

Sanford Theater News for the Coming Week

"Service De Luxe" Will Be Shown At Ritz On Thursday

Fast farce comedy, starring Constance Bennett, is promised in Universal's "Service De Luxe," scheduled to open at the Ritz Theatre Thursday.

Of note also will be the initial screen appearance of Vincent Price, New York stage star who is the latest to join the ranks of Hollywood leading men. Price established himself firmly in Broadway theatrical circles by his excellent performance in the role of Prince Albert opposite Helen Hayes during the two-year run of Miss Hayes' play, "Victoria Regina," in New York.

With the two principals will be seen a cast which includes Charles Ruggles, Mischa Auer, Helen Rodgerick and Joy Hedges in the chief supporting roles.

"Service De Luxe" deals with an exclusive personal service bureau which undertakes almost any assignment from its clients. When Price comes to New York to sell his patent tractor, Miss Bennett undertakes his management, with extremely laughable and complicated situations as the result.

The Unknown Deeds Of Heroic Navy Men Now To Be Revealed

The never-told before drama of the heroic "Splinter Fleet" chronicles John Ford's Award-winning career in "Submarine Patrol," the film Darryl F. Zanuck produced for 20th Century-Fox and which opens for a day at the Ritz Theatre, to be hailed as one of the greatest pictures of the year.

The sub chasers are a branch of the Navy that have received comparatively little notice and yet saw some of the most exciting action of the Great War. Manned by the strangest crews of civilian odds and ends, they board a fighting ship, the "Splinter Fleet" provides a powerful, dramatic theme worthy of Director Ford's robust, forthright technique.

"Submarine Patrol" is the latest in the Movie Quis $250,000 contest pictures.

Dan Fitch's Jitterbug Revue Will Bring To Sanford The Sensational Country-Sweeping New Dance Craze

Dan Fitch is bringing to Sanford the entire revue of his new stage show filled with beautiful and talented girls.

The "Jitterbug Revue" will provide an opportunity for those followers of the latest swing dances to see the dances danced as they should be. The latest sensation of the dance world, the

Edith Fellows, in the "Little Adventures" in the new Columbia film at the Ritz Theatre, professes Cliff Edwards' arm in the arms of the law in this scene from the picture, which has been hailed as her "best to date."

A Glenda Farrell We All Know And Love In "Exposed"

Candid camera system "Exposed!"

The Universal picture of that title, playing at the Ritz Theatre Tuesday with Glenda Farrell and Otto Kruger featured, brings to the screen for the first time a story based on the activities of the candid camera magazines that have recently assumed an important place in the journalistic field.

How the staff photographers of these publications obtain "scops" of major news events and human interest stories is portrayed in "Exposed," which presents Miss Farrell as a candid camera girl.

Both sides of the situation are shown as the film tells how sensational news is reported pictorially through the medium of the candid camera.

The camera girl's photos of a former prosecuting attorney who is down and out, alienate him from her friendship. The pictures, though, return him to public life as an important figure in breaking up a racketeering gang.

E. Fellows A "Little Adventures" In Her Latest Screen Role

With the theatre and race-tracks as its colorful backgrounds, Edith Fellows' newest Columbia vehicle, "The Little Adventures," opens Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre. Cliff Edwards, banjo-strumming comedian, is the child's star funmate in the new film, which is packed with entertainment, thrills, and excitement.

"The Little Adventures" describes the efforts of a young orphan who, upon inheriting a trick horse, attempts to make an asset of the animal. She finally turns him into a racing horse, and thus initiates a series of scenes unexcelled for their thrill-thundering effects.

These sequences were filmed at the world-famous Santa Anita race-track, with many famous horses and jockeys taking part. "Littlile" and human back-stage episodes were also filmed.

"The Citadel," based on the novel by A. J. Cronin, which has been acclaimed by millions of readers in every part of the world comes to the Ritz screen starting Thursday with Robert Donat and Rosalind Russell playing the roles of the heroic young doctor and his schoolmistress wife.

"Swing That Cheer" Will Let You Throw Your Troubles Away

One of the first real-life stories of life at a typical American college, in which youthful romance is interwoven with all the thrills of the football season, Universal's college picture, "Swing That Cheer," Tuesday at the Ritz.

Written, directed and played mainly by young people, many of them former undergraduates themselves, the film presents an authentic picture of college life without resorting to the conventional.

The story begins with the almost typical situation of a viceroy, a coach whose job is endangered after three losing seasons for "Carlton College." He must win all his games, despite a threatened loss of team morale when two football stars carry their private grudge onto the gridiron.

High point is the rivalry of these two players, one a well-headed star ball-carrier who attracts All-American rating on the strength of his teammate's blocking ability.

"SWING THAT CHEER" brings the man with the gravel in his throat Andy Devine, to the Ritz Theatre Tuesday.

The food required for a family of four for 22 years would be worth $12,000, according to one home economist.

Have Your Heart Go Faster As You Help A Mysterious Rider

Gallantry rides the range in "The Mysterious Rider," Paramount's stirring drama of war, devotion and revenge in the Old West, which delighted local outdoor action fans as it opens Saturday at the Ritz Theatre.

