Schools To Break Record In Spending

By CHRIS NELSON Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County School Board approved a record $35.3 million budget at a special meeting held Tuesday to beat an end-of-the-month deadline for funding the 1973-74 school year.

The $8.7 million increase from last year will produce no change in the tax rate, which will remain at the 14.8-mill level.

The final budget figures, first approved July 11, were presented by assistant superintendent for finance Walter Teague.

That message was delivered to school board members at Tuesday's budget session by Walter Teague, assistant superintendent for finance. Teague said he will meet with the new owners Thursday to "work something out"

"I've tried to persuade them of the advantages of donating the property (the school buildings, but not the land) to the board," Teague said of preliminary negotiations with representatives of the purchasers of the commercial property on SR 436.

The school site, sold for $1.25 million on June 27, was called "too dangerous" due to increased traffic conditions. The bulk of the money will be used to pay for the new school site on Palm Springs Road and the estimated $809,000 construction costs.

The boards change of heart arose when Orlando house mover George Saunders appeared last week and said the existing Altamonte Elementary school buildings might profitably be moved to the new site or be used in some other way.

But the land and the buildings had already been sold to an Indiana firm through Ackerman Realty, and to get them back requires either school board or developer

Springs Budget Given

> By JEAN PATTESON Herald Staff Writer

An $11,613,623 million budget was presented to the Altamonte Springs city council Tuesday. Action on the budget, which is $5,839,261 million higher than last year's, will be taken next

Dick Baxter, comptroller administrative assistant, today said construction of sewer plant, interceptor system, and the Northside sanitary system account for the huge budget increase in capital items

He said salaries will increase 35 per cent on an increase of 27 per cent in personnel. For the first time the city will have reached the million dollar mark in salary and benefits for its imployes

Baxter said the budget is highly centered towards improvement in service areas. The police department will hire four full time dispatchers, who also will serve the fire department Three full time patrolmen will be added.

The dust isn't about to settle in the newly declared "war" between the Seminary County Commission and area mobile home owners and sellers - if the owners and sellers have anything to say about it

Today, at least one group of mobile home people had plenty to say, indicating they will continue the fight in the wake of Tuesday's commission decision to remove most mobile homes from commercially zoned property.

Commissioners voted to earmark $17,000 already budgeted for a parks department truck and driver as "bait" to attract a state pollution department water hyacinth harvester to Seminole County.

Commissioner Greg Drummond, who suggested placing the harvester at Osteen Bridge on the St. Johns River, said the county might be able to sell dried or compressed hyacinths to farmers for high protein cattle feed or mulch. "Admittedly, this suggestion - or a possible county franchising operation to harvest all hyacinth-clogged lakes - is a bit pie-in-the-sky," Drummond said.

The county cannot afford to purchase its own $160,000 harvester, he said.

Iron Shot Is Deadlier Than Lead

Winchester-Western, the shot-shell company which has been carrying on perhaps the most intensive iron shot testing in the country, gives this ecologically "clean" load a poor report

It has concluded that the crippling loss of waterfowl, from using iron (or "steel," as it really is), might be 3 million birds a season, halfagain as many as are said to die from ingesting the ecologically "dirty" lead loads.

Its conclusion is inescapable: If the switch is made to iron, more birds will be lost than with lead. This, in addition to the other disadvantage of iron, scored, perhaps ruined, shotgun barrels.

Nilo Farms, Winchester's experimental and demonstration shooting preserve near Alton, Ill., sent 2,400 pen-reared mallards, flying on lanyards on a special transport device moving electrically down a 100-foot track, through a 12gauge, full-choke pattern fired at ranges of 30, 40, 50, 60, 70 and 80 yards with various loads. The shots were No. 6 steel, No. 4 steel, No. 4 copper and No. 4 lead at each range. The birds were sent to the University of Wisconsin where they were fluoroscoped to check broken bones and the locations of embedded pellets. In addition, 20 per cent of the ducks (480 actually) were completely defeathered to determine entrance and exit wounds and pellet penetration.

