Rioting Results After U. N. Refusal To Order British Troops From Egypt

VIENNA, Ga., Sept. 11—(AP)—Senator George (D-Ga.) said today he believes President Truman will call Congress into special session, but that it is a "very ticklish gamble" which could result in a political stalemate with loss of prestige to the Chief Executive.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Sept. 11—(AP)—The Bulgarian government announced today it had rejected the request of a United Nations Balkan subcommittee to investigate on Bulgarian territory four recent Greek charges of border incidents.

Doors and window shutters were closed at the American consulate as the demonstrators approached and no damage was reported. Demonstrations against the UN Security Council's refusal to order British troops out of Egypt also occurred at Alexandria.

Rioting Checked In New Delhi By Military Police

More Than Thousand Killed In Four Days Of Communal Strife

NEW DELHI, Sept. 11—(AP)—Heavy military police patrols with machineguns and automatic rifles mounted on trucks swept back and forth through this tense capital today in search of communal trouble-makers whose rioting, looting and killing appeared at last to be waning.

Stray stabbings still were occurring here and there, but more and more shops were opening and large numbers of people ventured out for the first time since rioting broke out in search of communal trouble-makers whose rioting, looting and killing appeared at last to be waning.

Soldiers and police still were mopping up trouble areas in the neighboring old city where extreme tension and fear still gripped the residents. Sikhs, who are required by their religion to wear a lethal sword or dagger, were being stopped and stripped of their weapons by government order.

Refugees still were being evacuated from the trouble areas and uncountable thousands of hungry, weary, frightened, rain-soaked Moslems streamed into the numerous concentration centers of Old Delhi under the protection of armed guards.

The location of the storm was placed at 4:00 A. M. near latitude 14.5 north, longitude 50 west or about 750 miles east of Martinique.

Unloading Of Refugee Jews Said Outrage

Congressmen Demand Conditional End Of Help For Britain; More Strife Brews

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11—(AP)—Rep. Bender (R-O.) today described the unloading of 4,300 Jews in Germany by the British as "an outrage against the Jewish people which is in the worst traditions of Hitler."

In a separate statement, Rep. Sabath (D-Ill.) asked President Truman to deny further economic aid to England until it accepts a recommendation by the United Nations Committee on Palestine for admission of at least 100,000 Jewish refugees to the Holy Land.

Bender, too, declared the United States should "announce positive support for the recommendations of the UN committee."

The Ohioan said that instead of telling the British to "get out and stay out of Palestine" the Administration "has failed to condemn one of the greatest outrages of British imperialism because we are married to that imperialism."

In Germany, British officials screening Jews from the Exodus from a British transport convoy, "being obstinate and giving us plenty of trouble by trying to snag up the process."

They made this comment at a meeting after their forcible near here in which the 4,311 Jews Poppendorf, larger of two camps debarkation Monday and Tuesday from a British transport convoy.

The refugees were brought to Germany after failing to enter the Palestine as unauthorized immigrants.

In Am Statu, the second camp, one Jewish leader told reporters, "we are going to stay in these (camps) as long as we can." (Continued on Page Six)

Mayor H. James Gut announced today that a "City Traffic Analysis" will be presented for Sanford on the Commissioners' room in the City Hall on Sept. 25, at 1:00 P. M. He urged that all citizens interested in traffic safety plan to attend the meeting.

Sanford is one of 12 cities in Florida qualifying for this service, the Mayor said. The analysis will be presented by Don Hill traffic consultant for the National Safety Council, and will cover conditions in Sanford during 1946. The analysis was recently completed in the National Safety Council office in Chicago, and is based on data furnished by the city government.

Governor Suspend Sanford Constable

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 11—(AP)—Governor Caldwell today suspended Constable A. D. Smith of Sanford from office for malfeasance, misfeasance and incompetency.

The Governor said in his suspension order that Smith pleaded guilty in Sanford Municipal Court on Sept. 2 to charges of "disorderly conduct and brandishing a firearm" and was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 or serve 60 days in the City Jail.

It was one of the few suspensions Caldwell has made since he became Governor. He has held steadfastly to a policy of ousting elected local officials after they have been convicted by the courts or indicted by a grand jury.

The suspension is subject to confirmation by the State Senate when it meets in 1948. The Governor did not appoint a successor to Smith, and attaches of his office pointed out that it has been his policy to leave constables and peace justice positions vacant except where local conditions require their services.

A covered wagon drawn by six burros is shown passing the reviewing stand. (International)

Wallace Insists Big Steel Plans Major Depression

Tower Announces Billion Dollar Program Of Expansion

NEW YORK, Sept. 11—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace said last night that the steel industry's "high command" plans a production drop "that will make a depression inevitable," and almost at the same time a spokesman for the industry announced it is completing this year a billion-dollar program to increase output.

Walter S. Tower, president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, described in a prepared statement an expansion and improvement program involving record-breaking peacetime expenditures totaling more than $1,000,000,000 and said expenditure of several hundred million more was planned.

Wallace, former Vice President who now edits the New Republic Magazine, made his remarks during a radio program (MBS) sponsored by the CIO electrical workers.

In Washington, the CIO United Steelworkers in a statement prepared for a Senate subcommittee said the steel industry is lagging behind its dependent industries, and "unless corrected, this imbalance inevitable means depression."

Wallace's remarks brought from Irving B. Olds, chairman of the Board of U. S. Steel Corp., (Continued on Page Six)

Market Committee Will Meet Monday

A meeting of the advisory committee of the Sanford State Farmers Market will be held Monday evening at the office of H. H. Lehman, manager, in order to allow stalls to applicants for the coming season and to select new officers.

Six men are at work at the market replacing lumber and remodeling, said Mr. Lehman. An addition is being made to the Sanford Fruit Company office and the filling station is being enlarged.

Due to the big demand at present for food it appears that the market will have a good season, Mr. Lehman declared. In this connection, he pointed out the need of local growers making a careful study of national food needs.

As an example of the present market trends he pointed out the following quotations from the New York Packer on carload shipments of vegetables throughout the nation during the past week: carrots, 173; celery, 218; lettuce, 1,281; onions, 642; tomatoes, 248; sweet potatoes, 113; cabbage, 110 and Irish potatoes, 4,071 carloads with 964 from New Jersey alone.

Expert Sees European Crisis As Rapidly Becoming Worse

Communists Attack Purpose Behind Freedom Train

NEW YORK, Sept. 11—(AP)—The Communist Party has sent its district educational directors a memorandum which declares that "the Freedom Train" is a "purpose behind Freedom Train."

Senators Promise Full Investigation Of Soaring Prices

Senators Predict No Chance For Price Control

Congressional Group Will Conduct Hearing In High Prices

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11—(AP)—A Senate House committee today assigned an investigator to look into the high cost of lumber and other housing materials, with special attention to profits being made by middlemen.

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.), one of the group investigating the housing shortage, said the members want to "explore the possibilities of cutting out unnecessary profits" by dealers in materials.

DETROIT, Sept. 11—(AP)—In an effort to absorb some of the pocketbook pinch stemming from the high price of food, two locals of the CIO United Auto Workers have entered the grocery business. Ford's Highland Park local of 10,800 members started the ball rolling last Saturday by selling $1,000 of food within a few hours. Today, a Briggs local announced plans for a store to open Sept. 20 for its 16,000 members. The plans of both stores call for them to be unincorporated, with members without pay and on a non-profit basis. All types of food except perishable goods will be stocked.