Written by Zane Grey and produced by Harry Sherman, "The Mysterious Rider" is without doubt the best thing either of those masters of range dramas has yet turned out. It packs plenty of action, thrills and love as it tells its story of an innocent outlaw who returns from his exile in the desert to save his daughter from disaster and hang to justice the murderer of his friend.

Douglas Dumbrille, in a role exactly suited to his talent, is the central figure as the fearless horseman who "returns from the dead" to take a job at his daughter's ranch when he hears she is about to be robbed by a crooked guardian in secret league with a gang of rustlers. Without revealing his identity to any one, he devotes his efforts to ferreting out the guilty parties and preparing a trap for them.

Amazon Of Russia Air Force Given Soviet Distinction

By WADE WERNER
MOSCOW, Nov. 19.—For weeks Soviet Russia has been throwing its collective hat into the air for Valentina Stepanovna Grizodubova, 28, first woman Amazon of the civil air force.

She was commander of the airplane Iolima which, with an all-woman crew, flew nonstop from Moscow to the Far East, an air distance of 3,717 miles. Valentina and her companions, Captain Polina Ostipenko and First Lieutenant Marina Raskova, took off just as the western European powers seemed about to plunge into war. But their flight was the big news of the week in Russia, especially after communication with the plane suddenly ceased and the nation for eight days was in doubt as to its fate.

A Triumph
It finally developed the women had landed unharmed in a swamp near Komsomolsk. Their return to Moscow was a triumph.

Not only had they demonstrated again the capacity of Soviet flyers; their flight was a spectacular illustration of the status of woman in the Soviet Union. All three were "daughters of the people" such as never could have hoped to participate in an important venture under the Czars. Ostipenko came from a collective farm. Raskova is a musician's daughter.

As for Grizodubova, one might almost say an airplane was her cradle. Her father, Stepan Grizodubov, was an airplane builder in the days when men who built flying-machines led a precarious financial existence. Her mother kept the wolf from the door by working as a dress-maker.

In Gorky Squadron
In 1928 she entered a school for pilots; she was 18 when she received her license. Soon she was first among pilots of the Ossavichim (the voluntary organization for air and chemical defense). She trained 86 pilots then was assigned to the Gorky propaganda squadron.

She has established women's records for altitude, speed and distance, usually in light sport planes.

Between flights, she married an army flyer, Captain Victor Sokoloff. Between flights she became a mother. Her two-year-old son, Valery, is nicknamed "Little Hawk."

OUT OUR WAY

The non-stop flight to the Far East doubtless was Grizodubova's greatest. She put Soviet women in the world spotlight.

Behind such opportunities for women is, of course, Joseph V. Stalin. That women flyers do not forget this was shown in the message sent by Grizodubova and her companions to Stalin after their flight:

"With your name in our hearts we, the daughters of the great socialist homeland, flew non-stop through clouds, fog, cold and darkness, even to the banks of the Amur."

Over $1,000 in cash prizes is being offered Florida high school students who write the best essays on the subject "What Sugar Production Means to Florida." The awards are offered by the United States Sugar Corporation of Clewiston and the contest will run from Nov. 15 to Dec. 1st.

Nazis Oppose Plan To Re-settle Jews In Former Colonies

Germany Interprets Move As Effort To Prevent Return Of War-Lost Territory

Concessions Are Made To Semitics

France And Britain To Discuss Military Co-Operation

An announcement by British Prime Minister Chamberlain today of plans to re-settle German Jews in British Guiana and in Tanganyika, formerly German East Africa, fell like a bombshell in Berlin today.

The Nazi press for days has been warning that any such attempt would meet with the sharpest protest.

Many Germans interpret the plans to settle German Jews in their former colonies as a ploy to prevent the return of war-lost possessions to Germany.

Chamberlain said the resettlement project envisaged the leasing of at least 10,000 square miles of British Guiana for homes for Jews seeking refuge abroad from the anti-Jewish drive in Germany.

Tanganyika is held at present by Britain under a League of Nations mandate. Chamberlain asserted last week his government was not considering its return to Germany to satisfy the colonial demands of Adolf Hitler.

The first signs of a let-down appeared today in the German anti-Jewish drive while indications arose that all would not be harmonious when British Prime Minister Chamberlain visits Paris this week.

"Concessions" to German Jews included permission for the resumption of some cultural activities and it was said authoritatively, for some Jews to continue their export business. Arrests were discontinued at least temporarily.

The issue between France and Great Britain concerned military co-operation in the event of war in Europe. Indications that Britain would refuse to train a large army to aid French troops on the continent seemed likely to lessen the cordiality of the forthcoming discussions in Paris which will deal chiefly with defense against the possibility of attack by the Fascist partners, Germany and Italy.

A foreign office spokesman in Tokyo indicated Japan might make a new statement concerning what she declares is the new situation in Asia which makes "inapplicable" the ideas and principles of the pact and which "do not like the terms of the 'open door and equal opportunity.'" He said that principle was applied.

