The event will be held Sunday from 2-4 p.m. giving residents, especially newcomers to the area, an opportunity to tour the museum and learn about the various items and displays that are part of Geneva's history.

Refreshments will be served during the Open House, and there is no charge for admission.

Fishing tourney Saturday

GENEVA — The Lions Club of Sanford annual fishing tournament for the blind is scheduled to resume Saturday at Muller Lake Park. The tournament was scheduled for last Saturday, but day-long rains prevented the "tourney" from being held.

A total of 23 blind adults and children are registered for the event. The fisherman with the largest snook, largest fish and largest total catch each will receive trophies, said event assistant Al Giffin. Fifteen local boaters will serve as captains and about 20 Lions members will be on hand to help, Giffin said.

This is one of the few times we actually come face to face with the people we support," Giffin said. "It's really heartwarming."

'House that Children Built' focus of area clean-up

By VICKI DeSORMIER
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — Don Nolt, who is with Habitat for Humanity in Seminole County, thinks the children of Seminole County really care for people in need.

He wants to translate that caring for others into adequate living accommodations for those in the county who are living in sub-standard conditions.

Nolt and his companions at Habitat for Humanity have begun to lay the groundwork for a program called the Houses That The Children

Build. Children will be organized into sponsored neighborhood work parties to clean up parks or streets.

"They'll get businesses or individuals to sponsor their work for a dollar an hour or whatever the sponsors find appropriate and that money would be used to build houses in the area for those who cannot afford to live in more acceptable housing," he said.

The idea began when the organizers were trying to devise a positive activity for children to take their minds off the Gulf War.

"There was an imbalance of war in their lives," Nolt said. "Of course that's history now, but we still feel the youngsters need something positive to focus on."

Job service busy from hard times

By LAURA L. SULLIVAN
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — Hard economic times have stepped up traffic at the local Job Services of Florida office this year at a rate that may reach 75 percent by July, according to Seminole County Job Service manager Cheryl Maughan.

In just over eight months, nearly 24,000 people have applied for employment through the Job Services offices in Sanford and Casselberry, Maughan said. If traffic continues at that rate, she said, those offices will have seen a 75 percent increase in applicants by the end of the fiscal year June 30.

Last year 19,000 people applied for work through the service, she said.

During the same period, Maughan said, job openings have decreased. At this rate, she said, the county will have seen a 19 percent decrease in openings at the fiscal year end.

"We have a lot of skilled trades people who are unemployed and we didn't use to have jobs," said Maughan. "Carpenters, construction workers and other highly skilled workers are seeking jobs in large numbers," she said.

"We also have many professional, white collar types who didn't have before," she said.

And prospects for the near future don't offer much relief, Maughan said. Her office is bracing for streamlining of state and local government.

Job Service in Seminole County placed eight percent more workers this year than last, but the office is now working with more applicants and fewer job openings, Maughan said.

Although Job Service offices are serving more people, Maughan said, a move toward automation has helped make serving large numbers easier and more efficient.

Job Service of Florida, located at 2400 Park Ave. in Sanford, offers job placement services at no fee. The state agency is funded by the Federal Unemployment Tax Act.

NASA teacher wows pupils

SANFORD — Sometimes career day at school can be pretty dull when you're in middle school. But not when Carol DeNicole comes to talk as students at Lakeview Middle School, 21 Lakeview Dr. in Sanford, discovered on Thursday.

DeNicole, a math teacher at Fruity Preparatory School, is also involved in educational programs at the Kennedy Space Center.

"She's very involved with the Teacher in Space program and was a candidate to be one of the teachers who would have been on the space shuttle," said Gloria Padawer, a guidance counselor at the school and a friend of DeNicole's.

Students who expected to hear the same old presentation about how the space shuttle works and how Lang was developed for the space program were surprised by DeNicole's presentation.

She told them about the difficulties of going to the bathroom in CAPE CANAVERAL — A tiny split on a replacement for Discovery's cracked door hinge isn't serious enough to keep the space shuttle grounded, a NASA official said.

"It's not a big deal. It's certainly safe. It's a little-bitty crack," William Lenoir, head of NASA's space flight program, said Thursday.

"Little starter cracks don't affect the operation, the structural integrity or anything. They make you scratch your conceded.

It's not the kind of thing you'd hear on a NASA film," Padawer

DeNicole told the students that her first love is teaching. Though she is involved in the space program, it is as a teacher and not primarily as an astronaut.

Padawer said DeNicole travels extensively throughout the country speaking about the space program to groups of students, teachers and scientists.

"She's a dynamic teacher," Padawer said. "She could teach anyone anything."

The students at the Lakeview career day were enthusiastic in their response to DeNicole's presentation.

She involves the students in every aspect of what she talks about," said Padawer who said that middle school students respond most favorably to hands-on presentations like DeNicole's.

"They can't help but learn from her," she said.

Festival in DeBary expected to jam U.S. 17-92 Saturday

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald Staff Writer

DeBARY — The fun, food and facts of old Florida is the theme of the 11th Annual DeBary Spring Festival Saturday at Lake Monroe Park.

Due to traffic congestion in the stretch of U.S. Highway 17-92 north of the St. Johns River into Orange County, motorists traveling north from Sanford should take Interstate 4 to DeLand and planes beyond. Two other festivals are scheduled in the DeBary-Orange City area Saturday that will make U.S. 17-92 a stop-go proposition for any motorist venturing through the area.

Deputies from Volusia and Seminole County will be on hand to make the best of the traffic situation.

Fun and... When a celebration of old Florida is the theme of the festival this year, which honors the town's namesake, Frederick DeBary, who built DeBary Hall in 1931, DeBary served host of the transition to the wealthy friends, including the Agnes the Gables and the Vanderbilts.

A Stephen Sondheim concert presented by the Sanford Community Center, a variety of symphonies, a marching band, a string quartet, the day, The DeBary Beach Band, the Signers, Sunday Chorus, with song and Dixieland jazz. Band will play old-time tunes at the park.

