Island Attack Described

By Jane Casselberry
Life in the Hawaiian Islands and a first hand account of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor were described for 60 members and guests of the Casselberry Community Methodist Men's Club last Thursday night by Miss Elio Ho of Longwood. Speaker for the covered dish dinner and ladies night program held in Weaver Hall of the church, Miss Ho said that the dastardly Pearl Harbor attack by 183 Japanese bombers was not at first recognized as an attack since Sunday morning military maneuvers were a common thing. Branches of the Armed Forces stationed there each held the other responsible for the fact that the attack was permitted to take place, she said. Streets were full of the dead and wounded and drapes were even torn from the walls to make bandages, she recalled, adding that when her family was told to evacuate her parents chose to remain with their 12 children. They were required to have immunization shots and were given ID cards and gas masks which they had to have with them at all times. Brought up in a Buddhist background and culture, when she came to this country to attend college she fell under the influence of Judaism while living with a Jewish family.

HAWAIIAN BORN and of Chinese ancestry, Miss Elio Ho of Longwood presented an interesting program for members and their guests of the Casselberry Community Methodist Men's Club last Friday night. Miss Ho was introduced by Rev. E. P. Richards, chairman for the club program. (Herald Photo)

She later was converted to Christianity and went to Chicago where she lived for six years at a rescue mission in one of the toughest areas of the city. Here she worked to rescue human derelicts of every description, both men and women, including alcoholics and dope addicts. Shootings on the street were almost an everyday occurrence in the neighborhood.

After leaving the mission she went to work for Dearborn Electronics and came to Florida with the firm where she is secretary to the president.

Forest City Group Studies Constitution

By Shirley Wentworth
The constitution preparatory to obtaining a charter for the Forest City Community Assn. was presented before the group at their meeting Monday by the president, C. M. Atchley. Fifteen members of the association were present for the dinner meeting at the Forest City Restaurant. Atchley delegated a committee consisting of Allen Forward, Neel Buell, Adolph Juhl and Richard Lashley to go over the constitution, article by article, and present their report at the May general meeting. A special meeting will be held at 7 p.m. on April 15 at the restaurant for the election of four trustees to the board of the association. Atchley urges all residents of Precinct 12 who are interested in their community and its betterment to be present at this meeting.

KC Inducts Three Members

Three new members were welcomed into the Knights of Columbus at their recent meeting. They were Howard Harrison, Dr. W. H. Runge and Edward F. Hayden.

The name of St. Richard was chosen for the new Sanford Council by the fraternity. Chaplain Rev. R. Howles introduced Rev. Father Tapp of the Redemptorist Order from Boston, Mass., who spoke to the group on the merits of the Knights of Columbus and its tremendous growth since its inception in 1882 at New Haven, Conn.

School Sets Readiness Clinic

By Jane Casselberry
Another in a series of Readiness Clinics for parents of preschool children who will be entering first grade next fall will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the cafeteria of the South Seminole Elementary School in Casselberry.

This session will deal with discipline and other specific problems such as speech, eyesight and hearing difficulties. Ways in which the parent can help prepare the timid child for entering the new world of school will also be discussed. The Readiness Clinic is being tried here for the first time and has been enthusiastically received by both parents and teachers as a means of better preparing children for school. The clinics are being sponsored by the Council of Teachers and Parents at South Seminole Elementary.

Martin Official Gives Class A-OK

Local technical advisors and teachers were given words of praise Tuesday by John Campbell, director of Design Checking for the Martin-Marietta Co. when he spoke at a student-parent meeting of the newly-formed Seminole High TEC Club.

"These gentlemen have taken a realistic approach to bridge the usual gap between theoretical instruction of technical courses and the practical application in industry," Campbell said. "In addition, your class is fortunate in having Robert Schmidt for your instructor as his experience and job knowledge will prove valuable to each student," he said.

Campbell described Design Drafting as the graphic language of the designer and the modern engineer. "The working drawing produced by the draftsmen is the vital link between engineering or manufacturing and construction. Engineering drawing is a science as well as an art. It is a descriptive graphic language that is almost universal as music. It is a system of communication. The draftsman takes the theoretical idea of the scientist or engineer and communicates it to others who will produce this theoretical idea in the form of a building, airplane, automobile, a household utensil or weapons of defense," Campbell explained. He scored the old methods of "vocational training" which gave the student a smattering of academic learning of the subject, but failed to provide the practical application which is necessary if the instruction is to be worth anything to the student or to his employer.

Campbell urged E. S. Douglas, director of vocational education and Robert Schmidt, teacher to carry the results of this initial program to a state level to try to provide uniform acceptance of sound drafting curriculum for other high schools in the state to follow.

"The drafting room has often been called the doorway to a successful career in industry," Campbell pointed out. "Any engineer without a thorough knowledge of drafting would be professionally illiterate."

"Needless to say, we at Martin and others in our industry give full consideration to qualified graduates from technical high schools of high caliber."

Cleveland Named To Powerful Taxation Committee

Seminole County Senator Mack Cleveland Jr. was named to the powerful Finance and Taxation committee of the Senate Wednesday and every member of the State Senate got a committee chairmanship Wednesday under appointments announced by President Wilson Carraway.

Carraway split several old committees into two separate groups in order to provide a total of 45 in recognition of the seven new seats added in the recent reapportionment.

Each member will serve on at least nine committees and some on as many as 11. The newly-elected Republican Senator from Sarasota, Warren S. Henderson, was named Chairman of Resolutions and Memorials, the most innocuous committee in the Senate.

The only other GOP Senator, veteran C. W. Young of Pinellas, got the chairmanship of Publicity and Advertising which seldom receives major legislation.

