Two boys face charges for rape of girl

By Bill Kerne

STAFF WINTER

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS - A 15-year old girl who is a freshman at Lyman High School is recovering after being sexually assaulted by two teenagers in a home near Altamonte Springs on Thursday, according to police.

Seminole County Sheriff's deputies arrested Dominic Gurrieri, 18, and Ryan Turnipseed, 17, at Gurrieri's home at 1155 Tlagah Drive near Altamonte Springs at about 4:20 p.m. for sexual bat-tery on the girl. Police said the assault occurred at Gurrieri's home between 2 to 3 p.m. Ourrieri and Turnipaced "took turns sexually assaulting her against her will," Seminole County Sheriff's Deputy Ed McDonough said.

Turnipaced, who lives at 210 Varsity Circle in Altamonte Springs, is a junior at Lake Brantley High School. Gurrieri ia a mechanic at a Wektva bowling alley. Neither Turnip-seed or Gurrieri have a prior record of nexual assault, according to police.

The girl entered Gurrieri's home with two friends. Gurrieri and Turnipaced were "friends of a friend," McDonough said, and the girl had not met the two before Thurnday.

The girl's two friends had left her alone in the home with Gurrieri and Turnipseed when assault occurred. McDonough said.

At about 3:30 p.m., the girl ran to a Cumberland Farms convenience store at State Road 438 and Academy Drive to call her parents. The girl's parents then called police.

Gurrieri and Turnipseed were on a row boat in a pond behind Gurrieri's home when deputies made the arrest. "They did not resist," McDonough said. "We did have to convince them to pad-dle back to shore a little quicker."

Currieri and Turnipoced did not seem to realize how much trouble they were in. McDonough said.

They may not have realized the seriousness of what they were doing," McDonough said. The girl was examined by a medical doctor before returning to her Altamonte Springs home. She will likely receive psychological McDonough said. counseling,

The psychological damage never McDonough said.

Currieri and Turnipseed face one count each of sexual battery, a first degree felony carrying a maximum sentence of 30 years, police said. Gurrieri was transported to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility, and Turnipseed was taken to the Seminole County Juvenile Detention Center.

SEMINOLE COUNTY - Seminoie County sheriffs investigators are warning residents plaints involving people trying to lure children away from nes or apartments.

"None of these incidents ap-car to be related," Seminole County Sheriff's Chief Deputy Steve Harriett said. "We're talking to people in the community, neighborhood watch groups and schools, trying to heighten awareness." On Monday, at the Post Lake Apartments in the Forest City area, a man called to a 9-year old girl who was returning to he apartment while walking her dog, asking her to approach him. The man is described as a black male who was traveling on-foot, Harriett

"She did not go with him," Harriett said. "She had been taught well, to never talk to strangers.

The man ran away when her dog started barking, Harriett

On March 25, a Sabal Point

resident told police that a male and female couple motioned for her 7-year old girl to get into their car. The girl did not get in the car. The couple drove a mid-size cur, light in color and possibly gray, Harriett said. While canvassing the area, a deputy was told by another Sabel Point resident about a suspicious car driving through the neighborhood. On March 14, the driver, described as a 60 to 65-year old white male, asked the man's 10 and 14 year-old sons to come to his car. The boys did not approach the car, Harriett said. The suspicious car from the March 14 incident is described as gray or champagne. possibly a Buick or Ford Taurus, Harriett said. They did not report this incident at the time," Seminole County Sheriff's Chief Deputy Steve Harriett said. The car does not match the description from the March 25th incident." Harriett said there is no connection between these incidents and the rape Thursday afternoon of a 15-year old Aitamonte Springs girl at the Please see Lure, Page 3A

Longwood prepares for Y2K computer virus

STAFF WIUTER

LONGWOOD - The City of Longwood is preparing to ensure that its computers will not fall victim to the Year 2000 virus. Terry Baker, director of public safety, is giving presentations to groups of Longwood residents about the steps to take to prepare for 2000. He recommends that residents begin preparing now by taking steps such as gradually stockpiling food and water and keeping careful hardcopy of financial records.

When a hurricane comes, people often panie at the last minute." Baker said. "They rush out and buy large amounts of food. It's a good idea to avoid that, and to prepare now. There is a possibility some services could be disrupted."

Baker told the Longwood City Commission that the city needs a backup generator to supply electricity to the City Hall complex in cases of power outages.