Surgeon General invited to Daytona's Spring Break

Associated Press
DAYTONA BEACH — Statements made by U.S. Surgeon General Antonio Novello have prompted local officials to issue an invitation to visit the East Coast's spring break capital to see that it's not a drunken party. County Commission Chairman Big John wrote to Dr. Novello saying her statements about the use of alcohol by spring breakers caused distortions in the national press and broadcast media about the true nature of the event. "Spring Break has become synonymous with excessive and binge drinking by our young people," the surgeon general said in a March 5 press conference. "Today's average college student spends more money on booze than on books." She asked the alcoholic beverage industry to quit promoting its products in a way which appeals to young people. John, also a member of the chamber's Spring Break Festival Task Force, sent the surgeon general a letter Tuesday asking her to come and get a firsthand view of how Spring Break is managed. "We have learned to appreciate our spring breakers and to understand them," John said. "We will play host this year to more than 400,000 spring breakers. These are the future leaders of our country."

Attorney missing seven years reported alive and doing well

Associated Press
DAYTONA BEACH — A Wisconsin attorney who vanished seven years ago is alive and living under an assumed name, but no details have been released on where he went or why he disappeared, officials said. Eugene Messina, now 46, vanished on March 1, 1984, after awakening his wife and telling her that he was going swimming. They were vacationing at a Desert Inn here at the time. Messina apparently wrote a letter to his mother in Miami. Daytona Beach Police Sgt. Larry Lewis confirmed Wednesday. Messina's attorney, David Lasker, of Madison, Wis., told Lewis that Messina is alive and is living under an assumed name, but he refused to provide further details, citing client-attorney privilege. Investigators learned Messina apparently had $6,000 with him when he left his motel room. His family and friends haven't heard from him since, according to Lewis, who was involved in the original investigation and has kept in touch with the legal representatives for Messina and his wife.

Jail trusty charged with possession

Sheriff's department buckles down on policy

SANFORD — Timothy Delnor Neighbor was found unconscious in his cell at the John E. Polk Correctional Facility on Feb. 10.

A syringe and a bottle containing an unidentified brown liquid was found on his person, authorities say. He was transported to Central Florida Regional Hospital where he spent a day under surveillance before being sent back to jail. He was charged on Thursday with introducing a contraband substance into his system and with possession of a contraband substance after a criminal investigation into the incident was completed.

Neighbor, 27, who was sentenced to a year in jail on charges of grand theft, was working as a trusty at the Seminole County Animal Control department at the time the overdose occurred.

The investigation revealed that Neighbor had injected himself with Pentobarbital, a drug used in the euthanization of animals.

He had gained access to the substance at the Animal Control department when he was cleaning the cages and water bowls of animals housed at the shelter.

The investigation into the incident by the Seminole County Sheriff's Office revealed that during the two months he had been assigned to the job at the animal shelter. Neighbor had access to the drug and used it on a regular basis.

The investigation revealed that Neighbor had been told by Animal Control employees that the drug was very potent and that introducing even a small amount of it into his system could be fatal.

The drugs were allegedly kept under lock with only Animal Control managers having access to the key. It is still unclear how Neighbor was able to gain access to the locked container.

Frank Kirk, acting director of the Animal Control department, said that Neighbor had free access to the room in which the drugs were kept, but did not have access to the drugs.

SANFORD — Carl Robert Alvarez, 26 of Casselberry is today being held at the Central Florida Reception Center in Orange County, awaiting transfer to federal prison following his sentencing Thursday to two terms of life imprisonment. He had been charged in the child abuse and death of his step-son, 7-year-old Joshua Boynton in December 1989.

Alvarez was sentenced to two consecutive terms of life imprisonment, each with a minimum of 25 years before parole could be considered, which prevents him from requesting parole for the next 50 years.

The sentences for the two guilty verdicts involving first degree murder, and aggravated child abuse and sexual battery of the young boy who died on December 7, 1989 were handed out yesterday by Circuit Judge Seymour Benson, at the conclusion of the trial held at the Seminole County Courthouse.

The trial was the second held for Alvarez. The first one, which began in late January of this year, ended on February 5, with the jury voting 8 to 4 in favor of the death penalty. Assistant Public Defender Arthur Haft, who was handling Alvarez's defense, requested a motion for a new trial, claiming the verdict was based on circumstantial evidence, plus several other objections including comments made during the case to members of the jury. The motion for a re-hearing was approved.

The second trial began the afternoon of March 5. During the trial's progress, a number of persons called to testify, spoke in favor of Alvarez. Even letters commending Alvarez on such matters as his good character at his place of work were entered into evidence for the defense.

Members of Alvarez's family were adamant in their belief that he could not have been responsible for either of the two charges against him. They vowed to make an attempt to have the investigation continue and hoped for another trial.

A sad case

The tall, emaciated figure of Alan Cranston caught attention when he ran in senior track events. It is attracting attention now as his political career ends in the disgrace of the savings and loan scandal.

He says he has been unfairly singled out. Certainly the other four members of the Keating Five deserve more than the wrist slaps the Senate Ethics Committee gave them. But Cranston was by far the most culpable, and he faces possible censure or lesser punishment from his peers. The Senate club is most reluctant to discipline its members, but in Cranston's case, there was no choice.

Cranston's political future is all behind him. He has announced he will not seek reelection, thus avoiding the ultimate disgrace of defeat.

He seemed to have a future, once. A liberal aristocrat, he founded the California Democratic club movement that coalesced behind Adlai Stevenson in the election of 1952. He gave inspirational speeches about the rights of man and world peace through law.

It was an agenda of fine words, grand intentions and shallow roots. The professions of faith in the future of humanity were a cover, in Cranston's case, for an intense and single-minded interest in the grubby mechanics of political action and in the advancement of his own political career.

Thus as state controller, he manipulated the appointment of a corps of inheritance tax appraisers to do his political dirty work. As a U.S. senator, he did the vote counting for his fellow Democrats as Senate whip and worked behind the scenes to use his membership on the Banking Committee for the greatest possible financial advantage of his political campaigns.

It was this connection with the bankers and savings and loan promoters that was his downfall. His assiduous pursuit of funds was shameless and ceaseless. He outdid all others in demanding monetary tribute for political favors.

