Possibly indicating his own feelings on the matter, Senator Holland predicts there will be a swing back to States' rights in the next session of Congress. We certainly hope so.

Jobless benefits of Florida's unemployed dropped about $7,000 last week, but the State of Florida still paid out $122,184 to people who can't find a job. That's at the rate of $6,344,000 a year.

Henry Wallace predicts the United States has already embarked upon "boom and bust" economic cycle. That's a fairly safe guess. That's been the history of every nation ever since the world began. The Bible tells us about the seven fat years and the seven lean years.

Paul Olson warns in Washington that if it is a crime for wealthy contractors to contribute to congressmen's campaign funds, as was evidently the case with Rep. Although there have been reports of defective ammunition which exploded in the face of GIs overseas, World War II ammunition on the whole, according to Maj. General Park, was better than in any other war. One defective shell can create considerable adverse publicity. The thousands of shells which were not defective receive very little comment except from the enemy.

We are a great believer in states' rights, but we think President Truman acted with great foresight and intelligence when he vetoed the Helmsland oil bill which had been passed by both houses of Congress. Under the terms of the bill the federal government would have relinquished all claims to oil rights between the low 100° mark and the three mile limit on the Atlantic Pacific and Gulf coasts. States' rights, and Gulf coasts. States' rights, however, do not extend beyond water's borders, not even to the three mile limit, while the nation's rights, under international law, do extend three miles out. Besides, national defense demands that control over these oil rights remain with the federal government.

Foreign Service

Veterans of World War II who saw something of other countries under war conditions and were interested in the varying aspects of life under foreign flags may be suitable candidates for diplomatic careers. The Division of Foreign Service Personnel of the Department of State, in Washington, is on the lookout for more applicants.

The term "Foreign Service Workers" covers a wide field, embracing ambassadors, ministers and consuls, who are assisted by clerks, interpreters, secretaries, and office workers. These employees of the government are concerned with all the relationships between the people of this country and those of other countries. Political problems are handled by ambassadors and ministers, while economic and commercial matters are taken care of by consuls general, consuls, and vice-consuls.

A young man who goes into this work must be tactful and adaptable, and must have a high degree of intelligence combined with integrity. His college training should cover international law, economics, history, languages, government, and geography. He must pass a stiff competitive examination, and a second oral examination before a group of men from the State Department. The first year of his training is spent abroad in learning and observing, after which he returns to this country and attends the Foreign Service Officers' Training School.

Few careers offer more varied experiences or more opportunities for usefulness over a broad field than the diplomatic service.

Civilian Goods

Production of civilian goods, one of the country's main interests since the day of the war ended, has reached new heights. Report of John D. Small, Civilian Production Administrator, shows that all post-war records were beaten in June.

Washing machines, radios, vacuum cleaners, gas ranges and electric irons are being turned out at a faster rate than before the war. Automobiles, trucks, tires and farm equipment have slumped a little from the May figures, but the goods are still coming off the line in considerable quantities.

The biggest danger to production now, according to Mr. Small, is an impending labor shortage. He says the labor pool is down to four million now, and manufacturing and construction will need a million more workers during the next six months. It already takes some juggling and hunting to find the right men for skilled jobs.

Production figures are always ahead of the consumer. A good many refrigerators will have to come out of the factory for all the people who are waiting to get theirs. But it is obvious that this country is well on its way toward having enough goods for its own needs and for export to other countries. Moreover, price problems will diminish as production goes ahead.

Henry Ford

A classic example of the success story so typical of the generations preceding the present crop of youngsters is the career of Henry Ford. The words which describe his story have become old-fashioned in their connotation: simplicity, frugality, perseverance, self-reliance.

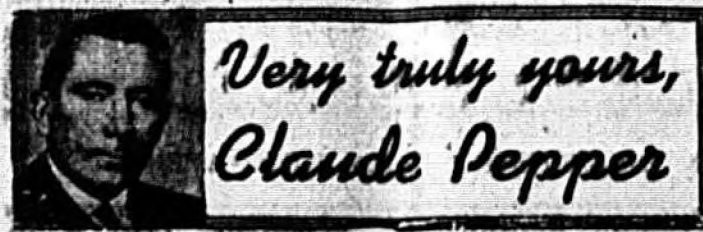

All these qualities and tendencies could have been ascribed to many men of Ford's generation, but to them he added mechanical and inventive genius. This ability has been given to others whose achievements have been a mere flash in the pan, because they were not backed up by those homely, old-fashioned virtues.