Annual Audit Of County's Records Made

Report To State Auditor Shows Accounts Of County Officials Were Found In Order

The county party records of the county officials were found in good condition by the annual audit made by the Auditor of State, A. V. Wigginton, according to the report filed with the State Auditor's Commission.

The audit covers a period from March 1, 1937, the closing date of the last audit, and ends on Sept. 30, 1937.

The report showed that the financial condition of the county is good, as all current and funded indebtedness is paid as due.

Budgets appeared correct in all respects but were found to be in total fund appropriations in excess of the total fund receipts.

A refunding program instituted in 1936 and now practically complete, has deferred the payment of principal on a number of obligations which would have begun to mature in a relatively short time, and at the same time has saved to accumulate the old issue to the extent of $500,000.

$5,109 Is Spent For Old Age Aid During October

A total of $5,109 for Old Age Assistance and $32 for Aid to the Blind was distributed in Seminole County during the month of October by the State Welfare Board, according to information received from the state office in Jacksonville today.

The amount to be distributed in the county during the month of November is expected to be still higher, the board government adding that the checks will be made out early and will help to stimulate holiday shopping.

The payrolls are made up in the state office of the board as a staggered basis, districts one and two being the first forwarded to the office of the State Comptroller, from which the warrants are issued. Payrolls of the other districts, in pairs, are then completed and rushed to Tallahassee, the last reaching there prior to the middle of the month.

The supplemental rolls, containing the names of those who have been found eligible during the past month, are compiled as quickly as possible after eligibility has been determined by district boards, all of which meet not later than the 15th of the month. Checks for these were mailed out last month on October 21.

The Comptroller will be requested by the State Board to speed up the mailing of checks to the supplementary list so that all recipients may have spending money for the Yuletide. Arrangements have been completed here for getting the payrolls to the Comptroller's office early.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

GREEN MOUNTAIN STATE

(From The Vermonter) Vermont, New England's only state Without a coastline's curve of shore

Is beautiful enough, and great, With all she has; what need of more?

She keeps her personality And more of her young, primal health

And early upland liberty Than any other commonwealth.

Vermont, proud of her hills and sons,

And one while the nation's chief,

Herself is of the sea, that once Was where is now her topmost reef.

Therefore today it may be seen Her mountains are so richly green.

—ISABEL FISKE CONANT.

Announcement of a new government financed hospital for Fort Myers is being hailed with enthusiasm in the West Coast city.

It is becoming more and more apparent that Prime Minister Chamberlain's "Peace for Our Times" means he kept the boys out of the trenches until after Christmas.

The trouble about riding in to office on the President's coat tails, as some of our politicians found in the recent election, is that they stand or fall on the coat tails, while the President can always change his coat.

Tourists spend 25 cents out of every dollar they spend while in Florida, for recreation. Those places which do not provide the recreational facilities do not get the business. So it is good sound business judgment to support the golf course, shuffleboard courts, parks and playgrounds.

In the United States, when a child is born, the proud parents hope it will grow up to be a president. In Europe they hope it will grow up, observes the Winter Haven Herald, — Titusville Star-Advocate, Surely no self-respecting parent would want his son to grow up and be a Hitler.

Melbourne claims the reputation of "Florida's most friendly town." We don't know whether it is or not, but that is a goal which any Florida town would do well to shoot at. Nothing could be so well contemplated to insure a healthy respect for a town, or to make it grow and prosper, as to be known as the most friendly town.

Congressman Joe Hendricks made several good speeches at the State Day and the day following, but his audiences were more interested in an extraneous subject than in what "Little Joe" had to say. Everybody wanted to know: "What happened to Joe's ear?" Hendricks Commercial. He hasn't been keeping them to the ground much lately, has he?

That proposal for the enactment of a law that would give Florida's governor a term of two years and a second term of two years, and that Florida needs especially is a constitutional convention, and revision of the present archaic constitution to meet requirements of modern times. Does anyone know Florida is afraid to better government machinery? — Melbourne Herald.

The Importance Of Planes

While the government is doubtless justified in strengthening its Navy in view of circumstances abroad, it is somewhat disheartening to note that the recent bids on the three battleships for which contracts were let last week amounted to approximately 50 million dollars each and that they cannot possibly be completed within less than four years.

It is also interesting to note at the same time that the report from Spain on the best means of air-defense reveals there is nothing like pursuit planes to keep enemy bombers away. And the important thing for us to remember is that for the cost of one battleship hundreds of pursuit planes could be built within an extremely short period of time.

"The best defense against the air raid is fighting fire with fire—and that not of anti-aircraft guns but from war planes themselves," says the Miami Daily News. "Such at least is the view of Barcelona after experience which gives weight to the opinion of its authorities. By midsummer the loyalist stronghold had been upwards of 90 times the target of the insurgent bombers, and with devastating effect. Thousands of lives were snuffed out by the rain of explosives.

