

BOARD OF TRADE SECURES NEW HOME IN CENTRAL LOCATION

WILL HAVE OFFICES AND ASSEMBLY ROOM.

The Sanford Board of Trade is to be congratulated upon having a home of their own this season and it is now being placed in first class condition for their occupancy. They have rented the upper floor of the Herald building and the partitions have been torn out in the rear of the building, making a large room for the meetings of various kinds.

The front offices remain intact and here the Board of Trade will have their office and a place where they can entertain all the visitors to the city at all times.

This is one of the most desirable locations in the city and probably the only one where the Board of Trade can have a suite of offices and have an assembly room at the same place. Such headquarters are needed in this city, not only for the Board of Trade work but for public meetings of all kinds and it will be a most popular place for out of town people. Here the country members can come with their families and feel at home either day or night and there will be every facility for their accommodation when they come to Sanford.

There is plenty of room and the screened front porch will prove a boon to the members on summer evenings and that they will feel at home here is already assured. Some of the offices will also be used for public work and in time the Board of Trade headquarters will be the nucleus around which will revolve the business of the city and the business men of Sanford and of the entire county will feel that they have a place where they can gather for business, for rest and for recreation. The Board of Trade has secured this fine location in the heart of the city for a very nominal sum and are well pleased with their choice. They will move their office fixtures in the new location the first of September and expect all members and friends to come up and make themselves at home.

Transportation Outlook Favorable For Fruits

Tampa, Fla., Aug. 26.—Information has reached the office of the Florida Citrus Exchange here from the Georgia Fruit Association to the effect that the railroad service given the Georgia peach movement this season has been the best in the history of the peach industry.

The movement of cars has not been as fast as in some past seasons.

The movement of cars has not been as fast as in some past seasons for all train schedules now are slower than formerly; but the Georgia peach men say that in the matter of furnishing empty cars for loading and in spotting cars, the service has exceeded anything they had earlier known.

Officials of the Florida Citrus Exchange are greatly gratified at this news, in that it confirms the assurances earlier given them by the Railroad Administration to the effect that every effort would be made to afford prompt and adequate movement for perishable foodstuffs.

There is seemingly no reason to doubt that the same effort will be put forth to move Florida oranges and grapefruit that has been used for Georgia peaches. This definitely disposes of the rumor earlier sent out to the effect that these perishable fruits would be classed as luxuries and that they would be unable to get to market. The Exchange officers have all along been on the job, and have been in close touch with officers of the Railroad Administration in Washington. They have had repeated assurances of the intention to cooperate with growers of perishables; and the Georgia instances furnish direct proof of the Railroad Administration's ability to make good.

Sanford Library

In answer to a call for fiction from the Libraries headquarters we sent last week a large box of books to Jacksonville to be forwarded with the contribution from that library. We who packed the box were proud of the class and condition of the volumes sent, and thank everyone who contributed.

Its receipt has been acknowledged by the state director, Mr. L. W. Josselyn who also wrote "Good work!" and "Accept our sincere thanks."

Personally I see in this sending of books a beautiful service of cheer. To the boy over there who in some Y. M. C. A. room opens a book and finds written on the flyleaf "Sanford, Fla.," and possibly a familiar name it is a veritable handclasp across the broad waters. It is such a small thing for us to do—only the giving of a book.

Years are coming in which to refill the home bookcase. The boys in camp and overseas want them now.

That "Scott" in shabby cover and fine type is literature—and send it if you will. There are many lovers of Scott in the ranks. But do you remember how your boy enjoyed the last story of Rex Beach and poured over "The Border Legion," by Zane Grey? Every boy in Sanford watches his chance to get "Four Years in Germany," "Over the Top" and "Outwitting the Hun" from the Library. If it is to be a choice between Scott and Pat O'Brien right now send "Pat" to the boys in khaki. Do not always keep the new and send the old.

I remember hearing this of one small Sanford boy. He begged for a rose. The bushes were full of bloom. He was at first denied because "They are God's roses and are to be carried to God's church." Finally being given one past its beauty and dropping its petals, he rushed into the house and showing it to his mother said contemptuously, "Here is an old rose; God don't want it; I don't either." Please do not let the boys in khaki and blue say when they look over books at the Y. M. C. A. hut, "Old books, that the folks at home didn't want! Well, we're hard up for something to read, or we wouldn't want them either!" Please let Sanford go "Over the Top." More books going, more books needed. Send them to the Library and we will do the rest.
M. E. Key, Librarian.

Summers to France

Rev. C. H. Summers, formerly pastor of the Kissimmee Methodist church, but who has been camp pastor for that denomination at Camp Johnston since the first of the year spent last Saturday and Sunday in the city with his family.

The government has ruled out all denominational pastorates at the training camps and Mr. Summers decided to take up Y. M. C. A. work. He has taken the examination and has been accepted as a "Y" secretary and expects to go overseas in a short time. He was here to secure a residence for his family and locate them permanently prior to his leaving.—Plant City Courier.

Civil Service for P. O. Job

Applications for the position of fireman-laborer to fill a vacancy in the Postoffice Building, at a salary of $660 per annum will be accepted not later than Sept. 18, 1918, from men having fireman experience. There will be no educational test, competitors being rated on physical ability and experience. Application Form 1800 can be obtained from the Secretary, Local Civil Service Board at the Postoffice of the above city, or from the Secretary, Fifth Civil Service District, Atlanta, Ga.

GENEVA BOY CAPTURED BY TURKS

VESSEL INTERNED BUT HUDDLESTON O. K.

The many Seminole county friends of John Huddleston of Geneva will be glad to learn that he is well and receiving good treatment from the Turks who interned his vessel when America entered the war. He was interned at Constantinople on board the Scorpion and his friends and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Huddleston of Geneva were worried about him. The following dispatch today is as follows:

Officers and enlisted men of U. S. S. Scorpion, interned at Constantinople by the Turkish government since April 11, 1917, are being accorded excellent treatment and are all in good health, the navy department announced tonight, upon receipt of a report through the Swedish legation at Constantinople. The report, which tells of living conditions of the three officers and 56 men of the Scorpion's crew, was the first detailed word received since the gunboat was interned for failure to leave Turkish waters within the 24 hour period allowed.

The crew of the Scorpion receive wholesome and abundant food, the report states. Football games on the drill grounds of the Turkish minister of marine visits, under escort to Constantinople, daily newspapers and books are allowed the Americans. A healthier anchorage for the Scorpion has been provided, and the men have been permitted to visit dentists in the city.

The men are reported to be contented, their only requests as found by the Swedish officials is news from home and more shore leaves.

The announcement of the navy gives for the first time the names of the men interned. The officers are:

Lieut. Commanders James G. Omelvena, Weston, W. Va., and John F. Huddleston, Geneva, Fla.; Lieut. Leman L. Babbitt, Houghton, N. Y.

The enlisted men are:

DIPPING BENEFITS CATTLE

STORIES ABOUT KILLING CALVES ARE UNTRUE.

My Dear Mr. Holly: I wish all the cattle men in Seminole county would read the following letter, which appeared in the Southern Ruralist of Aug. 15th:

Editor Ruralist:

We have been dipping for five years and our cattle look as good again as they did before we started dipping. As for the dipping killing calves, that is a mistake. We have never lost a calf; yet one of our neighbors had one to die and they thought the dip killed it, but I think they killed it running it too much. We would not take any money for the value dipping has brought us. Even the people that first said they would not dip soon found that it was the right thing. The dipping law is one of the best things that can be had by any country. If you want proof of this, just come over into Mississippi and we will show you what results it brings. I wish every cattle raiser could see the good results here.

John Couss.

Pelahatchee, Miss.

Reply.—We are glad to have this evidence of the value of the dipping vat and proper laws. If some people of a state do not realize for themselves how much good this tick eradication will bring, the only proper thing is to compel them by law to "come into the fold." They will soon be glad the compulsion was applied.

Thousands of similar testimonies could be printed from every southern state.