His recent 83rd birthday finds him retired from active management of his 40-year-old industry, but still world. Unlike many older men, Ford has faith in the good health and optimistic about the future of the young people of today. He urges them to dedicate themselves to "clear and long-range thinking and planning, and above all to work hard." Not bad advice for anyone, old or young.

The Klan in New York

NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE

State Attorney General Goldstein, spreading its anti-Catholic, anti-Jewish and anti-Negro sentiment in a city whose Catholic, Jewish and Negro populations are among the largest concentrations of their kind in the world. It is

Very truly yours, Claude Pepper

The 79th Congress for all practical purposes has now come to an end because we adjourned sine die and will not meet again until January, unless the President calls us back into special session.

Before adjournment, Senator Andrews and I got through the Senate the Mediterranean Fruit Fly Bill under which those who suffered losses in the campaign against the Mediterranean fruit fly will be able to prove claims up to ten million dollars. As this is written the House has not acted but I hope the bill will become law for it is justice long delayed for our Florida people.

What I could in the Senate to get the Senate to agree with the House and pay the GI's their terminal leave money in cash. But the Senate wouldn't do it. However, Senator Johnston of South Carolina and I have already introduced a bill to meet the GI's for their terminal leave, redeemable at their pleasure in the same way as ordinary war savings bonds. The GI's need this money now to get going again as civilians. Many need it to buy civilian clothes, others to help stay in school under the GI Bill and meet increased living costs, and many need it badly to help yet into some kind of business.

We believe that the GI's are as much entitled to this payment in cash as were the officers who got their leave in cash. And I don't believe that this payment will be inflationary to any serious extent. The very people in the Congress and in the executive branch of the government who opposed paying the GI's in cash for their terminal leave approved legislation to let big business draw back billions of dollars for more than the total difficult to associate New York City with the traditional stereotypes and burning crosses of the Klan, but its appeal to bigotry is, unfortunately, not foreign to our city nor to our day, and one has only to remember the campaign of "The World" against the twenty-century revival of the Klan that great newspaper's last great fight—to realize that the exploitation of racial and religious prejudice is possible even in this metropolis.

The Klan which has been dissolved as a legal institution in New York State apparently is a direct continuation of that which "The World" scotched but did not slay. Mr. Goldstein has traced it directly to the notorious William Joseph Simmons, who revived the Klan in Georgia in 1915. An organizer came to New York in 1921 to set up units here. According to Mr. Goldstein they have existed ever since in circumvention of the civil rights law, which forbids such organizations, unless they file details of their aims and a list of officers and members with the Secretary of state, which would never do for the Klan. As recently as 1944 it was reorganized into four units, one for each borough except Manhattan.

It is hard to take such antics seriously. It is, indeed, difficult to distinguish the Klan's tomfoolery from its malice, and to say how much of it results from the American's love of secret societies and alliterative titles, and how much from hatred and jealousy of those whose antecedents differ from one's own. The worst of it is that Mr. Goldstein can outlaw the mummery and the titles but he cannot eradicate intolerance from the hearts of those who respond to them.

school under the GI Bill. Yet many have not been able to go back to school because there are no adequate housing accommodations. We passed several bills providing temporary housing, but there again, we haven't done enough. The GI's have made such splendid records in school that they have proved the wisdom of giving boys and girls a chance to go to school with public assistance.

I believe every boy and girl should have a chance to get a good education regardless of whether he or she has the money or not. Accordingly, I am going to introduce in the next session of Congress a bill to provide a joint Federal-State loan, under which any boy or girl who is of good character can borrow any money needed to go to secondary school, vocational school or college, the money to be repaid by the student as he or she is able to pay it back after finishing school. The greatest resource we have is our people. That resource will enrich the country more than anything else if we will just develop it to the utmost.

The President's veto killed the Tidelands Bill under which Florida would have gotten a clear title from the Federal government to the tidelands around our long coastline where oil may possibly be discovered.

The Senate adopted my amendment providing for the raising of old age assistance benefits to a possible $50 a month and protective to the poorer states such as our southern states will not have to put up dollar for dollar the funds to match the federal appropriation. Under my amendment Florida would have to put up only 40c out of each dollar. In conference, however, the Senate amendment was modified so that the federal government now simply adds $5 to the federal contribution which does not have to be matched.

The conference cut down the twenty million dollars extra which Senator Taft and I got through the Senate for the Children's Bureau to aid the states in providing more maternal and child care, child welfare and aid for crippled children, so the total amount available now is about twenty million dollars and Florida will get its share of the increase.