The cost of purchasing a sufficient new generator is $65,000. A Caterpillar 100 kilowatt Piesse see Computer, Page 3A

Real estate agent for schools did not act improperly, agency says

By Vivian Gallimore

STAFF WRITER

SEMINOLE COUNTY - Florida Department of Business and Professional Regulation investigators last month cleared a Seminole County Public Schools' real estate agent of improper conduct during a transaction to purchase property on behalf of the district.

The year-long investigation was initiated after a complaint against Steven Triece, the district's real estate agent, by Robert C. Goff, a school board member and a licensed real estate agent. The transaction to purchase and close on an almost half-million dollar, 15acre parcel in Chuluota for a potential middle school site took place in March of 1997. The contract for sale and purchase of the property was between Commercial Realty Group Inc. as "seller" and The School Board of Seminole County as "buyer."

According to Triece, all of the records pertaining to any Please ses Schools, Page 3A

Correction. An article in Thursday's Herald said that the old wooden municipal sta-dium, which was replaced by Historic Sanford Memorial Stadium, was located just north of the current stadium where Hamilton Elementary School now stands. There were small ballfields where Hamilton Elementary School is located, however the municipal stadium was located at the corner of 13th Street and Mellonville Avenue, just south of Historic Sanford Memorial Stadium.

Goff's complaint also calls

Triece an hourly employee of the Seminole County School

Board. Triece, who calls the original contract "prima facia evidence that he committed no wrong-doing, disputes the term employee. Where is my vacation pay and pension plan? An independent conhour when he help's district staff search and negotiate property and paid a commis-ation when he sells property on behalf of the school board.

Both Triece and his primary school board contact consider his compensation less than would be paid to another real estate professional. When pro-posals by real estate agents to represent the district are evaluated (the most recent evaluation was last year, after Goff's complaint was filed). Triece said that his "proposal was the lowest cost of all the brokers bidding to deal school board property." He said he works on a lower margin than his colleagues.

Triece works most closely with the facilities planning staff, under the direction of Dianne Kramer, executive director. Kramer said that a search committee which met specifically to evaluate the real estate agents' proposals "made it really clear how the contract will be structured." She thinks Triece "still makes less than most brokers:" who close comparable deals.

The investigation was closed after a determination was Panel of the Florida Real Estate Commission that the facts and circumstances did not warrant the commencement of administrative action against Triece. With the concurrence of DBPR's real estate division investigators, the complaint was dismissed and the case closed and noticed by a March 16, 1999 letter to Triece from DBPR's chief attorney in real estate issues, Daniel Villason.

Pursuant to the investigation, an article was published in March of 1998 in a local community newspaper. In cor-respondence to Dianne Kramer dated March 26 and April 6, 1998, Triece states that publication of that article is in violation of DBPR's confidentiality provision. He feels that Goff took a personal shot at him and drew district staff into a conflict between them.

'all for [Goff's] political gain."

On Thursday, Goff maintained that, pursuant to the confidentiality provision itself, he doesn't "intend to talk about it to the press." Goff said that Triece "doesn't seem to be following the same rules of the game as I am."

Stay home, mom

I wonder whether there are any mothers around today like Leonard Stone's mother. Every day she would wrap Leonard's lunch in the sports section of the previous day's Cleveland Press so I could read it in the school cafeteria at lunch time.

Like a lot of families, we could afford only one paper. and my father liked the Plain Dealer. I preferred the Press. which had a better sports sec-

One day in the cafeteria, I noticed that Leonard's lunch was wrapped in the Press sports section. I devoured it more eagerly than my peanut butter-and-marshmallow-whip sandwich. I asked Leonard whether his mother would mind packing his lunch in the sports pages every day.

Well she did it. It must have been a nulsance for her. There was another kid - Billy - in the family to pack a lunch for, not to mention Mr. Stone. It had to be a pain to hunt for yesterday's sports section every morning on top of everything

Do you know any mother today who would go to all that bother for the neighbor boy? Most mothers, I bet, wouldn't do it for their own sons. For one thing, they are too busy getting ready for work.

But I am living in the hope that the old-fashioned mother is coming back. There are signs. "Smart women do stay at home and love it," says the cofounder of Women at Home. They are surprised to find out how much they use their education and creative abilities ratsing children." Women in foreign countries are even more devoted to their kith and kin at home. The daughter of Anwar Sadat, the slain Egyptian leader, once told a group of American bustnesswomen: 'You can take a few lessons from Moslem women. Go back to being good mothers. You get so busy with your work that you forget your basic role. You are responsible for that child."

In Japan, when a child is sick, the mother shows up for class and takes notes that she brings home for her child to

The popular magazine writer Judith Viorst said she never felt more fulfilled than while "sitting in the big stuffed chair in the living room sewing seams and replacing lost buttons. I recall the lost luxury of lingering over simmering pots and child's play and mend-

What those of us with old-fashioned mothers probably remember most about them is that they were always there when you came home from school.

