

Lost Promotion To Be Sought

State Drops Case Against Officer

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford police Sgt. Joe Dillard's job is secure following a state board's vote Thursday not to review his certification.

The Criminal Justice Standards and Training Commission, a 17 member state board in Tallahassee which certifies police officers, voted unanimously not to act because Dillard's alleged victim in a fondling case would not testify.

The board's staff recommended the case be dropped.

Dillard, who has a 14-year unblemished record, was accused in September by an 18-year-old woman who said he fondled her in the summer of 1983.

The motion not to review Dillard's certification was made by board member John Polk, sheriff of Seminole County, according to Dillard's attorney, Thomas Greene of Sanford.

Dillard will now seek a promotion he was passed over for while he was fighting the woman's charge, Greene said. If the Sanford police department's promotion board does not reconvene to consider Dillard for a lieutenant's position he will take legal action against the city, Greene said.

Although the woman refused to press criminal charges, her accusation prompted the state and local authorities to investigate her claim, thus putting Dillard's certification in jeopardy.

After the alleged fondling incident was reported, Dillard was suspended with pay and fired in December by Police Chief Ben Butler.

Prior to Dillard's firing, however, a local panel of two sheriff's deputies and a Sanford officer voted 2-1 against any disciplinary action. The Sanford officer voted for disciplinary action.

After the firing, a Sanford Civil Service Board overruled Butler and reinstated Dillard, but not after a lieutenant's promotion he was eligible for was filled by another sergeant on the force.

Steve Harriett, who became acting police chief April 30 because Butler is retiring, said there isn't a lieutenant's position open in the police department and Dillard can't be promoted to a position that does not exist. He said it is premature to consider whether a position could be created for Dillard.

As for any suit against the city Harriett said, "I suppose his attorney can do what he wants to do."

Sanford city attorney William Colbert said if Dillard did take See OFFICER, page 14A

Father, Son To Tackle 'Great Race'

Sanford architect Gerald Gross and his father, Don, will soon be chugging across the country in their 1929 Ford delivery van in the "Great American Race."

Slapped on the side of their classic roadster will be the seal of the city of Sanford for all of America to see. The younger Gross, a staunch Sanford promoter, estimates about "100 million people" will be exposed to the race, either in person or on TV, bringing national publicity to the city on the St. Johns.

There will be 119 other cars from all over the world in the 3,100-mile cross country road rally, Gross said. Entries are restricted to vehicles that are 1936 models or older. The race will begin June 24 in Los Angeles and end July 4 in New York City, with the winner taking a $100,000 purse. Another $150,000 in prizes will be awarded to other participants.

Sheriff Hikes Budget 14%

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Sheriff John Folk is requesting county commission approval of a $11.5 million budget for fiscal 1985-86, up 14.6 percent from this year's $10.07 million.

At the same time, Polk estimates that the department will return to the county more than $1 million in revenues from a variety of sources. These range from the housing of federal prisoners at the Seminole County jail at $618,691, to $75,747 for the four staff members who serve in the drug enforcement administration.

Under state law, the sheriff is required to submit his proposed budget to the county commission by April 22 each year. County commissioners are slated to begin work on submitted budgets from all departments in mid-June.

Breakdown of the sheriff's request: $8.7 million for salaries, fringe benefits, medical insurance etc.; $1.9 million, operating expenses; $855,353 for equipment, and a $40,000 contingency fund.

The request includes 31 new employees to bring the department to a strength of 332 deputies, corrections officers, clerks, communication officers, and other personnel.

Pay raises for employees anticipated in the budget range from 2.5 percent to 5 percent.

The 31 new employees and costs associated with them are:

- Deputies for the unincorporated area, four — salaries and fringe benefits $85,120, operating costs $5,316, equipment $17,384 for a total of $107,820

- One court bailiff — salary and fringes, $12,635, operating costs, $306 and total $12,940.

- Criminal Investigation Division, two deputies — salaries and fringes $43,234, operating costs $2,665, equipment $27,682, total $73,581

Man Shot At Bar

An unidentified Sanford man was shot at about noon today in a Sipes Avenue bar in Midway. He was taken to Central Florida Regional hospital. A hospital day supervisor said the man was a 24-year-old Sanford man but his condition had not been established by 12:40 p.m. today.

It was believed the suspect fled east on state Road 46 in an orange and white migrant's bus, a Sanford police dispatcher said. The bus had the letters J.C. Bryant across the top and a white heart painted on the front, he said.

The suspect was armed with a shotgun and a .38 caliber pistol, the dispatcher said.

At last report the bus may have been stopped on U.S. 1 in Brevard County. Further details were unavailable at press time. Sheriff's deputy Willie Chandler is investigating the incident.

Hundreds To Walk In Birth Defect Fight

By Rick Brunson
Herald Staff Writer

About 500 Seminole County residents will feel good "down to their very feet" about helping others Saturday, according to March of Dimes regional Executive Director Harold Sheffer.

On that day, Sanford will have its first walkathon for the March of Dimes, Sheffer said.

Over 25 local businesses will have teams walking in the event, plus many individuals are expected to collect pledges and walk for children with birth defects.

"By the time they cross the line, they will know they have done some good ... "down to their very feet," Sheffer said Thursday.

The walk is 12 miles and will begin at 7 a.m. at the Sanford Civic Center. The 12 miles will include "the scenic route" of the city and will not interfere with the day's Sanford Appreciation Week activities.

The March of Dimes has changed the walkathon in two ways, Sheffer said. It has reduced the number of miles from 18 to 12 and revamped the way it takes pledges. Instead of getting people to pledge money for each mile walked and collecting the money after the walkathon, they pay a flat amount before the event.

Sheffer said the changes were brought about after complaints from huffing and puffing walkers that the walk was too long and collecting pledges to time consuming.

"I saw some pretty good looking young folks come across there (the finish line) and they were hurting. Then they would See WALK, page 14A

Couple Win $1 Million Award In DUI Death Of Daughter, 20

The parents of an Orlando woman killed by a drunk driver in 1980 have been awarded $1.075 million by a circuit court jury.

Mary Wiley and her former husband, John Wiley, were awarded the judgment in connection with the death of their 20-year-old daughter, Alice Wiley.

Miss Wiley was killed when a Camaro driven by Jonathan Mears, 29, of Orlando, collided with a Volkswagen in which the young woman was riding. She and Jeff Larson, the Volkswagen's driver, were catapulted from the vehicle. Larson was in a coma for 10 days but recovered.

Mears, who was sentenced to 3½ years for the woman's death, admitted to having had several beers before the accident. His blood alcohol level was nearly twice that needed to be legally

Time To Spring Forward

Daylight-saving time returns Sunday, providing an extra hour of sunlight in the evening. Clocks are set forward one hour at 2 a.m. The old adage is "spring forward, fall back" when resetting the clock.

Former Baseball Hero Gets 23-Year Sentence

TAMPA (UPI) — Denny McLain's 17-year tumble from baseball's summit has ended with a crash in U.S. District Court, accompanied by the sobs of his distraught family.

The last major-league pitcher to win 30 baseball games in a season was sentenced Thursday to 23 years in prison for cocaine possession, racketeering, conspiracy and extortion charges.

Denny McLain

"I'll pay for my convictions for the rest of my life," McLain said. "I've gone through a lot of shame and disgrace, and no sentence can equal the humiliation of being handcuffed in front of television cameras."

The judge was not swayed by McLain's statement during the emotional 65-minute hearing.

"The conscience of the community, through the jury, has come to believe in your guilt beyond a reasonable doubt," she said. "Your involvement with drugs is of considerable note to this court and, with regard to the drug conviction, this court is going to deal harshly."

McLain, who won 31 games for the Detroit Tigers in 1968, faced a maximum sentence of 75 years. He was denied bail the day after the guilty verdict was handed down March 16.

Lawyers for McLain filed notice of appeal on the convictions later in the day and a bond hearing is expected within 10 days.

McLain won the Cy Young Award in 1968 and shared the award the next season with Mike Cuellar of Baltimore. In 1970, he was suspended three times and traded to the Washington Senators at season's end. He was out of baseball entirely by 1973, at age 29.

A jury of nine women and three men deliberated three days before finding McLain guilty five weeks ago. Co- See McLAIN, page 14A

Two Neo-Nazis Plead Innocent To Robbery, Conspiracy Charges

SEATTLE (UPI) — As officers kept a wary watch on the courtroom, two members of the neo-Nazi group "The Order" pleaded innocent Thursday to racketeering, robbery and conspiracy charges for allegedly plotting the overthrow of the U.S. government.