Simultaneously, a London local made an urgent plea that American labor cover the major portion of Britain's occupation costs in Germany, totaling $400,000,000 yearly and there are reports in Washington that the request will be granted. This comes on top of the estimate by the 16 nation conference in London, bringing the total to provide some $21,000,000,000 over a period of four years to make the Marshall rehabilitation program function.

These fresh obligations hit the American taxpayer on a raw and very tender spot—his pocketbook. He is specially concerned in view of his own country, and is undoubtedly reminded that the United States spent over $257,000,000 towards "winning" the war.

He recalls that the Axis powers surrendered in 1945, and he wonders "What the heck? That's a natural reaction, and it comes hard for your columnist, with frugal Scotch blood in his veins, to have to point to a falloff in the idea that World War II really is over."

Waves of such magnitude reach (Continued on Page Six)

Hundreds Massacred In Java Outburst

BATAVIA, Sept. 11—(AP)—Bloody stories of two savage outbursts in Indonesian-Chinese communal strife were reported by the Netherlands army today. Simultaneously, the Dutch announced that 240 Chinese, kidnapped by Republican forces had been rescued by a Dutch relief unit in North Sumatra.

The announcement said 37 Chinese women and children liberated in Central Java disclosed the massacre of hundreds of Chinese took place Aug. 31 at Boquajao, 30 kilometers northwest of Poerwokerto, Central Java.

New Government Formed In Turkey

ANKARA, Turkey, Sept. 11—(AP)—A new interim cabinet, containing mostly moderates, took over the reins of government in Turkey today under Premier Hasan Saka.

Saka completed his new government, which is destined to rule only until parliament reconvenes in November, with only four new figures last night. All of the others were members of the Recep Peker government which collapsed Tuesday, in the face of criticism of its domestic policies.

NO HARM DONE

TSINGTAO, China, Sept. 11—(AP)—Lieut. Richard A. Winter of Gordon, Neb., Marine pilot forced down in bad weather Aug. 27, returned here today—safe and unharmed—after a fortnight in "protective custody" of Chinese Communists.

Butter Sells Above $1 In New York And Higher Prices Are Being Predicted

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 11—(AP)—One baker here today predicted 25 cents a loaf bread by Jan. 1 "unless costs drop sharply" and others said they would have to boost prices sharply in a few days.

Wholesale Bakery Manager M. Dillinger said a 1946-47 year ago was selling for eight cents and that "unless costs drop sharply, that price will be tripled by the first of the year."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11—(AP)—Senators Flooders (R-Vt.) and Baldwin (R-Conn.) said today they expect the congressional investigation of rising costs to bring about some reductions in food and clothing prices. Neither Senator elaborated at their joint news conference as to how the reductions may be effected, but Baldwin told reporters:

"We are hopeful that if it is true there are any unconscionable profiteers they will be weaned by this investigation."

Flooders, chairman of a joint Senate-House subcommittee of chief senators and three representatives which will open public hearings next Monday, agreed with Baldwin. Baldwin was author of the resolution calling for the inquiry.

President Is Let Off Light In Old Hazing Ceremony

ABOARD THE U. S. S. MISSOURI WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN, Sept. 11—(AP)—Top Presidential assistants got the work, but President Truman was let off easy today in the traditional hazing ceremony at the crossing of the equator.

King Neptune, mythological God of the Seas, only required Mr. Truman to make a speech to become a full-fledged "shellback" instead of a sea lubber and polliwog. Paddling, ducking and other indignities were saved for the presidential aides, such as John R. Steffen.

The initiation ceremony was waived for Mrs. Truman. Daughter Margaret who has made her debut as a concert singer, had to sing a song with the ship's sextet. But there wasn't any leniency (Continued on Page Six)

Dusty Boots Club Plans Moonlight Ride

The fine showing of the Seminole Dusty Boots and Saddle Club which has the annual election of several thousand spectators at the Labor Day tournament and races was the subject of a letter of commendation from Chamber of Commerce Manager Edward Higgins which was read at the meeting of the club held last evening at the Tourist Center.

S. H. Earnest presided at the meeting at which 35 were present. It was decided to meet on the first Thursday of each month, according to Mrs. Herman Harriett, secretary. Sunday afternoon practices will be held at 2:00 o'clock at the lakefront park, it was planned. A moonlight trail ride to Lake Mary during the latter part of the month was also planned.

Carl Raboun was presented with a pair of spurs donated by the Sanford Hardware Company. Hal Colbert was accepted as a member.

In the letter from Mr. Higgins it was suggested that the club participate in future civic events and that they appoint a committee for public participation in a riding meet at the same time that the bigilder meet is held in January.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 11, 1947

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY... THE UNIVERSE IS MORE THAN A PLANTAIN... IT IS GOD'S PROJECTED THOUGHT...

The AFL says that if prices don't come down there will be an increasing demand for higher wages, something which is understandable, but we sure hope it doesn't make prices go higher...

Charles Hesser, political writer for the Miami News, says that the CIO has tentatively settled on Fuller Warren for the next governor of Florida. We don't know whether he can win with that label or not.

We are glad to see Harold Stassen getting into the Presidential race, not that we had feared he wouldn't. Of all the Republicans who have been mentioned, we believe Stassen comes the closest to being our kind of a Democrat.

Our sister city of Orlando has voted against consolidation of city and county offices, a move which would have saved the post-termed taxpayers many thousands of dollars every year. Apparently taxpayers do not want to be taxed, or else there are a lot of folks who vote who are not taxpayers.

The recent election in Pennsylvania's eighth congressional district most prove something although, as there is in most things, there is probably a wide difference of opinion as to what it proves. At any rate a CIO candidate, bitterly denouncing the Taft-Hartley Labor bill, has just been defeated overwhelmingly by a Republican supporting the measure.

We see where the Governor's cabinet has made an emergency allocation of some $129,000 to the University of Florida for the completion of its new sewage disposal plant, running its total cost up to about $427,000 instead of the original estimate of $298,000. However, we are glad to see that the Cabinet appreciates the necessity of sanitary measures for the disposal of sewage.

We are glad to see the Veterans Administration up in the air over some of the homes which are currently being built for veterans and being financed by GI loans. A few very good houses have been built, but many that we have seen are just as the VA says "shoddily built and will not stand up for the duration of the loan." The veteran is apt to find himself paying more for repair and reconstruction than the payments on his loan. It is high time something were done about what appears to be one of the biggest racketeers in the United States.

But What Is Gold?

Mr. Ernest Bevin, foreign secretary of England, thinks all would be well if the United States would redistribute the gold it holds in reserve at Fort Knox, Ky. This newspaper doubts it.

There is a curious idea that gold is wealth in itself. But it is not. Real wealth consists of goods and services—said that is all. Food is wealth—a warehouse full of wheat, a ham hanging from the rafters for winter sustenance. Buildings are wealth—the home that shelters, the business block which gives a man space to work in and protection from the elements while he is doing it. Schools which shelter while education goes on; churches which shelter while the spirit is refreshed. Clothing is wealth. So are tools and trains and ships and trucks.