In the closing hours of the Senate I paid tribute to Senator Andrews who is going out of the Senate, and after my statement Senator Barkley, the majority leader, and other Senators, followed with very generous statements of appreciation for Senator Andrews who is voluntarily retiring from the Senate. He has rendered distinguished service to the state and I have had ten years of most pleasant and cordial comradeship with him in the Senate. He will take back to Florida with him the thanks of the nation and the state for his fine service and the affectionate good wishes of his colleagues for good health and a long and happy life freed from the exacting burden of the Senate.

TERRACE TALK BY CECELIA TRULUCK

If you've never been to a state open golf tournament you've missed the thrill and fun of a life-time. The Florida Open played last Friday, Saturday and Sunday gave on the feeling that a family reunion was in progress. The young and old golfers attended... the good and the bad. Their families and friends were present also. It was difficult to judge which of the contestants was dressed in the neoprene golfing dress... or which of the women spectators looked more like Madeira... but it was not so hard to spot the top golfers! From the first minute the Sanford gang... CLYDE TERWILLEGAR, G. W. SPENCER, HARRY TOOKER, E. B. SMITH, ELIZABETH DYSON and I walked into the club house we felt at home. People we had never seen before would join in our conversations... Others were introducing us to Tom, Dick and Harry... Every minute it seemed a friend would ask, "Is there something I can get you... food, a cold drink, or anything?" This warm feeling of good friendship permeated the entire meeting.

By Isabelle S. Thayer, Food Consultant. Why lament when the sugar bowl is empty? There is Florida... syrup, honey, and corn syrup... both light and dark... in place of sugar for new flavor in old dessert favorites. These sugar substitutes blend and combine delightfully in sweetening meats.

Orange cream, lime, or pineapple... shredded pineapple... sweet shredded pineapple being shipped up from a neighboring island... if you're lucky enough to find them, make for a particularly nice flavor when used singly or blended for momentary past honey, or other fruit products and stretch the sugar supply.

Combine sweetening, water, spices and cook until well blended. Cut thin slice from blossom end of each pear. Peel on a saucer, and stand upright in deep baking dish having a high rim. Pour syrup over pears and bake 45 minutes.

Celery Feds Handed Twin Defeat By Orlando, 2-0, 2-1

Senator Moundsmen Hush Sanford Artillery In Both Ends Of Affair

By JULIAN STENSTROM
Herald Sports Editor

TINKER FIELD, ORLANDO, Aug. 6—The Sanford Celery Feds passed up their last possible chance to make a last stand fight for the leadership in the Florida State League last night when two left-handers and a right-hander of the Orlando Senators hurling corps proved to be too much for the Celery Fed artillery and Ted Madjeski's crew claimed a dual win over Ed Levy's nine.

They were both good ball games. Orlando captured the initial contest by a 2 to 0 count while they grabbed the nightcap, a 10-inning affair, by a score of 2 to 1.

In the opener, Jodie Howington, Fed southpaw, and Tommy Hyde, Orlando portlander, tangled in a beautiful hurling duel. It was not until the eighth that Orlando was able to break up the beautiful support given Howington by the entire Fed machine.

Cal Ermer broke up an air-tight mound duel between Hyde and Jodie Howington with a eighth inning single that chased two runs home and scored a defeat on the scoreboard for Howington, who, up to that point, had twirled excellent ball.

Orlando touched Howington for seven blows while Hyde hushed the Fed attack with a three-hit performance.

Grety Mendiazbar's overtime single with Madjeski perched on second base via the base on balls and stolen base route, gave the locals their second win of the evening and increased Orlando's lead over Sanford to 12 1/2 games.

Goose Kettles, was nicked for seven blows in the nightcap while the Feds were getting five off the deliveries of Scott Cary, who worked the first four frames and was relieved by Howie Martin after he pulled a muscle in his arm.

Approximately 600 Sanford fans were among the 1,360 paid attendance.

Said Tony: "He was an instructor—a flying instructor during the war, for the Navy."

"One of the reporters asked, 'Where, Tony?'"

The great Galento pondered a moment, wrinkled his brow and then answered: "Down South in Florida at the Pepsi-Cola Naval Base."

THE CLUBHOUSE

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

GOSHEN, N. Y.—This little village comes to life just once each year. It is the day of the Hambletonian, the $50,000 trotting derby for which Goshen lives almost as though it were depending on the sulky classic for survival.

On the lawn about the court house, beneath the ancient elms and maples, ladies of the town provide at a moderate cost fried chicken for those who care to nibble on a chicken leg as they walk leisurely to the kite-shaped Good Time Mile Track.

For one day in the year, trains going both ways stop at the station. The Erie Railroad runs specials from Goshen to New York and to points west.

