Residents Can Speak Out June 27 On Trash Rate Hike

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford residents will have an opportunity to object or approve a proposed increase in garbage collection fees at a June 27 public hearing.

And the city has another offer to purchase its cemetery on West 25th Street, but the City Commission Monday night tabled consideration until Mayor Lee P. Moore and Commissioner David Farr can be present.

The commission scheduled the hearing after City Manager W. E. "Pete" Knowles said a 17 percent rate increase from $7.25 monthly to $8.50 per household is necessary due in large part to increased costs of garbage disposal.

In addition, more revenues are needed to make payments on three new garbage packers purchased a year ago, for another new one slated for purchase during the upcoming 1983-84 fiscal year and for a fifth planned for purchase in fiscal 1984-85.

Increased disposal fees "are draining city reserves," he said, noting it is costing the city $5,000 more monthly in fees to the county for disposal of city garbage and trash at the county's Upsala transfer station than the city was paying at a privately owned landfill in Orange City.

He noted that two hearings must be held before an ordinance is adopted raising the rates.

The city was notified in mid-May that the dump it had been using for several years was closing because the owners were no longer going to try to keep up with ever changing regulations of the state Department of Environmental Regulation. The landfill the city was using was in Orange City.

Knowles said the increased rate would be needed for two years. If the commission does raise garbage fees, the new fees are expected to take effect Oct. 1.

In other business, the three commissioners present for the meeting — Eddie Keith, Milton Smith and Ned Yancey — tabled a proposal by Albert Isaacs, president of Oaklawn Investments Inc., to take over the cost and operation of the municipal cemetery on West 25th.

Moore in the past has vigorously opposed any suggestion that the city divest itself of the city cemetery, noting the families with relatives buried there have relied on implied city promises of continued care by the city of the grave sites.

Isaacs is a new owner of the Oaklawn Memorial Park, a privately operated cemetery on State Road 46A. He said he wishes to acquire the city cemetery on West 25th.

In a memo to the commission, Knowles said Isaacs has said if the city cemetery is acquired by his firm it would obtain additional acreage for future use; upgrade the existing cemetery, including maintenance; set aside space for indigent use; restore the services of the presently retired sexton; construct a chapel and provide mausoleum facilities.

Knowles said the municipal cemetery is an old facility, covering 16.96 acres, containing 10,203 spaces, adding there are only 878 grave spaces remaining unsold. "For many years the city sold grave spaces at a minimum price," Knowles said, "without any payment for care and maintenance. Most of the spaces are without perpetual care."

He predicted that by 1992 there will be no more spaces left, at the present rate of sale. "Actual sales will trickle off to nothing prior to 1990 because some unsold spaces are widely scattered and singles. These will not sell readily. The result will be a nonviable facility that is an expense to the taxpayers with no future use," he said.

The city manager recommended the commission consider the offer and set a discussion with Isaacs. "Note this will take care of the old spaces and lots and provide continued use by purchase of other lands," he said.

Knowles said there are 9,325 spaces sold. For the perpetual care of all lots, Oaklawn Investments Inc. will agree with the transfer of the perpetual care funds to them at the rate of $10 per space or $93,250, which could be paid from the $155,988 the city has in cemetery fund reserves, leaving a balance for the city of $62,738.

During the past 23 years, Knowles said all the money collected from the cemetery was put into a reserve fund and only the interest was used for maintenance.

Sanford garbage truck dumps a load of refuse at the county's Upsala transfer station today. Increased costs of using county-owned facilities versus a now-closed privately owned dump in Orange

City is a major reason the city has scheduled a June 27 public hearing to consider increasing garbage collection fees from $7.25 per month per household to $8.50.

Gas Tax Incentive Is Offered

By Michael Beha
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County commissioners dangled a carrot in front of the county's municipalities today, suggesting they may receive a larger portion of a county gasoline tax if they reach an agreement on distribution of the tax revenues.

Commissioners voted 4-1 in favor of a resolution of intent to levy up to 4 cents per gallon gas tax for up to 10 years to fund road improvements. That resolution was necessary because negotiations with officials from the seven municipalities have netted only one city's support for the county's proposed tax distribution plan.

Oviedo commissioners passed a resolution supporting the county's plan to give 25 percent of tax revenues to the cities with 75 percent going to the county.

But without an agreement between the county and cities, funds spent by each governing body for transportation over the past five years would be totaled and the new gas tax funds would be distributed to the cities according to their pro rata share of the total.

Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff suggested today that Oviedo should be rewarded for supporting the county plan and should receive the funding they would receive under the county formula.

Kirchhoff estimated the county's share of the total tax receipts at 85 percent, 10 percent higher than the state formula.

"They were willing to stand up and say 'we need money for roads,'" Kirchhoff said.

Commissioner Barbara Christensen agreed. She said the other municipalities are not going to reject any agreement for receiving part of the gas tax revenue but are reluctant to take a public stance in favor of the tax.

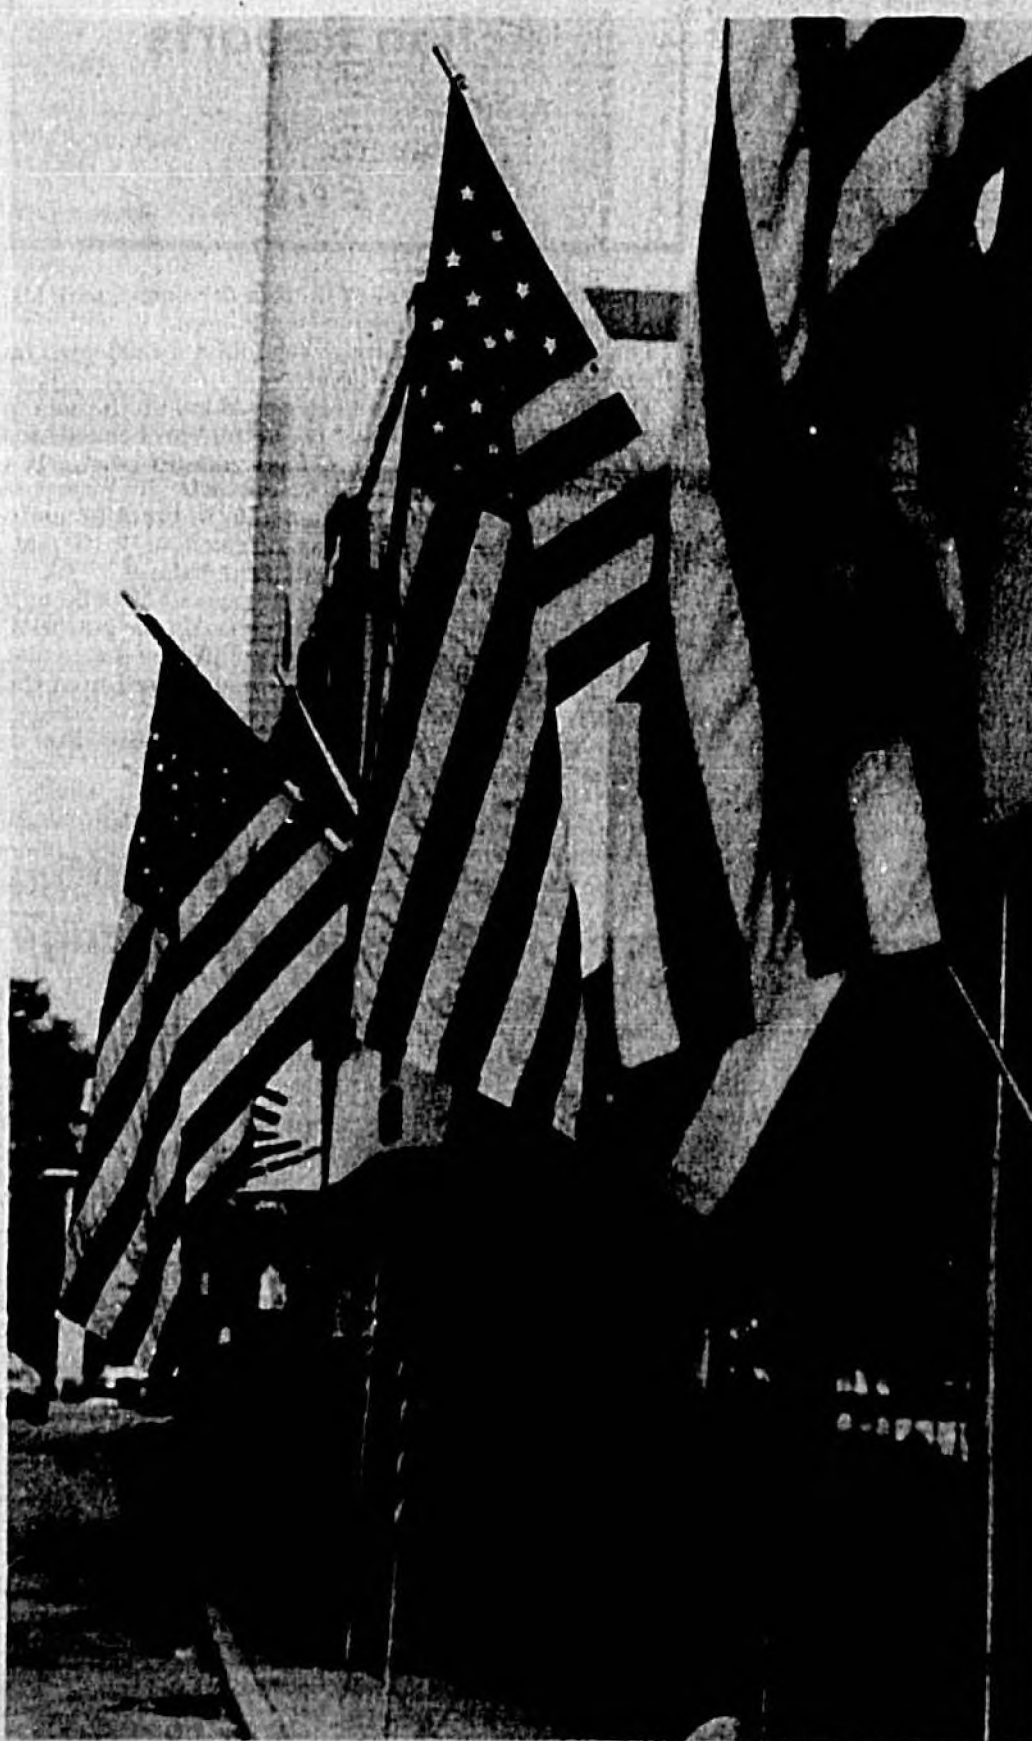

She said Kirchhoff's idea "would be an incentive for the cities to stand up and say we want those funds."

County attorney Nikki Clayton said the only way to give additional funds to Oviedo is to take the extra money from the county's share of the gas tax proceeds.

But Kirchhoff and Mrs. Christensen said that is exactly what they want to do.

Only Commissioner Robert G. "Bud" Feather voted against the resolution. He said the language in the resolution should say the county plans to consider levying a tax rather than plans to enact a tax.

Mrs. Christensen, Sandra Glenn and Robert Sturm support a 4-cent gas tax. Kirchhoff hasn't taken a public stand on the tax and Feather said he will only support the tax if a priority list of roads to be repaired is established.