Mr. Couss says he has been dipping cattle for five years. This is because Mississippi did not have proper laws on this subject five years ago. If all the cattle in Seminole (or any other) county are dipped every fourteen days, beginning next March, the tick will be completely eradicated within six or seven months from the time the work is begun, and there will never again be any need of dipping cattle in this territory. Mr. Couss ought to have added to his good letter the fact that Mississippi is now free of ticks in every county, from one end of the state to the other. Is there any reason why Florida cannot do as well?
W. F. Blackman.

Letter From Arthur Dickins

Dear Mr. Holly: Well, how is every little thing in Sanford? I guess it is real quiet since all the boys have left, but at the present rate the Sammies are traveling it won't be long before the boys are home again. I received a Herald sent me by a friend and it certainly looked good to me. It had that letter in it which Oscar Spear wrote home. He said he expected to be in the fight by August. Well, he is in it now and I expect to be very shortly.

I leave Thenay tonight, of course I cannot say where, but I will let you hear from me soon.

Give the girls back there my regards and tell them that the French mademoiselles are very nice and also very pretty, but I will take the American girl for mine.

Well, the candle is low so I will have to stop. I would like very much to hear from you when you have a chance.

Your friend,
A. L. Dickins.

Bought First Cotton

J. A. Rumbley bought the first Sanford cotton that was purchased here this season. He purchased 100 bales of Sanford cotton, paying 80 cents per pound for it. Mr. Rumbley is an old cotton man, having raised and bought it at his old home in Alabama and he is only coming back to his first love.

HINDENBURG LINE TAKEN BY HAIG IN BIG BRITISH PUSH

GOOD GAINS MADE ALL ALONG THE LINE.

Extending the Picardy battle line far to the north into the Atois sector, the British launched an attack this morning in the Scarpe region east of Arras. This attack may be considered as a new development of the terrific battle east of the Ancre river, which has been going on since last Wednesday.

The British war office says good progress is being made in the area where the offensive was begun. The Germans hold fortified lines on which they have stood for the last two years. South of the Cojul river, the British have seemingly encountered resistance, for reports show their lines about where they were yesterday.

Fraveul, a mile and a half east of Bapaume, has been taken by the British, who have passed beyond the village, while further north Mory has been left behind by Field Marshal Haig's men.

Progress on each side of the Somme river is reported from London and it is said the British are advancing toward Maricourt, four miles northeast of Bray.

There has been great artillery activity from Roye to the Aisne river, according to the French official report, but there is no mention of new infantry attacks in this vital sector. German surprise attacks on the French lines in the Vosges sector have been repulsed, according to Paris.

As the battle stands today the British appear to be near the old Hindenburg line south of Arras, while they are making an attack directly against it on the Scarpe river. If the attack launched this morning is successful, it may have a determining effect on the course of the battle further south, for a German retreat over a wide section might be forced. It will also affect the Flanders sector to the north, from which the Germans are said to be retiring.

Heavy rain is falling over the battle area, it is reported. This meant of troops.

Pressure continues all along the southern wing to Soissons. Between the Oise and the Aisne, Gen. Mangin is pressing steadily toward the western extremity of the Chemin des Dames.

Unconfirmed reports have been the number of prisoners is placed at 20,000.

On most of the front the British have pushed the Germans from the high ground so necessary for defense. The enemy has been forced out of much of the crater country, marking the old Somme battlefield of 1916. This has opened up new opportunities for the tanks and cavalry.

Allied airplanes continuously bombard troop concentrations and troop centers behind their lines.

The Germans held on to Bapaume throughout Sunday in heavy fighting. Gen. Byn's forces, however, are in Avesnes, a suburb one half mile to the west and have reached Faavreul, two miles to the north and are reported in Thillois, 1 1/2 miles southwest. The fall of Bray, which came after the capture of Albert, has enabled the British to press on eastward and they are reported in Suzanne, two miles to the east and at the edge of the swamp country which lines the Somme close to Peronne.

If the Germans hoped to find secure positions at the old Hindenburg line, from which to beat off the allies, his expectations have been defeated by the allies' hard drive immediately in his wake.

From defenses around Bullcourt the French have a good chance to take Cambrai.

London, Aug. 27, 1 p. m.—This morning an attack was launched between the Scarpe river and the Fampoux on the heights northeast of Neuville-Vitasse. In a few minutes the British made an advance of two miles on a front of four miles, according to word received here from the battlefield. Monchy le Preux, Gumappe and Wancourt, a little less than five miles southeast of Arras, have been taken in today's attack. Farther south the British have taken Mory and made progress to the southeast of the village.

In the battle area south of the Somme, Gen. Debeney's French army has captured Fresnoy les Roye, about 3 miles north of Roye, according to today's dispatches. The French army also has made a slight advance between Ailette and the Aisne. A few prisoners were taken by this army yesterday.

Fighting is reported proceeding at Heninel.

The line of the battle starting with Fampoux on the Scarpe river follows: Monchy le Preux, Gumappe, Wancourt, Heninel, Croiselles, east of Mory, Favreuil, Avesnes, Fricourt, l'Abbaye, Martinquik, west of Babentyne le Petit, Mametz and Carnoy and then proceeds to the Somme just to the west of Maricourt. There is little change south of the Somme, except that the British line has been moved to the east of Chiognes.

MAN POWER BILL

Passes House and Will Also Pass The Senate

Washington, Aug. 27.—A clear track was given in the senate today to the manpower bill, passed Saturday by the house, broadening the army draft age limits to 18 and 45 years.

When the senate convened under a long standing agreement to take up wartime prohibition, Sen. Sheppard of Texas, prohibition advocate, moved to temporarily lay aside that measure. It was agreed to and debate on amendments to the manpower bill was resumed, with passage late today or tomorrow expected.

To expedite and simplify procedure the house bill was substituted for the draft act which has been pending in the senate. The senate military committee met before the senate convened and reported the house bill with minor amendments, including the "work or fight" proposal without change.

The senate committee, however, struck out the amendment of Rep. Trayway of Massachusetts, adopted by the house, providing for appointment of special examiners by the provost marshal general to reclassify men in existing deferred classes. This amendment, the senate committee felt would cripple authority of state draft boards and also is unnecessary because General Crowder already has power to make any reclassification he deems desirable. Other changes in the house bill made by the senate committee were unimportant.

Vigorous contests are expected on the floor on the work or fight amendment today, giving no deference to workers who strike or in any other way lose their deferred classification. The house members last week said the amendment was unnecessary as the war department already has the power which the amendment would confer. Labor leaders also have protested vigorously. Indications were that the amendment would be included by the senate and would become the chief source of contention in the conference.

Another Herald Star

Guy Stenstrom left Saturday for the front. Guy makes the third member of the Herald active force to be taken in the last two months. But we are willing to let them go for we will get along some way until they all come back after whipping the Hun.

Joe Laing is home for a few days from Jacksonville where he has been employed since Stenstrom closed for vacation. Joe will soon don the khaki and become one of Uncle Sam's fighters.

AMUSEMENT

Within the Cup

Something practically unprecedented in the production of motion pictures occurs in Bessie Barriscale's second Paralta Play, "Within the Cup," which will be the attraction at the Star tonight.

In the entire drama, which is seven reels in length, there is but one exterior setting. All the scenes, with the exception of very few which were taken in this setting were filmed inside the vast glass enclosure of the Paralta studio in Los Angeles, California. The one exterior presents a society lawn fete and even this required a great deal of adornment and embellishment by the art director to gain the atmosphere of an elaborate society gathering.

In consequence of the fact that there was but one exterior set and because of the luxurious and bizarre scenes which the story demanded, the picture necessitated the construction of a great number and variety of interior settings. The result, however, is very gratifying, for the finished picture, though much more time, labor and expense were entailed in its production, so far surpasses the average screen drama in its artistry that it cannot be brought into a comparison. Credit for its elaborateness is due both to R. Paul Holmes, technical director, and Raymond B. West, who directed the production of this Paralta Play.

