the state and are continuing to be held in all that territory which would in any way benefit by this project.

In April Maj. Slattery, engineer in charge of this district, after proper investigation rendered a report to the board of engineers for rivers and harbors at Washington, favoring the opening of the inlet and the converting of New Smyrna into a deep water port. A survey has been ordered made of the improvement and the probable cost ascertained. The proposition is now up to the board of engineers and the Association is now actively engaged in gathering definite data with the view of securing a favorable recommendation for the project.

The matter will be submitted to the floors and perhaps continued in Congress and upon their approval it will then be presented to Congress, asking for an appropriation to carry out the plans. The matter will come up before Congress at its next session in December and it is thought by those who are in a position to judge the matter that little or no trouble will be had in securing favorable legislation.

The Central Florida Deep Waterway Association is planning to hold meetings at Orlando, Leesburg, St. Cloud, Lakeland, Eustis, Leesburg, Tavares, Palatka, Crescent City and such other towns and cities as are interested. Statistics covering the incoming and outgoing tonnage of the territory affected are being gotten together for the various committees that will have charge upon the matter. The presentation of these facts, covering practically the entire commerce of central Florida will be very interesting to the residents of the state as well as to the committee.

The New Smyrna board of trade, through its President Leidersdorf and its Secretary, Mr. Hamilton deserve much credit for their activity in pushing this matter and that they are upon the right track, if definitely decided by the right track is definitely decided by the splendid enthusiasm manifested at the meetings for the discussion of the matter.

T. K. BATES.

Joe Reese is Married

As a complete surprise to their many friends is the announcement that Miss Adele H. Brossier, daughter of Col. and Mrs. F. C. Brossier, will be married late this afternoon, to J. Hugh Reese, formerly associate editor of the Metropolis. The ceremony will be witnessed only by the immediate members of the family, and Father Kennedy of the Church of the Holy Name will officiate. It will take place at the beautiful Brossier home on Biscayne Drive.

It had not been anticipated that the ceremony would take place at this time. Mr. Reese came to Miami a few days ago from Tallahassee where he has been corresponding for the Metropolis and other leading newspapers as a member of the legislative press bureau, and his bride has but recently come home from Breneau College, Georgia. Their plans were made quickly and kept a profound secret from their many friends.

Mr. Reese was connected with Miami newspapers for several years and is well known here. His bride is a great social favorite and a young woman of more than usual talent.—Miami Metropolis.

Free Distribution of Seed Beginning November 1, 1913, I will have 20,000 packages of vegetable seed and 2,000 packages of flower seed for free distribution.

I would prefer sending these seeds to actual farmers, gardeners and those having flower gardens, rather than promiscuously to a list of registered voters, many of whom could have no use for them.

Every man, woman and child in Florida desiring a package of these seeds is invited to send me a postal, not a letter, merely stating "Vegetable Seed" or "Flower Seed" and plainly giving name and address. Do not write a letter, but use a postal card for the reason that it can be more easily filed and handled.

Write that card right now, for these addresses must be ready for the Agricultural Department by November 1st, 1913, and it will take some time to address the packages. Address: Claude L. Engle, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

A New Potato Pest

A warning against a new potato pest which threatens the "spud" crop of many states has been sent out by the United States Department of Agriculture in a bulletin of information about the Phthorimae operculella Zett., which is the scientific name for the pest. It is described as "the worst potato blight that ever visited California." It is not confined to the state, however, but has spread northward and eastward to others in the last two years. Complaints have been received also from two counties in Texas and San Jose, Costa Rica, Colorado and North Dakota. The pest has been found also in New York, Ohio, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, New Zealand, Algeria and countries of Northern Africa.

An authority of the Bureau of Entomology has estimated the loss caused by this potato pest to two farmers alone near El Monte, Cal., as $90,000 and $70,000 respectively for a single year. It would be impossible to estimate at all accurately the total loss caused through the country by the pest.