Sometimes all we said to them were things like, "Ma, where's my catcher's mitt?" Maybe she didn't know, but she would help you look."

Most of all, she was there-for you, or in the case of Leonard Stone's mother, for the kid next door who could count on her like his own mother.

But that was a long time ago, when we still used the Old Reliable and before the New and

Covenant is egg-cited about Saturday hunt

By Jeff Berlinicke ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

There are Easter egg hunts, then there is the hunt at Covenant Community Church in Lake Mary

For the third straight year, the church is hosting an Easter egg hunt at Lake Mary City Hall, Last year, over 2,000 kids showed up to participate and more are expected this

In fact, Associate Minister LeeAnn Stayer said the church expects up to 4,000 this Saturday when the event kicks off at 9:30 a.m.

The first year we had 800 kids and only expects about 100," Stayer said. "We ran out of everything. Last year we never expected 2,000, but we've gotten support from local radio stations and the Seminole Family YMCA."

The hunts will be divided by age groups starting with 2year-olds at 9:35 a.m. all the way up to a third through fifth grade hunt at 11 a.m.

At 11:30 a.m. there will be an award ceremony. "We're excited about doing something to give back to the community," said Rev. Jeff Dixon. We want people to know that we're here and it's a great way to do that. We're like a lighthouse - a place that

The Covenant Community Church is located at 101 North Country Club Rd. in the Shoppes of Lake Mary and is attempting to create a home where people can be all that God wants them to be, It's a relatively new church which just opened in August of 1993 and The mission is to touch and change the world through the love of Jesus through Southern Baptist teachings.

The four basics of the church are to devote itself to teaching and proclaiming God's word; to fellowship; to pray together; and to be a community of believers.

The church collects money to support missions along with Southern other Baptist churches.

We all work together for the goals of our missions," Dixon said.

Covenant also offers a Sonrise Bible study Sundays at 10:10 a.m. between the 9 and 11 a.m. services. Several youth groups are offered and a core group for adults meets Wednesdays at 7:15 p.m.

Covenant Community Church in Lake Mary has hosted its annual Easter egg hunt for three years and is expecting nearly 4,000 kids this weekend at the Lake Mary City Hall.

The Resurrection was not an accident

By Dr. Bob Parker SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

LAKE MARY - Resurrection Day - Easter - celebrated at this time was not an accident that "just happened" 2000 years ago, but the event was the Lamb slain before the foundation of the world." Neither was it done in a corner, but it took place as an open event in history so that all may Historical fact: The historical fact of the resurrection is an event recognized throughout the world. Politicians, scientists, philosophers, sociologists and even despots without a deep faith in God acknowledge the uniqueness of Jesus Christ.

Napoleon Bonaparte said: "I know men and I tell you that Jesus Christ is not a man. Superficial minds see a resemblance between Christ and the founders of the emptre and the Gods of other religions. That resemblance does not exist. There is between Christianity and whatever other religions the distance of infinity...

"I search in vain in history to find the similar to Jesus Christ or anything which can approach the Gospel. Neither history, nor humanity, nor the ages, nor nature offer me anything with which I am able to compare it or explain it. Here everything is extraordinary. The more I consider the Gospel, the more I am assured that there is nothing there which is not beyond the march of events and above the human mind." (The Book of Jesus: A Treasury of the Greatest Stories and Writings About Je-

Resurrection is hope in a world of death: The world today is a world of death - like those in Kosovo who are losing their lives, families and all their earthly possessions. It appears to thousands of people that in life there is no

Jesus Christ - the hope of the world: Questions abound today asking:

Why war, hatred, mul-tiplied billions of dollars lost in fighting or why nation against nation?

When will children in schools, families and society stop slaughtering one another leaving heartache, sorrow and despair?

What really is the ultimate answer to pain, disease, heartache, and trouble?

Jesus Christ made the astounding statement: 'I am the resurrection and the life; he who believes in me shall live even if he dies (John 11:25). The resurrection gives the answer to the burning question about life and immortality. Therefore, it is through the vicarious substitutionary death of Christ and his resurrection that we have the answer to the hopelessness of life. Bodily resurrection is more than an empty dream! The hymnwriter apeals of this eternal hope: There's a land that is fairer than day, and by faith we can see it afar."

The Holy Scripture states these truths:

He is risen. He showed himself alive by many infallible proofs.

