2,000 May Be Dead In Nuclear Disaster

MOSCOW (UPI) — A fire burning in an atomic power plant near Kiev forced the evacuation of four towns in what was emerging as the worst nuclear disaster ever. An unconfirmed report said more than 2,000 people died and were buried at a site normally reserved for nuclear waste.

'... the biggest accident that can be imagined.'

reactor, 80 miles north of the Ukrainian capital of Kiev, a "disaster." "The inhabitants of the nuclear power station's settlement and three nearby towns have been evacuated," the official Tass news agency said Tuesday. The evacuated settlement, at Pripyat, had been called a "town born of the atom" in the February issue of Soviet Life magazine. The publication said the town contained 25,000 to 30,000 residents with an average age of 26. In Finland, a Soviet diplomat called the accident the world's worst nuclear disaster, and the Soviet government asked West Germany and Sweden for aid in fighting the fire at the graphite-moderated reactor. In Bonn, Professor Adolf Birkhofer, head of the West German Society for Reactor Safety, told the Bild newspaper there was immediate danger for people living within 6 miles of the reactor. "This was different from a simple accident that could no longer be mastered," he said. "According to the information available to me, it was a super accident ... the biggest accident that can be imagined." The Tass statement, however, said, "The radiation situation at the electric power station has now been stabilized." Western diplomats and energy experts said the Kremlin was officially downplaying the disaster to protect its

2 Banks Robbed

By Paul Schaefer
Herald Staff Writer

Bank robberies in Lake Mary and near Longwood within 20 minutes of each other Tuesday are being investigated by area law enforcement agencies.

A dye bomb exploded in one case preventing the gunman from escaping with the cash he had taken, and in the second robbery, $1,700 in cash was taken. There were no injuries in either hold-up, and no arrests have been made.

Robbed were Freedom Bank, 901 East Lake Mary Boulevard, Lake Mary, and Florida National Bank, 2101 State Road 434, Longwood.

A man walked into Freedom Bank at about 2:39 p.m. Tuesday, went to a 24-year-old teller, and "put a gun in her face," according to Lake Mary detective Tom Taggart. The teller told Taggart the man said, "give me all your money... all of it now. Hurry up."

She placed an undisclosed amount of cash and a dye-bomb into a small green duffle bag the man had given her.

As the man fled, he apparently opened the bag to look at the money, and the dye bomb went off, Taggart said, covering himself and the money with red dye. "He had the dye all over him," Taggart said, adding that the man then dropped the bag, and ran to his car, parked across the street at the Handy Way food store.

DeBary Areas Threatened By Brush Fires

Brush dry from a month without rain fed two fires in south Volusia County Tuesday, one scorching 200 acres near DeBary.

Firefighters were still dousing hot spots at the scene of the large fire today.

Charles Creech, chief of the DeBary Volunteer Fire Department, ordered the evacuation of about 200 residents out of 2,000 in the Glenn Abbey subdivision area, but only about 100 people were forced to leave their homes before the winds changed direction making the evacuation unnecessary. Residents were told to evacuate by police and firefighters and had to use their own means of transportation to leave the scene, Creech said.

Rollins Anniversary Marked In Sanford

The 101st anniversary of the organization of Rollins College, Florida's oldest institution of higher education, was recognized Tuesday with the placing of a historic marker at the southwest corner of First Street and Park Avenue in downtown Sanford.

Participating in the ceremonies were Sanford Mayor Bettye Smith, Elisabeth Boyd, vice-regent of the Sallie Harrison chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Rollins College Historian Jack Lane and Rollins Student Body President Frank Greene.

The marker had originally been located several blocks north of the new site, in front of the former city hall. It was placed there by the DAR to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the college. When the new city hall was built, the marker was moved and stored until Tuesday.

Mrs. Boyd said the historic marker is one of several placed by the society. Other markers have been placed at Old Fort Mellon Park, the site of Fort Reed, the Speer Grove on Mellonville Avenue, and the cannon in front of the Chamber of Commerce Building.

Mrs. Boyd thanked Jim Jernigan and the Department of Parks and Recreation, City Engineer Bill Simmons, City Manager Frank Falson, and Mayor Bettye Smith for their help in re-placing the marker.

Other city and college officials attended the ceremony. The afternoon newspaper's report was brief, but the two thick black lines are rarely used, and only for major accidents such as airplane crashes and for the deaths of Soviet leaders.

'Clearly A Meltdown'

West Germany Offers Robots To Fight Fire

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. intelligence agencies have concluded that a chemical explosion caused a meltdown of a Soviet nuclear reactor that contaminated an area within 10 miles of the plant, administration sources said Tuesday.

They said the building housing the nuclear reactor "clearly was still on fire" Tuesday morning and that an adjacent building housing another reactor was in danger.

"The roof was blown away, the walls were crumpled and it was clearly still on fire," one source said of the facility.

"They (intelligence experts) believe it was a chemical explosion of some kind that resulted in a meltdown," the source said. "It was clearly a meltdown."

Noted physicist Allan Bromley had said earlier a meltdown was highly unlikely.

Meanwhile, in Bonn, West Germany, the West German atomic energy industry has offered to fly two remote-controlled robots to the Soviet Union to help fight a graphite fire in the core of the nuclear reactor.

Peter Haug, technical director of the West German industry's central Atom Forum trade group, said the possible use of the robots was discussed at an industry meeting.

The meeting was convened Tuesday when an official from the Soviet Embassy in Bonn approached the Atom Forum to ask what assistance the West German industry might be able to give Soviet authorities in getting control of the reactor accident.

Haug said the German industry would be willing to make available its two robots kept ready for potential nuclear emergencies at West German reactors but that the industry was waiting to see whether the Soviet Union will ask for them.

The robots are in possession of a nuclear firm

NUCLEAR NATIONS Generating Power from the Atom

SOURCE: Department of Energy

The United States is a clear leader in nuclear generated power among non-communist nations, but second place France has the most ambitious development program. The Soviets reportedly generate 10 percent of their power from nuclear plants.

Soviets Read Between Lines

MOSCOW (UPI) — To Soviet citizens accustomed to reading between the lines of the official government newspaper Izvestia, the thick black borders around the small front-page story on the Chernobyl nuclear accident meant only one thing: death.

The afternoon newspaper's report was brief, but the two thick black lines are rarely used, and only for major accidents such as airplane crashes and for the deaths of Soviet leaders.

The Izvestia report and a brief announcement on Soviet television, along with word of mouth in the streets of the capital, were enough to alarm the Soviet people.

"Now it seems we're sitting on a nuclear time bomb," said a young Muscovite.

"Listen, when they (the official press) say there has been an accident, and then say it is a disaster, you know it is serious, very serious," said a middle-aged Moscow man. "The problem is there is so much we don't know, and it worries us."

According to Western diplomats and scientists, the Soviet government is worried also.

With an ambitious program to double the Soviet Union's nuclear capacity in the next five years and to triple it by the year 2000, the Kremlin has much to lose if word of a major accident involving thousands of deaths reaches the Soviet populace.

"The Soviets are underplaying this whole thing so as not to arouse fear in the people," a Western diplomat said.

Perez: Proposed Liability Laws No Good

From Staff And Wire Reports

A key House panel has out a pair of proposed laws as solutions to skyrocketing insurance costs, but Sanford doctor Luis Perez, who recently led a Tallahassee rally for liability insurance reform, said "neither bill will solve the problem of the liability crisis."

"Thank God these were in subcommittee," Perez said. "When they get to full committee, we'll have to argue these points. Even put together these bills don't solve the problem."

Perez, who co-founded the Florida Coalition for Liability Reform, said he hoped one committee bill could be modified to place an absolute $250,000 cap on tort awards. The cap is a primary goal of the coalition.

The House Health Care and Insurance subcommittee for Medical Malpractice, Casualty and Liability met for more than six hours before passing a proposal by Insurance Commissioner Bill Gunter (R-138) and a second bill of its own making. The bills passed over objections from some committee members and numerous lobbyists that the subcommittee was rushing through major legislation without allowing proper time for debate.

The Gunter bill would give the insurance commissioner the authority to review and reject unwarranted rate increases. It would also force insurance companies to create a joint underwriting association to provide coverage for high-risk clients, and would require companies to give policyholders 60 days notice before canceling or raising the premiums of a policy.

"It only gives Gunter more power to dictate rates. More insurance companies will leave Florida. If they can't make money, they'll leave," Perez said.

The committee bill incorporated those and other elements of the Gunter bill, and then included several tort reform items and more regulation elements. The bill would:

● Modify the doctrine of joint and several liability, blamed by the insurance companies for most of the industry's ills. The doctrine holds that any defendant in a suit can be forced to pay the entire award. The bill would modify that doctrine with a "more than" approach, that is, joint and several could not apply against a defendant if the complainant was found to be more responsible for his injuries than the defendant.

● Place a "sliding scale" cap on damages awards. All damages up to $100,000 would be paid in full, but an award of over $100,000 and less than $250,000 would be reduced by 20 percent, damages over $250,000 but under $500,000 reduced 40 percent, and so on.

● Create a study committee to study both insurance rates and related tort reforms, to report back to the Legislature next year.

● Automatically order all liability insurance rates reduced 15 percent on July 1, 1987.

Both bills were to be considered by the full committee early on today.

NATION IN BRIEF

Cyanide Killed Woman Who Died After Taking Tylenol

PULLMAN, Wash. (UPI) — Toxicology tests show that cyanide killed a lonely and depressed university lab technician who lapsed into a coma minutes after taking two Extra-Strength Tylenol capsules, authorities say. Police said Tuesday they have not ruled out suicide in the death of Sandie Lynn Gregory, 21, and said the victim had access to cyanide at the veterinary laboratory at Washington State University where she worked. "We are looking at this as a homicide, and that includes the possibility of suicide," Sgt. Don Witt said. "She was new in town, had no friends and few acquaintances. She was lonely."

Spokane County Coroner Dr. George Amend said the toxicology tests showed Gregory died of cyanide poisoning. Gregory fell into a coma at a friend's house Saturday night, five to 20 minutes after taking two Extra-Strength Tylenol capsules, police said. She died seven hours later at a hospital in Spokane.

Historic L.A. Library Burns

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — More than a million books, historic photographs and valuable archives were destroyed or damaged in a vicious fire that turned the city's main library into "an incinerator" and injured 48 firefighters, officials said.

Hundreds of employees were ordered to report to the fire-ravaged, 60-year-old building Tuesday night to help lug books and periodicals out of the tons of water that were poured into the building during the five hours it took firefighters to douse the flames, which broke out at 11 a.m. PDT.

Mayor Tom Bradley went to the scene and proclaimed it "one of the city's worst disasters."

Tens of thousands of people lined the streets, and traffic into the city was snarled for hours after smoke and flames began pouring from the squat, stucco building that was the centerpiece of a $1 billion downtown renovation project.

The library contained more than two million books, periodicals and microfilm collections worth millions of dollars. Officials said virtually all were damaged and up to half destroyed, including the only complete collection of U.S. Patent Office records on the West Coast that cost $250,000 and took 15 years to compile.

IRS In A Taxing Situation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Internal Revenue Service says it may have lost millions of dollars by not going after tax cheats identified by its computer system, but denies reports that put the figure in the billions.

Philip Coates, associate IRS commissioner, told a House hearing Tuesday he agreed with a General Accounting Office report on the problem of matching up interest and dividend information with taxpayers' returns.

The report said millions of pieces of information are not used by the IRS in the matching process, and the IRS has no program to monitor whether businesses are complying in reporting their dividends and interest.

Latest Quake Catches Famous Singers Nearby

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Thousands of foreign visitors, ranging from the youngest member of the Osmond singing family to famous Brazilian crooner Roberto Carlos, were caught in the latest Mexican earthquake early today but in the middle of the night most made arrangements to hastily leave the shaking city.

Jimmy Osmond of Los Angeles, the youngest of the Osmond brothers and sisters, was staying at the Holiday Inn Crowne Plaza in downtown Mexico City at the time of the quake and said he ran 18 flights of stairs down with his manager, Manuel Montoya, a Mexican empresario working in the United States.

"I ran 18 flights of stairs all the way down to the lobby. Everything was moving and shaking," said the trembling Osmond.

The hotel is a principal tourist haunt in the downtown business district along Paseo de la Reforma and had sustained some cracks in the last earthquake as well last September. It is in the middle of a hard-hit area, almost next to the building which used to house the UPI office.

Famous Brazilian romantic singer Roberto Carlos left the same hotel hastily in a limousine, but said he didn't have the faintest idea where to go — "just out of here."

Donald Law, of Melbourne, Fla., was on the 7th floor of the same hotel when the ground shook again at 1:10 a.m. (3:10 a.m. EDT) about three minutes after the quake was registered on observatories from its epicenter along the Pacific coast.

"We left very frightened. We ran through the lobby into the street, thinking all the time of the September earthquakes."

Commission Considers Tax

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

The Longwood City Commission is considering lifting the cap on the utility tax from $5 a month for residential customers and $10 for commercial to a straight 10 percent tax.

New City Administrator Ronald Waller recommended at a special meeting of the commission Monday night that the cap be removed in order to provide additional revenue needed by the city. Waller said he would provide a report on how much revenue is needed and how much will be realized by changing the ordinance to increase the cap.

A motion by Commissioner Perry Faulkner to prepare an ordinance lifting the cap on the utility tax from $5 a month for residential and $10 a month for commercial to a straight 10 percent, which is the limit allowed by state law failed for the lack of a second.

"I would like to wait until we have seen the figures," Commissioner June Lormann said.

The commission voted to only pave six streets from the priority list of 19 at this time. The paving of the number one priority, 14th Street, has been postponed because some of the residents don't want it paved if they each have to pay 45 percent of the cost with the city picking up 10 percent. They want to go with a formula of the two adjoining property owners paying two-thirds and the city one-third since the street will be mainly used by cars from an adjacent development.

Streets to be paved include Georgia, Park, Short, West Lake, Wilma and West Warren.

The commission voted to borrow the $40,570 it is estimated it will cost for engineering on drainage for these streets from the money received from the sale of city property and set aside for purchasing park lands. The money is scheduled to be replaced when the city receives money from taxes.

The commission voted to advertise for professional engineering proposals on drawing up drainage plans.

Cutting the list is expected to reduce the amount the city needs to borrow considerably from the $2.8 originally projected for paving and stormwater drainage. Estimated cost of the six streets (including paving, curbing, drainage, sidewalk and engineering) is $490,920.

House OKs Campaign Bucks

BY Michael McClelland
TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The House Monday narrowly overcame united Republican opposition and passed a bill establishing public financing of statewide campaigns for governor and the Cabinet.

The bill (HB 1194) would provide state matching funds for private donations of $250 or less from individuals only; donations from corporations or political action committees would not be eligible. Any candidate who applies for the matching funds would have to agree to a spending cap based on the votes cast in the prior election. If the cap were in place this year, gubernatorial candidates who accepted matching funds would be limited to spending $2 million;

Seminole Schools To Salute Teachers During Teacher Appreciation Week

Public schools throughout Seminole County will join the National PTA in recognizing teacher's contributions to education during Teacher Appreciation Week, May 4-10.

Goldboro Elementary School, Sanford, will focus on the quality of education by saluting teachers for their good work by planning daily activities to recognize all teachers.

National PTA President Ann Kahn, has asked PTAs to pay special tribute to teacher-astronaut Christa McAuliffe, who died in the January 28 space shuttle Challenger explosion. "When the United States selected a teacher to be the first private citizen in space, it was a statement that was long overdue — much of what we are and what we become is the result of our teachers' efforts," Ms. Kahn said.

McAuliffe will be remembered for "the contributions she made to the teaching profession and the students she reached through the Teacher in Space Program," Ms. Kahn added.