The system was largely to blame. It must be changed. Election campaign funding must be reformed. But Alan Cranston is responsible for his own reprehensible actions. His failure to live up to his early political promise is tragic. It was, in essence, a failure to embrace any practical agenda except his own ambition.

You know who you are

It's Wednesday, March 6, 1991, and you killed our dog this morning.

Never mind the fact that you were speeding through our quiet and peaceful neighborhood which is posted 25 MPH. You probably speed every time you get behind the wheel.

Never mind the fact that you, in your total disregard for the well-being of others when you were speeding, struck an animal that was a cherished family member and killed him.

We could forgive these things.

What we can never forgive is the fact that you didn't have the decency to stop. It makes us wonder what kind of person you are. It would appear that you have very little regard for life. We're sure you're thinking, "It was just a dog," but he was more than "just a dog" to us. He was a member of our family...a treasured part of us and you have taken him from us without so much as a simple "I'm sorry." We wonder if it matters to you that he suffered before he died.

We are consumed with grief over our loss and we will be saddened for a long time to come but we pity you because you obviously value little and have no regard for the feelings of others. Your level of consciousness of what is right and wrong or decent is questionable too.

We wonder...if you had struck a child on a bicycle or perhaps an elderly person walking along...would you have stopped then? You know, it could easily have happened that way.

We know that telling you how we feel won't bring our friend back but maybe it will spare someone else the pain of a broken heart over such a loss. Maybe you'll slow down. Maybe if you ever do this again, God forbid, you'll stop and simply say, "I'm sorry, I didn't mean it...is there anything I can do?"

For your sake, whoever you are, don't come down our street again!!!

Now Democrats are domesticated

The congressional Democrats and their defenders in the Washington press corps are thoroughly upset over reports that the Republicans intend to hold them responsible in the 1992 campaign, for how they voted on authorizing President Bush to use force in the Persian Gulf.

Just why this should be considered dirty pool is unclear. The vote was one of the most important they will ever cast. If they had won (and in the Senate they came very close), we would now be in the eighth month of U.N.-decreed economic sanctions against Iraq, and Saddam Hussein would still be in undisturbed possession of Kuwait.

Does anyone in his right mind seriously think that economic sanctions alone, even if they were scrupulously observed, would have been enough to drive the Iraqis out of Kuwait?

And if not — if it slowly became clear that sanctions were simply a diplomatic way of doing nothing — would military action still have been a viable option? Could the United States have kept several hundred thousand of its crack troops twiddling their thumbs in the Arabian desert for 18 months, then expect them to launch a devastating attack against a well-prepared Iraq if Sam Nunn and his cronies finally got around to admitting that an attack was necessary?

Yet 45 Democratic senators voted for exactly that scenario. No wonder they don't want to discuss it.

Their media defenders sniff that the Republicans will be callously partisan if they raise the subject. But the vote authorizing President Bush to use force if necessary was, for both Republicans and Democrats, as partisan a vote as the rules of Congress permit. In the House, just 88 Democrats out of 287 slipped the leash; in the Senate, only 10 out of 58. And yet the Republicans are accused of partisanship!

Democratic opposition to the authorizing resolution takes its place in a lengthening line of actions suggesting that the Democratic Party, under its present leadership, is fundamentally incapable of mapping a sound or even a safe course for the country in matters of defense and foreign affairs. Don't forget, this is the party that less than three years ago thought the man to lead America was Michael Dukakis — and persuaded 10 states to agree.

So the Democrats in 1992 will seek to stress domestic issues — summed up by one liberal recently as "weakening productivity, a deteriorating environment, collapsing infrastructure and third-rate education system."

One wonders, though, why anyone should consider any of those issues Democratic strong points. Since when has anybody identified the Democratic party with productivity? It has overregulated the economy to the point of strangulation, and is now making disguised racial job quotas a permanent feature of its program, but what do these do for productivity?

They have spent billions upon billions of taxpayers' dollars on environmental nostrums, yet tell us the environment is still "deteriorating." Is there something wrong, maybe, with their way of improving it?

And what, precisely, causes a "collapsing infrastructure"? More often than not, it is the crooked contractors.

No wonder they don't want to discuss it.

Let's not forget the hostages

WASHINGTON — In a season of celebration for the freed prisoners and returning veterans of the Persian Gulf War, it's time for another sort of ceremony, a bleak one at the sixth anniversary of Terry Anderson's captivity in Lebanon.

The contrasts are jarring. So far, America's Middle East victory does not apply to Anderson or to the other five U.S. hostages, reportedly moved by their captors from Beirut to the Baalbeck area in eastern Lebanon.

The war against Iraq was won in 42 days, the ground war in 100 hours. Anderson has been held hostage for 2,187 days. In the conflict over Kuwait, the one posted demand of his kidnapers was rendered moot. The Muslim extremists who seized Anderson on March 18, 1985, demanded the release of fellow Shillies imprisoned by Kuwait for terrorist bombings there. The last of them was freed when Iraq invaded on Aug. 2.

Syria, which joined the U.S.-led coalition against Iraq, is the dominant force in Lebanon, a coalition strengthened during the Persian Gulf crisis. The Syrian army controls the region where the hostages are believed held by pro-Iranian Muslim factions grouped together as Hezbollah, or the Party of God. Iran remained officially neutral in the war that drove Iraq from Kuwait.

Despite their power in the region, the Syrians have avoided confrontation with Iranian-backed factions. There are said to be about 3,000 Iranian Revolutionary Guard troops in or near Baalbeck.

Secretary of State James A. Baker III is to visit Damascus later this week, meeting with Syrian President Hafez Assad as part of the postwar quest for a comprehensive peace settlement in the Middle East.

President Bush said Baker would raise the plight of the hostages in Lebanon. "We have not forgotten them," Bush told Congress in his March 6 victory speech. "We will not forget them."

Next day at the White House, Bush's spokesman said there had to be some hope that with all the changes in the Middle East, the captors would see the futility of continuing to hold the hostages.

But on Monday, White House Press Secretary Marlin Fitzwater said the administration had no word on the whereabouts of the hostages, and nothing to indicate that they might soon be freed.

