Saturday Evening Sermon

freeze you. You must arrest the decay in those about you, or those about you will produce decay in you.
If it is the business of our churches to save the world, and if the church members lose their power to save, what may we expect? That would be a fatal hour for the line between the church and the world to be lost. If there comes the hour, Christian men and Christian women, when the difference between you and those who do not know the Lord Jesus does not stand out clear and prominent, that hour will be fatal for your influence, and perhaps and quite probably that will be a fatal hour for others.
Is There a Possibility of Restoring the Lost Power?
"In what way can it regain its saltiness?" or "wherewith shall it be salted?" What a striking sentence the Lord Jesus asks just here! That Englishman of such an analytical mind, Alexander MacLaren, asks:
"If the church is meant for the purifying of the world and the church itself needs purifying, is there any power in the world that will do it? If the army joins the rebels, is there any force that will bring back the army to submission? . . . If the one thing that is intended to preserve the meat loses its power is there anything living about that will salt that?"
If a church loses her power is there any way by which that church can regain her power? If a Christian young man loses his power to transform, is there any way by which he may regain that power? If a young woman loses her influence for good over those who know her best is there any way by which that same girl may regain her influence? These are questions which are vital to many among us.

If a man loses the pungency of his Christian life; if a teacher loses the strength to lift others; if the young woman loses her ability to transform, what can they do? I bring you a sentence which should thrill the hearts of multitudes. For those who feel their losses; for those who become conscious of their condition of their poverty of spirit; for those who anxiously desire the power which they have lost, the way is clear to the fountain of all power.
Comrades, there is such a premium upon rugged, red-blooded, robust Christians. Every church needs this type. Every home needs characters that cannot be broken by every wind that blows. I again give you some sentences from that "almost matchless MacLaren":
"For you know," says he, "it is low vitality that catches all the diseases that are going; and it is that the ravens peck the eyes. And it will be the feeble types of spiritual life, the inconsistent Christians of our churches, that will yield the crop of apostates and heretics and renegades, and that will fall before temptation."
Just two or three remaining thoughts. Are you and I lifting the world up to the standard of Jesus, or are we drooping down to the standard of the world? Are we conscious that we are losing in the influence to transform, or are we gaining in strength to lift those about us—in our own city, who have already reached that condition when the fair and accurate Judge of all men and women could say: "Thou hast a name that thou livest and art dead?"

Young men, and young women, comrades, my comrades, you who possess the ability to look through moral issues, do you not see that corrupting forces, the decaying forces—all about you demand the arrest of power which can come alone from Jesus Christ? Do you not realize that there is the most urgent demand for a difference—a difference so prominent that it can be detected by even the most stupid—a difference, I declare, between you and those who are fostering the decaying forces about you? Are you not willing, brave men and women, to take up the task with the greatest courage ever known to human hearts, on land or sea? If some of us have lost the strength which we need, if some of us have lost the influence which are so deadly, let us remember that the way for the penitent to the source of purity and power is clear this morning. May we be given the courage just now to come close up to the heart of Jesus and from close and constant association with Him be always supplied with the power which always arrests decay, and which always supplies strength for every contest.

In Honor Of The Nation's Martyrs

November 11th—Armistice Day!

Once more we pause to pay tribute to those who gave their lives in the great struggle between nations that this country should be a leader in every movement for peace and happiness upon the earth.

On the occasion of an Unforgettable Anniversary, consecrated by the bravery and blood of those who fought to set a world free, we pause to reverence them. Out of the smoke and sweat and agony of conflict, torn countries arise, and greater industries. That lives were offered at the Shrine of Supreme Sacrifice is an Unforgettable Memory. Some great, holy spiritual contact will cause the dead to know we REMEMBER.

In appreciation and devotion of the brave who fought and died on the battle fields; we urge all to join hands in observance of the Greatest Day in history, so that the bonds of friendship, devotion and patriotism may grow stronger each day.

ENGLAND MAY BE VISITED BY JACK DEMPSEY

Heavyweight Champion Has Longing to Visit British Isles But No Competition To Keep Him Busy While There Looms at Present

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Jack Dempsey has let it be noised about that he wouldn't mind coming over to England to take a punch or two at some of the British heavyweights. All of which has caused the sophisticated sportsmen of this land to smile, and the unsophisticated to frown even darker days ahead for British prestige in the boxing business.

There isn't a boxer in all of Britain who gives any promise of standing up against Dempsey for even a few rounds, unless the champion had a mind to be playful. And the British know this. In fact they poke just as much of their quiet fun at their boxing predicament as do the more boisterous humorists overseas.

After all, who might be matched with Dempsey in a London ring? There is Frank Goddard, the champion who got his title on a foul. And just the other day he crossed the channel to do a little fighting in the Baguette country with a man named Paololi. Nobody in the boxing game in Britain except Goddard had ever heard of Paololi, for his main business in life had previously been chopping down trees. He gave Goddard a sound thrashing.

After chucking over the Beckett ambitions, one turn of thoughts, perhaps to Jack Bloomfield, the cruiser-weight champion who had dreamed earlier this year of retrieving British prestige in the pugilistic profession. Tommy Gibbons came over to England from the States and dislodged Bloomfield, quickly and forcibly. So he too got married and settled down, and even the caution writer in the topical movies made fun of his feeble stand against the American, who gave him an unmerciful thrashing, while the best Bloomfield could do before being put to sleep in the third round was to land four blows, hardly more than love-taps, on the energetic epidermis of his conqueror.