The villagers look forward to this race every year. Maybe that's because they get two races, and sometimes three, for the Hambletonian is run in heats, the last two out of three to decide.

But whatever it is, Goshen and lovers of harness racing throughout the land say this is the Kentucky Derby.

The finest trotters, the best drivers are matched against each other. The winner usually is the best horse, handled by the best driver.

Days before the big race a census taker would have very little to do in Goshen. But on Hambletonian Day—which is Wednesday, August 7 this year—there will be about 10,000 persons in the stands.

People from all over the land converge on this little hamlet. Some drive hundreds of miles in jalopies, others stay overnight in outlying boarding houses.

Past experiences have taught them that rooms in Goshen have been cobbled up by trotting horse owners, trainers, drivers and stablehands. Most people are sentimental and the Hambletonian is a sentimental race. The localities are going for Deanna even though they haven't seen her race this year.

She is the daughter of Dean Hanover-Rosalind, 1936 winner, and was bred by trainer-driver Gibson White.

They all know Young Gal. He is the son of Benjamin Franklin White who is the only man to win four Hambletonians.

In 1936 Gal was seriously ill. His father sent him to a kindlier climate than the East provided and gave Rosalind to the boy, exhorting him to regain his health and "win the Hambletonian."

Gal rallied but was not strong enough to drive in the big sulky pull.

Ben barged off driving Ed Lawster for W. N. Reynolds, to whom he was under contract. Instead Ben White held the reins on Rosalind and won the classic.

The day Rosalind won, Gibson White went on the air and said: "I am the luckiest boy in the world. I have the finest dad."

Victory Song, though beaten recently by Chesterton in two meetings at Old Orchard Beach, Me., is a favorite with many. The Castleton Farm entry from Lexington, Ky., is a full brother of Volo Song and Yankee Maid, offspring of Volomite who won the 1943 and '44 trots, respectively.

Sep Palin, second only to Ben White as a reinsman, will hold the leather on Victory Song.

Sep won his first and only race with the immortal Greyhound in 1935 and might retire if he wins this one, though they say trotting drivers never retire.

The people here say you can't buy a Hambletonian winner. Their belief is that you're literally got to sleep with a trotter to bring him up to the big heats. C. W. Saunders, of Toledo, O., will attempt to prove otherwise. He recently purchased Onolee Hanover from Stan A. Wathen of Fort Fairfield, Me., for $25,000 plus 50 percent of any Hambletonian earnings.

The Hambletonian Stake was named for the trotting horse of that name. He is buried at Chester, six miles to the south of here. The race was first run at Syracuse in 1926 when Guy McKinnis won. With the exception of 1943 when war conditions forced the race to Empire City at Yonkers, the Hambletonian has been run at Goshen since 1930.

Goshenites missed it that year. They hope they never lose it again for they live the whole year just for this one day in August—Hambletonian Day.

VICTORY SONG, Castleton Farm's bid for the rich Hambletonian, is shown working out with Sep Palin driving. Victory Song is the son of Volomite, who won the 1943 and 1944 winners.

Loop Umpires To Quit If Prexy Fires Crucilla

By JULIAN STENSTROM

It was revealed last night by John Krider, general manager of the Sanford Baseball Association, Inc., that he had been notified by Florida State League President Ernie Padgett of Daytona Beach that the entire staff of umpires in the loop had handed in their resignation, effective Aug. 16.

The boys in blue said that they would carry out their intentions unless adequate police protection were furnished them in every park in the Florida State League.

It was also learned last night that President Padgett intended to fire Umpire Rosa Crucilla and that an attempt to bring in a replacement from New Orleans is currently underway.

However, this will probably throw the league into another turmoil for it was learned that every arbiter will resign his position in the event Crucilla is fired.

General Manager Krider declared that Padgett told him that Crucilla was being fired not because of the quality of his umpiring or because of any pressure from various club officials in the circuit but for the arbiter's own protection.

It was understood that Crucilla is in hot water with four clubs in the league and they're attempting to make it as tough as possible for the little man.

It was also learned last night that officials of the Deland club are planning to file suit against John Ganzel, Orlando director, for stating that the Crucilla-Dudley episode in Sanford last week was a "put-up-job."

Ganzel stated that he wasn't even at the park and he had only passed on a remark made by an Orlando fan who saw the Sanford-Deland game. Ganzel openly declared last evening that the Florida State League "is on the spot in Judge Branham's office," and that he wanted to do everything within his power to end the current umpiring trouble but if Deland wants to fight we're ready to give it to them.

