Boaters Seek More Education For 'Common Sense Afloat'

All-Star Contest

CHICAGO (AP) — Baltimore's Billy Loos of Detroit's Jim Bunning, both rookies right-handers in All-Star competition, appeared as the most logical choices for starting pitcher for the American League in next week's 24th removal of the annual inter-league battle.

Other right-handers from whom New York manager Casey Stengel can pick his workmen will be his own Bob Grim and Early Wynn of Cleveland with a 10.8 record.

The southpaws were Don Moss of Cleveland, Chicago's Billy Pierce and New York's Bobby Shantz, rejuvenated with the Yankees with a 9-1 record.

Stengel had nearly a third of his squad of 25 from his own roster, with eight Yankees making the trip to St. Louis for the July 9 scrap.

In addition to two starters, catcher Yogi Berra and center-fielder Mickey Vernon, he named his two pitchers; infielders Gil McDougald, Johnny Pate, and Elston Howard, normally an outfielder but picked as a catcher for the All-Stars.

Detroit will have four representatives, starters Harvey Kuenn at shortstop, Al Kaline in right field; Bunning and outfielder Charlie Maxwell.

Three teams placed three players each: second baseman Nellie Fox, Pierce and outfielder Minnie Miñoso, who has an All-Star batting average of .506, join from Chicago; first-baseman Vic Wertz, Moss and Wynn from Cleveland; third-baseman George Kell, catcher Gus Triandos and Loos from Baltimore.

Veteran outfielder Ted Williams, appearing on the squad for the 12th year, and rookie infielder Frank Malena will represent Boston. Shortstop Joe DeMaestri is from Kansas City, and outfielder Roy Sievers from Washington.

George Chermers, veteran trainer who flew here to work with the amateur heavyweight king, said the 212-pounder "has as good a chance against Patterson as any fighter".

The Seattle, Wash., match, the first ever to pit a heavyweight champion against a fighter making his first professional appearance, is conditional upon Patterson's defeat of Hurricane Jackson in New York July 29.

Patterson also won the Olympic heavyweight championship before turning professional.

24-Year-Old Girl Directing Camp

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A 24-year-old Kansas City girl has become the youngest director of municipal camps in the history of the city.

Blonde Beverly Brewer, who attends graduate school and pumps a black cocker spaniel, will direct the city's 400-acre Camp Lake of the Woods this summer.

Beverly admitted that the responsibility of directing an 11-week program for some 750 enthusiastic campers is bewildering at times.

"You really have to have a vast knowledge of . . . well . . . everything from plumbing to astronomy," she said. "Just the other day I learned how to operate the filtering system on the swimming pool. And the day before that I had to roundup five horses that broke through a fence."

Beverly and her staff of 25 counselors, cooks and maintenance men have to deal with more than the run-of-the-mill problems.

In addition to special leadership training programs and regular sessions open to all Kansas City children, the camp offers a unique program for handicapped children. It is the only municipal camp in the country which plans special supervised sessions for the cardiac, cerebral palsy, diabetic and blind.

Most of the children are between the ages of 9 to 15. But one week each summer is set aside for the Golden Age session for the 65 years and older group.

Democracy prevails in all camp activities. Each day the campers meet with their counselors and discuss what they would like to do. In addition to swimming, horseback riding, archery, overnight hikes and cookouts, the children are taught such basic camping skills as building fires, chopping wood, erecting shelters and making furniture.

Likes Canoeing
For years Beverly has been working with groups. While studying for her M. A. in social psychology at the University of Kansas City, she has been graduate adviser and moderator of a group.

When Beverly isn't working on her thesis—a personnel test for camp counselors—she is in the Ozarks on a canoe trip, showing her dog in an obedience class, or exploring caves.

Plaid shorts and blue sneakers are Beverly's favorite clothes. Her friends say that whenever she enters a room, so does the smell of woodsmoke. But she brings something more—a revitalized zeal for professional camping.

When Brownie, Boston and Walt-A-Bit were all over at the wire there have been all seven finishes for first in several other major American stake races in recent years: Dart By and Three Rings in the 1950 All-American at Atlantic City, Bryan G. and Arnie in the 1951 Questionaire at Jamaica, Suleiman and Wiffenpoof in the 1951 Capitol at Laurel, Cochise and Post Card in the 1951 Brandywine at Delaware, Fair Game and Pictus in the 1952 Governor at Suffolk, Queen Hopeful and Green Lady in the 1953 Mademoiselle at Washington Park, Page One and Thither in the 1953 Home-bred at Atlantic City (a race which saw dead-heat for fourth also), Hypthesis and Candle Wood in the 1953 Princeton at Garden State (latter disqualified), Red Hannigan and Noble Risk in the 1954 Providence at Narragansett, Riverina and Happy Mood in the 1954 Acorn at Belmont, All's Pride and Lad Afor in the 1956 Cup and Saucer at New Woodbine and Princess Turia and Bayou—both owned by Calumet—in the 1956 Acorn at Belmont.

MIAMI — There will be a dead heat for first place once in every 228 horse races, if statistics from Hialeah are typical.