"This week will give children and parents the chance to thank teachers for their contributions to both their students and the community," Luevern Tillman,

Brain Bowl Team Wins Southeastern Crown

Seminole Community College's Brain Bowl team won the southeastern United States regional championship title in the Community College Academic Challenge Tournament held at Florida Junior College, Jacksonville, last weekend.

SCC earned the right to compete in the regional match after winning the state and east central Florida titles recently.

SCC beat Walker College of Jasper, Alabama, twice in the final round to win the coveted silver tri-state championship trophy. SCC won over Walker by scores of 625-340 and 640-325 to win the title.

Walker narrowly edged out SCC in the opening match of the double elimination tournament, 530-450, but SCC went on to beat Mississippi state champion East Central Junior College, 715-230. That set up the double rematch with Walker, which SCC swept.

"The formula for the championship was simple—a complete team effort," Gerry Doyle, 21, Casselberry, SCC team captain said. "Each member contributed to give Seminole's team one unbeatable trait—depth."

Students were quizzed during the lightning round competition in math, social sciences, natural sciences, and humanities, according to Dr. Elaine A. Greenwood, SCC Director of Arts and Sciences Services.

Lucinda Coulter, SCC Professor of Economics and team sponsor, praised the students for their composure, poise, and talent under fire during their third major competition in as many months.

In addition to Doyle, team members include Tammi Basso, 20, Sanford, Arthur Dykeman, 21, Sanford, Bryan Flynn, 31, Sanford, and Jim Baillette, 20, Winter Park.

The east central Florida, Florida state, and southeast regional competitions won by SCC were video-taped, and will be aired on Cablevision of Central Florida channel A on consecutive Thursday nights at 8 p.m. starting May 8, according to Dr. Greenwood.

Goldboro PTA President said.

"The quality of education in this country has come under much scrutiny in the past few years," Ms. Tillerman said. "We have learned that there are many outstanding teachers in our public schools who deserve to be recognized for their work."

"We don't always realize just how important teachers are to our children and community," Ms. Tillman added.

"The vast majority of teachers are providing our nation's children with a good education," Ms. Kahn said.

"We must remember to support efforts to draw the brightest students into the teaching profession so that our future generations will have the best teachers and the best educators possible," Ms. Kahn added.

Activities next week at Goldboro include: Monday, flowers and cards for teachers; Tuesday, donuts in the teacher's lounge during the day and a PTA meeting with Sanford Mayor Bettye Smith at 7:30 p.m.; Wednesday, duty free lunch for teachers; Thursday, balloons on all teacher's chairs; Friday, apples, donated by the Sanford Public Market, for the teachers.

County Officials Honored By Chamber

By Sarah Fischer
Herald Staff Writer

Two top county officials have been honored by the Greater Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

County Administrator Ken Hooper was named public servant of the year and County Director of Public Safety Gary Kaiser was named public safety officer of the year at the Chamber's annual awards banquet Saturday.

James Stelling, past president of the Chamber of Commerce, said the two men were chosen from a number of nominees from local government entities in both categories.

"Both are super quality, dedicated public servants with impressive lists of accomplishments and very worthy of recognition. Their enthusiasm and support speaks very well of them," Stelling said.

County Commission Chairman Bob Sturm today expressed his pride in the fact that Seminole County employees were singled out for the honors. "These are well deserved awards both for the individual and collective accomplishments of the two. The Chamber felt they should be the recipients for the good job they are doing," he said.

Sturm, who presented the public servant of the year award, noted the strong leadership and efficient operation of county government under Hooper.

Ken Hooper

Among Hooper's accomplishments, Sturm listed the recent hiring of a new expressway authority executive director, initiation of a one-stop, walk-through process for single family building permits, development of transportation and wetlands management programs and a master plan for regional water and wastewater service.

Hooper has been employed in various positions within Seminole County government for the last 11 years, including director of environmental services. He has served as county administrator for 1 1/2 years.

Kaiser has served as the county's fire chief for 12 years. He became Altamonte Spring's first paid firefighter in 1966 and later its first fire chief. As the county's director of public safety, Kaiser is in charge of fire, rescue, emergency services, fire loss control and prevention and disaster preparedness.

Stelling, who presented the public safety officer of the year award, noted the instrumental role Kaiser played in transforming the county's fire services from a volunteer effort to a full-fledged department.

Among Kaiser's accomplishments, Stelling listed the initiation of the E-911 program and 800 megahertz radio system to improve emergency communications, expansion of the first response system and research to implement a public safety impact fee.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: Severe thunderstorms strafed Iowa with hail and doused the nation's midsection today, while heavy thunderstorms that spawned funnel clouds in southern Texas weakened as they moved north. A warm front spawned thunderstorms that stretched early today from the western Great Lakes and Upper Mississippi Valley to the northern Plains, the National Weather Service said. A severe thunderstorm watch was posted from southern Iowa to northwest Illinois and over parts of northern Missouri today. Hail pelted Iowa City and Osceola in Iowa and areas north and west of Britton, S.D. Highway 82 in Benton County, Iowa, was covered with 5 inches of water and thunderstorms in Illinois and South Dakota packed winds that gusted to near 60 mph. On Tuesday, the storms pelted Jefferson, State Center and Albia, Iowa, with hail the size of golf balls. Dime-sized hail whitened the ground at Paton, Iowa. "It looked like a blizzard," said a Greene County deputy sheriff. A service station owner in Norway, Iowa, said hail the size of Ping-Pong balls damaged some cars.

"They bounced like balls off the cars," he said. "I imagine some car owners are going to be unhappy with a few dents." In Texas, heavy thunderstorms that generated funnel clouds at Laredo Tuesday night weakened as they moved into the south central part of the state, weather service forecaster Pete Reynolds said. The funnels did not touch down to become tornadoes, but they caused minor damage at the Laredo airport. Strong winds swept across Wyoming early today after gusting to 50 mph Tuesday at Casper and Lander. At Riverton, Wyo., firefighters kept watch overnight on a grass and timber fire that threatened several homes and businesses before the blaze was contained at about 4 p.m. Tuesday. On Tuesday, rain-swollen rivers spilled over their banks in the northern Plains, causing minor flooding. South Dakota Gov. Bill Janklow requested federal disaster assistance Tuesday because of flooding that has caused damage estimated at $22 million in an eight-county area since early March.

Board Says Sue On Lien-Laden Land

By Sarah Fischer
Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County Code Enforcement Board has recommended the county initiate foreclosure proceedings, the forced sale of property, on land located on Racoon Trail off Osceola Road.

Board members indicated Thursday they plan to take strong action against property owner James E. Mullin to satisfy a $14,000 lien on the land in east Seminole County.

Mullin, who county records show is the owner of Capitol Roofing and Supply Co., has been charged with violating county codes by dumping scrap building material in a subdivision within 300 feet of an adjacent residence.

The foreclosure would be the first such action taken by the code board, according to Assistant County Attorney Lonnie Groot, who was asked by the code board to research what recourse the county has in the case.

Mullin, whose case has been before the county since May 1985, has accumulated $14,100 in fines for the violation. A lien on the property was filed last November.

Numerous efforts to reach Mullin, including trying to track down his correct address, have been unsuccessful, said County Code Inspector Irving Kaufman. The last known address of Mullin is in Casselberry, Groot said.

Kaufman said Mullin has never appeared before the code enforcement board and at one point threatened him during a telephone conversation in October 1985.

According to Groot, Mullin has apparently defaulted on his mortgage. The mortgage holder, Wayne Schoolfield of Kissimmee, has asked the board to remove the lien so that prospective owners could take over the property, Groot said.

The outstanding mortgage on the property is $21,000, he said. Board member Hugh Harling, however, had strong words for Mullen and said the county should seek satisfaction of the lien through Mullin's other holdings.

"I strongly urge the board to go after any assets he may have, to do whatever it takes," Harling said. "I'm unwilling to let (Mullin) back out of this thing."

In other business Thursday, the code enforcement board:

• Gave R.G. Kondraki, 715 Baywood Drive, Sanford, 90 days to comply with county codes or pay a $25 per day fine.

Kondraki is charged with having a transport trailer within 75 feet of a residence. County Land Development Coordinator

John Dwyer said Kondraki is storing automobile parts in the trailer, which is illegal in an agricultural zone.

• Agreed to withdraw charges against Samuel M. Easton, 3204 Independent Square, Jacksonville, of destroying trees having trunks three feet and over with heavy equipment without first obtaining an arbor permit.

According to Dwyer, Easton has agreed to plant 42 trees and landscape the site, located on State Road 436 west of the San Jose Apartments.

• Gave Rafael Davila, La Bodega Grocery and Meats,

Forest City, until May 1 to comply with county codes or pay a $25 per day fine.

Davila is charged with failure to obtain a building permit for a portable sign. According to county codes, Davila must remove the sign for 30 days before applying for a 60-day temporary permit.

Gave Bernard D. Sommers, trustee, Maitland, one month to comply with county codes or pay a $100 per day fine.

Sommers is charged with placing a mobile home on property within an agriculturally zoned district without a special exception.

School Registration To Begin

Registration for kindergarten and first grade students entering Seminole County schools for the first time this fall will begin next week, said schools spokesman Karen Coleman.

A child must be age 5 on or before September 1, 1986 to enter kindergarten, she said. To enter first grade, youngsters must be age 6 on or before September 1 and have successfully completed kindergarten.

A birth certificate or proof of birth date, immunization records, and a student physical exam record are needed for student registration.

Hospital Offers To Help Smokers Quit Habit

Two free introductory classes on Smoking Cessation are being offered by Central Florida Regional Hospital May 13 and 14 in the hospital classroom.

Set for 7:30-8:30 p.m., participants can come either day.

The course is scheduled for May 19-22 from 7:30-9 p.m. The follow-up classes will be May 27 and early June from 7:30-8:30 p.m. Those who do not quit can take the course again free of charge.

The program's unusually high success rate results from emphasis placed on treating the root causes of the smoking habit, not only the symptoms. Using methods based on comprehensive medical and psychological research, course leaders have made it possible for even heavy smokers to quit for good, with a minimum of discomfort.

Despite the widely recognized link between smoking and major illness, about one-third of adult Americans still smoke. Surveys reveal that half of all smokers have made at least one serious attempt to quit.

According to Nancy Edwards, RN, course instructor, the classes have had over an 80 percent success rate.

Greenwood Lakes PTA Forming

An organizational meeting to form a PTA for the new Greenwood Lakes Middle School is scheduled for May 6, according to Lakeview Middle School assistant principal Jim Shupe.

He said the meeting will be held at the Lakeview gymnasium at 7:30 p.m. He added that all parents of prospective Greenwood Lakes students are invited to attend.

The $7.5 million school will open in August, with a projected population of 910 students. The School Board of Seminole County recently adopted new middle school zones to redistribute the county middle school population to accommodate Greenwood Lakes' opening.

Whew! We Understand

April 15 has come and gone. The CPAs are on vacation. IRS employees can ease off on the deskercises (eye rolls, finger spreads, leg lifts) that the agency was encouraging them to perform at their computer terminals to relieve the stress. There will be a brief run on 1040Xs the form for correcting whatever mistakes one made in the bleary-eyed last minutes of the 15th, but it won't compare to the post office lines just before the filing deadline. We have entered the days of national whew.

There are those, most notably the president, who expected more in the way of anger from the public — or at least some post-Filing Day peaking of interest in his tax simplification project. But that hasn't happened. And the Senate Finance Committee, which kept up its tax reform deliberations right through April 15 without even noting the occasion, reflects that. What the Senate panel did on Filing Day — the same thing it did the day before — was vote to retain an assortment of tax exemptions and write-offs that the tax reformers had been trying to scrap. In fact, it agreed to create some new ones. And the public gave no indication of caring.

What the public appears to be most interested in after April 15 is forgetting about taxes for a while. An interest the full Senate is accommodating. It voted overwhelmingly to not even hear whatever tax reform plan might come out of the Finance Committee, until after Congress and the president have agreed on a budget. But April 15 — which, not incidentally, is also the day by which Congress is supposed to have passed a budget resolution — came and went with no action on that front, either.

The budget package approved by the Senate Budget Committee is being kept off the Senate floor by the majority leader, because it calls for $73 billion in new tax revenues over five years, and the president, for that reason, has promised to veto it. Under the circumstances, the Senate Finance Committee, which would have to design the new tax increases, is refusing even to discuss the subject, while the Democratic-controlled House is pleased to let the Republican majority in the Senate battle this one out with the president; the House Budget Committee is studiously ignoring the subject.

This kind of thing can't go on for long. After all, there is a federal government to finance and run; there is a deficit to curb. But for the moment, the politicians' surge of inaction on every tax front doesn't seem to be upsetting the public in the least. After April 15, as calculator sales fall off, as the head of the IRS starts easing into his new job at Price Waterhouse, as the nation takes off its collective green eyeshade, the American people apparently enjoy the shared respite. That may be disappointing to those who had hoped for a greater level of political engagement, but, whew, we understand it.

They Can Quit

A recent federal appeals court ruling provides reassuring evidence that the American civil-justice system hasn't gone off the deep end, as critics sometimes allege. A federal panel in Philadelphia ruled earlier this month that health warnings required by law on all cigarette packages adequately notify people of the risks of smoking. Thus, those who choose to smoke anyway are responsible for the consequences.

The ruling isn't conclusive. Attorneys for the smoker who brought the suit said they will appeal, and dozens of similar suits are pending. Lawyers say they will argue that cigarettes are so addictive and dangerous that tobacco companies should be held liable for the damage done to smokers' health.

But the appellate court ruling upheld another principle: that people who have been warned about potential risks have responsibility for their actions. Smokers, after all, can make an informed choice: They can quit.

The Sweetest Onion: Nary A Tear Shed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "The war is over and we have won!" proclaimed a "media advisory" appearing in the congressional press galleries. If that sounds like Libya's Col. Moammar Khadafy commenting on the most recent American raid, the similarity is purely coincidental.

Or maybe it sounds more like something former President Lyndon Johnson might have uttered with respect to the Vietnam conflict.

In any case, this advisory was prepared by the House Agriculture Committee and pertains to onions.

Yes, friends and fellow onion-addicts. According to Committee Chairman Kika de la Garza, Texas won the latest competition to determine the world's sweetest onion.

But, contrary to what you might have supposed, the question wasn't settled at the Alamo.

De la Garza doesn't even hail from San Antonio. The Texas Democrat was born in Mercedes and now lives in Mission. And although Texas is observing the 150th anniversary of its war of independence, the "sweet onion challenge" didn't come from Mexico.

"Suffice to say," de la Garza sufficed to say, "none could compare" with the Texas entry, "which was named the sweetest raw onion in the nation" in El Centro, Calif., last year.

It is good that Texans have something new to brag about. Although I might be a Lone Star expatriate, I am by no means an ex-patriot. So I can say with heartfelt credentials it's too bad the late Sen. W. Lee (Pappy) O'Daniel, D-Texas, isn't still alive. He might have written a song about the onion.

In fact, some of the phrases used in the "media advisory" sound suspiciously like they might have been lifted from the lyrics of some inspirational O'Daniel ditty.

Anyway, when de la Garza invited the Capitol press corps to sample "the sweetest sweet onion you've ever tasted," I was there.

It was. That, as de la Garza put it, is "the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth." (O'Daniel, by the way, didn't coin that phrase, although it does seem hauntingly familiar.)

I hasten to add, however, that I am married to a Georgia girl who grew up eating sweet onions from Vidalia. Therefore, any comparison might not only be odious, but also grounds for divorce.

Speaking of odious, I'm not sure what effect the Texas onion, known as the "1015 supersweet," has on the breath. But I was assured it contains very little of the chemical compound that brings tears to the eyes of the slicer.