Ganzel declared that if Umpire Crucilla is fired because of Padgett's fear of bodily harm to the arbiter, "baseball in the Florida State League will be at an all-time low."

Krider said he wired Padgett that he agreed that the umpires should be given adequate police protection and stated that the Sanford club has always backed the umpires and refrained from any serious trouble.

Although Krider felt that the firing of Crucilla would place the league's situation on a very low status, he appeared still uncertain as to whether or not it was the proper action to take. He declared that police protection still couldn't keep someone from hitting Crucilla over the head with a bottle, club or a bat.

Bill Kinard KO's Jackson in Bout

Sanford's up and coming middleweight boxer, Billy Kinard, pounded Roy Jackson of St. Petersburg for four rounds in a six round go for a near KO in the Legion arena in Orlando last night.

It is reported that the bout took place during the wild and kept the crowd on the edge of who's frantically.

Bill Orr of Winter Park knocked out Bob Roderick of Tampa in the fifth round of a semifinal bout.

Cubs Doing Okey With Two Old Men At Infield Posts

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
AP Newsfeatures

CHICAGO—At the hot spots of third base and shortstop, usually by smartness and experience, the Chicago Cubs are doing all right with a pair of "old men" who use their heads more than their legs.

They are 38-year-old Billy Jurge and 36-year-old Stan Hack. Billy, who helped the Cubs win three pennants a decade ago, was promptly signed by manager Charlie Grimm when the Giants released him. Stationed at shortstop, which has been a weak spot in the Cub machine for several years, Jurge has appeared in more than 40 games and has been guilty of only two errors.

"It's impossible to estimate the help he has been to us," said Grimm, "but it's obvious we're a better ball club all around when he's in there. He pulls the infield together and has a steady effect that is evident throughout the team. I only wish I could keep him there very long, but that is asking too much at his age, no matter how willing he is."

Grimm observes that "the only fellow who's any better than 'Old Will' right now is Marty Marion of the Cards. But what Jurge has lost in speed he has made up for by smartness and experience."

Although only a .260 hitter, he has become an important cog in the Cubs' drive to overtake Brooklyn and the Cards with brainy fielding.

Hack—"LIT" Junior—has slowed down a bit on the hot corner but he has made up for it with shrewd diagnosing of hitters which, in many instances, has put him on the spot ahead of the ball.

Backfield star Buster McClure's blood has dropped and the University of Nevada's hopes for national football acclaim next season. During the war McClure was exempted from military service because of his high blood pressure. He became an outstanding player at Nevada and served twice on the West team of San Francisco's East-West classic on New Year's Day. However his blood pressure went down recently and he's been drafted into the Army.

Bernardo Pasquel Ridicules Idea Of Fall Classic Winner Calling Themselves Champions Of World

The Pasquel brothers are planning to go after some of the biggest names in baseball for their Mexican League next season.

In New York on his way to Europe, Bernardo Pasquel discussed the 1947 baseball season. He said: "The Mexican fan wants the big names, the biggest you have. There are only four or five big names that we would want, young fellows with big names. Maybe Newhouse, Feller, Pesky and Ted Williams. Williams can come any time. He told me 'In Havana, last Spring' that he would talk to us before he signed for next year. We expect him to come down to Mexico on a visit sometime after the season. After all, there can be no harm in his coming to Mexico for a visit, No? As I told him 'In Havana, we would say to him:—Just write down what you want, and we will give it to you.'"

Pasquel says the outlook isn't bright for peace between the Mexican loop and the majors. He added: "There will be no peace until we get satisfaction from Chandler, Griffith and Rickey. The only way that will be done is for Chandler to go to Mexico himself."

Pasquel ridiculed the idea of the winner of baseball's fall classic calling themselves the world champions. He declared: "Our league leader, Tampico, can play any team you have here. They don't have one big leader in their lineup. How can you call your series a real world series? Why, the Mexican fan will just laugh at you. United States champs, yes. World champs, no. Not unless you play Tamico."

City Recreation Director Goose Kettles said today that the weekly moving picture program for the children will be given Thursday morning at 1:30 o'clock at the Sanford Junior High School.

At Least This Horse Gave The Fans A Run

WOODFORD, Queensland, Australia, (AP)—Sir Brae didn't live up to the old gag about the racehorse that finished a week late, but he made a good start. At Woodford track, he was the favorite. He was length ahead of the field until suddenly he swerved to the rail, leaped it gracefully and galloped into the woods. After a wild ride through the brush and back onto the track, his jockey finally nosed him over the finish line 10 minutes behind the winner.