The Latin Quarter of Paris and the Bohemian section of New York form the locale of the second Paralta Play featuring Bessie Barriscale which will be shown at the Star tonight. The picture, "Within the Cup" was written by Monte M. Katterjohn and produced under the direction of Raymond B. West. It deals with the struggles of a woman who is afraid of love because of a curse which she feels has infested her soul. The film is vivid and gripping and has been elaborately staged with but one exterior setting.

One of the strongest, most gripping dramas in which Bessie Barriscale, the Paralta star has yet appeared is "Within the Cup," which will be the attraction at the Star Theatre tonight. In it Miss Barriscale, as "Thisbe Lorraine," suffers the uncanny warning, delivered by "Tea Cup" Ann, a Bohemian fortune teller, that her soul is cursed and that, though she will forever try to realize the love for which her heart craves, true love will never be attained. The horrible prophecy and the ghost of her past haunt her throughout the play, one of the most impressive which Paralta has yet produced.

UTILIZE THE GARBAGE

Food Administration Says Big Saving Can Be Made.

Housekeepers Urged to Keep Kitchen and Table Refuse Separate From Other Waste.

Washington.—A campaign for the utilization of garbage has been inaugurated by the United States food administration, which is advising all state administrators to spread garbage utilization propaganda through their territory and urge upon housekeepers the necessity for keeping garbage (kitchen and table refuse) in a separate container from other household refuse.

Figures and statistics issued by the food administration show that in one ton of garbage there is sufficient glycerin to make the explosive charge for 14 75-millimeter shells, enough "fatty acid" to manufacture 75 pounds of soap, fertilizer elements to grow eight bushels of wheat and a score of other valuable materials essential in the manufacture of munitions.

It is also pointed out that 24 cities of over 100,000 are not utilizing garbage and that the combined population, which is estimated to be over 5,000,000, is wasting 4,400,000 pounds of nitroglycerin and 40,000,000 12-ounce cakes of soap besides 60,000 tons of tannage, which contains fertilizer elements sufficient to produce a 3,000,000 bushel wheat crop. The value of this loss of materials is estimated at $5,000,000.

In 20 cities where there are garbage utilization plants the figures show that a combined population of 18,000,000 people are utilizing these products, to the value of over $11,000,000 annually, and that a large percentage of this saving is being directly used by the government in munition making.

But in these 20 cities, or most of them, large amounts of garbage are destroyed by burning or more useless by being mixed with other wastes.

If in these 20 cities the garbage was "kept clean" or free from bottles, tin cans, crockery and other foreign matter, the saving to the government would be many million dollars more. The responsibility devolves upon the shoulders of the housewife, who is urged to see that nothing but garbage goes into the garbage pail. Other household refuse has a value but its value is lost and the value of the garbage is lost if refuse and garbage are mixed.

FISTS WILL FIGHT HUN MAILED FIST

Denver, Colo.—The German "mailed fist" is to be met by two male fists, Hyle Flat, Denver, and Arthur Flat, followed the example of his brother, Arthur Flat, and enlisted in the regular army. The Fists are now in training in the same company at Fort Logan.

RED CROSS FEEDS ALSATIANS

Three Thousand Who Escaped in First Weeks of War Are Being Cared For.

Washington.—Three thousand loyal Alsatians who escaped across the frontier in the first weeks of the war when the battle line swung back and forth across southern Alsace, are now being fed with American food. They are quartered in unoccupied villages safe on the French side of the war zone where American troops are now stationed.

"They lost all their property three years ago and what little money they had was soon exhausted. With the increasing cost of living and the inability to help them, their situation became desperate. In answer to the appeal from French societies interested in them, the American Red Cross has just shipped food to the nineteen villages to provide half the daily rations of these 3,000 Alsatians for ten months.

The shipment included 13,200 pounds of condensed milk, 13,200 pounds of flour, 1,100 pounds of sugar, 9,000 pounds of dried peas, 2,200 pounds of rice and 3,200 pounds of tinned meat.

BRYAN AND DEWEY ENLIST

John Hopkins Also Recently Joined United States Marines at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo.—William Jennings Bryan, George Dewey and John Hopkins recently joined the United States Marine Corps here. Lieutenant Horn is in charge, says he is now looking for Woodrow Wilson to enlist.

Bryan is a farmer hailing from Waxahatchie, Tex., weighs 183 pounds, and was pronounced a perfect specimen of manhood.

Dewey hails from Niobrara, Neb., and his actions were prompted by a marine poster on which Admiral Dewey told of what he thought of the Marine corps.

Hopkins claims no relation to the famous man for whom the famous medical college and hospital were named. He explained his action by merely saying: "I can fight and I want to."

SPY IS 'NEUTRAL'; SELLS TO BOTH

Nimble Swiss Gets French and German Money, but Lands in Prison.

Berne.—A remarkable spying feat was executed by a Swiss citizen named Luginbuhl. He succeeded in getting paid from both sides, the French as well as the Germans, receiving profitable favors from both, and finally landed in the meshes of Swiss law.

Luginbuhl was one of twenty-one defendants in a celebrated espionage case just concluded in a local court. With one exception all were found guilty, including Luginbuhl. Sentence was deferred.

Luginbuhl was anxious to buy wool waste in France. He wanted to sell it in Germany where he could get an immense price for it. To get the wool out of France Luginbuhl had to obtain permission from the French authorities. He got into touch with French agents and spies doing business in Switzerland, who afterward were his confederates in the trial, and upon his promise that he would make a trip into Germany, find out certain things the French spies were anxious to know and report back, he would obtain permission to take the wool out of France.

IS CONVICTED WITH OTHERS

Republic Anxious to Keep Out of Trouble, but is Nest of Plotters—Espionage Trials Daily Occurrence.

Berne.—A remarkable spying feat was executed by a Swiss citizen named Luginbuhl. He succeeded in getting paid from both sides, the French as well as the Germans, receiving profitable favors from both, and finally landed in the meshes of Swiss law.

Luginbuhl was one of twenty-one defendants in a celebrated espionage case just concluded in a local court. With one exception all were found guilty, including Luginbuhl. Sentence was deferred.

Luginbuhl was anxious to buy wool waste in France. He wanted to sell it in Germany where he could get an immense price for it. To get the wool out of France Luginbuhl had to obtain permission from the French authorities. He got into touch with French agents and spies doing business in Switzerland, who afterward were his confederates in the trial, and upon his promise that he would make a trip into Germany, find out certain things the French spies were anxious to know and report back, he would obtain permission to take the wool out of France.

Told Germans of Deal.

To sell the wool in Germany Luginbuhl made his trip into the Kaiser's domain, as promised, but he did more than he had promised. He told German officials all about the deal he had made with the French spies, whereupon the Germans were kind enough to write a report which Luginbuhl took back to Switzerland and handed over to his French friends, who paid him $800 for it. Luginbuhl at that time already had in his pocket the handsome profit he had made on the sale of French wool in Germany. What the Germans had paid him for double-crossing the French was not disclosed during the trial.

It took eight days to try the case. Montgeot, a French officer, was the principal defendant in absentia. He had escaped before he could be arrested. The judge in pronouncing the verdict of guilty said Montgeot had broken the word of honor given by an officer when he escaped from a hospital. He was found guilty of having organized the French spy system in Switzerland. He hired German deserters to tell him all they knew. All this was, however, only a minor offense, according to Swiss law.

Had Many Activities.

His principal crime was treason committed against the Swiss republic. He observed the movement of Swiss troops near the French border and kept the French army command posted about them. He hired men to watch the transportation of cattle. He tried to poison cattle in railroad trains by putting poison in the cars. He organized a conspiracy to foment a strike in the aluminum works at Chippis, which were sending goods to Germany, and tried to destroy the electrical plant at Waidshut.

Three of his tools were Frenchmen, who also succeeded in eluding the Swiss law. It was discovered at the trial that these men made it their business to buy factories that were selling to Germany. They bought the factories with French money and made an immense profit for themselves by the transaction.