Sure enough, not a tear was being shed during the time I watched onions being distributed from a well-decorated truck by representatives of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Association.

The association, incidentally, is headquartered in Harlingen, a border town President Reagan depicted as being close to Nicaragua.

Do sweet onions give Central American communists yet another reason for overrunning Harlingen?

I can't speak for Daniel Ortega but I sleep better at night knowing the onion fields are being tended by what de la Garza calls a "brave band of Texans."

SALT Pact Dilemma

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Seven years after the Strategic Arms Limitation Treaty of 1979 was signed by the leaders of the United States and the Soviet Union, President Reagan cannot decide whether to endorse or reject it.

For the second time in less than a year, the president has reluctantly — if not grudgingly — agreed to abide by the SALT II restrictions on the number of multiple warhead missiles each signatory may have in its arsenal.

A decision to ignore the treaty ceiling surely would have exacerbated tensions between the two nations. Indeed, it almost certainly would have destroyed any chance that they might reach agreement on a new arms limitation treaty in the negotiations now underway in Geneva, Switzerland.

Although President Carter signed SALT II, he asked the Senate to suspend the ratification process after the Soviets invaded Afghanistan in 1979.

Reagan made the treaty a centerpiece of his 1980 campaign against Carter, describing it as a "fatally flawed" example of a "failed foreign policy" characterized by indecision and gullibility about Soviet intentions.

Less than a year after entering the White House, however, Reagan made a public commitment that he, like Carter, would abide by the unratified treaty's provisions if the Soviets displayed similar restraint.

In an interview last year, the president explained that his position changed after "I learned that the Soviet Union had a capacity to increase weaponry much faster than the treaty permitted, and we didn't."

Last fall when sea trials of the seventh Trident submarine, the USS Alaska, began, the United States was, for the first time, in a position to violate one of SALT II's weapons ceilings — the limitation of 1,200 ballistic missiles with multiple warheads.

After considerable agonizing, Reagan announced last June: "I have decided that the United States will continue to refrain from undercutting existing strategic arms agreements to the extent that the Soviet Union exercises comparable restraint."

That meant dismantling an older Poseidon submarine, the USS Sam Rayburn, although administration officials considered placing the sub in dry dock while reserving the right to reactivate it at any time.

Now the eighth Trident submarine, the USS Nevada, is scheduled to begin sea trials on May 20. Its 24 missiles would constitute a SALT II violation unless two Poseidon submarines are scrapped.

CIA OKs Israeli Arms To Iran

By Jack Anderson
And
Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — Israel has denied any involvement with the illicit arms ring arrested last week. The attempted sale of $2 billion worth of arms to Iran, though a retired Israeli general was among those indicted.

But suspicion of Israel comes easily. For years the Israelis have been selling arms secretly to Iran, generally with the tacit approval of the CIA.

The timing of the indictments was significant, coming just as the Reagan administration has begun a secret "ult" toward Iran after six years of mutual hostility. Proponents of a U.S.-Iranian detente wanted the United States to supply arms to Iran directly, if covertly, and take credit for the friendly overture. The main arguments for a rapprochement, as we reported earlier, were to assure a U.S. presence in post-Khomeini Iran and to save the billions of dollars now being spent to protect against Iranian-inspired terrorism against Americans.

Last year, according to high-level sources, the National Security Council asked the Israeli Defense Ministry and Mossad, the secret service, to cut off the flow of U.S. weapons to Iran. Israel reluctantly slowed down its lucrative arms trade with Iran.

When the United States and Iran broke off relations following the seizure of American hostages at the Tehran embassy in 1979, the Iranian military was faced with the serious problem of finding replacement parts for U.S. weapons supplied to the Shah. The Iranians began shopping elsewhere — and Israel soon became their most reliable supplier.

Politically, Israel knew it had nothing to lose by helping Iran in the war against Iraq. That Arab country would never be a friend of Israel. Other reasons for dealing with the Ayatollah Khomeini were to make money, to get Iranian oil, to protect the 50,000 Jews living in Iran and to establish some links with Iranian military officers that might be useful in a post-Khomeini situation.

Through it all, the Israeli government has denied arms deals with Khomeini — and has kept the CIA informed of the deals. For example, the Mossad told the CIA that Israel's first sale to Iran at the inception of the Khomeini regime was for $300,000 worth of spare tires for American-made F-4 fighters.

SCIENCE WORLD

Insect Love Noisy

By Jan Ziegler
UPI Science Writer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Under springtime skies, millions are beginning the beguine to the tune of love songs in many languages.

Even the lowly and minute fruit fly courts his mate with a sound only a fruit fly could love.

"They do make a love song which sounds relatively nice to them, although sort of horrible to us," said Jeffrey Hall, associate professor of biology at Brandeis University.

The male fruit fly when aroused produces this insectively lyrical sound by flapping his wings at a certain rate and certain rhythm that differs from species to species.

The sound has two purposes: to influence the female to accept the male's advances, and to allow her to tell whether he belongs to the right species. A certain male may be the fruit fly of her dreams, but if he is of the wrong species, her offspring will be sterile.

When a male fruit fly is on the prowl, there is no mistaking it. His song is produced at close range and would be loud enough to cause damage to human ears exposed to it for long periods. The decibel level would be equivalent to 93 in human terms, somewhere between a power lawn mower and a chain saw or snowmobile.

The melody, Hall said, is composed of a series of clicks sounding almost like a motorboat.

"Some go more slowly," he said, demonstrating with a putt-putt noise.

The rhythm aspect, which has nothing to do with drum sections, was only recently discovered.

"What we discovered is that the rate of generating what sounds to us like clicks varies in a systematic way. The rate gets faster, then slower, then faster, then slower. The length of each variation is about a minute," said Hall, who gets very enthusiastic when talking about fruit flies.

Hall and a colleague, C.P. Kyriacou of the psychology department at the University of Edinburgh in Edinburgh, Scotland, recently published a paper in the journal Science describing work with the genetic control of fruit fly lovesongs.

The sounds were picked up with ordinary microphone parts put with the flies into a metal box that blocks out other sounds.

Different species have different songs, Hall said, but they also have different rhythms.

Thus, species are crossed to produce hybrids, new and strange songs are produced. The rate of clicks is between those produced by the original species, but the rhythm is the same.

Israel kept the transactions modest during the nearly 15 months the American hostages were being held. Then it went big time. In 1981, the sales amounted to $50 million at least, and our intelligence sources estimate that Israel has provided more than $250 million worth of arms and ammunition to Iran in the last five years.

Now the Reagan administration is considering restoring the old arms pipeline to Iran. As one White House official delicately put it, the administration's mood is to "regularize" the arms flow, instead of going through Israel.

For their part, the Iranians are likely to welcome a covert arms program from the United States directly, to avoid paying markups of as much as 2,000 percent for U.S.-made spare parts.

Defending Deaver

I have known Mike Deaver casually ever since he and Ed Meese were the Gold Dust Twins on Gov. Ronald Reagan's staff in Sacramento nearly 20 years ago. Temporarily I always felt somewhat closer to Meese, who wore his conservative principles on his sleeve. (This was in the days before he switched to Adam Smith neckties.) Deaver was more noncommittal on ideological issues, at least when I was around. But nobody who knew Deaver ever doubted his rock-solid loyalty to Ronald and Nancy Reagan — or doubted that it was reciprocated.

When Deaver announced early in 1985 that he would be stepping down as White House deputy chief of staff to go into business for himself as a public affairs consultant in Washington, reaction was divided. There were those who simply envied the millions they expected he would make. Others remarked, in guttural tones, that they could hardly wait for him to get out on the ice, away from that cozy White House.

Recent events make it appear that both sets of prophets were right. As an entrepreneur, Deaver has done very well indeed, signing up such prestigious clients as CBS and the government of Canada for fees that certainly sound astronomical to the average American. It was, however, largely Deaver's very success in his new career that recently landed him on the cover of Time as an allegedly outsize example of that dubious genre, the Washington "influence peddler." Now all sorts of people are taking up the cry, and it's high time someone rose to say that Deaver is getting a bum rap.

There are, of course, laws that specify when and how former public officials may use, for their private gain, the expertise and personal

Bandit Returns To Crime Scene; Robs Again

One of two bandits who robbed a clerk at Circle K, 5009 Howell Branch Road, Winter Park, at about 10:10 p.m. Monday is believed to have robbed the same store about two weeks ago.

The return bandit Monday was with another man who pulled a handgun after paying for a pack of cigarettes. He demanded cash and Donna Lynn Cullens of Oviedo handed over about $80 from the cash register, a sheriff's report said.

The pair fled into woods across from the store and when sheriff's deputies were called to the scene they were told that one of the suspects may have been a repeat robber at that store, the report said.

POLICE THREATENED

A man who allegedly threatened to kill a Winter Springs policeman who arrested him on disorderly intoxication and resisting arrest charges had a charge of corruption by threats against a public servant added.

The man was reportedly loud and abusive when confronted by police at Circle K on State Road 434, Winter Springs. Police had stopped to question two men when they reportedly saw them having an apparent confrontation with a store clerk, a police report said.

The man arrested refused to identify himself, cursed police and barked at a police dog, which was in a patrol car, the report said.

Police struggled with the man to subdue him and he continued kicking when put into a patrol car. At the police station he threatened to kill a policeman, the report said.

Delmer Ray Horton, 28, of 104 Murphy Road, Winter Springs, was arrested at 12:53 a.m. Tuesday. He was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

A 47-year-old Sanford man has been charged with grand theft after Winter Springs police determined the car he was driving had been reported stolen in Cocoa.

Police first stopped the suspect in a driver license check and cited him for having no vehicle registration. The man was allowed to leave, but within five minutes police got a report that the car the man was in was stolen.

The man was located at North Orlando Foods on State Road 434, Winter Springs and arrested at about 11 a.m. Monday.

Bicycle Thief Pleads Guilty

An 18-year-old Sanford youth has pleaded guilty to grand theft in connection with the snatching of bicycles from some Sanford homes.

Gene Edward Allgood, of 149-A Orange Blvd., entered the plea before Circuit Judge Robert McGregor who set May 30 for sentencing. Allgood could receive up to a year in the county jail. Disposition of charges against a 17-year-old arrested in connection with the same thefts was unavailable because of his age.

According to court records, the bicycles were reported stolen from two homes and one with a flat tire was discarded and replaced by another before residents saw the accused thieves ride away.

The suspects were nabbed by police shortly after they fled from the scene and one identified by a witness.

The thefts occurred at Sanford Landings on State Road 46 in Sanford in January.

In other court action:

—Audran Murray Butler, 30, of Daytona Beach, arrested in June on charges of grand theft of an auto, resisting arrest, prowling and grand theft. He was sentenced by McGregor to two years in prison with credit for 86 days already served. He was arrested after he was seen hanging around a car at the Altamonte Mall during 90-degree heat. After the man started to drive away, his vehicle was stopped and police reported finding $1,700 in savings bonds belonging to a Holly Hill woman and other items believed stolen from Volusia County. The car had been stolen in South Daytona Beach in Oct. 1984.

—Willie Bernard Lawson, 40, of 20th St., Sanford, arrested in November on a charge of aggravated battery. He pleaded guilty to the same and faces up to a year in the county jail when sentenced May 30 by McGregor. According to court records, Lawson and his wife, Diane, were arguing at 3310 Hughey St. in Sanford when Mrs. Lawson was injured. Investigators said the woman had turned to walk away from Lawson when he stabbed her causing "serious injury." She was treated for a stab wound in her right shoulder at Central Florida Regional Hospital.

—Charles Keith Anderson, 21, of 812 Richbee Dr., Altamonte Springs, arrested in February on a charge of sale of cocaine after he reportedly made a deal with agents to give them 1.5 grams of the drug for $160. He pleaded guilty to possession of cocaine and could receive up to a year in the county jail when sentenced May 14 by Circuit Judge Kenneth M. Leffler. The drug deal was reportedly made behind the Interstate Mall, State Road 436, Altamonte Springs.

—David Scott LaPoint, 20, no address listed, arrested in July after a theft at the Holiday Inn, at Sanford Marina. He was sentenced by Leffler to two years probation and ordered to pay the Public Defender's Office $350. He was arrested after running in the downtown Sanford area and attracting the attention of an officer who gave chase. During the chase, a briefcase containing a $66 check, papers and calculator and a book of matches from the inn was thrown down. An investigation found that a car belonging to Jerry Miller, who was staying at the motel, was burglarized and a briefcase stolen.

—Mark Walker Day, 20, no address listed, arrested Jan. 16 by Lake Mary police in connection with a Jan. 6-theft of items and a car from his mother's home in Lake Mary. He was sentenced by Leffler to a year in the county jail, suspended on a day-by-day basis as long as he is receiving treatment for problems. He was also placed on three years probation and ordered to pay the Public Defender's Office $350.

—Allen Troy Hilley, 22, of Logan Drive, Longwood, arrested in November after being linked to a Nov. 9 burglary. He was sentenced by Leffler to three years probation and ordered to pay the Public Defender's Office $350. He could have received up to a year in the county jail. According to an arrest report, Hilley was arrested after being suspect in a case where someone cut through a fenced compound at a marina, stole two tires from a boat trailer, and later sold them to a used hubcap salesman. The tires, valued at $350, were sold for $20.

—Garnett Antinino Wise, 25, of Ocala, arrested in January after he reportedly crawled under a fence to enter Green Brother's Produce at 413 W. 13th St., Sanford. He was nabbed at the scene around midnight by police. He was sentenced by Leffler to 88 days in jail with credit for 88 days already served. He was also placed on two years probation and ordered to pay the Public Defender's Office $350.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS

Seven lawnmowers valued at $400 each were stolen from Seminole Honda, 1799 U.S. Highway 17-92, Longwood. The mowers were taken from a fenced compound between Feb. 28 and Monday, according to a report owner Theodore Schmidt, 28, of Orlando, filed with sheriff's deputies.

Jewelry, coins and a camera with a total value of about $1,000 were stolen from the home of Ellen R. Stanaland, 47, of 1433 Brookland St., Oviedo, on Monday, a sheriff's report said.

Mary W. Leffler, 65, of 421 Virginia Ave., Sanford, reported to sheriff's deputies jewelry and change with a total value of $1,113 were stolen from her home Monday.

More Than 150 plants with a total value of about $1,400 were stolen from the home of Donald A. Smith, 52, of 238 Crystal Lake Ave., Lake Mary, on Sunday or Monday, a sheriff's report said.

A $600 air conditioner was stolen from 1959 Corporate Square, Longwood, between April 25 and Monday, according to owner Edward Merchat of Lake Mary. And at 1987 and 1991 Corporate Way, Mary E. Hattaway, 34, of Winter Springs, reported that four sago palms valued at $75 each were stolen between April 23 and 25.

$660,000 MISTAKE

A Lake Mary resident returned a mistakenly issued bank certificate worth $660,000 to a bank investigator, according to a police report.

The certificate had been issued in error, and bank investigators from Liberty National Bank and Trust Company, Louisville, Kentucky, asked Lake Mary police to accompany them to the resident's home at 365 East Lake Mary Boulevard Monday night after 10 p.m., the report said. "The resident was very cordial to the investigator, and was more than happy to return the certificate," the report said. "All parties parted with no problem."

And for good reason. FPL is encouraging everybody to manage their energy efficiently because lowering peak energy demand delays the need for new power plants - an expense everyone must share.

A heat-recovery water heating system takes exhausted heat from your central air conditioning system or heat pump and uses it to heat your water. And it can cut your water heating costs up to 50%. The best time to have it installed is when you get a new air-conditioning system or when you service your existing one.

To encourage you to make this energy-saving improvement, we'll even pay part of the cost. But first, we'll send an energy specialist to your home to see if a heat-recovery unit is right for you.

ambitious nuclear energy program. Reports from Kiev, diplomats and experts outside the Soviet Union indicated a higher death toll than the official figure.