Fitzwater said there are continuing U.S. contacts abroad on the hostage situation. "I assume those are still happening, but I don't have any new breakthroughs to report or anything like that," he said.

And the last word from Hezbollah, on March 6, was that the organization would not force release of the hostages.

Such words of hope, uncertainty and intransigence have been heard again and again since the ordeal of American hostages in Lebanon began in 1983.

Anderson, 43, chief Middle East correspondent of The Associated Press, is now the longest held American hostage. The others are Thomas Sutherland, Joseph Cicippio, Jesse Turner and Alann Steen, all of whom were educators in Beirut, and Edward Austin Tracy, a writer.

There are seven other western hostages, four of them British, two German, one Italian, all believed held by the same Muslim groups.

On Friday, Anderson's family, colleagues and friends, and the families of other hostages will gather for still another anniversary observance, sponsored by an organization called No Greater Love.

This time, there will be words of thanksgiving for the release of other captives — the 21 POWs who came home on Sunday, the CBS News crew held captive for six weeks by Iraq, the 40 journalists captured last week near Basra, freed on Saturday.

There also will be demands for the same kind of U.S. and international pressure to gain release of the hostages in Lebanon.

They are fewer in number, less visible, captives of shadow factions, with not even an enemy government to be held accountable for their plight.

But the new, peaceful world order President Bush envisions will be a hollow one unless Anderson and the other hostages are at long last freed to join in it.

Haiti's new leader seems slow to act

WASHINGTON — The newly elected leader of Haiti will have to do more than lead a witch hunt for his enemies if he wants to turn his country around.

Jean-Bertrand Aristide presides over the most pitiful economy in the Western Hemisphere. The diminutive former priest captured Haiti's heart by coming from out of nowhere to win the nation's first free democratic elections last November. And he promised to purge Haiti of all traces of the past corrupt dictatorships.

But so far Aristide has done little to take advantage of his pivotal place in Haitian history. It appears he has little else on his mind but the elimination of his enemies and potential enemies.

Weeks before Aristide took office a former leader of the brutal secret police under dictator Jean Claude Duvalier tried to seize the palace and failed. Aristide seems determined to make sure there is no one else breathing down his neck. He even went so far as to fire the upper ranks of the military and demand that the interim president who preceded him, Ertha Pascal Trulliot, not leave the country, apparently fearing she might abscond with government money.

He has done little to take advantage of his pivotal place.

Most Haitians credit Trulliot with holding Haiti together in the turbulent time leading up to the election and find it ludicrous that Aristide believes she wants to sneak out of the country.

Aristide was not the choice of the U.S. government, and now the State Department and Congress don't know what to do with him. After years of waiting and working toward a democratic election, the people of Haiti picked a raving anti-capitalist and notorious America-basher.

His knack for blaming all of Haiti's problems on the United States has prompted some to call him "little Castro." It didn't escape the notice of U.S. diplomats that the largest foreign contingent at Aristide's inauguration came from Cuba. Cuba is now privately offering to educate Aristide's political operatives.

The Bush administration and the international banking community are less than impressed with Aristide's economic plan. The World Bank sent a team to Haiti to interview Aristide in late December. An internal World Bank report concluded after an encounter that Aristide is "obsessed with eliminating corruption" and that he believed the absence of corruption would mean the end of Haiti's problems. The World Bank also reported, "there seemed to be an almost total lack of qualified economists among Aristide's inner circle."

Aristide is considered unpredictable and unstable. As a leftist priest, he was thrown out of his Roman Catholic order for preaching what the church considered to be class warfare.

He can also be reclusive — refusing to be seen in public for a week or more and then suddenly emerging to light up a crowd. There are also indications that he is thin skinned. He claims to favor a free press, but snaps at reporters and tries to discredit their publications.

Meanwhile, in spite of democracy, violence continues in the streets of Haiti and many of the dead bodies that turn up are considered to be innocent victims of anti-Duvalier factions. Hanging over Aristide's head is the trademark of past Haitian dictators — a violent purge of their enemies in the name of eliminating corruption.

The Haitian business community is spooked. If Haiti ever had any big money, it is leaving for Miami, and American business interests are cutting back if not bailing out. Aristide came by his fanaticism honestly.

Alzheimer drug's fate weighed

By PAUL REGER
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON — The Food and Drug Administration is considering approving the first drug proposed for the treatment of Alzheimer's disease, even though the agency questioned research on the drug last January.

The drug, called tacrine or THA, has left a trail of controversy through more than five years of research and an FDA hearing was scheduled today to evaluate the results of new studies at 16 different university hospitals.

Sources familiar with the studies say THA has shown it can improve the thinking processes in some Alzheimer's patients, but, at the same time, the drug can pose a serious risk of liver damage if misused.

"It's going to be a close call," said a researcher who spoke on condition of anonymity. "It's really a question of tradeoffs."

Although THA may help the thinking processes of Alzheimer's patients, the researcher said, there is no evidence that it stops the disease process itself. In effect, he said, the drug treats only the symptoms of memory loss typical of the brain disease.

"It's going to be a close call. It's really a question of tradeoffs."

-Drug researcher

A study published by Dr. William K. Summers of Arcadia, Calif., in the New England Journal of Medicine in 1986 said THA was found to ease the Alzheimer's symptoms in 17 patients.

The report set off a demand for the drug, which is available overseas, and the government later banned its importation while clinical trials in this country were under way.

In January, the FDA published a sharply worded criticism of Summers' study, saying it "led many to believe that a major breakthrough had been made in the treatment of Alzheimer's."

The agency said an investigation "has revealed deficiencies of sufficient importance to raise major questions" about Summers' conclusions.

Furthermore, the FDA questioned whether THA actually relieved Alzheimer's symptoms and said any possible benefit from THA could be offset by the drug's tendency to cause liver damage.

Alzheimer's disease is the fourth leading cause of death among American adults, killing more than 100,000 annually. About 4 million the U.S. are thought to be afflicted.

The disease causes a slow deterioration of mental function, such as memory. Eventually patients lose control of body functions, become unable to care for themselves and then die. The disease process may take 20 years, causing an immense financial and emotional burden on families.