Which is many times more frequent than the days when racing relied on the human eye to decide the close ones. There were only 97 dead-heats for win in all of American racing from 1910 through 1955, when the camera first came into general use to photograph horses going under the finish wire.

The total dead-heats for, second, third and fourth increased from 20 in 1925 to 115 in 1955 to 203 in 1957. The last year American Racing Manual kept the count was 1951 and there were 371 dead-heats.

Although the photo-finish camera now is required equipment for all horse tracks in the United States, it may be of interest that the pictures are not "official"; they are legally recognized as "aids" to the placing judges in making final decisions. There is no case on record, of course, of the judges arguing against the photograph.

Hialeah was the scene of the first triple dead-heat for place, as well as a dead-heat in an important stake race.

The camera was unable to separate Colony Date, Arthur Pilate and Pincion on February 2, 1952 for second money. The most famous triple dead-heat was for first in the 1944 Carter at Aqueduct

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick said that the method of selecting the All-Star teams would be discussed at the major league winter meetings as a result of the Cincinnati ballot box stuffing and it seems obvious that there are at least two better systems.

The fan pays the baseball franchise and it would be ideal if he could fairly select the All-Star team. But the way they did it in Cincinnati made old Tammany Hall look like a bunch of amateurs and proved that as of the moment it's a complete farce.

Frick admits that something will have to be done to "tighten it up"—and there are two good ways to come up with better teams.

Let Big Leaguers Do It
The first would be to let the managers choose the All-Star teams but without selecting any called the "Panel of Americans." The panel is composed of students with varied racial and religious backgrounds who discuss current and social problems.

Beverly was graduated from KCU in 1953 and taught first grade the following year. The next year she worked as a recreation supervisor for the city before returning to graduate school.

For five summers, Beverly counseled at Camp Lake of the Woods. She's also volunteered as a summer church school teacher, a folk and square dance instructor for the YWCA and a trainer for adult Girl Scout leaders.

When Beverly isn't working on her thesis—a personnel test for camp counselors—she is in the Ozarks on a canoe trip, showing her dog in an obedience class, or exploring caves.

Fish Get Frustrated Under Strain

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service has learned that fish, like humans, become frustrated when placed under conditions of stress and strain.

The finding was the result of a series of tests made here at the Pacific Salmon Investigations laboratory.

Fish biologists set up a six-foot tank with three chambers connected at the top. One contained fresh water, another brackish water and the third, salt water.

Three fish were placed in the fresh water and soon separated, one fish to a chamber, apparently paying no heed to the salinity content of each chamber.

When a block of wood was floated on the pool, all the fish headed for the shaded spot.

But in a short time, one strong salmon proved himself "king" of the school and through each of the der block of wood.

The fish denied the shady spot took to the corners of the pool and "shook all over," the biologists said. They appeared excited and were paler in color than a normal, well-adjusted fish.

Next the five fish were placed together in a large unpartitioned pool and they quickly lost all signs of fight or frustration and behaved like model children.

WHAT IS HAPPENING
Will Benson is telling the story. He has been the Box P ranch in Easter Valley in frontier Colorado ever since Joe and Sarah Pardee took him in a sometime, hungry kid, seven years back. Will, having the deepest affection for the Pardees, was distressed by the bitterness between Joe and his wife, Sarah, who has lived in a wheel chair since an accident.

One morning Will rode with Joe Pardee and Gene Dillingham, another of Joe's cowhands, to meet Al Beam, who had challenged Pardee's reputation of Easter Valley. When Joe cornered Beam, he was the loser in the race. Dillingham killed Beam in a rage of grief. Dying by his wounds, Joe told Benson: "Take care of Kathy Morgan," referring to a young woman who had attracted Joe's interest. Sarah, taking charge of the ranch, names Beam's boy, Will, as an enemy for Will for Gene Dillingham has counted on getting the job. That night, Dillingham picks a fat fight with Will and tells him: "The kid you see here is the son of the Box P grass. I'll shoot you right between the eyes."

CHAPTER I
ALEC DODSON was elected the new president of the Easter Valley Cattlemen's Association. Sarah insisted on going to the meeting.

I carried her to the buggy, and when we got to the schoolhouse, Alec had inside and set her in the only rocking chair in the building. The men were surprised and disapproving, I think, but they were courteous enough. She was a ranch owner, and there was no way they could keep her out.

I stood beside Sarah's chair, thinking how different this meeting was from the ones I had attended when Joe was alive. He had dominated the association year after year. Meetings were short and well planned. Everyone knew Joe's attitude on all the issues, and they voted his way; but this time, even after Alec Dodson took the chair, there was a lot of wrangling. The meeting broke up without any positive action being taken.

On our way home, Sarah said thoughtfully: "Take a leader out of a small community like this, and all you get is a bunch of little men trying to be big. Alec Dodson has more cows than Joe ever owned, but that doesn't make him enough of a man to fill Joe's boots."

I looked at her, surprised at what she had said. It was the first time I had heard her speak well of Joe since his death. She stared straight ahead, her gloved hands folded on her lap.