Only one committee, General Legislation, was noticeably stacked with small county senators. This committee served last session as a sort of "killer committee" and apparently will again. It is composed of Sen. Dewey Johnson of Quincy, one of the whips in the small county majority bloc, chairman; Robert Williams, Graceville, vice-chairman; James E. Connor, Brooksville, D. D. Covington, Dade City, E. W. G. Utter, New Smyrna Beach, Charley Johns, Starke, Bernard Parrish, Titusville, Houston Roberts, Live Oak and Elmer Usher, Chiefland.

Big county senators are well represented on other important committees, including the powerful Finance and Taxation Group, headed by Sen. B. C. Pearce, Palatka. Members are L. K. Edwards, Irvine, Irl Bronson, Kissimmee, S. D. Clarke, Monticello, Elmer Friday, Fort Myers, Clyde Galloway, DeFuniak Springs, W. C. Herrell, Miami Springs, Beth Johnson, Orlando, John McCarty, Fort Pierce, John Matthews, Jacksonville, Harry Stratton, Callahan, Luther Tucker, Crawfordville, G. W. Williams, Wauchula and C. W. Young, Pinellas Park.

The Appropriations Committee, announced previously, also includes such big county spokesmen as Verle Pope, St. Augustine, Ralph Blank, West Palm Beach, J. A. Boyd, Leesburg, Emory Cross, Gainesville, Bernard Parrish, Titusville, Ed Price, Bradenton, A. J. Ryan, Dania and Tom Whitaker, Tampa.

Power Of Words

In American political life, those who hold stoutly either to liberal or to conservative doctrine are by that fact much attached to the power of words.

Many liberals made no secret of it that their durable affection for Adlai Stevenson, the 1952-56 Democratic presidential nominee, was due in considerable part to his superb command of the English language.

Beyond Stevenson, the liberals have shown greatest interest in those figures who, like Minnesota's Sen. Hubert Humphrey, tend to articulate the liberal philosophy in "fighting terms."

It should be no surprise that matters are exactly the same on the Right. A substantial part of Sen. Barry Goldwater's appeal to conservatives is his dramatization as a fighter, a man who rips the opposition up the back.

It is not in derogation of the "word fighters" on either side to observe that they can with little difficulty find "applause points" which touch their audiences off in outbursts of cheering.

A liberal, chiding our leaders for too much emphasis upon the military element in our ties to foreign friends, can raise the roof with: "What we need is more warm hearts and less cold steel."

A conservative, rapping big government, can do the same with: "Let's get the government out of our private lives, and let the people in their infinite wisdom make their own decisions."

Yet stony silence can greet the middle-roader, addressing either liberals or conservatives, when he says: "Restoring the nation's economy is a very complex matter, with no black and white solutions. This year we are trying this particular tax formula. If it doesn't work, we'll try something else."

A typical response of the doctrinaire liberal or conservative to such talk: "What did he say?"

The truth is, the doctrinaire people are worshipers of order in a world with not much of it. In small matters they seek the neat package. In large affairs, the grand design. They are not readers of history but persistent revisers of history.

They believe that the leader who expresses such designs through a pattern of firmly uttered words will succeed in imposing order on events.

Certainly there are moments in history when this may be so. Sir Winston Churchill's eloquent utterances in World War II bespoke a grand design: the survival of Britain and all free lands. Our founding fathers gave historic expression to a national purpose that has guided us nearly 200 years.

Forceful words are always an important ingredient of leadership, but they have their limits. Even in crises, their usefulness is governed by the hard realities in the field of action. It is especially so in times of sharply divided outlook like the present.

We need the seekers after order. But we need not buy their argument that all is lost without it. For most of the order the world has had was provided by those after-the-fact packagers we call historians.

"Shame! What Will History Say?"

Worry Clinic

Girls, if two boys ask you for a date, which is more likely to be a reckless auto driver? Here's a simple test which you can employ in advance. For the timid boy who is afraid to ring your doorbell will more likely try to impress you by his reckless auto driving. See below.

CASE P. 401: Leo Sullivan asked me to come to Peru, Ind., last fall for the March of Dimes celebration, for he was State Chairman.

In order to keep me warmed up for the big evening meeting, he drove me all over the county so I could deliver addresses to six big high school assemblies.

"Teenage Problems" served as the theme which I was asked to discuss.

After each talk I also conducted a forum where the 5,000 students had a chance to send their personal problems to the front of the room.

"Dr. Crane," one girl began, "why do boys ask a girl to meet them at the corner drugstore or even at the gas station, instead of coming to the house to pick them up for a date?"

Girls, you may not realize this fact, but boys are really very shy and fearful creatures in social matters.

Oh, they don't act up at the sight of a mouse or a snake (which you girls do, often for "sales" purposes) but the boys are often very timid about meeting people.

So they shun your parents, just as they would shun ringing a doorbell and trying to sell magazines or brushes.

Boys often require an hour or more of self "pep talking" just to screw up their courage to make a phone call to a girl and ask her for a date! Because girls have viewed the male sex as big, dominant and unafraid, girls often fail to realize that men are almost scared to death of girls.

Thus, in high school, boys feel much more secure as they are teasing a girl, if they are surrounded by other boys. Did you ever notice that three or four boys may thus gang up as they approach an attractive girl in a school corridor while one of the group finally asks her to go to a dance or athletic event?

Even a tugged college football hero will shy away from walking beside his sweetie through the lingerie section of a department store.

So it takes courage when a boy even asks a girl just to meet him at the drugstore.

And it may make him panicky to boldly approach her front door and ring the bell.

Use this "doorbell" test to measure the maturity, as well as the courage, of your male escort.

