Miami Visitor Says Sanford Is Growing Faster Than Orlando

Sanford is growing faster than Orlando, is the opinion of N. L. Severson, Miami business man and builder of the Granada Apartments of that city, who arrived today to spend several days here on a business mission. Mr. Severson's opinion was given after having visited the Orange county metropolis and after making an observation tour of this city.

"Sanford's outlook is brighter than that of Orlando because of its advantageous location and its development possibilities," declared the Miami man. Cheaper freight rates, made possible by both water and rail transportation facilities alone furnishes Sanford with inducements that far exceed any other city of this section of the state, Mr. Severson asserted.

"I am favorably impressed by Sanford's rapid growth during the past few months and I believe that it will not be long before it will rank among the largest and most flourishing cities of Florida," Mr. Severson concluded.

BOOSTER DAY IS SUCCESS DESPITE RAINY WEATHER

Large Crowd Sees Ball Game On Muddy Field Despite Rain; Many People Enjoy Big Dance at the City Hall

The Booster Day Baseball Benefit Celebration staged here Thursday afternoon was this morning declared a success by R. A. Newman, president of the Sanford Baseball Club. In spite of the excessive rains during the past several days and the pouring rain that hurried for nearly two hours previous to the game between the Celery-Feds and the Highlanders, the contest was played before a large crowd of local fans.

Several hundred dollars were raised by the club in the staging of the activities at the park in the afternoon and the dance at the City Hall last night, Mr. Newman said. He was unable to furnish actual figures of the proceeds.

The only feature of the celebration dispensed with because of the rain was the game between the "Feds" and the "Highlanders" and the parade to the ball park which was to proceed this evening.

Mr. Newman expressed opinion this morning that if the weather had been ideal the celebration would have been a record breaking crowd at the municipal athletic field.

"I wish to thank the people of Sanford for their loyal support in the celebration put on here by the local club yesterday," said Mr. Newman. "The people of this city deserve a great deal of credit for their attendance at the ball game after such a hard rain. The dance also was a big success and a large crowd attended, every one having a very enjoyable time."

Unsold tickets to the game were returned to the club by Mr. Newman and the people who purchased tickets and did not use them will have the privilege of using them for Saturday's game here with Lakeland. The tickets must be presented at the gate with the coupon attached, however, he said.

The municipal band rendered a concert at the ball park, beginning about 4 o'clock instead of at 2 o'clock as had been planned.

Railroad Receivers Contend For Boost Over Present Rates

NEW YORK, July 17.—Interest in the proposed reorganization of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway was evidenced Thursday by developments affecting the demand for securities and plans to wage an active fight for higher freight rates. With more than $67,000,000 of St. Paul stock and bonds assenting to the reorganization plan, the reorganization managers announced that depositors would continue to receive deposits pending formal announcement of an extension of definite date. While these deposits represent only about one-tenth of the road's outstanding securities, the bankers said that large additional amounts had been pledged to support the plan although not actually deposited.

Speakers for Roosevelt and son, investment bankers, who are leading the opposition to the reorganization plan, asserted that holders of $80,000,000 of St. Paul securities were unilaterally opposed to an immediate reorganization. Rejection of Charles E. Hughes by the St. Paul receivers to present to the Interstate Commerce Commission their novel plan of pooling revenues derived from any rate increases apparently won the approval of all the road's security holders. The Roosevelt group is objecting to the reorganization program, announced it was in full accord with the rate revision plan of the receivers and endorsed the selection of Mr. Hughes to lead the fight.

TRADE BODY IS TOLD OF CITY'S OPPORTUNITIES

D. H. MacFarland of American City Bureau Addresses Chamber of Commerce On Co-Operation in Campaign

Forster Speaks On Local Improvements

Junior Chamber of Commerce Represented at Luncheon By Number of Members

Members of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce at the Seminole Cafe today listened with interest to an address by D. H. MacFarland, vice-president of the American City Bureau, who is in this city conducting the membership campaign for the organization. The theme of Mr. MacFarland's talk was co-operation on the part of business and professional men and other residents of the community in the coming campaign which, he declared, will possibly mean more to Sanford than anything else ever put on here.

"It is evident," asserted Mr. MacFarland, "that heretofore the Sanford Chamber of Commerce has been run on a show string basis and has been supported in a show string manner. The time for business done on this basis has passed and any city remaining in that class has no place in Florida," he declared.

The intrinsic value of Sanford because of its location and extensive and valuable back country alone justifies that it should, during the next several years, become the foremost city in central Florida, Mr. MacFarland continued. If this city plays the game right, he said, it will soon surpass Orlando and all other cities in this section of the state, in both size and importance.

