Woman trapped in vehicle after driving into lake

By Jamie J. Anderson-Potter

SANFORD — Cathy Cookman was trapped inside her minivan for nearly half an hour Tuesday afternoon when she veered off Seminole Boulevard and into Lake Monroe.

According to witnesses, Cookman was turning onto West Seminole Boulevard from North Mangoustine Avenue when she lost control of her vehicle and drove headfirst into the lake.

Garden, walkway dedicated to fallen astronauts

By Michelle Jeria Managing Editor

When Principal David Scott presented his idea for a memorial walk and garden to the school's PTA more than a year ago, the original idea was to highlight community members and alumni of the school. After the shuttle tragedy, the concept grew to include a permanent memorial for the seven astronauts who lost their lives during Columbia's tragic flight.

"We already had a memorial for the astronauts who lost their lives in the Challenger explosion," Scott said. "When the accident happened with Columbia, we decided to incorporate a memorial for the astronauts in what we were already planning to do."

The school's memorial walk and garden officially opened Tuesday during a school assembly and ribbon cutting. Many of the students who listened to the dedication helped create the scenic area in front of the school.

"A lot of the kids helped with the garden," PTA President Patrick Stenstrom said. "They did a bit of everything — digging, planting, laying soil. It all came together and is now a beautiful thing." The new addition to the school follows hours of planning and fund-raising by the PTA and student body, Stenstrom said. The entire project was funded through the City to announce new hotel deal

By Dan Ping Editor

SANPORD — City officials are expected to announce this week a new plan for a downtown conference center that includes a key component missing from previous proposals: a commitment by a private developer to build a hotel.

Official details have not been released; however, multiple sources close to the negotiations say a private developer has approached the city about build-ing a hotel and conference center.

A representative from the mayor's office would only confirm that a press conference regarding the conference center project has been tentatively scheduled for Thursday morning.

There's a meeting going on right now to finish up the details," said Jeffrey Bauer, liaison to the ture located at the site of the mayor and city commission.

liminary sketches do not show a hotel connecting with the conference center space. Instead, the new plan calls for a multi-floor hotel on and occupied by the Best Western Marina Hotel. Sources say the developer, Suncor Properties Inc., has already obtained agreements with the principals in the Best Western property.

"Looks like it will be a Best Western hotel," said John Jones, economic development director for the city of Sanford. "It will be a very nice four-star Best Western."

In another departure from previous proposals, the new plan would not demolish the existing Civic Center. Instead, the Civic Center would receive substantial renovation including the possible addition of a second-level mezzanine. The Civic Center would be connected to a three-story struc-

The new 6,100-square-foot $1.1 million facility will include a new Natural History Museum /instructional room, a multipurpose room, support spaces for staff, and outdoor interpretive displays and kiosks. Minor site improvements for bus drop-off, parking, and storm water retention are also included.

The existing 1920's era school portable that was relocated from Lawton Elementary School in 1977 will be in use during construction, then demolished when the new facility is complete.

The exterior of the new building will be a cement fiber product which looks like wood lap siding, and will feature a full front porch, and covered learning area/pavilions on each end. The aluminum jalousie louvered windows will provide increased security of the center while adding to the "old style" Florida appearance. The interior entry

The west wing will feature the 1,200square-foot Natural History Museum that will be the new home for the various live and static displays of native wildlife and related topics currently at the Center.

The Environmental Studies Center is a cooperative effort between Seminole County Public Schools and the Seminole Board of County Commissioners. The program's goal is to increase awareness. environmental knowledge and responsibility while engendering feelings of protectiveness and ownership toward the environment.

Tours and activities are scheduled daily for first and fifth grade students. The center also provides teacher in-services and teaching materials to support classroom lesson plans.

School Superintendent Paul J. Hagerty, Ph.D., school board members, local elected officials, and the Friends of the Seminole County Environmental Studies Center Organization attended the groundbreaking ceremony.

Cause of Historic District fire still unknown

BANFORD — Two historic homes located on Magnolia Avenue in the downtown Sanford Historic District were destroyed during a house fire early Saturday morning.

According to Mark James, a fire inspector with the Sanford Fire Department, the cause of the fire has not been determined.

Due to the heat and the instability of the walls left after the fire, we [Seniord Fire Department] chose not to make entry and find an origin of the fire," said James. "We will not be conducting an investigation, but the state fire marshal has completed his on-site investigation and will determine a cause and come back with a ruling."

According to James, the fires began at the home located at 801 Magnolia Avenue. The structure, owned by Clarice D. Delano, was being rented to her son and his two roommates. The men heard the smoke alarms and were able to escape without injury. However, the residents' two dogs were unable to warn her of the fire. When he arrived at the door, Delano was already leaving the home after being awakened by her four dogs. She and the dogs made it out safely.