She was a brave and beautiful woman, I thought, and if her body had not been broken she'd be on her mare running the ranch herself. But now I was all she had, and this first month as foreman was long enough to show me a few of my own shortcomings.

"Will," Sarah said suddenly, "I don't want you to take the attitude Joe did. I mean, to kill men to hold on to grazing land that we don't own. On the other hand, there's no sense in having a cat-men's association if it doesn't have any leadership. You've got to be the leader."

I looked at her again, as surprised as the night she'd said I was to be foreman. She turned her face to me, smiling. I said: "You're dreaming. You can't be a leader if you don't belong, and you can't belong unless you're a ranch owner."

"You'll be half-owner," she said. "It's only fair that you should work for yourself as well as for me." She glanced at me again, the smile gone. "Some times it seems to me you favor Joe enough to be his son. You get a kind of brooding hawk look about your face. If you don't relax, you'll soon be an old man."

I was silent. I know I was worrying too much. About Dillingham. About the settlers who would storm into the valley in the spring now that Joe was gone. About almost anything, I guess, that affected the Box P.

I didn't know how much difference it would make if I owned half the Pardee ranch, but I didn't like the thought. The thought came when I'd have to do what Joe had done if I took Sarah's offer. The locusts would come again, and when they did I would break with Sarah just as Joe had, and over the same issue.

Maybe Sarah knew. She said: "I wasn't fair, pushing you into the foreman's job. If you want to quit . . ."

"Well, at least I'm going to insist on you being half-owner. If you're bound to kill yourself worrying about the ranch, you would be doing part of it for yourself."

"Suppose something comes up we don't agree on?"

Surprisingly, she laughed. She put a hand on my arm, that "I'm not worried about that." Then she saw the expression on my face and drew her hand back. "All right, Will, it's a fair question and I'll answer it. It was different when Joe was alive. The ranch was always his. It was never mine, but it is now. I'll remain the senior partner."

I nodded, for that was right and natural. If Sarah would own 51 per cent of the ranch, I'd accept. I told her so.

"I'm writing to Ben Sawhill tonight," she paused, then asked, "When are you starting round-up?"

"First of next week."

"You're driving to Leadville to sell?"

"Yes," I explained why I thought it a better market.

"On your way back, go to Canon City," she said. "Bring $500 home. Put the rest in the bank. See Ben while you're in town."

I nodded agreement, and after that we rode in silence. I had been postponing one un-

Local Law Officers Keep Around Clock Watch On Highways

Seminole County law enforcement officers are watching the highways around the clock to prevent, if possible, the loss of life during the 102-hour 4th of July holiday weekend.

Three arrests were made last night, one reckless driver at 9:23 p.m., one for improper passing on a double line at 11:30 p.m., and another for excessive speed at 11:58 p.m., as officers watched traffic closely to prevent highway smashups.

Traffic is relatively quiet with few on the highways, it was reported by Seminole County Sheriff J. L. Hobby.

However, elsewhere in the State there were two deaths—one drowning and one traffic fatality—near the opening of the Independence Day holiday.

A young housewife from Grove City, Ohio, Mrs. Doris Tahl, 23, drowned Wednesday night at New Smyrna Beach less than an hour after she arrived to begin her Florida vacation.

Police said Mrs. Tahl decided to go in for "a quick dip in cool off" after arriving by automobile at the resort city. She dove in the surf shortly after lifeguards left their stations for the night.

At Jasper, Mrs. Arlene Wills, 38, was knocked down and killed by a car as she attempted to cross busy U.S. Highway 41.

The Florida Safety Council predicted earlier this week that 12 persons would die violent deaths in the state today-seven on the highway, three by drowning and two by miscellaneous causes.

The Highway Patrol, meanwhile, forecast 20 deaths on the state's roads over the long weekend which began at 6 p.m. Wednesday night. All available state troopers were ordered on patrol duty in order to keep the toll down as low as possible.

3 Top Members Ousted

MOSCOW — Communist Party Leader Nikita Khrushchev can be expected to follow up the smashing victory for his liberalization policy with a major shakeup of the Soviet government, Western observers said today.

The Communist Party Wednesday accused three top members of anti-party activities and ousted them from the party presidium. They were former Premier Georgi Malenkov, former Premier Vyacheslav M. Molotov and Leonid Brezhnev.

Under both the Senate and House bills, the trial judge would be authorized to examine the pertinent FBI report beforehand to determine what part, if any, need to be shown to the defendant.

A resolution was adopted at the Tuesday session of county commissioners requesting the State Road Department to establish by statute a route from State Road 66 to the Orange County line.

Also approved by the commissioners was the purchase of a 3-volume set of law books pertaining to zoning. County Attorney Mark N. Cleveland Jr. explained that the new volumes would be useful and necessary for use by the Zoning and Planning Commission, the board of commissioners, and the attorney.

There was no immediate word of the whereabouts of Molotov, Malenkov or Kaganovich. They have not been seen in public here for more than a week.

Delegate Reports On International Kiwanis Convention

"There were four primary features" of the Kiwanis International Convention Ed Shinkler, president of the Sanford Kiwanis Club said yesterday as he reported to the local membership.