In a world where goods and services are plentiful, gold may be wealth, for it will purchase objects of use and comfort and production. But in a world where goods and services are short, gold is of little value. Old King Midas of the Greek fable found this out. Gold was very nice when he could use it to buy rich rugs and costly furnishings and fine foods. But when everything he touched turned to gold, it was different. He could not eat the golden food nor wear the golden clothing. When his little daughter turned to gold he begged to have his golden touch taken from him.

If Mr. Bevin had all the gold he wanted, he still could not buy more coal or wheat or wool or shoes with it until these things were mined or grown or made. His short goods and services would still be short—and far more costly. The Marshall plan offers hope and incentive to higher production. If it works out it ought to help Europe very much. More gold? You can't eat it, Mr. Bevin.

War Costs Continue

The plight of Europe apparently is worse—and growing more so rapidly—than had been thought in this country. British dollar shortage, droughts and floods in continental agricultural areas have combined to absorb so much of Europe's resources for basic food needs, that there is not enough left for constructive uses such as industrial regeneration.

Further, there is an increasing conviction among American officials that Europe is showing too little interest in curing its own ills and too much reliance on further aid from the United States. Undersecretary of State Lovett, virtual head of the State Department during Secretary Marshall's absence, believes that Europe's crisis, which includes Britain, is developing so rapidly that some extra aid may have to be extended from Washington before the so-called Marshall plan of rehabilitation can be put into effect. Because of the reluctance of this country to add to such expenditures, a strong hint has been thrown out that an extra session of Congress may be called within a few weeks.

What this all means is that the peacetime ills of Great Britain and the continent are far more colossal than anyone, even the best informed, visualized. War's price is not yet met.

Gandhi Fasts

The frequently heard statement that if and when the British ever moved out of India, bloody strife between Hindu and Moslem would begin, has been proven true. The strong bond which kept the two groups from each other's throats has been removed, but the resulting riots may possibly be quelled by an influence from within.

Mohandas K. Gandhi has started a fast which will continue until, as he says, Calcutta returns to sanity. His last long fast took place in 1932 as part of his effort to influence the British to leave India. It is difficult to overstate the Mahatma's standing in his own country. He is regarded with superstitious awe and loved for his gentle humility and his healing influence. The more enlightened Hindus and Moslems, who have united to form "peace squads," will be glad to have so strong a power upholding their efforts. His life is held to be of very high value, and to save it, his people may be willing to curb their hatreds and cease their strife.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By RUSSELL KAY

Florida enters the so-called hurricane season this year with Gulf Coast residents hoping that a storm will sweep up their coast and destroy the troublesome "red tide." Scientists contend that it will take a storm of hurricane proportions to do the job and beach residents say, "If that's what it takes, let it come and the sooner the better." They feel that possible storm damage certainly is preferable to the uncertainty of the present intolerable situation. Since such storms usually herald the end of the rainy season, farmers and growers in extended flooded areas join in the chorus and say, "Let it come,"—anything to stop the rains and give them an opportunity to do their fall planting.

On the other hand, light, power and telephone companies are hopeful that if a storm does come it will not be prolonged or so severe as to tear up their poles, lines and equipment. Property owners, particularly those with expensive plate glass fronts, would just as soon see the storms pass us by. Citrus growers fear the damage from salt spray in the coastal areas and destruction of trees and fruit should their groves be in the path of the blow.

Scientists, anxious to test new theories eagerly await another hurricane for they believe that through the use of chemicals or bombs it may be possible to break up and dissipate them. The Army-Navy Weather Bureau Hurricane Warning Center at Miami, Florida conducts regular reconnaissance flights over the Caribbean ready to spot these storms and chart their course.

One of the strangest assignments, that of the 808th Reconnaissance Group, is to fly boldly through threatening thunderheads, tropical fronts and hurricanes and bring back information as to their direction and intensity. They fly the probable course of the storm and report to the local warning service where frequent bulletins are issued as that area in the path of the approaching storm will have an advance warning as possible. The tendency of hurricanes to move in a very erratic manner has been the greatest contributing factor in their destructiveness. Now every storm is tracked and charted. Methods for determining position, intensity and movement of hurricanes are constantly being studied to find the best plan of control. So far flights have been made through, around and over the top and the feasibility of one-range radar is being investigated.

Chiang Kai Shek Sees No Need For Immediate Loans

Leader Asks Chinese To Forget Foreign Reaction To Plans

NANKING, Sept. 11. (AP)—China's ruling Kuomintang Party, a spokesman said today, will seek to finance its activities through "forced contributions" by its 4,000,000 members. Draft platforms submitted to the central executive committee by both the Kuomintang and the Youth Corps Organization provide for registration of finances by all members and party levies based on individual wealth to defray expenses formerly met by the national government.

NANKING, Sept. 10. (AP)—Chiang Kai-Shek in a secret report read before the Kuomintang (government party) executive committee, estimated today that despite the present economic crisis, China possessed sufficient material resources to sustain the country another two years without foreign aid. The Generalissimo upbraided China's financial authorities for what he termed "blind dependency on foreign loans." He said that attitude had delayed his plan for emergency reforms at war's end when the nation had ample foreign assets to complete the program.

The report—dated Aug. 30 but not previously released—carried further criticism of his ruling party, which, Chiang declared yesterday, had failed to solve "the gravest crisis in its 20 year history." He told the committee that factional strife within the party was "more vicious" than our dispute with the Communists. Chiang urged Chinese to forget foreign reactions to their nation's policies. "Neither the United States nor the Soviet Union," he said, "will have the right to say anything if we are in the right."

The secret report said that when peace came to the Orient, China had $900,000,000 (U. S.) in foreign exchange—or five times the pre-war level. This, he insisted, could have been used profitably in currency reform "but our comrades in charge of the country's economy waited for foreign loans which never came."

In addition, Chiang criticized the party-controlled Central News Agency and the Central Broadcasting Station as "poor examples of what the party has done in the field of publicity." In civil war fighting, official sources said Liu Po-Chiang's Communist troops had reached the banks of the Yangtze River in Yingshan, 100 miles east of Hangchow, but had been driven away by government forces.

Dispatches from the Communist Shantung province, based on Pingtu and are threatening Laiyang, 60 miles to the east and an even more important Communist stronghold. Laiyang controls communication routes for the Shantung peninsula and its Communist port of Chefoo.

No Price Control

Senator Ball (R-Minn.) described talk about returning to wartime price ceilings as "silly." The group will open hearings next Monday at Providence, R. I., with special attention to food prices, and then move on to Boston for three days of hearings. Eventually the subcommittee will conduct price hearings in most of the eastern United States. Other regional sub-committees will hold similar hearings in the middle west and far west.

Asked to meet with Flanders at the closed session today were Senators Baldwin (R-Conn.) and Myers (D-Pa.), and Reps. Rich (R-Pa.), Kilbarrn (R-N.Y.) and Hart (D-N.J.).

Answering the slashing attack on the United States by Russia yesterday, Osborn told the Commission that Russia must realize the only atomic control treaty acceptable to peoples of the world "will be one which does away with national rivalries" and provides "real security."

Later the Atomic Energy Commission adopted its second report to the Security Council by a vote of 10 to 1 with Russia opposed and Poland abstaining. The ballot came after the United States and the Soviet Union bitterly accused each other of impeding the work of the Commission.