Officials Hope To Draw 55,000 During Schedule

John Krider, general manager of the Sanford Baseball Association, Inc., announced this morning that so far during the current season of the Florida State League nearly 45,000 fans have paid their way into Sanford's sunspite park to see Manager Ed Levy's Celery Feds perform.

Records at the end of the month of July revealed that 43,731 fans had watched the Celery Feds in action. During the month of July the locals drew 12,788 persons through the gates. "From the opening of the season through the month of June," Krider has reported "32,943 Fed fans had visited the home stands."

"At the beginning of the season," Krider said, "we figured that if we could place a first division club on the field we would have a banner attendance year. We ordered 55,000 tickets from Peter Schaal statistician."

"It looks as though we will hit or pass the 55,000 mark," Krider declared, "if this rain will let up and give us a chance to get in most of our 16 remaining home stands. We would very much like to draw 60,000 people this season and there is a possible chance of even doing that if we're given a chance to play the games. I know that the local fan will back the Feds well if this rainy weather will cease."

It is believed that the attendance during the 1937 season ran approximately 52,000. Local officials declared that they were in hopes of breaking this record.

BAKU, Azerbaijan Socialist Soviet Republic (AP)—Plovers of gambusia, tiny fish that feed malaria mosquito larvae, are dispatched from the Lankaran Fish Hatchery to drop in the marshes and shallow lakes of Azerbaijan's malarial country. Soviet medical experts say the number of new cases of malaria has dropped 20 percent since the war.

AREAS AFFECTED by the proposed treaties being considered at the peace conference in Paris are shown on above map. In black blocks of territory on Italian-French border go to France. Greece gets the Dodecanese islands from Italy, which also loses Libya, Pantecora would be demilitarized, Albania would be recognized, Yugoslavia gets most of Venezia Giulia and Zara from Italy, and Trieste becomes a free territory. Romania gets Transylvania from Hungary, but loses Bucovina and N. Bukovina to Russia and S. Dobruja to Bulgaria. Finland loses Petsamo to Russia, but will get back Hangoo, where, however, the Soviets will get the right to build a Baltic naval base. Federation on islands of Sardinia and Sicily would be restricted severely. (International)

More Power Is Seen From Rain In Spain

AP Newsfeatures
MADRID—Spain's rainiest spring in years has brought the country out of the worst drought of the century.
The importance of the drought is measured by two losses for the year 1945: two-thirds the normal wheat crops, and one-fourth the electric power. Loss of the wheat brought the bread ration down to 150 grams a day, one of the lowest in bread-starved Europe. Loss of the power meant that an estimated $280,000,000 worth of goods could not be manufactured.
Beginning toward the end of 1943, the dry period forced some power restrictions early in 1944. In May, a 17 percent cut was ordered in industrial power consumption in the mining, metallurgical and shipbuilding area around Bilbao. Serious restrictions in Catalonia—Barcelona and its region, Spain's greatest industrial district—began in September.
The 1944 crops did not suffer heavily from the dry weather, except in some regions. But serious difficulties came with 1945. In the Catalan zone factories had to close three days a week by the end of January, and in the Bilbao area complete stoppage of factory work was enforced for nine days. Both zones were forced to halt industrial power supplies three and four days a week during the second half of 1945.
The power produced in Spain for the year 1945 was 4,066,000,000 kilowatt hours, 70 percent of capacity. The 1945 harvest was the worst of the century. Wheat was down to 1,800,000 tons, against a normal 4,350,000.

Kaiser Eager For Proposed Investigation

Probe Of Steel Industry's Record Is Called For By West Coast Shipbuilder

OAKLAND, Calif., Aug. 7 (AP)—Suggestions that Congress investigate the wartime record of Henry Kaiser have been welcomed by the west coast shipbuilder. Kaiser says he is eager for the inquiry proposed by Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire.

Kaiser has called for an investigation of the steel industry's war record. The shipbuilder has charged that scandal mongers are trying to assassinate his reputation. He asserted that these scandal mongers have been out to kill his Fountains, Calif., steel plant.

In his call for an investigation of the steel industry, Kaiser claimed that during the war his shipyards were short of steel. He asserted that "the great steel corporations failed to provide the necessary steel for ships. They had shipyards of their own, and Kaiser must be stopped was the slogan."

Kaiser claims that Jesse James' special consultant told him the Reconstruction Finance Corporation preferred to have the US Steel Corporation spend government money in Utah on a steel plant the steel corporation would run.

Kaiser quoted Jones as saying he would never recommend spending government money on a steel plant in California to be operated by Kaiser.