Researchers and pharmaceutical firms have been scrambling for years to find a drug to treat Alzheimer's, and THA is the first proposed for FDA approval for that specific use.

Warner-Lambert Co., parent firm of Parke-Davis, is seeking approval to market THA under the brand name Cognex.

Clinical trials have been under way at 16 university hospitals under the sponsorship of Warner-Lambert. At one point, the studies were halted when liver damage was detected in a number of patients. The trials resumed, however, when dosages were reduced.

School superintendent: I'm under house arrest

By JOE BIGHAM
Associated Press Writer

DELANO, Calif. — Seven months ago, Fred Mendoza was an eager new school superintendent. Today, he feels like he's under house arrest.

DeLano High School trustees have had trouble getting along with their superintendents for at least a decade. But Mendoza is the first superintendent relieved of his duties and ordered to stay home from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on school days in case a school official needs him.

"I've never heard of a superintendent being told to stay home by the phone and told the hours he has to stay there," said Kelly Blanton, superintendent of schools in Kern County, said Thursday. "It's bizarre."

Kern County includes Delano: Its superintendent's office provides services and advice to local school districts within the county.

Mendoza's critics on the board and in the school administration think the assignment is reasonable.

"He's not under house arrest; that's illegal," said A. Herbert Murray, an assistant superintendent. He wore a "Support the Board" lapel sticker at Tuesday's meeting when trustees relieved Mendoza of his duties.

"He was just reassigned, that's all," Murray said. "The board told him to go home and be available for the board and staff. The district is still paying his salary."

The trustees also ordered Mendoza not to speak publicly about the matter. That worked, for the most part. In a 10-minute telephone interview from his home, Mendoza was reticent on the subject, though he did say he feels like he's under "house arrest."

Mendoza, who will be paid until his contract expires in June, said he's consulting a lawyer to find out if his reassignment and gag order are legal.

He also pointed out the school has had about nine superintendents in 10 years. Blanton confirmed this, noting some appointments were temporary replacements.

Trustee Manuel Ochoa said the 3-2 board majority "lost confidence and trust" in the 51-year-old Mendoza over budget problems in the 3,000-student district. Blanton said the county administration warned the DeLano High district might have a $1 million deficit this school year, which ends June 30.

"We've tried to build a team. He (Mendoza) tried to undermine that," Ochoa said.

Trustee J.R. Teasley, who opposed Mendoza's removal, blamed the school's problems in part on Delano's ethnic and racial variety.

"It's a turmoil, no doubt about that, when there is so much change in the administration," Teasley said. "I suppose it is related to the change in the structure of the community."

A sign at the edge of this farming town 125 miles north of Los Angeles declares Delano "The International Community."

Its 22,000 residents are a mix of Filipinos, Hispanics, blacks and whites, including descendants of European immigrants who generations ago planted the area's famous table grapes.

Flower shop owner Dorothy Kasiner believes the school board never will be able to satisfy everyone.

The amount of personal loan interest that's tax deductible in 1991.

The amount of closing costs you pay on our home equity loan.

Two Reasons For Getting A Barnett Home Equity Loan That Have Nothing In Common.

As many of you probably already know, the tax laws have changed. And as of January 1991, the interest on most personal loans is no longer deductible.

Just about the only personal interest that is deductible is that which you pay on your home.*

That's where a Barnett Home Equity Loan comes in. Not only do you get a loan with tax deductibility, you also get one that's very flexible. You can use it to pay for a car, a boat, a vacation or tuition.

You can even use the funds to make certain investments or consolidate other loans into just one payment.

That's not all.

Now through May 15, Barnett will pay the closing costs associated with the loan.** That can save you hundreds of dollars right from the start.

To make things even easier, you can have your loan payment automatically deducted from your checking or savings account. And if you have recurring borrowing needs, ask about Barnett's Home Equity CreditLine.

So come in to your local Barnett office and find out how a couple of things that have nothing in common can actually save you money.

*Subject to certain important qualifications, generally, interest paid on home secured loans is tax deductible. Please consult with your individual tax adviser for the tax consequences of any financial transaction.
**Offer applies only to Home Equity Loans. National closing costs apply to other mortgage finance programs. Offer expires May 15, 1991. ©1991 Barnett Banks, Inc.

Dog sled race rushes toward finish

By JULIA RUBIN
Associated Press Writer

NOME, Alaska — While other mushers turned back in a blizzard, Rick Swenson plowed ahead through thigh-high snowdrifts and headed for a record fifth win today in the Iditarod Trail Sled Dog Race.

Swenson, of Two Rivers, started the 22-mile run to the finish line in Nome with a big lead over defending champion and fellow four-time winner Susan Butcher, who lost the lead Thursday when she reversed course during the blizzard.

Swenson left the final checkpoint at Safety at 9:55 p.m. Thursday.

He had gambled that his team could find its way through the Arctic storm and overcome the one-hour lead Butcher had held.

Butcher, 1989 winner Joe Runyan and Tim Osmar lost the trail and returned to the White Mountain checkpoint, 77 miles from the finish line. They headed out again just before 9 p.m. Thursday.

Swenson said he took shelter from a whiteout in an abandoned cabin along the trail. But he trusted his dogs to find their way.

"They have confidence in themselves, and I had confidence in them and the fact they were here before," Swenson said. "They never laid down on me and said, 'No, we're not going any farther.' I think they trust me."

"I knew there were an awful lot of people pulling for me and I wasn't going to let them down and turn around," he said.

Swenson won the race four times between 1977 and 1982. He has run 15 Iditarods — more consecutive races than any other musher — and placed in the top five all but once.

Swenson was second to Butcher in 1987 and 1988.

Wind in the White Mountain area Thursday gusted from 46 to 57 mph and the temperature was about 20 degrees below zero, officials said.

The 1,163-mile Anchorage-to-Nome race recreates a historic 1925 relay by dog sled carrying lifesaving serum during a diphtheria epidemic. It is named for an old mining town along the route.

The race usually lasts 11 to 14 days. It started March 2 with a record 75 mushers and more than 1,400 dogs.

The winner gets $50,000.