Reconsideration Of Marina Veto Sought

If Gov. Bob Graham refuses to include in a special session legislation to correct the legal description of the Sanford Marina, an attempt will be made to override his veto in both the state House of Representatives and the Senate.

State Rep. Bobby Brantley, R-Longwood, said a staff person in Graham's office told him by telephone Monday the governor vetoed the local bill, sponsored and approved by all seven members of the Seminole County Legislative delegation, on the recommendation of the state Department of Natural Resources.

Brantley said apparently the department told Graham that the purpose of the bill was to permit further commercial use of the marina.

Knowles in a letter to Graham noted, however, that the land has nothing to do with the proposed bill. The corrected legal description involved the east basin in the lake. When a permit was requested from the state Department of Environmental Regulation for maintenance dredging of all from the harbor and channels to the St. Johns River, the error in legal description was found.

The city acquired the lake bottom for the marina by special legislation in 1985. After obtaining the lake bottom, the "city proceeded to build a million dollar marina for the public's use with launching ramps, beaches, dry boat storage, etc.," Knowles said in his letter to Tallahassee.

"The marina operator would like to expand the dockage and has applied for a permit to do so, but within the confines of the existing marina," Knowles told Graham. "There is no relationship between the correction of the legal description and a permit applicable for expanding the slips."

Knowles reported to the City Commission Monday night that Sen. Richard Langley, R-Clermont, sponsor of the bill in the Senate is particularly outraged by the governor's action and is prepared to mount an override effort in the Senate. It would take a two-thirds vote of the Senate to override a veto.

On Gasoline

Sanford Rescinds Tax Vote

The city of Sanford is sending a message to the Seminole County Commission: "Decide what you want to do about a local gasoline tax and we'll consider it."

In the meantime, the commission with Mayor Lee P. Moore and Commissioner David Farr absent voted 3-0 Monday night to rescind a previously adopted resolution endorsing a three cent local gas tax.

"It looks to me like the county is trying to put a monkey on someone's back while they haven't taken a position," said Commissioner Eddie Keith, acting as mayor and conducting the meeting.

In another matter concerning the county commission, City Manager W. E. "Pete" Knowles said he will call a meeting of the double taxation committee of the Council of Local Governments in Seminole County in the next few days to seek out a cooperative agreement with the county over the issue.

Knowles said he will call the meeting as soon as County Administrator T. Duncan Rose finds time to meet.

Knowles said after meeting with Rose, Assistant Administrator Jim Easton, County Attorney Nikki Clayton and Sheriff John Polk Monday he prefers to believe a "misunderstanding occurred" with the change in county personnel after agreement on the issue was apparently reached last December.

"I'd like to look at it as a misunderstanding. I'll take that route first," he said, adding that Polk during the conference had been very supportive of the cities.

Sanford adopted a gas tax resolution some weeks ago supporting a 3-cent tax, preferred by Commission Chairman Sandra Glenn at the time. She had said that she favored a 3-cent tax with revenues from 1 cent going to the cities for distribution, 1 cent to the unincorporated areas for road improvements and 1 cent to the county for improvements on county roads.

Afterward, noting she could not get support for her preference, she joined with Commissioners Bob Sturm and Barbara Christensen in supporting a 4 cent tax with revenues from 1 cent to be divided among the cities and the revenues from the remaining 3 cents to go to "critical" roads that are used beyond their designed capacities. The state law permits the county commission by a majority vote of three to levy 1 or 2 cents gas tax. To levy a 4 cent tax would take the approval of four of the five county commissioners.

Estimates are each penny of gas tax will bring in $850,000 in revenues annually. The tax could be levied over a five year period.

The county commissioners were slated today to vote on a resolution of intent to levy a gasoline tax, but board members have made it clear they may not vote for any tax. Adoption of the resolution would merely give them the option of voting for the tax. The county has set a public hearing for July 26 to consider adoption of an ordinance on the tax.

Mrs. Glenn during meetings with the officials of all seven cities discussed a 4 cent tax over the past six weeks, asking each city to take a position.

Only the Oviedo City Council has voted to favor the tax, while officials of Winter Springs, Lake Mary, Altamonte Springs and Casselberry have voted against the tax. Sanford's new position is neither approval or disapproval until the county commission makes a decision.

While Mrs. Glenn's discussions with the cities was that the revenues from 1 cent of a locally imposed gasoline tax would be distributed among the cities on the basis of population, the cities last week received a letter from Eleanor Anderson, director of the county office of management and budget, indicating this position has changed.

Mrs. Anderson's letter asked that each of the seven cities provide information on transportation expenditures each has made over the past five years.

"This information should be forwarded to the office of management and budget no later than July 1 to meet the appropriate deadlines to assure that gas tax revenues are received beginning with the 1983-84 fiscal year, effective Oct. 1, if the county commission adopts the distribution formula," Mrs. Anderson's letter said.

She added the information would be sent to the county's independent auditors for validation.

Rose warned the cities during those earlier meetings that the county could choose to use a formula based on what each city spent on roads over a five year period in a comparison with county expenditures to determine how much gas tax revenues each would get, rather than using a population formula.

On the double taxation issue, Commissioner Milton Smith, despite Knowles' desire to try again through negotiations with the county to solve the problem, said, "You can't do anything until you get cooperation from the other side."

Knowles said in the conference with county officials earlier Monday the discussion was "good and frank."

"I think we can get the discussion back on track," Knowles said, adding that "communications were bent" between the cities and the county when former County Administrator Roger Nelwander left the county's employ. "What happened was a changeover of personnel."

The cities believed they had an agreement with the county at the conclusion of a 90-day series of negotiating sessions among city representatives, Nelwander and county staff members last December. — Donna Estes

NATION

IN BRIEF

Transportation Funds Drying Up Despite Tax

DENVER (UPI) — Transportation Secretary Elizabeth Dole is putting the nation's mayors on notice that they should not expect additional federal money for public transportation subsidies despite the new federal gasoline tax.

Mrs. Dole, addressing the 51st annual U.S. Conference of Mayors Monday, acknowledged billions of dollars will become available for public transportation due to the gas tax.

But, she said, "The federal role should focus on capital programs and operating subsidies should be phased out. The feeling (in the Reagan administration) has been that operating subsidies do not produce enough flexibility ... at the local level."

A resolution being considered by the mayors conference calls on the federal government for "full funding for public transportation capital and operating assistance."

The federal gasoline tax, approved by Congress last year, earmarks 1 cent for public transportation.

Secret Flight Delayed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The first full military mission of the space shuttle, originally set for November, has been postponed indefinitely at the request of the Air Force, but the reason for the delay remains shrouded in secrecy.

Aviation Week and Space Technology magazine said, however, the postponement resulted from a lack of confidence in the rocket that was to have boosted a military satellite. It is the same type rocket that left a $100 million NASA satellite in the wrong orbit after launch from a shuttle in April.

Saturday's scheduled launch of the shuttle Challenger, however, is not affected by the schedule change. Engineers plan to begin the countdown early Thursday at the Kennedy Space Center launch site.

Board To Select Lawyer To Fight Newspaper Suit

The Sanford Civil Service Board is scheduled Wednesday to choose legal counsel to represent it in a lawsuit filed by the Orlando Sentinel.

The special meeting will be held at 9:30 a.m. in the city manager's conference room at city hall, 300 N. Park Ave.

The Sentinel is charging the Civil Service Board and its five members individually with violating the state's "government in the sunshine law" by holding a 55-minute locked door meeting on May 31.

Board members have been summoned to appear in court at 2 p.m. Wednesday on the charge.

The Sanford City Commission, Monday night, authorized the board to hire legal counsel to defend itself.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: Summer-style thunderstorms splitting tornadoes, hail and high winds hovered over the Plains and Mississippi Valley today. Flash flood watches covered most of the Plains from Oklahoma to Iowa. At least a dozen tornadoes swooped down from Oklahoma to Minnesota by Monday night. Accompanying rain, hail and high winds injured at least six people and caused flooding and power failures and damaged homes, barns and cars. Temperatures soared into the 90s from New England to the Midwest, and forecasters said the summery heat would last through the week. New York City was in the 90s Monday for the second day and the mercury in Chicago was stuck on 88, driving thousands to Lake Michigan beaches. The West Coast had highs in the 80s and 90s, and Yuma, Ariz., reached 105. Thunderstorms crashed across Florida, dumping more than 3 inches of rain at Miami Beach and 1.5 inches at West Palm Beach. Heavy rainfall in the central thunderstorm belt included 2.5 inches at Redwood Falls, Minn., and Omaha, Neb. 1.5 inches at Fort Riley, Kan. and more than an inch at Sioux Falls, S.D. Five residents of Hutchinson in southern Minnesota suffered cuts and bruises when a tornado skipped through town.

Two Robbed, Bound By Knife-Wielding Bandits

A Sanford man was abducted at knifepoint Monday at 12th Street and Palmetto Avenue, forced to drive to Volusia County and then beaten and robbed, police report.

Herbert L. Stephens, 39, of 124 Sanora Blvd., drove out of the parking lot of the 7-11 store at 1201 Park Ave. at approximately 3:45 p.m. then, while he was stopped at a stop sign at the corner of 12th Street and Palmetto Avenue, a heavy-set male entered his vehicle on the passenger side and pulled a switchblade knife.

Stephens told police the man forced him to drive to Courtland and Doyle Road in Volusia County.

Stopped in a secluded area, the man robbed Stephens of $300 and struck him several times with his fist, then tied him up, police said.

No arrests have been made in the case.

In an unrelated incident in south Seminole County, an elderly Forest City woman was accosted at knifepoint in her home, bound with a telephone cord and robbed, police report.

Seminole County sheriff's deputies said Elizabeth S. Anderson, 79, of 3640 Lakeshore Drive, was approached by a 17 or 18-year-old male at her front door who asked if he could use her phone. He said he was a neighbor from up the street and his phone was out of order.

Once inside the Anderson home, however, he held a knife to her throat and said: "I want your car."

Ms. Anderson said the man tied her up in the bedroom with the telephone cord. Police said untied herself, suffering bruises on both forearms, and notified authorities.

Nude Burglary Suspect Uncovered In Neighbor's Garage

Playing it cool while apparently attempting to burglarize a neighbor's house got a 19-year-old Altamonte Springs man in hot water early today.

Police arrested John Steven Crenshaw, 524 Greenbrier Blvd., for attempted burglary after discovering him next door — totally nude except for socks — in the garage at 526 Greenbrier Blvd.

The 3:55 a.m. arrest came after police were summoned to 526 Greenbrier by homeowners Bill and Iris Pennant who heard banging noises in the area of their garage.

An officer saw the nude Crenshaw trying to exit the fenced back yard. When ordered to halt, Crenshaw walked behind the open garage door and attempted to

The man, who also stole $15 from the house, took Ms. Anderson's gray 1978 Lincoln Continental.

The car, valued at $3,500, was found a 6:05 p.m. on Sherrille Lane at Bear Lake Road.

The knife used by the robber was found on the sofa in the victim's home and is being processed for fingerprints, police said.

CHILD ABUSE CHARGED

David Allen Halstead, 29, a captain in the Altamonte Springs Fire Department, was arrested at 2:16 p.m. Saturday on a charge of aggravated child abuse.

Police records show Halstead is accused of striking a 7-year-old child approximately 10 times on the buttocks, leaving a large bruise. After being notified by police that he would be arrested, Halstead turned himself in at the Casselberry police station.