The most prominent of the Swiss defendants was Dr. Brunstein, a lawyer. Revelations disclosing his activities created a sensation in all Switzerland. The court condemned him severely. Among the other defendants were a Swiss army sergeant and an army policeman. Both were found guilty of taking French money for furnishing information about army movements.

The whole of Switzerland seems to be a hotbed of spies. Espionage trials are going on almost continuously in many of the cities. Germans, Austrians and Italians are implicated as well as the Swiss themselves. The public is usually excluded from these trials because Switzerland wants to avoid as much as possible being drawn into the ramifications of spydom which might jeopardize the neutrality of the republic.

GOOD SAMARITAN IS REPAID

Woman Who Befriended Soldier Receives $10,000 Insurance When Man is Killed.

Nevada, Mo.—Mrs. S. H. Mellet, owner of a small home bakery here, has received word from the war department she will receive $10,000 insurance on the life of Thomas H. Price, a soldier who recently died from the accidental discharge of a gun aboard a transport.

Price came here several years ago, ill and penniless. Mrs. Mellet took him to her home, nursed and cared for him until he was well, and then helped him secure a job. Assigning of his war risk insurance to her was the only way he could show his gratitude, he told her, just before leaving.

A BOX FROM HOME

Food-savings of millions of Americans during our first year of war enabled this government to send enormous food shipments abroad for our fighting forces and the Allied nations. Our savings in cereals—out of a short crop—amounted to 154,900,000 bushels; all of which was shipped to Europe. We increased our meat and fat shipments 844,600,000 pounds. This was America's "box from home" to our army abroad and the civilians and military forces of the Allied nations.

Tell Him Now

If with pleasure you are viewing any work a man is doing, If you like him or you love, tell him now: Don't withhold your approbation till the parson makes oration And he lies with snowy lillies o'er his brow. For no matter how you shout it, he won't really care about it; He won't know how many tears-drops you have shed; If you think some praise is due him, now's the time to slip it to him, For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead. More than fame and more than money is the comment, kind and sunny, And the hearty, warm approval of a friend, For it gives to life a savor and it makes you stronger, braver, And it gives you heart and spirit to the end. If he earns your praise bestow it; if you like him let him know it: Let the words of true encouragement be said; Do not wait till life is over, and he's underneath the clover, For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead. Our delegation in congress has made it possible to get tourists' rates to Florida this winter and they deserve credit for their fine work in behalf of this state. This means that the people will flock to Florida early this fall and that we must get ready for them. No use to lay down on the job and say that the war is on and business has stopped for Sanford can and must get ready to take care of her share of the tourists this winter. We have good hotels here now and most everyone has a room or two to rent and there are restaurants to feed them also. Now get busy with your Board of Trade and get out some good literature or use some of the old stuff and send it up north to the prospective homeseekers and tourists. Get them down here and see that they stay here all the winter. Sanford should be one of the best tourist resorts in the state and would be if all of us would get behind the proposition and push it. Remember that most cities in the north are rolling in wealth in the war work and the people will come to Florida prepared to spend some of this money. Now is the time to prepare for one of the best winter seasons in our history.

In the next few weeks our people who have been away will be coming home and the children will be getting ready for school and trade will pick up in every line. Let all of the people get together and whop things up for a good season and an early start toward that good season. Things have been a trifle dull this summer but this condition need not be permanent and next month there will be a decided change in business conditions. Cotton money is coming in and farmers are getting ready for fall crops and we should be waking up to our opportunities.

The war is putting a severe strain on very many in this country, who find it hard enough to make ends meet even without counting war taxes; but we have not even begun to feel such pressure as the people in other countries are suffering.

The Kansas City Star says: "The inquiry is sometimes heard whether England is doing all it ought to in the war. "When we suffer 30,000 to 40,000 casualties a week and have to keep it up for three years; have stood pat under air raids, gone without complaining, have sent men into army that the biggest machine shops in the country are operated almost exclusively by women, and have paid taxes such as we haven't yet contemplated—then and not till then will we begin to have the right to inquire whether England is doing all it can."

The editor of the Moore Haven Times is authority for the statement that large summer crops are being grown in that vicinity—2,000 acres of peanuts, 1,500 acres of corn with much rice, chufas, alfalfa and cotton. Five carloads of corn were recently shipped.

Letters From Raymond Allen

July 14, 1918.

Dear Ones at Home:

Well, we as you see have arrived safely on this side. We had a nice trip over, good weather and a nice steady boat. Of course some of the boys were seasick but I was not in the matinee with them and I sure did enjoy all the way over.

Now I can see and realize the benefit of my High School work which I thought at the time I was taking it was all folly and would never be put into practice, but little did I realize when going through the ancient history of France I would be in and live and have the pleasure of viewing the real historic scenes that are mentioned therein, and, Sis, when you get to that part of it, if brother does not get back before then try and picture him as having dwelt in those places mentioned in Ancient History of France and other countries, and when I do come home, which will not be until the kaiser has paid his debt to us for trampling our free rights of democracy beneath his rude hand. Yes, Sis, he will pay for it not only tenfold but when we get him he will curse himself for ever being born, for I think most of the boys, if not all, want to go on and not wait for any more training at all, but of course our great guiding hand says "Boys, be prepared for him, and then you can out-wind him and go on for a touch down, as it were, with Old Glory flying over you as a counter sign of determination and a fight for freedom to the last man until it is won." Then we will all come home to our dear ones and bring our flag that has never as yet fallen and been trampled on no matter how great the opposing number was or who they were for that is what "Red, White and Blue" represents, namely Blue for determination, White for purity, Red for blood if need be to preserve that insignia of purity, and God forgive the man who will not die for our dear old U. S. A. and those rights we preserve and hold in reverence.

Well now I had best cut short, but as Ethel has said to me while I was dictating to her in the office "Can't you ever find a phrase to close with when you get started?" Well, that is hard to do, for I am so full of it until it is hard to stop when I get started; however, I will not write much but will try and write as often as I can.

This is such a nice climate, and the country is great, and The girls—Oh, well, you can guess for yourself. C?

Now, Mama, please do not be worried about me if you don't hear often for I will be all right, and always bear in mind the old adage, "No news is good news," also that there are many mothers over there to receive news from their dear boys and it takes time to censor letters, so you try and place yourself in the position of our censors and realize that it takes time to accomplish so great a task as that mentioned.

Now, you all write me often, as I know you will, whether you hear from me or not for a few days at a time, for letters of encouragement to me, and never ending mother's prayers will bring me safely back again to enjoy the peace I will have helped to win, and the best way is to try and picture me out on a seed buying trip and not likely to return for a year or such a matter and live contented and appreciate the fact that when I do return I will be the same boy as when I left.

Now, praying for all your health, happiness and success while I am away, so we can enjoy life when I return, good-bye and God bless you all.

Devotedly,
Your Son, Brother, etc.,
Raymond.

France, July 29, 1918.

Dear Ones at Home:

Well, we have been moving about since you received my last letter but the nearest we have been to the lines so far is about 60 miles, but at night after all is quiet now we can hear the bombardment and believe me they are giving the Germans all they want and more too. The boys in the trenches say they are going to "Heaven, U. S. A. or Hell by Christmas," and believe me they are.

Well, of my travels in France I have seen the most beautiful scenery ever witnessed, and have slept and ate inside the stone walls of the great Napoleon's prison camp and headquarters and stood on the stone some of his prisoners were shot off of or executed by a firing squad.

We are now located at a base and will get to go up to carry trucks to the trenches from time to time.

The day we came in the automobile park here a boy came up and hit me on the shoulder and said, "Hello, Allen," and I looked around and there was Jeanne Bowden from Dade City and you think we weren't glad to see each other? He is here same as I am, only in another company.

We have a fine place here, a nice large town, larger than Jax, and we are right in it. Then we have a Y. M. C. A. here, with reading room, writing tables, with geraniums on them, one piano, a Victrola and billiard table in it, also a canteen is here where we can buy small thing at IF WE ARE NOT BROKE, and the "Y" is decorated with the flags of the allies with Old Glory over the stage in full splendor.