Rebel: Iraqi troops hit civilians; U.S. troops reported redeployed

By JOHN RICE
Associated Press Writer

NICOSIA, Cyprus — Kurdish rebels said today that Saddam Hussein's loyalists used warplanes and helicopter gunships to attack civilians in an effort to crush a spreading rebellion.

President Bush warned Saddam that using the combat helicopters could delay a formal cease-fire in the Persian Gulf War. A U.S. newspaper reported that American troops were re-taking positions they abandoned deep within Iraq, seeking to pressure Saddam.

Shiite Muslim leaders accused the Iraqi president's elite Republican Guard of damaging some of Islam's holiest shrines during clashes in southern Iraq on Thursday.

Since the allied offensive two weeks ago that crushed Saddam's army in Kuwait and seized a large portion of southern Iraq, Baghdad has been struggling to maintain control over numerous insurgencies.

Jalal Talabani, head of the Patriotic Union of Kurdistan, said Iraqi troops rounded up residents from government-held parts of Kirkuk and then strafed them with helicopters. He claimed hundreds of people were killed or wounded.

U.S. troops are not going to be—all of them—out of there until there's a cease-fire, a formalized cease-fire.

—President Bush

The rebels claims have been impossible to confirm, because no Western reporters have been able to reach the fighting in recent days.

Talabani, who spoke in Damascus, Syria, also claimed the government used warplanes to attack protesters in other parts of Kurdistan. He said Iraqi forces set four oil wells ablaze before being forced out of eastern Kirkuk, a major oil center.

He said Dohuk province bordering Turkey "has been liberated" by the rebel forces fighting for autonomy from the central government.

On Thursday, Bush said U.S.-led allied troops, who control 20 percent of Iraq's territory following the Persian Gulf War, "are not going to be—all of them—out of there until there's a cease-fire, a formalized cease-fire."

Elements of the 101st Airborne and the 1st Cavalry Army divisions were reoccupying their most advanced positions in the Euphrates River valley, the Los Angeles Times reported today.

The dispatch from the Saudi capital of Riyadh quoted Marine Brig. Gen. Richard Neal, deputy director of operations for the U.S. Central Command.

"The purpose is to maintain a presence until the cease-fire is agreed to," Neal was quoted as saying in an interview with the newspaper.

Troops are pushing as much as 30 miles northward from the southern Iraqi region seized during the four-day ground war that drove Iraq from Kuwait, the newspaper reported.

Although fighting has stopped, Iraq has yet to meet all the United Nations requirements under which a permanent cease-fire would take effect.

In other developments, ●The Red Cross handed over 499 prisoners of war to Iraqi officials today after a four-day delay because of the chaos in Iraq. Twelve Red Cross-chartered buses drove into Iraq after the prisoners were handed over near the Saudi desert town of Arar.

Talks stall on implementing cuts in the European forces

By BARRY SCHWEID
AP Diplomatic Writer

MOSCOW — U.S. and Soviet negotiators are finding "common ground" on the Middle East but report little progress on implementing an already signed treaty to reduce tanks and other non-nuclear weapons in Europe.

Secretary of State James A. Baker III and Soviet Foreign Minister Alexander Bessmertnykh held a second session of wide-ranging talks today after telling aides Thursday to work out differences on implementing the Conventional Forces in Europe, or CFE, agreement and report back today.

The wrangling is delaying action on another treaty to curb long-range nuclear missiles and could impact on setting a date for the next superpower summit between President Bush and Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev.

"I don't think there was very much progress..." Baker told reporters this morning while posing for pictures with the Soviet foreign ministers. "We've got to thrash through that and straighten it out."

He said negotiators will continue working on resolving the disputes through his three-day stay here.

Bessmertnykh said that during talks Thursday night, the two sides found "a lot of common ground" on the post-war Middle East. He said both sides were eager for a settlement and had similar approaches to the problem while also having "differences, which is natural."

"We talked for two hours, devoting practically 90 percent of the time to discussing Middle Eastern issues and the gulf situation," Bessmertnykh said.

Baker gave Bessmertnykh a report on his five-nation trip to the Middle East. The Bush administration is determined to have the Soviets play a role in efforts to reconcile Israel and the Arabs.

On that front, Baker's visit already is productive. He was scheduled to meet later today with Gorbachev after the morning session with Bessmertnykh, their second since Baker's arrival Thursday from Syria.

The United States, which long sought to keep the Soviet Union out of Middle East diplomacy, has promised the Kremlin a postwar role in the Middle East peace process, but has not defined what it wants that role to be.

Some Soviet military officers have voiced concern about the potential growth of American influence in the region following OVIEDO — Chad Kessler hit a sacrifice fly to score Matt Diemer with the winning run in the top of the ninth inning to give Lake Mary an 8-7 victory over host Oviedo on Thursday night.

Brian Marotta, 3-0, was the winning pitcher. He worked the final three innings, giving up an earned run on two hits while striking out four and walking one. Scott Hagge suffered the loss.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Douglas Edwards muscled inside for 24 points and 10 rebounds Thursday night, leading seventh-seeded Florida State to a 75-72 victory over Southern Cal in the Southeast Regional.

The 220-pound Edwards stole the spotlight from another sophomore, Harold Miner of 10th-seeded Southern Cal. Miner, a two-time All-Pac 10 player, came in averaging nearly 24 points per game. He finished with 16, but made just seven of 27 shots.

The win was the eighth straight for FSU (21-10), which is making its third NCAA tournament appearance in the past four years.

TAMPA — Dave Buckner jump-started Fordham's offense with his sixth 3-point basket and the Rams scored the last 15 points of the game to rally for a 78-66 victory over South Florida in the opening round of the National Invitation Tournament.

Buckner finished with 25 points, including six of seven shots from 3-point range, as Fordham improved to 25-7 — the best record of any team not selected to play in the NCAA tournament.

Florida Manor beats Town and Country R.V. to claim title

From staff reports

SANFORD — When play began in the final evening of the regular season of the Sanford Recreation Thursday Polar Bear Softball League at Chase Park last night, there was a chance that the league could end in a three-way tie.

That possibility lasted all of an hour. Florida Manor, which began the night with a one-game lead over Grace Apostolic and First Baptist, took care of business in the first game and clinched the league title outright with a 12-2 win over winless Town and Country R.V.