"I do not doubt that the outcome of the campaign now being carried out to secure memberships for the Chamber of Commerce, will be in every way successful and that many people of this city, who now doubt the possibility of such a campaign will be astounded at what will be accomplished. Sanford ought to easily raise $50,000 each year to carry on the work and operation of the Chamber of Commerce," he said.

During the luncheon E. P. Forster, president of the First National Bank, spoke at length of the work being accomplished by the First Street extension and the retaining wall for the east end bulkhead extension in this city. He further cited figures, showing just what has been done thus far and stated that this morning 10 teams and 50 men were at work on the project. The driving of piling for the retaining wall started Thursday, it was learned.

R. J. Dilly reported on the county publicity organization formed last Tuesday night for the purpose of spreading anti-trading funds. The committee which will be organized will meet with the County Commissioners on Aug. 4, when it is expected that the board will officially recognize the new committee.

Discussion was heard on the placing of a sign telling something of Sanford near the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad station on Ninth Street. P. J. Feitner, lumber dealer of Osceola, stated that if it is acceptable, his company will have the honor of erecting the sign. The matter was referred to the publicity committee.

Mayor Forrest Lake spoke briefly on the subject of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, stating that the members of that organization are anxious to get in closer touch with the senior body and that a program of work may be mapped out in conjunction with the work of the older organization. Several members of the junior chamber were present to hear the discussions of the senior trade body. President Floyd Palmer of the junior body made a brief reply to Mr. Lake's talk.

FORD MAKES HIGH BID FOR SHIPPING BOARD'S VESSELS

Twenty-Seven Other Bids are Opened; One Bid Offering More Than Ford, Isn't Ac- companied By Any Check

WASHINGTON, July 17.—A bid of $1,700,000 from Henry Ford for the 200 shipping board vessels to be sold for scrapping was opened with twenty-seven others Thursday by the fleet corporation.

Except for an offer from A. G. Wilson, of Bar Harbor, Me., representing the Ocean Power Company, Inc., of $2,114,000 for the lot which was accompanied by the required certified check for one-tenth of the amount and as to which the Ford bid was the highest, all other bids were lower than Ford's. The bid from Wilson was not accompanied by a check and was not considered.

Opening of the bids today was not without protest. The Boston Iron and Metal company of Baltimore, which was declared by President Palmer to have submitted the best offer when bids for the ships first were opened June 30, filed "formal notice" with the board, which disapproved Mr. Palmer's recommendation and ordered the negotiations continued that it protested the proceedings as illegal.

The Baltimore concern had offered $1,700,000 for the 200 vessels and its contention is that under the original advertisement of sale, if no bids were to be considered, any amended or new offers from the original bidders could be considered for acceptance. General counsel for the board, on the other hand, said the proceedings were entirely legal and that the Baltimore company which withdrew its bid after the board rejected the recommendation in its favor was not a party in interest. Ten new bidders were among those making offers today.

Mr. Ford did not submit a bid June 30, his offer being received July 10, the day after the shipping board had voted to consider only those bids which were accompanied by the required certified check. The day the board received the recommendation from President Palmer for acceptance of the Boston Iron and Metal company offer.

Coolidge Confers With Hilles, Dines Polish Minister And Receives Envoy

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., July 17.—President Coolidge conferred Thursday with Charles D. Hilles, Republican national committee man from New York, entertained at luncheon in honor of Count Serzynski, Polish minister of foreign affairs and received Mahout Samyassa who presented his credentials as Egyptian minister.

Looking ahead to today the president arranged for a conference here with Secretary Davis of the labor department and to motor to Camp Devens to review the 260th National Guard division.

Mr. Hilles, who has been mentioned persistently as a possible successor to Secretary of War Weeks, said he did not discuss cabinet post or politics with the executive. He called he added to pay his respects and during his talk with the president expressed satisfaction over business conditions. Mr. Coolidge also taking an optimistic view of the general business and commercial world. Guests at the luncheon in addition to Count Serzynski and Melville E. Stone, the house guest of the president and Mrs. Coolidge were Hippolyte Chwie, charge at the Polish legation in Washington, D. C., and assistant secretary of state John Hays Hammond and James C. White, an assistant to

NATION STATES ITS ATTITUDE TOWARD CHINA

Washington Government Urges Nations Approving The Nine-Power Treaty to Join in Immediate Conference

American Views are Given Each Country

American Nation Also Wants Commission Created For A Study of Territory Matter

WASHINGTON, July 17.—In pressing its suggestion that the governments which approved the Nine-power treaty and appended resolutions regarding China should unite as participants in a Chinese customs conference, as well as in the creating of a provisional government study extra-territorial questions, the Washington government has taken steps to prevent opposition to its plans springing up in foreign capitals through misunderstanding of its attitude.