I hope to get a letter or two in a few days, as it has been one month yesterday since I heard from home, but our supply train No. 412 has split up now, three Co.'s went one way and three the other, so now you will have to change my address as follows: Corp. Raymond L. Allen, Motor Truck Co. 430, Motor Reception Park No. 1, A. P. O. 760, American E. F. Am well, will write again soon.

Love to all. Devotedly,
Raymond L. Allen.

A coterie of Moore Haven farmers got together recently and quickly raised $815 and purchased a peanut picker which had been shipped to that point from Suffolk, Va. This machine will be of great help and will solve the picking of the 2,000 acres of the goobes and it does the work of twenty pickers easily.

Wash the Socks You Knit with Grandma's Powdered Soap

Wool Socks Will Not Shrink Get Hard or Knot Up When Washed With Grandma

GRANDMA leaves them soft and fluffy and makes them easy on the feet.

Many inferior soaps are made with rosin and when you wash woollen socks with them it causes the socks to shrink and get hard and knot up. Countless hours spent in knitting have been lost just because the socks have been practically ruined by improper washing.

GRANDMA'S Powdered Soap

Follow these directions and you will never have any trouble. Use GRANDMA in luke warm water and wash the socks in the wonderful suds. Then rinse in luke warm water, shake them out well (do not wring) and hang them up to dry slowly.

GRANDMA is the most economical and finest "all round" household soap that can be used. You measure it out with a spoon—no waste. Try it.

OUR PLEDGE

"Appreciating to the utmost the supreme unselfishness of our American manhood which is offering its very life upon the altar of freedom for the world, we, the members of the South Florida Press Association, in semi-annual session assembled, do hereby

"Resolve, That in this crisis, and as long as life shall last, we dedicate all that we are and all that we have to the support of our glorious nation, our righteous cause, and our illustrious government. And be it further

"Resolved, That every newspaper holding membership in this association display this resolution in bold type at the masthead of its editorial page throughout the month of August, and that copies be sent to the president and our representatives in congress.

"Done and ordered in the city of Wauchula, state of Florida, this 12th day of July, 1918."

VALUE OF NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

The value of co-operation is seen in the team work of the allied armies. A united effort is necessary in work wherein the many are involved if success is achieved. Only in this way can the citizens of a town or village endow a community with many of the comforts and advantages that go to make life worth living.

Travelers and home seekers very often judge a town by the appearance of its newspaper. If it contains advertisements showing all forms of business it is a notice to the world at large that the commercial, professional and productive life of the community is made up of enterprising men, and gives to those seeking a location a good opinion of the various interests represented.

Florida has many fine papers, and distant readers cannot be other than impressed that the people they represent are of one mind in the matter of clean and tree lined streets, pretty homes, well conducted churches and schools, and beautiful surroundings. There is no town, however small but may be improved by the associated efforts of the residents.

No town can become important if its citizens refuse or fail to feel a sense of pride in what it possesses. Local interest and pride is the very life blood of a community.—Kissimmee Valley Gazette.

WHERE THE FARMER WINS

The farmer doesn't have much ready cash. The income tax returns show that less than one per cent of the farmers ever catch up with $3,000 in a whole year.

But the farmer without a cent rather has the edge on most of the town folks, no matter what their bank roll.

When the farmer wants bacon and eggs he reaches up in the smoke house and under Moll's manger and secures his breakfast without arguing with the butcher or sniffing at a cold storage egg.

The landlord doesn't bother him and the gas man passeth him by.

Burglars and fire bugs and pickpockets and doctors and lawyers equally eschew him and the society reporter never gets him out of bed to refute some new scandal about his youngest daughter.

Old Farmer Broad Toes is some crippled up, and his back is a bit bent, and his store teeth don't always fit, but what is his "hisn" by heck and he can look every sun of a gun in the eye and tell him to go plumb to.

The farmer may chase a calf out of the young corn, but he doesn't have to chase his feet off hunting a job.

His children may not grace dancers or wiggle in tango tea rooms, but they can depend on the old farm giving them a comfortable, care-free, healthy, hearty, happy living until they go to their own nest, and many a town bank balance fails to insure posterity its fair chance.

The farmer doesn't have much hard cash, but he usually gets about everything that cash can buy; and providence, for his reward gives him a lot that money never could purchase.

You find mighty few farmers becoming cynics when they come to rest on the threshold of eternity.—St. Augustine Record.

MUST HAVE LABOR

Government Projects Should Run Full Time

"State Council Defense, Tallahassee, Florida.—The big labor jamb has come and the final tabulations of labor demands show a present shortage of one million unskilled laborers in war industries, with a tremendous additional shortage coming as soon as the new army draft expansion increases the need for supplies. Skilled labor situation equally serious. Georgia was notified yesterday that unless the state could furnish the eight million dollar pieric acid plant at Brunswick with five thousand laborers at once the entire construction force would be laid off and the plant moved out of Georgia.

The Midvale steel plant at Coatsville, Pa., has been forced to shut down a part of its plant for lack of labor. Orders are being sent your state for men for work at home, others to be sent away. This demand for men must be met no matter what happens to private business, but the men cannot be taken from farms, railroads or mines. Can you make this plain? The facts herein contained will become evident throughout the country within ten days. Please use every means possible to get this over. Lay facts before your mayors, bankers, chambers of commerce and labor leaders.

Please give this priority over any other publicity campaign. This story must get across, otherwise our new army will be faced by additional instances of lack of equipment such as were apparent last winter. This is a bigger campaign than the ship yards. Your revised state quota unskilled laborers required is 4,930." (Signed) "Reynolds."

There will be two castor bean hulling plants established on the east coast. One of these will be at West Palm Beach and the other at Jacksonville. These plants are to be established by Heim & Walker, the government contractors for the east coast. The plant at West Palm Beach will take care of all the beans south of Titusville, and the one at Jacksonville will take care of the balance. When the beans have been hulled they will be sent to the big mill at Gainesville and there the oil will be extracted.

FOOD ADMINISTRATION

A jobber has asked the question "Is a jobber justified in filling orders from retailers for wheat flour without substitutes, to the extent of the face value of farmers certificates furnished by the retailers, regardless of the correctness of the certificate?" The answer is NO!

First: No farmer can buy more than 48 pounds of flour except by written permission from a county food administrator; therefore, no farmer's certificate is good for more than 48 pounds.

Second: The law permits not more than 30 days supply, which is to ALL, six pounds per month for each member of the family; therefore, a jobber can sell to a retailer without substitutes not more than six pounds for each person shown to be a member of the family on each separate certificate.

Third: If a jobber finds that any retailer is frequently selling more flour on certificate than should be sold it is the duty of such jobber to report to this office the name and address of such retailer. Of course the name of the jobber making the report will be held in confidence.

Rice Purchases

Wholesalers have asked if there were not some remedy to prevent rice mills from refusing to sell direct to wholesalers and to prevent them from selling exclusively to rice jobbers. This question was taken up with Washington direct for an opinion, and the following telegram was received in explanation:

Washington, D. C., August 19. Beacham, Food Admr., Orlando, Fla.:

Rice mills not privileged to refuse wholesalers orders to protect rice jobbers but mills are only permitted to sell for delivery within 30 days while dealers can sell for delivery within 60 days. Due to fact that rice harvest has just begun mills cannot accept orders with any assurance of being able to deliver within 30 days while jobbers can take orders and be certain of filling them. Food Administrator."

Delinquent Licenses

Owing to the fact that our inspectors are discovering cases where the procuring of a license under the food administration has been delayed by retailers, grain dealers and others who are subject to license, all licensees are hereby cautioned to observe strictly Rule 22 of the General Regulations which reads as follows:

"Rule 22. License Number Must be Placed on Certain Documents.—The licensee shall place on every contract, order, acceptance of order, invoice, price list and quotation issued or signed by him relating to food commodities the words 'United States Food Administration License Number,' followed by the number of his license. No licensee shall knowingly buy any food commodities from or sell any such commodities to, or handle any such commodities for, any person required to have a license who has not secured such license and complied with the provisions of this rule. Federal Food Administrator, Enforcement Division, By E. E. McLin, Director.