The testing began Nov. 6, 1972, and concluded March 17, 1973.

The four different loads were comparable in performance only at 30 yards. At the other ranges, No. 4 lead regularly outperformed No. 4 steel, No. 6 steel and No. 4 copper.

Other Thoughts

An offbeat magazine which specializes in lampooning life reports some restaurants are considering abandoning their regular menus because it no longer is possible to keep up with the swiftly rising prices on meats.

Instead, the restaurants are thinking of installing a ticker-tape service which will give the diner the latest quotation on his choice of beef, with his waiter acting as his broker to protect that purchase price. It would be known as the "Cow Jones" service.

That's all right. But it doesn't take into account the fluctuations in the value of the dollar. Mark our words, once this idea catches on the prices will be quoted in terms of pounds of franks.-Memphis (Tenn.) Commercial Appeal

Sadat Scuttles Merger

Arab Boss Fractures Aid Peace

The age of 21 usually is considered symbolic of maturity. but there is precious little of it evident in the Middle East as Egypt celebrates the 21st year of its liberation from the rule

Indeed, the tantrums of Col. Moammar Khadafy, chairman of Libya's ruling Revolutionary Command Council and principal contemporary Arab ally of Egypt, are reminiscent of the antics of a youth in knee pants.

In what has to be one of the most seriocomic examples of exhibitionism in modern memory, Khadafy sent 40,000 of his minions 1,500 miles across the desert to Cairo. There the rabble was to stage a sit-in to persuade Egypt's president, Anwar Sadat, to complete the proposed merger of the two nations by Sept. 1. The resignation and subsequent change of mind by Khadafy were in the best theatric tradition of the late Gamal Abdel Nasser, in whose footsteps the Libyan selfstyled messich wishes to follow.

Sadat again has exhibited that he is no fool. Perfectly willing to take assistance from oil-rich Libya, Sadat draws the line at a permanent union because the extremism of Khadafy erodes the commercial, educational, military and professional power base of Egypt. Accordingly, unable to hold Libya off at arms length, Sadat scuttled the proposed merger. The horde of Libyans marching on Cairo gave him the opportunity to emerge as a folk hero while pulling the rug from under Khadafy. However, a debt-ridden nation of 35 million, Egypt needs aid. Sadat increasingly is turning to Saudi Arabia, a moderate and generally pro-Western nation that has not been averse to exhibiting some nationalism in recent times.

Sadat's 21st anniversary speech was an open invitation to the Soviet Union to resume its former major role in Egypt, which has diminished since Sadat ousted the bulk of the Soviet legions in Egypt last year. In reality, the tea leaves are not right for either Libya or Egypt. The era of strident and purposeless extremism has waned. The Soviet Union is itself turning to the West for trade and technological assistance and is hardly likely to rock the boat in the Middle East. Saudi Arabia and Iran are more interested in how the dust will settle in the Persian Gulf oilrich states which have severed their connections with The end of hope for the Libyan-Egyptian merger underlines the fractures among Arabs that will likely prevent a major all-out conflict there in the foreseeable future. Instead, Arab extremists will fight their battles abroad, so the only cause they will be hurting will be their own.

BRUCE BIOSSAT Nixonites smack of Goldwaterism

WASHINGTON (NEA It is not really a far stretch to say that, even though Sen Barry Goldwater lost the presidency. 'Goldwaterism' seen as a narrow, rigid, vengeful way of conducting govern-

But corroborated evidence already indicates that the Nixon administration misused federal agencies to probe, harass and penal-

One needs to be very careful with comparisons. Goldwater himself is an easy-going, gentle-spirited man. He has plainly been horrified, and openly critical, at the major Watergate

Even though his public utterance in the 1964 campaign is best remembered by some people for the uncompromi harshness of his acceptance speech, the fact is that Goldwater very often disappointed his more frenzied aides and sup-porters with the mildness of his political tone, conservative There was nothing mild about the most ardent Goldwater-

No one can prove, of course, what sort of men a victorious Goldwater would have placed around him in the White House. It is also reasonable to assume they would not have parked their suspicions and their rigid hostilities at the

I know of no respected professional polltaker who has singled out 1964 Goldwater supporters to test their reactions to the broad Nixon administration plan of espionage and political sabotage put under the heading of Watergate. It is difficult to imagine, however, that many would disapprove the "crush the enemy" spirit which appears to have animated the Nixon White House almost from the President's first

Indeed, more than a few influential Goldwater men tound their way into Nixon entourage. An exhaustive combing of the personnel rosters might reveal many.