Spain, supposedly, has been the proving ground for other countries' newest and deadliest instruments of war, yet there is little indication that the significance of the tests is appreciated elsewhere. Tacticians have predicted that another great war might see the populations of large cities exterminated in a few hours by poison gas loosed from the skies. How generally their theory has been accepted the elaborate precautions in Europe, particularly in England, against this threat clearly show.

"The painstaking gas defenses, may be merely part of the policy of overlooking nothing, yet even in besieged Barcelona there was never need of them. Had the city had adequate protection by fighting planes—the lack of which has been a weakness of the government forces—the damage done by explosives might, however, have been considerably less. The earthen anti-aircraft weapons designed to serve the same purpose were ineffective.

"The lesson there seems to be that the most potent defense against the air raid, whether explosive, gas, incendiary or some other kind of bombs is employed, is counter-attack in the air itself."

Farley's Secret Of Success

Postmaster General Farley, who has frequently been described as one of the smartest political strategists of his time, now reveals that he got his start in politics through his ability as a small town baseball player. Writing in the American Magazine Mr. Farley describes his first political campaign, in which he ran for the office of town clerk of Stony Point, N. Y., a Republican stronghold, on the Democratic ticket. At that time he was playing first base on the local ball team, and the fans knew him as "Stretch" Farley, because of his reach.

"Many of the young people," he writes, "even though they were normally Republicans, were red-hot baseball fans and they came to my support. The result was that on election day the village political gears almost fell over when they learned that young James A. Farley, Democrat, had taken the eminent position of town clerk. Baseball had given me a modest start."

Mr. Farley's description of his handling of the Stony Point town clerkship gives an insight into his political philosophy. He received no salary, getting his pay in the form of fees, but he invariably refused to accept these.

"A license for fishing or hunting" cost $1.10, of which 10 cents was for the town clerk. A dog license brought 25 cents to the town clerk and for issuing a marriage license the fee was $1. This offered an opportunity to build up good will. Although my regular job in New York paid me barely enough to get along, I never accepted the 10 cent fee from the hunters and fishermen of the community, who numbered more than 200, and as a result they remembered me on election day. So did the dog owners, who got off without paying me the 25 cent fee. And of course it was unthinkable to take a dollar from a young man and his bride-to-be who were about to set up housekeeping."

The success of Mr. Farley's system is attested by the fact that he held the position of town clerk in Republican Stony Point for eight years, before moving on to larger political fields.

Ickes Reports PWA Allocation Has Been Spent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(AP)—PWA Chief Ickes announced last night that $24,000,000 set aside in the current emergency pump-priming program had been allotted and that an attempt would be made to get all projects under way by Jan. 1.

The fund was voted the WPA by the last congress. Ickes revealed the status of the fund in a report on his stewardship which showed that PWA, as of Nov. 18, had approved loans and grants totaling $723,205,474 for non-federal projects and $199,999,206 for federal projects.

He said that construction already has begun on 1,050 federal projects, and on 48 percent of the 6,333 non-federal allotments. "With allocations completed," Ickes said, "efforts will now be concentrated on getting all projects under construction by a Jan. 1 deadline. No efforts will be spared to aid applicants in getting their jobs started, but the deadlines will be rigidly enforced."

He estimated that municipalities, states, and other agencies filed requests for 12,241 projects involving around $4,000,000,000 of potential construction. Total building costs of the approved list were put at $1,477,995,128.

The report showed that New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Ohio, ranking respectively as the largest population centers, topped the list.

Building Permits During October Reach $4,500,000

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 21.—Thirty-six Florida cities reported October building permits totaling approximately $4,500,000, according to a compilation released today by the research department of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce.

Exact total figure for last month was $4,430,888, a gain of $330,329 over the total recorded for the same month last year. The October, 1937, figure was $4,106,539.

Last month's permits brought the State's 10-month total up to $42,332,805 thus far in 1938, slightly lower than the 10-month total recorded for last year.

Fifteen cities reported October building permits in excess of $50,000. They were: Miami, $1,039,293; Miami Beach, $750,822; Jacksonville, $593,613; Coral Gables, $189,300; Orlando, $146,312; Tampa, $106,868; Hollywood, $92,898; Palm Beach, $91,400; Sarasota, $49,313; Daytona Beach, $78,943; Lake Worth, $59,440; and Pensacola, $50,274.

Organized Labor To Fight Sales Tax For Florida

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Carrington Gramling of Miami said yesterday organized labor in Florida would fight a sales tax at the 1939 session of the legislature.

He presided at a meeting here of representatives of the Florida Federation of Labor and railroad brotherhoods not affiliated with the federation, called together to draft a legislative program.

Gramling said those at the session represented more than 100,000 organized workers.

"Counting their families, 300,000 persons are behind our program," he said. "These people have a right to present their views to the legislature."

Gramling said the delegates believed a sales tax—"a levy on the poor"—is not necessary.

"We believe it is a problem of collecting existing taxes," he added. "A sales tax will not be necessary if better collections are made. We shall ask for tighter enforcement of existing levies."

Gramling said labor would seek a state wages and hours law based upon the federal act. It would call for the same wage and hour limitations.