As part of the tight security surrounding the case, officers armed with M-16 rifles kept guard outside the federal courtroom while the two men — Gary Lee Yarbrough, 30, of Sandpoint, Idaho, and Robert Merki, 50, of Boise — were brought in more than two hours before their hearing.

about why he had not filled out a request for a court-appointed attorney.

"I don't know what I have," Yarbrough said. "You've taken everything from me but my wife and kids."

Yarbrough, nicknamed "Yosemite Sam," already has been sentenced to 25 years to life in prison for his conviction earlier this year in Boise of firing a weapon at FBI agents standing outside his Sandpoint home last fall.

He is charged in the new racketeering indictment with robbing a Spokane bank in January 1984, robbing two armored cars in Seattle last spring, arson bombing an adult theater in Seattle in April 1984, participating in the $3.6 million robbery of an armored car in Ukiah, Calif., last July, and shooting at FBI agents in Portland, Ore., in November when he was arrested.

Merki, whose code name was "Noah," is charged on nine counts, including forgery, participating in the Ukiah armored car holdup, conspiring to rob the main Brinks Co. vault in San Francisco, violating various weapons laws, and harboring The Order's fugitive leader, Robert J. Mathews.

Indictments were released last week against 24 members of the white supremacist organization, alleging they plotted to overthrow the government through violent revolution, financed by robberies and counterfeiting schemes. Only one of the 24 — Richard Scutari — is still at large.

On Wednesday, Bruce Carroll Pierce, 30, of Hayden Lake, Idaho, also was flanked by four plainclothes officers as he entered the federal courtroom for arraignment proceedings.

Pierce reportedly took over leadership of The Order after the violent death of Robert Mathews, during a 36-hour standoff with FBI agents on Whidbey Island Dec. 8. According to the indictment, Pierce also sought to lead an "assassination squad" composed of members of The Order.

Pierce pleaded innocent to five charges — two racketeering counts, one count of conspiracy to commit robbery and two counts of robbery stemming from holdups last spring.

Seminole Court Sentencings

60 Weekends In Jail For Lewd Assault

A Sanford man has been sentenced to 60 weekends in the Seminole County jail after pleading guilty to a lewd and lascivious assault on a 7-year-old girl.

Keven Ray Dempton, 28, of 205 Flamingo Drive, could have received up to a year straight time in the county jail. Circuit Judge Dominick J. Salli also ordered Dempton to complete 1,400 hours of community service and serve 5 years of probation.

Dempton was originally charged with lewd and lascivious assault and sexual battery to a child under 11, a life felony. The girl, however, refused to answer questions about the assault, according to prosecutor Steven Plotnick and the state accepted Dempton's plea to the lesser of the two charges.

Dempton was arrested Aug. 10 after being accused of performing various sex acts with the girl. The acts occurred on numerous occasions during a period of several weeks at Dempton's home, according to a sheriff's investigator's report.

The abuse was reported to a sheriff's counselor and tests at Central Florida Regional Hospital, Sanford, supported the girl's allegations.

The girl said Dempton gave her $5, "for being a good girl," the report showed.

He pleaded guilty Jan. 28.

In other court action:

—Michael Daly, 25, of 701 Palm Springs Blvd., Altamonte Springs, arrested Oct. 13 on charges of attempted kidnapping, aggravated assault and grand theft with a firearm, was sentenced by Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr. to 5½ years for kidnapping. Daly also got 5 years each for aggravated assault and grand theft, the sentences to run concurrently. He was accused of grabbing a woman when she left a store, trying to force her at gunpoint into a car and firing a shot at a man who tried to help her. The woman and man were not injured. Daly fled and was captured a few minutes later.

—Danny Edwards, 35, of Orlando but formerly of 517 Eldorado Way, Casselberry, was sentenced by Salli to a year in the county jail for a lewd and lascivious act in the presence of a child. He pleaded guilty to the charge in February. According to court records, he prompted a 10-year-old girl to "touch" him. The incidents occurred in his home between Sept. 13 and 20, 1983.

—John Arthur Baumgardner, 20, of 799 S. Wymore Road, Altamonte Springs, arrested Feb. 9, after stealing a tire from a truck in the parking lot of the Altamonte Mall, has pleaded guilty to grand theft. Davis set sentencing for June 27. Baumgardner could receive up to a year in the county jail.

—Beth Ann Palmer, 25, of 731 S. Wymore Road, Altamonte Springs, arrested Dec. 21 after she fought with officers who stopped her after she drove her car around a road block. She pleaded guilty and Davis sentenced her to 3 years probation, 150 hours of community service. He also ordered her to pay $186 restitution to the Altamonte Springs Police Department.

—Michael Allen Smith, 19, of 228 Loch Lomond Drive, Winter Park, arrested Feb. 10, 1984, for grand theft of $30,000 worth of jewelry, was sentenced by Salli to 5 years probation. Most of the missing jewels were found. Salli also ordered Smith to pay $5,000 restitution — $25 a week until the bill is paid off — complete 500 hours of community service, write a letter of apology and pay his mother $140.

Pentagon May Shut Door On Contractor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon's inspector general plans to recommend to Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger that two top officials of the General Dynamics Corp. should be barred from doing business with the Pentagon.

Pentagon spokesman Michael Burch told reporters Thursday the intention of the proposed action by Inspector General Joseph Sherick is to force the resignation of General Dynamics Chairman David Lewis and chief financial officer Gordon MacDonald.

In response, the company, the nation's third largest defense contractor last year said:

"As far as we are concerned, there are no grounds whatever for suspension or debarment of either the company or of its senior executives."

Girl, 14, Says She Was Raped By 3 Men In Pickup

A 14-year-old Casselberry girl found unconscious by her father along a road near their home, said she was raped by three men who had given her a ride in a pickup truck.

The girl told Seminole County sheriff's deputies who questioned her at South Seminole Community Hospital, Longwood, that she was walking around Eagle Circle in Deer Run Park at about 5 p.m. Thursday when the three men drove up in an old blue pickup truck and offered her a frozen soft drink.

She accepted and they offered her a ride, which she also accepted, a sheriff's report said. The four rode around drinking beer until they parked on a dirt road off Eagle Circle, where the men took the girl's clothes off and all three raped her, the report said.

The girl's father found her about 9:30 p.m. and revived her. She went home and cleaned up before going to the hospital where the deputy who questioned her said she appeared to be intoxicated, the report said.

PROWLER NABBED

A man who was stopped by sheriff's deputies as he was driving out of a Sanford car lot at about midnight Wednesday has been charged with prowling and possession of burglary tools.

Deputies said the man couldn't give them a good reason for being at B & B Motors, U.S. Highway 17-92, and they spotted cutting pliers and a long screwdriver on the seat of his car, according to a sheriff's report.

The suspect gave them permission to search his car, the report said. When they found a battery in the trunk he said he always carries a spare, the report said.

James Edward Wade, 28, of 31 Lemon Lane, Casselberry, has been charged in the case and was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

another man with a knife during a dispute at a Fern Park restaurant has been charged with assault.

The two were among a group of people that a sheriff's deputy spotted in the parking lot of the Krystal, 349 U.S. Highway 17-92, after being called to calm a fight at about 3 a.m. Thursday, a sheriff's report said.

The victim of the alleged knife wielder told the deputy that the suspect had threatened him with a knife and held the weapon to his throat. The deputy reported the suspect was standing beside a car and a knife was found in the vehicle.

Dexter Leroy Hughley, of 2386 Partnership Drive, has been re-

FALSE ALARM

A Winter Park woman has told Seminole County sheriff's deputies she intends to file charges against the Seminole County Fire Department because of damage to her home she said firefighters caused when they broke into her house to make a rescue on an apparently bogus call.

According to a sheriff's report firefighters received a call from a Suzy Smith who claimed there was a drug overdose victim in the home of Mary Kowalski, 104 Blue Heron Lane, Winter Park. Firefighters responded to the scene immediately after receiving the 9:09 a.m. call on Wednesday.

Fire department Lt. James Johnson told deputies his men knocked on the front door and all of the windows of the home. After getting no response, the rescue workers forced open the front door and a bedroom door, a sheriff's report said.

Firefighters said the homeowner's two daughters were asleep in the house and when awakened said they did not know a Suzy Smith. Mrs. Kowalski was telephoned and she denied knowledge of the false alarm and told deputies she intends to file charges against the rescuers for having forced entry into her home, the report said.

The two girls told deputies they heard the firefighters beating on the door and windows and yelling, but thought it was their father working on the house, the report said.