The west coast shipbuilder said that his Fountains plant was built with money borrowed from the RFC. He claimed that now he is being held for every cent of the Fountains cost with interest, while the government has let U.S. steel buy the Geneva plant for 20¢ on the dollar and the interest.

Kaiser also declared that his industries built $100,000,000 worth of houses for the government for a fee of $2.00 and then did not get the $2.00.

The west coast shipbuilder also complimented the Merchant Marines and Fisheries Committee investigation of shipbuilding. He said he would be most willing to appear before the Senate Menard investigating committee.

U. S. Engineers To Meet Tuesday At Mayfair Inn

The United States Engineers have called a meeting for 1:00 P. M. (E. S. T.) Tuesday, Aug. 20 at the Mayfair Inn for the purpose of conducting a hearing regarding flood control, navigation, water conservation and stabilization of the Upper St. Johns River.

This will include consideration of the canal joining the upper St. Johns River with the Indian River at or near Titusville.

The meeting will be a very important one and it is hoped to present to the engineers definite information on the subject, said Edward Higgins, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Bob Pitman Resigns Athletic Position At Florida School

GAINESVILLE, Aug. 7. (Special)—The resignation of Robert G. (Bob) Pitman, Jr., former University of Florida, backfield coach and prominent in the state coaching circles, from the staff of the College of Physical Education, Health and Athletics, was announced today by Dean Dennis K. Stannard.

Pitman said today that he would under the citrus business in Apopka. Prominent in state high school coaching circles, Pitman produced championship football teams in Barrow in 1936 and '39 and at Bradenton in 1941. He joined the coaching staff at the University of Florida in 1942 where he served as backfield coach.

He is a former outstanding baseball player, leading the Florida State League in batting in 1927. He played with both Sanford and Gainesville in the state league. A graduate of the University of Florida, Pitman holds an A. B. and Master's degree.

As GI Victors Clean Up Athens

ARMED BANDS OF VOLUNTEER POLICEMEN (top) continue to patrol the streets of Athens, Tenn., after reports that Sheriff Mansfield and his backers might fight their way back into the city and make another bid for political control. Soon after the GI candidates were declared elected, the sheriff's office began cleaning up the gambling spots in McMinn County. A slot machine and punch boards are shown being loaded on a truck (bottom), after removal from an Athens cafe. (International)

Seminole Farm Bureau Honors Wathen At Meet

Official of American Fruit Growers To Leave City Shortly

Secretary J. E. "Ted" Wathen of the Seminole County Farm Bureau, who will soon be transferred to Fort Pierce in an executive capacity by American Fruit Growers Inc., was presented with a fountain pen by County Agent C. H. Dawson in behalf of the Bureau at a supper meeting and entertainment given last evening in honor of Mr. Wathen at the Episcopal Parish House.

M. L. Cullum, president of the Bureau termed Mr. Wathen a good citizen and declared that it was no small thing to have given his time and effort to the Bureau without any hope of remuneration. Mr. Dawson expressed appreciation for Mr. Wathen's friendship and work for the organization for so long a period. John Ford congratulated Mr. Wathen on his new appointment and said that while it was a sad occasion for Sanford that he was leaving, he would be welcomed in St. Lucie county.

Mr. Wathen said that he greatly appreciates the pen gift, told of his long residence here since 1912 and declared that he would be perfectly happy to spend the rest of his days here.

Immediate action in deepening canals on the West side in order to prevent future flooding such as has menaced the whole celery and farming industry of that section following recent heavy rains was promised late yesterday afternoon by the County Commission following appeals of a delegation of growers represented by E. F. Housholder, attorney.

Leo Butner, representing the Drainage Committee of the Seminole County Farm Bureau told the commissioners that he would immediately start raising funds among growers of the West side to start the drainage work. Commissioners, who said they had already devoted much study to the problem, agreed to match funds raised by the growers for this work.

It was agreed that M. C. Hagman, county engineer, will supervise the work which will be undertaken by E. S. Parker, contractor. The first objective will be clearing of obstructions from the Smith Canal which drains clear back into the area and lake chain near the Country Club, the overflow from this area has recently flooded farms, damaging seed beds, closed entrance to the farms and made plowing impossible.