According to fire department reports, the fire at BU7 Magnolia Avenue began nearly 1 minute after fire crews arrived on the scene.

They had lumber, fuel, mattresses, furniture, boxes of papers and other things like that stored in both of the homes," said James. "This contributed to the heat generated and that is what caused the second fire and the amount of damage seen in

That multi-floor structure would house retail space along 1st Street, offices for the chamber of commerce and the Seminole County Tourism Development Council and a 40,000 square-foot meeting space. A 300- to 400-car parking garage would be located on the second and third floors of the structure.

Plans also call for a large, outdoor amphitheater that could seat approximately 2,500 people. At this time, officials expect the conference center complex to be called Seminole County Convention Center at Riverwalk.

Exactly how funding for the project will take shape and how much the private developer will shoulder is unclear. However, one official said the public sector cost would be considerably less expensive than the $14 to $18 million approved by the Seminole County Commission. County officials had proposed spending up to $700,000 of Tourism Development Council revenue each year for 30 years. This official said the county's cost could be about $300,000, with Sanford contributing an equal amount, over a 20 year period. The city currently spends $180,000 annually to maintain the Civic Center.

"I haven't gotten all the figures, but it looks like the county's share will be substantially less," confirmed Daryl McLain, chairman of the Seminole County Commission.

Suncor Properties Inc. is a Lake Mary-based company that has most recently completed commercial and residential developments in Lake Mary and Heathrow. Last week the Sanford Planning and Zoning Commission approved the company's site plan for a $12 to $15 million residential/retail complex on Lake Monroe just west of City Hall.

Wedding planner rehearses proper behavior for guests

DEAR ABBY: I am a certified wedding planner. With the wedding season upon us, I would appreciate it if you would publish the following "reminders" for wedding guests:

Abby

 The only people invited are those listed on the invitation.

Please do not bring uninvited guests. I've seen a shortage of space and food at receptions because of this. (Caterers often charge extra for the number of guests exceeding the original

2. Please do not bring children unless they are listed on the invitation. They may be the cutest kids in the world — especially when they're all dressed up.

However, it's the bride and groom's day, not an occasion for you to show off your little ones.

3. Another reason not to bring uninvited children is that many reception sites charge by the number of attendees, regardless of the age.

4. If you must bring a nursing baby to the cere-mony, ask to be seated on an aisle near the back, so a quick exit can be made if the baby becomes

Keep in mind that a wedding day is an occasion the bride has dreamed of all her life. Countless hours and thousands of dollars may have been spent to make it perfect. Please don't spoil it for the happy couple. SPEAKING FOR ALL BRIDES

DEAR SPEAKING: Every spring I receive wedding etiquetic questions by the bushel. Your helpful reminders can diffuse more than a few potential problems before they occur. Thank you for sending them.

DEAR ABBY: I am 13. I read your column every day. My mom is bulimic, and now I am fat because all she buys is junk food. Please give me some advice in the newspaper, because Morn will be mad if she knows I wrote to you.

I am sick of the kids at school calling me names all the time. I am sick of my mother calling me a fat pig when it is her fault that I eat the wrong food and don't throw up afterward like she does.

There is no reason to live any more. Every day of my life is miscrable and I'd rather not even be here. You are my last chance for help on how to deal with these people.
FED UP IN PORT MYERS, FLA.

DEAR FED UP: You need more help than any-one can give you in a letter. It's time to talk to one can give you in a letter. It's time to talk to your teacher, your principal or a school nume about what you have written me. Your mother has an eating disorder and may not even realise that she is passing it along to you.

You need a healthy diet and an enercise program, and your mother needs to understand that what's going on could be classified as neglect because children's eating habits are dictated by their persons. Don't wait — talk to someone now

Please let me hear from you again. I care.

DEAR ABBY: In a recent column you mentioned the old story that my grandfather, W.C. Fields, did not relate well to children. Nothing could be further from the truth. In fact, he loved children, and proudly drove his firstborn grandchild home from the hospital. A family photo appeared in People magazine on Jan. 1, 2000. It depicts my beloved grandfather, his first grandchild and my mother — and it is heartwarming.
HARRIET A. PIELDS.

WASHINGTON, D.C. DEAR HARRIET: I stand corrected. Thank you for helping to bury an old myth.

Workers Temporary Staffing to open new offices in Atlanta

Worker's Temporary Staffing, a leading Florida temporary staffing agency based in Lake Mary, plans to open its second out-ofstate office in Atlanta in about six weeks.

Mark A. Lang, Sr., founder and president of the firm, said his office currently has more than 20 offices in Florida and puts more than 2,000 people to work every day here.

Workers Temporary Staffing recently opened an office in Kansas City, Mo. and plans to open another one in the port area of South Jacksonville because of the heavy demand for temporary workers.