Both the nine governments signatory to the convention now have been given a clear and complete understanding of the position taken by the Washington administration. It no longer is possible for suspicions or conflict between the negotiators to arise because of lack of information from Washington. Its views on all points involved in the exchanges regarding customs and extra-territoriality, including those which grew out of the recent disturbances in Peking and consequent notes to the foreign consular corps in Peking, have been presented officially to the proper officials in the various foreign offices of the governments involved.

France was the last government to be visited by the state department of the American attitude as to China. This step was taken as soon as officials here observed unofficial reports from Paris stating that the French authorities did not consider the line propounded by negotiators seeking revision of the foreign extra-territorial privileges in China. In the case of France, also the last of the nine governments to ratify the Washington treaty, it was assumed here by informed administration officials that assent to participate in the proposed Chinese customs conference would be granted. The opinion also prevailed that when the question of the extra-territorial commission, as explained in the cables dispatched from Washington, was given consideration at the Paris meeting, it would be regarded more favorably than official reports indicated.

In reporting to the signatory powers on its Chinese policy, the administration has served a twofold purpose. It has informed the world of its attitude toward the Chinese problem and through Minister McClure in Peking why it is anxious to have the question of the American staff will be on the demands made by the Chinese provisional government in its recent note to the diplomatic corps and at the same time has explained in an understandable way why it is anxious to have the question of the customs and financial privileges matters.

Work on the reply to the Peking government's note to the diplomats is held to be scarcely less important at this time than that on the question of the Chinese staff. A close personal friend of the president will intercede for Scott, the message said.

Clarence Darrow Gives Views Upon Evolution Theory

DAYTON, Tenn., July 17.—Clarence Darrow outlined the views of creation the defense desires in the present in the Scopes trial by testimony through an informal questioning by Judge Raulston in open court Thursday.

This contention would be that the statement in Genesis that God created man out of the dust of the earth must not be construed literally but as a figure of speech.

"The belief is that man was not created by God as a carpenter," he told the judge. "But gradually through a process called evolution."

"Is this your belief, Colonel Darrow?" asked the court.

"As for myself I don't pretend to know," Darrow responded. "I am an agnostic to that as well as other things about which there is mystery. I don't profess to have any opinion on it, but we wish to show through our witnesses that they hold that belief."

"The theory of evolution which I believe teaches that life originated in a single cell and progressed through various stages to man, branching off in different directions to form the other animals."

"We think the Bible story of creation not inconsistent with the evolutionary theory that all life comes from the single protoplasmic cell and progresses through variations of animal structure to man. Many evolutionists believe in immortality. Some do not."

REPRIEVE GIVEN MAN WITH DEATH FEW HOURS AWAY

Executive Receives Message From Brother Saying That It Was He Who Killed Druggist In Chicago Robbery

CHICAGO, July 17.—Russell Scott, 30 year old erstwhile Canadian financier, writer of books on business ethics, long-time member of the Chicago underworld, was granted at six o'clock Friday morning for the murder of a drug store clerk, in a hold up, last night received a one week's reprieve from Governor Len Small.

News of the reprieve coming less than six hours from the time Scott was scheduled to walk upon the gallows, found the condemned man playing cards in the death cell with his two guards.

"Thank God for that," were his first words when informed of the news. The start of the message, only from his hands when his shoulders slumped and tears came to his eyes.

"How is Mrs. Scott?" she asked next, and informed that she was bearing up well, he added. "Well that's all right," she said, "I'm only from his hands when his shoulders slumped and tears came to his eyes."

The reprieve came following a message to the governor's office at Springfield from a man in Detroit who signed himself Robert Scott. Robert Scott, Russell Scott's brother, was indicted with Russell for the Chicago drug store murder. "Russell Scott" first pleaded guilty and then after the court indicated it would sentence him to death, changed his plea to not guilty and at his trial claimed that his brother Robert had fired the shot that killed Joseph Maurer, drug store clerk, on the holiday of a drug store across from the city hall in April, 1924.

After the action of the governor, who was on a vacation and whose secretary communicated with him at an unknown place after receipt of the Detroit message, the message was dispatched by train from Springfield to Chicago.

DETROIT, July 17.—A request for clemency for Russell Scott, sentenced to hang today for the murder of a Chicago drug clerk, but night was in the hands of President Coolidge.

A group of Windsor, Ont., business men signed the request and a few hours later received word from the executive's secretary that it had been given to Mr. Coolidge. A close personal friend of the president will intercede for Scott, the message said.