Clearing the Wekiwa

The good work of clearing the Wekiwa river is going steadily onward and beside the clearing out of the hyacinths by Hawkins and Warren the other day J. C. Moffat and Jim Evans cut up a large cypress tree that had fallen across the river and blocked the traffic. In a few weeks these workers will have the river in good shape for the summer fishing and to each and every one of them who have given their time so freely to the public owes a vote of thanks. There are many people in Sanford who could follow the example of Hawkins, Warren, Moffat and Evans and others and give some of their time and money toward clearing up the Wekiwa where such good fishing is enjoyed.

Fine Fire Report

At the meeting of the city council last night the chief of the fire department, W. H. Underwood, rendered a report that is worthy of more than passing notice and it will be given space in this paper Friday. It clearly demonstrates that the money expended on the fire apparatus is well spent and is saving the city hundreds of dollars each year in saving property and lowering insurance rates.

Committee Appointed

Dear Sir: The following committee has been appointed by the Commercial Club to get the tonnage of all shipments in and out of Sanford and vicinity and to report to the New Smyrna Board of Trade by July 1st next: F. W. Mahoney, chairman. Henry Wright, H. R. Stevens, Geo. H. Fernand, B. W. Herndon. Yours very truly, F. W. MAHONEY.

Officers Are Elected For New Military Company

Permanent Organization To Be Effected Tonight

Company Will Be Mustered In At Once And Receive Full Equipment

At a meeting of the Sanford military company last Friday night at which some fifty members were present the following officers were elected: A. K. Powers, Captain. P. L. Moore, First Lieut. B. W. Herndon, Second Lieut. There will be the full complement of fifty-eight men tonight when the organization will be formed and the men expect to be mustered into the Florida National Guard at an early date.

It is to be hoped that they will succeed in getting their equipment in time to take part in the big parade on July Fourth and also the state encampment, which will take place sometime in July or August. The fact that such men as Powers, Moore and Herndon, all experienced in military affairs are at the head of the new company augurs well for the future of the company and every citizen of Sanford should assist in the good work of encouraging the company. Having a military company for the young men of the city is a step forward and is the best of discipline and training for the members. As soon as possible the company will have a fine armory erected in which they can drill, hold dances and have a gymnasium and there will be many good features connected with the organization of the company that will redound to the credit of the members and of Sanford.

Children's Day

A large congregation were gathered in the Methodist church Sunday morning to witness and enjoy the beautiful children's day service. The altar was almost hidden with trailing greenery and the chancel was a beautiful display of its steam-pot plants, palms, ferns and lovely cut flowers.

While the Sunday school class and others sang "Our Own God" the younger members of the school marched from the glass rooms to their places in the front pews, the little girls in their white, white dresses with pretty ribbons, and the boys all neatly attired, looking very manly and happy.

After a brief prayer by the pastor Rev. B. T. Gaines, the superintendent of the Sunday school, Mr. J. K. Mettinger, explained that the theme of the Children's Day service this year was "Bible Boys and Girls." Who they were and what they did would be told in song and story for the entertainment of all present. There would also be songs and recitation about the Bible which tells of these children of long ago and the land in which they lived would be made real, and that the best part of all is the thought that God loves and cares for the children today just as He did those "Bible Boys and Girls."

The following is the program as given: A recitation, "Bible Boys and Girls" was well rendered by Julia Laing. Recitation, "Bob and the Bible," Dwight Smith. Song, "The Best Book," was sung by Anna Mason the choir joining in the refrain. Song by Margaret Cowan, a mere little tot. Recitation, "The Baby Moses," by eight little boys. Song, "The Hebrew Mother," Carolyn Spencer, Julia Laing and Elizabeth Gaines.

The Cradle Roll service was conducted by Mrs. H. T. Gaines, who read from tiny white cards fastened together with white baby ribbon the names of the fifteen members of the roll, after which she placed the roll of names in the pretty little white cradle in the chancel. Recitation, "Our Baby," George Cowan. Greeting and chorus, Mollie Abernathy and school.