DUI ARRESTS

The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—John Thomas McLendon, 61, of Bellview, Fla., was arrested at 7:10 p.m. Wednesday on U.S. Highway 17-92, Longwood, after his car was involved in an accident. He was also charged with failure to use due care and causing an accident with injuries, a police report said.

—Kevin Michael Adams, 24, of 902 E. Lake Destiny Road, Altamonte Springs, at 2:44 a.m. Thursday after his car was seen weaving on state Road 436, Altamonte Springs.

FIRE CALLS

The Sanford Fire Department responded to the following calls.

Wednesday

—9:10 a.m., 2434 S. French Ave., fire. Firefighters put out a car fire caused by an electrical short circuit. No one was in the car and the amount of damage was not reported.

—12:14 p.m., 812 Valencia Court, rescue. A 32-year-old woman received two cuts on her forehead after she was assaulted with a drinking glass. She was treated at the scene and taken to the hospital.

DeLand Holds On, Edges Lake Mary

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

DELAND — DeLand's Lady Bulldogs had just about closed out Lake Mary's Lady Rams Thursday when they received a crack in the dam.

But, with the help of Debbie Underwood and Sonja Villett, the Lady Bulldogs were able to repair the crack before the floodgates opened and the result was a 5-4 victory over the Lady Rams in the 4A-9 District Tournament semifinals Thursday at the DeLand Airport.

DeLand, the second seed in the tourney, will face top seeded Apopka today at 4 for the district title. The winner will host the 4A-10 champion, either Winter Garden West Orange or Orlando Boone, Tuesday for the region title.

The Lady Bulldogs took advantage of four outfield errors to build a 4-0 lead after three innings Thursday. But DeLand committed one big error in the sixth that enabled Lake Mary to climb back in and tie the score at 4-4. But it was another mistake in the outfield that led to the eventual winning run in the bottom of the sixth for DeLand.

"The outfield was playing kind of afraid, they looked unsure of themselves," Lake Mary coach Cindy Henry said. "I think they were playing it a little bit too safe."

Lake Mary had the first offensive threat of the game but a baserunning error took them out of the inning. Lisa Simkins led off with a single to right center and Laurie Leifler then singled to left center. The outfield bobbled the ball around a bit and Simkins tried for third but was thrown out by Villett. Two pop flies to shortstop Robyn Swartz ended the inning.

DeLand capitalized on a pair of errors in the bottom of the second for a 1-0 lead. Kathy Wyche smacked a single to right to lead off and she went to second when the ball got by the rightfielder. A bad throw to the infield got away and enabled Wyche to get to third on the play. With one out, Wyche scored on Kathy Corr's grounder to second.

DeLand added three more runs in the bottom of the third for a 4-0 lead. With runners on first and second and two outs, Shawn Lane launched a shot over the right fielder's head for a three-run homer. It was Lane's 13th round tripper of the season.

While DeLand was building its 4-0 lead, Lake Mary was having trouble getting on base. In the first five innings, 11 of the 15 outs recorded were easy fly balls.

Lake Mary finally got the break it needed in the top of the sixth. Amy Adams reached on an error to lead off and Liz Stone followed with a walk. With one out, Beth Watkins reached on a fielder's choice with Stone out at second. Averill then slapped a single to right center to drive in Adams, trimming DeLand's lead to 4-1.

Simkins then came up and singled hard to right center to drive in Watkins and, when the ball skipped by the outfielder, Averill and Simkins also scampered home to tie the score at 4-4.

DeLand broke the tie in a hurry in the bottom of the sixth. With one out, Wyche looped a high fly to short right center. The outfield was playing deep though and what usually is a routine fly ball fell in for a single. Then, the outfielder couldn't get a handle on the ball, and Wyche went to second. A pinch runner then went in in place of Wyche and Underwood followed by ripping a single to right to drive in what turned out to be the winning run. Lake Mary didn't go down without a fight though. Lisa Santull just beat out a possible inning-ending double play ball to keep the Lady Rams alive and Adams followed with a single to center. Stone then hit a sinking liner up the middle but Villett made a running shoestring catch for the final out.

"We got back in the game there," Henry said. "But again (bottom of the sixth) we didn't field the ball cleanly in the outfield."

Almon Takes Charge Of Lake Brantley Gridders

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Fred Almon, an assistant at Lyman High School last year, was named as head football coach at Lake Brantley High School Thursday by Lake Brantley Principal Darwin Boothe.

Almon, 37, has made several coaching stops during the past 14 years but he said that a four-year stint at Lake Brantley from 1978-80 may have been the biggest factor in getting the job.

"I'm sure that a big part to do with it," said Almon Friday morning. "I'm tickled to death to get the job and anxious to get started. We don't have much time before spring practice (next Wednesday) but I'll meet with the players tomorrow and the coaches today."

Almon, who engineered the Lyman defense last year, replaces David Tullis who resigned earlier this month. The Tampa Robinson graduate was an All-City and All-Conference linebacker during his prep days and went on to become a third-team Associated Press All-America at Memphis State.

"We were very impressed with Fred's intensity and his enthusiasm," said Boothe who chose Almon over five other candidates. Lake Brantley assistants Mary Williams, Glenn Preising, Wes Salley and Brian Smith were also in contention.

After his collegiate days, Almon took his first coaching job at Ocala Forest. He helped Forest to consecutive state 3A championships along with coaching swimming.

He moved to Lake Wales the next year where he was swimming coach and junior varsity football coach. From Lake Wales, Almon went to Lake Brantley where he served as defensive coordinator for four years under Jim Raley, who was also at Forest during Almon's time there.

After Lake Brantley, Almon moved to Dunnellon for a three and then Lake Mary for three years prior to joining Lyman last year.

Although Almon spent most of his career as a defensive coordinator, he said he will probably coach the offensive line at Lake Brantley. "I'm not sure what the assignments are yet," said Almon. "But I've been coaching the defensive linemen so long, I feel I know the offensive linemen just as well."

Peterson Resigns As Patriot Coach

Basketball

Bob Peterson said he was tired of wearing three hats so he discarded one Thursday. The 40-year-old Lake Brantley history teacher-athletic director boys basketball coach decided to step down from his cage coaching duties.

"It was taking too much energy to do all three jobs," said Peterson who has guided the Brantley cage fortunes for the past seven years. "I've got four kids and I need to spend some time with them, too."

Peterson said, however, he would not rule out a return to coaching sometime in the future. "I love coaching and I want to come back," said the personable coach. "I've talked to a lot of guys who have gotten out of it and then gotten back into it. They seemed to have made the transition easily."

Peterson, who came to Florida from Maryland eight years ago, coached the Orlando Jones Tigers in 1976-77. The Tigers earned a No. 1 ranking in the state during the regular season before being upset in the district.

The next year, Peterson, who is described as an excellent history instructor by assistant principal Jim Stanley, took the head job at Lake Brantley. Prior to coming to Florida, Peterson coached five years at Palotti High School.

Peterson said the duties of an athletic director are just becoming too large for a person to handle a full teaching and coaching load, too. He also said the time has come for the athletic director's role to broaden.

"The time has come in Seminole County where the athletic director needs to take a larger role in athletics," said Peterson.

Peterson said no successor has been named but that Lake Brantley would seriously consider assistants Steve Jucker and Frank Gooch. "We're accepting applications now for the boys' job," he said. "We also still have an opening for the girls head coaching job that we hope to fill pretty soon, too."

was especially pleased with the hurdlers and the jumpers and with Sonny (Osborn) in the pole vault.
Lake Brantley's Patriots, who coach Charlie Harris calls the "Rodney Dangerfields of track," are looking to secure the second spot in the district after tying for second with Seabreeze in the Five Star. Seabreeze, a 3A school, will not compete in tonight's district.
"We don't get a whole lot of respect," Harris said. "We had some bad performances (in the Five Star) but still had a good meet. That proves that we have a good, talented team."

Leading the list of talent for the Patriots are seniors John Mondo and Steve Emmons. Mondo is coming off a sprained ankle that kept him out of the conference meet and he will be looking to get back in the running in the 880 run, the event he leads the district in with a season's best 1:57.7.

In the girls meet, Seminole coach Emory Blake said he used last week's meet to decide where he will place his athletes tonight.

"We were trying to sort things out to see how we'd set up for district," Blake said. "We're going to go in at our best."

The biggest change for the Lady Tribe will be senior Glenda Baas who Blake said will go back to running in the mile relay and the open quarter and drop the 330 hurdles. "We want her (Baas) fresh for the medley so we'll probably take her out of the hurdles."

Blake said he will run freshman Shownda Martin in the 440 dash and 880 run, a pair of events she won at the conference meet. Martin, Baas, Dorchelle Webster and Katrina Walker will be integral parts of the relay teams which are all important in the meets to come.