Manatee's co-operative store is doing a larger business than the promoters of the corporation had hoped for during the dull season. This is the result of intelligent advertising. Business that had heretofore gone to other cities is remaining at home and a large amount of trade is being attracted to Manatee by this advertising campaign.

"Work on enlarging and improving the quarters for the DeLand library will begin soon, under the direction of Architect Miller," says the DeLand News. The paper tells that considerable more space will be secured by the proposed addition, and that the place will be made comfortable and attractive in appearance.

WHAT WILL YOU SAY?

By Bill Stinger
Do you ever think of the future time
When your children around your knee
Will ask you about the great World War,
And our wonderful victory?
They will want to know what their Daddy did
To help in the famous fray—
When your children ask how you did your bit
What will you say?
Will you blush with shame in that future time,
And skrink from their innocent eyes—
As they search your soul with their questioning gaze
Will you dare to answer with lies?
When they tell of the deeds of their playmate's Dad—
How he saved the flag one day,
And beg for something to tell about you,
What will you say?
Will your children's Dad make them hang their heads
In the years that are yet to be,
Or will they be proud of the part you'd played
In the War of Democracy?
At night when you hold them deep in your arms
All tired from their eager play,
And they beg for a story of Daddy's deeds,
What will you say?
If you're thinking of slacking ponder it well
The price you will have to pay—
Your children's scorn and a coward's hell—
WHAT DO YOU SAY?

Must Have Regular Meals. It is said that the native in India is extremely particular about regularity in his meals: once accustomed to eating at a certain hour he must stick to it at all costs. An English engineer had an awkward experience of this when erecting a 100-foot steel pole with the aid of about thirty natives and the minimum of tackle. The pole was halfway up when the "natives" intimated that it was dinner time. Only the most desperate entreaties, coupled with threats, prevented the men letting the pole come down with a run, though it had taken several hours to get it into this position.

NOTICE
Believing that FIRE INSURANCE RATES charged by old line companies are too high, I have secured the agency of the FLORIDA MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY of Tampa, Florida.

This company saved its policy holders 20 per cent last year and aims to do better in the future.

The company is organized under the law and selects its risks carefully, and the profits go back to the policy holders instead of being paid dividends to stockholders.

Being a mutual company, the policy holders are pledged to pay the premium the second time in case the company needs more money than the original premium in order to pay losses. This adds to the security of the policy holders and is necessary because there is no capital stock. However, the chances that such an event will be made is very remote.

If interested before your policy expires, bring it to my office at Room 8 in the Court House, and make application for its renewal in Mutual Company.

Death of Mrs. C. A. Smith
When the news of the death of Mrs. Charlotte Alice Smith, which occurred at Daytona Beach reached the city on Saturday morning many hearts were saddened and shocked, for this estimable lady, by her generous heart and kindly nature had won for herself a host of friends who sorrowed with the family in the loss of one so dear.

The death angel came at ten o'clock Friday night, after an illness of several weeks. Although Mrs. Smith had been in failing health for a number of years death came at the last, a shock and surprise, for she had been steadily improving since going to the beach.

She had been a resident of Sanford for twenty-six years, having moved here from Tavares in October, 1891, with her husband and family. Mrs. Smith was born in Bloomfield, Ill., Dec. 11, 1853 and was sixty-four years old at the time of her death.

She was a consistent and conscientious member of the Congregational church, sharing in all its activities; loved by all who knew her for her sweet, gentle manner; a devoted mother and faithful friend. Generous to her church, giving unsparringly to all charities and philanthropies that made an appeal, she will be sorely missed from the circles that knew and loved her so well.

The funeral was conducted from the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Peters and was largely attended by the friends of the family. Dr. Hilburn of the Methodist church officiated in the absence of the Congregational pastor. The choir consisting of Mrs. Julius Takach, Mrs. Aspinwall, Messrs. F. P. Forster and J. D. Parker rendered several beautiful selections. The solo of Mrs. Takach, "Face to Face" being especially beautiful and appropriate.

The floral offerings, beautiful in exquisite designs and cut flowers testified to the high esteem and love in which she was held. Among the designs was a lovely wreath from the City of Sanford and equally beautiful was an anchor from the ladies of the Congregational church. The grave was entirely covered by these glowing tributes of remembrance.

Mrs. Smith was the widow of Dwight Smith, who died in this city in January, 1892. She is survived by one son, A. D. Smith and a daughter, Mrs. W. H. Peters, four grandchildren, Charlotte and Irma Smith, Margaret and Jack Peters, all of this city. One sister, Mrs. John Hetzel of Berkeley Co., California and one brother.

The interment was in Lakeview Cemetery and the pall bearers were Messrs. Ernest Krupp, Deane Turner, T. L. O'Connor, Raymond Key, Harry Kent and Henry McLaulin.

Card of Thanks
We thank our many kind friends who assisted us in the last days of our mother's illness and in our bereavement, both here and at Daytona Beach, and we express our warm appreciation for the many beautiful floral offerings.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Peters

HOTEL MEN'S CONFERENCE

Harry Beeman Will Call One on Food Topics

With the approach of the winter tourist season and the certainty of a large influx of visitors to Florida during the next several months, Federal Food Administrator Braxton Beacham has authorized Harry L. Beeman, State Hotel representative to perfect organizations of hotels, restaurants and public eating places in every county in the state.

Mr. Beeman has just returned from an extensive visit in the north, during which he gave careful attention to the methods pursued in the various cities, which make a feature of summer tourists, and he found that in every instance the rules of the food administration were being carefully observed.

Instructions have been given in this state for county food administrators to call the proprietors of public eating places together and explain to them the necessity for organization. County food administrators have previously been instructed to have hotel representatives appointed for their particular counties, and after the new organizations are perfected under the present plans, it is Mr. Beeman's intention to call a conference of the hotel and restaurant men, so that the future policies of the food administration can be plainly and clearly set forth.

The various organizations perfected in the counties of Florida will thus be enabled to send delegates to the conference and at that conference such matters as are necessary for carrying on a successful work of the food administration will be outlined to the delegates and by them transferred back to their local organizations.

Mr. Beeman emphasizes the fact that during the approaching season there will be some determined policies put into effect and the proprietors of eating places will be required to strictly conform to the rulings. At the same time it is his desire to work in a co-operative way with the hotels and restaurants, and being a practical hotel man of years' experience, he feels that the conference he plans will enable him to outline policies that will be beneficial to each and every one.

The date of the conference will be announced later, or as soon as the organization of the county associations is completed by the county food administrators, and reports are in the hands of Federal Food Administrator Braxton Beacham.

Cashing in War Savings Stamps

The state of Iowa has an honor roll of twelve counties. These twelve counties are placed on this list because their citizens are real patriots. No slackers there. In not one of these twelve counties has there been a single War Savings Stamp cashed in at the post-office. When the citizens of these counties bought stamps, they did so to hold them. "It was not a matter of buying to get rid of the solicitor during the drive or to get their name in the limit club with a deliberate intention of cashing in after the drive was over.

The selling of Liberty Bonds and the cashing in of War Savings Stamps are acts of entirely different nature in their effect on the government finances. When one sells his Liberty Bond the government is not called on for any cash; the ownership of the bond simply passing from one person to another. When War Savings Stamps are cashed in, the case is entirely different. The government must pay out in cash, the amount the holder of the War Savings Stamp is entitled to. In this case, the money the government planned to use for purchasing guns, ammunition, foods and supplies for our soldier boys in France is paid out to the person who cashes in the stamps.

Has Florida any counties where there has not been a single War Savings Stamp cashed in? At present the state director's office cannot say, as all counties have not yet reported. If there is such a county or counties in Florida, we shall be delighted to proclaim their name far and wide.—St. Augustine Record.