"I wish that every Kiwanian could have been on hand for this convention," he said as he described the four primary features as the place and its facilities; the entertainment; the speeches; and the election.

Most impressive was the auditorium which was headquarters for the convention, Shinkler told the Sanford Kiwanis Club. "It was memorable to such an extent that one is completely lost when in it," he said. "It's the only building I know of that can hold a football field and have additional room for the spectators, explained the club president. The auditorium will hold 40,000 people, 2,000 on the stage alone."

Of the entertainment program, Shinkler said "It was so diversified that it would be impossible to pick out the best." We saw and heard bands, choruses, singing groups — Miss America and her court — and a Broadway production "Showway To The Stars" which would require a five-dollar ticket in New York.

"If you have any question of what Kiwanis or Kiwanis International means," Ed Shinkler said as he spoke of the speeches heard during the convention, "the president's message will clear them up for you." He commented on speeches delivered by Reed Ough, president of Kiwanis International, Carlos Romulo, Philippine Ambassador to the United States, and Vice President Richard Nixon.

The last feature of the convention described briefly by Shinkler was the election of officers for Kiwanis International. Elected President of the international organization was H. Bart Arnold of California.

Guests and visitors hearing Ed Shinkler and his report of the convention included: Vern Herbold, Jim Ed Summerhill, Bud Young, Groves Edmundson and Forrest Beckenkridge of the De Land Kiwanis Club; Glenn Wimbush of the U. S. Treasury Department; Ken Crosthwait of Radio Station WIOD; John Andrews, Supervisor Motor Vehicle Department, Tallahassee; Captain Lloyd A. Arthur, Commanding Officer, NAS, Sanford; Bill Knight, Tallahassee; Earl Mann, Orlando; Lou Orwick, Orlando; Elmer H. Pryor; and Marvin P. Crandall.

Ed Shinkler was introduced by Representative Mark N. Cleveland Jr., program chairman for the meeting.

Shannon Funeral Tomorrow Morning

John Shannon, 71, passed away at his home at 2 a.m. Tuesday. Mr. Shannon was born Feb. 1, 1886, in Inagh, Ireland and came to America in 1921. He had lived in Sanford for the past five years making his home at 612 1/2 Park Ave.

He was a member of All Souls Catholic Church of Sanford. Mr. Shannon was retired from the Bauman Dairy Co. of Chicago, Ill.

Survivors include the wife, Mrs. Catherine Shannon, Sanford; one daughter, Mrs. Lorena Powell of Norfolk, Va.; and three grandchildren, Georgia, Mary Ann and Johnny Powell all of Norfolk, Va. Funeral Mass will be held at 9:30 a.m. Friday at the All Souls Catholic Church with Father Richard Lyons officiating with the Rosary at 8:15 p.m. tonight at Wilson Funeral Home. Burial will be in the Catholic Cemetery.

Entomologist Says No Way To Control Blind Mosquitos

The Board of Seminole County Commissioners heard Tuesday that there is no effective way to control the blind mosquitoes that have plagued the community season after season.

Paul G. Hunt, entomologist with the State Board of Health, told commissioners "If we have had a failure in the state it is on blind mosquitoes."

He explained that "they have built up a resistance and insecticides available now are ineffective to use them would be folly."

The fly problem in Seminole County is widespread and not concentrated, Hunt told the Board of Commissioners. "The sanitary land fill is regarded very high," he said, "and has done more toward controlling the fly than anything else."

The State Board of Health entomologist explained that he had spent two days in the county looking over the fly and mosquito situation here.

"The legislature has appropriated funds to match with local funds in the mosquito control program," Hunt said. For every dollar the county puts up, he said, it will be matched with $1.50.

The problem of mosquito control was taken under advisement by the commission with no action taken on appropriation of funds for the project.

Pilot Dies As Plane Crashes Into Lake

Naval authorities today sought the cause of a crash that killed a dive-bomber pilot whose plane plunged into Lake Kissimmee and sank.

The single-engine, propeller-driven plane was on a "cross country low level navigation flight from Cuba to Occena, Va." yesterday, when it unaccountably crashed into the big central Florida lake some 65 miles south of Sanford.

The name of the pilot is being withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The flight of skyraider 44 atached to Attack Squadron 23 which left the U.S.S. Intrepid yesterday during an operation in the vicinity of Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Crash of the plane occurred at approximately 12:40 p.m. A spokesman at the Sanford Naval Air Station said "The flight leader was observed in land in the water with no apparent reason. The plane sank immediately without communication."

Two of the planes of the flight group remained at the scene of the crash and notified rescue services at the Sanford Naval Air Station and at Pinecastle Air Force Base. Helicopters from NAS, Sanford and Pinecastle AFB arrived in the vicinity of the crash just prior to one o'clock yesterday.

The three remaining aircraft landed at the Sanford Naval Air Station at 1:36 p.m.

The pilot's body was recovered by a small fishing party and then hoisted aboard a helicopter and brought to NAS, Sanford.