If he is still afraid just to meet your parents and exchange the simple greetings at the door as he asks if you are ready for your date, then he is an amateur.

So the next time he tries to ridicule you for screaming at the sight of a mouse or snake, you might tactfully remind him of his own social cowardice.

Any boy who is old enough to date a girl, should be bold enough to go to her door to call for her.

Boys, the average parent of a girl is not going to bite your head off, so quit being so chicken!

Yet a lot of these kiddish boys will later try to affect boldness by racing a car beyond the proper speed limit to compensate for their fear to ring a doorbell!

Fellows who have the guts to ring a doorbell are thus not as likely to try to prove their courage by exceeding speed limits. Girls, test your escorts by this simple rule! (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long five-cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Looking Beyond Bloc

By K. C. Thaler
LONDON (UPI) — Red China is looking beyond the Red bloc for economic supplies, apparently to free herself from dependence on Soviet Russia.

This intention has been spotlighted by the current visit to Britain of Red China's vice minister of foreign trade, Lu Hauchang, who is touring British industries in search of machinery, chemicals and even planes.

This is a considerable change from the days when Russia sent generous supplies to her Communist ally as well as thousands of experts to build factories and advise Peking on a variety of industrial problems.

Russian supplies have dried up in the wake of the ideological conflict between the two Communist giants and the experts have been withdrawn or have been told to go.

Coupled with had harvests and ill-fated economic experiments in China, the Russian aid-freeze has virtually paralyzed a sizeable number of major industrial development projects, according to reliable information reaching here.

The re-orientation thus enforced on Peking's ambitious lean-forward planners also extends to all appearances to the field to external trade.

Peking swallowed its pride when it had to look to the West-Canada and Australia for wheat supplies in the past year or two to ease the country's famine conditions.

Now that the harvest has improved, Red China's leadership is looking for industrial supplies, again outside the Red bloc, thus indicating they don't expect much help from Russia for some time to come.

But they have little to offer in exchange and are ostensibly short of foreign currency to pay for coveted supplies.

Furthermore, the range of goods which they can buy in the West is also limited, by the security embargo which prevents NATO allies from exporting strategic materials behind the Iron and Bamboo curtains.

Experts in London believe the current Chinese soundings in Britain are in themselves a telling indication that Peking does not expect Soviet relations to return to what they used to be. Nor apparently does Peking want to revert to total dependence on Russia and face the risks which such policy involves.

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — Reports from the U. S. General Accounting Office roll out two and three a day, faster than anybody can read them.

These reports do not necessarily audit irregularities, but are aimed at carelessness in the handling of millions of government dollars.

It cost $41 million to run the GAO for the fiscal year ending last June 30. But it collected $18 million in refunds and effected other savings of $114 million for a total of $162 million, which is nearly a four-to-one ratio of return.

The comfort in this for taxpayers at this time of year is that there really is somebody in Washington who is concerned about government spending, mistakes, inefficiency and waste — and tries to do something about it.

Though Comptroller General Joseph Campbell, who has headed GAO since 1954, is the servant of Congress, his day-today, blue-bound paperback reports, ranging in size from only a dozen pages to fat books over an inch thick, are so voluminous that no congressman can keep up with them.

There were 822 GAO reports to Congress last year and 113 to the Budget Bureau. There were 766 investigations of 411 government contractors. There were 152 reviews at 611 U. S. military installations.

There also were 450 reviews at 1,350 civil government locations. There were audits of 4.3 million bills of lading and 2.3 million requests for government transportation. A total of $30 million in overcharges was recovered. And so on.

A few of these reports make brief sensations, but most get routine news coverage. Carelessness in handling government funds is old stuff and the conscience of the country is calloused to it. The impact is not what it should be.

It takes something like the annual report of the comptroller general, which has just come out, to get a perspective on this whole effort and its magnitude.

The report itself is not dramatic reading and it will never become a best seller ($1.75 from the Government Printing Office), even with rave reviews. But it is scandalous reading just the same.

It takes nearly 5,000 government employees to staff the General Accounting Office; more than 3,000 in Washington and the rest in some 120 field offices in the United States and in 22 foreign countries where military and economic aid projects were checked into.

The 263 lawyers on the GAO staff handled 4,000 decisions last year. They settled 15,000 claims against the government and helped Department of Justice on 60 cases in which suits for $1.1 million were settled for $2.6 million at a $1.8 million saving.

More than 150 GAO lawyers were assigned to congressional committees to help in their investigations.

Among the important savings which GAO is credited with last year are these:

Reduction in Air Force proficiency flying costs, $13 million last year with another $32 million to be saved this year.

Cancellation of planned procurement, $18 million.

Cancellation of requisitions for supplies not needed, $12 million.

Transfer of materials from one agency to another, $30 million.

Reclamation of parts from excess aircraft engines, $5 million.

GAO has no authority to audit the accounts on U. S. government contributions of nearly $100 million last year to international organizations.

Fiat, in the opinion of Campbell, is one of the major loopholes in his operation since the United States is the biggest contributor to most of them.

The enduring folk character of American literature, Uncle Remus, was the creation of Joel Chandler Harris (1874-1908), according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Village Books Turned Over To New Treasurer

Financial records for the Village of North Orlando Tuesday night were turned over by W. W. Anderson, new mayor and former treasurer to Mrs. Mallie Salter, the new treasurer, with an approximate $7,000 debt and a cash balance on hand of $1,522.30.

Outstanding amounts owed are for various services and equipment received by the village during the five year incorporation period just completed. Legal advice will be sought by the new council on whether or not the village or the North Orlando Co. will be held responsible for the majority of the debt and after the matter is determined a budget will be drawn.