He spoke of things pertaining to the Kingdom of

He is declared to the be the Son of God with power according to the spirit of holiness by the resurrection from the dead. (Matthew 28.6, Acts 1:3, John 12:49-50, Romans

The Lord is risen indeed:

Up with the grave He arose. With a mighty triumph o'er He arose a victor from a dark domain. And He lives forever with his saints to reign.

He arose! He arose! Hallelujah! Christ arose!

Robert Lowry. Think about that!

NOTICE OF CERTIFICATION HEARING ON AN APPLICATION TO CONSTRUCT AND OPERATE AN ELECTRICAL POWER PLANT ON A SITE TO BE LOCATED IN NEW SMYRNA BEACH, FLORIDA

Application number PA 96-39 for certification to authorize construction and operation of a 500 (nominal) megawait (MW) natural gas fired, combined cycle, electrical power plant and site in New Smyrna Beach, Florida. was filed with the Florida Department of Environmental Protection on October 5, 1998. The case is the Division of Administrative Hearings, Case No. 98-4570 EPP, prior to action by the Governor and Cabinej, pursuant to the Florida Electrical Power Plant Stting Act, Chapter 403, Part II, Florida Statutes. The application was filed by the Utilities Commission, City of New Smyrna Beach, Florida, and Duke Energy New Smyrna Beach Power Company, Ltd., L.L.P., as coapplicants. The electrical power plant will be known as the Duke New Smyrna Beach Power Project. It will be located approximately 0.5 miles northwest of the intersection of Interstate 95 and State Road 44 in New Smyrna Beach, Florida.

Pursuant to Section 403.508, Florida Statutes, the certification hearing will be held by the Division of Administrative Hearings starting at 9:00 a.m., on May 24, 1999, and continuing from day-to-day until completed, in the offices of the Utilities Commission, City of New Smyrna Beach, in the Deberry Room, 3rd Floor, 200 Canal Street, New Smyrna Beach, in Volusia County, Florida, in order to take written or oral testimony on the effects of the proposed electrical power plant or any other matter appropriate to the consideration of the site and associated facilities. The Florida Public Service Commission has previously determined the need for the facility at a separate hearing and need will not be an issue at this hearing. Written comments may be sent to:

Mr. Don W. Davis Administrative Law Judge Division of Administrative Hearings The DeSoto Building 1230 Apalachee Parkway Tallahassee, Florida 32399 on or before May 10, 1999.

The application for certification is available for public inspection during normal business hours at the following

Failure to follow the requirements and meet the timetables set forth in Section 403.508(4), F.S., shall constitute a waiver of any right a person may have to participate as a party to this proceeding.

Section 403.508(5), P.S., states:

When appropriate, any person may be given an opportunity to present oral or written communications to the designated administrative law judge. If the designated administrative law judge proposes to consider such communications, then all parties shall be given an opportunity to cross-examine or challenge or rebut such communications.

A motion to intervene must be sent to:

Mr. Don W. Davis Administrative Law Judge Division of Administrative Hearings The DeSoto Building 1230 Apalachee Parkway

Tallahaseee, Florida 32,399 and must contain the following: reference to the application number; the case number of the Division of Administrative Hearings; the name, address, and telephone number of the person filing the motion to intervene; and allegations sufficient to demonstrate the person filing the motion is entitled to participate in the proceeding. The motion to intervene must be sent by mail to the applicant and to all parties. (A list of parties may be obtained from the Department's Office of Sitting Coordination at the address above). Those wishing to intervene in these proceedings, unless appearing on their own behalf, must be represented by an attorney or other person who can be determined to be qualified to appear in administrative proceedings pursuant to Chapter 120, F.S., or Rule 28-106, 106, F.A.C.

Certification of this power plant would allow construction and operation of a new source of air pollution which would consume an increment of air quality resources. The department's review has resulted in an assessment of the prevention of significant deterioration [PSD] impacts and a determination of the Best Available Control Technology (BACT) necessary to control the emission of air pollutants from this source. The certification hearing may be consolidated with any proceeding relating to the Department of Environmental Protection's preliminary determination for granting a federally required new source review, PSD, or Air Operation Permit.

A determination of consistency with the Florida Coastal Zone Management Program is being conducted. The applicants believe a determination of consistency will be completed before the certification hearing.

This public notice also is being provided in compliance with the federal Coastal Zone Management Act, as specified in 15 CFR Part 830. Subpart D. Public comments on the applicant's federal consistency certification should be directed to the Florida Department of Community Affairs, Florida Coastal Management Program, 255 Shumard Oak Boulevard, Tallahasses, FL 32399-2100.