"Eighty people died immediately and some 2,000 people died on the way to hospitals," a Soviet resident of Kiev with hospital and rescue team contacts told United Press International in a telephone interview.

"The people were not buried in ordinary cemeteries but in the village of Pirogov, where radioactive wastes are usually buried," she said. "It is so horrible and sad."

"The whole city is discussing it. Everything possible is being done to help the people."

A Western diplomat said the report of 2,000 dead "is in the ballpark of rumors coming from the Ukraine."

Kenneth Adelman, head of the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, termed "preposterous" the Soviet figure of two deaths and said the Soviets had evacuated a 19-mile area around the plant.

A Western diplomat in Moscow said the official acknowledgement that two people died "during the accident" did not preclude that scores died later.

The source in the Ukrainian capital of Kiev also said buses from Kiev and two airplanes and one helicopter participated in what she said was the evacuation of 10,000 to 15,000 people from Pripjat, where the reactor is located.

The main Oktyabrsky (October) Hospital in Kiev was "packed" with injured from the nuclear accident, the Kiev source said. She said local authorities called out the military to assist.

The Kiev source's reports could not be immediately confirmed because phone connections to Kiev were snarled late Tuesday. Westerners were barred from the area and Soviet officials refused comment.

The Foreign Ministry told Western journalists and diplomats they would not be allowed to travel to the Ukraine in the immediate future. A U.S. Embassy excursion was cancelled.

Reagan administration sources said U.S. intelligence agencies had concluded a "chemical explosion of some kind" caused a reactor meltdown and that an adjacent building housing another reactor was in danger.

"The roof was blown away, the walls were crumpled and it was clearly still on fire" Tuesday morning, one source said.

Adelman, who has access to U.S. satellite reconnaissance, said there was an apparent explosion at the plant and a fire that could burn for days.

Adelman also speculated there could be "serious, serious problems with contamination." The nearby Pripjat River feeds a reservoir serving Kiev, the Soviet Union's third most populous city with 2.3 million people.

The Environmental Protection Agency in Washington said the radioactive cloud from the accident was being blown to the northeast over the Soviet Union.

The EPA said it was still too early to whether any portion of the radioactive air mass will reach the continental United States.

Questions remained unanswered about when the disaster occurred, how the reactor caught fire and whether the core melted.

The Soviets have not said when the accident occurred. Sweden first reported the radioactive cloud had blown over Scandinavia early Monday. Poland and West Germany later reported increased levels of radioactivity.

The source in Kiev said the accident occurred late Wednesday or early Thursday.

A Finnish group evacuated Sunday from Kiev said their Soviet guide told them "two reactors exploded" and "25,000 people had been evacuated by buses."

Dr. Peter Haugh, technical director of the West German Atom Forum, said the accident apparently occurred because the flow of coolant water to the reactor core was interrupted.

As temperatures rose, Haugh said, the exposed graphite in the reactor came into contact with air and caught fire. Physicists said a temperature of more than 5,000 degrees is necessary for a meltdown.

The EPA said there was a fire in the Chernobyl reactor's graphite core, where 200 tons of uranium are interspersed with 1,700 tons of graphite, used to control the nuclear reaction.

The EPA statement said the fire will continue to spread radiation from the core as long as it burns, but noted that the Soviets indicated the rate of release of radiation is decreasing.

The fear of radiation set off jitters in Europe.

Poland announced plans to give children anti-radioactive drugs today and to dump milk from grass-fed cows.

Sweden said it would check milk nationwide.

Nuclear officials in Europe kept close watch on the latest radiation levels. Unusually high levels were reported Tuesday in Poland, Denmark, Finland, Norway, Sweden, Belgium and parts of West Germany. Experts said radiation levels — which had risen in some areas to more than 100 times higher than normal — had not reached levels that would pose a danger to humans.

Offers of help and advice also came from Sweden, West Germany and the United States.

The Swedish Nuclear Inspection Authority, saying the accident was clearly a reactor meltdown, told the Soviets to turn to England, where a similar fire broke out in 1957. It burned for four days.

The West German atomic energy industry offered to fly two remote-controlled robots to the Soviet Union to help fight the runaway graphite fire.

The U.S. government offered technical and humanitarian aid.

Indonesia Defends Expulsion Of U.S., Australian Journalists

BALI, Indonesia (UPI) — Indonesian officials today defended the decision to ban two Australian journalists and one New York Times correspondent from covering President Reagan's visit to the island of Bali.

"It's nothing personal," Foreign Minister Mochtar Kusumaatmadja said at a news conference. "We are not against press freedom, but on the other hand, we don't have to like it when it hits us."

Barbara Crossette, Southeast Asian correspondent for Times, was hustled onto a plane out of Indonesia Tuesday only hours before the arrival of Reagan.

In New York, A.M. Rosenthal, executive editor of the Times, said in a statement Tuesday: "The detention and expulsion of a New York Times correspondent in Indonesia today is a clear violation not only of freedom of the press but of any accepted standard of conduct."

Mochtar said the Australians were denied entry because of a "blanket ban" imposed on the Australian news media following publication April 10 of an article in the Sydney Morning Herald detailing alleged corruption within the government of Indonesian President Suharto.

Violence Continues in Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI) — The military government threatened to reimpose a state of siege after five people died and 10 others were injured in a 24-hour wave of violence that included a bomb blast outside the U.S. ambassador's home.

Defense Minister Vice Adm. Patricio Carvajal issued the warning Tuesday after attending a funeral for a policeman killed Monday in a shootout with presumed left-wing gunmen.

Search For Booster Wreckage Ends With Faulty Joint Recovery

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The 13-week search for remnants of Challenger's rocket boosters was called off Tuesday with the recovery of a second critical piece of burned wreckage from the faulty joint that doomed the shuttle and its crew.

Salvage operations closer to shore where wreckage from the shuttle itself fell, however, will continue, officials said.

A statement released late Tuesday said that Monday, the salvage vessel Stena Workhorse recovered a "significant component" that has been positively identified as the lower half of the "burned through joint area."

Gilbert Appeal Denied

WEST PALM BEACH (UPI) — A state appeals court today upheld the first-degree murder conviction of Roswell Gilbert, who had told jurors he killed his terminally ill wife out of love.

The 4th District Court of Appeal affirmed the verdict issued last May by a Broward County Circuit Court Jury. Gilbert was sentenced to a mandatory minimum of 25 years in prison.

Gilbert, a 76-year-old retired engineer is serving the center at Avon Park Correctional Center. His attorneys filed the appeal in October.

Gilbert said he shot his wife dead in March 1985 to end her suffering. His wife of 52 years, Emily, had Alzheimer's disease and osteoporosis.

Stockbroker Pleads Innocent

WEST PALM BEACH (UPI) — A stock market boy wonder accused of defrauding his great-uncle to reap commissions has pleaded innocent to federal charges and is awaiting trial in a poorhouse.

Vitunac released Jeffrey Roberts on $100,000 bond. Leslie Roberts, who reportedly made millions of dollars as a broker, returned to a $5-a-night Salvation Army shelter for the homeless, where Vitunac ordered him in February to await trial.

located at Obrigheim near Karlsruhe, about 80 miles southwest of Frankfurt.

Both might prove useful if lethal radiation around the stricken reactor made it impossible for experts and firefighters to approach.

U.S. sources, who spoke only on condition they not be identified, said U.S. intelligence experts believe the explosion occurred in the Chernobyl complex Saturday.

The building that was affected was one of four in a "huge complex" that, if viewed from above, stretch in a north-south line, the sources said. The explosion occurred in the southernmost one, they said. Each of the buildings contains a nuclear reactor for the generation of electric power.

About 1,000 people work as a full shift, but it was not clear whether there was a full shift Saturday or whether all of them worked in all four buildings or only one of them.

There are about 40,000 people in a nearby community, presumably Pripjat, the sources said.

As of Tuesday morning, Washington time, the building adjacent to the burning unit "still was considered not out of danger," the source said.

"Severe effects" of the radiation emanating from the structure will contaminate an area within a 10-mile radius of the plant, the sources said.

"Beyond that, the experts are not sure," one source said. "It depends on the direction of the winds."

pre-school songsters of Krayola Kollege and Seminole High School's jazz band and destiny choir, both under the direction of Bob McQuire.

There was doubt among the intelligence analysts about whether the radiation would contaminate nearby water supplies, the sources said. The Chernobyl complex is at the confluence of two rivers and is downstream from Kiev, the Soviet Union's third largest city with a population of 2.3 million.

Whatever radiation from the explosion reaches the United States "will be infinitesimal," one source said.

The United States has formally offered aid to the Soviets and expressed regrets at the accident as well as asking for more detailed information.

Earlier, Kenneth Adelman, head of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, told the Senate Armed Services Committee there was an apparent explosion at the plant and that the fire burning within the reactor could be reaching 4,000 degrees.

Adelman said he understood also that there is a "lethal area" at the site and that the Soviets have evacuated an area 30 kilometers around the plant.

The plant's core, he said, "is burning and will continue to burn" for a few days to a week.

Adelman estimated there were 2,000 people in the village built to serve the reactor facility, and those 2,000 were "at the principal point of danger," he dismissed as "preposterous" Soviet claims of two deaths.

Adelman speculated that if the core burns down to the level of a nearby river there could be "serious, serious problems with contamination."

West Germany's robots, Haug said, one small and one large, were vehicles that could be flown to the Soviet reactor complex at Chernobyl, 80 miles north of Kiev, the Ukrainian capital.

The affair is a first, "and it's going to be great," according to commerce committee chairman Liz McDonald, who said the committee is already planning a like tribute for local dads to coincide with the June 15 observation of Father's Day. This celebration would probably be held at one of the city's shopping plazas, she said.

The main brush fire started around 1 p.m. west of U.S. Highway 17-92 between Orange City and DeBary. Firefighters put the then small fire out and went to the scene of a second fire threatening homes between DeBary and Highbanks. The first fire reignited while the second blaze was brought under control and by 2:45 p.m. firefighters were back at the initial scene battling the rejuvenated blaze, Creech said.

It took them 3 1/2 hours to bring the blaze under control and crews spent the night watering down hot spots. No injuries were reported. Between 70 and 80 firefighters joined in the effort. No units from Seminole County participated.

Creech said a portion of U.S. Highway 17-92 was closed from near Highbanks past DeBary Villas.

A road block was also set up at the subdivision to prevent looting.

Rams, Oviedo Win Region Titles

Harris, Schmit Destroy Boone

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

ORLANDO — Boone coach Terry Abbott had a very simple explanation for the goings on in the top of the first inning of the Class 4A-5 Regional Baseball Tournament Tuesday night.

"Lake Mary isn't ranked No. 1 in the state and No. 4 in the nation for nothing," he said while wiping away the powder burns. "Tonight, they played like the No. 1 team in the state. They hopped on us."

Exploding for nine runs while sending 13 hitters to the plate in a devastating first inning, Lake Mary's Rams crushed the Boone Braves, 11-2, to capture their first regional title before 750 fans at Tinker Field.

Lake Mary, which erupted for nine runs in its district championship victory over Lyman last Friday, improved to 30-2. Boone finished 17-13.

The Rams, who have won 14 consecutive since back-to-back losses to Lake Howell and Apopka on March 21-22, will host Palm Beach Gardens Friday in the Class 4A-3 Sectional. Palm Beach Gardens blanked Eau Gallie, 6-0, Tuesday. Game time is 4 p.m. at Lake Mary.

As has been the case the past few weeks, the heroes were many.

●Neal Harris, the Rams' first baseman-designated hitter, slugged a homer and a double to account for four RBI and scored twice.

●Brett Molle, who was hitless in the district, responded with a trio of singles, scored two runs, drove in one and stole a base.

●Mike Schmit, who won for the 14th time in as many decisions, choked off a hard-hitting Boone club on just four hits. Schmit struck out 11, walked three and hit one batter while hurling 114 pitches.

Neal Harris (No. 7) gets a hero's welcome after clobbering a two-run homer to cap

Lake Mary's 11-2 victory over Boone Tuesday night at Orlando's Tinker Field.

●Shane Letterio single twice, stole a base and turned in several superb defensive gems at shortstop.

●Kelly Hysell ignited the first-inning outburst with a single and rapped a two-run base hit the second time around in the frame.

●Mike Pinckes supplied a walk and a two-run double in the first and turned in a sparkling, backhanded defensive gem to ease Schmit out of the sixth inning.

"They just couldn't get us out," Schmit said of the big first. "When we're on a roll like that I don't see how anybody can beat us."

Boone's Paul Gay was the Braves' lone bright spot. The talented senior had two of his team's four hits, including a gargantuan two-run homer over the net in left field for the Braves only runs in the fifth inning.

Gay said Schmit was a different pitcher than the time Boone had knocked him from the mound during an 11-0, eight-inning setback on March 8. "He was keeping the ball down and throwing on the outside corner," Gay said. "Instead of going to the opposite field, we were trying to pull him and that caused a lot of popups."

Lake Mary coach Allen Tuttle, whose Rams have made a habit of the big inning this year, said he encouraged his squad to do the same again Tuesday night.

Lions Bolt To 8-0 Lead, Hold Off Eastside Rally

By Scott Bander
Special To The Herald

ORLANDO — Before Tuesday night's Class 3A-3 Regional Baseball championship game between Oviedo and Gainesville Eastside, Oviedo coach Howard Mable said that if his team could run and play good defense against the Rams the Lions would probably win.

As it turned out the Lions did both very well. Oviedo stole four bases and played flawless defense en route to an 8-5 victory over Gainesville Eastside to capture the school's first regional title before 333 boisterous fans at the University of Central Florida.

Although the Lions jumped to an 8-0 lead, they had to hold off a furious seventh inning rally by the Rams as they scored all five of their runs in the final frame.

"They really put a scare into us," a relieved Mable said after the game. "They are a very good team and I feel honored to have beaten them."

Winner Craig Duncan took a shutout into the final inning before Eastside erupted. Junior Scott Bowers came on to nail down the victory by extinguishing the rally.

"We have never given up all year," Eastside coach David Banes said. "We have made three comebacks like this so far this year. It was just too little too late."

Oviedo, 18-10, advances to sectional play at Auburndale on Friday. Auburndale was an 11-1 winner over Brooksville Hernando Tuesday. Mable said that Bowers will pitch for the Lions. Eastside finished 17-10.

Oviedo didn't waste any time as they notched a run in the bottom of the first. Junior sensation Mark Merchant led off with the first of his two hits, a single to left. Merchant then stole his 32nd base of the year. Shortstop Tony Belflower followed with a fly ball to right. It was deep enough for Merchant to tag and go to third. Losing pitcher Gerald Williford (8-4) was then called for a balk giving the Lions an easy run.

Oviedo added to its lead in the bottom of the third with a run. Right fielder Randy Ferguson led off with a base hit to left. He then stole second and Merchant grounded out to first, advancing Ferguson to third. He scored when Belflower blooped a single to right for a 2-0 edge.

Duncan was keeping the Rams bats in check as he fanned eight and only gave up one hit in the first six innings. Duncan (6-4) gave up three singles, hit a batter, walked a batter, and threw a wild pitch in the seventh inning.

With the score 8-3, Mable inserted Bowers to preserve the victory.

"Craig did a good job tonight," Mable said. "He has been sick all week and I think he got tired at the end of the game."

Oviedo blew the game open in the bottom of the fourth with five key runs. With one away designated hitter Alan Greene tripled to center field. First baseman Glenn Reichle then walked and Willie Gainey pinch ran. Gainey proceeded to steal second. Second baseman Jim Barrett then looked at four bad ones to load the bases.