ANDREWS PUSHES PLANS FOR A NEW DRY LAW REGIME

Secretary Seeks Twenty-Two Best Men Administrators; New Regulations Are Said To Be Ready For Operation

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Despite an avalanche of applications for jobs under the new regime together with maneuvers by political leaders in behalf of constituents, Assistant Secretary Andrews of the treasury, plowed ahead Thursday with his plan to work out an effective enforcement organization.

Political phases of the prohibition situation still were much in the limelight but Mr. Andrews reiterated that he was seeking the 22 best men available for appointments as administrators. Although he received numerous personal calls yesterday, he meant today to begin a study of a means for establishing a better blockade for the international border. He will give that phase of his task further study on a tour of inspection of the New York and Vermont frontiers over the week-end.

Announcement also was made yesterday that the two-year-old study of regulations covering industrial alcohol withdrawals had been completed. New rules governing the release of that commodity will be put into effect Aug. 1, when the general enforcement reorganization becomes effective.

The new regulations are said by officials to have been drawn with an idea of liberalizing treatment of legitimate users of the product while drawing the net closer against withdrawals for bootleg operations.

Mr. Andrews' reorganization plan was accorded the full support of Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana, who in a statement declared he believed the prohibition could not be enforced with the present laws, "then it cannot be enforced." Mr. Watson expressed the opinion that absolute enforcement was impractical, but was confident Mr. Andrews' program would bring success comparable with the enforcement of other laws.

Representative Summers, Republican, Washington, meanwhile, unburdened a verbal "knock-out" blow, half-hearted, wishy-washy officials who are inwardly opposed to the law," saying real enforcement could not be expected so long as men of that type were in charge. He mentioned no names, but asserted he was growing tired of "pseudo-prohibition with political leaders giving the last word to get their appointments settled, at the expense of the law."

Mr. Andrews will be away from prohibition general headquarters for several days after he leaves today for the inspection trip along the Canadian frontier. Upon his return Wednesday, he plans to confer with internal revenue Commissioner Haynes and other officials on the whole question of personnel.

He said he had found the selection of the kind of men he desired to be of such magnitude that he would not prophesy today when it would be completed. The new administrators take office August 1, so every effort is being made to get their appointments settled, although Mr. Andrews declared he had not reached a decision yet on one of them.

Scopes Lawyers Note Exception to Court Ruling, Describing It Denial of Justice

DAYTON, Tenn., July 17.—Judge John T. Raulston announced this morning that he had decided to exclude scientific testimony from the trial of John T. Scopes charged with violating the Tennessee anti-evolution teaching law.

The defense at once lodged exception to the court's ruling and the judge ordered it placed on record in presenting this exception. Arthur G. Hays declared "it is denial of justice to permit the state to make a case on its own evidence. It is contrary to every principle of Anglo-Saxon judicial procedure."

"Should the court be convinced that it is in error then he will reverse his opinion," Judge Raulston said.

After the decision to exclude scientific testimony, Judge Raulston adjourned court until Monday morning.

After a day devoted entirely to arguments on the competency of scientific testimony, the court took the matter under advisement.

Judge Raulston prolonged the trial Wednesday, when he denied a defense motion to quash the indictment. On his decision on the pending motion will depend the length of the scientific witnesses, a dozen of whom are awaiting the word from the bench. The trial soon would close. Admission of the facts on evolution and its relations to the teachings of the Bible would result in a much more extended session.

Seven of the dozen lawyers in the case spoke Thursday but the clean-cut division of the issue between religion and science was placed before the court at the afternoon session when William Jennings Bryan of the prosecution, argued against the admission of scientific testimony, but the court, in the meantime, ruled that the door of the witness box would be unlocked for them.

His address yesterday afternoon marked the first time Mr. Bryan has raised his voice in active discussion of the conflict at issue on the floor of the court.

Bryan's Contentions
He contended that the law as passed by the legislature was definite, clear and understandable, permitted of no interpretation from experts was an attack upon the religion of the children down to them by their fathers.

Mr. Malone, following Mr. Bryan, declared that the effort of the defense to place experts in the case as witnesses was not an attack on the Bible. The defense would have the Bible remain, but in the conscience, ruled that the science takes its rightful place in the schools.

The whole matter was brought to the floor of the court when the defense recalled Dr. Maynard M. Metcalf, zoologist, who answered a series of questions on evolution yesterday with the jury absent from the court room.

Dr. Metcalf was presented as a "test witness" to show the line of tests the defense sought to introduce. The scientist was not permitted to answer the questions asked by Clarence Darrow, defense counsel if the witness could give any other evidence of evolution of man.

Mr. Darrow announced that the defense expected to show by men of science and learning, both scientists and real scholars of the Bible, what evolution is and that any interpretation of the Bible that intelligent man could possibly make is not in conflict with every known science.