While Martin has the hot hand in the quarter and 880, Lake Howell's Lisa Samocki has left all rivals in the dust in recent weeks. Samocki, a sophomore, has the top time in both the mile and two mile, both by wide margins. Junior Amy Ertel, who came on strong at the district meet last year, is making her move again in '85. Ertel, who won the mile and two mile at last season's district meet, has the second best time in the mile of those expected to run (Seminole's Martin is second but won't run mile) and the third best in the two mile.

Lake Mary has two of the top performers in the field events in Anjouette Whack (shot and discus) and Tonya Lawson (long jump).

Caladiums Add Color, Dimension To Flower Garden

For that cool look in your garden this season, why not set out a mass — small or large — planting of beautiful caladiums? These attractive tropical foliage plants will add both color and dimension to the flower garden if you're selective in both color and foliage types.

Caladiums originally came from the Amazon basin in Brazil. There are two types generally available. These include the "fancy" and the "lance-leaved" types. The most popular is the fancy-leaved caladium. These have rather large, somewhat rounded leaves. The distinguishing characteristic of the lance-leaved types is a narrow, elongated leaf. The length of the leaves is similar to the fancy-leaved, but the plants tend to be more dwarf in stature.

Cool-look caladiums are easy to grow if you follow a few simple gardening rules. First, plant the tubers in moderately rich, well-prepared soil in a shaded or partly shaded location. The soils should be porous and contain a generous quantity of organic material. This type of soil provides good aeration, drainage, and yet holds a good amount of moisture to keep the plants growing. If your soil is quite sandy, add a generous amount of composted cow manure or peat moss, or better, yet-well-rotted leaf mold.

Alfred Besesen
Urban Horticulturist

The caladium is a rugged plant but will not tolerate the full, hot summer sun. For best results, select a semi-shaded spot. The ideal location would provide about 40 to 60 percent shade. The fancy-leaved varieties can be used in areas exposed to full sun from one to two hours a day, preferably during the morning hours. Longer exposure will wipe them out.

A moist, but not soggy soil is preferred. Overwatering a poorly drained soil will cause decay of the fleshy tubers or roots. Mulching will certainly benefit the plants by maintaining a high relative humidity around the plants. If soils are allowed to dry, wilting occurs very rapidly. If plants remain wilted for an extended period, you'll lose the beautiful foliage.

All plants respond to a little care, especially fertilizer in our poor soils. You should mix in a minimum of two pounds of a complete garden fertilizer, such as a 6-6-6 or 8-8-8, per 100 square feet of garden area or two teaspoons per square foot at planting time. Each month during the growing season, apply one pound of the same fertilizer per 100 square feet of garden area or one teaspoon per square foot.

Caladium tubers should be planted two inches deep and about 18 inches apart in the garden. Be sure to pack the soil firmly around the tubers. If you purchased started plants in pots, they should be hardened to outdoor conditions by gradually exposing them to outdoor light and heat. If a bloom shoots up, pinch it off or the plant will be robbed of food needed for continuous leaf production.

Caladiums are very easy to grow in pots or tubs for a shaded spot on your patio or in the entrance area. When you grow them in containers, you'll have to pay closer attention to watering, as these thirsty plants will need it due to rapid drying of the soil in the pots.

You do have a wide choice of colors from which to select. The popular candidum and White Christmas varieties are white with strongly contrasting green veins. These kinds will brighten shaded areas and are particularly handsome when interspersed with white geraniums, white petunias, variegated vinca or hydrangeas.

Popular pink or rose colored leaves appear on such varieties as Lord Derby, Pink Cloud, Kathleen, Rose Bud, Carolyn Wharton and many others. Crimson Wave has a showy crimson crinkled center. Red is found in the Blaze, John Peed, Red Flair, and Freida Hemple varieties. Dark green veins and borders give added accent to the red leaves. Spangled Banner has red glowing leaves with pink spots.

Whether you grow your caladiums in containers, in masses or as a border plant, you find this popular summer perennial will provide color accent to your home all summer long for very little investment and upkeep. In fact, you better be careful — you may get hooked on caladiums!

Happy Gardening!

Woman Can't Vision Men's Attraction To Pornography

DEAR ABBY: This is regarding your answer to "Deceived," the young wife who was upset when she found some girlie magazines her husband had hidden from her. She said that she was a good-looking woman and couldn't understand why her husband would want to look at pornographic filth like that.

I was surprised at your answer. You said: "Please get over the notion that only men with unattractive wives read girlie magazines. What you look like has nothing to do with your husband's desire to look at what you call 'filth.'"

Then you defended the husband's right to read whatever he wanted to, and told the wife she had a lot to learn about why men enjoy looking at stuff like that.

Abby, I don't understand why a happily married man would want to look at pictures of naked women, so I asked my husband, and he said it was normal and natural for men to enjoy pictures of beautiful naked women regardless of what they have at home.

Abby, I consider myself normal, and I have absolutely no desire to look at pictures of naked men, no matter how well-built they are. Why?

PUZZLED IN CHICAGO

DEAR PUZZLED: Because most women do not respond to the visual the same way men do. (Women respond more to the spoken or written word.) But let's get something straight. All pictures of partially or fully unclothed women are not pornographic — some are beautiful, though erotic, and are considered museum-quality art.

Not having seen the "girlie" magazine in question, I'm unable to make an informed judgment, but let me go on the record to say that pictures that portray women as objects to be used, abused, humiliated or degraded in any way are totally unacceptable to me.

DEAR ABBY: I was pleased to note your approval of using "Yes, sir" and "No, ma'am"

Dear Abby

When addressing people,

I have heard people say, "Don't 'sir' me — I haven't been knighted!" (I ignore it as though it hadn't been said.) Addressing people as sir and ma'am is a matter of simple courtesy and has nothing to do with one's age or station in life.

Thank you, ma'am.
POLITE IN ST. CHARLES, LA.

DEAR POLITE: You're welcome, sir.

DEAR ABBY: I am an Englishman teaching psychiatry in the Alabama University School of Medicine, and I was prompted to write by the letter from "Bitter and Brokenhearted" (the widow of the smoker who was forced by relatives to go outside in sub-zero weather to smoke and subsequently caught pneumonia and died). I noticed that you published that letter without comment, judging, no doubt, that tragic story was comment enough.

Apparently, in the opinion of the relatives with whom the smoker and his wife were staying, smoking is a moral issue and has the status of something close to a crime.

Interestingly, King James I, after whom a version of the English Bible was named, wrote a famous pamphlet titled, "Counter Blast to Tobacco." He would have liked to have made the use of tobacco both sinful and criminal, but in spite of his throne and his title of Defender of the Faith, even King James could not make smoking either a crime or a sin.

Many thanks for your constructive, entertaining and often puzzling column.
H.O., BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

DEAR ABBY: I have never seen this problem in your column, but I know I'm not the only person who has it. I have always been a very quiet person, and rarely talk unless I have something to say. However, my problem is not that I am quiet, it's people who introduce me and add, "She's very quiet" or "Maybe you can get her to talk." Then there are those who in the presence of others loudly ask, "Why are you so quiet?"

I would never ask a person who talks a lot, "Why are you so loud?" Yet, quiet people are constantly asked, "Why are you so quiet?" Abby, people who are quiet are usually shy and lacking in confidence, which is difficult enough to deal with without having it pointed out in public.

I am working on overcoming my shyness and am making progress, but nothing sets me back more than being asked loudly in a crowd, "Why are you so quiet?"

Please print this. We in the quiet minority will thank you.

THE QUIET ONE

DEAR QUIET ONE: Thanks for an important message that came through loud and clear.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MRS. G., WATERVILLE, MAINE: Concerning disciplining a child, nobody said it better than Philip Wylie in his essay titled, "Why a Child is Important."

"To give a child material things and withhold discipline is more cruel than to strangle it. For such a child is headed for a lifetime of emotional strangulation — a walking death. Parents who leave untouched the immense problem of child discipline and substitute the abundant gifts do not actually love their children at all. They love things."

Boy's Tight Belt Probably Presents Little Problem

DEAR DR. GOTT — My 9-year-old son wears his belt so tight that it leaves marks on his belly. Is this dangerous?

DEAR READER — Years ago, women believed they were more attractive if they bound themselves in corsets. These Victorian appliances were supposed to give a coveted "hour-glass" appearance to the female form. A thin waist, corrected with whalebone and heavy laces, was considered a sign of beauty. Of course, such women had difficulty breathing and their internal organs were pushed all over the place. Modern females must breathe a sigh of relief that they aren't imprisoned in this way by a ridiculous male-oriented custom.