The Department's report and Written Analysis concerning the project, and any written direct testimony that a party intends to submit at the certification hearing, shall be made available for public inspection at least five days prior to the hearing. Such Written Analysis and written testimony shall be made available for inspection at the Department's Office of Sitting Coordination in Tallahassee, the Department's District Office in Orlando, and so, City of New Smyrna Beach, at the addresses provided above. the Offices of the Utilities Comes

New Smyrna Beach, Florida 32168 Any person wishing to participate in the proceedings, either as a party or without party status, must follow either Section 403.508(4) or (5), F.S. Under Section 403.508(4)(a), F.S., the parties to the proceeding shall include:

The Florida Public Service Commission.

The Florida Department of Community Affairs.

The Florida Came and Fresh Water Fish Commission. The St. Johns River Water Management District.

The Florida Department of Environmental Protection.

The East Central Florida Regional Planning Council.

The City of New Smyrna Beach.

The remainder of Section 403.508(4), F.S., states:

Any party listed in paragraph (a) other than the department or the applicant may waive its right to participate in these proceedings. If such listed party falls to file a notice of its intent to be a party on or before the 90th day prior to the certification hearing, such party shall be deemed to have waived its right to be a party.

Upon the filing with the administrative law judge of a notice of intent to be a party at least 15 days prior to the date of the land use hearing, the following shall also be parties to the proceeding: (1) Any agency not listed in [Section 403.506(4)[a]] as to matters within its jurisdiction. [2] Any domestic nonprofit corporation or association formed, in whole or in part, to promote conservation or natural beauty; to protect the environment, personal health, or other biological values; to preserve historical sites; to promote consumer interests; to represent labor, commercial or industrial groups; or to promote comprehensive planning or orderly development of the area in which the proposed electrical power plant is to be located. Notwithstanding paragraph [e], failure of an agency described in subparagraph [c] 1, to file a notice of intent to be a party within the time provided herein shall constitute a waiver of the right of that agency to participate as a party in the proceeding.

other parties may include any person, including those persons enumerated in [Section 403.508(4)(c)] who have failed to-timely file a notice of intent to be a party, whose substantial interests are affected and being determined by the proceeding and who timely file a motion to intervene pursuant to Chapter 120 and applicable rules. Intervention pursuant to this paragraph may be granted at the discretion of the designated administrative law judge and upon such conditions as he or she may prescribe any time prior to 30 days before the commencement of the certification hearing.

Any astency, including those whose properties or works are being affected pursuant to Section 403.509(4).

Once again, it's a dollar over a degree

In my little world, sports mean a lot.

Rarely do I spend any time on the weekend doing anything that isn't centered around what sport I want to watch on television or at what time and where I'm going to watch the big game.

I plan my nights around tournaments, play-offs and just about anything sports related that I can flud to watch.

That is after, however, I have worked and taken care of the things that I have to do.

Most of the time. What I'm trying to say is that sports are very important to me, but they aren't everything.

That is probably why I get so upset when I see kids make life altering decisions like leaving college early to enter the pros.

This week, one of the best players to come out of my favorite basketball school, the University of Maryland, since the late Lenny Bias, decided to forego his senior year in college and take his chances with the National Basketball Asso-

What a shame. First of all, strictly from ports point of view, if Steve Francis were to remain at Maryland, next year could possibly be the one when the Terrapina made it past the Sweet Sixteen and actually achieved the glory they should be achieving.

With Francis in the line-up, the Terps would have started they year ranked in the top three and polsed to prove to any team that came near them that they have what it takes to be champions.

More importantly, Francis could have matured another year, enhanced his already elite skills and increase his chances of being taken as a top three player while earning a degree.

Too many athletes these days are more interested in signs (like dollar signs) than letters (like B and A).

Everyone knows that money eventually runs out, especially If a body gives out. Then what?

Who is it that is telling these kids with such promising futures to forego the education to take money?

The argument is usually that if an injury is sustained during the senior year in college that there will be no career.

My answer is that if an injury is sustained during the first or second year in the NBA, there is no career, no money, and no education with which to get a decent job.

My scales are tipped toward staying in school, so who is weighing things for these athletes?

Look, if these kids can make it to their senior year, play ball and still have a shot at the NBA, why not stay, finish the final year and take the degree? The NBA will still be there. I could be wrong, but isn't it better to go into the draft when you're on top? Francis could pick his salary in the next draft if he stayed at Maryland and took the team as far as I think he can.

Instead, he's going for money and supposed fame. How long can that last? And what is he going to do after his body wears out?

I think we need to take a serious look at how important sports are to people and rearrange their priorities. Education is not something to take for granted or throw away when there is only a year to go.