He was released on his own recognizance after a pre-trial court appearance.

DRUG ARREST

Michael Kenneth Hinson, 32, of 3315-C Palm Way, Sanford, was released from the Seminole County jail on $500 bond Sunday after being charged with cultivation of and possession of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia. Agents observed the marijuana being cultivated in Hinson's backyard. He was arrested at 8:49 p.m. Saturday.

POLICE CARS SMASHED

A high-speed chase that began in Orange County Monday ended with three police cars smashed and a Sanford man in jail.

Charles Malcolm Higgins, 39, of 192 Henderson Lane, in a 1970 Chevrolet pick-up truck, was being chased by Orange County deputies at about 6 p.m. northbound on U.S. Highway 17-92 in south Seminole County.

At the intersection of 17-92 and State Road 436, a Casselberry police patrol car driven by Sgt. P. Miller collided with an Orange County sheriff's car driven by deputy Tom Harrier. Both vehicles sustained only minor damage, but Higgins wasn't through yet.

He drove on northward and at 17-92 and State Road 434, officer Bret Poe of the Longwood Police Department attempted to block Higgins' path with his patrol car.

When Poe realized Higgins was not going to stop, he tried to back up but was blocked by another car.

Poe's patrol car was struck by the pick-up which went on to hit a car driven by Mario Prietto. No one was seriously hurt in the pile-up.

Higgins was arrested for assault with a motor vehicle and various traffic offenses.

He was released after posting $500 bond on a charged of willful and wanton reckless driving and $5,000 on a charges of aggravated assault with a motor vehicle. He was also charged with fleeing and attempting to elude police.

Buzz Petos is owner of The General Store in the Driftwood Village.

The General Store Offers Old-Fashioned Convenience

The General Store, located in the Driftwood Village at 549 W. Lake Mary Blvd., is the kind of place where you drop in if you remember that last minute gift or greeting card, run out of cigarettes, or need some charcoal briquets for your backyard barbecue.

If you live in the Lake Mary area, you will especially enjoy its convenience and easy-going charm reminiscent of by-gone days. You won't need hiking shoes to get across the parking lot or around this store and then have to wait in long lines to pay for your one or two items.

"This is a combination store," explains the owner of The General Store, Buzz Petos, who acquired the business in January, "and we have a little bit of everything." Petos has lived in Central Florida for 16 years and moved to Lake Mary four years ago.

Formerly a gift shop, he has expanded the merchandise and is continuing to do so to meet the needs of shoppers. "We're growing with the area," he said.

The General Store carries an assortment of items ranging from cigarettes and tobacco products to hardware, school supplies and lawn and garden products.

And, of course, a variety of beautiful gifts, gift wrap and ribbons, and greeting cards for all occasions.

"Soon we'll be carrying a selection of magazines, milk and bread," he said. The store carries film and one-day service is available.

There are gifts for all occasions on sale at the General Store for up to $20. They include watches, gold jewelry, dried flower arrangements, ceramics, brassware, glass, dolls and toys, plants, fancy candles, and collectible clown figurines.

With the hurricane season coming on, Buzz is also stocking hurricane supplies, including flashlight batteries, Coleman lantern fuel, candles, and charcoal lighter.

The General Store is open Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and Saturday, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. It is closed Sunday. Buzz invites you to come in and get acquainted.

Taking It Off Is Easy When You Leave It To Strip-Ease

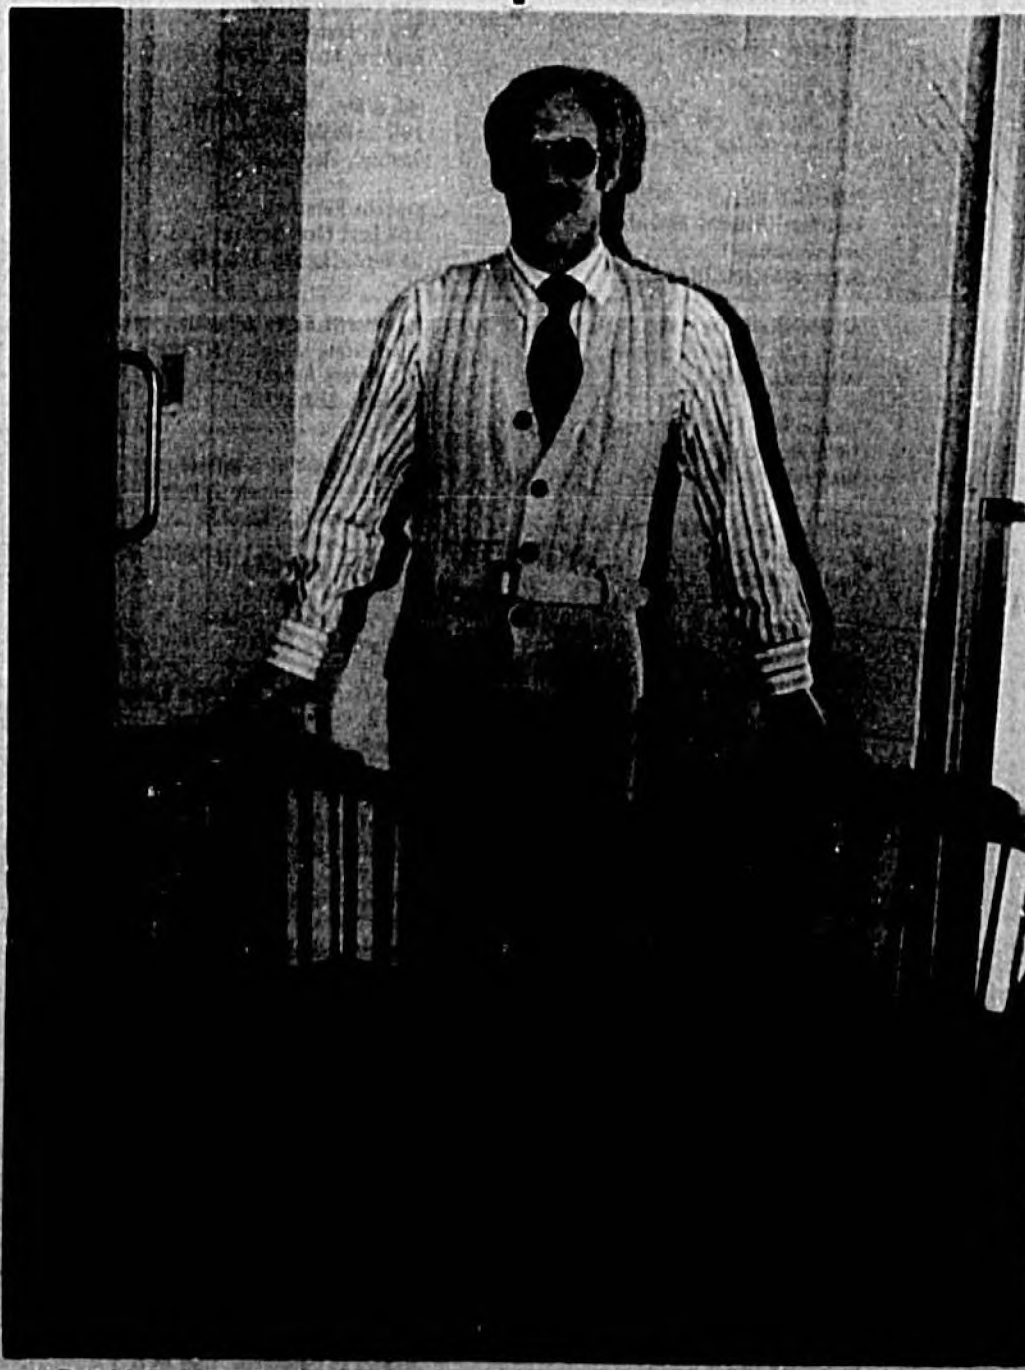

Strip-Ease, located at 3416 Orlando Ave., (Highway 17-92), Sanford, utilizes a new innovative process to remove accumulated layers of paint or varnish from a piece of furniture, woodwork, metal, plastic or glass.

Recently awarded a federal patent, the process developed by a professional antique refinisher from Georgia, will relieve you of the messy, time consuming drudgery of stripping furniture.

Arrived at after 12 years of experimentation with chemicals and machinery, Strip-Ease is basically heated chemicals sprayed on with air pressure added.

Since owner David Orseck, formerly of Upper New York State, opened the business here on Dec. 1, 1982, he has had a tremendous response from both dealers and the general public.

Chemicals used are non-hazardous, and non-flammable as well as bio-degradable. "Most processes use an acidic solution in high concentration," David explains, "but Strip-Ease is alkaline with a low concentrate. All of the items I've done are by a spray process rather than an immersion process. The jet spray goes into every niche and cranny including intricate carving.

Strip-Ease can do anything from a wooden bowl to a fireplace mantel and doors. It can also strip gunstocks, picture frames, old ice boxes, beds or bars.

Basically they can deliver the stripped down item within two

Strip-Ease is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday. For further information call 321-2055.

Barbara E. Bartelt (right) and daughter, Barbara I. Bartelt, owners of Rocking Chair Needlecrafts.

'Christmas In July'

Scheduled At Rocking Chair Needlecrafts

With the temperature in the 90s, it may be hard to get into the Christmas mood, but when Rocking Chair Needlecrafts celebrates "Christmas in July," needlecrafters will be caroling with joy.

All during the month all Christmas kits and other selected items will be on sale for 20 percent off and it will pay both beginners and those experienced in the needle arts to look ahead.

Rocking Chair Needlecrafts located in Driftwood Village at 549 W. Lake Mary Blvd., (one mile east of Interstate-4), carries a full line of needle art items. It is owned and operated by a mother and daughter team—Barbara E. Bartelt and Barbara I. Bartelt, who opened the well-stocked shop in March.

They have supplies for knitting, crocheting, needlepoint, cross-stitching, embroidery, candlewicking, latch-hook rugs, crewel, chicken scratch, plastic canvas, and basket stitchery. New merchandise arrives daily.

They carry the good basic yarns and well as many specialty yarns, including cotton, linen, silk and acrylic yarns for the summer knitter.

Classes (both day and night) on candlewick, needlepoint, and cross-stitch are just getting started. Hour-long youth classes are being offered this summer for ages 7 and up. They will be tailored to what the class members want to learn to do. Knitting and crocheting classes are planned for the Fall.

Rocking Chair Needlecrafts also has a lot of pre-finished or pre-sewn items to which you can add your personal touch with a little needlework. These include such things as a bib apron, golf skirts, tennis skirts, baby items and pillows ready to be decorated or to put your name or initials on.

Kits are available in every medium. They will special order as a service to their customers whenever possible. They carry a large supply of specialty fabrics for cross-stitchers as well as ruffles and Cluny lace trim.

There is a special corner equipped with toys to occupy children while Mom shops.

The charming and unusual antiques furnishings you will find in the Rocking Chair are not only for atmosphere, but are also for sale should you find one that strikes your fancy.

Rocking Chair Needlecrafts, located on the east side of the center, is the last shop before the exit back onto Lake Mary Boulevard. It is open Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and is closed Sunday and Monday.

Come in and let Barbara Sr. and Barbara Jr. help you with your handiwork needs.

Business Rebuilding Inventories

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With sales increasing, American business began rebuilding inventories in April. If this continues, it is a good sign for broad economic recovery.