Local Law Officers Keep Around Clock Watch On Highways

Seminole County law enforcement officers are watching the highways around the clock to prevent, if possible, the loss of life during the 102-hour 4th of July holiday weekend.

Three arrests were made last night, one reckless driver at 9:23 p.m., one for improper passing on a double line at 11:30 p.m., and another for excessive speed at 11:58 p.m., as officers watched traffic closely to prevent highway smashups.

Traffic is relatively quiet with few on the highways, it was reported by Seminole County Sheriff J. L. Hobby.

However, elsewhere in the State there were two deaths—one drowning and one traffic fatality—near the opening of the Independence Day holiday.

Police said Mrs. Tahl decided to go in for "a quick dip in cool off" after arriving by automobile at the resort city. She dove in the surf shortly after lifeguards left their stations for the night.

At Jasper, Mrs. Arlene Wills, 38, was knocked down and killed by a car as she attempted to cross busy U.S. Highway 41.

The Florida Safety Council predicted earlier this week that 12 persons would die violent deaths in the state today-seven on the highway, three by drowning and two by miscellaneous causes.

The Highway Patrol, meanwhile, forecast 20 deaths on the state's roads over the long weekend which began at 6 p.m. Wednesday night. All available state troopers were ordered on patrol duty in order to keep the toll down as low as possible.

American People Face Challenge To Continue Tradition Of Freedom

With the crises and over-excitements of this era, the diversion of interests and dissipations of time made possible for us by great prosperity, our sense of values sometimes weakens and our faith in reason and intelligence is crippled. Against this we must guard.

We need to retain and hold to a perspective. The values of Western civilization, the values which nourished us as a mother does a child, remain as sound as ever. But they have not attained and never can attain universal acceptance in a hurry. To hold them, defend them, deepen them in ourselves, our society and in the world to the degree that we can, is a task and challenge for us. Even though they are under assault today, they retain their strength. They are what men like Krushchev fear and what small dictators like Nasser cannot understand. A good reading in Jefferson, Hamilton and Lincoln now would help to strengthen our own faith and confidences. For these men—and Jefferson and Hamilton in particular, even though they disagree—helped to lay the ground for so much that is best in our society. If the attention of school pupils is focused on such of our forebears as these three, the faith of youth can be deepened.

We have a world to win, not as imperialists or even as rich uncles, but as the carriers of values which can nurture in men the desire for growth and the impulse to use reason. We face a challenge we can meet, the challenge to perpetuate a tradition of freedom in reason.

It is good for us to realize this. For these years are very confusing.

Home Pools Can Be Dangerous

Phony Stock Salesmen

The number of people investing in corporation stock has greatly increased in late years, and the trend has been especially marked among those of moderate means. This, in the view of most authorities, is all to the good. However, crooks and sharpies always know an opportunity when they see it—and so, inevitably, the phony stock salesman has become a menace. The story is told and a warning issued by Arthur W. Baum, in the lead article of the June 22 Saturday Evening Post.

The phony stock salesman's approach is standard. He uses the long distance telephone, offering stocks that are sure to double, triple or quadruple in value in practically no time. Mr. Baum starts out by describing a few specific and typical cases where businessmen, farmers, doctors, and others bit—and lost all or a large part of their savings. This meant that children could not go to college, that an old man could not retire in comfort, that fine plans for the future had to be abandoned. It's a cruel racket and a lucrative one, and it feeds on human cupidity, delusion and ignorance.

Headquarters of these racketeers are boiler rooms, where masters of gulling the gullible man the phones. Beginners are called coxies and experienced hands are loaders, reloaders and dynamiters. They have one or more stocks to sell, on which they receive handsome commissions. They work from sucker lists containing the names of people with what Mr. Baum calls "detachable money"—GIs with back pay or bonuses, widows who recently inherited estates, and others. Sometimes, in addition, solicitation is done by mail with "extravag-

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE ORIGINAL DRAFT NEVER FOUND

Scholars, However, Still Hope to Find It

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
 Central Press Association
 Correspondent

WASHINGTON—One hundred and eighty-one years after the Thirteen Colonies severed their ties from England, scholars are still searching for the original Declaration of Independence.

No one knows what became of the immortal document which Congress approved July 4, 1776—but scholars haven't given up hope of finding it.

They were encouraged in their search by the finding several years ago of a rare printed copy of the Declaration. This copy was located in the attic of an Albany, N. Y., home.

The document over which the Continental Congress debated for two days—known as the "rough draft"—was written in long-hand by Thomas Jefferson, its author. Congress changed some words and made other changes before approving it.

"THE MARKED and chopped-up 'rough draft'—it was shortened, much to Jefferson's disappointment—was then turned over to its author with instructions that he prepare a clean copy.

This he did and this was the document formally approved and signed by the Congress. It was then ordered printed and this task was entrusted to John Dunlap, a Philadelphia printer.

Dunlap ran off 15 known copies of the historic document, one of which was affixed to the Journal of the Congress on the page dated July 4, 1776. It is from this copy that all other copies have been made, including the engraved copy familiar to millions which is now enshrined in the National Archives.