Heaven knows why your son chooses to pinch himself in half. However, if his preference causes him no physical pain, he probably is in no danger. You'd better tighten your own belt when you reflect on the future tricks he will have in store for you when he reaches adolescence.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My wife's doctor has put her on a low-residue diet. He gave her a list of foods to eat and not to eat, but he didn't tell her how to prepare the foods. Where can we find such information? Also, my wife thinks that she has cancer and that her doctor is not telling her the truth when he says she does not. Should she get a second opinion?

DEAR READER — Most "residue" or fiber, is composed of cellulose and indigestible vegetable components. Usually, the residue can be altered by cooking to become digestible. Although there are certain foods, like bran, that your doctor may prohibit, many high residue substances can safely be eaten after cooking. See if there is a nutritionist at your local hospital who can advise you how best to prepare foods that your wife may be unwilling or unable to omit.

With respect to the last part of your question, I unqualifiedly endorse a second — or third — opinion for anyone who is worried about having cancer. Apprehension is itself an uncomfortable state of mind. Irrespective of any underlying disease.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My eyes often weep a white substance on the outside of each eye. I notice that others have this problem. What is happening? Should I see an eye doctor?

DEAR READER — You may have abnormally thick mucus in your eye secretions, or you could have a low-grade infection. Check with an eye doctor. Not only may he be able to help you, but he will give you a thorough eye examination to make sure that no early eye disease exists. Remember that many serious eye conditions, like glaucoma, produce no visual disturbance until they are quite far advanced.

Send your questions to Dr. Gott at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, Ohio 44101.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

I don't like the bidding of today's deal. South made a light overall of one no-trump after East had opened with a one-diamond bid. South would have done better to overcall one heart. North-South is unlikely to have a game unless North can bid over one heart.

If no-trump is to be the final contract, it is almost certainly better for North to be the declarer. But then we wouldn't have had the opportunity to see Norman Kay, one of the world's great players, make a defensive play that will be long remembered.

On the opening lead of the diamond six, declarer played low from dummy and Norman, sitting East, played the 10, forcing the queen. A low spade was played to dummy's queen and a heart was led from dummy.

East played low and South won the king. Now the 10 of spades was played to the ace and Kay discarded — the heart ace.

There was no longer any way for declarer to establish the heart suit without allowing West to come on lead with the heart jack and come through the king of diamonds in dummy to set the contract.

Had South simply overcalled with one heart, North would have bid one no-trump. Now South would have been happy to raise to two no-trump, and you'd have had to put a gun to North's head to keep him from bidding three.

Needless to say, with East on lead, there is no defense against three no-trump.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY APRIL 27, 1985

The year ahead should be a very fortunate one for you where love and romance are concerned. If you haven't met Mr. or Ms. Right, there's a chance you will in this time frame.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Being your own person and doing your own thing has its merits, but don't push it to extremes today. Others may find you offensive if you do. Trying to patch up a romance? The Matchmaker set can help you to understand what it might take to make the relationship work. To get yours, mail $2 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Guard against tendencies today to anticipate the outcome of events in a negative fashion. If you think you're a loser, you'll be one.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) A crafty acquaintance who knows how to manipulate you and your generous nature may try to pull something cute today. Be on guard.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) To achieve your objectives today, you must plan out your moves in advance. Without a blueprint, you are apt to stumble.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Self-doubts and caution are not one and the same, so try not to confuse the two today. Tread warily but keep hope in your heart.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Normally you function well in partnership arrangements, but today joint ventures may not work out to your liking. Play it solo.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) A cool head is essential today to make sensible decisions. If you allow yourself to be pressured, your judgment will be impaired.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Keep in mind today that duties you now shove aside will eventually require attention. They won't be any easier later.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Do not take financial gambles today on little-known ventures. Your ignorance could cost you a pretty penny.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You and your mate have a disagreement today, try to resolve it between yourselves. Do nothing that could involve innocent bystanders.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) This is not a day to be overly critical of others. Even if you feel you have constructive suggestions, keep them to yourself.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Try to restrict your shopping today to small cash purchases. Don't let your extravagant impulses propel you into new debts.

Uncle Sam Demands Refunds States Owe Millions For Welfare Errors

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government has told nearly half the states and Puerto Rico they must repay $69.2 million for mistakes made on 1981 welfare checks or face a reduction in federal matching funds.

The errors, totaling $1 billion, were made in administering the state-federal Aid to Families with Dependent Children program, the nation's largest cash welfare system, which provides financial support to poor households most often headed by women.

In the cases at issue, people either got too much money or should not have received any.

The situation was disclosed Thursday at a hearing of a House Ways and Means subcommittee on public assistance.

Health and Human Services Secretary Margaret Heckler also said Thursday that six states — Arizona, Maryland, New Jersey, South Carolina, Utah and Vermont — had qualified for waivers and will not have to repay a total of $4.3 million.

Rep. Robert Matsui, D-Calif., a subcommittee member, said the demand for repayment will hurt AFDC recipients because the government will reduce its matching funds to the 21 states involved by the amounts owed.

California gets 50 percent federal matching AFDC funds but some states get up to 76 percent.

Among the states being told to refund money, California owes the most, $35 million, and South Dakota the least, $13,000.

Matsui, who introduced legislation last winter to change the way states are penalized for AFDC errors, said he expects states to appeal and probably go to court over the repayment demand.

Other states owing refunds are: Alabama $47,000, Colorado $1.9 million, Connecticut $424,000, Florida $3.4 million, Hawaii $1.2 million, Idaho $691,000, Indiana $113,000, Kansas $1.9 million, Maine $168,000, Minnesota $571,000, Nebraska $208,000, New Mexico $2.5 million, New York

$6.2 million, Ohio $3.9 million, Oklahoma $1.5 million, Tennessee $1.7 million, Texas $1.1 million, Washington $4.1 million and Wyoming $413,000. Puerto Rico owes $1.7 million.

In 1979, the states were given until 1983 to reduce the rate of errors in the AFDC program to 4 percent and ordered to improve the rate by at least one-third each year.

States that exceeded their allowable error rate for 1981 were told to refund the federal matching portion of all mistaken payments over the allowed number.

States that exceeded their allowable error rate for 1981 were told to refund the federal matching portion of all mistaken payments over the allowed number.

She said the national error rate of AFDC payments dropped from 16.5 percent in 1973 to 7.6 percent in 1981. Without that improvement, she said, the government would have erroneously paid $2.1 billion that year instead of $1 billion.

The government has since dropped the allowed error rate to 3 percent but has not disclosed whether the states have reached it.

Sanford Native Helped Sweep Suez

Special to the Herald
NORFOLK, Va. — Sanford native Walter Manning recently returned to the United States after participating in a minesweeping operation in the Gulf of Suez.

The 35-year-old brother of Ester Rozler of Sanford is a member of the Helicopter Mine Countermeasures Squadron 14. The Norfolk-based unit was part of the multinational minesweeping effort requested by Egypt after a series of ship-damaging explosions in the Suez last summer.

Petty Officer Manning, a supply clerk, and the rest of his squadron were transported to Rota, Spain via Air Force cargo planes Aug. 6. Once in Rota the unit assembled its minesweeping helicopters which had been partially disassembled for the trans-Atlantic flight.

Then the squadron set sail on board the amphibious transport ship USS Shreveport.

For Manning, work began to get hectic when the ship arrived in the Gulf of Suez Aug. 17.

Manning, who manages procurement of supplies and financial records for the unit's mine countermeasures department, remembers working long hours.

"Trying to keep the supply lines open between the Red Sea and the Norfolk naval station was quite a job," the 1967 Crooms High School graduate said. "Supplies came from

Naval Petty Officer Walter Countermeasures Squadron 14, Manning, a Sanford native, is based in Norfolk, Va. assigned to Helicopter Mine

Norfolk to Signonella, Sicily, to Cairo, Egypt and then to the ship.

"There was a constant flurry of messages and follow-ups requisitioning the supplies we needed. Trying to keep up with the ordering and the messages made for some long days," he said.

Despite the efforts of Manning and other men in the squadron, the squadron's mine-hunting missions didn't turn up any live explosives.

"We didn't find any mines, but we found a couple of ships that were sunk during the Eight-Day War," he said.

During the operation Manning's squadron located 44 "contacts." Only 12 were suspicious enough to be checked out by Navy divers or investigated by a remotely controlled vehicle. The other "contacts" were either coral heads, barrels or pieces of pipe.