I have to go now...there is a big game on.

UCF nets another local soccer star

HERALD CORRESPONDENT

Yet another soccer superstar at Lake Mary High School is on her way to college.

Allison Weber had decided to stick close to home and attend the University of Central Florida on a scholarship based mostly on grades and partially on her chosen sport.

In fact, fellow team member Jackie Van Looven will be her teammate in college. They took their first visits together and the school should be glad that they did. UCF is receiving quite a one-two punch with the two athletes.

While Weber is very excited about attending the local college and pursuing soccer, she is actually more interested in attaining a degree in Elementary Education.

'Allison's scholarship is based more on academics." her father, Norm, explained. We are more proud of that than the soccer."

Weber said that since UCF has such a well-known and well-respected education department, her choice was made pretty easy. Add to that the fact that the achool is close to her family and friends and one of her high school teammates will also be attending and her mind was made up

"I knew that I didn't want to go far away for college," Weber aaid. "I am very close with my family and have a lot of close friends that are also staying close. I will be living on campus so I will be far enough away to feel like I'm on my own but close enough to come home whenever I want to. I'll have the best of both worlds."

Her parents are quite happy that she chose to stay close, as "We have always been a close family," her father said. "My two oldest children stayed close to home also, one at-tended UCF and the other attended the University of North Florida. We love having our children close and will really enjoy the opportunities to go and watch Allison play."

One thing that Weber will take away with her from high school are great memories of the tremendous achievements her soccer team made. Of

Lake Mary's Alison Weber signed to play soccer for UCF next season. Here she is, flanked by coach Bill Eiselle, Assistant Principal Boyd Cames, Principal Raymond Gaines and her father, Norm Weber.

course, her fondest memory will be of the 1998 state championship for Class 6A. But Weber also said that she will take very fond memories of her coach, Bill Eissele, with her, as he made a big impact upon her.

Weber is going into college with the attitude that school work comes first and soccer second. As long as she's playing the sport, she will give it 100 percent...after studying

With that attitude, Weber is sure to be a success no matter what she's doing.

The truth about health scares common shampoo ingredient that causes cancer? Or how about the epidemic of blind-ness among toddlers who accidentally get waterproof min-acreen in their eyes? These abourd fictions used to be the stock-in-trade of ninth-graders bent on frightening the younger kids. But now such tail tales are appearing on the internet, and many adults are taking them seriously. The following information I received from TiMEhealth columnist Christine Formen helps to sort out some confuning scare tactics on health

Consider the latest electronic health scare about the artificial aweetener aspartame. which is found in everything from Equal to diet Coke. A widely disseminated e-mail by a "Nancy Markle" links aspartame to Alzheimer's, birth defects, brain cancer, diabetes, Gulf War syndrome, lupus, multiple scierosis and seizures. Right away, the long list warrants skepticism. Just as no single chemical cures everything, none causes every-thing. In this and similar cases, all the Nancy Markles of the world have to do to fabricate a health rumor is post it in some Usenet news groups and let ordinary folks, who may already distrust artificial products, forward it to all their friends and e-mail pals.

When I searched Altavista for aspartame AND brain AND selzure AND sclerosis, I learned that Markle's message is almost identical to an antiaspartame creed first penned under a different name in 1995. None of the specific allegations pans out, however. Among the more outrageous claims.

Aspartame triggers headaches. Wrong again, says Susan Shiffman, a medical paychologist at Duke University who conducted a double-blind placebo-controlled trial of 40 "aspartame sensitive" people.

BARRARA HILLIE

A little probing often revealed the real trouble. One woman, who often ate peanuts with her diet soda, was allergic to pea-nuts. Another subject drank too much caffeine.

Aspertame is responsible for the recent uptick in braincancer rates. So how do you explain that the trend dates back to 1973, eight years before aspartame was approved in the U.S.?

Curtously, Markie didn't warn against aspartame's sin-gle known health risk. Folks with an uncommon genetic disorder called phenyiketonuria shouldn't consume the sweetener because they cannot metabolize one of its ingredients. Before you decide to believe or, worse, forward an e-mail with serious health claims, do a little checking. Start on the Web with urbanurbanlegends.miningco.com, which catalogues the more persistent rumors. Then go to reliable health aites, like mayohealth,org (for general health), www.medhelp.org (especially for cardiology). www.oncolink.org cancernet.nct.nth.gov (for can-www.navigator,tufts.edu (for nutrition). Otherwise, you might get caught up in a web of confusion.