The council agreed that all future checks should bear at least two official signatures and authorized Mrs. Irene Van Epsel, finance chairman to make arrangements for the bank to recognize signatures of Mrs. Salter, Mayor Anderson and Vice Mayor Arthur Ferris.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I need some advice about a very touchy problem. I'm married to a man who has been in the service since 1959. We have a four-year-old son. Every month I get an allotment check for me and my son. Two years ago I met a man and we started going together. I have had two children by this other man. Since the birth of my last child (in November) I found out I no longer love this other man. I'd like to get rid of him. Can I get him to support his two children? I don't want to lose the allotment check from my husband. Can this other man cause me trouble? Sign me

DEAR "B": The laws on child support differ in various states. Your local Legal Aid Society can advise you concerning your own case. For you to accept an allotment check amid such deceit takes plenty of gall. Whether this "other man" can cause you more trouble than he has already caused you is anybody's guess. He might be just as glad to get rid of you as you are to get rid of him.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know what you think of a priest who plays cards for money. I didn't actually SEE him playing cards, but the person who told me was in the game, so I know it's true.

DEAR GOER: If card-playing is contrary to the rules of his church, shame on the priest. Otherwise, what's good for the flock is good for the leader.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a very good-looking young woman working for him. She is 28 and has just divorced her fourth husband. When she was ready to leave the last one, she called my husband (at home and asked him to take her little boy to the ball game because she couldn't get her car started. I trust my husband, but I know how this little tramp operates. Should I call her and tell her to quit bothering my husband?

DEAR TAKING: A woman with HER experience shouldn't have to inquire about moving van companies. She should retain one on a yearly basis. No employer is "bothered" any more than he wants to be. It's your husband who should be talked to — not his employee.

Stop worrying. Write to Abby. For a personal reply enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

TAKING MY CHANCES

We The Women:

By Ruth Millett

Some people who can pay a pretty compliment with no trouble at all are anything but gracious when it comes to accepting a compliment from someone else.

This hard-to-compliment find many ways of turning a compliment aside, instead of accepting it with pleasure.

Sometimes they treat a compliment as insincere flattery: "I look terrible and you know it; you're just trying to make me feel better."

Sometimes they belittle the thing you compliment, reflecting on your own taste for professing to admire something they insist is "just an old rag," or something they intend to get rid of as soon as possible, or something they are stuck with because it was a gift.

Sometimes the compliment is turned aside with an envious comparison such as, "Well, it's not anything compared to your fine big house, but we like it."

Or the hard-to-compliment may just keep protesting that what you are admiring has this and that wrong with it, so that you have to keep struggling to answer all the arguments.

Considering that the gracious acceptance of a compliment is such a simple thing, it's surprising that so many people have never mastered the technique.

Actually you don't have to be clever or original about what to say when someone pays you a compliment.

All you need to do is treat it as any other gift and accept it with a pleased "Thank you." For that is all a compliment is, a gift from someone who is trying to make you feel pleased with yourself.

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

With 10 high card points and a good five card spade suit North wants to be in game after his partner's opening no-trump bid.

His only problem is to give his partner a choice between no-trump and spades and the Jacoby transfer bid.

North responds two hearts to show a spade suit of at least five cards and South makes the automatic two made rebid. North jumps to three no-trump and South knows that North holds nine to 14 high card points, a five or six card spade suit and no singleton or void.

In spite of weakness in a no-trump contract is safer and passes.

West opens the three of clubs and South has nine of the easiest tricks one can imagine. He will probably make 10 before he gets through and he has no contract worries.

3-2 North plays four spades, a jack of hearts opening by East will almost surely defeat the contract. If South plays four spades he can be beaten by double dummy defense although the chances are that he will make the contract.

In any event the JTB has made it easy for South to make a game.

Demonstration Club featuring fabrics from the Milady Shoppes was a big success.

Members of the HD Clubs of Seminole County made the outfits and modeled them at the show, which was staged at the HD Center, on 23rd Street. Mrs. Robert Mero, commentator, described each outfit as the models emerged from a large fashion book on the stage.

Materials from the Fabric Shop arranged as a backdrop were given at the close of the program as door prizes.
The models were escorted from the stage by Sidney Vihlen Jr. and Robert Gonz-lez.

Mrs. Don Smith won first prize for her outfit and Mrs.

Ed Fitzgerald second. Other models were Mmes. Robert Mann, Claude Hawkins,
Frank Lee; E. Jernigan, Har-

Judges were Mrs. Evangeline Crumb, assistant Home Economist, of Deland; Mrs.
Joe Wright and Miss Lucy Nowlin. Co-chairmen of the event were Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Eb Hunter.

WINNERS OF HOMEMADE OUTFITS at the Home Demonstration fashion show are Mrs.
Don Smith, left first place and Mrs. Ed Fitzgerald, second.

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson

A pleasant Thursday to you. Let's start off this week with a recipe for pickled eggs. This will be for Nell Cordell and was sent in by Mrs. Harvey Pugh of Lake Mary. One dozen eggs (small preferred). Boil for 5 minutes and let set covered for 20 minutes. Shell and put into quart jar alternating with 1 onion sliced.

Dissolve:
1 tsp. dry mustard
1 tsp. salt
1/2 cup sugar, into 1 pint or less of vinegar (undiluted).
Heat and pour over the eggs and onion slices.

Refrigerate at least 2 days before using. Mrs. Pugh says that she generally fixes about 3 dozen eggs and uses rest of ingredients in proportion.
Hope you try this, Nell.