Third baseman Bobby Bradley slapped a base hit to right that

Lady Braves Slide Past Brantley, 4-2

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

ORLANDO — For most of the season, the bread and butter for Boone's Lady Braves was a solid defense and the ability to string the singles together. Tuesday afternoon, Boone had 11 singles in the game but it was a pair of long balls that carried the Lady Braves.

Lisa Thomas' solo homer in the first and Stephanie Vonarx's two-run shot in the third paved the way as the Lady Braves downed Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots, 4-2, in the 4A-5 Region playoff before 201 fans at Conway Park.

Boone, 25-4, advances to the 4A-3 Region playoff Friday at Palm Beach Gardens. PBC, 26-3, walloped Eau Gallie, 10-2, Tuesday. It will be the second trip in a row to the sectionals for the Lady Braves.

Lake Brantley ended its finest season ever with a school-record 27-6 record.

"We're every bit as good as Boone, but we weren't today," Brantley coach Renny Betris said. "I'm proud of the girls for coming this far but I'm kind of disappointed because we didn't play our best today."

Brantley was held to eight hits in the game with four of those coming in the top of the third when the Lady Patriots scored their two runs. But Brantley managed just two hits after the third inning. Boone pitcher Cheri McClain walked none and struck out one.

Softball

"Good pitching and strong defense have been our strong suit," Boone coach Wayne Rickman said. "And they both came through for us today. What I didn't expect was the long ball. We haven't hit too many homers this season."

After Brantley went down without a threat in the top of the first, Boone got on the board in a hurry as left fielder Lisa Thomas drilled a shot between the left and left center fielders for a leadoff homer. Boone then loaded the bases with two outs in the inning but couldn't add to its lead.

Lake Brantley came back to take the lead in the top of the third. With one out, Laura Davis laced a single to left. Kim Wain reached on an infield hit and Heather Meyer singled to right to load the bases. Davis then scored the tying run on Mandy Mattheisen's sacrifice fly with both

Henry Resigns As Softball Coach

Cindy Henry, the only softball coach in Lake Mary High School's history, resigned that position Tuesday. Lake Mary Assistant Principal Bill Moore announced today.

Henry, who also coaches volleyball, guided the Lady Rams to district and regional championships during the infant years of the program. This year, Lake Mary had trouble hitting the ball and finished with a 7-15 record.

Moore said Lake Mary will be interviewing for a softball coach within the next week.

Henry was not available for comment.

Bo Unemployed, Hopes To Have Job By Summer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bo Jackson considers himself the same as any other 23-year-old leaving college. He will spend the better part of the next two months job hunting.

"I'm unemployed," said Jackson, the first pick in Tuesday's NFL draft. "Hopefully, by mid-summer I'll have a job."

Tampa Bay owner Hugh Culverhouse vowed to give one to the Heisman Trophy winning running back from Auburn after the Buccaneers drafted him, but Jackson is not jumping at the offer. He has another job prospect — professional baseball.

"I see pro baseball and pro football as jobs, right now I'm job hunting," he said.

Jackson wants to wait for the June baseball draft before accepting any offer. Jackson was a center fielder for Auburn until dismissed from the team when he violated a Southeast Conference rule by letting the Buccaneers pay his way to Tampa for a physical examination.

"We're prepared to make him the top offer in the history of the draft," Culverhouse said. "Yes, it's a gamble. But with Bo Jackson and (running back) James Wilder, we'll have the most exciting backfield in the NFL, maybe in its history."

Culverhouse's draft-day promise could be expensive. His contract with Jackson would have to surpass the record $5 million, five-year agreement quarterback John Elway signed with the Denver Broncos in 1983.

Jackson, a 222-pounder who can run a 4.12 40-yard dash, was one of six running backs taken in the first round, and one of 11 within the first 41 picks.

Seventeen offensive players were chosen, including six tackles and a guard. Six defensive linemen were chosen. Running backs comprised 11 of the first 41 choices.

Atlanta had the No. 2 choice, and went with nose tackle Tony Casillas of Oklahoma. Houston followed with quarterback Jim Everett of Purdue. The No. 4 choice by Indianapolis was defensive end Jon Hand of Alabama. St. Louis, selecting No. 5, chose linebacker Anthony Bell of Michigan State.

The other running backs picked in the first round were Keith Byars of Ohio State (10th pick by Pittsburgh), John Williams of Florida (15th by Seattle), Ronnie Harmon of Iowa (16th by Buffalo), Reggie Dupard of Southern Methodist (20th by New England) and Neal Anderson of Florida (27th by Chicago).

Seminoles Shed Rodney Dangerfield Image

I don't want to let the high school season be gone and forgotten without giving credit where credit is due. Credit is due Seminole High.

"What? You say. Seminole only won two or three boys' matches and even had a losing season with the girls."

That may be true but this year, but for the first time in a long time Seminole was competitive against almost everyone. The Seminoles shed their Rodney Dangerfield image — they gained some respect in area high school tennis.

Sure I'm biased. I happen to be very fond of Seminole High. Joe Dalton and Mark Rose, the coaches, are close friends, but the facts are there.

The girls' team, for example, finished in eighth place in the district out of 14 teams. That is the highest finish in several years. Not since the days of Patti Edgemon, Angela Barley and Candy Crocker has the girls' team at Seminole done as well. During the regular season, it even won eight matches. The Lady Seminoles had not won eight matches total in the last three years.

Even against some of the real good teams the Lady Seminoles were competitive. Paula Volpi, Kim Machnik, Karen Edgemon, Rose Spear, Lori Swain, Jennifer McKibbin and Lynda Cushing comprised this year's girls' team and did a super job. They worked hard this year and coaches Rose and Dalton say that each girl made a great contribution and improved a lot.

Larry Castle
TENNIS

One match away from a .500 season, and eighth in districts — that's a vast improvement. Well done ladies.

Even though the boys team did not have quite the season the girls had, there was still some definite signs of improvement. These guys were tennis players, not just someone asked to come out for the tennis team in order to have enough to play a match.

Matt Albert is a superb athlete and could someday be a great tennis player. He scored a very significant win this year when he defeated Lake Mary's No. 2 man Shea Whigham, 8-3. Whigham is generally considered one of the top boys in the area.

John Ludwig continues to improve and could have a great year next year. Chad Pearce is young but has fine potential. I like his chances of being a good one because he really knows how to fight. Mike Bagley, Jay Adcock and Keith Royzer all were important members of the team and did a really good job.

By the way, Adcock and Royzer will be around for a couple more years. With hard work this summer they could really move up several levels. Albert and Ludwig are also back next year so Seminoles will be experienced on the men's level.

Of course, Lake Brantley dominated the boys' division. The Patriots won the districts going away on route to their state championship. They have a truly great team.

Literwise on the girls side, Lake Howell was the best team with Lake Brantley and Oviedo right up there.

The accomplishments of Seminole High, though, can not be overlooked. Two quality young men, took a chance on quality students and turned in a tennis season that was impressive to all.

No more Rodney for the Seminoles.

Fisher's 2 Homers Drop D.A.V.

By Chris Pieter
Herald Sports Writer

D.A.V.'s pitchers were able to keep Maurice Fisher in the park Tuesday, but they still couldn't keep the Poppa Jay's slugger from circling the bases.

Fisher slugged a pair of inside-the-park homers, one a grand slam, drove in eight runs and scored four as Poppa Jay's roared last D.A.V., 21-4, in Sanford Little National League action at Bay Avenue Field.

Poppa Jay's ran its record to 3-1 and is currently in second place in the league while D.A.V. dropped to 0-5.

Mike Sapp drilled an inside-the-park grand slam to highlight a five-run first inning for Poppa Jay's. Fisher and Demetry Beamon socked two-run doubles in a nine run second and Fisher added a two-run in the park homer in the third and a grand slam in the park dinger in the fourth.

Poppa Jay's had 17 hits in the game to back the four-hit pitching of Beamon who struck out seven and walked five. Matt Harris had a two-run inside-the-park homer for D.A.V.

FEDERAL DOWNS SUNNILAND

First Federal scored two times in the bottom of the fifth, then held off a Sunniland rally in the top of the sixth for a 14-13 victory in Little National League play at Fort Mellon Park.

It was the first loss of the season for Sunniland while First Federal moved into sole possession of first place with a 4-1 record.

Charlie Farmer led the 12-hit First Federal attack with three hits including a pair of two-run doubles. Mike Dillon slugged a triple and homer and drove in three runs while Andrew Sipes added a pair of hits.

Ricard Peterson alammed a pair of homers for Sunniland while one of Quinn Byrd's three hits was a homer. David Dunn also had three hits for Sunniland while Tyrone Chibberton added two.

RAILROADERS DOWN RINKER

Richard Washington, Lorne Jones and Jimmy Caraway combined to score eight runs as the Railroaders upended Rinker Materials, 15-5, in Little National League action at Westside Field.

The win boosted the Railroaders' record to 2-2 while Rinker fell to 2-3.

Caraway drilled a pair of homers and a single to lead the way for the Railroaders and he also scored four times. Jones belted a pair of doubles and scored four runs and Washington added a double and also scored four times.

Jones and Caraway also combined on the mound to limit Rinker to six hits. Corey Bennett and Charles Williams had two hits each for Rinker.

...Rams

I just told the boys to get a big first inning," he said. "Boy, did they jump on it."

After Letterio grounded out to open the first, Lake Mary knocked out starter Jeff Mason (7-4) as the next five hitters reached base. Hysell ripped a single to right before Pinckes and Schmit each drew walks to load the bases. Lisle followed with a ground single through the left side for a 1-0 lead.

Molle ripped a base hit up the middle to score Pinckes and when center fielder Gay overran the ball, Schmit also scored. Abbott pulled Mason in favor of righthander Darren West at that juncture.

It didn't matter. Harris greeted West by roping a double into right center to chase home Lisle and Molle for a 5-0 advantage. Gay, one of the top outfielders in the state, cut the ball off in right center, relayed it to second baseman Jeff Chambers whose throw to the plate was a tad late to catch Molle.

After Doug Bandy whiffed, Matt Messina restarted the explosion with a walk. Letterio drilled a single through the left side which loaded the bases. Hysell came through again with a line single to left which chased home Harris easily and Messina with a head-first dive for a 7-0 bulge.

"We just wanted to come out and hit," Pinckes said. "When you have a nine-run first inning like that, it has to give the other team second thoughts."

Pinckes pushed the bulge to 9-0 when he banged a double off the left field fence to plate Letterio and Hysell.

West checked the Rams' on two hit until the seventh. After Lisle grounded out, Molle socked his third hit and stole second. Harris then drilled a 1-2 fastball into the net in left field for a two-run tater and the final two runs.

"That's the best I've ever hit a ball," Harris, a senior bound for Florida Southern College, said. "I got everything into that one."

Schmit, who didn't strike out a hitter in the first, picked up one in the second, two in the third, fanned the side in the fourth, one more in the fifth and two each in the sixth and seventh innings for his 11.

"Mike's duce (curveball) was really working tonight," Lake Mary catcher Lisle said. "It was falling off the table."

...Brantley

Wain and Meyer moving up a base on the play.

That left first base open and the Lady Braves chose to intentionally walk cleanup hitter Tracy Brandenburg, who had a triple and grand slam homer in the district final victory. Kim Robinson then drilled a single down the left field line to drive in Wain for a 2-1 Brantley lead. The inning ended when Sherry Asplen's line drive to left center was snared by Susan Hayford.

Boone came right back to take the lead in the bottom of the third with two runs. With two outs and a runner on first, Vonarx unloaded a line drive to deep left center. Brantley's Deana Jeffers took a couple steps in and that was a mistake as the ball sailed over her head and Vonarx touched all four for a two-run homer and a 3-2 Boone lead.

"I said before the game that the team that made the least mistakes would win," Betris said. "And Boone made less than we did. We just didn't play the way we're capable of."

Lake Brantley had one more threat in the last three innings and that came in the top of the fifth. Davis reached on an error to start off the inning and, after Wain looked at a called third strike, Meyer, who was 3 for 4 for the game, singled up the middle. The runners advanced to second and third on a Boone error on the play and that left first base open against with one out. Mattheisen, though, then hit a hard liner right at shortstop Jody Guthrie for the second out.

That left runners on second and third and Brandenburg was up next. Strategically, Rickman again intentionally walked the hard-hitting freshman.

"We just had the right situation where we could put her (Brandenburg) on and have the force play anywhere," Rickman said. "And it also helped because the girl behind her wasn't as quick and didn't hit as deep."

After Brandenburg was intentionally passed, Robinson hit a can of corn that Thomas camped under and gloved for the final out. Lake Brantley would have just one base runner the final two innings and that was a two-out single in the sixth by Dawn Gebhart.

"We got the big hits and were able to get out of a couple of jams and that was the difference," Rickman said.

...Lions

scored Greene and Gaihey. Barrett moved to third on the play and Bradley was out at second when he tried to stretch his hit into double. Right fielder Randy Ferguson followed with a solid single to left, plating Barrett. At this point, Pines gave Willford the hook and replaced him with Alex Braun.

Merchant greeted Braun by hitting his first pitch off the right field wall for a triple that scored Ferguson. After Belflower walked, Braun was nailed for a balk, scoring Merchant and giving the Lions a seemingly insurmountable 7-0 lead.

"It really felt great to win this game," Mable said. "We had terrific support from the fans tonight and our doing well is giving Oviedo a good name and that is important to us. I really believe in these kids and our potential is unlimited."

Lemieux Scores OT Goal To Propel Canadiens, 2-1

United Press International

In a year in which the Stanley Cup playoffs seemingly have turned regular-season standings upside down, the Montreal Canadiens have done their part to restore order amidst the upsets.

The Canadiens, winners of more Cups than any other team, triumphed over the upstart, fourth-place Hartford Whalers with a 2-1 overtime victory Tuesday night in the seventh game of their Adams Division final series.

Claude Lemieux, who spent most of the season in the minor leagues, scored at 5:55 of overtime to send the Canadiens to the Stanley Cup semifinals against the surprising New York Rangers, another regular-season fourth-place team.

In the Campbell Conference, both semifinals are deadlocked at 3-3, with the deciding games scheduled for Tuesday night.

The two-time defending champion Edmonton Oilers host the Calgary Flames for the Smythe Division championship.

At Montreal, Canadiens rookie Patrick Roy made 24 saves to prevail in a goaltender's duel against Hartford's Mike Liut.

Lemieux, who was promoted from Sherbrooke of the American Hockey league just before the playoffs, had a special inspiration for his game-ending heroics.

"I got to say I have a brother, he doesn't walk, he doesn't talk, he doesn't do anything. He is paralyzed," Lemieux said. "I talk to him when I need confidence. That's Serge, he's 20 years old and he's never lived with my family, he's always been staying in the hospital since his birth."

"When I think he's never seen me play, he's never been to the Forum, I should be able to go out with confidence, and think that I can do this."

Cook Of The Week

Conscientious Wife And Mother Keeps Her Family 'Fit For Life'

By Dorothy Greene
Herald Correspondent

Behind her brilliant smile are several good reasons for Donna Haines, our Cook of the Week, to focus on better nutrition, health, outdoor activities, and a comfortable home atmosphere for her young family. Donna, her husband, David, and their two teenagers, Carrie and David, enjoy their Lake Mary home as the heart of each other's work and interests are brought home at the end of a busy day.

A native of Winter Park, Mrs. Haines is "semi-retired," with 20 years experience in the dental field, and 17 of those years as a Certified Orthodontic Assistant. She is a graduate of Edgewater High School and attended Seminole Community College. "From the 6th grade on," says Mrs. Haines, "I prepared most of the evening meals for my mother because she worked. I guess you could say I learned to cook over the phone. I would call her at work and ask her what to do. And she would tell me. Therefore, other than baking, most of the meals I prepare are from memory, and I don't usually use a main course recipe unless I'm preparing something especially fancy for company. Generally, they're recipes that I got from my mother that I'm sure she got from her mother."