Included are former Attorney General Richard Kleindienst, a Goldwater manager: Frederick LaRue of Mississippi, strong Goldwaterite, and a key Nixon aide who now has pleaded guilty to obstructing justice in the Watergate affair: William Baroody, close Goldwater consultant and former Defense Department official in the Nixon regime.

A host of younger Nixon White House and re-election committee helpers either were not of age or were busy elsewhere in the Goldwater era. Yet they well fit the rigid 1964

EDITORIAL 56,000 Fatalities! We Can Save 90%

The National Safety Council estimates that 56,300 Americans will die in traffic accidents in 1973. Another two million will be injured. Total economic loss: $17.5

If the rate continues, says the council, during this decade about 600,000 persons will lose their lives, more than 20 million will be seriously injured and the economic waste will approach $200 billion. What appalls one expert about such statistics is that we have the knowledge to reduce them by as much

"We have the answers," says Dick Wayman, founder nd president of the Highway Safety Foundation. "We know that more than 50,000 lives can be saved every year simply by correcting hazards the Highway Safety "oundation's research has exposed."

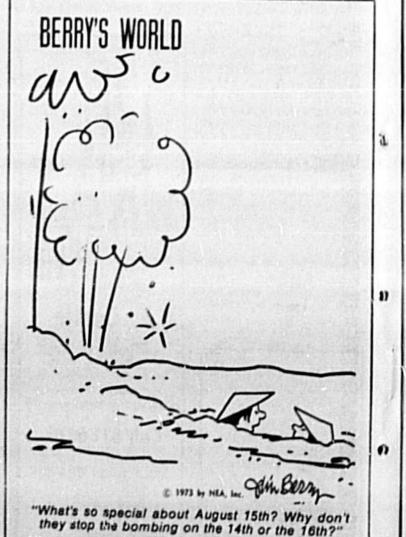

Wayman, a Cleveland businessman, first became involved with highway safety years ago when a close friend was killed in a traffic accident. It impressed him then, and still does, that "vast sums are spent to combat cancer and heart disease, the leading causes of death among the middle-aged and elderly. But funds are woefully inadequate for scientific investigation of traffic accidents, the No. 1 killer of the young."

Now, for the first time, Americans will be asked to contribute to the scientific attack on highway deaths through a nationwide all-star telethon over Memorial Day weekend.

The 20-hour show is scheduled to be run from 10 p.m. EST, Sunday, May 27, through 6 p.m. EST, Monday, May 28, and will be broadcast by 50 major television outlets across the country Host for the telethon on behalf of the Highway Safety Foundation will be Sammy Davis Jr., the "performer's performer," who himself was once an accident statistic. He lost an eye in an auto accident nearly 18 years ago.

"I was one of the lucky ones," says Sammy. "If my car had been equipped with seat belts, I'd still have two good eyes. That's what this telethon is all about. We're not just trying to raise money. We want to educate as many Americans as we can, as quickly as we can, on the danger in our existing system and on how to survive emergency driving situations that all motorists face

Citizen of the week is Ms. Catherine L. Bostic, 1008 West 12th Street. She is a retired nurse having been employed at Seminole Memorial Hospital She has lived in Sanford most of her life, attended Hopper Academy and then furthered her education at Brewster Hospital, Jacksonville.

After receiving her RN degree, she worked awhile at Lawton Memorial Hospital, Palatka. Later she joined the staff at Orange Memorial Hospital and then Seminole Memorial, where she worked faithfully until her retirement.