We are busier than we have ever been and we are expanding," Lang said. "We are studying other markets and we are focusing on southeastern region."

Lang said the biggest demand for temporary workers now is in warehousing, refuse and carpentry.

"Those are also good signs," Lang said. "Growth in warehousing and distri-bution and the refuse industry are both strong indicators of economic health. Demand is strong and work is steady."

"It's very satisfying to know that a small, privately owned company is able to hold its own and carve out a market niche for itself among the larger national builders with many years under their belts," she says.

Last year as it completed its seventh year in Central Florida, the company approached a sig-nificant milestone – 2,000 homes built and sold. Going into 2003, Engineered Homes had logged 1,974 home sales for approximately $315 million - all of its occurring in a four-county mar-ket of Orange, Seminole, Lake and Osceola counties.

Lake Mary, FL - My back pain was horrible! I tried everything imaginable to get rid of it but nothing worked. I tried Aspirin at first. But it didn't work. It hurt so bad I couldn't even pick up my children without wincing from the pain. I went to my doctor but he told me I would just have to live with the pain and take muscle relaxers and painkillers whenever my pain got bad. But it only got worse! I was about to talk about surgery until I stumbled upon a free report offered in my paper which revealed to me the truth about my back pain and the best proven way to get rid of it forever! I admit, I didn't believe it at all, but I ordered the tree report and I haven't had one attack of pain in 6 months! Orangewood exits

Rams' run ended in Class A semifinals

By Deen Smith Sports Editor

TAMPA — The Orangewood Christian School baseball team scored the first and last runs of the game Monday at Legenda

But Providence School from Jacksonvilla did all of the damage in between as the Stallions eliminated the Rams, 72, in the Class A Semifinals of the 2003 FHSAA Florida Baseball Finals in Tampa.

Orangewood (14-16) showed signs of brilliance for much of the game, but Providence (29-2), which is hitting .352 for the season, was just too powerful for the Rams.

Former Major League pitcher, and Tampa native, Dwight "Doc" Gooden threw out the first pitch prior to the game and the game started as hot as the weather.

Kellyn Townsend led off the game for the Stallions With a single to center, but Orangewood second baseman Bryan Robertson, who calls Sanford home, then snagged a sharp ground ball off the bat of Tim Aldridge and in one motion tagged Townsend and fired to first baseman Nate

Maxwell then tied the game with a double to the gap in the leftcenter and scored the go ahead run on a pair of sacrifices. The Stallions then took control of the game, chasing Meier, in the fourth inning.

Tim Brown led off with a single and stole second. Austin-Heilig then dropped down a bunt back to Meier, who had a chance to get Brown going to third. But his throw trying to hit a back-pedaling Mike Clark was wild and Brown scored with Heilig taking second.

Kramer then bunted the ball over Meier's head for a single, bringing on Irvine to pitch.

Pinchnitter Connor Hodges put down a perfect suicide squeeze to plate courtesy runner Kyle Wilson and Kramer scored two batters later on a single by Travis Martin, just eluding a tag by catcher Peter Dudley on a nice throw from right by Rupp.

The Rams, meanwhile were having no luck against Maxwell (11-1), a diminutive righthander with a blazing fastball, as the unior retired 12 consecutive batters at one point and 18 of 20 hitters after giving up the hit to Irvine in the first.

Orangewood still held out hope however, as it trailed just 5-2 entering the seventh inning and the heart of the batting order set to come to the plate. But Brown launched a twoout, two-run home run off the foul screen down the 318-foot leftfield line to all but put the game out of reach.

The first two batters struck out for the Rams in the bottom of the seventh and the count went to 0-2 on Robertson before he lined a sharp single into rightcenter.

He then advanced to second on a wild pitch and went to third on Rupp's second hit of the game.

But the Stallions then used a trick play to catch Rupp in a rundown, which he staved in long enough for Robertson to ' score and just missed beating the tag on a dash back to first.

Orangewood's pitching did a good job overall, holding the Stallions to just seven runs after they had scored 10, 13 and 13 in their previous three regional games and actually did a super ob on the strength of the Providence lineup as the top five hitters only had four of the

Stallions' 11 hits and drove in just two runs without scoring

But the bottom four did the damage with seven hits, including two doubles and a home run, scored seven runs and drove in four.

The Rams of head coach Leo Reilly and assistant coaches Tom Pinnock and Allan Irvine, who hit .281 as a team this season, could easily find themselves back in Tampa next year as they only lose four players, Meler, Robertson (who will attend Mercer University), Dudley and Clark.

Returning next year will be juniors Brian Irvine, Rupp, Braden Wyatt, Nick Porta and Ben Rupp; sophomores Tom Pinnock, Chandler Robertson and Scott Johnson; freshmen Jon Reilly, Christian Powell and Mike Doudney; and eighth grader Taylor McBath.