A United States delegate disclosed that it would seek Security Council action which would enable the General Assembly to act on the Balkan problem while still keeping a United Nations interim group on watch in Greece. He said the U. S. would propose that the Council specifically request the 56-nation assembly to make recommendations for a solution of the Balkan problem.

Mr. Arthur Beckwith, Jr., Sanford Herald Editor

Sanford Herald Editor: Dear Art: I want to take this opportunity of expressing to you my sincere appreciation and the appreciation of the Florida State League for the very fine coverage you have given the State League baseball games in the Herald during the course of this season. We have had some rough roads but taken as a whole I believe it can be safely said that this season is the most successful from every standpoint in the League history. We have had some "notty" problems to decide and your handling of the public—on those hearings and decisions has been to the credit of baseball. To you should go a large share of the credit for our having such a successful season. With kindest personal regards and best wishes, I am, Sincerely, Judge A. S. Herlong, Jr.

SOUTHEASTERN FOOTBALL MENTORS ARE DANCING RIGADOONS OF JOY

By the Associated Press. The wailing wall, usually the favorite habitat of football coaches about this time of the year, is just about deserted nowadays in the Southeastern Conference. Several of the cleat and pad mentors have tossed aside their crying towels and actually are dancing rigadoons of joy. Listen to what coach Red Sanders at Vanderbilt said after watching his Commodore wing-backs at yesterday's lengthy scrimmage. "They look awfully good out there, awfully good," the red one noted, with a fond eye cast at Jimmy Allen of Nashville and Jim Tabor of Memphis. "Some of the lads were on the ailing list, but nothing was seriously wrong with any of the enforced loafers. At Baton Rouge, Coach Bernie Moore looked smug and satisfied with a two-hour defensive scrimmage which he called "the best we've had to date" for his Louisiana State Tigers. Coaches throughout the conference have picked the Bernie Bengals as the year's most likely champs. And Tennessee's running attack, which was pretty hot in 1946, is clicking well enough to please Coach Bob Neyland. He especially likes the work of three tail-backs, Bob Land, Hal Littleford and Hubert Becker, and a freshman wingback, Kenneth Pruitt. Noted elsewhere around the loop: Alabama—Coach Red Drew says a wide open battle has developed over the Tide's end posts. Two big sophomores, Rebel Steiner, an All-Southeastern freshman in 1945 and an Army man in '46, and Ed White, are after the left end berth. Fighting it out for right end are Jim Cain and Bob Hood, each a junior and each a 200-pounder. Georgia—The sterling prospect of gloom and despair, Coach Wally Butts of Georgia, doesn't seem much to cheer him in the practice of his bulldozers. He says the line play has been ragged and things are at such a poor pass that the varsity is helpless against the reserves and the "off" boys. Mississippi State—Candidates for the varsity line are in good shape and the lads are going through their paces with considerable enthusiasm. Shorty Williams, a first string back, and full-back Jim Bailey have been outstanding in the squad's heavy workouts. Mississippi—Coach Johnny Vaughn chirps an optimistic note about his two forward walls. Neither will be easy to crack, he says in looking over his wealth of material. For passing, he turns to Charley Conery, who goes in for both distance and accuracy in tossing the ball around. Auburn—Echoing the gleeful songs of Moore, Neyland, Sanders et al, Coach Carl Voyles boasts of the "one of the finest groups of boys I've ever had the pleasure of working with." He has wide praise for back Ray Pelfray and halfback Freddie Gafford, a punter de luxe. Tulane—The Greenies "worked out in heavy rain and tried to find the easiest way to handle a slippery ball. It was a cool workout, at any rate. Florida—with four night games on their schedule, the Gators are doing their practice chores under the lights. Punting seems to be a weak spot, and defense plans need to be tightened. Georgia Tech—a bright light for Coach Bobby Dodd is the work of flankman Colin Anderson, a 190-pound candidate for end. Dodd says that this "dark horse" might well be used against Tennessee in the Sept. 27 opener. Kentucky—a liberal sprinkling of freshmen might show up in the Wildcats' opening game against Mississippi a week from Saturday. Coach Bear Bryant says that unless more enthusiasm is shown by the regulars, he would not be "at all surprised" to see four or five freshmen in the Kentucky lineup.

Trippi Serves Notice That He Will Be Top Star In Pro Ranks

CHICAGO, Sept. 11, (AP)—The Chicago Cardinals, sparked by All-American Charley Trippi, last night served notice on the National League that they are no longer the doormats of professional football when they defeated the New York Giants 52 to 21 in an exhibition game. The largest crowd in the history of Comiskey Park, 49,850, saw the Cardinals completely outclass the Giants in the game sponsored by the Chicago Daily News to raise money for the paper's veteran fund. Trippi, former University of Georgia star, dashed 71 and 65 yards the first two times he carried the ball. In the first quarter, his 71 yard sprint was stopped by Giant Howard Livingston eight yards from the goal. Pat Harder, motor of the Cardinal backfield axes, smashed around end for the first touchdown. Harder also kicked five extra points and a 25 yard field goal. Early in the second period Trippi went 65 yards to score. In his third and last carry, he carried 47 yards to get only two yards. Even Chicago lifemen scored touchdowns. Reserve center Bill Blackburn intercepted Emery Nix's pass and went 31 yards to score. Later he stole Jerry Niles' toss and raced 54 yards for another marker. Bill De Corveot dashed 72 yards, Ray Mallouf passed 37 yards to Jeff Burkett and end

33 Skippers Secure Rigging For First Round Of Regatta

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 11, (AP)—Skippers of 33 small racing yachts secured the rigging for the opening round today of the International Lightning Class Regatta Championship flight. Lasting three days, the championship division will race each morning, and the consolation event comprising 36 more boats, will be run off in the afternoons. In the qualifying runs yesterday, Mrs. Louise C. Wells of Bay Head, N. J., one of two women skippers here, led her division in "Misbehavior," and the other race ended in a deadlock between "Rhoda" and "Volanta." The first boat was sailed by John Robertson of Hamilton, Ont. and the other by Eddie Overton of Fairhope, Ala. Defending Champion Walt Swindeman of Toledo qualified automatically for the championship flight. FACE TOUGH SCHEDULE—QUANTICO, Va., Sept. 11, (AP)—The Quantico Marines face an 11-game schedule on the Gridiron during the 1947 season, kicking off first against the Washington and Lee Generals at Lexington on Sept. 20. The marines are being coached this season by M. C. (Mooney) Stewart, former Louisiana State University football player. YESTERDAY'S STARS—Ralph Kiner, Pirates, hit his 42nd and 43rd homers in losing game against Giants, to trail Johnny Mize by only three in National League home run derby. Al Brazier, Cardinals, limited Phillies to four hits, wained none and struck out seven, to lift St. Louis within 4 1/2 games of Dodgers with 4-1 victory. Mal Kutner took a 20 yard pass from Paul Christman for the other three scores. A three yard plunge in the second quarter by Gordon Paschke gave New York its first points. In the final period they racked up two more touchdowns with Livingston going over from the six and Jim Blumenstock scoring from the five.

COMMENTS from the SIDELINES by ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR.