"We are thinking of employers as well as employees," he declared. "An employer who engages in even a minimum of interstate business must meet the wage-hour standards and at the same time compete with those who escape provisions of the federal law because their operations are carried on entirely inside the state."

A state labor relations board patterned after the national board is another goal, Gramling said. It would mediate labor disputes.

Helps For Housewives

Never let baked custard, custard pies or puddings stand in a warm room after they have cooled. Store them in a cold place. This is very important. As soon as pumpkin pies are cool, place them in a cold place, too.

Children enjoy helping with dinner festivities for Thanksgiving so let them polish the fruits and vegetables, make vegetable candle holders and decorate the table. This saves mother and stimulates home interest.

America May Be Storehouse For Art And Culture

Knowledge Would Be Preserved For Future Civilizations

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—There has been a lot of loose talk about a civilization "breaking down" in the event of another war. But seriously, have you ever thought about what would happen if war did break out again or civilization DID break down?

Some people have. And the trend of their speculations is that America might render its greatest service yet to the world by serving as a storehouse for the art, the culture and the science of a world gone mad.

One of these thinkers is Dr. Leslie C. Dunn, professor of zoology at Columbia university. Writing in "The Independent Journal," a publication of Columbia's graduate School of Journalism, he noted that a consignment of unusual rats valuable in scientific work was sent him recently by a colleague in England. The colleague wrote:

"Our laboratory is situated near the big railroad termini which will be among the first targets for raiding airplanes and we would like to be sure that some of the most important of our scientific materials are out of harm's way."

"Perhaps we ought to consider the establishment of a permanent repository on which we depend for advancing our knowledge of heredity. If so it would almost certainly have to be set up in the United States."

A year ago, said Dr. Dunn, a consignment of mice was received from England under similar circumstances.

"These are rather dramatic reminders," he commented, "of the ominous nature of our boasted continuity of scientific progress."

Scientists have carried co-operation to great lengths in maintaining special stocks of animals, plants (Indian corn for instance) and insects (including the viceroy fly) for study.

"Perhaps it will be necessary," Dr. Dunn added, "to establish a central haven for the threatened stocks of scientifically useful animals and plants from all nations. Perhaps it should be as far as possible from a seacoast and remote from the danger of air attack. Perhaps it should be near that hole in the ground in Kentucky where we keep our spare gold."

Speaking of gold, most people know that quantities of the precious metal are sent here on the occasion of each fresh scare in Europe. But it isn't gold alone among the earth's treasures that have been sent to these shores.

Recently Albert K. Schneider, a New York art dealer, returned to America with a collection of eighteenth century portraits and landscapes and made this comment:

"It is indicative of the general uneasiness in Europe that I was able to obtain them at all. The families had held on to them for generations, and most of them had never been exhibited before. But now they feel that the portraits of their ancestors will be safer on the American side of the water."

"We are hearing about the distinguished foreign intellectuals and great scientists who are coming to the United States as refugees. We are fortunate in having some distinguished refugees in paintings as well."

When announcement was made that Dr. Edward Benes, an exile from Czechoslovakia, was to lecture at the University of Chicago, editorial comment that in this age as in the dark ages it might be the universities which would play a great part in carrying on the traditions of civilization.

The Sanford hospital application accordingly it has not been possible to make allotment to all of the project is under consideration. Applications were submitted to the Public Works Administration under the authority of the appropriation Act of 1938. The Public Works Administration is not authorized to issue bonds in the amount of $70,000 to pay the County's portion of the project, it should be one of the first on the list for approval if and when a new appropriation is made. It was pointed out that the County Commissioners do not have authority to issue the bonds unless a federal grant of at least 40 per cent of the total cost is secured.

Committee Gives Aid To Refugees From Nazi State

Advice, Assistance Given To Influx Of Immigrants To U.S.

By LYDIA GRAY SHAW
NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Five hundred immigrants, fleeing Nazism, landed in New York the other day.

Most were in family groups, loaded with possessions. Few were single men, almost none children. Many had no money, and some were unable to pay for their own journey.

What was to become of them? How would they adjust to their place in a strange country? One learns the answer at the crowded headquarters of the National Coordinating Committee for Aid to Refugees and Emigrants Coming from Germany. Its job is to help make these Germans and Austrians (and Italians, too, under new arrangements) self-supporting.

First, committee workers try to persuade refugees to pass on through New York to regions where better opportunities lie. Most of the newcomers are from small towns and are happier away from a city. But fully a third of them have remained in New York.

Farmer Lost in City
There was the German farmer who, with his wife, was established in a New York apartment. After a few weeks, he wouldn't eat. He wouldn't go outdoors. The committee, on the advice of a psychiatrist, found a place for him on a Connecticut farm. Once moved, he was happy.

Some refugees have been sent as far west as Washington. Others are farming successfully in Virginia and Kentucky.

Some need temporary loans to tide them over, or help them get started in a new business, but most of them need advice—which takes hours of the skilled counselors' time.

If possible, the refugee is kept in the type of work he did at home, or in an allied field. Sometimes a hobby, like photography or designing, may yield him a living.