As a student in training, she received an award as the neatest student. Among other activities in her community, she is a member of Allen Chapel AME Church, where she has served as organist for the Sunday school and church. Presently she is a member of Choir No. One.

Nurse Bostic has always wanted to help people especially those in need. In her vocation, she had many chances to be useful. She says, to her, nursing is a gift from God, and to do a job worthwhile you must trust him and believe in his teachings.

After retiring she became interested in raising poultry and growing beautiful flowers, her favorite being roses. She lives happily among her many friends and neighbors lending a helping hand whenever needed day or night.

Wrigley came back to the word "owners." He says it is a misnomer now because nearly all the clubs are corporations. And there are so many stockholders - "The Cubs have 500 owners," he said. Many people want to own just one share just to say they own part of a big-league ball team. And one share is now worth about $625.

One of his most troublesome co-owners was a man who held two shares. He sued Wrigley to get lights into Wrigley Field. The case went all the way to the Supreme Court of Illinois a couple of years ago. It cost Wrigley over $40,000 in legal fees to keep the lights out. The stockholder contended that the Cubs would make more money with lights. Wrigley said Wrigley Field is in a working-class residential neighbor lood and a lot of people are tired at night from a day's work and can't afford air conditioning so they have to keep their windows open when they scattered all over the ground. There was no sound. They were all dead,' nurse Maureen Kennedy said in describing the scene of a jetliner crash n which 88 persons died.

"There was nothing humanly possible to be done for those people. I never felt so helpless in all my life. I never felt so inadequate," she said after returning from the burned wreckage of a Delta Airlines DC9 that lay on a foggy runway at Logan International Airport.

One person survived Tuesday morning's crash, the worst ever at Boston. Air Force Sgt. Leopold Chouinard, 20, of Marshfield, Vt., was hospitalized in critical condition with burns over most of his body. Delta Flight 723 sliced through a

A minute later, the twin-engine plane clipped the wall, flipped over and broke apart. Its wreckage was sprawled across a gravel strip next to Boston's harbor and the 10,000foot runway beyond.

The airport had been shut down once Tuesday morning because of bad weather but had been reopened Witnesses said a fog bank was sweeping across the runways as the iet made its final approach.

The plane had left Burlington, Vt., at 9:12 a.m., 12 minutes behind schedule. It made an unscheduled stop at Manchester, N.H., to pick up passengers stranded there when a flight to New York was cancelled because of fog.

As the plane taxied away from Manchester, the pilot announced that the flight would be 45 minute

Charles R. Mealy of Bedford, N.H., realized that he couldn't make a business appointment on time and asked to be let off. The pilot turned the plane around and said that anyone who wished could get off. Mealy was the only one.

About Prices Beef Reps

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Representatives of the beef industry took their complaints to Washington today, amid a rising chorus of protests about a beef shortage caused by the continuation of price ceilings. Many wholesalers in the New York City area planned a one-day shutdown today because of a lack of supplies and consumers across the country sought ways of balancing the budget and feeding their families.

For A Salad Dessert

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor Nectarines are delicious to eat "as is," but they're also good in a salad. In the following recipe they're teamed with shrimp and a special dressing. When you are serving a tossed green salad to accompany a main dish, you'll find that some nectarine slices tossed with the salad will make the greens taste especially good. Another way nectarines taste delicious is with ice cream. Just slice the fruit and add sugar to taste plus vanilla and serve over vanilla ice cream. Nectarines are great added to Ambrosia. # Rising Food