"If I wasn't on the job, we couldn't accomplish our mission," Manning said of his role in the squadron.

He said that without the proper materials and supply parts the squadron couldn't keep its mine hunting aircraft and equipment operating.

Almost every man in the squadron worked 14-hour shifts seven days a week during the deployment to keep aircraft and equipment performing at their peak. Because of Manning's efforts and others in the squadron, all four helicopters were available every day for operational flights.

Once the mine hunting was complete, the Shreveport headed back to Rota, but the terrorist bombing of the U.S. Embassy in Beirut, Lebanon, kept them in the area longer.

Businessman Admits Guilt In Celebrity Tax Scam

NEW YORK (UPI) — A Washington businessman admitted he ran a $445 million tax-shelter scam — the largest tax fraud ever prosecuted — whose wealthy investors included celebrities Woody Allen, Bill Murray and Dick Cavett.

Edward Markowitz, 35, pleaded guilty Thursday to creating phony tax write-offs for customers through phony trading in government securities, precious metals and repurchase agreements from 1979 to 1983.

"It is the largest tax fraud ever prosecuted," said U.S. Attorney Rudolph Giuliani of Manhattan. "The main promoter is now convicted."

Along with Allen, Murray and Cavett, the investors included actors Christopher Walken, Frank Langella and Peter Boyle.

Giuliani said that none of the celebrity investors were under criminal investigation. They were unaware of any illegality and committed no criminal wrongdoing, but will have to pay back taxes — plus interest — on any money that was improperly sheltered, prosecutors said.

"I have a hard time working up sympathy for these people as victims," Giuliani said, noting that many of them received suspiciously large write-offs.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Abortion Clinic Bombers May Face Additional Charge

PENSACOLA (UPI) — Federal prosecutors say no decision has been made on whether two devout Christians found guilty of the Christmas morning bombings of three abortion clinics have to worry about charges in a June bombing.

"They can be recharged," Assistant U.S. Attorney Susan Novotny said Thursday, "but no decision has been made."

Matthew Goldsby and James Simmons, both 21 and both from Cantonment, were indicted in January for three December bombings and a June 25 bombing at the Ladies Center.

U.S. District Judge Roger Vinson dismissed the two counts charging them with the June bombing against each man without prejudice before the jury was selected for the nine-day trial that ended Wednesday with the jury's guilty verdicts.

To pursue the summer bombing, the government would have to seek another indictment. Prosecutors had asked that the June counts be dismissed to simplify the insanity issue.

Shuttle Countdown Begins Today

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The shuttle Challenger stood ready today for the start of the ship's countdown to blastoff Monday on a Spacelab science mission featuring a crew of seven, a pair of squirrel monkeys and two dozen rats.

The traditional "call to stations" to begin the carefully planned sequence of pre-launch activities was scheduled for noon. If all goes well, Challenger will roar skyward at noon Monday on the 17th shuttle mission.

Throughout the planned seven-day flight the crew will conduct a wide variety of experiments in life sciences, materials processing, fluid dynamics, astrophysics and environmental observation.

Landing is scheduled for 12:03 a.m. May 6, but the mission could be extended an extra day for additional research.

Challenger's flight comes just 10 days after the shuttle Discovery's landing and represents the fastest "turnaround" between shuttle launches ever attempted by the space agency.

Firefighters Make Work

FORT MYERS (UPI) — A forest ranger and a one-time volunteer firefighter have been arrested for setting a series of 28 brush fires north of Immokalee last fall.

Garry Barfield, 28, and John W. Hunt, 36, both of Immokalee, were being held in Collier County Jail today in lieu of $50,000 bond each on charges of willful burning of land.

Barfield had worked for one year on a state Division of Forestry fire tower just west of Immokalee. He was fired as a result of the allegations. Hunt is a truck driver who had been a member of Immokalee's all volunteer fire department.

The two are charged with setting a series of fires that burned between two and 10 acres each during a four-month period beginning last September.

DOF fire investigator Ed Jones said one of told him they set the fires so they could help in the fire-fighting effort.

"They enjoyed the fire trucks," Jones said. "They set the fires so they could drive the trucks and help put them out."

say. "You make us walk 30 kilometers and then make us walk another 30 kilometers to collect the pledges," Sheffer said.

He said the changes aren't expected to reduce the amount the walkathon would bring in. He wouldn't say how much the organization figured to take in at the walkathon, but he did say it could be sizeable because Sanford is "a generous community." The city gave about $8,000 in the organization's "Mothers' March" held in January, he said.

He said the walkathon would be fun for the whole family and help build "community spirit."

It should take the average walkers about five hours to complete the course and along the way they will get a free lunch supplied by Burger King and juice drinks from Velda Farms, Sheffer said.

"But when you get to the bottom line you're walking for America's babies — for healthy babies — and that's what it's all about," he said.

About 250,000 babies are born with birth defects in America each year, Sheffer said. About 50 percent of those babies "could and should" be born healthy, he said, but due to apathy and ignorance are not.

The March of Dimes, through its research and education programs, is trying to cut the number of babies born with defects. It conducts training programs and seminars for pregnant women, as well as high school students, to educate them about prenatal care.

The March of Dimes also buys neonatal equipment for hospitals and provides money for continuing neonatal research.

It is still not too late to participate in the walkathon. Sponsor envelopes, which must be brought with the walker Saturday, are available at any area 7-Eleven, Zayre, Burger King or high school.

defendants Seymore Sher and Frank Cocchiara were also convicted of loan sharking, bookmaking and extortion.

Sher was sentenced to 20 years in prison and ordered to reimburse a victim $10,000. Cocchiara, behind bars since 1982 serving a 10-year sentence for mail fraud, received a concurrent sentence of 20 years.

Larry Knott, who turned government witness and pleaded guilty to cocaine possession, was given an eight-year suspended sentence with five years of probation to begin after completion of five years behind bars.

McLain was also ordered to forfeit $8,900 to a federal victims fund. Site of his future incarceration is undetermined.

Parole officials indicated McLain would have to serve approximately one-third his sentence before becoming eligible for parole.

Mrs. Wiley was awarded $500,000 and John Wiley $75,000. The jury also levied $500,000 in punitive damages against Mears to be divided among them.

According to Mears' attorney, insurance will only cover about $10,000 of the judgment against Mears who works for his parents' cab company.

If the debt has not been paid within 20 years, a court can reorder it paid. The judgment could also be assigned to Wiley's heirs if Mears outlives Mr. and Mrs. Wiley.

legal action, "I presume the case would go to court."

"I have no idea what their (the court's) decision would be," he said. The city commission would then have to take action based on the court's ruling, he said.

Alternatives to avoid a court battle for the city are something Colbert said he hasn't considered.

Dillard returned to work as a sergeant in January.

'Gee Officers, I Just Wanted To See What The Post Office Looked Like'

The man police charged with breaking into the Lake Mary post office said the reason he did it was because he was "curious about what the back of the post office looked like," police reports show.

Police records said the suspect told officers that he lost some money in a stamp machine and tried to get the machine to work by kicking it. The suspect told police he thought there might be a stamp lying around in the back and that he was curious about what the back of the Lake Mary Post office looked like because he had never seen it.

Police reports show the suspect entered the building, located next door to the police station, by removing a wire mesh from the roof and dropping to the floor.

Nothing was reported stolen and no damage estimates were available.

Charged at 1:40 a.m. Monday with burglary is Kenneth Arthur Brill Jr., 20, of 209 E. Lake Mary Blvd., Lake Mary.

He was released Wednesday on $2,500 bond.

Belly Dancing

It's Sexier Than Jogging Or Pumping Iron

Korda's Revenge:

Shakin' The Jelly Belly Blues

Forget the bumps and grinds. Even grandmothers are doing it.

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

Shimmying and swaying to an exotic Middle Eastern rhythm while clad in a scanty, glittering costume may keep a lot of belly dancers hooked once they've stepped onto the stage, but chances are they initially got into the act to firm up their jelly bellies.

Which means that at one time or another most belly dancers were not as Hollywood has depicted them — voluptuous young things titillating greasy camel jockeys in some Moroccan gin joint.

Pat Tyner and Patti McKinney, for example, said exercise motivated them to take up the ancient art that warded away boredom in the harems in the days of the Arabian Nights.

And while Pat and Patti may be voluptuous, they aren't young. In fact, both are grandmothers.

For grandma McKinney, exotic dancing has become a way of life.

It didn't start out that way. She just wanted to lose a few pounds. During her first 10 weeks of practice — at about $2 per lesson — the 49-year-old Lake Mary resident said she found herself shaping up and trimming down. She kept her Middle Eastern folk dance act a secret from her husband Derward and surprised him with a private performance on their anniversary.