What did Dunlap do with the original document? No one knows. Did he destroy it? It is considered unlikely. Possibly he placed it in his files.

Scholars hope the precious paper may have been passed on to future generations and that it may rest today in some forgotten spot, waiting only to be discovered.

The rough draft, which filled four pages in Jefferson's long-hand, is now among the third President's papers in the Library of Congress.

It was also made known to friends, among them Richard Henry Lee, George Wythe and James Madison. None has ever been found. Scholars are hopeful that one may some day turn up.

Of the official printed copies made by Dunlap, three are in the Library of Congress, Yale, Harvard and Princeton each have one, as do the New York Public Library, the Massachusetts Historical Society and various other public bodies.

THE COPY discovered in Albany, N. Y., in 1955 was purchased and turned over by benefactors to the University of Virginia. It is the only copy in the possession of a public institution south of the Potomac river.

The Albany copy had apparently been used to wrap other documents for on its back was written: "Virginia Papers."

Today's Nuclear Test Is Delayed

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Technical difficulties have forced the Atomic Energy Commission to give up its plans to explode the biggest "firecracker" ever touched off on the Fourth of July.

The AEC had hoped to detonate the largest nuclear blast ever set off in the United States at 4:40 a. m. p. d. today. However, the AEC announced Wednesday that the test would be delayed 24 hours because the speed recording equipment on a plastic balloon from which the device will be fired was not working.

St. Luke's Bible School Will Start Monday Morning

SLAVIA—Vareston Bible School will begin at St. Luke's Lutheran School Monday July 8th at 9 a. m. Sessions will continue for two weeks Monday through Friday from 9 to 12 each day. Ages 3 to 18.

Schedule and program of activities was planned at a Teacher's Meeting for the five different departments including Bible Study, Memory Gems, Songs, games, art projects and handicraft.

The school bus will provide transportation to and from sessions with a route including Union Park, Goldenrod, Oviedo and Slavia. Following are the departments and teachers: Nursery, Mrs. Emily Jakubec, Miss Elena Tuhy; Beginners, Mrs. Paul Lukas, Mrs. Dusan Lukas and Susan Stanek; Primary, Mrs. Joe L. Mikler, Mrs. F. Jakubec, Mary Ann Tesinsky; Junior, Mrs. E. Belhorn and Miss Priscilla Tuhy; Senior, Mrs. Stephen Mikler and Katherine Mikler, Mrs. John Ju-

Funeral Tomorrow For Mrs. Oliver

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Madeline Oliver will be held Friday at 10:30 a. m. from the St. James A.M.E. Church with Rev. Paul Lee officiating.

Mrs. Oliver died Tuesday, July 2. Survivors include: one brother, Clarence Nelson, St. Petersburg; two daughters, Miss Emma Ruth Oliver and Miss Belle Williams, New York City; one son, Lowman James Oliver III, Sanford; one daughter-in-law, Mrs. Margaret Oliver, Sanford; one son-in-law, Frank Williams, New York City; six grandchildren; three great grandchildren; and many other relatives.

Burial will be in the Sanford Cemetery. Burton Funeral Home is in charge.

Maxin is in charge of music and singing. Mr. S. Sidlik is playground director. Mr. E. L. Bellhorn is co-ordinator and the Rev. S. M. Tuhy is the director of religious worship.

A closing program is being planned for the evening of July 19, opened to parents and friends to view displays of the children's projects and to hear their accomplishments in recitation and songs. Certificates will be awarded to the pupils and teachers at that time.

R. Maxwell, J. Marcantel Are Married In Geneva

Before an altar banked with white gladioli, baby breath and palms, Miss Ruth Eleanor Maxwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Maxwell of Geneva and Jeffrey James Marcantel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Marcantel of Ville Platte, La. were united in marriage Saturday June 22, at the First Baptist Church in Geneva.

The Rev. Jack L. Stewart performed the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Joe Mathews, soloist, sang "Love Time" and "Because," accompanied by J. D. Stone at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a halter-length gown of chantilly lace over white satin. It was fashioned with a high neckline and a fitted waist.

Miss Addie Prevatt, cousin of the bride and Miss Lorraine Rotundo were bridesmaids. The attendants wore identical gowns of pink and blue lace over taffeta with a scooped neckline and fitted waist lines. They carried bouquets of pink dahlias and baby breath.

Carlton Troncy of Longwood served as best man and ushers were Jerry Pusloski of Sanford and Joe Kelly.

Mrs. Maxwell chose for her daughters wedding, a pink lace-trimmed afternoon dress and a corsage of pink dahlias.

The reception was held in the church, with Mrs. E. W. Prevatt, Mrs. Carter Hart, Mrs. M. D. Rotundo, Mrs. W. L. Alderman and Mrs. W. A. Ellenwood serving refreshments. Miss Valleen Prevatt attended the brides book.

After a short wedding trip he couple will make their home in Geneva. Mrs. Marcantel is employed at the Sanford Naval Base, while Mr. Marcantel is serving with the U. S. Navy there.