He added that witnesses to whose testimony objection was made knows his subject and is competent to speak.

Stewart Moves to Exclude
Attorney General A. T. Stewart, for the state, moved to exclude the testimony of scientists by which counsel for the defense contended that they would show that there is no conflict between science and religion or between the theory of evolution in question and the story of divine creation of man, on the grounds that under the wording of the act and interpretation of the act, the evidence would be incompetent.

The jury, a part of the case that has had little active participation in it, was subject to call the members not being permitted in the court room during the day.

William Jennings Bryan, taken a toll of five lives, uprooted trees, destroyed crops and crippled telephone and electric light service in the east.

FLORIDA VISITORS WILL GET UNIQUE GREETING IN FALL

Plans Being Arranged for Placing Official Representatives at State Line on Highways Into Florida

TALLAHASSEE, July 16.—Visitors traveling in motor cars will find a unique welcome awaiting them at the Florida state line during the forthcoming season, if plans under contemplation by state departments are finally adopted and carried out. Not only will the welcome be unique; it will be official and cordial.

It is probable that the agricultural department, the state board of health and the state road department will participate in the expense of the scheme which, if it is put into effect, will be started early in the fall to be of service to what is expected to be the largest influx of visitors in the history of Florida.

The plan under consideration, the details of which have not yet been finally worked out, calls for the placing of an official representative of the state at the Florida state line on every important highway leading into the state. Hence across the highway would be a good sized arch upon which would be wording something like: "Florida State Line—Welcome to the Land of Sunshine and Flowers." The lettering would be of sufficient size to be easily read.

At the roadside at one end of the archway would be a booth in charge of the official representative of the departments who would have on hand a supply of state road maps, giving detailed information on how to find any point in the state. The printed information would be supplemented by such verbal advice as the visitors might desire, except there would be NO information furnished favoring one part of the state as against another section.

The plans contemplate the placing of the welcoming signs or arches together with the booths on State Road No. 1, at Nunez Ferry, for the convenience of visitors coming in from the western route; on Road No. 2 above Jasper, at the Georgia line, on No. 3 at Wild's Landing on St. Mary's river, and on No. 4 at beyond Jennings. This would catch the tourists as they come in from all directions, and would place booths on the roads running from Nunez Ferry to Jacksonville, from the Georgia line above Jasper through the center of the state to Fort Myers, from the Georgia line south of Weyeross leading through Jacksonville down the East Coast, and from the coastal route from Savannah down through the central part of Florida to Orlando where a highway may be found leading in almost any direction.

(Continued From Page One.) ber of this jury has heard anything outside the courtroom." Rumors had been heard that the jurors while excluded from the courtroom "had listened in" on the lawn.

The judge told Captain Thompson and the other jurors that he was sure none had been so indiscreet.

Fundamentality Different. "Evolution and the theories of evolution are fundamentally different things," Dr. Metcalf testified. "The facts of evolution are all theory. There are dozens of theories of evolution. Some of them are largely mistaken and some are almost wholly true."

"We are in possession of scientific contributions to answer flatly, evolution has occurred."

"Evolution in its final analysis means change of one organism from one character to a different character. The change of an organism from one set of characteristics to another form having a different set of characters—that can be, in general evolution."

"Starting with the inorganic world, there has been a tremendous series of changes. The sun is comparatively young. The earth has gone through long courses of change. In organic evolution we have to conceive of earliest life forms, living or inorganic food. Only plants can do that. No animal has been able to subsist solely on inorganic food."

"From the first living things developed whole series of forms in plant groups, gradually becoming more complex. These form a favorable series as we study their bodies in the rocks."

"I am inclined to believe there may have been whole series of animals and plants in the earth to be completely wiped out. These were succeeded by other series of plants and animals on the earth. The evidence is insufficient to determine when the first life appeared. Geologists measure ages, not years, and I am no expert in that line. I would rather not testify on that. Well, 600,000,000 years is a modest guess. Along side of plants were series of animals developing."

"Animals hustle to get their food and therefore have developed locomotive organs. Plants have not."

"Animal life and plant life probably began at the border line between the water and the land. For a long period in early life all living things were marine. Conditions of life in the ocean have been cholophil, enabling them to absorb food. When terrestrial life began conditions were more difficult."

Further information this morning regarding the term of county court closed Tuesday, is that the fine of Bob Robinson, found guilty on a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor, was $500 and costs and six months in jail instead of $250 and costs and three months in jail as was stated in information received by The Herald Wednesday.

It was announced today that if the fine is not paid, an additional term of six months in jail or on county roads must be served by the prisoner. This information was from the office of County Judge J. G. Sharon.