How does this sound? Ham Shortcake. Let's try it.
2 1/2 cups enriched self-rising corn meal
2 tbsps. sugar
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1/2 cup melted shortening
1 1/4 cups milk

Stir together corn meal and sugar. Blend eggs, shortening and milk. Add all at once to cornmeal mixture. Mix lightly until dry ingredients are moistened. Pour into greased 8 inch square pan. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) for 20 to 25 minutes, or until light brown. Cut cornbread into 6 pieces, split and spoon Ham

Sauce between layers and over top.
Ham Sauce
1 cup Juliene green pepper
3 tbsps. butter or oleo
3 tbsps. enriched self-rising flour
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/4 tsp. ground cloves
2 tbsps. mayonnaise or salad dressing
2 cups dairy sour cream (1 pint)
2 cups diced cooked ham (8 oz.)
1 cup drained orange sections (11 oz. can)

Cook green pepper in butter or oleo until tender, about 5 minutes. Remove and set aside. Combine flour, salt, pepper and cloves and stir in to butter or oleo. Blend in mayonnaise or salad dressing and sour cream. Add ham and green pepper. Cook over moderate heat until thickened (about 5 minutes). Do not boil. Add orange sections, reserving a few for garnish, if desired. Serve hot between and over split corn bread squares. Serves 6.

Try cooking an inexpensive cut of beef this way. Use a sheet of heavy foil in baking pan and put a four pound roast on it. Cover with one envelope of onion soup (no liquid added) and cover that with one can of undiluted mushroom soup. Wrap carefully and roast 4 hours in a 350 degree oven. The gravy is all made and the roast is perfectly seasoned. Lamb or pork may also be used.

From Mrs. N. R. Kauffman comes the recipe for Drop Cookies from Cake Mix.
Beat well:
1 large cake mix—any kind except angel food or sponge
2 eggs
3 tbsps. shortening
Drop by teaspoon on cookie sheet and bake. You may add

Lamb and Green Bean Stew
... a mellow blend with many flavors ...
1 lb. stewing lamb, cubed
1/2 cup sliced onions
2 tbsps. butter
3/4 cup water
1 1/4 cup canned tomatoes
1 1/4 cups diced raw potatoes
1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen cut green beans
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup cold water
2 tbsps. flour
Brown lamb and onions in the butter. Add 3/4 cup water, cover. Simmer 1 1/2 hours or until meat is nearly tender.
Add tomatoes, potatoes, frozen beans, salt, pepper and sauce and cook 25 minutes, or until vegetables are done.
Add 1/2 cup water to flour and stir until smooth. Add to stew, stirring vigorously.
Cook 5 minutes longer or until slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Serves 6.

Harvey Pugh, one of the County School Bus drivers gave me one of his wife's recipes and he says that it is really good.
Snack Style Shrimp
To 2 1/2 lbs. of shrimp, add enough boiling water to cover.
Add:
1/2 cup celery tops
2 1/2 tbsps. salt
1/4 cup mixed pickling spices
Cook 10-15 minutes. Drain shrimp, cool with cold water.
Then peel and remove black

Announcement of the completion of the Sanford Story League's nomination of Mrs.
C. L. Park Sr., for Florida's mother of 1963 was made at the March meeting of the league by president, Mrs. Fred Robb.

Mrs. Park's signal of success as a mother, the high personal achievements of each of her three sons and the outstanding devotion and service to Seminole County's young people are qualifications which make her a much loved example of the ideal
"Modern American Mother."
The Sanford Story League is proud to have the honor of nominating her for the award.

The meeting, which was held at the Episcopal Parish House, also marked a high point in the 1962-63 service program and the culmination of the project "Cook Books" to help school libraries.

Mrs. Harold Fauser, secretary, read the first order for books to be presented to

Mrs. Boudinot Honored At Farewell Coffee

Mrs. Edgar J. Boudinot was guest of honor at a coffee given by the VAH-1 Officer's ladies on March 22 at the Afterburner.

Cdr. and Mrs. Boudinot will be leaving Sanford soon for a tour of duty at Jacksonville.
Cdr. Boudinot will be navigator on the Roosevelt.

The theme for the coffee was "Spring," and this was carried out with a large bird cage, flowers and butterflies at the entrance and a dogwood tree at the end of the room. Colorful flower arrangements made the scene truly representative of spring itself.

Mrs. Boudinot was presented a portrait of Cdr. Boudinot
by Mrs. Leonard J. Reinhart in behalf of the VAH-1 ladies.
White orchid corsages were given to Mrs. Boudinot and Mrs. Reinhart. Cdr. Reinhart is now executive officer of the Tiger squadron.

Class Members Celebrate SHS Golden Anniversary

One of the highlights of the day for Seminole High School graduates of 1913, when they met in Sanford for their golden anniversary reunion was an afternoon tea given at the home of Mrs. Ernest Gornly, 1901 Magnolia Ave. Co-hostess was Mrs. John E. Baker. Nine of the 10 graduates are still living and seven of the group attended all of the festivities. The three Sanford members are Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Gornly and Miss Margaret L. Davis. Mrs. John Wade of Greer, S. C., was ill and not able to attend. Other members attending were Dr. Harry Kanner of Sacramento, Calif., and his wife; Rev. Tenney I. Deane, Safety Harbor; Judge W. A. Pattishall and wife of Orlando; Wallace Crosby and wife of West Palm Beach and Miss Grace Iserman of Highland, N. C. The tea was held in the Gornly garden with tables decorated with spring flowers in the class colors of purple and gold. Assisting the hostesses with the serving and entertaining were Mrs. Gornly's three sisters, Mrs. M. H. Spencer of Maderia Beach, the Misses Margaret and Street Roberts, and her daughter, Mrs. James G. Lee, all of Sanford. Before attending the tea the group toured the new Seminole High School and visited the old brick school on Seventh Street where many of them attended grade school. At 7:30 p.m. they gathered at the Pinerest Inn for a banquet, then on to the home of Vail Lovell for a period of reviewing old memories and looking at old year books and pictures and other mementoes of bygone years.