By GAYNOR MADDOX We live in an unrealistic world. We feel we must have verything we want. And so mark this fact high food prices are not a temporary phenomenon. They will continue upward. They will not go down so that people can spend more money for IVs, boats, autos and other day food - must be recogfact that it costs money. These are the thoughts of a woman known for her sage observations, particularly on American eating habits. She is Dr. Ruth Leverton, a science adviser at the Department of Agriculture where she has served under several secretar

nized as one of the basic facts of life. We must accept the

"Our whole eating pattern has changed. Convenience foods are taking over. Certain oods have 'status value." A thick steak, for example, means the owner has arrived financially." Dr. Leverton observes. She notes the rise of the new vegetarianism in this ountry. "The advocates of all-vegetable diets are mostly oung," she observes. I think their habit is more a way of life than a reflection of daily iving. There is some revoluionary philosophy behind it. Otherwise, why would many go through all the fussing required to prepare a meatless meal?" she asks. According to nutritionists, > of lean, cooked meat without bone or visible fat. That's about two to three ounces of meat per day. That is a lot less than

we need two or more servings

what we are eating today. Many people eat four or five

Such large quantities of very tasty food such as steaks and roast beef leave very litle desire for fruits, vegetables and whole grain or reconstituted grain products. Bread, for example. Think of the number of people today who won't eat bread despite its low cost." she continues.

Dr Leverton regards soybeans as an economical form of food, "but I don't believe the processors of it have gone far enough yet. There is a relatively limited market."

The violent consumer protests against steadily rising meat and other food prices overlook the fact that food prices have been far lower than justified for a long time that is a basic economic fact." she says. They will stay high and go even higher. Peoole will have to decide whether they want "status beef" and other expensive foods and are willing to sacrifice on new cars, fewer martinis and swimming pools. Not many can have both. #### Would-be female bus driver fears her past

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A woman who is about to make application for a job driving a school bus is worried about her past catching up with her. She got a dishonorable discharge from the service 17 years ago, and is afraid that when her application for this job is received, they will start a thoro investigation of her past, which will include her service record, and everything will come out.

She has no criminal record of any kind, but she understands she has to have FBI security clearance for this bus driving job. The only flaw in her record is this dishonorable discharge which, I may as well tell you, came about when she and another girl were discovered having a romantic relationship. It was only a passing fancy, or an experimental thing, you might say, and never occurred again. She is now married, has a family, and is living a normal life.

Must she be branded all her life for this single ANXIOUS TO HEAR

DEAR ANXIOUS: Driving a school bus does not require FBI clearance. Furthermore, the response from the Army to an inquiry about this person would be: "Dishonorable discharge-unsuitable for military life." [Unless national security was involved, nothing else would be di-

DEAR ABBY: Last November I became engaged. I was so excited at the time that I asked a girl I work with [I'll call her "Mazie"] to be one of my bridesmaids. I had seen Matie only at work, never outside the office.

Now that I know her better, I am very sorry I asked her to be a bridesmaid. She gets drunk and talks dirty. She is very loud and extremely pushy where men are con-

Worse yet, my fiance can't stand her. He's afraid she will ruin our wedding with her drinking and dirty mouth. . To give you an idea of what kind of girl Mazie is, she keeps telling me she hopes the bridesmaid's gown will be plenty sexy so she can show off her "38s." How can I get rid of her politely? Or am I stuck with SECOND THOUGHTS

DEAR SECOND: There is no way you can get rid of her "politely," which means either you are stuck with her, or you will have to get rid of her impolitely.

DEAR ABBY: In reference to the young couple who couldn't find a church and minister for their post-pregnant

You should do a service to others in such straits by informing them of Unitarian-Universalist churches and ministers. They value individuals for honesty and candor; one need not "belong" to a Unitarian-Universalist church to use the building. Witness the many Unitarian-Universalist churches that serve as forums, or centers for unusual mitsic, art debate, or whatever in the search for truth and for

If the couple are straightforward, and respect the prior scheduled commitments of the organization, I am sure they will find a sanctuary in a Unitarian-Universalist church, and a friend in the minister there. P. F. IN NORTH OAKS, MINN.