Now—a One-Profit Car in the Quality Field

STUDEBAKER has achieved one-profit manufacture in the quality field. This marks a new era in the automobile industry. Studebaker's achievement eliminates unnecessary profits running up to $500 on a single car. It banishes double overhead. It results in quantity production of quality cars. It vitally affects pricing by establishing a new criterion of value in the fine car field.

TWENTY-FIVE years ago practically all "manufacturers" of automobiles were nothing more than assemblers. They purchased motors, bodies, tops, axles, etc., from parts makers who were the manufacturers in reality. On this basis it was easy to become an automobile "manufacturer," and more than five hundred makes of automobiles have had their day in the American market and disappeared. They are represented only by "orphan cars" with practically no resale value. Notwithstanding this writing on the wall many manufacturers still assemble their product, piling profit upon profit, or the ultimate purchaser to pay. Each profit which a maker pays to a body builder or parts supplier enters into his costs just as though he had spent the money for steel or plate glass or upholstery. Although it represents no value he not only passes it on to the purchaser but figures his own profit on top of it.

The Ford is a one-profit car and reigns supreme in its field. In the fine car field Studebaker—and Studebaker alone—now offers the American public one-profit values.

During the past seven years, when demand exceeded supply, Studebaker has been plowing earnings back into plants and machinery until we are now able to make this announcement.

Foundries, stamping mills, machine shops, are now complete. As final links in the chain of one-profit production, the enormous Studebaker body plants have been operating for months at peak capacity. Resources totaling one hundred million dollars are concentrated on the production of this one-profit car.

No other individual manufacturer in the world (except Ford) possesses such facilities for the complete manufacture of automobiles.

That is why Studebaker is able to put finer steel, finer wood, finer upholstery, better workmanship, hundreds of thousands of miles of reserve transportation, every car—yet keep down price to you.

This sound manufacturing principle not only holds price, but it insures a car regardless of price. A car is not a patchwork, a unit.

Last year at the New York and Chicago auto shows four well known mobile manufacturers exhibited coaches mounted on the same body—a body from the identical dies and fixtures. Certain manufacturers sacrificed engineering stages in chassis construction to accommodate the "patchwork" coach body of an outside supplier.

Contrast this with Studebaker, where the car is designed and built as a unit—and complete. This construction means (1) greater comfort in riding—(2) greater freedom from repair expense—(3) greater resale value.

With the advent of this one-profit one-plant plan of motor car manufacture, it is fully today buy a car by the same comparisons you yesterday. Today you must measure all cars by this "one-profit" Studebaker.

One-fourth of all American passenger cars today belong in the fine car field—a total of different makes selling above one thousand dollars.

There are 21 Studebaker body styles available on three different chassis. The Standard Six Model, 113-inch wheelbase, 50 h.p. engine, $1125 to $1200 f.o.b. factory. The Special Six Model, 120-inch wheelbase, 65 h.p. engine, $1450 to $2100 f.o.b. factory. And the Big Six Model, 127-inch wheelbase, 75 h.p. engine, $1875 to $2650 f.o.b. factory.

And you may buy your Studebaker today with the assurance that it will not be arbitrarily inflated by any act of ours as a "last year's model." Instead of spectacular annual announcements of "newly models," Studebaker has adopted a policy of keeping its cars up-to-date in body and chassis design every day in the year. Therefore, buy your Studebaker now!

Do This For the Children

During the summer vacation is a sensible time to have the children's eyes and ears and noses and tonsils examined, and the things done for them that will improve their physical condition. The summer vacation, in addition to being a good playtime for the boys and girls should be as genuinely recreational as possible. And this means, of course, the putting of boys and girls into the best possible condition for getting the fullest returns from work and play.

So often boys and girls with defective vision labor under the handicap for years before anybody even discovers that they are not blessed with normal eyesight. The educational experts have discovered that one child out of every ten in city schools, and one child out of seven in rural schools have defects in sight serious enough to interfere with their learning capacity.

And that is not all, the child who has defective vision is often nervously affected. Frequently without knowing just why, the child who is seeing crooked with his physical eyes is seeing crooked with his mental, and his moral, eyes. He is often either hard to manage, or is listless and unambitious. Ignorant parents and careless teachers diagnose his attitude as that of a "bad" boy, or of a lazy one, when all the time the child is suffering untold, and unexpressed, misery!

And the child with defective hearing is equally handicapped. He also has about the same chance of getting fair treatment if he is cast among people who have never given attention to the great need of careful investigation of the faculties of every child.