Conning The News

Frank and Betty Johnson are back in Sanford visiting Johnny and Dick Elam in their Pinecrest home. The Johnsons are now stationed in Norfolk. They are here attending to details about their own house. The present tenants, Charlie and Mary Carman will move into their beautiful new Brittain Farm house in Loch Arbo on the fifteenth of July. Lolly Roth will rent the house from Frank and Betty. Betty says that Millie and Bill Thomas are planning to buy in Norfolk, but had arrived just shortly before the Johnsons left for Sanford, so they do not know the details. The Johnsons will leave here on Friday.

Imogene Schultz is back from her trip to Seattle, Washington. She is staying with Betty and John McCracken at his new home in Little Venice near completion. Imogene at present holds the highest stock in this neighborhood, since she plans to build a swimming pool in her backyard.

Make Rowell's father, Mr. J. M. Rowell, is visiting Hazel and Mike. Mr. Rowell comes from Marlboro, New York and plans to be here for two weeks. The Rowells have indulged in a number of summer activities, making good use of Golden Lake, Sand Springs, and Rock Springs Park. They and many other poor souls attempted to cook at Rock Springs Tuesday night in a terrific storm.

Anita and Bob Hadden leave next week for three weeks on Long Island with Anita's family. All the Haddens will be commercially, and will stay on the south shore, where the ocean is the right temperature and the best for building casities.

Cliff Duncan is back in Sanford again, after depositing Rosemary and the children in Pensacola. Cliff will be around until the twelfth of August. May be reached at the B.O.Q. for dinner, lunch or snacks. Not that the food at the B.O.Q. isn't superlative, but it lacks the womanly touch.

King Hodice will be here on thirty days leave before returning to Portsmouth, Va. for further treatment. Ruth will stay in Sanford this time, as I guess King will not have room for her on his bicycle. I assume that he plans to stop at youth hostels on the way back.

Katie Cummins and Thelma McMurray have returned from their trip to Norfolk to see their husbands off on deployment.

John Hook made Commander last night, and that is always good news.

The planning committee of the Officer's Wives Club board met this morning at Jean Fowler's. They discussed a coffee to be given in July. On this committee are what have you. Hope you had a happy Fourth, and watch your appetites as you go home tonight. If you are not already there. An after thought. The Girl Scouts are starting a uniform exchange, headed by Doris Francis. This will enable Brownies or Girl Scouts to either give, exchange, or sell their old uniforms. There is but one problem; no place to store the uniforms. If a kind soul (and it would be nice if it were a Girl Scout mother) would offer a closet, please call Doris and let her know. We do have a place where we can display them occasionally and ultimately hope to have a permanent storage and display area. I realize that very few housewives ever have an empty closet, but maybe someone does. And some VAHS news just before deadline. Margaret Hendrick entertained Wednesday morning at Lake Golden. Jean is my new informant from VAHS, so keep her supplied with news.

Lonnie and Tommy Tennyson are enjoying a visit from Lonnie's mother and father. The senior Tennysons are from Houston, Texas.

Spun (that much we know), and are black and white. There are two males and four females. Anyone interested in a brand new puppy for the "kids" can contact Peggy at Fairfax 2-6087. They are NOT for sale. All Peggy and John are interested in is finding good homes for them. I'd be real tempted if I weren't for Masey!

Speaking of Masey, we had him pretty confused the night of the party. Guess he's never seen so many people around all at one time. But he took it in his stride. Made up to some, barking at others and fell asleep on the couch while the "battle of the wits" went on around him. He's a real "dolt", and the whole family is in competition with each other to see whom he likes the best. Don't know yet if he's a "one-man" dog, but I am sure that he's a "one family" dog!!!

Square dancing at the Chief's Club last Monday night, almost came to a standstill! The couples arrived only to find the ballroom floor ripped up and ended up dancing in the foyer. Understand it was quite hot, so definite plans have been made to move it to the Lake Golden Recreation Area starting next Monday night. This should provide fire for the attendance, which wasn't up to par last Monday. And it's a safe guess that most stayed away because of the heat. So be sure and try it out in the open next week. ("Liquid refreshments" will be available, so you can't blame us men back and forth to the club!!!)

There will be a dance at the Chief's Club on Friday night, July 19. This one will be sponsored by the Chief's Wives Club, and you're sure to enjoy it. It will get under way at 9:00 P. M. and last until 12:30 A. M. That wonderful band of Silvery Vibens will be on hand to play the kind of music you like to dance to. This is for chiefs and their wives, and their guests. Prices will be $75 for one person, or $1.50 per couple.

Anybody want a puppy in about six weeks??? Peggy and John Russell announce the birth of six of them, and they will be able to leave their mums in that length of time. They are part cocker

I got real lazy yesterday, and after a little shopping in the A. M., Jimi Gold and Edna, Rose

Sorry that Jean Kahlo couldn't make it, but her sister, Virginia Prange, had arrived that afternoon from Silverville, Kentucky, to spend her vacation with the Kahlos. Can't say that Florida has shown her a very nice welcome, for as I am writing this, it's raining "cats and dogs"!!! (Well what do you know! The sun just came out, . . . rain and all!!!!)