The Commerce Department reported Monday that inventories — goods stocked on shelves — increased by $2.4 billion, or 0.5 percent, in April to an end-of-month level of $505.6 billion.

Sales increased $2.7 billion, or 0.7 percent, with sales of retailers up 1.7 percent, those of manufacturers up 1 percent and those of wholesalers down 0.7 percent.

Inventories swelled last year as business anticipated a recovery which at that point didn't come.

Off and on for the past seven months, business has been sharply reducing its inventories. The reduction totaled $20 billion in real terms in the final quarter of last year and $12 billion in the first quarter of this year.

That means some of the steam for economic recovery takes goods off the shelves rather than generating production of new goods.

Michael Evans, head of Evans Economics a Washington forecasting firm, believes April was a "watershed" month and that this inventory reduction now has largely been completed.

That sets the stage, he said, for a modest rebuilding of inventories, which will help provide jobs.

Robert Orner, chief economist of the Commerce Department, said one month's figures are not enough to go on, but "it is starting to look like maybe the heavy inventory liquidation is coming to an end and business firms will begin to rebuild some stocks, even if moderately, to keep pace with final sales."

Orner noted the ratio of inventories to sales declined to 1.44 in April, the lowest since August of 1981, indicating inventories have become very lean. The March figure was 1.45.

HEARING TESTS SET FOR SANFORD/CASSELBERRY AREA

Electronic hearing tests will be given free at the Orange Hearing Aid Ctr. 2701 So. Orlando Dr. Sanford (Monday only) and 120 S. Hwy. 17-92 Casselberry, Monday - Friday this week. H. Powers and B. Fisher, certified by the National Hearing Aid Society will be at these offices to perform the tests.

Anyone who has trouble hearing or understanding is welcome to have a test using the latest electronic equipment to determine his or her particular loss.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year if there is any trouble at all hearing clearly. Even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told nothing could be done for them can find out about the latest methods of hearing corrections.

The free hearing test will be given Monday thru Friday — this week at the Casselberry office and Monday at the Sanford location. Call the number below and arrange for an appointment, or drop in at your convenience.

Congress Must End Purge Of Disabled

Roy P. Benavidez has a Medal of Honor, the highest award that can be given to an American serviceman for bravery in combat. With that and 40 cents, the former Green Beret can buy a cup of coffee.

President Reagan bestowed the Medal of Honor on Benavidez a little over two years ago, citing his "conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity" in saving the lives of eight American soldiers in action west of Loc Ninh, Vietnam. During his political trip to the Southwest, Mr. Reagan cited his presentation of the medal as an example of his administration's recognition of Hispanic citizens, adding that when soldiers "place their lives on the line for us, we must make sure that they know we're behind them and appreciate what they are doing."

The Social Security Administration has shown its appreciation by removing Benavidez from the disability rolls.

Benavidez says he still carries a couple of pieces of shrapnel in his heart and has a punctured lung. A career man, he stayed in the Army until 1976, when he retired with an 80 percent disability.

The Social Security Administration says he's capable of some kind of work. Thanks for placing your life on the line. Now get off your duff.

"What is wrong with these people?" Benavidez asked. "I would work if I could, but no one will hire me because no insurance company will insure me."

What is wrong with these people? When, in 1980, Congress ordered a review of the disability rolls, it certainly did not intend that the review be conducted with the kind of bureaucratic zeal and insensitivity that the Social Security Administration has demonstrated.

"People who are just clearly unable to function, let alone unable to hold a job, are being put into the meat-grinder of this process," Sen. John Heinz declared at a recent hearing of the Senate Select Committee on aging that he chairs. Some people who have received termination notices have threatened suicide. Some have carried out the threat.

The Pennsylvania Republican has introduced a bill that would impose a moratorium on the reviews until the Social Security Administration puts into effect the procedural reforms it has promised. The Reagan administration says the moratorium isn't necessary.

According to a report of the General Accounting Office, Congress's investigative arm, SSA has been using an "overly restrictive interpretation" of criteria to purge people with "severe mental impairments." Heinz's bill would require a revision of the criteria, according to recommendations of a panel of outside experts. The Reagan administration is opposed, fearing "liberalization."

What is wrong with these people? In a letter to Secretary of Health and Human Services Margaret M. Heckler, Heinz has denounced the administration's "knee-jerk negative reaction" and "specious arguments" in its effort to block needed legislative changes. The reaction of Congress ought to be promptly to approve Heinz's bill.

Profit By Position

Government officials should not profit financially from their public positions. At any time when there is a conflict of interest between public responsibility and private profit, the government official should either put the public interest first or resign before reaping the private reward.

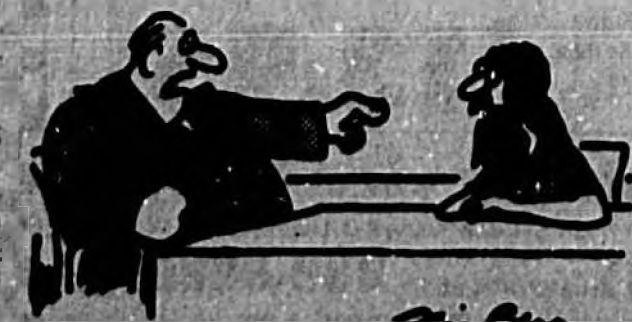

Central Intelligence Agency Director William Casey has released a financial statement that shows he traded heavily in stocks and other securities in 1982. Casey is a former chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission. He was a Wall Street lawyer. He has the stock market in his blood.

Last year, when the stock market began to move upward, it would have been hard for a man who followed the ticker tape by instinct not to buy and sell. There is nothing wrong in making a profit; our system is based on it. But there is something wrong with trading stocks on inside information gained from employment by the government.

As CIA director, Casey sees all kinds of secret documents regarding sensitive negotiations and contracts that could influence stocks. Anyone who has traded in stocks knows that it is difficult to remember when such information, buried in the memory, may surface as a hunch to buy this or sell that stock.

The problem, at minimum, is the appearance of conflict of interest. Casey's two immediate predecessors as CIA director, Stansfield Turner and George Bush, put their portfolios in blind trusts. Casey should follow their example or, if he prefers to play the market, do so as a private citizen.

BERRY'S WORLD

By Sam Cook

Do you or don't you want minor league baseball?

Seminole County baseball fans can answer that question tonight with a large — or small — turnout for the Daytona Beach Astros-Tampa Tarpons 7:30 Florida State League game at Sanford Memorial Stadium.

The FSL is looking to expand by two teams for next year. Sanford, DeLand and Leesburg are in the running for one of them. Leesburg and Sanford will test their drawing power this year. DeLand tested its last year and drew 800 fans, which, according to Daytona Beach Astro general manager Don Miera "wasn't real good." Miera said a lot of the fans came from Daytona.

Sanford gets its chance tonight while Leesburg will have its opportunity later this summer. Is a one-game draw enough of a test to determine a franchise? Probably not. All successful minor league clubs are dependent on giveaways and promotions. That's why the Orlando Twins draw so poorly. They don't give anything of value away, and they don't promote. Florida Baseball Schools executive Wes Rinker is willing to promote. But is Sanford and the rest of Seminole County willing to partake? After tonight, that question may be partially answered — or not at all. A large turnout would indicate a team is desired. A mediocre, who knows? And, a small one, say less than 500, would probably indicate thumbs down.

Sanford and Daytona Beach used to have a great rivalry in the Florida State League many years ago. Some of Sanford's best baseball players of the 1930s, '40s and 50s played for the local team. It would be interesting if that rivalry could be reborn. A baseball team can give a town an identity. It can also generate dollars for the Sanford businessmen.

Do the businessmen want the dollars? Of course. Would they be willing to stick a few bucks of their own into the promotions necessary to foster a minor league club? That's debatable. Rinker has sunk most of his lifetime into baseball. He's been the main proponent for a baseball team. But, he can't do it all. He needs help from the companies. Stromberg Carlson and Cardinal Industries are each distributing tickets among their employees. That's a start.

But the main thing remains attendance. Miera would like to fill the place. That's 2,000 people, which may be a bit optimistic. Little Leaguers in uniform will also be admitted free with their coach. A $3 ticket will take care of the whole family. Rinker says his biggest giveaway will be a weekend for two at Daytona Beach. Gloves and Daytona Astros' T-shirts will also be given away during innings.

Prior to the Tarpons-Astros' clash, Rinker has a natural scheduled. Players from the old Sanford Giants and other notables from the majors and minors will get together for an oldtimers game. Sanford's Buddy Lake, who drove in the winning run in a similar game last year at Daytona, will head the Sanford cast along with Ron "Lefty" Renaud, Wilber "Chico" Davis, Ed and Ted Brooklyn, Pete McRaney, Glenn Price and Lloyd Swain.

For the younger oldtimers, ex-major leaguers Jack Billingham, Davey Johnson and Hal King will be on hand.

And, late Tuesday night, Sanford may know whether it wants minor league baseball.

Trade Aid Proposals Go Too Far

A proposal from the Reagan administration that trade and commerce matters be consolidated in a new Cabinet-level department has a superficial appeal. Decisions regarding international trade are now made by a variety of bodies inside the government.

It may be that a new Trade Department is a proper substitute for the existing Commerce Department. However, the issue should be thoroughly explored in Congress and in the business world. One certainly wants to know what changes would be made by a new Trade Department.

Important questions as to future trade policy have been raised by an informed observer of the Washington scene in a letter I received. This observer commented:

"My initial opposition to efforts within the administration and the Senate to consolidate trade policy and administration into a new Cabinet department has been heightened by the remarks of Secretary of Commerce Baldrige at today's National Press Club luncheon. Mr. Baldrige discussed his recent trip to Japan and China. My initial impression was that the Secretary's enthusiasm about his talks with dignitaries from both nations was based on an international development model which emphasizes U.S. multinational development of the Chinese economy and the hands-off policy vis-a-vis the Japanese.

"Mr. Baldrige implied that recent progress on the trade front with Japan justifies our continued open door trade policy for Japanese exports to the U.S. The phrase 'protectionist fears' was used several times in his speech to connote the worst possible outcome of continued trade conflict between the U.S. and Japan. Also, Baldrige flatly stated that U.S. executives would soon be helping Japan's 'troubled' or 'marginal' industries resolve their problems with U.S. technology and know-how, a cheery prospect one would expect to be hoped for by Japan's Secretary of Commerce, not our own. That is to say, in those industries within Japan which do not now enjoy comparative advantage, it is Baldrige's intention to enlist the talents of U.S. businessmen to sell that advantage to them!

"On China, Mr. Baldrige's remarks were even more peculiar. He suggested that because China needs U.S. technology, we ought to give it to them because they are a friendly, non-aligned nation and potentially a large U.S. customer. If he gets his way, strategic considerations will be greatly deemphasized by the Commerce Department in regulatory changes on the export of U.S. technology.

"In short, Baldrige presented an internationalist, multi-nationalist model for U.S. trade policy."

Blind Eye Turned To Parks Crime

WASHINGTON — As the vacation season opens, our national parks are being hit by an epidemic of muggings, rapes and drug trafficking. It's getting to the point that vacationing families could have as much to fear in the picturesque national parklands as they do in the seamy sections of major U.S. cities.