Occasionally training for a new kind of job is necessary, especially in the case of lawyers, who are accustomed to English law which is the basis of practice in the United States. Usually German lawyers are advised to study bookkeeping and accounting. Wherever possible, retraining is carried on by existing agencies. Trade schools, WPA classes in English, public school secretarial classes, have proved most helpful.

Many professors are now placed in American universities. The University in Exile, established in downtown Manhattan for refugee scholars, takes others. This year it has added three Austrians.

Night Schools Help
Doctors and dentists find the state examinations their greatest stumbling block. The committee helps them find temporary work while they are studying English at night preparatory to taking the examinations.

A woman physician works all day as a servant and goes to school at night.

Some types of workers are always in demand. "We have far more requests for servants than we can ever fill," the committee reports.

Chemists usually can find jobs, particularly in the dye industry, for which Germany is famous. Laboratory technicians in the soap, perfume, and textile industries are also reported easy to place.

Many German Jews are em-

Annual Audit Of County's Records Made

that it appears much detail will be eliminated in the future administration of present laws.

The audit pointed out that no defaults of obligations have taken place during the period of the audit and a summarized analysis of the funded debt transactions of the period under audit showed $2,243,000 on Sept. 30, 1934 and $2,259,000 on Sept. 30, 1937 making a reduction of $165,000 in the debt.

Under financial management, the audit states that "expenditures of the fiscal year under audit appear uniform and operating expenses have decreased substantially. Revenue of the 1936-37 fiscal year show a slight decrease over the preceding year. This is accounted for principally by the reduction in current tax collections, the chief items of revenue which have shown increases are gasoline taxes and race track license fees."

Overpayments to County Prosecuting Attorney John G. Leonard were shown in the audit to be $125 and to W. Herbert Messer $75. "These overpayments resulted almost entirely from the fact that records had been paid in land restoration cases, whereas, the law provides that such cases are compensated by the salary allowed by law, and the regular conviction fee of $5 is not payable."

Records Excellent
Regarding the records of O. P. Herndon, as Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners, the audit states that the records were found in excellent condition, being very neat and accurately kept. Adequate and convenient filing space for paid warrants, vouchers, and commissioner proceedings is available, so that present filing systems in use, are probably the best that can be devised under the circumstances.

Bonds to refund ad county issues were authorized during this period as mechanics, watchmakers, and instrument makers. A fortunate few of the refugees have managed to bring a small amount of capital with them. The committee helps them choose a place to set up shop, preferably the kind they operated in the old country.

One, who opened a junk shop in New York, now employs from 15 to 20 men. Another is manufacturing candy.

The United States may profit by the new industries and skills German immigrants have brought here. One man has set up a ski boot factory near Boston. Another designs and manufactures ski costumes.

Two Germans who invented new materials, one an acid-resistant rubber hose and another a new kind of carbon paper, have brought these processes into the United States.

What effect will this immigration have on America? Nobody knows. Doubtless the country will learn much from the scholars like Einstein and Jellinger, the statesmen like Bone and Bruening.

Government officials say the refugees will be absorbed like any other immigrants. It's an individual problem. And most of the refugees are more than eager to become citizens.

Helpful hint: Lemons soaked ten minutes in warm water will yield more juice than unsoaked lemons. To clean out a burnt pan, add one teaspoon of soda to each cup of water needed to fill the pan, cover and simmer twenty minutes. If some egg yolk gets into white while you're separating them, remove them with a piece of the shell. To keep a bowl steady while using a beater or mixer set it on a cloth on the table.

audit period. Under the terms of the agreement dated Aug. 25, 1936, R. E. Crummer and Company was designated as refunding agent to handle all details pertaining to the program, compensation to be at the rate of 1.8 percent of the par value of the bonds refunded, to be paid as exchanges were effected. To date of Sept. 30, 1937, only $123,000 representing 123 bonds of various issues, remained to be exchanged out of the total amount of $2,238,000 scheduled to be refunded. Compensation paid to the R. E. Crummer Company by the above date amounted to $33,730 and to R. E. Householder, County Attorney, the sum of $3,700.

Pointing out that the operation cost per inmate day at the County Home was .466 cents in the 1936-37 fiscal year and 4.11 cents at the County Convict Camp, the auditor stated in his report that "the average daily cost for each inmate is indicative of efficient and careful management."

Clerk's Records
In the audit of the accounts of O. P. Herndon, as Clerk of the Circuit Court for Seminole County, the auditor stated that "all collections evidenced by receipts were found properly remitted. All tax certificates chargeable to the clerk were found on hand and properly safeguarded. Some few errors found on the sale report were corrected during the course of the audit."

"All collections as evidenced by receipts presented for audit were reported to the Controller, and remitted to the various units entitled to same."

"Certain tax certificates missing at the date of the prior audit, are as yet unaccounted for. These of course are not chargeable to the present clerk."

"At date of the last audit a double-entry set of records and a cash book were installed, so that a very accurate compilation of all office business has been effected and preparation of fee reports facilitated. These reports present accurate data and as books have been kept on an accrual basis. Records were found in an excellent condition, errors found being negligible."