The child who because of adenoids or diseased tonsils is failing to breathe properly, or is absorbing poisons that may wreck his health, surely such a child in this day and time should have relief. Indeed, every boy and girl during the summer vacation should be given a thorough physical examination by conscientious, reliable physicians and specialists. And then, there should be a way, through the public purse if necessary, to give each child the treatment his condition demands.

Surely advice of this sort will be endorsed in progressive Sanford. Children's teeth, eyes, noses, throats, ears, those especially should be examined by qualified doctors. And along with Sanford's other good work, it should be "pointing with pride" to the healthiest, most generally normal boys and girls in Florida.

It Will Show the Sanford Spirit

Enthusiasm is contagious. Without it little is actually accomplished. With it the most difficult problem is easily solved.

The city in which the people are filled with enthusiasm is usually the city that does things in a big way. Find a place where enthusiasm is dead and you have found a place where the population is on the decrease. Find a community that is forging ahead and you will find a people filled with pep and enthusiasm.

It is the spirit of the people of Florida that is making Florida such a wonderful state and that is drawing countless thousands to this land where prosperity reigns. As newcomers move here they become filled with the Florida spirit and begin radiating to their friends back north such enthusiasm that others are quickly drawn to the south. This is one of the great causes of Florida's stupendous growth.

Sanford cannot stress too emphatically the development of a spirit—a Sanford spirit. We all have the Florida spirit. We are always talking of Florida, but are we emphasizing the value of our own home city as much as we should and as much as we could? Are we boosting Sanford or do we talk Florida too much and Sanford entirely too little?

The greatest and fastest growing Florida cities are making their marvelous records because their citizens are boosting their towns. The people of the city with pep and hustle are filled with pep and hustle and talk nothing but the advantages and merits of their home towns. And when the people of Sanford talk nothing but Sanford we will show results in even a faster growth than is now in evidence.

Without enthusiasm nothing worth-while is achieved. With it the impossible is made easy.

The Sanford Chamber of Commerce has begun a drive for new members and an educational campaign which should have a far reaching effect. This is an opportunity for the people to demonstrate the spirit prevalent here by unitedly co-operating to the end that the campaign will bring great results.

Those who have the future of their city at heart will give the movement whole-hearted support. The results of the campaign will be evidence of the spirit found here.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

Karl Kitchen, who writes a column of Broadway gossip for one of the New York papers, stands sponsor for this revised version of an ancient but justly popular wheeze: According to Kitchen, it seems that a very distinguished motion picture producer—a man who is looked upon as a leader of the industry—went to call on one of his actors who was critically ill. In fact, it was because he was told that his former employe was dying that the producer visited the out-of-the-way tenement on the East Side, where the actor was gasping out his life. The great producer spent several minutes at the bedside of the dying man trying to cheer him up with the promise of a leading part in his next picture. "Why, you'll be yourself in no time," he went on. "I'll have you out in California and I'll make a real star out of you yet." The actor smiled a weak smile of protest. He did not have the strength to utter a syllable against the extravagant promises of his former employer. The caller took his departure. Starting down the narrow stairs he bumped his head against the ceiling. "Tush!" he exclaimed. Then a perfectly audible voice he added, "I wonder how in thunder they expect to get a coffin down these steps."

POLLUTING THE CHILDREN

THE NATIONAL REPUBLIC

In spite of the overwhelming victory won at the polls last year by the friends of constructive Americanism, the Communists and the other forces seeking to break down the American Constitution dangerous plans now being tried are still busy. One of the most out by the Reds is that which has for its purpose the lining up of the children of America in the Socialist movement. It is the purpose of this plan to teach children to disbelieve all stories of patriotism, to hate the flag and to refuse to support the American Government. At a recent Soviet meeting in New York attended by 15,000 people who paid fifty cents a head to get in, Jack Skatchel, an organizer of the Young Workers' Communist League, declared: "We are trying to organize the children of the working class, for in the schools they are taught to betray traitors to the workers." Fourteen-year-old Morris Sector, of Brooklyn, a pupil in the public schools and an organizer for the Young Workers' League, furnished the climax of the meeting when he addressed 100 school children seated near the platform. "Down with capitalism; down with its system; up with the Soviet republic," the youngster shouted, while the other children cheered and the big audience broke into volleys of applause. It was evident that the boy had been taught the speech by an older communist and had committed it to memory. The Red Workers have numerous young agents of this type at work, trying to teach the youngster that patriotism is something to be ashamed of, that the American Government means bondage for the workers and that the only system of government is that which is now in vogue in Red Russia. In Chicago recently Communist sympathizers with Soviet Russia broke up by violence a mass meeting at which Bolshevism was being criticized. There are the same Communist sympathizers who disclaim in favor of "free speech" for the propagandists of a form of government in which free speech is prohibited and a free press excluded. Patriotic Americans cannot afford to overlook this new menace.