Grace Apostolic and First Baptist both won their games to finish tied for second, Grace Apostolic slipping by Dunbar's 11-10 and First Baptist rallying by Gator's Docksides 6-5.

Florida Manor finished the season with an 8-2 mark while Grace Apostolic and First Baptist both finished 7-3 ahead of Gator's Docksides (5-5), Dunbar's (3-7) and Town and Country R.V. (0-10).

Bryan Hartman collected a double, two singles and a run scored to lead Florida Manor's 12-hit attack. Ron Lesage added two singles and two runs scored while Kirk Reninger singled twice and scored once. Kyle Brubaker had one single and scored three runs.

Town and Country R.V.	000 002 0 — 2 9
Florida Manor	161 031 0 — 12 12

Grace Apostolic	150 040 1 — 11 17
Gator's Docksides	010 103 0 — 5 7
First Baptist	210 011 1 — 4 14

Also contributing for Florida Manor were Rick Poore and Joe Ferpes (one single and two runs scored each), Joe DiBartolo (single, run scored) and Kent Brubaker (single).

For Town and Country R.V., Gilbert Galarza and Peter Galarza each singled and scored a run. Collecting one single each were Jimmy Ramos, Willie Lopez, Edwin Rivera, Mark Sanders, Jim Marzuarlo, Jose Galarza and Leo Marrero.

Grace Apostolic, which had only nine players take the field, broke a 10-10 tie with a run in the bottom of the seventh to claim its win. After Otis Raines reached on a fielder's choice, Al Campbell advanced him with a single. Mike Edgecombe then tipped a double to score Raines with the winning run.

Edgecombe led Grace Apostolic's 17-hit assault with two triples and two runs scored to go with his double. Campbell also had a double, another single and two runs scored while Thad Brooks chipped in with a double, two singles and one run scored.

Other contributors included Arthur Jackson (triple, single, two runs scored), Mike Eason (two singles, two runs scored), Ron Wise and Raines (each with a single and a run scored) and Russell Hallman and Anthony Freeman (one single each).

For Dunbar's, which rallied from deficits of 6-3 and 10-8 to tie the score twice, Mike Gray tripled, doubled and scored a run to highlight a 17-hit effort. Dave Sowers doubled, singled and scored two runs while Steve Abar singled twice and scored two runs.

Also chipping in were Tim Gillis (double, single), Andy Jones (three singles), Ken Perry (single, two runs scored), Wayne Kelly (single, run scored), John Norman (double), Bob Kirschner (two runs scored) and Tyrone Wilson, Al Sether and Tim Davis (one single each).

Fashion trends emerge at benefit

War-torn Israel to receive money raised

By LACY DOMEN
Herald People Editor

LAKE MARY — Lake Mary resident Rosella Bonham has combined two of her many passions in planning an upcoming benefit luncheon and fashion show.

Bonham is active in the local chapter of Hadassah, a fund-raising Zionist organization and study group founded in 1912. Hadassah contributes to the Israeli hospital by the same name that accepts all ill persons, regardless of wealth or religious affiliations. Hadassah Hospital has pioneered many surgical procedures commonly used in medicine today.

Bonham said one of her other passions is fashion.

"I love clothes. And our group wanted to provide an emergency fund to Israel after the Scud missile attacks so we're very excited about our benefit fashion show," Bonham said.

Together with fashion coordinator, Bernice Davids, Bonham enlisted the help of Robin Coulantes, who is providing the clothing from her Park Avenue, Winter Park shop, Lexington's, for the show.

Coulantes also provided some insight into summer fashions, many of which will be shown at the Hadassah fashion show.

Central Florida women can look for bright colors and bright prints all summer: fuschias, bright blues and sun yellows.

Pastels are beginning to appear on the fashion scene, Coulantes said. Look for shell pink, seafoam and lavender.

"One important turnaround is that pastels will go into fall this year," Coulantes said.

Skirts are short. Some longer lengths have shown up in New Robin Coulantes, Rosella Bonham and Bernice Davids consider linen trousers and beaded sweaters to be modeled in the upcoming Hadassah benefit fashion show.

York collections, and Coulantes said, they will be available here.

"Longer skirts are narrower with an off-center slit in front," she said.

The big news for Florida is 'city shorts'.

"Many working women are opting for the look of shorts with a jacket. This will carry into fall and winter also," Coulantes said.

Modeling in the fashion show will be: Marilyn Zilberg, Leah Sandhaus, Bunnie Rosen, Ellen Morrell, Debbie Davids, Cheryl Griffin and Rosella Bonham.

Hairstyling will be donated by Moriah Brandons of Longwood.

Gertrude Freeman of Alauqua, has donated a Leon Gordon Miller lithograph for auction to benefit Hadassah. Miller was a multi-media artist who had won international recognition before his death in 1986. Sally Worden, from Frame Factory in Lake Mary, donated the framing for the lithograph.

Luncheon will be prepared by Chef Christopher Ferris.

The fashion show and luncheon will be held at Alauqua Country Club on March 26, from

Girl's baby shower turned life around

DEAR ABBY: The letter you published from the office women, in conflict over whether a baby shower should be given for an unwed mother-to-be, revived a long-forgotten memory.

In 1962, I was 17 and had just graduated from high school. I had to give up two scholarships to college and take a job because I was pregnant and unmarried. In those days, most unwed mothers were sent away to have their babies, then gave them up for adoption so that no one in the family would be embarrassed. I chose to stay home and keep my baby.

I'm sure my parents were embarrassed and disappointed in me. The baby's father and I were immature, and a silly quarrel had caused our breakup. I was so depressed that I considered suicide on a daily basis.

In my seventh month of pregnancy, 30 women from my office gave me a baby shower! I can't begin to tell you how much it meant to me to have those wonderful women shower me with their good wishes and much-needed gifts. They literally saved my life and my baby's life.

That shower turned my life around. After that, I was able to hold my head up. When my son was a year old, his father and I got together and were married. Five years later, we had another son. I worked while my husband finished college, and after he graduated, I went to college and graduated in 1977. Today, our firstborn is married and has a son of his own.