The clerk has custody of bonds in appealed criminal cases. Proper action appears to be taken on past due fine and cost bonds and overstated bonds."

Collector's Records
In auditing the accounts of County Tax Collector, John D. Jenkins, the auditor reported that "it was found that excess income in the amount of $245.78 was due by the tax collector. This was remitted on June 7, 1938. Collections had been over-replicated by $12 and commissions in the net amount of $127.94 are due to the collector."

"All collections were found properly accounted for, although over-replications being found in several instances. Remittances are, as a general rule, made promptly, depending on the amount and rapidity of collections."

"It is evident that collection of all types of taxes is diligently enforced, and levy or sale consummated whenever necessary."

and practical. Remittances are made to the account of the taxing unit or other entity entitled to same and public funds kept strictly separate from private funds. Commission bills were found very accurate and neatly prepared.

"In amortizing the cost of a Ford V-8 on the basis of market valuation at Jan. 1 of each year, a gain of $130 was realized when the car was traded in on Oct. 30, 1937. This amount should be deducted from the proportionate part of the expense of the new car applicable to the ensuing year. It is stated that this car is used entirely for business purposes."

"All records in the tax collector's office were found neatly and accurately kept. It is evident that great care has been taken to promote an efficient and accurate system of records, and to this end it is apparent that the collector pursues an effort which is commendable."

Assessor's Records
Regarding the audit of the records of the Tax Assessor S. F. Doudney, it was reported by the auditor that the amount of $2,413.44 are due to the assessor. Tax bills appear to have been properly and accurately prepared, the proportion of errors and double assessments being negligible. A very accurate record of all income and expenditures has been maintained. Expenditures appeared very conservative considering the size of the county and the amount of detail work connected with the office. All records of the assessor appear to have been efficiently and systematically kept."

"It was found that commissions in the amount of $911 were due to the former assessor, A. Vaughan for tax period beginning Jan. 1, 1934 and ending Aug. 12, 1936."

Judge's Accounts
In an audit of the accounts of County Judge R. W. Ware it was found "that the County Judge had remitted all collections. Remittances were shown by receipts to have been made promptly, usually in the first few days following the month in which collected. Semi-annual income reports have all been filed as required by law and were found substantially correct."

"The income of the office has been reported as earned regardless of whether or not collected, which has simplified record keeping. Only a few preliminary hearings in criminal cases upon which indictments were found or information filed were billed to the County."

"It was found that $30 is due in the former County Judge James G. Sharon, consisting of docket fees."

Sheriff's Accounts
In the audit of the records of Sheriff C. M. Hand it was found that the amount of $137.50 is due by the sheriff representing overcharges for feeding prisoners. "This arose from the fact that a charge of 65 cents a day has been made regardless of the number of prisoners fed during each month." The law provides compensation for the sheriff at the rate of 65 cents per day each for feeding 20 prisoners or less and 65 cents per day each for all over 20.

"It was found that partial collections of fine and cost bonds were not being remitted until the fact that it has been the practice to require the defendant to serve the full sentence upon default of partial default. This is not in conformity with a court ruling and partial collections should hereafter be remitted."

"All records prescribed under the uniform system of accounts appear to be installed and properly operated and were found to be neatly and accurately kept."

In an audit of the accounts of the former sheriff, J. F. Metteland, it was found that the amount of $211.56 is due the county representing for the several part amounts billed the County as salaries of deputies assigned to the various pool during election, less excess income paid the county on amounts so billed. The Attorney General ruled in an opinion on June 10, 1932 that the County Commissioners are not authorized to pay the sheriff for providing a deputy at each polling place on election day."

An audit of the accounts of The Aulin, Justice of peace for District No. 3 at Oviedo, showed that $4.31 is due by the justice of peace consisting of overcharges for requests, less criminal fees not billed.

In an audit of the accounts of Justice of Peace J. C. Roberts in District No. 4 at Sanford it was found that $88.53 is due by the justice of the peace consisting of overcharges and collections not remitted. Mr. Roberts in his capacity as coroner has billed the county for the amount of $3 for viewing the body and issuing a death certificate in each instance in which an inquest was actually held in addition to other fees charged. This fee is properly chargeable only in instances when no inquest is deemed necessary."

"All fine and cost bonds on hand were found to be delinquent and apparently no effort has been made toward collection. The civil and criminal dockets prescribed under the uniform system of accounts are installed and the justice has kept a very complete record of proceedings. Bill rendered and charges were found accurate except, as otherwise shown."

the afternoon for Warm Springs, Ga., for a two week's stay. During his sojourn at the health resort which he helped to found he is expected to begin conversations with Senate and House leaders on the legislative program for the new Congress. He will possibly meet with Hugh R. Wilson, ambassador to Berlin, who has been summoned home for consultation and report on the situation in Germany, including the anti-Jewish campaign.

He is scheduled to announce several important appointments, chiefly Federal circuit and district judgeships, an increase in which Congress voted early this year to help clear up court dockets.