That was 1976. In the years since, Mrs. McKinney "fell in love" with her expressive outlet, bought a studio and began teaching her skills to others, including Mrs. Tyner.

"Something happened inside me," she said. "It's more than exercise. You enter a whole new world."

Part of Mrs. McKinney's family entered that world along with her. The mother of five, three of her daughters and two of her nine grandchildren have followed in her dancing footsteps.

She now leads two local belly dancing troupes, one made up of grandmothers and housewives, and the second of career women. And nearly all her students say they joined to lose weight and tone up their muscles. The troupes perform at nursing homes, for women's clubs, Girl Scouts and other local groups. Contrary to what you might think (and don't ask her why because she doesn't know) belly dancing seems to be favored by female audiences, she said.

But her husband of 31 years recently complained that since that first surprise show she has never danced just for him. She calmed his discontent when her dancers joined her in a special command performance in celebration of his 50th birthday.

'It Isn't Easy Being The Most Beautiful Woman In The World'

By Vernon Scott
UPI Hollywood Reporter

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The late Merle Oberon cut her nephew, Michael Korda, out of her last will and testament when the author wrote "Charmed Lives," a best-selling biography of the Korda clan several years ago.

Korda, editor in chief of Simon & Schuster, did not spare the secretive and aging actress in the book, which she despised and for which she cut him off without a penny.

But the writer editor more than recouped any inheritance he might have received from the book's royalties. And now he is enjoying even greater fame and fortune at the expense of his late aunt with his new novel, "Queenie," the roman a clef adventures of a ruthless, scheming actress who is clearly Oberon.

If Oberon loathed "Charmed Lives," she must be spinning in her crypt now that "Queenie" is a Literary Guild selection.

Indeed, Oberon's real name was Queenie O'Brien Thompson. She was born in Bombay, a half-caste Indian-English beauty. Oberon spent her long life concealing the fact she was part Indian, concocting a story that she was born in Tasmania — a remote and difficult background for anyone to disprove.

Not only does Korda reveal his aunt's roots, he also makes Queenie the victim of incest, which she avenges by murdering her uncle.

During her lifetime Oberon never played as venal a character as that in which Korda casts her.

The late Alexander Korda, the author's famed film producer-director uncle, also is plainly etched in the novel, and none too flatteringly. Such stars as Laurence Olivier and Vivien Leigh and movie moguls David Selznick and Harry Cohn are easily recognized too.

Even Irving "Swifty" Lazar, the short, bald, abrasive agent is clearly delineated, unflatteringly. But Korda reports, amazingly, the agent took no offense at his portrait in "Queenie."

Most of the thinly veiled real life people in the book, fortunately, are dead.

"That makes it a good deal simpler," said Korda on a tub-thumping trip to Hollywood to promote the book and advertise the fact it will become a five-hour miniseries for ABC-TV next year.

Korda is a slightly built, bespectacled man of 51 with a mop of blond hair and a New Yorker's superiority complex. His attitude suggests a smug disdain of provinces west of the Hudson River.

"I used people I know or knew as starting points for most of the characters in the novel," he said. "There are great differences between Queenie and Merle except in their basic characters and personalities."

"Some of the personalities should be flattered by the way I've represented them. Sir Lew Grade, for instance, I convinced Lazar the true test of fame is becoming a character in a novel. It assures an immortality that is pretty special."

Korda explained care must be exercised in writing a roman a clef novel, weaving in the actual names of some minor characters along with totally fictional characters and the masked identities of real life principal characters.

He said, "As a novelist, like all artists, I take bits and pieces of people from the world around me as well as my own personal experiences and make them into cohesive and interesting characters."

"I've done that with Queenie, who is indeed identifiable as Merle. It is interesting to imagine a woman like Merle, able to break away from such a background. She manipulated people to get out of India when she was 15 or 16, no easy thing during the Raj period — or even today.

"She invented her background. But then so did my uncle. They were two very secretive people who cut themselves off from emotional warmth. They always tried to achieve safety but couldn't because of their hidden backgrounds."

Korda makes no secret of his family background. He has, in

Stars Being Wasted In So Sorry Sitcoms

By David Handler
Newspaper Enterprise Association

I can't remember the last time I was actually looking forward to the rerun season. I mean, I just don't know how many more talented actors I can stand to see wasted in these new soft-boiled private-eye shows the networks keep throwing at us.

It's getting positively dismal. NBC's "Half-Nelson" stars the fine Joe Pesci of "Raging Bull" as a street-wise New York cop named Rocky Nelson who becomes an operative for a slick Beverly Hills private security outfit.

ABC's "Me & Mom" offers Lisa Eilbae of "Beverly Hills Cop" as an upscale San Francisco criminologist named Kate Morgan. Holland Taylor plays her socialite mother and — somehow — partner. The great James Earl Jones is also on hand, with little to do.

In "Half-Nelson," Hollywood has bought the story of Rocky Nelson's New York exploits. Rocky comes west in the hope of portraying himself on screen, but washes out because of his size. "How can I be too short to play myself?" he wonders.

He decides to stick around for as long as it takes to become a movie star. A studio cop he knows is part-owner of a private security agency called Beverly Hills Patrol. Chester (Fred Williamson) runs the show. Rocky signon.

It's a great deal. Whenever he needs a tux or a police uniform or a limo, he just goes on the lot and borrows one.

For digs, he crashes in the guest house of one of the agency's owners, Dean Martin, who actually appears in the show playing himself.

More gimmicks? How about Rocky's mean, ugly little dog? Or his old convertible with the "I LUV LA" license plates?

How about Dick Butkus and Bubba Smith as bumbling operatives who seem to have wandered in from "Sheriff Lobo"?

Of course, Rocky's still a bloodhound at heart. He can't keep from sticking his nose into the affairs of the rich and glamorous. And the show can't keep from following him with voyeuristic zeal.

One week somebody is taping the sexual escapades at celebrity parties and blackmailing the participants. Another week, a hunky fitness instructor dies in the bedroom of a gorgeous married client.

"Half-Nelson" manages to leave you feeling both bored and soiled.

Kate Morgan on "Me & Mom" is clean-cut, cute, plucky, single and struggling to be taken seriously as a detective. This may sound familiar if you ever happen to have seen "Remington Steele."

Her partner is Lou Garfield (Jones), who used to be on the police force with her dad. Business, however, is poor.

Enter her mom, Zena. "Mom's hobby is being very rich," says Kate. "Three out of four divorces saw to that." Zena decides to pitch in. She helps with the lease. She helps to put the partners in touch with some well-heeled clients. She thinks this is all so very, very much fun.

Mostly, she wears mink and keeps trying to get Kate to go shopping with her. Kate gets exasperated. So do we. Poor Lou sort of hovers on the periphery. In one episode, his biggest job is bringing Kate a thermos of soup while she sits in her car on a stakeout. The rapport is totally missing with this one. So is the energy. Everyone just seems to be going through the motions.

I'd rather watch a rerun of "Magnum, P.I."

Success Of Perennial Cellar Dweller NBC Was The Surprise Of TV Season

NEW YORK (UPI) — CBS won the Nielsen prime time ratings race for the 1984-85 television season that ended Sunday — but it was NBC that made news with its rise from the cellar to second place.

NBC not only came in second, knocking ABC into third place for the first time in 10 years, but it also came in first demographically with its appeal to young audiences.

There were two certifiable hits among the new shows of the '84-'85 season — "The Cosby Show" on NBC and "Murder, She Wrote" on CBS. "Cosby" displaced "Dallas" (CBS) and "Dynasty" (ABC), the two nighttime soap operas that had been sharing the No. 1 spot until Bill Cosby came along.

The Cosby show increased NBC's audience in its time slot by 57 percent, according to Young & Rubicam advertising agency figures. The Cosby success story in the Thursday night leadoff slot also took the network's already promising Thursday schedule and gave it a big shot in the ratings.

Cosby was responsible for increasing the success of "Family Ties," which has had a goodly share of appearances in the top 10, and the Cosby-Ties combo has dimmed the popularity of "Magnum, P.I."

"Cheers" and "Night Court" also show improved ratings, although they must go up

'Arthur The King' A Royal Flop

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Camelot of "Arthur the King" as seen on CBS is neither a brief nor shining example of good entertainment and it would take a lot more magic than Merlin's paltry parlor tricks to make the movie work.

"Arthur," starring Malcolm McDowell in the title role, has been hanging around for several years and has finally come to roost — and lay an egg — tonight at 8 — after the official end of the 1984-85 television season and before the counting starts in the important May "sweeps."