Over the years, Mrs. Haines has improvised and added to her recipes to suit her family's tastes. "It's just basic Southern cooking," says Mrs. Haines. "I don't fry chicken," she laughs, "but we eat a lot of ham and I make turkeys throughout the year, not just on holidays. After the initial turkey meal, I do make a turkey casserole. We're a soup family and I make soup a lot, but I don't have a recipe for it because it's different every time."

Mrs. Haines' guests have often requested recipes, but, she says, "I honestly cannot give it to them because I do not know. I can give them a basic recipe, but it wouldn't taste the same. About 2 months ago, I made mushroom soup for the first time in my life and my husband went absolutely crazy over it. He said in all the restaurants he's eaten in, he's never had better. But I couldn't make it again if my life depended on it! I really don't remember how I did it, which is too bad, because I'd like to make it again."

If the Haines' are asked to go to a covered dish affair, Donna will generally take a tossed salad. "We're a very diet-conscious family," says Mrs. Haines. "We eat a lot of salads, especially with romaine and lettuce and all types of vegetables in it. In the last 3 months we have become very health-oriented in our eating habits, and we are now trying to avoid sweets, milk products, and red meats. We feel better about it, and we eat a lot of fruits and vegetables now, and basically chicken and fish main courses."

Mrs. Haines goes on to explain that her family is trying to follow the "Fit For Life" Program as closely as they can. "Therefore," she says, "I'm making a lot of shakes in my blender with fruits and fruit juices, and I'm doing a lot of stir-frying of vegetables with different spices. If we have chicken, it's curried. We have fish and shellfish a lot and sometimes I'll stir-fry those into my vegetables." Mrs. Haines admits that she has done the same things with the Fit For Life recipes that she has done with her mother's recipes — adjust some ingredients to suit her family's tastes. And, although Mrs. Haines enjoys baking, she says, "we've gotten away from sweets. We do treat ourselves once in a while, but it's not as often, and it really is a treat." Mrs. Haines is aware of the fact that her family feels better, physically, and does not regret the change in their eating habits. "I'm not saying that it will be a way of life forever," she states, "but we feel better, and the beauty of the diet is that you DO eat. It's not a starvation diet."

Mrs. Haines was a senior in high school when she met David, who is presently the agency manager for the Florida Farm Bureau in Sanford. Married in 1988, the Haines' are an active up-to-the-minute family who enjoy healthy, outdoor sports. Mr. Haines is a former football coach for Lyman High School and Lake Highland Prep in Orlando. With great admiration and respect for her husband's avocation for music, Mrs. Haines says, "Except for the last year, ever since we've been married, he has held Interim Positions as Minister of Music for churches in the area." Most recently, Mr. Haines was a Minister of Music at First Baptist Church of Winter Park where they both sing in the choir and also teach a Sunday School class of young adults.

Her face takes on a special glow when she speaks of 16-year-old Carrie, and David, who is 13. A junior at Lyman H.S., Carrie is very active in school and is in her 4th year as a cheerleader. She is also in Keyettes, the Chorus, and is a member of the Student Council. "She's an A-B student," says Mrs. Haines, proudly, "and she's a good kid." She also works part-time at Farrell's Ice Cream Parlour and is looking forward to a trip to Europe this summer with ITS, an international travel-study group. Mrs. Haines also mentions the fact that Carrie is dating "a fine boy, and we're very proud to have him as Carrie's boyfriend."

Mrs. Haines' son, David, is an 8th grader at Milwee School and is a "very good tennis player," she says. "He plays a lot with his father, but he beats me, so I don't play with him anymore," she laughs. "I'm an avid tennis player and played team tennis for two years," says Mrs. Haines. "I do play occasionally, but not with my son!" David enjoys singing and has received awards the past two years for being the outstanding male vocalist in the Chorus at Milwee. "He has a real good voice, like his father," says Mrs. Haines. David was also selected as most talented in the 8th grade. "He's a wonderful child," she remarks. "I have two really good children that I'm proud of. I think there are a lot of good kids out there, but to have two in the same family is great, and Carrie and David are best friends."

As a family, "we enjoy the beach very much," says Mrs. Haines. "My daughter and I both like to lie in the sun, and my husband and son are beach-walkers. They're not really sun people, but they enjoy walking on the beach in the early morning or late afternoon. They generally go crabbing or throw a football or fribee on the beach." Winter vacations are sometimes a pleasurable trip to Colorado or Canada for snow skiing. "I can't say which was my favorite," says Mrs. Haines. "I think they were both terrific. We went spring skiing in Canada and winter skiing in Colorado. It was

Cardinal Industries To Be Honored At Florida Arts Recognition Day

TALLAHASSEE — Secretary of State George Firestone today announced the schedule for Florida Arts Recognition Day which will take place on May 7 in Tallahassee.

"Florida Arts Recognition Day will allow the State of Florida to showcase exemplary service to the arts," said Firestone. "Corporations, cultural institutions and individuals deserving of such honor will be recognized."

Highlight of the day will be the presentation of the Florida Arts Recognition Awards to individuals and organizations for distinguished service to the arts. Firestone will present the awards beginning at 12 noon in the Courtyard between the Old and New Capitols.

Following the award ceremony, the Jacksonville Symphony Orchestra, a Major Cultural Institution of Florida, will present a special "Live! at the Capitol" concert in the Capitol Courtyard. The performance will include the Overture to "The Flying Dutchman", excerpts from "Carmen" and the "Washington Post March".

Two seminars will be conducted that afternoon. Information on Business Volunteers for the Arts will be presented from 2 to 3 p.m. in the Senate Chamber of the Old Capitol. Clara Bosa, Executive Director of Business Volunteers for the Arts/Miami, will discuss the organization, which matches the skills of business volunteers with the needs of cultural organizations.

A seminar on arts united funds will be presented from 3 to 4 p.m. in the Old Capitol's Senate Chamber. Alan Spence, Executive Director of Arts United Fund for Central Florida, will make the presentation. Arts United Fund for Central Florida annually raises money to be used by cultural organizations in the Orlando area.

State Representative Sam Bell of Ormond Beach and Roy C. Craven, retiring Director of the University Gallery in Gainesville, will receive Florida Arts Recognition Awards from Firestone for individual service to the arts.

Organizations to receive arts recognition awards include: Cardinal Industries, Sanford; Gainesville Area Chamber of Commerce; Greater Miami Chamber of Commerce; Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce; and Southeast Banking Corporation Foundation, Miami. The arts United Fund for Central Florida and the five corporations that participated in the Fund's 1985 challenge grant program also will receive awards. The corporations are Barnett Bank of Central Florida, N.A.; the Orlando Sentinel; Philip Crosby Associates, Inc.; Walt Disney World Company; and Tupperware U.S.

Cardinal Industries involved its employees in the creation and assembly of a large, outdoor, cedar sculpture donated to the Loch Haven Art Center in Orlando. Nineteen Cardinal employees worked with internationally known artist Jackie Ferrara to create the 475-piece, 10-ton work. The artist-in-action program enabled the employees to become involved in the development of the work and learn that their skills can be applied to other areas.

The donation was a special importance to the Art Center because of its on-going emphasis on art in public places. The sculpture enhances the public's awareness of the beauty of art in prominent public places.

Microwave Magic

The Season Has Returned For Outdoor Cooking

It's time to clean-up the backyard barbecue pit or the gas grill and get out the picnic hamper. April and May are the best months for eating outdoors in Florida. This spring has been especially good with low humidity and bright sunny days. Why not plan a cookout this weekend and use your microwave for some of the preparation. You really will enjoy the ease of preparation and the delicious results.

Use combination cooking — the microwave oven and the grill to prepare these country ribs. It eliminates the long cooking time on the grill.

COUNTRY BARBEQUED RIBS

2 pounds country style ribs
1 cup catsup
1/2 cup (half of a 6 oz. can) frozen lemonade concentrate
3 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1/4 teaspoon celery seed
Arrange ribs bone-side up in 8 in. square glass baking dish. Cover with wax paper. Microwave on 100% power 13-15 minutes or until no longer pink, turning ribs bone-side-up halfway through cooking time. Drain fat. Place ribs over hot coals on grill and continue cooking until tender. Brush occasionally with sauce during cooking.

Turkey is no longer just a holiday treat. We can purchase them from the freezer case year 'round. Try one for a cookout.

MICRO-BARBEQUED TURKEY

Select a 10-14 pound turkey. Thaw completely. Remove giblets. Rinse turkey and pat dry. Sprinkle cavity with salt and pepper. Fill cavity with favorite dressing or with 2 apples, peeled and quartered and 1 onion. Sew opening closed. Tie wings to body and legs together with string. Wrap tips of wings and legs with foil to prevent overcooking. Place turkey breast-side-down in roasting pan or baking dish. Cover with wax paper. Microwave on 100% power 25-35 minutes. Turn turkey breast-side-up, remove foil and release string from legs. Cover with wax paper. Microwave on 100% power 25-35 minutes. Place turkey breast-side-up over hot coals on grill. Cover grill. Grill 45-60 minutes or until meat is tender, turning turkey over once. (Should register 165° F on thermometer in breast.) Let stand covered 20-25 minutes before slicing.

Some foods just naturally go together. Some we think of when we think of cookouts. These old time favorites have some new additions as well as being prepared the modern microwave way.

HAWAIIAN BEANS

5 slices bacon

Midge Mycoff
Home Economist
Seminole
Community College

1 small onion, chopped
1 can baked beans (28 oz.)
1 can mandarin oranges, drained
1 can crushed pineapple, drained
1/4 cup packed brown sugar
1/4 cup catsup
2 dashes hot pepper sauce
Arrange bacon in a 1 qt. microwave safe casserole. Cover with paper towel. Microwave on 100% power 5-8 minutes or until crisp. Remove bacon; drain. Add onion to bacon drippings. Microwave 3-3 1/2 minutes or until transparent. Mix in remaining ingredients. Crumble bacon; stir in. Cover with casserole lid. Microwave on 100% power 9-10 minutes or until heated through, stirring once.

Vegetable salads or side dishes are good cookout fare that can be nutritious as well as good tasting.

MARINATED SUMMER VEGETABLES

3/4 cup white wine vinegar
3/4 cup olive oil or cooking oil
1 clove garlic, finely minced

1 med. onion, sliced
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon Italian seasoning
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 head cauliflower, cut into bite-sized flowerettes
2 cups sliced carrots
1 tablespoon water
2 cups sliced fresh vegetables
1 cup sliced ripe olives
1 can (14 oz.) artichoke hearts, quartered

Combine vinegar, oil, garlic, onion, salt, Italian seasoning, and pepper in 3 qt. glass casserole. Cover with lid. Microwave on 100% power 5-8 minutes or until onion is tender-crisp. Allow to stand. Combine cauliflower, carrots and water in a 2 qt. batter bowl. Cover with plastic wrap. Microwave on 100% power 4-5 minutes or until tender-crisp. Drain. Add cauliflower, carrots, mushrooms, olives and artichokes to oil-vinegar mixture. Stir to coat. Cover and refrigerate a few hours or overnight, stirring occasionally. Drain marinade; serve in lettuce-lined bowl.

No picnic is complete without potato salad. This recipe is scaled down for a smaller family. It can also be doubled.

POTATO SALAD

2 large potatoes, peeled and cubed
1 tablespoon water
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons water

1 tablespoons sugar

wonderful, and I'd like to go back — with the same exact conditions."

For a picture-perfect family scene, add one precious mahogany hued Irish Setter named Shannon, who is 8 years old, and the Haines family is complete. Mrs. Haines describes Shannon as "the best child" and says that she is a very special member of the family with a loving and sweet disposition.

Donna's role as wife, mother, homemaker, and career woman has been developed over the years by way of a loving partnership with her husband. "David and I have a really good relationship," she says, "and we're friends, as well as marriage partners. He's a good father and sets a good example for his children in all walks of his life."

When they entertain, says Mrs. Haines, "it's generally one other couple or a big time group." At a recent gathering of 28 guests, Mrs. Haines prepared grilled chicken and a Mexican dip and everyone brought a covered dish. On a smaller scale, with close friends, Mrs. Haines will often make a one or two course meal consisting of manicotti and spaghetti accompanied by a salad. "It's a very simple meal that can be prepared ahead of time without a lot of pots and pans." A casual atmosphere is the main factor at the Haines' residence, and very often David or Carrie will invite their friends over for the weekend.

Listed below are Mrs. Haines' recipes for the not-so-diet-conscious, which have become family favorites:

CHICKEN CASSEROLE

1 chicken, cooked, boned and cut up
1 can cream of mushroom soup

1 stick margarine
Line baking dish with 1/2 box of crushed crackers. Add layer of chicken. Mix together soups, sour cream, water chestnuts and spread over chicken. Top with remaining cracker crumbs. Melt margarine and drizzle over top. Bake at 375° for 30 minutes. Serves 4 to 5.

Food for Thought

Canned soups, combined with flour, have a special, homemade flavor. To a can of tomato soup, add a can of vegetable beef soup, and 1 1/2 cups cans of water. Fold in a can of sliced tomatoes, seasonally chopped. Top each serving with parsley.

Pancakes shouldn't stick to the griddle. Add a little oil to the next batch, and they'll slide off beautifully.

In making pasteurized process cheese, natural cheeses are heated with an emulsifier. This was an overnight sensation when it was introduced in 1918.

Delicious dessert, in minutes, starts with a can of peach or apple pie filling in an 8-inch pie plate. Top with a cup of ready-to-eat cereal that's been tossed with 1/4-1/2 tsp. cinnamon and 3 Tbs. melted butter. Baked at 375° for 20 minutes until browned. Wonderful with ice cream.

Delicious dessert follows delicious everything else at

Blood Test Is The Piece To Solve Paternity Puzzle

DEAR ABBY: I have a beautiful 1-year-old baby girl and I am not sure who her father is. There are only two possibilities of paternity. One I am engaged to. He is willing to cooperate in finding out who my daughter's father is. The other man is around, and says he will cooperate only if it is absolutely necessary, for he is now married. I have heard that there is a blood test that can positively determine paternity. If so, please tell me where these men would have to go to take this test, who else would have to participate, and how much it costs.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: You often publish complaints from folks who are miffed because their gifts were not appropriately acknowledged. But you've never given equal space to the other side.

WAITING TO HEAR
DEAR WAITING: According to the Long Beach (Calif.) Memorial Hospital (Paternity Lab), the test is called HLA, and it involves the mother, the possible fathers and the child. It must be ordered by a physician, and the approximate cost is $150. It is 99.9 percent accurate. (No test claims to be 100 percent accurate, so this comes closest.)

Have your fiancé take the test. If he is found to be the child's father, the other man is off the hook. However, if your fiancé is not the father, that means the other man is, in which case he may want to take the test because of the legal implications.

My shelves and closets are overflowing with an accumulation of neckties, watches, cuff links, silly T-shirts I'll never wear, books I'll never read and gadgets I'll never use. And if I get one more pewter ashtray, I'm going to give it to my dog and ask him to bury it. One day some archeologist will probably dig it up and write a dissertation on the rituals and artifacts of primitive homo yuppies.

A cousin of mine and I have an ideal arrangement. Every year he sends me two $20 bills for Christmas, and I send him the same. Then we both write a note saying, "Thank you for the most thoughtful gift I have ever received. I'll never have to wash it, repair it, feed it, wind it or frame

it." Sign me... ENOUGH ALREADY

DEAR ENOUGH: Nice arrangement you have with your cousin, but there is no excuse for failing to acknowledge a gift — however useless. How about giving those white elephants away? One man's leftovers are another man's bouquet.