During past seasons, flooding has damaged farms in the Lake Monroe area. John Bell, plant

Five Enemy States Invited To Take Part In Conference Deliberations

Missouri Voters Support Truman; Nominate Axtell

Byrd Of Virginia, Kilgore and Brigggs Win Re-Nomination

By ASSOCIATED PRESS It's all over but the shouting in Missouri's six state-wide primaries were held yesterday. With most of the votes tallied up, here's a resume eye view of the result:

In Missouri—the "show me" state—the voters have shown Harry Truman that they're behind him, at east the voters in the Fifth Congressional District. That Democratic primary was supposed to be a test of the President's strength. As things turned out, Mr. Truman was right and Representative Roger Slaughter was wrong. That's what the President said when he urged the voters not to send Slaughter back to Congress because he had opposed too many of the Administration's measures.

The President succeeded in his purge. With the backing of the White House, the Pendergraft political organization and the CIO Political Action Committee, a political newcomer and an ex-convict named Enos Axtell unseated Slaughter. Complete unofficial figures gave Axtell a margin of 2,301 votes over Slaughter and 14,000 votes over a third candidate, Jerome Walsh.

When November elections roll around, Axtell will have another scrap on his hands when he will be opposed by the automatic Republican nominee, Albert Reeves.

Three democratic senators—Harry Byrd of Virginia, Harley Kilgore of West Virginia, Harley Frank Briggs of Missouri—were re-nominated easily. Byrd ran in despite the opposition of the CIO PAC, while Kilgore succeeded with PAC backing. Briggs had Presidential support.

Kansas voters have decided to run a former war secretary on the Democratic ticket for governor. Harry Woodring won the nomination and returned to political prominence in the state he once before served as governor.

Arkansas had only one congressional primary contest and at last count incumbent Fred Craven was leading Lee Whitaker, a former sergeant in the Army Air Corps.

The Republicans also had their day at the primary polls. New Hampshire's GOP Governor Charles Dale seems to be about as gubernatorial choice. But by only a slim margin of about 500 votes. His opponent was Representative Sherman Adams who left his seat in the House of Representatives to make the race.

Rep. Tyn Cobb Is Main Speaker At Kiwanis Meeting

Opposes Caldwell's Plans For Public Building Project

Referring to Governor Caldwell's plan for clearing out business and residential property in Tallahassee to provide public space for state buildings at an estimated cost of $5,000,000 as a project comparable to a cross between the Pentagon building in Washington and Rockefeller Center in New York, Representative Tyn Cobb in an address to the Kiwanis today at the Community House stressed his opposition to such a project.

He urged that instead the city spend its surplus money to improve such crowded and run down institutions as the State Hospital at Chattahoochee, the girls reformatory at Ocala, the boys reformatory at Marianna and the State penitentiary.

He also declared that the state budget director should be appointed by the Legislature rather than by the governor.

"Only 10 percent of the appropriations in the State are made by representative government," he asserted. "The other 90 percent are made by bureaucrats." In this connection he referred to bureau crats with chauffeurs riding around in Cadillac limosines and that $100,000,000 in taxes is paid into the state and almost four times that amount to the Federal government, and that when we want to get money for other counties in Washington, that in land, and by the bureaucrats for some of what has already been paid in."

He strongly advocated a canal from the St. Johns to the Indian River and declared Orlando is much better off in that project than many other counties.

Orlando guests included Warren Roberts, Wesley and Willie Raymond, Henry Killeen, Jr. and R. T. Overstreet. Other visitors were S. W. Tudor of Louisiana, Henry White, Jr., Joe Davis, Marvin Hodgins and Major Allen Whorton.

King George To Lose Crown In Case India Given Freedom By Britain

LONDON—When India is finally granted independence, the king—George VI, by the grace of God, of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions Beyond the Seas, King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India—will have to be changed.

The assent of parliament and all the parliaments of the dominions will be required.

What reference to India will be included in the new title will depend on whether India elects to remain within the British Commonwealth of nations.

Coins Will Change, Too Both British and Indian coins will have to be changed also. British coins bear the king's title in abbreviated Latin and Indian currency bears a likeness of the king's head.

The royal mint said that no consideration had yet been given to the question. An official pointed out that it was not a matter of urgency as the present coinage would remain legal tender.

The first reference to India in the sovereign's title was in 1875 when Queen Victoria was proclaimed empress of India.

This is not the first time it has been necessary to change the king's title.

Before the Norman conquest, English kings were simply styled kings of the English. But the conqueror's son, William Rufus, elaborated this into "William, by the Grace of God (Dei Gratia) King of the English" and the phrase "By the Grace of God" has been retained to this day.

After the invasion of France, Edward III called himself also

And, two stationary units will be set up in Miami and Tampa, according to Dr. C. M. Sharpe, director, Bureau of Tuberculosis Control.

The State Board's present mobile x-ray unit is currently in the shop undergoing a complete face-lifting but will be back in service by September.