DeBary Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wulff of Lake Drive were happy to receive news of their 14-year-old granddaughter, Lynn Rappe, of Brookhaven, Long Island, who used her new camera to good advantage with a series of pictures when the school she is attending in Bellport, L. I., went up in fire and smoke. Two pages of her pictures appeared in an issue of Life Magazine. When the fire bell rang at the Bellport High School, Lynn used a roll of film to get some action pictures of the fire that would do credit to many old time photographers.

Cool Reception For Wilson

By K. C. Thaler
LONDON (UPI) — British government quarters are piqued by the obnoxious American reception for Harold Wilson, the Labor party's new leader.

The publicity here surrounding Wilson's visit to Washington and the range of top level talks organized for the occasion have left the impression on Conservative leaders that the U. S. administration considers a Labor victory a virtual certainty.

Nothing is said officially but resentment is hinted privately and in informal talks.

Conservatives in London do not quarrel with the fact that American leaders should be interested in the personality and policies of the British opposition leader who might become the next prime minister.

But what irks some leaders here is the feeling that Washington to all appearances is already welcoming Wilson as the prime minister designate.

Conservatives realize that given a general election today they would very probably lose. But the argument runs, the government still has more than a year to go. Although Prime Minister Harold Macmillan is not likely to put off elections till the fall of next year, he might well decide not to call a general election until the spring of 1964.

Much could happen by then to improve the internal situation of the country. The government is concentrating above all on reducing unemployment, and the new national budget offers incentives to live up to the economy.

Whether the Macmillan government will succeed and whether it will swing the electorate back to its favor remains an open question. Recent by-elections have gone heavily against the government.

Nevertheless, say the optimists among the Conservatives, the United States may be miscalculating if regards a Labor victory as certain.

Chuluota Legion To Nominate New Officers

By Joan Magda
New officers for Chuluota's George M. Jacobs Memorial Post 255 will be nominated at this month's meeting of the Post to be held at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Lake Catherine Inn.

Also on the agenda is discussion of plans for the April 21 chicken barbecue to be held on the grounds of the Community Building.

The new slate of officers will be presented by the election committee made up of Harold McBride, Tommy Woodell, Roscoe Morrison, William Stiver and Lucius Nichols.

Officials of the Post report that progress on the building of the new Legion Home is advancing satisfactorily and that installation of the new roof has been completed. Words of appreciation have been expressed to the volunteers who have given their time for the project and to the generous donors of materials and funds.

Invitation is extended by the Post to all veterans in the area to attend Saturday night's meeting.

County Events Day

Saturday will be a special day for Seminole County 4-H'ers as they climax a year's preparation and work at County Events Day to be held at the Agricultural Center beginning at 9 a.m.

These young people and their leaders, County Agents Cecil Tucker, Ernie Lundberg and Miss Myrtle Wilson, along with adult leaders in each club, deserve and should get the public's support and interest.

Saturday will mark the first time the boys and girls have combined efforts to present a program of this type and during the day Junior and senior division contests will be held in tractor operation, public speaking, reading lamps and insect collections. Demonstrations in both divisions also will be given in foods, clothing, health, home improvement and child care.

Another first for Saturday's program will be the afternoon exhibitions and demonstrations in horseback riding.

Senior winners in all contests and demonstrations will go on to District Events Day to be held April 20 in Tavares.

Businessmen Meet In Longwood

By Donna Estes
Thirty-six members of Longwood's business community met Tuesday at 9 p.m. at the Parish House of Christ Church Episcopal to discuss ways of improving business in the city.

The meeting was called by John Reams, L. L. Cox and Bud Scott who last month were appointed as a committee to work on this problem by the Chamber of Commerce.

A variety of comments were presented equally divided between criticizing and praising the town. Suggestions heard ranged from cleaning and painting the business district, already under consideration by the City Council, to encouraging the residents to clean up their properties, having proper signs put up on Hwy. 17-92, if possible, completing the city directory and, in general, making a concerted effort to towards fuller cooperation with the Longwood Chamber of Commerce.

Lew Arnold pointed out that the city is losing cigarette tax revenue because many of the residents now go outside the city to do their shopping. He suggested that the businesses might do more advertising.

Ralph Hammond complained that the business people are not supporting the Chamber of Commerce and that the best way to generally advertise the city would be through this organization.

Ted Waltz commented that there is not enough money circulating in the city and that new industry is needed to provide more and bigger payrolls. He suggested that big businesses be contacted and encouraged to locate in the town.

J. R. Grant commented that a cooperative effort located on the new Freeway to Interstate 4. Logan also praised the city's police and fire departments and water system.

The majority of businessmen present for the discussion session voted to attend next Thursday night's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce for further talk and planning.

Donkeys Coming To Lyman Gym Village Gets Warning On Area Vandalism

By Jane Casselberry
The Donkeys are coming to Lyman Gym next Thursday night at 8 p.m. but there are no political implications as they will be here to play basketball.

The game is being sponsored by the Lyman PTA and those who are skeptical are invited to "come out and see for themselves."

For this occasion the donkeys will wear diapers, not as part of the drive to clothe animals but for more practical reasons. They also will wear rubber shoes to protect the gym floor.

Local teachers and dads are being recruited to ride the animals during the game.

North Orlando realtor Stewart Helms issued a stern warning concerning vandalism on vacant homes in the community at Tuesday's meeting of the Village Council.

Helms notified the council, and the citizens and parents present, that until some official means of village law enforcement is established he has no recourse but to report those caught in the acts of vandalism to the FBI.