Abby, when I think of how close I came to ending my life, I shudder. I also thank God for those wonderful co-workers who didn't ponder whether it was proper to give a baby shower for an unmarried girl. That shower brought me out of the worst depression of my life.

Your advice was right on, Abby. Keep up the good work.

"A NEW LEASE ON LIFE"

"For lo, the winter is past,
The rain is over and gone;
The flowers appear on the earth:
The time of the singing of birds has come"
Song of Solomon 2:11-12

Hold on to your hat! March is here, bringing with it the blustery winds which blow away winter and herald the arrival of spring; winds sweeping over the earth like a magic wand, leaving tiny buds where there were barren branches and green grass in the place of lingering winter snow.

Take a deep breath. Let the scent of spring permeate your very being. Spring. The word itself is poetry in motion. There is a new spring in your step. You can feel the energy all around you.

Each year at this time, God gives us a "new lease on life"; a time of hope and change; a time for growth and renewal.

Grow to know God, the Giver of all that is good, as you worship Him each week. He will renew your spirit and redeem your soul.

LAKE MARY — A six-classroom Sunday School unit for Grace United Methodist Church, 499 N. Country Club Rd., was approved in concept at the church's Administrative Council recently according to Dr. Richard Albury, pastor.

The program for the expansion is being done in conjunction with the Claim the Flame campaign of the Florida Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church.

In combining the local needs with the larger program, the Grace congregation will be able to conduct a single financial drive.

This interim unit will be designed for use between three and five years. By then, the congregation will be ready to move forward with permanent construction of phase two of the master plan.

Dr. Albury, pastor since June 1990, notes that three classes each week are meeting in rooms years," he said. The mood of the council was strongly supportive of this step forward, according to Dr. Albury.

Tom Schatz, church lay leader and co-chairman for the Claim the Flame program at Grace, commented on the reasons for the favorable endorsement of the project. "We were able to show the need for the local project as well as supporting the larger church effort," he said. "We had the answers that encouraged support."

The financial crusade will be launched at a series of dinners March 22 and 23.

In the slightly more than three years, Grace United has received 189 new members. An average worship attendance has increased by 50 percent and Sunday School by 20 percent.

Avoid side effects of asthma drug

DEAR DR. GOTT: My 6-year-old son has asthma for which he takes Sio-bid twice a day. It frightens me to give him medicine constantly, yet if I stop, his condition worsens. Are there long-term side effects?

I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Consumer Tips on Medicines." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their names and addresses to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

(C)1991 NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

DEAR READER: Asthma, a chronic lung disorder marked by cycles of difficulty in breathing, is ordinarily treated with bronchodilators, medicines to release bronchial constriction. The medicines are available in pills, liquids and inhaled aerosols.

Sio-bid (theophylline) is a timed-release oral bronchodilator. It is an effective asthma preventative but is not recommended for children under 1 year of age. According to the manufacturer, the safety of Sio-bid has not been established in children younger than 12. Therefore, there is no scientific answer to your question.

In my experience, however, the drug can be safely used by children your son's age, providing the doctor orders periodic blood levels to determine the concentration of the drug in your son's body. Excess theophylline can be dangerous because it leads to nausea, vomiting and serious heart irregularities.

Because you are justifiably concerned about the potential consequences of this medicine, I urge you to discuss the situation with your son's pediatrician.

Perhaps another kind of drug, such as an inhaler (with fewer side effects), might be more suitable. If the pediatrician is unable to alleviate your concerns, ask for a referral to a pulmonary specialist. There are other medications your son could use, and many — such as inhaled drugs to relieve acute asthma attacks — might be more appropriate.

To give you more information,

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

When this hand was given to a class, all Souths won the first trick with their ace of hearts, cashed the three top diamonds and then stopped dead in their tracks. When they led a fourth diamond, it was won by dummy's nine-spot. They still had the four-spot in hand as their ninth trick, but there was no way to get back to cash it. They couldn't do better than cash the top spades and concede one down.

The answer is to look more closely at those diamond spots before playing to trick one. If you unblock the six, eight and nine under the ace, king and queen, you can stay in hand because the four will draw dummy's two, leaving you able to cash the three-spot.

Would you have seen the danger in time?

HOROSCOPE

By Bernice Bede Osol YOUR BIRTHDAY March 16, 1991

Your social life will take on new significance in the year ahead. A number of new relationships will be established and two old friends could re-enter your life.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Several friends are now likely to take active roles in matters that could be personally meaningful to you. Their input will be constructive and they will help you accomplish what you couldn't do alone. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Something important is stirring behind the scenes which could affect you at this time. Don't be fearful, though, because it could turn out to be very beneficial.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You are entering a cycle that looks encouraging where your hopes and expectations are concerned. You should begin to see signals that verify this trend as early as today.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's time for you to start elevating your financial and career goals and objectives. Clarifying your aims will enhance your possibilities for success.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) There are strong indications that your faith will be strengthened over the next few weeks in regard to your philosophy of life. This will also add qualities to your character that others find appealing.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) This is a good time to take serious measures regarding a matter that could provide you with a second source of income. It is closer to becoming a reality than you may realize.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) There is a good chance at this time that you'll enter into a partnership which will provide benefits to both your social involvements as well as your commercial affairs.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Two important matters you have not been content to conclude to your satisfaction could be advantageously finalized over the next several weeks. Keep your goals in mind.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) As of today, your popularity may start to ascend to new heights. And, if you haven't been too lucky in the romance department lately, prepare for a change.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Over the coming months, your chart indicates that you might experience a number of financial highs and lows. But, you are not moving toward an elevated point.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Ventures that you personally conceive or control should live up to your expectations in this time span. Don't be afraid to experiment with your ideas, even the ones that seem a bit radical.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Focus your efforts and energies on matters that could contribute to your financial well-being at this time. If you apply yourself properly, this could become your strong suit.

ANNIE

HOW LONG DO THESE STORIES LAST, ETOK?

YOU NEVER KNOW, ANNIE...

USUALLY YOU JUST WAIT THEM OUT, BUT THIS ONE HAD BETTER END SOON... BUT SINCE WE HAVE NO FOOD...