Recitation, "Virgie May Hill." Recitation, Hazel Grow. Recitation, "The Child Jesus," Carolyn Spencer, Lucile Jenkins and Emma Spencer. Song, "Rock-a-By," sung by Gladys Wilson, Margaret Zachery and Mrs. Lee Jenkins, who each rocked their large dolls, dressed as babies, in their arms as they sang. Recitation, "Samuel, the Little Helper," Lily Ruth Spencer, Mollie Abernathy, Margaret Zachery and Gladys Wilson. Song, "When Little Samuel Woke," by group of girls. Recitation, "The Lad with the Loaves," Virgie Lee Smith. Children's Day offering and why they were requested to make an offering was explained in a fine little speech by Raymond Phillips, after the conclusion of which Misses Ruth Roberts and Douglas Abernathy received the offering. Song, "Birds, Butterflies and Children," group of girls. Recitation, "The Captive Maid," Leida Gaines. Solo, Miss Gaines. Recitation, "Young Timothy," Van-meter Styron. "Some Young Bible Heroes," by the Junior Boys. Duet, "Gathering Jewels," Mollie Marian Phillips and Maud Mlot. Recitation, "The Children in the Temple," Lucile Jenkins. Song, "Children's Day." Benediction. The exercises were unusually entertaining. The children, each and every one, did remarkably well, some of them being mere tots. To Mrs. Gaines is due the credit of the fine training of the children and the success and pleasure of the interesting exercises and occasion. Mrs. Gaines was ably assisted in her work by Mrs. Claude Herndon, the fine organist of the church.

Orlando Boosters Start

One hundred good roads boosters will arrive in this city about 4:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from Orlando, and while here will be shown a fine time. These boosters will leave Orlando tomorrow morning at 6 o'clock, stopping in the following places for a few minutes on the way: Kissimmee, Haines City, Winter Park, Bartow, Lakeland and Plant City. They will be met by W. T. Haglip, cashier of the Florida Citrus Exchange, and taken to Manuel Garcia's restaurant, where they will be given a Spanish dinner. They will spend the night at the Hillsboro hotel, leaving the following morning for St. Petersburg, where they will spend part of the day. They will come back this way on their return trip Wednesday afternoon and after spending the night here will leave for Orlando.

Smith Goes Home

C. A. Smith left on Saturday for his old home at Saybrook, Conn., to be gone until November when he expects to return and bring Mrs. Smith with him and they expect to spend the winter here. Mr. Smith was called north this summer, owing to the marriage of his only daughter and several large contracts of work, among which is the installation of a large water works system in his home town. Mr. Smith's many friends and patrons will welcome him back to Sanford in the fall. He informs us that good old Sanford and Seminole county are good enough for him, where he looks for much future prosperity and wants to be here to share in it.

Will Join Hands

In many instances the city council and county commissioners will be able to join hands and give money to each commonwealth. In the matter of a jail the new county will be forced to depend upon the city, for as soon as the officers are appointed the Seminole prisoners will be dumped on the new county. In the matter of a county infirmary the city and county can join forces and instead of a charity organization for each the county and city can have a hospital and infirmary in common and it can be made to pay expenses. These matters will be discussed as soon as the county commissioners are appointed.

New Bank in Sanford

Persistent rumors of a new bank in Sanford seem well founded, according to the wise ones who ought to know, and today it is learned that the new institution will start about November 1st and will be a home institution and a bank and trust company. It has not been definitely stated who will organize the bank, but that it will be started soon seems to be certain.

Fairy Work Circle

Mrs. T. S. Davis entertained the Fancy Work Circle Thursday afternoon. Their fancy work engaged the busy fingers of the members of the circle and visitors present while they enjoyed the social hours together. Delicious peach ice cream and wafers were served by the hostess. Those present were Mrs. J. J. Purdon, Mrs. C. H. Leffer, Mrs. N. H. Garner, Mrs. W. L. Miller, Mrs. R. W. Hines, Mrs. H. H. Chappell.

Underwood-Bartee

A quiet wedding took place in Jacksonville, that will come as a surprise to both the friends of the bride and groom. W. H. Underwood left here last Tuesday ostensibly to attend the convention of the Woodmen of the World at Jacksonville. Miss Ada Bartee left her home at Woodbury Ga for the purpose of representing her home lodge of the Woodmen's Circle. Both parties were well known to each other, in fact had intended marriage in the fall but upon meeting in Jacksonville and being very much in love with each other decided to marry.