Gainesville-Red Hat Series That 25 to 4 trouncing that the Deland Red Hats tagged on the Gainesville G-Men last Saturday night in Deland was a league record for a play-off tilt, according to Peter Schaal, league statistician. The previous high for a series contest was the 19 to 3 drubbing that the Deland Red Hats administered to the Sanford Celery Fedas in 1939. Despite the poor showing in the 19 to 3 tilt with the Red Hats, the Fedas won the three out of five series and later defeated the Daytona Beach Tlets, four games to three in the finals. Sanford then defeated the Albany entry in the Florida State League, four games to two in the State Championship of the southwest. Bill Godfrey Hugh Fullerton, Jr. in his "Sports Roundup" column for the Associated Press says, "During the summer an umpire from Jersey City, Bill Godfrey, watered into the International League of baseball looking for a job and was brushed off with the usual 'leave your address' . . . that same evening the ump assigned to a twilight double header at Jersey City got mixed up and failed to appear. So proxy Shag Shaughnessy called the number Bill had left and put him to work. . . . The upshot: he is a regular job on the I. L. staff." People will well remember Bill Godfrey, because he worked in the Florida State League last year, and attended George Barr's school for arbiters here in our city last spring. Florida Gators After a recent afternoon session in the broiling sun Coach Ray Griffin, who the Fighting Gators stated that his ball club has had so much work to do that he has not had time to size them up, so he is making no predictions for his gridders for the fall sessions ahead. A large part of the fortunes of the Gators will depend on the Florida coaches' ability to round into playing form about four tacks from their array of 12 prospects. This one job alone is going to produce many headaches before the contest opens with Mississippi on Sept. 27. The Gator line will be tougher than it was last year, since there are many returning lettermen. Paced by Paul Mortellaro, 208 pound guard, the forward wall will be in pretty fair condition if the prospect of a fine line to replace the loss of Meeks. The team's principal shortcoming is lack of a break-away back. Hefty, reputedly talented freshman dominate the squad, but their lack of experience is hardly expected to boost prospects. Lem Ekimoff, tough and rugged lineman from Erie, Pa., and Rock Hill's Ben Massey, neither with much experience, will alternate at the center post from which Meeks directed defense last year. The prospects for a fine line to replace the loss of Meeks, 250-pounders Kale and Phil, are star tackle prospects, both holdovers from last season. They are backed by numerous but relatively untested reserves. Neil Allen of Greeleyville, team captain, and Max Walker of Montgomery, W. Va., give the gamecocks a pair of outstanding guards, although Red Ozburn of Andrews and Al Farress of Greenville are the only outstanding reserves. Reserves also are a problem at end, where six good men of a usual are almost essential to the smashing type of defensive play Enright likes. Bobby O'Harra of Florence and Red Wilson of Maccon, Ga., are both fine ends, but Cecil Woolbright is the only experienced reserve. The Gator flanks are not to go unnoticed, despite the loss of Brute Williams. Tommy Bishop and Bill Turner are returning from the '46 crop and the reappearance of Dewell Rushing will materially aid the Gators.

G-Men Trounce Red Hats In 9 To 1 Contest

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 11, (Special)—As the result of the 9 to 1 drubbing posted on the Deland Red Hats here last night the Gainesville G-Men won the right to meet the St. Augustine Saints in the finals of the Florida State League Shaughnessy playoffs, which will begin Friday. Manager Myrl Hoag was the star of the contest as he banged out two four play poles, one with the runways jammed in the seventh canto. George Fultz starred on the hill for the locals as he limited the heavy-hitting Red Hats to two well spaced singles. The only run the Hats could muster came as the result of Fultz's wildness in the seventh inning when he walked four men, forcing home the run. Bill Rutledge of Charlotte and Bishop Strickland, Mullins freshman, are leading reserves for Hagrison at fallball. Droopy Atwell of Spartanburg, an expert passer, is expected to alternate with Hagran at quarterback. The schedule: Sept. 20 Newberry here; 27, Maryland here; Oct. 4, Mississippi at Memphis; 11, Furman here; 23, Clemson here; 31, Miami (Fla.) at Miami (night); Nov. 7 The Citadel at Orangeburg; 15 Duke at Durham and 27 Wake Forest at Charlotte. High scoring games are the rule rather than the exception in the annual Gator Bowl gridiron spectacles. Wake Forest and South Carolina scored 40 points in the 1946 game while Oklahoma and N. C. State amassed 47 points in the 1947 melee.

Gamecocks Lack Experience To Field Top Team

By DEL BOOTH COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 11, (AP)—The University of South Carolina Gamecocks are starting virtually from scratch this year in rebuilding their football fortunes on 27 lettermen and 40 freshmen. Partisans who stirred up hopes that the second postwar Gamecock edition might approach the magnificent 1941 team it took Coach Rex Enright four years to build "are in for a sad letdown," Enright declares. "We might have as good a team as we had last year, despite loss of halfback Earl (Sheriff) Dunham, on whose offensive generalship we depended heavily, and second All-America center Bryant Meeks," Enright conceded. "We even might be as good as we were in 1938," Enright's first year with the Gamecocks, "but no one should expect any more than that. We could lose all but three of our nine games, we could win six. That's the range to expect. It could turn out worse, but hardly better." The outcome hinges primarily on prospects for a fine line to replace the loss of Meeks. The team's principal shortcoming is lack of a break-away back. Hefty, reputedly talented freshman dominate the squad, but their lack of experience is hardly expected to boost prospects. Lem Ekimoff, tough and rugged lineman from Erie, Pa., and Rock Hill's Ben Massey, neither with much experience, will alternate at the center post from which Meeks directed defense last year. Price Investigation

(Continued from Page One) sold for $1.05 in some stores, and at 90 to 96 cents in others, but everywhere clerks told "worried housewives": "It'll be higher tomorrow." Wholesale prices jumped 2 1/2 cents a pound. A leading grocery chain, which held its price at 90 cents today said, "that means we'll have to raise it tomorrow." Top grade eggs, keeping pace with butter in their recent break-neck sprint, went to 91 to 98 cents a dozen at retail stores. Retail meat prices in New York "in some cases are higher than last October when prices skyrocketed after decontrol," the city's markets commissioner, Eugene G. Schulz, said. "There is no indication of a price break in the near future on the overall cost of food," he added. "with butter at a new high and the egg situation more acute than last week." Lamb chops, now 95 cents a pound, were 90 cents at last October's peak, he said, while shoulder of lamb, now 79 cents, was 65 then, and veal chops at 81 cents compare with 75 cents last year. Grocers mostly stayed away

CBS Is Charged With Violation Of Anti-Trust Act

ATLANTA, Sept. 11.—The Columbia Broadcasting System defended itself in U. S. District Court today against charges that it conspired to violate federal anti-trust laws and declared "the right to select a customer is not a one-way street."

The network and the Liberty Broadcasting Company of Wheeling, W. Va., are defendants in a suit brought by the Georgia University system board of regents which seeks an injunction preventing transfer of CBS affiliation from state-owned WGST to station WAGA in Atlanta.

WGST, which operates at 5,000 watts daylight power and 1,000 watts night, has been affiliated with CBS for 17 years. It charges that CBS "conspired" with George B. Storer of Wheeling to move its Atlanta affiliation in a three-way deal which gave CBS outlets in WWVA at Wheeling and WAGA in Miami. Storer owns the Wheeling and Miami stations, as well as WAGA in Atlanta.

The hearing pitted two former chairmen of the Federal Communications Commission against one another as opposing counsel. Paul A. Porter appeared with Attorney General Eugene Cook of Georgia for WGST while James Lawrence Fly heads a battery of lawyers defending Liberty and CBS.