According to the New Smyrna Breeze, the growers of castor beans in that section have been very successful in stopping the ravages of army worms. The planters who had small patches discovered them when they first made their appearance and by burning them and spraying the plants are practically rid of the pest. The beans have made a good growth since the rains set in and there is prospect of a very good yield.

HOME TOWN HELPS

GOOD IDEA THAT IS SPREADING

Few Places Now in the Country That Do Not Recognize Need of Beautification.

Time was not so very long ago when the thought of civic beauty and the recognition of the importance of city beautification belonged to a few people only.

When the first of the larger cities of Texas set about the process of making beauty where only ugliness had been before, many taxpayers objected on the ground that it was not wise to exp. public money for such purposes.

But that larger city persisted. A landscape architect was employed. A comprehensive plan for future development was drawn up. Appropriations looking far into the future were planned. An educational campaign to teach the people the need for beauty was gotten under way. Today that city is far to the front as an example of what may be accomplished in a few years of labor intelligently applied.

Other cities followed. One by one the centers of population fell into line. Directly the smaller cities began to lay plans for that day when they, too, shall be large cities. Only recently the city of Denison, urged on by public-spirited citizens, employed a well-paid expert to make a survey and lay down a comprehensive plan of artistic development. And within the next few months practically every Texas city will have proved that even in the state of Texas the people recognize the value of beauty and the importance of the artistic in the everyday life of the people.—Houston Post.

WHERE CENSOR IS NEEDED

Successful Outcome of Allotment Development Depends Largely on Intelligent Forethought.

The successful outcome of an allotment development as an asset to a city depends largely upon the type of neighborhood established by the realtor in selling his property.

It is true, however, that some properties are assured of ultimate individuality before development on account of their natural location.

The average allotment, however, is dependent on the method of sale of separate lots and the restrictions imposed upon them, which have an important bearing on the ultimate up-building.

Perhaps the most apparent reason for a development not proving what was originally intended are, first, that the building operations (to set the pace, so to speak) were not carried on by the developer to show what was expected, and second, the censoring of building plans.—Cleveland Leader.

Kind of House in Demand

The last matter influencing cost is "marketability." To be saleable a house must measure up to and down to a standard. Mahogany and quartered oak wainscoting, plate glass windows and other similar embellishments do not increase the selling value to any great extent. By the time you are ready to sell the style in these things will have changed, and they are then more likely to decrease than increase the value. Be measurably conventional and comfortably normal in your ideas. The best houses are not the most expensive or the most peculiar. They are almost always the expression of a "type," and follow the main features of their type, departing from it normal only in minor ways. This is the kind of house that is always in demand.

Your War Garden

Don't rob yourself of flowers even in war times. There is no better antidote for the war horror, and there is no reason why the vegetable garden should not be bordered with such plants as gladioli, dahlias, sunflowers and various other annuals. Indeed, some of the vegetables themselves have beautiful blossoms. The scarlet runner bean and the sugar pea, for example, have beautiful flowers and both are excellent vegetables. Old-time gardens are often bordered with parsley, and most of the herbs when grown in little beds are delightful to look upon.

Site of Ancient City Discovered

News has been received at Madrid, Spain, of the discovery in Brazil of the site of the Inca City known to early Spanish and Portuguese explorers as El Dorado, and hitherto regarded as legendary. The ruins are located in the Manoa region, near the Bolivian frontier. In the midst of a dense forest. An archeological expedition, including Brazilian Spanish and Portuguese scientists, will make a detailed study of the district.

Forces of Habit

"These crowded street cars are spoiling my oratorical style."

"How can that be?"

"Every time I put my arm into the air to make a gesture I paw around as if I were reaching for a strap."

COOL LINEN FROCKS

Gown May Be Developed in White, With Braiding to Suit.

Skirt Is Very Narrow; Back of Coat Section Plain; New Fabric Fine for Separate Garment.

Frocks of heavy linen, smartly tailored, are fashionable for warm weather wear. They are expensive when bought ready to wear, and certainly not particularly cheap when made at home, as good linen fabrics are scarce and very high in price. But unless one wishes to wait until the very end of the season, when mark-down sales have brought prices to a reasonable level, making things at home is a less expensive method of dressing than purchasing them ready to wear, and certainly more individuality is possible.

The sketch offers a suggestion for a linen frock, which may be developed in white with soutache braiding in navy, yellow or other color, or the gown may be in color with white braiding. It is a slip-over affair, an opening about five inches deep at the side front making this possible. The sash, tied loosely, may be in a color to match either the frock or trimming.

The skirt of the dress is very narrow, measuring not more than 1 1/2 yards in width, and the back of the coat section is entirely plain, with only a short round yoke formed by a continuation of the front panels, braided, to relieve its severity.

A very interesting and lovely cotton fabric brought out this season, and which is being used in large quantity for separate skirts, might be selected for this frock.

The material is satin finished and closely simulates silk satin. It tunders well and while closely woven and with a firm texture, it is not as heavy in weight as the linens usually selected for tailored garments. Sateen is an old-time favorite, but this new material does not show the twill that sateen has.

HAVE SHOES MATCH GOWNS

Oil Paint May Be Successfully Used on Canvas Footgear; Operation Is Simple.

It is possible to have pretty shoes at small expense to match light dresses, writes a correspondent. Shoes of delicate colors are hard to find and always expensive. One girl wanted a pair of light gray shoes and this is how she managed: She had a pair of white canvas shoes, which were somewhat soiled. She first scrubbed them with good white soap and water, using a small brush, then drying them in the sunshine. She then mixed a little black and white oil paint until the desired gray shade was obtained. This she mixed in a cup half full of turpentine.

Very little paint is needed. Just enough to color the canvas. Brush the liquid over the shoes with a small paint brush and you will be surprised to find how nice they look. They dry with no streaks. Match them in ribbon for ties. Of course any colors may be made to match any gown. The black and white are not expensive, but black and white are only a few cents a tube each.

About Skirts

Wide silk braid used as a binding outlines the lines of many separate skirts. Any number of new models are made with yokes, with the pockets inserted where the lines of the yoke or belt form a novel cut. There is an absence of applied pockets on the latest skirts.

Farmers and Fruit Growers

Items of Interest for the Man Behind the Plow

Labor Saving Machinery

Labor saving farm machinery will play an important part in "winning the war," and is being emphasized by all county agents. Wherever machinery can take the place of man power it must be utilized to the very best advantage. If a machine can take the place of five men it is usually economical under peace times, but in war times where man power takes the place of improved machinery it is wasted labor. This wasted labor does not refer to actual idleness on the part of the farm hands or to labor that does not bring returns. The nation is calling for maximum production and the farmer must handle his crops with a smaller crew. In the end he will profit by getting the work done more promptly and having it under better control. The labor saving appliances of the farm are being given the most careful study by experts. The American farmer is resourceful and will utilize labor saving machinery because he will find it profitable to do so.

Watch for Rust Mites

One of the most expensive guests the Florida citrus grower entertains in his grove is the rust mite. This minute pest cuts seriously into the profits of the owner, according to Prof. J. T. Watson, entomologist, Florida Experiment Station.

The rust mite is a very small insect barely visible to the naked eye and to find it one must use a lens and under the lens it will appear to be a long, tapering yellow wedge, with short legs and moves very slowly. If rust mites are very numerous on the fruit they give it a mealy or powdery appearance. These rust mites multiply rapidly in dry weather and may appear any time before the fruit is mature.

The effect of the rust mite is to destroy the bright color of the fruit, causing the well known russeted fruit which brings a lower price than bright fruit. It reduces the size of the fruit; it retards the ripening of the fruit and interferes with the working of the leaves, thus injuring the trees.

The remedy is sulphur in some form. Perhaps the most satisfactory is ordinary commercial lime-sulphur in the proportion of one part to 70 of water. Besides killing the rust mite this solution apparently has a stimulating effect upon the fruit, causing it to color up and ripen more rapidly. A quicker and cheaper method is to use sulphur dust through the trees. This is usually done by means of a large "blower." It is better to mix this with lime, either hydrated or air-slaked. The sulphur does the work by giving off sulphur dioxide gas as a result of the lime oxidation of the sulphur and therefore a sort of fumigation process and will kill rust mites not actually hit.