"Arthur the King" doesn't have enough action or mystic magic to satisfy swords and sorcery fans, and it just plain doesn't have enough substance or good writing for the rest of the audience.

One brief shining moment this is not.

Tom Snyder May Return To His Humble Beginnings

DEAR DICK — Could you tell me what Tom Snyder is doing now? He used to be on late at night, before David Letterman took over. — E.B., Marshfield, Wis.

Snyder has had one of those meteoric careers, but some meteors fizzle as quickly as they flare. At the moment, Snyder isn't doing anything that I know of. But he is rumored to be heading back to the news team on the local Los Angeles NBC station — which is where he started his meteoric rise.

DEAR DICK — Many times I have seen on the TV series "V" that the lizards eat rats, mice and tarantulas. What do they really eat in place of these things? — E.B., New Albany, Ind.

Oh, ye of little faith! You honestly think that the actors don't eat rats, mice and tarantulas? Well, you're right. Hollywood's special effects people are wizards at making lifelike vermin out of candy or bread or whatever looks best. June Chadwick, one of the leading lizards, told me she was once supposed to eat a worm. They had a bowl of real worms, with a couple of candy ones on top for her to swallow. She reached in — and, you guessed it — picked out a real worm. She had it at her lips before it started to wriggle.

DEAR DICK — Were there ever films made about Dick Tracy? If so, who played him in those films? — T.B., Amarillo, Texas.

Yes. Back in 1945, somebody had the bright idea of making a series of Dick Tracy movies. The first was "Dick Tracy," and it was followed, in the next few years, by three others. Morgan Conway played Dick

Ask Dick Kleiner

Tracy in the first two, Ralph Byrd in the second two. Martin Scorsese will direct Warren Beatty in the title role of a new film version of Dick Tracy that starts filming shortly.

DEAR DICK — How is actors' pay determined on daytime soaps. Some characters, like Steve Hardy on "General Hospital," appear only once every couple of weeks. Others, like Robert Scorpio, are on nearly every day. Are they paid by the amount of time they appear on the air, or by a set amount regardless of how often their character appears? — R.V., Montague, Mich.

It depends. The continuing characters are almost all under contract. And those contracts differ, but most of them guarantee the actor a certain number of appearances. Often, the writers are told by the accounting department to use a particular character because he has "x" number of appearances left and has to be paid for them. So they had better use him, or else they'll be paying him for not working. Lesser roles are paid by union scale, i.e., a certain salary for a day player, a certain salary for a more important part, and so on.

DEAR DICK — Could you settle an argument between my sister-in-law and me. She says that the "Beverly Hillbillies" came from "Petticoat Junction." I say it's just that the woman who played Kate on "Petticoat Junction" also played Pearl on "Hillbillies." Which one is right? — D.C., Erie, Pa.

Well, your sister-in-law is definitely wrong, and you are partially wrong. "Hillbillies" came first — it started in 1962. "Petticoat Junction" started a year later. Bea Benaderet did work both series, as Kate and Pearl, but the main connection is that Paul Henning created both series (as well as "Green Acres," later).

DEAR DICK — In what year did silent movies end and talkies start? — M.C., Saginaw, Mich.

The date generally assigned to that historic event is 1927, although it wasn't an immediate thing. "The Jazz Singer" was made in 1927 and most film historians consider that the first real talking picture. But there were some attempts before that. And even after that, some silent films were released. So you can't pinpoint a precise date. But 1927 is pretty close.

DEAR DICK — Every time I watch "Dallas," I try to remember what TV show I've seen Donna Reed in. I'm sure it's not "The Farmer's Daughter." Please tell me. — C.B., Killeen, Texas.

You're right. It wasn't "The Farmer's Daughter." The star of that was Inger Stevens. Donna had a show — and you'll hate yourself for not remembering the name. "The Donna Reed Show" ran on ABC from 1958 to 1966.

Network Won't Air Movie

Warren Beatty's Refusal To Let ABC Cut His 'Reds' A Matter Of Principle

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Warren Beatty's battle to keep ABC from trimming 12 minutes from his epic movie "Reds" was aimed at showing the public how networks "cut films like sausages" to sell commercials, the actor-director told reporters.

"This movie is an ideal way to demonstrate the insensitivity of networks to film," the actor said, insisting the cuts would have altered the movie significantly.

ABC had contracted with Paramount Pictures, which sold the network rights to the film for $6.5 million, to cut up to 12 minutes from "Reds," which ran 3 hours and 20 minutes in theaters.

Beatty objected to the proposed cuts and, along with the Directors Guild of America, won an arbitration ruling last week prohibiting the network from trimming the movie. ABC has since decided not to run "Reds."

The movie, based on the life of leftist journalist John Reed, was to have been shown in two segments April 28-29, but network officials said the cuts were needed to avoid spillover into news time.

"We will not air 'Reds,'" an ABC spokesman said, declining further comment on grounds it was now a dispute between Beatty and Paramount, which will lose its $6.5 million.

"He (Beatty) concedes they have the right to cut the picture for censorship reasons (such as nudity and language), but that is not the issue here," Beatty's attorney Burt Fields said.

Beatty said he took his stand "because I don't think the public is aware of the way the networks cut films like sausages and speed up the tape so they can sell more time.

"It's the destruction of — you should excuse the term — art form."

He said the network would not comply with his demand because of its policy that no films run after 11 p.m., when affiliated stations use the time to sell commercials.

Though he said he did not know if another network would pick up "Reds" and regretted losing the large TV audience, Beatty said he felt he was "making a greater contribution."

A newly added member of the Screen Directors Guild's Creative Rights Committee for its next contract negotiations with studios and producers, Beatty said he would seek a contract clause to ban cutting and editing by TV networks or independent stations except for standards and practices, which he called censorship of "the dirty stuff."

In one of the movie's more touching moments, Warren Beatty embraces Diane Keaton in "Reds," the 1981 political soap opera.

fact, made a fortune by writing about the Kordas in non-fiction and novels.

He speaks of Oberon with compassion, almost fondly. He said he admired and respected his aunt.

"She was furious with 'Charmed Lives,' I admit," Korda said. "And any time I confronted her about her background, having been born in India of an Indian mother, she absolutely denied it.

"Merle was one of the great beauties of motion pictures. And the theme of my book is really 'It isn't easy being the most beautiful woman in the world.'"

If Korda is right and "Queenie" is even faintly accurate, the theme is obviously an understatement.

...Dance

Her dancing, which some might see as suggestive, is sensual, she said, and has won the approval of even her most conservative relatives.

"The older people are the more they love it," Mrs. McKinney said. "This isn't a strip show."

And age isn't a limitation on dancers either, some of whom she said perform through their 70's and beyond.

The dance steps themselves can be mastered by just about anyone within a year, she said. The problem with belly dancing is the cost of a good costume which can run several hundred dollars.

Mrs. Tyner, 45, of Sanford, enjoys the dancing, the appreciative audiences and fellowship of other dancers, but she said she's found her niche primarily as a costume designer.

Most dancers go for individualized garb, but which is likely to have the unifying elements of a glittering beaded or coin-covered bra and low slung belt, which accentuate the bare belly and tops off a sweeping skirt or harem pants.

Mrs. Tyner said it cost her only $30 five years ago to learn to dance, but the dancer's bra she's now making will run 10 times that. That's a pretty typical price tag, with a total costume for an advanced dancer falling into the $500 range.

She advised beginners to start off slowly, do some reading on the ancient art before taking a few lessons to see if it's for them.

"If you're really going to do it right you'll have to practice quite a bit," Mrs. Tyner said. But once you get your moves down you'll find you're in demand at all sorts of events.

Mrs. McKinney said she usually breaks even with the $50 she charges for a show. That offsets the cost of her costumes and her participation in belly dancing workshops and conventions.

But there's more to all this than just a bunch of shimmying and shaking and clanging of cymbals. "A spiritual vacation" is the way Mrs. McKinney describes it.

"You get more out of the spiritual aspect than the physical," she said, adding that an hour of belly dancing can clear her mind, as well as her body, of tension and frustrations.

There are other belly dancing bonuses, she said, including increased self-confidence, poise and a more positive attitude, plus the friendship of other dancers.

"I'm still learning. I learn something new everyday," Mrs. Tyner said. And she plans to keep belly dancing "until I can't move."

And what would a belly dancer be without those moves?

Belly dancing instruction is not easily found in Central Florida. Local community centers or schools will occasionally offer a course in the ancient art. Otherwise, your best bet is probably private classes such as those offered by Mrs. McKinney.