He stressed that the empty FHA homes in the community actually are government property and that under these conditions the FBI must be brought in.

"There is nothing I like less to do than to have to bring about investigation of my neighbors and their children but unless the youngsters are stopped from breaking windows and shooting out plate glass doors this is exactly what I, by law, am required to do," he said.

Helms, who is in charge of FHA homes in the North Orlando area, was appointed Tuesday night to also serve as North Orlando Zoning Chairman and was authorized to qualify all builders and issue building permits for the village.

South Seminole CTP Elects New Officers

By Jane Casselberry
Officers for the 1963-64 year were elected Tuesday night by the Council of Teachers and Parents of the South Seminole Elementary School at Casselberry.

Mrs. H. D. Sterling of Casselberry was elected president. Other officers are Mrs. Charles Deneen, Lake Howell Road, first vice president; Mrs. Ralph Moore of Casselberry, second vice president; Mrs. Charles Hartshorn of Casselberry, recording secretary; Mrs. Richard Webster of Casselberry, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Gerald McGinnis, Eastbrook, treasurer and Mrs. Frank Leist of Casselberry, assistant treasurer.

Major Joseph Laird, president, presided at the meeting during which the revised constitution and by-laws was presented and approved by the membership.

Principal Christy Harp gave a short devotional prior to the business meeting. The program consisted of a humorous skit on parliamentary procedure entitled "Ye Olde Script," presented by Harp and a group of mothers to demonstrate just how an executive board meeting should "not" be conducted.

One of the four television sets purchased by the CTP for educational use in the school was displayed along with one of the trays purchased for the luncheon.

A science exhibit on electricity was presented by the sixth grade in the cafeteria following the meeting and refreshments were served by the first grade mothers.

Science Fair Set At SSJH

A Science Fair will be held Friday from 7 until 10 p.m. in the Large Group Classroom at the South Seminole Junior High School at Casselberry.

County Agent Cecil Tucker will speak on "Care of Lawns" for the Lake Mary Home Demonstration Club at next Tuesday's luncheon and program meeting.

Vacant Office Is Available

The possibility of North Orlando's getting an official Village Hall came nearer to reality this week when announcement was made Tuesday night at the first meeting of the newly elected council that the Horizon Homes Sales Office is up for sale at a bargain price.

F. Stewart Helms, realtor told the council that he had learned the building could be bought for about $500 but cautioned that in addition to this sum there would be costs involved in moving the structure. Locating and securing a property site also would have to be worked out before any final action is taken.

Council and citizens alike at the meeting agreed that there is a definite need for the village to have its own offices now that the first fully elected council has taken over. Up until now meetings have been held in the North Orlando Co. offices which still are being made available for village meetings although the space is limited and adequate seating facilities are not provided.

In addition to needing room for a meeting place, there also must be provisions made for a clerk's office and storage space for books and records.

The council also discussed the possibility of getting at least part time services of a village clerk in the near future.

Here again it was agreed that there is a definite need for such services since a marked increase in village business will come with growth expected in the next few months as new residents move in and construction on Seminole College gets underway.

Scouts To Collect Goodwill Bags

Refreshments of coke and punch were served to the Brownies and their guests following the program. The cake was made in the form of an open book and decorated by Mrs. Ralph Moore with the Brownie insignia and in the troop colors.

The new group as yet has not been signed a number by Girl Scout Headquarters.

HOWELL PARK BROWNIE leaders Mrs. Helen Began and Mrs. Elaine Poore, left, receive new American Flag from Mrs. Robert March, president and Mrs. Merle Harris, past president, of the South Seminole VFW Post 8207 Auxiliary. ### Cigaret Tax Boost Urged TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Across-the-board sales tax measures designed to raise an additional $276 million in revenue were introduced in the Legislature today along with a bill to boost the state cigarette tax.

The sales tax measure, introduced in both the senate and the house, would leave only a few sales exempt from the State three per cent sales tax. It would place the tax on foods and medicines, a proposal with which Gov. Farris Bryant said he wouldn't agree.

Exceptions would include motor vehicles which are already taxed at one per cent, Bibles, prayer books and like articles, seed, feed and fertilizer sold to farmers, certain produce sales by farmers to consumers, school lunches, school milk, school books and sales to institutions of higher learning and trade-ins which are deducted from the price of any item.

An administration-supported measure increasing the current tax on cigarettes three cents a package was tossed in by Sen. Harry Stratton of Callahan. It joined the other measures by Sen. Ed Fraser of MacClenny and Rep. Frank Marshall of Levy as the first major tax legislation of the session.

After brief morning sessions, the House adjourned until 11 a. m. Monday and the Senate adjourned until 3 p. m. Monday. In the house, Rep. Frederick Karl of Volusia introduced a bill calling for a full-scale investigation by the House of state borrowing, including the $157 million refinancing of the state turnpike. The committee would consist of from three to five members and would report back to the House by May 15.

Soviets Okay Hot Line Link

GENEVA (UPI) — The Soviet Union today accepted the American proposal for a "hot line" communications link between Moscow and Washington to ease the threat of war by accident.

Soviet chief delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin made the acceptance at today's session of the 17-nation disarmament conference.

"The Soviet Union is ready to accept a direct communication link, either telegraph or teletype, between governments," he said.

American delegate Charles C. Stelle said his government "warmly welcomes" the Soviet initiative and called for informal private discussions to work out the details.

A 12-year-old schoolgirl suffered head lacerations and an injured ankle when struck by a truck while on route to school this morning.

Sheriff J. L. Hubby said Patricia Gustavson, daughter of Mrs. Joyce Gustavson 726 Cherokee Circle, was struck by a truck driven by Sharon Kay Threewit, Longwood.