The paraffin oils so extensively used to kill whitefly and purple scale also will kill all rust mites hit, but the ability of the sulphur to kill at a distance.

The time to spray is when the rust mite shows itself. Prof. Watson states that June and November are usually the most critical months, but the insect may appear at any time, and those who expect to have bright fruit should watch for the insect at almost any season and especially following a dry period.

Fall Planting Irish Potatoes

These past two years have demonstrated beyond all question that the Irish potato is a staple crop in Florida. From the extreme west to the most southern parts of Florida Irish potatoes were grown last spring and while the crop met with unfavorable markets it was generally good, which established the fact that there is no further question as to its adaptation to Florida conditions and soils.

The results of planting indicate that the spring crop is usually the most profitable because it comes on the market when there is a greater demand for the new potatoes and as it is a cool weather plant does best during the cooler months of the year. However, no one should plant a fall garden without at least a small plot of Irish potatoes. For the middle and northern portions of Florida planting should be done before the middle of September; if deferred until later than this the probability of frost during the latter part of November may make the crop uncertain. A. P. Spencer, vice-director extension Division University of Florida, states that in the northwest portion of Florida farmers will find it advisable to plant early in August. This gives 90 days before the first frosts appear and an assurance of a fairly good crop.

For fall planting one should exercise care in selecting the soil. The white sandy lands that have little or no humus and are very sensitive to drought are not suitable for the fall crop. If one has a dark soil with a fair amount of moisture he can expect a crop that will give on the average good returns.

The planting should be as near level as possible to admit frequent cultivation. The seed should be planted 3 or 4 inches deep. While no very extensive experiments have been made it is generally conceded that the small potatoes from the spring crop are the most likely to give the best returns. Disappointment in a good stand from the fall crop may have been caused by planting potatoes that would not sprout. Not all of the potatoes carried over from the spring crop will sprout. There is, however, usually enough in a stock left over that can be selected with sprouts already started; these if picked out are almost sure to grow off rapidly and produce a fair stand, but this fact being neglected is one of the main reasons for poor stands of fall grown potatoes. It is not even necessary to preserve the sprouts already started, as on placing the tubers in a moist, warm soil germination will begin almost immediately. It is, however, a waste of time to plant Irish potatoes on high, dry, white, sandy land unless it can be well fertilized and irrigated.

Many Kinds of Courage

The essential meaning of courage lies in the word itself. It comes into English by way of the French courage, which comes in turn from the Latin, cor, meaning "heart." Courage is heritage, keeping the heart steady even in the presence of disturbing conditions. Sometimes it appears in the ability to keep the heart from "fluttering when a sudden danger threatens; sometimes in the ability to keep going when life settles down into a grind and the heart would sink to despair but for persistent courage.

Facts About Ship's Speed

A ship increases her speed more readily over deep water, but on the other hand, the faster a ship runs the more depth of water she requires to prevent the hindrance caused by the dragging influence of the friction, which is always felt when the ship's "hull" is bottom. Running ten knots an hour, a ship must have between 20 and 27 feet of depth, or she is dragged from below. If running 25 knots she needs a depth of 104 to 107 feet, and when running 30 knots she feels the drag over a depth of 174 feet.

TO BAR FOOD CORNERS

France Plans to Prevent Boost in Prices.

Food Minister is Inclined Toward Monthly Rationing Scheme—Foods Plentiful.

Paris.—M. Victor Boret, the French food minister, it is said, will bring before the cabinet important measures for preventing the increase in meat prices and in the cornering of supplies. The commission that he sent to London, it is understood, has reported unfavorably on the introduction for the present at least, of the English meat card.

The French bread card has given good results and the food minister inclines toward the monthly meat card, which for 10 days will entitle the holder to two and a half ounces of meat, for eight days four and a half ounces of tripe, rabbit or fowl, and for four days six ounces of cold meat.

He points out that the French have suffered much more than the English, there being larger supplies of fish and frozen meat in England than in France. M. Boret adds that there are plenty of potatoes, that he is trying to increase the catch of fish, and that larger quantities of macaroni in its various forms will be available.

Parisians who sometimes find that their baker supplies them with bread of a darker flour than usual are advised in a note issued by the food ministry not to make this a reason for buying at another shop. The variation in the color is due to the fact that some of the wheat imported from the United States is for reasons of tonnage economy not refined to the same degree as in France, and transport difficulties sometimes prevent the making of uniform mixtures. As the same variety of flour is rarely delivered twice in succession to the same baker, it is in the customer's interest that he should always make his purchase at the same shop.

FIRST WOMAN ARMY OFFICER

Lieut. Edith Smith, the first woman ever given a bona fide commission in the United States army, has taken up her duties as a contract surgeon at Fort McPherson. Lieutenant Smith is a graduate of the Ohio University School of Medicine and studied for several years abroad, being for a time associated with E. Gustavkin, the world-famous obstetrician and gynecologist.

POETS HONOR WAR HEROES.

Names of Four Who Gave Lives Inscribed on Ambulances Donated for Italy.

New York.—The names of four heroes of the war will be inscribed on ambulances donated by the American poets' ambulances in Italy, according to an announcement by Robert Underwood Johnson, chairman of the fund. The honor will be paid to Curtis Seaman Read of New York city, American aviator killed in France; John Kipling, son of Rudyard Kipling, who is presumed to have been killed while in action with the British forces; Antonio Rosatti, the Italian aviator, who was killed recently in an accident at Mineola, N. Y.; and Commander Hizzo of the Italian navy, hero of the recent sinking of an Austrian dreadnaught off the Dalmatian coast.

WOMEN FORM SECTION GANG

Seven of Them Give Capable Service on Stretch of Track in Washington.

Castle Rock, Wash.—Six married women and one who hopes eventually to be married form a section gang that is caring for a stretch of double-tracked main line of the Northern Pacific north of this town. The fair-sexed seven are in charge of a regular section gang foreman, and he reports the women do just as efficient work as the 15 men who formerly made up his crew.

GIRLS' AND BOYS' CLOTHING

Simplicity Should Rule Even in Garments for "Dress-Up" Occasions—Wartime Economy Necessary.

For "dress-up" occasions the girls will require two or three sets of lingerie and one set of nightgowns. This should be simply and to the point. Trimmings may be simple, homelike, of fine quality, but the design should be simple and to the point. The "dress-up" needs of the boy of seven and over are fully met by a two-piece suit of Canadian tweed with hat and cap to match. Shirt waists or shirts of muslin in a softer design showing gathers and frills.

The "dress-up" needs of the boy of seven and over are fully met by a two-piece suit of Canadian tweed with hat and cap to match. Shirt waists or shirts of muslin in a softer design showing gathers and frills.

Wartime economy will suggest that as many as possible of these garments be made from second-hand material. The indispensable centerpiece may be fashioned from a discarded gown, one by re-dyeing and cutting it over. Boys' shirt waists may be made from the best parts of men's discarded shirts, which are usually of excellent material. A woman's cloth skirt will make knickers for the small boy or bloomers or skirt for the girl.

In buying new materials avoid loose colors. Lavenders, greens and blues cannot be relied upon.

Why Use Gasolene When? Kerosene Does The Work

The high cost of gasoline has no terrors for the man who owns a Novo engine. Its kerosene carburetor extracts every atom of power, from this easily obtained, low-cost fuel.

Light in weight and easily portable, but built over-size in every part, Novo engines have the ability to operate continuously over long periods with all the steadiness of steam.

There are eleven sizes of Novo engines; from one to fifteen horsepower, adapted to every purpose of farm, grove or packing house. And there are: hoisting, pumping, spraying, sawing and woodworking outfits of proven efficiency and low in cost. Ask us to mail you Novo Engine catalog.