Porter said he would show that as a result of concerted action CBS agreed to withdraw its affiliation from WGST in order to obtain a 50,000 watt outlet in Wheeling. "Unless a preliminary and a permanent injunction is forthcoming," he said, "the result will be irreparable damage to WGST and the state board of regents."

Fly, on the other hand, insisted the action was a "simple routine contract" and declared there was "no monopoly, no conspiracy, whatsoever." In fact, he added, the defendant made "every effort" to assist WGST in obtaining another network affiliation.

Daniel McDougal, arguing in behalf of the Sherman and Clayton Anti-Trust Laws, said CBS affiliation for Wheeling, Atlanta and Miami stations owned by Storer were separate contracts. Insisting that a vendor has a right to select his customers, he said freedom of action applied to the one who sells service as well as to the one receiving.

European Crisis

a momentum which can't be stopped by a yell of "enough." It's form changes, but it still grinds on as an economic catastrophe because of the vast expenditure in human lives and in resources of all kinds.

So World War II isn't finished by a long shot. Not only is it continuing as an economic crisis, marked by stark hunger in many countries, but there has been super-imposed a conflict of political aims — aggressive Communism versus western Democracy — which might lead to another global upheaval unless the rival ideologies can reach some understanding of live and let live.

Therefore, the further sacrifices which we are being asked to make now must be regarded as part and parcel of the obligations of the war which we should like to regard as concluded. And our contribution isn't wholly altruistic, since the welfare of the United States and the rest of the western hemisphere is bound up in the welfare of Eurasia.

To put it coldly, if the eastern hemisphere should go under economically, the western hemisphere could scarcely hope to avoid disaster.

Then, too, the crucial battle of the Iams is being fought in Europe. The western hemisphere's front line is there.

Thus, we likely shall find the situation less irksome if we reconcile ourselves to the unchangeable fact that there will be a war to finish, and there's nobody who can do it for us. There's some consolation to be had from the knowledge that the present stage of the conflict is vastly cheaper to finance than was the phase of guns.

camp and make the British recognize us as Palestinians. We insist on going to Palestine."

A veteran of the battles of the Runnymede Park—one of the three British transports—declared, "We are going to continue the sit-down strike we began on the ship."

Officials said that at both camps most of the refugees, refusing to assume as their place of origin tell their true origins, gave Polish and Hebrew or Yiddish as their only language.

In Mons, Belgium, two Jews, a man and woman were sentenced to prison terms and fined today by a Belgian court on charges of transporting explosives for an illegal purpose. The prosecution said they intended to send "letter bombs" to six British military and government leaders in the Middle East.

The two, Lisabeth Latsarus, 31, French writer and former war correspondent, and Jacob Elias, 30, a native of Russia, were arrested at the Belgian frontier. They were found with 14 packets of explosives, two detonators, a fuse and six envelopes addressed to the British leaders.

President Let Off

for Steelman. After passing King Neptune's throne, he was led to an "operating" table where his feet were tickled. He was sawed with a paper knife and force to swallow a vile-tasting drink.

Then, with paddles fashioned of canvas-wrapped cloth soaked in salt water, Neptune's minion beat the living daylight out of him as he was led up a platform wired for electrical shocks.

There was more shocking and more noxious medicines and grease for his body until he reached the final chair. Suddenly, over backwards he went into the pool where he was ducked until he yelled "shellback." He was thrown on a greasy chute to the deck, only to run through a blue-long line of paddlers.

The same treatment was given presidential secretary Matthew J. Connelly and Stanley Woodward, state department protocol chief, who forgot to bring his old shellback credentials.

The initiations of Secretaries Charles G. Ross and William D. Hassett were perfunctory, but Brigadier Gen. Wallace H. Graham, presidential physician and his assistant, Capt. Thomas J. Burns, went the full limit.

So did virtually all White House correspondents aboard while the President looked on, chuckling and apparently enjoying every minute of the spectacle.

Wallace Speech

statement that his (Wallace) has half a billion dollar building program, about 40 percent complete. He cited this as an "answer to any charge that we expect a major depression in the near future."

On the radio program, Wallace was asked by Leland Stowe, program commentator, to give his views on the steel situation, and Wallace replied:

"I do not accuse all steel men of believing in scarcity. There are some who believe in using new methods and creating greater production. But the high control—big steel—is planning for a reduction in steel production that will make a depression inevitable for us all.

"I certainly hope we do not have a depression. But I know that a great depression would cause the American people to move with great speed either to the extreme right or the extreme left."

"Today the steel, automotive and other great industrial concerns have capital—available for investment—amounting to some 15 or 20 billion dollars.

"We now face the danger that this vast reservoir of dollars won't be released—that no major portion of it will flow with sufficient courage to meet the peacetime needs of the United States and the world," Wallace continued.

"Without courage on the part of big business men, without fighting leadership on the part of labor and without intelligent planning on the part of government, the losses from a major depression in the '50's could easily total 500 billion dollars."

Tower's statement said that 2,500,000 tons of new ingot-making capacity would result from projects being completed in 1947 and 1948.

Steel Head Denies Public Be Damned Policy On Supply

End Of Steel Shortage Is Predicted Within Two Years; Price Rise Holds

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Two top steel executives predicted today the steel shortage will end within two years, and the industry then will keep pace with demand.

Benjamin Fairless and Eugene Greer, officials of the United States and Bethlehem Steel Corporations, respectively, told the Senate subcommittee on the industry's catching up with "abnormal demands."

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (AP)—Retail food prices either advanced or held to their high levels today, but hope of a price rise was seen in some wholesale prices for some commodities.

Eggs hit $1 a dozen in some Philadelphia and New York stores. Choice steaks continued to sell at $1 a pound or better. Butter commanded $1.05 in some stores in both cities, and store butter advanced to $1.05 a pound.

A spokesman for the New York League of Women Shoppers said the organization could no longer recommend the use of substitutes "without feeling like hypocrites."

"We feel we must fight now for a return to price controls and rationing."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Senator Martin (R-Pa.) told the nation's top steel executives today that a "public be damned" attitude on their part may lead to government policing—perhaps even nationalization. He drew an immediate retort from Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the U. S. Steel Corporation, who said the industry is doing its level best to meet an "extraordinary" demand for its product.

Fairless declared U. S. Steel is spending half a billion dollars to improve its capacity and far from any "public be damned" viewpoint "our attitude is, and will always continue to be, just the reverse."

The exchange was touched off by a public statement by Martin, chairman of the Senate's special steel committee, saying:

"I realize that steel is a tough business. But in the steel business or in any other business, management has no more right to adopt a 'public be damned' attitude than labor or government."

"In the face of growing pressure for nationalization of such big industries as steel, coal and the railroads, it would be downright stupid for your business to take that position."

"Bear this in mind—such nationalization has been suggested even on the floor of the United States Senate."

Martin prepared his sharply worded statement for the opening of a committee session at which more than a dozen steel company officials were asked to testify. Fairless, first on the witness list, (Continued on Page 21)

Signs Being Made For Tourist Booth

Reflecting signs for the Tourist Information Booth at Seminole Boulevard and Park Avenue are now being made and will be placed atop the building in the near future. Gordon Bradley, assistant City Clerk and secretary of the Jaycees, announced this morning. Although the date for the opening of the booth on a fall evening day a week basis has not been set by the Jaycees, this will probably be during the middle of October, he declared.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Gabe Michaels is working at the booth on a five and a half day a week basis getting the files and information facilities ready.