Few account for pet surplus

DEAR ABBY: The last time you mentioned SPAY/USA in your colump, we received about 15,000 telephone calls in three weeks. SPAY/USA helps people locate vet-erinarians or programs with affordable spay-neuter services for cats and dogs. Because you printed the letter in the winter, before litter season, the births of several hundred thousand unwanted pups and kittens were prevented. Most of them would have ended up on the streets or in shelters - not in permanent homes During 1999 we are making a special effort to reach people who are still resisting, still procrastinating, still not making the time or effort to get their cats and dogs to the vet to be spayed/neutered and vaccinated. Abby, if we can reach that hard-core 1 percent of pet owners, we can prevent the killing of 6 million surplus cats and dogs in this country.

Our campaign is called "Start One-Percenters" Targeting (S.T.O.P.). Readers who want to help — or who have cats or dogs to "fix" - can call (800) 248-SPAY (7729). Our phone counselors will give them information on the nearest participating vet, clinic or program. Thank you, Abby, for caring. ESTHER MECHLER, SPAY/USA. A PROGRAM OF THE

PET-SAVERS FOUNDATION

DEAR ESTHER: The fact that only 1 percent of irresponsible pet owners are the cause of the destruction of 6 million innocent azimals is certain to leave animal lovers aghast. Dogs and cats that are not intended for breeding should be spayed or neutered. This eliminates the risk of ovarian or testicular cancer, reduces the risk of prostate disorders, and eliminates the urge for the pet to wander and "mark its territory." Readers, spring is upon us, and with it, thousands of unwanted litters - so please don't delay getting your pets spayed or neutered.

DEAR ABBY: I'm writing regarding the letter in your column from the guy who complained about the freeloading guest. He and his roommates might want to seek the advice of a lawyer before taking any before changing the locks, etc. I was shocked to find that according to the law, my unwanted guest was now my "tenant" and I her "landlord." In order to get her out, I would be required to take her to court and evict her - a 60-day process - during which time she could remain in my home, placing me and my possessions at risk! Another option my lawyer suggested was that I move out, and let my landlord evict her. Of course, that would mean I'd lose my deposit, ruin my credit, and leave myself open to a lawsuit from my

It took a month, but I tricked her into moving. I quit buying food, blocked all but local calls on my phone and disconnected the cable TV. I told her I had to move because my landlord had sold the house. I packed everything I own, but moved only a few of the valuables for safe-

BEEN THERE IN SPRINGFIELD, MO.

DEAR BEEN THERE: Your letter, viewed from a legal per-spective, is certainly an eyeopener. After reading it, many hospitable souls may be tempted to roll up their welcome

DEAR ABBY: I had a potluck party at my house seven weeks ago. A friend who was a guest at the party left her Crock-Pot at my

I have been waiting for her to call me to arrange a time for her to pick it up. She hasn't called. After the new year, she remarked, "So how long are you going to hold my Crock-Pot hostage? I was too aghast to respond to her. Abby, how can I get her to pick up her Crock-Pot at my house? She lives 30 miles away. Is it my responsibility to drive 30 miles to return it? Or should she pick it up?

CROCK-POT CONFUSED IN WASHINGTON STATE

DEAR CONFUSED: Why stand on ceremony? Make a lunch or dinner date with your friend and meet her halfway. The did you a favor by bringing food to your party, so pick up the phone and arrange to return her Creek-Pot. It would be a gracious gesture.

HOROSCOPES

Saturday, April 3, 1999

Seeds of success out of your fertile imagination can be sown in the year ahead. Give any unique or original ideas a chance to prove themselves, because this is where your successes could be ARIES (March 21-April 19) Especially when costs are involved, be extra careful in joint ventures today. Unless the inses are distributed equally, things will fall apart. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail $2.75 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O.

today. Partnerships could turn out to be more of a hindrance than a help. Fend for yourself. GEMMI (May 21-June 20) By attempting to crowd too much into your workload today, you could end up accomplishing little or nothing. Establish a sensible agenda -- one that can work.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) It'll be important today that you don't do anything to give someone who dislikes you a chance to gossip. Just be extra mindful of your behavior when out in social settings. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Open disputes in the presence of outsiders, especially involving family problems, can make everyone look bad. Nothing will get resolved. Don't be party to further compli-

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you haven't earned it, stay well out of the spotlight today and let those who deserve accolades take the bows. They'll resent you if you try to share their limelight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) It's hard to believe, but even you can have weak willpower at times, and this might be one of those days. Instead of succumbing to a setback, regroup and try, try again!