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, AUGUST 2, 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early day can have some small disappointments, but shortly thereafter excellent planetary positions favor a happy and productive result in anything undertaken with others, particularly connected with social popularity, romance and reaching new understandings

ARIES (Mar 21 to Apr. 19) If you sit down with others in a very conciliatory manner, you can reach a far better understanding. Try not to lose your temper and all will be fine. Take it easy tonight TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make your dwelling more attractive and gain the cooperation of working pals. Buy the new clothing you want and look your best. Seek out whatever brings you more happiness in p.m. Avoid one who likes to GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get into the amusements you really enjoy with the people you truly like Working on your best creative ideas is fine and you get excellent results. Drive with utmost caution. MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Study your abode well and see what can be done to make it more attractive Some entertaining at home could be very pleasant. Try to save more money instead of spending so lavishly LEO (July 22 to Aug 21) If you make those appointments early so your life becomes more successful and happy, you get excellent results. Evening should be spent with people of same ideas as yours. Think wisely VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Study debits and credits and improve your financial standing. A clever business person will big-heartedly give you advice you need. Follow it and you get excellent results. LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct 22) You can be very charming with others now and can do much to gain their goodwill, benefits, favors they can bestow. Get out to some social affair that can be very good for you. Be sure to dress well SCORPIO (Oct 23 to Nov 21) You can have a delightful time with one you like, but be sure you do not confide in others. Get the data that you need so you can put it to use quickly. Make sure you do not disturb others, though SAGITTARIUS (Nov 22 to Dec 21) Look to a good friend for the information you need at this time to gain some important aim Social activities are fine later in the day and congenials are in an excellent mood. Don't be glum. CAPRICORN (Dec 22 to Jan 20) Contact congenials and officials and improve your image both in private and in public, get their support for your aims You can get that civic matter on the road, also. Save time for fun with mate in p.m. AOUARIUS (Jan 21 to Feb. 19) You have unusual outlets to get into and this is a good day for that; get the support and approval of bigwigs. You can make the new associates you need easily. Think along very practical lines. PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar 20) If you follow your intuition, after South doubled the threeyou know exactly what to do regarding some important issues heart opening bid and then facing you. Use good judgment, too Return the affection which mate extends to you and have much greater tapport. IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . he or she will have the delightful quality of being a people-admirer and easily extends compliments This leads to much goodwill, understanding and favors given to your clever youngster. Teach early to become a good student, and then this chart becomes very successful Much charm here and willingness to cooperate with others Spiritual training early "The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

DEAR POLLY - I am answering the reader who wanted to know what to do with a lot of plastic flowers. Why not gent. Cut stems off up to two inches from each flower. Push these flowers into a styrofoam ball about eight inches in set it on a large can and spray with a spray resin which will put a beautiful shine all over the flowers, making them look like Dresden china. Apply several such coats of spray on successive mornings. I think open-faced flowers are the best

Hunt Accused Of 'Misusing' CIA

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - Former CIA director Richard Helms told the Senate Watergate Committee today that "it seemed to me the agency was being used" by White House consultant E. Howard Hunt in 1971. Hunt was convicted in the first Watergate

Helms, now ambassador to Iran, testified that after a series of requests from Hunt which "seemed totally unacceptable," he directed the CIA deputy director to call White House assistant John D. Ehrlichman and "tell him we wouldn't be doing these things any more.' Hunt is a former longtime CIA employe who mid-1971, when he asked for a tape recorder and camera. Helms said his deputy, Gen. Robert Cushman, told him Hunt said "he wanted to conduct a onetime interview and had been authenticated by the White House.' Helms said he was assured Hunt was given 'perfectly routine and straightforward piece of equipment," not "tricky" gear. Subsequently, Helms testified, "I learned in a memo that Hunt had asked to have a secretary stationed with the CIA in Paris brour ... from Paris and assigned to him in the Wnite House. He wanted this to be done secretly and didn't want anyone to know about it. To me that was totally unacceptable. It seemed to me the agency was being used."

Helms said he told Cushman the request was totally unacceptable "and I wouldn't stand for it. At some point the various additional requests Hunt was making of the agency seemed totally unacceptable. I asked Cushman to call Ehrlichman and tell him we wouldn't be doing these things anymore.'

Helms, the 30th witness to face the Senate panel, has said previously that he resisted pressure from H. R. Haldeman, then White House chief of staff, to take action that would have hindered the FBI's Watergate probe. The former CIA director was asked about the