Quere Theft

MALVERNE, N. Y., Sept. 12 (AP)—Malverne police got a call last night from Dr. Alexander Zabin, who lives across the street from the police station. Someone had stolen a station wagon from his garage. Worth $250, too, he said.

18 Are Killed 50 Injured In Ship's Blast

British Liner Reina Del Pacifico Docks In Belfast After Explosion At Sea

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Sept. 12 (AP)—Eighteen dead and 50 injured men and more than 500 injured were brought ashore today from the British liner Reina Del Pacifico, which docked here badly damaged by an explosion at sea.

While hundreds crowded the dock area, the 17,702-ton motorship was towed in and police began an inquiry, studying among other things what they described as the possibility of sabotage.

The wartime troop transport, on a trial run after being refitted for resumption of peacetime service, was torn by an engine-room blast yesterday about 12 miles north of Copeland Island, which lies just off the coast near the mouth of Belfast Bay.

An SOS brought five tug and a lifeboat carrying doctors and nurses. One of the doctors reported 34 of the injured "terribly burned" and said some probably would die. Fifteen men were killed outright and three died this morning in hospitals in Bangor, Donaghadee and Newtownards.

Belfast newspapers said only crewmen, technicians and a "few officials" of the line, the Pacific Steam Navigation Company, were aboard at the time of the explosion. Reporters, kept away from the vessel, were told by James Campbell, 23-year-old carpenter for the company.

"You would not know the ship. She is fastly finished up. The bulkheads are twisted and the decks are up."

Crowds gathered at the hospital but were barred from the dock.

The 17-year-old Reina Del Pacifico—the name is Spanish for "Queen of the Pacific"—voyaged 500,000 miles on war service without sustaining damage.

Reconditioned, she was due in Liverpool next Thursday upon (Continued on Page 21)

Sheriff Percy Mero was commended by the 1150 members of the First Baptist Church Wednesday night when a resolution was adopted on his efficient operation of the Sheriff's office and urging him to continue his "scrupulous" against every type of illegal gambling in Seminole County.

Quoting from an editorial in the Sanford Herald, a letter to the Sheriff, signed by Julius Stenstrom for the Baptist Church, asked the Sheriff not to consider favorably a petition signed by a number of Sanford business men seeking the return of punchboards.

The letter asked the Sheriff to continue "to give Seminole County the splendid type of law enforcement that you have so capably rendered our citizens since your appointment to your present office by Governor Caldwell."

Kettles Outlines Fed Grid Outlook At Jaycee Lunch

Players Lack Experience But Have Making Of Good Team

The 1947 Seminole High School grid machine will lack the experience that the club had last year, but we are going to have several outstanding players on the squad. We are going to win some games and lose some games, but we cannot promise the record set by the 44 team," Coach Carl Kettles told the members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce yesterday at their regular meeting at the Mayfair Inn.

"You remember Willis Anderson who played with us last year. Well, according to reports, he will play a lot of football for Auburn this year, and rumor has it that he will take over the tail back spot in the absence of Travis Tidwell, who is out with a broken leg," Kettles stated.

Coach Fred Ganas told the group that he is expecting to have a better rounded basketball club for the coming year, and that the "B" squad football team would gain a lot of experience in games to be scheduled and in their scrimmages against the variety aggregation.

Coach Kettles asserted that he has hopes of opening a football (Continued on Page Two)

Sale Of License Tags Is Reported Slow

Motorists are fairly about securing their new 1948 driver's licenses which can now be secured without delay or standing in line by bringing the old license to one of the three clerks in the hall of the Court House just outside Judge R. W. Ware's office.

Only 2,000 licenses have been issued to date. This is about 400 behind those sold at this time last year, according to Mrs. Letha Fowler, assistant to Judge Ware.

More than 8,000 driver's licenses were issued last year in Seminole County.

COURT RULING TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 12 (AP)—The Florida Supreme Court today declined to grant the Republic of Cuba exclusive use of the trade phrase "The Home of Havana Cigars."

NOTICE

Effective Sept. 15, 1947, the subscription rate of The Sanford Herald will be increased to 25 cents a week. Monthly and yearly subscriptions will be increased proportionately at the same time. Paid-in-advance subscriptions will be delivered at the old rate until the expiration date.

The Herald regrets the necessity of increasing its subscription rate at this time, but the price of the paper on which we print is three times higher than it was before the war and other production costs have increased more or less to the same extent.

This is the first increase in these rates which we have made since February, 1938. It will be recalled that at the time we resumed daily publication following a period as a tri-weekly during the war, we made no additional charge for the two additional papers delivered each week to our subscribers.

We feel sure they appreciate our postponing any rate increase as long as possible.

New Cuts Planned To Save British Economy

Church Swindler Is Arraigned In Postal Fraud Case

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12 (AP)—A postal fraud in which U. S. Postal Inspector George Sadler said 40 churches in five states were "systematically swindled" of $200,000 was disclosed here today by the federal court arrangement of a consulting engineer of a new Belmont Philadelphia construction company.

At the same time, Sadler announced that Howard L. Clements, 34, former president of the firm, had been arrested in Miami, Fla., and held in $25,000 bail for removal to Philadelphia on charges of mail fraud and conspiracy.

Churches In 5 States Robbed Of $200,000 By Building Firm

Edward T. Mendonca, 52-year-old former employee of the General Engineering and Construction Co., was held by U. S. Commissioner Norman J. Griffin in $20,000 bail in Philadelphia yesterday for grand jury action on charges of mail fraud and conspiracy.

In one instance, Sadler told Griffin, Clements spent more than $6,000 in funds raised by church members for salaries that were never contracted.

Sadler said that church organizations had been victimized by the construction company in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Missouri, Georgia, Illinois, and the District of Columbia. Most of the churches were attended by negroes.

The postal inspector testified that Clements traveled about the country addressing officials of churches and construction companies. He would suggest plans for raising funds, depending upon the ground breaking ceremony.

At such ceremonies, he continued, Clements would deliver a appeal for the church's need, then step forward to contribute his own check for $500 "just to start the ball rolling."

In one case, Sadler said, paralytic church members contributed $10,000 on the spot to ward the cost of a new building about 25 home owners, he added, had made down payments on homes were never built.

Sadler did not identify any of Clements' associates other than Mendonca.

Lions Club Approves Aid To Blind Plan

The Lions Club approved the Friday plan to raise funds for aid to the blind and to underprivileged youth at its luncheon today. Richard Stephenson of Jacksonville outlined the plan whereby gum vending machines are to be placed in various stores.

General Lee Bullard, president of the Lions, said he would be in charge of the drive to derive proceeds from penny gum sales.

Ray Slaton was welcomed as a member of the Lions and warned against 10 cent fines administered by the tail twister, Harry Robson.

Robert Reedy was welcomed back. Dr. Frank Gullman was granted a month's leave of absence. A club directors' meeting was scheduled to take place Wednesday night at the home of Dick Elsberry.

GENERAL LEES PLANS

ROME, Sept. 12 (AP)—The hopes of Italy's General John C. H. Lee to enter the service of the Episcopal Church in the United States became known today. Lee plans to retire as U. S. Army commander in the Mediterranean theater after the formal deposit next Monday of the Allies' ratification of the peace treaty with Italy.