Pre-Teen-Agers To Be Feted With Dance Saturday

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — The Altamonte Springs Teen Club will play hosts to Altamonte pre-teen-agers Saturday night when a dance will be held for them at the Community House.

The affair is planned for children of the community from 10 through 13 years of age. The group will be chaperoned by adults and refreshments will be served. Dancing will be by recordings and will be from 8:11 p. m.

This activity is a part of the Altamonte Springs Community Club's planned recreation for local children. The club sponsors the Teen-Club, Babe Ruth and Little League Baseball and other recreational activities.

Saturday July 13, a picnic and weiner roast will be staged in the park for children with ages ranging from seven to ten. More information will be given on this at a later date.

JACKY FENWICK

We're all waiting for the imminent news that Joyce Williams has presented Cliff with a new child! Due to the fact that it will be several weeks before Joyce feels much like entertaining, she was co-hostess at the card-party at my home on Tuesday night. Attending were Chris Ricker, Irene Duke, Betty O'Connor, Joyce, Jimi Gold, Rosemary Finnegan, Doris Shortland, and Pat Foster. I served the ever-popular garlic cheese dip, potato chips, and fruit, while we played. Later on we had coffee and cake. I tried one that my Mother makes all the time, but you'd never guess it if you had ever had a piece of hers! You'd think that just a LITTLE of her culinary talent would have "rubbed off" on me, since I am her daughter, but I'm afraid it isn't the case. However, it was edible!!!

Jim Gold and Betty O'Connor won high score prizes, and Chris Ricker and yours truly took it for love!

Sorry that Jean Kahlo couldn't make it, but her sister, Virginia Prange, had arrived that afternoon from Silverville, Kentucky, to spend her vacation with the Kahlos. Can't say that Florida has shown her a very nice welcome, for as I am writing this, it's raining "cats and dogs"!!! (Well what do you know! The sun just came out, . . . rain and all!!!!)

I got real lazy yesterday, and after a little shopping in the A. M., Jimi Gold and Edna, Rose

Khrushchev Emerges Soviet Boss Today

Further Upheavals Seen

County Sales Tax Collections Over $29,000 For Year

Guard Receives 2 Superior Ratings At Inspections

Boat Inspection Set Here Sunday

Central Florida boat owners will be able to take advantage of the U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary's "Courtesy Inspection" Sunday afternoon in Sanford at the municipal boat ramp at the foot of Palmway Ave.

LONDON (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev emerged today as the unchallenged boss of Russia, but the turmoil of the past few days may be only the prelude to further upheavals in Moscow.

Florida sales tax collections for the fiscal year 1956-57, which closed out with collections during June (based on May sales), totaled $100,893,217, according to Ray E. Green, State Comptroller in his latest report.

17-Year-Old Burned As Firecrackers Explode In Auto

CHEROKEE, Okla. (AP) — An arsenal of 14 packages of firecrackers, some of them nearly two inches long, exploded in an automobile Thursday, seriously injuring a 17-year-old boy. The blast was heard for miles.

The ousting from the Soviet Presidium of ex-Premier Georgi Malenkov removed the only potential challenge to Khrushchev's leadership, but diplomatic circles here believe there will certainly be a series of further bloodless purges throughout Russia and the Communist world.

This is the first time the sales tax has passed the $100 million mark, he said, and added, "the total collection of $100,893,217 is within nine-tenths of one percent of our estimate made at the start of the fiscal year."

Explosion Sends Raging Fire Through Boat Works

Fire, caused by an exploding boat, raced through a piling and metal roofed boat shed at the Sanford Boat Works yesterday.

Top News In Brief

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Graham said solemnly Thursday night that the need for a "true spiritual revival" in America is so urgent that he would be willing to give his life for such a cause.

State Law Made On Service Stations Signs

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Many service stations in Florida may not know it but they are violating a new state law. And that law, when enforced, could cost them 20 days in jail or a $100 fine.

No Arrests Made By Sheriff's Dept. During Holiday

The Seminole County Sheriff's Department set a sort of record for itself during the 4th of July holiday, according to Sheriff J. L. Hobbs.

Reedy To Take Over Hatwing One

Captain James R. Reedy, USN, accompanied by his wife Eugenia, departed aboard NAS Sanford earlier this week. He will relieve Captain J. T. Blackburn, USN, as Commander Heavy Attack Wing ONE at a Change of Command ceremony at 8:15 Monday morning.

Various estimates of the number of boats circulate around the scene yesterday afternoon and damaged was set at several figures. However, it is believed, from the actual count of burning hulls, that there were nine boats destroyed along with the shed.

Former Resident Dies In Virginia

Robert Grady Eubanks, 46, died in Norfolk, Va., on July 1. Mr. Eubanks was a former resident of Sanford but for the last few years had made his home in Mountain Home, Tenn.

2 Local Children Hurt In Accident In Daytona Beach

A two-car collision in Daytona Beach yesterday, shortly before 4 p. m., resulted in the injury of two children of a Sanford Naval Air Station officer and property damage to the two automobiles estimated at nearly $1,500.