The President will discuss with national and Warm Springs Foundation officials, ways of combatting infantile paralysis.

One of his main purposes in going to the health resort is to have Thanksgiving Day dinner with the crippled children there. This used to be an annual event but other things have intervened in the last two years to force him to forego this happy get-together.

Between swims in a glassed-in warm water pool and motor rides about the Foundation, the President is expected to give some thought to the broad outline of the program he will recommend to Congress.

Shippers Discuss Return To Field Pack For Celery

Receivers Evenly Divided On Proposal Of Growers To Re- duce Sales Cost

Celery Shippers Plan To Organize Co-Operation Is Advoc- ated With Program For Acreage Control

One of the chief topics of discussion at the meeting of Florida celery shippers in Lakeland yesterday was the return to the packing of celery in the fields which growers are proposing in order to reduce processing costs which would be increased appreciably under the regulations of the recently enacted wage and hour law.

Letters from receivers at many of the principal terminal markets were read at the meeting and opinion seemed evenly divided upon the proposed plan which would generally in the industry would throw thousands of workers, principally colored, out of employment during the shipping season.

Many shippers, W. A. Lettler, of Chase and Company, stated he opposed the plan as impractical since Florida celery would be shipped in competition with pre-washed celery from other producing sections for a large part of the time during the shipping season.

In field packing celery it was pointed out that the stalks are not stripped so closely as in the wash houses and that this would increase the yield per acre, aggravating the present problem of over-production. No definite action or recommendation were made by the shippers in this regard.

The shippers did, however, make plans for concerted action in seeking full exemptions provided by the new wage law for the processing of seasonal crops. The shippers will ask for the 14 week exemption from the minimum hour regulations in the wash houses which have been ruled as affecting the law. It was pointed out that even co-operative wash houses of farmers are affected by the regulations.

Before making plans for a shippers organization for all Florida shippers of celery, high freight rates and the AAA's soil conservation and acreage control program were discussed.

Initial plans for a shippers organization were made and further details and elections of officers will be made at a meeting to be held at Lakeland on page two.

Work Is Begun On Softball Diamond

Work is underway on the Sanford softball field now being constructed by the National Youth Administration, according to Ralph Goodspeed, local director of the NYA.

A crew of 20 men are working on the project and poles for the fence are nearing completion. The field is ready for the laying of the clay infield. According to blueprints, the infield will be situated near the corner of Howard and Commercial Streets. The distance to the left field fence will be 205 feet, the center field fence 275 feet and the right field fence 210 feet.

A set of permanent bleachers are to be constructed 80 feet in the rear of home plate and will seat a total of 400 spectators.

Florida's Tourist Horde Is Already Beginning Influx

Taylor Says Indications Point To Big Winter Immigration

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 22.—Florida's 1938-39 horde of tourists already is beginning to come into the state for the winter season, State Hotel Commissioner W. M. Taylor stated today upon completion of a survey trip to tourist centers.

"Present indications are that the season will probably be better than I had figured," Mr. Taylor commented.

"I find that as a rule, every one in the state is looking for a fine winter season, and that the tourists have started their winter trek into Florida in pretty great numbers during the past ten days," he went on.

"Our full-time winter visitors—by that I mean those who come to the state to spend all of the winter months in lieu of short vacations of from a few days to a few weeks—generally waited until after the fall elections to leave the home for Florida, but every agency I contacted told of the pickup in winter immigration in recent days."

Mr. Taylor recently issued what he termed "the most conservative possible" prediction for the winter season, placing Florida (Continued on page two)

Refunds Made To Growers By Control Group

A refund of approximately $7,500 has been made to the celery growers after the state by the Florida Celery Industry Control Group which administered the AAA Celery Marketing Act during the past season.

The refund, officials of the group pointed out, represents the unexpended cash balance of the control committee, and amounts to 75 percent of the $10,000 paid for administration of the act which was voted on by the shippers in accordance with the provisions of the act.

The refund was made to the shippers in accordance with the provisions of the act which were approved by the shippers in a referendum held last year.

Ecumenical Movement In Christian Churches Is Outlined By Rev. Bram

Outlining the progress of the ecumenical movement which is involving all of the Christian churches of the world, the Rev. Martin J. Bram was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Episcopal Men's Club in the Parish House last night.

In his address at the monthly meeting of the club which was presided over by President J. R. Stewart, Rev. Bram asserted that more is being done at present than ever before for the concerted cooperation of the Christian churches in achieving a common goal. He pointed out that the background of the movement dates back to the early church but that more recent impetus was given at an 1910 at a world conference in Edinburgh, Scotland, where church leaders met to discuss the "Christian Mission."

The World War, he said, interrupted possible succeeding conferences of this kind, but after the war had become a consciousness of the need for a unification of Christian missions. This came about, Rev. Bram pointed out, because formal religious began to disappear from the experiences of men and women who had witnessed life and death during the war and now demand reality in their religion.

As a result, in 1925 at Stockholm, Sweden, a conference was held on the "Life and Work