That just about ends the list. There are, of course, promising youngsters doing their stuff in small-time boxing circles over here just as there are plenty of ambitious heavyweights active in America. But none of them are fast-raters by any stretch of the imagination.

Still the British would be glad to see Dempsey, although it is doubtful if he could fatten his already fat wallet to any great extent in England, especially if he keeps up his habit of thinking in nothing less than six figures. Both of the two principal British boxing promoters—Major Wilson and C. B. Cochran—have recently had bankruptcy brought against them. Evan Gibbons had to go to court to get his pay of about $50,000 for the fight with Bloomfield. Over here it is assumed Dempsey would turn up his recently turned-down nose at the mere mention of such a skimpy sum as fifty thousand dollars.

GOLF TOURNEY WILL BE HELD BY SEABREEZE CLUB

Many Participants Expected To Visit Clarendon Course From All Parts Of America And Canada For Big Event

SEABREEZE, Nov. 10.—With the crack golfers of Florida urged and expected to compete with those of other sections of the United States and Canada, the state's winter season of tournaments will be inaugurated on the Clarendon Hotel course during the week beginning Monday, November 21, thereby including the Thanksgiving holidays.

The event is to be staged under the auspices of the Daytona Golf and Country Club and the Seabreeze-Daytona Beach Association, assuring its success from both sporting and social viewpoints. An unusual number of handsome trophies will be offered, and in view of the fact that the Clarendon course, which has been kept open for the first time in summer, is in excellent condition, some fine records are anticipated. In case an unexpected number of players enter the tournament the Daytona course will be used also.

The tournament which follows one to be held at Pinehurst and precedes that scheduled for Miami, has been advertised throughout the east, middle-west and Canada, and is expected to attract a large gathering of enthusiasts as well as high-type players. Florida players desiring to compete are requested to communicate with Cy Young, president Golf and Country Club, Daytona, or George R. Bennett, secretary golf committee, Seabreeze-Daytona Beach Association, Daytona Beach.

If the first broadcasting station was a woman's sewing circle, then the first amplifier was the village gossip.

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA WILL HOLD "DAD'S DAY"

Parents and Sons Are Urged To Attend a Banquet and Football Game With Drake University, November 27th

November 27th will be Dad's Day at the University of Florida and every Dad who has a boy at the University is invited to come to Gainesville when the University plays Drake on November 27th.

Every Dad in the State is urged to attend the game with his son and special arrangements for the entertainment of the visitors are being made according to R. C. Riley, Director of the General Extension Division, who says:

"Florida Dads are putting up the money to educate their sons at the University but comparatively few have ever seen the campus, know how the boys live, or the educational advantages which they are getting for their money. The University wants dad to come to the University for Nov. 27th at least, and look around with son and see for himself just how things are going along and incidentally have a good time.

Plenty entertainment has been planned. A hand concert, stunt night, the greatest football game of the year and a visit to the class rooms and laboratories will make up the program which will continue from noon on Wednesday till Thanksgiving evening."

Special effort will be made to see that Dads will have an opportunity to meet each other. "We want every Dad at Florida on Thanksgiving Day but we don't want anybody to make special arrangements or preparations for his visit. There will be no formal banquets or receptions and the Dads are expected to come along in their working clothes and forget their troubles for a day and have a good time with their sons and the rest of us."

"Don't forget, it's Thanksgiving Day and we also want mother and daughter to come along. James E. White, Director of Athletics, if notified by November 15th, will reserve seats for the parents of all Florida students in the Alumni section of the new steel bleachers.

With airplanes becoming so safe and efficient these dirigibles sound like a lot of hot air to us.

Big Parade Will Feature Armistice Day Celebration

Then last but by no means least comes the Legion ball at the Armistice an annual affair that is eagerly anticipated by young and old alike.

A popular orchestra has been secured for the occasion, and the ball has already been gayly decorated with flags and many hues of crepe tissue.

The Legion committee has perfected a novel system by which it is able to completely decorate any automobile in five minutes and any one desiring his car to assume a gala appearance for the parade tomorrow has only to drive to Legion headquarters at the Weloka Building to have such service rendered speedily for a nominal fee.

All civic and welfare organizations are expected to participate in the parade tomorrow and every property owner who has installed flag sockets will have on display the national banner throughout tomorrow.

With reference to the flags, the committee in charge, announced this morning that a shipment of poles had been delayed but that it had made arrangements to have these fixtures made in this city to serve temporarily until the others arrive. This action was taken in order that 650 flags may be in place by sun rise tomorrow morning.

It was further announced that the City Commissioner has donated the use of a large supply room in which will be stored the flags and poles when not in use.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grand, mother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. But brewing at home is messy and out of date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wool's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well known downtown druggist says: "It darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. It simply dampens a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy."

TAX AMENDMENT STILL IN DOUBT IN SOME STATES

Mississippi took a position of letting well enough alone apparently, the voters defeating all three amendments submitted. One provided for abolishment of equality on assessments, paving the way for a graduated state income tax. The remaining two were to make levee board members elected by the people instead of appointed by the governor.

Louisiana.

Louisiana's constitution is only a few years old and for some years it will be necessary for the entire state to vote on many local amendments, thirteen amendments being on the ballot at this election. The only proposed change of more than local interest was a proposal, adopted without serious opposition, whereby pensions of Confederate veterans will be increased. Orleans parish voting alone on a proposed substitution of the administrative form for the present commission government in New Orleans refused to make the change.