DEAR ABBY: In defense of mules and jackasses: If a mule or jackass gets loose in a barn and gets into the feed, he will eat only as much as he needs, then quit. A horse will eat until he's so overfed that he's sick.

You can hitch a mule or jackass to an oversized load and he will pull his maximum, then quit before he overexerts himself. A horse will push himself to the point of physical exhaustion because he doesn't have sense enough to quit.

If anyone tells you that you have the brains of a jackass, take it as a compliment, but if you're told you have "horse sense," it's an insult.

WEP IN MINNESOTA

DEAR WEP: You could have fooled me. I always thought that horse sense could be found in a stable mind, and at the racetrack I've wondered if the jackasses were running or betting.

Puzzler Even For Gott; Recommends Specialist

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — My 70-year-old husband had a six-month bout with double vision in his left eye. The doctor did many tests, which showed nothing. It went away, but is now back in his right eye, and his speech is slightly slurred. I think he had a stroke, but the doctors say it's a palsy in a nerve. They say he's healthy, but they put him on Visken, Berocca and Maxzide. I am very puzzled by all of this.

says "eat roughage" and one says "eat a bland diet." What do you recommend?

DEAR READER — The correct word is ... roughage. Bland diets used to be "in," but experts now recommend roughage as a bowel stimulant to help diverticulosis. To give you more information, I'm sending you a free copy of my Health Report on diverticulosis and diverticular disease. Other readers interested

In receiving a copy should send 75 cents plus a long self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2597, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to ask for the Health Report on DIVERTICULAR DISEASE.

Send your questions to Dr. Gott at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, Ohio, 44101.

DEAR READER — So am I. A nerve palsy or weakness will usually affect just the eyes. When speech is impaired, the prudent physician would consider some sort of stroke or brain disorder that involves an area larger than a single nerve. I think your husband should see a neurologist before permanent damage results.

DEAR DR. GOTT — How does one tell if coffee has been "naturally" decaffeinated? What are some of the key words to look for on labels?

DEAR READER — Look for the words "naturally decaffeinated" or "water-process decaffeinated." To my knowledge, the Nestle company is the only manufacturer of decaffeinated coffee that uses a patented method, devoid of additives, to process its product. However, all modern decaffeinating procedures are said to be safe.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I'm 15 and don't know if I've had my period yet. In April and in June I got what I thought was my period, except it was brown. I'm underweight, don't get much sleep and eat a lot of sweets. Is something wrong with my period?

DEAR READER — Brown staining may reflect the beginning of your menstrual periods. When a girl starts menstruating, the flow can be slight. I suggest you get more sleep, fatten up a bit, take better care of yourself and wait another six months to see what happens. If normal periods haven't begun by then, see a gynecologist.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Recently I learned that I have diverticulosis. Two doctor friends say there are two schools of thought concerning diet. One

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
The Danish newspaper Politiken, 100 years old in 1984, continued its anniversary celebration into 1985 by having a "Bridge Hand of the Month" contest. In the winning hand shown today, Danish player Nis Gravlund is featured in the West position for a series of fine defensive plays. His play, though well reasoned, would be missed by many expert players.

West made the opening lead of the ace of hearts for a good reason: to take a look at dummy. There was certainly a danger that the diamond suit would provide discards for declarer, so best to take defensive side-suit tricks quickly. When his partner played a discouraging card and declarer unblocked with the heart king, West had no difficulty switching to spades, playing the ace and then the queen. When East allowed the queen of spades to hold the trick, it seemed that he held an entry that would let him quickly cash the spade king. (Without such an entry, East would no doubt have overtaken the queen and played a third spade, since West should not be playing the queen if he held a small spade.) Where could that entry be, except in clubs?

So now West led a club to East's ace, which blotted out North's singleton queen. Next came the king of spades, followed by West's ruff of the fourth spade. Since East's guarded club jack had to score a trick eventually, precise defense had exacted the maximum penalty — down three for 300 to the stalwart Danish defenders.

Alda: A Man For All Sessions

By Vernon Scott
UPI Hollywood Reporter
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Alan Alda literally does it all.

The former star of "M-A-S-H," TV's most successful situation comedy, has joined Hollywood's small fraternity of consummate actor-filmmakers.

Like Warren Beatty, Clint Eastwood, Woody Allen and Sylvester Stallone, Alda writes, produces, directs and stars in his own films. He is given a free hand by studios to make movies precisely the way he chooses.

His choices have been winners: "The Seduction of Joe Tynan" and "The Four Seasons."

"Sweet Liberty," in the works for three years and due for release this month, is his latest personal triumph, a comedy dealing with a professor whose history of the American Revolution is turned into a trashy movie.

The film was built around Alda's own germ of an idea. He wrote the script and produced it in partnership with his long-time associate, Martin Bregman. He chose the cast, which includes Michael Caine, Michelle Pfeiffer and Lillian Gish. He also starred in the lead role.

Alda helped design the sets for "Sweet Liberty," supervised the editing and music track and now has embarked on a 22-city tour to promote the film.

Hard work and persistence, Alda said, is the secret to producing all aspects of a feature length motion picture.

"I got famous as an actor," he said the other day between bites of broiled chicken at lunch. "But I wanted to be a writer when I was 8, and I was directing 16mm movies in my back yard when I was 12."

"Maybe I would have settled for just being an actor if that many good films had been offered me. But they weren't."

"Now that I am writing and directing my own films I like the feeling of taking a project all the way from the beginning to the very end. This way you take an original idea, put it on paper and follow through without getting caught up in telephone conversations with other people, suffering through the problems of communication. Too much gets lost in the translation.

"In a way it's easier to take the idea, nurse it along and make it into something you intended from the beginning without having it mangled."

"God knows it's hard work. Sometimes I think I'd like to take a vacation from it. But once I get caught up in a movie there's no stopping."

By far the most laborious element of his projects is writing. It took Alda a year to write, rewrite and pummel the script into shape for the cameras. Another year was devoted to pre-production, major photography and post-production.

"I really do it all because I love it," he said.

"I get a lot of pleasure out of getting better at what I can do. I like to know I can exercise a skill and realize that I can do it better than I could the year before."

"Sweet Liberty" is more complicated than any picture

Alan Alda

I've done. If you could go through a day with me and see me at home, waking up in the morning or going to bed at night you would see this ecstatic person because I enjoy working this hard. I had tasks I had never set for myself before.

"It makes me feel good to have a mountain to climb and get to the top of it. One person has to be in charge of a film, and I'm relentless. I keep after it. The responsibility is mine. As writer, director and actor I can turn to crap in three ways. If a film succeeds, I don't take bows. That never works out."

Alda, dressed in a gray suit and necktie, leaned over the table as he spoke with intensity and flashes of humor.

He was asked if he might write better for the character he intends to play than other screenwriters would.

"It could be," he replied. "I think any character is better written if it's directed to the strength of the actor he has in mind for the role. Shakespeare did that with several actors."

"I tried to write to my strengths and to Caine's and Lillian's strengths. I wrote their parts with them in mind and I was really happy they said they would play the roles. I always try to tailor a part to an actor when I can."

"The advantage I have in playing a part I've written is that I understand it better than if someone else had written it. My job as a director is to try to get actors to understand the characters the way I do, so they see not just what the lines mean but what are the emotions, longings and frustrations underneath the dialogue and things the characters do to one another — what are they really thinking when they say 'I love you' or 'Get out of here.'"

"A big problem is the first impression an actor gets when he reads a script. Sometimes that first impression is wrong because you don't see what is really behind the character until toward the end of the script. By that time a stereotypical notion may have already taken root."

"The idea of acting a role honestly is not to play what's on the surface, but what's under the character from beginning to end. And that takes a lot of spadework."

"I try to find a way to combat those first impressions and to help the actor become familiar with the subterranean part of the character."

"I do that by taking walks with my actors, having a plate of spaghetti and a bottle of wine with them and talking about life. I like to loosen them up and trade ideas about who we are and what we are doing in the play."

"Suddenly you get familiar and comfortable with the characters and there's not so much straining for the actors to become those people who will be seen on screen. Caine has an incredible ability to let a character pour out of him and you never see the wheels turning with him."

If Alda were an English, French or Italian moviemaker he would be hailed a genius, an auteur of unlimited creative talents.

But he backs away from the notion that creating a movie in all its aspects takes a spark of genius in the accepted sense.

"Everyone has some kind of genius he can call on, some pot of inspiration that they can dip into if they try," he said.

"I take a lot of time on my films. That doesn't mean I'm languid. I work fast and hard and I work very long hours to come up with a movie I would want to go see myself."

Theater Still Home To John Houseman

NEW YORK (UPI) — When John Houseman founded The Acting Company in 1972, it was to keep together a group of actors he had worked with when he headed the drama department of New York's Juilliard School, including Kevin Kline, Patti LuPone, and David Ogden Stiers.

Fifteen seasons later, the company is the only permanent professional repertory company touring nationwide and an arm of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington. More theater-goers are familiar with the work of this company than any other theatrical company in the United States.

Currently performing at the Lucille Lortel Theater in New York, The Acting Company is presenting "Orchards," seven plays by contemporary American playwrights based on Anton Chekhov short stories. It will premiere "Ten by Tennessee," a retrospective of short plays by Tennessee Williams, May 10.

"When we took the wraps off our first graduating class at Juilliard and gave a public theater production, it was so well received that we were invited to Harvard, Princeton and other campuses," Houseman recalled at a break in rehearsals of the Williams plays.

"I already had founded seven repertory companies and I was getting into my 70s, so I didn't really see myself starting another company. But I felt I didn't have the moral right to break up such a successful group of actors."

"We were invited to take part in the summer festival at Saratoga, N. Y., then became the acting arm at New York's City Center. The Rockefeller Foundation gave us $20,000, we paid Actors Equity union, and we were off. Over the years we have performed in 57 plays and this year we are visiting 59 cities coast to coast with "As You Like It" and "Orchards."

The company has visited a total of 292 cities in 43 states, traveling some 355,000 miles to bring Shakespeare and other classics to 1.6 million people. Houseman now shares the artistic directorship with Michael Kahn, a Broadway veteran who has been associated with The Acting Company since its conception. Most actors stay with the company at least three years.

"We don't take them for less than two years, and we don't generally keep them more than three, although Kline, LuPone and Stiers were with us four seasons," said Houseman, whose aristocratic features, tweed jacket and bow tie make him look very much the British duke just in from a stroll of stately acres.

"Now The Acting Company has some 150 alumni loose in American show business and 75 percent of them are doing well and there are an increasing number of stars."

"Our alumni are now coming back to do things for us, such as our production of Marc Blitzstein's "The Cradle Will Rock" and now "Ten by Tennessee," which has seven of our former touring members playing 30 characters. In the next few years we'll be doing more shows with our alumni, one to three productions at our own theater on 42nd street."

The 299-seat theater, to be named for Houseman, is under construction on West 42nd Street's "theater row" on the site of an old tenement and bank. The Acting Company is contributing to the cost and will have 16 weeks a year there on a preferential basis beginning next October.

Houseman's fans do not realize that he did not begin his acting career until he was cast in the film "The Paper Chase" in 1973 when he was 71. Up to that time, his career was involved solely with theater, film, radio and television production and direction.

The role of Prof. Kingsfield, the crusty member of the Harvard law faculty, won him an Oscar for Best Supporting Actor and reincarnation in a TV series that has run for years on network, public broadcasting and cable, with 37 segments still to be seen. The series has been aired in 52 foreign countries with more to come. It is currently being seen in Zimbabwe.

"I'll be the professor into eternity," Houseman quipped in a dry manner that befits the magisterial mien that is the delight of TV viewers and has made Houseman a household name. Such is his fame that he appears on TV commercials without personal identification.

"I enjoy most of the commercials, especially when they are well written, but there are some that just haven't worked," he commented. "Commercials are a little tedious to do, but I can knock off a 30-second one in one day, and it pays extremely well indeed."

Nuclear Disaster - The Fall Out

Health...

By United Press International
The effects of radiation can be tragic and immediate, slight or slow-developing, depending on dosage, how much of the body is exposed and the duration of exposure.

Death can be immediate from a massive dose of radiation over the entire body. Or, because of longer-term exposure at lower levels, death from cancer can follow years later.

A famous example is the Hiroshima bombing, faced by scientists ever since to study the effects of radiation on the human body. An excessive incidence of leukemia appeared among Japanese only two years after the Aug. 6, 1945, detonation.

Officials at the National Cancer Institute said it isn't possible to make an assessment of possible effects of the Soviet incident until it is known how much radiation was released and where it's headed — facts not immediately available.

However, certain general standards still apply.

Exposure is measured in rads, or radiation absorbed dose, a scale that measures the amount of radiation absorbed in tissues. If the dose is high enough, cell death results and the host organ fails. Lower doses damage cell and organ function.

Medical authorities say a whole-body dose of 600 rads or more is almost certainly fatal. Victims suffer nausea and vomiting, followed by drowsiness and apathy, then tremors and death.

The death rate will approach 50 percent with a dosage of 450 rads. At 400 rads, a gastrointestinal syndrome begins and includes nausea, vomiting, collapse of blood vessels, hemorrhaging and death.

A dose of 200 rads to the whole body will probably not cause death, but other symptoms may result. These can include loss of appetite, nausea and vomiting within six to 12 hours of exposure, all of which may subside.

At doses starting at 200 rads, cells in the lymph nodes, spleen and bone marrow may die, causing possible organ failure.

Radiation attacks disease-fighting cells of the body's immune system, leaving victims open to infections. It also attacks cells of the reproductive system, causing possible sterility or affecting offspring. And, a cell's reproductive mechanisms may be damaged, resulting in eventual cancer.

CIA...

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The accident at a Soviet nuclear plant outside Kiev is probably millions of times worse than the 1979 mishap at Three Mile Island, a member of the Senate Intelligence Committee says.

Sens. Patrick Leahy, D-Vt., and Malcolm Wallop, R-Wyo., attended a CIA briefing Tuesday on the accident, and later said the death toll could be as high as 2,000 — the death toll figure provided United Press International by sources in Kiev.

Leahy, vice chairman of the Senate Intelligence Committee, said the Chernobyl accident was "hundreds of thousands — probably millions of times — worse than anything that occurred at Three Mile Island" in Pennsylvania.

Wallop said there was an explosion in the building where the reactor was housed, "which thereafter released enormous levels of radioactivity — some up to 100,000 to 200,000 times — as ever contemplated as that risk at Three Mile Island. ... Maybe as much as a million times radiation exposure."

The exact number of deaths cannot be determined for some time because of the high radiation levels, "some of which could be high enough to cause instantaneous deaths," he said.

Leahy said many people could have been killed in the initial blast, and that anyone in the immediate area is threatened by radiation.

Residents...

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — As many 30,000 people lived in a Soviet housing project near the site of the Chernobyl nuclear power plant disaster, says a Ukrainian contractor who helped build the project.

"There were four kinds of apartments: one-bedroom, two-bedroom, three-bedroom and four-bedroom," said John Kachurak, now an engineer for the U.S. Defense Personnel Support Center in Philadelphia.

"I worry about the people who live in this area. It's really crazy. It was a serious accident with serious results," he said Tuesday.

Kachurak said he was employed between 1970 and 1975 as a building contractor for the huge housing project located in a pine forest in the town of Pripyat, 80 miles north of the Ukrainian capital of Kiev.

The town is the site of the Chernobyl atomic power station, where Soviet officials were trying Tuesday to extinguish a nuclear reactor fire caused by a serious accident at the plant.

Moscow acknowledged two people were killed during the accident and one unconfirmed report from the area said the death toll might have surpassed 2,000.

But Kachurak said he believed the

Florida ...