Deputies J. Q. Galloway and James R. Moore, who investigated, said witnesses reported Miss Threewit had stopped her truck on SR 427 to permit a group of children to cross the street. She started up to pass behind the group when the Gustavson girl, it was said, stepped back into the side of the truck. No charges were filed.

Gregory Hits Voter Deal

GREENWOOD, Miss. (UPI) — Negro comedian Dick Gregory charged Thursday night that the Justice Department had made a deal with Mississippi authorities in releasing eight "ring leaders" in voter registration marches.

"The Justice Department has made deals with these people and they're still making deals with them," Gregory told a nighttime rally of 400 Negroes.

Avery Blasts Canal Authority Procedure

Procedure in the efforts to establish a St. Johns Indian River Canal Authority . . . but primarily for ignoring the Seminole County Commission . . . was blasted today by Commissioner James P. Avery Jr.

"Like Will Rogers," Avery said, "all I know is what I read in the newspaper. I am deeply concerned about published reports that Sen. Bernard Parrish has or will introduce a bill in the Legislature seeking to set up a canal authority.

"I haven't seen this bill," continued the Commission vice chairman, "and I have no idea what it contains. Does it provide for checks and balances, as called for in our democratic form of government? To what extent will authority be granted to the organization? How will it be financed? Are new taxes involved?"

Avery asked: "When are they going to tell us these things? After the Legislature has approved the bill?" The Commissioner said that he believes "it would have been proper for the promoters to meet with the Commission and apprise us of what is going on and get our feelings. Any other procedure is highly improper!"

Senator Parrish has been spearheading the drive to establish a canal connecting the St. Johns and Indian Rivers, backed by the St. Johns-Indian River Navigating Committee, headed by John Kridler, manager of the Chamber of Commerce. Kridler outlined the proposal to the State Board of Conservation at Tallahassee last week.

In several meetings of the navigating committee it was said that after a "plan of action" had been established it would be presented to a joint meeting of the County Commissions of Seminole, Orange, Brevard and Volusia Counties, seeking their support.

City councilmen meeting in regular session agreed that if residents would cooperate by piling trash near the streets in front of their homes the city would make free pickups on May 1 even if extra trucks have to be brought in.

The council also agreed that the city would buy and apply weed killer in overgrown ditches throughout the area. A number of additional measures to add incentive for participation in the drive were proposed for future action with suggestions ranging from discounts on paint to giving fire mineral spirits to each homeowner doing any painting.

In other business requests were heard from the Longwood Elementary PTO for a donation towards the school library and from baseball teams for a wire backdrop at the playing field.

Members voted to go ahead and provide the backdrop but delayed the library donation until it can be determined by the attorney whether or not city funds can be used for aiding a school already supported through another area of taxation.

Open Higher
NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks opened higher and accurate today, paced again by strength in autos.

NANCY PINNOCK, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Pinnock of Altamonte Springs, is another entry in the "Miss Seminole County" contest. Miss Pinnock, a junior at Lyman High School, says she plans to further her education after high school, but believes a woman's place is in the home.

Longwood Sets Cleanup Week April 29-May 4

The first of several clean up weeks in Longwood's all effort to be the nation's number one city in the annual clean up campaign was set Thursday night by city officials for the week of April 29-May 4.

City councilmen meeting in regular session agreed that if residents would cooperate by piling trash near the streets in front of their homes the city would make free pickups on May 1 even if extra trucks have to be brought in.

The council also agreed that the city would buy and apply weed killer in overgrown ditches throughout the area. A number of additional measures to add incentive for participation in the drive were proposed for future action with suggestions ranging from discounts on paint to giving fire mineral spirits to each homeowner doing any painting.

In other business requests were heard from the Longwood Elementary PTO for a donation towards the school library and from baseball teams for a wire backdrop at the playing field.

Members voted to go ahead and provide the backdrop but delayed the library donation until it can be determined by the attorney whether or not city funds can be used for aiding a school already supported through another area of taxation.

New Village Hall Talked At Council

A new town hall and means for raising operating funds were discussed by North Orlando Village Council with an Orlando attorney, John Sewell, Thursday evening. Council was generally agreed that the North Orlando Company would donate a site for the town hall and that the structure could be erected with donated labor and at a cost of $5,000 for materials. Council also was agreed an available unoccupied office building would be suitable. It was pointed out only revenue received by the village at this time is cigarette and gasoline taxes rebates from the state.

Mayor W. W. Anderson pointed out to Sewell the village owes the North Orlando Company $7,000 paid to Florida Power and Light Company for street lights, $3,000 paid to the attorney who drafted the village charter, and other items.

"If we (the village) are responsible for this debt," Anderson said, "then we have no choice but to assess an ad valorem tax.

Casselberry Hits 'Incorporation'

Opposition by the Town Council of Casselberry to the anticipated incorporation of Fern Park was formally presented today to the Seminole County legislative delegation in a letter from Casselberry's town attorney, Kenneth W. McIntosh.

The letter, pointing to the Town's action on March 11 and addressed to Sen. Mack Cleveland Jr. and Reps. S. J. Davis Jr. and Jan Fortune, listed these objections:

"Said incorporated area includes property north of SR 436 and West of Highway 17-92 which is logically the subject of annexation by the Town of Casselberry, subject to co-ordination growth between Casselberry and Altamonte Springs;

"Incorporation will limit growth of the Town of Casselberry along its southern boundary;

"Incorporation will halt efforts of existing municipalities in their efforts to cooperate regarding water supply, sewerage disposal, drainage outfall, co-ordinated fire protection, zoning planning and programming, and civil defense."