As Brisbane Sees It

Devils In The Wind. Eastman Air Photos. If a Kitten Drowned. Luther, Calvin, Bryan. BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright, 1925)

THE TOWN of Herrin, where so many were killed in Klan and anti-Klan, bootleg and prohibition feuds, has been soothed by a great religious revival. One thousand are "saved." And everything is peace, instead of violence.

IN DAYTON, scene of the Bryan-Darrow-Monkey trial, something happened to the lighting system, darkness settled down and fundamentalists were worried. Satan, they thought, had come to town.

Strange that good, religious people should worry about darkness. Why not leave that to the friends of the monkeys? A hundred years ago, in great storms, deeply religious people reported devils riding in the wind. Church bells were rung to drive them away. Such things have not been reported lately. There is progress.

GEORGE EASTMAN, one of the world's highly scientific of the world's industrial revolution, co-operating with the army air service, has perfected a photography from flying machines. Lieutenant Godard announces a new process developed in the Eastman laboratories, enabling fliers to take photographs over enemy lines, develop them in the air in seven minutes, to fly back and drop them over their own lines without descending.

War is ever more complicated, and it is well for this country to own and understand the complications. WE READ this morning that floods have swept Korea, 3,000 are missing, houses and crops swept away. And it doesn't mean much. If we saw one kitten drowning in the gutter we should be more affected by it. This means that, fortunately for our peace of mind, we have little imagination.

DEEPLY RELIGIOUS men often make mistakes in science. Mr. Watson Davis mentions two instances. Martin Luther condemned savagely "an astrologer who strove to show that the world revolves, not the heavens or the firmament, the sun and the moon. This fool wishes to reverse the entire science of astronomy." But today not Galileo is the fool.

CALVIN, QUOTING the psalm which says "the world also is established that it cannot be moved," added, "who will venture to place the authority of Copernicus above that of the Holy Spirit?" And the good John Wesley thought the new ideas in astronomy showed a trend toward infidelity. Those were three good Protestants; they all worried about Galileo, as Bryan now worries about Darwin. But religion has survived their worry.

THIS "HUMOROUS" paragraph is published: "A country editor, having worked hard for thirty years, retired with $50,000 capital. He explained as follows: "I attribute my ability to retire with $50,000 to the fact that I worked very hard and saved every cent—and to the death of an uncle who left me $49,999.50."

Ten thousand country editors could testify that there is more truth than humor in that anecdote. The most useful, underpaid and earnest body of men in the nation are the editors of country newspapers. The pathetic fact is that they would be highly prosperous men if business and advertisers realized the truth that the country newspaper, in proportion to its circulation, is the best advertising medium in the country.

THE METROPOLITAN Germanos, high dignitary of the Greek Church, has been outrageously treated, his long hair and beard cut off by ruffians lacking respect for religion.

IN THE days of Peter the Great the whols of Russia was horrified by Peter's order that all Russians should cut their long beards and change their skirts for the clothing of Western Europe.

TO DISOBEY Peter meant death, and beads came off. Old-fashioned Russians kept their beards, had them buried with them that they might have them at Resurrection Day and not be disgraced "before the Angel Gabriel."

GASOLINE AND crude oil prices went up yesterday. Good news for the man with a big oil well, bad news for the man with a little gas engine. Money for speculation became a little cheaper, stocks a little dearer. Some big concerns announced greatly increased earnings. "To him the truth" shall be given, as usual.

EUROPE, IT seems, Etna and especially, is amused and delighted with our monkey trial. In some mysterious way it seems to confirm the poor opinion of America that developed in Europe when Uncle Sam said "pay me."

What can you expect if people want to collect a debt of honor? STANDARD OIL, by request of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., it is said, has reduced the working hours of men in the oil fields from twelve to eight a day. That is a step toward civilization. The eight hours will probably give as good results as the twelve hours have given hitherto. There is no permanent profit in barbarism.

A New and Faster Telephone Service to Orlando

Beginning July 20th a new and faster Long Distance Telephone service will be inaugurated from Sanford to Orlando.

Calls to Orlando can then be made by simply giving your regular operator the telephone number of the distant party.

For example, when your operator asks "Number, please," whether the number wanted, as, "Orlando 123." While you hold your receiver to your ear, she will ring the Orlando number.

The service is faster and the cost to you is less—20c for a five minute talk to Orlando.

This new, fast service applies to calls for numbers only. For a particular person and collect calls should be given to "Long Distance" in the usual way.

Beginning next Monday, try this service on your toll calls to Orlando.