Especially in the nation's capital, which probably has more law enforcement personnel of various kinds than anywhere in the free world, visitors are not immune from criminal elements who look on the federal parks as happy hunting grounds: drug pushers, for instance.

U.S. Park Police routinely find dozens of syringes littering a scenic Potomac River overlook in nearby Virginia; it's the first reasonably secluded spot where a heroin user can shoot up on his way out of the District of Columbia. On April 21, a Park Police detective and an alleged dope pusher had a shootout at the Washington Monument after a busload of South Carolina high school students had been harassed on their sightseeing tour. The suspect was killed; the officer was wounded.

WILLIAM RUSHER

A Tale Of Two Parties

LONDON (NEA) — When I first visited London in 1954, I was a mere sprig of a lad and active in the Young Republican organization. So it occurred to me to look up our opposite numbers, the Young Conservatives, and indulge in a bit of what Stephen Potter was later to call "hands-across-the-seamanship."

I found them, logically enough, at Conservative Party headquarters in an elderly building on Victoria Street, and I must say they responded with all appropriate hospitality. I was introduced, for one thing, to my first English pub, being taken there for lunch.

I do remember, though, having it made clear to me by the Young Conservatives that I mustn't get any exaggerated ideas about how much our two parties had in common. Those were the days of Dwight Eisenhower's first term, and you might suppose that British Conservatives — even young ones — would feel reasonably close in spirit to that notably moderate administration.

Not at all. I was given to understand, politely but clearly, that British Conservatives felt no great kinship for the Republican Party in the United States. On the contrary, it was made plain, my hosts regarded the GOP as hopelessly antediluvian. British conservatism was well to the left of us, and quite content to be so.

To be sure, chance had thrown me in with the liberal wing of the Conservative Party, which at that point happened to control its youth arm. Winston Churchill was still prime minister, and I doubt that his private opinion of the welfare state was any higher than mine. But I can't help wondering where my young hosts of long ago are now, and what they would have to say about the two parties today.

In Washington sits a Republican president who has hung in the Cabinet Room a portrait, not of Dwight Eisenhower, but of Calvin Coolidge. And in London there is thundering down the road to apparent triumphant re-election a Conservative prime minister — and a woman at that — who is proud to be considered practically Ronald Reagan's political clone.

In both parties the relatively liberal elements, or "wets" as they are called in Britain (a term I suggest we Republicans might import, to apply to the likes of Senators Charles Mathias and Mark Hatfield), have been chased far up the road. Nelson Rockefeller, who symbolized the subspecies in the United States, has left us for still better things; and Edward Heath, the former prime minister from whom Margaret Thatcher seized the leadership of the Conservative Party, has been relegated to grumpy impotence on the sidelines.

And the view is practically as good, from a conservative standpoint, when one contemplates the political scene in the free world's two strongest economic powers (after the United States). In West Germany, Helmut Kohl, a Christian Democrat, has just taken over the government from Social Democrat Helmut Schmidt, and in Japan, Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone is cementing his power as leader of the dominant Liberal Party (which, despite its name, is distinctly conservative). Analogies can be dangerous, but certainly there is every reason for Reagan and Thatcher to feel comfortable with such allies.

It is the liberal and leftist forces in all four countries that are in trouble — especially in Britain, where the Labor Party, drifting steadily leftward out of power, has finally torn itself in two. We have nothing in the United States quite like what now remains of the Labor Party: a shrill, leftist remnant of what was once a serious alternative to the Conservatives. The new alliance of the Liberal Party and the so-called Social Democrats (breakaway Laborites who couldn't stand their party's leftward tilt) is perhaps most analogous to the Democratic Party in the United States, and may well become, in time, the official opposition, though it may do poorly in this first general election.

Rights Uproar Is Phony

In replacing three members of the Civil Rights Commission, President Reagan made an extremely important political point: That you can be a firm supporter of civil rights for all Americans and still oppose forced racial busing and reverse discrimination in the form of racial quotas.

In fact, I would argue that anyone who really does believe in civil rights for everyone would on that very account oppose racial busing and reverse discrimination.

All three of Reagan's appointees, and they are Democrats, appear to conform to that description. They also have had much more notable careers than the liberals they are replacing.

Thus Reagan nominee Morris B. Abram, former president of Brandeis University, and long active in civil rights and civil liberties matters, comes in to replace Mary Frances Berry, a Carter nominee.

John Bunzel, another Reagan nominee, former president of San Jose State University in California, and a fellow of the Hoover Institution at Stanford, is the author of notable books and articles in the field of higher education, and during the decade of the '60s was a courageous advocate of civility on the college campus. He replaces Blandina Cardenas Ramirez, a Carter appointee.

The third Reagan nominee, Robert Destro, is a professor of law at Catholic University in Washington and has served as general counsel for the Catholic League for Religious and Civil Rights. He succeeds Rabbi Murray Saltzman of Baltimore.

The Reagan nominees seem vastly more distinguished — but they are. It is true, against busing and quotas.

So all hell is breaking loose in the media, and the usual congressmen are moving into heavy posturing and orbiting indignation.

Thomas I. Atkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, accused Reagan of attempting to "purge from the government people who have a commitment to effective civil rights enforcement and protection." Speaker Tip O'Neill called the three nominations a "bad turn," and denounced Reagan for the perception that he is anti-minority. The New York Times editorialized that the president is offering minorities "not even symbolism on civil rights," and observed, as if damagingly, that the nominees oppose racial busing and racial quotas.

Now the Civil Rights Commission has never been a very powerful agency. It is essentially investigative, and looks into claims that civil rights violations have occurred. It compares the charges with existing laws and regulations and delivers an opinion. This is largely symbolic. If a real violation has actually occurred, it is a matter for the Justice Department and the courts.

vinced the understaffed, overworked Park Police officers that they should take their complaint to Capitol Hill, where they found a receptive audience in Rep. Stan Parris, R-Va. They unloaded one horror story after another.

Parris asked Interior Secretary James Watt to confer with him and Rep. Manuel Lujan Jr., R-N.M., a member of the House Interior Committee. They got together on May 17, and Parris began to read from 100 Park Police officers' reports.

Watt seemed shocked by the accounts. After hearing only a half-dozen of the reports, he said that was enough; he was convinced. "We have a serious problem," he told the congressman.

In other words, Interior's top man believed the men in the ranks rather than their supervisors, who had been gleaming over the growing narcotics problem in their reports to Watt. The secretary immediately promised to set up a special narcotics task force for the national parks.

The trouble with that response is that the members of the task force will be drawn from the ranks of the understaffed Park Police force. This will leave even fewer officers to patrol the parks.

And it will do nothing to solve what Park Police sources see as the underlying problem: Park Service Director Russell Dickenson and top Interior Department aides are "uncomfortable" having cops in their organization and favor the ill-trained rangers over the police.

In fact, Dickenson has reportedly given his regional directors the option of dropping from their offices the Park Police captains assigned to them — the only professional crime fighters who now ride herd on the park rangers' attempts to keep criminals from infesting our national parks.

Footnote: A National Park Service spokesman maintained that the narcotics task force "is sufficient." Nor does his agency prefer rangers over Park Police, he added. "That's absolute bunk. The U.S. Park Police is the law enforcement arm of the National Park Service," he said.

Astros, Oldtimers On Display Tonight

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Daytona Beach Astros' manager Dave Cripe didn't get much of a shot at making the Kansas City Royals as a third baseman.

He had a pretty big obstacle staring him in the face. A guy by the name of George Brett.

"Dave was up for maybe four or five games," said Daytona Beach general manager Don Miers. "Obviously, because of Mr. George Brett, he didn't get much of an opportunity."

There is no George Brett standing in his way in the minors, however, and Cripe is making the most of his opportunity. He has the Astros so far in front of the Florida State League, even Secretariat couldn't overtake them.

Tonight at 7:30, Cripe and his Astros will bring their exciting brand of baseball to Sanford Memorial Stadium to play the Tampa Tarpons. Tampa trails Daytona by 10 1/2 games while St. Petersburg is 10 games back. Tonight's game will conclude the first half.

"Dave's done a great job," said Miers, the Astros' hotshot promotion man and one of the main reasons they average 1,600 fans per ballgame at City Island Park. Cripe is in his second season. He made his debut at Asheville, N.C. last year and turned in a solid managing job with Houston's other Class A club in the South Atlantic League.

This year, the Astros have already clinched the first-half title and a spot in the post-season playoffs. Two years ago, they won the whole ball of wax and Miers said he feels they are a good shape to do it again.

Daytona Beach has a nice blend of speed, power and stingy relief pitching. Center fielder Tony Walker can literally fly. The speedy leadoff man has a .331 average with 32 stolen bases. Right fielder Curtis Burke is only a step behind with his .305 average, 24 doubles, 10 triples, five homers and 47 runs batted in.

Miers calls first baseman Glen Carpenter a "fabulous fielder." He also owns a .275 batting average, seven round-trippers and 63 RBI, currently second in the league. Designated hitter-outfielder Randy Braun also supplies some muscle with his .325 average, five "laters" and 47 RBI.

Juan Delgado, a third baseman with a .308 average and 28 RBI, and outfielder-third baseman Mike Botkin, a supersub hitting .370, complete Daytona's strong contingent of sluggers.

The bullpen is bolstered by two Florida prep standouts. Jamey Shoupee, a

Baseball

Chatahoocche and Florida State star, has appeared in 20 games. The crafty left-hander has a sparkling 0.77 earned run average and five saves.

Right-hander Mike Kasprzak was the winning pitcher when Miami captured the College World Series in 1982. The ex-Lakeland prep hurler had a 2.30 ERA with three saves.

Tonight's game (See related article in around the clock on 8A) figures to test the drawing power of Class A baseball. The Florida State League plans to expand next year and Sanford, along with Leesburg and Deland, are possible sites.

"We'd like to have a strong turnout," said Wes Rinker, Florida Baseball School owner and operator of the Stadium. "I feel Seminole County can support minor league baseball and I'm willing to promote it."

Rinker, who has built his school into one of the top clinics in the South, plans several giveaways tonight. The biggie will be a weekend in Daytona Beach. Others include gloves and other baseball equipment. The Astros also plan to have some drawings of their own.

Miers, too, is impressed with Sanford's Memorial Stadium. "I like the old stadium," he said earlier this year at a luncheon at Rinker's Dugout Club. "I'd like to see Sanford have a team. It would be a natural rivalry for us. They used to have some great rivalries back in the 30's, 40's and 50's."

And if the fans show up early tonight, they can see a few of the great ones who played in that era. At 6 p.m., some of the old Sanford Giants (Class D League), led by ex-hurler and hitter Buddy Lake, will renew their rivalry with some of the standouts from the Daytona Beach Islanders with a three-inning Oldtimers battle.

The two old combatants went at it last year at City Island Park and Lake, 68, drove in the game's only run and made a diving catch at second base for the final out of a 1-0 victory.

Joining Lake on Sanford roster will be brothers Ted and Ed Brooklyn, former FSL manager and umpire Al Mobley, former pitcher and Lyman High coach Jim Payne, outfielder Pete McRaney, pitchers Lloyd Swain and Ronald A. "Lefty" Renaud, infielder Glenn Price, first baseman Wilber

"Chico" Davis and ex-Phillie catcher Andy Seminick. Some of Sanford's "ringers" include ex-Cincinnati pitcher Jack Billingham and Oviedo's Hal King.