SAGITTARIUS (Nev. 23-Dec. 21) You'll be remorseful if you look the other way today when someone who has been kind to you needs assistance. Stop what you're doing and pitch in! Your project

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Any lack of knowledge concerning a venture presented to you today should be taken seriously. Gambling in areas you know little about could prove costly. AQUARIUS (Jen. 29-Feb. 19) That ego of yours that arose yesterday could still be giving you trouble today. Don't hang there defending an unpopular position that could continue to anger associates. Let it go!

PISCES (Feb. 20-Merch 20) Emotions your designated shopping day, take care to decisions that could have an effect on your work or career. No matter how

WIN AT BRIDGE

The wheel continues to turn

By Phillip Alder

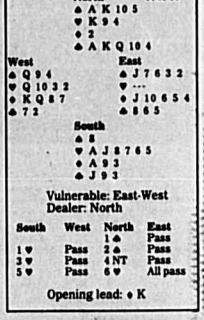

Two weeks ago, I gave some suit combinations that had to be handled differently, depending on the full deal.
It wasn't always sufficient to take the "textbook" line. Soon thereafter, I read about this deal, supplied by Ib Lundby from Denmark. Taking the heart suit in isolation, what is the correct play for only one loser? How would you try to make six hearts given the 26 cards on make six hearts given the 26 cards on view? West leads the diamond king. The safety-play to keep your heart losers to one is to cash the ace. You continue with a low heart, covering West's card as cheaply as possible or, if he discards, rising with dummy's king and leading back toward your jack. All well and good, but there are other considerations here.

At several tables, South did start with the heart ace. Yet each was given a reprieve because when he continued with another trump, West incorrectly split his honors, inserting the 10. If in-stead West plays low, the contract fails. True, declarer wins with dummy's nine, but what next? He has two losing diamonds in his hand. He cannot ruff one with dummy's heart king, because that gives West two trump tricks. And with West so short in clubs, South cannot get both diamond losers away in time. South needs to ruff one diamond in the dummy and discard the other on dummy's second top spade. There are two better plays. Either lead a low trump toward the dummy immediateplanning to insert the nine if West follows low, or start with the heart jack. In both cases, everything is under control.

ASK DR. GOTT

Mom should get stress test

DEAR DR. GOTT: I am a 34-yearold mother of two children, who exerold mother of two children, who exercises regularly, weighs 104 pounds, and tries to avoid excess dietary fat. I recently was diagnosed with mild diabetes. I lost my mother (56), my sister (38) and my brother (24) to heart attacks within the past five years. I admit that I occasionally experience chest discomfort during exercise. Do I need to worry?

DEAR READER: Worry is simply going to make matters worse. What you need most is a thorough cardiac evaluation that should, in my opinion, include a stress test and, probably, a coronary angiogram. You may well have inherited an unfortunate genetic pattern that predisposes you to pre-mature heart disease.

As I'm sure you're aware, coronary artery disease in women has been under-appreciated for decades. Within the past few years, physicians have finally begun to recognize the fact that heart disease, formerly believed to be a male disorder, also affects a high percentage of women — even young ones. Diabetes, which can also be inherited, further increases the risk.

leading; they may be normal in the presence of coronary blockage. Consequently, an angiogram — the X-ray test that is the gold standard for diagnosing this condition — may be necessary. The fact that you experience occasional, exercise-induced chest discomfort makes me all the more suspicious that you may have a potential problem that must be addressed. Don't delay, Your family addressed. Don't delay. Your family physician can initiate the necessary testing, working with a cardiologist if a specialist's opinion is required.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Lately I've been bruising easily, and the bruises take forever to fade. I'm a college student If you were my patient, I would who is often tired and, needless immediately schedule you for a stress say, sometimes doesn't eat a prop test. However, such tests can be mis-diet. Could I be missing a nutrient? who is often tired and, needless to say, sometimes doesn't eat a proper

DEAR READER: You bet. Go to the: student health service for a complete checkup. Easy bruising is never normal in a young person and could reflect a dietary/vitamin deficiency, a problem with your blood cells or a disorder with your coagulation system. Bruising is sometimes an early sign of mononucleosis. Have you had a sore throat and swollen glands recently?

DEAR DR. GOTT: My sister has 10 to 15 loose bowel movements a day. She is very heavy and can't lose weight. Ten years ago she had radium needles implanted for cancer of the cervix. Could this be the cause of her problem, or is it her age (71)?

DEAR READER: I'm surprised that your sister doesn't lose weight from her phenomenal diarrhea. Clearly, she needs a medical evaluation by a gastroenterologist. The radium treat-ment could have caused radiation proctitis, a low-grade burn of the lower bowel resulting in diarrhea. Her age alone is not the cause of her prob-