COLORED SCHOOL

Registration of 531 pupils on Monday at the Crooms Academy for colored students on Monday was today reported by Prof. J. N. Crooms, principal, who predicted that the total enrollment will reach 550 pupils for the term.

REAL ESTATE

W. J. Weinman has obtained a City permit to erect a 24 by 24 foot structure to house servants at Sanford Heights. Estimated cost is $3,000.

R. M. McLaren of Maitland recently purchased a tourist cabin court at South Fern Park on the Orlando highway from Mr. and Mrs. Arlie L. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Barnett. Revenue stamps indicate that the purchase price was $38,500. The purchase includes cabin furnishings.

Storm Busting Experiment Is Being Postponed

MIAMI, Sept. 12 (AP)—The Atlantic storm became a full-fledged hurricane with winds of 140 mph in a 24-hour period today, the Weather Bureau reported at 11:45 A. M. It was classified as "very dangerous" as it "pierced the disturbance and found its center at 8:45 A. M. at latitude 17.8 north, longitude 89.3 west, with very heavy rain and severe turbulence."

Hurricane Reported In West Indies On Way To Northwest

MIAMI, Sept. 12 (AP)—A severe tropical storm with winds of hurricane force near the center, whipped with mounting power up the South Atlantic today as an announcement was made in Science magazine that the hurricane would not be tried on the particular storm.

Lieut. Comdr. Daniel Rex, head of the operations group of "Project Cirrus," said that "since arrangements for the test have not been completed, the project Cirrus B-17 plane will not be able to get into operation during the life of this particular storm."

Both the Army and Navy and General Electric, however, are pushing preparations to conduct the first test of breaking up a hurricane by seeding the disturbance with dry ice or other crystals.

The South Atlantic storm was placed in a 4 A. M. (EST) San Juan Weather Bureau advisory at 100 miles east of Antigua, British West Indies. It was expected to reach a point about 200 miles north-northeast of Antigua by tomorrow morning.

Further increase in the winds is expected today. Hurricane force winds of 75 miles an hour or more prevailed near the center, the advisory stated, with gales extending outward 80 to 100 miles.

The storm is moving west-northwestward about 15 miles an hour but it is still too early to determine what course it might take as it approaches land.

The storm's path would cross that of the battleship Missouri, bringing President Truman's home from the Rio de Janeiro Conference, but they were some 1,000 miles apart and the big "Mo" could easily outrun the winds should it become necessary.

Work at Schenectady toward preparing the plane for the hurricane-busting experiment is expected to be completed shortly. Crews are now being briefed on topographic equipment assembled and scientific data studied. Dr. Irving Langmuir, Nobel physicist and Nobel Prize winner, is cooperating with the Army, Navy and General Electric in planning the test.

RIOT IN CAIRO

CAIRO, Sept. 12 (AP)—Police used clubs today in an effort to disperse hundreds of Moslems protesting the plans for a new "Ancient Al-Azhar" Mosque shouting "Allah" and "down with the Security Council!"

The demonstration was the latest in a series protesting the building of the British-Egyptian dispute by the United Nations Security Council. The Egyptians demand removal of British troops from the Nile Valley and union of the Sudan with Egypt.

T. H. EDITOR DIES

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 12 (AP)—Willis Morris Ball, dean of Florida newsmen, editor in chief of the Florida Times-Union for the past 39 years and chairman of the board of directors of the Florida Publishing Company which publishes it, died early today at the age of 88.

CAROL AND LUPESCU

RIODEJANEIRO, Sept. 12 (AP)—Former King Carol of Romania and Elena Lupescu began packing today to leave Brazil as husband and wife, but with their divorce by union leaders under the Taft-Hartley Act forced the AFL executive council today to postpone its expected announcement of policy toward the Labor Act.

LEWIS OBJECTS

CHICAGO, Sept. 12 (AP)—Opposition of John L. Lewis to the signing of non-Communist affidavits by union leaders under the Taft-Hartley Act forced the AFL executive council today to postpone its expected announcement of policy toward the Labor Act.

Larger Exports And Fewer Investments Demanded In Move To Avoid Collapse

LONDON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Sir Stafford Cripps, president of the Board of Trade, announced today new cuts in Britain's armed forces and a dash in permitted capital investments as crisis measures to help stave off economic collapse.

The Labor minister urged an immediate one-third increase in exports, and said capital investments would have to be cut drastically to make the increase possible.

He said the Labor government would use compulsion, if necessary, with all industry and labor to achieve production targets.

"Though we might be able to get further temporary assistance from the United States of America under the Marshall plan or some other way, we cannot count upon this," Sir Stafford said in an address prepared for 2,000 industrialists and unionists.

"We do not wish to intend to be tied by economic strings to the political policies of other countries, however friendly they may be."

Sir Stafford, warning Britons that even more austerity was in store for them, did not amplify his announcement of additional cuts in the armed services, which would release more for manpower in other industries. A high government source said earlier the cuts would go deeper than the government's original plan, which was to slash the services, now totaling 1,300,000 men, to 1,070,000 by March 1948.

Meanwhile in Paris, the British Foreign Office announced that Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin had postponed the scheduled wind-up session of foreign ministers of 16 nations on the Marshall plan, because of United States criticism of a "final" report on European needs.

Bevin as chairman of the final session scheduled for next Monday, advised the foreign ministers of the decision and that no alternative date had been suggested. Authoritative London sources said they expected the delay would be at least a month and possibly two, as that the 16 nations' delegations could not get upon American advice to prune their estimates.

A secretariat source here said it was possible the conference would remain in session for almost three additional weeks. In reports the report said would call for nearly $1,000,000,000 in U. S. aid in the next four years.

French ambassador Henri Bonnet said in Washington that if the French dollar shortage grows more acute his government may have to reduce purchases of artificially cheap American wheat, fats and coal "before very long."

"This could happen but I hope it does not," he said in an interview. Bonnet talked with reporters prior to seeing Secretary of State Marshall to report on his recent trip to France.

The Ambassador said he could not say the precise date when this outbreak of United States purchases might occur. But, he added, the situation is "already very difficult in that respect."

Cooler Weather Spreads Over West

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cooler weather spread over the country's main corn belt today but federal forecasters said there was no immediate danger of frost.

Temperatures dipped to the low 40's in Nebraska and parts of North Dakota today and similar readings were predicted for Minnesota and Wisconsin tonight.

Cooler weather also was reported in the mountain states, with the mercury dropping to 34 at Cheyenne, Wyo., and 41 at Denver and Lamar, Colo. Higher temperatures, however, were forecast in the northern Rockies and the Pacific northwest.

Rain fell throughout the North Central states, with heaviest falls reported in South Bend, Ind., 1.83 inches; Detroit, 1.74, and Sioux City, Ia., 1.50 inches.

Temperatures in the high 60's were general eastward from the Great Lakes while San Antonio's reading of 87 was the highest in the Gulf states yesterday.

TILLIS HONORED

J. S. Tillis, Atlantic Coast Line railroad, former of the Car Department, Sanford, was awarded today by the company a 25 year emblem for continuous service. Mr. Tillis was originally employed by the railroad on July 25, 1922. The presentation was made by M. Carroll, general foreman.