Daytona's biggest name is Volusia County Superintendent of Schools Ray Dunne. Dunne was a catcher for DeLand from 1949-53 and was voted the most popular player in the loop in 1951 and 1952. He batted .315 in '52 and was lifetime .300 hitter in the FSL.

Another big name will be Daytona Beach pitcher Wally Gaddis who won 26 games in 1948 and 1949. In '48, Gaddis set a Florida State League record with 32 complete games.

Other familiar names of the 1940's and 50's include infielder Bill Cost, catcher Bill Givens, pitcher Hoot Miller (25-6 in 1953), outfielder Lawson Mitchell, catchers Sparky Shepherd and Vern Watercutter. Watercutter was the all-star catcher in 1950. All played for the Daytona Beach Islanders. Pitcher Charlie Rose is also expected to attend.

Family tickets are available for $3 at the gate. For another $1, box seats are available. Baseball players in uniform with their coach will be admitted free.

McCloud, Johnson Power Poppa Jay's Past Adcock

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

Once Willie "Sugar Tex" McCloud finds the strike zone, he's virtually unbeatable. After walking the first three batters he faced Monday night, McCloud settled down, struck out the next three hitters, and went on to pitch a one-hit shutout as Poppa Jay's upended Adcock Roofing, 10-0, in the first game of the Sanford Little Major City Championship series at Fort Mellon Park.

After McCloud walked the first three hitters, Poppa Jay's manager Sylvester "Slick" Franklin, Jr. made a trip to the mound to settle his pitcher down. "I told 'Tex' to settle down and get his rhythm," Franklin said. "He was trying to throw too hard, he was overpitching."

McCloud wound up striking out 14 of a possible 18 in the game. He walked seven and the only hit was a two-out, two-strike double by Jay Adcock in the bottom of the sixth, and last, inning.

Poppa Jay's, going for its second straight city title, got what turned out to be the winning run, in somewhat of a surprise, on the second pitch of the ballgame. Leadoff hitter Steve Johnson drilled "Steady Eddie" Charles' offering over the center field fence for a 1-0 Poppa Jay's lead. It was Johnson's first home run of his Little League career.

After the first inning, the game turned into a pitching duel as both McCloud and Charles were cutting down the opposing hitters with ease. Charles allowed only one hit, Johnson's homer, until the top of the fourth inning when Poppa Jay's erupted for five runs.

In the top of the fourth, Poppa Jay's only had two hits, but Adcock Roofing's defense fell apart, committing seven errors in the inning. With one out, Vernon Miller reached on an error and went to second on a wild pitch. Mike Gibson then reached on an error to put runners on the corners. Gibson then tried to steal second and the throw from Adcock catcher Bernard Mitchell sailed into center field and got by the center fielder as both Miller and Gibson scored. With two outs in the inning, Johnson drew a walk and Leo Ford ripped a single to right and Johnson took third on an error. Johnson came home on a wild pitch and Ford scored on an RBI single by Jeff Blake who took third on another Adcock Roofing error. McCloud then reached on the seventh Adcock error in the inning and Blake scored for a 6-0 Poppa Jay's lead.

Courtesy runner Steve Smith and Johnson both came around to score on a pair of Adcock Roofing miscues. Adcock Roofing committed 11 errors in the game.

Monday's Junior League scores

Kiwanis 8, Moose 6
Knights of Columbus won by forfeit over Elks

Junior League

Kiwanis played the role of spoilers Monday night by knocking off Moose, 8-6, in Sanford Junior League action at Chase Park. Going into the game, Moose was only half a game out of first place, behind Knights of Columbus. Kiwanis, on the other hand, won't be in the city championship series this season after winning the title a year ago. Kiwanis has an overall record of 12-6 and has beaten first half winner Rotary twice.

A six-run second inning, sparked by Reginald "Cheese" Bellamy's two-out, two-run single, was the key to the victory for Kiwanis. Bellamy also picked up the pitching victory as he allowed only two runs over the last five innings after giving up four runs in the first two innings. Terry Miller was tagged with the loss for Moose which fell to 6-2 for the second half. Knights of Columbus, which won by forfeit over Elks Monday, has an 8-1 record in the second half. KOC has only one game remaining in the regular season, a Friday night contest with Rotary at 7:15 p.m. Moose has two games left, but if KOC wins Friday, the Knights will face Rotary for the city title.

Moose jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning. With two outs, Keith Denton drew a walk and stole second. Miller then struck out, but the third strike eluded Kiwanis catcher Tommy Mitchell and Miller was safe at first. Miller stole second and Oscar Merthle clubbed a two-out, two-run single.

Kiwanis got one run back in the top of the second to make it 2-1. With one out, Craig Brown walked, stole second, went to third on a passed ball and scored on an error on the pitcher.

Moose increased its lead to 4-1 with a pair of runs in the bottom of the second. David Goldstick led off with a walk, stole second and third and scored on an error on the catcher. With two outs in the inning, Gary Derr walked and Marvin Killingaworth cracked a double. Derr came around to score on a Kiwanis error.

The decisive inning for Kiwanis was the top of the third. Bellamy led off the inning with a single and advanced to third on a pair of Moose errors. Bellamy then scored as Dwayne Willis reached first on a dropped third strike. Willis went to second on a groundout, stole third, and scored on another Moose error. With one out, the next four batters walked to force in another run. One out later, Peter Courlas drew a walk to force in the fourth run of the inning. Bellamy then stepped up, as the 10th batter in the inning, and smashed a two-run single as Kiwanis took a 7-4 lead.

The fourth and fifth innings were scoreless and Kiwanis took a 8-4 lead with a run in the top of the sixth. With one out, Willis walked, stole second and third and scored on Willie Grayson's RBI groundout.

Moose pulled to within two runs, 8-6, with a pair of tallies in the bottom of the sixth. Steven Jameason led off with a single, stole second, and went to third on a wild pitch. Jameason scored on a single off the bat of Tarance Carr and Carr came around to score on Derr's single.

Moose had a runner on third with the tying run at the plate and one out in the bottom of the seventh, but Bellamy struck out the last two hitters to end the game. Bellamy allowed nine hits for the game, struck out six and walked four. Miller allowed five hits in taking the loss, he struck out 10 and walked 12.

Bellamy had a pair of hits for Kiwanis while Miller and Carr had two hits each for Moose.

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — Oakland Invaders running back Jerry Aldridge wanted to give his little boy, Cory, a very special birthday present Monday night — an Invaders victory over Denver.

The elder Aldridge delivered, teaming with quarterback Fred Beana on an 80-yard touchdown play to lead the Invaders to a crucial 16-10 triumph over the Denver Gold.

The victory raised Oakland's record to 8-7, giving them a one-game lead over Los Angeles in the Pacific Division with three games — against Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago — to play.

DeLuxe Bounces Back From Forfeit With Win

Men's Softball

The DeLuxe Bar bounced back from its first loss in two years — a forfeit to S & H Fabricating last Wednesday — by trouncing the Pookie Bears, 15-0, in Sanford Men's Softball League action Monday night at Pinhurst Field.

In other games, Season Time nipped the Express, 7-6, and S & H steam rolled Mobilite, 21-1.

Levi Raines and "Steady Eddie" Jackson light up losing pitcher Gary Muse with home runs in the first inning as the DeLuxe bolted to a 4-0 lead. Raines, who also homered in the third, rapped a two-run shot while Jackson hammered his 16th, tops in the loop, in the first. Jackson had four hits in four at bats. Raines added a double. Ned Raines, Terrell Ervin and winning pitcher Bill Studomire each had two singles. Fred Washington ripped two singles and a double.

Muse had two singles and a double while Mark Whitley had a pair of hits for the Bears.

In other action Robbie Hanrahan tripled home two runs in the first inning and singled home another run in the fifth as Season Time survived an Express rally in the bottom of the seventh.

John Myers pitched out of a bases-loaded, two-out jam to pick up the win. Wayne Gager was the loser. Ricky Bryson, Dave Kent and Manny Silva each had two hits for Season. Donnie McCoy ripped a double and two singles for Express while Scott Williams added a triple and a single.

In the S & H romp, winning pitcher Carl Manning Jr. slammed a homer and a pair of doubles, driving home six runs as Mobilite succumbed. Don Waterman slapped two singles and drove in three runs while Bob Mullens roped three hits and accounted for three more runs. Dan Dougherty had two hits for Mobilite and Mike Vanderpool took the loss.

Tonight, Season Time takes on Harcar (6:30), Mobilite plays Uncle Nick's Oyster Bar (7:30) and Central Florida Hospital battles the Express.

Upshaw Succeeds Garvey As Director Of Players; Invaders Top Denver

CHICAGO (UPI) — Gene Upshaw, the new executive director of the NFL Players Association, says there will not be a football strike during the coming season.

Upshaw, a 16-year veteran with the Oakland, now Los Angeles, Raiders, was introduced Monday as the successor to Ed Garvey, who resigned to take a job as deputy Wisconsin attorney general after 12 years in the NFLPA post.

Upshaw, an offensive guard on the Raiders' Super Bowl championship teams in 1976 and 1981, said his immediate major goals will be regulation of agents, implementation of the current collective bargaining agreement and elimination of public relations problems stemming from the strike.

"We want to make sure for the good of the game that everyone knows the strike is over," Upshaw said. "I'm still surprised by the number of people that come up to me and ask me if there is going to be a strike next season. I can tell you that there won't be. I hope not."

Upshaw said there is strong solidarity within the union and dismissed suggestions of lingering rifts within the NFLPA as the result of the strike.

Griffith Says No Thanks, For Now, To Tampa Offer

Calvin Griffith admits Tampa-St. Petersburg interests have made him "a tremendous offer" for his young, hard-hitting Minnesota Twins. He has turned them down. Not necessarily forever, though. He hasn't shut the door on them permanently.

No less than nine cities are seeking a major league franchise and most of them believe their best chance of getting one is by buying the Twins.

That's because the Twins, who moved into Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome last year, have an escape clause in their lease whereby they can move out by the end of 1984 if they do not average 1.4 million fans each year by then. Last year, the Twins drew only 921,186 at home and they aren't even doing that well this year.

Besides Tampa-St. Pete, the other cities looking to go big time are Denver, Indianapolis, Vancouver, New Orleans, Buffalo, Hawaii, Washington and Miami. The Twins are being courted by several of these cities.

"There's hardly a day goes by that we don't hear from somebody who wants to buy our club and move it to their city," Griffith revealed. "One day it's Indianapolis, the next day Denver and so on. The Tampa people have been here in Minneapolis and talked to my lawyer, Peter Dorsey. I will say one thing for them: they made us a tremendous offer, a very lucrative offer."

But Griffith isn't selling the Twins. Not yet, anyway. He's playing it smart, sitting back and waiting to see if the people in Minnesota are going to support the club better than they have been up to now. He's also waiting to see the new contract between the owners and the players and by one of those nice coincidences for him, the old contract expires the same time as that escape clause in the lease is up at the end of 1984.

"There's no way we can sell our franchise at this time," Griffith said Thursday. "I said three, four years ago I was going to wait until the Basic Agreement we have now with the players expires in December of 1984. I want to find out what we're going to have to look forward to in 1985, 1986 and 1987. When I find out, then I will do what I have to do."