MIAMI (UPI) — The Soviet Union's nuclear disaster should make South Florida residents ask more questions about safety at the Turkey Point plant just outside Miami, an environmental organization said Tuesday.

Residents of South Florida have not been adequately informed about the dangers involved in the use of nuclear technology at Turkey Point. The Nuclear Regulatory Commission said the plant has the most brittle reactor pressure vessels in the United States, said Joette Lorion, director of the Center for Nuclear Responsibility.

"The chances of a core melt accident happening at Turkey Point are increasing daily, as the plant ages and becomes more brittle," she said. "The people of South Florida should demand to know the true operating condition of Turkey Point so that they can decide if they want to live with this nuclear threat."

The Soviet Union said Tuesday the nuclear accident at its giant power plant 80 miles north of Kiev was a disaster. One unconfirmed report from the area said the death toll may have reached 2,000.

Other Soviet sources said the report on Moscow radio indicated the accident at the Chernobyl plant caused a catastrophic loss of life. One Soviet diplomat called it history's worst nuclear accident.

Lorion said a full-scale reactor accident at Turkey Point, 25 miles southeast of Miami, could cause the same type of disaster in South Florida.

She said one report commissioned by the NRC in 1982 indicated a worst case accident at the plant could kill 29,000 people within a 20-mile radius, injure 45,000 people within a 70-mile radius and cause $48.6 billion in property damage.

Another government report said a melt down could cause a radius of 500 square miles to be contaminated, she said.

"The NRC and others have stated that if the pressure vessel should crack, there would be no way to prevent a meltdown — the most feared reactor accident," she said.

"The incident in the Soviet Union has demonstrated that nuclear accidents can and will happen, and we must prevent such an accident from happening at Turkey Point."

Congress...

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House members criticized the Soviet Union Tuesday for endangering the world by not notifying other nations about its nuclear plant accident and introduced a resolution condemning the Kremlin's inaction.

The resolution, authored by Rep. Robert Walker, R-Pa., also calls for the Soviets to allow the Western news media to report on the catastrophe and allow nuclear experts from other nations to help deal with it.

Western nations did not become aware of the accident until higher-than-normal levels of radioactivity were detected in Scandinavia.

The resolution "condemns the Soviet Union's failure to provide the world with notification and information about that nuclear accident, particularly since that catastrophe has such implications for many of the world's nations," Walker told the House.

The measure, co-sponsored by about 50 House members, calls on the Soviets "to allow outside nuclear experts to come in to help them deal with the accident, and also to allow the international press corps free access to cover the situation so the world may be assured of complete and reliable information," he added.

Rep. George Gekas, R-Pa., said the Soviet Union had "committed an international crime" by not promptly reporting the accident "so that the Scandinavian countries, Western Europe and the United States and every other country in the world could adequately prepare for it and adequately provide help."

Gekas said the Soviet Union, "within its closed society ... has chosen to endanger the world" by maintaining its usual secrecy.

U.S....

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States formally offered the Soviet Union technical and humanitarian assistance Tuesday for dealing with the major accident at a nuclear power plant in the Ukraine, the State Department said.

Rozanne Ridgway, assistant secretary of State for European and Canadian affairs, conveyed the offer to Soviet Charge d'Affaires Oleg Sokolov at a State Department meeting, department spokesman Charles Redman said.

Redman also told reporters the U.S. Embassy in Moscow is in contact with American citizens known to be in the area affected by the accident at the Chernobyl nuclear plant 60 miles north of Kiev. But he had no estimate of the number of Americans who might be in the Soviet city.

At the State Department meeting, Redman said, Ridgway "expressed on behalf of the president the United States deep regret over the accident at the Chernobyl atomic energy station."

"We hope casualties and material damage are minimal. The United States is prepared to make available to the Soviet Union humanitarian and technical assistance in dealing with this accident," said Redman, reading a prepared statement.

"The United States is seeking additional information on the accident and has requested the closest possible coordination among all concerned countries. We hope the Soviet Union will provide information about the accident in a timely manner."

Redman said the Soviets have not asked for any assistance but are aware of the kind of help the United States could provide.

Ridgway took the occasion of the meeting with Sokolov to make the offer. Redman declined to say whether the meeting was previously scheduled or who requested the session.

As for Americans in the area of the accident, Redman said, "We don't have an accurate estimate." But he said, "We are in contact with the Soviets on the safety of our citizens." He said the U.S. Embassy is in contact with Intourist, the Soviet travel agency, about American tourists who may be affected.

Redman said he had no details to offer on the scope of the disaster or what is happening in the area. He declined to offer further details on the Ridgway-Sokolov meeting.

The United States plans to open a consulate in Kiev under a recent agreement with Moscow. It presently has no diplomatic presence there. An advance team had been scheduled to visit Kiev in early May to begin arrangements for the opening of the consulate.

The plant has emergency core cooling systems and many other technological safety designs and systems.

Vitali Sklyarov, minister of power and electrification of the Ukraine, was quoted in an interview published in the February, 1986 issue of Soviet Life that the odds of a meltdown in the Soviet nuclear plant is one in 10,000 years. The picture above, with inset, contains overprinted text setting forth the safety features of the nuclear plant and turbines designed by Yuri Kosyak. Statements made have been disputed in recent days by the reality of the tragedy. The disaster which struck Saturday went beyond meltdown to a catastrophic fire. The Ukraine produces more than 40 billion kilowatt-hours of nuclear power per year.

Tourists...

MOSCOW (UPI) — The British Embassy today said it would evacuate nearly 90 panicked students from Kiev and several Western embassies urged tourists to leave the area of a nuclear power plant accident.

"We are acting under instructions from the student's parent body in England and from pressure from the students, their parents and loved ones," said a British diplomat who emphasized the evacuation instructions did not come from the government.

"The ones (students) in Kiev all wanted to leave, with one or two exceptions, but the others (in Minak) were less concerned."

He said 86 students in Kiev and 27 in Minak, in neighboring Byelorussia, were studying at foreign language institutes.

The British Foreign Office in London advised tourists not to travel to the Western Soviet Union, and the embassy was working with Soviet authorities to expedite the evacuation of more than 100 students, the diplomat said.

"The students in Kiev are panicked," he said. "Mostly it is the lack of information that is frightening them."

The United States and Canada also have issued travel advisories for the area.

"Those (American tourists) we have been able to contact in Kiev, we're giving the travel advisory and suggesting they leave," a U.S. diplomat said. "The response from them has been, 'That's what we're trying to do.'"

He said he received the State Department travel advisory today and said, "It indicates that based on Soviet government statements, travel to Kiev is considered dangerous."

Soviet Reactors...

The Soviet Union uses two types of reactors to generate electricity — those that use water to slow neutrons released in the splitting of atoms and those that use bricks of graphite to do the job.

The type of reactor that failed in the Soviet Union was a water-cooled, graphite-moderated reactor known as the RBMK-1000, according to Scott Peters, spokesman for the Atomic Industrial Forum, an American nuclear industry group.

Such a reactor uses uranium fuel elements inserted into holes in a stack of interconnected graphite bricks. The graphite stack is contained within an airtight vessel filled with inert gas.

Peters said "every indication" is that the reactor did not have a structure built around it to contain any radioactive substances released in an accident.

Acting Assistant Energy Secretary James Vaughan said Tuesday the graphite-moderated reactor is "uniquely a Russian design, built in Russia to Russian standards and operated to whatever safety criteria they impose."

"It is not an international design and it is desirable to large commercial reactors in the United States," he said.

Add Some Intrigue To Everyday Salads

Main-meal salads that fit into the growing emphasis on fitness bring out the creative urges in many cooks. These are more than just bits of lettuce these days. The combinations of foods are intriguing, such as shrimp, pear and avocado.

Here is a quick sesame chicken and vegetable salad that is eye-appealing and flavorful.

SESAME CHICKEN AND VEGETABLE SALAD

- 2 tablespoons salad oil
  - 2 teaspoons sesame oil
  - 2 tablespoons rice wine vinegar or cider vinegar
  - 2 teaspoons dry sherry or apple juice
  - 2 teaspoons sesame seeds
  - 1 can (5 ounces) premium chunk white chicken in water, drained
  - 1 cup broccoli flowerets
  - 1/4 cup sliced red onion
- To make dressing: In a cup, stir together first five ingredients. Set aside.
- In medium bowl, combine chicken, broccoli and onion. Pour dressing over chicken mixture; toss gently. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 2 cups or 2 servings.

SAN FRANCISCO CHICKEN

- 4 chicken breasts, cut in half, boned and skinned
- 1 large green pepper, cut into thin strips
- 1 large sweet Spanish onion, cut into thin strips
- 1 teaspoon of orange rind
- 1 cup water
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1/2 cup sherry or cider
- 1/4 cup soy sauce
- 1/4 teaspoon ginger
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine

2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/2 cup sliced almonds

Put chicken breasts, peppers, onions and orange rind on large piece of aluminum foil and seal securely. Place 1 cup water and cooking rack in 8-quart pressure cooker. Put foil-wrapped chicken on rack. Close pressure cooker cover securely. Place pressure regulator on vent pipe. Cook for 10 minutes at 15 pounds pressure. Let pressure drop of its own accord.

Meanwhile, prepare orange sauce by mixing together orange juice, sherry, soy sauce, ginger, brown sugar, butter or margarine and cornstarch. Cook over medium heat until thickened, while stirring constantly. Remove chicken and vegetables to heated platter. Spoon on orange sauce and sprinkle with sliced almonds. May be garnished with orange slices. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 8 servings.

CHICKEN FILLETS WITH SILVER OAK MUSHROOMS AND AMARETTO

- 1 pound chicken filets, sinews removed
- 6 ounces silver oak mushrooms, or 2 ounces shiitake
- 2 Tbsp sesame oil
- 1 clove garlic, peeled and minced
- 4 Tbsp chopped parsley
- 1 Tbsp Amaretto
- Juice of 1/4 lemon
- Salt and fresh black pepper to taste

Cut the filets in 1/2-inch chunks. Quickly wash the mushrooms, remove tough stems and cut the large caps in half. Heat the oil in a wok or sloping-sided saute pan.

Add the chicken and mushrooms and stir-fry for 30 seconds. Add the garlic and parsley and cook for 15 seconds. Add the remaining ingredients and continue cooking for 1-2 minutes, or until chicken is firm. Add more salt, pepper, Amaretto or lemon juice to taste before serving.

CHICKEN WINGS SBOOVIA

- 2 pounds chicken wings
- 1/4 cup olive oil
- 8 whole cloves garlic, peeled
- 1 tsp flour
- 1/4 cup chicken broth
- 1/4 cup dry white wine
- 1/2 tsp Tabasco sauce
- 3 large sprigs parsley
- Pinch of saffron

Cut chicken wings at joints and discard wing tips. In a large skillet, heat oil, then add wings and garlic. Saute 10 minutes, turning wings to brown on both sides. Remove wings and garlic, reserving both.

Pour off all but 2 tablespoons of the oil. Stir in flour and cook 1 minute. Add broth, wine and Tabasco sauce. Simmer, stirring constantly, 2-3 minutes until thickened.

Return wings to skillet. In blender or food processor, combine cooked garlic cloves, parsley and saffron. Process to form a paste and add this into sauce in skillet. Simmer 5 minutes longer, until wings are tender. Serve hot. Yield: about 20 pieces.

Creole Landmark Puts Flavors On Market

By JOHN DEMERS
UPI Food Editor

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Caching in but also gazing past the fascination with Louisiana cooking, the world's best-known Creole restaurant family is offering a line of sauces, spices and toppings to cooks and diners everywhere.

The three sons of Owen Brennan, an Irish liquor salesman who created Breakfast at Brennan's in the French Quarter, have developed their line by mixing a certain amount of restaurant expertise with a great deal of homestyle kitchen wisdom.

The products are being marketed by Classic American Foods of Sanford, Conn., a company whose recent acquisition by spice giant McCormick can only add to the Brennan's chances of market domination.

"The world's flavor found in many of our menu items comes from combinations of herbs and spices that have been developed here," said Ted Brennan, who runs the restaurant with brothers Owen Jr. and Jimmy.

"The recipes for our food products have come from development at the restaurant and our generations of experience with Louisiana cooking techniques."

Brennan's Cocktail Sauce is a mix of ketchup, horseradish, flavoring, water, spices, green onion, parsley and red pepper. It can be used cold with shrimp, crabmeat, oysters and clams, mixed with mayonnaise, yogurt or sour cream as a dip for vegetables or blended with heavy cream to form a sauce for pasta, fish or seafood.

Special Sauce is similar to Cocktail Sauce but it adds soybean oil, paprika and red wine vinegar. The taste is different but the uses are much the same, grilling steaks and over the cocktail mix when sauce for pasta is in order.

The Creole Mustard is a nose-pleasing variation on an increasingly familiar theme. The Brennans promote this product, based on vinegar and mustard seed, for use on sandwiches, grilled meats, smoked foods, poultry, cheese and in salad dressings.

In its initial spice outing, the family chose to market blends for six distinct food types—beef, fish, shellfish, vegetables, poultry and pork and veal. Each works fine added to existing butter or oil, sprinkled over the item in question, mixed with stuffing or blended into stew.

The Brennans, who've gained world renown for exciting desserts like Banana Foster, couldn't let their line go out without a little something sweet. Their Butter Pecan Dessert Topping is great over final courses ranging from simple ice cream to elegant poached fruit.

Here are two recipes developed for home preparation.

If the Vegetable Seasoning used in Creole Corn Soup proves unavailable, a mixture to taste of salt, pepper, spices, sesame seeds, minced onion, lemon flavoring and parsley should suffice.

For the Creole mustard used in the pork chop sauce, another brand might do just as well — though the Brennans' version is favored by many diners.

CREOLE CORN SOUP

- 1 Tbsp unsalted butter
- 1 large onion, finely chopped
- 1 Tbsp garlic, finely chopped
- 2 Tbsp vegetable seasoning
- 3 Tbsp all-purpose flour
- 2 large ripe tomatoes, cored, seeded and cut into bite-sized pieces
- 4 cups chicken stock or broth
- 1/4 tsp red pepper sauce
- 2 cups cooked corn, fresh, canned or frozen
- 1 cup plain lowfat yogurt

Melt the butter in a saucepan over moderate heat. Add the onion and saute for 2 minutes. Add the garlic and cook for 1 minute more. Stir in seasoning and flour. Mix in the tomatoes, chicken stock and red pepper sauce. Simmer for 30 minutes.

Puree the soup in a food processor or blender. Return the soup to the pot and bring to a simmer. Add the corn and cook for 1 minute. Remove from heat, blend in yogurt and serve. Serves 6.

PORK CHOPS IN CREOLE MUSTARD SAUCE

- 4 Tbsp unsalted butter
- 6 loin pork chops, cut 1 1/2 inches thick
- Salt and freshly ground black pepper
- 3 Tbsp shallots or scallions, minced
- 1/2 cup dry white wine
- 2 cups heavy cream
- 1/2 cup Creole mustard

Melt 2 Tbsp butter in a heavy skillet large enough to hold the pork chops in a single layer. Add 2 tablespoons of butter over moderately high heat until foamy. Add the pork chops and brown well on both sides.

If you do not have a pan large enough to prepare all the chops at one time, they can be prepared in smaller batches.

Season with salt and pepper to taste. Reduce the heat to low, cover and cook for 15 minutes. Transfer the chops to a platter, set aside and keep warm. Pour off the fat from the skillet.

Increase the heat to medium, add the remaining 2 tablespoons of butter and the shallots, then saute for 30 seconds. Increase the heat to high, stir in the wine and cook, scraping up the brown bits that cling to the bottom of the pan, until the liquid is syrupy and reduced by half, about 2 minutes.

Blend in the cream and the mustard, stirring constantly. Cook the sauce over low heat until the pork chops are done.