The search for Bowie Kuhn's successor goes on with Brewers' owner Bud Selig quietly interviewing candidates in different cities, but Bill Giles, the Phillies' president and part owner, feels more and more the next commissioner will be the same one we have now even though none of the avowed anti-Kuhn voters show any sign of capitulating.

"I saw where Bowie was quoted in The Sporting News as saying he thinks his chances of staying on as commissioner are 'zero,' and that's not very accurate," Giles said.

Stingy Astros Post 4th Shutout In Last 6 Games

United Press International

While a heat wave has enveloped much of the country, it always seems to be zero for the opposition in the Astrodome.

The Houston Astros' pitchers have become as stingy with runs as Bill Virdon is with a smile or Steve Carlton with a quate.

Joe Niekro and Frank DiPino combined on a three-hitter Monday night in pitching the Astros to their fourth shutout in their last six games, a 2-0 triumph over the San Diego Padres.

"I feel like anybody we put out there will do a good job right now," said Niekro. "Getting Nolan (Ryan) back helps our confidence as a club on the whole. Our younger players and new acquisitions are contributing greatly now. The attitude of the whole club is good. It's hard to say if that makes us win or if winning makes us have a good attitude."

Blanked on three hits by Ryan on Sunday, the Padres didn't do any better against the knuckleballs of Niekro or the fastballs of DiPino. The Padres wasted a double by Luis Salazar in the second then didn't get another hit until the eighth when Tim Flannery and Ruppert Jones singled to chase Niekro.

Dodgers 5, Reds 1

At Cincinnati, Fernando Valenzuela pitched a five-hitter and Steve Yeager and Mike Marshall slammed back-to-back homers to spark the Dodgers to victory. Valenzuela, who struck out six and walked three, improved his record to 8-2 en route to his sixth complete game. Cesar Cedeño homered for Cincinnati.

Pirates 4, Expos 3

At Pittsburgh, pinch hitter Richie Hebner doubled home the tying run and scored the game-winner on an error by third baseman Tim Wallach in the seventh inning to give the Pirates their victory. Rick Rhoden, 3-6, picked up the victory and Bill Gullickson, 6-7, suffered the loss. Tim Lincecum, who ranks third among National League outfielders in All-Star game voting, homered for Montreal. It was his second of the year.

Cubs 7, Mets 3

At New York, Jay Johnstone drove in two runs with a pair of doubles. Keith Moreland doubled in two more runs and Bill Buckner had a first-inning homer to spark the Cubs to their 10th victory in their last 12 games. Left-hander Steve Trout, 5-6, scattered nine hits over six innings to get the victory. Mark Bradley and George Foster homered for New York.

Phillies 6, Cardinals 2

At St. Louis, Von Hayes doubled in two runs and scored on a double by Bob Dernier in the fourth inning to lead the Phillies to victory. Hayes, who had driven in a total of four runs in 33 games this season, followed two-out singles by Tony Perez and Bo Diaz with a drive into the right field corner off Dave LaPoint, 4-3, to wipe out a 1-0 St. Louis lead.

Rangers 5, Mariners 2

Call it the Wright Stuff: "If one guy can be a spark, the whole team can turn it around."

The speaker was Texas center fielder George Wright, who was that "one man" Monday night. Wright's spark came in the form of a two-run, sixth-inning triple that gave the Rangers their fourth straight victory, a 5-2 decision over the Seattle Mariners.

JOE NIEKRO

"What we needed to develop was a winning attitude," said the 25-year-old Wright, one of the main reasons behind the Rangers' modest improvement so far this season. "You have to believe you can win before you do win. And I think we are getting there."

Wright's bat helped right-hander Mike Smithson defeat the Mariners and Matt Young for the second time in a week. Smithson allowed six hits and two runs over 6 2-3 innings to improve his record to 5-4. John Butcher, with 2 2-3 innings of two-hit relief, earned his third save.

Twins 9, Royals 4

At Minneapolis, Minn., Gary Ward hit a triple and two singles and drove in two runs to pace an 18-hit attack that powered the Twins. Bobby Castillo, 3-4, scattered nine hits over eight innings to get the victory with Ron Davis getting the last three outs.

Indians 9, Yankees 0

At Cleveland, Rick Sutcliffe scattered seven hits in tossing his second shutout of the season and Julio Franco drove in three runs to lead the Indians.

Orioles 3, Brewers 2

At Milwaukee, Cal Ripken Jr. hit a three-run homer and Allan Ramirez notched his first major league victory in helping the Orioles down the Brewers. Ramirez, 1-0, allowed five hits over the first five innings.

Angels 7, White Sox 4

At Chicago, Doug DeCinces and Tim Lincecum drove in two runs apiece and Ken Forsch picked up his sixth victory to lift the Angels. Forsch, who has lost three times this season, permitted only two walks and gave up seven hits as the Angels beat the White Sox for the third time in four games this season.

Raines 3rd Among NL Outfielders

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gary Carter of the Montreal Expos tops all National League players in All-Star team voting and three of his teammates also are top vote-getters in the updated fan balloting. It was announced Monday by baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn's office.

Carter has received 462,479 votes from baseball fans nationwide and seems a virtual shoo-in for a starting role in the contest.

Montreal outfielders Andre Dawson and Tim Lincecum join teammate first baseman Al Oliver as category leaders. Dawson has 387,824 votes to lead all outfielders. Atlanta's Dale Murphy is second with 358,021, followed by Raines' 283,041.

Graduation Fete Honors Miss Ludwig

Miss Carol Ann Ludwig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ludwig of Sanford, was honored at a graduation luncheon at H.P. Cassidy's, Longwood.

Miss Ludwig was a member of the June 11 graduation class of Seminole High School, 30 years after the graduation of her mother, Joan, from SHS.

She was a cheerleader, a member of Tribe Council, in the Homecoming Court and a member of Fellowship Christian Athletics. Miss Ludwig has been accepted to Young-Harris College, Young-Harris, Ga., beginning with the fall semester.

The luncheon was held in the Garden Room with fresh flowers enhancing the table. Guests were served soup, nacho supreme, quiche and baked ice cream.

Mrs. Springfield presented the honoree with a ceramic frame.

Joining the hostess, honoree and her mother were Mrs. James A. Wright, the honoree's grandmother, Marianne Ludwig, her aunt, Orlando; Francina Mark, Robin Jones, Martha McIntosh, Miriam Hamilton, Amy Posey, Debbie Harvey and Beth Ludwig.

Cruise For Critters Benefits Seminole Humane Society

For many months now, the Seminole County Humane Society officers, board members and concerned citizens have been hard at work to get the funds raised to match the $50,000 challenge grant offered by the Edyth Bush Charitable Foundation by Aug. 1. By dedication and hard work, the society has raised about $40,000, and is still holding fundraisers to obtain the remaining funds.

So far workers have completed the main structure, which will house the offices and small animal kennels and the dog run area is partially completed.

It will take an estimate of another 60 days to complete the interior and the large animal holding kennels. In order to honor their land lease with the county, the Society must have the new shelter complete and fully operational by Oct. 1.

On June 19 the society will hold its second annual, "Cruise For The Critters" benefit cycle run. The "Cruise" is being sponsored by the members of the Orlando — Kissimmee Retirees, and has a $5 donation registration fee.

The cycle cruise will cover about 75 miles beginning at Woolco Shopping Center, Lee Road, Orlando, and ending at the Lake Monroe Inn in Sanford.

To be part of this, "Cruise the Countryside" bike-a-thon, simply sign up the morning of the cycle run by 9 a.m., at the shopping center. For more information, call Ann at 293-1433, Jeanette at 298-3656, or Jack at 323-4517. An extra bonus is that some fantastic door prizes will be awarded.

Another fundraiser that has been working very well for the society is in their S&H Green Stamp savings program. Area residents, local school children and Girl Scout troops have been saving the stamps raised by them.

A Society spokesman said that anyone wishing to donate green stamps may mail them to P.O. Box 784 Sanford, Fla., 32771, or drop them off in the convenient wishing wells located at Publix supermarkets.

According to Joanne Prager, board member of the humane society, June is Adopt a Cat month.

Karen Warner

At this time the society is also asking for donations of fencing, garden tools, ceiling fans, bird baths and feeders, office supplies, puppy and kitten chow, picnic tables and a vacuum cleaner.

The Longwood/Lake Mary Lions and Lioness Clubs held their installation of officers banquet on June 12. The newly elected officers will take over their positions effective July 1.

The following members have been elected in the Lions Club: Richard Klug, president; Bob Senus, first vice president; Frank Whitten, second vice president; Bob Barthlow, third vice president; James Walker, secretary; Gyle Workman, treasurer; Don Rainier, tall twister; Ben Celones, Lion tamer; Stan Galloway, Don Rainier, Bob Senus — directors; and Leon Warluff, Lioness liaison.

The following officers will serve the Lioness Club: Debbie Pinto, president; Sara Warluff, first vice president; Millie Lawrence, second vice president; Betty Kozumplik, secretary; Jean Klug, treasurer; Becky James, tall twister; Fiona Davis, Lioness tamer; and Lois Workman, Georgia Galloway, Sarah Peacock and Zeena Hogabro — directors.

National president Roger D. Richardson of Longwood, Florida of National Emergency Number Association (NENA), will be traveling to Minneapolis, Minnesota for NENA's annual Convention.

Richardson is Orange County Department Manager for the 911E System and has served this past year as national president.

Shuttle Crew Plans To Enjoy Trip

(Last in a three-part series)
By Olive Talley

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — The space shuttle's first crew of five includes America's first female astronaut to fly in space, a doctor, a stamp collector, a mechanic buff and a lively commander who intends to rule his spaceship with a smile.

Although commander Robert Crippen, 45, is serious-minded about accomplishing the scientific and commercial goals of the seventh shuttle mission, he expects pilot Frederick Hauck, 42, and mission specialists Sally Ride, 32, John Fabian, 44, and Dr. Norman Thagard, 39, to enjoy the six-day flight aboard the shuttle Challenger.

"My philosophy is if you're not having fun, we're not doing something right because flying in space has got to be the most exciting experience that bunch and myself have ever had," Crippen said.

"We all function well together as a team. We're all cut-ups to some degree," he said.

The mission, scheduled for blastoff Saturday from the Kennedy Space

Center in Florida, will mark the first time an astronaut — Crippen — has flown the shuttle twice. Crippen was co-pilot on the maiden shuttle voyage in April 1981.

He is the father of three grown children and grew up in the small town of Porter, Texas, north of Houston, where his late parents ran a restaurant-gas station that evolved into a beer parlor.

As a youth, he dreamed about flying. But it was only at the age of 20 that he took his first airplane ride from Austin, where he earned an aerospace engineering degree at the University of Texas, to Dallas, where he joined the Navy.

Crippen, who has been instrumental in the development of the space shuttle program, anticipates no problems accommodating his crew of five — including Ms. Ride.

"I think it's practical we're going to fly five," Crippen said.

Hauck added: "We probably won't have the privacy we're used to in our day-to-day life, but we all expect that. I don't think there will be any inconveniences because Sally is there.

Ms. Ride, of Encino, Calif., was among the first six women selected to join the astronaut corps in 1978. She is the first of the eight women in the American space program to be assigned a flight, although Russian Valentina Tereshkova became the first woman to fly in space in June 1963.

Ms. Ride was a nationally ranked tennis player who gave up her racket to earn a doctorate in physics from Stanford University, where she worked as a researcher studying the space between stars before joining NASA.

She is married to astronaut Steve Hawley, who is scheduled to fly on the 12th shuttle mission next March.

"I don't think anyone on the crew feels the slightest pang of jealousy because Sally is getting the exposure," Fabian said.

Fabian, the father of two children, has been an avid stamp collector since he was 12. The slim, towering 6-foot-1 astronaut is a native of Goosecreek, Texas, but considers Pullman, Wash., his home.

The son of a Houston police-manned-turned-college professor, Fabian holds a degree in mechanical engineering and a doctorate in aeronautics.

He was commissioned in the Air Force upon graduation from Washington State University in 1962, flew 90 combat missions in Southeast Asia.

Hauck grew up in a roving military family, although he considers Winchester, Mass., his home. His grandfather was a naval officer, his father was a Navy captain on a destroyer, and his uncle was a naval aviator.

Thagard, 39, the father of three, includes design of small computers and music equipment and listening to classical music among his hobbies. He considers Jacksonville his home.

Thagard was added as the fifth crew member of the flight specifically to study the space sickness that affects about half the astronauts who have flown.

The son of a truck driver, he joined NASA as a mission specialist in 1978.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Functional Literacy Test Scores Take Healthy Jump

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — High school seniors in northeastern Florida had the highest passing rate on the functional literacy test administered last March, Education Commissioner Ralph Turlington says.

Turlington said Monday that the scores showed dramatic improvement over previous years, with 81 percent of all seniors passing the communications portion — compared to 80 percent last year — and 82 percent passing the math portion — compared to only 48 percent last year.

The functional literacy test was used as a diploma requirement for the first time this spring after a federal judge in Tampa ruled against a group of blacks who had challenged the test's constitutionality.

Turlington attributed the higher scores for seniors to the belief among students that the test would in fact be a diploma requirement this year.

Stano Sentenced To Die

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI) — Gerald Stano, confessed killer of 39 women, faces execution in the electric chair for the "shockingly evil and vile" murders of two of them.

Circuit Judge S. James Foxman sentenced Stano to die for the murders of Susan Lynn Bickert and Mary Kathleen Muldoon in Volusia County.

Stano, 31, who has formally pleaded guilty to eight murders, already is serving six life prison terms in the State Prison in Starke. The former short-order cook from Ormond Beach previously avoided the electric chair through plea negotiations.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Fragile Middle East Peace Broken As Fighting Flares

United Press International

Israeli and Syrian troops traded mortar fire for an hour in the Bekaa Valley, the second serious confrontation between the opposing armies in a month along the confrontation line in eastern Lebanon, Beirut radio said.

There was no official confirmation of new fighting from Damascus, and an Israeli spokesman in Lebanon denied the report. There were no reports of casualties.

The report of the new flareup came as Yasser Arafat re-entered Lebanon from Syria in a bid to put down a mutiny in the Palestine Liberation Organization. A PLO spokesman in Damascus said Arafat would be in Lebanon "for a few days" meeting with PLO commanders.

In Beirut, the 99-seat Lebanese parliament Monday resumed its debate on the Lebanese-Israeli accord calling for withdrawal of the 30,000 Israeli troops in Lebanon, if Syrian and Palestine Liberation Organization forces also leave. The Parliament was expected to ratify the accord, possibly as early as today.

Unions Urge Protest

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI) — Protesting nearly 10 years of military rule, unions urged millions of people to join today's nationwide boycott of schools, shops and offices but to avoid violent street demonstrations.

Truncheon-wielding police broke up one of several protests against the military government Monday and at least one person was arrested.

With tensions running high, the unions urged members to stay home Tuesday — boycotting schools, shops and public offices — and at 8 p.m. beat empty pots and pans, switch off all lights for an hour and honk car horns in the streets.

The unions want the end of the state of emergency declared by President Augusto Pinochet, early elections, the return of political exiles and an end to censorship by Pinochet's government.

Observing Flag Day In A Big Way

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A 210-by-411-foot American flag was readied for the grassy ellipse south of the White House to mark Flag Day today.

Deputy press secretary Larry Speakes said President Reagan planned to make a few remarks at the site of the flag, which takes 4½ hours to unfurl, before flying to Andrews Air Force Base for a two-day trip to Tennessee and New Mexico.

Later, he will get an aerial view from his helicopter.

The flag, first flown in New York from the Verrazano Narrows Bridge in New York during the 1976 bicentennial celebration, was created by the Great American Flag Fund, a non-profit group of volunteers.

It also was flown at Andrews Air Force Base in 1981 to commemorate the return of the American hostages from Iran.

It was damaged, and has been repaired for the Flag Day event.

Court: No Rights Suits For Whistle-Blowers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Soldiers and government whistle-blowers suffered twin defeats in Supreme Court rulings cutting back their ability to sue superiors for violating their constitutional rights.

In a pair of unanimous decisions Monday, the high court shielded military officers and federal employers from lawsuits seeking money damages for unconstitutional actions they may take on the job.

Declaring a need for strict discipline in the military, Chief Justice Warren Burger said it would not be right to allow servicemen to sue their commanding officers for orders they give.

The action dismissed the claims of five blacks enlisted in the Navy who allege officers on their vessel, the U.S.S. Decatur, illegally discriminated against them in job assignments, evaluations and punishments.

Instead of allowing civilian courts to second-guess the unique "hierarchical structure of discipline and obedience to command" in the military, Burger said, servicemen should pursue their grievances through military channels.

Likewise, the high court said federal workers have such "elaborate and comprehensive" Civil Service procedures to protect them they do not need the additional right to sue bosses who punish them for complaining about fraud or waste.

The ruling went against William Bush, a government aerospace engineer who claims his free speech was violated, but it may affect about 3 million federal employees.

Bush was demoted in 1975 after he accused the George Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala., of wasteful and fraudulent spending. He was quoted nationwide as saying his job was a "travesty and worthless."

"I would never advise a public employee to speak up about waste and wrongdoing," Bush, 57, commented after losing his case in the Supreme Court. "They can treat you like a damn dog and you have no recourse."

6 Arrested For DUI

The following persons were arrested in Seminole County for driving under the influence (DUI) Thursday and Friday:

—Jay Butt, 60, of 200 Jerry Lane, Sanford, was arrested at 5:23 a.m. Friday at U.S. Highway 17-92 and Collins Drive, Sanford.

—Rose Randall Tozler, 37, Old Geneva Road, Geneva, at her residence at 1:50 a.m. Friday. Police said she refused to get out of her car and insisted on driving in an intoxicated state.

—James Henry Steehler, 40, of Houston, Texas, at 11:08 p.m. Thursday. Police said he drove his 1983 Oldsmobile into the side of the J&D Fruit Stand at 1300 South French Avenue.

—Charles William Smith, 59, of 647 Woodridge Drive, Fern Park, at 9:35 p.m. Thursday on Interstate 4. Police said he was clocked at 73 miles per hour and it took over a mile to get him to stop the car.

—Wade Hueston Perkins, 20, of 103 Temple Drive, Sanford, at 8:35 p.m. Thursday at 980 State St. after being involved in an accident. He was also charged with driving with a suspended driver's license.

—Kevin J. Connell, 27, of 620 Land Street, Longwood, at State Road 46 and Airport Boulevard at 1:15 a.m. Friday. He was also charged with careless driving and possession of a controlled substance.

Police said they observed Connell placing something under his car's seat when stopped. The item was a plastic bag filled with black capsules. He was being held at the Seminole County jail today in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Surgery For Corns May Be Best Cure Possible

DEAR DR. LAMB — Let me tell your readers how to cure corns. I suffered from corns for 20 years. I tried everything and nothing would help. I had lots of pain and agony.

Then a specialist looked at my two small toes where I had big inflamed corns on each one. I asked him what he could do to relieve me from this pain. He took me to surgery and cut away the corns on each toe. He also took out one small bone under the corn.

There was no pain afterward and it didn't take long for the toes to heal. I have had no more corns and that was six years ago. I can recommend this surgery to any corn sufferer.

DEAR READER — I am delighted to hear that your surgery was a success. You may have had some foot deformity that made it difficult to fit shoes properly. But the truth is your surgery accomplished what is usually done to relieve corn pain — removing the pressure over the toe that stimulates the corn development.

In normally formed toes and feet the usual procedure is to relieve the pressure by working on the shoe and not the foot. When the shoe does not put any pressure on the area, the corn problem usually disappears. In your case, by taking out the small bone under the corn, the pressure was relieved.

A corn is really dead skin tissue, a modified callous. For immediate relief you may cut your shoe along the area where the top attaches to the sole, thereby freeing the top of the toes from pressure. Others recommend pads.

Chemicals in corn plaster and bathroom surgery may cause serious problems, particularly in diabetics and people with problems in circulation to the feet. The treatment for more common corn problems is included in The Health Letter 11-10, Common Foot Problems: What to Do About Them, which I am sending you.

To help avoid a recurrence of the problem be sure you get shoes that fit and allow free movement of the toes without rubbing or pressure.

DEAR DR. LAMB — A water conditioner salesman gave me his pitch recently. I can't afford his unit but what he said was very scary.

He talked about acid rain and said chemicals in the rain are in our water supply and react with chlorine to create a cancer-causing agent.

He also said the chemicals from the water stay in our bodies and are never washed out and this is the reason for waking up in the morning just "not feeling good."

What is your opinion? Are things really that bad? DEAR READER — Not quite. There are some studies that suggest that the water supplies in some areas could be and need to be improved but the problem is not acid rain. No one has ever shown that a cancer was caused by the water anyone has been drinking.

In short, he is overblowing the issue and capitalizing on your fears. If you are really concerned, just use bottled distilled water for drinking and cooking like many people do in other countries and let him keep his expensive device.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY

JUNE 15, 1983
Try to become more involved in fun activities this coming year which challenge both your mental and physical skills. Your health, as well as your attitude, will benefit.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't let others get you off-track today if your way of doing things is producing good results. Changing tactics may be fruitless. Gemini predictions for the year ahead are now ready. Romance, career, luck, earnings, travel and much more are discussed. Send $1 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to state your zodiac sign. Send an additional $2 for the NEW Astro-Graph Matchmaker wheel and booklet. Reveals romantic combinations and compatibilities for all signs.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Be budget-minded today and try to limit your buying to necessities. If there are no real bargains available, wait until another time.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You should be rather lucky today in gaining the aid of friends for your newest interest. However, be careful not to overinvest.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Even though you may feel a need to assert yourself it may be wise not to assume control of a matter that another is handling competently.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Early in the day you'll perform well if you have a lot to keep you busy, but if you try to maintain your pace in the evening you may fail.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) All will go well today if you operate in accord with your high standards. Don't be influenced by persons beneath your level.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Unfortunately, you may not be able to please all whom you encounter today, regardless of how hard you try. Just know you've done your best.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) This could be a rather profitable day, provided you don't depart from your tested business procedures. New methods may go awry.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Negotiate agreements with great care today so that you'll be able to honor your commitments. Don't agree to terms which appear doubtful.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Where your objectives are clearly defined, you're capable of outstanding achievements today. Determine in advance what you hope to accomplish.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) This is not the right day to mix business and pleasure. Keep social situations light and breezy, without interjecting commercial proposals.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your material prospects look encouraging today, but there is a possibility you'll ignore your opportunities. Be a go-getter.
